BRYAN DESCRIBES THE U. S. NOTE AS ONE INVITING BLOODSHED

UNITED STATES CALLS ON GERMANY TO STOP PIRACY IN LAST NOTE TO BERLIN

President Wilson Tells Kaiser's Government That U.S. Contends for Principles of Humanity in Warfare As Recognized by International Law, and Asks Assurances That They Be Put Into Practice.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The text of the American rejoinder to the German Government's reply to the note following the sinking of the Lusitania follows: "The secretary of state, ad interim, to the American ambassador at Berlin: "Department of State, "Washington, June 9, 1915. "You are instructed to deliver to the following note to the minister of foreign affairs: "IN compliance with your excellency's request, I did not fail to transmit to my government immediately upon the receipt of your note of May 23, in reply to my note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 7, setting forth the conclusions, so far as reached by the Imperial German Government, concerning the attacks on American steamers Cushing and Guilford. I am now instructed by my government to communicate the following in reply: "THE Government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition by the Imperial German Government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and the Guilford, of the principle of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships, and the frank willingness of the Imperial German Government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships, which have not been guilty of any hostile act, by German aircraft or vessels of war is satisfactorily established; and the Government of the United States will in due course lay before the Imperial German Government, as it requests, full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

"WITH regard to the sinking of the steamer Falaba, by which an American citizen lost his life, the Government of the United States is surprised to find the Imperial German Government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantman to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligation of the officer seeking to make the capture in respect of the safety of the lives of those on board the merchantman, although the vessel has ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed. These are not new circumstances. They have been in the minds of statesmen and of international jurists throughout the development of naval warfare, and the Government of the United States does not understand that they have ever been held to alter the principles of humanity upon which it has insisted. Nothing but actual forcible resistance, or continued efforts to escape by flight, when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit, on the part of the merchantman has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew. The Government of the United States, however, does not understand that the Imperial German Government is seeking in this case to relieve itself of liability, but only intends to set forth the circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to allow himself to be hurried into the course which he took. "German Contentions Denied "YOUR excellency's note, in discussing the loss of American lives, resulting from the sinking of the steamship Lusitania, adverts at some length to certain information, which the Imperial German Government has received, with regard to the character and outfit of that vessel, and your excellency expresses the fear that this information may not have been brought to the attention of the United States. "It is stated that the Lusitania was unduly equipped with masked guns, supplied with trained gunners and special ammunition, transporting troops from Canada, carrying a cargo not permitted under the laws of the United States to a vessel also carrying passengers and sailing in virtual effect as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain. Fortunately they are matters concerning which the Government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German Government information. If the facts alleged in your excellency's note were true, the Government of the United States would have been bound to take official cognizance in performing its recognized duty as a neutral power, and in enforcing its national laws. It was its duty to see to it that the Lusitania was not armed for offensive action; that she was not serving as a transport, that she did not carry a cargo prohibited by the statutes of the United States, and that, if, in fact, she was a naval vessel of Great Britain she should not receive clearance as a merchantman. It performed that duty and enforced its statutes with scrupulous vigilance through its regularly constituted officials. It is able, therefore, to assure the Imperial German Government that it has been misinformed. If the Imperial German Government should deem itself to be in possession of convincing evidence that the officials of the Government of the United States did not perform these duties with thoroughness, the Government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

"Contentions Irrelevant "WHATSOEVER may be the contentions of the Imperial German Government regarding the carriage of contraband of war on board the Lusitania, or regarding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel. "BUT the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which lift it, as the Imperial German Government will no doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy. Whatever be the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers, and carrying more than a thousand souls, who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk, without so much as a challenge or a warning, and that men, women, and children were sent to their death in circumstances unparalleled in modern warfare. The fact that more than 100 American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the Government of the United States to speak of these things, and once more, with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the Imperial German Government to the grave responsibility which the Government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the indispensible principle upon which that responsibility rests. "For Rights of Humanity "THE Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the rights of humanity, which every government honors itself in respecting, and which no government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority. Only her actual resistance to capture or refusal to stop when ordered to do so, for the purpose of visit, could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions, issued on Aug. 13, 1914, by the Imperial German Government's admiralty to its commanders at sea, to have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand.

"To Transmit Any Message "THE Government of the United States is happy to observe that your excellency's note closes with the intimation that the Imperial German Government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the Government of Great Britain, by which the character and conditions of war upon the sea may be changed. The Government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either government any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey, and cordially invites the Imperial German Government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in anything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests, or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict.

"Bryan Gets in Wrong "Bryan owed it to the high office he resigned and to his chief and colleagues in the cabinet to keep silent for a time at least on any policy of the Wilson government with which he could not agree, certainly any policy involving the safety of the republic. He showed bad taste in discussing the president's ultimatum to Germany before it had been made public, before it had been sent to Berlin. Even friends of his must condemn him for this. "His actions at this stage have had two distinct effects: to strengthen President Wilson in the good opinion of the nation; to insure Bryan's influence with the people. Germany is a loser by it, and therefore Britishers need have no crow to pick with him; he has done them a good turn and they owe him a vote of thanks. But they will not vote it because they believe loyalty to the government in an issue involving war is the first duty of every citizen. The coalition government in England is the embodiment of that idea. "Bryan has not done with many Americans and many people outside of his own country.

"What About the Dardanelles? "The forcing of the Dardanelles comes still nearer; that is the reason of the tumble in the price of wheat of fifteen cents a bushel or more in a few days. "And what the allies are before Constantinople the war will enter on its first great turning point. The downfall of Austria and Turkey will then be in sight. For a month or more thereafter there will be surprising incidents in all southeastern Europe, with all the allies: England, France, Russia, Italy, the smaller Slav nations, taking part. Austria and Turkey will undergo the greatest shock in their history. It will be something unprecedented, it will be the first great event in the world's greatest war. Austria has nothing much to hope for now. Even if she sought to be taken into the German Empire, her whole southern and eastern borders would be taken before the deal could be consummated. "The allies may have a plan for the separation of Hungary into an independent state free of all German or Austrian influence. Austria and Turkey are political degenerates, discarded by civilization.

"What Will the United States Do? "Take a stand for the liberties of the world. They may not at once declare war, but they are likely to close out all relations with Germany because of her refusal to stop her piratical attacks on neutral ships, and on non-belligerent ships carrying non-combatant subjects of other nations and guilty of no offense to Germany. But our neighbors may even send part of their navy to the coast of Europe within the zone of hostilities marked out by Germany to uphold the principles laid down by President Wilson. "The United States will do a still more effective thing in another direction, but she will have a plan for the separation of Hungary into an independent state free of all German or Austrian influence. Austria and Turkey are political degenerates, discarded by civilization.

"About War Munitions "Canada can make and load many more shells than she now has under contract and make quick delivery. If the orders come along, England has been agreeably surprised at the way in which the munitions made in Canada are being delivered in Europe. They have been in battle satisfaction to the allies and much discomfort to the enemy. "An immense production of shells, of explosives, is now in sight in the States and in Canada for the allies. That's a supreme factor in improving the situation. We are overtaking the great start that foresight and preparation gave to Germany. Like a horse race, Germany ran away with the lead and kept it till the stretch; from there on her rivals are about her, ahead of her, and able to crowd her to the finish. Germany is not to get the stakes, not even to be in the money.

"About Commissions on War Material. "Charges are being made that unnecessary middlemen have got in between the purchase of war munitions in Canada by allies and Canadian factories, and that profits of this kind are being given to useless and expensive middlemen. It is also alleged that middlemen reap unearned profits out of some of the contracts for supplies and equipment given out by our government. This is also wrong. "These contracts should be direct between the allies or our government and the manufacturers and not by way of useless and expensive middlemen. We have a purchasing commission for our own government, and the governments of the allies, and they ought to cover the whole business. The award of the government at Ottawa ought first to be heard before any blame is placed.

"Bryan Gets in Wrong "Bryan owed it to the high office he resigned and to his chief and colleagues in the cabinet to keep silent for a time at least on any policy of the Wilson government with which he could not agree, certainly any policy involving the safety of the republic. PRESIDENT STANDS FIRM ON LUSITANIA QUESTION Demands Respect for Law of Humanity on High Seas. Tells Germany United States Does Not Recognize War Zone, and Lives of People on Board Ships Must Be Preserved.

President Wilson of the United States sets forth the following in his latest note to Germany on the sinking of the Lusitania, sent yesterday: "1. Demands that German Government respect lives of crews and passengers of ships in war zone. "2. Asks assurances that this new policy be put into effect. "3. Affirms that the merchant ships may try to escape capture or call for help, the commander seeking to capture her is obliged to respect safety of lives on board her. "4. Charges of Germany that Lusitania was armed, carried Canadian troops and was auxiliary to British navy are not true. "5. Contentions about carriage of contraband or explosion of war material by torpedo are declared irrelevant to question of methods used in sinking Lusitania. "6. Sinking of passenger ships is declared out of ordinary class of subjects admitting of diplomatic discussion or international controversy. "7. United States must stand on principle of humanity in warfare and international law founded on this principle. "8. Refuses again to recognize German war zone decree as it affects American shipmasters or passengers.

BRYAN SCENTS REAL PERIL IN WILSON'S NOTE

He Classes It With "Old System" Which Invites Bloodshed. DEMANDS FAIR HEARING

If Public Verdict Against Him, He Will Ask No Mercy.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—William Jennings Bryan in an appeal addressed "To the American People" tonight asks them to hear him before they pass sentence upon his laying down the portfolio of secretary of state in the midst of international stress. "Confident that the public will credit his ninth honorable intentions, Mr. Bryan frankly says that good intentions are not enough, and that if the public verdict is against him, he asks no mercy; asserting that men in public life must be "willing to bear any deserved punishment from ostracism to execution."

Interpreting the American note to Germany on submarine warfare, which he refused to sign, as conforming to a "old system" of diplomatic stand, Bryan asks them to hear him before they pass sentence upon his laying down the portfolio of secretary of state in the midst of international stress. "Confident that the public will credit his ninth honorable intentions, Mr. Bryan frankly says that good intentions are not enough, and that if the public verdict is against him, he asks no mercy; asserting that men in public life must be "willing to bear any deserved punishment from ostracism to execution."

TWO TORPEDO BOATS AMONG GERMAN PREY

Forty-One British Sailors Saved of Seventy Men Aboard. Crew of One Drowned—Two Steamers Were Also Torpedoed.

LONDON, June 10.—The sinking of two British torpedo boats, Nos. 10 and 12, off the east coast of England, in the early morning, by a German submarine, was announced by the British admiralty today. Each boat carried 28 men, and the total of 70 men, 41 were rescued. "In addition reports were received of the sinking of ten trawlers in the North Sea, most of them belonging to Grimsby, and of two small steamers. "The torpedo boats, which were built nine years ago, had a speed of 26 knots. No. 10 was 168 feet long and had a displacement of 244 tons. No. 12 was slightly larger, the length being 172 feet and displacement 253 tons. "The attacks made upon trawlers are apparently in pursuance of a plan to limit Britain's supply of fresh fish. No lives are reported lost save in the case of the Letty, which, according to a despatch from Muiden, Holland, was blown up off the Dogger Bank and the members of the crew drowned. "Five of the other trawlers sunk, the Velocity, Nottingham, Tunisian and Castor belonged to Grimsby, while a despatch from Maas Luis says the crews of the British trawlers Qui Vive and Edward, which have been sunk by German submarines, were rescued by a Dutch steamer and brought into Maas Luis. "The Grimsby trawler Cardiff was sunk by a German submarine yesterday afternoon in the North Sea. Her (Continued on Page 2, Column 8).

COMMENTS ON WILSON'S NOTE BY U. S. PRESS

Mildness of Language a Great Surprise to Most of Them.

PRAISE FOR PRESIDENT

Hope Expressed That Germany Will Give the Assurance Asked.

The Toronto World last night asked some of the most influential newspapers in the United States to give their editorial comments on President Wilson's latest note. They did so: "A Disappointment. "The New York Tribune judged in connection with the events of the last few days and measured by the anticipation of a new birth of firmness and vigor at Washington which they excited, the new note to Germany, which proved a disappointment. "Judged even apart from these expectations and comparing their intrinsic merits with the news of Feb. 10 and May 13, it must appear weak and inconclusive. We cannot feel that it expressed with the necessary earnestness and intensity the attitude of the great mass of Americans toward the butchery committed on the high seas by German submarine commanders—outrages which culminated in the Lusitania massacre. "The first and strongest impression which the public will get from the note is that it does not clear up the mystery of Mr. Bryan's resignation." Mr. Bryan embarrassed the administration and nationalized the country by creating an issue between himself and the president, on the form and contents of the present note. It is forcing his own retirement. He hinted that the document which he refused to sign could be construed both here and abroad as something in the nature of an ultimatum. In the statement which he issued last night he compares the communication which he declined to endorse with Austria-Hungary's fatal ultimatum to Serbia. "But that comparison is unhelpful to anyone who reads the courteous, placid and non-definitive peroration of the new Wilson-Lafayette letter. "A Surprise. "The Washington Post: The moderation and friendly tone of the note to Germany is unquestionably a surprise, in view of what the people had been led to expect. It is none the less acceptable because it was unexpected, and it will provide criticism only from those who are looking for an excuse to criticize. While the United States yield nothing in asking for an assurance that the destruction of American lives shall not occur again, there is nothing in the note which Germany can take offence, and much that points the way toward a friendly adjustment of all differences. The willingness of the United States to use its good offices in aiding Germany and Great Britain in coming to an understanding by which the character of the war in sea may be changed, is a distinctly friendly overture which Germany should and doubtless will appreciate. The president has admirably voiced the nation's will. "The New York Times: The reply to the German note is the appeal of a nation that has reverted to the principles and practices of the thirteenth century. The demands of the heroes which evoked Magna Charta from King John are the demands we now make of Germany, that she recognize the principles of justice and humanity, that she acknowledge laws without which men could enjoy no equality of rights. The note brings us back to the Imperial government clearly within its view; it opens to it an opportunity to set itself right in the eyes of other civilized nations, an opportunity to retrieve grievous errors of which our government generously accuses that it may disprove and for which it cannot wish to be held responsible. Since these demands come from the chief of the neutral nations, expressed in terms of entire friendship and courteous in form, and insisting only upon what is right and reasonable, just and humane, Germany will be persuaded, will not withhold the assurances we ask. "Moderate and Restraint. "Tomorrow Mr. Bryan's speech is a worthy of notice. The shapes are right and so are the prices. Come in today and make your choice. (Continued on Page 3, Column 2).

BIG MUNITIONS WORKS WILL OPEN IN LONDON

All Municipal Resources Will Be Put at Disposal of Promoters. Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, June 10.—The latest contribution to the shell output lies in the formation of the "volunteer munitions brigades," which will be composed of volunteers drawn from every walk of life who will devote all their spare time, including Saturday afternoons and Sundays, to filling shells and cartridges. Already the headquarters of the movement are overwhelmed with applications for service. In addition to this an important movement for the provision of extra munitions works in the London area was announced today by a statement that a committee has been formed consisting of the presidents of three institutions of civil, electrical and mechanical engineers, associated with all the leading engineering works in the city, who will immediately set up a central munitions works in the metropolitan area and bring under one all private and municipal undertakings connected with light, power, water and gas for the purpose of arranging them for the production of munitions. The scheme, which has been approved by the War Office, means that all municipal resources will be placed at the disposal of the government.

TORONTO'S ROSE DAY BROUGHT $22,000 TO "HELP THE KIDDIES"

Some Gave Pennies, Some $100 Cheques, and Every-one Wore a Rose, Making the Event a Great Success—Greater Than Anticipated.

Over $22,000 was the handsome amount collected yesterday in Toronto's first Rose Day. This was announced about 3.30 p.m., and Ward's Island collection was still to come in. "It's a success! Ask the first of the Rose Day workers—those who met the early cars at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, or those who swept the downtown districts at noon, when the crowds surged down the streets in an unending procession; or better still, take your answer from the boxes that emptied themselves before the tellers and counters at the King Edward, when the roses and bills mounted up into the thousands. It was a beautiful day, with beautiful results—a day of which the chief factors were roses, white-frooked, smiling-faced girls and wonderfully adorned motor cars, and greatest feature of all, a city's half million, in which there was scarcely one but wore the badge of good-will towards the little ones—the pretty pink rose of Queen Alexandra.

At 16 East King street, the headquarters of the daughters of the Empire, who had the activities of the day in hand, the officers were early on the scene. Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, national president in charge of the movement in Toronto is due; Mrs. R. S. Wilson, the municipal regent, and Miss Dickson, the secretary, all busy and alert for every call. Ross, Motors, Glisla. A flying trip in rose-decked motor car up Yonge street, through the charming crescents of Rosedale, back to Queen's Park and on to the busy centre of the city's half million, every-where roses, motors and girls. "How are you doing?" asked a reporter of The World, and back came the cheer "Fine" here over at the parliament buildings," said one fair seller, "and the government was awfully good." On Jarvis street by 10 o'clock, two five-dollar bills and two four-dollar fees were reported as exchanged for a rose. In the district on Yonge between Queen and Richmond, in charge of Mrs. Ambrose Small, two one hundred dollar cheques were received, one from J. C. Stewart of the Canadian Sugar Company and the other from Simon Diamond of Barrie. At Queen and Spadina a cheque for fifty dollars was reported and doubtless there were many others. The spirit was magnificent everywhere, and "the girls and women in almost every case brought out their coin with roses, and in response to the query "Would you like a rose?" Money on a string. From one factory window money was attached to a string, and from another a message came that one and weighed with a button, which said "Come at 12 o'clock." The hint was taken and fifty dollars were among the girls rewarded the vendor of roses. Who could attempt to describe the motor cars? Still and tame in evidence everywhere. On Yonge, near Richmond, stood Mrs. Diamond's, which 240 dozen roses, pink and white, had been expended. All were made by the girls themselves, it was as one remarked "a real Made-in-Canada." Down at King and Yonge was another beauty, owned by Mrs. Hugh Martin, where Mrs. Roads and Miss Inez Perry were assisting. Still another in which roses ran riot was that in which Mrs. Gooderham, Mrs. Reynolds and Miss Bevy of pretty girls held sway. Up Yonge street, the limousine of Mrs. Dunlop was the cynosure of all eyes, and down at the Beach the rose-car, copied car of Mrs. Stainlands attracted much attention. A note from Japan was introduced into the decorations in the floral festooned paravels, and the larger umbrellas with which many of the cars were supplied.

children of the I. O. D. E. Preventorium were among the night-sellers. About 4 o'clock the captains began to bring in their boxes, and the collecting was continued during many busy hours at the tables in the royal suite at the King Edward. The money was handled by four experts, an official under the supervision of the official treasurer, Col. Gooderham, Col. Bruce, Angus MacMunichy, Noel Marshall, E. P. B. Johnston and Hugh Polson. Three Thousand Girls. There were three thousand girls and women in the big, bright-faced army who took part in the rose campaign, and the day ended with dinner at the King Edward, served in the Queen Alexandra room. The institutions that benefit are the I. O. D. E. Preventorium, the Hospital for Sick Children, the Boys' Home, Girls' Home, Infants' Home, Protestant Orphan's Home, Sacred Heart Orphanage, Children's Aid and Shelter, Home for Incurable Children. The following cable was sent to Queen Alexandra: "Glad to announce that the first Rose Day held in Toronto in honor of our Most Gracious Queen Mother Alexandra, proved a wonderful success—five thousand pounds.—(Signed) Mary Gooderham, president, I.O.D.E.; Sarah Irving Wilson, regent, Municipal Capter, Toronto." A silver cup was offered by the Murray-Kay Co. for the best decorated car, but as this was not known in advance, the offer was appreciated, and will become an annual event. The officers and members of the I.O. D. E. desire to express their warmest appreciation for the services and cooperation of the men in the work of counting the returns, and through Toronto generally.

CALLS ON GERMANY TO CEASE PIRACY

President Wilson Sends Strong Note to Berlin in Lusitania Case.

NOT FOR CONTROVERSY

Subject Lifted Above Ordinary Diplomatic Discussion, Kaiser Told.

"In the meantime, whatever arrangement may happily be made between the parties to the war, and whatever may, in the opinion of the Imperial German Government, have been the provocation or the circumstantial justification for the past acts of its commanders at sea, the Government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the Government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded.

Warnings Renewed

"The Government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German Government on May 15, and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law, and the ancient friendship of the German nation.

"The Government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand the Imperial German Government to question those rights. It understands it, also, to accept, as established beyond question, the principle that the lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman, and to recognize the obligation to take sufficient precaution to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is of fact of belligerent nationality, or is, in fact, carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag.

"The Government of the United States deems it reasonable to expect that the Imperial German Government will adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice in respect of the safeguarding of American lives and American ships, and asks for assurances that this will be done.

"Robert Lansing, Secretary of State ad Interim."

SEVENTY THOUSAND MEN MAKING SHELLS IN CANADIAN FACTORIES

Brigadier-General Bertram Tells Manufacturers of Remarkable Strides of Shell-Making Industry—247 Factories in Canada Aiding Great Britain in National Crisis by Producing Ammunition. "At the present time no less than 247 factories are making munitions of war in 78 cities and towns in the Dominion. In Toronto alone there are 23 factories engaged in this work. The manufacture of shells in this country is giving employment to between 60,000 and 70,000 artisans, while the total weekly wage bill easily amounts to $1,000,000. From these figures you will see what the shell-making industry means to the workers as well as to the Brigadier-General Alexander Bertram, formerly of Dundas, but now of Ottawa, chairman of the Dominion Shell Committee, made the above comments in the course of an interesting address to the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday. A luncheon was given to the members on the closing day of their annual convention at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, when Brigadier-General Bertram was the principal guest. The speaker pointed out the remarkable address to the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday which was brought into being as a result of the war, and the necessity of the Man Who Stays at Home. "My chairman and gentlemen: It is with pleasure that I respond to the kind invitation of my friends of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to tell them something of the development of certain Canadian industries during the past few months. Little did I conceive, and I am sure neither did you, when you held your last annual meeting that twelve months later I should appear before you as chairman of a committee appointed by the government to superintend the manufacture of munitions of war. Everything at that time looked peaceable. The did not even appear to be gathering. Today, however, Canada as part of the British Empire is engaged in the greatest war that the world has ever known. It is not the lot of every man to be able to go to the front. The man who stays at home, provided he bends his energies in the right direction, can render equally as effective service in the cause of right and justice, as represented by the allies in this war as the men behind the guns or the ones who are actually fighting in the trenches. This remark applies equally to the employer and employee. "In this connection, may I make one brief citation from a recent statement by a man who stands high in the counter-revolutionary movement. I mean Lord Kitchener? Only the other day the secretary for war, from his office at Whitehall, sent out this statement to the people of the United Kingdom: "I have said that I would like the country know when more men were wanted for the war. The time has crew was saved by another trawler and landed in Grimby today. Exhausted When SAVED. The crew of the trawler, Velocity, were landed at Harlepool this morning after being fifty-two hours at sea in a small boat without food or water. The men were in a terrible state of exhaustion when they were picked up by the vessel which brought them to port.

The submarine fired five shells at the Velocity to send her to the bottom. The Tunisian crew, which was allowed five minutes in which to leave the boat, arrived at Grimby today. The vessel was sunk with bombs. The crew was picked up at sea. In this case also bombs were used by the German submarine.

The submarine pursued another trawler, but the arrival of a patrol boat saved this vessel. The Grimby steam trawler Nottingham was sunk by the shell fire of a German submarine. The crew was saved.

Steamers Victims. A despatch from Harwich says the steamship Erna Boldt has been sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. Her crew was landed at Harwich today. The Erna Boldt is listed in Lloyd's marine register as a vessel of German nationality. She is a ship of 1731 tons. It is likely that this was one of the German merchantmen seized by the British at the outbreak of the war and is now being used under her old name.

An express steamer bound from Liverpool to Erna was sunk by a German submarine off Small's Bay today. The crew was saved.

FATHER ENDS HIS LIFE SON ASSAULTS MOTHER

Albert Graham Accused Mother of Causing His Father's Death.

Albert Graham appeared before Magistrate Mills in the police court yesterday morning, charged with aggravated assault against his mother. Crown Attorney Corley was not ready to go on with the case, and Graham was remanded until June 13, bail of $400 being accepted.

Graham's father was before the juvenile court last Monday, charged with using bad language before a younger son. Mrs. Graham laid the complaint, and the case was adjourned, and the father then returned to his home at 61 Robert street and committed suicide by turning on the gas.

Albert Graham went home on Wednesday night and accused his mother of being the cause of his father's death. He is then alleged to have assaulted her.

Before accepting bail the crown made it clear to Albert that he could go to the funeral of his father, but had to keep away from his mother or go to jail until the day of his trial. For hitting the thumb of C. McLellan, John Gloskey paid a fine of $30 and costs in the police court yesterday morning.

Ed. Wheeler pleaded guilty to two charges of theft of cocaine in the police court yesterday morning, and was sent to the Ontario Reformatory for one year.

JUMPED FROM BRIDGE TO COMMIT SUICIDE

James D. Davis Fell Forty Feet and Died Almost Immediately.

Letters were found in his pockets from a daughter, Miss Mary Davis, in Chicago, and from the contents of these it seems he has been ill in the General Hospital for some time. The body was removed to the morgue.

LABORATORY IS DAMAGED

Fire in Biological Building Resulted in Considerable Loss Last Night.

James D. Davis, aged about 60, and believed to come from Oshawa, committed suicide at 8.30 last evening by leaping over the three-foot iron railing of the York street bridge to the macadam road north of the railway tracks at 49 1/2 St. Davids died of a fractured skull before any of a half a dozen eye-witnesses could reach the bridge. The body was removed to the morgue.

At least four men saw Davis hurrying down the air, but none of them saw him actually climb the railing. One of them tells the police, however, that shortly before the act Davis was walking up and down on the deck of the bridge. The body was removed to the morgue.

The electrical stove had been used in the evening by one of the doctors in the biological building, and work was not at this stove after the doctor had left the building. Dr. Campbell said night would not admit that the stove was in the laboratory previous to the fire, and the refused permission to one reporter to enter the building, and to one where the stove lay in the middle of the room.

A. L. Stinson, a real estate agent, with office at 77 Victoria street, was charged by Acting Detective McConnell with neglecting to report the date of sale of H. H. Delaney out of $100. E. W. Westwood, of Gumbo, Limited, West Toronto, was the complainant. Stinson was fined $100 and returned to real estate dealer in connection with the estate to the extent of $100.

The manufacture of shells in this country is giving employment to between 60,000 and 70,000 artisans, while the total weekly wage bill easily amounts to $1,000,000. From these figures you will see what the shell-making industry means to the workers as well as to the Brigadier-General Alexander Bertram, formerly of Dundas, but now of Ottawa, chairman of the Dominion Shell Committee, made the above comments in the course of an interesting address to the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday.

A luncheon was given to the members on the closing day of their annual convention at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, when Brigadier-General Bertram was the principal guest. The speaker pointed out the remarkable address to the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday which was brought into being as a result of the war, and the necessity of the Man Who Stays at Home.

"My chairman and gentlemen: It is with pleasure that I respond to the kind invitation of my friends of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to tell them something of the development of certain Canadian industries during the past few months. Little did I conceive, and I am sure neither did you, when you held your last annual meeting that twelve months later I should appear before you as chairman of a committee appointed by the government to superintend the manufacture of munitions of war. Everything at that time looked peaceable. The did not even appear to be gathering. Today, however, Canada as part of the British Empire is engaged in the greatest war that the world has ever known. It is not the lot of every man to be able to go to the front. The man who stays at home, provided he bends his energies in the right direction, can render equally as effective service in the cause of right and justice, as represented by the allies in this war as the men behind the guns or the ones who are actually fighting in the trenches. This remark applies equally to the employer and employee.

"In this connection, may I make one brief citation from a recent statement by a man who stands high in the counter-revolutionary movement. I mean Lord Kitchener? Only the other day the secretary for war, from his office at Whitehall, sent out this statement to the people of the United Kingdom: "I have said that I would like the country know when more men were wanted for the war. The time has come, and I now call for 300,000 recruits to form new armies. "Those who are engaged on the production of war material of any kind should not leave their work. It is to men who are not performing their duty that I appeal!"

"My chief object in addressing you today in my capacity as chairman of the shell committee is to let the people of Canada know what the Dominion is doing in the manufacture of munitions of war. It is surprising, what little knowledge men have of our work; men of ordinary intelligence, who through the public press, should certainly be cognizant of the situation as it exists today in this country. For instance, I read in an Ottawa newspaper last week a long editorial, written by a gentleman in his office, which is situated within two blocks of the headquarters of the shell committee, telling the government what should be done to organize the manufacture of shells in Canada. Although we have been at work for several months, and so far have produced and shipped 669,000 shells, evidently I have not impressed upon this gentleman that the government, as well as the manufacturers of the Dominion, were alive to the necessities of the situation and were doing their respective parts loyally and enthusiastically.

Presses Hughes. "I am not here as an apologist for Major-General Hughes. He needs no apology. To the minister of militia, and to him alone, belongs the credit of initiating the work for the organization of the manufacturers in Canada in a way that they were never organized before in one particular—(Continued on Page 7, Column 5.)"

PETROGRAD, June 10, via London. Concluding a long statement on the Russian operations in the Caucasus, the general staff says: "By June 6 we had captured the vast region of Van and part of the Sanjak of Moush. We had annihilated Khalil Bey's original corps and we had cleared of Turkish troops the whole region between Lake Van and Ourza."

"On the right wing we occupied Turkish territory between the old Chokuk and Tortun, and the mountain range of Tchakhr Baba. An offensive which the Turks undertook in the Province of Azerbaijan ended in a definite debacle."

The awards were as follows: Dairy cattle—J. M. Weir, Malvern; 2. A. E. Kennedy, Agincourt; 3. H. B. Elliott, Agincourt. In the judging in the best points in beef cattle, A. E. Kennedy won the first award, J. M. Weir second and Fred C. Neomans third. Each of the young men was given a cash award, but Mr. Weir, scoring the highest number of points in all, was awarded the handsome cup donated by Mrs. Joseph Kilgour of Sunnybrook farm. Mrs. Kilgour was present during the afternoon at the ladies' meeting and herself presented the coveted trophy to Mr. Weir. Subsequently, at the request of Mr. Prisman, the meeting considered a proposition to supplant the Farmers' and Women's Institute by a new society, to be known as the Board of Agriculture, with some alterations and additions in the general makeup. No conclusion was arrived at, and a special meeting will be called at a later date to take this matter into consideration.

GERMANY REFUSES TO EXCHANGE PRISONERS

Negotiations for Transfers of Crippled Men Definitely Broken Off.

ROME, June 10.—Germany has broken off negotiations for the exchange of wounded soldiers who are unfit for further military service with all the belligerent countries. The exchange was first only applied in regard to British prisoners.

Various pretexts for this action have been placed before the Vatican, such as the possible use of military material of prisoners still having an arm. These have made the worst impression at the Vatican.

GERMAN CYNICISM OUTFRIVALS DEVILTRY

"New Technical Weapons" is Phrase Used by Prussian Organ to Describe Poisonous Gas Bombs.

It is generally conceded that German military deviltry is the quintessence of all past or present known deviltry, with perhaps a groping into the future by the most inventive imagination for something more ingenious than ever before conceived even by the most prostitute of gibberish savage hordes.

FRANCE TO INCREASE OUTPUT OF MUNITIONS

Workmen Now at Front Will Be Recalled to Factories.

PARIS, June 10.—The French Government took action today for the purpose of increasing the country's output of war munitions. The plan, which is upon its feet, is designed primarily to facilitate production by the private manufacturing concerns which are working for the national defence.

A Prussian organ boasts of the success of the gas bomb described in its issue. It says that the gas bomb is a "new and technical weapon," and that it is "the most effective of all weapons." The article says that the gas bomb is "a new and technical weapon," and that it is "the most effective of all weapons."

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. There is a good test-tablet with every meal—Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure yourself. It is a simple test. You will see how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell the story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add five to eight pounds in the first two weeks by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new Sargol does not make you fat, but it makes you healthy. It turns the fat into rich, ripe fat-producing nutriment for the tissues and blood—precisely the same as the nutriment found in an early assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is a pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Druggists sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

STREETS CLOSED

The following members were appointed to fill vacancies on the executive committee of the British Imperial Association in place of those who have enlisted at last evening's meeting in Little's Hall, Earlscourt: H. Downe, J. Brooks, G. D. Younger and Dr. G. W. Mitchell.

A reply from Mayor Church was read re the suggestion of the B.I.A. that the position of fire chief be filled without delay and expressing a preference for the promotion of a man from the ranks. The mayor stated that he would lay the suggestion before the board of control at once.

On the motion of H. Downe, a resolution of condolence was ordered to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maybee regarding the death of their son, Albert Maybee.

President H. Parfrey stated that a large deputation from the district had appeared before the city council with a petition signed by upwards of 2000 persons asking that the Royce avenue property be purchased for a park.

The following resolution was adopted: "That the city council be asked to appropriate one mill on the dollar for park purposes."

Streets Closed.

Complaints were received by members that several streets in Earlscourt were closed to traffic, the work having been only partially completed and abandoned. The secretary was instructed to write Commissioner Harris and ask why the work on these streets had been stopped, also, that an extra car be placed on the St. Clair avenue civic car line during the morning and evening rush hours.

Mr. W. Burlington complained that the staff at the city hall had not been reduced, although there was less work to be done there.

It was decided to write the mayor asking if as many men were employed in the city hall this session there were last year.

School Accommodation.

Regarding school accommodation at Earlscourt School, President Parfrey informed the Board of Education that there are over 150 children still waiting for admittance, and apparently no provision was being made for them by the Board of Education.

It was decided to write Superintendent Bishop asking when the portable rooms were to be placed in Earlscourt as promised. The secretary was also instructed to write the works department asking when work would be started on the Innes avenue bridge and the lavatory for the St. Clair avenue section.

AURORA BUSINESS MEN AFTER SHELL CONTRACTS

T. H. Lennox M.L.A. presided over a big meeting of business men in Aurora last night when propositions were formulated for getting a fair share for Aurora of the war shell contracts. The directors, who were present, already have a factory suitable in town, and providing a contract suitably large can be secured from the shell committee the machinery will be at once installed. The cost of the machinery would be in the neighborhood of $35,000. The Tudhops of Orilla have secured a contract and are installing machinery costing $35,000. If a contract is secured Aurora will be asked to lend the money.

AWAITING EVENTS.

Approves of the action of the Central Citizens' Association, in passing a strong resolution last night against any extension of the Fairbank avenue franchise to the Metropolitan Railway, citizens uptown and around the "crossing" are strongly of the opinion that the railway should not be extended any plan, preferring to wait for the city to make a suggestion.

CANNOT GET PATHWAY THRU CEMETERY NOW

Trust Refuses to Deal With the City and Says Offer of Free Road Has Expired.

The following members of the board of education, Chairman Hodgson, Superintendent Bishop and Dr. Hunter, together with Reeve Thomas Griffiths, Deputy Reeves Fred H. Miller, W. U. Graham and Councilor T. McKay of the York Township Council, visited the Earlscourt district yesterday morning for the purpose of inspecting the proposed pathway thru Prospect Cemetery at a point near Morrison avenue.

The members of the board of education and township council had an interview with Superintendent Clarke of Prospect Cemetery who informed the party that the offer made by the cemetery board of a road thru the cemetery free of charge a few years ago had expired on May 31, and as the city had not taken advantage of the offer the cemetery board will now deal with the York Township Council only.

The superintendent of the cemetery was assured by the members of the board of education that the roadway question would be taken up at once, and that a strip of land five or six feet in width from Harvie avenue to the cemetery property should be immediately secured.

The township representatives thought that a 66-foot roadway might be purchased from Harvie avenue to the cemetery road, in order to make a continuous road to McRoberts avenue if a mutual arrangement were made with the city and owners of property did not hold up the price.

Willow Banks Farm, Vaughan, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Aitchison, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, when their only daughter, Violet, was married to Wilbert J. W. Mitchell, of Milton. The bride looked very sweet in her gown of white moeserine, prettily trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Her veil of tulle was held with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Ailly-of-the-valley and maiden hair fern. The only attendant was the bride's little sister, Ruby, who acted as flower girl and wore a dainty frock of white embroidered voile and carried a basket of sweet peas. The wedding ceremony which took place under an arch of evergreen, was performed by the Rev. Mr. Lovering of Maple. The wedding marches were played by Miss Maud Snider of Woodbridge. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome silver service, to the flower girl a gold locket and chain, and to Miss Snider a brooch set with emeralds and pearls. Only relatives and immediate friends of the couple were present. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left amid showers of good wishes and confetti for a two-weeks honeymoon in the east, the bride traveling in a navy blue tailored suit and white hat. Kidney Disease Cured

Sworn Statement

Of Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Who Gratefully Gives All Credit to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is one thing to make big claims for a medicine and quite another thing to produce irrefutable evidence that it actually cures in serious cases. We prefer to let the cured ones speak for themselves, and that is why you find in almost every newspaper the report of someone who has been cured by the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Today we present the sworn statement of Mr. Wesley Maxwell. When a man goes to this trouble in expressing his gratitude there can be no question of the benefit he has received. Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Orangeville, Ont., writes: "I have been being Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I must tell you that before I started using them I could only make water with the greatest difficulty, and had very severe pains in the back. I am completely cured now by the use of these pills. Before that I used a lot of doctors' medicine without any benefit that I could see. I am thankful for being cured, and can recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills very highly."

SWORN STATEMENT.

"This is to certify that I, Wesley Maxwell, of the Township of Caledonia, was cured of kidney trouble by taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills." "Wesley Maxwell."

(Sworn before me as correct this 6th day of January, 1915.—William Hawkins, Senior Justice of the Peace.) "This statement is also endorsed by the Rev. George W. Robinson, who is Mr. Maxwell's pastor."

This cure will interest a great many people who are suffering as Mr. Maxwell was with kidney and urinary troubles. It will only cost you a quarter to buy a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and put this medicine to the test. We are sure that you will be thankful to the writer for describing his cure to you. HER MAJESTY TO CARE FOR CHILD SURVIVOR

Queen Alexandra Requests Information About Orphan Girl Saved by Cowper.

LONDON, June 11.—The action of Ernest Cowper, a Toronto newspaperman, in rescuing a child passenger on the Lusitania, named Helen Smith, has appealed so much to Queen Alexandra that she has sent to the Cunard Company at Liverpool a request for full particulars.

Mr. Cowper put the child, who is six years of age and extraordinarily intelligent, into one of the lifeboats after the ship was torpedoed. After being in the water for an hour and a quarter, Mr. Cowper managed to get into a boat and by a curious coincidence the first one to greet him aboard was the little girl, who said: "There's the gentleman who got me."

Helen Smith, thru the disaster, has been left alone in the world, and the interest of the queen mother is typical of her kindness of heart. Many offers to adopt the little survivor have been received.

REV. R. J. TRELEAVEN IS NEW PRESIDENT

Well Known Minister Appointed Head of Toronto Methodist Conference.

KING ALCOHOL TO WIN

Should Germany Be Victorious, Said Rev. Dr. Chown, Condemning Liquor.

Rev. R. J. Treleven was elected president at the opening session of the Toronto Methodist Conference at Elm Street Church yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, gave an address in which he condemned the liquor traffic in strong terms, and declared that the Methodists were out to annihilate the liquor trade and nothing else would do.

Sympathy, Dr. Chown declared, was the keynote of British policy. Bearing one another's burdens was the lesson the British Empire teaches. He commended to the Englishman, who, when he heard that the Germans were making brooches engraved, "God Punish England," made one inscribed, "God Forgive Germany."

At the afternoon session, Rev. A. N. St. John of Bolton was elected secretary. Superannuation was granted to Rev. V. H. Emory, C. J. Dobson, W. A. Rodwell, T. Legate, N. Wellwood, J. W. Wilkinson and R. McKee.

Rev. Dr. Briggs aroused enthusiasm by expressing the opinion that the churches could appropriately during the present sitting of the conference use the words, "Confound their politics, confound their knavish tricks, or the term, 'navy tricks' could be used.

The GARDEN CONDUCTED BY R. K. TODD Spraying the Roses

By keeping watch over my own rose bushes I notice that rose bush spraying should be attended to at once. The last few days' temperature made conditions very suitable for the growth and development of that great pest among rose bushes—namely, the aphid fly.

This small fly can do quite as much mischief to the bushes and to the buds as the wickedest green worms can do. The young flies gathered in countless numbers and living on the under sides of the tender young leaves suck the life juices from the leaves, turning them yellow, crinkled and spotted with brown. Soon the leaf dies, or if it does not die, but still clings to the limb, is very unsightly and unhealthy looking.

Leaves that have once been subjected to the depredations of these flies never again regain their healthy appearance.

The best remedy for the aphid fly is the ordinary garden hose used as a fine spray morning, noon and night. The flies cannot stand the constant washing off of the leaves by this steady strong spray.

For the fat, green, small coiled-up worm that will be very common in a week or ten days, the fine hose spray is not always efficacious, unless used before the worms become too numerous.

Swift's "Red Steer" Fertilizers It Pays to Use Them THE application of SWIFT'S FERTILIZERS with milk...

ous and strong. I have often sprayed an infected bush very vigorously, getting beneath the undersides of the leaves and allowing the full force of the fine spray to beat upon the leaves for ten to twenty minutes. Afterward, upon examining the bush I have been astonished to see many of the tightly curled-up worms still fastened to the leaves. It is said that they glue themselves upon the leaves with a thin, mucilaginous liquid that resists the fine hose spray.

Where your bushes are subject to this rose worm it is not wise to depend entirely upon the hose spray. Myself, I have found nothing better than a solution of whale oil soap, used about three times, at intervals of three to four days, and not more than three doses.

Most seed shops will be able to sell you a cake of whale oil soap, which is usually sold in one pound bars at 25c a bar. One bar will last you a couple of summers, with care, and take care of many large rose bushes.

To make a proper solution and a safe one of the soap do as follows: Shave off about one-quarter of the bar of soap and dissolve it in an ordinary wooden pail of boiling water. Keep this in the cellar as your stock solution, and by no means ever use it as it is on your bushes. If you do the bushes will die.

When you are ready to spray your bushes, take your watering can and pour into it about two quarts of your solution and then fill the can with cold water. After straining well, spray your bushes in the evening, not in the morning, since if done in the morning, unless you choose a dull day, the hot sun rays will do harm to the wet leaves.

Then in the morning a strong fine spray of the hose should wash off any trace of the solution that remains on the leaves, as many of the common insecticides do, when used too often or too strong.

NEED BABES PAIN TO KEEP SALT IN EXILE

Coldwell Alleged to Have Paid Over Ten Thousand Dollars.

TOLD TO CHANGE BOOK

Horwood and Salt Give Start- ling Testimony in Mani- toba Inquiry.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 10.—V. W. Horwood, formerly Manitoba's provincial architect, gave evidence before the royal commission here this afternoon. Liberal counsel also rounded up Wm. Salt, the missing witness, who was produced before the commission.

A. J. Andrews, senior counsel for the Roblin government, before Mr. Horwood began his evidence stated that outside of Manitoba the commission had no power to administer an oath. Chief Justice Mathers said he thought the oath should be given, but he of considerable effect, but he extended the witness immunity from the effects of his statements in any possible action.

Told to Fix Book. Horwood stated that Hon. Mr. Coldwell told him that Salt, who was containing a report of the depths and diameters of the caissons, would not work out right with Kelly's estimates for payments, citing on the advice of W. A. Elliott, inspector of the buildings, and Coldwell, Horwood called Salt into the office and got him to make a copy of the book. Horwood went to see Coldwell and told the minister that the book would not tally with the applications. He was then told by Mr. Coldwell he had better have the book fixed.

"I went to Salt and asked him to re-write it and adjust the figures. I told him the depths shown would not tally with the figures we had put into our estimates," said Horwood. He told Coldwell that he "did not think it would go down with the committee" (public accountants), and he was advised to keep "it out as long as possible."

Horwood also testified that Coldwell said Elliott would have three applications for payment which did not bear his signature. He then told of getting in touch with Salt after he had gone away, and his agreement to use aliases in order to enable them to correspond without anyone detecting their money and work. He said, he said, that Salt should come back and stand by his figures. Salt was to go over his figures with Elliott in Minneapolis, and Elliott was to find out what it would cost to get the testimony desired.

Salt Got $500. Witness corroborated Elliott's story in the matter of the $500. Horwood said he told Coldwell about the $500, and what it was for, and expected Coldwell would refund it. Coldwell instructed him to endeavor to keep Salt away, and Horwood therefore got in touch with M. G. Hook, and arranged with him for a trip to Chicago. On Coldwell's instructions, Horwood called on Dr. Simpson, and was given a parcel, which was said to contain $500. This parcel was sent to Salt.

Witness said he frequently saw Mr. Kelly in the parliament buildings while the public accounts committee was in session and had a number of conversations with him on Salt's absence. Kelly's opinion was that it was poor business to keep Salt away.

After telling of the return of Elliott, Horwood said Salt was contemplating a trip to New York, so he again sent Hook to Minneapolis, who just caught Salt.

Horwood said Salt wanted more money and Coldwell gave him $300, which he sent to him. Hook had a third interview with Salt, and this time Salt was anxious to return to Winnipeg. On learning of the fact Horwood reported to Coldwell and received instructions to find out how much Salt wanted to keep. Salt's price was $10,000. At first Coldwell said the price was ridiculous, but he thought he could raise $5,000. Salt, however, stuck out and finally Coldwell said he and Horwood would give the money. It was done and Horwood got the money from Coldwell in bills and gave it to M. G. Hook.

Hook was going to Denver with it, but in Omaha he was caught and robbed and he lost all the money.

Salt on Stand. Mr. Salt was called a witness. He was shown and remembered the famous black book. He had a conversation with Mr. Horwood about it before he left Winnipeg, when Horwood asked him to make the quantities fit with the amounts paid. Salt said he worked at the amounts and Horwood at the old one, until Horwood realized the new depths of the caissons they were showing were not deep enough. So Horwood then asked him to make every caisson shown as resting on hardpan look as tho it rested on rock. Witness identified alterations in the black book as the work of Horwood.

Perjury Urged. On Friday, March 12, Horwood told witness he had better take a holiday, handing him $300. He had not seen Horwood since. He stayed in Minneapolis some days, then went to Madison and Chicago. By appointment at La Salle Hotel, Chicago, Elliott visited him, saying he was special representative of the government. The witness in bad shape in Winnipeg, Elliott said.

Elliott told him to fix his price for giving false evidence about the caissons—not to be afraid, but name one, two or three thousand. Salt said he would not commit perjury for a hundred dollars, but would come back and say as little as he could. Then Elliott sent off the wire saying everything was made O.K. for two or three thousand. Elliott had given him $300 in $20 bills, and when Hook came he gave him $200 more. After a little longer witness went back to Minneapolis, where he learned the royal commission had been appointed. He received more money, and Hook suggested he going to Denver, but he went to Denver instead. He heard nothing from Hook further, except that he had had a bad accident in Omaha, which obliged Hook's return to Winnipeg. Salt then went to Idaho Springs for a day.

A Fresh Bribe. A month elapsed with no word from Hook, so he wired Elliott saying he was coming home. At St. Paul he reserved accommodations to Winnipeg, but a gentleman introducing himself as Mr.

GALICIAN BATTLE TURNS FAVOR OF MUSCOVITES

U.S. PRESS COMMENT

Fresh Reserves Thrown Into Combat Arrests Teutonic Advance.

GERMAN WITHDRAWAL

Berlin War Office Admits Ar- rival of Russian Reinforce- ments in East.

LONDON, June 10, 11.10 p.m.—Russian reinforcements have arrived in the Baltic provinces and in Galicia and it has become their turn to attack. According to the German official reports received tonight part of the German force on the Dnieper River in the Baltic provinces, threatened by an encircling movement, were obliged to withdraw, altho in the region of Shavli and on the Niemen they claim to be making progress, despite a stubborn Russian resistance.

More important in the belief of military observers here, however, is the apparent change that is taking place in the Galician battle. Here again, according to the German account, the Russians are advancing to the south and southeast of Lemberg and also are attacking the Austrians and Germans which crossed the Dniester near Zuzawno.

Russians Back to Dniester. In eastern Galicia Bukowina, however, the Russians are falling back between the Pruth and Dniester Rivers with the intention, it is believed here, of making the Dniester their line of defence from the Roumanian frontier to the southeast of Pereyaslav. They have strong positions along this line, and military experts say that if they can drive back the Germans to the Dniester, they will be in a position to deliver an offensive, at any rate, as soon as the Austrians and Germans begin to withdraw troops for their western and southern campaigns.

Withdrawal of Troops. It is possible that withdrawal commenced some days ago, for Dutch correspondents report the arrival of large numbers of troop trains in Belgium and the commencement of a battle to the south of Ypres. The official reports, however, make no mention of such a battle.

Along most of the French front the fighting is of a character similar to that which has been in progress for many months. The French generally are on the offensive.

Heavy fighting continues on the Italian front. Particularly along the Isonzo River, where the Italians have taken Monfalcone, an important town near the coast.

The German nation, for its part, must realize that such a note as this second note, embodies and expresses the united sentiment of the American people and will be maintained by every man of our citizenship.

Consoling Revealed. New York Herald: "A great diplomatic crisis in this country was safely passed on Tuesday. How great that crisis was will perhaps not be apparent to the great mass of Americans until the secret history of diplomatic relations with Germany comes to be written."

"But it is clearly apparent that a conspiracy, masquerading under a counterfeit effort to preserve peace, had been under way since the despatch of the president's note to Germany following the sinking of the Lusitania, which had for its purpose the surrender of American rights."

"The German ambassador controlled one member of the cabinet, and the only wonder is that he did not do more harm than he really accomplished. The whole aim was to gain delay so that the national conscience would 'cool off,' and accept a complete surrender by submitting the submarine warfare of Germany and the massacre of Americans to arbitration."

The Vital Point. "The note shows how completely this plot has been frustrated. The president formally asks the imperial government for assurances that measures hereafter will be adopted to safeguard American lives and American ships on the high seas."

That is the vital line in the message. What will Germany do about it?

But Do Not Injure Canada. When the Ottawa Government appointed a commission to handle contracts for army supplies and when a munitions committee was appointed to deal with the supply of these materials to the army, a natural channel of information was opened for any foreign powers which might want to get supplies or make contracts for supplies in Canada. It may be that Canada and Canadians are not altogether blameless beside standards which have been prepared in anticipation of the millennium, but there is little sense and there may be great harm done in making out the country and its people to be worse than they are.

A business man who wants to get at the cheapest market does not usually go to a middleman, and when it is charged that the representatives of Russia, France and other powers to middlemen to whom they have to pay high commissions it is tantamount to charging these representatives with lack of ordinary business judgment, or of desiring to partake in that interesting game lately denominated fifty-fifty.

It is stated that at least seven millions worth of contracts for boots have been lost to Canada because certain partisan papers alleged all kinds of evils against the Canadian boot contractors when all the time the boots supplied, with such exceptions as are to be met with in all large contracts, were satisfactory.

The trained ape killed his master in trying to put a fly with a rock when the fly settled on his master's nose. It is all very well to slay the grafting traders, but do not let us slay Canada's.

BUILDING SALE

Sweeping Changes to Our Showrooms--- Stock Must Be Heavily Reduced to Make Way for Builders.

Tremendous Price Concessions On GOURLAY PIANOS

We have renewed the lease on our building, and one of the conditions imposed is that we remodel the premises, so that 188 Yonge street, though modest in size, will be one of the most convenient piano houses in Canada.

So in a few days the builders will take possession of our showrooms to make radical changes, and bring our building right up to the minute. Obviously, when builders are around pianos must be out of the way, especially the higher grade of pianos with which the floors are now crowded. Now, you understand how imperative it is that we dispose of a great number of pianos in a few days, no matter what the sacrifice of profit. The builders, carpenters, structural steel men, decorators are all waiting to commence work the moment there is room for them to turn around.

Prices Slashed to Induce Quick Buying

Having decided to offer new Gourlay Pianos at less than regular prices, reductions will be sweeping with all terms and conditions of sale in accordance. Never before have you been able to purchase to such tremendous advantage—a finer piano than you might hope to own at a smaller price than you would reasonably expect to say, and your own time in which to pay for it.

Convenient Terms That Make Present Purchase Possible

Here Are a Few of the Sweeping Reductions

- MEYERSON — Upright Piano, by Meyerelson Co., Toronto, in walnut case, in simple style, with three pedals, full length panels, etc. Sale price..... $185
- BEEMER — A very attractively de- signed upright piano, in handsome mahogany case; has no scroll carving to catch dust; with three pedals and ivory keys; in perfect order. Looks like new. Sale price..... $235
- KARN — A 7-1-3-octave Upright Piano, by Karn, Woodstock; case in figured walnut—panels without carving, in as good order as when new. Sale price..... $228
- GOURLAY — A new grand scale Gourlay of the most expensive style on our list; has been used for concerts, but is now after repolishing as good as new—beautiful mahogany case. Sale price..... $300
- A Player Bargain
An 88-note player of our own make (the $700 style) was sold new at the Toronto Exhibition 1914, and has been well cared for. Business reverses caused its purchaser to ask us to accept its return even though a substantial payment had been made. Sale price..... $465

A tremendous stock of highest quality pianos—new and used—two showrooms crowded to the limit—that must be cleared out without delay before the builders tear down a single brick.

THE TORONTO SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips

The prettiest part of these days was the finale, when 600 of the pretty girls of Toronto and their chaperons, in many cases the smartest young married women in town, dined at the Alexandra room at the King Edwards. They were hungry, as well as pretty, and did full justice to the exceedingly good dinner provided by Mr. Bailey. The beautiful room was brilliantly lighted, the hats laden with roses making a beautiful decoration; the music was excellent and the service given by the girls of the room was beyond praise. As for rose day, it was organized by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, so that it goes without saying that everything went on greased wheels throughout the day, and only in slightly lesser degree will the children of the homes, the object of the day appealing to the patriotic spirit, as well as the many patriotic funds always on hand.

Miss Marietta Gooderham gave a small dance last night at Deaneport, in honor of her cousin, Miss Durr, London, Ont.

The engagement is announced in Kamloops, B.C., between Miss Margaret C.M., to Mr. Donald Roy Cameron, B.A., B.S.F., son of Mr. R. H. Cameron, K.C., and Mrs. Cameron, Ottawa. The wedding will take place early in June.

SEVENTY THOUSAND MAKING SHELLS

Gen. Hughes is the pioneer of the work in the Dominion; the members of the shell committee are simply carrying out what he is carrying out this effective work, and splendid service for the empire, say nothing of the zeal and enthusiasm with which he mobilized, equipped and despatched 33,000 men from Canada in seven short weeks after the declaration of war, and since then has sent across the seas an equal number. That in itself is a magnificent achievement, and only in slightly lesser degree will the credit accrue to him for showing the way to the engineering firms of England, Ireland and Scotland, as well as other portions of the empire, to the manufacture of those munitions without which no war can be successfully carried on. It is to be noted that the stirring words of Lloyd George at Manchester, "I am glad to know that the factories of Britain are now being systematically organized for the production of munitions, and that the largest of so many months. Gen. Hughes was the first man in Canada to grasp this idea."

Organized Factories

"Shortly after he broke out the minister received an order from the British Government for supplies of arms and ammunition. Contracts were placed for these both in Canada and the United States, and then came the order to utilize the engineering factories throughout the Dominion for shell manufacture, and to secure the co-operation of employers and employees in the engineering trades to take up this patriotic work. As a manufacturer myself, I am free to say that the committee chosen to deal with all shell component parts, and the examination of drawings and specifications, which were fully explained by both these officers, we came to the conclusion that the manufacturers of Canada could and should engage in this work."

Committee Appointed

"Accordingly, the following week, at a meeting called by Gen. Hughes at the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec, a committee was appointed to organize the movement throughout the Dominion. The members of this committee are: Messrs. Thomas Cantley of New Glasgow, George W. Watts, Toronto; E. Carnegie, Welland; Gen. T. Benson, master-general of ordnance; Mr. J. W. Borden, chief accountant and paymaster-general; Col. Harston and Col. Lafferty, the latter four representing the department of militia and defense. I had the honor to be named chairman of this committee. I accepted the office, because I felt it to be my duty to have the additional satisfaction of knowing that there were associated with me enthusiastic colleagues who would do their utmost to make the undertaking a success. In this I have not been disappointed. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid work of my associates."

Got Good Man

"Col. Lafferty undertook the technical instruction of the manufacturers, while to Col. Harston was allotted the equally important duty of superintending the examination and inspection. Before the end of the month we were fortunate to secure the services of Mr. David Carnegie of London, England, as ordnance adviser. You may realize how fortunate we were in this respect when I tell you that Mr. Carnegie, who is one of the recognized authorities on steel and munitions, was for many years in charge of the shell factory at Woolwich Arsenal. He is a fellow of the Royal Society, Edinburgh, and an active member of the most important engineering institutions in the motherland. Col. Carnegie took up his duties immediately since September last has been on the work day and night."

Refine Copper Here

"Gen. Hughes was careful to impress upon the committee that to the utmost possible limit the component parts of the shells should be made in Canada. This principle we have constantly kept in mind, and I am satisfied that when the war is over these establishments will be necessary manufacturing munitions, certain industries will have been created in the Dominion of a lasting character, from which the country will receive permanent benefit. For instance, I may mention that today the quantity of copper refined and smelted in a year, bagatelle, altho in 1914 the country exported approximately 80,000 tons of copper ore in matte form. On the other hand, Canada annually imports 21,000 tons of the refined product. Why should not the work of smelting and refining our native copper be done in Canada? You will be pleased to learn that as a direct outcome of the work of the shell committee this will be made possible. Our experience in nine months has demonstrated the fact that the development of this industry in the Dominion, while it would undoubtedly benefit every manufacturer who uses copper, is also all things a military necessity. Canada will thus be enabled to import its refined copper, and I can assure you of this, that in three or four months we expect to be making in this country, from the native product, all the copper bands required in the production of shells."

First Steel For Shells

"At the outset our work was largely of a formative character. We wanted Canadian steel for Canadian shells. Heretofore none such had been forthcoming. Colonel Cantley was entrusted with this work, and the work is under deep obligation to him for having rapidly installed and equipped a plant for producing the first steel made in Canada for shells. It was agreed to supply all the component parts of shells free of charge to those manufacturers who would undertake the work of finishing and assembling the complete shells. In this way many of the small manufacturers were relieved of the financial burden of buying a heavy stock of the raw materials, and which very largely contributed to the success of this huge undertaking. It was further decided to eliminate any healthy competition by paying uniform price for the same article. The committee was chosen to deal with all shell component parts, and the examination of drawings and specifications, which were fully explained by both these officers, we came to the conclusion that the manufacturers of Canada could and should engage in this work."

Committee Appointed

"Accordingly, the following week, at a meeting called by Gen. Hughes at the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec, a committee was appointed to organize the movement throughout the Dominion. The members of this committee are: Messrs. Thomas Cantley of New Glasgow, George W. Watts, Toronto; E. Carnegie, Welland; Gen. T. Benson, master-general of ordnance; Mr. J. W. Borden, chief accountant and paymaster-general; Col. Harston and Col. Lafferty, the latter four representing the department of militia and defense. I had the honor to be named chairman of this committee. I accepted the office, because I felt it to be my duty to have the additional satisfaction of knowing that there were associated with me enthusiastic colleagues who would do their utmost to make the undertaking a success. In this I have not been disappointed. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid work of my associates."

Placing Contracts

"Before awarding a contract careful consideration was made as to the ability of the firm to carry out the particular work assigned to it. If there is any doubt as to the plant being a complete and competent inspector is sent to report upon the quality of the factory. You will quite understand that in order to safeguard the interests of the Dominion, it was necessary to stipulate that contracts would be subject to cancellation. Each manufacturer adjusts his own machinery to the particular work assigned to him, and is furnished with a set of inspection gauges as a guide in making the manufacturing gauges required for the finished article. The gauges for the various parts, and the preparation of gauges and their distribution and use involved considerable labor, but we got it done and done well. To give you an idea of a certain feature of our work I may mention that the inspection of the various component parts including the analysis of material, and physical tests called for the employment of over 300 inspectors, besides several chief inspectors. Most of the inspectors are experienced machinists and tool-makers. The final inspection of the finished shell is carried out by nearly 300 examiners and district inspectors under the direction of Colonel Harston. Such an army of inspectors emphasizes the care which is being taken to produce satisfactory results, and which have been highly commented upon by the officials of the war office. Upon Colonel Harston also devolve the actual proof tests, these being carried out at a certain place, the average number of shells fired daily being 300. As soon as the shells have passed examination, and have been packed ready for shipment, the manufacturer receives his cheque."

In no single establishment in Canada except the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec is the complete shell made. One hundred and thirty firms from Halifax to Vancouver are engaged in the work of machining and assembling. Others are occupied in the manufacture of blanks, bullets, discs, cartridge cases, buckshot, gas shells, tubes, tin cups for shrapnel, grab screws, sockets and plugs, steel base plates and boxes. From an enormous number of these various articles it will be observed how extensive the several operations are. At the present time no less than 247 factories are engaged in this work in 23 cities and towns in

The Dominion. In Montreal alone 5 factories are employed, Toronto has 28, Hamilton 17 and so on through the Dominion from coast to coast. Practically every province in Canada is participating in this enterprise. The manufacture of shells in this country is giving employment to between 40,000 and 70,000 artisans, while the total weekly wage bill easily amounts to $1,000,000. From these figures it is seen what the shell-making industry means to the workmen as well as to the manufacturers of the Dominion. The changes which were necessary to the equipment of the various factories by adding new machinery, or in the readjustment of existing plants were made by the manufacturers themselves and at their own expense. These changes gave employment to many other factories which were not directly engaged in making ammunition. In the course of a very short time now we shall be producing between 40,000 and 50,000 shells per day. For the contracts already placed it may interest you to know that 170,000 tons of steel, about 30,000 tons of copper and several thousand tons of other materials are required.

Important

"In referring to the various industries covered by the sphere of operations of the shell committee I cannot but make allusion to the investigations conducted at the instance of the minister of militia in connection with the supply of propellants and high explosives. In addition to the manufacture of several thousand tons of cordite and powder in connection with the present contract, there has been an important new industry has been initiated in the Dominion, viz: the utilization of the by-products from the coke ovens of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company at Sydney, N.S., for the manufacture of the high explosive trinitro-toluene. The revenue alone from the contract placed with this company will be nearly $5,000,000. I mention this so as to give the gentlemen present an idea of what has been accomplished in one direction only, but I think you will agree with me that the value of having such an industry in Canada far outweighs any monetary consideration which may be named."

Before awarding a contract careful consideration was made as to the ability of the firm to carry out the particular work assigned to it. If there is any doubt as to the plant being a complete and competent inspector is sent to report upon the quality of the factory. LEAFS MAKE BOOTS ROYALS WIN FIRST Cocrahm Gets Poor Support - Fullerton Well Backed - Up - Light Hitting.

MONTREAL, June 10.—Raged support behind Cocrahm and timely hitting on the part of the local squad enabled the Royals to get away to an auspicious start in the first game for the second home series yesterday, when they trounced Bill Clymer's Maple Leafs by 3 runs to 1.

The game was a pitchers' duel between Cocrahm and Fullerton, with honors even so far as the slug artists were concerned, but the loose play of the Toronto infield let Cocrahm down.

For the first two innings neither side could register a hit. Two bases on balls gave the Leafs a chance in the first, but with O'Hara and Demmitt waiting to be brought home, Roach could only roll to Devin.

Shippy fielding got Fullerton out of a hole in the third. Cocrahm produced the first hit of the game, a stinging smash to left. Holander sacrificed him forward with a pretty bunt to the box.

Fullerton got the Royals their first hit in the fourth, but after reaching second on Flynn's second sacrifice bunt he loafed off the bag and was nipped on a throw from Kelly.

The locals opened their scoring in the fifth frame. Fullerton gave the ball a ride to the outfield, and Nash was safe when Roach, ever anxious to start a double play, allowed the grounder to go thru his legs.

Whiteman got the Royals their first hit in the fourth, but after reaching second on Flynn's second sacrifice bunt he loafed off the bag and was nipped on a throw from Kelly.

DULL SLOW TRADE IN CATTLE MARKET

Buyers Not Anxious to Take Stock That Has Been Left Over.

EQUAL TO ALL DEMAND

Fresh Arrivals Occupy Attention, While Others Go Unsold.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Thursday were 21 carloads all told, comprising 215 cattle, 2153 hogs, 151 sheep and lambs, 31 calves and 708 horses.

On Wednesday the trade in cattle was the slowest of the week up to that time, but Thursday was even slower, as there was very little business being transacted.

The prospect for a good trade for the coming week are certainly not very encouraging, and if a heavy delivery should materialize prices would be likely to go lower, unless some unexpected orders for slaughter should come in.

A moderate supply of milkers and springers came forward, but with those sold over the week were more than enough to supply all demands, unless it were for the extra choice kind, which always will bring a good price.

Yeast calves and lambs sold at steady values, as well as light sheep. Heavy sheep were not so plentiful, and the market for them, and we warn drovers not to bring them on the market unless they want to make a gift of them to some person.

Hog deliveries were again fairly liberal, which caused the market to be weak, and unless bought ahead the prices paid for hogs were lower.

Choice heavy steers sold from $3.15 to $3.20; choice butchers' steers and heifers, $2.15 to $2.25; medium, $1.75 to $1.85; common, $1.40 to $1.50; calves, $1.25 to $1.35; medium, $1.00 to $1.10; common, $0.75 to $0.85.

Good choice hogs at $9.00 to $9.10; medium, $7.40 to $7.50; common, $6.00 to $6.10; stockers, $5.00 to $5.10; weaners, $4.00 to $4.10.

Choice milkers sold from $7.15 to $8.00 each; medium to good at $6.00 to $7.00; common at $4.50 to $5.50 and sale.

Choice calves at $10.50 to $11.50; good at $7.75 to $8.75; medium at $7 to $7.75; common calves at $5 to $6.
