In spite of the difficulty of securing stock we have managed to get together a display that equals, if it does not surpass our best showing before the war.

Prices on everything are higher than ever but we cannot help it. We can only keep our selling prices low enough to let us out with a living profit, and guarantee you perfect satisfaction and complete service.

Prices have doubled on most lines of Dry Goods, Footwear, and all necessities, as well as on Potatoes, Oats, Butter, Eggs, Pork, etc.

CARVELL VINDICATES HIMSELF

Nasty Insinuation of an Enraged
Tory is Well Answered

On May 3, in the course of a debate on the high price of foodstuffs, Conservative member for East Simcoe, Ont., referred to F. B. Carvell as—

"an hon. gentleman who for years and years strutted around the country in all the feathers of an artillery major or something else, but who when the war broke out is found safely here and not at the front—the last gentleman who should speak on military affairs is the hon. member for Carleton. He is at home where he is safe, while the fighting members of his brigade are at the front."

In reply Mr. Carvell came back with the following:

Mr. Speaker, it was not my intention to take part in this debate to-day, and I should not have done so had it not been for the very unfair method followed by the hon. member for East Simcoe (Mr. W. H. Bennett) in his remarks concerning myself. There was a time when I should not have expected very much better than this from the member for East Simcoe, but I must say that during the last five or six years he has given considerable evidence of being a gentleman. I am surprised, therefore, at his conduct this afternoon.

It is a fact that I belonged to the Militia of Canada for a number of years down to about seven or eight years before war broke out in 1914. I belonged to the Field Artillery. The time came when I must either take command of my battery or retire, and as I was too busy to take command of the battery, I retired. The facts will be found in the Militia List, and there is no question as to them. At the time of the declaration of war I was 52 years of age, and I was too old to enlist as a private, so I went to the Minister of Militia and offered my services, if they were of any use to him, as an officer, and asked for the right to raise a battery of field artillery. This occurred during the month of August, 1914, about three weeks after the declaration of war. Nothing further came of the matter until the latter part of April, 1915, when the minister started a correspondence with me which was carried on for some time, all the documents except one being marked "confidential."

I got a little suspicious that I was not being treated by the minister as though he wanted my services, and therefore I wrote him on the 4th of September, 1915, a letter which is not marked "confidential," which must be in the public files of the Militia Department and which I propose now reading to the House, and when I have done so I have no further comment to make upon it. The remainder of the file is marked "confidential," it is in the hands of either the present Minister of Militia or the ex-Minister of Militia, and as they are both alive and on the earth, they can produce the remainder of the correspondence. I have here all the original letters received by me from the minister and copies of the letters written by me to him. This letter was written on the 4th day of September, 1915, being the day when the ex-Minister of Militia returned from his trip to England during that summer:

Woodstock, N. B.,
September 4, 1915.

Major-General Sir Sam Hughes,
Ottawa.

My dear Sir Sam:

I wrote you last re my request to be allowed to recruit a battery of Field Artillery on July 2, and on July 8 received an acknowledgment from Col. Winter, stating that "inquiries were being made regarding my appointment, and as soon as a reply was received, I would be communicated with." I have heard nothing from that date, and nearly two months have now gone by. If anything is to be done, there is no time to lose, especially as I would not want to raise a battery to remain in Canada during the coming winter. If you think well of my proposition, and as I read the times, the Empire needs all the help possible, I trust you will set the machinery in motion at once, and if nothing comes of it, then please let me know and I will know what to do.

Believe me, sincerely yours,
(Sgd) F. B. Carvell.

The reply to that, also marked "confidential," was received by me on the 10th day of November 1915, or two months and one week after my letter was written. While I cannot give the contents of the answer, it is needless to say it was not an acceptance of my proposition or I would not be here to-day, because, without costing any reflection upon any other member of this House, I may say that when I made a proposition to raise a battery of Field Artillery I intended to raise it not to leave it in England but to stay with it to the end, and that end probably meant forever so far as I was concerned. I have nothing more to say, but that I am rather sorry that my hon. friend from East Simcoe (Mr. W. H. Bennett), who has been in this House with me for many years, thought it was his business to refer to a personal matter of this kind; but as he has done so, I believe I am justified in giving this much information to the House.

W. H. BENNETT: Had the hon. gentleman kept his seat and not interfered with me I would have let him alone. He will never interfere without having me touch him up.

CARVELL: The law presumes that every man is a gentleman, and there is no presumption that I know of that justifies any man ceasing to be a gentleman, and no provocation ought to be sufficient to any man to make him cease to be a gentleman. All this correspondence is in the hands of my hon. friends opposite and they have the opportunity of giving it to the public at any time they so desire.

Robert H. L. Grant

A memorial service for the late Lance-Corp. Robert H. L. Grant, who was killed in action at Vimy Ridge, on April 10, was held in the Kilburn Baptist church on Sunday afternoon. One of the largest crowds ever seen in the community gathered to pay their tribute of respect to the memory of the lad who has made the supreme sacrifice for King and country. Rev. R. W. Demmings spoke in a very appropriate way, his text being Philippians 1:21 "For me to live in Christ, and to die is gain." Rev. C. Flemington was also present and took part in the service, speaking very comforting words to the bereaved ones, and making an earnest appeal for recruits to take the places of our boys who have fallen at the battle front. The following hymns were sweetly rendered, "Sometime We'll Understand," "Will the Circle be Unbroken," "Abide With Me." Rev. Mr. Flemington and Mrs. H. H. Morehouse gave a duet "Jesus Lover of My Soul," Mrs. Morehouse also rendered a beautiful solo "No Burdens Yonder."

The members of the Red Cross Society decorated the church in fitting way with flags, potted plants and cut flowers. At the close of the service the flowers were presented to the family. Lance-Corp. Grant whose 23rd birthday was on April 27, spent all his life in Kilburn until August 1915 when he went to the Canadian west, donning the khaki in Feb. 1916. He leaves his parents, two sisters and a large circle of other relatives and friends to mourn their loss. The following is a copy of a letter received last week by Mrs. J. W. Grant of Kilburn telling of her son's death.

Dear Mrs. Grant: Just a few lines to you as a special request from your son Bob. Before we went in the trenches this time we promised that if one of us was killed the other would let their mother know and I am very sorry to tell you that your son was killed two days ago. I am very sorry because we were great pals. He has had several narrow escapes lately and before he went into the trenches, he said he didn't think that he would come through this time. We lost several of the boys who enlisted with us from North Battleford, but for the fine work we have done our casualties were not very heavy. I guess you will see by the papers that we have taken Vimy Ridge. It was in taking that, Bob was killed. We were shelled very badly at times, three of the boys that were with him was killed also. The shell dropped between them.

Well, I think this is all I can tell you this time, as I feel his death very badly myself. I remain,

Yours truly,
Pte. E. A. Stonebridge,
B Co. 46th Batt., B. E. F.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and drug-gists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers. Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so softened that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Letters That Bore Sad Tidings

Following are letters received by Mrs. M. W. White bearing on the wounding and death of her brother, Pte. Herbert L. Bradley: France.

Dear Mrs. White: I am sure you must be very anxiously waiting for news of your brother Herbert who is with us here (No. 6 Casualty Clearing Station) and is, I am sorry to tell you, very seriously wounded.

I have just been sitting with him and he said he would like for me to write you a note and tell you not to be upset about him and to send his love. I know how terribly you feel this—so many homes are touched with sorrow and anxiety just now and some have almost more than they can bear. God alone can give the strength to bear it.

Your brother is so patient—I don't think he is suffering any pain now, and he doesn't murmur at all. Everything that could possibly be done has been done and he has been made as comfortable as possible.

He is in God's hands now; he must just leave it with Him, to whose gracious and ready help only we can turn amidst the changes and chances of this mortal life.

I shall try to see your brother again during the evening.

Yours sincerely,
F. JARVIS,
C. of E. Chap.

Later came the following:

Dear Friend: It is with deep regret and sympathy I send you the sad news of the death of your brother, Pte. H. L. Bradley, of the 25th Canadians. He died of wounds on the 13th at this hospital (No. 6 C. C. S.) and was buried on the 14th in a cemetery near.

If you will write to the Director of Graves, he will later give you particulars I cannot now communicate and will let you have on application a photograph of the grave as early as practicable.

The military authorities will forward you in due course any personal belongings of your brother.

May I say how much I sympathize with you in your great sorrow. May God comfort you.

J. A. TOWNSON.

Four Sons at the Front

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. George Hartt of Cliffordville, Victoria County, who have received official notice from Ottawa that their son, Private Owen Hartt, of the Mounted Rifles, has died of wounds at the Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington (Eng.) on May 6.

Hartt enlisted early in the war, and has been at the front for nearly two years. He was wounded some weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Hartt have shown their patriotism by giving four sons to the empire's cause. While this one has died of wounds, another son, Wallace, is in a hospital in England recovering from wounds, and two others, Darwin and Alexander, are in the trenches in France.

In their sorrow the parents have reason to be proud of their sons, and to the sacrifice they are making.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our gratitude to the many friends, who, by their words of sympathy and kindly thought, have helped to comfort us in our recent bereavement. We also wish to thank the members of the Red Cross society, and all others, who assisted in the Memorial service, and for the beautiful flowers given to us. We will never forget the kindness of our friends during these sad days. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant and family, Kilburn.

Mrs. Allen Cummings offers for sale her fine, large, new dwelling, thoroughly finished with modern equipments. This is a bargain.

It is probable that some of the work sessions of the investigation will be held in Fredericton.

Burton M. Hill of St. Stephen has been appointed engineer of the Railway and Highway Departments of the province. He will perform the work formerly done by Mr. D. F. Maxwell and John L. Feeney. The latter has been offered the position of sub-engineer in the Public Works Department. He is not yet decided whether or not he will accept.

Whooping Cough

Mr. Arthur Hainge, Ashton Farm, Perley, Sask., writes: "Two years ago whooping cough was very bad in this part of the country, our eight months old boy caught it and had a very severe attack. A neighbor advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Turpentine and we gave it and nothing else with splendid results. When the older brother took the whooping cough we used this medicine promptly and prevented serious trouble as the cough passed off in two or three days."

HOW TO TRIM A LAMP

Good oil can be made to burn badly and poor oil can be made to burn well. The following are some rules for getting good service out of the lamp.

The wick, to begin with, should hang straight down in the oil. The oil will pass more freely to the flame, and a better light will be obtained. The wick should be cut with as thin an edge as possible. If it has a broad burning surface at the top the flame will be yellow instead of white.

The chimney should be tight to the brass burner, so as not to let air in where air is not wanted. The holes at the bottom of the burner should be left open so as to let plenty of air in where air is wanted. The wick should not be turned so high that it will char or smoke. An old chimney lets a better light through than a new one, and a shallow bowl lamp is better for poor grades of oil than a deep bowl lamp.

TITLES FOR CANADIANS

Bestowal is Said to Endanger Growth of Imperialism

Under the caption "Not Statesman-like," the Ottawa Journal has the following to say on hereditary titles: There is a sharp contrast between London and Canadian press comment on the bestowal of hereditary titles upon men in this country. The enthusiasm of the London Times and Daily Mail finds a strange echo in Canada. The creation of Canadian peers means an important, possibly epoch-making change in the life of Canada. It implies a fundamental constitutional rearrangement. No one sincerely friendly to the Imperial system, properly worked out, can be expected to hail with enthusiasm a first step in the progress which is no enthusiasm in Canada. It is too good a brand of Imperial statesmanship which must offend the people of the Dominion at the very outset.

If we are going to start Imperial reconstruction on the assumption that the Canadian must be changed in a revolutionary way so as to accompany the new system, the people of Canada at least deserve an opportunity to express an opinion of the question before drastic action is taken. Imperial reconstruction, by that process can only succeed in spite of the method adopted, and the idea will inspire little enthusiasm in this country. True Imperialists in Canada would be unworthy of the great task before them if they did not raise their voices at this time in emphatic protest against a course of action which plays directly into the hands of every anti-Imperialist agitation, and every anti-British element in Canada.

FAMINE WARNS LEACOCK

World in Danger, But Canada Very Well Placed

Prof. Stephen Leacock, of McGill University, addressing the Montreal Housewives' League, at the Royal Victoria College, during the winter of 1917, said: "We are in sight of a terrible food famine, such as the world has never seen. We must take steps, besides if we wish to avoid national and world-wide disaster. We must at all costs increase our own food supply."

PROF. STEPHEN LEACOCK

"We in Canada are fortunately placed. We have boundless resources in land to draw upon. We must see that every available acre and every available day's labor is turned to use. It is gratifying to learn that our department of agriculture and our national service commission are wide awake to the situation. We must put behind them the force of public opinion and the efforts of individual citizens."

Nations Work Together

A treaty has been entered into between the United States and Great Britain to protect migratory birds in Canada and the United States. By three great highways the birds and the waterfowl pass back and forth between the two countries. One is along the Eastern Atlantic coast, another is by way of the land included in the Mississippi valley, the other is the Pacific slope west of the Rocky Mountains. There is also a northern or breeding zone, and a southern, or wintering zone. While in passage, and while in the north or in the south our migratory insectivorous birds will have the protection of both governments, the game birds also will be protected under laws and regulations agreed upon.

Spanish Jews Thrive

Salonica contains a large number of Spanish-speaking inhabitants, not very surprising, perhaps, in a mongrel city of the Near East, but explained by the fact that large numbers of Spanish Jews, exiled some centuries ago, took refuge there and carried their language. Another part of the world in which the Spanish Jew type is outstanding is the high plateau of Colombia. Its inhabitants are a vigorous people, noticeably of Semitic stamp, and successful commercially.

JUST LIKE A HOUSECLEANING

Every room needs an occasional "Cleaning up", no matter how carefully the regular sweeping and dusting is done. Especially is this true after any unusual event, a party, a wedding or a quilting bee.

So it is with your body. No matter how regular your habits or well cooked your food, there comes a time when you don't feel just right. You may recall an unusually hearty meal or two, irregular hours, or eating something that "didn't agree with you", or it may be just the "dust-gathering".

In any case a few doses of a really good cathartic is all you need to put you right. For this purpose nothing is quite so suitable as

Chamberlain's Tablets

Two or three after supper the first night, and one each night for two or three days, and your digestive apparatus is just like the well-cleaned room. Every part of your body is more vigorous, you go about your work with a new feeling and begin again to enjoy life. Are these benefits not worth getting? You know they are.

And you need have no hesitation about beginning them for fear you must "keep it up". The effect is just the opposite.

The Testing Time!

WHEN the test of the world-conflagration called for every ounce of strength in every available man to stem the tide of destruction, one of John Barleycorn's greatest friends, Russia, was the first to abolish the Traffic because it could not meet the test. In good time, when her hour of test arrived, New Brunswick banished the great Drink curse let us hope forever!

After the war, in his turn, John Barleycorn is going to put New Brunswick to the test. Prohibition may again be voted upon after the war.

Every bit of lax enforcement and indifference is just so much ammunition for him to use against us. How does Prohibition meet the test?

Russia—

Some idea of the enormous effect of Prohibition is afforded by the wonderful example of Russia. In spite of the fact that millions of producers are in the army the savings of the people enormously increased. In 1912 and 1913 they were saving, per year, about $20,000,000. In the first five months under Prohibition they saved $60,000,000. In 1915 the banks took in $265,000,000. For the first half of 1916, the Russian people saved $300,000,000!

The Dakotas—

Town and city population in South Dakota under License increased 168 per cent. in 20 years. In the Prohibition state of North Dakota it increased 494 per cent.!

In "dry" North Dakota, for the year 1909, 2,789 men produced $19,137,000 worth of manufactured goods. In the "wet" Dakota it required no less than 3,602—813 more men—to produce only $17,870,000 worth of manufactured goods, or $1,267,000 less!

In 1890 commitments to Insane Asylums in "dry" North Dakota were 40 persons per 100,000 more than South Dakota. After twenty years of Prohibition they were forty less! And the Prohibition State began the period with only about half the population of its neighbor!

South Dakota has since adopted Prohibition.

Russia Prospers

During the first eight months of Prohibition in Russia the Savings Banks reports show savings increased 5,000 per cent. (net).

Help to Enforce Prohibition

Permanent Prohibition in New Brunswick demands strict enforcement between now and the day when Prohibition may again be voted upon after the war. The whole task of enforcement must not be left to the officers of the law alone. Everyone should help. Eternal vigilance is the watchword.
