Israel Zangwill Changes Into Real Swell

MELTING POT TO BE PUBLISHED

Why the First Attempt to Start American Sunday Paper in London Failed—Request For "The Three Musty Tears"

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, Jan. 21.—Every now and then I run across Israel Zangwill either in the Strand or in the nearby publishing district, and whenever I do so I marvel at the change that has been wrought in this author in the last few years.

Zangwill, who prior to his marriage to the accomplished daughter of the late Professor Ayrton, was the very limit of bohemian carelessness in his dress, is now a veritable Beau Brummel. He is in town at present, and is busy with the publication of his play, "The Melting Pot," in book form and its production by a dramatic society. He was at the height of his glory in the past when he wrote the richest of satirical line overcoats, to which add trousers creased to perfection and be-spattered patent leathers. What a change from the Zangwill of a few years back. Of course it was just the regardlessness of appearances that goes with the literary temperament, but surely none but a woman could have wrought the miracle that has been wrought in the author of "Merely Mary Ann."

The Zangwill now lives at Far End, away in the heart of the beautiful Sussex country, but Zangwill still keeps up his old bachelor quarters at 8 Hare Court, in the classic Temple. I well remember the first time I called upon him there. It was one morning in the last days of October, when all London was wrapped in a phenomenally early fog of the "peasoup" variety. I was the bearer of a letter of introduction, but for a few moments, after a typically hedged London "slayer" had shown me into his study, Zangwill, who was busy at his desk, seemed to be wholly unconscious of my presence. Accordingly I had opportunity to take him in my detail, and told myself that never had I seen so ill-groomed a man of genius. An instant later, however, Zangwill had come out of his trance and greeted me courteously, after which his glance wandered to the window.

Compton Mackenzie, whose health broke down in the United States after the production of the dramatic version of his "Carnival" there, is now quite recovered. He is in Cape at present, and reputedly hard at work on the sequel to his last book, "Smiler Street."

A friend who knows Marie Corelli well imparts the important information that her favorite recreations are reading and music. She is passionately fond of flowers, too, it seems, and cut blossoms adorn most of her rooms. She also makes a hobby of collecting new old books.

Heart Project Fails

William Randolph Hearst's first attempt to found an American newspaper in London has failed, and his "London Budget" has gone unwell, unloved, and practically unused. Certainly there is room for a really "live" Sunday paper, for the bulk of those published are the cheapest kind of releases of the news of the week.

The "London Budget" failed because it was neither one thing nor another. Its news section was practically "re-hashed" (it was on sale Saturday morning), with a few signs of originality in the form of questions of the day, and the rest was "Sunday American" matter, which came over in matrices, and was published without any effort to edit it for British readers. "There was," says the "London Star," in an amusing but sensible article on the subject, "the good old astronomical scare article by Garrett P. Serviss, and a poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox." Also the Hearst colonial supplement which did not "catch on" here, although the "London Budget" gave away free copies to children in picture palaces in the hope that they would interest their parents in the paper.

"The London Budget," continues the "Star," "was further handicapped in that it could gain no additional popularity or circulation from existing political partisanship or national prejudices. In America, of course, its owner is frankly anti-English. Now, if the "Budget" took this line in London it would soon lose its English readers; if it took a pro-English line, Mr. Hearst's enemies (of whom he has his fair share) would have specially printed such passages side by side with the anti-English attacks of the Hearst American papers.

"The result was that the 'London Budget' was unable to take any side on anything, and its editorials were devoted to platonic topics like 'self-control,' 'observation,' and 'How to be Happy though sober.' The paper was, in fact, an exile, and it withered."

If Frank Frankfort Moore, who wrote "The Banns," should take up the challenge that has just been made to him, he may soon fill the dignified position of alderman on the Lewes town council. Mr. Moore, who lives in Lewes, recently made some criticisms of the town council in a local paper, as a result of which Alderman Holman, who has been mayor of the borough several times, has offered to resign his position on the council and pay his fine if the novelist will consent to come forward as a candidate.

An ex-librarian who writes in the "London Globe" declares that he once was asked for the "Three Musty Tears" by somebody who really wanted Dumas' famous novel.

REV. H. E. THOMAS IN C. R. L. T. PULPIT CENSURES CENSORS

In Capleton Methodist church, last evening, Rev. H. E. Thomas, in the course of a sermon on "The Use and Abuse of God's Gifts," referred to the subject of moving pictures, and offered some criticism of the local board of censors. He paid a high tribute to the shown by the local managers of the St. John picture houses.

St. John, Mr. Thomas thought, was fortunate in having men in the business who had invited criticism from their patrons, and had shown that they were desires of making their houses free from objectionable features. Before a board of censors was appointed the managers of the local houses had censored the pictures, and films had been rearranged and in many cases discarded.

It was hoped that with the appointment of a board of censors a more rigid censorship would be given, but Mr. Thomas said that, from his experience, the board had largely failed of its purpose. By law all pictures shown must bear the name of the chairman of the board, but in more than one case, where complaint was made of a picture, the chairman, the preacher said, had confessed that he had never seen it. It was reasonable to suppose that if it was possible for the chairman of the board to see every picture, at least some arrangement could be made whereby the pictures of doubtful propriety might be passed upon by him personally. This was a serious matter, because the public believed itself safeguarded by the appointment of a board of censors and specially by the appointment of its chairman.

"It is a reasonable proposition to expect that this board would, in so far as possible, have thrown out all pictures founded upon infidelity in the marital relation, but this they have failed to do. There is very little change in the number of drinking scenes, and the youth are daily being taught that the heroic thing in life is to lift the glass. There may possibly be less scenes of shooting shown, and for this there is ground for satisfaction."

Mr. Thomas then made reference to certain pictures which he claimed, showed that either the censors or their eyes or lacked in moral vision. The modern dance had been protested against by every church authority in the land—100,000 Roman Catholic women in the United States had arrayed themselves against it. Bishops and archbishops had placed the ban upon it, and yet a board of censors in New Brunswick had placed their imprimatur upon it. Even though presented in as inoffensive a manner as it could be done, these facts should have determined the censors' action. Other pictures were referred to, which, it was said, were of low tone.

While recognizing that it is impossible to please everybody, and the board must have some difficulties to meet, yet there were general standards, said the preacher, which they should measure, and until this was done they failed of their duty, and the public should be informed of the fact.

"The Censor—You say you don't like the country and want to go to the city. Does he seem restive at home? Is he fit?"

Mrs. Tungtwist—Yes, he's awful restive. He ain't done nothin' but rest since he graduated from college.

Buty Salt That's Pure Windsor Table Salt

Consumption Takes Hundreds of People every day in the year and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine.

Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any drain which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and rebuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it. 15-106 Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont.

MISSING NURSE FOUND; MAN IS ARRESTED

Boston, Feb. 9.—Miss Ruth H. Gordon, a 19-year-old nurse at the New England Hospital for Women and Children, who disappeared from her parents' home in Dorchester, in June, 1913 has been located in a camp at Foxcroft, Me. Herbert E. Reed of Plymouth, Mass has been arrested by Sheriff C. W. Brown of Dover, Me., and will be called on to answer to a complaint of white slavery, which the United States authorities will bring against him.

Reed is said to have a wife and three children who are in very straitened circumstances as a result of his alleged desertion.

SAY FROCK COAT MUST GO

Washington, Feb. 7.—The International Association of Customs Cutters have issued a decree that the frock coat is out of fashion and must go.

The double breasted habitment of the undertaker, the country minister and the confidence man will be put in cheaters. Hereafter, according to the association, the ceremonial dress of the daylight hours will be the cutaway, or morning coat.

Incidentally, it is decreed that men appearing in evening dress without at least an inch-wide trouser braid, are really not quite proper.

It is also rumored that silk trousers will be de rigueur for the spring of 1914. Silk and wool mixed suitings will be another of the spring innovations.

How Brown Learned How.

There is a man who makes shoes for children—and sells them to stores all over Canada But he is only just learning how people buy.

It was this way: His wife—let us call her Mrs. Brown—phoned to him and asked him to buy some underwear for little Brown.

Picture Brown now among the throng of mothers at the "Children's Underwear" counter. He asks for Underwear for a child of six. He looks it over helplessly. What on earth does he know about Children's Underwear? For lack of anything better to say he asks: "Is this good quality?" The answer is short and quite conclusive: "It's Blank's"—naming a well-advertised line. That short word says everything. Brown pays his money and goes home, quite satisfied with his purchase.

Now what bothers Brown—a manufacturer of shoes, is this: How would it affect the purchase of a child's shoes if the salesman said "They're Brown's"?

Nobody knows Brown's shoes. Brown doesn't advertise. The name Brown signifies nothing when used in connection with children's shoes. The salesman must use all his persuasive wiles to induce people to buy them.

The point is—If the name Brown was as synonymous with Children's Shoes as "Blank's" is with Underwear, wouldn't Brown sell more shoes with less effort?

A Custom The World Over

Thousands of persons who know the advantage of pure, wholesome, easily digestible food have a dish of Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast.

A UNIVERSAL FOOD. Following Nature's Footsteps.

"I have a boy, two years old, in perfect health, who has been raised on Grape-Nuts and milk. This is an ideal food and evidently furnishes the elements necessary for a baby as well as for adults. We have used Grape-Nuts in large quantities and greatly to our advantage." One advantage about Grape-Nuts food is that it is partially pre-digested in the process of manufacture; that is, the starch contained in the wheat and barley is transformed into a form of sugar by the same method as this process is carried out in the human body. This is accomplished by the use of moisture and long exposure to moderate warmth, which grows the diastase in the grains and makes the remarkable change from starch to sugar.

Therefore, the most delicate stomach can handle Grape-Nuts and the food is quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue, certain parts of it going directly for building and nourishing the tissue cells of body, brain and nerves. Made at the pure food factories of the Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

"They have their factory in Montreal, but in order to keep in close touch with the requirements of their customers they conduct a retail department, and they do the largest exclusive men's furnishing business in America, which is some accomplishment. "This is the line for which I have been given the exclusive selling right for St. John. The president of the R. J. Tooke Company, who was unfortunately enough to be in the I. C. R. wreck at Aulac, gave me the exclusive franchise which he was in St. John. "I hope I make this clear," continued Mr. Condon, "as I do not want anyone to be misled by the dominating power of the R. J. Tooke shirts and collars in Montreal. Montreal laundrymen say that nearly 70 per cent of the shirts they iron are R. J. Tooke make."

RADIUM PATIENT DIED OF CANCER Baltimore, Feb. 7.—Robert Gunn Brenner, member of Congress from the 7th New Jersey District, and editor of the Passaic Daily Herald, is dead of cancer in a local sanitarium, where he had been undergoing radium treatment since last December. He had been suffering from the disease for years. Mr. Brenner was 89 years old. Mr. Brenner came to the sanitarium to try the radium, after physicians in this country and Europe had vainly endeavored to cure him. He had been made with all the odds against him. Mr. Brenner was optimistic, however, and the sanitarium's committee on legal affairs had applied to the growth. For a time the patient seemed to improve, but the light against the disease was not so bright as he had hoped. A few days ago, however, the sick man was seized with a sinking spell. From that time on, Mr. Brenner grew steadily weaker, although he, several times, rallied in a surprising manner, aided by his strong vitality and powerful will. In his last days of suffering Mr. Brenner insisted that he would get well. Mr. Brenner was a warm personal friend of President Wilson, who was kept constantly advised of his condition and who frequently sent him messages of sympathy and encouragement, accompanied by flowers. Mr. Brenner was a native of Scotland, whence his family emigrated to Canada, where he was a youth. In the rooms of the St. John Conservative Club on Saturday night a smoker was held at which B. L. Gerow gave an address on the proposed paying age for St. John. George Hooper, C. H. H. A. Job, O. S. Colwell and Mr. Carney took part in a musical programme.

GLEARS THE HEAD, OPENS THE NOSTRILS STOPS SNEEZING, CURES CATARRH You Get Instant Relief by Inhaling the Soothing Vapor "Catarrhazone" Catarrh is bound to come with this weather. Slight colds become more offensive and sickening every day. The inflammation extends further into the head. Soon the ears begin to buzz and ring. The head aches, the eyes pain dreadfully, the nose gets plugged up and this forces the patient to breathe through the mouth. Vile filthy secretions are forced back into the throat, requiring a great deal of coughing to keep the air passages free. Finally, this foul matter finds its way into the stomach, causing Dyspepsia and general ill-health. By this time the patient has SYSTEMATIC CATARRH, which saps strength, depletes the vital energies, will consumption is the unhappy result. There isn't the slightest use in trying to cure this condition with tablets, snuff or spray. Such treatments are wholly inadequate. You must employ Catarrhazone the only remedy that possesses power to kill the germs of Catarrh. The healing vapor of Catarrhazone is carried by the air you breathe to the most minute cells of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Its antiseptic medication goes everywhere that air can go. No case is too chronic, no person too old—everybody that has catarrh of any kind can be cured by this grand treatment which is endorsed by thousands of physicians throughout America, who say: "The only way to permanently get rid of Catarrh is to use Catarrhazone." TWO MONTHS' TREATMENT GUARANTEED TO CURE PRICE $1.00; small size 50c. trial size, 25c. Sold by dealers everywhere.

THE FIGHT IN YORK

The opposition to the candidate of the Tory machine in the provincial by-election in York county appears to be more formidable than the Frederick Gleason would have his readers believe.

THE PAVING LAW

Those who are opposed to the proposed paving law must be hard pressed to find some arguments in opposition, when they assert that it will place the burden upon the poor who can least afford it.

COMMUNITY WORK

In a recent address on the subject of Caring for the Youth, Mr. J. Prentiss Murphy, general secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Boston, made a strong plea for playgrounds and for the use of school buildings as social centres for community work.

did half a century ago, and that provision must be made for proper recreation for the young. Play that is misdirected is likely to be destructive, and public playgrounds, under proper supervision, therefore become a necessity.

Mr. Philippe Roy, general commissioner for Canada in Paris, writes to the Times of his desire to establish a Canadian library in Paris, which would be available to all who desire to learn about Canada and its literature.

The citizens will be much interested in the financial statement of the city of St. John as presented by the city chamberlain and the controller. It is shown that the financial position of the city is very strong, with assets exceeding the liabilities by more than two million dollars.

The British parliament will open tomorrow, and it is expected that the two parties will come to grips over the question of Home Rule very early in the session. There is no sign of weakening on the part of the government, further than that they are now, as they have been, quite willing to make concessions to Ulster so long as it is not proposed to exclude Ulster from the general plan of Home Rule.

The brotherhood movement is making progress among the churches in St. John, and the time is not far distant when the federation of such brotherhoods will be a very strong force behind movements for social and moral reform.

It is pretty generally understood that the suspension of the paving law in Montreal was due to the demand of the aldermen to be in a position to control patronage and favor their friends.

It may be noted that under the Montreal paving law which has been temporarily suspended, but which in some form will doubtless be put in effect again, the property owners are called upon to pay the whole cost of paving, even in streets of great width, instead of only half the cost as is proposed in St. John.

VETERAN DISCUSSES THE ORIGIN OF SOCCER
Query as to When Association Football Originated Calls Forth Interesting Discussion—Is Nearly 1,000 Years Old embury wave of his hand and solemnly announced that he had the floor. He harked back to the days of his youth, half a century or more ago, explaining that the game was flourishing, although in a state of chaos, at that time; then, puzzled for the moment, he called on the shade of his father to assist him in his self-assigned task of dating the commencement of the sport which now holds in its thrall hundreds of thousands of people almost all the world over.

the majority of his audience he had scored a decided hit, but there were others who were incredulous and they had reason to be.

"Legend has it that in 962, during the Danish invasion of England, a good man of Chester captured a Dane, beheaded him and knocked his head out into the street to furnish sport for the fellows. The game of kicking the head around the city streets and even outside the walls of the ancient Roman-built city grew in favor. The exercise was indulged in whenever a Chester sport could annex a Danish head.

"Eventually the supply of Danish heads gave out, but by that time the sport had secured a strong hold on the exercise-loving Anglo-Saxons and a 'ball of leather called a football' was substituted.

"The game developed into a rough and tumble scrimmage, and the ball would often lie forgotten for hours while the excited players chased one another through alleys and lanes and even into the houses of more respectable citizens as results of arguments over the rules. It seems that even before William the Conqueror invaded England the interpretation of the football rules was a much mooted matter. Sources were cracked, bones were broken

How To See London

Times' Correspondent Advises Canadian Holiday-Makers in Empire Metropolis

(Times Special Correspondence) London, Jan. 28.—The holiday season is sufficiently near to make appropriate a few hints as to how to make the best of a stay in London. Beginning in April hundreds of Canadians will arrive here each week. Some will have visited the metropolis on more than one occasion, but many will come for the first time.

Even the seasoned Canadian visitor, however, may find something of interest in this letter for it is remarkable how little the average Canadian sees of the sights of the city which he has visited so often. London is a city without signposts and there are some interesting spots so near to the main business streets that you never dream of looking for them.

To illustrate: I spent two hours showing a Toronto man around last week. We did not go farther away from Fleet street than could be covered in three minutes, yet he told me he had passed the most interesting afternoon since his arrival in London.

The first suggestion is that Canadians should look their accommodation as soon as they have decided to make the trip. It is, of course, a matter of little moment to the man with unlimited means that he should pay higher rates because accommodation is scarce and that only the most expensive rooms are vacant; but to the greater number of Canadian visitors who want to spend their money on sight seeing rather than on the question of expense it is of some importance if it happens to cost twenty-five per cent more than they anticipated. On my arrival when I found that I was crowded, and apart altogether from the question of expense it is a wearying experience to have to drive round looking for rooms. By all means read some London papers and make your arrangements before you come. Instead of going to a hotel you may prefer apartments, and if so you will find what you require in the columns of say the "Morning Post," or the "Telegraph."

If you are going to make a tour through England you will be wise to determine in some headquarters. For instance, Chester is convenient for North Wales, and York for the lake district and the Peak country. In addition you have the advantage of staying in two of the most interesting cathedral cities in the country. In the south, Bristol in the west, and London in the east, are good headquarters, the first being well situated for visits to the Dukeries, Shakespeare's country, the cathedral cities and the southwest of England.

Arrived in London it is well to make day-trips to the surrounding interesting country. The universities, the Thames valley, Pevensey, where William of Normandy landed, and Canterbury, are only a few of the interesting places within easy reach. Buy a good guide book and you will be surprised how interesting and enjoyable your visit can be made.

The Doomsday Book My experience with Canadians indicate that most of them return to Canada having seen practically nothing of the sights of London except those places which cannot be missed, such as the houses of parliament, Westminster, St. Paul's Cathedral and the National Gallery. How many Canadians who walk down Fleet street know that the famous Doomsday Book can be seen in the Public Record Office one minute's walk up Chancery Lane, on the corner of which Isaac Walton once kept a hosiery shop and was churchwarden at the neighboring church of Dunston's.

Or, again, there is the Middle Temple just opposite. I asked the attendant there if many Canadians or Americans came to view this masterpiece, the only place of its kind in London, and learned that the total number of visitors daily was "a dozen to a score." Yet it is open daily, is free and is passed by everyone who goes from the Strand to Ludgate Circus. Indeed those small, dark courts running off Fleet street reveal some of the most curious and picturesque places in old London. Dickens, Johnson, Goldsmith, Lamb and other men famous in the world of letters all either lived or worked in this neighborhood.

Within easy reach of the various Canadian and provincial offices are situated many interesting places, and it is a good plan to seek the advice of the resident officials. Almost at the back of Lord Strathcona's office, for example, you find the winding picturesque Georgian streets with houses which have never been changed.

Dear, Yard is here, too, and once there you will find it difficult to believe you are in the centre of crowded London. The Nova Scotia office is in the centre of the historical district of St. James. At the British Columbia office you are within a stone's throw of the magnificent City Companies' Halls and which surrounded the old Roman wall of Londinium. A minute from the Ontario man bath a restaurant the Roman occupation, and at the back of the Quebec houses is Lincoln's Inn Fields in one of the most famous streets of London. You may visit the Mansion House residence of the Lord Mayor of London on presentation of your card. For the Bank of England the representative of your province here can secure you a card of admission as well as to parts of the Tower of London not shown to the ordinary visitor, and to other places about which you cannot be expected to know.

Armed with your guide-book a walk from Charing Cross to the bank by the back streets will bring you to so many interesting places that this journey which can be made in half an hour, will take you several days if you want to see everything there is to see and you will return to Canada feeling that you know something of old London.

SUNDAY SERVICES OF SPECIAL INTEREST IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Rev. J. S. Shearer, secretary for moral and social reform for the Presbyterian church in Canada spoke in St. David's church last evening telling of the work being carried on by the church for social betterment including the activities on behalf of the immigrants, for temperance and for the rescue of fallen women. He preached in St. Stephen's church at the morning service.

Addresses in the interests of the Laymen's Missionary Movement were given in several of the Anglican churches yesterday. R. Allen spoke in St. David's church, Dr. Archer on the work in India at Trinity; Rev. G. E. Spriggs on home missions in St. James church; Rev. C. G. Lammie in St. Paul's on the Country Parson and in the Mission church Bishop Richardson spoke in the morning on the Educational Campaign and Rev. Henry Watterton preached at the evening service.

Rev. W. H. Barraclough spoke in Centenary church yesterday on society's treatment of the destitute. Mr. Barraclough said it is a shame that so much money should be spent in social enjoyment while many people in the city are destitute. He thought the city should make a grant to the Salvation Army for the maintenance of a new home to replace the metropole which was destroyed by fire last week.

Dr. Hutchinson, pastor of the Main street Baptist church, warned his congregation last evening to beware of treatment in Victoria street. Baptist church to a close yesterday when he addressed three large gatherings. During his stay in St. John 150 persons have confessed conversion.

Evangelist Lowell C. McIlherson spoke in Douglas avenue Christian church yesterday morning on the profit of prayer and Providence. The first of a series of lectures on Pilgrim's Progress, illustrated by lantern slides, was given in the Congregational church last evening by Rev. Ralph J. Haughton.

TAKING OFF TRAINS. (North Shore Leader, Conservative) The I. C. R. management have taken off trains in several sections. The Ocean Limited made her last trip on Sunday and the people along the northern division feel the discontinuance of this train very keenly. A journey can be made from Newcastle to St. John and return the same day, but if you desire to go to Bathurst it will take two days to make the round trip. It is rightly belong to those who have worked faithfully for the I. C. R. for years. How long are the people going to stand for this system of turning down the patrons of the railway are inconvenienced that the savings may be devoted to meet the salaries of a 200,000 manager, and many subordinates who receive from $12,000 down and fit up cars at a cost of $15,000 to carry them about the country?

The Sterling Virtues of the Colonial Silversmith are embodied in the productions that we offer today. HIDDEN MONEY COMING TO LIGHT

Financial World Getting Back To The Pre-Balkan War Conditions

CHEERY NEW YORK LETTER

Hoarding on Continent Not Only Ceases But Money Comes From Hiding Places and Improvement May Have More Permanence Than First Appears

New York, Feb. 7.—The complete restoration of normal money conditions abroad is going on, as shown by the reduction of the German rate from 4 1/2 per cent. a low level for this time of year. The Bank of France gained gold and the Bank of England lost, but the rate of each remained unchanged. There has, indeed, been a somewhat firmer money market abroad this week—a slight natural reaction in the upward sweep of the money tide, in part caused by the large and impulsive reaction for London. London Statist says that at last the hoarding on the continent has not only ceased, but that the money is flowing freely from hiding, not only in France, but Germany and Austria-Hungary.

S. ALLAN THOMAS TO BE MANAGER

Appointed Head For McDougall & Cowans in This City

S. Allan Thomas has accepted the position of local manager for McDougall & Cowans, stock and investment brokers of Montreal, who have taken over the wire business of J. C. Mackintosh & Company and who are opening an office in St. John. The new office will be located in the Bank of Montreal building, Prince William street, in the quarters formerly occupied by the Merchants Bank of Canada and will be open for business next Monday. The office will be connected with private wires with the local office at Montreal and the other branches at Halifax, Quebec, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver. Mr. Thomas' former experience in this business, his wide acquaintance and excellent connections, will be held throughout the community by congress some years ago but now defunct, told the commission on a visit to Washington last December that the St. John river ranked close to the Niagara river for its power possibilities.

However, the Webster-Ashburnton treaty of 1842 provided that no obstruction should be placed in the St. John river on either side. That prevents power development on the river. But it is expected that in due season Great Britain will be asked to negotiate a new treaty. The Maine people and also the New Brunswick people will want to benefit from the power on the St. John in these modern days when power can be so advantageously transferred through the medium of electricity.

The three Canadian commissioners who join with the American commissioners in considering these water boundary questions, continue to show much interest in the Allegash river which skirts northern Maine. Many years ago lumber operators far up the sources of the Penobscot reversed one of the lakes that drained into the Allegash and by a canal and a dam caused it to drain through the Penobscot. The Canadians have long resented this but have seemed no way to remedy it. If the question could be gotten before the International Joint Commission, some intricate points of international law would undoubtedly be raised. Otherwise at present, the International Commission interest in border waters along New England is confined to questions of pollution, to which much attention has been given.

The three American commissioners who have been a majority of Republicans, but some are Democrats. Some time ago General Frank Brewster of New Hampshire, resigned his political position from the administration and ex-Senator Obadiah Gardner, of Maine, was named in his stead. Now ex-Senator George Turner, of Washington state, is likely to retire and Governor Glenn of North Dakota is supposed to be slated for his place. Possibly ex-Republican James A. Lawrence, of Minnesota, will be named to co-operate.

Dr. Shearer also discussed the founding of a maritime home for delinquent women.

BIG POWER ON ST. JOHN RIVER

Maine May Want Ashburnton Treaty Abrogated

POSSIBILITIES GREAT

Close to Niagara is Statement—Canadian Commissioners Still Interested in Turning of Allegash Waters to Penobscot

(Special Correspondence of Bangor Commercial.) Washington, D. C., Feb. 7. Washington is learning there are great water power possibilities on the St. John river, which runs between the state of Maine and the Dominion of Canada. Members of the international joint commission, who consider questions growing out of water boundary disputes, have been apprised, however, and have some interest whether ultimately that river may not be added to their jurisdiction. Oscar Fellows, of Bangor, an official of the St. John River Commission, created by congress some years ago but now defunct, told the commission on a visit to Washington last December that the St. John river ranked close to the Niagara river for its power possibilities.

However, the Webster-Ashburnton treaty of 1842 provided that no obstruction should be placed in the St. John river on either side. That prevents power development on the river. But it is expected that in due season Great Britain will be asked to negotiate a new treaty. The Maine people and also the New Brunswick people will want to benefit from the power on the St. John in these modern days when power can be so advantageously transferred through the medium of electricity.

HOLDING UP I. C. R. TRAINS FOR C. P. R.

(Moncton Transcript) The I. C. R. is being run for the C. P. R. all right. There was an indignation meeting of passengers on the Springfield accommodation, so called, this morning. From the east and among them several Conservatives, who declared that their party had given Canada the most rotten government it had seen for generations. Some of these good Tories did not quite believe how completely the I. C. R. had been subordinated in its interests to the C. P. R. until today, when they were struck on a siding at Aulac for twenty-seven minutes, and on asking what they were waiting for finally declared that it was to permit a C. P. R. special to go by. Then the train made another start and managed to reach Sackville and when it got to Sackville was put on another siding for twenty minutes, and when the passengers asked why this delay they were told "Oh, we are waiting for another C. P. R. special to pass by."

RECENT DEATHS

CITY SHOWS NICE SURPLUS OF $105,000, THOUGH YEAR 1913 WAS GENERALLY LEAN ONE

(Continued from page 1) It will thus be observed that the major portion of the surplus was applied to reduce the taxes of the citizens for the present year, 1914.

In regard to the provision of $28,000 for retiring Carleton water scrip, it was fortunate that this could be made, as the bonds were issued in the year 1914, without any sinking fund provided.

The amount at the credit of water reserve account for future operations on distribution pipe renewals is $18,066.57. City lands were sold from which $44,687.15 was received and placed to the credit of the sinking fund.

The owners of the properties abutting on the streets paved are directly liable for the sum of $16,448.81 and are especially assessed for 1-10 of this amount yearly for a period of ten years in addition to 4 per cent per annum.

The net increase in the bonded debt was $82,000. The city is to be congratulated for while the majority of Cassamun cities found much difficulty in financing the past year in some cases paying as high as 8 or 1-2 per cent for money, St. John was able to purchase for sinking funds the entire issue of debentures.

In the year 1914, interest amounting to $86,425 will mature and be paid from sinking funds. The following table shows the amount of the city's outstanding debentures as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description of debentures (e.g., $ 679,750 bearing int. at 6 p.c.), and Amount ($217,555.92).

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

At the Opera Tonight will be produced for the first time in St. John, Charles Hawtreys greatest comedy, "A Message from Mars."

The author possibly had his inspiration in Dickens' Christmas Carol, working out the story, however, in an entirely different manner.

Mr. Meharry will play the part of Horace Parker, created by Charles Hawtreys, while Miss Brandt will be seen in the part created by Jessie Bateman.

Scenically the play will be one of the best yet produced by the Thompson-Watson Stock Company.

NORTH END ROBBERY

House of Hiram Lemmon Ransacked; Money and Opera Glasses Stolen

A daring piece of thievery took place last evening in North End, when the home of Hiram Lemmon, in Victoria street, was entered during the absence of himself and family at church, and several valuable articles stolen. It is thought that whoever committed the theft was in the neighborhood early in the evening, and presumably was acquainted with the number of people in the household and waited to see them leave for evening service. When they were gone he entered the house and after ransacking the house and after removing the money and opera glasses, valued at something more than $10.

On returning home Mr. Lemmon discovered his loss, noticing the upset condition of the house with drawers and other articles ransacked. He informed the police, but thus far no clue to the thief or thieves has been secured. Victoria street is in a residential section and at the time the robbery is supposed to have taken place, between seven and eight o'clock there would not be many people passing.

J. BERNARD KYFFIN DEAD

News of the death of J. Bernard Kyffin, which occurred at six o'clock this morning at the home of his parents, 134 Douglas Avenue, occasioned keen regret amongst a host of friends, young and old, with whom he was extremely popular. He was in his 20th year, and a bright and ambitious young man. Of a cheerful and genial temperament and pleasing disposition, he easily retained friendships once made, and his death has excited feelings of hearty regret and sincere sympathy for his parents. Captain and Mrs. Thomas Kyffin.

He has been sick about seven weeks, and during the last few days death was feared. Besides his parents, the young man is survived by four sisters, the eldest Miss Dorothy, and three brothers, of whom the eldest is Frederick (Teddy). Mr. Kyffin was an active and popular member of St. Peter's Y. M. A., where he will be greatly missed. It is probable that his funeral will take place on Wednesday morning.

DEATH OF MRS. M. S. TRAFTON

Word was received this morning by F. D. Foley, of Loch Lomond Road, telling of the death of Mrs. Trafton, wife of Rev. M. S. Trafton, formerly pastor of the Reformed Baptist church in St. John, and well known here. She died at midnight in Fort Fairfield, Me., after a very brief illness. She was a kindly, amiable woman, who was popular with a wide circle of acquaintances, and was a great aid to her husband in his church-work. Her death will be heard of with regret. Besides her husband she is survived by two boys and a girl. The body will be taken to Woodstock, her former home, for burial. Her brother, Dr. Edgar Jewett, resides there, while her mother, Mrs. Ezekiel Smith, and sister, Mrs. H. E. Storey, are living in Los Angeles, Cal.

FAIRVILLE ACCIDENTS

John O'Keefe of Brady street, Fairville, was injured on Saturday night while coasting down Mill street. A double runner, on which he sat with several others was coasting, ran into the siding at T. S. Simms & Company's plant. O'Keefe was badly bruised about the arms and legs.

Frank Joyce of Fairville, was painfully injured while at work in Ready's brewery on Saturday by the explosion of two 60-gallon kegs, which he was cleaning with steam. Pieces of the barrels cut Mr. Joyce about the arms, face and legs, and smashed several of the windows. Dr. John McCarthy rendered first aid and the injured man was removed to the hospital.

FELL ON ICE

While returning from church yesterday Mrs. Thomas Markey of Brittain street fell on the ice and received a severe shaking up. She will probably be kept to her home for a few days.

REV. MR. BOYER NEW BIBLE SECRETARY

Fairville Church Pastor Selected as Successor to Rev. A. F. Newcombe

Rev. H. R. Boyer of Fairville has been appointed secretary for District No. 1, of the Canadian Bible Society. He will succeed Rev. A. F. Newcombe, who resigned a few months ago to become pastor of the Brunswick street Baptist church in Fredericton.

Speaking of the work this morning Rev. J. G. Forbes, president of the society said that it was never in so healthy a condition. It was decided at the Woodstock meeting to erect a sufficient office room for carrying on the work. The estimated cost of the building was about $20,000. An offer was made by the British and Foreign Bible Society to contribute $5,000 of this in condition that the building be decided to them, the local society to have the free use of all the space required and also to receive any profits that might accrue from the building.

ROGERS RELEASED

It is learned that George Rogers, who was detained here by the immigration officials on his arrival by steamer Grandpian was released on Friday by the authorities here on receipt of a telegram from the department at Ottawa. The telegram did not state the reasons. Rogers is thought still to be in the city, as he had only $8 with him on his arrival here more than a week ago. This sum minus his expenses and the necessary to carry him back to Port Arthur. It is said that Rogers is a prominent business officer, that he would have to get work here in order to earn enough to take him home.

GOLWELL'S HOTEL AT RIVERVIEW BURNED

Outbreak in Night - Aged Man, Very Ill, Carried From Burning House

About 11 o'clock last night when all were in their beds, neighbors were alarmed by fire, and flames were seen bursting through the rear of C. G. Colwell's Hotel, at Riverview. Mr. Colwell's daughter heard the fire crackling and aroused her father. They at once hastened to the room of Mr. Colwell's father, aged ninety-one, who was lying on his death bed, and carried him to a nearby house, where he was made comfortable. Every effort was made to save the house and buildings, but it was all in vain, as the fire had gained much headway before it was seen. Two of the barns containing hay and cattle were saved. The horses from the burning barn were gotten out. E. L. McDonald and A. B. Allen, who were boarding at the hotel at the time, assisted in saving some furniture. C. G. Colwell and daughter are being cared for by friends. There was no insurance on the property.

PARCELS POST IN ST. JOHN

It is not expected by post office officials that there will be a very noticeable increase in the quantity of mail matter handled because of the regulations introducing the parcels post system into Canada becoming effective at midnight, until a few weeks have gone by in which merchants and others have familiarized themselves with the rates, etc. At present five pounds is the limit for parcels but the parcels post will increase this to six pounds for the first three months after which another increase will be made.

For the first three months parcels may be registered, but after that on a charge of five cents additional the parcel will be insured to the amount of $25 and for ten cents extra, to $50. No extra men will be needed at present, the only addition being that of H. C. Green of White's Express, who has been given the contract for deliveries, because when the services come into popular use, it is not expected that the carriers will be able to handle the parcels. The officials here do not look for any immediate rush of parcels post matter but are prepared to handle it, and extra space has been provided for the introduction of the service. When it grows in popularity, however, it is likely that much of it will be attended to in the basement of the post office.

WANTS CHANGES IN SEAL FISHING LAWS

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 8.—In the assembly on Saturday Mr. Cooker, leader of the fisherman's party, introduced a bill regulating the seal fishery, prescribing improved accommodations and food for the men engaged in that industry, which will apply to Halifax steamers clearing from Newfoundland ports as well as local steamers; also altering the sailing date for steamers of the northern fleet; and prohibiting the slaughter of hood seals during the seasons of 1914 and 1915.
