MAY SINK THE GERMAN NAVY

Send Them to the Bottom Rather Than Risk Controversy Over Division; Surrendered Warships in Deplorable Condition; German Officer Mourns Dishonorable Record of His Service

London, Nov. 25.—After an inspection of the German battleships and cruisers held by the Entente and final settlement of their ownership by the peace conference, all the vessels probably will be sunk, as apparently there is no disposition on the part of the Entente to risk the controversies which would be likely in case of an attempted division of them.

Entente naval experts will inspect the German craft carefully to learn whether they contain features unknown to the Entente.

INSPECTION IN PROGRESS

Firth of Forth, Scotland, Nov. 25.—The inspection of the German surrendered ships is proceeding as rapidly as possible. The first division of battleships and four battle cruisers and destroyers left for Scapa Flow today, and by evening the Firth will be cleared of them.

The ships are in a deplorable state through want of paint and general neglect. The internal state of the battleships is on a par with their external appearance. They smell mouldy owing to the electric ventilation system on them having been stopped.

RUINED FOR ALL TIME

Firth of Forth, Scotland, Nov. 25.—Germany's navy has been ruined for all time, in the opinion of a German lieutenant on one of the warships surrendered to the Allies. He said today:

"Now we have only a dishonorable record. No one will want to serve in a disgraced service."

U-BOAT CLAIMS DESTRUCTION OF 3,000 SOLDIERS

Gergen, Norway, Nov. 25.—The crew of the last victim of the German U-boat warfare, the Christiania steamer Ewer, torpedoed on the evening of November 11, has arrived here. The steamer was making her maiden voyage.

The crew say the U-boat claimed to have sunk on the same day a British transport on the way to Archangel with three thousand soldiers.

WOMAN AMBASSADOR SAYS HUNGARIAN FOOD NEEDS NOT URGENT

Berne, Monday, Nov. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Madame Rosika Schwimmer of Ford peace party fame, who has accepted the post of Hungarian ambassador to Switzerland, being the first woman to receive such an appointment, declared to the correspondent today that the food needs of Hungary were "nowhere near urgent."

However, she said, there is some danger owing to the lack of coal. The situation in Hungary is such, Madame Schwimmer continued, that the government would be willing to abide by any decision of a peace conference, "no matter how unfavorable," because the government is helpless.

Hungarians, both extremists and reactionaries, Madame Schwimmer says, have joined efforts to create an orderly and democratic government. Hungary has given up Croatia, Fiume and other districts because she recognized that they belonged elsewhere. Perfect order has prevailed in Hungary up to this time, but there is increasing danger from the troops returning from the battlefield.

MADE 709 RAIDS OVER GERMAN TERRITORY

London, Nov. 25.—Statistics published relative to the work of the independent air forces show that during the thirteen months preceding the armistice the astonishing number of 709 bombing raids were made by British aviators over German territory.

ALLIED SQUADRON IN THE BOSPHORUS

Constantinople, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—There were fifteen French and Italian battleships, cruisers and destroyers in the allied squadron which anchored today in the Bosphorus.

The newspapers and the population acclaim that Allied squadron as deliverers. The headquarters of the British and French contingents have been established in Constantinople. A British aerial force is on the outskirts of the city.

Food prices in Constantinople, according to the Turkish finance minister, have risen twenty times above those obtaining before the war.

RESULT OF ELECTIONS SAID TO BE HOSTILE TO BOLSHEVIKI MOVEMENT

Paris, Nov. 25.—(Havas Agency)—It is reported that at the election for choosing members of the revolutionary committee at Dresden, the Socialists cast 87,488 votes against 5,500 for the independent Socialists, who will have but three seats in the committee, which numbers fifty.

German newspapers point out that the result is clearly hostile to the Bolsheviki current threatening to strangle Germany.

CROWN PRINCE OF SERBIA APPOINTED AS REGENT OF NEW STATE

Basle, Nov. 26.—Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia has been appointed regent of the Jugo-Slav state by the national council at Agrani, according to a Laibach dispatch. A state council, comprising all the members of the Agrani council, fifty delegates from Serbia and five from Montenegro, has been summoned to meet at Sarajevo. This council will appoint a cabinet for the Jugo-Slav state.

DR. GERVAIS SPRINGS NEW SENSATION

Accuses Carmel of Murder Done a Year Ago

STORY SUBSTANTIATED

Counter-Charges by Other Bandits Who Tell of Threat to Murder Made by Gervais—One Suggested Victim Turns Up

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 25.—New developments in the Steep Creek murders were revealed today when Dr. Gervais furnished another thrill to the authorities. The "doctor" expressed a desire to talk, and intimated that he had something important to convey, nothing short of the details of another murder and the following is what he told the police officers:

The First Murder.—"Victor Carmel shot and killed Adolphe Lajoie about a year ago, burned his body by setting fire to the bed and the shack, and, to hide the crime, placed a clay pipe between the bed springs so as to indicate that the murdered man had set fire accidentally to the bed on which he was lying. Go to the grave and you will find that the skull of Lajoie has a bullet hole in the forehead. Lajoie was my partner in the farm at Steep Creek and you can see the joint agreement of purchase."

When Dr. Gervais recounted his story today, the police immediately went to the grave where the remains of Lajoie were buried, and found the skull with the bullet in the centre of the forehead. This is now in Prince Albert and will be used as evidence against Carmel, who is to be charged with the murder of Lajoie.

Gervais says Carmel shot Lajoie with a rifle following a quarrel. The joint agreement of purchase of the farm by Lajoie and Gervais is also in existence and will be documentary evidence to the correctness of the statement of Dr. Gervais.

WINTER BEGINS OVER NORTHERN RUSSIAN FRONT

Archangel, Nov. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Winter has begun earnest over the whole northern Russian front. All the rivers are icebound and the Bolsheviki gunboats which have long menaced the Allied forces on the Dvina have been forced to withdraw to escape being frozen in. The Bolsheviki, however, have mounted big guns along the front south of the Allied armies.

Operations are limited to spasmodic artillery exchanges, but the Bolsheviki forces are reported to be receiving heavy reinforcements. The freeze-up, while bringing relief on the Dvina front, increases the danger on others, as the once impassable swamps are now frozen, making possible bushwhacking flank attacks by the enemy.

The correspondent has just returned from a trip along the front, where he found a general reversal of opinion that the Bolsheviki would not fight. Near Kadish a fortnight ago a body of Bolsheviki maintained an advance against strong machine gun fire. A Russian resident, in talking with American soldiers regarding this attack, said the Bolsheviki officers threatened their men that they would be killed the next day if they failed to advance.

The cold is so intense in some sectors of the front that the Allies sleep with their machine guns rolled in the blankets with them to prevent the water cooling chambers of the guns from freezing.

THE ADVANCE INTO GERMANY

Paris, Nov. 25.—(Havas)—On the French front the troops continued their advance during the course of the day in Luxembourg, where they occupied Metz, Bellen, Heiderscheid and Lenerich, and also in Lorraine, where the French are along the River Lauter. French cavalry has entered Luxembourg.

TROUBLE THREATENS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Unrest in Peru, Bolivia and Chile Over Problem Similar to That of Alsace-Lorraine; Talk of Socialist Revolution in Brazil; Bolsheviki Movement in Uruguay

Lima, Peru, Nov. 26.—The Peruvian government has not received official despatches from its consular representatives in Chile for forty-eight hours, although it has recalled its consuls from Chile, and it is believed that a strict censorship is in force at all Chilean ports.

Peruvian consuls in Chile have been ordered to return by the first steamer, and the Peruvian steamer Uruamb, now at Valparaiso, has been ordered to bring to Callao all Peruvians desiring to leave Chile.

The reported cancellation by the Peruvian government of all the exequaturs of Chilean consuls in Peru is incorrect. Lima is quiet.

Reports from South American capitals Monday night were to the effect that Chile and Peru had severed relations by recalling their consuls from the other country.

EVERY WAR THEATRE TESTIFIED TO VALOR OF SCOTTISH TROOPS

Edinburgh, Scotland, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press dispatch from Reuter's Limited)—Their Majesties the King and Queen, together with the Prince of Wales, were the recipients of the most hearty reception here today, when they attended the thanksgiving service at St. Giles church and received an address of welcome at Usher Hall.

His majesty replied and paid a tribute to the patriotism of Scotland, and stated that every theatre of war had testified to the valor and unconquerable spirit of the Scottish troops, whose deeds would live forever in history.

REFUSES TO ATTEND BANQUET TO ROGERS.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 25.—Gordon C. Wilson, Unionist M. P. for Wentworth, has declined to attend a banquet to Hon. Robert Rogers in Toronto. In his letter declining the invitation he said: "Having been elected as a supporter of union government I see no reason for, nor do I intend to break faith with the people who trust country before party, and sincerely trust that the seeds of discussion which you are attempting to sow on this occasion will not ripen to maturity."

Furloughs For Prisoners.

Paris, Nov. 26.—Repatricated French prisoners of war may be given furloughs equal to the time they spent in captivity, under a bill now before the chamber of deputies. A minimum furlough of thirty days for all prisoners of war is provided by the measure.

Phelix and Pherndand WEATHER REPORT

The Conspiracy That Caused War Fully Revealed

"There Must be War" Was Conclusion of Bavarian Minister; Central Powers Took Advantage of What Looked Like Favorable Opportunity to Strike; To Overwhelm France in Two Weeks

London, Nov. 25.—(British Wireless Service)—Publication of official reports from the Bavarian minister at Berlin to his home government confirm evidence already in the hands of the Entente that Germany and Austria conspired to bring about the war. It was for this reason that the terms of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia were made so drastic that hostilities were bound to follow.

These revelations have been published in Munich after permission had been asked by the Bavarian premier and foreign minister of the German federal government. They are in the form of a report sent to Munich on July 13, 1914, by Count Von Lerchenfeld, the Bavarian minister at Berlin.

According to the report, the delivery of the ultimatum to Serbia was delayed until after President Poincare and Premier Viviani of France had gone to St. Petersburg, which would make it difficult for the Entente nations to arrive at an understanding and take counter measures.

Serbia Could Not Accept.

Count Von Lerchenfeld said that "Serbia obviously cannot accept such conditions as will be laid down," and that as a consequence "there must be war." He declared that action on the part of Austria could not be long delayed "for that might give Serbia, under pressure from France and Russia, an opportunity to offer satisfaction."

In a telegram to Munich from Berlin on July 31, 1914, Count Von Lerchenfeld said that Sir Edward Grey's efforts to preserve peace would "certainly not succeed in arresting the course of events."

Later the same day he wired information as to ultimatums to Russia and France, forecasted their rejection by both nations and told of plans to hurl Germany's armies against France, which, he said, would be "overwhelmed in four weeks." He said that the morale of the French was poor and that it was poorly armed.

Did Not Count on Britain.

On August 4 the Bavarian minister outlined Germany's intention to violate Belgian neutrality, saying: "The chief of the general staff has declared that even British neutrality will be paid for too dearly if the price is respect for Belgium. An attack on France is possible only through Belgium."

On August 6 last, they entered Mons at full strength.

Cannot All Come.

Some of his former friends had wanted to assassinate him because some of their sons were drafted. After the armistice was signed he found that there were 16,000 men on harvest leave, and he believed that he had kept faith with the farmers. People were beginning and even threatening him to allow their sons home in time for Christmas. In many cases this was impossible.

Want Kaiser Tried.

The club passed a resolution asking Premier Balfour to request that the former Kaiser be placed on trial for atrocities committed during the war.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Hon. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, spoke to the Canadian Club this evening at its luncheon at the Royal Connaught Hotel. He said that in demobilization the soldiers who had seen the longest service would be the first brought home. He suggested that a hall should be erected in Hamilton in memory of the fallen. The militia, Gen. Mewburn said, had not received proper recognition. Every member of the loyal corps who was physically fit had gone overseas. Although the Canadians had suffered 45,000 casualties after August 8 last, they entered Mons at full strength.

THANKS CANADA FOR SUPPLIES OF MUNITIONS SENT

Cablegrams of Congratulations from Lloyd George and Winston Churchill to the Munitions Board—Helped Win the War

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The following cablegrams from Lloyd George and Winston Churchill to Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board, were read at a dinner held tonight at the Chateau Laurier at which the chairman, members and staff of the Imperial Munitions Board were present. Sir Thomas White, Hon. Mr. Rowell and a few others were present.

From Lloyd George to Sir Joseph Flavelle:—

"Now that hostilities have ceased I am anxious to send you, on behalf of myself and my colleagues in the war cabinet, our congratulations on the great work of the Imperial Munitions Board for three years, which has been of such signal assistance to the British Empire and to the Allied cause.

"It is a great and varied achievement for your board, not only to have produced so great an output of munitions, representing no small proportion of the shells used by the British armies, but also to have built over three hundred and fifty thousand tons of shipping for the ministry of shipping, to the assistance to so great a degree the royal air force in Canada, to have developed the great output of airplane timber which has been essential for our air service.

"As the board was appointed by me, when I was minister of munitions, it is particularly pleasurable to me to recognize the success, efficiency and value of its work and to thank you, and through you, your staff, the Canadian manufacturers and the great army of workers who have so splendidly assisted you, for the great services so rendered."

From Winston Churchill to Sir Joseph Flavelle:—

"As the armistice with Germany has now been concluded, I wish, as minister of munitions, to congratulate you and through you, all your staff on the splendid work of the Imperial Munitions Board during the last three years.

"You have carried through a work of the greatest magnitude with uniform success and efficiency, and I wish to pay my personal tribute to the great ability, energy and organizing power you, as chairman, have shown.

"Canada's remarkable output of munitions has played a large part in the munitioning of the British armies and will remain a testimony to the high value in that great struggle of the work of the board and of all those, whether manufacturers or work people, who have shared the burden with you."

NO PROSPECT OF MORE ANTHRACITE FOR DOMINION

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Fuel Controller McGrath has just returned from a trip to New York and Washington, which he undertook in order to obtain more information in regard to any changes in the coal situation brought about through the recent cessation of hostilities in Europe.

He says the anthracite situation, which, affecting, as it does, the largest number of consumers, may be regarded as the more important, does not appear to have been relieved in any way. On the contrary, certain developments have occurred which are likely to create an even greater problem than was anticipated. The general prevalence of the recent influenza epidemic throughout the mining districts absolutely demoralized the output for the time being. The shutting down of mines due to peace celebrations has also had a detrimental effect.

The situation is that, while Canada is reasonably assured of the tonnage of anthracite coal allotted to her by the fuel administration earlier in the year, there is no possibility of this tonnage being increased. As this tonnage allotted approximately twenty-five per cent lower than that imported into Canada during the last coal year, it will be evident that every reason exists for the greater measure of conservation in the use of hard coal and to utilize substitutes in the way of bituminous coal or wood wherever it is possible to do so.

WILL CLOSE MILLS UNLESS STRIKERS RETURN

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—It is understood, although no statement could be obtained from the company last night, that J. R. Booth has informed the workers who are on strike, that unless they return to their duties under old conditions, he is prepared to close his mills indefinitely. Practically every one of the employees of the big industry at the Chandler plant are now out on strike, and all work, even repairs, is now at a standstill.

DR. GERVAIS SPRINGS NEW SENSATION

Threat of Murder

Having shot down the animal, Gervais, Carmel and St. Germain went to the home of Peter Desnoeux, father of the young man who witnessed the murder of McKay, and compelled Desnoeux at the point of a gun to lead to the Gervais farm. According to the story told the police today, Gervais nearly carried out his threat of shooting. When Desnoeux refused, the gun was leveled and Desnoeux yelled at Gervais: "Man, do you not see my wife is with me; surely you would not shoot me!"

Others Under Suspicion

With an oath Gervais said he would wipe out the whole family in ten minutes if Desnoeux did not comply with the demand just made. Desnoeux complied in a hurry. More sensational testimony is expected to develop in this case. Suspicious are now attached to three more men who may be arrested within a short time, if the information in the hands of the police proves correct.

Where James McKay's Motor Car was Found Buried on the Sloping Bank of the South Saskatchewan River.

Stole What They Wanted. Inspector O'Sullivan learned from the bandits yesterday their methods of securing provisions, principally meat. They stole what they wanted. This is borne out by Carmel and St. Germain, who now accuse Gervais of having with them killed a two year old steer belonging to a farmer about three miles from the Gervais farm.

Threat of Murder

Having shot down the animal, Gervais, Carmel and St. Germain went to the home of Peter Desnoeux, father of the young man who witnessed the murder of McKay, and compelled Desnoeux at the point of a gun to lead to the Gervais farm. According to the story told the police today, Gervais nearly carried out his threat of shooting. When Desnoeux refused, the gun was leveled and Desnoeux yelled at Gervais: "Man, do you not see my wife is with me; surely you would not shoot me!"

Others Under Suspicion

With an oath Gervais said he would wipe out the whole family in ten minutes if Desnoeux did not comply with the demand just made. Desnoeux complied in a hurry. More sensational testimony is expected to develop in this case. Suspicious are now attached to three more men who may be arrested within a short time, if the information in the hands of the police proves correct.

BRITISH IMPROVE PALESTINE CITIES

New York State Commissioner of Education Tells of Work That is Being Done to Restore Conditions to a Normal State

New York, Nov. 26.—Dr. John M. Finley, New York state commissioner of education, who has just returned from Palestine and Syria, recently explained the work that the British troops were doing there to restore conditions to normal and to replace shrines in their original locations.

Nearly 2,000 years ago a water supply had been provided for the Holy City, from springs fifteen miles distant, in stone aqueducts built by the Romans under Governor Pontius Pilate. The Allied armies were furnished with fresh water from the Nile from Egypt, 140 miles away, through pipes which were sent from Pittsburgh at a cost of $7,250,000. The sanitary conditions of the densely populated cities and towns in Palestine, he said, great improved with the bringing in of the water supply.

On Sept. 20, Dr. Finley was at Ramleh, twenty-five miles south of Jerusalem, when General Allenby received a dispatch from the chief of the staff with the advance lines, and addressing him, he said: "The battle of Armageddon has commenced. It is the dawn of the thousand years' peace."

Dr. Finley told how the two divisions of the Australian cavalry, which led the British march through Palestine, recaptured the plains of Edrei and the Vale of Megiddo. Before the war it is plain, which is about twenty-five miles long and twenty miles wide, was fertile and well populated. Since the entrance of the Turks into the war it has been utterly neglected and is now a hot of desolation. According to Dr. Finley's estimation the number of the British forces engaged in the battle was 100,000 and of Turks 200,000 or more.

Dr. Finley walked across the plain of Edrei to Nazareth on Sept. 23. American engineers have now constructed excellent roads, which insure comfort in traveling. The natives of Palestine are enthusiastic at the improvements which they have seen and anticipate the time when they have their newly developed government and are self-supporting.

CANADIANS FOR TRIUMPHAL ENTRY
Toronto, Nov. 25.—The Telegram has the following special cable from London: Canadian troops are preparing for their triumphant entry into Germany. Every battalion and unit to participate will march in with flying colors and bands playing. Consequently there has been a general reclaiming of all the regimental colors which were left in various churches and cathedrals in the British Isles since the beginning of the war, when various battalions committed their sacred regimental flags amid solemn ceremonies to the safekeeping of the secretary of the dominion council, and Miss Frances Jones, city secretary of the dominion council. Mrs. John McAvity, the president, was in the chair. A musical programme included two much enjoyed solos by Mrs. George Bell and Mrs. Fetherston.

DIRECTOR OF RECONSTRUCTION
Ottawa, Nov. 25.—While no official announcement is forthcoming, it is understood that H. J. Daly, head of the S. J. Daly Company of Ottawa, has accepted the office of director of reconstruction. He will give personal supervision to the co-ordination of all agencies dealing with after-war conditions.

The racial problems of Austria-Hungary which the Allies have to solve. The Slavs of Bohemia and Moravia make up the new Czech-Slovak state. The Poles of Galicia may join their brethren in the north to form an independent Poland. A group of Slav states in the lower centre of the map may join with Montenegro and Serbia to make up a great Jugo-Slav nation.

FORTY CANADIANS WINNERS OF V. C.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A list of honors and decorations won by the members of the Canadian expeditionary force compiled by the militia department, shows that forty Victoria Crosses, the highest honor obtainable, have been awarded to soldiers of the dominion. The Distinguished Service Order was won by 491 Canadians, and 1,657 Military Crosses were awarded to officers of the C. E. F. The Military Medal, corresponding to the Militia Cross but granted to C. E. F. men, was awarded to 6,549 Canadian soldiers, and the Distinguished Conduct Medal to 1,028. Canadians mentioned in despatches numbered 9,383.

Of foreign honors awarded to Canadians, the French Croix de Guerre, bears the list in point of number. Three hundred and five members of the C. E. F. won this. The Russian Cross of St. George was given to 102 men from the dominion, and the French Médaille Militaire to forty-five. Twenty men from Canada won the Italian Bronze Medal for military valor.

Other distinctions, including 125 C. M. C.'s were also awarded to members of the C. E. F.

Dr. Finley walked across the plain of Edrei to Nazareth on Sept. 23. American engineers have now constructed excellent roads, which insure comfort in traveling. The natives of Palestine are enthusiastic at the improvements which they have seen and anticipate the time when they have their newly developed government and are self-supporting.

Y. W. C. A. SPEAKERS
In its double undertaking of opening a new home in the city for the girls of St. John and providing for the needs of the many women who will arrive in this winter port during the coming months the Y. W. C. A. received much inspiration and encouragement from three able and interesting speakers who addressed the quarterly meeting last night in the Great War Veterans' Hall. The speakers were Miss Neahy, secretary of the local organization; Miss Leas, who works for the secretary of the dominion council, and Miss Frances Jones, city secretary of the dominion council. Mrs. John McAvity, the president, was in the chair. A musical programme included two much enjoyed solos by Mrs. George Bell and Mrs. Fetherston.

FROM DEPOT BTN. TO GARRISON REGIMENT
A surprise was sprung in military circles yesterday in connection with demobilization activities. It was decided before any men from the Depot Battalion were discharged that 250 of the present complement be transferred to the 7th Garrison Regiment at West St. John for duty. No time was lost yesterday in completing the transfer, and throughout the day the officers at the headquarters of the Depot Battalion were busy making the necessary arrangements entailed in the new move.

A military official at headquarters said last evening that the newly transferred soldiers would constitute "B" class in No. 7 C. G. R., while those already on the strength of the latter unit will make up "A" company. It has been almost a matter of certainty that the garrison regiment at West St. John was to remain on duty for a considerable time after the termination of the war, but it had never been before suggested that men necessary for the strength of the unit would be drawn from the local Depot Battalion. The move caused no little surprise yesterday and it is needless to say that those who have been looking forward to an early discharge have to wait a while longer.

Major Barne, N. M., one of the Depot Battalion officers, has been appointed O. C. of the new company.

CENTENARY Y. P. S.
An entertainment given by the Young People's Society in the Centenary Methodist church last evening, which included an election contest, was a complete success. The hall was filled to the doors and all the numbers received a large measure of well merited applause. The election contest is a new department of the Young People's Society and this was the initial meeting. Miss Bessie Holder, Miss Pendleton and Miss Nan Powers were the contestants, and the prize was awarded to Miss Holder. Mrs. J. L. Dawson, Mrs. E. A. Westmorland and Mr. Stevens acted as judges. The entertainment consisted of duets by Mr. and Mrs. Lecheur and Miss Freda Jenkins and Miss Brennan, and an orchestra selection by four sisters, Misses Mabel, Lillian, Winnifred and Hettie Hawker. All of the selections were excellently rendered and were well received.

PROPOSE LARGE MOLASSES TANK

City Solicitor Decides Board Cannot Prevent Blacksmith Operating in Clarendon Street—The Pavement Tax Will Not Publish Recall Petition.

A meeting of the common council was held yesterday afternoon at which a communication was read from the Cross by Molasses Company asking for 10,000 feet of land at the end of Duke street facing the harbor, on which site they propose erecting a large molasses tank for distilling purposes. The communication was referred to the commissioner of harbors, ferries and public lands and the engineer to report back. A communication was read from Hon. J. B. Baxter, the city's solicitor, informing the council that the city had no authority to prohibit any person operating a blacksmith shop in Clarendon street. Commissioner McLellan moved that the one whose name appeared first on the petition be notified by the common clerk to that effect.

Commissioner Bullock moved for the issuing of debentures for $1,890, which was previously passed, for repairs to the approach of the East Side ferry floats. Commissioner Hilyard brought up the question of the amount levied from property owners in Union street for permanent pavement and said that he had been spoken to very frequently regarding it. He thought the council should take some action. Mayor Hayes said that he had taken the matter up with the city's solicitor and in his opinion the council has not authority to rescind the action the council took at that time.

Commissioner Fisher moved that the order to publish the body of the recall petition without the signatures be rescinded. This was seconded by Mayor Hayes, who said that he had reconsidered the matter and felt that he had made a mistake when he voted for it recently. He felt that either all should be published or nothing.

WON MILITARY MEDAL
Frederick, Nov. 25.—Sergeant-Major Hedley Forbes, son of Robert Forbes, of Devon, has been awarded the Military Medal. He went to France with No. 1 Canadian Field Ambulance on February 9, 1918. A GERMAN BOASTER.

An extraordinary story comes from Berlin, credited to one Bergmann, said to be "one of the leading industrialists of Germany, to the effect that there is no unemployment in Berlin; that the peace-time industries all over the country are settling down to work with orders for a long time ahead, and that "Germany has the money to pay for the food and everything else she will be compelled to buy abroad."

If this is true the Allies will be able to secure large indemnities. If Germany has plenty of money and is now planning to go on accumulating more wealth, the Allies must see to it that this money goes to rebuild Belgium and France and Serbia and other territory laid waste by German ruthlessness. It would be a mockery of justice to permit Germany to get raw material, develop her industries and go out after world-trade while the countries she ravished were struggling to repair the waste and get on their feet again.

We may doubt, however, if Herr Bergmann is telling the truth. Germany no doubt has a splendid industrial organization, but if she had not reached the point of exhaustion she would not have accepted the armistice terms imposed upon her.

Herr Bergmann's story is at least a good effort to the begging appeals of some other Germans for food and for less severe terms. No doubt the Allies now have reliable sources of information as to the actual conditions in Germany, although they are saying very little about it.

PROHIBITION. Will the necessary three-fourths of the American states declare in favor of an amendment to the constitution to provide for national prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors? There are forty-eight states, of which fourteen have declared by the necessary majority in the legislature in favor of the amendment. Thirty-four have yet to vote, and it will be necessary to carry twenty-two of these.

The states that have already ratified are Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Carolina, Montana, Texas, Dakota, Maryland, Massachusetts, Delaware, Maryland and Louisiana.

At the world prohibition conference in Columbus, Ohio, last week, Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler of Washington, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, said that a canvass of the situation convinced him that not only would the necessary thirty-six states vote for the amendment, but that there was an excellent prospect of carrying forty-seven of the forty-eight.

Recent revelations of the activities of the United States Brewers' Association will doubtless have a good deal of influence upon public sentiment. It was brought out last week in Washington, before the senate judiciary sub-committee, not only that the brewers had an organized boycott against firms and individuals suspected of a leaning toward prohibition, but that they were in league with the German-American Alliance, which was dissolved by resolution of congress after it had been proved to be disloyal.

In cases of boycott, the brewers not only compelled all their employees as far as possible to cease doing any business with firms on the black list, but they exerted every other possible influence to ruin them. For example, it is charged that an attempt was made to influence the architects to exclude the products of the American Brick and Mill Company, which was on the list, from any plans and specifications made. Officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway were asked to explain to brewery officials why orders had been issued demanding total abstinence on the part of engineers, after a train wreck that cost thirty lives. Many such illustrations were brought out in evidence.

With regard to the German-American Alliance, which was the centre of German influence and did all in its power to keep the United States out of the war, bringing upon itself finally the condemnation of congress, the evidence shows that it was closely linked up with the Brewers' Association, through whose headquarters it flooded the country with literature designed to create pro-German sentiment. Even after the United States entered the war the two organizations were associated in propaganda work.

It would not be surprising if these revelations gave a stronger impetus to the movement to put the Brewers' Association out of business altogether.

But there is a much wider movement on foot than that to secure national prohibition in the United States. A federation to promote world-federation is proposed. An assemblage of all prohibition forces in the United States is to be held within a few weeks to set the world-movement in operation. It is proposed to send delegates to other countries to promote the cause. One speaker at the Columbus conference put the case in these forcible words:

"The revelation of the war is conclusive. A democratic government in the United States was not safe as long as there existed anywhere a powerful autocracy. The liquor problem is also a worldwide problem and the reform institution which must solve it must be worldwide in scope."

Of America's responsibility in the matter Chairman Henshaw of the Prohibition National Committee, recently said: "America has for a quarter of a century been transporting liquors to between forty and fifty nations, as a result of which hundreds of millions of black and brown peoples of the earth have felt the influence of American liquor. Dr. Roberts, a returned missionary from China, says there is not a public house in China but American liquors are advertised on the bill of fare and served to guests. That which is true of China is true in great degree of Africa, South America, Japan and India. If there is one reason for securing national prohibition, there are fifty reasons for securing world-wide prohibition. The crime of America against herself is in no wise equal to her crime against the non-Christian nations of the earth."

Occasionally there is a suggestion that Canada may relax the strictness of prohibition laws. Any such attempt should be resisted with all the force of an enlightened public sentiment.

LIGHTER VEIN

Only Left It a Comb. "Mamma," said Bobby, "when you told the new cook to dress the chicken, she started to undress it."

Positive Proof. "Yes, I'm getting old." "Why, you're looking younger than ever."

"That's it. You may be sure you're getting old when your friends tell you you're looking younger than ever."

Not Easily Done. "Say, pa." "What is it?" "When you tear your hair, how do you mend it?"

From the Chestnut Tree. "The motorman usually has more money than the conductor."

"Why?" "Because he keeps ahead, while the conductor is always behind."

Mustn't Overheat. "When feeding the furnace." "Oh, she—well, she usually says, 'Don't you dare to throw stones at my dog again, you little wretch!'"

He Knew! "No man can acquire money without making sacrifices," said the man who had made his.

"No, not even when he marries for it," replied the man who had tried the experiment.

Slight of Hand. Fitz Jones—Did you go to the revue last evening, Percy? De Brown—No. I attended a slight-of-hand performance to the indifference of the conductor.

Fitz Jones—Where? De Brown—I went to call on Miss Le Smythe, and offered her my hand, but she slighted it.

CODFISH TALKS

Issued by Canada Food Board

INCREASE DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION.

Cod is found in greater abundance in the Atlantic waters than any other fish, and it is one of the least appreciated by Canadians. Over 200,000,000 pounds of codfish are landed annually by Canadian fishermen, but, owing to the indifference of the Canadian public to the palatability and nourishing qualities of cod, the bulk of the catch has hitherto been salted, dried, and exported to the West Indies, South America, and Latin Europe.

Food Board Flashes

Watch food advertisements. There is always the best and cheapest place to buy any commodity. Much can be accomplished in the way of economy by watching the advertisements in local papers. Merchants do not advertise unless the price and quality of the goods are attractive and they know that they must fulfill their promises if they are to retain their customers and make new ones.

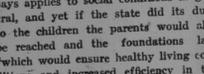

Help the most progressive merchant in your locality. Competition does more to regulate prices than anything else.

Oak Hall's Wholesale Warehouse Well Stocked With Men's and Boys' Clothing

Although business has been carried on in a wholesale way at the Oak Hall warehouse, 101-107 Germain street, there is still a ample stock to choose from.

The O'Donnell sale of men's and boys' clothing and furnishings has proven to be one of the largest displays ever seen in the city. This whole stock will be turned over this week, low prices and excellent values making such a quick turnover possible. It is to everybody's advantage to visit this sale early before stocks are too much depleted.

The Peace Christmas

On account of "war times" we have many times held back our natural inclination to give something.

And now with an equal regard for the fitness of things, we instinctively turn to something that shall adequately commemorate what will be known as the "Peace Christmas."

Let it be a gift which is lasting and worthy of the occasion.

Write us and we will send you the Birks Year Book.

CALLS IT WORLD'S GREATEST AND MOST PRESSING PROBLEM

To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir—The world was never faced with national problems more varied, and of greater moment than it is today. Among these are the financial problem, the liquor, gambling and impurity problems, the educational problem, etc. But none are so great and of such vital importance with reference to the nation's future welfare as the man power problem.

The present awful war has reduced the male population considerably, and for years to come every male child's life must be looked upon as a valuable and indispensable asset, and should therefore receive that care and attention which is necessary to secure the best results from such a life.

Nations cannot afford to have any more wasteful, and everything which leads that way must be diligently removed, so that each life may have a fair chance of reaching its highest possibilities. It seems an astonishing fact, but it is a fact nevertheless, that in the past the breeding of cattle and horses has received almost greater attention than the rearing of children—children with immortal powers of action and influence either for good or for evil. Is it not the darkest blot on the civilization of today that, in the most enlightened countries of the world, there should be found tens of thousands of children, regarding whom their nations have assumed no responsibility, except to accommodate their lives when wrecked, in prisons, lunatic asylums, infirmaries, hospitals and poor houses?

The old adage "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," seems to have been forgotten by the nation, so far as that valuable national asset—a child—is concerned. It is true that benevolent societies of kinds have been organized, and orphanages have been established by private individuals, or by churches, but these have merely touched the fringe of the problem, and only a small percentage of the needy children of the nation can be provided for by them.

I admit it is no small task to father the entire childhood of a country, but it is worth all the expenditure and attention that such a task could possibly demand. Apart from the much greater productivity of every child cared for and properly built up life, there is the enormous saving to the nation in the prevention of the many lines of expenditure now incurred through having to handle the vast amount of wreckage, annually thrown on the nation's human scrap heap, to which the liquor traffic forms about the largest contributing factor.

The ravages of disease—both moral and physical—largely resulting from poverty and privation—come next, and the replenishing of these ranks is continued through those human apologies for manhood and womanhood, who lead their impoverished bodies to become the producers of the future of their nation.

Should not our sense of national economy lead us to a more careful and more active handling of the entire subject of the nation's plastic human material, known as its children. It is a disgrace to any country that there should be starving children, found near the very lap of luxury, when even some of the crumbs which fall from that lap could be of such material help, without the slightest personal inconvenience or loss to the giver.

Now to come to practical points. What can be done, and what should be done?

I desire to present the following suggestions for the consideration of those who have it within their power to urge their adoption, or the adoption of proposals which might be made by others as improvements upon them.

1. Every child born in a country should be commanded for the nation's future good and the nation's personal attention given to it accordingly.

2. The parent of a child should be made to clearly understand that the child is as much the nation's property as the parent's property, and as the nation is likely to need it for future service, either mercantile, civil, or military, there must be a joint responsibility exercised by both parent and nation regarding its care and keep.

3. The nation should levy a child tax on every citizen, except those who have been the producers of children, and who in consequence have to assume all the care and responsibilities of parenthood.

4. There should be a systematic inspection of the physical and moral condition of every child, preferably by medical men or women, to see whether the child is properly fed and morally protected from the influences which lead to degradation and poverty.

5. In the cases where the above reports are favorable, the care of the child should be left entirely with the parents.

6. Where the reports as to the parents' conduct and sense of responsibility are favorable, but their income is below a living wage, state aid should be rendered, either by securing more remunerative employment for the family, or by giving such allowance as may be necessary to keep the child or children in fit condition.

7. Where parents are found whose moral and financial conditions are such as to show a sad lack of parental responsibility, the state should assert its national right to adopt, protect, and develop the neglected child, and should continue to do so until the parents are in a position, in respect of both character and money, to discharge their solemn responsibilities. The care of thousands of children who are both physically wrecked by disease, and morally wrecked by degrading surroundings, long before they reach their teens. Such children become a drag on the nation, and, on the face of it, it is far wiser to assume their care for the first fifteen years of their lives than their keep for the rest of life.

8. A very heavy tax should be levied on every wealthy childless person, as it is but fair that such wealth should be the main contributing factor to the betterment of the nation's man power, through which power their wealth has been, and continues to be, protected for their own solitary enjoyment.

The responsibility of aiding the nation in producing the best fed bodies, the most enlightened minds, and the cleanest characters the nation can possibly have produced, largely through the surplus wealth of the wealthy, should be borne home upon this section of the community. The extra value and productivity of a life which has been sufficiently nourished and carefully trained, say during the first fifteen years of its existence, is incomparably greater than the cost of its support during those early years. It starts with a distinct asset in the way of a base, which is likely to give it strength and purpose in reaching the highest goal it is possible for it to reach.

Then, too, we should not forget the decidedly superior bodies and minds which the offspring of such protected children are likely to have.

Heaps of money has been spent in the past on brick and stone monuments of kinds throughout the empire. Should not money in future be spent in the erection of the best monuments any nation can possibly raise, namely, clean, upright, powerful, thinking and acting citizens?

We have been giving millions a day for the destruction of an enemy power; may we not give one million a day for a few years in constructing the best man and woman power for the future of our nation, which would, in the next decade or two, help in solving the tremendous financial problems which now face us.

Yours, etc.

E. W. FRITCHLEY.

COUNTY COURT.

The county court, His Honor Judge Armstrong presiding, was engaged all day yesterday in the trial of the case of Harry McEllan, who is charged with stealing invalid port wine from a C. P. R. car at Fairville. Attorney-General Byrne is conducting the prosecution and D. Mallin, K.C., is counsel for McEllan. Considerable evidence was taken during the two sessions and the case will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock.

Is This Your Bill?

"The Sins of the Flesh" are punished in this world—not in the next.

Disease is not an accident, nor is it sent by Providence. It is Nature's punishment for the breaking of her laws.

Hemorrhoids, for example, occasion an infinite degree of discomfort, suffering and misery. So does a fissure or a fistula.

But such punishments are meted out to those who sin against Nature in two ways, by neglecting to maintain regular, easy, thorough evacuation of the bowels—who form the bad habit of constipation—or what is a worse habit, the taking of pills, castor oil, purgative mineral waters, salts, etc., with the mistaken idea of overcoming constipation by forcing the bowels to move unnaturally.

But the Nujol Treatment for Constipation prevents such sins of the flesh, or mitigates the punishment therefor.

Nujol helps to re-establish easy, regular, thorough evacuation of the bowels.

Nujol is not a drug, does not act like any drug. Nujol is absolutely harmless.

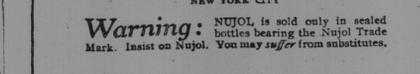

Nujol keeps the waste matter soft, moist and easily voided.

Nujol is not absorbed, does not effect the body—acts as a mechanical lubricant, which can be used for any length of time.

Get Nujol from your druggist. Take Nujol according to directions.

BELIEVE DICTATORSHIP IN RUSSIA CAN'T LAST

"Smacks Too Much of Monarchism"—British and U. S. Forces Meet Strong Resistance—Czecho-Slovak Forces Remain.

Harbin, Saturday, Nov. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The Czechoslovak forces in Russia are not interested in the internal affairs in Russia and they desire to return to their homeland, but will remain in Russia because the Allied governments have requested them to do so, declares General Stefanik, minister of war in the Czecho-Slovak government. The general was in Harbin today on his way to the Volga front.

General Stefanik believes that if force is used to break up opposition to the Bolshevik question can be decided in weeks rather than in months. The newspapers in Harbin express the belief that the dictatorship of Admiral Kolchak in the all-Russian government at Omsk will not last long. They declare that the new governmental plan smacks of monarchism.

Archedel, Nov. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The Entente and American troops have encountered strong opposition both on the Volgograd-Archangel railway and on the Drina river. Owing to the swampy condition of the terrain, it has been necessary to confine operations to the waterway and the railway. As the upper part of the river is deeper than at its mouth the Bolshevik craft, equipped with large guns, have been unable to maneuver there than the Entente ships and have prevented the occupation of Kotlas by the Entente.

Daylight in Archangel now is of only four hours' duration, and this fact, with the fog, facilitates the guerilla warfare of the Bolsheviks, operating in the shelter of the forests. It is believed that evacuation of the Archangel district by the Allies would probably result in the murder of the entire population friendly to the Entente by the Bolsheviks.

Vladivostok, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—General Semonoff, who has been the anti-Bolshevik leader in the Trans-Baikal region, has interrupted his communication between Omsk, the seat of the all-Russian government, and Vladivostok. He asserts his jurisdiction over the Amur, Ussuri and Trans-Baikal districts, and has established headquarters at Chita.

A northern man traveling through Alabama was much interested in Uncle Ned. "So you were once a slave, eh?" said the man.

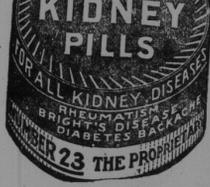

"Yes, sah," said Uncle Ned. "How thrilling!" said the gentleman. "And after the war you got your freedom, eh?" "No, sah," said Ned, gloomily. "I didn't get mah freedom, sah. After de war I done got married."

Keep The Bowels Regular And You Won't Be Sick

If the bowels do not move regularly, they will, sooner or later, become constipated, and constipation is productive of more ill-health than almost any other trouble.

The sole cause of constipation is an inactive liver, and unless the liver is kept active, you may be sure that headaches, flues, heartburn, biliousness, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, and many other troubles will follow the wrong action of this, one of the most important organs of the body.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the bowels so that you will have a free and easy motion every day, and one pill a night for thirty days will cure the worst cases of constipation. They do this by acting directly on the liver and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood, thus causing many stomach and bowel troubles.

Mrs. Jos. Labrec, Louise Apts., Calgary, Alta., writes—"I have been troubled with constipation for the last two years. I have tried numerous treatments, but I have never been relieved by anything until I used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which are helping me wonderfully."

We do not claim that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are a "cure-all," but we do claim that there is nothing better for a sluggish liver. Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RECENT DEATHS

Alberta Stewart. The death of Alberta Stewart, aged four years, eldest child of Albert and the late Annie Stewart, occurred on Saturday after an illness of three weeks. The funeral took place from her parents' residence, 1 Hanover street, on Sunday afternoon.

NO PLACE HERE FOR THE IDLER

An Outcast in Canada in the Future
ALL MUST WORK

Big Talk of Development Ahead — Education a Big Factor in Problems of Reconstruction

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Education will prove the greatest factor in meeting the problems of reconstruction, and upon the extent to which the authorities of the Dominion develop the innate abilities of the people will depend the future of Canada and the place which the country will take in the keen commercial competition which is to come, according to Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, who addressed a great gathering at the annual commencement exercises of the Technical School. The minister emphasized the part held by technical and industrial education in the community, and predicted enormous strides in the very near future. The Ontario government, he was certain, would provide generous support, but he ventured the plea that the whole of the industrial education was vastly wider than provincial range, and felt that the Dominion government should shoulder some of the responsibility for its development.

At the opening of his address Hon. Dr. Cody paid a tribute to the work of Principal Dr. McKay, of the Central Technical School, which he said was an object lesson in the industrial pursuits of Canada. They had learned a lesson in unpreparedness through the war, and he was certain they were not going to be caught unprepared for peace. The problems of reconstruction before them were many, but they could only be met by the fullest development of their natural and human resources. Every one must eschew wastefulness and idleness, and only by thrift, zeal and intelligence would they meet the burdens placed upon them by the war. There would be no place in the future for the idler and the waster, and all must work and save with the fullest capacity.

The schools, he said, would be called upon to do much in the problems of reconstruction, for they were going to have more than a bare return to pre-war conditions. They were coming to a better world and a better distribution of the things of life. The chief side of reconstruction was to rebuild the new life on a better and more permanent foundation, and in doing this no factor would prove greater than education. Upon the extent to which they developed the innate abilities of the people would the future of Canada depend. There was afforded a fresh opportunity for education. They had learned a lesson by the enemy's use of it, and it should not be confined to the youth of the country, but an opportunity given to the adults to discuss the problems which make for a better citizenship.

Train the Mind.
They must also care for the bodies of the boys and girls, but this in itself would not be sufficient. They must also train the mind and even then education would still be ineffective if it did not include devotion of spirit and social efficiency.

He did not claim the educational system of Ontario was perfect, but the authorities sought to use it to the full and improve upon it to the utmost. Education to be effective must be based on changed conditions, but he declared that it was not possible to provide in the public schools all that should be given to the youth of the country if they were to become efficient in industry and education, and it was the general opinion that there must be a further system of education.

HOLLAND'S QUEEN.

Last week there were ominous rumors from Holland and the outlook was bad for Queen Wilhelmina, but it is now reported that the public uneasiness has been allayed and that the Queen is as popular as ever.

Beware of Substitutes

Dr. Cody stated that he wished to emphasize that in Ontario the technical and industrial school was an integral part of their educational system, and that the provincial authorities were not passively supporting industrial education, but most actively doing so. He re-stated the criticism of bureaucratic organization, and declared that the immediate direction of the schools were under an advisory committee appointed by the boards of education. The inspectors, he said, were not glorified detectives, but helpers, inspirers and fellow-teachers, who were trying to help the teachers and improve conditions.

He looked for an enormous advance in industrial and technical education but the chief difficulty was money. It was a curious instance of human inconsistency that those who had supported schools of this kind strongly protested against further expenditures which were required from time to time. But he wished to say that the people of Ontario had to make up their minds whether or not more money was to be spent in the development of education especially industrial and technical education. He did not think that the Ontario government was ungenerous in the past, but ventured to plead that industrial education was vastly wider than provincial range, and he felt that the Dominion government should be willing to make a generous grant to the provinces for the development of technical and industrial education.

They must determine to do their utmost for this form of secondary education, so that the youth of the land could take their part in the new Canada and develop their material and national life. The national spirit which had been developed in the trenches must also be developed at home. They had great chances, a glorious land, a great age; they had the acumen and the acuteness of mind to seize the opportunity of the new life.

I've proved Beyond Doubt that Zam-Buk's power is infinitely superior to that of any other ointment. That not only is Zam-Buk capable of curing where other remedies fail, but Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

When living in Vernon, I suffered acutely for over two years with a sore on my leg, which, despite all treatment, turned into an open ulcer. I tried all kinds of ointments, liniments, etc., but the ulcer only got worse, and finally became so bad that I decided to go into a hospital for treatment. Before doing so, however, a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, which I did, and the first few applications gave me such relief, that I was encouraged to continue. By degrees all the soreness and inflammation were drawn out, and then healing began.

To cut a long story short, perseverance with this wonderful balm resulted in a complete cure. To me it seems nothing short of marvellous, that after suffering so intensely for so long, Zam-Buk should effect a cure in such a comparatively short time, after all other remedies had failed. It is two years now since this cure was effected, and there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning.

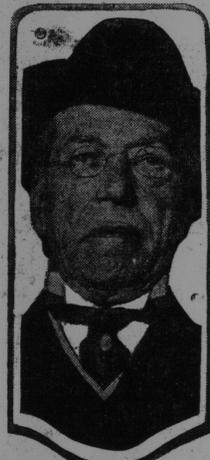

Since I have enlisted I have further proved the power of Zam-Buk. I have just returned from the front where the men say it is invaluable—so splendid for the many injuries and ailments incidental to the soldier's life. I have personally given Zam-Buk to many of my men for various ailments and injuries and in all cases the results have been eminently satisfactory.

I shall be glad if you will publish this letter, as I think everyone should know of this wonderful healing ointment—Zam-Buk.

LABOR'S WARNING.

ing space, but this was not for long. To Gallipoli.

The demand came from Gallipoli for reinforcements, and never was the need greater. The Naval Division was called upon. The two marine battalions, Chatham and Plymouth, were the first to go, and two days after the landing the Plymouth put up a fight on Y beach, which makes the exploit of the Six Hundred seem almost trifling. For a full account of their exploits on the peninsula one should read Masfield's book. It is complete. Nothing nobler will be written about the Gallipoli campaign, and in the glory of it the Naval Division share equally with the wonderful fighting men from the Antipodes. Such was the reputation this hybrid soldier-sailor army gained that General D'Amade, according to the New York Sun's London correspondence, said that he would have nothing but the Royal Naval Division on his left flank. The British sailors and the French poilus understood each other perfectly, and shoulder to shoulder fought some of the bitterest battles of the campaign.

The Hindenburg Line.

It was in the course of the Gallipoli campaign that one of the supermen of the war was discovered. He was Brigadier-General Freyberg, a New Zealander, then in under officers, but now a D. S. O. and a V. C. man. Masfield has fittingly recorded his exploit of swimming ashore to light flares on the beach, and on his return getting lost and swimming until when he was about to sink he heard the sound of oars and eventually reached his ship. In all three brilliant battles the Naval Division fought with the utmost gallantry and stubbornness. After the withdrawal of the army from the peninsula the division went to France to take part in the second battle of the Somme, the British division, though recruited, manned and equipped throughout the entire Mississippi Valley because for the first time in eighteen

Coughs

Coughs are Nature's danger signal—Nature's way of telling you that in throat or breathing tubes there is something wrong—something needing attention. Perhaps the delicate membranes have been chilled and are inflamed and sore. Disease germs may have lodged there and may be setting up irritation, which if not checked will bring on acute bronchitis, asthma, or even worse evils! So never ignore a cough.

Peps kill coughs because they remove the causes. As soon as a Peps is dissolved in the mouth, powerful, but pleasant, medicinal vapors are liberated. These healing fumes bathe the lining membranes of the throat and breathing tubes, kill disease germs, allay irritation and soothe the inflamed parts.

Peps enable you to end coughs and colds in Nature's way, by breathing in the medicine the same way as the disease germs causing the trouble were breathed in! Isn't this wiser treatment than the swallowing of mixtures into your stomach—which is not ailing?

For coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, sore throat, night cough and all troubles of throat and chest, try Peps. Best for children because pleasant to take and free from opiates, etc. All dealers, 50c. a box.

the crate, but for packing the trucks and for putting them together. These are so explicit that Capt. Moody says any man who can run an automobile truck can take it out of one of the army crates and assemble the various parts. This method of crating automobiles promises to be of use to manufacturers in the United States. The bureau of commerce anticipates a large and growing foreign trade in American automobiles, especially the low priced makes. Capt. Moody's bureau likewise has ingenious ways of packing automobiles on flat cars and into box cars. The army has been putting three trucks on a freight car, where heretofore only one could be shipped. Five pleasure cars can be transported in the space usually taken by two or three. Certain of these processes are patented but have been put at the disposal of the government and are said to be available for private shippers.

The army makes crates for rolling kitchens, among a thousand other articles. The materials and blueprints, for the manufacture, are provided to the very last detail. The centre of gravity is required to be indicated on rates for kind of canned goods are described to the very last detail and nail. Such features as lock corner construction are carefully described, so that any mechanic of average intelligence should be able to understand. Solid fibre containers, corrugated fibre containers, in short, every kind of container likely to be required in the export trade, is covered in the army specifications.

While every process and method, followed by the army, may not be applicable in private enterprise, very much of the army's experience should be applicable to the needs of shippers in the export trade. The wide range of supplies furnished to an army in the field covers about all that the business being in foreign fields can require from the manufacturers and shippers in the United States in times of profound peace.

NAVAL DIVISION CLAIMS RECORD

British Navy Has Distinction of Having Fought in All Theatres of Combat in Great World War.

Though some of the finest literature that this war will give to posterity will have as its inspiration the exploits of some single army or division, it is improbable that military historians will ever agree to award the palm. But hardly has the number of the guns died in the British Royal Navy Division rises to claim at least one war's record, namely, that it has fought in all theatres of combat. It may be left to stout hearts to contradict anything that the Royal Naval Division may choose to claim, and briefly set down some of the adventures of a most extraordinary division. It was hastily gathered together by Winston Churchill in the fall of 1914 with the express purpose of saving Antwerp. It was composed of a mere handful of regular soldiers, some reservists, the bulk being made up of public school men, many of whom had never fired a gun in their lives while the greatest exploits in this line of the most veterans of them was probably the slaying of pheasants.

Some Famous Men.

Two brigades were naval ratings, one mercantiles and each battalion was named after a famous admiral—Hawke, Nelson, Benbow, Hood, Drake, Collingwood, Howe, and Anson. The division was under the command of Major-General Paris, who was in the thick of the fighting until a shell destroyed one of his legs in October, 1916. It embraced some men destined for immortality. One of them was Rupert Brooke. Another was Brigadier-General Seely, a former minister of war; another was Compton Mackenzie, the novelist; Anthony Winding, the greatest tennis player in the history of the game, and one of the most gallant of gentlemen, and Brigadier-General Arthur Asquith, D. S. O., son of Mr. Asquith, were in that noble company. The brigade landed on the Belgian coast to protect the left flank of the Franco-British armies in Flanders. It was rushed almost on the day of landing to the defence of Antwerp. Mr. Churchill explained later that it was not sent as an isolated unit, but as part of a large operation for the relief of the city, and added "other and more powerful considerations prevented this from being carried out. Here is a mystery yet to be explained.

The Defence of Antwerp.

As it happened, the main task fell on the shoulders of these raw recruits. They first held the lines to the north of the city and later protected the Belgian field army as it fell back, and without sleep, without food for long periods, it held on, waiting for the reinforcements that never came. Three terrible weeks were spent in this work, which have been described by Brooke, and then the word came that Antwerp was to be abandoned and the division withdrawn down the coast. In one of the terrific rear-guard actions that followed, one battalion got lost in the dark and marched into Holland, there to be interned for the duration of the war. It was a sadly shattered, but indomitable brigade that was finally given a break-of Beaumont the division added to its laurels. It was in this action that Lieut. Col. Freyberg got his V. C. and the heroism displayed by the men under him on that occasion has hardly been surpassed in the war. Later on the division fought hand-to-hand with German sailors taken from their resting feet and sent to the front. Like the Canadians, the Royal Naval Division is entitled to use the word "Queen" on its banners, for the survivors of the force assembled in 1914 were in at the death when the first break through of the Hindenburg line was made and the way paved for the events of last week.

Youth and Age

"SO this is your birthday, grandmother."

"Yes, dearie, I am seventy-five years old to-day. It doesn't seem possible, for I don't feel old."

"And you certainly do not look old. Besides, you are always so happy and cheerful that you do not seem at all old."

"A woman is only as old as she looks you know, and I have always tried to keep young and healthy."

"And were you never sick, grandmother?"

"Oh, yes, indeed, there was a time in my life when I never expected to live to be fifty, say nothing about seventy-five. When your mother and my other children were small I had my hands full and got run down in health. I got so nervous that I could not sleep and had frequent headaches. Every little thing the children would do seemed to annoy and worry me until, finally, I gave out entirely, and was in bed for months with nervous prostration."

"Did you have a doctor?"

"Yes, dearie, I had two or three doctors, but they only told me that it would take a long time for me to regain strength. One day your grandfather came in with some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He said some one told him that it would cure me, and he went away to the drug store and bought half a dozen boxes."

"What did your doctor say about using it?"

"Well, what could he say? He only said that he had done all he could, and that he had run across a great many cases in which the Nerve Food had been used with excellent results. So I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I was on the way to health and strength."

"And did it cure you?"

"Well, the best evidence is that I am here to-day, well and happy, after all these years. And I am more than ever enthusiastic for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for I have used it several times during the last few years when I felt that I needed some assistance to keep up vitality. As a person gets older I think their blood gets thinner, and they seem to need something like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase their strength and vigor."

"That is something worth knowing grandmother."

"If you will take my advice, dearie, you will not forget about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you get run down, tired out and nervous. This has been my advice to a great many people, and I know that it has done them good."

years a regular barge service thus has been established between St. Louis and New Orleans. The voyage was made under the auspices of government authorities who have been deeply interested in utilizing the Mississippi in order that the railways might be relieved of much freight and that the shippers might have the advantage of the very low rates which this water route makes possible.

Washington, Nov. 20.—It seems as though the army, out of its experience in the recent great war, will give a valuable lesson or so to seekers for foreign trade. A contribution certainly appears to be at hand from that quarter in the prosaic but none the less essential matter of packing. Very excellent ideas, judiciously very thorough and detailed system, has been developed in the transportation of enormous quantities of supplies to our troops in Europe. All these have not only been reduced to careful diagrams and specifications, but are said also to be sufficiently economical to merit commercial attention.

Capt. R. H. Moody, as chief of the packing service branch, purchase storage division of the general staff, has had charge of this work. He was an expert in overseas packing in New York before the war, and was brought to Washington by the general staff when it became evident that the quartermaster department of the army had great transportation tasks ahead. Capt. Moody has apparently developed packing methods far beyond anything hitherto known in the American army. He believes that good packing and the consequent utilization of shipping space to the utmost account in no small measure, for the success of army authorities in getting adequate supplies to our soldiers.

Now that the war is over, Captain Moody has undertaken to disseminate as widely as he can in commercial and trade circles the information the army has gained about good packing. He has undertaken to co-operate with the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. He invites persons interested in the export trade of the United States to communicate with his office in this city. Detailed specifications for making crates of various kinds of containers will be furnished. Capt. Moody is very certain a great deal of experience the quartermaster's department gained in rushing supplies, clothing and equipment will be exceedingly useful to those engaged in foreign trade.

One concrete example is found in the shipment of clothing, such as overcoats, uniforms, underwear, bed covers, cot covers and so on through a long category. These were not shipped in boxes, but in bales, a standard size for which was 30"x15"x15." Take the shipments of light woolen socks. The standard bale comprised 600 pairs. The packing was with a power press, the bale was bound with four bands of iron, and covered with burlap and waterproof paper. Incidentally this size of bale required a burlap wrapping that could be reclaimed, after the bale had been put down in France, and made into ten sandbags. This method of baling, however, saved 60 per cent of the space that socks required under the old method of shipping.

"Freight costs are based much," said Capt. Moody, "on the volume of space required both in cars to the seaboard and in ships. This way of baling can be applied to a great variety of goods and shipment in perfect condition is assured. One can put 300 bath towels in the same size bale, or 480 Denham hats. The bales are subjected to a pressure of fifteen tons on regular presses, that require a crew of four men and make one bale at one operation. A press will put out 300 bales in a day.

"We have a six-story plant in New York, a concrete building that turns out 6,000 bales a day. There is another plant in the quartermaster depot at Cambridge, Mass. These presses have all been perfected since the war began. They enable shippers to save from 40 per cent to 300 per cent of space over the old way. This saving should make it possible for our business men to compete more efficiently for foreign trade.

Baling is only one of many improved army methods of furthering shipment supplies. The quartermaster department has a very interesting process for taking all kinds of commodities from us to automobiles. It has a system for shipping five-ton automobile trucks, by which a vehicle occupying 1,000 cubic feet of space is put into a crate occupying but 268 cubic feet. There are detailed instructions, not only for making

Social Conditions Need Improvement in Order to Check Appalling Loss of Life and Promote National Prosperity

(Thomas Adams in Conversation) Dr. Hattie, medical officer of health of Nova Scotia, estimates that our economic loss from unnecessary deaths in Canada is $150,000,000 per annum...

The very sacrifices which are being made in the war demand that we who are at home should devote our attention to laying the foundations which will insure healthy living conditions and increased efficiency in the future.

in the other provinces should be changed in name and widened in scope, so far as may be necessary, to make them applicable to deal adequately with both rural and urban development. All rural and urban land should be planned and regulated by proper "development schemes," prepared under such planning and development acts, with a view to securing health, convenience, efficiency and amenity in connection with its use for building or other purposes, and discouraging speculation.

7.—The problems of re-instating service men into industrial and social life should be dealt with by the municipalities under the guidance and control of provincial departments, and provision should be made for placing such men in suitable and congenial vocations, either in rural or in urban localities. They should be placed where their abilities can be put to the best use, where it is reasonably certain that adequate reward can be obtained for their labor, and where facilities for social intercourse and education are available.

Development schemes dealing with wide areas should be prepared in advance of any settlement on the land of returned soldiers, and such schemes should be economically sound, independent of the financial aid that may be given as a reward for military service.

8.—A comprehensive survey of the social, physical and industrial conditions of all rural territory should be made, with the object of ascertaining the main facts regarding the problems of rural life and rural development, and of enabling constructive proposals to be made regarding the development of the human and natural resources of the country.

9.—Provincial governments should reconsider their systems of administering colonization highways and municipal affairs, with special regard to the need for securing more co-ordination, uniformity and efficiency in all matters pertaining to local government, and for increasing the responsibilities and powers of municipal authorities under the skilled advice of a central department in each province.

10.—Model regulations setting a minimum standard of sanitation and general development should be agreed to by provincial governments and municipalities in joint conference and then made compulsory in each province.

11.—Carefully planned model towns or "garden cities" should be established on suitable sites as object lessons in industrial development and of increasing production by scientific means and providing more varied opportunities for labor, including returned soldiers. Areas in these towns should be reserved for both manufacture and agriculture, on lines which have already been successful.

13.—The groups that the chairman of the Prohibition Party says will soon get together for world-wide prohibition are those comprised in the National Dry Federation, of which the Rev. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is secretary. Dr. Scanlon is also secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Temperance. The National Dry Federation is distinct from the Anti-Saloon League. It was intended to unite all of the dry forces of the nation, and the invitation was extended to the league to join, but it did not come in, Mr. Hinshaw states. The federation includes thirty-seven organizations with a very large membership.

"The National Prohibition Party," continued Mr. Hinshaw, "will continue intact in this country, carrying on its work as aggressively as ever until prohibition is entrenched in the federal constitution and statutes, and until some party in power is committed to the enforcement of the prohibition law. At the same time, the Prohibition National Committee will take part in the world's reconstruction, following the greatest of world wars for the purpose of advancing among all nations the greatest of all reforms, the prohibition of alcoholic stimulants."

PROHIBITIONISTS MOVING FORWARD

Gathering of Several Groups Soon to Take Place, Says Chairman Hinshaw, and World-wide Campaign to Be Started

Chicago, Nov. 26.—The world prohibition movement in this country is rapidly taking shape. Hard upon the gathering to this end of the Anti-Saloon League at Columbus, Ohio, this week, comes word from Chairman Virgil G. Hinshaw of the rest of America's dry forces working to the same purpose.

Mr. Hinshaw stated that the Prohibition National Committee has already arranged to send a representative to Australia. He is Eugene Chapin, candidate of the party for president a few years ago. The prohibition committee has also received the promise of a very able man to go to China, said Mr. Hinshaw.

The groups that the chairman of the Prohibition Party says will soon get together for world-wide prohibition are those comprised in the National Dry Federation, of which the Rev. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is secretary. Dr. Scanlon is also secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Temperance. The National Dry Federation is distinct from the Anti-Saloon League. It was intended to unite all of the dry forces of the nation, and the invitation was extended to the league to join, but it did not come in, Mr. Hinshaw states. The federation includes thirty-seven organizations with a very large membership.

"The National Prohibition Party," continued Mr. Hinshaw, "will continue intact in this country, carrying on its work as aggressively as ever until prohibition is entrenched in the federal constitution and statutes, and until some party in power is committed to the enforcement of the prohibition law. At the same time, the Prohibition National Committee will take part in the world's reconstruction, following the greatest of world wars for the purpose of advancing among all nations the greatest of all reforms, the prohibition of alcoholic stimulants."

TO CONFER WITH PREMIER WHEN HE RETURNS HOME

Representatives of Returned Soldiers Anxious to Discuss Plans for Government Assistance
Now that the various units in this military district are in process of demobilization, and there is already a large number of wounded and convalescent men from the front, with thousands about to embark for home, the matter of government recompense for service done is occupying the minds of soldiers, civilians and the authorities alike.

The return of Premier W. E. Foster from the Ottawa conference of provincial premiers will be the signal for a series of table-talks between the khaki lads' representatives and legislators, and it is expected Mr. Foster will very soon ask the men for an exhaustive discussion, as he promised to do.

While it is, of course, too early to know just what the inner details of Premier Foster's plans are, it is assumed he will have a satisfactory announcement to make, as based upon the scheme laid down by the federal government for all Canadian soldiers.

Among the matters to be discussed will be grants of land in New Brunswick to soldiers demobilized here, money advances based upon an eighty per cent valuation of the lands, etc., etc.

Messrs. Allingham and Lawson of Campbellton, and the officials of the Great War Veterans' Association, with other committee men will meet the premier and discuss these matters, which at the present lack the definite shape they will assume once they are carefully considered.

Doubtless the approaching conference will clear up a great number of misunderstandings bearing upon pension matters and government grants and loans. Men who are either unable or disinclined to take up farm work have been suggesting alternative propositions, but neither the officials of the G. W. V. A. nor government members have yet any authority to make new plans or offer suggestions.

MILITARY MEDAL

WON BEFORE HE GAVE HIS LIFE

Word Comes To Mother Of Pte. H. Linton

TRIBUTE FROM OFFICER

Another Son in War Zone Tells of Frantic Joy of Inhabitants of Districts Released From German Oppression

That Private Harold Linton, son of Mrs. Averna Linton, Fairville, whose death from wounds was reported, a few days ago, was the coveted Military Medal for conspicuous action on Sept. 2, 1918, was the information received yesterday by his widowed mother, through the lieutenant in charge of the platoon of which Private Linton was a member.

Private Linton was well known in his native community as a young man of excellent character and the news of his death in the great war caused a shock to many friends. Evidently his sterling qualities earned him the respect of his comrades in arms, and while unable to personally wear the cherished ribbon won for his distinguished conduct in action, the fact that he lived up to the best traditions of the service and that his work was recognized is information that comes to his relatives as something to be proud of. The following is Lieut. Carlsair's letter:

France, Oct. 24, 1918.
Dear Mrs. Linton:—
It was with very deep regret we learned today that your son, Pte. H. Linton, No. 1,090,268, had died of wounds in a London Hospital. I am writing to you on behalf of the officers, non-coms, and men of D Company, the company in which your son was attached, expressing to you our sincere sympathies in this sad bereavement.

Your son was awarded the Military Medal for his work on September 2, and from that you may judge that he never flinched in the conduct of his duty. I cannot express to you how much your son's loss is felt by his comrades in the company.

During the eight months your son served in my platoon he always showed himself to be a brave soldier, cheerful and willing to assist the other men in everything, in short he was a fine fellow and set a sterling example.

Again expressing our very sincere sympathy, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) D. I. CARLSAIRS, Lieutenant
O. Co., 18th Br.

Another Son in the War.
Mrs. Linton's second son, Corporal Kenneth Linton, still in the war zone somewhere in France "carrying on," wrote a letter the other week which is of considerable interest, as it tells of the joy of the French inhabitants who were relieved by the allied troops. Extracts from his letter follows:

Dear Mother:—
Just a line to let you know I received your letter and parcel O. K. I enjoy my first rate.
I suppose you have been reading about our recent advances. We are certainly getting along splendidly. Yesterday I saw a number of civilians who had been under German rule for the past four years. When we reached the town they were all crying and hugging us. Women and children were weeping in their gladness and from what they told us the Hun certainly were hard on them, taking away practically everything of value they were possessed of.

We reached the town just as the Germans were going out, on another occasion, and all the people turned out to meet us. The women kissed all the soldiers and giving them all sorts of presents. Mother, it would have done your heart good to see these released folk. I shall never forget these scenes as long as I live.

In many instances the Germans had leaving the people without even the necessities of life. Some of the men did not even have socks on their feet.
I have now my stripes, so you can address me as Corporal. Give kind remembrances to all the boys and let me know if you received the German money all right.
With love,
(Sgd.) KENNETH.

FREIGHT HANDLERS RETURN TO WORK AND PORT RESUMES ACTIVITY
The trouble between the Freight Handlers' Union and the C. P. R. has been settled and the men went to work this morning. The company agreed to pay forty-seven cents an hour and make weekly payments instead of fortnightly as heretofore. A meeting of the union was held in the large auditorium of City Hall in West St. John last night and a large number of members were present. A proposition was put up through Mayor Hayes, who acted as mediator, which was acceptable to the majority of those at the meeting.

More Heatless Attention And Less Coal Sums Up This New Silver Moon

The thing most wanted in a Self-feeder is steadiness of fire and the minimum of attention. These two desirable features might be said to constitute the New Silver Moon.

Made by The Burrell Johnson Co., the New Silver Moon gives a steady, even heat. Its scientific construction makes it exceptionally easy on coal; and it requires very little attention—once or twice a day and just before turning in for the night. Our stock of New Silver Moons is quite complete just now, and we are anxious to show this Feeder to you.

Those desiring a good Second-hand Stove or Feeder will do well to look over our lot, in excellent condition and at mighty attractive prices. Always a full line of winter necessities here—Coal Hods, Shovels, Ash Sifters, Ash Barrels; in fact, everything in connection with heat, except fuel!

A Congoleum Rug Is Sure To Give Complete Satisfaction

Congoleum Rugs are made by one of the largest firms in the world, and are one of a family of products surpassed by none in point of quality.
Congoleum Rugs come in a variety of designs, from the artistic individual rug to the more every day wood flooring designs.

A feature with the Congoleum Rug is that it will ever lie smoothly on the floor and will not curl up at the edges, thus precluding accidental tripping when entering a room. Easily washed with a damp rag, bringing out the design as fresh and clear as the day it was made.

All the popular sizes, styles and designs are now here for your inspection. Possibly we may be able to suggest Floor-Covering treatment that will be at once inexpensive and permanently satisfying.
