GERMANS LAUNCH FRESH OFFENSIVE

Mass Large Forces in Southern Tip of Bukovina.

GREAT BATTLE BEGINS

Teutons Adopt Audacious Plan—Russians Begin Counter-Move.

Petrograd, Oct. 17, via London, Oct. 17.—The whole of the Russian front, from the district of Kovel to Romania, presents an almost continuous line with large Russian and Austro-German forces constantly engaged in attacks and counter-attacks. The intention of recapturing the line has been supplemented, since the Russian entry into the war, by a more audacious plan—a move at the extreme southern flank by the Austro-Germans in the direction of Bukovina, where the Russian front is the most vulnerable.

To this end the Austro-Germans have concentrated heavy forces at the southern tip of Bukovina, where the southern flank of the Russians, being the northern flank of the Roumanians, had begun an advance south of Dorna Watra, accompanied by a vigorous attack slightly further north in the region of Korosmezo and Kiribaba, and a parallel movement against the Roumanians in Transylvania.

Thus far the drive of the Teutonic allies against the Roumanians has been more successful than that against the Russians, for while the former are retiring toward their own frontier the Roumanians have not, as far as is known, been compelled to give way before the powerful offensive directed against them.

The Austro-German movement is still in its early stages and a truce in Bukovina is expected on this part of the front. Already the Russians have begun counter manoeuvres, as is attested by the number of prisoners taken in the Kiribaba region, where the Russian forces have advanced several miles into the German zone.

The Russian attack on the Dorna Watra was launched from their main effort was launched, forces of the northeast, have entered Gympes Pass, and have driven the Roumanians back in the Trutzu valley as far as Agas. At this point the Roumanian command has heavily reinforced the defending army and battle is being given to the enemy. This incursion thru Gympes Pass is aimed at a railway running north, and it has for its object the severance of the Roumanian second army from the main body and its repulse towards Russia.

London, Oct. 17.—More successes for the Roumanians, who have driven the Teutons back at many places on the Transylvanian frontier, are announced by advices from Bucharest. While the Germans and Austrians have been unable to make any headway and have even lost ground in the region south of Hermannstadt, from which their main effort was launched, forces of the northeast, have entered Gympes Pass, and have driven the Roumanians back in the Trutzu valley as far as Agas. Slavs Promptly Check German Offensive in Region of Dorna Watra.

Special Cable to the Toronto World.

London, Oct. 17.—Heavy battles continue to rage between Russians and Teutons in Volhynia and on the Narayuvka River in southeastern Galicia. The Russians made many attacks in Galicia from morning till night, and it was in this region that the Germans claim their guard battalions made 1900 prisoners by following the Russians into their trenches. The Russian attacks in Volhynia are being made between Posony and Svinitsky, west of Dubno, and between Zaturza and Kivdlin, in swing placed the Russians attacked as often as ten times. The Austrians only claim that the blow north of Zaturza was not strong enough to shatter the defenders. The Russian version of the fighting is that Teutonic troops are heavily counter-attacking the Russians five miles north of Halicz, and that an artillery engagement of fierce intensity is prevailing. In the repulsing of the German offensive, the Roumanians in the Bukovina region have driven the Teutons back several miles towards Odessa, 250 miles away to the east. But a movement in that direction is not expected.

ROUMANIANS STOP Foe AT MOUNTAIN PASSES

Allies Crush Attempt of Von Falkenhayn To Smash Through Barriers to Plains Below.

By ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

Special Cable to the Toronto World.

London, Oct. 17.—The Roumanians are standing firm in the mountain passes of Transylvania. At the point of the eastern and southern frontiers of the Roumanians already have forced around and begun the counter-movement which promises early success against the whole front and turn apparent defeat into victory.

In the region of Dorna Watra and Kiribaba, in Bukovina, the Roumanians have succeeded in checking the Teuton offensive against the Carpathian border defenses.

By halting the advance of the Teutons through the Transylvanian frontiers, the Roumanians and Russians have put themselves in position to strike back and relieve the pressure on the Teutons in Romania. If the expected counter-blow carries with it sufficient power to thrust the enemy back to his former position, it is extremely probable that Hindenburg would abandon his efforts against Romania until another year.

Good Better Than Hope.

The crisis is not passed yet, but the Roumanians still maintain their position on the Torzburg Pass and occupy the strategic positions at other points on the border. But the battle is going better for Roumania than had been expected, and developments are awaited here with confidence that King Ferdinand's soldiers will rally at the critical moment and break the menace of the Teuton offensive.

Transylvanian passes have been held. The Roumanians have driven the Teutons back several miles towards Odessa, 250 miles away to the east. But a movement in that direction is not expected.

"Emphatic Request" That They Keep Away From Coast Acted Upon.

London, Oct. 17.—The British Government will not make any official representation to the U. S. concerning the German submarine U-53 pending an announcement of its attitude by the American Government," said Viscount Grey.

In reply to a question concerning the attitude of the U. S. to British patrol ships, Viscount Grey said that the U. S. admitted that British patrol ships were not exceeding their rights under international law, but that the American Government could not be expected to take any action to the irritation which the continued presence of belligerent warships off the coast of the U. S. naturally caused in a neutral country. He declared that the U. The Regent Theatre and its picture, "The Battle of the Somme," attracted approximately 12,000 people.

During most of the day the seating capacity of the theatre was taxed, while long lines of people awaited admittance. Continuous run of the picture was made, even the half hour's respite from 6.30 to 7 o'clock being eliminated because of the large throng of people in front of the theatre.

Last night the line of people extended from the doors of the theatre to Bay Street and from that corner to King Street.

The crowds jostled and surged while they waited good-naturedly to see the pictures. Expressions of resignation to a long wait, but a determination that could not be swerved, were pictured on the faces of those in line.

No easy task was presented to members of the management, doorman, ushers, policemen and other theatre attaches to keep the people from crowding thru the doors. It required cajoling, persuasion and oftentimes curt orders on their part to maintain order. "Don't crowd," "Easy, now easy," "One at a time, please," "This

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

BRITISH activities in France, as recorded by Sir Douglas Haig, were mostly confined yesterday to the bombardment of the German positions north of Arras, at Neuville St. Vaast, Wytchachte and northeast of Ypres. Considerable artillery activity prevailed on both sides, south of the Ancre. The non-communicativeness of Gen. Haig concerning the Somme offensive suggests that preparations are actively proceeding for further advances. The French record that on the whole Somme front both sides engaged in a bombardment, and the fire sometimes reached a pitch of great violence. Infantry fighting broke out east of Belloy-en-Santerre, when the Germans launched two fresh attacks yesterday. These, like the preceding ones of Monday and Monday night, failed to shake the French defense.

The German official account of the Somme operations since Oct. 12, in which the assertions are made about violent attacks of the allies, with their objectives Bapaume and Peronne, being foiled, with all the accompanying friills, does not coincide with the official communications of the British and the French, or the reports of Frederick Palmer and other correspondents at the front. These show that the past week has been quieter than usual. The object of the great general staff is probably to manufacture courage in Germany and prepare for admission of retreat if the allies continue their offensive. The fact that a withdrawal should be made only after a heroic resistance, and only after the failure of many attacks, would be used as an argument to convince the credulous Germans that the allies had suffered losses out of all proportion to their gains, and that only an army of ghosts would reach the Rhine.

While not yet absolutely free from danger, the situation in Roumania appears to be still more favorable to the allies. The Germans have apparently failed on the southern front, and they have been halted east of Gympes Pass, the only dangerous spot on the northwestern front of Transylvania. When it was seen that the German thrust thru the Torzburg Pass

GREAT RESPONSE MADE BY CITIZENS

First Day's Receipts for Red Cross Fund Augurs Well for Campaign.

COMMITTEE JUBILANT

Record of Initial Day Last Year Broken—Hundred and Sixty Thousand Total.

From the time the first subscription was brought in at 4 a.m. yesterday morning, till the office closed at almost midnight, the first day at the British Red Cross headquarters was a storm of donations.

The total of $164,000 was reached on the first day. The committee are jubilant at the response and feel sure that if the general public does not relax last year's total of $58,000 will be bettered.

The first subscription was of $5.00, and came from T. Jeffrey, 109 Shaw street. R. J. Cope, vice-president, was on hand to receive it himself for he had not come home at 4 a.m. His energy and enthusiasm are typical of that of every worker in the campaign.

The noon meeting of the 900 team captains and members was full of electricity. A liver bunch of hustlers was never before got together. They are making every effort, and if Toronto's business, financial and industrial circles are not thoroughly combed for donations it will not be a fault of theirs or their organization.

The workers are animated with the feeling and hope that all Toronto shares in—that on this day rests the tremendous responsibility of setting the lead for the whole province. What Toronto does will influence hundreds of organizations that will run Red Cross campaigns in Orillia, Hanover, Goderich and Brampton came into the headquarters at 15 Eglinton street to learn what Toronto is doing. When one was told that the first day showed a substantial increase over last year's initial day, he remarked that "I guess my town will have to beat last year, too." Forty telegrams and letters were received during the day, asking how Toronto was running its campaign, for information and literature or organization. With all the province looking on, and the entire nation knowing, too, that Toronto has shown itself the most generous giver in the British domain, on the people of this city rests a grave responsibility.

U. S. STATEMENT STILL AWAITED

(Continued From Page 1.) We do not propose to make any official representation on the subject of the submarine. The question concerning the German submarine raid in American waters was raised by Baron Bessborough, former commander of the British home fleet. Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada and others. Baron Bessborough asked whether British cruisers were removed from American waters owing to American objections and, so, what steps the government proposed to take to protect the vessels. He criticized the British reply as at least curt and said the American ideas of neutrality were curious.

labulation was from the rich International Nickel Company, for $10,000. So it went through the day. Twenty-five cent donations came in with checkbooks for twenty-five hundred dollars. It almost seemed that the great middle class had hardly come forward; the amounts were either little or big. The general public was loom up when the 800 churches and hundreds of factories and business places came forward with their subscriptions at the end of the campaign.

Many U. S. Donations. It is a surprising feature of the campaign that a great many large subscriptions are coming forward from American firms who thru their Toronto business connections know of the Red Cross movement.

The women's committee is going ahead quietly in a big way and concentrating efforts on their particular day, Thursday. On that day the schools, churches, moving picture houses and other branches on which the women are devoting their energies will give. At four o'clock the school children and school staffs' donations will be brought to the city hall.

The place of Presbyterianism in the life of the country, and the present crisis and future policy of the Church will be discussed.

PREMIER HEARST SPEAKS AT BIG WESTON MEETING

"Have Germans on the Run," He Says in Appeal for the Red Cross.

The campaign that has been arranged by Mayor Charlton, Prof. Barton, J. M. Fearin and L. Fraser, and many other prominent citizens of Weston was demonstrated greatly by the enthusiastic meeting held in the Methodist Church last night. The motto of the committee, "One More," is appropriate for 1916.

Over 500 people thronged the church in order to hear Premier W. H. Hearst and M. A. Sorsolle, principal of the Normal School, Toronto. Mayor Charlton opened the meeting by introducing the people of Weston to the main facts of the British Red Cross appeal. He hoped that on the 15th a very hearty response would be made to the appeal.

Premier Hearst, who spoke at some length and with accord a splendid reception, said in part: "The British Red Cross organization has done more for the British and Canadian soldiers than any other institution. I hope that the response in Weston this year will be three times greater than that of last year, as the need is three times greater."

He stated that the British Red Cross was attending to over 300,000 casualties of the Somme offensive. The feeling of the Canadian in the trenches was that while they were waiting for the struggle to end, they were in it to the finish.

"We have them on the run," said the premier, "and while in the early stages of the war it was a case of flesh and blood against iron, now, thank God, the boot is on the other foot."

Loyal George had told him that the munition plants now produced in one week three times the amount of ammunition at the front when the war broke out.

Major Charlton called upon Corp. Jarvis, who has fought for 18 months in the trenches. Corp. Jarvis said that if the wounded were not cared for they would not be able to return to the trenches after receiving their wounds. Many times, he said, a battalion would go into the trenches and only 200 would answer the roll call.

M. A. Sorsolle said: There are hundreds of homes in our own land, as well as the homes of those in authority where sorrow is rife, but still we are proud that our citizens have proved themselves equal to the best. Many of those who are in authority with regard to the long progress made, do not realize how gigantic is the task. The war is not over. By removing from one's mind the idea that the war is over, the constant menace to our empire, France must have, Lorraine, Russia must have Constantinople; the war must be continued long after the peace is removed. Let us sacrifice till we feel that there is no more need.

SCARBORO Farmers of Scarborough and York Invest in Tractors

In their anxiety to get ahead and do something on the farm, the farmers of Scarborough and York townships are investing in tractor engines and plows. As Donalds, the big Combustion plant draw by the power engine is doing excellent work, the big tractor is doing equally as well, turning the furrows in one shape. At James White's, near O'Sullivan's, they started in a new line of tractors and gave plow yesterday which went without a hitch. John Young at Hagerman in Markham township is turning over from five to seven acres a day with his machine, three or four other farmers are using them, too.

STOUFFVILLE POSTPONE CAMPAIGN

Stouffville will not take up the British Red Cross movement at the present time owing to the absence of some of the members of the council, but Dr. Sangster, reeve, said yesterday that in all probability there would be a mill rate in addition to what was contributed last year. Last year $7000 was levied in addition to a four-mill rate imposed by the county council.

to New York asking for supplies and newspapers and he informed us that the United States government considered that this would be making use of United States territory as a base for supplies and information as to shipping movements thru the newspapers.

"The proceeding was as far as I am aware, not repeated and no official protest was received, so far as I have been able to discover in the foreign office. Object to 'Heaving.'" "On Oct. 9-1914, we had a private communication respecting the presence of British ships near New York harbor. We had an unofficial communication later on deprecating the same thing, and saying that in the past such hovering of foreign vessels in the vicinity of the great ports of the United States had forced that government owing to the public feeling aroused, to take a very strong line, and that if the practice continued it might be construed into a declaration of belligerence, requiring some action on the part of the United States Government.

"There was late on an official complaint on Dec. 15 1914, in which a vessel named the Vinland, and which was on the coast of the United States, was charged with the serious offense of hovering in the territorial waters of the United States. The complaint referred to the serious nature of the offense, and that the government regarded the hovering of belligerent warships about American ports and coasts. "Vexatious and Uncourteous."

"The official complaint stated that the British government had been notified that the United States Government had always regarded the practice of belligerent cruisers patrolling the American coast in close proximity to the territorial waters of the United States, and making the neighborhood a station for their observations as inconsistent with the respect for the freedom of the high seas were vexatious and uncourteous to the United States."

"We assume that the view of the United States Government is still that contained in their despatch of Oct. 4, 1910."

Viscount Grey quoted this to the effect that the United States Government would regard as an unfriendly act the hovering of belligerent vessels near the American coast in the track of commerce to American ports with intent to intercept enemy merchantmen, and continued:

Asked to Particularize. "In reply to these various requests private and semi-official and official from the U. S. government we asked to be informed on what ground the U. S. government has any objections which were legitimate in one part of the high seas were illegitimate in another, admitting that the British ships were not accused of exceeding their strict legal rights under international law and that the complaints made by the U. S. government were not based on any question of legality, but on irritation which the continued presence of belligerent vessels in close proximity to U. S. ports naturally caused a neutral country.

Tried to Meet Views. "Lord Bessborough asks what we did. As a matter of fact, the way had been indicated according to the principle of international law. British warships were entitled to operate freely anywhere outside of territorial waters, and the U. S. had not based their request to us on an impropriety, but on the ground of courtesy and friendliness, and the annoyance it would cause if vessels were close to their coast, instigated by the admiralty to British vessels of war."

S. had not based their request to us on an impropriety, but on the ground of courtesy and friendliness, and the annoyance it would cause if vessels were close to their coast, instigated by the admiralty to British vessels of war."

"That I believe, is a fair summary of what has passed between the U. S. government and ourselves and of what we know of their views. It amounts to this: That the U. S. government did request us to ask the admiralty to patrol near their coast, and their instructions were sent to British ships of war to avoid causing any unnecessary irritation and so far as possible to comply with the request of the U. S. government."

"We do not want any political questions raised between these two great countries," he said, "but they are certain to be raised unless some definite conclusion is reached. Some communication made between the two governments which will clear up the question."

York County and Suburbs WESTON

PREMIER HEARST SPEAKS AT BIG WESTON MEETING

"Have Germans on the Run," He Says in Appeal for the Red Cross.

The campaign that has been arranged by Mayor Charlton, Prof. Barton, J. M. Fearin and L. Fraser, and many other prominent citizens of Weston was demonstrated greatly by the enthusiastic meeting held in the Methodist Church last night. The motto of the committee, "One More," is appropriate for 1916.

Over 500 people thronged the church in order to hear Premier W. H. Hearst and M. A. Sorsolle, principal of the Normal School, Toronto. Mayor Charlton opened the meeting by introducing the people of Weston to the main facts of the British Red Cross appeal. He hoped that on the 15th a very hearty response would be made to the appeal.

Premier Hearst, who spoke at some length and with accord a splendid reception, said in part: "The British Red Cross organization has done more for the British and Canadian soldiers than any other institution. I hope that the response in Weston this year will be three times greater than that of last year, as the need is three times greater."

He stated that the British Red Cross was attending to over 300,000 casualties of the Somme offensive. The feeling of the Canadian in the trenches was that while they were waiting for the struggle to end, they were in it to the finish.

"We have them on the run," said the premier, "and while in the early stages of the war it was a case of flesh and blood against iron, now, thank God, the boot is on the other foot."

Loyal George had told him that the munition plants now produced in one week three times the amount of ammunition at the front when the war broke out.

Major Charlton called upon Corp. Jarvis, who has fought for 18 months in the trenches. Corp. NEWMARKET Newmarket Expects to Do Much Better Than Last Year

Last year the town of Newmarket was held by voluntary subscriptions for Red Cross movement the sum of $3875, and on Thursday they expect to do much better. Mayor Cane, speaking to The World last night, said everything was in fine shape for a strong house-to-house canvass on Thursday, a part of the plan was to secure the co-operation of all the factory employes by getting them to contribute to the cause. "Nearly 400 of our boys are either at the front or in training, and more are going."

MABEL—"Do you think you need it, dear?"
NORMAN—"I want myself that I was thinking of. I heard a rumour that convinced me YOU needed more protection."
MABEL—"What was it, Norman?"
NORMAN—"Jack was in my office when the agent called. I told him he must carry insurance, and he renounced anything. I'd look into paying for insurance for some other man to spend after I'm gone."
MABEL—"I'd like to see you get married or having to go to work or having to take in boarders or having to move into cheap quarters. I decided on this Monthly Income Policy."

If anything should happen to you would your wife HAVE to do this or that to provide? A post card with your age, name and address, will bring you full particulars of this ideal policy.

MAKERS OF PAPER STICK TO DEMANDS

Inquiry Into Situation by Finance Minister is Now Expected. CONFERENCE IS ENDED. Publishers Insist Price Called for is a Prohibitive One.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—In a conference of newspaper publishers and news print paper manufacturers held here today the manufacturers adhered to the price of three cents a pound that was quoted as a minimum in the conference last week before the minister of finance. The conference today was presided over by W. W. Bredner of the department of finance.

The paper manufacturers quoted figures showing increased cost of labor and raw materials. It was not claimed that the increased cost of production today was sufficient to account for the proposed increase of 60 per cent. in the price of newspaper paper. The manufacturers endeavored to justify so large an increase on the ground of uncertainty as to certain further increases in cost of production coupled with a desire to take advantage of the immediate increase in the price of the market of the world.

Prohibitive Prices. The publishers conceded that some increase might be necessary, but took the position that the proposed minimum price of 3c a pound was prohibitive. For some time past efforts had been made to meet the present contribution to the Red Cross movement by increasing production by advancing subscription and advertising rates and by the elimination of paper waste and other reductions in paper consumption.

Further increases in advertising and subscription rates would be necessary, but it would be impossible to make so large an immediate increase as would be necessary to meet an increase of 60 per cent. in the cost of paper.

As the publishers and the paper manufacturers were unable to reach an agreement the request of the former for an investigation by the government was refused. An inquiry will be made by the department of finance.

The paper manufacturers were represented at the conference by George Calhoun, Laurentide Company; A. C. Campbell, Belgo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Company; E. W. Backus, Pt. Francis Pulp & Paper Company; Geo. H. Mead, Spanish River Pulp & Paper Company; E. Millen, E. B. Eddy Company.

Those present for the publishers were: P. D. Ross, Ottawa Journal; J. F. Mackay, Toronto Globe, J. B. Atkinson, Toronto Star; John R. Robertson, Montreal.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

(Continued From Page 1.) In the direction of Bucharest was going to fall, for the Roumanians, while giving way in the centre, managed firmly to hold their flanks. Von Falkenhayn retreating from the front, the troops that were engaged with the Roumanians 60-mile front. Except at Gyor Pass and a few other places, the Roumanians managed to hold out until reinforcement arrived. At Gyor Pass the Germans broke thru and penetrated as far as Agas before encountering strong resistance. In their counter-attacks the Roumanians have already hurled the Germans across the frontier at several places.

No evidence exists to show that it was the original plan of Von Falkenhayn to feint at southern Rumania while really aiming his main blow at Gyor Pass and northwestern Roumania. The Germans always take the shortest and the quickest route to their objective, and in this case their objective was naturally Bucharest, in order to bring the Roumanians on their northwestern frontier and make them retreat. It is not so much of a surprise or else that it was launched with inadequate forces. The attacks against the Russian front, at the Carpathians, were forceful, have been promptly repulsed. Moreover, with which Transylvanian winter, which sets in about the first week in November, would preclude offensive action in the mountains. In order to make an invasion of northern Roumania and Bessarabia secure, the Germans would have to clear at least a twenty-five mile gap in the Carpathians.

The fact that the German effort that was made with large forces in southern Transylvania has been deflected northward is perhaps a good official despatches hint that the Russians and Roumanians are about to do something startling in retaliation. The Russians have been launching attacks and provoking counter-attacks on the German front. They have entered a Russian trench on a front of a mile and a quarter and took 1900 prisoners in suit, they have no reason for claiming that they, the Russians, have suffered a heavy defeat.

A despatch of Dr. Dillon, suggesting that the Balkans is to be the theatre of heavy fighting and that the Germans have shifted great forces taken as the herald of the opening of a big allied campaign. It is probable that the Germans have shifted great forces to the east because they have good reason to expect great developments on the part of the allies. It is that they will concentrate all their energies against Bessarabia, but rather and Turkey.

On the Dobrudja, violent fighting has again broken out. This report comes from Russia. Germany has nothing fresh to announce about this affair in Bessarabia. It may be that they have already completed their advance, and that they have been under way for two months and are about to converge.

Special to The Toronto World. Montreal, Oct. 17.—Trading in 5000 shares of Dominion Steel took place here today, the price closing strong at 88c. A good percentage of the buying was for New York account, this fact removing the rumor that an amalgamation of the Scotia and Dominion companies is in the air. What gives strength to this rumor is the fact that a director of the Scotia is a member of the firm which has been doing most of the New York buying since the beginning of the upward movement. It is said that a definite statement will be made touching these rumors within a few days. In the meantime it is announced that same new blood is about to take charge of the Dominion Steel Co. of Sydney.

President Mark Workman announced this morning that he had been successful in securing the services of R. F. Randolph, a steel expert, who has been in the employ of the Bethlehem Steel Co. for the past seven years. Mr. Randolph is expected in Sydney Wednesday, and will immediately take up the duties of general superintendent in charge of all steel work. He is regarded as one of the best steel experts in America, and a steel expert to Sydney at a salary which will in all probability set a new high record for such a position in Canada.

Fresh, New, Three-Piece Suits for Men from $12.50 to $25.00

Our Most Popular Line of Men's Footwear Are These at $5.00

THE REMARKABLE FACT about this favorite line of Boots for Men is that we are offering them at the same price as previous years, despite the great advance in the cost of leather. The reason we can do this is that we bought an enormous quantity of them just previous to the increase, and although our stock at present is complete in every style, we are almost certain that any further purchases of the same line will be somewhat higher priced.

The selection includes 30 different models, all the smart shapes, that appeal to the fashionable dressers, the one illustrated being a typical example. They are all Goodyear welted, having a soft, smooth interior that adds to the comfort from the first day of wear to the last.

And every boot is made of strong, tough leather, firmly welded by reliable manufacturers in such a way as to give the very acme of long service. An idea of the styles and materials may be obtained from reading the following:

Dr. R. Campbell, Montreal, had also a prominent place, equal to the position he has taken since the movement began. No man in the church has surpassed him in the brilliant service of voice and pen.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 18.

The Man Who Wanted the War

On a passenger train the other day a man observed in a loud voice that he was making more money than he ever had before in his life and that he would like to see the war keep on forever. A woman sitting near by, who had two sons at the front, promptly blacked both eyes of the man who wanted the war to last, with the handle of her umbrella. He complained to the conductor, who stopped the train and put him off as unfit to travel with decent people.

As this man, suit case in hand, tramped fifteen miles to the nearest station, he may have indulged in some bitter reflections. He could not complain of being ejected from the train for speaking as he did, but was he unique in harboring such sentiments, he so recklessly expressed? The station to which he tramped was Morrisburg.
 It would indeed have been the irony of fate if he had been run down and run over by a special train bearing J. Wesley Allison home from Ottawa.

Perhaps some people in every belligerent country are making so much money out of the war and keeping so far away from its dangers that they secretly hope it may continue indefinitely. Not always easy is it to distinguish between motives of patriotism and motives of profit, yet we had one munition maker in Canada, who returned his profits. And now comes an interesting story from California.
 W. A. Clark, Jr., who made two million dollars in war stocks, has given the entire amount to the American ambassador in Paris in trust to fund scholarships for the homeless and bereaved children of France.

Nearly everybody in business makes money in war time that, perhaps, is unavoidable. The civil war in the United States produced over night a shoddy aristocracy that deeded the national spirit created by the war and made our neighbors a cynical people.
 The one thing most to be guarded against, however, is the armament trust. So long as munitions of war are made by private corporations, so long will it be to the interest of many persons to bring on war and keep their money. President Wilson found that he could make no headway with his preparedness campaign unless he made the manufacture of munitions a government monopoly.

In Canada the armament trust has bedeviled our politics and has en-crossed some of our great natural resources, including nickel. The manufacture of rifles by private corporations resulted in the Ross rifle accident. Both the old political parties are timid about dealing with this question of manufacture of munitions, entangled as it is with the operations of the International Nickel Co. and the Ross Rifle Company. The New Party will not hesitate to grapple with the problem, and to solve it along the lines of government ownership and national policy.

The Hamilton Highway

There was some revision of opinion as to the merits of the Hamilton and Toronto highway after the inspection of Monday last. An inspection of the road, however, does not cover the cost and other criticisms about management and methods. The road itself is not yet finished, and the chief fear is that if the usual policy with new pavements followed in Toronto prevails the part now constructed will have fallen out of repair before the remainder has been finished. Next to proper construction, prompt and careful repairs are required more than anything else on any kind of roadway.

So far as the reports of the party who went over the road on Monday show the defects in the road are slight and inconsiderable in comparison with its merits, but unless such defects are promptly repaired they are liable to develop into serious and costly obstacles. But all this is the

we have said, from management and methods, upon which the inspection does not appear to have cast any light.

Major Southam

Hamilton will be profoundly affected by the death of Major Gordon Southam. Only last February he said farewell to his native city and led his battery, the fine body of men composing the 40th Sportsmen, across the seas. Since July, after being reviewed by the King, when they crossed the channel, they have been constantly in action. Recently the battery was detached from the brigade, doing special work watching and shelling the German trenches. It is possible the major met his fate while on observation duty. He was a famous sportsman in rugby, hockey, tennis, cricket and golf, and one of the best athletes Varsity had enrolled. He graduated in 1907 in arts and was associated with the Hamilton Spectator.
 No finer gentleman has made the great sacrifice for country, for honor, for truth and liberty and justice.

Hanging by a Thread

Feeling is running deep in the United States on the subject of the war, and it is going to be a greater factor in the election than many may suppose. There is little of the vociferous campaigning of former elections, but there is much reading and unlimited printing. The result will depend on the quiet-thinking public, and it is probable that most people have made up their minds since shortly after the sinking of the Lusitania.

The latest outbreak of the mad German war policy in submarining off the United States coast has stirred up the last reluctant neutral, and in business circles the opinion of "The Echo Review" is generally accepted.
 "After all," remarks this review, "is it not humiliating to the point of defectation, that a great nation like ours, whose present administration has emphasized above everything else our duty of service to mankind, must receive, almost officially at our ports, these ruthless destroyers, accompanying them to the borders of safety, and then must calmly stand by as they turn upon our commerce and attack non-belligerents, who, if not American citizens, are at least human beings and deserve protection—even if international law technically allows such outrages. We say technically, because these laws were never intended to cover such atrocities as, since the laws were written, have been inventioned and perpetrated. Capturing a prize and conveying it to port is quite a different thing from ordering ships' passengers and crews to take to the perils of the sea in open boats, and then ruthlessly sending the ships to the bottom. It is safe to predict that international law will be changed after this war is fought out."

The review further points out that war between Germany and the United States hangs by a slender thread, and depends on the possible loss of life of one man, woman or child of American citizenship in the course of these submarine activities. The moment one American life is lost, "that instant all diplomatic relations with Germany ends."
 The sublimous effect of this fact,
 the review goes on to say, was apparent in the big decline in the stock market at the beginning of last week.
 The week before the market had been going smoothly, and technically there was ground for a decline, which began on a rumor of possible peace. The appearance of the submarine should have dissipated the idea of peace, but instead of rallying the market broke-ing and the only explanation for the selling panic was this prospect of war with Germany hanging on the thread of one American life.

These things are being pondered thru the length and breadth of the great republic, and they will have weight and power in the choice to be made three weeks hence.
Authorizes Survey of Base Line Along the Lake Shore
 The highways department of the province has just authorized a survey of a base line along the lake shore, from Napanee to Toronto.
 This was found to be necessary when it was discovered that the road map available for the country north of this base line were not to be relied upon.
 The work will be available for use should the project of a trans-provincial trunk road from Windsor to Montreal be proceeded with. The engineers who have just finished their survey of the Ottawa-Prescott highway were put on the work which will be finished about the end of the year.

Ten Instead of Twenty-One

 At the parks and exhibition committee yesterday, Ald. McGregor again raised the question of progress on the filling in of Catfish Pond. The parks commissioner informed him that the board of control had agreed to report $800 for the work, and that there will be no delay whatever now.
 The committee adopted the com-of 21 years. The public opinion gen-

Political Intelligence

There is a story in Ottawa that Hon.
 Walter Scott's successor as premier of Saskatchewan will be W. M. Martin, M.P. This will come as a surprise, because Hon. J. A. Calder, provincial minister of railways and highways, has for years been regarded as the strong man of the Scott government. It may be however, that he is embarrassed by the many scandals that developed during his administration of affairs, even the notion of a wrong doing attaches to him personally.
 "Billy" Martin is a good speaker, a good mixer, and may prove a more popular leader than Mr. Calder. He was born thirty-nine years ago in Oxford County, graduated at Toronto University with honors, and was later called to the bar of Ontario. He was in the 1902, and in 1903 Regina sent him to the house of commons, and has kept him there ever since.
 If Mr. Calder does not become prime minister he will scarcely remain in the provincial field, but content some constitency at the coming Dominion election. Should the Liberalism-win, Mr. Calder would probably enter the government.

Premier Sifton, it is said, will dissolve the Alberta house and go to the country in time of the general elections.
 He is a little doubtful of his being returned to power. The one chance the Conservatives had was that R. B.
 Bennett might come back and lead the opposition.
 Mr. Bennett, having been appointed director-general of national service, will probably take no part in the Alberta elections. He has already protested against any election during the war.
 The Sifton government having provided no means for taking the soldier vote, 30,000 men, it is said, will be disfranchised.

The Ottawa correspondent of The Toronto Star hears a going in the mulberry trees in Ottawa. He says Conservative M.P.s are pouring into the capital and all sorts of conferences are taking place.
 A hurry-up call for a national Conservative convention is therefore anticipated, but may it not be a general election?

It is unofficially announced that Sir Robert Borden is holding a series of meetings in Ontario in the near future, but that they will be non-political.
 Montreal, Oct. 17.—(Special).—The politicians are busily forming a new government at Ottawa since it seems to be taken for granted that the present combination cannot last, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier seems to be left out of the coming aggregation. The statement is made here that the head of a big railway, who is a strong supporter of the present regime, favors the Liberal party, and the leadership of the Liberal party will be made on Sir L. Gouin to abandon Quebec and become first lieutenant in a new administration. On the other hand, it is well known that Sir Wilfrid Laurier should he return to power, has his eyes fixed on Premier Murray of Nova Scotia as one of his leading colleagues. Hon.
 W. S. Fielding will also be a candidate in a Nova Scotia constituency, but if he is elected, M.P. enters in the plans of Mr. Macdonald, M.P., enters in the plans of Sir Wilfrid should the Duff suggestion go for naught.

OPINIONS ON THE PICTURES OF THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME

GRIM MOVIES OF THE WAR.

The Globe: Modern warfare may make good reading, but it makes very sad and horrible-moving pictures if those presented last night at the Regent Theatre represent the life of the soldier at death grips with the enemy. It may be all heroic when looked at in the mass, but what we lightly term "the big push" is a very heartrending and world affair in detail. Lloyd George might well say of these realistic pictures of the Somme battle that they would do more than any other to end the war. The whole panorama is one nerve-straining spectacle. The spectators watch men moving along communication trenches with fixed bayonets and healthy, and next moment see them emerge on to the sky line silhouetted in death. They watch the giant howitzers lift their muzzles skyward and belch forth demons of devastation and death. They look out into the distance and see the German works and all that is in them blown up in a thick cloud of smoke. They see a mine explosion as high as a hill and a crater as deep as a volcano. They behold deserted German trenches like catacombs strewn with the dead. All these things are shown as realistically as pictures can show them. There is scarcely any relief to the strain, and those who are averted to the end of the reels came away with stern faces and heavy hearts. There are human touches where the men smile shyly into the camera, and groups cheer as if they knew that they were cheering to an audience in a picture show at home. The sight of the German prisoners is pathetic, many of them so shattered that they instinctively hold up their hands as if in prayer. The faces and demeanor of the British soldiers might be described as sady grim, stoical and dogged, even in the face of death. These men have accompanied the war to Toronto, and they are a sure cure for war fever.

"THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME."

Mail and Empire: The first official picture of the great Battle of the Somme, in a picture show at home. The Regent Theatre yesterday afternoon presented the Huns out of France. The different parts of the film, which are five in number, deal with the preparation, the attack, the fighting and the aftermath of the battle. Capt. Oliver Hezelwood is especially interested in studying the faces of the German prisoners and comparing them with those of the British. "Tommy's Views." "The Germans seem to be humanized animals," declared Capt. Hezelwood. "They don't seem to have the humaneness of our own men, but they show so readily on the countenances of British soldiers. The Germans seem to be men who see nothing in life but the things they are compelled to do." "I was impressed by the wonderful attention which is given the picture as it is shown. It is undoubtedly the most remarkable film I ever saw. Everyone after seeing the Somme pictures should contribute in every way they can to ending this kind of thing." Capt. Hezelwood said in his address to the orchestra, the music of which he said adapted itself to the theme, if their rendition of martial and patriotic music.

WAR FILM THE REAL THING

The Telegram: Only an atheist could doubt the outcome of the war after looking at this wonderful moving picture of the Battle of the Somme. Good MUST be more powerful than evil, or the world would have gone to smash with the Eden episode. It is impossible to look into the grunting, grimy, good-natured faces of the British soldiers, the Lancashire, Lancashire, Lancashire or Gordon, and they swing "close up" to the camera on their way to the firing line, or go plunging into the parapets and down the communication trenches. It is impossible to look into those faces, and then at the chucked-headed, and then at the human prisoners who are conveyed to their captors in their own shambles by "close up" too, in droves. It isn't prejudice that makes the captured Germans look like criminals. Why should it be? It is the same man who murdered Edith Cavell and Capt. Fryatt, sent zeppelins over England, and sank the Lusitania? It is the same man who lavished realms of description on that film, the Battle of the Somme. It is quite all that is claimed for it. The man who can see the pictures and feel the boys swinging "over the lid" and into the smoke of the German fire trench and not want to be with them ought to be buried; and the man who says so low that he is a sanitary menace.

It is far from being all grins and glory. Wounds and death are shown in all their ghastly details, big men in action or stand-up of prisoners. The most pathetic picture is the mascot of the Manchester—a fine dog which his master, dead side by side, after a victorious charge. The pictures of the carnage are scarcely gruesome; the pitiful, heavily-booted bands of old clothes that once were German tunics, the trench coat plays "Abide With Me," rather a part of the wreckage of tree and trench and parapet than the husks of living, breathing human beings.

Is the film popular? Well, the line-up from the Regent Theatre box office reached back along Adelaide street and turned the corner down Bay at half past seven last night. Performances started at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and such was the rush that the management decided to open at 10 o'clock from this morning onward. The film lasts an hour.

SOMME BATTLE—REGENT.

The News: Large crowds were attracted to the Regent Theatre yesterday afternoon for the official pictures of the "Battle of the Somme." The pictures show different aspects of the great series of battles in which the human race has been gradually forcing the Germans back to the original "Wentz." The film, which are five in number, deal with the vast preparation for the offensive, scenes of actual fighting and various other episodes that form the aftermath of advance. The ground, the consolidation of ground gained, and other features of actual warfare. The film will be open at ten o'clock daily instead of the usual hour.

"The Somme pictures prove that the great war is an artillery war," declared Mayor Church in commenting

CAPT. (DR.) R. E. HORKINS IS KILLED IN ACTION

Was Graduate of Toronto University and Belonged to Campbellford, Ont.
 Official communication of the death of Capt. R. E. Horkins, M.D., was received in Toronto yesterday. The cable was transmitted by the mayor of a town in France near the firing line of the Somme. The late Capt. Horkins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Horkins of Campbellford, Ont. He graduated at the University of Toronto in the faculty of medicine in 1888. He was one of the best medical men of his generation and had been in the service of the British Army Medical Corps since 1903. He was attached to the Royal Irish Fusiliers and subsequently transferred to the 7th Division, where he was promoted to the rank of captain before leaving for France, where he has been in the trenches during the past six months. Capt. Horkins was very popular in Toronto and was known as a clean sport. He was associated with the University of Toronto Lacrosse and Rugby teams and took a keen interest in all sporting events. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters and two brothers, George of the Howland Hardware Company and William E. Horkins of Robinson, Godfrey & Phelps.

ADOPTS A SCHEME TO INCREASE SHEEP BREEDING

Department of Agriculture Takes New Measures to Stock Province.
 The department of agriculture has just adopted a scheme for increasing sheep breeding in the province, and it is hoped that this new departure has come to help among farmers' sons who have taken short courses from agriculture and whose fathers have not provided with a flock of six grade ewes each. In return the young farmer must agree to furnish the live stock branch with figures of costs and profits, and must pay back the stock to the live stock branch, with two shorthorns, at the end of the second, third and fourth years. As the stock is thus returned to the department, the scheme will be widened in its scope until the province is well stocked with sheep. The scheme is necessary to put the sheep into operation, and the promotion of the department, and the scheme will be proceeded with forthwith.

Among the many instances of generous treatment of interned war prisoners, a new departure has come to light. According to particulars received from Switzerland by Prof. James Custin, president of the Swiss Red Cross Society, 606 Temple Building, Zurich has decided to enroll the student prisoners now interned in Switzerland. There are 60 companies, including 5000 student prisoners. They will be given free tuition and supplied with books. They may also attend special courses in the prisoner camp. So far 18,000 francs have been paid by the Swiss government for the expenses of these prisoner students. There are now about 20,000 prisoners in Switzerland, including German, English, French, Belgian and Austrian.

PADEREWSKI AT MASSEY HALL.

ALBERT BROWN IN "THE BLACK FEATHER"
 Among the great pianists of the present day none holds a greater place in the hearts of the musical people than Paderewski, who gives a recital at Massey Hall tomorrow night, and an announcement of his appearance, which acts as a magnet to draw a large audience, and tomorrow night will be no exception to this. Four hundred rush seats on sale at 7.15.

MAE MURRAY AT VARIETY.
 One of the most impressive scenes in "The Big Sister," in which Mae Murray is being acted by the Famous Players on the Paramount program, is the great modiste shop setting, in which Miss Murray plays the main part. The film will win the approval of everyone who sees it at the Variety Theatre, where it is being featured Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday this week.

"STEP LIVELY, GIRLS."
 A gorgeous fashion show will be one of the many features of "Step Lively, Girls," Arthur Pearson's pretentious production, which will be seen in the main building at the Massey Hall on Tuesday, October 24, at the Gayety Theatre. The gowns worn by the living models are some of the latest, last creations of New York's most fashionable modistes.

AT THE MADISON.
 The last opportunity to see the "Pageant of the Allies," the grand farewell carnival given in honor of the Duke of Connaught, will be offered at the Madison Theatre this evening, "The Big Sister," with Mae Murray, is the big feature, which will also be shown for the last time tonight.

GOOD BILL AT STRAND.

The detective photo-play, "Thru the Wall," with Neil Shipman and William Duncan in the two leading parts, is about as fine an example of detective drama as one could wish to see. The comedy, "Some Liars," with Ben Turpin, is one long scream.

ROBINSON CRUSOE, JR.
 In answer to the question, just what is meant by the New York Winter Garden beauty squad, Al Jolson's management, which brings the famous organization to the Alexandra Theatre next week, states:
 "Because of the established recognition as the institution that dominates frothy entertainment on Broadway, the Winter Garden is the one that most chorus girls aspire to join. When the 'Robinson Crusoe, Jr.' company was formed to support Al Jolson for the spring and summer run at the Winter Garden the flower of the flock was singled out as a beauty squad to aid

PEOPLE ask me why my tea tastes so good. First, I use freshly drawn water. When boiling, briskly I pour it over the leaves, allowing the tea to steep, not boil, five minutes. Next, I pour the tea off the leaves into another pot. In that way you get the flavor of Red Rose Tea in all its fullness and richness. Try it. In sealed packages only.

The British Red Cross Society Require $25,000 a Day to Carry on its Work. Can Toronto Subscribe $750,000 to take care of the Outlay for One Month?

Here is a great work in which all can share. The Joint War Committee of the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John is the only institution which carries voluntary aid to the sick and wounded of the British forces on land and sea in every region of the war. Thousands of lives of our bravest and best are saved through this splendid work. YOUR gift may save a life. Isn't it worth doing? It is. GIVE!

The Red Cross looks after the transportation of sick and wounded—it equips thousands of hospitals, rest and convalescent homes, it supplies countless requisites for hospital work, clothing and other comforts. Over 2,000 Red Cross Motor Ambulances are at work on the various fronts, while "rest stations," hospital trains, steamers and launches, food for prisoners, books, special work for the blind, etc., etc., are a few, only, of Red Cross activities.

*Our Sick and Wounded Soldiers Call for YOUR Help.
Give TO-DAY and Give Generously.*
