NATIONAL SERVICE BY THE PEOPLE OF NOVA SCOTIA

The National Service Board for this Province outlines what has been done and what is proposed to secure the full man power from Nova Scotia that the Empire requires.

To the People of Nova Scotia:—

The directors of National Service met at Ottawa recently and formulated schemes for carrying on their work. The duties of directors are, in effect, to make themselves acquainted with industrial conditions in their respective districts, to consider what kinds of work are essential or non-essential to the country under war conditions, to draw out and utilize all available labor so that the largest possible number of men may be freed for military service, and to decide when called upon, whether in the interest of the country, certain men should or should not exist in the overseas forces of Canada. To men who offer to enlist, but whose services are considered more valuable to the state in their present employment than if they joined the military forces, badges and certificates of exemption will be given. As the basis of all effort to utilize our resources to best advantage, it was considered essential to take a census of the man power of the Dominion. The rough outlines of a scheme having that object in view were drawn up, and the director-general had conferences with the census and post office departments of the government.

The officials of these departments are now engaged in working out the details of a scheme which we hope will give us all necessary information within a reasonable time, and at much less cost than would be entailed by a regular census.

When that data is secured and classified, we should be in a position to know what man power we have, what proportion of it is essential to carry on the necessary business of the country, and what proportion may be considered available to enter the military and naval forces of Canada.

Another subject that occupied our attention was the utilization of Women's labor during the war. It was believed that there are thousands of women in Canada who would gladly give their services temporarily for special kinds of work, provided they knew that they were thereby releasing men for military duty. It was decided to encourage women to offer their services for such work as was suitable, and to induce employers to take advantage of such offers when opportunity arises.

With that object in view it was solved to organize committees of women, to be known as "Women's National Service Boards," for the purpose of opening registers for female labor, of procuring employment for such women as offered their services, and of the supervision which would be necessary under new conditions.

It was also suggested that if considered desirable advisory committees of prominent employers and others might be formed for the purpose of co-operating with the women's boards and helping to secure employment for the women. The view was held that there is a large reserve of labor available if our women are asked to co-operate, and confidence was expressed that our employers would find it to be in their own interest as well as that of the country to encourage the work of the Women's National Service boards.

A number of other matters were discussed on which definite action will be taken later. Some of the directors expressed that our employers would be more than willing to accept of a scheme having that object in view were drawn up, and the director-general had conferences with the census and post office departments of the government.

The officials of these departments are now engaged in working out the details of a scheme which we hope will give us all necessary information within a reasonable time, and at much less cost than would be entailed by a regular census.

When that data is secured and classified, we should be in a position to know what man power we have, what proportion of it is essential to carry on the necessary business of the country, and what proportion may be considered available to enter the military and naval forces of Canada.

Another subject that occupied our attention was the utilization of Women's labor during the war. It was believed that there are thousands of only of the government, but of the people of Canada.

The people of Nova Scotia have already given proof of their hearty and self-sacrificing in devoting themselves to war work but we can do still better by organizing our resources and co-ordinating our efforts.

The Board of National Service is a non-partisan body formed to meet the unprecedented conditions arising out of the war. It has before it a most difficult and complex task requiring the best thought of the ablest men in the country, and that task cannot be successfully accomplished unless the directors have the sympathy and co-operation of all classes of the community. I would especially appeal to the press to give us their hearty and united support, because on their attitude will largely depend the measure of our success.

The premier of Canada has issued an appeal calling upon every man and woman in the country to devote themselves to public service in some capacity during the crisis of the war. I feel confident that as far as our province is concerned that appeal will not be made in vain. Those of our young men who have not yet answered the call to active service will feel impelled to consider their position, and those of us who have to remain at home will feel called upon to consider whether we are in our own way doing our full share of service and sacrifice.

We have only to remember that all our efforts are consecrated to the task of supporting our noble boys who, for us, and for the honor of Canada, are daily enduring and dying in the trenches.

G. S. CAMPBELL
Director of National Service for Nova Scotia.
Halifax, 25th October.

The Dominion Government is to regulate food prices. The order-in-law which will have the effect of law, will provide that any agreement or combination for the purpose of raising the price of a necessity of life, will be criminal and the persons guilty will be liable to a fine of $500 or to imprisonment for two years. It is already provided under the Combines Act, that a combination for the purpose of unduly increasing prices is illegal.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

Notwithstanding our excellent school advantages many of the boys and girls of our Province do not get the mental training which is necessary to their highest efficiency in after life. Some times this is the fault of their parents. Many parents imagine that their children can do as well without much education, as they did, ignoring the fact that conditions are greatly changed. The little children can add to the family purse sheets, their eyes to the demands of the future. Sometimes the fault lies with the children themselves. They are unwilling to take the advice of their elders, and fail to appreciate the present opportunity.

The Evening Technical Schools, established by the Government are endeavoring to meet this emergency, especially in the larger centers of population, and increasing numbers of young people are trying to make up for past neglect, while others are anxious for further advancement. These schools are now beginning the winter session. They are offering a very liberal and generous curriculum, including English, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Mechanical Drawing, Electrical Machinery, Gasoline Engines, Automobile Engineering, Chemical Analysis, Surveying, Dressmaking, Cooking, Millinery, Stenography, Typewriting, Home Economics, Mining Engineering, Navigation, etc. etc. In the large industrial centres, the Sydney, New Glasgow, these schools are highly appreciated. Every town should for its own sake, as well as for the sake of its young people encourage their introduction. The demand is increasing continually as labor becomes more and more specialized. The Government offers a Technical College scholarship to every County in the Province. Halifax County and Cape Breton County offer similar scholarships to their own young people. The Technical College Building in Halifax is utilized in the summer for the preparation of Red Cross supplies.

CANADIAN PENITENTIARIES

The report of the Inspectors of the Canadian Penitentiaries for 1915 shows a daily average of one thousand nine hundred and eighty-nine prisoners. Of this number a very large majority are men. Out of two thousand and sixty-four with which the record closes only thirty-one were females.

The report says that the average cost per week of each of these convicts is eight dollars, and the average earning of each only about fifty cents per week. This makes the total cost for the year about seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars. The exact cost as given by the report is eight hundred and fifty-six thousand, two hundred and eighty dollars. But this sum does not include any new buildings or the upkeep of old ones.

Many of the convicts are employed daily, but the inspectors claim that their employment is unremunerative. This raises the question of the advisability of introducing other employments which will be remunerative. The difficulty in the way is the interference which would result with the business of ordinary traders. Prison made articles they contend, would be manufactured and sold at prices lower than would otherwise be possible. Consequently other producers of the same articles would be obliged to close their establishments. Ontario has a prison farm on which criminals are employed, instead of being confined to jail. This plan is said to work well. It is true of men and women, as well as children, that Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do. And what he finds for them to do is not in the line of the good and the profitable. Keep a man's hands employed in something useful, and very generally depression of spirits and evil thoughts and plans will be expelled. One of the great sources of trouble in the intermediate camps is the lack of something to keep hands and minds employed. These camps, however, are only temporary. Prisons and prisoners will continue until we get much nearer to the millennium than we are today. In the meantime every effort should be made to treat prisoners in such a way that they may be reformed instead of hardened, and become useful members of society. Efforts in this direction are being made in some places, and it has been proved that the strongest opponents of these reformatory movements are men who are making money out of other people's criminality.

ARMENIANS STILL SUFFERING

The Honorary Secretary of the Armenian Refugee Fund, with headquarters in London, after spending three months in relief work, confirms the reports of distress and martyrdom which have been published. He says that of the 2,000,000 of Armenians under Turkish rule, perhaps 500,000 have been massacred. About 200,000 have crossed the mountains to find refuge in Russia. Some hundreds of thousands are in Turkish concentration camps in regions bordering on Mesopotamia. Many are understood to have been employed in forced labor in building the Bagdad Railway. The Society has no access to these, but reports says they are suffering from famine, privation of every kind, sickness and murder, which means a high rate of mortality.

AN UNUSUAL SENTENCE

In Regina, a member of the Legislative Assembly was recently sentenced to hard labor in Prince Albert Penitentiary, for three years for each of three counts of forgery. This is an unusual occurrence in Canada. But it is evidence of a proper feeling that justice should be administered impartially. Even the responsible position of legislator must not shield a guilty man. Both the judge and the jury before whom the case was brought deserve commendation. Their fidelity will prove to be an example to other judges and juries, and a deterrent to wrong doers.

DEATH OF MRS. LEANDER A. HUNTINGTON

The many friends of Mrs. L. A. Huntington were shocked to learn of her sudden death in Vancouver, last week. Nothing had been known of her illness until a few days before she passed away. A slight stroke of paralysis early in the month had been followed by one more severe a week later, the end coming on Friday, November 17th.

Jessie Chipman was born in Bridgetown some sixty-six years ago, and her early years were spent in this town. Of a bright and cheerful disposition and endowed with unusual ability and energy, she took a prominent part in the many enterprises and activities of the young people here in those days. Uniting with the Baptist church at an early age, she distinguished herself by her characteristic enthusiasm into church work, as teacher in the Sunday school, leader in the Mission Band and Aid Society, in fact in all departments of church work, she gave of her best. At the time of her marriage, by paying the required amount twenty-five dollars, she made herself a Life Member of the Mission Aid Society here, remarking in her cheery way, "This life Membership Certificate is my wedding present to myself before I leave you."

How rare are the brides who would spare this sum from a wedding trousseau to add to Mission funds! In 1883 she married Mr. L. A. Huntington, and they made their home for a few years in Boston. But, alas, their happy married life was all too brief. Mr. Huntington's health failed and they moved to California hoping that a warmer climate might restore it. After a vain search for health however, he was obliged to give up the struggle and the young wife was left alone with her three little children in far-off California. Picture that sad wife and mother as she gathers her little ones about her, and with all that remains of the husband she had loved so well, and starts on the long, lonely, homeward way, that she may rest in peace to rest beside their own kindred and friends in the homeland.

A sad homecoming indeed, and one might think that her sorrow and family cares were such as to excuse her from all public work. But no, having learned the beauty and happiness of service, she could not live a narrow life for self alone. Almost immediately she took her old place in the church, teaching in Sunday school, busy with Mission work, trying to interest herself in every good word and work.

When a few years later she moved to Wolfville that her family might attend the educational institutions there, she at once identified herself with the church work of that place. In all matters beneficial to the community in which she lived, she always took an active part.

Her last home was in Vancouver, and though of late years her health has been somewhat impaired she has been no loiterer in the Master's vineyard, and it can be truly said of her "She hath done what she could." And now this earthly life is ended, those tireless hands are still. But who can estimate the power of such a life, the extent of its influence? She is one of those blessed ones, who, "Die in the Lord. They may rest from their labors, but their works do follow them."

Three children survive her, Alice, (Mrs. Whiteside) of Vancouver, William of New York, and Alline of Alberta. To these we extend sincere sympathy in the loss of their loved mother. But for her—

"The night is gone And with the morn, those angel faces smile, Which she had loved and lost awhile."

The remains are expected to arrive in Bridgetown by train via St. John on Saturday the 25th, and burial will take place that afternoon.

Yarmouth Telegram.—The largest vessel built in Sheburne for a number of years was launched from the shipyard of Hon. G. A. Cox on Thursday morning of last week. She has been named Admiral Drake and is above 300 tons register. She is strong, engaged by Mr. Cox in the foreign trade. Capt. William Matthews of Dartmouth, will command her. Mr. Cox will begin the construction of another vessel at once.

Your Mother Will Be Pleased with this tea. Tell her I recommend it, for I use it in my own home. Show her the Guarantee on the label, and I know she will be glad to try it.

Advertising is the mighty engine of trade—it has come to stay. It is no longer a hit-or-miss game—it is considered today a safe, sure and sound investment.

Merchants that retire from business because they didn't find it profitable usually are aware of the fact that they were not advertising.

This is an advertising age—life and sustenance of business depend on it. Modern competition is sharp, keen and pitiless and there is practically no way to stem the tide except by persistent advertising.

Twentieth Century ideas and methods must be in vogue in a life establishment if they wish to march triumphantly.

Message from Major Ritchie Major W. B. A. Ritchie, the Chief Recruiting Officer at Halifax, requests the publication of the following:

Reports are frequently circulated as to persons engaged in recruiting being paid for their services, which is very unfair to those who give voluntarily, and as a purely patriotic service, a large amount of time to recruit. The members of the Citizens Recruiting Committee of course receive no pay. On March the County Recruiting Officers throughout the Province have served without pay. Outside the staff at Halifax, there are only three paid recruiting officers or deputy recruiting officers in the Province, and no officer, non-commissioned officer or private is paid for recruiting work, except those who devote their whole time to the work. We have a recruiting officer by the Chief Recruiting Officer to make the above statement in order to contradict unfounded statements which have been circulated to the contrary."

An opportunity for boys. Young men down to 18 years of age are wanted by the Canadian Naval Service to be trained for Home Service. Signalling. Recruits for this service are trained on H.M.C.S. "Niobe" Halifax.

Pay, over 18 years of age $1.10 per day and "found;" under 18, 50c per day.

Recruiting is now authorized throughout Canada for Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Reserve). Headquarters at Winnipeg. Applications for this service are desired. In addition to the above men are wanted for the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve to serve with the British Navy. Also for all units of the army, Overseas and Home Service, Infantry, Artillery, Army Service Corps, Ammunition Column, Construction and Forestry Battalions.

For further information apply nearest recruiting office or to REV. E. UNDERWOOD, Bridgetown.

I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-tives', and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain."

Chisholm moved that David Foster take the chair. At his request Capt. S. V. Melanson presented a very handsome water set. Though taken by surprise and visibly affected by the kindness of his friends Mr. Porter acknowledged the gift in a short speech which was supplemented by thanks expressed by Mrs. Porter. ### ROBBLEE-SHAFFNER

Standing under an arch of white chrysanthemums and evergreen a pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Robbins, Lower Granville when their youngest daughter, Alice Y. was united in marriage to H. Lloyd Shaffner.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Markham, the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, and preceded by her little bridesmaid, Missie Whitman, who was dressed in blue silk carrying a basket of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern.

The bride looked charming in her India embroidered white silk gown, with conventional wedding veil, and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums, maiden hair and asparagus fern. Her travelling dress was navy blue serge with fur trimmings and hat of navy blue velvet.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. W. Wallace, uncle of the bride.

After the wedding breakfast, which was prettily served, Mr. and Mrs. Shaffner left for a trip to Cape Island, N. B. The young couple were followed by the good wishes of their friends for their future happiness.
