CHESTER MARTIN WRITES THE QUEBEC PAGES

New Brunswick's First Rhodes Scholar Contributes an Interesting Article Upon the Coming Celebration and Its Objects.

The writer of the following article is Mr. Chester Martin, first Rhodes scholar from New Brunswick and a brilliant graduate from Oxford.

THE QUEBEC PAGES.

It is a sober reflection that the streets of the Old City were trodden, literally, by almost every discoverer, missionary, soldier, administrator, adventurer and explorer in New France for over a hundred and fifty years. More than that, in the four sieges, the defenses, the subsequent industrial development of Quebec it has been remarked that there is represented almost every strain of blood which appears in Canada—French and English, Scottish and Irish, Welsh and Arcadian, the vanishing Indian and the United Empire loyalist. Three months, therefore, in this romantic Old World city to appeal at all times to the observant visitor or the casual holiday maker. The temporary exhibition, however, will appeal not less to the grave, bespectacled historian in his holiday capacity of appreciation for stirring historic pageantry. The history of Quebec will be visualized for the spectator on the very spot, in many instances, upon which that history unfolded. Those who enjoyed the brilliancy and incidentally the historical accuracy of similar presentations at Warwick, at Bury St. Edmunds at St. Albans, or at Coventry, will be inclined to commend the "pages" of the British public for this method of vivifying their country's history. It is a pity that the first to be undertaken on this side of the Atlantic will be the direct supervision of Mr. Laessle, whose artistic taste occasioned such comment at the Oxford pageant of last year. The material to be here in this case will be a city which is probably unsurpassed on this continent, either for wealth of historic incident or for the opportunity it affords for historic display. In the Citadel at Quebec it is possible to trace topographically the history of the city of New France for two centuries. Presentations of the pageant at Quebec will be distributed in the next few days. Even the unadorned outline of the official programme already submitted to the press suggests the excellent taste with which the unique possibilities of place and season will be utilized.

The first figure to appear in the pageants on the Plains of Abraham will naturally be the pioneer of the St. Lawrence. Those who know the quaint old Quebec city of St. Malo will recall the superb bronze on the walls towards the west of the town, which expresses well the awakening veneration in those days of the "pioneer" of the St. Lawrence. Carter stands resolutely upon the highest bastion, scanning the channel towards the north and the cross of the foot of the wall almost straight from the sea. One hand holds the tiller, the other shades the eyes from the blinding rays of the afternoon sun. A few hundred yards away is the old Catholic church, within the walls of which Carter and his little band received the shelter and benediction, preparatory to the eventful voyage of 1632. "On the day and feast of Pentecost," reads the story of the "pioneer" adventures ".... by the commandment of the captain and the good will of all, each comforted himself and was joined together our Creator. It will be in the quaint spirit and costume of that day and Carter's native town that the figures of events embodied in his story will live again at Quebec. The wandering Indians of St. Adolphe and St. Pierre will assemble in his story, as will the stranger Indians of St. Adolphe and St. Pierre; the cross with its fleur-de-lis and austere inscription will be raised upon the banks of the Laurent; the pageant on his home voyage will be the old first dominion, never to return; and the first dominion figure in the pageant story will be left in the presence of Francis, as he hears the report of Captain Carter's pilot-general ".... as well as writing the words of the pageant."

About Champlain, the central figure of the celebration, will be arrayed a display of special brilliancy and magnificence. In the pageant on the Plains there will be a scene at the court of the genial and popular Henry of Navarre, where Champlain, in the wars of the League and as navigator in the West Indies and La Carde, by undertaking the mission of the St. Lawrence is to be commemorated. In another tableau there will be portrayed a sumptuous scene in the battle of the Iroquois, in which Champlain strikes terror into the savages by the discharge of his firelock. The pageant itself, however, will be supplemented by a display of starting local and even personal significance.

On July 23 Champlain in his ship "La Belle" with the lofty poop and quaint tackle of the days of Walter Raleigh and the Sea Beggars will sail up the St. Lawrence to the spot where he straggled ashore among the elm trees lighting the rock on a day of July, 1608. Many of the striking features of that scene—the impressiveness of that rock itself, the floral attire of the river banks, the white falls of the Montmorency—will impress the newcomer much as they impressed Champlain; but the pageant-ship will pass, in full sight of these monuments, through an avenue of more than twenty warships honoring the representative of the lonely voyager of 1608 by a salute in the name of five different nations.

The procession which will escort the founder of Quebec up the river to the Upper Town will be a peculiar one. There will be Breton sailors of Carter's day; the courts of Francis and of Henry of Navarre; Dolard and the heroes of the Long Sault; the discoverers of Juliette, La Salle and La Jonquiere; the white regiments of Carignan-Salieres; Frontenac with his brilliant staff and Sovereign Council; Montcalm and Levis at the head of their famous regiment of Guineas; Kears, La Salle, Lanquetot, Roussillon, Berri; Wolfe and Murray with the Highlanders and the three hundred foot sergeants under their command; Guy Carleton and the defenders of Quebec in 1759; La Salaberry and his three hundred Voltigeurs de Chateaugay; Fitzroy's banners designate the different divisions. Nor is this all. Homage to Champlain will be rendered at Quebec, by many of the best living representatives of the men who played a heroic part in the city's history. Of these it will be necessary here to mention only a few. The present Marquis de Levis will represent the brave general who rejudged the balance of victory on the Plains in 1760. The Master of Elibank is the direct descendant of General Murray, the gallant defender of Quebec and the first Military Governor of Lower Canada. Lord Lovat holds his title and estates in direct descent from the brave Colonel and Chief of the Fraser Highlanders at the battle of the Plains. Indeed it was through that gallant action that the Lovat estates which had been forfeited on account of the daring part taken by General Fraser's father in the Jacobite rising of "the 45," reverted again to the family. There is many an episode in the history of our young country, that is remembered in the old.

Champlain's battle with the Iroquois forms but the sixth scene in the series. It would be impossible to refer in detail here to the seven other tableaux which will complete the "pageant." The hospitaliers and Madame de la Petrie, with the Ursuline nuns will be welcomed to Quebec by the rejoicing inhabitants headed by the Governor Montmagny, Knight of Malta. The next tableau will show the pious work of the sisters among the Indians. A few hundred yards from the pageant-ground the visitor at Quebec will see the quaint mementoes of those early days.

Over the gateway leading to the courtyard of the modern Chateau Frontenac is a stone bearing the arms of the Knights of Malta, taken from the part of the old Chateau which was built during Montmagny's governorship, and in the garden of the Ursuline convent is a cross taken from the spire of the first convent. It is erected upon a pedestal which was made from the identical old oak tree beneath the shade of which Marie-Macdelelle, the companion of the pageant scene, was carried to instruct the Indians.

His Honor commented severely on the conduct of the boys who were reported for disorderly conduct at the Nickel, also for being noisy and swilling their way into the streets at the day of the pageant. He said that the boys who were in the habit of congregating around the local theatres and characterized such conduct as a disgrace to the city.

GREAT BRITAIN AGITATED OVER POSSIBLE ALLIANCE

Fallieres Visit Directs Attention to Possibility of an Alliance Between Great Britain, France and Russia--A Difference of Opinions.

London, May 30.—With the conclusion of the visit to Eng. of Pres. Fallieres of France, increased attention is being paid to whether the conversation between King Edward and President Fallieres and the British and French Foreign Ministers will lead to the developing of an alliance between Great Britain, France and Russia into an alliance in which Russia will be a party. At a conference between Sir Edward Grey, British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and M. Pichon, the French Foreign Minister, the subject of a more formal agreement between their respective countries and the coming visit of King Edward to Emperor Nicholas were discussed, so that King Edward as well as Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent under-secretary for Foreign Affairs and former British Ambassador to Russia, who will accompany His Majesty, will be able to place before the Emperor the views not only of his own country, but those of France also with respect to a closer understanding between Great Britain, France and Russia.

King Edward and the British Government, it is believed, favor a military alliance, and the furthering of Germany, but there is much opposition in this country to such an agreement on the ground that it would necessitate an increased military expenditure and possibly conscription, and also would lead Great Britain into continental quarrels in which she was not interested. A majority of the press and of the public are saying that it would be better for Great Britain to leave well enough alone and devote her efforts to assuring the continuance of the empire.

Lord Milner regards the word "Empire" in some respects as unfortunate and a misnomer, especially in regard to the idea which it conveys as to the ascendancy and domination of the mother country over the great dominions. "Witness," he writes on this point, "the unprofitable discussion which breaks out from time to time, especially in Canada, over the question of 'loyalty' to the Mother Country. Lightly regarded there is just as much as a title for the British Empire to be loyal to Canada as for Canada to be loyal to Great Britain. What matters, from the point of view of the Empire, is that the loyalty of both be to the larger body politics of which they are both members."

Lord Milner emphasizes the natural repugnance of the rising generations of the British Empire against being constantly regarded as minor satellites revolving round the mother country. The independence and pride, he thinks, however, is a necessary stage in the evolution of a new form of union, "a form of union which shall not cramp the development or threaten the individuality of the united nations."

Dealing with the failure of past attempts to secure this union, due to our imperfect grasp of the idea of "wide patriotism," Lord Milner says that the Imperial conference of 1907, by its failure to advance the principle of preferential trade within the Empire, compelled Canada to engage "in a series of special treaties with foreign nations which threaten to reduce and perhaps ultimately extinguish any special local reasons accorded to British goods."

He maintains that the future of the Empire depends upon the willingness of the United States to give up its policy of a voluntary union of independent states, of which the strongest inducement is of race.

Dealing with this phase, Lord Milner says that it is no aspersion on the loyalty to the Empire of the French in Canada to say that there are special local reasons which have made them prefer British citizenship to the alternative of absorption into the United States. And even though French influence in Canada, and even though regarded as contributing to the growth of imperial sentiment in this dominion, it is not a special local reason which is published by the London Standard for circulation throughout the empire. Lord Milner will deal with the question of Indian immigration to Canada.

ACCIDENT TO S. S. HAMPSTEAD

She Struck a Sunken Log at Gagetown But Was Only Slightly Damaged.

The steamer Hampstead struck a sunken log at Gagetown early this morning. As a result one of her planks was forced ashore and the hull was damaged. She was at once turned to the wharf where she was partially filled. Another plank will be put on and the Hampstead is expected to be on the route again in a few days.

ACCIDENT TO KETCHELL HAS BURNS IN VIEW

Soon to Enter Heavy Weight Ranks, Then for Canadian-Bill Pape Now is Only Stumbling Block Now.

New York, May 29.—Stanley Ketchell announces that he will fight but few more battles as a middleweight, and then it is him for the heavies and Tommy Burns.

There is one bright light on the boxing horizon it is this boy Ketchell. He is the one fighter of the past few years who really looks like a champion. His victories over Joe Thomas started him along the high road of public favor when he stopped the Sullivan family by the K. O. route. Mike in one round and Jack in 20 it was a case of sit up and take notice from coast to coast.

His coming to Canada was a matter of course. He is a natural heavy weight fighter and will be a natural heavy weight fighter. He is a ten-round bout, and if it goes the limit, no matter who gets the decision the sports won't be satisfied until they meet again in a longer bout.

If there is a knockout the question will be pretty well settled. Ketchell will have the backing of the way to turn that knockout trick, if it is turned at all, and with Pape off of the way Ketchell will certainly be on the high road to a match with Burns.

OPIMUM POPULAR WITH SMART SET

San Francisco Women Drive Up in Their Automobiles to Buy the Stuff.

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—According to Charles B. Whidden secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy, opium smoking is increasing in this city, and is spreading in San Francisco to a point not to be considered a part of the growing army of smokers.

Whidden has made twenty-six arrests in San Francisco, nineteen of whom have been white men.

"That the vice of opium smoking is spreading in San Francisco is patent to any one who cares to give the matter earnest attention," says Mr. Whidden. "In the majority of cases where drug addicts have been convicted for selling the drug their chief source of income has been derived from women who are able to drive up to pharmacies in their own automobiles."

PLEGGED TO KILL HIGH OFFICIAL

Man Arrested at Bari, Italy, May Have Planned to Slay Emperor of Germany.

Bari, Italy, May 29.—Two weeks ago the police arrested here as a vagrant, Paul Nikolski, 25 years old, a mechanic of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

The German consular authorities were notified and requested the police to hold the man until it was possible for them to ascertain the reasons for his presence in Italy.

Becoming tired of waiting longer in prison, Nikolski has now confessed that he is an anarchist and that he came from Berlin in April pledged to kill a high percentage of the imperial court, including Emperor William II, and Emperor William's son, Prince Wilhelm, and Emperor William's daughter, Princess Cecilie, and Emperor William's wife, Empress Augusta.

Lord Milner regards the word "Empire" in some respects as unfortunate and a misnomer, especially in regard to the idea which it conveys as to the ascendancy and domination of the mother country over the great dominions. "Witness," he writes on this point, "the unprofitable discussion which breaks out from time to time, especially in Canada, over the question of 'loyalty' to the Mother Country. LORD MILNER IS A CONTRIBUTOR

He Has an Excellent Article on The Wider Patriotism of the Standard of Empire.

Montreal, May 30.—Lord Milner has contributed a striking article of particular interest to Canadians, to the new weekly paper, The Standard of Empire, which will appear in Canada on Monday. Writing on the text, "The Wider Patriotism," Lord Milner declares that unless this "wider patriotism" is not limited to the particular portion of the Empire in which they live, to Canada, to Australia, to New Zealand, or even to the United Kingdom, but who recognize that the Empire as a whole has the highest claim to their allegiance.

Quebec, May 29.—The smallest steam craft ever known to cross the Atlantic has arrived here from Glasgow and is now awaiting orders in the Louis Basin.

She is a steel tug boat, length sixty-nine feet, breadth fifteen feet, depth eight feet nine inches, tonnage forty-nine and propelled by an engine 28-horse power, capable of driving her 9 1/2 knots an hour, with a coal consumption of 212 tons every forty-eight hours. LIPTON SAYS NO UNDER NEW RULE

Could Not Take Servicible Sea Boat Across Atlantic—Cup Still His One Ambition.

New York, May 29.—Sir Thomas Lipton recently made a very important declaration in the matter of future America's Cup challenges.

During with a former commodore of a yacht club located in our eastern waters, who is well known to all Americans prominent in the sport, a short time ago in London, Sir Thomas said in the most emphatic manner to his New England yacht club friend:

"I do not ever intend to challenge again for the America's Cup unless the New York Club rules are so changed that I can take a servicable sea boat across the Atlantic."

His addition Sir Thomas authorized his friend to repeat this declaration if he desired to do so, when he returned to New York.

Sir Thomas admitted to his friend that as much as ever it was the ambition of his life to win the America's Cup.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON IS A COTTON WORKER

Son of Massachusetts' Lieutenant-Governor, He is Disinherited for Marrying an Actress.

Burlington, Vt., May 30.—Plunkly making his own way in the world, young Bristol Draper, whose millionaire father is Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts, disinherited him a year ago for marrying Quennie Sanford, the actress, has turned up in this city as a spinner in a cotton mill.

On a wage of $1.25 a day he is supporting the pretty dancer, who was used quite as much luxury as he was, and who has a two-month-old baby boy. He works twelve hours a day in overalls, and has proved so faithful and competent that he was next in line for promotion to a foremanship, which will pay him perhaps $15 a week.

Young Draper has neither asked nor received his father's forgiveness for his runaway match and jilting of a Boston society girl. He says he will make no overtures to his parent, but will fight his battle out.

In fact, if I had known how happy I would be I would have married Quennie three years ago," he said.

Draper was to have wedded Miss Alice Marjorie Ray, a Black Bay politician and heiress, on June 1 of last year. His father was to have settled a large sum of money on him and the house to which he was next in line for promotion was almost completed when he suddenly disappeared, and there was a public announcement that his engagement with Miss Ray had been broken.

Then, on March 28, came the story of the elopement. The young man had run off with Miss Sanford, who was then in "The Rich Mr. Hoggensheimer" company and married her in St. Patrick's Cathedral on March 17. Lois Merrill, another member of the show company, and several young men and girl friends were with them.

Lieutenant-Governor Draper at first refused to believe the story, and ordered his son to come home. When convinced that a marriage had taken place, he then declared that Miss Ray had jilted the young man, and that the marriage was a mere act of bravado.

But it was established that Miss Ray had not jilted Draper, but was jilted herself. Then the lieutenant-governor disinherited the boy.

G. Bailey, president of the bankrupt Export Shipping Company, who is believed to be on board. At the same time creditors of the failed company, who were instrumental in procuring the warrant, called the attention of Secretary Root to the search which has been in progress for the missing steamer and her passengers and asked that the government give what aid it could in the identification. It also was planned by the creditors to ask Governor Hughes to use his influence with the state department to have Bailey extradited in event of his arrest in some foreign country. THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

Mr. Hiram Hiram has requested the Times new reporter to send word to Principal Peterson that if he can ever find time to visit the Settlement, they will give him a good time.

"We'll have a picnic," said Hiram. "We'll have a picnic."

The reason for this evidence of appreciation and hospitable intent is the address delivered by Dr. Peterson before the Canadian Club. Hiram is a descendant of the Loyalists and strong on British connections. So are other leading men of the Settlement. The Standard of Empire will have several subscribers in that neighborhood.

"What then fellows Longley an' Ewart's been sayin', an' it's the same old story under a new name. I got an old musket once that was carried by a Loyalist. I call it means somethin' to our family—even if it won't go. You kin say I'm fer British connection every time an' all the time. I s'pose you know some of our boys fit in South Atriky. I ain't much 'on savin' the flag, but when it comes to a question about where we stand I want to say there was a Lornbass at Waterloo, an' I guess mebbe some of the family was in other fights we read about. It's a great thing to have a big country an' a well fed head—I s'pose. Mebbe this livin' in towns an' gittin' in tetch with far places gives a feller big ideas, but I don't see how it can be any more than a store, an' he took fast-rat for a spell. Then he thought he'd have a big place, so he spent a lot of money an' put up the finest place you ever seen. He got hives an' kerries, an' a bird man, an' hired girls—an' set up to be a regular swell. He cut a wide swath for a year or two—but I got some stuff mighty cheap when the sheriff sold 'em out. It don't show do to git a big head. Hey, what?"

WHAT A CANADIAN PACIFIC OFFICIAL SAYS OF STRIKE

High Wages of Unions Cannot be Kept Up in the Face of Decreased Earnings.

The situation in regard to the difficulties between the C. P. R. and its mechanics is unchanged today, except for an increasing feeling of uneasiness among the men.

Meanwhile the C. P. R. is continuing to decrease its pay as throughout Canada. More men have this week been laid off at the Farnham shops, and this taken in conjunction with the large numbers recently laid off at the Angus shops, and the entire closing down of the shops at Madam Junction is looked upon by the men as an intimation that the company that if the western labor troubles meet with any sympathetic movement in the east, the C. P. R. will be determined to fight such a move to the whole of its eastern shops, except for the purposes of such repairs as could be carried out by non-union labor.

Butter was slightly weaker in Montreal on Thursday most dealers quoting the finest creamery at 22c, though a few dealers are reported to have made sales during the last 24 hours at 21 3/4c.

AN ARGUMENT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Lady Grove Sets Forth Reasons Why Women Should Have the Franchise.

Lady Grove, making a vigorous argument in behalf of women's suffrage in the Fortnightly Review for April, points out that when men are urged to enter public life, the ideals held out are those of self-interest, the desire for power, and a wise discretion for the welfare of others and a wise discretion in weighing the comparative merits of different measures.

HOW COMPENSATION ACT WORKS OUT IN ENGLAND

Many Features of the English Act Invite and Encourage Fraud—Cases Where Employers Have Been Unfairly Forced to Pay Compensation.

London, May 29.—None of the efforts in paternalism by the semi-socialistic government now in power in this country have been more mixed in their results than the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act which came into force in July of last year.

What the insurance companies chiefly object to are those features of the law which invite and encourage fraud and the uncertainty involved in cases of permanent disablement. Malingering is a rapidly growing evil. The law as it stands compels the employer to pay compensation in this case which recently occurred.

JOHN J. MORRISEY'S AFFAIRS DEALT WITH

Creditors' Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Assignment Made in Providence, R. I.

The affairs of John J. Morrisey, who suddenly left the city several months ago and about whom there was considerable anxiety for some time, were discussed at a meeting of his creditors held yesterday afternoon in the office of C. S. Hanington, to whom Mr. Morrisey assigned some days ago.

At the time he left the city, no one could say why and no one knew where he had gone. He was a member of the firm of Morrisey, Emery & McLaughlin, stone cutters and dealers and there were no apparent financial reasons for his departure.

On February 29 Judge McLeod, on the application of the Bank of British North America, directed all Mr. Morrisey's estate, as an absconding, concealed or absent debtor, to be seized and unless he returned and discharged his debts within three months that the estate be sold.

It was announced at the meeting yesterday that Mr. Morrisey was in Providence (R. I.) recently and that the assignment of his estate was made on May 16 to Charles S. Hanington of St. John, barrister. At yesterday's meeting Dr. A. O. Esler, and W. J. Mahony, representatives of the Bank of British North America and A. P. Ham, manager of the bank was also present.

Messrs. Inches and Mahoney were appointed inspectors. The assets as far as known consist of a gasoline launch, a summer house at Acornac and interest in the firm of Morrisey, Emery & McLaughlin. The sale of the gasoline launch was ordered at once; the matter of selling the house stands for ten days. No statement of liabilities was submitted yesterday.

PROMINENT YORK COUNTY MAN DIES IN A THEATRE

Wallace McFarlane Dropped Dead Last Night from Heart Disease

Breathed His Last Five Minutes After He Collapsed—Was Head of Big Manufacturing Concern—Rafting Operations Have Commenced.

Frederton, N. B., May 29.—Walter McFarlane, one of the best known men in York county and head of McFarlane, Thompson & Co. Company, dropped dead this evening while attending a picture show in the Arctic rink. He entered the building in his usual good health, and after watching the performance for a short time was seated with a fainting spell and fell from his seat to the floor. Several persons sitting near sprang to his assistance, and were shocked to find him in a few minutes without uttering a word. Dr. McNally was soon on the scene and passed the opinion that death was due to heart disease. In his capacity of coroner he decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The performance was discontinued and the body was placed in a coach and removed to the late home of deceased, at Napanee.

The late Mr. McFarlane was about 70 years of age, and son of the late Peter McFarlane of Douglas. For a number of years he carried on the manufacture of wagons at Napanee as a member of the firm of Peter McFarlane & sons, disposing of his interest in the business about twenty years ago. He has been connected with the New Brunswick Foundry since 1871, and for the past twenty years has been in charge of the pattern shop. He was a man of retiring disposition, thoroughly honorable in his dealings, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. In religion he was a Presbyterian and an elder of St. Paul's church in this city. His wife, who was a Miss Bird, of Kowalew, a sister of the late Mr. Bird, predeceased him by ten years, and there are no children. Mr. McFarlane has been awarded a contract by the Toronto Construction Company to clear up the right of way on the section of the transcontinental railway between Plaster Rock and Chipman. Rafting operations at Douglas have commenced yesterday.

MCGILL PRINCIPAL SPEAKS ON TRUE IMPERIALISM

Voluntary and United Effort to Bring Empire Together and Preserve Its Ancient Traditions—Opponents Dealt With—Recent Public Utterances Came in for Criticism.

Though the attendance was not large, the Canadian Club luncheon last evening at which Principal Peterson, of McGill University, Montreal, was the speaker, proved one of the most enjoyable yet held. True imperialism was the subject of the distinguished visitor and he handled his subject well. Referring to a speaker here who took a view opposite to his, Dr. Peterson called him a blatant lawyer from Ottawa.

In his address he first defined true imperialism as a voluntary and united effort to bring the empire together and preserve its ancient traditions. He then sketched the growth and possibilities of Canada and pointed out some of the dangers to be met with, closing with suggestions as to the convincing of skeptics and opponents of the idea.

Dr. Peterson, president of the club, was in the chair, and at his left had Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the university of New Brunswick, who also gave a short address. The catering was done by the King's Daughters in efficient manner.

Dr. Peterson's Address.

Principal Peterson was greeted with an outburst of applause. He thanked his hearers for the cordiality of his reception. He had been so warmly entertained that he had hardly noticed the sun was not being met with, closing with suggestions as to the convincing of skeptics and opponents of the idea.

Dr. Peterson was greeted with an outburst of applause. He thanked his hearers for the cordiality of his reception. He had been so warmly entertained that he had hardly noticed the sun was not being met with, closing with suggestions as to the convincing of skeptics and opponents of the idea.

Problems to be encountered in consideration of the scheme were the fiscal question, military defence and the tariff. Of the most important was trade. Trade, whether free or preferential should be secured, and it was as well that political parties had not taken sides on this question. The commercial aspect of Chamberlain's policy could well be left to the statesmen of England.

The attitude to be deprecated was the stand that the present condition was good enough and that change might be a change for the worse. When a man talked like this, he cared less for the unity of the empire than he did for the status of his particular country.

The speaker was heartily applauded and Dr. Walker rose to express the thanks of the members of the club. He said that he had been very glad to see the speaker, and he mentioned that the day was the principal's birthday and he called upon the members to drink the toast of the visitor, which was done, followed by the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow."

Principal Peterson replied gratefully to a good Scotch story.

Chancellor Jones.

Chancellor Jones was called upon and said that an address like that given was good for a loyal city like St. John. As a representative of a smaller college, he was glad to meet Principal Peterson of McGill, but the smaller college had no titles and might be larger some day. It was aimed to give at Fredericton a course which taught culture as well as being of practical nature. He felt indebted to St. John High School for some of the brightest scholars at the university and to the High School for their help in the singing of the National Anthem concluded the programme.

WILL GO ON WITH CAMP SUSSEX PREPARATIONS

Col. White Has No Official Word That Militia Camp Will be Abolished.

An Ottawa despatch yesterday stated that all the militia camps have been cancelled for this year and that there will be no training for the rural militia. It was also said in the despatch that it was probable no militia corps would be sent to the tercentenary celebration in Quebec in July.

When asked about Camp Sussex in connection with this latest evening, Colonel G. R. White, commanding the district, said the first he knew of the matter was when he saw the despatch. No official word of any description had reached him and until it did he was his intention to continue his preparations for Camp Sussex.

TERRIBLE BREATHING DIFFICULTY

"For ten years," states Capt. McDonald, of Kingston, Ont., "I have been a terrible sufferer from Bronchitic Asthma, and often it was so bad that for nights at a time I couldn't sleep. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines, but one dollar outfit of Catarrhose cured me." Four months later Capt. McDonald writes: "I am perfectly well and have no bother from my old trouble."

The reason Catarrhose is so successful is because it's healing balsam and vapour get at the root of the bronchial irritation—right where the disease has its root. TERRIBLE CRIME OF A FORMER N. B. MAN

J. Gideon Keith Found Dead at Bangor by Side of Woman He Had Murdered—Bullets Ended Both Their Careers—Wanted to Marry Victim, Who Had Had Two Husbands and Eleven Children.

A terrible tragedy is reported from Bangor, Maine, in which a New Brunswick player played a leading part. Lying dead in death, each with a bullet through the brain, the bodies of J. Gideon Keith and Mrs. Elizabeth Ready were found early Thursday morning in the kitchen of Mrs. Ready's home at 186 Washington street.

To the police officers, Coroner Finnigan and County Attorney Paton, who were immediately summoned to the scene, no better explanation of the sudden ending of two lives was apparent than that of murder and suicide and this it undoubtedly was. The bodies were discovered shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday morning by Clara, the 13 year old daughter of Mrs. Ready.

The murdered woman had been courted for some time by Keith, but she refused to marry him, because he was a Protestant and she was a Catholic who had been divorced from her second husband. She preceded from her home and went to Bangor about four years ago from Orono. She lived in Orono about two years and previous to that she lived in Millinocket. Her first husband, William Ready, died at Great Works about six years ago. By him she had ten children, all of whom are now living.

About four years ago Mrs. Ready married Eli Willett and one son, Stanley. Mrs. Ready's union with Willett was unhappy. Willett attempted to poison Mrs. Ready's smallest child by giving him a teaspoonful of arsenic. The child's life was saved by the prompt work of physicians. At the February criminal term of the supreme court in 1905, Willett was found guilty of attempting to kill, and was sentenced to four years in the state prison, his term expiring next February. Mrs. Ready obtained a bill of divorce from Willett a short time ago.

Regarding Keith, the Commercial says: "Keith was born in the Province, and besides his three children here has a daughter in Belleville, N. B., Mrs. Jennie Butteridge. A sister, Mrs. Lavice Wilton, lives on Larkin street, and he has relatives in Fredericton, N. B., two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Amelia Dunfield and Mrs. Jane Dunfield, and George and John Keith.

Some interesting sidelights on the character of the man were furnished by the neighbors and those who knew him well. One of the boys whom he was found was a Masonic emblem. According to the neighbors he appeared a quiet man, but he did not pay his bills and they say that the daughter, one of whom works in the shoe factory and the other in the trunk factory supported the household and helped to support him. He owed bills in several places and these back debts which

LOCAL LEGISLATURE FINISHES BUSINESS

Opposition Tested Their Strength on the Highway Act, But Found No Converts

Three Votes Taken on Different Clauses But They Could Only Muster Twelve Votes--Premier Announces No More Extras For Officials and Their Salaries Must Be Sufficient--House Has Been in Session Since April 30 and Passed Ninety Bills.

Fredericton, N.B., May 29.—An Provincial Secretary Fleming made an announcement at the meeting of the contingencies committee of the legislature this evening that it was the intention of the government to abolish the practice of paying extras to officials in future.

On motion of Col. Sheridan, it was resolved that the allowance of $20 allowed to members for postage and stationery during recess be reduced to $10.

Mr. Fleming stated that the government did not approve of the committee's action in voting $50 to Clerk Assistant Dibbles for his services as secretary to the committee.

After several members had expressed the opinion that Mr. Dibbles should be paid sufficient salary to compensate him for services rendered and it seemed likely that somebody would move that the vote be rescinded, Mr. Dibbles informed the committee that he would not claim the extra allowance which was voted.

Mr. Fleming spoke appreciatively of the services rendered by Mr. Dibbles and assured the committee that the government would deal justly with his case.

In reply to Mr. Young, Mr. Fleming stated that it was not the intention of the government to reduce the salary of the clerk assistant and sergeant-at-arms.

Col. J. Armstrong of St. John has presented the legislature with a framed portrait of the old legislative buildings and it has been placed in the speaker's room.

During the session ninety-three bills were introduced, thirty of which were withdrawn and ninety passed.

At tonight's session the opposition divided the house the majority being the government side.

Fredericton, N. B., May 29.—The house met at 3 o'clock.

Hon. Mr. Hays said before commencing the business of the house he would like to refer to a circumstance which was probably unique in the annals of the house.

Hon. Mr. Hays said that he had had a framed and several facts of interest relating to them affixed to it and had presented it to the house.

Mr. McKenna would like to join with the premier in an expression of thanks to Col. Armstrong.

WILL WEAR OUT OPPOSITION OR DISSOLVE THE HOUSE

the minister of militia, the public outside were not bound to without a grain of salt.

the late Mr. Trueman, who was made a director of the storage company, had been a partner of Mr. Pugsley, and he occupied the same office as Mr. Pugsley.

Mr. Pugsley protested that when he and Mr. Trueman dissolved partnership they actually dissolved and had no common business thereafter, although they had a general office, which was occupied by their clerks together.

Mr. Pugsley, continuing, referred to H. R. Ross, another member of the company, as a capable man, and contended:

"Now I want to refer to an editorial which appeared in the St. John Telegraph. It shows that the suspicion that the minister of militia is interested in the company is not confined to the wicked opposition in this house, but is a suspicion that is widespread, as widespread as the knowledge that a cold storage company exists in the city of St. John."

"The editorial appears in the Daily Telegraph of May 28. It is a very bright, readable article and I am sure all the members on both sides of the house will enjoy hearing it. It is headed 'Very Good Storage.'"

It may well be, therefore, that hesitating to proceed to the extreme of the "closure," Sir Wilfrid is taking the morning sitting expedient as an instalment and this at a time when the government still is in the sixth month of the session, in default of half a dozen of its most important measures.

the debate on the St. John Cold Storage bill was resumed by George W. Fowler, who had moved the adjournment, after a few preliminary remarks on Wednesday.

He expressed surprise that the minister of militia should have emerged at St. John, one of the leading merchants of the city, as an unscrupulous man, who tried to get something for nothing."

Nothing Did Good

Until She Tried "Fruit-a-lives"

Madame Rioux is the wife of M. Jos. Rioux, a wealthy manufacturer of lumber in St. Moise. Madame Rioux is greatly esteemed in her home town and her testimonial in favor of "Fruit-a-lives" carries conviction with it, as it is entirely unsolicited.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the marvelous good which I have received from the use of the famous tablets "Fruit-a-lives". I was a great sufferer for many years with serious liver disease and severe constipation. I had constant pain in the right side and in the back and these pains were severe and distressing. My digestion was very bad, with frequent leadaches, and I became greatly run down in health.

It took many kinds of liver pills and liver medicine without any benefit, and I was treated by several doctors but nothing did me any good, bloating continued. As soon as I began to take "Fruit-a-lives" I began to feel better, the dreadful pain in the right side and back were eased and when I had taken three boxes I was practically well.

"Fruit-a-lives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by druggists at 50¢ a box—$2 for 50¢—or will send on receipt of price. Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

The harbor fishing this season has not been up to the mark of other years. The weir fishing has been very poor, but the "drifters" have secured fairly good catches of gaspereaux. TAKE FRILLS OFF THE SHIPPING WAYBILLS

W. S. Fisher Attends Meeting of Merchants in Toronto to Consider a Simpler Form of Receipt for Goods Shipped.

W. S. Fisher returned to the city on Thursday after a visit to Toronto, where he attended a meeting of shippers representing all branches of trade, to discuss the drawing up of a simplified form of waybill that would better suit the needs of the merchants and manufacturers and that would also be acceptable to the transportation companies.

The meeting was held in the board of trade rooms, Toronto, and there were about fifty representatives present from all parts of Canada. The representative from farthest west was John Hendry, of Vancouver (B. C.), while Mr. Fisher came from farthest east.

The matter was discussed in all its phases and many ideas presented from various branches of trade. A committee was finally appointed representing the varied interests and they will draw up a simple and effective form of waybill that seems fair to the shipper and also the transportation companies and submit it to the transportation commission for their approval.

Mr. Fisher also attended, while in Toronto, the monthly meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association executive, and he speaks enthusiastically of the good work being done by that body for the benefit of manufacturers all over the Dominion. The next monthly meeting of the association will be held at Guelph.

PUBLIC GARDENS ARE LOOKING WELL

Much Work is Being Done at Putting Them in Shape and They Will be Unusually Attractive This Summer.

The public gardens in connection with Rockwood Park are being put in shape for the summer and even now are assuming an attractive appearance. POLICE COURT

Several Drunks Disposed of in Short Order This Morning.

"I want to call your attention to the fact that it's half past eight," said Chief Clark as he strode up to the police clerk's desk in the courtroom this morning. "Twenty-five to nine," was the placid rejoinder. "Yes, and we won't be kept waiting here all day either," returned the chief, who after a moment's pause, went downstairs to the guard-room. Scarcely had he made his exit when the Police Magistrate entered the court room, and at once took his seat at the bench, and proceedings began without further comment.

Martin Downer, a Scotchman, charged with drunkenness, asked for a chance. "This is no chance shop," said his honor, "this is a court. You'll be fined $8 or twenty days in jail with hard labor." John Doherty, who got drunk on his way to Fredericton, where he was going to join the army, was fined $4, or ten days, and informed that he would have the privilege of practising the heel and toe with Captain Collins. Wm. Chittick and one other drunk were fined $4, or ten days each.

Nothing enters into the construction of this furniture but Hickory, the strongest of our native woods. All the frame work is made of young hickory saplings with the bark on. The bottoms and backs are platted by hand of the inner growth hickory bark, being of far greater strength than any other seating material. The finish is only that furnished by nature, the furniture being delightfully rustic in appearance, as well as durable and very comfortable.
