SUFFRAGETTES WILL HAVE TO BE ORDERLY

Seventy Non-Militant But Athletic Sisters Will See to It

A TALK BY LLOYD GEORGE

Chancellor to Reply Tonight To Questions of Miss Pankhurst—360 M. P.'s and Lords to Be on Platform in Anti-Meeting Next Week

(Canadian Press)

London, Feb. 22—The non-militant suffragettes have arranged for seventy of their "stalwarts" to act as stewards for their meeting tonight in Albert Hall, when Chancellor Lloyd George will give an address.

These seventy athletic young women will be dressed in physical culture costumes and will maintain order and lead summarily with any persistent interrupter. Each one will have a good account of herself in a rough and tumble or resisted action of any militant sister, who does not wish Lloyd George to answer adequately some of the awkward questions to which Miss Pankhurst has asked him to reply.

When the anti-suffrage meeting takes place in this hall next Wednesday, 300 members of both houses of parliament and their wives will be on the platform. The women will include Lord Curzon, Lord Curzon and Lewis Harcourt. Each ticket holder pledges not to interrupt the meeting.

Hon. J. K. Fleming arrived in the city at noon today from Hartland and Victoria. The premier will meet with the other commissioners of the Jordan Sanitarium tomorrow morning, and at this meeting they will consider the final plans for remodeling the present buildings and hope to have everything ready to make an early start on the work as soon as the weather will permit.

Temperance Federation asking for the enactment of a law providing for provincial prohibition. A delegation from the New Brunswick Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association will also wait on the government to present their request that they be given control of the fishing in the south branch of the Orontic for the use of the public.

Premier Fleming has been following with great interest the activity in St. John of the anti-suffrage movement, and at this time he held a strong faith in what the immediate future holds for this city.

AMERICAN COAL FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

Orders for Delivery at Gibraltar or Vigo are Reported

In New York it is Said There Will be Difficulty Filling Big Orders in Addition to Regular Business—Hard Job to Handle It

(Canadian Press)

London, Feb. 22—A sensation has been caused in the British coal trade by the statement that the British admiralty has arranged for supplies of American coal to be delivered at Gibraltar or Vigo.

The steamers Blenheim and Teespool have been chartered in London in the last few days to load about 17,000 tons of coal at Norfolk, Va., or Newport News early in March. It is believed that further charters will be placed. It is understood that the admiralty wishes to reserve what Welsh coal is available.

New York, Feb. 22—The United States will not be able to rush any enormous quantity of coal to Britain should a strike occur there. The railroads could not handle huge shipments in addition to the regular supplies. If a strike of American bituminous and anthracite miners appeared inevitable, very stiff prices would be demanded for whatever consignments were wanted by British interests.

Already the British government has placed several steamships under charter to load American coal in case of a strike abroad, but these vessels cannot well be placed for loading at American ports by the outbreak of a strike. They have to make the trip across, and this would take from twelve to twenty days. Coal shippers here could not say positively that the order for coal for the British admiralty had been placed. A great many of foreign interests have been consulting with American coal shippers about procuring supplies after March 1, and it is not known just who some of the inquiries are at present.

A grave situation exists in America at this time. The trouble is that facilities for exporting coal from American ports will not permit of any greatly enlarged tonnage being handled. Well posted coal men acquainted with the facilities of the various ports, say it would be difficult to export at this time even so much as 1,000,000 tons a month in excess of present shipments.

In Western Canada

Lethbridge, Alb., Feb. 22—At yesterday's session of the miners' convention of District Number 18, there was a heated debate on the question of mine owners deliberately boycotting labor leaders.

The opinion seemed to be general that secretaries of locals were being discriminated against by operators who blacklisted these men, the result being that it was very difficult to get proper men to take up the duties of secretary of local unions. To provide against further discrimination under future agreements, a resolution has been passed to the effect that no working agreements would be signed unless containing a clause stipulating that all former employees of any coal company should be given their positions on resumption of work under the new agreement.

NOTHING ON SHIP ERNE?

Boston Shipping Circles Agitated Over Circumstances Attending Loss of Vessel

Boston, Feb. 22—There is a suspicion in shipping circles that a mutiny may have occurred on board the British ship Erne, which was abandoned at sea on February 8, while on a passage from this port to Boston.

The disappearance of Capt. Fickett, his wife, the second mate and Robert Hay, the passenger, has not been explained satisfactorily to the agents and owners here.

According to the story told by the men, the ship was in the night when the boat and with his wife and the other two disappeared during the night.

It is said by the agents that a lifeboat could not be lowered during a heavy sea by three men and that, in any event, a boat could not be put overboard without attracting the attention of others on board.

The master will be thoroughly investigated, and the government here may be requested to take a hand in the search for evidence. The Erne is doubtless still afloat, and the captain and his companions on the afterdeck were killed.

There is a belief in certain quarters that when the other lifeboats were swept away the men rushed to secure the only remaining one and that, in the excitement, the captain and his companions on the afterdeck were killed.

The report that the captain had left the vessel with the only lifeboat remaining is not credited by those who know him. It is believed that the captain, his wife and the other two, if not killed, were swept overboard by the tremendous sea that tore apart the deck.

Several sea captains who knew Captain Fickett declared that he was not the kind of a man to desert his ship in such an emergency. He had sailed vessels out of the port for many years and was known as a capable seaman. For about eight years he was commander of the barkentine Allanville, of the Essex fleet.

Then he bought a master's interest in the schooner Miles M. Merry and for a time engaged in the coal carrying trade. When he was ashore one trip, the Merry was wrecked on the Jersey coast and Captain Fickett went to England and brought back the Merry.

Mrs. Fickett accompanied her husband on all of his voyages, and they made their last voyage on the Merry in 1908. Captain Fickett was about fifty years of age. The Erne was abandoned about 1,000 miles east of Boston. The dimensions of the last crew were: Capt. Fickett, 35 years, 5 feet 10 inches, weight 170 lbs, and gross tonnage 1,000.

HEBERT WEDDING LEGAL

Judge Charbonneau Gives Judgment In Montreal Ne Temere Case

Decision of Court is to Uphold Marriage of Marie Emma Cloutre and Eugene Hebert, Performed by Methodist Minister as Legally Solemnized—Will Be Appealed

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, Feb. 22—Mr. Justice Charbonneau gave judgment this morning in the famous Hebert marriage case in favor of the wife. He practically holds that any officer authorized to solemnize marriage can marry any two persons who observe the ordinary formalities, including a marriage license, no matter what their religious denomination.

The judge holds that the ne temere decree which he holds, authorizes all persons who are allowed to keep registers of civil status to marry parties.

"As to the marriage between Marie Emma Cloutre and Eugene Hebert, solemnized by the Rev. Wm. Zimmerman, a Methodist minister authorized to keep a register of civil status, on July 14, 1910, he holds that it was performed legally. He upholds Madame Hebert's opposition to the judgment declaring the marriage illegal rendered by Mr. Justice Laurendeau. He finds that the withdrawal of the husband from the suit by filing of a desistment does not prevent the wife from seeking to establish her civil status by bringing evidence to prove that her marriage was legal and that children legitimate. He holds her children as legitimate and born in wedlock.

The entire case for the wife was placed before the court several months ago, the judge reserving the right not to adjudicate upon the merits of the question of marriage provided he found that as a matter of procedure and practice it was legal to hear evidence in a cause under the action that the wife had brought. The party bringing suit had withdrawn. Attorneys for the husband contended that when they asked their client to end the case, that they desisted from the suit and the lady won, and there was no hearing of evidence. It was held that when the judge admitted the evidence under reserve they sharply left the court, and that the case was not closed. The judge held that the marriage was legal and that the children were legitimate.

CANADIANS IN OLYMPIC PROGRAMME

Representation of Dominion In Sports in Stockholm Arranged

WILL SAIL ON JUNE 15

Final Competitions Will Be Held in Montreal on June 8—Our Men in Rowing, Athletics, Swimming and Trap Shooting

(Canadian Press)

Toronto, Feb. 22—The plans for the representation of Canada at the Olympic games in Stockholm this summer has taken definite shape as the result of the meeting of the Canadian Olympic committee yesterday. Chairman James G. Merrick presided and the other members present were E. Herbert Brown of Montreal, R. Tasker Steele of Hamilton, Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Macdonald of Toronto, and Secretary N. H. Crow.

The Canadian Association of Amateur Athletes have charge of the rowing section, and will carry out the trials as previously announced. All the Canadians, except possibly the trap shooters, will leave Montreal by the White Star Dominion liner Teutonic on Saturday June 15, for Liverpool. The athletic team will stay at Upper Norwood, London, training at the Crystal Palace grounds. They will reach Stockholm about July 2, a couple of days before the competitions.

Rowing, athletics, swimming and possibly trap shooting will cover the representation of this country in the Olympic competitions. Only in such branches of sport as there is reasonable expectations of success in a world competition will Canada be pitted against the nations.

The Dominion Rifle Association having disapproved of sending any of the Blevy team, the Canadian shooters will be limited to the clay bird experts. Among those entitled to consideration are W. R. Wigg, individual champion of last Olympic, and W. R. Davies, champion of the Canadian Trap Shooting Association.

As swimming George Hodgson of Montreal and one other will probably comprise the representation.

There is only one cycling event on the Stockholm programme, a race of 500 miles around Lake Malaren and the committee will not make any selection for that.

The selection of the athletic team will be practically in the hands of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Provincial sections must have their nominations in the hands of Secretary Crow by May 27 in each case accompanied by the records of the individuals.

A final competition will be held in Montreal on June 8, for the purpose of eliminating by the committee. This meet will be handled by the Quebec section and the amateur Athletic Union will defray the traveling expense to Montreal for those who take first or second places at these trials.

Prestid Merrick will represent the committee in Stockholm and will also represent the Amateur Athletic Union at the conference to complete the alliance with the English and Australian bodies. The appointment of a coach was discussed but not settled.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW BREAKS OUT IN NEW PLACE

Solver of All Problems Now Arranges Home Rule Matter

London, Feb. 22—The latest contributor to the home rule controversy is George Bernard Shaw, who suggests that what is wanted on both sides of the channel, is a little more protestantism.

"The greatest terror of poor old Rome, of a Pope who is less personally than any atheist, and less powerful than the meanest surplice and protestantism," he says, "is cowardice. That is the unvarying symptom and penalty of want of faith. There is one and only one remedy for this cowardice, and that is democracy. There is only one chance for priestly tyranny under home rule, and that is the chance of protestantism insisting that the church shall be given power to set the Roman home in order."

"The most pressing need of Ireland today," proclaims the dramatist, "is the establishment of the Roman levy taxation without audit or responsibility, and practical probabilities and clear their imaginations of thumb screws and stakes and faggots, and nuns on the rack, we should have Irish Protestants asking the Home government to make Roman Catholic church establishments a feature of the home rule bill, while the priesthood would be leaving home rule, and clinging with its might, to its present irresponsible power and richness."

London, Feb. 22—The announcement from Montreal that a company, supported by a powerful group of British capitalists, had engaged in the building of four day boats to operate a line of four day boats between Great Britain and Halifax, was confirmed here today. The London Times confirms the report that six twenty-four knot vessels will be built for the service, and that the line will be operated by the Western American and Asiatic Traffic via Canada instead of via the United States. It is several months since the vessels were ordered by the government, and will be armed for self-defense and for defence of Atlantic trade routes in time of war.

Some girls cut their fingers terribly, and it looks bad." "Why, that is true; you never do," said her mistress, and the universal point of efficiency. PLANTING TREES

It was very gratifying yesterday to find twenty-five or more active business and professional men giving up an hour of a busy afternoon to discuss re-planting in the city. The Arboriculture Society has done excellent work, and will continue its efforts to beautify the city. This year two hundred trees will be planted, in addition to replacing any that may have died or been destroyed. Unfortunately, there is some damage to trees by delivery horses, and this is a matter to which the owners of teams should direct the attention of drivers; while all citizens should regard it as a duty to do all in their power to protect the trees.

BACK TO THE LAND

The Superintendent of Education in New York city has made a suggestion which is of no little interest in connection with the general discussion of methods of getting people back to the land. An exchange says: "In his annual report to the Board of Education of New York city, Superintendent Maxwell suggests that the question is well worth discussing whether it would not be greatly to the advantage of the city to establish an agricultural school as one of the public vocational schools. In this suggestion Dr. Maxwell renews one made by him last year in a public address, in which he urged that New York city, which has within its borders vast stretches of farm land, might do something greatly to its own advantage, and greatly to the advantage of the nation, if it should establish within its limits a great school of agriculture that would train boys and girls to take up work, not in a crowded factory, but in the sunshine and freedom of the farm."

COLLIER'S EDITOR IN TALK

ON NEWSPAPER WORK
Fortells the Death of 'Yellow' Journals in United States—Praise for Good Newspapers'
(Ottawa Exchange)
That the death-knell of the sensational yellow press has been sounded in the United States was the opinion expressed by Norman Haggood, editor of Collier's Weekly, in his address before the Ottawa Canadian Club Saturday afternoon. Haggood's address before the Ottawa Canadian Club Saturday afternoon was a pointed anecdote. Mr. Haggood devoted most of his time to showing how the popular press influences public opinion and obstructs the work of evil influences which are abroad in the United States, from which country he drew all his examples. The yellow, or sensational, press in the United States, as created by the late Joseph Pulitzer, is passing, according to Mr. Haggood, because it depends for a clientele on the poorer and more or less uneducated public which offers an unyielding field for the advertiser. Yet he believed that the yellow press had done a great deal of good. Formerly the newspapers championed exclusively the cause of the exclusive classes, by whom alone they were read. The yellow press, circulating among the poorer people, was and by spectacular publicity called attention to crying evils as sharply that often rarely followed close on publication. "Newspapers are essential," said Mr. Haggood; "democratic government is impossible without them. They create the atmosphere of our thoughts. They are the premises given to us, and the premises must be sound or the conclusion will not be sound." The old conservative press had been made more liberal by the yellow press, said Mr. Haggood, and the respectable happy medium between the two had sprung up. In describing the fight of American newspapers against evils in his own country, Mr. Haggood paid a tribute to the Philadelphia North American, the Springfield Republican, and the Kansas City Star, all of which, he said, had time and again proven their absolute integrity. The work of American newspapers in fighting for the rights of the people was more noticeable, he said, because his own country was away behind European countries, especially England under Lloyd George, in social legislation. Such matters are employed

SOFT WAYS

Alanna, what a soft land the Old South used to be! The soft lush green o' hillsides, the soft encircling sea; The still and purple moorlands, where the plover calls; The soft and misty bog-land, the lough and the purling fall; The heather on the brake-side, the sleepy fields o' hay; The Fairy-Thorn and White-Bush, the gold of the Gorse and the May; The low wall and the roof thatch, so mild and moss and mold; The soft cries of the childer, the soft eyes of the old; And best and last, the Springtime, all muffled with the rain; But never want those soft ways for me and mine again!

IN LIGHTER VEN

RATHER CHILLY. (Cleveland Plain Dealer.) An East Cleveland man was recently turned down by the lady of his dreams. He decided to give her one more chance, and so dressed up in his best and called at her house. The maid was having a day off, and the lady herself met him at the door. Without changing his expression he calmly inquired: "Does Mr. Jones live here?" "Yes," answered the daughter of Mr. Jenks. "Is he at home?" "Yes, he is."

THE CANNY APPEAL

"Do you suffer here from malaria?" asked the visitor to Swampville as he looked over the villa plot proposition in that charming suburb. "No," replied the agent. "Fact is, I never knew you had the asthma!"

THE DIFFERENCE

"Is your neighbor's garden much cultivated?" "Yes, but he isn't."

Aids Nature
The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-build- ing, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.
If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—It pays better. But you are thinking of the care not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

How About That "Generous Price Cutter" ANY WAY?
Note the "generous price cutter" how he furnishes you some well advertised goods at a few cents under- priced, and then charges you liberally for prescriptions or something you do not know the price of.
Is it not a better service for you when your drug store charges are moderate in all things? You save in the long run. We may be a few cents higher on some advertised articles, but we are certainly a great deal lower on the general run of drug store goods. Try us and you will find this to be a fact.

BISHOP ATTACKS FASHIONS

Does Not Hesitate to Name Nobility in His Criticisms

NOW COME COMPLAINTS

Hungarian Prelate Preaches Against Showy Dress and Tight Skirts — Kaiser Franz Joseph Rather in Quandary Over the Situation

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Buda Pesth, Feb. 21.—The Right Reverend Prohaska, Bishop of Stuhlweissenburg in Hungary, a mighty prelate at war with Archduchess Augusta, wife of Archduke Joseph, a mighty and beautiful lady. The nice-looking, frivole Magyar dame back the archduchess, while the ancient and pious, side with the church. The good bishop has publicly rebuked the archduchess for dressing extravagantly. No Hungarian event since the battle of Mohacs ever caused such tumult.

Bishop Prohaska is a holy and properly respected man who baptizes, marries and buries half Hungary's population. He has come to abhor showy and flaunting garments. And, being an honest priest, he does not conceal his approbation but says that Europe should return to the middle ages when Maximilian I. cut off the toes of a lady who was jingling bells on her shoes.

The bishop names names, and shoots javelin-like epigrams. All tight, revealing skirts and anorak blossoming hats he condemns in German as "Frauenzimmerputz," which means "female baggage rottery," and he adds "the tight skirts have no an or intention except to seduce."

When Princess Irma Andrássy marched down the aisle of his cathedral with eight rosy ostrich feathers wobbling in a pearl-rimmed hat, the sharp-eyed prelate remarked that ostrich feathers "exist to tickle the eye, to nurture the pride, to corrupt the innocent heart." And the amazed princess had to listen till her cheeks got as red as the feathers in her hat.

Hungary's higher nobles are a stiff-necked, haughty race; but the pride of many is tempered by chronic hard-spines. The many hard-up ones were secretly pleased at the lesson read to their wives; but the wives, and the richer nobles who can pay for their wives' garb, were indignant and began an anti-Prohaska campaign. The indomitable prelate retorted from his pulpit with reference to "showy, over-dressed trans-Atlantic countesses, who come to destroy our Magyar virtues through the Esterhazy, Batthyany, Sechenyis, and Andrássy were extremely indignant and said they would appeal to Rome.

In December the bishop went to Berlin to marry Countess Szegegy-Marchel, the Austrian ambassador's daughter, and the Countess Chronsky. The Magyar nobles breathed relief, and reasoned that, having seen the "marry-bird's" visit of Sister den Linden, the bishop would be less hard on the frivolities of modest Peeth. But when he returned to his own diocese, he found it a Gomorrah of flaunting females, and this, our Buda-Pesth, he called "Buda-Pesth."

He began noting that Archduchess Augusta possessed a fine sense of dress, and had that week visited three Buda-Pesth hospitals. In all these hospitals, instead of working like a coal-scuttle, this moment she was being doted on by the patients, who were dazzled with her worldly finery, and distracted their thoughts by the brightly colored and costly dresses of the archduchess. "It is a scandal," said Bishop Prohaska, "to see social beneficence carried on as if it were a matter of fashion. Beneficence presupposes earnestness, and the heart, and an exaltation of the spiritual eye. When Archduchess Augusta visits our tragic hospitals she ought to drop modicities and waste sticking the best brilliants in her hair, and select modest, defiant, astringent and wearing sedate ostrich feathers in her coronet hats. Let her come in a downcast reverent mood and a washable white cotton dress, harmonizing with the nature of her work and the simplicity of her milieu."

His words were listened to with delight and immediately went out and complained to their husbands.

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orlie Rock proves how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement:

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. It was not on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I love my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it. Mrs. ORLIE ROCK, R. R. No. 6, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

PRICE OF PEDLER'S ACRE

Fiftieth Century Legacy Involving $405,000 Still in Court

(London Cor. N. Y. Sun.)

A case which will decide the allocation of $405,000, now in chancery, will soon come on in the law courts. The story of this money opens in the fifteenth century when a pedlar bequeathed to the old Lambeth parish an acre of riverbank land on the condition that his dog, which had accompanied him in his travels, might be buried in churchyard.

The pedlar's legacy, known as the Pedler's Acre, brought in only some 70 cents a year originally, but at the time the London County Council acquired the estate the Lambeth Council was receiving $8,000 a year from it. The money was devoted to the reduction of the local rates, being equivalent to a rate of one farthing in the pound.

The London County Council bought the estate to build its new county hall on it, the price being $405,000. The money was paid into chancery, as the council did not wish to participate in the dispute which arose as to its allocation.

In old days there had been many fights over the property, and in 1824 an attempt was made to sell or mortgage the acre in order to build a chapel in the district. The inhabitants protested and secured an act of parliament in the reign of George IV, vesting the property in the rector and church wardens and ten other rated inhabitants, the rents and proceeds to be applied to parochial purposes. The church wardens claimed a share of the price paid by the county council, and the fight goes through court.

You will be proud of the bread you'll make with PURITY FLOUR

AFTER seeing a batch of big, golden-crust, snowy-white loaves, that you have baked from PURITY FLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-ability—and proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour. You will admit, too, that we are justified in the pride we take in milling this superb flour.

PURITY FLOUR

"More bread and better bread"

PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Western hard wheat—the world's finest. More than that, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat. The low-grade portions are separated and excluded during the PURITY process of milling. Such high-class flour, of course, expands more in the baking. It makes "more bread and better bread."

It makes lighter, flakier pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURITY FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR and take pride in recommending it. Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now.

ONTARIO WOMAN SAYS SHE IS HEIR TO MANY MILLIONS Mrs. Springer Says She is Missing One to Whom $85,000,000 Should Come

Berlin, Ont., Feb. 22.—Berlin friends and relatives are watching with great interest the case of Mrs. Tottie Springer, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moyer, of this town, who has taken steps toward establishing her identity as the missing heir to an estate worth $85,000,000 in which royalty is involved. The estate to which Mrs. Springer lays claim is in Newfoundland, and consists of several miles of water front, rentals, interest and a large fishing industry. The wrangling in England over the disposition of its enormous income has involved King George, the Duke of Marlborough and the Duke of Devonshire. A portion of the income from the estate has been going to Lady Elizabeth Churchill.

WILL WEAR EUROPEAN DRESS London, Feb. 22.—Hereafter the representatives of the new regime in China will appear in the same dress and adopt the same manners as the Europeans. The wearing of queues will be a rarity in the near future, as most of the diplomats have already had their "pig tails" cut off.

WAS TERRIBLY NERVOUS. WOULD START AT THE LEAST NOISE. Wherever there are people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will restore the equilibrium of these damaged centres, and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

Mr. Robert McLarnon, Shawville, Que., writes:—"I am writing to tell you an experience I had with a bad cold and a bottle of your valuable medicine. I was up in the lumber camps teaming heavy loads, and I caught a very bad cold. I thought it was going to turn into consumption, for my left lung got very sore and my heart did not feel any too good. I came home and tried some different remedies but they did me no good. A friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I tried it, and when I had taken two bottles my cold was gone. I think it is a great remedy, and will advise any one with a cold to use it. I can't praise it enough."

QUEEN MARY AS SHE WAS AT SIXTEEN

GREAT WORK FINANCED

Black Pearl Necklace of Mary Queen of Scots Sold to United States Woman—D. J. Brown and J. T. Knight at St. Paul's Service

(Times Special Correspondent) London, Feb. 19.—Here is an interesting account of Queen Mary at 16 by a personal friend who used to visit the happy home at White Lodge, situated in the middle of Richmond Park, where Her Majesty spent her life until the day she was married. "The household over which the queen's mother, the late Duchess of Teck, reigned, was the happiest one imaginable. Surrounded by her four children, three sons and one daughter, H. R. H. was the youngest in feeling and brightest of all, self-laugher, merriest, her wit and perception the quickest, whilst she watched over their welfare with tender maternal solicitude. Princess Mary, afterwards to become Queen Mary of England, was then entering on her seventeenth year. As mother and daughter were inseparable companions, the shyness and reserve which distinguished the young princess were perhaps more marked by contrast with the open genial manner of the duchess. She possessed, however, her royal mother's sense of humor and quickness of observation. Tall, slight and graceful, her pretty features resembled those of the duchess, although lacking in that mobility of expression which lent such a charm to H. R. H.'s face. Even at this early age she exhibited a remarkable maturity and soundness of judgment, a judgment on which her mother relied, and which was rarely in error. There is a genuine Marie Antoinette pearl necklace now in the market for which the owner asks $250,000, but no purchaser has yet turned up. St. John Men at St. Paul's

Notwithstanding all this severe or as they were called "Catholics" was a new council of Chosen Friends has been instituted in Indianapolis by provincial organizer, S. G. Barber, to be known as Indianapolis Council No. 288. Officers have been elected and installed as follows: Chief Counsel, Chas. F. Stevens; Vice-Counsel, Samuel J. Holder; Preceptor, Joseph Paisley; Marshall, H. C. Green; Warden, Philip McCartney; Recorder, and Treasurer, Arthur V. Cowan; Guard, J. Reuben Higgins; Sentinels, J. R. Robertson; Trustees, H. C. Green, R. W. Wigmore, Chas. F. Stevens. Dr. W. F. Roberts was appointed medical examiner. Hazen C. Taylor was recommended as past counselor. The installation was conducted by Mr. Barber, assisted by Prind McLeod Mills, a member of Woodstock Council No. 510, as grand marshal. Twenty-two members were elected to membership. This is the 24th council of C. O. C. F. organized in New Brunswick.

Dr. and Mrs. MacNamara of Edmonton are visiting Paris, and intend making a tour through Southern France before returning to Canada. J. G. Woods of "an actor" is also a temporary resident in the French capital. W. Molson Macpherson, president of the Molson Bank, and Mrs. Macpherson are at Brown's Hotel, Dover street. They will leave soon for the continent, where they are to make an extended tour. J. Vaneck, a Canadian residing at Sunninghill, Ascot, who is now lying seriously ill at Cannes, is a cousin of Eliot Galt of Montreal and Lord Huntingfield.

Scott Griffin, son-in-law of Sir William Mackenzie, who is general manager in London of the C. N. R. Steamship Company, has left for Pau, where Mrs. Scott Griffin is staying. Another Canadian visitor to the continent in a few days is Hugo Ross of Winnipeg.

The Rev. Dr. Perrin, late Bishop of British Columbia, and Mrs. Perrin, will hold their first reception after his induction as Bishop of Willeston this week. The Archbishop of London inducted him to the rectory of St. Andrew Undershaft on Monday last.

Sir Max Aitken Sir William Max Aitken is at the Carlton Hotel, Cannes, which also has as guests: Bonar Law and Mr. Balfour. Both are in the favorite pastime of the Conservative politicians, and the trio are frequently seen on the links. It is no secret that Bonar Law has a great admiration for the organizing abilities of Sir William, an opinion which, by the way, was held by Mr. Balfour when he was Tory leader. A political friend tells me that in spite of the changes consequent upon the entree recently held concerning the organization of the Conservative party, when it was found to be inefficient, there is room for further improvement, particularly the elimination of rival schools, who hold opposing views concerning party organization.

Certainly a large number of influential Conservatives believe that further changes should be made and the feeling that Sir W. M. Aitken is the strong man in sight is growing. As things are, this is a position in the Conservative party, ranking second in importance only to that of the leadership.

It would take all Sir William's energies to reconcile the differing elements in the opposition and to bring into concerted action the several sections with varying views. Firmness tempered with diplomacy he has shown himself to possess; and it is believed he has the qualities to fit him for the position. DOWAGER.

THE PROPOSED NATIONAL HIGHWAY The Canadian Highway Association, in whose interests H. Maxwell Clark arrived in the city yesterday, has already mapped out the route for their proposed trans-continental highway as follows:—Halifax, Truro, Moncton, branch to St. John's, Canaanville, St. Flavie, Quebec, Montreal, with branch to boundary; Ottawa, branch to Prescott; North Bay, Coburn, Toronto, Cobalt, Port Arthur, Winnipeg; Regina, one branch to British Columbia, through Crow's Nest and main highway via Saskatoon, Yellow Head, Fort George and Prince Rupert.

Torby, gave a "turn" on his own account which was far more amusing than many a turn at the London music halls. It was a skit on a scene at the Cannes Golf Club, when many well-known characters were good-naturedly "taken off," and provoked much laughter among the audience, many of the members of which saw themselves caricatured by the boy. The grand duke and his daughters may be seen most days on the golf links, indulging in their favorite game, and the girls are such good players that they give their father quite a good game; indeed, the grand duchess has made his best effort when playing with his younger daughter, who has beat him before now.

Queen of Scots' Necklace It is generally understood in town and country that the Highmanner—an increasing and very knowledgeable coterie—that the famous Mary Queen of Scots necklace of black pearls worn by her at her execution at Fotheringhay Castle on February 8th, 1587, has been bought for $100,000 by Mrs. Belmont of New York. This necklace has an extraordinary and romantic history. It was lost sight of for many years, and Andrew Lang asserts that it was stolen from the queen's neck by the executioner, a "Jolly" Scotsman who knew its value. The pearls vanished from human ken.

About three years ago a London lady, a title, whose husband has a shooting box in Scotland, was rumormongering in an old curiosity shop in a small Highmanner street, a string of blackish "beads" which rather took her fancy and offered $5 for them. The man was sceptical. She brought her find, of which she did not know the value, back to town with her and showed to be wearing the necklace one day at luncheon at the Savoy. A man who was present and who was supposed to know something about pearls asked to look at it, and after examining it carefully, said:—

"Do you know you are wearing a historic necklace? I have studied this sort of thing closely, and I believe these are the beads of the Mary Queen of Scots pearls." The owner laughed at the absurd suggestion, but as a wise and cautious woman she took them to a firm of court jewellers, the finest and trustworthiest experts in the world. They examined the necklace, fully convinced of the previous opinion, and offered to buy it for $60,000. Mildly accepted the price, and to her credit be it said, sent $100,000 to the curiosity shop keeper in Scotland.

The erstwhile "beads"—now historical black pearls—remained with the jeweller until recently, when Mrs. Belmont—lucky woman—bought them at the aforesaid curiosity shop. The pearls are not in themselves intrinsically very valuable, having to a certain extent, "perished" as the jeweller would do, but their authenticity is undoubted, and anyhow pearls have risen in value in the market, at least 100 per cent. in the last five years. There is a genuine Marie Antoinette pearl necklace now in the market for which the owner asks $250,000, but no purchaser has yet turned up.

Which Cooks Quickest?

EVEN a child knows that it takes longer to cook a thick slice of steak than it does to cook a thin slice of bacon.

This homely illustration shows you precisely the difference between average rolled oats and Tillson's Rolled Oats.

The flakes of average rolled oats are thick and uneven. They can't cook very quickly or very evenly.

Notice the flakes in a box of Tillson's—so delicately and uniformly thin. It's because of this that the heat gets through them and quickly reduces their various elements into a perfectly cooked state 15 minutes is enough.

Tillson's Oats

To Fry Oatmeal Porridge Cook the porridge the Tillson way. Pack in small, graded round or oblong tins and let stand until cold and solid. Remove from the box, slice thin, dip in flour and saute in hot fat. If desired fried in deep fat, the slices must be covered with egg and bread crumbs.

Your grocer has Tillson's. Two sizes—10c and 25c. Each 25c package contains a handsome piece of English Porcelain Tableware.

DUKE OFFERS TROPHY. Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The Duke of Devonshire has presented to the Minto Skating Club of Ottawa, as first custodian a beautiful trophy to represent the figure skating championship of the world. TAXI CRIMP CUT TOBACCO TAXI has been a long time coming. Ever since a terrified servant threw a bucket of water over Sir Walter Raleigh, thinking his master on fire, man has been growing, maturing, and blending tobacco—ever aiming for a tobacco that would soothe and comfort men in their leisure hours, without unpleasant associations or annoying after-effects. TAXI has arrived. It may not be the last word in tobaccos—let us be modest—but in our opinion it will realize the ideal of most smokers. Perhaps you will find it the tobacco you hoped to get some day. TAXI costs the whole sum of ten cents for a good-sized tin. Next time you need tobacco—make a change—ask for TAXI. Dont forget—the name's TAXI.

Know a Lot About Dogs. (Boston Globe.) A company of men advocating the high ideals in the dog show game, and primarily for the sports sake, make the Eastern Dog Club, which aims to give this city one of the greatest exhibitions at the all-breed show in April at Mechanic's Building in the history of Boston bench exhibits. Already there has been offered a list of special prizes that includes 90 or more 410 cups and several $50 and $25 trophies, and the latest is a $100 trophy just offered by a friend of the bird dog.

This prize is for the best pointer or setter, and will be won outright. The offering is to secure a bona-fide bird dog on the bench. No dog will be eligible unless it has been shot over at least two seasons in the United States of Canada, and has at least 25 birds to its credit. No dog will be allowed to compete for this special unless a certificate duly attested by witnesses accompanies the entry. Needless to say owners of the hunting dogs will meet a great sport to land this prize. Money prizes of $40, $20 and $15 have just been added to the special, those for the owners or handlers having the largest entries.

The men back of the show movement are well known in Boston. George S. West, of Chestnut Hill, identified with banking interests, is the president of the Eastern Dog Club and the All-Breed Club of New England. He was a Harvard athlete and earned his "I" in the game with Yale in 1909. He has bred and owned many track and field champions, one of the best of which being Ganecock Dazler. He is also interested in the whip-pet dog.

James L. Little of Brookline, vice-president, is a kennel of the most noted Scottish terriers in America, among them Newcastle Vindictor and Newcastle Flashlight. He has shown dogs for many years.

W. Prescott Whitford of Rosbury, son of the late Governor Whitford, treasurer of the club, has a very large kennel of splendid siredals, Irish and Manchester terriers, one of the best being Ch. Lomero Sorcerer. Not long ago he purchased the Irish terrier ch. Thurncroft Sportsman and the imported siredal, Soudan Stamboul.

T. Dickson Smith of Weyland, the club secretary, after having had a most successful career with bull terriers, is now trying to popularize Manchester terriers. His English Terrier won at New York and Boston shows. He is service-president of the Bull Terrier Club of America, and his champion Edgewood Dorothy was defeated only once in four years. He is regarded as one of the best judges of the bull terrier in the United States.

L. Loring Brooks, of South Sudbury, one of the best committeemen, is president of the Irish Terrier Club of America, owner of the Irish kennels, and one of the oldest men in the game. He is the Irish terrier specialist at the Country Club last spring.

Arnold Lavender is one of the best judges of the English bulldog in the country, and is a judge at the show. He is a member of important committees in the club, and no doubt he will have one of the largest and most formidable entries. The 1910 match between his French bulldog, Nowal Nabob, and his father, ch. Nellie Gamin, will be one of the features of the April Boston show.

Do Your Hands Chap? For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bites, etc., Zam-Buk is the best known balm. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel, and then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed. Mrs. A. P. Phillips, of Ayers Cliff, Que., says: "I suffered terribly from chapped hands. At times my hands were so sore that I could almost have cried with the pain. I tried Zam-Buk and in a very short time my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them, and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight, it healed my hands completely."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for piles, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

An Ancient Schooner (Portland, Me., Express) The second oldest schooner in the United States is now tied up at Red Beach, nine miles from Ocala, her home port. She is the Hiram, and she was built twelve years later than the famous old Polly. Her keel was laid down at Biddeford in 1819, and since she was launched the little two-masted schooner has led a strenuous life up and down the Atlantic coast. Although the vessel has been repaired time and again, she still has her original keel and bottom, which are in good condition. She is 69.5 feet long, has a crew tonnage of 67 tons, and carried a crew of three. For many years after she was built, the Hiram was commanded by members of the Cook family of that city, and she is now owned by Elmer McDonald, of Red Beach.

To meet the requirements of persons not wishing to go to the expense of registering a letter, but desiring merely to have proof of posting, arrangements have been made by the Postmaster General of Great Britain, whereby since October 2 a certificate of posting may be obtained for one cent on application at any post office.

TY COBB TALKS OF HIS BEST DIAMOND FEATS

Tells the Fans What He Considers to Be His Best Plays in Sensational Baseball Career

Ty Cobb is credited with the following talk which is in response to a series of questions put to him. "The editor of the Baseball Magazine has supplied me with a list of questions which he assures me the great American people would like to have answered. Some of the questions are a bit personal and such as I would prefer to let someone else answer or dodge altogether, but ball players are after all a type of public servant and as such are in a way responsible to the public for their records on the diamond. As I rate the public through the pages of the Baseball Magazine, seems to have men up for cross-examination, so I will try to answer some of its questions at least as well as I can.

It is pretty hard for a ball player to write about the greatest plays he ever made. If he didn't make an occasional good play he would have to get out of the business, because that is what he is hired for. And a player in the ordinary run of luck makes so many plays that he knows are foolish and gets so many callous from his manager and fellow team mates, as well as the public that he is perhaps entitled to a little satisfaction when he has done something slightly above his average work. In any case, since the public has asked me this question, I will pardon me for trying to answer as briefly and simply as I can.

In a game at Cleveland in 1909 I was fortunate enough to score under circumstances that were a bit unusual. Detroit was one run behind when I came to the bat in the ninth inning. I hit sharply to short, who lagged on the throw, so that I fell by first base. I was safe and immediately afterward stole second. I saw that the throw to second was bad, so I kept on to third. Here I decided to take a chance on a bad throw and started for home. As I expected the throw to third was hurried and a trifle wild, so I managed to beat out the throw home by a hair, thus tying the score. Detroit finally won the game.

In Philadelphia in the season of 1910 I was on first when Delehanty singled. By doing the hurry-up act, I managed to get home on this, dodging Thomas at the plate by a very close play.

In the same city in 1911 I had great luck in base-stealing on one occasion. The in bank stock and farm lands. I have been interested in the automobile business but I shall probably not again be engaged in that enterprise as that particular field is small in the south, which is my home. I have tried the stage and frankly do not like it. It is more exhausting and nerve-racking, professional baseball, and that is saying something.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN: WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

Young-Adams Company in St. Elmo. The familiar story of the south, St. Elmo, by Augustus Evans Wilson was played at the Opera House last evening by the Young-Adams Company. It was a most interesting and well acted play. The story is a romance of the old South, and the play is a masterpiece of dramatic art. The Young-Adams Company is a well known and successful theatrical company, and their production of St. Elmo is a most interesting and well acted play.

It remained for the Ramboli Trio to claim the topmost favor with last night's audience. These talented operatic singers will long be remembered for their artistic merit which marks a new point of perfection in the maritime provinces. Their selections were as follows: The Anvil Chorus from Il Trovatore; the Toreador Song, from Carmen in solo and trio, and the sextette from Lohengrin. St. Elmo was repeated at the matinee today and again this evening together with the same programme of extra vaudeville attractions.

New Singer Makes a Hit. George Irving, the new singer who opened at the Gem on Monday, has been pleasing his audience at every show, and yesterday, in his singing of "The Roarers," was particularly well received. He has a voice of much power and sweetness, and from the very start of his engagement has been creating admirers among the patrons of the Gem. In addition to this, yesterday, there was the first presentation of a strong romantic drama by the Selig Co., "The Mate of the Alden Bessie," a story of two castaways on a lonely island, their romantic love affair, and exciting adventures after being washed ashore. The Biograph Co. presents a tender home story, "A Sister's Love," portraying the devoted manner in which a true-hearted girl kept a promise even though she sacrificed her life to do so. This playlet was exceptionally well acted. Plenty of good clean fun was offered in the Eassey musical comedy, "A Ragtime Love Affair," which abounded in comical incidents of a nature bound to raise a laugh. The orchestra also had a choice new programme.

Whenever the employees of the Perry Mill at Ferrisville, Mass., want a drink of water they are obliged to go into Connecticut to get it. The mill is half in one state and half in the other, so the men have merely to cross the room to get their drink. The new Massachusetts law forbidding the use of a common drinking cup is responsible for the keeping of the water pail in Connecticut.

Murchie, of Cambridge, secretary of the commission, arrived in the city last evening from Fredericton, where they held a meeting with the Canadian commissioners yesterday. They will leave again for their homes this evening.

Speaking to a Times reporter this morning, Mr. Murchie spoke highly of their new chairman, Al. G. Teed, but regretted that the resignation of A. P. Barnhill, necessitating the selection of a new chairman, would mean considerable delay in their work until the new chairman had become familiar with the ground that has already been covered. He hoped, however, that they would be able to take rapid progress this summer, and would be able to show some definite results before the end of the year.
