BORDEN ISSUES CHALLENGE TO AYLESWORTH

Ready to Meet All Evidence the Latter Can Produce
SPLENDID MEETING
Conservative Leader's Enthusiastic Reception at Dunnville --- His Severe Criticism of Management of the I. C. R.

DUNNVILLE, Ont., Sept. 13 (Special)—When R. L. Borden and his party arrived here last evening, they found a large crowd waiting for them, with hands and torches, who escorted them to the hotel. Continuous cheering greeted the Conservative leader as he rode the opera house, where the meeting was held was packed to its utmost capacity, and hundreds of people were unable to gain admission. Finally it was decided to hold another meeting at the "Edgewood" Hall was secured for the purpose.

Mr. Borden took up purely in public life as one of his first points. "I dare say there are Liberals in the audience here tonight," he remarked, "it is honest men and Liberals to whom we particularly desire to address ourselves in this country."

Mr. Borden referred again to Mr. Aylesworth's Dundas speech, with which he dealt so forcefully on Wednesday night at Peterboro, and said: "I have spoken on that matter. I shall not deal with it again except to say that I am sure that Aylesworth now, or at any other time, or any one else, has the evidence to which he alluded in his speech at Dundas. I will be ready to meet it whenever that evidence is brought forward." (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Borden then showed that the Conservative party in the local house had done upon the subject of his policy in regard to railway management in the province of Ontario. "I say this on information that is absolutely reliable," Mr. Borden went on, "the management of your railway is not subject to the political interference which has been the bane of the Intercolonial Railway (cheers). I believe your state railway in this province is well managed, and as a railway should be operated, for the people and not as a road belonging to politicians (cheers). At present the Intercolonial is operated as one for the politicians' (hear, hear, and cheers.)"

Other speakers were J. G. H. Bergeron, Claude MacDonell, M. P.; Edmund Bristol, M. P.; and E. A. Lancaster, M. P.

BRIDGE DISASTER OF BYGONE DAYS
Structure Across the Reversible Falls Collapsed in 1837

In the year that Victoria ascended the throne of Great Britain there occurred in St. John's history a disaster not unlike the terrible catastrophe at Quebec. The story for years after was a common subject of conversation.

SUBSTITUTE FOR ANAESTHETICS

French Medical Professor Has Discovered a Method of Causing Electric Sleep.
PARIS, Sept. 13.—Stephane Leduc, the eminent professor of the school of medicine at Nantes, has discovered a method of causing electric sleep which, it is declared, will replace chloroform and other anaesthetics in all surgical operations. The discovery proceeded from study of the effects of intermittent currents and from the knowledge that the skull and brain offer but little resistance to the current. For a human being a current of thirty-five volts is applied intermittently in its full strength for minute fractions of a second. Two electrodes are applied to the skull in a special manner, the points of application being first carefully shaved.

Professor Leduc made scores of experiments on dogs and on himself. All were successful. The application of the current is not dangerous and no ill effect is found even when the experiment lasts for hours.

The arguments for the electric sleep are said to be numerous. Anaesthesia by chloroform or morphine is disagreeable, always dangerous and has often proved fatal, while the awakening is perfectly quiet and the awakening occurs as soon as the electrodes are withdrawn. The sensations after the operation are quite agreeable. The mind appears to work more clearly and more rapidly and there is a sense of increased physical vigor.

DEMONSTRATIONS MADE IN INDIA

Seditionists in Calcutta Are Active and Have Already Caused Much Trouble.
CALCUTTA, Sept. 13.—Serious demonstrations by seditionists have occurred here. They followed the sentencing to prison of a nationalist leader who refused to testify in the case which sedition was charged. The excitement lasted many hours, great crowds appearing near the courts and attacking the police, including some European sergeants. Other attacks on Europeans are reported, especially in Eastern Bengal, where racial feeling is steadily growing.

SAY HOSPITAL PEOPLE SHOULD HAVE TAKEN HIM

Police Raise Vigorous Kick Over McLeod Case—What Drs. Malcolm and Berryman Say.
The refusal of the hospital authorities last night to receive a man named Norman McLeod, who had convulsions, has aroused a vigorous kick from the police, who assert that two hours from the time when looking after him. About eleven o'clock the caretaker of the Indian town ferry discovered the man struggling in what appeared to be a fit. The police were summoned and the unfortunate man was taken to the hospital accompanied by patrolmen Henry and Semple. On their arrival at that institution Dr. Malcolm examined the man and declined to allow him in. From there he was taken to central police station in an almost unconscious state. Dr. Berryman was summoned and as the man was sleeping when he arrived did nothing. McLeod left the station this morning.

Sgt. Kilpatrick of the north-end division complained today that the refusal of the hospital people to take McLeod necessitated two of his men losing two hours. "We have few enough men now," said the north-end sergeant, "and these men were off their beat the worst possible time." Sergeant Kilpatrick believes there should be some understanding regarding the hospital's attitude in such matters.

When spoken to about the case today by a Times man Dr. Malcolm said that he could not say wherein there was ground for complaint: "I think we should be able to judge as to who we will receive. I will not think this man 'ill' and consequently not fit to be taken in," was what Dr. Malcolm said.

Dr. Berryman says that when he saw the man at central station he was resting comfortably, a hypodermic having evidently been administered to him. "I am sure he therefore did not disturb him as he was not in a dangerous condition."

NEW THEATRE FOR MONCTON

MONCTON, Sept. 13.—(Special)—Moncton is to have a new playhouse and this fact may be said to be due to the success of the ten-cent moving picture shows that have been running here the past few months. At the meeting a captain will be chosen, also delegates to the meeting of the executive of the league Saturday night.

MOST GIGANTIC THEFT EVER KNOWN

How Russia Stole the Whole Pacific Coast A STRANGE STORY
Friend of Tolstoy Now in Winnipeg Has Evidence That Russia Forged the Evidence of Early Occupation of Pacific Coast

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13 (Special)—Leo Nabokoff, a friend of Count Leo Tolstoy, who is armed with a mission from his chief to the wandering Doukhobours, is in Winnipeg, and has opened an office at 901 Main street. Nabokoff has unearthed some ancient Russian documents in Alaska, which materially affect Canada's position in the Alaska boundary question, showing how Russia forged evidence of early occupation of the Pacific Coast. Nabokoff formerly resided at Sitka, Alaska, where he was at the time of the transfer of that territory from Russia to the United States. Later he was sent by his government to Sitka to put in order the archives kept by Russian authorities who had not taken the trouble to receive them.

In doing this he found the documents kept in old Russian, which is not generally understood by those who know the modern language, but which Nabokoff had studied. The purport of the records is that Russia stole the whole of the Pacific coast. The document referred to as translated forwarded to the business general, is dated at St. Petersburg in 1826, and is marked "strictly private." The translation reads as follows:

"We are sending you ten tablets representing the Russian coat of arms, secured by parcel, which package you are to open privately. Next summer you are to organize an expedition of several men under a navy officer so secretly that neither Russians nor Indians will see them start to cross the continent, talking with them these tablets and marching as far as possible in a southeasterly direction, without danger of being observed even by the natives. If possible, separately at considerable distances one from other in holes about an arctic or an arctic and a half deep, due north by south.

"These places of concealment must be marked on a map (astronomical) and so fully covered by describing that there should be no difficulty in finding them long afterwards in case a dispute on priority of occupation will arise between Russia and Canada.

"The same great caution must be observed in marching back to the new Arctic, and officers and men who took charge and officers and men who took part in the above transaction must be sent on board immediately and sent to Russia. Please see that this is done as directed."

Earl Grey has referred the documents to his ministers for consideration.

MANITOBA'S GRAIN CROP

Total is Estimated at 190,000,000 Bushels—Larger Than Any Former Harvest.
WINNIPEG, Sept. 13 (Special)—A total grain crop of 190,000,000 bushels, including: wheat, 80,000,000; barley, 18,000,000; oats, 87,500,000; and flax, 1,500,000, is the estimate the retiring president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, W. J. Bettington, gave for the west at the annual meeting of the exchange yesterday afternoon. As to its monetary value Mr. Bettington said the crop would do it.

It is stated that Wong Lung will be painted a bright orange color, in order to keep the peace.

WILL KNOW TOMORROW. Tonight, at midnight, on the top of the cupola on City Hall, those ancient sages, the mayor's committee, will meet to consult the oracle. The universal desire of the people to learn whether the mayor will contest the by-election or abandon the field has led the venerable seers to take counsel with the stars and utter a prophecy. It is said that the mayor himself, who has much faith in signs and portents, and is something of an amateur astrologer, will await with keen interest the result of the midnight consultation.

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

Hospital Trustees Will Probably Stand by Matron—Horsemen Gathering for Races.
FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 13.—(Special)—Captain A. B. Nagle, who is to have command of the Royal Regiment during the absence of Col. Chinn, arrived from Halifax this morning with Mrs. Nagle and family.

J. J. Brooks, Jr., of Pittsburg, and W. A. Stanton, of Philadelphia, are here to do a route to Little River on a hunting trip. Exhibitors are beginning to arrive and prospects are bright for a most successful fair.

Dr. Ellis and Prof. Young of the Dominion Geological survey were here yesterday and paid a visit to Currier's Mountain. They went to Ottawa last evening. The hospital trustees will hold another meeting this evening to further investigate the charges against the internal management of that institution. While there has been no decision in regard to the Springfield case, the trustees do not approve of the stand taken by the nurses, but are willing to allow them to withdraw their resignations. Notice to that effect has been served upon them and should they refuse, the resignations will be accepted. It is likely that the investigation will be wound up this evening.

Driver Fred Warren arrived here last night with a string of horses from the Springfield stable entered for next week's races. The list comprises Lady Bingen, Estelle Boy, Fleetfoot, Miss Cadmus, Regal Pandure, and Bonadion. Chase, Henry arrived from Chatham yesterday with Will Be Sure, Belmar and Dr. Farson. Frank Boutillier, Peter Carroll, Brian, Jackson and McCoy will arrive tomorrow night with their horses. Altogether fifty-five horses have been entered for the races.

Dr. J. B. Crocker, who was lately operated on at the Victoria Hospital for appendicitis is in a serious condition, but hope for his recovery is still held out. A handsome portrait of the late Governor Snowball arrived from Chatham this morning and is now placed in the assembly chambers of the parliament building.

Raffing operations at the Douglas hotel were completed on Saturday, but there are plenty of logs at the Mitchell boom to keep the men busy for a fortnight yet. Miss Kitchener continued eight candidates at Manservant Wednesday and sat at Oromocto the same day.

GENERAL BOOTH LEAVES LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Men and women wearing uniforms of the Salvation Army left London for New York this morning, a large party having assembled to bid farewell to General Booth, who left London for Liverpool where he will embark on the Alaska line steamer Virginia for Quebec in which city the veteran commander is to begin a campaign which will extend over Canada and the United States. The "seventy-eight year young" General as he describes himself, appeared to be quite as hearty as possible considering his age.

From the railroad car he handed the reporters a message as follows:—"God bless you good bye dear old England. I leave you where on what I believe is the Master's business. As I contemplate the future, I rely more than ever on the prayers for lessening the ruins caused by the inequalities and tyrannies of the world, namely, the regeneration of the world by the power of God."

LETTER FROM THE REV. E. C. JENKINS

St. John, N. B., September 12, 07. Rev. W. C. Gaynor, Spruce Lake, St. John Co., N. B. My Dear Sir: I greatly regret that I cannot address a few lines to you from my pulpit in Carleton Place as so many of you are to be of any injury to you. My address was dealing with civic morals, and I had heard certain rumors respecting some person in an ecclesiastical position, but did not know to whom they applied, and had never heard your name in connection with the same, and did not intend to make any reflection upon you, personally.

Since my statements have been so interpreted, and the public not knowing the heart of the thought, it would have been further enquiries as to the truth of the matter, but did not know to whom they applied, and had never heard your name in connection with the same, and did not intend to make any reflection upon you, personally.

POLICE COURT

Hudson has been reported by Patrolman Goline, for allowing six cows to run at large on Market Place and Rodney street, west side. The case came up in the police court this morning but was adjourned till Monday to obtain witnesses. William Ferguson was remanded on a charge of drunkenness. William Bradley was fined $4 or ten days also for drunkenness and Edward Kitchen was fined $8 or thirty days on a similar charge. It is not likely that any decision will be arrived at regarding the dredging of the Sand Point berths until next week, as Ald. McGoldrick and Holder, two members of the west side improvement committee are at present out of the city.

THE LUSITANIA MAKES A NEW RECORD

Queenstown to New York in 5 Days 1 Hr. 33 Minutes
NOT THE FASTEST
The Deutschland and Kaiser Wilhelm II. Both Made Better Average Speed per Hour on New York to Plymouth Course

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Lusitania crossed Sandy Hook Bar at 9:03 a. m., 20 minutes are allowed steamers to cover the distance from Sandy Hook Lightship to the Bar. This makes the Lusitania's time of arrival at the lightship 8:43 a. m. Her time from Daunt's Rock, off Queenstown to Sandy Hook Lightship is therefore 5 days, 1 hour, 33 minutes. This compares with the Lusitania's record of 5 days, 7 hours, 23 minutes for the same course. If the Lusitania actually passed Sandy Hook Lightship at 8:43 a. m., her average speed from Daunt's Rock, which is 2,780 miles in length was 2287 miles per hour. This compares with the Deutschland's record speed for the Cherbourg course of 23.15 nautical miles per hour, and with the Lusitania's record of 21.81 miles for the Queenstown course.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Sept. 13.—At 6:45 this morning the Lusitania was sighted by the marine observers at Fire Island, proceeding towards this port. She passed here at 6:55, according to advices received from there and was apparently holding back slightly to obtain the benefit of the rising tide, thereby avoiding any accident of grounding in the near-by shoals.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The steamer La Provence, from Havre, has apparently broken the record for the voyage from Havre to New York, held by the same steamship, by probably two hours. La Provence's previous best trip was made in 5 days, 3 hours and 24 minutes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—A new steamship record between a European port and New York was made by the Cunard line's new giant turbine ship, the Lusitania, which arrived here today. The Lusitania left Queenstown, the nearest trans-Atlantic port to New York at 12:10 p. m., Sunday, and arrived off the Sandy Hook Lightship at 8:43 a. m. (estimated) today, making the time for the trip 5 days, 1 hour and 33 minutes. This is five hours and 30 minutes better than the previous Queenstown-New York record of 5 days, 7 hours and 23 minutes held by the Lusitania of the same line.

While the Lusitania has made a new record for the time a passenger is actually on board ship, she has not beaten the average speed per hour record, as both the Kaiser Wilhelm II, which has made 23.35 knots per hour from New York to Plymouth, and the Deutschland, which arrived here today. SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Isobel Stormont, daughter of Sir David Stormont, a wealthy Scotch country gentleman, disappears without leaving the slightest trace. She was a quiet, retiring girl with only one distinguishing feature—beautiful Titian hair, which had been a mark of the Stormont family for generations.

Guided by a gypsy, he finds Isobel, almost dead, in an abandoned dwelling. Her clothes had been changed, and when she recovers she seems to be another girl. All memory of her experiences has been wiped out by the privations she has undergone, and she begins a new life. Her character is quite changed, and she completely forgets Isobel, whose affection for her hereafter has been more of the cousinly kind.

In one of the pockets of her gown Isobel found an old Testament, which Sir David appropriated, and he seems unexplainably perturbed over her return.

Various stories of the girl's experience are circulated, and attract the attention of Evelyn Ashe, a fortune hunter, who meets her at a charity fete given at her home. Meanwhile Sir David extracts a promise from Basil that he will not renew his engagement until Christmas, which is four months away.

He skilfully arouses the girl's curiosity while she is yet nervous and mentally struggling over the disappearance of her portrait from its place on the wall. She searches her father's desk and finds the Testament. What she discovers written on the flyleaf throws her into a faint and another spell of illness.

For the benefit of her health and of Sir David's the Stormonts go abroad. Ashe follows, and in Switzerland overhauls her remarking upon the wonderful resemblance of Isobel to a runaway girl who had been in their care. He vainly attempts to force her to engage herself to him, and just after a painful interview she attempts suicide, and is rescued by Corby.

Having failed to coerce Isobel into a promise, Ashe attempts to extort money from Sir David by threatening to expose what he has learned of her past. Then Sir David writes a letter to his wife explaining the mystery.

CHAPTER XXVIII (Continued). "I needn't tell you the story of that autumn. Our hearts seemed to flow together like two mountain streams. For a time I lived only in her, the world beyond the glen did not exist, and at last I persuaded the old grandfather to marry us. I see the dark, heavy masses peering yet, the old head and the old house-keeper, the only witnesses. The old minister had lived for years as withdrawn from the world as any monk in his cloister, and his love on life was fast eluding him. He accepted my story, my reasons for a private marriage, without any demur, though then I had not the slightest intention of concealment—only till I could prepare the way to bring my bride home."

"Then came the telegram telling me of my mother's sudden illness. I came back to the old life, the old expectations, the old surroundings. I saw how my mother clung to you, Marian; that you were like a daughter to her. I realized now what the news of my marriage would mean to her. I could not bear to break her heart upon her deathbed, to disappoint her last earthly desire. In my weakness I let matters drift on. She lingered long, as you well remember, and while she lingered I delayed."

"In the short December days my wife's grandfather died, and I took Elsie from the lonely manse—the silent glen—to Edinburgh. Poor child, it was a sort of change for her, but I feared the gossip of a country place. She was infinitely more lonely than in Strathchuch, and her pride was sorely chafed because I asked her for a time to assume another name. Was I ashamed of her? was the burden of our interviews, our letters, after that."

"I needn't weary you with the story of that winter the story of a man and a woman, a child, rather waking from the hot dream of young passion, and seeing each other with unguarded eyes; and the further poor Elsie and I drew apart, the nearer, Marian, I drew again to you. I have no defence for the double wrong I was doing; as day by day the old, life-long love reasserted its power. My eyes were opened, and I saw all that, in my rashness I had forfeited. My visits to Elsie grew fewer and fewer. I had always plenty of reasons—my poor mother craved my company, my father was delegating more and more to me—but the excuse which seemed so cogent at Stormont did not always seem so strong in that little suburban house."

"At last I got a letter from Elsie—not the first—beseeching me desperately to come at once—at once. It was the night my poor mother died, my father was distracted—you remember—I could not go, so it seemed to me. I wired the news—I wrote begging her to be patient, to be reasonable, only a little longer, though at the bottom of my heart, I knew it would be a bitter day for me when I must bring her to Stormont, and God knows how surely have moved any man, so she wrote—she knew that she no longer had a place in my heart any more than in my life. She would leave me free. I was not likely she would survive the birth of her child—the child for which I had not one word of welcome. Her life was unbearable. I learned too late that some ruffian had been thrusting himself on her, and I was away. She kept her word; she vanished out of my life. In spite of every effort, I never found any real traces of her till—but you will hear."

"From that day remorse has clung to me like my shadow. Why didn't I throw myself on your generosity, Marian? There were whispers, hints—I was not treating you well. Do you think I did not know what your divine patience was bearing for me?"

"Enough—I let you think me a true and honest, if somewhat slack, wooer, and as time went on and the past receded, you gave me happiness which I never dreamed could have been mine. Then the blow fell."

"When our child was given back to us, I thought my Judge had relented, and there—oh, my poor wife, my dear, my hand—and a damned soul may, I recognized the justice of it—which plunged me in the depths. That Testament you gave me that night proved that the Elsie whose death I had been accused of, could not have been my poor distracted young wife, as it proved that the girl whom we welcomed as our lost darling must be her child and mine—the child who I believed had then perished unborn twenty years ago. She had lived to be brought up as a nameless foundling on the bitter bread of charity, Marian, since then my life has been hell. I have been walking in the fire that I had kindled, but the deepest dread has been that, unwittingly, I had done you the utmost wrong, and my poor Isobel, for that is her name as well as your darling's, knew no more than I did whether her mother was alive or dead, or what amazing series of coincidences brought her to our door. But again, having once accepted her, I let things drift as with every day the hope of finding our lost one grew fainter; but you will understand many things now, and how I could not let the marriage go on without some protest."

"And now I am coming to what is hardest of all to tell, what you will find more difficult to forgive than my sins against yourself, what should have been whispered to you as we sat hand in hand together; but I must tell it as I can. You remember that September storm and a 'business visit' I paid to Edleston on the day of the reopening of the Murray school. My visit was not to Edleston, but to Finary, a fishing village some miles beyond it. I got a curious, ill-pressed, ill-written letter asking me to go there on a matter of importance; once I would have tossed it in the fire, but now I went. The cottage I was directed to was a lonely one, far out between the sands and the that fields. Its owner, the writer of the letter, told me—but, my God, how am I to tell you?—and the writing, clear and steady till now, became so blurred and uneven, that the dilated eyes of the woman breathlessly reading could hardly decipher it."

TO ORGANIZE THE BUILDING TRADES

Secretary of Trades and Labor Congress Will Come to St. John for This Purpose. Gloucester, N. S., Sept. 12.—At a meeting of the Canadian Trade and Labor Congress today the report of the executive committee was presented. It concluded by stating that while the executive have found the spirit of national Canadian unionism spreading, they regret to say they have felt the great need of organizers to gather the harvest, and sincerely trust the present convention will try to find ways and means to gather the harvest of Canadian labor unions for Canadian workmen.

BISHOP OF LONDON IN CANADA'S CAPITAL

He Had Busy Day Yesterday—Made Four Addresses and Played Golf. Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The Bishop of London exemplified his gospel of work by making four addresses in Ottawa today, by officiating at an early morning communion service and by visiting the experimental farm and the school of the Sisters of the church. He also managed to get in a couple of hours on the links of the Ottawa golf club. His addresses given at breakfast in his honor and attended by the clergy of the Ottawa diocese, to the children at the church school, at the luncheon of the Canadian Club, in the Russell House and at a mass meeting attended by 5,000 people in Howick Hall tonight were all apt and straightforward talks typical of the character, aims and work of the world famous "Poor man's Bishop."

A meeting of the executive of the N. B. and P. E. Island Sunday School Association was held last night to make further arrangements for the county convention, which will be held in Queen square church next week. A very fine programme is being prepared. Among the speakers will be Rev. J. B. Ganong, the field secretary who will give a report of the world's Sunday school convention in Rome.

OPPOSITION CANDIDATES

Kent County Convention Yesterday Selected Three for the Provincial House.

Reston, N. B., Sept. 12.—The opposition convention today was attended by representative delegates from every part of Kent county. William J. Broot occupied the chair, and F. X. Robidoux was secretary, and after short addresses by J. D. Hazen and Donald Morrison, M. P. P., both of whom were very heartily received, the delegates presented their credentials and business was proceeded with.

The nominating committee retired and, after deliberation, announced through their chairman, Richard O'Leary, that Dr. D. V. Landry, of Beauséjour, Dr. T. J. Bourque, of Richibucto, and Lieut.-Colonel Sheridan, county councillor, of Wellington, were their unanimous choice.

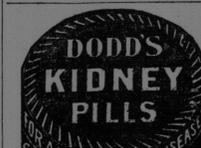

The announcement was well received, and the general impression is that Mr. Hazen has secured a very strong list, as all the gentlemen nominated are men of character and standing, and well known and popular citizens of the county.

The public meeting in the evening was one of the best ever held in the county. The hall was crowded to the doors. Many ladies were present, and a choice selection of music was rendered by the St. Louis band. Councillor George Jardine, of Carleton, presided, and speeches were made by the candidates, Mr. Morrison and the opposition leader. Mr. Hazen's reception was an extremely cordial one, and throughout his address, in which he dealt with the weakness of the administration, Mr. Robinson's efforts in filling his government and in getting candidates in many counties, and his blind reliance upon Dr. Puley for support, in addition to the many improper acts of the government, he was frequently interrupted by applause. His reference to the opposition chances were of a most hopeful character, calculated to inspire his hearers with confidence in the result of the general elections. He predicted that the opposition would carry at least thirty seats.

Mr. Morrison, who dealt largely with financial questions, made a very acceptable address, and will be a welcome visitor at any time in the future. The candidates spoke briefly, but well. The meeting closed with cheers for the speakers.

On the invitation of John H. Tonge a number of his friends enjoyed a pleasant evening yesterday afternoon at View End Gardens. Games were indulged in and beautiful prizes were given. Miss Lucy Tonge sang Little No Count Coon and had to respond to an enthusiastic encore, when she gave Absence. Mr. Tonge also sang several songs. Miss Tonge will leave soon to fill an engagement with the W. H. Savage Co. with which she is under contract for a term of years. Speeches were made during the gathering by Joseph Nobles, Samuel Drury, E. J. Logan, John Johnson and A. McGowan.

By actual inspection of a big fat load's stomach it was found to contain not less than 50 large grapevine worms, 55 potato bugs, 60 sowbugs, 40 angiotworms and 30 cabbage worms, with, by way of seasoning, numerous flies and moquitoes.

Dr. Liebig, the famous German Chemist, says that beer is "liquid bread." By this he means that beer is a food—full of life-giving, health-sustaining qualities. The value of beer as a food is becoming well known, and it is now used by many who have hitherto looked upon it as a beverage only.

Pabst Blue Ribbon The Beer of Quality

is the most nourishing of all beers—because it contains every particle of the healthful, wholesome nutriment of the malt and all the tonic properties of the hops from which it is made. The Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process follows nature by slowly transforming the substance of the barley into pure, nutritious food. The quality of the materials used and the Pabst method of brewing make Pabst Blue Ribbon not only a pure beer, but a healthful, tissue-building, muscle-building, life-giving, "liquid bread." Drink Pabst Blue Ribbon, and you put health and strength into your system.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon. Made by Pabst at Milwaukee And bottled only at the Brewery. Richard Sullivan & Co., 44-46 Dock St., St. John, Phone Main 839.

WHERE DOES THE PAPER GO?

The first question asked by a general advertiser. The Telegraph and Times reach that class of people who subscribe and agree to pay for the reading privilege. These papers go first hand from the publishers by carrier and not through street boys to be left in office or store by purchaser after reading. Common sense teaches that every paper passed into homes direct will be read. The Telegraph and Times are home papers. Do they contain your advertisement?

HE WAS ABSENT MINDED

(Chatham World) The Chatham gentleman who takes up the collection at the 8 o'clock mass is noted for spells of absent-mindedness when he is not engaged in conversation or attending to business. He is a very devout man, and usually attends more than one service on Sunday. One Sunday morning recently he got to church in time for the 7 o'clock mass, with the intention of remaining for the 8 o'clock service also. The man who manages the financial matters at 7 o'clock makes his round early in the service, while our absent minded friend does not start out till after the communion. The collection was duly taken up on this occasion, and at the communion stage of the service our absent minded friend went forward, grasped the box, and proceeded to pass it around, but was astonished to find that he didn't get a coin. After he had visited a few pews one of the worshippers said to him in a whisper that was audible to half the congregation, "Halls be around." The collector suddenly realized that he was a little too previous, and sat down. The devoutest worshipper had to smile.

MR. AYLESWORTH'S BLUNDER

It does not seem to be too much to say that Hon. Mr. Aylesworth has developed into one of the most violent partisans in Canada. The extraordinary speech delivered at Dundas might be expected from an irresponsible and abusive partisan, but not from the minister of justice. On another page the Times quotes Mr. Aylesworth's remarks, Mr. Borden's reply, and some pertinent comments. The statement of the Toronto World that the minister, if he knows whereof he speaks, should not be content merely to speak about it, is right to the point. If he does not know, he descends to the level of a retailer of scandalous rumors. Mr. Aylesworth has weakened the government case by the violence of his attack upon Mr. Borden, whose personal integrity needs no defender, whatever may be said of his platform or his party. It may safely be asserted that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would not lower the tone of public discussion as his colleague has done. Intemperate and misguided zeal has got the better of Mr. Aylesworth's judgment, and has lowered him in public estimation.

BRITISH CAPITAL

Speaking in Vancouver last week the representative of the British Empire Trust Co., which is said to have invested ten million dollars in Canadian enterprises in Canada and South America made an interesting statement relative to the changed attitude of British capitalists toward Canadian investments. We quote from the Vancouver World: "Possibly the most important statement made was that a great change had come over the British investor's view of Canadian securities in the past few years and that thousands who would not touch investments controlled in the United States were ready and willing to put their money into Canadian enterprises, either in or out of Canada. Mr. Davidson gave a reason for this which is both interesting and instructive. He stated to The World representative that while a few years ago all Canadian securities were quoted from New York as an adjunct of the American list, today Montreal and Toronto were quoted as a separate Canadian center. As a large number of British and other European investors have no confidence in the methods pursued by United States manipulators of capital, the former system prevented the flow of considerable sums of money into Canada that would otherwise have come here, and the separation of the securities of the two countries in the European public mind had consequently a most beneficial effect for this country. It is worthy of note that while this representative of British capital "visited all points of importance from Quebec to Vancouver, to observe opportunities for the investment of British and European capital," he does not appear to have discovered the maritime provinces. These provinces should make an independent effort to get in touch with the capitalists of Great Britain and the continent.

A farmer writes to the Sun in praise of Mr. Clinch of St. John and Mr. Roosevelt of Washington, for their united and effective assault upon the nature fakirs. He adds his personal testimony by stating that a lot of deer, when discovered in his oak-field in the early morning, raced around the field several times and finally leaped over the fence, although they had entered at an open gate. Even a cow, he opines, would have more sense. Hence he applauds Mr. Clinch and Mr. Roosevelt for denouncing those nature writers who endow such animals as "fool deer" with reasoning powers. Messrs. Long, Roberts, et al., will kindly note the fact, and take to the woods.

OBITUARY

REV. PATRICK DOYLE. CHARLOTTETOWN, Sept. 12.—(Special)—Rev. Patrick Doyle, D. D., who died at Vernon River, yesterday, after an illness of some months was very widely known. He was 68 years of age. He was educated at St. Dunstan's College and Laval University and ordained in 1867. He served some time on the teaching staff of St. Dunstan's and was stationed at various times in succession at Hope River, Seven Mile Bay, Kelly's Cross and Summerside, remaining sixteen years in the latter place. In 1890 he removed to Vernon River, of which parish he remained in charge until his death.

MRS. W. H. SECORD.

The numerous friends of Mrs. W. H. Secord, of Red Head, will learn with regret of her death, which occurred at her home last night after an illness of ten days' duration which she had been suffering from a gripe and congestion of the lungs. She was 44 years of age, and is survived by, besides her husband, three sons, Roy, Donald and Leo, living at home, and three sisters, Mrs. James Osborne and Mrs. John McIvane, of Red Head, and Miss Sarah Bean, at home. Deceased was a very estimable woman, and her bereaved husband and relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

war medals, presumably rewards of service in Chinese and Russian campaigns. It seems subversive of law and order, and all that sort of thing to say so, but it might not be a bad idea to swear a few score of them in as special constables in Vancouver the next time a gang of blackguards from across the United States border breaks loose in that town."

The provincial opposition has put up a strong ticket in Kent county. It is stated that strong men will also be in the field in Queens and Kings. The provincial contest, whenever it occurs, will be the hottest for many years, as the opposition has not for many years been in as good fighting trim or the government as vulnerable to vigorous attack.

Building Inspector Northcott of Victoria, B. C., estimates that new buildings erected within the city limits this year will exceed a million dollars in value. Last year the aggregate was $600,000. Among this year's structures are the C. P. R. hotel, $250,000, and St. Joseph's Hospital, $125,000.

The Grand Trunk appeal against the decision of the railway commission that the company must run third-class cars at two cents a mile fare between Montreal and Toronto has been put down for hearing at the coming session of the supreme court.

The farmer's side of the milk question is set forth in today's Times, and is presented in a very clear and interesting manner. Between the producers and the dealers the consumer is as one without hope.

The Lusitania has not done as well on her first voyage as was anticipated from the reports of yesterday, but she has made a splendid record under conditions not the most favorable.

Fredrickton exhibition will be opened tomorrow evening. Many St. John people will visit this fair, and all will wish it abundant success.

The statement that a man sorely in need of medical care was turned away from the hospital last night is not creditable to that institution.

POLITICAL NOTES

MR. BORDEN AT CHATHAM.

The Toronto World speaks thus of Mr. Borden's Chatham, Ont., speech: "In denouncing electoral corruption, Mr. Borden rose to unexpected eloquence in denouncing methods employed at Halifax to encompass his defeat and in referring to Hon. Mr. Fielding's cynical prophecy on the eve of that election. He quoted with approval Mr. Gladstone's famous saying that no argument could be advanced for government operation of the postal system which would not apply to the public administration of any other great utility. He foreshadowed a future national railway from sea to sea to be operated by the government. He was very happy in describing Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Diogenes compelled to take his lantern and search for an honest and capable minister elsewhere than on Parliament Hill."

A DOUBLE WEDDING

TRURO, Sept. 12.—A double wedding which for some time has been anticipated with interest, was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal church here on Wednesday evening by Venerable Archdeacon Kaulbach, assisted by the curate, Rev. Mr. Warner. In the presence of a large number of guests, many having come from distant parts of Canada and the United States. The contracting parties were Miss Helen Marie Bigelow, who married Rev. Wm. J. Cox, an Anglican clergyman, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Sara Hermione Bigelow, who was wedded to Frederick L. Schwartz, accountant of the I. C. R. at Moncton. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Bigelow, of Truro. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Cox left on No. 9 train for their future home in Washington and Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz, on the same train en route to the Pacific Coast for a month's honeymoon. Hundreds of people gathered at the station to wish the happy couple farewell.

IN A FRIENDLY SORI O' WAY

When a man ain't got a cent, and he's feeling kind o' blue, An' the clouds hang dark an' heavy, an' won't let the sunshine through, It's a great thing, oh, my brethren, for a fellower just to lay His hand upon your shoulder in a friendly sort o' way! It makes a man feel curious; it makes the "hardtops" start; An' you sort o' feel a flutter in the region of the heart; You look up and meet his eyes; you don't know what to say; When his hand is on your shoulder in a friendly sort o' way! Oh, the world's a curious compound, with its honey and its gall, With its care and bitter crosses, but a good word, or a kind word, is worth a pound of gold; An' a good God must have made it—leastways, that is what I say, When a hand is on my shoulder in a friendly sort o' way! James Whitcomb Riley.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

NO COMFORT AT ALL. "Cheer up; there is a silver lining to every cloud!" "Well, what good is that? I haven't got an airship." WAS EXCUSED. "Freddy, you shouldn't laugh out loud in the school-room," exclaimed the teacher. "I didn't mean to do it," apologized Freddy. "I was smiling, when all of a sudden the smile burst."

AT THE THEATRE.

It was at a theatre in Manchester. The King, aged and infirm, was blessed with two sons. He was pacing up and down the stage with a worried, troubled look, exclaiming aloud: "On which of these my sons shall I bestow the crown?" Immediately came a voice from the gallery: "Why not 'arf a crown apiece, guv'nor?"

FOR THE SEASON.

Farmer Meddergrass (reading paper)—"The Vaudeville must be a great show town." Mrs. Meddergrass—"Why so, pa?" "Why I see here where another one of our greatest actors has made arrangements 't' stay right thar for a hull season."

WHAT HE HAD TO SAY.

"Well, George, do you know it is one o'clock. What have you to say for yourself?" "I did have s-s-something to say, my dear, b-but you've gone an' scared it out of m-my head. Oh, I remember it now!" "Well, what is it?" "Good night."

AN UNJUST CHARGE.

(Washington Post.) The failure of the phraseology of the law to convey the baked idea to the mind of the layman is illustrated by the following anecdote by Justice Brewer: "You are charged," said the court, reading the formal complaint, "with having willfully, feloniously, and with malice aforethought appropriated to your own use and behoof a certain article, to wit, a vehicle, said vehicle having been wrongfully and feloniously abstracted by you from the premises of one John Doe on or about the 14th day of August, Anno Domini 1907, contrary to the statute in such cases made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the people of the state of Illinois. What say you! Are you guilty or not guilty?" "I'm not guilty, judge," protested the prisoner. "All I done was to steal a buggy."

THE INTERCOLONIAL

(Montreal Witness.) Mr. Graham, the new minister of railways and Canals, in the address that he made at Brockville, showed that he is rightly seized of what the people of Canada expect of him—he promises to run the Intercolonial Railway absolutely independent of political influence, and to make it pay. After years of use as an auxiliary to the political machines of both parties, this, as he says, will not be easy to do, but he promises that it will be done. As, however, it is impossible for a politician to free himself or his department from the influence of politics, Mr. Graham, we presume, proposes to administer the railway by the aid of a commission, possessing "accumen and sagacity," and independence. Neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier nor Mr. Borden believes in the departmental management of public utilities. As the Witness said the other day, however, no man living ever had a better opportunity of showing what can be done in the public ownership and management of such an enterprise as a great railway system, and it is pleasant to be assured that Mr. Graham has determined to rise to his opportunity.

(Toronto World.)

But Mr. Graham will find his hands tied. He will find the credit of the country already strained in building another line between Moncton and Quebec. He will find the public, aware to any large expenditure by the present government; he will find colleagues and members on both sides of the house only too glad to have public ownership discontinued by a feeble administration of the I. C. R. The same influences will chill any ambition upon his part to incorporate government telegraph and telephone lines with the railway. He will find it easier to let the I. C. R. bump along, content to save a dollar here and there, if he can, to enable his accountants to figure out a "surplus" for the budget speech.

REMARKABLE ENTHUSIASM

Owen Sound Aroused Over Mr. Borden and His Tour—Some Splendid Meetings.

(Toronto News, Independent.)

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 10.—This has been campaigning. The Chatham meeting was educative; here in Owen Sound the Conservative party got up, a year before election day, the crowd and the fervor of a campaign rally. An elaborate reception—decorated streets—a quarter of the population clocked-in in a big rink—cheers and campaign songs—there is the synopsis of the day. Suffice this abstract of facts with an air of rampant good humor, of high spirits, and you have the special characteristic of the affair.

TRIBUTE TO MR. BORDEN.

Unquestionably it was a remarkable demonstration of interest in and liking for Mr. Borden. Perhaps the interest was rather in the chief than in the promulgation of the Halifax platform. The platform was approved and cheered; it was blessed in the address of welcome; it plainly is popular; but it further is the fact that the representative record was ready and vivacious, and that hammering of this sort evidently gave pleasure. Rising to the encouragement, Mr. Borden showed a gain in aggressiveness, and his speeches contained some very vigorous language. He is increasing in spirit and power as a campaigner; the writer of this correspondence heard him in Toronto in 1904, and must pronounce him a far more effective platform speaker than he showed himself on that occasion. In the afternoon—there were two meetings—he spoke under considerable disadvantages; the train did not arrive until two o'clock, he had had no midday meal, and was not whisked off in a procession, led to the rink, and obliged to make a speech. It was cruel, but the audience, largely composed of farmers of a very good type, was exceptionally valuable, and was worth the discomfort.

MANY ASIATICS ARE REPORTED ON THE WAY

Steamer Monteagle Said Bringing Two Thousand Chinese and Hindus.

(Victoria Colonist.)

The steamer Monteagle, which left Yokohama five days late on Aug. 29, is reported by a press despatch from Yokohama to have on board one of the largest complements of Chinese and Hindus brought across the Pacific in years. The despatch says: "A fresh outbreak of anti-Asiatic agitation in British Columbia is expected on the arrival of the Canadian Pacific steamer Monteagle, now en route across the Pacific carrying 2,000 Chinese, 100 Chinese and a few Japanese." Local officials of the C. P. R. state they have not been advised of any such number of steerage passengers on the Monteagle, and disbelieve the press despatch. They state that probably a mistake has been made in the cable with regard to the number. The local officer's advice is that eighteen Chinese are to be landed here from the steamer.

The Yokohama despatch after stating that over 2,000 Asiatics are on board the Monteagle, says: "The ship's officers, before sailing, expressed the opinion that they would not be permitted to land these Asiatics, in view of the present temper of the Britishers on the coast, but they declared it was impossible to refuse them passage, and there is no law compelling ship owners to bear the expense of deportation."

The bitterness of the anti-Asiatic feeling in Vancouver, Winnipeg and other points in British possessions, a new act restricting the admission of the Japanese press and overshadowing the San Francisco situation."

MR. AYLESWORTH'S CHARGE AND MR. BORDEN'S REPLY

At Dundas, Ont., on Tuesday, Hon. Mr. Aylesworth made a most violent personal attack on Mr. R. L. Borden. We quote:—"Quoting Mr. Borden's speech at Chatham on Monday last, in which he said that within one week of nomination day in 1904 his (Borden's) constituency was debauched by shameless bribery, etc., and the seat to which he was honestly elected had been stolen from him, Mr. Aylesworth characterized this as gross effrontery, as was also Mr. Borden's plea that the election petition presented against him was being delayed for political reasons. Mr. Borden knew this was not true, as the last postponement was made by mutual consent. Mr. Aylesworth declared that if that election petition ever came on for trial, and the evidence was given in court, that had been told him, Mr. Borden would be disqualified from holding office, and be banished from the house of commons for at least eight years. His agents were guilty of bribery, intimidation and other unfair practices which were being indulged in to secure Mr. Borden's election, and with his knowledge, if not with his consent. Mr. Borden was stumping the country and declaring that he would be called upon to form the next ministry. No doubt he would appoint himself as first minister, but who would he have in his cabinet? Would he have Geo. Foster as finance minister? Would Mr. Fowler or Mr. Rufus Pope receive portfolios? The people of the country were entitled to know with whom he would surround himself so that they might make a fair comparison of the merits of the respective parties."

A BIG SHORTAGE IN PEACH CROP

Prices are Very High—Grapes are Abundant in Ontario—Plums Scarce.

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Sept. 12.—The decided shortage in the peach crop this season is becoming more apparent every day. So far scarcely any peaches at all have made their appearance in the market, and that means that very few have as yet been shipped. Though the peach crop takes a whole, will be only about one-quarter the size of the year sprangled throughout the Niagara fruit belt are peach orchards which never had such a plentiful crop, the trees being loaded with the fruit. The rocky owners of these orchards are making hay while the sun shines, shipping away their peaches, for which they are getting as high as $2.50 a basket in Toronto and Montreal, it is said. What causes the abundant yield of peaches in spots throughout the district is puzzling the fruit growers, for they all spray their trees religiously.

"People may as well prepare themselves to pay about double the usual price for the peaches they preserve this year, for that is what the canning factory people are doing," said a man who knows the day to your correspondent. "The canners are offering 5c. a pound for peaches, while last year and hitherto they have got them for 2c. and 2 1/2c. a pound. It would be worth it to do that, you'll have to put down grapes or tomatoes instead. The grape crop will beat anything ever seen around here, provided the weather continues so early. That is all the grape men fear this year."

Most of the dealers of this city are still filled up with their stocks of glass bottles, whereas in former years about this time there has usually been a bottle famine. "There's no fruit to put in the bottles, so people don't need to buy any bottles," said a dealer.

There was quite a quantity of plums on the local market Saturday, but the fruit farmers said they were scarce. The prices indicated that, 60c. a basket being readily paid compared with 25c. and 30c. a year ago.

PROPOSED ONTARIO LICENSE SYSTEM

(Ottawa Journal.)

J. R. L. Starr, the commissioner appointed by the Ontario government to investigate the administration of the liquor license laws in Toronto, has made an exhaustive and valuable report. He goes into the evidence to show that the license system has been too closely associated with politics in the past, and declares that under the present system of granting licenses the consequences could not have been other than they have been found to be. He does not recommend the removal of license holders from politics would in any way affect the inherent evils of the liquor traffic, but he expresses the opinion that the law could be more efficiently enforced under an outside body. No government, he says, under a system of independent government, "would be able to avail itself of its hold on the license-holders to secure their subscriptions or support for political purposes. An independent board, moreover, would be able to introduce many reforms in connection with the liquor traffic. For these and other reasons Mr. Starr recommends the appointment of "an independent salaried board of three members to be appointed with large powers to administer the license laws in and throughout the province of Ontario."

For this purpose he would have the province divided into districts, with a board of three for each.

The separation of politics from the administration of the license system would be obviously a matter of the highest moment to the community. It would shake the party leaders' clutch upon the saloon-keeper's throat. It would deliver the saloon-keeper from the temptation to subscribe to the underground funds of the party in power. It would relieve that party of the odium of much of the dirty work that is done in the name of politics. Mr. Starr's recommendations are of the very highest value, too, because there is ground for confidence that the government at the earliest convenient moment will give effect to them in legislation.

According to the estimates made by City Engineer Peters the amount of dredging necessary at the Sand Point basin is about 10,000 cubic yards. The difference is said to arise from the C. P. R. engineer having figured on 120 feet of water, instead of eighty feet. This would reduce the cost, it is thought to about $25,000.

The members of the First Swedish Baptist church, Worcester, who held a business meeting in the Lincoln Baptist church one night recently, broke all records for raising money in a short time, when in 11 minutes $3357 had been subscribed.

SOME BITING COMMENT

(Lex in Toronto News)

Permit me to thank you for again calling Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's attention to what you euphemistically term that gentleman's "enthusiasm." The article was timely, and, although you contrived, as usual, to state a few embarrassing facts, there was really no necessity to hand the minister a stung stick at the end of what should have been very instructive suggestions. It may appear self-evident to many hard-headed people who think the minister of justice would be better employed in revising the criminal code, than telling Ontario people how it all happened, and ascertaining that the citizens of this fair province are ever-ready to make the punishment fit the crime, than telling Ontario people how it all happened, and ascertaining that the citizens of this fair province are ever-ready to make the punishment fit the crime, than telling Ontario people how it all happened, and ascertaining that the citizens of this fair province are ever-ready to make the punishment fit the crime.

RAILWAY NATIONALIZATION

Just now the British Board of Trade is engaged in publishing a series of reports on railway nationalization as it exists within the empire and foreign lands. The first of these to appear relates to railways in British protectorates, leased territories and colonies not possessing responsible government.

Commenting on the first report The London Daily News observes that the results achieved by the Ceylon state railways are remarkable, and quotes the following statistics:

"The results achieved by the Ceylon state railways are remarkable. The government of Ceylon has constructed between 1862 and 1905, 562 miles of railway, at a capital cost of 21,000,000 rupees. In 1905, the last year for which figures are available, the gross receipts were 9,600,000 rupees, and the working expenses, including interest on capital and providing for a sinking fund to extinguish debt, was a balance of 4,480,000 rupees. After paying interest on capital and providing for a sinking fund to extinguish debt, there was a balance of 5,200,000 rupees available in relief of taxation. Taking the whole period 1862-1905, as much as 28,000,000 rupees have been applied in relief of taxation, after providing 32,172,000 rupees for interest and 12,613,000 rupees for sinking fund. Under private ownership these handsome sums would have gone into shareholders' pockets, and at the present moment the railways of Ceylon would be burdened by a much bigger capital charge, for new construction would not have been out of profit."

MR. BORDEN'S REPLY

Mr. Aylesworth is reported to have indulged in certain characteristic statements respecting myself at Dundas yesterday, which were so grossly untrue, that I had to tell him that some one else could give evidence which would disqualify me for eight years from holding a seat in parliament. It was not until I had been told that I was a minister of justice so reckless and irresponsible. We indict him and his agents for the same crime, and we have on public records and sworn testimony. Let him bring on his pretended evidence and he will find me ready to meet him at any time he sees fit, and at any place. Unlike my opponents I have never feared to face a petition filed against me. I went at great inconvenience and without any compulsion to Halifax during the session of 1906, submitted myself for examination by petitioners counsel and avoiding the evil example set by the minister of finance, answered every question put to me. Later, I attended the trial and when counsel for the petitioner refused to proceed with it and raised the point that the court had no jurisdiction, I protested against any such decision, and demanded to have the evidence heard and the case disposed of. My latest instructions to my counsel were to proceed on August 21st last, were that no evidence affecting me upon that petition could be given unless it were prepared, and that I would return to Halifax whenever required in case any such evidence were submitted and given. During the campaign of 1904, I was in Halifax only three days, and Mr. Aylesworth's wild and irresponsible insinuations are absolutely devoid of the slightest foundation.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE

(Toronto World)

The World would gather from what Mr. Aylesworth said at Dundas on Tuesday, in reply to Mr. Borden, that the liberals intend to spring some charges against the conservatives which they think will be sufficient set off for the charges made against the liberals in the way of political corruption. Mr. Aylesworth is minister of justice, and he said he as much as knew of the real corruption on the part of Mr. Borden that would, if brought out in court, disqualify him from holding office and banish him from the house of commons. Now, that is a serious charge for the minister of justice to make on a public platform against a prominent political opponent. We do not see how the minister

THE FARMERS SIDE OF MILK PRICE QUESTION

An Interesting Analysis of the Statements Made by Dealers and Others.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir—In reading your valued paper of the 12th inst., I was struck by the numerous articles on the milk question, and I came to the conclusion that you would not be averse to making room for one more.

We are not directly interested in the milk question, but we are breeders of dairy cattle, and have a certain amount of product which we send to city in the shape of bottled cream, which we put up in glass and deliver sealed direct from our dairy to the city in tin, and, therefore are indirectly interested.

As the articles in your issue of the 12th are several, we would ask the liberty of referring to them as they appear. The one on the 1st page refers to the increase in the price of feed and to the fact that the increase was not as great as farmers claim.

Let us take the prices you quote, they can, we believe, be taken as from one in authority, as we also have had them quoted within a week. Take commensal, advanced, as you state, from $1.35 to $1.70 per bag, equal to 25 per cent advance.

Take middings advanced from $25.00 to $29.00, equal to 16 per cent.

Is not this sufficient to warrant an advance? Would any of your business readers like to pay 16 per cent and 25 per cent of advance on raw material and sell the finished article at the same price as when it was that much less?

The same article goes on to compare the result of a given amount of milk as compared to its being turned into butter. Space will hardly permit of going very fully into this subject, but we would just draw attention to the fact that while you show 100 lbs. of milk realizing 25c. more than its equivalent in cream or butter, you merely show the result of the sale of the butter without mentioning the by-product which goes with it in the form of the skim milk and buttermilk, which means a revenue from pork produced with it, which, in turn, means increased manure pile, which in turn means increased crops. We mention this because it is generally conceded that the dairy farmer who sells whole milk entirely, must, of necessity get a larger cash return than he who sells under the cream or butter system, as the whole milk system undoubtedly impoverishes the farm more than the system which retains the by-products at home and returns it to the land to multiply.

(Right here in the price comparison might be a good place to think of the washing of the cans, which we note one of your dealers puts at $400 per year for his trade alone, that is he puts it at that if he has to do it, but how much does the farmer get if he, the farmer, has to do it?)

We now turn to page 4 of your September 12 issue, which you refer to the supply being kept pure.

Herein you strike a vital point. We hesitate to state to write about it, though, because we know you cannot afford to spare as many columns as we feel the subject would require, so we will put a few questions which readers can answer for themselves, without necessarily taking up space in your paper.

Is the continuation of a low selling price likely to impede the producer to make a purer or better article, with an increase in the cost of raw material of 16 and 25 per cent, in even the two articles which you admit have advanced?

Is the inspection of cattle (as ordered by your Board of Health), and which every dairy farmer must have done once a year at a cost of from $2.50 to $5.00 per herd, and which inspection takes place at a time of the year when cattle are looking their best and which inspection we have known to occupy as much as a 20 minute walk by veterinary among the cattle in a pasture, we repeat "Is this inspection likely to make purer milk, when perhaps in three to four weeks after the "thorough" inspection for disease takes place the dairy farmer who has been granted a license to supply your city for twelve months, may not have "one half of the cattle that were passed on, in his herd," inasmuch as to keep up a steady flow for a milk supply, they have of necessity to trade, buy and sell a great deal to keep fresh cows coming along, as they cannot wait for a cow to freshen when her flow of milk begins to decrease.

One more question. Is the returning of cans in a dirty condition conducive to purer milk, when these cans contain stale and sour milk, which is often allowed to remain in them for days at a time, till it is fairly coated on the insides and when one pulls the cover off it comes with a bang from the explosion of poisonous gases which have generated from the filth and dirt?

We have also seen these cans arrive on the station platform on their return from the city, slobbered and bedaubed with molasses, vinegar, coal oil and various other grocers' sundries (though thanks to recent inspection inaugurated by your board of health these cases are fewer than formerly).

We now turn to page 7 of your valued journal, same issue and note the dealers are quoted as not wishing to impose on the people by raising the price of milk if they (the dealers) have to wash the cans, and right here we wish to inform your readers that up to the 1st day of September, 1907, with the single exception of some between October last year till March of this year, the farmers have not for a long time realized more than 3 1/8 cents per quart with 2 1/2 cents per quart for the four summer months, and had to wash their cans mind you, during which time the dealers received a uniform price for delivering and collecting of 5 cents per quart, wholesale, and 8 cents per quart for what was retailed. We ask in all fairness, have they no feeling at all for the imposition they were piling on the farmer in asking him to wash the cans for practically nothing when they were making as much on the face of the price as he was and now when for the sake of an attempt to secure purer milk they are compelled to wash the cans they feel confident about imposing on the consumer and talk of its being worth $400 to one dealer's trade alone.

And, now, if we are not "imposing" on you we will discuss the article on the last page of your issue under discussion, and which is copied from the Montreal Star and refers to the price which is being asked there of 10 cents a quart.

Space again forbids us going very deeply into this, but we would just draw attention to the fact that in all western cities the producers are receiving much higher prices for milk than our farmers, while their feed never costs within $4 to $5 per ton of what ours does, on account of freight alone. The last issue of the Canadian Dairyman of Sept. 4th, quotes that the Montreal and Toronto producers as intending to get 5 1/2 cents per quart. (This we presume is for freight and to the respective cities, while prices we have referred to as being paid here are quoted as f. o. b. the stations on the line and from which places the dealer has to pay an average of 1-4 cent per quart freight).

This last article also goes on to refer to the fact that an increase in the price of milk is no light thing to the poor, etc. So we all to the increase in the price of feed and we have seen the referred to two particular dairy feeds while every blessed thing we have to buy is in the same class.

On one other class of feed we are this week quoted an advance of 33 1/3 per cent and so on all the way down the line and it is no use our saying we are being imposed on. Our storemen just simply say: "If we want the goods that is what we must pay for them."

How are we to pay the high price if we continue to sell at low prices?

We do not wish to be put down as being opposed to the milk dealers, as we have had to bring them into this letter in order to show your readers the farmers' side of it somewhat, we know they have their own troubles and we realize that the farmers have to be partners with them in catering to the milk trade, and we believe they should meet together friendly and discuss the whole question with fairness, all, or else the board of health should grade the milk into three grades and issue licenses, subject to weekly inspection, accordingly so that there would be some incentive for a farmer to make good, decent, pure and wholesome milk, which we can assure you from our knowledge of the business is not the case at present, with a continued howl that dealers cannot pay more than they have been paying when all goods were lower.

If you see fit to publish this, sir, we feel sure it will be appreciated by many of your "country" imposed on friends, at least, and we can assure you so far as we personally are concerned you will never be bothered with so much matter again.

Yours respectfully, HAMPTON STOCK FARM CO. Hampton, N. B. Sept 12th.
