

RUSSIAN REINFORCEMENTS REACH GALICIA; FRIENDLY TERMS MARK U. S. NOTE TO BERLIN

Tide of Battle Appears To Swing to Russian Side in Galicia

Are Attacking Von Lensingen's Army which Crossed River Dneister—Possibility They May be Able to Hold Lemberg—Germans Withdrawing Troops from East and Battle Reported Developing South of Ypres.

London, June 10.—Russian reinforcements have arrived in the Baltic provinces and in Galicia, and it has become their turn to attack. According to the German official report received tonight part of the German force on the Dvbsa river in the Baltic provinces, threatened by an encircling movement, were obliged to withdraw, although in the region of Shavil and on the Niemen they claim to be making progress, despite a stubborn Russian resistance.

More important, in the belief of military observers here, however, is the apparent change that is taking place in the Galician battle. Here again, according to the German account, the Russians are advancing to the south and southeast of Lemberg and also are attacking Gen. Von Lensingen's force which crossed the Dneister near Zurawna.

In Eastern Galicia and Bukowana, however, the Russians are falling back between the Pruth and Dneister rivers with the intention it is believed here, of making the Dneister their line of defence, from the Roumanian frontier to the southeast of Premysl. They have very strong positions along this line and military experts say that if they can drive back the Germans who crossed the river near Zurawna, Lemberg will remain in their hands and they will be in a position to deliver a vigorous offensive at any rate as soon as the Austrians and Germans begin to withdraw troops for their western and southern campaigns.

Battle South of Ypres.

It is possible that this withdrawal commenced some days ago, for Dutch correspondents report the arrival of large numbers of troops in Belgium and the commencement of a battle to the south of Ypres. The official reports, however, make no mention of such a battle.

Along most of the French front the fighting is of a character similar to that which has been in progress for many months. The French generally are said to be on the offensive, but as to results the claims of Berlin and Paris are contradictory.

Heavy fighting continues on the Italian front, particularly along the Isonzo river where the Italians claim to have taken Monfalcone, an important town near the coast.

German submarines continue their activity. Today they accounted for two British torpedo boats, while the loss of ten fishing vessels and one steamer, the Erna Boldt, is credited to the underwater boats. Forty-one members of the crews of the torpedo boats were rescued. As these vessels always carry crew of 33 men it is believed that the loss of life in their sinking will approximate thirty.

LORD MILNER ADVOCATES CONSCRIPTION IN BRITAIN; LETTER FROM COLIN M'KAY

(Staff Correspondence of the Standard.)

London, May 26.—When I left St. John I know many people thought the war would be over by fall. That also was the opinion of many people in the Mother Country. Now nobody in these islands entertains that view, or if he does he is told he is a fit candidate for a lunatic asylum.

Some of the letters I have written to The Standard may appear to have been of an alarmist character. In a way they ought to have had that character; people who have indulged the comfortable belief that it will only be a few months before Germany is beaten to her knees ought to be alarmed, or at least shocked.

The Empire is up against a mighty big proposition; make no mistake about that. And it is not yet adequately prepared. Lord Milner cannot be considered an alarmist, yet he has in the Times today a letter which amply justifies anything I have written. Would such a man advocate conscription if he thought the late government had lived up to its responsibilities and this war was going to be a walk-over? He writes:

N.T.R. WILL BE MONUMENT OVER LAURIER'S POLITICAL REMAINS

Montreal, June 10.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, Solicitor General, in an address tonight before the Westmount Conservative Association in Victoria Hall, referred to the Transcontinental Railway as likely to prove a monument over Sir Wilfrid Laurier's political remains. "Two hundred million dollars," he said, "have been plucked on two streaks of lust between Moncton and Winnipeg."

Mr. Meighen said the interest on the Transcontinental burden was at the rate of $1,000 an hour. He blamed the Liberals for having precipitated political strife and said the Conservatives "had to strike out in defence."

GREAT BRITAIN'S NAVAL LOSSES, EXCLUSIVE OF THOSE LOST ON THE BULWARK, 4,409

London, June 10.—The number of men who have perished through the sinking of British naval craft since the outbreak of the war is, 4,409, according to a statement made by T. J. MacNamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, in the House of Commons this afternoon.

This total does not include the men who lost their lives on the mine-layer Princess Irene and the British battleship Bulwark, both of which were blown up in Sheerness harbor.

THE ALTERNATIVE NOT STATED IN CASE GERMANY REFUSES DEMANDS OF U.S.

Wilson's Note Informs Berlin That it is on the Principle of Humanity as Well as on Law Founded on This Principle That United States Must Stand—Facts Concerning Lusitania's Sinking Lift Case Out of Class of Ordinary Subjects of Diplomatic Discussion.

Washington, June 10.—The United States, in its latest note to Germany, made public tonight, formally asks the Imperial government for assurances that measures hereafter will be adopted to safeguard "American lives and American ships" on the high seas. The alternative, in case of refusal, is not stated.

It was this note which William Jennings Bryan refused to attach his signature, resigning, instead, his portfolio of Secretary of State, and there by precipitating a dramatic cabinet crisis. Robert Lansing, Secretary of State ad interim, signed the communication which went forth with the approval of President Wilson and his entire cabinet.

Friendly terms characterize the document, which renews representations made in the American note that reached Germany on May 15, after the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk with a loss of more than 100 American lives. The German government, it is declared, "must have been misinformed" when it assumed that the Lusitania carried guns, as official information is at hand to corroborate the original contention of the Washington government—that the Lusitania was an unarmed passenger ship which, since it did not resist, capture, could not be sunk without transferring passengers and crew to a place of safety.

The communication informs Germany that it is "on the principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand." Opportunity is given to Germany to submit any evidence that American officials did not execute their tasks thoroughly in inspecting the Lusitania before she sailed, but the main fact—that the liner was given no warning, and made no resistance, and was primarily a passenger ship—the American government declares, throws "into the background any special circumstances of detail," and lifts the case "out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy."

The issuance of another statement by former Secretary Bryan, coincident with the publication of the note tonight, added to the surprise in official quarters at the character of Mr. Bryan's argument. High officials said the note employed the very process—question—which Mr. Bryan advocated, and did not necessarily lead to war.

The text of the note follows:

"The Secretary of State, ad interim, to the American Ambassador at Berlin.

"Department of State, Washington, June 9, 1915.

"American Ambassador, Berlin:

"You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"In compliance with Your Excellency's request I did not fail to transmit to my government immediately upon their receipt your note of May 28, in reply to my note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 1, setting forth the conditions, so far as reached by the Imperial German government concerning the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gulf Light. I am now instructed by my government to communicate the following reply:

"The government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition by the Imperial German government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and the Gulf Light, of the principle of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships, and the frank willingness of the Imperial German government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships which have not been guilty of any hostile act by German aircraft or vessels of war is satisfactorily established, and the government of the United States will, in due course, lay before the Imperial German government, as it requests, full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

The Fatuba Case.

"With regard to the sinking of the steamer Fatuba, by which an American citizen lost his life, the government of the United States is surprised to find the Imperial German government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantman to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligation of the officer seeking to make the capture in respect of the safety of those on board the merchantmen, although the vessel has ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed. These are not new circumstances. They have been in the minds of statesmen and of international jurists throughout the development of naval warfare, and the government of the United States does not understand that they have ever been held to alter the principles of humanity upon which it has insisted. Nothing but actual forcible resistance, or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman, has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew. The government of the United States, however, does not understand that the Imperial German government is seeking, in this case, to relieve itself of liability, but only contends to set forth the circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to allow himself to be hurried into the course which he took.

Your Excellency's note, in discussing the loss of the American lives resulting from the sinking of the steamer Lusitania, adverts at some length to certain information which the Imperial German government has received with regard to the character and outfit of the vessel, and Your Excellency expresses the fear that this information may not have been brought to the attention of the United States. It is stated that the Lusitania was undoubtedly equipped with masked guns, supplied with trained gunners and special ammunition, transporting troops from Canada, carrying a cargo not permitted under the laws of the United States to a vessel also carrying passengers, and serving, in virtual effect, as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain. Fortunately these are matters concerning which the government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German government official information. Of the facts alleged in Your Excellency's note, if true, the government of the United States would have been bound to take official cognizance in performing its recognized duty as a neutral power and in enforcing its national laws. It was its duty to see to it that the Lusitania was not armed for offensive action, that she was not serving as a transport, that she did not carry a cargo prohibited by the statutes of the United States, and that, if in fact she was a naval vessel of Great Britain, she should not receive clearance as a merchantman; and it performed that duty and enforced its statutes with scrupulous vigilance, through its regularly constituted officials. It is able, therefore, to assure the Imperial German government that it has been misinformed. If the Imperial German government should deem itself to be in possession of convincing evidence that the officers of the government of the United States did not perform these duties with thoroughness the government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

"Whatever may be the contentions regarding the carriage of contraband on her board the Lusitania, or regarding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel.

Contenting for Sacred Rights of Humanity.

"The sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which lift it, as the Imperial German government will no doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy. Whatever be the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers, and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk, without so much as a challenge or a warning, and that men, women and children were sent to their death in circumstances unparalleled in modern warfare. The fact that more

ARREST GERMAN RESERVIST ON PERJURY CHARGE

In an Affidavit Swore He Saw Guns on Lusitania Day Before She Sailed on Last Trip.

New York, June 10.—A Federal grand jury investigation to determine whether there was a conspiracy "to defraud the United States" in connection with the affidavits submitted by the German embassy to the State Department to prove that there were guns aboard the steamship Lusitania was begun here today by the Federal grand jury. It is specifically directed against Paul Koenig, also known as Stenler, who according to the Federal authorities, is the head of a secret service department maintained by the Hamburg-American Steamship Line.

The first result of the investigation was the arrest today for perjury of Gustave Stahl, a German reservist, who made one of the affidavits submitted by the embassy and who is alleged to be closely associated with Koenig. The warrant on which he was arrested alleges that he committed perjury in an investigation by the jury against "Paul Koenig, alias Stenler and others," under that section of the Penal Code covering conspiracy to defraud the United States. He was taken into custody immediately upon the conclusion of his testimony, and sent to the Tombs for lack of the $10,000 bail demanded by the government.

Stahl, in his affidavit, which was made before a city notary public, swore that he visited the Lusitania on April 30, the day before she sailed and saw four guns on her deck concealed by leather covers. The repetition of this story, when he was called as a witness in the investigation of Koenig's activities, was the basis of the perjury charge. In addition to the statement by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, and by officials of the Cunard line, that the Lusitania was unarmed, the government authorities said tonight that they had evidence by which they would prove that Stahl was not on board the Lusitania, either on April 30, or any other day, before the departure of the Lusitania on her fatal trip.

Phoenix, Ariz., June 10.—Instructions to be prepared to take the field at a moment's notice, with the warning that fever and smallpox are very common in Mexico, were received here today by the Arizona militia from the War Department at Washington.

Germany Flatly Rejects Two of Points Made by United States Gov't

In Latest Note on William P. Frye Case Germans Claim Right to Sink all American Vessels Carrying Contraband and Pay the Damage Afterwards.

Washington, June 10.—Germany's latest note to the United States on the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, received here today, makes the far-reaching claim of a right to destroy any American vessel carrying contraband, while agreeing to pay damages for the act.

Two points made by the United States are rejected by Germany. One was the statement of the American government in its note of April 28 that prize court proceedings meant unnecessary delay, all matters concerning being susceptible of prompt settlement through diplomatic channels and the other was that the destruction of the Frye was "unquestionably a violation of the obligations imposed upon the Imperial government under existing treaty stipulations between the United States and Prussia."

The effect of Germany's answer today, if its assertions are accepted by the United States, would be to throw into the prize courts for decision all cases of whether destruction of an American vessel constituted an extreme case of military necessity.

The German answer insists that the stopping of supplies to an enemy belligerent may be effected by the destruction of the contraband and the destruction of the ship carrying the contraband, without violation of treaty obligations. It contends that a prize court is necessary to fix the amount of compensation and that there is no occasion for direct diplomatic negotiations on the case unless the prize court should fail to award compensation.

The obligation of a belligerent to pay compensation remains, regardless of the action of the prize court, the German note contends and should the prize court fail to award compensation Germany would undertake to arrange equitable indemnity. As a precaution and a preliminary procedure Germany suggests that the American claimants enter their claims on record.

TWO BRITISH TORPEDO BOATS SENT TO BOTTOM

BRYAN ASKS PEOPLE OF U.S. FOR A HEARING

Asks No Mercy if Public Sentiment Condemns Him—Is a Champion of New System, Persuasion, Instead of Force.

Washington, June 10.—William J. Bryan, in an appeal addressed "To the American people," tonight, asks them to hear him before they pass sentence upon his laying down the portfolio of Secretary of State in the midst of international stress.

Confident that the public will credit him with honorable intentions, Mr. Bryan frankly says that good intentions are not enough, and that if the public verdict is against him, he asks no mercy, asserting that men in public life must be "willing to bear any deserved punishment from ostracism to execution."

Interpreting the American note to Germany on submarine warfare, which he refused to sign, as conforming to the "old system" of diplomatic standards, precedents for which "are written in characters of blood upon almost every page of human history," and characterizing himself as a champion of the new system—persuasion, instead of force—and as "a humble follower of the Prince of Peace, the former Secretary of State pleads for the United States to lead the world 'out of the black night of war into the light of that day' when swords shall be beaten into plowshares.

Mr. Bryan points to the Austrian note to Serbia as "the most recent example of the 'old system'."

"It was Austria's firmness that dictated the ultimatum against Serbia, which set the world at war," continues the statement. "Every ruler now participating in this unparalleled conflict has proclaimed his desire for peace and denied responsibility for the war, and it is only charitable that we should credit all of them with good faith. They desired peace, but they sought it according to the rules of the old

Torpedoed by German Submarines off East Coast of England—Crews Rescued—Four Trawlers Sunk.

Bulletin—London, June 10.—Two British torpedo boats were torpedoed this morning off the east coast of England by a German submarine. The boats are the No. 10 and the No. 12. Both of them went to the bottom. The survivors, forty-one in number, have been brought ashore. The attack took place at a very early hour.

This information was given out by the Admiralty today.

The British torpedo boats No. 10 and No. 12 had each a complement of thirty-five men. No. 10 had a displacement of 244 tons, a speed of 25 knots, and was 166 feet long. No. 12 had a displacement of 253 tons, a speed of 26 knots, and was 172 feet long. Both were built in 1906.

Trawlers' Crews Rescued.

London, June 10.—A news despatch received here from Maasliuis says the crews of the British trawlers Sea Vive and Edward, which have been sunk by German submarines, were rescued by a Dutch steamer and brought into Maasliuis.

The Grimby trawler Cardiff was sunk by a German submarine yesterday afternoon in the North Sea. Her crew was saved by another trawler and landed in Grimby today.

Muiden, Holland, via London, June 10.—The trawler Letty was blown up today off Doggerbank in the North Sea. The members of the crew were drowned.

AMERICAN NOTE RECEIVED IN BERLIN

Never before have the frightful follies of this fatal system been so clearly revealed as now."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Montfalcone Taken but a Score of Miles Between Italians and One of Main Objectives of Campaign.

Udine, Italy, June 10.—The Austrians have attempted to transform the lower region of the Isonzo river into a flooded country, duplicating the feat of the Allies in Belgium, for the purpose of halting the Italian advance. Dykes were opened, the banks of the river were broken down and several canals were tapped.

The results achieved were insignificant, however, as most of the water was carried off by the ditches. No serious inconvenience for the invading Italians was occasioned.

Within Sight of Trieste

Udine, Italy, June 10, via Paris.—Italian troops are within sight of the city of Trieste. From the hill tops near Montfalcone they can see the city, the capture of which is one of the main objectives of the Italian campaign.

The occupation of Montfalcone is regarded by the Italians as of great importance. Less than a score of miles from Trieste, its possession gives the Italians control of the chief railway junction of that region.

It prevents the Austrians from transporting troops or ammunition between Trieste and Gradisca. Montfalcone is the centre of electrical supplies for Trieste, and has large ship building yards.

On taking possession of Montfalcone the Italians ran up their flag on the ruins of an ancient tower built by the Venetians. The capture of the town is being celebrated today by the Italian troops.

Toronto, June 10.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association today passed resolutions as follows: "That members of the Association producing munitions supply the highest quality at fair prices; that they encourage recruiting among their employes, and set an example themselves by offering themselves for service; that the Federal government be asked to appoint a competent commission, including the chairman of the Railway Commission, to investigate the transportation problem of the Dominion; that better facilities be arranged for the placing of ships necessary for the transport of Canadian goods to British ports; that a commission be appointed for developing a thorough system of technical education, and that the governments of provinces be memorialized to install a competent fire marshal, the commission of conservation to interest itself in this problem."

GIVES EVIDENCE IN CONNECTION WITH CONTRACT FOR MAN. PARLIAMENT BLDG.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 10.—V. W. Horwood, formerly provincial architect of Manitoba, today voluntarily gave evidence before the Manitoba Royal Commission in connection with the investigation into the contract for the parliament building at Winnipeg, which is said to have been the medium of graft for about $800,000. Horwood's evidence implicated former Minister Caldwell, and he stated that Mr. Caldwell had interested himself in keeping away from Winnipeg important witnesses wanted in the investigation, paying as much as $10,000 to keep a leading witness named Salt out of the country. This money was obtained by Horwood from Caldwell, so the witness stated, and given to M. G. Hoop, one of the conspirators, but Hoop lost the money in Omaha, where he was robbed.

FRIENDLY TERMS MARK U.S. NOTE

than one hundred American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the government of the United States to speak of these things, and once more, with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the Imperial German government to the grave responsibility which the government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the indubitable principle upon which that responsibility rests. The government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the rights of humanity, which every government honors itself in respecting, and which no government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority. Only her refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit, could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued on August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Admiralty to its commanders at sea to have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand.

tions of its note transmitted to the Imperial German government on the 15th of May, and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law, and the ancient friendship of the German nation.
"The government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand that the Imperial German government to question these rights. It understands it, also, to accept as established beyond question the principle that the lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman, and to recognize the obligation to take sufficient precaution to ascertain whether suspected merchantman is, in fact, carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag. The government of the United States deems it reasonable to expect that the Imperial German government will adopt the measures necessary to respect of the safeguarding of American lives and American ships, and asks for assurances that this will be done.
(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING,
Secretary of State ad Interim."
A copy of the note was delivered to Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, late this afternoon. He declined to comment, saying that he would have to be left to the reply of his government.

Favorable Impression in Diplomatic Circles
In diplomatic circles generally the note seemed to create a favorable impression. In quarters friendly to Germany it was stated that the document confirmed a belief, held since Count Von Bernstorff's recent interview with President Wilson, that the critical stage had been passed and that, with the American viewpoint clearly before it, the German government would be able to find a way out of the dilemma that would satisfy the United States.
Meyer Gerhard, now on his way to Berlin as personal representative of Count Von Bernstorff, is understood to have been instructed to outline the attitude of the American government in a way that will merely supplement the statement of the position in the note. In German quarters no response from the Imperial government is looked for until after Gerhard reaches Berlin, perhaps ten days or a fortnight hence.

OFFICIAL REPORTS

FRANCE

Paris, June 10, (10.20 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:
"The artillery combat has continued in the sector to the north of Arras. It has been restarted, however, by a very thick fog.
"Supplementary reports on the capture of Neuville-St. Vaast establish the fact that the north-east section of the village and the small fort which the enemy had organized there were defended with extreme obstinacy. It was a struggle, foot by foot, from house to house, that our infantry took possession of the entire position.
"The Germans did not retire until the last extremity. They left in our hands a quantity of munitions, including a 77 gun and several machine guns. We found in the houses, the passage-ways and cellars upwards of 1,000 German dead.
"In the region of Hebuterne we captured from the enemy, on June 7, 8 and 9, six machine guns.
"In Champagne, in the region of

British Commons Will Discuss Another Vote Of Credit Next Week, Premier Asquith Announces

WILL EXAMINE EVERY WAR CONTRACT

Probe into War Contracts to begin next week by Sir Chas. Davidson will be most thorough.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, June 10.—The inquiry which will commence next week into the war contracts by Sir Charles Davidson, assisted by John T. C. Thompson, K. C., will probably cover a considerable period, more particularly as there is likely to be an adjournment over the heated summer period. The sittings to be held next week will be largely of a preliminary character. In the meantime auditors and counsel will examine the documents and records in the department. It is stated that the examination will involve every army contract awarded by the government since the war started, including those examined by the Public Accounts Committee during the last session of parliament. Some 25,000 war contracts have been entered into since the war began and the inquiry into these will be open to the public. It will take place in the railway committee room of the Commons.

LORD MILNER'S LETTER BIG ARGUMENT FOR CONSCRIPTION

"The change of Ministry will not bring us victory without a change of method. We have now got the best men of all political parties working together in one Cabinet, and the nation as a whole is heartily rejoiced at it. But even the best Government cannot do the impossible. You might as well expect an army using the old Brown Bess to beat one equipped with quick-firing rifles, as a country that still clings to the voluntary system to be a match for one which is organized throughout on the principle of national service. The handicap is too enormous. It hampers us everywhere, in the provision of ammunition no less than in the provision of men. It is the root cause of nine-tenths of the hitches, delays, and blunders, and of the widespread and justified uneasiness and discontent which takes so unfortunate a form in perpetual fault-finding with this or that individual Minister—men who are doing hard and often astonishingly good work with a clumsy and inadequate instrument which they are afraid to discard."

"What has been achieved so far (and it is wonderful considering the conditions) has been achieved largely by the aid of a number of exceptional measures, drastically interfering with our famous 'rights of property' and 'liberty of the subject.' Yet nobody complains. Ministers have only to say that such and such an emergency measure is necessary to the efficient conduct of the war, and they get it. The spirit of the nation is excellent. It simply needs firm leadership. But this whole series of special laws, though they have thoroughly riddled the principle of individual liberty, have not touched our fundamental need, which is to give the country in its life-and-death struggle a claim to the personal service of all its citizens."

Further he writes: "The way we are at present going on is unfair to everybody. It is unfair to our splendid men at the front and our gallant Allies. But it is unfair, also, to thousands of men at home, who are unjustly denounced as 'slackers' or 'cowards,' when they are simply ignorant, or bewildered—and who might not be bewildered between the alternating screams for help and peans of victory?—or sorely puzzled to choose between conflicting duties, doubtful whether it is indeed right for them to leave wife and child and responsible work, when others similarly situated, or who could join the colors at a much smaller personal sacrifice, stay at home."

"These men are sorely in need of an authoritative voice to decide their course for them—either to order them to go to the front along with others in the same position, or to tell them definitely that they are not wanted, or not wanted yet, in which case they could pursue their 'business as usual' with a clear conscience."

"And even the real 'slacker,' the man who obviously ought to go and has no reasonable excuse for shirking, does it lie in their mouth to reproach him, who are themselves so slack that they are afraid to compel him to do his duty, though they have the power? Surely, in all this outcry about slackness and timidity we are putting the saddle on the wrong horse."

"I know it may be said that men who need compulsion to make them join the colors are not the fighting men we want. But every sort of compulsion, often of the most invidious kind, is going on in this country at the present time. It is only honest, straightforward compulsion, equally applied all round, that we stick at."

"Moreover, it is not at all true that men necessarily fight badly because they fight in obedience to a constraining law, not from the mere impulse of patriotism. And granted that the pick of our manhood, the keenest, most enterprising, most courageous, are already at the front, that does not mean that the rest may not be good average fighting material."

"No great army was ever yet composed mainly of Paladins. And the last thing we want as a nation is that a heroic minority should be wholly sacrificed, and only men of average or inferior spirit and sense of duty left to carry on the race."
"We have relied too exclusively upon the pick of our people, and we have lost too large a proportion of them. It is high time that the whole of our able-bodied manhood—no mean material either—should be enrolled to support them in the field, except those who can render the more efficient aid in other ways. And the nation is ready to obey the order. It only needs the captain on the bridge to give the signal."

Serbian Aviators Bring Down Enemy Aeroplane

Austrian airships drop bombs at Kraguyevatz in attempt to destroy arsenal—Three residents killed.

Paris, June 10.—The Havas News Agency has received a despatch from its correspondent at Nish, Serbia, who says that at an early hour this morning three Austrian aeroplanes flew over Kraguyevatz, where there is an arsenal and factories for arms and ammunition, and threw down three bombs. Three persons were killed and 200 were wounded. Serbian aviators went into the air to meet the Austrian airships as they were returning from the raid at a point near Smederevo. During the ensuing fight one of the Austrian machines, struck by bullets from a Serbian quick-firing gun, fell to the earth in Austrian territory. A thick cloud of smoke could be seen coming from the spot where the machine landed.

London, June 10.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that a further vote of credit would be discussed on Tuesday of next week. It is believed that the new vote will be for £250,000,000 or £300,000,000 ($1,250,000,000 or $1,500,000,000). Says Lusitania Probe Should be Abandoned. Arthur Peel, Conservative member for Great Yarmouth, urged in the House of Commons today that an inquiry into the torpedoing of the Lusitania could serve no purpose and should be abandoned inasmuch as coroner's inquests already had been held. Premier Asquith, however, stated emphatically that the investigation should proceed. "That all the facts should be placed on record seems to meet with general approval," said the Premier, who added that "the fact that some evidence will be taken in camera will not affect the general inquiry."

MR. VENIOT'S "CHARGES"

The Telegraph, yesterday morning, devoted considerable space to the publication of letters touching matters to be investigated by Commissioner V. R. Chandler, K. C., and by the publication of the letters themselves, and by editorial comment, sought to convey the idea that Attorney General Baxter and other members of the local Government desired to stifle enquiry into certain charges preferred by P. J. Veniot.

It may be said at the outset that none of these charges referred to by the Telegraph in any way affect the Government. Nearly all are charges against men engaged in outside work in the counties of Kent and Gloucester and touch but one department of the public service—the Department of Public Works. Despite all the opportunity given by the Government no other department, or no departmental official, has been in any way affected, and if there are irregularities only minor officials are responsible.

The particular instance to which Mr. Veniot refers will be investigated, and there is no reason to believe that he ever doubted the Government's intention that it would be. If this charge is true, the man on whose authority it is made, Mr. Edouard Girouard, must have obtained money improperly. If he did not obtain it improperly then there should be no charge; if it is equally clear, therefore, that if the charge is worth investigating he should pay back the money improperly received.

The very fact that Mr. Veniot is able to publish in the Telegraph a letter from the files of the Public Works Department shows that the Government has not the slightest desire to withhold or hide any information. The charges will be investigated; the promise of the Government will be kept, and every opportunity given of probing the truth of Mr. Veniot's allegations. That investigation itself will abundantly illustrate how contemptible have been the tactics of Mr. Veniot and Mr. Carter in their attempt to parade themselves as victims of injustice.

Quite early in the investigation, when Commissioner Chandler had sent a letter to Mr. E. S. Carter expressing doubt whether a suggested subject for enquiry fell within the scope of his powers, the Attorney General as soon as he was informed, advised the Commissioner to raise no question as to his powers, but to give the enquiry the fullest scope. Though Mr. Chandler immediately informed Mr. Carter that he wished to withdraw his first letter, the Telegraph the next morning, published that letter and intimated there was a refusal to give the enquiry which it alleged had been promised.

Before the type containing that statement had been set up both Mr. E. S. Carter and the Telegraph knew that the Commissioner had decided to investigate the matter to the fullest extent, but a newspaper which pretends to a fairness which it does not possess, misrepresented the case in the manner for which it is infamously notorious.

Every one in the counties of Kent and Gloucester knows Mr. P. J. Veniot and that knowledge is sufficient to deprive charges made by him of any weight or validity. Cheap clap-trap and a poor masquerade of political honesty are Mr. Veniot's chief assets. As for Mr. E. S. Carter, his political activities and utter disregard for the rudimentary elements of truth are matters of such common knowledge that he requires no further attention. These are the gentlemen for whom the Telegraph stands sponsor and the character of that newspaper and of its "discoveries" may well be judged by them.

AMERICA TO GERMANY.

There can be no misunderstanding of the very plain and definite terms of the American reply to the German note, published elsewhere in "The Standard" this morning. Stripped of the language of diplomacy it sounds the earnest and unwavering demand of the people of the American Republic that Germany shall convey a definite compliance with the request to accept the rights and privileges of American citizens who deem it wise to travel the seas in neutral, or non-combatant vessels. Questions of damage or adequate reparation for wrongs already perpetrated will doubtless be subjects for later negotiations; the present note merely serves notice on Germany that she must abandon her practical warfare against neutrals or take the consequences if it is persisted in.

As to the status of the Lusitania, the American government emphasises that she was such a vessel, with such a cargo, as could properly be cleared from an American port as a non-combatant. The German charge that she carried masked guns, numbered trained gunners in her crew, carried contraband of war or otherwise came under the classification of a combatant ship is emphatically contradicted, and the American government puts it straight up to Berlin to produce evidence in support of the claim if any such evidence exists. In other words, the United States believes Germany guilty but is willing to give her an opportunity to prove her innocence if it can be done; in the meantime, however, she must refrain from actions such as those which have already given Washington cause to complain.

The note is an absolutely manly and fair presentation of America's case; it contains no terms which can be construed into an embodiment of aggressive or unjust demands; no disposition is shown to crowd the Kaiser. At the same time it is a strong utterance and a plain pronouncement that the future relations of the two nations are for Berlin to determine. It is just such a message as the character of Woodrow Wilson has led the world to expect.

THE WAR SITUATION.

The brightest feature of the war news yesterday is contained in the reports of Italian success in the vicinity of Trieste. Apparently the Italians have made excellent progress and are already pressing the Austrians hard. The Italians have already taken several towns. Probably the most important of these is Monfalcone, sixteen miles from Trieste, where the Italians are now in possession after taking 400 Austrian prisoners in the process of occupancy.

Continued success on the part of Italy such as that of the past few days must mean the relief of the pressure the Germans and Austrians are exercising on the Russians in the east. The Russians are fighting well but they have had the most of it to do and have been faced by the greatest resources of the German and Austrian empires. The consequence is that the weight of numbers and superior equipment have told and the enemy has been able to drive the Muscovite forces back from territory which the Russians had formerly held. Reinforcements, however, enable the Russians to again attack and they may turn the tide.

In the west it is reported that the German attacks against the British and French lines have failed and the Allies maintain gains of the past few weeks. The Germans have been busy in the submarine warfare and it is reported that two British torpedo boats and several fishing vessels have been sunk. The situation is somewhat brighter than it has been. It is expected that the Germans will soon be forced to withdraw troops to meet the Italian campaign and that this will be the signal for Russian successes.

INGRATITUDE

The firm of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., is busily engaged in the manufacture of shell parts and, it is reported, may soon have to work night and day to fill the orders placed with them by the Borden Government.

All the male members of the McAvity family, of adult age, have been more or less closely identified with the Liberal party, and, on some of the numerous occasions when the Telegraph and Times supported that party, one of the members of that family was one of the chief owners of those newspapers. The Telegraph or Times will hardly deny that Mr. George McAvity is one of the owners of those newspapers today, and that he is one of the members of the firm which is filling a war contract for a Conservative Government.

Presumably that contract is highly profitable, and part of the profits will probably go to the gentleman who owns an interest in the Telegraph and Times. Yet the editor of the Times assails the Government on the ground that war contracts were improperly awarded. It is a poor dog that bites the hand which feeds it.

German "Hymn of Lusitania" Gives Warning.

By Edith Wharton.
Paris, June 7.—(Translated from the German).
The swift sea sucks her death shriek under
As the great ship reels and leaps asunder;
Crammed taffrail high with her murderous freight,
Like a straw on the tide she whirls to her fate,
A warship she, though she lacked its coat,
And fatal for lives as none afloat.

A warship, and one of the foe's best workers,
Not penned with her rustling harbor shirkers.
Now the Flanders guns lack their daily bread,
And shipper and buyer are sick with dread;
For, neutral as Uncle Sam may be,
Your surest neutral's the deep, green sea.

Just one ship sunk with lives and shell,
And thousands of German gray coats—well!
And for each of her gray coats German hate
Would have sunk ten ships with all their freight.

Yea, ten such ships are a paltry fine
For one good life in our fighting line.
Let England ponder the crimson text—
"Torpedo, strike! And hurrah for the next!"

CONGRATULATES THE GOVERNMENT

The office of the Board of Trade has received a letter from the Quebec Board of Trade giving details of an interview with Sir Robert Borden, Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, and the Postmaster General respecting terminal facilities of the Transcontinental Railway in Quebec, a fixed rate of ten cents per bushel on wheat for export from Winnipeg to Quebec and proportional rates from Winnipeg to St. John and Halifax.

In reference to the lower provinces, the memorial says: "In order to carry this traffic with economy and in sufficient volume to justify the heavy costs of this road it is necessary that ample steamship docks and elevator storage should be provided at its summer and winter ocean terminals.

"We congratulate the government upon the terminal works now being carried on at Halifax, where six piers and a maritime station are under construction at a cost, it is stated, of $12,000,000, with a capacity, we understand, to berth thirty steamers; and also upon works of similar capacity and cost, now in progress at St. John, N. B. These works, if combined with sufficient elevator storage, should suffice to handle the winter traffic of this railway.

"But so far as Quebec is concerned, we are sorry to say that no adequate preparations seem to be in progress for handling the freight traffic of this railway at its summer terminus, where for seven months of the year, its volume should be as great as that of Halifax and St. John combined.

"We ask for piers and basins in preference to a straight dock wall, because we believe that, as in New York, Montreal, Halifax and St. John, they will be found preferable. In Montreal, the change from straight wall to piers reduced the cost of handling goods from forty cents to twenty-one cents per ton.

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS DRAMA AT OPERA HOUSE MAKES FIRST NIGHT HIT

"The Lost House" and Other Features Combine Strong Programme for This Week.

Richard Harding Davis as a writer of stirring, red-blooded fiction stands in the front rank of American authors as a war correspondent he has made an enviable record; now, in his latest venture, that of an author and producer of moving picture dramas, he has shown talent of a high order. His latest play for the film stage, "The Lost House," was presented at the Opera House last night and created something of a sensation, as it is a little out of the ordinary. There is enough sensation and excitement in it for a dozen dramas, and it closes with a realistic fire scene and a thrilling rescue from the burning building that is so near the real thing it makes one's hair raise. The story is in 4 parts. There were other pictures on the programme, a good Keystone comedy and a western thriller in 2 parts, but "The Lost House" was the big attraction and the good sized audience found it all it was announced. Moving pictures at the Opera House are something new, but if the future programmes are to be made up of features as good as "The Lost House" there is no question but what the policy will be successful. The same programme will be given for the balance of the week.

CHANGE REGARDING SPECIFICATIONS IN MAKING OF SHELLS

Owing to shortage of Zinc War Office permits use of mild steel, nicked, instead of brass.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., June 10.—The situation regarding the supply of zinc has been so serious that the British War Office has made a change in the specifications for the manufacture of shells.

Zinc is used in the manufacture of brass and brass is used in the manufacture of the sockets of shells. Many shells are required and much zinc is therefore necessary for their manufacture.

Huge orders for munitions of war have been placed in Canada by the Allies and three hundred Canadian factories are busy. It is everything in this war to get these munitions. Seized of this, some individuals or groups of individuals are believed to be hoarding the zinc.

CANADIAN FACTORIES SOON BE TURNING OUT THOUSAND SHELLS DAILY

An insight into splendid work being carried on under direction of the Shell Committee—Manufacturers organized and working together to speed up output of War Munitions for British Army—Means Million Dollars a week in wages to Canadian workmen.

Toronto, June 10.—At a luncheon given at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club today in connection with the annual meeting of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association the principal guest was Brigadier-General Alexander Bertram, formerly of Dundas but now of Ottawa, chairman of the Dominion Shell Committee. By special request General Bertram spoke on the work of the important organization over which he presides.

General Bertram said:—Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen, it is with pleasure that I respond to the kind invitation of my friends of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to tell them something of the development of certain Canadian industries during the past few months. Little did I conceive, and I am sure neither did you, whether you held your last meeting that twelve months later I should appear before you as chairman of a committee appointed by the government to superintend the manufacture of munitions of war. Everything at that time looked peaceable. The war clouds had not gathered; indeed, did not even appear to be gathering. Today, however, Canada as part of the British Empire, is engaged in the greatest war that the world has ever known. It is not the lot of every man to be able to go to the front. The man who stays at home, provided he bends his energies in the right direction, can render equally as effective service in the cause of right and justice, as represented by the allies in this war, as the man behind the guns or the one who are actually serving in the trenches. This remark applies equally to the employer and the employee.

In this connection I may make a brief citation from a recent statement by a man who stands high in the councils of the Empire, a man whose name is revered by every patriotic Briton, I mean Lord Kitchener. Only the other day the Secretary of War, from his office at Whitehall, sent out this statement to the people of the United Kingdom:

"I have said that I would let the country know when more men were wanted for the war. The time has come, and I now call for 300,000 recruits to form new armies. "Those who are engaged on the production of war material of any kind should not leave their work. It is to men who are not performing this duty that I appeal."

My chief object in addressing you today in my capacity as chairman of the Shell Committee, is to let the people of Canada know what the Dominion is doing in the manufacture of munitions of war. It is surprising what little knowledge men have of our work; men of ordinary intelligence who, through the public press, should certainly be cognizant of the situation as it exists today in this country. For instance, I read in an Ottawa newspaper last week a long editorial written by a gentleman in his office which is situated within two blocks of the headquarters of the Shell Committee, telling the government what should be done to organize the manufacturers of Canada. Although we have been at work for several months, and so far have produced and shipped 650,000 shells, evidently it has not dawned upon this gentleman that the government, as well as the manufacturers of the Dominion, were alive to the necessities of the situation and were doing their respective parts loyally and enthusiastically.

Tribute to Major-General Hughes. I am not here as an apologist for Major-General Hughes. He needs no apologist. To the Minister of Militia and Defence, I had the honor to be named chairman of this committee. I accepted the office, because I felt it to be my duty. I had the additional satisfaction of knowing that there were associated with me enthusiastic colleagues who would do their utmost to make the undertaking a success. In this I have not been disappointed. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid work of my associates.

Col. Lafferty undertook the technical instruction of the manufacturers, while Col. Harston was allotted the equally important duty of superintending the examination and inspection. Before the end of the month we were fortunate to secure the services of Mr. David Carnegie of London, England, an ordnance adviser. You may realize how fortunate we were in this respect when I tell you that Mr. Carnegie, who is one of the recognized authorities on steel and munitions of war, was for many years in charge of the shell factory at Watlington Arsenal. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society, Edinburgh, and an active member of the most important engineering institutions in the Motherland. Col. Carnegie took up his duties immediately and since September last has been on the work day and night.

Following Made in Canada Principle. General Hughes was careful to impress upon the committee that to the utmost possible limit the component parts of the shells should be "Made in Canada." This principle we have constantly kept in mind, and I am satisfied that when the war is over, and these establishments cease manufacturing munitions certain industries will have been created in the Dominion

Had Heart Trouble FOR YEARS.
Weighted 87 Lbs. Now Weighs 138 Lbs.

Miss Beatrice Lougheed, Staples, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I had heart trouble for quite a few years. I desired for it, and although my bill amounted to $400, and still no cure. One day when very sick I was lying on a couch close to where some slimmers were hanging. I took one down, and was reading about what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured, and thought I would try them. I got six boxes to start with; have only taken three boxes and I never felt so well in my life as I do now. I only weighed 87 pounds when I started to take them, and now I weigh 138 pounds. I hope all poor sufferers will be benefited by them as I have been."

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will strengthen it and build up a strong healthy system. Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NEW MILITARY BIPLANE WHICH HAD SUCCESSFUL TRIALS

THE MAYO MILITARY BIPLANE. Here is shown the new Mayo military tractor biplane, designed by Clarence W. Yount, which officers of the various European armies watching the progress of aeroplane construction in America have had an opportunity to see in action at preliminary trials at New Haven, Conn., and Hempstead, L. I. Much of the success of the biplane is due to the good working of the 80-horse power Gyro, the American air cooled rotary engine that drives it. The tractor is designed to carry pilot, passenger, five hours' fuel and oil and eighty pounds of wireless apparatus, besides the usual instruments. Sheffield Scientific School, at Yale, tested all the materials used in the construction.

Why should not the work of smelting and refining our native copper ores be done in Canada? You will be pleased to learn that as a direct outcome of the work of the Shell Committee this will be made possible. Our experience in nine months has demonstrated the fact that the development of this industry in the Dominion, while it would undoubtedly benefit every manufacturer who uses copper, is above all things a military necessity. Canada will not have to remain long under the reproach of having to import its refined copper, and I can assure you of this, that within three or four months, we expect to be making in this country, from the native product, the copper bands required in the production of shells.

At the outset our work was largely of a formative character. We wanted Canadian steel for Canadian shells. Heretofore none such had been forthcoming. Col. Cantley was entrusted with this work and the country is under deep obligation to him for having rapidly installed and equipped a plant for producing the first steel made in Canada for shell manufacture. It was agreed to supply free of charge to those manufacturers who would undertake the work of finishing and assembling the complete shells, all the component parts entering into the construction of the shell. In this way many of the smaller manufacturers were relieved of the financial burden of carrying a heavy stock of the raw materials, and which very largely contributed to the success of this huge undertaking. It was further decided to eliminate unhealthy competition by paying uniform prices for the same article. An inspection company was chosen to deal with all shell components, thus relieving the assembling manufacturers of the responsibility of inspection, while at the same time satisfying the Shell Committee beyond question that the component parts of shells were correct in every particular before the finished article passed into the hands of the Government inspector.

Starting with the first order for 300,000 shrapnel we have since placed orders aggregating 9,000,000 shells, consisting of 15 and 18-pound shrapnel; 18-pound, 4.5 and 60-pound high explosive shells. In addition we have placed orders for 100,000 cartridge cases, 5,000,000 fuses, 2,000,000 primers, and 1,900,000 friction tubes.

An Army of Inspectors. Before awarding a contract careful investigation is made as to the ability of the firm to carry out the particular work assigned to it. If there is any doubt as to the plant being unsuitable a competent inspector is sent to report upon the state of the factory. You will quite understand that in order to safeguard the interests of the country the committee had to stipulate that contracts placed would be subject to cancellation. Each manufacturer adjusts his own machinery to the particular work assigned to him, and is furnished with a set of inspection gauges as a guide in making the manufacturing gauges required. The preparation of the drawings for the various parts, and the preparation of gauges and their distribution and use involved considerable labor, but we got it done and done well. To give you an idea of a certain feature of our work I may mention that the inspection of the various component parts, including the analyses of material, and physical tests call for the employment of over 300 inspectors, besides several chief inspectors. Most of the inspectors are experienced machinists and tool-makers. The final inspection of the finished shell is carried out by nearly 300 examiners and district inspectors under the direction of Col. Harston. Such an army of inspectors emphasizes the care which is being taken to produce satisfactory results, and which have been highly commented upon by the officials of the War Office. Upon Col. Harston also devolves the actual proof tests, these being carried out at a certain place, the average number of shells fired daily being 300. As soon as the shells have passed examination, and have been packed ready for shipment, the manufacturer receives his cheque.

Giving Work to Between 60,000 and 70,000 Men. In no one single establishment in Canada except the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec, is the complete shell made. One hundred and thirty firms from Halifax to Vancouver are engaged in the work of machining and assembling. Others are occupied in the manufacture of blanks, bullets, discs, cartridge cases, buckshot, primers, tubes, tin cups for shrapnel, grub screws, sockets and plugs, steel base plates and boxes. From an enumeration of these various articles it will be observed how extensive the several operations are. At the present time no less than 247 factories are engaged in this work in 75 cities and towns in the Dominion. In Montreal alone 35 factories are employed. Toronto has 28, Hamilton 17, and so on throughout the Dominion from coast to coast. Practically every province of Canada is participating in this enterprise. The manufacture of shells in this country is giving employment to between 60,000 and 70,000 artisans, while the total weekly wage bill easily amounts to $1,000,000. From these figures you will see what the shell-making industry means to the workmen as well as to the manufacturers of the Dominion. The changes which were necessary in the equipment of the various factories by adding new machinery, or the readjustment of existing plants were made by the manufacturers themselves and at their own expense. These changes gave employment to many other factories which were not directly engaged in making ammunition. In the course of a very short time now we shall be producing from between 40,000 and 50,000 shells per day. For the contracts already placed it may interest you to know that 170,000 tons of steel, about 30,000 tons of lead, and several thousand tons of other materials are required.

In referring to the various industries covered by the sphere of operations of the shell committee I cannot but make allusion to the investigations conducted at the instance of the Minister of Militia in connection with the supply of propellants and high explosives. In addition to the manufacture of several thousand tons of cordite and powder in connection with the present contract through his instrumentality an important new industry has been initiated in the Dominion, viz., the utilization of the by-products from the coke ovens of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company at Sydney, N. S., for the manufacture of the high explosive, trinitro-toluene. The revenue alone from the contract placed with this company will be nearly $5,000,000. I mention this so as to give the gentlemen present an idea of what has been accomplished in one direction only, but I think you will agree with me that the value of having such an industry in Canada far outweighs any monetary consideration which may be named.

We have endeavored to discover the ability of the various manufacturers to undertake the work, and it has been most gratifying to find not only a readiness to produce ammunition but an eager desire amongst all to assist the committee in carrying out its duties. The cordial co-operation of both employer and employee has been one of the finest features throughout the strenuous times in which we are now involved. I wish to emphasize here in particular that the backbone of the whole situation is the mechanical ability of our workmen who have done wonders in developing methods of manufacture which have hastened the production of the finished material. I could speak upon this subject for a much longer period, but I do not wish to weary you. I am sure you will give the shell committee credit for having done its best in this national crisis. I will say this, and I am sure every one of my colleagues of the committee will concur, that in our work politics have had no place, and we have been given an absolutely free hand. This is a time of national emergency in which every true Briton must do his part according to the ability with which he had been endowed. In the patriotic work in which we are engaged I am sure that all those associated with us, the manufacturers as well as the workmen of Canada, will do their part loyally and enthusiastically until victory has been achieved. I close, as I began, with Lord Kitchener's words:

"Those who are engaged on the production of war material of any kind should not leave their work. It is to men who are not performing their duty that I appeal!"

WHO IS DR. JACKSON? For years he was instructor in Food Chemistry, Dietetics and diseases of the digestive organs in the largest medical institution in this continent. His experience has been drawn from the treatment of thousands of Free Clinic patients, and his "Roman Meal" is the outgrowth of this experience and scientific knowledge. Dr. Jackson's Roman Meal is in line with Nature's demands and will positively aid digestion and prevent constipation, or "money back."

Because "Roman Meal" is a natural food, aiding digestion and preventing constipation, it will also relieve the conditions caused by these troubles, such as cloudy, pimply skin, headaches, foul breath, and general sluggishness due to an overworked "torpid liver." A FOOD THAT PREVENTS INDIGESTION RELIEVES CONSTIPATION

Thin People Can Increase Weight Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with ten or fifteen pounds of healthy "easy there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop poumas and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive.

Druggists sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Doctor Said Sciatica-- Rheumatism--Lumbago
But He Could Not Help Me, and Endorsed the Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Wm. Parker, 105 Cayuga street, Bramford, Ont., tells in the following letter of his remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills: "My doctor treated me for some time for Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, but to no purpose, for I had to lay off work. The visiting officer of Sick Benefit called to see me and advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, stating that he had been cured of the same trouble by their use. I recommended them highly. Not being satisfied with this, I went back to my doctor, and when he said they were good I began their use. The promptness with which they relieved the action of the kidneys and bowels was wonderful, and it was not long before I was rid of all my trouble.

"It was so bad that I could only walk by hanging on to a chair or the wall. My wife had to lace my shoes. Only Dr. Chase had had this ailment can realize the way I suffered. I am writing this letter to let people who have my trouble know of these pills. You are at liberty to use this letter, and if anyone interested will call or write to me I will give every detail."

Write to Mr. Parker, enclosing stamp for reply, and he will verify this statement. He will do this out of the gratitude he feels for his cure and because he realizes how difficult it is to obtain the cure of these dreadfully painful ailments.

There are so many treatments recommended for rheumatism that you naturally doubt them all. Here is an opportunity for you to verify the cure and put this green medicine to the test. It will only cost you a quarter to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They get at the very foundation of rheumatism and by removing the poisons from the system take away the cause of pains and aches.

QUALITY—First, Last and Always.

CHARLES B. RAND
The Famous Boston Optical Expert
will open a permanent branch office in the Robinson Building, Market Square, Room 20, St. John, where he will examine all eyes by the RAND SPECIAL SYSTEM of fitting glasses.

THE RAND SYSTEM OF FITTING GLASSES is a new principle that I have discovered and perfected by which, through looking into the eyes and taking the exact measure of the eyes all errors of refraction are corrected without the use of letters and lines hung on the wall and without asking you, "Can you see with this lens, or can you see better with that lens?" until finally your eyes get so confused that you cannot tell which lens you can see out of.

Think this over and you will no doubt see why you have not been fitted with correct glasses.

I have thousands of satisfied customers whom I have fitted and helped and many of them had absolutely failed to receive correct glasses before. They are now wearing my glasses and have sent me many customers who have also received great benefit.

For TEN DAYS to introduce the RAND SYSTEM, I shall examine all eyes free of charge. This examination is worth $5.00 of anyone's money. I shall also fit all glasses at greatly reduced rates for this limited time.

I am fitting a beautiful pair of glasses as low as $3.00 and also fitting the most complicated lenses to fit the most difficult cases at about one half my regular price. I am also giving away free with every lady's eye glasses a nice hair pin chain. Read the following testimonial:

Mr. Charles B. Rand, Boston, Mass.
Dear Sir: The glasses received from you are perfect—the best I have ever had. I had many pairs fitted by the old method but never had any satisfaction until you fitted me by your special system. I recommend you to all. Respectfully yours,
A. R. C. CLARK, 51 Water street, St. John.

Opening Day, Saturday, June 12th
Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Daily
Friday Evenings Until 8.30

To everyone that has been unable to receive correct glasses, be sure and take advantage of this offer, and have your eyesight examined by an expert who can tell at a glance just what can be done for you. If glasses are not needed you will be candidly told so, and no one is under any obligation whatsoever.

Glasses made with the very latest styles and adjustments. Every frame and mounting measured directly from your face and made to fit each individual case.

MARKET OPENED WITH FIRM UNDERTONE; GAINS RECORDED ALL THROUGH LIST

Copper at 20 1/4, best price in eight years—Another shipment of Gold received from Canada—Bank of England increases Gold holding.

New York, June 10.—Such misgivings as Wall street conjured up yesterday in connection with the retirement of Mr. Bryan were largely dispelled today. The stock market opened today with a firm undertone, the movement soon rising to one of all around strength. Trading proceeded at a leisurely pace in the early session, later becoming more active. There was a feeling that the Washington note to Berlin would go far towards clearing the political atmosphere. Gains embraced all parts of the list, but coppers and affiliated shares were the chief features, a logical result of the remarkable trade conditions. Copper sold as high as 20 1/4 today, its best price in eight years, and lead, which also entered extensively into the manufacturing of war munitions, was quoted at six and a half to seven cents, the high water mark for this product in about thirty years. Incidentally one of the large copper producing companies today declared an "extra" dividend of three per cent. against the previous similar disbursement of one per cent. War specialties again occupied a position of prominence, with gains of two to six points. General Electric scoring the maximum rise. Bethlehem Steel failed to make a new high record, but the preferred stock sold at 118, the highest quotation in its history. United States Steel was the most active stock and in fair demand at steady advances. The corporation's May statement, showing an increase of over 100,000 tons, against a decrease of almost as much in the preceding month, confirmed recent reports of trade betterment. Motor stocks gained two to four points and Pacific Mail's rise of 3-5 was associated with the reported early severance of the company's relations with Southern Pacific and the advanced sale of its property. The market closed at or near best prices of the day. Total sales amounted to 492,000 shares. Another large installment of gold was received from Canada, making a total of $25,000,000 received from that source on the current movement. The Bank of England increased its gold holdings by about $3,000,000 during the week and strengthened its reserve liabilities by a small margin. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,992,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

New York, June 10.—The market was strong all through the session though at times it was far from active. The ability of stocks to hold their gains in the periods of light trading indicated a condition of underlying strength and the probability is that the amount of the short interest created in the past week is much heavier than has heretofore been supposed. The street takes an optimistic view of the German situation without having anything definite to base it upon and sentiment in regard to the matter might change suddenly as it did on at least one occasion in the past few weeks. It is said that the President's note leaves a loophole through which Germany could get away from its present attitude without sacrifice of principle, but there is no reason to believe that Germany is ready to adopt a policy of this kind. The German government has made no secret of its belief that its present method of conducting submarine warfare is essential to a continuance of the conflict, and believing that way, the military party are not likely to make a change for the sake of maintaining friendly relations with the United States. There has been a sharp advance in Amn Can said to be due to war orders obtained by the company and V. C. has been active on the prospect that the company which since last fall has been paying its preferred dividends in scrip, is about to resume cash distributions on the preferred stock. Sales, 479,000 Bonds, $2,000,000.

UPWARD SWING IN WHEAT PRICES

Chicago, June 10.—Wheat prices took an upward swing today, influenced somewhat by word of an improvement in demand at Liverpool. Unseasonable weather both northwest and southwest counted also against the bears. Predictions, too, were current that after the recent big shrinkage in prices a renewal of liberal cash buying would help to rally the market. After opening 7-8 c. off to 5-8 up. MAY SPREAD BASEBALL FEVER IN OLD EUROPE

One beneficial result of the war in Europe may be the introduction of baseball as a popular sport in France and Great Britain. While they were in camp in England the Canadian soldiers spent their spare time in playing America's international game—it is no longer correct to speak of the diamond pastime as a "national game"—and now the gallant fighting men from the Dominion find relief from the terrors of war by whiling away the intermissions between battles on the diamond. Many of the English Tommies and French soldiers have become keenly interested in the game, and before long the crack of the bat and the raucous cry of "kill the umpire!" may be heard all along the allied front. Ben Johnson's gift of baseball paraphernalia, liberal as it is, is likely to be entirely insufficient to meet the demand.

The Canadian soldiers make good baseball missionaries, as the game has flourished in the Dominion almost as long as in the United States. The French-Canadians were somewhat slower in taking up the game than their neighbors of English, Scotch and Irish descent. It will be just a quarter of a century next Wednesday since the first professional baseball game was played in Montreal. On that date, June 9, 1890, Montreal made its home premiere in the International league by defeating Toronto by a score of 11 to 10. During the twenty-five years which have elapsed since then the French-Canadians of the Dominion metropolis have become enthusiastic fans, and even the war has not diminished their ardor. The enthusiasm has been maintained to in spite of the fact that in the last fifteen years Montreal has been represented by a second division club, which in all that time has never finished better than fifth. Not since 1898 has Montreal boasted of a pennant. The appeal of baseball to the French-Canadians may be taken as an indication that the game will become popular in France. The Canadian soldiers by their gallantry, have become popular heroes in the great European republic, and this is likely to add to the general interest which the French people will take in their favorite pastime. Boxing is a comparatively recent innovation in France but the people have gone wild over it, and baseball should make an equally strong appeal. It is a fast, speedy, scientific game, and as such calculated to please the French temperament.

Although Montreal's history in professional baseball covers only a quarter of a century, the game has been popular in Ontario for twice that long. The diamond pastime was popularized in Canada almost as early as in the States. In 1865, just half a century ago, the first tournament for a world's baseball championship was staged in Detroit, and Canada was represented by amateur clubs from Montreal, Quebec, Toronto and Hamilton. The Unknowns of the Ambitious City won the tournament and the first world's flag.

Professional baseball had its beginning in Canada in 1877, with the launching of the first International league. London and Guelph, Ontario were charter members of that circuit, and the Tecumsehs of London won the first pennant. The present International league is the third to bear that name. Since 1877 nearly every Canadian city of importance from Halifax to St. John to Vancouver and Victoria, has or has had a professional baseball club. On the whole the game has been as well supported as in the United States, and the Canadian clubs have turned out many players of major league rank.
