THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

N the British front a heavy action fought in the lines between the Scarpe River and Gavrelle yesterday, ended in the infliction of a severe reverse on the Germans. The enemy came on in deep masses and the momentum of his attack carried him as far as the Roeux chemical works. The British counter-attack then struck the enemy. It rolled him backwards across the slopes of Greenland Hill and inflicted on him a heavy reverse. Meanwhile, increasing their pressure, the British drew a little natives in both German East Africa and German West Africa, and said:

"If there is any measure of processible. town.

Recent developments on the British front show that Field Marshal Haig has been shifting the direction of his pressure from towards Douai to towards Lens and Lille. This significant fact has impressed the enemy to such a great extent that he is slowly evacuating Lens and other points, after destroying everything within reach. Owing to the great amount of preparation required for each offensive the British cannot strike quickly enough to prevent the bulk of the destruction, it seems, for modern war enough to prevent the bulk of the destruction, it seems, for modern war requires the accumulation of the greatest mass of machinery and supplies conceivable to conduct with success.

Details of the Italian offensive, which is now proceeding, show the making of important progress against various strong points in the Julian front and the throwing of the Italian left wing across the Isonzo and its securing of a lodgment on the eastern bank. The positions carried all had securing of a lodgment on the eastern bank. The positions carried all had great natural and artificial strength. The offensive began when the Italian left wing, under heavy artillery fire, carried the steep wooded heights on the eastern bank of the Isonzo, north of Gorizia, and at another point forced a passage of the river between Loga and Bambrez, capturing Bam-The Italian centre captured the heights of Hill 383, northeast of Playa, the villages of Zagora and Lagomila, and the crests of Mount Cucco and Mount Vodice. The Italian right wing made considerable progress on the steep slopes of Mount Santo and repulsed fierce enemy counter-attacks. East of Gorizia also the Messina brigade captured Hill 174, north of Tivoli. The enemy severely bombarded Gorizia. The Italians have counted 3,375 prisoners and many more are still uncounted.

Under Count Cadorna the Italian army has attained a high efficiency and its conduct in action has evoked the commendation of British officers. The sweep forward on a broad front has more than Trieste and Pola as its couched in offensive terms, by the ultimate goal. The Italians evidently aim at securing control of the Puster junkers and then an immediate sur-Thal, which leads into the interior of Austria. The Italian sweep forward, moreover, menaces the Italian naval bases at the head of the Adriatic and on the Dalmatian coast, and it therefore foreshadows the downfall of Austrian naval power. By acquiring control of the many harbors of Palmatia and northern Albania and Bosnia, the Italians would cut off the exit of the submarines to the sea and would end to a great degree the peril of U-boat attack on shipping in the Mediterranean.

In the Balkans the British forces have advanced in two sections of a total frontage of 8,000 yards, or nearly five miles. They made their first advance southwest of Krastali in the Lake Doiran region, on a front of the resolution had been moved in such 5.000 yards to a depth of 500 yards, and they made their second advance in the Struma region, taking Kjupri Village, and advanced trenches of the said the people of Great Britain were enemy southwest of Ernekeui on a front of 3,000 yards. The Serbians carried out a surprise attack near Grandeschnitza and the French have repulsed all Bulgarian attacks on the front of Srka di Legen-Hadji Barimah. Thus the Balkan campaign is proceeding with vigor altho the Bulgarians had reported that the allies had ceased their offensive. This assertion has probably at the bottom of it a growing apprehension in Bulgaria and in Austria-Hungary about the policy, it must be in the limited sense coming allied campaign. According to German reports the conditions in Austria are extremely bad. The French fought a successful defensive battle in the Aisne sector yesterday. Women in Saskatchewan and Alberta, however, were in a different position, because by part two of the Dominion Elections Act, the right to vote in these two provinces was confined to persons of the rale sex. He urged parliament at once to remove this anomaly, and permit all the women in the first provinces. On the result women in the first provinces of Contains Manithe five provinces, of Ontario, Mani-toba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Bri-tish Columbia, to vote for members of the house of commons, He express-ed it as his opinion that women already had the legal right to stand for parliament in every part of Cana-da, and to be returned as members of the house of commons.

women of Saskatchewan and Alberta could not vote for members of the Dominion Parliament, but neither could the women of any other pro-vince. The legislature of Ontario might confer the franchise on women for provincial purposes, but they certainly could not confer it on them for Dominion purposes. Prior to 1897 we had a Dominion Franchise Act. which defined the word "person," to mean "a male person," That was the definition adopted by this parliament. By repealing the Dominion Franchise Act, parliament had not lost jurisdiction over the Dominion franchise. All parliament did was to say that hereafter we would accept the qualifica-tions prescribed by the various provinces for persons entitled to vote at provincial elections.

Legislatures Restricted. Parliament never delegated to the rovinces the right to say who should be considered persons for Dominion election purposes, but only to prescribe the qualifications. A provincial legislature might extend the suffrage to women, but could not so enlarge the Dominion franchise. The word "person" for election purposes under the common law of England and under the laws of the Dominion of Canada meant male person. Mr. German (Welland) called attention to the fact that the Ontario statute which permitted women to vote simply read "every person being a British subject and of the age of 21 years, etc.," shall be entitled to vote. Mr. Doherty said that the Ontario cial election act by striking out the word "male." This made it quite clear that the legislature intended the word "person" hereafter to refer to and in-

He hoped that it might not be necessary but he would not hesitate to do so if it should become necessary. As to the legislation enfranchising women he quite agreed that it should be dealt with before the next election, but that did not necessarily mean that it must be dealt with at the present session of perliament.

Having thus broadly intimated to the opposition that no election was likely to occur in the near future, Str. Robert offered a substitute for the resolution, which declared:

"That in the opinion of this house the subject of Dominion suffrage for women should engage the attention of parliament before an appeal to the people be made."

R. B. Bennett (Calgary) urged the government to pass a Dominion fran-chise act. He wanted all men and women of enemy origin to be dis-franchised during the war and until five years after the war. He also 14-Mr. Turriff said the wholesale dis-ranchising of foreign-born citizens would be a bad way to build up naional sentiment. Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, said he agreed with everything advocated by the prime minister. There should be a Dominion franchise act and every woman in Canada should be given a vote. He was surprised to find the so-called "Liberal party" lined up in an effort to limit or restrict woman suffrage. It showed that a great many men who were labeled "Liberals" were after all old-fashioned Tories.

THE CALL TO SERVE

Speakers Say Need of the Time is Disciplined Service.

Interesting ceremonies were conlucted in the West Hall, main building, of the University of Toronto, yeserday afternoon, when graduates of the department of social service of that institution were given their ertificates yesterday afternoon by Provost C. An attendance which taxed the seating capacity of the room was present and applauded frequently and vigorously during the speeches. Addresses were delivered by Provincial Secretary W. D. He and the 900 soldiers who had re-turned from overseas service had en-rolled in schools provided by the latdission and that many others were studying vocational re-educa-tion. He said the aims of the two commissions were to do the very best thing possible for the returned men to make their condition in life better than it had been before enlistment. In closing he said that many diffi-cult problems would be faced after the war and declared that the country would depend upon the profes-sionally trained social service worker

Grand Jury Urges Government Institutions for Feeble-Minder

Conscription in Canada without de-lay was yesterday strongly urged by the grand jury in its roport before Judge Coatsworth in the sessions. The grand jury also deplored the increasing number of cases of immorality, which they attributed, not to liquor, but solely to the increase of the mentally deficient in our con-gested communities. To check this serious state of affairs the jury recommended and urged the proper establishment of government institu-tions to house mental defectives, and the restriction of marriages among such people.

Judge Coatsworth entirely concurred with the views of the grand jury, and was satisfied with the efforts of the police, who had started a campaign against immorality and perversion, and hoped that they would not stop until it was stamped out.

BLOOR CAR LINE MAY YET BE BUILT

Board of Control Will Invite Tenders for Temporary Track.

RAISE THEATRE TAX

Will Hold Special Meeting to Consider That and Other Matters.

By a strong deputation, the residents of Ward Seven, backed up their demand for a temporary car line on, Bloor street from Quebec avenue to Runnymede road, before the board of control yesterday. The deputation put the onus on the board by declaring that if the city could not finance the work, the property owners would provide the money and buy the debentures. On receiving this assurance the board adopted a resolution of Mayor Church asking that tenders be called for a temporary track and that the consent of the Ontario Government be obtained to use money from existing railway debentures for a temporary undertaking.

By a vote of 3 to 2, Harry Nixon of the assessment department was grant-ed an increase of $300 in salary but Ald. Ball. who was chairman of the committee on assessment for 1915, yesterday issued a statement on assessment reform for the consileration of the city council and civic officials. While not convinced of the special advantages of single tax, he rhought a city of Toronto's size was entitled to ask for local option in assessments of lands and buildings, and that a request should be made to the legistical special and increase of $300 in salary but was later deprived of it by the action of the mayor in ruling the question out of order. The board was compelled by the Municipal Act, to fix the salaries when the estimates were passed, he said. If the majority of the board did not agree with his decision they could appeal. Controller Shaw said that unless some adjustments were made the city would lose a number of its best officials, but Controller Foster said that if all the officials, including the heads of depart. request should be made to the legisrequest should be made to the legis-lature. His chief complaint against the city assessment was its inequality along without them. the city assessment was its inequality Controller Foster took objection to a letter written by Dr. Orr, manager of the National Exhibition, which stated that the city council had no attack the city council had no attack that the city council had no attack the city counc portion of taxation than he should.

A large part of the opposition to the high tax rate was undoubtedly due to local im-provements, and he was of the opinion that if a standardized system of street improvements could be devised

There is still extreme nervousness among the entente allies over the possible outcome of affairs in Russia. We are inclined to think that the Russian people may be trusted. We must remember that the Russians are a strange race, innocent and childlike in their primitive moods, with a profound capacity for friendship. In their newfound liberty they cannot realize that all the world should not take their own view. The simplicity of their message to the German Socialists should reassure us. They asked their German brethren bring on their revolution and depose the kaiser, and then it would be possible to discuss peace. The Germans are not yet, as a nation, in a mood to discuss revolution. The concerted folly of "Germans over all" still fills them with the east wind. When they lose this obsession they will more readily appreciate the Russian point of

The German Government had no difficulty in understanding the Russian attitude at once, and as a result declined to issue passports to the German Socialists to allow them to attend the international peace convention which the Socialists had hoped to assemble. The German Government has no use for a convention where the discussion would nclude the dethronement of reigning monarchs and the establishment of republics. This is not what Germany is fighting for.

When these things are kept in mind the Russian situation may be regarded as more reassuring. It is natural that the people should be a little nervous of a machine that upset the throne of the Little Father. Perhaps there are associations with all who have been connected with the former government in any capacity that makes the Russian people dubious. They want their own representatives, and not unnaturally so. But the heart of the people is sound, and they declare their fealty to the cause of the allies. Living conditions, the teamsters argue, forced them to seek a higher rate of pay. It is un-known just what action will be taken at this morning's meeting.

FOUR STRAIGHT FOR OUR LARRY'S LEAFS

Hand Whitewash Dose to Richmond Rebels-Light Hitting Game.

The Leafs made it four straight when they downed Richmond 2 to 0 at the island yesterday. It was the third straight victory over the rebels, T and one fan remarked that Manager Lajoie should invite the Richmond team to stay for a couple of weeks E and the Leafs would be out leading Andrews, s.s. the van.

It was a light-hitting affair, with Thompson having the best of the argument with Jack Enright. Enright Toronto ... 0 0 1 0 1 is the pitcher that the New York Americans sent to Toronto early in the season and he was returned. It is easy to see why Manager Lajoie turned him back. He is sadly lacking in control. He passed nine batters and gave at least two balls to every batter up.

and gave at least two balls to every batter up.

A cold raw wind blew into the stand and the players had to hustle to keep warm. Several sharp pieces of fielding enlivened the game. Jimmy Smith was banished for talking back to Umpire Blackburn.

Thompson pitched nice ball thruont and was never in very much trouble. Enright, while not issuing many safe hits, found himself in many rocky spots owing to his liberality with the passes. Whiteman drew down four bases on balls in as many attempts. To show that this game of giving free transportation is bad business it was, Whiteman that scored both of the Leafs' runs. Manager Laoie drove in one and Blackburne's infield out scored the other.

The Leafs only gathered five hits, and Manager Lajoie and Catcher Bill Kelly split four of these between them. Jimmy Smith registered the other one before he was chased from the game. A halk, a passed ball and a double play were the other incidents

LAST GAME WITH RICHMOND.

The final game in the Richmond series will be played today, and either Mulrennan or Tipple will pitch for the Leafs. Wyatt Lee will probably be Manager Smith's choice. Altenberg, the new out-fielder from Pittsburg, may be here in time for the contest. The game scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed, owing to the funeral of the late Mrs. Sciman. King's Plate Candidates Indulge in Their Final Preps. at Woodbine Park.

The platers took their final triels yesterday morning in fine weather, on a fast track and before a good crowd of ast track and tenore a good crowd of railbirds. The work pointed to Mr. Seagram repeating his 1-2-3 performance of one year ago. The Waterioo stable's Belle Mahone and Galley Head ran the distance in 2.0t 3-5, the fifty finishing in front. This time is a record for mals by plate canditates and has only been beaten twice in the race, and that by a mere fraction by Hearts of Oak in 1913 and Tartanean two years ago, each in 2.09 1-5. Mandarin won last May in 2.12.

At Montreal (International)—Newark got a seven-run start on the Royals, and this was enough to beat the locals, the final score being 11 to 2. Durning was given his fourth start for Montreal, and again failed to make good. Springman, who followed, was more effective. Mc-Graw was steady all the way for Newark. Score:

Philadelphia, May 16 .- The Havana Boat Club of Havana has made an offer to Coach Joe Wright of the University to Coach Joe Wright of the University of Pennsylvania for his services for the summer months. June, July and August. Pennsylvania will give its consent. Wright said: "I learned of the offer thru Major M. J. Pickering, Ordinarily, I could not accept, but, as the intercollegiate regatta is off, I suppose the Penn rowing committee will allow me to accept. I know nothing of the rowing conditions in Cuba, but, if I go, I will do my best for the Cubans. It seems strange that a man from Canada should be chosen as coach of a rowing club in Cuba. I understand the Cubans plan to come north and race in the championships in a year and race in the championships in a year

Relaxing the Tension with a 300d Gillette Shave

A day a-wing over enemy lines—scouting, observing, fighting, dodging shells and machinegun bullets—is a nervous strain that has no precedent and probably no equal. When our airmen alight at last, after flights an eagle might envy, they certainly do enjoy the refreshing relaxation of a cool, smooth Gillette shave.

Nor is this appreciation of the Gillette Safety Razor limited to our airmen, or even to our own British armies. Every service has its own tense moments, hours or days, with its welcome intervals of relaxation when the Gillette is a friend indeed. Keen, compact, always ready for action, the Gillette Safety Razor is treasured in tens of thousands of kits on every fighting line on land and sea—and by no means least in the land of its birth, with the forces of our newest Ally.

Nor does its service end here, for "the man behind the man behind the gun", who in the factory, the office or on the land is bending every energy towards production—he too gets solid comfort and satisfaction out of the Gillette Safety Razor and its wonderful three

SHORTS HAVE HEARTBURNINGS

The turn in the New York market this week has caused some heartburnings among the short traders in the local min-ing market. Prices of Cobalt and Porcupine shares of established merit have been sold down materially below known intrinsic values. These operators expected further liquida-tion from frightened holders on which to cover and are now nonplussed. There are few real stocks to be bought in the better class of mining shares at present prices, and an at-tempt to cover will likely end in the usual stampede. A day or two of strength and the or two of strength and the market destructionists will advance prices against each other, and a rise of some proportions may be precipitated.

STRONGER FEELING

Feeling Prevalent That Pessimism is Overdone-Close Higher.

More confidence was displayed the mining market towards the close esterday, and a better demand for stocks was responsible for a firmer teeing all across the board. There seems to be a disposition in many quarters to regard the undue pessi-mism which has engulfed the market as decideday overdone. The situacion is still pointed to as a bearish factor, but by the appearance of things this matter will very shortly be brought to a head. There has been considerable talk on the ap-pointment of a royal commission and the proiongation of the uncertainty, but from well-informed sources this course does not seem probable. Every week the miners put off their strike -if they decide to call one de-creases their chances for winning out, and the necessary arrangements for would entail the loss of probably two months. Winter comes early in the months. Winter comes early in the north country and lasts long, so that to call a general strike on towards August would be utmost folly as far as the married men are concerned, and in Cobalt this class of miner is largely predominant. What is most likely to happen is that a general meeting will be held to vote on the calling of a strike the tirst Sunday in June unless the mine operators grant a conference men, which is extremely unlikely, as such a course would constitute a recognition of the Western Federation man of considerable experience in the north country is that when comes down to a vote the labor agitators will not be able to put it across. The whole question seems to have resolved itself into the ability of the union officials to carry the men with them, as the mine operators have declared their intention to stand pat and await developments.

The local market evidently flected some of the strength of the big markets. Big Dome sold thruout at 12 1-2 and closed at this figure Hollinger sold at $4.75 to $4.80. McIntyre is becoming the big market again, owing chiefly to the fact that the efforts of the management to keep up production to stan dard have been singularly successful, Decided strength was shown in Mc-Intyre stock, buying sending it up to with the close at 155. that McIntyre ores are of unusually high-grade puts it in a peculiarly independent position regarding labor in comparison with other large Porcu pine properties, where profits depend more on large production. VEINS LARGE

From World Special Correspondent. South Lorrain, May 16. - The silver mining district of South Lorrain is situated about 20 miles southeast of Cobalt. The camp is southeast of Cobalt. The camp is reached during the period of navigation, by steamer from Halleybury to the townsite called sixty-six, on the west shore of Lake Timiskaming, where a government wharf has been constructed. From this point there is a good wagon road westerly three miles to silver centre and the mines. There is also a wagon road over land from Haileybury, but the last five miles of this road is not passable in the summer season.

Before returning he gave out ped from the Hargrave dump during April was 22 ounces. About $1200 will be received from the Dominion Reduction Company for dump ship-ments during April. The company has in the treasury around $12,000, and has accumulated about 35,000 ounces of silver for shipment. Mr. Shaw The silver is found and the mines are working mainly along the contact of the Nipissing diabase with the kee-watin greenstones. This contact runs in a northeasterly direction with the diabase on the east and the keewatin on the west. Following this line very closely from north to south are the Pittsburg Lorrain syndicate, the Wettlaufer, Keeley, Lorrain Consolidated and Bellellen. These are the five principal properties of the camp, but the Wettlaufer and Keeley are not now in operation. The Wettlaufer, however, has produced several million cunces of silver and from the standpoint of production is the most important property in the district.

The property of the Pittsburg Lorrain syndicate is being actively developed under the able management of T. B. Rice, M.E. A ton and a half of ore from this mine yielded 20,000 ounces of silver.

Some Rich Ore.

The Keeley has also produced some exceptionally rich ore. There is a car load of high grade ore on hand ready for shipment and there is, about 300,000 ounces in sight in the mine. The mine, however, is not now working and will probably not resume until after the war.

Adjoining the Lorrain Consolidated says that the company has secured a better rate from the Dominion Reduction Company, amounting to about 80c a ton. In addition to this there is an advantage of about 10 per cent better extraction of ore which runs above 15 ounces a ton. As the April ship-ments from the dump average 22 ounces to the ton the company did very favorable business with the Reduction Company for the past month. Sinking has been completed in the No. 3 shaft to 425 feet. The vain dip-No. 3 shaft to 425 feet. The vain dipped out of the winze, but should be recovered in a few feet of work. They are getting ore at the 75 foot level in No. 1 shaft. This is the No. 1 vein, 50 to 60 feet from the Kerr Lake line extending across the northwest corner of Hargrave in the conglomerate formation. This vein is entirely ate formation. This vein is entirely separate and distinct from the famous No. 3 Kerr Lake vein, which enters Hargrave in the No. 3 shaft, and from which ore running several thousand ounces to the ton, has been taken out

No. 2 shaft on this property is now being put down on another vein, which has a width of about 5 inches on the surface. It carries the usual arser ides of cobalt and nickel, but left the shaft at the 100-foot level. The workings are now at a depth of 260 found. It is expected that the 5-inch vein of the upper level will soon be encountered. The Lorrain Consoli-dated are now employing 22 men. The work is being prosecuted with vigor and with every expectation of success This district is very highly mineralized. One sees a great deal of co-balt bloom, erythrite, and the less known nickel bloom annabergite, the former of a pink and the latter of a bright green color. FIVE PROPERTIES IN MARK HARRIS & CO. MINES and MINING

Buy Before the First Dividend

For the same reason that we believe that chickens are purchased cheapest when in the egg-unhatched-we believe that mining stocks are cheapest when purchased in the development stage of the mine.

When you buy a chicken in the egg you buy it at egg prices, and the only chance you take is that a sound egg may not hatch out a healthy chicken. This is not much of a chance to take. As a Newray Mines, in the Porcupine district, is, in our opinion, the embryo chicken which has not yet been incubated into the feathered bird. What we say about Newray is applicable to all sound development mining companies. They are always the pick of the list for market possibilities.

The growth in value which takes place in the evolution of the egg to the chicken corresponds to that which takes place in the development of the junior to the senior and seasoned issue.

It stands to reason that a fully developed mine, with its earning power made definite, with its dividend payments determined, with its ore resources lined up, is not as fully subject to increase in price as one which is in an initial or intermediate stage of development.

Development is the father of production, the same as the boy

All producing mines have necessarily been prospects and development enterprises. Looking back over the careers of most of the propositions which have been developed into dividend-payers we find that the greatest relative degree of growth in market price in them resulted during the period of exploration and development when their possibilities had not yet been fully ascertained and discounted.

In his able monograph on Cobalt Dr. Willet G. Miller says that the veins there had nothing but these arsenides when first formed. That at a discussing that which is axiomatic. We are uttering but platitudes. In saying this we are laying down no new principle. We are

Yet it is true that thousands of people who follow the market bsolutely miss this fundamental point which should guide them in trading. They fail to appropriate into their actions that which is more or less self-evident. They do not take advantage of an opportunity of growth in physical affairs—whether of mines or men which should be recognized and applied at all times.

Anaconda, Utah Copper, Calumet & Hecla, Nipissing, Kerr Lake, Hollinger and Dome are not as attractive purchases as stocks which represent companies that are further down the development list-companies which have not yet started their permanent production-companies whose earning power is a potential rather than an actual matter-companies which have yet their first dividends to pay, but are still as sure to pay them and to keep on paying them as some of the present dividend-payers are to remain in the dividend-paying

NIPEG WHE

Chino or Nipissing would have to develop unexpected and undiscounted earning power and enormously increase their dividend disbursements in order to be subject to sudden and sharp advances, while many stocks of lesser rank, which represent companies in the constructive stage, are apt to double, treble, quadruple or quintuple the appreciation relatively in market price to the older developed

Newray is a producing company today, but in such a limited way as to make this for the present but of incidental importance. The greatness of Newray lies in its tremendously important location value and the great possibilities of its becoming a mine at depth which will rival Hollinger, Acme or McIntyre. All signs point toward such a result, and if it is accomplished—or even half or quarter accomplished—Newray's million to million and a half shares will be worth in the stock market more in proportion to its selling price than any issue in the Porcupine district, according to our opinion.

We want these facts—these first principles—these principles of physical growth—to find lodgment in the minds of those who read these double-barreled talks of ours, and we want to hear from them as to their agreement with, or exceptions to, our line of fundamental

RAPID DESCENT OCCURS IN WHEAT

Recent Stoppage of All Buying at Chicago Hits Market.

Chicago, May 16.—Huge fresh breaks in the value of contracts for future delivery of wheat resulted today from the recent summary stoppage of all buying except to close out existing deals. Chances of a federal enactment that would involve the establishment of maximum prices on cash wheat, that is, wheat for immediate delivery, appeared likewise, to have a bearish influence, and so did ideal weather for the growing crops. After a descent, which at the extreme amounted to 24c a bushel, the market closed relatively firm, but at net losses of 8c to 14c, with July at $2.30 and September at $2.07. Corn finished one cent to 2%c off; cats down %c to 1c, and provisions at a setback of 2½c to 20c.

So complete was the lack of support shown in wheat at the opening that quotations fell 15c in a minute. Further downturns of 2c which quickly ensued were followed by a moderate rally, but then the weakness became more acute and September did not stop until $2 was left behind, sales being made at $1.98, 22c below the price in this option commanded at yesterday's finish of $2.20.

July collapsed to even a greater extent and touched $2.18, an overnight tumble of 24c. At this point, however, one of the largest elevator companies absorbed the offerings, and there was no subsequent return of acute depression on the part of holders.

The aggregate of trade was estimated to be comparatively a fraction of one per cent. of the total business ordinarily transacted.

A SUGGESTION

You could place $453.00, earn a present yield of over 10 per cent. and meanwhile secure rare advantages from a speculative investment standpoint. This can be done by purchasing 260 shares comprised of blocks of Dome Mines, Coniagas and Davidson. The first two are paying dividends and provide excellent investment opportunities, whereas Davidson, as one of the newer proven Porcupine mines, is përhaps the best speculative attraction the mining market offers. The following basis of purchase s suggested for the small investor:

Numb	er of Price per res Share	Total Cost	Tield on Investment
Dome Mines 10 Coniagas 50 Davidson 20	3.50	$130.00 175.00 158.00	211/2%
Totals 26	0 (0.000.0)	$453.00	10.6%
