HYDRO SAVES HIM
$43.50 A MONTH

Plain Talk from One of the Largest Users in Sussex

Musquash is Perfect Solution of Light and Power Problem—An Invitation to St. John Doubters.

Imperial Theatre, Sussex, N. B., March 24, 1923.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir—A few days ago the St. John Journal published one of its characteristic articles knocking hydro in every way. This should not be allowed to pass without comment.

Personally it makes no difference to me whether St. John accepts cheap light and power or continues to be bled by a monopoly, but when the Journal attempts to drag Sussex into its argument it is time to flatly contradict it.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am perhaps the largest consumer of current here and know what I am talking about. I have been using hydro for about a month and am enthusiastic over its benefits.

While the Journal stretches every possible point to belittle hydro, I would like to state just exactly how I find it. That paper glazes over its statement that Messrs. Torrie & Winter, of Moncton, consider putting in an auxiliary stand-by power house, engine, generator and everything complete to supply continuous 110 volt current to about 200 lamps.

Since the advent of hydro I have entirely dismantled this plant, and have sold most of it. Nothing has yet occurred to show me that I have made a mistake.

The Journal further claims that Winter & Torrie lost four night's business at their theatres through failure of current. I am not even connected with the same length of time and have lost only one night—and even this under circumstances which would blame on a defective system.

When we consider that this line was constructed during the more severe winter in many years and that the work was done necessarily of only a temporary character, the wonder is that it is so successful.

The engineers have explained this and every reason why it is so successful. It is so successful because it is so permanent work is yet to be done as so improved weather permits.

I have seen hydro in operation in many upper Canadian cities, and have not the slightest doubt but that Musquash will equal any of them and be a perfect solution of the light and power problem.

It seems too bad that St. John should still run time to time and waste so much valuable time and money squabbling while towns as small as Sussex accepted the proposition, issued bonds for sufficient amount, rushed the work and had it completed in a few days and had made an actual move in the matter.

The worst feature of all is the fact that a newspaper, which would naturally be expected to have the interests of the city at heart, seems to be doing all in its power to hold it back and prevent it from enjoying the benefits which are within its grasp.

I have even heard bores dragged into the matter and the hydro enterprise praised or commended according to the political views of the speaker. This may save a few, but not the broader minded. I am a dyed-in-the-wool conservative, and on general principles would do anything in my power to defeat the present government. Yet, were hydro the issue of an election I would work hard to support it.

Just as a word to compare costs. I use about 400 k.w.h. per month, for which I have been paying under the old system 17 cents. This amounts to $68. For hydro I pay 10 cents for the first 80 k.w. and 6 cents for all excess. This amounts to $25.20, a clear saving of $42.80 per month. I also have four meters, and as there is no meter rental this means the saving of another dollar per month.

This is not the only advantage. Formerly we had an obsolete 133 cycle current which could not be used for power, and to make matters worse even this was only available at night. During the day we had no current of any kind. Under the new system we have a continuous 24-hour service for any purpose—light, power or heat—and at a most reasonable price.

Here is another illustration: In another place of business of mine I have discarded the engine and am installing motors. I am not even keeping an engine for a stand-by, and I am doing this in the face of the Journal's statements and its allegations re Messrs. Torrie & Winter.

If the St. John Journal persists in throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of modern progress, it is up to you to fight it, but it is only monkey time in interfering with the affairs of Sussex.

We have had hydro for a month. We are delighted with it and do not need the Journal's sympathy. If anyone in St. John can still reasonably doubt the benefits of hydro I would advise them to spend a couple of dollars and a couple of hours on a trip to Sussex to satisfy themselves. A talk with any of the citizens and a glance at the brilliantly lighted streets would soon dispel all doubts.

FARM STRIKE IN ENGLAND SPREADS
UNEASINESS GROWS AS SPRING WEATHER COMES—KING'S WORKMEN REFUSE TO QUIT

London, March 28.—The spread of the agricultural strike to parts of Lincolnshire and Cambridgeshire is causing anxiety lest it extend to an even wider area. The uneasiness is emphasized by the sudden appearance of spring weather, for the farmers are obliged to see a golden opportunity to get their work done.

In Norfolk agriculture is seriously dislocated. It is said that the workers on King George's farms have refused to obey the strike order, although many laborers on estates rented from the king answered the call.

The leaders of the men insist that all must strike even though the wages and hours paid them are satisfactory. Complete good feeling is said to exist between the farmers and their employees.

FRENCH OFFICER IN THE SARRE IS ATTACKED

London, March 28.—A despatch from Neunkirchen, a few miles from Treves, according to the Times' Dusseldorf correspondent, reports an attack under cover of darkness, and the severe ill-treatment of the local commandant, Captain Deschamps, by a gang of men. This is the first time a French officer has been attacked in the Sarre region since 1918.

Dusseldorf, March 28.—In contrast to the recently reported tendency of the workers here to let down in their resistance to the occupation forces, there now is noticeable a distinct movement in the opposite direction, which has been growing during the last few days and which the French do not attempt to deny.

HORRORS OF SLAVE TRAFFIC ARE REVIVED IN AFRICA

British and French Take Grips With Dealers in Human Beings—Thousands Being Sold in Abyssinia.

(Canadian Press.)
London, March 28.—Revival of the slave traffic in Africa, on which subject the League of Nations has promised to act next September, is causing the French and British Governments serious concern. It is declared that thousands of human beings are being marketed in Abyssinia and the French Government has discovered that monthly shipments of slaves are passing through the port of Ladjourah, in French Somaliland, from which traffic the local sultan, it is alleged, derives a fee of $1 a head on all slaves shipped to Arabia.

British naval units are endeavoring to deal with the situation in the Red Sea and Persian Gulf, and are meeting with some success. British vessels recently have been shelling villages along the Oman coast in connection with the campaign against slavery. They recently discovered a convoy of slaves proceeding from French Somaliland and believed to have come from Abyssinia.

PARLIAMENT WILL ADJOURN TODAY FOR EASTER RECESS

Interim Supply Bill Passed Yesterday—Report on the C. N. R. Presented.

(By Canadian Press)
Ottawa, March 28.—In the House of Commons yesterday an interim supply bill, granting to the government one-sixth of the estimates for the next two months, was passed without debate.

On the motion to go into supply General J. A. Clark, Conservative, charged the government with breaking faith with the British Columbia salmon canners in the matter of reducing fishing licenses to Orientals by forty per cent of last year's total, instead of ten per cent, as increased in June last.

The government's action was defended by the Minister of the Interior, Hon. Ernest Lapointe and other speakers, including British Columbia members.

Hon. George P. Graham, acting Minister of Railways, brought down his annual statement of the Canadian National Railways, showing a deficit for the year ended December 31, 1922, of $6,251,845, including fixed charges, as compared with $7,262,275 the previous year.

The Crown's Nest rates on grain had been reduced by the National Agricultural Union, and the Minister stated. He expressed confidence in the future of the system.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen spoke briefly before adjournment of the debate on the railway estimates.

Three items in Labor Department estimates were passed before adjournment.

Estimates of the Department of Labor were taken in the House late last night and the items of $50,000 for Publication of Labor Act, including publication of the Labor Gazette; $50,000 for the administration of the Employment Offices Co-ordination Act, were passed.

Today in Parliament
In the House of Commons today the House will take up estimates for labor, and the Immigration Department. The House will adjourn today for the Easter recess. The next sitting will be on Monday, April 9.

DISSATISFIED OVER PALESTINE

Peers Advocate Change in British Policy—Say it is a Failure.

London, March 28.—(Canadian Press)—Speaking in the House of Lords yesterday several peers urged a radical change in the British policy in Palestine. The Duke of Devonshire, Secretary of State for the Colonies, replying for the Government, promised to give the suggested publication of the pledge serious consideration. He admitted that only 107 out of a possible 670 Moslem secondary electors had up to the present been returned in the election in Palestine. The Minister said that the present legislation was the first step toward solving the problem.

MUSICIANS FOR MORE MONEY

New York, March 28.—The majority of musicians employed in the theatres and motion picture houses of New York have voted for a strike to enforce a wage increase of from $12 to $25 a week, so Paul Vaccarelli, business manager of the Musicians Mutual Protective Union, announced last night. The musicians now need $32 for a seven day week, including two rehearsals. It was said that approximately 200 musical, burlesque, vaudeville and motion picture shows would be affected by the strike. The union claims 3,000 members.

SAY PORT DUES AT DUNDEE TOO HIGH

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "have you bought your new Easter hat?"
"I was thinking," said Hiram, "of just hating a few icicles on them, to be in style for the season—an' let it go at that. Hanner hes to buy some furs for April—an' it's been so cold the hens ain't layin'—so we're just gatin' go along easy-doin'."
"I'll lay you a bet," said the reporter, "that the Easter trade will be just as bright and flowery as if the trees were budding."
"Oh—i dassay," said Hiram. "It wouldn't be Easter if things didn't brighten up a bit. An' then there these storekeepers makes you buy. When Hanner reads the ads in the Times she thanks the Lord she's livin' out to the Settlements for she says if she was in town she'd be doin' nothin' but racin' from one store to another, lookin' over them bargains. Comin' out for a snow-tramp tramp this week. An' kin walk right over fenses anywheres. The thing that puzzles me is whether this is last winter or next winter we're havin' now—yes, sir."

Pessimistic About Success of Farmers On Western Lands

(By Canadian Press)
Ottawa, March 28.—Do you think then that as a commercial proposition farming can be made a success in the west? Asked Mr. Elliott, Progressive of Waterloo, in a special election at the Legislature yesterday.

"On behalf of two million Irishmen in Great Britain, mostly of the working classes, attached to the Russian Revolution, and historical sympathies, I appeal to your Government in their and your country's best interests not to sacrifice the lives of Archbishop Zepalik and his colleagues."

In the British House yesterday Sir Robert Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, said the only Scottish ports where landing places for Canadian store cattle had been approved by the Ministry of Agriculture were Glasgow and Dundee, which could accommodate 1,000 and 950 cattle respectively.

Party Leaders In Agreement Re Grand Falls Development

Veniot, Richards and Fawcett Address Delegates From Northern Towns—Stimulate Manufacturing, Aid Farming, Halt Migration Southward—Government Backed Up in Refusal to Extend Present Private Franchise.

MEXICAN GENERAL GARCIA KILLED

(Special To The Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., March 28.—The Leaders of the three parties in the Legislature were practically unanimous this morning in replying to the large delegation from the northern section of the province and Fredericton as well that came to urge the development of the power at Grand Falls.

Premier Veniot's reply to the delegates was in effect that if the cost of the development and the prospect of a market for the power and the likelihood of a stimulation of industry following the availability of the power, justified undertaking the work, then it certainly would be done. To get possession of all the data might take two or three months—it might take a year.

Should it be demonstrated that the development was justified, then a decision would have to be made on the question of whether the province should undertake and carry out the work on its own or whether a private company should do it with the public approval.

C. D. Richards, Leader of the official Opposition, endorsed the general position taken by the Premier and A. Chase Fawcett, Leader of the Progressives, said that the enterprise would have the support of the Progressive party also.

The delegation was an impressive one, representing the towns of Edmundston, Grand Falls, Dalhousie, Woodstock, St. Leonard and Fredericton, as well as Boards of Trade and municipalities.

Hon. J. A. Michael, Minister without portfolio, introduced the speakers who numbered thirteen and who presented their case so concisely that it took just fifty-five minutes for them all to say what they had to say.

DEVELOPMENT IN MODEL CASE

Son of Attorney General to be Questioned re Blackmail

Effort to Get Money from Major Daugherty Because of Acquaintance With the Girl Murdered in New York.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, March 28.—Ferdinand Pecora, acting district attorney, last night addressed a letter to Major Draper M. Daugherty, only son of the U. S. Attorney General, requesting that he lay before New York authorities all the information he possessed concerning a blackmail conspiracy involving Dorothy Keenan, slain model, and John K. Mitchell, the murderer.

The name of a man alleged by Major Daugherty to have attempted to blackmail him because of his acquaintance with Dorothy Keenan, the murderer, was understood to be in possession of Mr. Pecora today. A morning newspaper published the announcement that it had furnished the name to Mr. Pecora.

From Major Daugherty himself the Assistant District Attorney hoped to learn the identity of the man and the details of his attempted intimidation. Mr. Pecora believed the information might link with what has of a projector $100,000 blackmail attempt on John K. Mitchell, son-in-law of E. T. Stotesbury, who was the "Mr. Marshall" of the case.

"I do not say Major Daugherty's information will lead to the discovery of the murderer of Dorothy Keenan, but I do say it is of great importance," said Mr. Pecora, and urged the prominent Major Daugherty in coming forward with greater frankness than most witnesses.

People Eager to Sign for Hydro Service—West Side Distribution System.

Roy A. Willett, secretary-accountant of the Civic Power Commission, said this morning that yesterday afternoon the canvassers had had to date, eighty per cent of those spoken to had signed contracts. It was found that many people were moving and that they were more or less unsettled but it was felt that when they became settled there would be no difficulty in obtaining their signatures.

With regard to a statement that has been made to the effect that a canvasser for the civic commission had told a resident of the North End that if he did not sign the contract he would not be able to get electric current from the power company as the city is intending to take over the poles in that section Mr. Willett said that it was not necessary for the city's canvassers to use that canvas to obtain signatures.

Harry Wilson, engineer to the civic power commission, said this morning that he was busy on the matter of the West Side distribution system and expected to have it up this week. Tenders for the outdoor sub-station switching equipment closed tomorrow morning, he said.

DAYLIGHT TIME WAR IN MONTREAL

Thousands Petition for Saving; Many Organizing in Opposition.

Montreal, March 28.—Petitions signed by about 20,000 employees in Montreal were received by the Montreal Daylight Saving Association yesterday, to be forwarded to the city council, for daylight time. These include 6,000 signatures from the staff and employees of the C. P. R. among shops.

Declaring that ninety per cent of the people of Montreal are opposed to daylight saving, a gathering of representatives of all unions met here last night to plan to present to the city council thousands of signatures protesting against any advance in summer time.

Mayor Martin approved of the idea of workers marching down to the City Hall on next Monday to offer a promised invasion of those who will present the opposite view.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES ARE URGED

Concerted Action by Maritime Governments is Proposed

Discussed in N. S. House—Welsford Macdonald Suggests Appointment of a Railway Freight Expert to Report.

(Halifax Chronicle) Concerted action on the part of the three Governments of the Maritime Provinces in placing the demands for lower freight rates on the Intercolonial Railway before the Railway Commission, and the appointment of a railway freight expert by the three provinces in order to make a comprehensive presentation of the rate question, was urged by Mr. Welsford Macdonald (Picton), before the House of Assembly, when he moved his freight resolution yesterday afternoon. This resolution passed unanimously.

In introducing his resolution respecting freight rates Mr. Macdonald pointed out that it was a move to get concerted action on the part of the Governments of the three Maritime Provinces to place the demands for lower freight rates before the Railway Commission, and to take steps to obtain expert advice so that their demands may be placed in as comprehensive and effective form as possible. The rates of freight transportation between the Maritime Provinces and Upper Canada are seriously affecting industrial and commercial life in these provinces, he said, and only combined action by the Governments of the provinces affected would be likely to remedy the unsatisfactory state of affairs. He went deeply into the history of Maritime railways, and pointed out that the Maritime Provinces are in a peculiar position, having only one line and no opposition.

He referred to the transfer of the management of the Intercolonial line to the Canadian National Railway management when the fixing of freight rates was taken out of the hands of the Railway Commission. But he pointed out that their task now was easier in that the Commission had again been placed in control of the rates and would be the tribunal before which they must take their request for reduction.

It was absolutely necessary, he said, that they go before the Commission with all the resource and force that could be mustered. Respecting the clause in the resolution calling for the securing of a freight rates expert, he argued that the complexity of the freight rate tariff was such that only an expert could understand, and he said there were those in Canada who made a profession of this work and could be obtained by the Government to draw up their demands intelligently.

Reason for Complaint. The complaints in the rest of Canada in this matter were justified, he said, those of the Maritime Provinces were doubly so. The evidence given before the Parliamentary Committee of the House of Commons which investigated the freight rate question last year showed that the Western Provinces were complaining of increases of from 15 to 40 per cent. These were low compared with increases of freight rates in the Maritime Provinces, where for instance, the rate on lumber was increased 80 per cent.; on pulp wood, 95 per cent.; on fruit, 65 per cent.; on coal, from 80 to 185 per cent., according to the distances. I say that we of the Maritime Provinces have a greater reason to complain than the people of the rest of Canada.

The people of the Maritime Provinces were in a peculiar position in regard to railway matters. In this province there was only one railway, the Intercolonial, connecting the province with the rest of Canada. This road was built at the time of Confederation for two reasons: First, military purposes and national defence. Secondly, as one of the terms of entering Confederation to foster inter-provincial trade. The first of these reasons is today of no importance but the second reason was of vital importance.

A Confederation Bargain. The road was built as one of the terms of the Confederation Pact and to give the advantages of the Upper Canadian markets to Nova Scotia in lieu of those she was losing in the United States through going into the Dominion. The Government at Ottawa at that time knew why the road was built and fixed the rates so as to encourage the industries of this province. The local agents inquired and notified headquarters if any industry were adversely affected by the rates and adjustment was immediately made. This policy was continued until 1916 by the Government at Ottawa, no matter what party was in power. But in 1916 new rates were made by the management of the Canadian National Railway without ever consulting any industry or people.

Premier Armstrong said the resolution was one to which no exception could be taken. But he said, in procuring the services of a freight rate expert he thought the man secured should be able not only to understand freight tariffs, but to understand and interpret their influence upon Maritime conditions.

He spoke of a conversation he had had few days ago with Sir Henry Thornton's assistant, and said that he felt confident the Maritime Provinces would shortly experience a change in railway affairs that would be very beneficial and gratifying.

Realising Co-operation. The question with which the member for Picton had dealt with such care and study was of vital concern to the Maritime Provinces. There was no matter more keenly felt by the commercial interests of these provinces than the high freight rates. Shortly after assuming office the Premier said that he had taken up the matter privately with the Premier of New Brunswick, and the Premier of Prince Edward Island. He had a letter from the Premier of New Brunswick endorsing the proposals he had made and expressing himself quite willing to co-operate with the Maritime Provinces in the matter.

Mr. Armstrong then referred to the constitutional rights with regard to the Intercolonial Railway. Certain it was that had the people of these provinces not been impressed with the promises at the time of Confederation that the railway would be constructed for the development of inter-provincial trade, they would have given far more serious consideration to entering that contract of Confederation. "Whatever that contract of Confederation was it must be carried out," the Premier declared.

It was very important that the constitutional rights of the province under the Act should be well established. It should also be learned whether from that aspect the Government was doing right to link up the Intercolonial with the Canadian National Railway.

Band, Arena tonight. TRAMP DOGS. "Why is it," said a citizen today, "that this city is over-run with tramp dogs?" Commissioner Frink once had a dog catcher on duty and he did a lot of good. I am a dog-owner but I never allow it on the street unless with one of my family. Dogs are howling and barking all hours of the night in the residential district. They should not be allowed on the street unless on a leash.

A Talk on Beauty And a 5 Room Home

The Home is fully laid out in our three double windows, and a reference to it should also stress value, for it is a wonderful stretch on $1,685. The contents were briefly listed yesterday, so today we'll consider just part. The Black Walnut Dining Room Suite and the Mahogany Bed Room—both designed a century and more ago by Sheraton, the man who brought furniture to the perfection of form achieved in Greek sculpture by Phidias twenty odd centuries since. Gentle, upright taperings, evenly spaced widths, restrained curves, studies in proportion. Delicate and tiny ornamentations, fine inlays, grooves or carvings—none before or after were like Sheraton. And no harmonies are so subdued in attaining excellence as these creations of Sheraton the immortal.

In laying out five rooms we tried to retain the spirit of Sheraton, sacrificing nothing in taste or richness of material. We grouped the best of everything and did it on $1,685. Show yourself that Home.

SIR MICHAEL SADLER SPEAKS IN FREDERICTON

A Fine Address on Education and What It Means to the Peoples of the World.

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, March 27—A large audience was present at the city Opera House tonight when Sir Michael Sadler, K.C.S.I., C.B., LL.D., vice-chancellor of the University of Leeds, Eng., delivered the opening address of his lecture tour of Canada, under the auspices of the National Education Council. The Earl of Ashburnham occupied the chair. Others upon the platform were His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Todd, Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick; Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, principal of the Provincial Normal School, and His Worship Mayor Reid. During the day Sir Michael visited the University of New Brunswick and expressed particular interest in the forestry. Later he visited the office of Lieutenant-Governor Todd and also the House of Assembly where the debate on the budget was in progress.

Sir Michael tonight outlined the great change which had taken place in education in the continent of Europe since the war. In Scotland, always considered classic ground, renewed attention was being given, and in England there had been general improvement including greatly improved salaries of teachers and a comprehensive national pension scheme.

The speaker divided education into three sections. The first of which the mother training, which should include in solution all the elements of liberal education. This would be given by the mother. Following that would be the education of the younger children which would gradually expand to include what is generally recognized as education. Thirdly, there would be adult education, for liberal education can never end, but is a life process. It was a part of the happiness of the cultivated life. In this connection it was realized in Europe that improvement in the education of adults was necessary.

Europe reasons for economy had compelled them to do what never had been done before, to ascertain what actually was the cost of education. In his own University of Leeds it was found to a shilling what it cost to educate a student and further a calculation was made on the basis of the scale of salaries which it was hoped might be put into effect for the members of the teaching staff.

In this connection he wished to point out that education was the great stabilizing influence. It was not revolutionary in its tendency. In the present tendency toward disturbance in many countries it was a quieting influence. Labor and capital had been having numerous disputes which were terribly costly to other elements in the population. These disputes would have to become things of the past.

The modern movement in education was an indication that the world was moving from the old culture to a new. It may be that the future education would be absorbed by conversation, relationship and contact with one's fellows. That state of affairs was the goal of modern education.

Chancellor Jones moved the vote of thanks which was seconded by Dr. Bridges in the course of appropriate remarks.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 28, 1923.

MR. GIVAN'S LETTER.

The Times commends to every citizen of St. John the letter of Mr. C. F. Givan of Sussex which appears in this issue. Mr. Givan is one of the largest users of hydro in Sussex. He tells us it saves him $42.50 per month. He declares his belief that Musquash is the perfect solution of the light and power problem. He says he is a Conservative and opposed to the present Government at Fredericton, but if hydro is to be made an issue he will support it.

Those in St. John who have believed in and fought for hydro will appreciate the words of Mr. Givan, and no citizen can be blind to the significance of what he says. His reference to the dilatory methods of St. John will perhaps make an impression upon some minds where such an impression is needed; and his allusion to influences in the city which appear to be working against the city's best interests shows that people outside of St. John are watching events here and are pretty well informed on the whole subject. Sussex had faith. Its people were not divided. There was no section tied up or standing up for a monopoly. They realized what cheap light and power would mean and they went after it. The lesson is obvious.

It is gratifying to learn that the citizens generally are not deceived by the Power Company propaganda. This paper was able yesterday to record the fact that of twenty persons canvassed by one pair of canvassers nineteen signed up for hydro. Thereby they proved their faith in their own city. There is nothing to fear. All the current Civic Power Commission has to sell will be absorbed within a reasonable period. The city has only to get its distribution system completed and the people will do the rest. It is their power, and they will use it.

SUGAR AND THE TARIFF.

Secretary Hoover says the rise in the price of sugar in the United States is without an economic justification, and the New York Tribune says— "It recalls the inflation which followed the period of war sugar price control. Sugar behaved with admirable restraint under the war regime. It had to. But when the Wilson Administration let the regulation machinery fall to pieces, profiteers and speculators more than doubled war prices. The public was disgusted and went on strike. Sugar was cheaper than it had been in war time. It is difficult to corner the sugar. Overproduction is more common than underproduction. There is a world surplus now, Mr. Hoover announces. The consumer will be all right if only he does not get stampeded."

The Tribune agrees that the recent inflation may have been due to unfair trade combinations, but it wants to know if the tariff also had not something to do with it. Thus— "The Fordney-McCumber sugar rates, burdensome in themselves, may also set up a barrier behind which price manipulation can be practised. Mr. Hoover does not say who started the boost in sugar prices. It would be well, however, for the Tariff Commission to determine whether the Fordney-McCumber schedule is not being used as a screen for artificial price inflation."

All has not been plain sailing with the new American tariff. The feeling grows that the scale of rates is too high, and that the trade of the country must suffer as a consequence. If it can be shown that the consumer also suffers in the prices he pays for commodities the feeling of dissatisfaction will become more general and the interests of the Republican party will suffer.

The City Council of Moncton has found it necessary to repudiate the propaganda put forward in St. John by the enemies of hydro and champions of the New Brunswick Power Company. The story is told in an article reprinted in this issue from the Moncton Times. The Power Company champions have over-reached themselves. They stand exposed, both in Moncton and in Sussex, as well as in St. John.

Now we are told there is "hydro failure at Edmundston." What is the purpose of all this propaganda? It is aimed at the people of St. John, to induce them to hand Musquash over to the New Brunswick Power Company.

The development of the power at Grand Falls is the next logical step in the power-at-cost policy of the Provincial Government.

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hatton

NO CONTEST—STILL, INTERESTING.

His Play—You women are mighty cute, I'll admit to the populace of the world. A man who fancies himself subtle and clever and shrewd ought to take a few squints at a modern wife's quiet but effective little method—maybe he might pick up a few ideas of technique that would help him win wars, or pile up a million, or learn how to drive a car without profanity. Fact is, a woman is so clever that she gets everything she wants in life with ease and doesn't have to ask for it. That's where her superior technique comes in—she doesn't ask for anything. The clever woman who has the most in life is the one who asks the least. And we men are seldom aware that we are getting the works. Yes, the works. You know perfectly well that all women are so cagey, so adept, so adroit, so deft, so really mistresses of the jolly old art of psycho-suggestion of that's the rights word—that they don't need to be acquainted with the language or the customs of the country to get all they require. You know the old stuff—"Beauty in Distress." Just let a woman—she doesn't even have to be a beauty—just let any woman stand stock still in that make-up, with that town with a perplexed look on her face and the first fifty men who come along will stop and ask if they can do anything for her. And she can have anything they've got, from a dollar bill to the loan of an umbrella or a closed sedan car. It certainly is extraordinary how you women do it—and for pity's sake, don't deny it. You know it's true!

TO SIR HENRY NEWBOLT.

(Jennie Stark Hill) O singer of the sea kings! Their sons have wandered wide, Yet thou canst see them with them. The ancient loaves abide; Honor, and truth, and justice, With freedom at their side.

Here, once an Empire's outpost, A lonely trading place, Stands now a youthful city, Who carries in her face The glory of her lineage. And augury of race.

AT IT AGAIN.

The ways are being greased to launch another campaign to bring the City, and the Power Company together, with the City inside of the Company, in the traditional lamb and lion fashion. One scheme is to get prominent citizens to say something and then give that something a twist which would make it appear to mean what it does not mean. All this propaganda is aimed at the City, as if the City were at fault. The position of the City was made plain, however, in the Fisher platform. The people endorsed that platform, which set forth their determination. If the Power Company accepted the terms, well and good. It did not do so. It rejected them. There is, therefore an end of the matter. Any change in the personnel of the Company has no bearing whatever upon the question. The City has decided to get light and power at cost, and it will not swell that cost by giving the Power Company an exorbitant price for its plant. Neither will it consent to give the Company control of Musquash. The city is thinking not merely of this year, but of the future, and it wants to ensure light and power at cost for all time to come. We are again told by Power Company propagandists that members of the Legislature are keenly interested in this matter. They should be, for if Musquash were used to put profits in the pockets of a private corporation the whole power policy of the Government would collapse.

D. C. CLINCH AGAIN HEADS THE S. P. C.

Election of Officers at the Annual Meeting—F. D. Thorne Appointed Agent.

The forty-second annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty was held yesterday in the Board of Trade rooms, D. Carleton Clinch presiding. There was some discussion relative to the treatment of dogs after being caught about the streets and also regarding the ferry boats. It was thought that there is room for improvement in the former, and that relative to the latter, those should be shovelled on the floes to make hauling easier for horses with pointed local agent for the society to assist the secretary, S. M. Wetmore.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Patron, His Honor Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Dr. William Pugsley, former Lieutenant-Governor; president, D. Carleton Clinch; vice-presidents, W. L. Haman, Dr. Thomas Walker, W. F. Hatheway, A. M. Belding, H. A. Powell, K. C. F. B. Ellis, A. S. Belyea, F. A. Dyleman, A. Gordon Leavitt, LeBaron R. Wilson, J. V. McLellan and E. T. Barbour; executive committee members, W. S. Fisher, T. H. Estabrook, Thomas Bell, C. H. Ferguson, Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, W. H. Gidding, Mrs. C. J. Coster, Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. W. F. B. Moncton Council Denies Statement Re Hydro

(Moncton Times.) That the City Council of the City of Moncton did not intend to be party to any controversy in St. John city between the N. B. Power Co. and the N. B. Hydro-Electric Commission nor between any other parties with respect to hydro-electric matters was the statement made by Mayor Edgett at the last night's meeting of the City Council. The statement was made following the reading before the Council by the Mayor of an article which appeared at some length in the St. John Journal, of the date of March 26th relative to the recent interruptions of the hydro-service to the City of Moncton and as a result of which a representative of the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company endeavored to sell a private lighting plant to Moncton Theatre proprietors. Mayor Edgett made a flat denial of that part of the Moncton Council which referred to the City Council.

ROME UNDER THE FASCISTI.

It was held by a working man, for example, that the trains had always been late—one, two, sometimes three hours—but that since Mussolini's advent the trains were on time. All sorts of problems are submitted to this modern Solomon. He has just solved the vexed question as to the ownership of the pine grove at Viareggio. It belongs to Donna Bianca, the eldest daughter of the late Don Carlos of Spain and the wife of an Austrian archduke. Donna Bianca and her family lived in the royal villa, surrounded by farmlands which formed the chief source of revenue. In 1916 the town council of Viareggio wanted to appropriate the pine grove as enemy property. The archduchess protested that she was a Spanish subject and that the property was hers. Mussolini has now decided that the Archduchess may keep her villa and the pine grove, but she must give up a long stretch of pine wood of a few acres fixed and paid by the Italian Government. This slice of the "Pineta" will remain in a tall, slim man, who is a road to Torre del Lago by the town, and incidentally give an outlet to the cramped population of seafaring folk near the coast. Mussolini's decision obviates the ugly question of confiscation and provides a just settlement. If signs of Fascism are not so evident in the streets of Rome as in Florence, in the Government offices the effect of the movement is very plain. The Italians are sensitive race, and their little sign of haste. His Excellency Aldo Finzi, Under-Secretary of State for the Interior, is also a tall, slim man, who occupies the Palazzo Timinale, and the Foreign Office is in the Palazzo Chigi, a square pile of masonry built in 1526 for the famous Cardinal, who, like the Medici, acquired their wealth and power in the banking business. Between the Grand Hotel and these palatial Government offices there is a constant stream of motor cars, with their carrying cabinet ministers, under-secretaries and their secretaries, but within the beautifully decorated halls and stately rooms of former monarchs there is little sign of haste. The Ministry of the Interior occupies the Palazzo Timinale, and the Foreign Office is in the Palazzo Chigi, a square pile of masonry built in 1526 for the famous Cardinal, who, like the Medici, acquired their wealth and power in the banking business.

Whether engineering should be classified as an art has been a frequent subject of debate. The late Professor John Perry claimed for it the status of a science, but for our part we have been inclined to regard it rather as the most scientific of the arts. The distinction between a science and an art seems to lie essentially in the circumstances under which the work of an art has to be acquired by personal observation and experience, whilst science being a generalization of the rationalization of recorded experiences can be transferred readily from man to man. A vast mass of knowledge which mankind acquired at an outset with inordinate trade and an extravagant expenditure of time is summed up by science in a few leading laws and principles, a knowledge of which renders it unnecessary for the student to tax his memory with the details of the innumerable experiments and observations which have been made by the race. In no profession is greater use made of these scientific laws than in that of engineering, yet there remain large fields in which the engineer has to make good with very little aid from science. One instance often advanced is the high degree of perfection to which the reciprocating engine was brought, in spite of the large "time lag" of the science of thermodynamics. Steam engines were running successfully long before Joule had determined his equivalent, and subsequent to this many decades had to elapse before the development of thermodynamics had reached a point to be of much practical service in the drawing office. Today the harbor or lighthouse engineer stands in a very similar position to that of the earlier constructors of steam engines. He has to proportion such structures as are exposed to the sea on the basis of his personal observations and experience, much no doubt as his predecessors at Tyre and Carthage did 2,500 years ago. On the other hand, the engineers who have given us wireless telephony found ready to hand and of immediate service the resources of Clerk Maxwell. Between these two limits engineers are able to make, in very varying degrees, use of the work of the physicist and chemist.

SESSIONAL INDEMNITIES.

(Sydney Post.) Canada can afford to pay its legislators and administrators on a scale commensurate with those which prevail in other countries of equal importance, and it is certainly not paying them on a higher scale. It is true that some men get into parliament who are not worth what they get, but the fortunes of political warfare make that inevitable. Those who trifle with party questions by moving and discussing mock resolutions, such as that moved and debated by Mr. Leader the other day, should be classed with the overpaid few. The best way to remove all objections to the size of the sessional indemnity is to elect men who are worth it.

To Permit Formation Of Hydro Communities

In the Legislature last evening Premier Veniot introduced a measure to enable communities to constitute themselves into hydro electric districts. The bill was entitled "An Act to Amend the New Brunswick Electric Power Act" and was given its first reading. The bill would enable any community to be incorporated as a hydro-electric community and would empower the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to appropriate property and privileges where necessary.

RADIO DIGEST

An Experiment.
When it is difficult to get a sensitive spot on a crystal, take the discarded mineral and break it up. Place a few of the small pieces inside of metal casing and screw it into the cup of the detector. The results will be surprising, especially the quick way a good spot can be found.

For Sharp Tuning.
There are three methods of varying the inductance of a coil: (1) By means of taps; (2) by means of a slider, or (3) by means of a continuously variable inductor, such as a variometer. Sharper tuning is accomplished by inductively coupled tuners than by conductively coupled tuners, and by two circuit receivers than by single circuit receivers.

Applying Rubber to Radio Sets.
Rubber is a very useful material in radio work. Rubber stoppers to bottles make excellent knobs or tips to electrodes, adjusting rods, etc., and block or sheet rubber is very useful as an insulator in many places. To cut, use a sharp knife and keep the rubber wet with cold water, or cut it under water.

Ionization of Tubes.
When a blue glow is noticed in the vacuum tube it is an indication of "ionization." The "B" battery voltage is too high. It should be cut down, and the filament rheostat regulated. This blue glow does not decrease the sensitivity of the tube, although if repeated it will shorten the life of the tube considerably. There is a tendency on the part of many amateurs to increase the filament voltage to make the signals as loud as possible. Sometimes the "noise" that results is so strong that the music and the signals cannot be heard. The music can be greatly improved in quality if the rheostats are turned down just a little bit. Besides, the life of the tubes will be prolonged.

For the Notebook.
Radio reception is not very good in foggy weather. All joints in wires (except in binding-posts) should be soldered. It requires a lot of skill and practice to work a three-circuit set. Batteries should be protected with fuses and proper conductors. An aerial that swings from side to side will affect the receiving range of a set. To successfully operate a crystal set it is necessary that a test buzzer be employed. Aerials do not attract lightning, and if provided with a gap or lightning switch are perfectly safe. The vacuum tube is one of the most delicate devices ever invented, and should be treated accordingly. A variable grind-leak can be made with pencil marks on paper and may be altered by craning or adding lines. Less atmospheric disturbance, or "static," is had from an indoor aerial than from the ordinary open wire antenna.

RADIOGRAMS.
A radio club has been formed in Colombo, a city on the Island of Ceylon, in the Indian Ocean. Whistles in locomotives cabs to signal engineers by radio waves are being tested on railroads in France. The transmitting station 8BNU, operated by O. A. Hickey, of Bethel, Pa., has been heard in 38 States, Canada and several European countries. For the purpose of transmitting and relaying friendly messages to any city or town in America, the American Radio Relay League is an organization of wireless amateurs which has been founded in the United States and Canada. Station WHAZ at the Reppseler Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., now holds the world's record for long distance radio transmission, since spoken messages and music were recently broadcast to New Zealand. The distance is about 9,777 miles. It helps more to wear a radiant smile than radiant jewelry—Forbes Magazine (N.Y.)

NEED $1,787.96 TO LIVE ON IN BOSTON

Welfare Report Reveals that Many People There Live Below Standard.

(Boston Herald.)
The Family Welfare Society and the department of social ethics of Harvard University yesterday issued a report on results of an investigation into the living costs in dollars and cents of maintaining in Boston a normal average family under favorable conditions. The materials used in their report were collected and arranged by Stuart H. Huckins, a graduate student of the university, and the standards of living adopted for the inquiry was that prepared by the Philadelphia bureau of Statistics. Tabulation of Costs. Average annual costs are listed by the report as follows—Food, $559.09; clothing for man, $79.83; clothing for woman, $75.83; clothing for boy aged 10, $65.66; clothing for girl aged 10, $54.05; total for all clothing, $831.01; housing, $360; fuel and light, $128.51; car fare, $70.80; cleaning, supplies and services, $48.26; specified standard, $1,477.66; unspecified standard, $310.99; total cost of standard, $1,787.96. "From the foregoing analysis," says the report, "it appears that an adequate standard of living for the average family cannot be maintained in Boston today on less than $1,787.96 a year. While it would be deliberately flying in the face of well-established economic theory to suggest that this figure should form the basis of minimum wage legislation, it is nevertheless a goal toward which both governmental and private industry should work insofar as economic conditions will permit. If we can provide an adequate standard of living for the great masses of mankind, industry itself will be reflected in society at large by a higher standard of citizenship." In another section of the report details are given of the expenditures and conditions in the case of thirty budgets "representing with substantial truth," says the society, "the normal conditions at the present time among a considerable body of wage earners' families in Boston. The thirty families fall most naturally into three groups according to the size of their incomes. Nine families of the first group, averaging slightly more than five persons to the family, have incomes which average about $1,900 a year. The average annual income of the ten families in the second group, with an average of six persons to the family, is approximately $1,500 a year. The third group, there are the other eleven families, having very close to six persons to the family, with an average income of about $1,000 a year. Percentage of families is mainly American, Italian, Irish and Russian-Jewish. Average Expenses. "In the first group the average total monthly expenditure per person in a family was $27; in the second, $22, and in the third, $21. These expenditures for the month per person were distributed as follows in the three successive groups: Food, $18.50, $10 and $9.84; rent, $3.88, $3.69 and $3; sundries, $6.82, $4.26 and $3.85; leaving for clothing and fuel and lighting, together about $4 in each of the groups. "In Boston, on the basis of January rents, proper housing for the family of five could not be had for less than $5 or $6 per person; such an expenditure per month would give about one room per person, under conditions not injurious to health or character. In one of our three groups was there any higher average than four-fifths of a room per person, and the housing obtained was of such a character that the average expense per person for the month was less than $4; in the case of the eleven families of smallest income the rent expenditure per person was only $3. The population represented by the families of this study is not spending sufficient to secure housing which is up to a common-sense level of what is necessary for the welfare of the particular family and of society. "Compared with the stamper requirement of $11.20, we find that the families of the first group spent on the average, $13.50 per person for food; the families of the second group, $10, and the families of the last group, $9.80. Finds Under-Nourishment. "Although the health of the families was generally reported as fair, in some instances very good, there were several cases in which families were in bad health due to under-nourishment. "We have found the families poorly housed and just about getting normal food requirements. In the other items of expenditure, taken together, the families in each of the three groups, on the average, fall far below the level of the theoretically proper standard of living. The 'normal family' would require an income of about $185 a month in order to be properly fed and housed and still make both ends meet. "It is obvious, in any event, that the families of unskilled laborers, largely without other income than the earnings of the husband, cannot long continue independent of charitable relief if wages average less than $100 a month, as at present in Boston, other conditions remaining the same. The bulk of the population here considered falls far below that standard, and even below the reasonably good standard which permits proper food and housing and leaves the families to shift as well as they can on the other items of expenditure."

Easter Callers— Rhama Crepe, Flat Crepe and Crapella
Big doings in Afternoon Frocks—fresh colorings, fresh fabrics and the deffest of trimmings. A whole group of sporty little Dresses in Crapella, something like a Wool Canton in Grey, Caramel and Navy. The important point about them is the profusion of hand-drawn work and hand hemstitching down the front, shoulders and lower sleeves. Piping in self or contrast tints, tie neck and narrow belts. The one price—$32.50. Rhama Crepe (heavy weave Silk Crepe) is on the straight tailored mode now in such high favor. A Beige with borderings of Navy, and Beige embroidery from the round neck down and atop the tiny low pocket, $49.75.
The interesting horizontal weave of Flat Crepe is further along in fashion with Egyptian dyes in Silk Embroidery and Beading, which reappears where it drapes over the hip. The sleeve is quite short and the price $44.75. Another Navy Flat Crepe is embroidered about the neck in Silver and iridescent Sequins. This is even heavier about the waist, where those voguish new pockets are half in hiding. The full draped sleeves are well slashed—$57.75.
Now for a regular wonder—a Brown Canton with a wide Cream Lace Collar, short sleeve and heavy bandings of Brown and Gold coming down the front. At waist a Henna Watered Silk Ribbon that joins with finer Cream Lace into a large hip rosette—$64.75.
Thus do you take a peek into still another style chapter of by far the most complete pageant of the mode in the City of St. John. A choice and a price for all, and with Easter only moments away. If it's correct it's with

MISS CANADA TO NEW YORK ON THURSDAY

Spend Month Visiting Relatives—Engagements in the Provinces for Summer.

Miss Winifred Blair—Miss Canada—will leave tomorrow evening for New York where she will spend a month visiting relatives. The visit will be entirely of a private nature and Miss Blair will spend her time in rest and recreation. On this account, she has been unable to accept an invitation to attend a function to be held under the auspices of the Canadian Club of Boston.

Late in May or during the early part of June, Miss Canada and party will leave for a fishing trip under the guidance of J. Harry Allen, president of the N. B. Guides' Association, on Cain's River, York County. The party will leave Fredericton by canoe spending two nights in camp en route.

Miss Canada has accepted an invitation to be present at a carnival of volunteer firemen at Glace Bay on May 24. While in Sydney this winter she was unable to visit Glace Bay on account of her Halifax engagement. The invitation for her to attend the firemen's carnival has been received from E. Mack Forbes, barrister, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Blair has also received an invitation to attend the Woodstock opening of the harness racing circuit at Woodstock on July 12 and is planning to take in this event. She has also accepted an invitation of W. B. Snowball, president of the Chatham Exhibition Association, to be present at the opening of the Chatham fall fair in September.

TO GET $200,000 IF SHE APOLOGIZES

Mrs. Gilmour Arrives on Liner Paris to Find Reason for Codicil to Mother's Will—Denies Slandering Family.

New York, March 28.—The arrival on the French liner Paris of Mrs. Gertrude Linderman Gilmour brought to light an odd demand set forth as a codicil to the will of her mother. The will provided that if Mrs. Gilmour could inherit her share of the estate, amounting to $200,000, she must apologize for slandering remarks she was alleged to have made against the Linderman family. The apology, if one is given, must be made to B. A. Linderman, an officer of the United Machinery Company. The chief holdings of the Linderman estate are in Muskegon, Mich. it was said.

Asked if she would fulfill the terms of the will, Mrs. Gilmour, who was dressed in mourning, replied:—"I deny emphatically saying anything slanderous about our family that would result in the alienation of my mother's affection to the extent that she would put such a clause in the will. I am here to find out what it is all about. In the meantime, I am keeping my mind closed regarding the money and sticking to the principles concerned in the request."

Mrs. Gilmour said that she was allowed one year in which to reach a decision as to what she would do. As her mother died last August she said she had ample time in which to make up her mind.

J. M. Alonso Arellayas, tennis champion of Spain, arrived here for a six months' visit. He will represent his country in the next Davis Cup contest. He said that Spain has gone in for polo and tennis largely because the King has set the pace in the former sport, and the Queen has become an ardent tennis player.

Mr. Arellayas, who has industrial connection in this country, said that Spain was one of the best electrically illuminated countries of Europe, even the villagers having their homes lighted by electricity.

Leonard Kennedy of the engineering and construction company bearing his name, returned from Italy, where he drew up a contract for the development of the harbor of Palermo, Sicily, at a cost of $10,000,000 in American money. The plan calls for the deepening of the harbor, the erection of a breakwater and other improvements.

Gave United States British War Secret

Major Scarff Makes Claim For Invention Reward.

London, March 16.—(By mail.)—While large awards have been granted to British officers who made inventions during the war, Mr. Justice Sargant said that he understands the American Government do not grant any awards or remuneration to service inventors. He made this statement when a claim by Major F. W. Scarff, inventor of a ring-mounting for machine guns, against the American Government for the use of his invention, came before a joint sitting of the Royal Commission on Awards to Inventors, and the American Commission for the Adjustment of Foreign Claims, at Lincoln's Inn Old Hall.

Major C. G. Moore, formerly R. A. F. and liaison officer, said that in March, 1918, Admiral Sims asked him to take more than twenty war inventions to the United States.

"Had I known it was not properly covered, at the risk of a court-martial I should not have taken it," he added with regard to Major Scarff's invention.

F. Moritz, counsel for Major Scarff, said that by the disclosure of the invention before it was patented, the American Government were able to make tens of thousands of Major Scarff's device, which was a jealously-guarded secret.

The commission reserved judgment.

RADIO CALL SAVES LIFE ON LIGHTSHIP.
Revenue Cutter Takes Doctor 80 Miles and Brings Patient Back for Hospital Operation.

Cape May, N. J., March 27.—For the second time within a week wireless messages came into play when W. E. Johnson, fireman on the Penwick's Island lightship, thirty miles southeast of this city, was attacked with what the captain of the lightship thought was appendicitis.

The radio operator on the lightship sent out an S. O. S. call, which was picked up by the radio station here and flashed to Captain R. C. Weightman of the coast guard Kickapoo. The message said, "Bring a physician to the lightship."

Dr. V. M. d'Arcy, president of the Board of Health and veteran of the World War, volunteered. The Kickapoo proceeded down the coast. Dr. d'Arcy was put aboard the lightship and found that the sailor's condition required an immediate operation to save his life. The Kickapoo then steamed under forced draft to the Delaware breakwater, where Captain Lynch of the Lewes Coast Guard Station transferred the sick man to the hospital. Word was received here by radio that the operation was a success.

BLIND MAN AND WIFE RESCUED AS HOME BURNS

William Cook and Wife Caught in Fire in St. Patrick Street—Two Alarms Attract Crowd.

William Cook, the blind man who plays an organ in the streets, and his wife were rescued semi-conscious from the house in which they had been living at 95 St. Patrick street, this morning, when fire broke out in the flat they occupied. Policemen Walter Coughlin and H. L. Blizard forced their way into the building in spite of the heavy smoke, which made breathing difficult even at a distance from the house. In the second flat they found Mr. and Mrs. Cook and, with some difficulty, got them out of the burning building and into the home of Mrs. A. Leighton, across the street. Mrs. Cook had fainted before she was removed.

The alarm was rung in about eleven o'clock from Box 64, and was followed within a few minutes by a second alarm. This caused a considerable dash of people to the scene under the misapprehension that the cotton mill was afire. The fire was in the upper flat of a house and shop at 95 St. Patrick street, owned by John J. Davis, who kept the shop and occupied the lower floor, and was occupied upstairs by Mr. and Mrs. Cook. The blaze was not spectacular, but got a stubborn hold in the roof and caused the firemen considerable trouble before it was put out at about 12.10 o'clock.

Mr. Davis estimated the damage at about $2,000, including the effect of the heavy streams of water played on the fire as well as the damage to the building from the fire itself. The stock in the store was reported not very much damaged. The chief cause of loss was through water on the plaster of the house and the burning and charring of the roof. There was no insurance on the building.

NEWS NOTES
ABOUT BAPTISTS
(Maritime Baptist).

Rev. David Patterson, pastor of the Cambridge group of churches has been bereaved in the death of his wife.

We join with our readers generally will join with us in sympathy to Pastor Patterson and his family in this time of sorrow.

Rev. I. A. Corbett, at present of Canso, has accepted the invitation of the George street church, Fredericton to become their pastor.

Corbett expects to begin his new pastorate on Sunday, April 15. Mr. Corbett is one of the strong men of our ministry and the George street church offers him a fine field for constructive service.

Rev. C. W. Rose, D. D., writes that he has arranged with the church in Amherst to consolidate gains from the special meetings held with the aid of Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, D. D. This will also permit Dr. Rose to be present at the special convention to be held in Amherst on April 11.

We are glad that the work in Amherst is such as to demand that Dr. Rose remain a little longer.

After a pastorate of four years with the Victoria street church, St. John, Rev. G. D. Hudson has resigned that pastorate to accept a hearty invitation to the pastorate of the First Baptist church, Canard, N. S. Mr. Hudson's Victoria street pastorate has been a very fruitful one. More than 200 members have united with the church during this pastorate, a fine new auditorium has been built, and the giving to missions and denominational agencies has been greatly increased. Mr. Hudson ranks high among the Christian leaders of the city of St. John. A fine rural church has secured an excellent pastor.

Rev. David Hutchinson, D. D., and Mrs. Hutchinson returned recently from New York, where they went to be present at the graduation exercises of the Mt. Sinai Training School for Nurses. Their daughter, Grace Enid Hutchinson, was one of the graduating class, and won highest honors, being awarded the Blumenthal $800 scholarship, which entitles her to a course in the Department of Nursing and Health, Teachers' College, Columbia University. She also received the Guggenheim medal, which accompanies the $100 prize won last year, but is not presented until graduation. Dr. and Mrs. Hutchinson have received many congratulations upon their daughter's success.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER
Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated.
Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally. They are a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaker; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the chances are that you are irritable, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Fans seemed elated over that fact that St. John has at last a representation in a professional league, and also that so many games will be played in this city. Local enthusiasts said that the formation of the league should ensure St. John of the fastest class of baseball seen here since the days of the New Brunswick and Maine League.

Finds G. W. V. A. Fails To Sustain Charges Of Conspiracy, Etc.
Report of Ralston Commission Presented—Charge That Ex-service Men Have Been Deprived of Rights Granted by Parliament Sustained.

Ottawa, March 28.—(Canadian Press).—The Ralston Commission today made its report on charges brought against the Pension Board by officials of the G. W. V. A. The report finds that the G. W. V. A. has failed to sustain the charges of conspiracy, plot and deliberation or other wrongful intent by the Pension Board in dealing with the rights of ex-service men. It states, however, that the claim that ex-service men have been deprived of rights previously granted by Parliament and that established privileges have been nullified are sustained.

The commission was appointed, as a result of charges by certain officials of the G. W. V. A., charging the Pension Board with "contemptible and cold blooded conspiracy to deprive ex-service men of their rights." The commission consisted of Colonel J. L. Ralston, of Halifax, Dr. Walter McKewen, of Toronto, and Colonel A. E. Dubuc, of Montreal.

DISTURBED OVER THE FREE STATE BUDGET
London, March 28.—The Irish people are disturbed over the amount of the Government's estimates for the next fiscal year, says a Dublin despatch to the Times. Public opinion is also dissatisfied with what it terms the president's failure to go into detail in his announcement.

The correspondent asserts that Dublinites remark that the total estimate of £42,500,000 exceeds by £10,000,000 the maximum cost of governing all of Ireland under British rule. The necessity for a large army under the present circumstances is not disputed. The estimate of £10,000,000 is considered unduly high.

"I have recommended Drecto to a lot of my friends in Montreal and many are taking it since they know what it did for me," declares Mr. Campbell.
"I recommend Drecto because of the results I obtained from it. Constitution had been a curse to me for some years and I suppose I had spent at least one dollar a week on so-called remedies with little or no permanent result. My appetite is picking up wonderfully and I expect that with another bottle or so I shall tip the scales at my wonted weight.

MRS. HANINGTON'S VERY PLAIN TALK

How Mothers are Neglected in One Maritime Province District.

(Ottawa Journal) With more than 50 per cent of Canadian mothers deprived of care in childbirth through lack of sufficient doctors and nurses, and with only the most primitive assistance provided in most cases by kindly neighbors, with the death rate in maternity cases increasing yearly, Mrs. J. Charlotte Hanington, Chief Superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, suggested a solution of the problem at the meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon.

Untrained help in maternity cases particularly in the rural districts, was provided by midwives. It was Mrs. Hanington's belief that, if a short course in scientific training for the needs of maternity were given, it would fill a long felt want. Midwives would be needed as long as children were born and doctors and nurses were few and expensive, and a decrease in the maternity death rate might result if a little science were instilled into their work. The medical profession, as a whole, approved of the idea.

Mrs. Hanington's experience from coast to coast in the work of the V. O. N. had shown her conditions that were far from appealing. To all who were interested in the welfare of their sisters, there was a big job ahead. Many complacent women living in cities were satisfied that in these civilized days women in childbirth were cared for luxuriously. While speaking in the highest terms of the medical profession and the nurses for the burdens they were bearing, Mrs. Hanington was sure that there would always be a scarcity. Women in the outlying districts were confined under the most appalling conditions. It was an actual fact, gleaned from statistics, that in one county in one of the Maritime Provinces, out of 1,000 births, 300 only occurred with the aid of doctors or nurses and 700 women had to depend on unskilled help. Even in Halifax, a city with modern hospitals, 45 per cent of births in the year were cared for by the V. O. N. In Toronto, where public health was more advanced than in any other Canadian city, the maternity death rate had increased, and the problem was one that had not been solved by the best medical men of the country. There were more deaths, more stillbirths and more accidents in Canada each year.

It was a subject so important to women that it should be mentioned in the Legislature, Mrs. Hanington stated.

ROBBERS' SQUAD
GET OVER $50,000

The Tenth Case of Its Kind Within a Month in New York, With Total Losses of $250,000.

New York, March 28.—Automobile robbers held up a truck in daylight Friday morning at Twenty-third street and Eleventh Avenue and escaped with $50,000 in loot increasing the total losses from truck robberies in the near New York to more than $250,000 within the last month. The driver of the truck was kidnaped by the five highwaymen, who threw him into a touring car in which they followed the truck, driven by one of the bandits, to Ninety-seventh Street and Amsterdam Avenue. There they threw the driver from the automobile and fled, the empty truck was found last night at 149d Street and Third Avenue, the Bronx.

The truck and its contents were the property of the Louis Walther Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia and New York. Woolen piece goods made up the valuable loot. Details of the robbery were learned over long distance telephone from John Walther, President of the company, at his home in Frankfort, Pa., after the police at headquarters, in both Manhattan and the Bronx, and the precincts in which the car was seized, the driver thrown out, and the truck finally found had denied they had any reports of the robbery.

The $50,000 robbery of the Louis Walther Manufacturing Company's truck is the tenth big robbery in this district within the last thirty days, said a representative of one of the large underwriters of the risk of the Walther Company and other robbery victims. "The largest was the robbery of a Mallinson truck, containing $70,000 worth of silks. It was held up by automobile bandits in Astoria as it was approaching the factory of the owners.

Convoys for Long-Distance Trucks:
"Then there were the robberies of the Motor Company, amounting to $30,000; the Hedman Transfer, $25,000; the Branch Storage, $30,000; the Buchmeyer Express, $5,000; Blums Mills, $5,000; Paterson Express, $20,000; Goodman Express, $10,000; and National Express Company, $25,000.

"Robberies have become so frequent that the insurance companies are establishing convoys for long distance trucks. I made the trip with a convoy from Philadelphia to New York last night with a convoy. When we got to Trenton we were reinforced by the New Jersey State Constabulary.

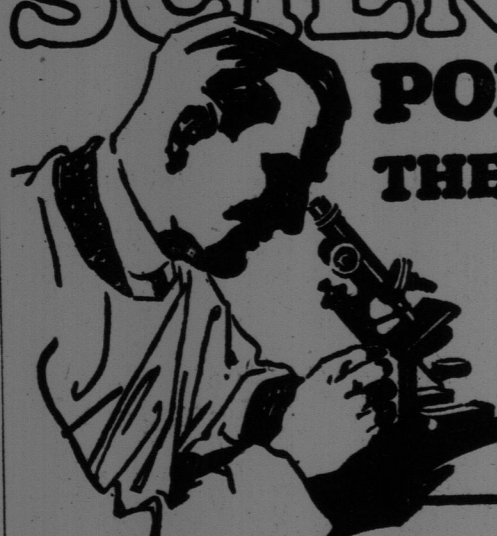

"En route we passed through a town in New Jersey where a large garage is used as a stopping point by the truckmen. I counted twenty trucks lined up in front of that garage and all the drivers were asleep. That is one way in which thefts are made possible."

Mr. Walther, when asked for details of the robbery, explained that the truck, loaded with $50,000 worth of woolen piece goods, left Philadelphia at 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday night. The truck was driven by Charles Funk, thirty-two years old, who was accompanied by Barney Kist, about the same age, as helper on the truck.

"Both men have been in my employ for the last two years," said Mr. Walther, "and we have absolute confidence in them, because we have always found them reliable. They arrived in New York about seven o'clock and stopped the truck in front of a restaurant at Twenty-third street and Eleventh Avenue, where Kist went to get breakfast.

Pushed Driver From Seat.
"Funk remained on the truck. While sitting on his truck a touring car with five men drove up from behind. The men got out of the touring car, covered the driver with guns and pulled him from the seat of the truck. They bundled him up and shoved him into the touring car. One of the bandits drove the truck to Ninety-seventh street and Amsterdam Avenue, with the touring car following.

"Funk was compelled to remain quiet. He was thrown out of the car at Ninety-seventh street, and the bandits disappeared. The loot goods were all covered by insurance.

"It is the second time within a month that our truck has been held up. The first time it was held up by five highwaymen in a motor car just outside of Trenton. Kist was driving that time. The truck was loaded with about $50,000 worth of woolen goods.

"The bandits drew alongside the truck and told Kist to stop. Instead of doing as ordered, Kist put on more power, and the bandit car then raced past him. The automobile with the highwaymen got directly in front of the truck and blocked its way. Again the bandits ordered Kist to get down off the truck. Instead, he cut his steering wheel hard and turned around where it happened there was an unusually wide level stretch of ground on one side of the roadway.

"As the driver started off in the opposite direction the highwaymen called to him again to stop. He fired several shots at the bandits and they disappeared. He returned to Trenton and reported the attempted hold-up to the police of Trenton and to the New Jersey State Constabulary.

After the truck driver reported the first hold-up the drivers decided to arm themselves against future attacks. They carried three guns yesterday, but the highwaymen took the revolvers when they surprised the driver on the truck in front of the restaurant.

WARNING AGAINST OVER CONFIDENCE.

Warning that restored business confidence everywhere manifest in the United States must avoid the perils of over confidence was voiced by George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank, in an analysis of America's business recovery submitted to the second meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce, now in session at Rome.

In the text of his report, made public last week by the American section of the International Chamber, Mr. Roberts pointed out "that the country may be on the verge of a period of credit and price inflation "if over-enthusiasm among business men should cause excessive competition for labor and industrial material.

The speaker's analysis of conditions

"The industries of the United States at this time are busy practically to the limit of the labor supply, commodity prices have recovered from the abnormally low levels to which they had fallen in 1921 and both wages and prices are tending upward.

"A moderate degree of credit expansion has taken place in the last year, and with the large gold reserves held by the banking system and the degree of confidence now being manifested in business circles there is reason for apprehension that the country may be on the verge of credit and price inflation."

In connection with the anticipated competition for labor in early spring, Mr. Roberts said it was felt "that an inflation of industrial costs and prices similar to that which took place in the latter part of 1919 and the early months of 1920 may develop if the rise of industrial costs continues."

"If so," he added, "it will undoubtedly tend to turn export business away from the United States and to the competing industries of Europe."

The Metropolitan Agent is a friend to the families he visits and helps them in case of sickness.

17,000 Agents visit the homes of 17,000,000 Industrial Policyholders weekly—telling them of the value of sanitation, fresh air and sunshine.

Among the useful booklets distributed by the Agents are those telling how to buy food, how to care for food, how to cook food, how to provide wholesome, nourishing food for the least money.

A Company is Great only as it Serves.

Important to Canada

The Metropolitan's total investment in Canada at the end of 1922 was over $94,000,000. This amount added to the sum paid to policyholders, and to Canadians for administration expenses and taxes since the Metropolitan commenced business in Canada, November, 1885, exceeds by about $47,000,000 the amount received by the Company in premiums from Canadian policyholders.

Seriousness of the Labor Situation in Nova Scotia Demands Urgent Attention

President Wolvin, at Annual Meeting of British Empire Steel Corporation, Reviews Relations Between Company and Labor Unions—Cape Breton Centre of Socialist Activities.

Montreal, March 27.—At the annual meeting of shareholders of the British Empire Steel Corporation, Limited, held at the head office here, R. M. Wolvin, the President, dealt at some length with the labor situation as it affected the company's undertakings at Sydney and Glace Bay.

The developments of the last year, as also the protracted fights that had occurred between the company's employees and the company itself, made it incumbent that the shareholders, as well as the public at large, should have a very thorough knowledge of the situation.

Mr. Wolvin pointed out that the storm centre for labor agitation had apparently shifted to Cape Breton, and that the shareholders, as well as the public at large, should have a very thorough knowledge of the situation.

ALL INSURANCE RECORDS BROKEN

The Year 1922 Showed Increasing Prosperity and Improving Business Conditions.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company broke all records in amount of business done in the year 1922, according to a report published today. The amount of new business placed on the books exceeded the phenomenal year of 1920 and was far in excess of what had been done in 1921.

Particularly significant is the fact that Industrial insurance, which is taken largely by wage earners and their families, had such a great volume. The total amount of Industrial insurance placed during the year was over $774,000,000.

"When the U. M. W. entered into the first agreement in 1918, some of the most intelligent of our workmen occupied high positions in the local organizations and such men resent the presence of outside agitators in their community."

C.N.R. CUTS DEFICIT BY $12,000,000

The Canadian National Railway system deficit for the year ending December 31, 1922, was reduced nearly $12,000,000, or nearly $1,000,000 a month from that of the preceding year. This reduction is attributed to the bumper grain crop, the slow but steady restoration of good business conditions and the economies made possible by an aggressive policy of co-operation.

DEBATE ON BUDGET IN LEGISLATURE

When the debate on the budget was resumed yesterday afternoon in the Legislature, Liberal, Conservative and Farmer had a voice in the argument. Mr. H. J. Taylor, Conservative, St. George, was the first speaker, and he paid considerable attention to prohibition. He dealt in generalities, and his address lacked convincing qualities. Col. O. W. Wetmore, Liberal, Kings County, defended the Government. He spoke on agriculture and told what the department was doing for the farmers with the money at its disposal. He spoke also of prohibition. He was followed by R. K. Tracey, Progressive, of Tracey Mills, Carleton County, who made a strong plea for squarer treatment for the Valley Railway. He said he thought better results were obtained financially by running the Valley train on a daily schedule than tri-weekly as at present. Of the Grand Falls development he said that if the Government could go ahead with the project without endangering the financial stability of the province they should do so. Premier Veniot said he would like to see the debate on the budget concluded before the Easter recess and the matter of estimates could be taken up next week. If this were done, the House might be prorogued by April 18.

The soloists were Mrs. Stanley Harrison, Miss Florence Dunham, J. Stewart Smith and F. J. Punter. The choir was trained by Mrs. R. Taylor McKim, organist, and J. N. Rogers. A short organ recital by Mr. McKim preceded the cantata and was greatly appreciated. The numbers given were as follows: Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" paraphrase for the organ by Edwin M. Lott; "In the Cloister" by Ronald Diggie; part of Mendelssohn's 6th Sonata, slow movement of chorale; fugal movement and finale; Procession to Calvary from Stainer's "Crucifixion." AN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FORMED; ST. JOHN INCLUDED

W. J. McMahon of This City President—Mayor Curley of Boston Donates Trophy.

A seven team league, to be known as the International Independent League, and to be composed of teams representing St. John, Boston, Manchester (N. H.), Quincy (Mass.), St. Stephen, Milltown and Fredericton, was organized at a meeting of representatives held in the Dufferin Hotel yesterday afternoon and last evening. William J. McMahon of this city, was elected president; F. S. Boyd, of Milltown, secretary, and H. L. Ford, of Quincy (Mass.), treasurer. A schedule committee was also appointed and will consist of Messrs. Boyd, McMahon and H. G. Grant of St. Stephen.

A request was received from J. Higgins, promoter of a new league in Maine, that the winners play-off at the end of the season was set aside for future consideration. It was announced that Messrs. Howard and Alchorn would be the official umpires for this city. The Reach, American League ball, was adopted as the official ball for league games. It was decided that only twelve players shall be carried by each club and that their names must be handed in on or before June 16. It was announced that Mayor John Curley of Boston is keenly interested in the new league, and will donate a large silver trophy to be awarded the winners. The Chamber of Commerce of Manchester has also announced that it will also present a cup, while the Mayor of Quincy will present watch fobs to the winners. A championship pennant will be given to the winners by Reach Bros.

In order to save travelling expenses it was decided that teams representing Boston, Manchester and Quincy will play their schedule games on St. Peter's Park.

It was also announced that Albert (Chief) Bender will appear here at the opening of the league on May 24, and will either pitch for or against St. Peter's. Another meeting will be held next month when final arrangements will be made.

FROM SAILOR BOY TO A BARONETCY

Biography of Brook Watson, Who Spent a Life of Adventure and Vicissitude Unequaled in Fiction.

(Occasional, in Halifax Recorder.) Among the many actors in the struggle for independence, which terminated successfully for the American Colonists, in 1783, was Brook Watson, Commissary General to the British forces under Sir Guy Carleton. Considering the prominent part taken by him in the war of the American Revolution, and the very successful and honorable position afterwards attained by him in England, together with the romantic episodes of his boyhood and youth, it is extraordinary how little is generally known of him, and how seldom he is referred to in historical writings, when the events of that stirring time are recalled. The citizens of Nova Scotia are especially interested in the life of Brook Watson, who was unfortunately in business, and both of his parents died when he was not more than ten years of age. He appears to have had but few friends, who were not much interested in him, and who sent him to Moston, Mass., to a Mr. Levens, a distant relative, belonging to Hull, who was engaged in business there. Mr. Levens sent him to sea in a vessel in which he was interested, and while the vessel was at Havana, Watson had his leg bitten off by a shark, when bathing in the harbor. He was taken to the Havana hospital and treated by the Spaniards with much humanity, and when cured found means of returning to Boston. On his return he heard that his relative had failed and left the place, and he found himself utterly friendless and penniless, and a cripple.

The mistress of the house where Mr. Levens had been boarding, received him in the most unfeeling manner, and, fearing that he would be a burden to her, made arrangements to apprentice him to a tailor, very much against his inclination. At this critical period of his life, a friend appeared on the scene in the person of Captain John Huston, of Chignecto, Nova Scotia. Captain Huston was boarding at the house, and took pity on the friendless boy, and proposed to him to go home with him to Chignecto. He was a trader and owner of vessels, and was then in Boston on one of his own coasters. Young Watson gladly closed with this offer, but not before Huston was put under bonds not to allow Watson to come back and be a charge on the town. The youth returned home with Captain Huston, who found him such an honorable lad, attentive and obliging, and willing to learn and improve himself, that he conceived a particular regard for the boy, and treated him rather as a son than a servant.

This was in 1760, when Watson was in his fifteenth year, the same year that La Corder began the erection of Fort Beauséjour, and the building of much queried if it might be practicable to bring them back. None went forward to make the attempt, only Watson, who said he would go, for one, and indeed they all stood back and let him go alone. He stripped, swam over to the other side, and got round the cattle, and was driving towards the river, when a party of French were at his heels. One of them called out, "Young man, what have you to do upon the land of the King of France?" To which Watson replied that his present concern was neither with the King of France nor about his land, but he meant to take care of the English cattle. This little feat of Watson was talked of with a good deal of pleasure on both sides, and gained him not a little credit.

About this time he entered into a partnership with Joseph Slayter, of Halifax, N. S., a grand-uncle of the late Dr. W. B. Slayter. Slayter was to manage the Halifax and Watson the Cumberland branch of the business. In 1769, Watson removed to London, and the business was continued until the death of Mr. Slayter. The senior partner died in May, 1768. He next became connected with Mr. Manger, who had been a resident of Halifax. He was a gentleman of property, and made large advances to Watson. They went into partnership, and did a large business in the North American trade. The head office was at London, with branches in North America.

Charles Burpee, on the local city ticket office staff of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been appointed to the post staff and will leave for Quebec at the end of the winter port season here. This means that Mr. Burpee will return here for the winter. No announcement regarding a successor to Mr. Burpee has been made yet. Mr. Burpee has been an active member of the local G. Y. Club and will be missed in the city's athletic circles.

Fort Lawrence on the south side of the Missisquoi, just opposite Fort Beauséjour. There was constant skirmishing between the French and the English until 1755, when the French were completely routed, and driven from the isthmus, and the unfortunate Acadians were expelled from the province. During this time Watson was actively engaged in Captain Huston's business and tending in his store.

On the arrival of the British troops, there came with them Captain Winslow, Commissary, who took much interest in Watson, taught him book-keeping, and instilled in him business habits, which laid much of the foundation of his future prosperity. He was also a favorite with Colonel Robert Monkton, the commander of the forces, who employed him in adjusting his books and transacting his business. In fact, at the time he appears to have been regularly employed in the service, for in a letter written by him to the Rev. Dr. Brown, dated London, July 1st, 1791, published in the collection of the Nova Scotia Historical Society for 1879-80, he says:—"In September, 1765, I was directed to proceed with a party of Provincials to the Bate Verie, then a considerable and flourishing settlement, there to await further orders, which I received the following day to collect and send to Beauséjour for embarkation, all the women and children to be found in that district. This painful task performed, I was afterwards employed in victualling the transports for their reception.

As an instance of the courage and capacity of Watson, the following incident, related by Rev. Hugh Graham in a letter to Dr. Brown, dated Cornwallis, March, 1791, is of interest:—"Some time after the English forces had taken possession of Fort Cumberland, and the French had retreated to the west side of the river, a number of English cattle had one day crossed the river at low water, and strolled on the French side. This was not observed on the English side until some time had elapsed, and then it was

VICTIM TELLS OF $280,000 LOSS TO GEM THIEVES

Mrs. Schoellkopf Gives Details of New Year's Eve Poker Party

Seized, Bound, and Gagged — Biddulph, a Confessed Member of the Band, Outlines the Method Used in the Crime.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, of Buffalo, testified last week in general sessions to the circumstances under which she was robbed of $280,000 worth of jewelry December 31 last.

Biddulph, who was identified in court by Mrs. Schoellkopf as a man known to her as Marshall, who occupied an apartment at 64 West Fifty-second street, below that of Frank B. Carman, where she was a guest at a New Year's-Eve party before the robbery, testified that he and two companions, Eugene Moran, a brother-in-law of Hughes, and a man named Horowitz, had rented the apartment with a view to robbery.

By profession, he said, they were plain bootleggers, but it loled to them as though quicker and bigger profits were to be made by robbing the jewel-bedecked Mrs. Schoellkopf, whom they had seen frequently in Carman's company.

About Christmas time, he said, they had opened a letter addressed to Carman and found it was from Mrs. Schoellkopf and contained a check for $880.

Was Invited to Party Biddulph said that when the New Year's Eve party in the apartment above theirs was well under way, he went up and got himself invited to take a hand at poker. It developed that his frequent trips downstairs were not only for the purpose of obtaining liquor, but also to keep his companions informed of the progress of events.

When Mrs. Schoellkopf, who was wearing a $125,000 diamond necklace, $60,000 bracelets and numerous valuable rings, prepared to depart, said Biddulph, he informed Moran and Horowitz. Following her after a brief interval, he continued, he saw her lying bound and gagged on a bed in his apartment, while Moran and Horowitz bent over her.

He said Hughes came to see him at White Plains, where he was in hiding and gave him a letter of introduction to a man in Albany, who shielded him. Dispute at Poker Table Mrs. Schoellkopf said seven others besides Carman were at the New Year's eve card party. She lost about $60, she said, when a dispute sprang up, some of those invited objecting to the presence of Biddulph. She departed, fearing there would be a fight.

On her way downstairs she was seized by two men, dragged into the apartment beneath Carman's, bound, gagged and flung on a bed, she said. One of the men who seized her had a revolver, she added. She said the cloth thrust into her mouth was saturated with some liquid that burned. She might be able to identify the men who attacked her, she said, and she was certain that Hughes was not one of them.

She had known Carman for some time, she said, and he generally acted as her escort when she was in New York. She had sent him a check for $280 once, she said, to buy her a phonograph. Last year, she continued, Carman had accompanied her and her husband to Europe. She said that the others at Carman's party drank champagne, but she refused it.

GOT SIX MONTHS FOR CARELESS DRIVING.

(Ottawa Journal.) Somewhat severe sentences were imposed in Hull yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice Weir on prisoners who had been found guilty of criminal offences at the assizes. Joseph Leclair, who had been convicted on a theft charge, was given one year in jail. Hilaire Nault, accused of having received the avails of prostitution, but which was reduced by the jury to a charge of tolerating prostitution, was sent to penitentiary for three years. One of the principal witnesses in the case was a young daughter of the accused. Percy Webster, who had been convicted of negligence in having caused bodily harm to Denis Fournier, was given a six months' term. It was proven in evidence that Webster's automobile had crashed into Fournier who was driving a load of wood to Hull. Fournier suffered broken legs. In imposing sentence, Mr. Justice Weir mentioned that only in view of the representations of prisoner's mother, would the sentence be light. Webster was re-

DO YOU KNOW WHY THE GEAR-SHIFT IS DIFFERENT?

The design of Dodge Brothers gear-shift takes into consideration the natural inclinations of the driver.

To start, you throw the lever forward. To reverse, you pull the lever backward. And when the car is running in high gear—which is about ninety per cent of the time—the lever is in a forward position, out of the way, where it does not interfere with passengers, robes, or luggage.

Moreover, the transmission, developed and patented by Dodge Brothers, is so designed that the countershaft—used in intermediate speeds and in reverse—is disconnected when the car is in high. There are no gears in mesh. Power is transmitted directly from clutch to rear axle.

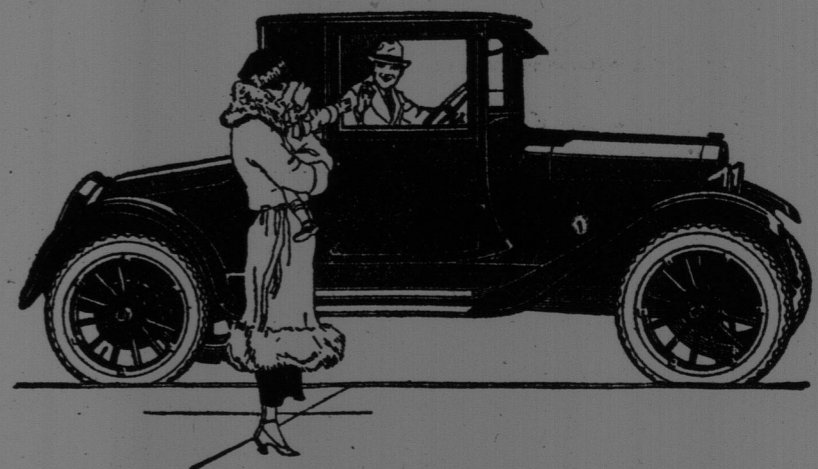

This exclusive feature prevents the loss of power through friction, reduces gear-box noises and eliminates a vast amount of wear.

That is why the gear-shift of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is different.
