Sworn Statement

BOSTON POLICE OFFICER

Dear Sir,—From exposure, I took sick about nine years ago with Rheumatic Fever, from which I suffered about four months. When I recovered from the fever I found myself suffering with pain in my side and constipation, which brought on the piles. I consulted a physician, and paid him over $200 for attending me, and all the while I was gradually growing worse. Then one physician after another was employed, until seven of the best physicians of Boston had taken my case in hand.

arter another was employed, until seven of the best physicians of Boston had taken my case in hand.

On consultation between several of the leading physicians, they coucluded my complaint was asthma and general debility. I had great difficulty in breathing and an inhaler was required to afford me breath. Through the treatment of one physician i took from 75 to 100 boxes of calomel pills, and sightfully tried alme medicine that each physician and the second of the second of

I kept on improving, and kept on using the Vedeting, and I am now 40 pounds heavier than I ever was before in my life, and am, as I think, a living contradiction of the prophecies of t'e most learned medical taint of New England, for with all of their combined risdom, they could not accomplish so much as hat simple vegetable medicine called Vedeting to thich I am indebted for beath, life and happiness. In my in oed from the 3d of November until the urididip of the following June, and on an average did not at up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew vorse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia, and kidney complaint, and could never be any better. I was reduced in weight 50 pounds, which is much, for I am naturally thin. In June, finding I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of Veentries through the earnest persuasion of friends, and, I am happy to state, with good results. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up all day, walk half a mile and ride six.

I am greatly encouraged, and shall continue using the Veentries if I can get it. I sm a poor man, but for the truth of this statement I refer to any man in Goffstown or vicinity.

The Sailor Boy's Farewell. Farewell to father-bless In spite of metal, spite of bulk,

His cable soon may alip;

Yet while the parting tear is moist

The flag of gratitude I'll hoist

In duty to the ship.

Farewell to mother-first class she Who launched me on life's stormy s
And rigged me fore and aft;
May providence her timbers spare
And keep her hulk in good repair,
To tow the smaller craft.

Farewell to sister—lovely yacht, But whether she'll be manned or not I cannot now forsee; May some good ship a tender prove, Well found in stores of truth and love, And take her under lee.

Farewell to George—the joily boat,
And all the little crafts afloat
In home's delightful bay,
When they arrive at sailing age,
May wisdom prove the weather gauge,
And guide them on their way.

Farewell to all on life's rude main. Farewell to all on life's rude main,
And though we ne'er may meet again
Through stress of stormy weather
Yet summoned by the board of love
We'll anchor in the port above,
And all be moored together.

General Notes and News. THE LETELLIER AFFAIR. -The Toronto lobe of the 5th contains the following des oatch, dated, London, July 4th :-"After Sir Leonard Tilley's interview with the authorities at the Colonial Office, they resolved to undertake the decision of the Letellier affair without awaiting the arrival of Sir John Macdonald. A despatch to the Marquis of Lorne, announc ing the decision, was sent yesterday. I believe the decision is in the precise terms of my cable message." The previous cable despatch above reerred to runs as follows :-

Mrs. Alison sat in a low easy-chair and tapped her foot impatiently as she sewed. Mr. Alison walked the floor uneasily and frowned darkly. It was evident that there was a storm brewing in the domestic atmosphere. Indeed the first faint drops of the coming shower were already pattering down on the dainty dress Mrs. Allison was embroidering for her baby. 'For pity sake Maud,' broke forth her liege lord, 'don't begin crying. Why can't you be sensible and look at the matter in a reasonable way? It ought not to be so hard on you to yield to my wishes, when I have good reasons

The Panacea for Hard Times. to the fact that the three steam saw nills of that place are shut down says: "Would it not be a good idea for the owners to convert them into some kind of a factory. It costs about $50,000 a year to supply this County with boots and shoes; from $15,000 to $20,000 for agricultural implements; from $5,000 for $20,000 for furniture, and an immense business might also be done in the way of manufacturing spools and lasts and business might also be done in the way of manufacturing spools and lasts and there is an abundance of clay spread all over the county of the very best quality for the manufacture of pottery and earthenware. There is no doubt but that the Council would take such action as would be necessary to exempt factories of any kind from taxation and their efforts in this direction empt factories of any kind from taxation and their efforts in this direction would be more beneficial than giving their time to considering what they shall do with those fanatics who are looking to Annexation as the only saviour from starvation."

Canadian Government, we believe, was applied to, to make up the deficiency, but declined the honor. What the final arrangement will be has not transpired yet.

Instead of jumping at conclusions, as our correspondent seems to do it would be better to calculate the chances of the schemes referred to succeeding. There are now more boot and shoe manufactories in the Dominion than there ought to be and quite sufficient of them factories in the Dominion than there ought to be and quite sufficient of them to manufacture more boots and shoes than the people can wear out. Coun. Fotheringham brought to the notice of the Council the cases of Messrs. Frank and Robert Russell of Black Brook, parish of Chatham who had been taxed for two years in the parish of Glenelg as well as in Chatham and obliged to pay in both places, though neither owing property, nor living in Glenelg. He said, that when the Collector for Glenelg asked Messrs. Russell for their taxes they showed their receipts from the Collector at Black Brook, Mr. McRae, notwithstanding which the Glenelg Collector enforced payment by putting the matter in the hands of a magistrate. He moved that the Collector for Glenelg be ordered to refund $2.62 each to Messrs. Russell, which included cost of collection. Coun. Whitney cited cases in his parish

Coun. Brown also argued in support of Coun. Whitney's views. Coun. McNaughton contended that the taxes wrongfully imposed should be refunded, but not the expenses, and a motion to that effect was moved by Coun. Fowlie. Couns. Fotheringham and Lawlor contended that the whole sum collected should be paid back, but Coun. Fowlie's motion

The Warden asked the opinion Secretary-Treasurer on the point.

The Secretary read the law showing that the fine went into the Contingent Fund of the County, which was to be expended for the purposes of the Municipality. Seemed, I say, for she was growing to dislike them both as she saw more and more of them. Mrs. Wilverton's dashing ways seemed coarse now, and no words could tell how she was growing to loathe the man who grew bolder and more outspoken in his admiration of her each day.

But the end was very near. Mr. Alison came home to supper one night in a half-subdued tremor of excitement. If there was a little thrill of triumph mixed with it who can blame him? Human nature is weak, and the best of us are very apt to exult in the downfall of our enemies, just before the Christian spirit has time to check the feeling.

Nearly every person that has taken any preparation of Cod-Liver-Oil, knows how very liable it is to disagree with them after a time; this is mainly due to the inability of the stomach (weakened by disease) to disest the full amount of the oil taken.
To overcome this trouble we have added Panceratine to our Funulsion, which not only assists in
