Rev. Charles W. Squires delivered a very helpful address at the Seaman's Institute last evening. The Carmarthen street church choir gave several appropriate selections. Flowers were sent in by Mrs. H. S. Cruikshank. The management desires to call the attention of the public to the fact that more reading matter is needed.

The postponement of Saturday's game on the Shamrock grounds was regretted greatly by a large number of fans, who had planned on seeing the exhibition. However, if the weather is fine on Saturday next they may expect a cracker-jack exhibition. The teams will present the line-up they would have played on Saturday. Little or no betting is being done on any of the games.

In order that all who desire it may see the historical Quebec Tercentenary pictures at the Nickel there will be a special morning matinee commencing at 10 o'clock tomorrow. This will afford a quiet opportunity for children and elderly folks. Inquiries as to ghan asylums will attend upon invitation.

NEW BAND STAND ON KING SQUARE OPENED SATURDAY

The new band stand, on King Square, was opened Saturday afternoon by the City Cornet Band, which gave an excellent concert.

Mayor Bullock made an opening speech in which he said he hoped the people would appreciate the efforts put forth by the band and he said that more seats were needed in the square. After some words of praise for the band and requesting the people to keep off the grass, his Worship called for three cheers for the band, and they were heartily given.

James Connelly, president of the band, gave a lengthy address in which he thanked the citizens for their generosity toward the band, and said that in the 33 years of the band's existence it had never owed a dollar.

Three cheers were given for the Mayor and the band then played thousands with a choice programme.

EARTHQUAKE STIRS CARLETON COUNTY

Two Distinct Shocks at Woodstock

ONE HOUSE MOVED

Robbers Break Into House and Carry Off Silver Plate

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 9.—Slight seismic disturbances were felt at several points in this county early Saturday morning. Here in Woodstock two distinct shocks are reported, the first a mere tremor about 3 a. m., the second more pronounced at about 6.30. In several houses dishes were made to rattle, but of course no damage is reported. Of one thing all are assured, it was a genuine earthquake shock. Reports from Hartland, Bristol, Grand Falls and other upriver points are much to the same effect, the shocks being more or less distinctly felt by many persons. One reliable resident of this town says his house seemed to rise about a foot and as suddenly recede.

Clay's, the nineteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster, died this morning after an illness of a few weeks from hemorrhage of the stomach. Her father, who had recently been operated on for appendicitis at the hospital, reached home but a few hours before his daughter's death.

BURGLARS ACTIVE. Last night burglars broke into the house of Rev. R. A. MacDonald, near Debec, and carried off silverware, a revolver, coat, valises and other articles. Constables at Debec arrested three men this morning who are supposed to be at least part of the gang, and this afternoon Chief of Police Kelly and Deputy Chief Foster went out to Debec and brought the trio here. They give their names as Green, Welsh and Furguson. The preliminary hearing will be on Monday.

PLOT ON FOOT TO RUIN A CHINAMAN

Wing Hem, a Chinese laundryman who has been established for a number of years on Main street, Fairville, considers himself a man with a big grievance. He says he is the object of an organized attack by all the Chinamen of St. John with the exception of two. This formidable amalgamation has, according to Wing, made up a campaign fund for his extinction, and is planning to drive him out of business. Each of the city men, says Wing, has contributed $5 to the fund, which amounts to $90, and one man who had some special grudge against him, doubled the usual subscription in making his gift.

The method of accomplishing Wing Hem's downfall is that of competition. Within a day or two a rival has started up against Wing on the opposite side of the street, and has cut prices in subterranean barber-style. At this new place, which is styled the St. John Laundry, shirts are to be laundered for 4 cents and collars will be done up for 3 cents, instead of 10 cents and 4 cents. Wing says several similar attempts have been made to put him out of business by similar cuts in prices, but none of them have been successful, and the rivalry has only been temporary. He has now several hands employed in his laundry, which is one of the largest Chinese laundries in St. John, and he says he will not give in even if he has to do all the work himself.

The hatred with which his fellow Orientals regard him, he says, is due, to the action of his brother, who recently informed the police of gambling, which was going on inside an innocent looking shop with a laundry sign outside it. It was given out at the time that the Chinaman's exposing act was due to the teaching he had received in a certain city Sunday School. The sad truth is that the informer wanted to get one of his men to "come out and eat the stew meat" which he had prepared for dinner, and in order to get him, he gave the counterfeiter, which let in himself and the police.

PHOENIX TAKES LEONARD TROPHY

The ownership of the Leonard trophy, which was put up in competition for motor boats, was finally decided on Saturday, when the Phoenix, owned by James Flemming and Son, went over the course alone and won the cup. Previous to the race the Fairbanks had won a first and a third, while the Phoenix had one win to her credit.

The Phoenix got off at a lively rate of speed. The course was from Westfield wharf to a buoy at Riverbank and return, twice over. The race took the Phoenix thirty-one and a half minutes. The course is a distance of about five miles. This ends the season, except the regular Association race on the 29th.

The second event of the day was the special race for class B. 25-hp boats. This race had three starters, as follows: Florence M., Bernard McAllister, Louise, Joseph Bullock, Rosemond, H. McAvity. The course was from Westfield wharf and return, a distance of four miles. The start was made at 2.30 o'clock.

When the boats rounded Holy's Point the following was the order: Louise, Florence M., and Rosemond. On the home stretch the Rosemond gained considerably and finished first in 4.24. The Louise finished second, just 33 seconds behind the Rosemond. The Florence M. was disqualified on the home stretch and did not finish. The Rosemond thus comes into possession of a fine pennant, donated by the club. The breeze throughout the day was a very good one and the race was most successful. E. E. Church, W. C. Rothwell and John Keefe were the officials of the day. They were taken over the course by Harry Warwick in his motor boat.

Next Saturday a fine programme of field sports will take place on the Westfield picnic grounds, under the auspices of the Outing Club. The boys from Lingley say that they will clean out everything in sight. Geo. Warwick, the chairman of the sports committee, with the other members, are very busy with all indications point to a great day of races.

ST. JOHN ELEVEN WINS HANDILY

FREDERICTON, Aug. 9.—St. John easily defeated the Fredericton cricketers yesterday by a margin of ten wickets. The home team was outplayed in every respect and was no match for the visitors. In bowling particularly the Fredericton club was weak and showed the want of practice. The features of the game were the batting of Fairweather and Walk, and the bowling of Popham and Sturdee for St. John and the batting of Johnson for Fredericton.

VAGABOND TAKES SATURDAY'S RACE

Saturday's race for the Beveridge cup was won by the Vagabond, with the Possum second. The race was sailed in a heavy fog, which made the boats in many cases lose sight of one another. The time of the race was not particularly fast.

The starters were as follows: Canada, Louvina, Hermes II, Possum, Vagabond, Fel Yuen, Wabano, and Edith. A southerly wind, fresh and rather puffy, was blowing when the start was made and the fog had not become very thick. At Sand Point the boats rounded the buoy in the following order: Canada, Louvina, Vagabond, Hermes, with the others behind. On the first reach of the course all the competitors used balloon jibs. From Sand Point to Eoar's Head each yacht was close hauled, with Hermes II leading. The Possum was second. The

NEW YORK YACHTS IN EXCITING RACE

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8.—Thirteen of the crack yachts of the New York Yacht Club today had an exciting fight over the historic Brenton Reef course in a good southwest wind for the Col. John Jacob Astor cups for schooners and sloops. J. Rogers Maxwell's Queen upholding her name by sweeping across the finish line in the schooner class a winner in 42.51, beating the speedy Elmira by eight minutes and 19 seconds. The sloop Avenger, owned by R. W. Emmons, 2nd, captured the cup for her class, going over the course in 54.9, defeating the Istenala by 3 minutes and 24 seconds corrected time. The latter sloop had the most thrilling struggle of the day with the Aurora, the two fliers fighting tuck for tuck over the entire fifty-eight miles of the course with Istenala winning out at the line in a half-raising finish by eight seconds.

While the Avenger was a winner on time allowance the famous old America's cup defender Vigilant, now rigged as a yawl, was first over the line in the class for sloops, but was unable to save her time allowance.

QUAKER CITY TEAM DEFEATS IRISHMEN

DELFEST, Aug. 8.—The cricket team representing the Gentlemen of Philadelphia continued to pile up runs this morning when play was resumed in the match with the northern counties team, and they compiled 119 before they were dismissed. With 24 runs to make to avert a simple innings' defeat, the Ulstermen commenced the second innings disastrously; three men went out for 28 runs. The batters for a time made a better stand, evidently trying for a draw, but the whole side was finally disposed of for a total of 119 runs, the Philadelphians thus winning by an innings and 11 runs.

GARRETT AGAIN CHOICE OF THE LIBERAL PARTY

Nominated Amid Great Enthusiasm A FINE CONVENTION Mr. Carvell Delivers Vigorous Address to His Supporters

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 8.—The largest and most representative convention in the history of Liberalism in Carleton county was held this afternoon in the new Hayden Gibson Theatre. President James A. Barter, of the County Liberal Association, in the chair. Every parish was represented. In fact, even every school district sent someone. As generally expected, the federal nomination was unanimously made for the present representative, F. R. Carvell, K.C., who accepted in a speech of an hour's duration.

Sharp at three o'clock President Barter called the meeting to order and in a brief speech stated that the convention had been called for the purpose of nominating a candidate. No special delegate had been chosen and if the convention saw fit, those present from their parishes might choose delegates to represent them on a nominating committee. As to the procedure he would leave that to the convention to determine.

A STANDING TO THEIR FEET. A sprang vote was called for in the name of Mr. Carvell and with a cheer that reverberated again and again, the whole gathering sprang to their feet as one man. The formal declaration of the chairman conferring the nomination upon Mr. Carvell was followed by the unanimous adoption of a resolution of confidence in the break of which the candidate upon rising to respond to the nomination during the course of his speech. Mr. Carvell in opening expressed his hearty and sincere appreciation of the nomination and the confidence placed in him, promising to take off his coat and fight through to the end. He had had his own mind made up long ago, and he would not be swayed by any process of reasoning or by any view that might be put before him. He had never neglected an opportunity to cross swords in debating these matters with the real leaders of the opposition, and would be delighted to accommodate them at any time. Concerning the valiant railway the speaker said he was greatly disappointed that the transcontinental had gone through the centre of the province, but felt that even his strongest opponents would concede that he (Carvell) had done all that could be done by any single person in the effort. Although disappointed in the effort, he was not discouraged, as he had urged, and was glad to see the government had granted liberal subsidies for a line from Grand Falls to St. John along the river, which he hoped would be getting on no very distant date. He urged that every man present get down to good hard work along the line of organization. Mr. Carvell in closing regretted the absence of Hon. Dr. Pusey, whom he had greatly desired to have present, but unfortunately the Minister at the last moment had been detained at the capital.

WARREN HIS HEARERS. Mr. Carvell warned his hearers that the party will have to face a severe campaign. He took up in detail the Saskatchewan Valley case, the North Atlantic Trading Co., the marine department, the timber limits, the Hodgins case and many other alleged cases of graft made by Foster, Ames and others as they are now with Laurier and he urged that every man present get down to good hard work along the line of organization. Mr. Carvell in closing regretted the absence of Hon. Dr. Pusey, whom he had greatly desired to have present, but unfortunately the Minister at the last moment had been detained at the capital.

FRASIER MR. CARVELL. Rev. W. Burton Morgan of Hartland spoke briefly in praise of Mr. Carvell. He had lived a year or more in Ottawa, he had watched Mr. Carvell's career in parliament, and was certain the nomination of the convention was one of the ablest that ever sat in the commons.

Mr. A. Hayward of Brighton, the ex-sheriff of the county, who was displeased by the present local government, came to the platform in response to repeated calls and delivered a fighting speech that provoked the greatest enthusiasm. Hon. W. P. Jones, Harry Carvell, Dr. I. B. Curtis, George W. Topham, Wm. H. Ferguson gave short speeches, all in eulogy of the nominee and most optimistic in tone. In fact, optimism was the prevailing note of the entire proceedings. George McLeod of Farmington, seconded by Sam Heston of Jacksonville, proposed the following resolution, which was strongly supported by several speakers and unanimously carried: Whereas, the unlawful expenditure of money and the use of liquor in election campaigns have become offenses against decency and public morality, and are contrary to the principles and aims of true citizenship; and Whereas we deeply deplore the extent to which the agencies of money and liquor have been employed; be it resolved, that we the Liberals of the county of Carleton, in convention assembled, do hereby place ourselves on record as favoring future campaigns entirely in conformity with the provisions of the law.

By actual count there were three hundred and sixty-eight delegates present from the parishes. In addition to the representatives from the town, Cheers for the King and candidate preceded the proceedings.

WOMAN SAVED. The automobile landed at the bottom of the embankment bottomside up. The priest's head was crushed between the edge of the car and a huge stone. Mr. Pohlmann was driving the machine and was entangled in the steering gear, the wheel crushing his chest. F. C. Dietzel struggled under the tonneau, assisted the women out and then examined the bodies of the two men in the front of the car. Realizing that the men were dead, the dentist seated the women on the bank and ran half a mile to the home of Stephen Ely, where he found four or five men who were willing to return to the wreck with him.

WOMAN SAVED. The scene of the accident was at the 21st bridge across Top Mile Creek, two and a half miles west of Sylvania. About twenty feet west of the bridge is a deep hole in the middle of the road, stretching nearly across to the left side of the road to avoid the hole. The sides of the embankment at that point are thickly lined with shrubbery and small trees and the party did not realize that they concealed a steep bank.

BRITAIN AND GERMANY.

The British Board of Trade, some little time ago, undertook an investigation of the state of the working classes in the leading industrial countries and along with this, the comparison of such conditions with those of persons of the same classes in Britain.

The second volume embodying the results of this enquiry has now been issued and refers to Germany. Some five thousand budgets of information were received from different towns and the levels of rent, prices of food-stuffs and clothing, and wages paid, have been taken as standards. In the matter of wages the comparison has been made only in respect to certain occupations which are found to be common in all the towns, not only in Germany and in Britain, but other countries. These include the building trades, engineering, printing and some municipal employments. Further an endeavor has been made to illustrate the results on the supposition of an English workman migrating to his old many and there working at his old trade and endeavoring to live as he had lived in England. Between the United Kingdom and Germany differences in some respects are very marked. In Britain the prevalent type of house for the working man is a self-contained, two storied dwelling of four or five or six rooms; in Germany it is a flat of two or three or four rooms in a large tenement house. In Britain rent is based on the rental value of the dwelling; in Germany it is levied on an entirely different basis, and is not included in the rent. In Britain the workman's meat food consists mainly of beef and mutton with a relatively small amount of pork; the German diet is chiefly pork, a very little mutton. British white bread is replaced in Germany by rye bread. Such differences as this made a comparative report somewhat difficult of construction, nevertheless the results obtained are of much interest and value. It is found that there is little difference between the levels of rent in Germany and England though in the former country taxes are not included in the amounts paid by tenants. There is an almost proportionate increase in the larger towns of both countries. The range of prices is not very great in either country although in Germany it is slightly greater than in England, and the cost of living in the larger German towns and in the smaller ones, is slightly greater than between corresponding towns in Britain. The general level of prices is distinctly higher in Germany than in the United Kingdom, and in this connection the effects of difference in national habits may be noticed. An English workman going to Germany and maintaining his accustomed standard of living, would find his expenditures on food and fuel substantially increased; but in spite of the higher level of prices in Germany, the German workman, coming to England and maintaining his own standard, would not find his expenditure reduced in a corresponding proportion. This is due chiefly to the fact that the German workman takes much more than the English workman of certain kinds of food, chiefly potatoes and milk, which are cheaper in Germany than in English towns. As opposed to all this, while German rents are higher and the general level of prices also higher, wages in those trades of which a comparison has been made are very materially lower, even when longer hours are worked, in Germany than in Britain.

"A NATIONAL EVIL"

The Victoria Daily Colonist by long odds one of the fairest and most independent Conservative organs in Canada, contains a lengthy leading editorial on what it calls "A National Evil." This is the constant unera, vituperation, insinuations of unpatriotic motives which appear from day to day in some of the opposition newspapers. The Colonist deprecates the lack of inspiration to better things or appeal to one's faith in the future of the land or to awaken useful thoughts. Incidentally it pays a fitting rebuke to those rabid Conservative journals which are constantly accusing the government of graft and dishonesty. A great campaign of political mud throwing is in progress, it contends, and much harm is being done by this sort of journalism.

While the Colonist is fully alive to the fact that evils are apt to creep into any administration and that even Ministers of the crown are not infallible, it declines to believe that our public men are all dishonest. It refuses to accept the doctrine that every man, to whom it is politically opposed, is essentially corrupt. It proposes that even the most startling disclosures in parliamentary investigations do not warrant the assumption that the affairs of the country are being administered by men who are personally corrupt and unpatriotic. It emphatically protests against the too common practice of party journals, the moment any line of policy is prepared by their opponents, to denounce it as essentially dishonest and necessarily inspired by motives that will bear investigation.

In giving some examples of cowardly personal attacks the Colonist says: "We have in a sheet of extracts before us, a violent personal attack from a Conservative paper upon a Liberal Minister, and an equally violent personal attack by a so-called independent paper upon a Liberal provincial premier. Yet we venture to say that if the writer of either of the articles were face to face with the man he attacked, he would not dare utter the statements which he so freely makes in the columns of his newspaper. Such personal attacks are cowardly and almost always defeat their purpose."

The Colonist does not forget that political wrong-doing should be exposed. It does not hesitate to declare itself opposed to many of the policies adopted by the Federal government, but it refuses to take the position that the Ministers are dishonest men, that they are inspired by unpatriotic motives and that their sole effort is the maintenance of themselves in power. In declaring this the Colonist points out that it is well aware that there are many would-be Conservative leaders who expect the newspapers supporting their party to take a position contrary to what the Colonist adopts. It is not unkindly of the Colonist to advise, and it refuses to take the position that the Ministers are dishonest men, that they are inspired by unpatriotic motives and that their sole effort is the maintenance of themselves in power.

"We stand," says the Colonist, "for a rigorous investigation into the administration of public affairs, for the pointing out of all that is wrong, for the disclosure of all errors of policy. But we hold that a constant attack upon the personal integrity of public men and the vituperative assertions that they are all alike corrupt and dishonest, bring the country into contempt abroad and do incalculable mischief at home. They constitute a great national evil."

If the Conservative newspapers and some of the opposition polling the many profits by the advice given by the Colonist less of the people's time and less of the money spent in partisan debates and in obviously unnecessary investigations.—Sun.

I. C. R. INFORMATION. A beautifully illustrated book called Forest, Stream and Seashore has just been received. It is published by the International Railway and furnishes much useful information to both sportsman and tourist. It contains splendid descriptions of the places along the route of the railway which are of special beauty or of historic interest, and full directions are given for reaching those localities where fish and game are abundant. The international and its connections, as the booklet claims, traverses a greater variety of tourist country than does any railway system in the world. From Montreal to Halifax every place of importance is described and much detail has been furnished regarding the many summer resorts. Special mention is also made of those splendidly equipped trains, the Maritime Express and the Atlantic Limited. The book contains a map showing all points along the line of the railway.

LOVE AND THE AERONAUT. "Won't you come and fly with me? I know sky paths all untraveled. Cloud banks, cool as cool can be. Ways through stars to be unraveled; Skirt with me the rainbow's red. Flutter through the lazy hours. Like the fleecy clouds and thread. Vapory lanes and untraveled showers. Up and up and up—away! Leave the hills and clear the mountain. Dripping with the showery spray. As a song bird in the fountain. Till the lights that twinkle far. Where poor mortals fret and ponder. Seem as distant as the stars. Twinkling in the heavens yonder. Don't you feel the spread of wings? Don't you hear the anchor slipping? Bid farewell to earthly things—Heavens, Love! The gas bag's riping! Quick, your hand, Love! Do not quake! Shades of Vergil, Homer, Sallust! We are just above a lake—I must throw you out as ballast!"

COOK'S AWFUL CONDITION IN A LONDON KITCHEN

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Rarely have more horrible revelations as to the conditions of boarding or refreshment-house kitchens been made than were detailed on Thursday at the opening of the trial at the Old Bailey of Mrs. Caroline Beatrice Matilda Blackburn for the manslaughter of her servant, Sarah Livingstone, aged eighty.

Mr. Bodkin, who appeared for the defence, told a shocking story. Prisoner, he said, was the wife of Dr. Blackburn, of Kennington, but lived apart from her husband, and supported herself by keeping a boarding-house in Nevern-place, Kennington, where Livingstone was employed to clean up the kitchen and assist in the cooking. She had no wages and lived entirely day and night, in the kitchen, and used to receive 1d. or 2d. now and again, which she used to get one of her fellow-servants to lay out for her in tea and sugar and such comforts. The only diet allowed her was fat.

Breakfast—Bread and bacon fat. Dinner—Ring of cheese and dry bread. She got such tea as her fellow-servants cared to give her. "Livingstone died on May 7," continued Mr. Bodkin, "and after the post-mortem a state of things was revealed the full description of which it is perfectly horrible to listen to. It appeared that the poor old woman had not taken her clothes off for months prior to her death—one reason being that she had no others to change into, and that she was not physically able to change. She had no bed. She slept at night-time on the kitchen floor with an old coat to cover her, and the gas rose over her pillow. In time, said counsel, deceased became too feeble even to walk, and was carried in an ordinary kitchen chair without arms, and her condition became awful. Prisoner was constantly in the kitchen, and eventually brought attention to the old woman, and did not give her more nourishment. Livingstone's condition eventually became so bad that prisoner sprinkled chloride of lime on her.

CLOTHES HAD TO BE CUT OFF. Continuing, counsel stated that another servant, a girl of eighteen, Ada Mantle, complained to her parents and the police. As a result the relieving officer and a doctor went to the boarding-house, but were told by the prisoner that they need not see the old woman, as she had only had a bad cold, and was much better. Ada Mantle then, in the presence of her mistress, denied that she had complained to the police. At this time the poor old woman was sitting on the chair suffering terribly, screaming if anyone touched her. She went for weeks and weeks without her face being touched by water. Later on, when appealed to by the other servants, prisoner got to the chair down from the upper rooms, but did not make it so that the old woman could lie down. When Livingstone died the prisoner stripped the clothing off the body and threw it in the dustbin. Witness told the court that there were eight cats with the deceased in the kitchen, and went on to give terrible details of the unending service that prisoner had to cut the clothing off, and when she got to some bands, she cut the legs there were moulting. In cross-examination by Mr. Doughty, Miss Mantle said she understood that deceased had been in prisoner's service about six or seven years. She admitted that certain pawmanteke handed up referred to clothing worn by deceased. Were you there when she set her bed on fire? I never knew her to have a bed to sleep on. Mrs. Livingstone always told me she had never known what it was to sleep in a bed since she had been in Mrs. Blackburn's service. Witness added that another servant, Louisa Mason, used to sit on the stairs to eat her food, and often complained of not having enough. A waiter at the house, said that his bed was a camp-bed in the pantry in the kitchen while the other servants slept on the floor in the kitchen. The only occasion he had known deceased to go upstairs was when she was helped up to see a corpse—the body of prisoner's daughter in her coffin in the drawing-room. The hearing was adjourned.

PREMIER WHITNEY GOES TO ENGLAND

Will Establish Emigration Office MONTEITH FOLLOWS Whitney Will Be Unable to Take Part in Campaign Here

TORONTO, Aug. 9.—Sir James Whitney, premier of Ontario, leaves today on a six weeks' trip to Great Britain. Attorney General Pow will act as premier during his absence. Sir James will be followed next week by the Hon. Nelson Monteth, Minister of Agriculture. The primary object of the Premier's and Monteth's visit is to carry out certain old projects with a view of establishing an improved method of dealing with emigrants leaving Great Britain. In addition to the settlement in Ontario, it is the government's desire to establish an emigration office in London, in addition to one already in existence in the Strand, in the heart of the metropolis. The work of the office will be to disseminate information about the province, and what is of the greatest importance, the selection of immigrants. It is also probable that the Premier and Mr. Monteth will take some change in the system of distributing immigrants by the Dominion government at the commencement of the present year. Formerly the provinces had maintained their own agents, and it was to prevent the overlapping that the new arrangement was entered into. Hence, however, the work of distribution has been in the hands of the Dominion department there have been complaints that it has not been carried out systematically. Provincial officials state that immigrants have been shipped out to various centres in Ontario, where no arrangements have been made to receive them and where there were no openings for the new citizens. While in London, Sir James will also meet Hon. Dr. Fyfe, minister of education.

ITALIAN LOVER'S TERRIBLE REVENGE Faithless Sweetheart's Tongue Torn Out With Forceps Enraged Villagers Tied Miscreant to His Horse Which Dragged Him to His Death. ROME, Aug. 10.—For tearing out his former sweetheart's tongue because she had broken her promise to remain faithful while he saved enough to support her, a travelling dentist named Francesco Vergani has been dragged to death by a horse to which he was tied by the bystanders who witnessed his vengeance. Vergani, when a youth of nineteen, fell in love several years ago with Eloise Ferrar, a girl a year his junior, and the daughter of a prosperous farmer of Ravigo Province. The girl liked him, but her parents objected that he was too young and poor to wed. Hoping to make a fortune in America, the young man took passage for New York, after making his sweetheart promise to accept no husband until he returned to claim her. The two took their vow of faithfulness in the village church, repeating together, as they concluded, "May I be stricken dumb if I violate the oath I have taken." Fortune was slower coming to him in the New World than Vergani had hoped, and it was eight years before he considered himself able to support the woman of his choice in the fashion in which he thought she was entitled. His lack of employment, in the meantime, with an itinerant dentist, who, taking a fancy to the young Italian, finally made him his partner, equipped him with a smattering of dentistry, and enabled him to accumulate enough to make him, in Italy, a comparatively rich man. Corresponding through a mutual friend, Vergani had heard regularly from his betrothed during the first six years of his exile. Then the letters suddenly ceased. The Italian was worried and anxious but still confident that the girl remained true to him. He was confident, too, that had anything befallen her, his friend would have informed him. Just as he was preparing to return home, however, he learned, a month before, in Boston, that she had married a well-to-do miller of her native village. His love turned to hatred. Vergani hastened at once to Italy, bought one of the stage coaches from which itinerant dentistry is practised there, and hastened to Monsele, a village near Padua, where he arrived during fair weather, with a number of small operations, meanwhile questioning his patrons concerning their former fiancée. As he had expected, it was not long before she and her husband appeared in the group about his coach. Himself unrecognisable to the long-haired bearded, he beckoned to the woman, who, encouraged by her husband, agreed to a trial of a powder with which he had been polishing the not overclean teeth of several of the villagers. Catching up a pair of forceps as she opened her lips, he seized and tore out a large part of her tongue, while the

Literary Geniuses Who Died Miserably Poor and Destitute

That Ouida should have died as she did in poverty and loneliness, an exile though a voluntary one, from the land of her birth was an undoubtedly pitiful ending to an exceptionally brilliant career, says Tit-Bits. Equally sad has been the fate reserved for some literary geniuses in the past.

For instance, Richard Savage, the gifted poet died in the debtor's prison at Bristol, after enduring the pangs of starvation for years. Chatterton, driven desperate through hunger, poisoned himself at the age of 18. Swift died mad, as he had all along predicted he would.

Doctor Dodd, whose "Beauties of Shakespeare" is well known, was hanged for forgery. George Gismar, after suffering hardships, died of typhoid fever, his whole existence, died just as fame was beginning to be assured to him.

For instance, Richard Savage, the gifted poet died in the debtor's prison at Bristol, after enduring the pangs of starvation for years. Chatterton, driven desperate through hunger, poisoned himself at the age of 18. Swift died mad, as he had all along predicted he would.

Robert Burns, writing only 14 days before his death, implored his friend Cunningham to use his influence with the Commissioners of Excise in order to get his salary raised from £25 a year to £30, "otherwise, if I die not of disease I must perish with hunger."

Llorente, the learned and talented historiographer of the inquisition, was glad during the close of his brilliant and unfortunate career to hire himself out for a few sous a night to keep watch over the dead bodies at the Paris Morgue, and died eventually of starvation. Camoens begged his bread from door to door until compelled to take refuge in an almshouse, where he died.

Very sad was the fate of Ulrich von Hutten, one of the greatest writers Germany has ever produced. Unable to earn a living, he was reduced to tramping through the country, begging food and shelter from the peasants. One bitter winter night he was refused both, and next morning was found frozen stiff and cold in the drifting snow outside the village. The only thing he possessed besides the rag he wore, says his biographer, Zuinglius, "was a pen."

Saint-Simon, the celebrated French author, who wrote "The Reorganization of European Society" was driven by want to attempt his own life, and although he died a natural death in the end it was among the most lamentable surroundings. "For 15 days," he says, writing to a friend just before the end came, "I have lived upon bread and water, without a fire. I have even sold my clothes."

D. G. SMITH DEAD.

Was Prominent in New Brunswick as a Newspaper Man and Politician

The death of D. G. Smith took place in New York on the seventh of this month from diabetes. The remains were taken to St. Stephen and interred there yesterday. The deceased was about seventy-four years old.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Earle, of New York.

Mr. Smith was well known in St. John, having been here for about ten years while in charge of the city department of the Daily Telegraph.

While in St. John he, with J. S. Knowles, established a humorous fortnightly illustrated paper called Quins, which, however, did not survive long.

From St. John he moved to Chatham where he founded the "Chatham Advertiser," which he conducted until a couple of years ago, when he removed to New York.

REVOLTING TRAGEDY IN A NEW YORK BOARDING HOUSE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Leaving Mrs. Bertha Hood lying dead on the floor of the parlor of her little boarding house on Bergen street, in Brooklyn, and her infant daughter unconscious and dying from a bullet wound in the head, Ernest Selz, a former boarder in the house, who had shot and killed the woman and fatally wounded the child, fled to the city, where he died himself in the head, falling in a dying condition at the foot of the cellar stairs. Selz, the chief figure in what promises to be a triple tragedy, is 21 years of age, and has been living in Manhattan where he is employed as freeman in a hospital, since he left Mrs. Hood's boarding house a few weeks ago. His leaving was the police say, at the request of Mrs. Hood, who objected to the attention he insisted on paying her.

WAS "POISONED" BY WATERMELON SEEDS

Leads Crowd Chase Through Harlem After Feasting to Win Bet

Home Remedies Help Some, Stomach Pump Does More, Then Henry Explains the Trouble.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Waving his arms about his head and wildly shrieking "I'm poisoned!" a very black negro, about twenty-five years old, rushed from a house at No. 23 East 125th street about half-past five o'clock yesterday afternoon and ran as if for his life. At his heels were a dozen or more men and women of his own race, shouting "Lordsamussy! Lordsamussy!" save my poor Henry!" and the policeman who were not engaged in sitting on Henry were trying to keep the crowd away from the door.

About that time Dr. Hervey arrived from the hospital with a bag of tools. As soon as he saw Henry he whipped out a huge stomach pump. Henry kicked more violently than ever and an extra policeman was called from the back room to help sit on him. Then the operation was performed. The result was twenty-three watermelon seeds.

Some medicine was administered and Henry was hoisted to his feet and told that he wasn't dying. When he had been thoroughly convinced of this, which took some time, he was induced to explain. With the aid of his wife he did so.

He and a party of friends had been having a little party at home, when somebody mentioned watermelon. When the first burst of enthusiasm had subsided Henry bet he could eat a whole one in fifteen minutes. Somebody else procured a large and opulent melon from a corner stand and Henry fell to. In exactly eleven minutes, three and one-fourth seconds by Cal Johnson's watch there wasn't anything left but the green frame.

Then Henry became inflated with pride, and called for another melon, and it was brought. He was about half way through this when the catastrophe came in the shape of a sharp pain in the region of his belt. With a wild leap he was out of the house in a minute, with the others after him.

Henry's name was put on the blotter as White. What the policemen said was not recorded.

DELMAS MADE GOOD THING IN THAW CASE

Received Present of $25,000 From Mrs. Thaw in Addition to His Fee.

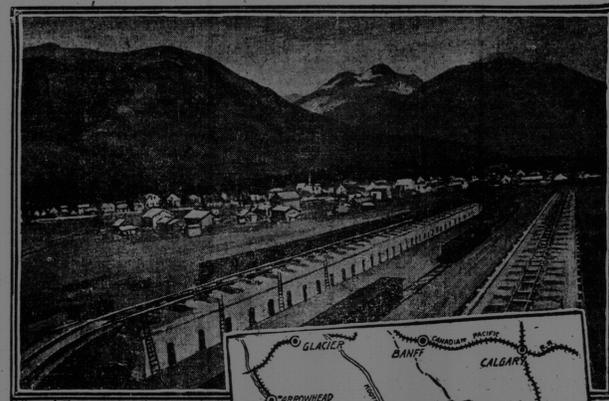

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 9.—From his cell in the county jail here, Harry K. Thaw tonight gave out the following statement concerning the claims filed against him by various lawyers, which, he asserts, forced him into bankruptcy.

"In this morning's papers I read that Mr. O'Reilly makes a claim for more money. That is a matter for former Governor Stone, my counsel in Poughkeepsie, to take charge of. There seems no reason for me to discuss the different claims and therefore I have nothing more to say except regarding one fact.

"The sums already expended and the names of the lawyers and others to whom I paid the money were clearly set in the newspapers. There is only this much to add: My lawyer total of about $41,500 that I paid out myself, my mother paid our family assistant and I gave about $4,200 in addition to Mr. DeLmas, making $45,700 received by his firm, prior to April 16, 1907.

"My mother also made a present of $25,000 to Mr. DeLmas. This made, with his actual fee paid by me, $70,700 in all that he received for his able services. Mr. DeLmas' bill for expenses was less than $1,000 and is included in the $25,000 item for detectives and sundries.

"Well, young Dr. Slicer has made his mark already, hasn't he?"
"Yes, did it on his first case."
"Great work! What did he do?"
"Vaccinated him."—Cleveland Leader.

ST. JOHN MAN WRITES OF THE FERNIE FIRE

Alex. Gillespie's Store Destroyed

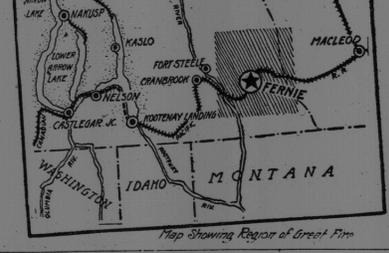

OVER 100 DEAD

Scenes Attending Conflagration Indescribable, Says Mr. Gillespie

William Gillespie of this city has received word from Fernie that his brother, Alex. Gillespie, lost all his effects in the great fire at that place. Mr. Gillespie was a member of the firm of Gillespie and Lovisart. This firm conducted a large clothing and men's furnishings store. Mr. Gillespie left St. John for the West about a year and a half ago.

In writing of the big fire, Mr. Gillespie states that practically the whole town was burned and that the loss of life was estimated at 100. The scenes at the time of the fire were indescribable, he adds. Families became separated and it was a day or two before they were reunited.

His many friends here will regret greatly to learn of his loss, but it is likely that the business will be started and everything running again in a short time.

FOUND GOACHMAN'S REMAINS IN FIRE RUINS

Montreal Stable Owner Makes Gruesome Discovery—Overcome by Smoke.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—While clearing away the rubbish after an early morning fire in his stable on Versailles street, the owner made the gruesome discovery of the charred remains of his stableman, Robert McGillivie. The fire broke out at 1:40 o'clock this morning. It was extinguished in a short time and the firemen returned to the station after clearing up the debris, in which were found the bodies of three horses. It was not known that the

QUEBEC TRICENTENARY PICTURES AT THE UNIQUE.

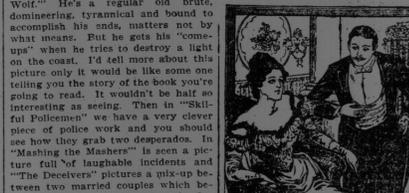

The Unique Theatre, which has earned the reputation of showing the clearest and best pictures in the city, have received over 1,000 feet of the famous Tricentenary pictures. Those who did not have an opportunity to visit Quebec during the celebration will be able to see in this picture all the principal events, including the famous Pageant showing old Quebec as it was when British troops first landed on our shores. This picture is entirely different from others of the same name that are being shown in other theatres in Montreal yesterday at the Grand Theatre. The other two pictures are the latest products of the Vitaphone company. The first one is entitled "The Blind Girl." Two beautiful girls are in love with the same young man, Angela, the younger of the two, pours a liquid in the water which her rival uses to wash her face in, and the poison coming in contact with her eyes, she is stricken blind. The blind girl now pleads with her lover to release her from the engagement, but he refuses, and on the day appointed for the wedding, Angela confesses the crime, and as the girl whom she had wronged so deeply forgives her, her sight is restored. The other picture is an excellent comedy entitled "The Wish Bone." Two news songs, "Won't You Come with Me, Willie," by Miss A. Outous, and "She Is a Grand Old Lady," by Will Harrison.

WOMAN'S POWER

The healthy woman; strong mentally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge men to deeds of grandeur and heroism; such women are all-powerful. Weak, sick and ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy all their thoughts. They dwell upon their pains, suffer from nervousness and headaches; often are extremely melancholy and avoid society. For thirty years LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND has been saving women from this awful condition.

Mrs. John Scott, 459 Grand Trunk St., Montreal, writes Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very much run-down in health from a female trouble, was thin, nervous, very weak, and suffered from bearing down pains. Indeed I did not care whether I lived or died. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me of all my troubles, gained in flesh, and am free from backache, female trouble, sick headaches, and nervousness. I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all women's ailments."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

PRINTING LISTS

Ministers Preparing to Visit

Constituencies—Cutting of Wheat

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—A telegram received yesterday by the department of agriculture from Dr. William Saunders, director of experimental farms, who is now on his annual visit to the West, states that cutting of wheat will be general in Manitoba in a week or ten days.

During their absence from the capital it is probable that each of the Ministers will be asked to address political meetings in their respective constituencies.

No announcement has yet been made in government circles as to whether there will be a general election in the autumn. It is unlikely that anything definite in that respect will be known until next month.

Measles, however, the printing bureau are busy printing the voters' lists for each constituency, and it will take at least six weeks to complete the work. Until the lists are ready and distributed of course no election can be held.

The printing of the lists is by no means a certain sign of a pending election, as the law provides for periodical printing and distribution.

In 1903 when the lists were gotten ready the appeal to the courts was put off until 1904. The printing of the lists does not expire by effluxion of time until February 1910.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT

TAKE NOTICE that I, Thomas L. Coughlan, of the City of Saint John, in the County and Province of New Brunswick, Jeweller, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 141 of the Consolidated Statutes of New Brunswick, 1903, entitled "An Act Respecting Assignments and Preferences by Insolvent Debtors," do hereby give notice of my assignment to the undersigned Florence McCarthy, of the City of Saint John, in the Province of New Brunswick, Tailor, and also that a meeting of the creditors of the said Thomas L. Coughlan will be held at the office of Hubert S. Keith, 59 Princess street, in the City of Saint John, aforesaid, on Thursday, the twentieth day of August, A. D. 1908, at the hour of 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon, for the appointment of inspectors and giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the estate and for the transaction of such other business as shall legally come before the meeting.

And notice is further given that all creditors are required to file their claims, duly proven, with the assignee within three months from the date of this notice. Further time may be allowed by a Judge of the Supreme or County Court, and that all claims not filed or time may be allowed by any such Judge shall be wholly barred, and the said assignee shall be at liberty to distribute the proceeds of the estate as if any claim not filed, as aforesaid, did not exist, but without prejudice to the liability of the debtor therefor.

The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada as cheaply and upon as good terms in Canada as elsewhere, having

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract: "All mechanics, labourers, or other persons who perform labour for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district then a fair and reasonable rate and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Arbitrators whose decision shall be final."

This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labour, and which are, or shall be applicable to such works. (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract.)

The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada as cheaply and upon as good terms in Canada as elsewhere, having

Morning Cotton Market: New York, Aug. 10.—While the market has recently paid very little attention to weather news it is probable that crop conditions will exert an influence from now on, and that the weather will soon become the dominating factor because of its probable influence upon the southern holder. At any rate, it would seem hardly possible that southern spot markets should maintain their present premium if the outlook for the crop continues as favorable up to the early marketing season. The local market can hardly fail to be very sensitive to anything that promises a change in the spot. Probably nothing can help the short interest in the near months here. The bull position in them is assured. In the matter of October, however, much may happen between now and the maturity of the contract. The bull leaders are strong and daring, but it is to be doubted whether they would maintain their position if the bears were able to demonstrate an ability to bring cotton here for delivery without a loss. Consequently should there be an infallible indicator that such development is probable we should look for the liquidation of long lines. On the other hand, should the weather turn bad and crop deterioration set in to encourage the southern holder in a refusal to market at concessions, the effect on this market which at present is technically protected by the bull party would be electrical.

E. & G. RANDOLPH.
New York Financial Bureau: Bullish operations are likely in the stock market today. The tendency may be found toward specialization in railroads, purchases in which may be made on recession. We would advise climb for stocks. Reactions should be plentiful as speculation broadens. Stop orders, protection will guard against any sudden sharp decline. There can be no question that some distribution has occurred, but the 40% advance in securities can be placed now here, at the same advantage as in the securities market on account of the plethoric monetary conditions showed that insiders must still hold the bulk of good stocks. The bull party is incomplete control on account of the easy money conditions.

ST. PETER'S AND HOLY TRINITY PICNICS
Will be Held on the Grounds at Torryburn Tomorrow.
Special Trains Have Been Engaged—Good Time Assured—Those Who are in Charge.

The Sunday School picnic of St. Peter's and Holy Trinity churches will be held on the Bishop's grounds at Torryburn on Tuesday next. The children will assemble at St. Peter's church at 8:30 and will march in procession to the depot, where a special train will convey them to the grounds at 10 a. m. Other trains will leave the city at 12:30 and 2:30 p. m. Dinner and supper will be served on the grounds under the direction of a competent committee. There will also be a refreshment booth, an ice-cream booth, etc. Music and games of different kinds will be provided, and a most enjoyable day in the country at a very slight expense is promised for its indigenous rate of dress. The picnic will be postponed till the next fine day.

The various committees are as follows:
Dining Hall—Messrs. T. Buckley, J. Jenkins, P. Mahoney, P. Murray, J. McCurdy, J. O'Brien, J. Gallagher, J. Coyne, M. Quigg, J. Dever, J. Mullin, W. Davison, T. Hurley, M. Lowell, Misses M. Ryan, M. Rumors are current in private cables this morning of a large foreign loan for an important American railway that is getting ready to buy rails extensively. The report is very vague as to identification.
A bull tip is in circulation today on Third Ave. in manipulative circles. Recent changes in administration, etc., are reported to have been of great benefit to the company. Reports are current this morning that big politicians are buying the traction Interboro and Brooklyn, both of which display pool operations and an upward trend. Bullish reports are noted in conservative quarters on D. and H. In fact, the Coasters generally are being subjected to bull tips this morning. The Hepburn coal law is still doing duty, the majority expecting a favorable action.

TRUTH ABOUT HYDROPHOBIA

Many Misconceptions About the Dreaded Disease and the Danger of Catching It

Rabies, popularly termed hydrophobia, notwithstanding its comparative rarity, says the New York World, the most dreaded of all diseases. In the human being it is a malady, with usually a long period of incubation, that disorders the intellectual, emotional and other nervous functions, causing spasms of the muscles of the larynx and throat; there is also more or less fever and thirst for water. The patient has at first no fear of water, and eagerly attempts to drink it; but this he cannot do, as the effort of the paralyzed muscles to swallow immediately brings on convulsions; and then the mere sight of it is sufficient to cause their recurrence. Whence the name, hydrophobia, which means, as most persons know, fear of water.
In newspaper accounts, the victims are described as foaming at the mouth, barking, and trying to bite any one near them. They do none of these things. It would be as sensible to say that a man who had contracted hydrophobia from a bite of a rabid dog or a flea infested, the disease runs its fatal course in about a week, death ensuing usually from exhaustion. There is no known remedy for rabies; but opiates are administered freely to alleviate the frightful suffering and to lessen the consciousness of the patient. Although the germ of rabies has not been demonstrated, authorities agree that it has a specific germ. Rabies never occurs in the human subject spontaneously; it is invariably inoculated. Whether it ever develops in the dog or in other animals, without inoculation, is a question concerning which there is some difference of opinion. Dr. Pepper, in his chapter on rabies in Vol. 1 of his System of Medicine, maintains that the disease never occurs spontaneously in any animal whatsoever. In proof of his assertion he instances the fact that the disease is unknown in the Islands of Elba, the Hebrides and Malta, each of which is a separate island, and that while in South Africa and Australia the outbreak dogs that slowly die of hunger and thirst are also immune to the disorder. Moreover, Dr. Pepper tells us that cruel experiments have deprived dogs of water and of food, and have exposed them for days to the direct rays of a tropical sun, without producing a single case of rabies.
A fact supporting Dr. Pepper's contention is that in cities and towns where rabies have been prevalent strict enforcement of a muzzling law has been necessary to stamp out the disease. Again is his opinion justified by another fact: Many more cases of rabies are reported in the summer months than in the winter.

The explanation of this is, on Dr. Pepper's theory, simple. Male dogs are bitten by other dogs much more often than are females. A male dog fights and kills another male dog, and, like other animals, dogs fight frequently among themselves to possess the females. So, bites are inflicted by males on males, and by males on females. It is, therefore, not surprising that in the summer months, when there are more cases of the disease, and when the weather is hot, and the dogs are more restless, and when the muzzling law is not enforced, there are more cases of rabies reported than in the winter months.

KING GIVES DINNER TO FORM A MINISTRY

BELGRADE, Aug. 10.—The new ministry which King Peter has succeeded in forming has been dubbed the "Dinner Ministry," as it is common knowledge that its members were coaxed into agreeing with one another at a dinner given by King Peter.
Although there is little likelihood of its lasting, it forms a temporary way out for the king, whose health was suffering seriously under the strain of his political worries.
An instance of the extent to which the king's health was suffering is that he had to be carried to the king's mid occurred a day or two ago.
In the early morning some workmen met a horseman who, galloping along Topchider Hill, stopped at the gate of Mr. Puskas's villa. It was not easy to get a horse to stop, but the man, who was suffering from a severe attack of the king's mid occurred a day or two ago.
The king merely wanted to learn if the ex-premier's conference with various politicians had been successful. The king was crowned with success. The answer was in the negative, and King Peter, after apologizing for the informality of his call, rode away.
The fact was that his majesty, placed as to the result of the conference had been unable to sleep till he had set his mind at rest on the subject.

AMHERST MAN DEAD IN WEST

AMHERST, Aug. 10.—A telegram received this morning announced the death in New Westminster, B. C., of Mariner W. Bent, of that place. Mr. Bent was the son of Wm. Bent, of this county. No particulars have as yet been received other than that he met his death by a fall. Mr. Bent left here about 10 years ago and has since resided there with his family and has many relatives in this county. It is expected that the body will be brought home to be buried.

A SENSIBLE MINISTER

MELBOURNE, Aug. 10.—Referring to the refusal of the New Zealand authorities to sanction a rifle match between teams of sailors from the American battleships and the Dominion Volunteers on the ground that the regulations forbid the landing of armed parties of foreigners, Hon. Prof. Lippmann Discovers a Method of Direct Photography

As already mentioned in a brief cable despatch Prof. Lippmann, of the Sorbonne, has just made a discovery which will revolutionize the art of photography. When his discovery has been perfected in a few of its details, cameras may be done away with, and the photograph will give the same effect of relief and perspective which can be secured now only by use of the stereoscope. For the sake of the uninitiated, it may be mentioned that it was Prof. Lippmann who first discovered color photography. His latest discovery is no less extraordinary.
Prof. Lippmann's laboratory occupies two entire floors of one of the Sorbonne buildings far from the noise of the street and the incessant movement of the Latin Quarter in Paris. It may be mentioned that the laboratory is perfumed with the odor of Turkish tobacco. The professor smokes all the time—thin cigarettes for the most part—lighting a fresh one as soon as the previous one has been smoked. He is on the track of his new discovery for many months. There was no hazard in it. He arrived at his result by studying the eyes of flies and mosquitoes.
"The constitution of a photographic apparatus," said the professor, discussing his discovery this week, "is analogous in many respects to that of the human eye. As a result, if we wish to obtain perspective and relief, we are forced to use the stereoscope. I was long convinced, however, that I could produce the image as it appears on the eye of a fly, I should have my stereoscopic effect direct. The eye of this class of insect, as you know, is composed of a large number of minute facets. Each of these facets reproduces a corner of the object or landscape presented to it. The ensemble of the facets gives the complete picture. I therefore set to work to find some preparation which would give a similar result.
"After a good deal of research, I evolved a collodion film, upon which I placed a thin layer of sensitive gelatin finely homogenized. This homogenized gelatin creates a multitude of globules—two to three in diameter—each of which, in the layer of collodion which it penetrates, reproduces the image of the object. The first hemisphere plays the role of the objective; the second retains the image. Each globe reproduces the totality of the picture, but permits the eye to distinguish only that point coming within the radius of vision. In virtue of its power of accommodating itself to circumstances, the eye groups all the visible points together, and the sum total makes the complete picture. Thus, the eye, while seeing a single image, sees it under all its aspects. Move the photograph to left or to right, and the relief and perspective change, because the eye encounters a different set of points."
"And what kind of a camera is necessary?" I asked.
"I was expecting that question," said the professor, with a smile. "No camera is needed. We put the film, or sensitive plate, in an ordinary plate holder, and place it in front of the object or landscape which we wish to photograph. The slide is opened and shut and the operation is finished. My greatest regret is that we are unable to reproduce this new photography in printing. It is no good for photography. For pictures reproduced in the newspapers we shall still have to use the stereoscope."

THE NEW CEDAR.

For this week the management wish to announce that they have a treat in store for their patrons. At great expense they have engaged that well known comedian Al Dillon. This veteran artist is right in the front rank of the profession, and on the occasion of his last visit to this city his up-to-date staging and monologue act was received with great enthusiasm. The pictures also call for special mention, foremost among them being a dramatic picture entitled Love and Fortune. This is one of the greatest pictures ever shown to the public and must not be missed. Heavy Seas is a beautiful nautical picture, while The Poor Schoolmaster is a drama of more than ordinary merit. Percy Sayce, the sweet-voiced baritone who has been successful in great applause during his vocal successes of the past two weeks will be heard in that most popular ballad When the Harvest Moon is Shining on the River. The price will be as usual, 5c. There is no better show for the money in the Maritime Provinces.

ALLIGATOR.

"Alligator" is merely another form of the Spanish "el lagarto," the lizard. Shakespeare classed the alligator as a fish, to judge from Romeo's description of the contents of the apothecary's shop: "An alligator scuttled and other skins of ill shaped fishes."

LOCAL NEWS

The many friends of Dr. J. M. Smith will regret to learn that he has been confined to his home, Chipman's Hill, seriously ill for past six weeks.

Joseph N. Ellis, a former St. John newspaper man and lawyer, is in the city on a visit. Mr. Ellis is now practicing law in Vancouver.

St. John Lodge No. 30, K. of P., meets tonight in the hall, Simonds St. Rank of Knight. All members of the order welcome.

A carriage owned by B. T. Worden came to grief on Mill street Saturday afternoon. The wheels were broken by coming in contact with a curb-stone.

The special jury summoned to attend the Circuit Court on the 4th instant are requested to attend at the Court House at 10 a. m., tomorrow, also the petit jury summoned for the March circuit.

Clara O'Brien, a two year old girl, was found by the police in King Square Saturday afternoon and taken to Central Station for safe keeping. She was later sent to her home on Erin street.

Summer is going and the Pigeon stock of high grade clothes must go with it. Splendid Business Suits that were $12 and $15 are now marked $9.48 and $10.98. The patterns and weaves are suitable for all seasons of the year. Better take advantage now before all are gone.

Sympathy is extended to Abram Harris, of this city, in the loss he has sustained by the death of Mrs. Harris. The deceased lady was a favorite with those who knew her and her untimely death has caused widespread regret. The funeral will be held from 10 a. m. to 2.30 p. m., Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon.

A number of ladies and gentlemen enjoyed themselves in the country yesterday, and when returning to the city last night the bus driver got lost in the fog. He was considerably out of his way and the services of a resident on the outskirts of the city had to be called on to put him and his party on the right course.

Wm. Campbell, a former reporter on the Star, but a hustling newspaper man in Winnipeg, is in the city visiting his parents. Mr. Campbell speaks highly of the West and prefers to reside there. He says he meets many St. John boys who are also doing well in the West. Mr. Campbell returns to Winnipeg the last of the week.

DAIRY OUTFIT FIGURES AS A WATER WAGON

There was a big splash of milk on Main street this morning when a milk wagon upset and containing a hundred gallons of milk were sent flying in all directions.

The outfit which is owned by George Carvell, of Main street, was standing outside of Irvin's bakery when the horse hitched to a telegraph post. The animal managed to work its head stall off and then started on a run down Main street. Opposite the Cold Storage building the wagon collided with one of Kane and McGrath's heavy meat wagons which was standing there. The meat wagon was completely overturned and the contents sent flying. The harness broke and the horse freed from the lumbering wagon dashed down the street followed by a crowd of pursuers. It was caught on Mill street.

After viewing the splash made by the contents of the cans, a bystander remarked that it laid the street dust better than an ordinary water cart.

IN POLICE COURT TODAY

In the police court this morning Arthur Craft was charged by the police with being drunk and carrying an axe. He pleaded guilty to the charge but didn't see any violation of the law for carrying an axe, so the court imposed a fine of $8 for the drunkenness and no penalty was inflicted for the man having been in possession of the wood chopper.

Charles Anderson pleaded guilty to assaulting Thomas Nash in a yard off Charlotte street and went to jail for two months in default of paying a $20 fine.

Nash gave evidence that Anderson and three others were acting disorderly and when he requested them to leave the yard they assaulted him.

COWHIG-SISK.

A very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. church, Grand Ave., N. B., on August the 2nd inst., when Rev. S. J. Doucet, P. P., united in marriage Miss Susan E. Sisk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sisk, of Pockshaw, to William J. Cowhig, of the same place. The bride was prettily gowned in white with white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Lillian D. Sisk, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and also supported the groom. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of the bride where a sumptuous bridal dinner was partaken of by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, including a solid silver pickle stand from Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sisk, of Tracadis, N. B., brother and sister-in-law of the bride. After spending the afternoon in music and dancing they left amid loud wishes for the home of the groom, where they will in future reside.

LADIES LISTEN TO VILE LANGUAGE

Pollux Not Around When Drunken Brawls Take Place—Nearly an Accident on Street Car Tracks.

There was a large crowd of people at the Eastern Steamship Co. wharf on Saturday evening, and in the absence of the police, men and women were shocked for they were obliged to witness no less than two street fights, and listen to a great amount of vile language, used by a number of intoxicated persons. It was about eight o'clock when one man was struck on the nose and knocked down by a drunk. The young man's face was bleeding, and he frequently requested his assailant to accompany him to a quiet spot where they could fight and not run the chance of being arrested. The man who committed the assault refused to leave the place, where there were many women standing, but he fairly turned the air blue with his filthy remarks.

Following this encounter was another which took place a short distance along Britain street. Two men had an altercation which resulted in one of them being knocked down. Regaining his feet he started to run away, only to be given another blow which caused him to fall in front of an approaching street car. The motor man quickly applied the brakes to stop the car, but the assaulted man was dragged from the car track by his assailant. The assault continued. For a few minutes the man who was knocked down, being punched and kicked until some men separated the pair.

The scenes were disgraceful, especially where so many ladies were present, and would have undoubtedly never occurred had the tough element of any fair of a policeman being in the vicinity.

POLICE WINK AT SOME, BUT REPORT OTHERS?

This is Statement Made to Court—Drivers up for Having No License.

IT WAS STATED BY A VISITOR IN THE POLICE COURT THIS MORNING THAT SOME PERSONS ARE REPORTED BY THE POLICE FOR INCHING WELL IN THE WEST.

Mr. Campbell returns to Winnipeg the last of the week. Mr. Campbell speaks highly of the West and prefers to reside there. He says he meets many St. John boys who are also doing well in the West.

Murray Alexander was reported for driving a hackney carriage without a license. He explained that the team was owned by David Keefe, and he was only driving a few days for Mr. Keefe, who was confined to his home with a sore foot, a sloven having run over his toe. Alexander said he did not want a license as he was leaving the city tomorrow. He was excused.

Harry Alexander was before the court on a similar report. That for which his brother, Murray, was up. Harry said the sloven and carriage he drove were licensed and that he had given the money for a driver's license to the inspector.

Segt. Campbell informed the court that the Mayor would not give Alexander a license because there had been so many complaints against him.

Alexander informed the court that he was not driving a team at night but that others drivers have their teams out at night. The magistrate said that no matter what a young man's past record might be, if he was driving all right now, he should be given a chance, and helped. He told Alexander to call on the Mayor and say it was the court's opinion that he should get a driver's license. Alexander was excused for the present.

SAYS KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HAD A SPLENDID TRIP

Col. Alfred Dodge and the majority of the Knights of Pythias, with the Artillery Band, arrived home Saturday evening on the steamer Camden. Speaking of several incidents during the trip Col. Dodge says many stories were exaggerated. Regarding the flag incident Col. Dodge says the policeman who stopped the Canadians and requested them to carry an American flag, was ignorant of the law as there is no law that made it compulsory for the Canadian Knights to do so as the policeman requested.

Col. Dodge has great praise for the Artillery Band and the Canadian contingent and says the trip was an excellent one.
