MURDER NEAR TORONTO. Toronto, Aug. 11.-What is evidently a murder was made known today through the finding of the body of William Jones, about 65 years of age, employed as a porter at the Ocean House, lying on a bank, 30 rods south of the Kingston road, and just outside of the city limits. Jones left the hotel at 6 o'clock on Saturday morning. The body was lying on its back, with the head resting on a bank. On turning the body over, a bullet wound was discovered, and it was thought that he had been shot directly from behind, the bullet coming out near the left tem-The hair was all matted with and the grass around was undisturbed. It is surmised that whoever shot Jones, carried the body to the place, where it was discovered.

and Boer refugees are now arriving at Brandfort. They were swept up by the British columns that have been in THE KING operation in the northern part of the Orange River Colony. Food, blankets and doctors are being sent from here for the refugees. Immense quantities of cattle passed Viljoen's Drift yesterday. A number of natives followed the trek and killed any cattle left behind from exhaustion. This meat they killed and divided on the veldt and carried to their kraals. Many native families obtain food in this manner.
The proclamation of Lord Kitchener in reference to the banishment from South Africa of those commandants, field cornets and leaders of armed bands who do not surrender by Sept. 15 is highly applauded by the loyalists of the Blomfontein district. CONDEMNED IN GERMANY. Cologne, Aug. 10 .- Lord Kitchener's proclamation in regard to the banish-ment of all Boers who fail to surrender by Sept. 15 is condemned by the entire German press. Even the Co-logne Gazette says that England is overstepping the limits of civilized warfare. It adds: "This is the utmost Great Britain can do, and that country is under a moral obligation to feed the Boer families that have been driven from their homesteads. This measure will not have the desired effect. It will only go to increase the number of paper decrees issued by the Brit-The Paris Temps ridicules Lord Kitchener's proclamation, pointing out that it is first necessary to catch the Boer chiefs before banishing them. It says Kitchener is working within a vicious circle. The Temps also recalls the recipe given to children for catching birds by putting salt on their tails.

Cape Town, Aug. 10—The Cape Times says today that Lord Kitchener's proclamation will be justified throughout the British Empire and the civilized nations of the world. It goes on to say that the Boer leaders by prolonging their resistance by one day add wantonly to the sufferings of their fellow-creatures. The Times says it cannot believe that the Boers will be so mad as to turn a deaf ear to the proclamation.

WORSE OFF THAN THE BOERS. Cape Town, Aug. 12.-The Cape Times discusses the question of the treatment of the British refugees here as contrasted with that of the Boers in the concentration camps. The Times calls attention to the sufferings of the British refugees, which, it says, in the present case are quite as painful, if not more so, than those of the inmates of the concentration camps. The paper says the sufferings of the British refugees are less conspicuous than those of the Boers in the camps, because they are not made the subject of definite reports and sensational adver-

London, Aug. 12.-Mail dispatches from Lord Kitchener, issued in a parliamentary paper, say his constant endeavor has been to improve the fortification along the lines of communication, thus releasing men from active service. The garrisons off the railways have been merely withdrawn. A spirited narrative of the ejectment of General Dewet from Cape Colony concludes with the statement that the raiders undoubtedly received a number of recruits from the colonial Dutch, an ample supply of food and timely information. Lord Kitchener received information that Dewet in-tended to attack Cape Town, while Gen. Botha, as soon as he heard that the concentration in Cape Colony was effected, was to enter Natal with 5,000 picked horsemen and make for Durban.

A BOER PLOT. New Orleans, La., Aug. 10.—What is regarded as an attempt of a Eoer sympathizer to blow up a British transport occurred shortly after midnight, when there was a terrific explosion at the stock landing, where the steamship Mechanician is moored. The Mechanician is to carry water.

London, Aug. 12.—Lord Kitchener has cabled a confirmation of the report of the release of the peace envoy Andries Wessels, who was said to have been shot. Wessels was a prisoner in General Cellier's laager, near Kaalfontein, which the British recently surprised and captured.

The figures for July show a slight decrease in revenue and an increase in expenditure. WELSHMEN FOR CANADA. W. L. Griffith, the Canadian immigration agent in Wales, leaves Liverpool by the steamship Liguria on Aug. 22 en route for the Welsh colony in Patagonia, South America, for purpose of inducing the emigration of Welshmen to Canada. W. J. Rees, one of the three Welsh delegates who visited Canada in 1899, will accompany Mr. Griffith. There are about 4,000 Welshmen in the colony they intend visiting, and it is reported they are very much dissatisfied with the treatment accorded them by the Argentine Government, and desire to locate somewhere under the British flag. No better settlers could be secured, and the immigration department hopes to be able to induce a good portion of them to come to this country. HON. DAVID MILLS. Hon. David Mills was detained here at the last moment and will not leave for London until today.

HAIL, HAIL. THE GANG'S ALL HERE!"

Is the Slogan of Canadians in S. A. Constabulary.

How the Boys Resented an Insult-The Major Tickled and Calls Them Best Troop in His Command.

A member of the South African Constabulary, writing to his father, says: ' "The English chaps can't make our boys out at all. Every time our boys get the order to march they step off singing, 'Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here,' or 'Finigan's Band.' Officers and all of the Tommy outfits stand with their mouths wide open and wonder how in blazes our lads have the heart to be so gay. Some time ago a man came into our camp to time ago a man came into our camp to sell some tobacco and stuff. He had a regular canteen wagon. As soon as he heard he was in the Canadian camp he refused to sell anything to the Canadians. Ten minutes after you should have seen his wagon and supplies. The boys in my troop turned his outfit completely inside out, scattered his stuff all over the ground, and sneaked about f10 worth of cigarettes, pickles, canned fruit and meat, tins of butter, packages of Ousker oats tins of butter, packages of Quaker oats, pipes and a lot of other stuff. The fellow got well punched, and his nigger didn't turn up till next day. The major in tharge of our division told him it served his right, as he had no business to pass such a remark about the best troop he had under his command. The major and other officers were tickled to death as the other officers were tickled to death, as the fellow was more than putting on prices."

DISAPPEARANCE IS A MYSTERY.

Vincent Whipple Unheard Of Since End of London Camp.

Came Here With Oxford Rifles and Dropped Out of Sight Next Day-Was Well Connected.

Vincent Whipple came to London from Woodstock to camp with the Oxford Rifles and disappeared the day after his return. He was living at the time on the Jefferson farm, about 15 miles from Woodstock, and left there after changing his uniform, saying he might go to Woodstock to see the city inauguration. He has not been seen or heard of since. All his clothes and belongings were found in his room at

Whipple is a son of Col. Whipple, late of the Coldstream Guards. He was sent out to Canada three years ago as one of Reginald Gray's farm pupils, because he had lost an eye in an accident, and could not enter the British army. Whipple studied farming with farmers in Burford and South Dumfries, and has for the last year been on the farm of Mr. Jefferson. Shortly after Whipple left the Jefferson's, a letter arrived there from his father, which presumably contained the young man's monthly allowance. The letter was never claimed. It has since been sent back to Col. Whipple in England, with news of his son's disappearance. There is apparently no reason why young Whipple should go away. His relations with the Jefferson family were of the most cordial nature, and he, as far as could be learned, was not in debt.

British Are Now Hoping to Avoid Trouble on Afghan Frontier.

Death of Ex-Premier Crispi—Effusive Reception of Waldersee in Homberg-The Kaiser Kissed Him.

Paris, Aug. 12 .- An attempt to experiment with the human species is attracting the attention of the curious. It takes the form of a giant competition at Rouen and already shows a startling number of abnormal statures France.

From the south there has arrived in Paris on his way to Rouen a young man, not yet 22 years old, who is 9 feet 2 inches tall and is still growing. He weighs 448 pounds and measures 98 inches around the chest. It has been arranged that he marry an English girl who is 8 feet 3 inches in height.

BETTER NEWS FROM INDIA. London, Aug. 12 .- More encouraging news has come from India during the week, and it is now hoped that violence on the Afghan frontier and elsewhere will be averted. The health of the Ameer, however, is now giving renewed cause for anxiety.

DEATH OF CRISPI.

Naples, Aug. 12.—Signor Crispi died at 7:45 o'clock last evening. He was surrounded by the members of his family and several intimate friends. news was immediately telegraphed to King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena.

Francesco Crispi had been long known as the "Bismarck of Italy," and with Gladstone and the "iron Chancellor," comprised the trio of Europe's "grand old men." His was a varied career. He was born in Ribera, Sicily, on Oct. 4, 1819, and admitted to the bar at Naples when a comparatively young man, later be-coming involved in a number of conspiracies hatched by the Italian patriots. He became an exile, and in the counsels of Mazzini and the successful struggle of Garibaldi to liberate his native island of Sicily and the south of Italy, played no little part. In fact, had it not been for the wise counsel of Crispi, Garibaldi would never have hazarded the undertaking. Crispi's life has been crowded with romances and scandals than would fill many books. In his time, besides having been Prime Minister of Italy, he has been accused of bigamy, has been indicted for alleged connection with the Bank of Naples scandals and has seen poverty as a lone journalist in the French capital, whither he fled after the defeat of the insurgents at Palermno in 1848, Paris, Aug. 12.—Almost the whole Parisian press, referring to the death of Signor Crispi, judge severely the political work and private life of the dead statesman. The Soliel, the Republique and the Figaro, recognize the fact that his gallophobism was a con-sequence of his ardent patriotism. The known shipbuilder, who is now in Matin calls him a political adventurer, and all the papers agree that an enemy of France has disappeared and that Crispi's death will not cause a single regret in France.

THE KAISER KISSED HIM. Homburg, Aug. 12.-Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee arrived here sat-urday. He was met at the railroad station by Emperor William, Crown Prince Frederick William, Prince Eitel Frederick and Count Von Buelow. His majesty's greeting of the field marshal and the officers accompanying him was most cordial. He kissed Von Waldersee on both cheeks. The emperor and the field marshal drove together to the castle amid the plaudits of the crowd. There the empress welcomed the field

While Count Von Waldersee's arrival in Germany was naturally over-shadowed by the sad event at Cron-berg, the whole tone of the press and the attitude of the crowds during Count Von Waldersee's trip from Hom-burg to Hanover indicates that Germany takes a much more sober view of Von Waldersee's mission now than was the case a year ago. The more influential newspapers review the field marshal's work appreciatively, but imply that everybody in Germany had formed exaggerated notions of the task before him.

MANY CHRISTIANS KILLED. St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—Dispatches received here from Seoul, the capital of Corea, announces that there have been renewed disturbances on the Island of Quelport, off the Corean coast, and that several Catholic missionaries have been killed.

Mail advices received at Washington show that about 300 persons were killed. mostly Christians. Minister Allen, United States representative at Corea, says: 'According to advices received at the department of state up to July 3, the revolt on the Island of Quelport, off the northern coast of Corea, has been suppressed by the Corean government, aided by two French gun-boats. About 300 persons were killed in the revolt, mostly Christians. It was ascertained that the revolt was caused by an attempt to collect in-creased taxes."

BARON VON KETTELER'S BURIAL Muenster, Westphalia, Aug. 10.-The remains of Baron Von Ketteler, who was murdered in Pekin at the out-break of the Chinese troubles, were buried here today after celebration of a requiem mass. The widow, mother and other relatives of the deceased were present. A guard of honor head-ed the procession. It was followed by the students' associations, bearing banners and the chapter of the cathedral. Behind the coffin came the family, the governor of the province, the general commanding the district the minister of foreign affairs, M. Richoff, the secretary of state and a deputation from the foreign office. While the coffin was being lowered into the grave a squad of soldiers fired three volleys over the grave. INVASION DEFEATED.

St. Thomas, Aug. 12.—Mason Pound, of Bayham, aged 14 years, was killed on Friday near the village of Richmond. The lad was taking grist to Knott's mill at Richmond, and when half way down the hill the bag of wheat upon which he was sitting rolled off the front of the wagon, taking him with it. This frightened the horses, and they ran away. The boy hung on pluckily to the tongue of the wagon until the horses had run down the hill and over the bride, where he was killed. The wheels of the heavily-laden wagon passed over his head. He was a son of Louis Pound, who is at present in Alabama, and grandson of the late William Pound.

people. Unless you come to terms we will whip you out of your boots. We know that we are able to beat the world in the manufacture of matches, and we intend to keep our advantage. How long do you think you can compete with us with machinery that America discarded sixteen years ago?" This is not "Yankee bragging." It gives the reason why Englishmen have been unable to compete successfully with Americans in making matches. It is the reason assigned often by English experts for the super!-

ority of the American manufacturer in certain industries. He has a scrap heap and throws his machines on it when better machines have been in-vented. The English manufacturer has no scrap heap. The Diamond Match Company people, having obtained control of an English plant, are "making a scrap pile of machines American factories discarded in 1885.' These machines cost originally $1,500,-

Mr. Barber says he heard murmurs of astonishment from Englishmen whom he told that his company had spent a million dollars on "mere ideas in machinery," and exclamations of horror when he said to them that its Liverpool manager got $10,000 a year. The American idea is to get the best machinery and the best men, no matter what the cost may be, because expenditures in these directions are pro-dtable. The English idea is to use machinery until it is worn out. The Englishman believes that the machinery which was good enough for his father is good enough for him. The American is ready to throw out the machines he bought a year before when something better is offered him. Conservatism is admirable in its country which shall make the most of the Land-Lubber. Some people, fearless because ignorant of dangers, will insist upon boat parties, and we have every summer a long list of unnecessary accidents on our rivers. Most of these might have been avoided by a little knowledge of what not to do in a boat.

To begin at the beginning, when taking your place do not step on the and solemn an event as the birth of a side of the boat, or the consequence will be that, unless you have a very experienced mariner as your com-panion, he will, through the sudden lurch of the boat, be pitched backward into the water. But place your foot on the seat, well in the middle of it; don't stand there hesitating, but give your weight on to that foot and promptly step with the other on to the floor of the boat.

Sit down at once, even if not in the particular spot you wish to occupy; the change can be made so much better after a minute or so, when you have quite made up your mind where you would best like to sit, and when the boat has recovered from the little wabbliness occasioned by your entry. Be sure not to stand up when anybody else is moving about the boat. More accidents have happened that way than any other.

Even if you should think that by so doing you might avert a catastrophe, renounce the idea-unless, of course, a very trustworthy guide should counsel the action. Above all things, remember that, when going through rapids, it is very essential to sit still.

Do not rock the boat to tease a companion; and, if frightened, sit still and do not grab at anyone.

Do not wear fine clothes, but dress neatly. Large hats, feathers and streaming ends are inappropriate and most uncomfortable on the river. A light woolen skirt, a cotton shirt with a jacket to match the skirt, and a plain straw hat are never amiss; but a more shady headgear may be donned with a simple summer dress for a smarter occasion.

It is impossible to leave the subject without a word of advice to a lazy man. Never allow a girl to scull you up-stream in a blazing sun while you loll back at ease. The girl may be a would-be athlete, protesting that she likes it, but all the same you must not permit her to so overtax her strength as to risk a sunstroke. There could use Catarrhozone. Windsor, Ont., Aug. 12-Windsor capitalists are excited over the discovery of soft coal about Walkerville. Experts of the Saginaw, Mich., Coal Mining Company have just completed an exploration of the land in the rear of Wolfe's reserve, and they say they found unmistakable traces of that fuel. The coal is said to be discernable on the surface, and is thought to extend many feet into the earth. The land until a few years ago was sub-merged by Lake St. Clair. Hundreds of acres are said to contain the coal. It is the intention of the Saginaw people to form a local company for the development of the fuel region capital for the scheme will likely plentiful in Windsor, for the wealthy men think that the Michigan explorers have made a discovery that is worthy of financial recognition.

FRATRICIDAL FIGHT

Son Attacked Mother and Brother Killed the Assailant.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 12.—Harry Abbott, aged 27, was shot and fatally wounded by his 19-year-old brother, Alfred, here Saturday night. Harry is reputed to be a bad character and has a reputation as a prize fighter. For some time he has had a quarrel with his mother, and Saturday night he came home intoxicated and renewed the quarrel. He knocked her down, and after kicking her threw her into the yard.

A daughter came to her mother's assistance, and he knocked her over a table.

At this juncture Alfred came home and Harry started for him. Alfred secured a revolver and during a scuffle with his brother, shot him four times. The mother has two ribs broken, and it is believed she will die.

Costly Fourth of July.

A western statistician figures up total of 1,838 casualties due to Fourth of July celebrations this year. The towards it are continually being made, each of them enabling the manufacturer who avails himself of them to reduce a little the cost of production reduce a little the cost of production for the doubtful enjoyment of a day's riot in gunpowder, but the figures given included but a small part of the actual included but a small part of the actual loss and suffering caused by the annual indulgence granted to the American small boy to make himself as much of a nuisance as possible.

If the terror and annoyance caused to the majority of people by the fear-ful racket of the day's observance, by the stench and shock of it, to say nothing of the injuries inflicted upon the weak and nervous-if all this could be expressed in figures the sum total would be truly staggering. And if to those statistics were added the amount of money actually wasted in this foolish, extravagant and barbarous display of noise, the wonder would grow as to why a civilized and enlightened people should bear this Fourth of July abomination any longer. A great many things that are silly and some that are bad are done in the name of patriotism, but we know of few that are sillier and none that is worse, in many ways, than the outrages committed every year upon a quiet and peaceable public under the guise of Independence Day commemoration. If the terrific outburst of mere noise could be regarded as a necessary evil in the way of an annual vent for superfluous animalism and savagery it might be borne with greater equanimity, but as a method of celebrating so important

ATARRHOZONE

The Only Treatment Recognized as Radical and Lasting Cure for Hay Fever, Hay Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh.

Certainly the remedy has yet to be produced that can equal Catarrhozone as a cure for these diseases. It gives relief immediately, and cures the most severe cases in three to ten days. Catarrhozone is a most rational treatment, cures the disease by removing its cause, and certainly it cannot fail to reach the root of the trouble, for it is inhaled into the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, and no matter how deep-seated, or in what remote parts the disease germs may be, Catarrhozone is sure to get after them, kill them and prevent any liability to relapse.

Other remedies may help for a short time, but Catarrhozone is the only treatment whereby these distressing maladies are cured to stay cured. It has been proved a thousand times the most speedy, effective and satisfactory preparation on the market, and you can make no mistake in using it.

The choking spells, the manifold agonies of asthma, the running of the eyes and nose accompanying hay fever, the languor, the feverish distress, the cough so characteristic of bronchitis and catarrh are quickly allayed and cured by Catarrhozone.

The True Relief. Radway's Ready Relief

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by deatroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis. for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these dangerous and uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or members.

No matter how violent or exeruclating the pains the Rheumatic, Bed-ridden, In-firm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgic or prostrated with disease may suffer.

THE UNIONIST CELEBRATION!

Held at Blenheim to Celebrate Victories in British Bye-Elections.

Balfour and Chamberlain Speak of Liberals as the "Rump" Party---The Alliance of Conservatives and Unionists, They Claim, Is Indissoluble.

Where the war is not involved the

The Boers have an awkward habit of upsetting both military calculations and current phrasing. Mr. Chamberlain has described the third stage of their operations as "brigandage and outrage," and General Kitchener has proclaimed the day when the burghers must cease from lawlessness under penalty of exile and distraint of property, and leader writers and mili-tary critics have protested against further softness and rosewater magnanimity toward murderers and pillagers, who are not entitled to belligerent rights. Suddenly comes an official account of the capture of a blockhouse in the center of the Or-ange River Colony, after an attack as bold as the assaults upon Steinacker's Horse in Swaziland. These three affairs, while trivial as operations of war, indicate that the Boers are still fighting with desperate valor. Clearly the time has not yet come for refusing the Boers belligerent rights, especially when the fighting is described as severe at Brandfort, Lord

Roberts' first halting place in his march from Bloemfontein to Pretoria.

Equally significant is the renewal of Boer activity on the railway lines in Cape Colony. Even more ominous is the evidence of two fresh outrages, showing that the Boer desperadoes cannot be controlled and that the final stage of the war will be characterized by acts of wanton barbarity.

Lord Milner, after keeping a private no opposition at all.

London, Aug. 12.—The great Unionist | that is what some mischief makers would like him to do, and he sticks to celebration at Blenheim Saturday. was his post. Only last Wednesday he adfavored by the most pleasant weather. dressed a great Liberal meeting at Peckham and energetically declined to recant a single word he had said about the conduct of the war. Mean-Its object was to celebrate the third] unionist victory in the bye-elections. One hundred and twenty members of parliament were present with some 3,-000 delegates from Conservative and Unionist circles throughout the country and others present made a total of about 7,000 persons. Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain delivered addresses, after luncheon, in the open air. Both were accorded a warm reception from the enthusiastic crowd.

During the course of his remarks, Mr. Balfour said that the erstwhile a!liance between the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists was now an indissoluble union. A large section of the opposition was avowedly unpatriotic and the country was not so moon-struck as to confide the conduct of public affairs to those who, so far as they had uttered any clear note, had uttered it against their own country. Mr. Balfour compared the opposition tactics to sniping and guerilla warfare in South Africa, and said both would end at no distant date.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke in a similar vein. The Liberal party were now only the "rump" party. They had sunk in the pro-Boer mud and could not extricate themselves.

THE "GARDEN PARTY."

Commenting on "The Blenheim Garden Party," as Mr. Redmond has styled it, the cable correspondent of a New York daily says it was converted into a celebration of the indissoluble bonds between the Tories and the Liberal Unionists. Mr. Balfour smiled upon Mr. Chamberlain, and told how much peace and joy there was in the har-Unionist household. Mr. Chamberlain was equally aglow with fraternal feeling, and supplied the imperial background for an alliance gun in opposition to legislative autonomy in Ireland. Each whipped the thistles in the neglected Liberal garden, Mr. Balfour denouncing the opposition as avowedly unpatriotic, and Mr. Chamberlain, with partisan ve-hemence, describing Sir Henry Camp-bell-Bannerman as a "wobbler," and what was left of Gladstone's party as a "rump."

With these stump speeches the Duke of Marlborough's host of political guests was well content. The Duke guests was well content. and Duchess of Marlborough invited delegates from Unionist partisans far and wide, and entertained as many as 3,000 guests at luncheon. A series of special trains was running through the morning from London. At least 200 members of parliament from the government side were asked, and most of them accepted the invitation.

SAVED BY BALFOUR. This political picnic would have been broken up if Mr. Balfour had not closed debate in a drastic manner, for the house otherwise might have been kept tramping through the division lobbies until 4 o'clock this afternoon, for as many votes might have been forced on the report stage as in committee. This catastrophe was avoided, and the Unionist members, headed by Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain, were en-abled to catch trains in good time and join the open air revival services in Blenheim Park. Spacious marques had been erected on the grounds, where luncheon was served, and the palace was open to all the political guests. There was no lack of oratory when Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain were present, and enthusiasm was unre-

HONORS FOR MARLBOROUGH. This remarkable political demonstration on the ducal grounds has brought the host prominently before the country as a candidate for honors. The Duke of Marlborough is known to be ambitious and desirous of playing a great part in public affairs. He has taken an active interest in the work of the Primrose League, and today poses as the patron and entertainer of the Empire Unionists organization. All the great places at court have been filled, but some ornamental appointment like that of viceroy of Ireland may opened to him. The Duchess of Marlborough has become as keen a politician as her husband, and joined him in planning the day's festivities. Paragraphs, apparently inspired, are appearing in the press, stating that Blenheim has been restored and improved with the duke's own money and not with the Vanderbilt fortune.

CHAMBERLAIN'S GAME. Mr. Chamberlain knows his own game and plays it. He takes his cue from the loyalists of Cape Town, with whom Sir Alfred Milner is also in entire sympathy. They are for crushing the Boers altogether and settling the South Africa problem by subordinating the Dutch to the British. But the Liberals profess to be for equal rights and for this would give the utmost freedom in the annexed territories which is compatible with the maintenance of the imperial supremacy. Unfortunately the Liberals' differences of opinion, chiefly about the origin of the war, prevent them from crigin of the war, prevent them from acting together for a common purpose. Last Friday week they left him in possession of the field. They then created or fostered the impression that there is no one on their front bench who can stand up to the colonial secre-

caused in political circles by the com-plete breakdown of France's latest plete breakdown of France's latest cruiser, the Jeanne d'Arc, which cost 23,000,000 francs, and of the Chateau-Renault, which cost 16,000,000. Each vessel took nearly six years to build, two years more than the contract time. At the steam trials of the Jeanne d'Arc only 24 boilers out of her 36 could be lighted. The heat in the engine room rose to 149 degrees Fahrenheit. What the heat in the stoke room was nobody knows, as the stokers were forced to flee for their stokers were forced to flee for their lives. The vessel re-entered Toulon, going at three knots an hour. She will require completely new boilers. The Chateau-Renault's engines heated and melted and will be required to be replaced. The estimated expenditure on both vessels is put at several million francs.

STORY OF THE BIG GOLD STEAL

Confession of John Winters Who Did the Job Alone.

After Confessing He Showed Where the Gold Had Been Hidden-Said to Have Been Promised Immunity From Prosecution.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.-Jack Winters, who was arrested as a suspect connected with the Selby Smelting Works rebbery of $280,000 has confessed and, so far, $141,500 worth of bullion has been recovered from the bay where it had been sunk.

For three days the detectives have tried all sorts of persuasion to make Winters' manner indicated that he out effect. Finally Winters asked to see Supt. Ropp, of the Selby works, who, he said, was the only friend he had. In his conversation with Ropp, Wintrs' manner indicated that he knew where the gold had been hidden. Ropp told Winters that they had a strong case against him and that he would be sent to prison for 30 years.

He said: You will be an old man when yo get out and it will do you no good to hide the gold. We know it is hidden in the water near the works and we will search every inch. You may be sure the gold will be found before you get out of prison."

Winters finally weakened and told
Ropp he would take him to the spot where it was hidden. HE DID THE JOB ALONE.

Winters in company with Supt. Ropp and a force of detectives, left on a tug for Crockett. There they waited all night for low tide. Winters pointed out the place at the end of the railroad wharf behind the coal bunkers, at the head of the Vallejo ferry slip.

Winters claims he did the job all alone. He says he made 14 trips from the vault to the wharf from which he afternoon. Winters, when he had made up his mind to tell what he knew about the crime, was exceedingly willing to give all the information necessary cover the bullion. He practically assumed charge of the operations and led Capt. Seymour and Supt. Vonder Ropp to the dock. He acted more like one of the detectives employed on the case, than a prisoner. As soon as he arrived at the water's edge he called the superintendent to his side and

It fell to the south of the spot where the prisoner joyed the process of being lionized Another stone fell to the eas and the third was thrown directly in General front of Winters. Lyttleton, who has sailed with him, "That," said the prisoner, "will mark the water boundary of the place where your gold is hidden." Stepping to the left Winters drew a nail from his pocket and asked for hammer. He then paced off a few yards to the right and drove another nail in the timber. "The gold," he continued, "will be between these two nails somewhere in line with the spots marked by the stones I just threw into the water."

FOUND $110,000. A small boat was secured and into it Sheriff Vale, Detective Kimball, of the Pinkerton agency, and two laborers were taken. Winters assisted in the areas where the usual occupations of search for the bricks. He got into the mud and water up to his neck, and for an hour and a half groped for the missing bullion. Up to 10 o'clock $110,000 worth had been recovered. be a practical method of meeting the This includes the four bars of fine gold. Winters had put some of the bars in bags. He said one of the bags had been broken, and some small bars had dropped out. He talked glibly all the while. The deep mud finally put a stop to operations, and it was decided to build a coffer dam bewhich the corporation was compelled fore trying to recover the rest of the to finance and complete, an unceasing

PLANNED LONG AGO. Winters told the officers that h planned the robbery long ago with minute detail. He had been two or three months working on his little tun-It had taken two nights' labor to cut through the brick wall of the smelter. Most of the boring in the bottom of the vault had been done in the night when the gold was taken. He carried the plunder, which was very heavy, from the vault to the water and deposited it where the water was from three to six feet deep at low tide. The distance from the vault to the cache was about a quarter of a mile and he made fourteen trips. was at work four hours on Monday night. Four small bars of refined gold he concealed among the stones of breakwater, at the mouth of the railroad tunnel. His purpose had been to use this gold for present needs. Winters on his last trip had perceived that dawn was breaking. Not daring to complete the trip, laid on the shore the two gold bricks which were found Tuesday morning at the point where the robbers' boat was supposed to have landed. The trail of red pepper ending at that point

EXPENSIVE FAD OF MOROCCO'S RULER

Sultan Pays an Exorbitant Price for Cameras With Which to Photograph His Wives.

News that the Sultan of Morocco has bought two cameras, one quarter-plate and one half-plate, costing $10,500 and $4,500 respectively, is regarded by amera experts in Chicago as suggestng that the Sultan of Morocco is a good deal more fond of spending money than is the Sultan of Turkey. doubted if he has any prettier harem than has the Turkish Sultan, and if he has it is argued by Chicago experts in camera goods that he could get just as good a picture of his favorites with a nundred-dollar machine. According to the story of the sultan's purchases in London all the metal work of the quarter-plate camera is of solid gold, even to the screws and hinges, every piece bearing the British hall mark. Its total weight is 150 ounces. The half-plate instrument is of silver, with finest of mountings.

Dr. William H. Knapp, of Chicago, representing the manufacturers who made the lenses for the sultan's cameras, says in effect that the sultan paid through the nose for what he got, so far as pictures are concerned. 'For such cameras we couldn't make a lens that would cost more than $100," said Dr. Knapp. "The best framework for a lens is brass, and one set in gold would be less adaptable for photography. We make the best quarterplate lens for $77, with $16 more added for a shutter. The sultan hasn't got anything better, thought it may be set in solid gold.

"But even in solid gold, wherever the metal could be worked in, it is hard to see how such a charge could be made for such a small camera as a quarterplate would be. It would take a photograph only 34x44 inches, and the half-plate would be only 41/4 x 61/2

"Counting gold as worth $20 an ounce and the lens of the camera at $100, the camera would have to weigh nearly 500 ounces to have $10,000 worth of gold in it. That is, it would have to weigh more than thirty pounds avoirdupois. This is an absurdity. Carving, ewels, engravings and the height of ornamentation might make a camera cost as much as $10,500, but you couldn't prove it by a quarter-plate negative." ELIJAH III.'S EXPENSIVE PHOTO-GRAPH.

In general the cost of a camera is in the lens. For a sneak thief there is scarcely a more inviting field than first-class photographer's studio. While men lock up bartenders in the icebox to raid a saloon cash registrar with $6.85 in it, a sneak thief might easily unscrew a $500 portrait lens from a camera and sneak out with the booty in his coat pocket. For a cost-ly camera the lens usually costs ten imes as much as the box, and it has not a hundredth part of the bulk. The largest lens ever made turned out of the factories represented by Dr. Knapp. It was nearly nine inches in diameter, was ten inches long, and lens and metal casing weighed forty pounds. This lens, made under "Winters cannot be prosecuted," forty pounds. This lens, made under said Detective Gibson, "for there is the most trying circumstances, cost

$3,000, and was designed for a plate 4x8 feet. The first photograph taken through it was a life-size photograph of Dr. John Alexander Dowie shortly before he was reincarnated into Elijah

The plate which registered this "coun terfeit presentment" of Elijah cost $100, and it cost at least $5 to develop and "fix" the negative, the prints from it costing about $3 each. The unusual size of the lens for this camera necessitated a camera box 4x8 feet and a focal adjustment of thirteen feet. In making the lens it was difficult to find glass sufficiently large and free from flaws, air bubbles and "striae." When one glass had been cut and adjusted it had to be thrown out because of one of those almost intangible blemishes termed striae. It is not a crack, not air space, nor foreign matter, but the mark suggests a string of infinitesimally small bubbles, representing a minute "milky way" across the glass. SKILL DISPLAYED PREPARING LENSES.

This glass for camera purposes is usually white and hard. It is made from a certain silicate sand, mixed with lead and other foreign substances and chemicals. One of its characteristics is to "bubble," but these small bubbles of air, seen in the lens, are hall-marks of superiority. The glass is cut in the rough by a saw made of zinc and coated with diamond dust. The lens polishing, fitting and finishing are done by hand.

In a lens of ordinary size the deviation of one-thousands of an inch in its thickness will make it useless for photography, causing it to distort images Testing these lenses, grinding and polishing and fitting them and correcting them to hairsbreadths is the work of humand hand and eye, but so accurately are these experts trained that in a box of a dozen lenses of the same style it is the boast of the manufacturers that no man needs search to find In this work of making a non-achromatic lens, which shall be rectilinear and give the most accurate outlines upon a plate, two kinds of glass are used, one modifying the other in their dispositions to focus light rays. A flint glass is put outside and closely welded to it; behind is the composition glass, which comes from Vienna. One supple ments the other until the focal point is definite and unchangeable for all the rays of the spectrum.

ANOTHER NEGRO BURNED. Savannah, Ga., Aug. 10 .- The negro assailant of Mrs. J. J. Clark was captured at Liberty City yesterday by R. L. Young, a section master of the Seaboard Air Line. Last night he was taken to Ways Station and positively identified by Mrs. Clark. While being removed from Ways

Station to Bryan county jail the prisoner was taken from his captors by a mob and, it is believed, has been burned at the stake. Positive news of the lynching is lacking. The advices come from the man who captured the assailant of Mrs. Clark, who says that he was ordered to leave the vicinity by the men who took the negro from his custody. short time afterward he saw a fire the flames of which rose above the surrounding trees. He telegraphed that he has no doubt the negro has been burned at the stake.

GOOD CROPS IN ESSEX COUNTY!

Farmers Are Well Satisfied With Their Harvest.

Many Years Since Fall Wheat Turned Out So Well-Corn and Tobacco Promise Well.

Windsor, Aug. 12.-The farmers of Essex county are well satisfied with the way in which the crops have turned out this year. Harvesting is about over, and of every kind of grain there is a plentiful crop. The corn and tobacco crops are yet to be harvested, and from present indications there will be a good yield of

It has been many years since the fall wheat has headed out so well and given such a good yield per acre as the present year. Many of the farmers have already threshed their wheat, and are more than satisfied with the results. In some in-stances the grain has averaged 40 bushels to the acre, while the general run is 32 bushels to the acre.

In the spring crops there is a good yield, although the oats were damaged by several windstorms.

The staple crop of Essex county is corn, and the present crop promises to be as

The staple crop of Essex county is corn, and the present crop promises to be as abundant as in previous years.

From all over the county come very satisfactory reports of a large tobacco crop. Most of the tobacco has already been contracted for by dealers in Essex county and other parts of Ontario, and the prices to be paid will be better than in the past.

In the past,

It has been a good year for potatoes, and there promises to be a heavy yield.

In Essex county the two fruits most grapes and peaches. generally grown are grapes and peaches, and the fruit growers are well satisfied with the outlook for both crops. The peach crop is a trifle below the average yield, but the crop of grapes will be larger and better than for some years past. The vines are heavily loaded, and the bunches are filling better than last year. year.

IN THE STATES.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The August report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the following averages of conditions on Aug. 1: Corn, 54.0; spring wheat, 80.3; oats, 73.6; barley, 86.9; spring rye, 83.6; buckwheat, 91.1; potatoes, 62.3; timothy

The average condition of corn declined 27.3 points during July, and on Aug. 1 it was lower than at the corresponding date last year, and 33.5 below the mean of the August averages for the last ten years.

The average condition of spring wheat on Aug. 1 was 23.9 higher than at the corresponding date last year, and only 1.2 points below the mean of August averages for the last ten years.

The average condition of oats on Aug. 1 was 11.4 points lower than at the corresponding date last year, and 10.2 points below the mean of August averages for the last ten years.

The average condition of barley on Aug. 1 was 15.3 points higher than at the corresponding date one year ago, while it was 2.8 points above the mean of August averages for the last ten

The average condition of spring rye on Aug. 1 was 7.6 points higher than at the corresponding date last year, and 2.2 poins below the mean of the August averages for the last ten years. Preliminary returns indicate an increase of about 43,000 acres or 6.7 per cent in the acreage in buckwheat as compared with last year. The average condition of buckwheat is 3.2 points higher than at the corresponding date last year, 2.1 points lower than on Aug. 1, 1899, and 5 points above the mean of the August averages for the last ten years.

The average condition of potatoes on Aug. 1 was 25.9 points lower than at the corresponding date last year, and 4.8 points below the mean of the August averages for the last ten

Preliminary returns indicate a reduction of 2.6 per cent in the hay acreage. The condition of timothy hay is 4.2 points higher than at the corresponding date last year, and 1.7 BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 10.—At our cheese board today 24 factories offered averages for the last nine years. The reports as to production of clover are on the whole unfavorable.

CLEAN SWEEP OF STANDING CROPS.

Ottawa, Aug. 11.-According to latest reports from the western part of the township of March, the hailstorm in that district on Thursday did more damage than was at first anticipated. The storm started in the township of Torbolton, and made a clean sweet of all the standing crops as it made its way eastward, touching Hazeldean, Kinbourne, Manitock, March Corners and Metcalfe. The standing grain crops on many farms are completely ruined, while on other farms will hardly be worth cutting. In the township of Torbolton, one farmer has lost three crops in succession

STEEL STRIKE IN PROGRESS .

Both Sides Claim to Have Gained Points in Today's Developments.

Several Pittsburg Mills That Were Expected to Close Are in Operation-Other Establishments Closed Up.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.-The Amalgamated Association failed to make its threat to stop the Upper and Lower Union Mills this morning. At 9 o'clock this morning the mills seemed to be workng full, and the management wore sat-

The strikers had claimed that they had 60 men in line in the Twenty-Ninth street or Lower Union mills, who, by staying out, would block the entire

At the Upper mill in Thirty-Third street there was literally no opposition to the men going back to work, and by 6:10 the plant was running full. The National tin plate mill at Mones-sen, Pa., started up this morning at 4 o'clock on the first turn with the full quota of non-union men

SEVERAL MILLS CLOSED. The Republic, Painters, Lindsay & McCutcheon, and the Frankstown puddling and rolling mills of the continental department of the National Tube Company, were closed this morning, but the Lindsay & McCutcheon plant started up later with a small force of men force of men.

DISMANTLING MILLS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 11.—The order to strike was generally obeyed whereever the workers were organized and enrolled in the lodges of the Amalgamated Association.

The policy of the American Federation of Labor has not yet been fully disclosed and that fact contributes another element of uncertainty to the situation

A striking development of the day was an official announcement of the American Tin Plate Company to the effect that certain plants of the com-pany crippled by the strike would be dismantled and removed to Monessen. It was unofficially announced that there was a chance that the plant of the American Steel Hoop Company, at Warren, O., would be torn down and removed to some community more favorable to the corporation.

MEN FAVOR ARBITRATION. Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—President Shaf-fer began his final tour among the strikers early Saturday. At Newcastle he spoke to 6,000 union men in the amphitheater at Cascade Park and submitted an offer for the submission of the issues in the strike to arbitration. This was his formal tender for arbitration: "Now in our willingness to settle the one man and let the trust select one, the two to select a third. We will abide by the decision of the three. I wish this to be generally known." In his speech President Shaffer reviewed the strike situation minutely. He said the strike was a matter of wages and labor conditions, notwithstanding the efforts of the representatives of the opposition to prejudice the labor cause by allegations to the con-"The original proposition of settlement has never been altered by the trust representatives. Two weeks ago today Secretary Williams and myself went to New York and there Messrs. Morgan, Schwab and Gary, with a view to compromising the demands. At the conference there was the manufacturers to give a point. IT IS VICTORY OR DEATH.

"We expressed a willingness to compromise, but they would not. We have been terribly misrepresented. Now we express ourselves in a manner that will admit of no doubt. Let the United States Steel corporation speak. What more that is just and law-abiding and honorable, can we do?" WINDSOR CARPENTERS.

Euclid Jacques, the Windsor contractor, who at present has some difficulty with the Carpenters' Union, says he is not losing any sleep over the strike and will carry out his building con-tracts on time. On Saturday the window sashes and doors for the Manning House annex were delivered and Jac ques says he can secure all the material he wants. THE WINNIPEG STRIKE.

The carpenters' strike in Winnipeg is assuming large proportions and a more serious aspect. The strike has been made a union affair, and in accordance with the edict that went forth, about 400 workmen are idle today. Now that the men have been guaranteed union support, they are not inclined to give up their demands without a hard struggle. On the other hand the contractors say that the demands of the men are altogether excessive, and they will never accede. STRIKE ON C. P. R.

Montreal, Aug. 11.-According to present indications there is every probability that the C. P. R. trackmen's strike will be settled during the coming week. Since the arrival in this city of Messrs. Pope and Shaw, the representatives of the engineers and trainmen, several conferences taken place between them and the representatives of the trackmen. The representatives have also conferred with President Shaughnessy, and although none of the parties would make on official statement, it is understood that matters are shaping towards a settlement.

AT SYDNEY. The strike at the coke ovens at Sydney is over. The majority of the strikers have gone back to work, and the balance probably will follow soon.

RECOGNIZES THE STRIKE. Indianapolis, Aug. 12.-The executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, in session here, has officially recognized the steel strike. resolution was adopted setting forth the cause of the strike, indorsing the action of the Amalgamated Association, pledging the support of the mine workers and calling on President Gompers to call a meeting of the presidents and secretaries of all bodies connected with the American Federation of Labor to meet and devise plans of aiding the strikers.

WEIRD SCENES

At Burial of the Late Empress Frederick.

Coffin Taken to Dimly-Lighted Old House of Worship Where the Kaiser and His Subjects Knelt in Silent Prayer.

Cronberg, Aug. 12 .- The empress, the grown prince and other princes drove from Homburg Saturday morning and were present at the reading of the prayers by the Bishop of Ripon at the side of the coffin of the dowager empress. A requiem was held in the Old Catholic Church. Bishop Eckerlwing eloquently discoursed the virtues of the deceased.

All day long the heat was intense. At the bend, where the road reaches the old part of the town, is a great arch with green bows and pillars, the support of which is four immense weird torches. START OF THE PROCESSION. Punctually at 9 o'clock at night the sound of muffled drums was heard and the will-of-the-wisp like twinkling of torches throughout the streets told the people of Cronberg that the precession had started. With uplifted torches they drew near the town when they revealed a long black massive line on the shoulders of a dozen soldiers. Then another flare revealed the well-known figure of the emperor pacing with somber tread just behind the coffin. It was a weird, wonderful matter we are ready to arbitrate. Let coffin. It was a weird, wond the Amalgamated Association select sight, appearing for a moment and then dissolving under the flaring torches, while on each side for a mile along the road were revealed the glittering bayonets and helmets of Eightieth Regiment of the line, of which the dead dowager empress was colonel-in-chief. The deep, muffled roll of the drums added to the solemnity of the scene. As the precincts of the old medieval town were reached, the scene seemed more mystical. Behind the emperor followed the royal family save the ladies, none of whom was in the pro-cession; the crown prince of Greece, the prince of Schaumberg-Lippe, the hereditary prince of Saxe Meningen. Count von Zeckendorf, who was the secretary of the dowager empress, and other notables. A double file of solshown no disposition on the part of diers bearing torches walked on either side of the mourners.

Flushing, Holland, Aug. 12.—The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward, Queen Alexandra and others on board, arrived here Saturday. An American warship, in the Roads, fired a salute. All approaches to the landing stage were shut off by a strong force of police. It is understood that Prince and Princess Frederick Charles, of Hesse, will inherit Friedricashof. The princess is the youngest daughter of the deceased dowager empress. REQUIEM SERVICE.

Cronberg, Aug. 11.—People flocked into Cronberg from an early hour today to see the august personages who would attend the requiem service over the remains of the Dowager Empress Frederick. Sir Frank Lascalles, the British ambassador, took a seat facing the coffin, which was covered with wreaths. On either side of the coffin were four officers holding the standards of the Empire of Prussia and of the deceased. Between them and the coffin were other officials, rigid and bearing drawn swords. The congrega-tion included the Duke of Connaught the Duke of Cambridge and several members of the British royal house-hold, Count Von Beulow, Count Von Waldersee and Gen. Von Lindequest. The choir from Berlin Cathedral sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and Dr. Dryander read a specially-written prayer, after which Amperor William's eldest four sons stepped forward with drawn swords and stood close to the coinn. Dr. Dryander then delivered an oration, extolling the virtues of the her trials and sorrows. This was followed by the words of the burial service, "Dust to dust, ashes to ashes. The choir then sang the anthem, 'The spirit sayeth they may rest from their labors." Then followed the magnificent hymn, 'Wean Ich Einmal Soll Scheiden," and a beautiful rendering of "Be thou fa diful unto death." CHATTEL MORTGAGE CASE.

Before Chief Justice Falconbridge and Justice Street-Pennington vs. Honsinger (E. B. B.) in appeal by plaintiffs from order of Ferguson, J., on appeal from report of local master at St. Thomas in an action for an account of the proceeds of chattels sold under a chattel mortgage. At the conclusion of the argument the plaintiff's appeal was allowed as to the first, second and third groups of items, and dismissed as to the fourth. The appeal as to the fifth group was abandoned, and judgment was reserved as to the sixth, viz., whether the defendants should be charged with the sale or value of certain horses and car-riages. Held, that the defendants should be charged with $112 in respect of the phaeton and carriage covered not by that of Honsinger, and bought at the sale for $112 by Honsinger, who gave his note for the purchase money to Baird, and after the sale bought Baird's chattel mortgage, when the $112 was taken into account in adjusting accounts between them: that the defendants should also be charged with $150 in respect of the "Simlax" mare and "Young Simlax"; with the purchase money of the McGregan colt, $42, but not with the $23 bid for "Millie Fud"; with the price obtained for the horse "Billy," and with the price at which "The Blackman" knocked down to the paintiff, $81. Order varying order below in accordance with the foregoing results. The appellants to tax against the defendants three-fourths of the cost of the whole appeal. W. K. COVE RANGES ARE NEARLY COMPLETE.

Formal Opening To Be Marked by a Lawn Party.

It is expected that the new Cove rifle ranges will be finished within the next few weeks. But little work remains to be done on the building, and with the construction of a fence around the property, the contractors will be prepared to hand over the completed work to the government.

The formal opening will probably be marked by a lawn party or a similar social gathering on the range property. The details of the affair have not yet been arranged, but it is intended that it shall be a very pleasant one. The date of it will, of course, depend upon the rapidity with which the contractors complete their work.

NEWSPAPER MAN GONE TO HIS REST.

Death of Edmund A. Hutchinson, Late of the Chatham Planet.

Mr. Hutchinson was brought by his parents to St. Marys, where he received his education. He entered the office of this paper, learning the printing trade and afterwards working on the reporting staff, from which he advanced to the position of city editor.

Going to Toronto, he was employed for some time on the Telegram. He purchased the St. Catharines Standard and conducted it for a year, when he returned to Toronto to work on the News. From Toronto Mr. Hutchinson went to Chatham, where he was connected with the Planet until compelled by failing health to leave sev-

In addition to his mother, living in this city at an advanced age, Mr. Hutchinson is survived by his brother, Dr. T. V. Hutchinson, M.H.O., of this city, and by two brothers in Seattle, one in Toronto, one unmarried sister in London, and two widowed sisters in Toronto.

Mr. Hutchinson was well-liked both by his newspaper confreres and by the general public with whom he came in contact, and sincere sympathy will be extended to his bereaved widow, children and relatives.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, owing to the absence of Dr. Hutchinson, who is returning from Buffalo on his yacht Nancy.

The Windigo's Home.

Charles A. Bramble, writing on the 'Home of the Windigo" in the August Chautauquan, says:

cares particularly to visit Trembling Mountain, for it is of evil repute. Years ago when the Iroquois and the Ojibway struggled for the ownership of this rugged land, some deed of blood must have been done under the shadow of these peaks-for even to this day the fisherman on the lake and the farmer gathering his chops in the fertile valley of the Rouge hear awesome sounds from the mountain. This, according to folk-lore, is the true home, perhaps, the last abiding-place, of the "Windigo," or evil spirit, whose presence is misfortune, and whose spell is death.

From a limited knowledge of geology, I should explain these noises in very matter of fact way: Those blocks of stone lying beneath every scarp and rock face must surely have shaken the earth as they fell, and sent vibrations far and near-but it would a native; besides, I have too real an admiration for the mountain to rish to flich any of its glamor.

DUKE MAY STAY

Change in the Royal Programme Is Contemplated.

Original Plans Made the London Trip Too Arduous and the Party May Rost Here.

The city council meets tonight. Five long, happy weeks have been spent in idleness, and now the fathers of our city return from their automobile trips, from yachting in the Solent, from the festivities of Newport and Narragansett Pier to interest them selves in the affairs of civic life. They will first attack, with vigor and en thusiasm, the momentous question of the Duke's entertainment. From now on His Highness of Cornwall will fill the aldermanic eye. It is expected that there'll be a great rush at the public library for books on etiquette; let no one who sees a civic dignitary making motions in the air with his arm like a fishhook think otherwise than charitably of him—he's doubt-less practicing the newfangled hand-shake. It has been said that the city clerk has reread Chesterfield's letters to his son, and is kept awake nights inventing elegant phrases; but this is doubtless the fabrication of some rival address manufacturer.

It's a worrying job this reception business—just the same. Perhaps it wasn't the expense so much as the anxiety, that caused the first hesitation about inviting the royal party; but now that it's coming, the city will do things properly. What the proper method is is what's bothering the

Most likely London will have the honor of the royal presence longer than was expected. The Duke has performed some arduous feats in the game of cutting across continents to the accompaniment of hand-shakes by thousands and addresses galore; but there seems to be some hesitation about subjecting him to the nerve-racking programme, planned for the day, that included London. It's rather too much to expect of a chap to do the loop de loop around from Toronto, through several up-country places to London, then on to St. Thomas, Hamilton and Niagara Falls, all in one day. A rest over night in London is contemplated and will likely be decided upon. Whatever is done the aldermen are deter mined to make the welcome a truly

> Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—The Plant Line steamer Halifax, Capt. Pye, from Charlottetown, Port Hawkesbury and Halifax, N. S., struck a ledge off Minots Light, while coming into port in a thick fog early today. She freed herself, however, and was beached in a sinking condition. Tugs and lighters have gone from here for passen-gers and baggage.

New York, Aug. 12.—With her engine disabled, the steamboat Ulster, the Saugerties and New York Steamboat Company, drifted helpless-ly down the Hudson for three hours early this morning, her whistle shrieking for assistance and hundreds of passengers on board her in a panic. The Onteora, of the Catskill Even-

It was strange, almost unaccountable, that in her inexperience and ignorance of London, of every condition of life except that of luxury and splendor, she succeeded in baffling the most intelligent detectives whom they had employed to discover her hiding place.

At length even Mr. Fenwick grew discouraged, and his heart sank for a moment at the idea, which kept forcing itself upon him, that the girl, weary of the Greary, monotonous life, had succumbed to Lord Drotsford's evident admiration—it might be love—and had sought a brighter existence with him in sunnier Eastern climes. Hugh was consulted on the desirability of imparting these suspicions to Douglas, and cestroying the hopes, which seemed so wash of absorve requirement and lightered. stroying the hopes, which seemed so vain, of a happy relunion; and Russell Fenwick was returning from an interview with him, dispirited and ready to lose faith in all human nature if this one woman proved false, when chance revealed what they had so long sought in vain

He was crossing Westminster bridge—had lingered a moment to look at the grand old Abbey, as the sun sinking in the west, flooded it with a lurid, golden stream—when a woman came out of the Abbey and stood for a moment, as if considering which way she would go. She considering which way she would go. She was dressed with extreme simplicity, in a light, cool print dress; but there was something about her which gave to its conventional simplicity a certain dignity and grace—something haughty and grace—ful in the turn of her head—something in the stately, queenly grace of tread, which attracted Mr. Fenwick's impression. As she moved he started forward. Velled as she was, the singular grace of her movement betrayed her; he recognized her at once.

He went quickly to her, and she saw him. Throwing up her veil, with a little cry of surprise and joy, she put out both hands, and he took them in his.

An interesting game was expected, but it was interesting only because it was amusingly bad. The Rockets might have been thinking of the happy days of the Old Boys' reunion, or of any have been thinking of the happy days of the Old Boys' reunion, or of any other bygone thing—but not much about baseball. They did all the things that lose games—made errors, threw the ball wide, let the other side bang out balls that weren't fielded—everything to help the Londons round the bases. Phillips pitched, but his twisters were the proverbial ple to the Londoners. In four innings 19 runs were scored, but not all by Phillips' fault—his support failed signally to play a respectable ball game. "Pica" Howell stopped the promenade around and Grady. the bases when he went in, and only two runs were added to the pile in the five innings he pitched. But the load Washington 13 23 1 Washington 0 4 1 was too heavy for Rocket shoulders, and they couldn't bear up against it. The Rockets will have to play better ball than that of Saturday if they wish to stay in the championship class. It requires a painful effort on the part of supporters, however ardent, to back Lewis and Schreckengost. up such playing. The score:

KRAMER AT THE TOP. New York, Aug. 10 .- On the indoor cycle track at Madison Square Garden last night Frank Kramer, of East Orange, N. J., won the half-mile circuit championship, beating Tom Cooper, of Detroit, by five open lengths in the final heat; time, 1:09%. This places Kramer at the head of the list with 36 points for the circuit championship, "Major" Taylor being second with 23 points, and Cooper next with 14.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 10.-"Bobby" Walthour defeated Moran in the 25-mile motor-paced race at the Coliseum last night by four laps.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 10.—A fierce wind swept diagonally across the "Wooden Platter" track of the Pan-American Exposition and greeted the riders at today's international N. C. A. bicycle meet. Marcus Hur-ley lost another national cham-pionship to T. J. Grady, lence, of the season," he went on. "Well, it is that man, the brother of one of them, of Lady Marchmont, who has bought my picture. The man with the splendid profie Pearl raved about so; his name is Douglas Lancaster."

A faint tinge came stealing into her cheek, but she did not speak.

"I cannot make out why he has done so," went on the painter, after a minute, sacrificing his veracity recklessly. "It seems an absurd piece of extravagance for a man in his position, for he is neither a millionaire nor a great amateur.

He married Sir Hugh Marchmont's sister, I understand, and—appearances are decture, certainly—treated her shamefully."

"Who dared say so? It is false!" said Andree, flashing round upon him with glittering eyes and burning cheeks; then meeting his surprised glance, she paused suddenly and her eyes fell.

"I beg your pardon," he said; "I did not know you knew them. I must have been misinformed. Are you sure that my informant was mistaken?"

The two-mile. This gives Grady two championships, the two-and five miles. Henshaw and Headstrom broke the world's motor tandem record of 40 seconds, first quarter in 20 seconds. The race of the day was the 20-mile middle distance motor paced championship. Walter Smith, Brooklyn, shot to the front and made the first mile in 1:39%, breaking his record of 1:44%. Smith led for three miles and mile in 1:39%, breaking his record of 1:44%. Smith led for three miles and then Fulton, of Springfield, Mass., took the lead and maintained it to the end, lapping all the others.

two-mile amateur handicap, the last race of the day, was won by Willie Dobbins, of East Orange, N. J., with an allowance of 100 yards. This closes the amateur races at the Stadium and next week the professionals will have their turn.

ATHLETICS.

AMERICANS WON.

Glasgow, Aug. 10.-At the games of the Celtic Football Club today the 190 dash was won by Arthur F. Duffey, of Georgetown University, scratch, in 10% seconds. In the high jump contest I. K. Baxter, of the University of Pennsylvania, scratch, won, clearing 5 feet 10 inches.

Windsor, Aug. 11 .- A large crowd of half holiday pleasure seekers were in attendance at Windsor yesterday to witness a card of seven races run which included the Elks' handicap and the Metropole Hotel handicap over the full steeplechase course.

The steeplechase was a chapter of accidents throughout. Five horses faced the flag for the start, but only one finished without an accident, the others coming to grief at some stage of the journey. Lord Farondale and Coley lead twenty lengths in front of the field, until the seventh jump was reached. Here Coley made a bad landing and lost his rider. Farondale still increased the gap and when the tenth jump was reached he was leading by an eighth of a mile. Jockey Dolan in left Geo. W. Jenkins and Tate Creek, the tailers, to fight it out for the purse and a right royal battle they put up until they took the last obstacle, where Tates Creek's heavy impost told, and he took a bad cropper, allowing Jenkins to go on and win by himself. Jockey Moxley remounted Tates Creek and secured the place and Jockey Dolan caught Lord Exercises.

CADILLAC WINS.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Cadillac, the Can-ada's cup defender, this afternoon won the first of the international yacht races, beating the Royal Canadian Yacht Club's challenger Invader by 8½ minutes. The race was sailed around a triangular course of seven nautical miles to the leg, and for two-thirds of the distance it was excitingly close. Cadillac's elapsed time was 2 hours, 45 minutes, 25 seconds. Invader's, 2 hours, 55 minutes, 10 seconds.

Diminished Vitality.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality.
They don't stop to think that vitality is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.
Diminished vitality is early indicated by loss of appetite, strength and endurance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer.

THE "SEMI-READY" CONVEN-

Mr. J. H. Brownlee, agent, for "Semi-Ready" in London, returned to the city yesterday, after attending the first annual convention of "Semi-Ready" tailors in Montreal. One hears of political, social and similar conventions, but a business convention of this kind is entirely new to Canada, and marks as well the dawning of a broader spirit in business as it does the progressiveness of the company concerned. The "Semi-Ready" Clothing Company's agents extend from Halifax to Winnipeg, and comprise men who have been known in custom-made circles for years. These tailors, who now devote their time to "Semi-Ready" were present, as well as all those connected with the business in Montreal. The managers, the designers and even the workman met on equal terms to ventilate their views, study styles and profit by the experience of others. The visiting delegates were entertained right royally by the "Semi-Ready" fraternity in Montreal.

MISS HESTER P. ALWAY.

The talented lady who occupied the pulpit of Adelaide Street Baptist Church yesterday morning. Miss Hester P. Alway, vice-principal of the Union Mission Training School, Brooklyn, N. Y., gave a remarkably impressive address on the subject of "Character-Building." Miss Alway, in elucidating her topic, portrayed in graphic terms the character of Moses, and its development, taking as her text the words of Paul, found in Hebrews, iii. model of literary excellence, enriched by the fruits of scholarly study and research, it was at the same time emifeeling and marked by strong and stir-ring appeals to the consciences and mayor. Col. Leys and Ald. Gerry.

Handkerchiefs, hearts of her hearers. The people of Adelaide Street Church have certainly been much favored in enjoying, during their pastor's absence, the ministrations of such an able and earnest exponent of gospel truths. Before beginning her address, Miss Alway made a brief reference to the Mission Training School with which she is connected. This institution had its birth some sixteen years ago at Niagara, when a whole-souled Christian woman, Mrs. Osborne, was impressed with the necessity for such a school, and began the work herself with one pupil. This pupil has been for a number of years most successful missionary, and in the meantime over a hundred persons have received their training in the school, and are now filling honored positions as missionaries in various parts of the heathen world.

WESTERN FAIR OPENS FOUR WEEKS HENCE.

The First Monday Will Be Made a Big Day.

Director J. H. Brown Appointed Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings.

George G. McCormick and J. S. Pearce Rosign Chairmanships - Isaao Waterman and Wm. Gammage Fill the Vacancies.

The board of directors of the Western Fair held a meeting on Saturday afternoon at which several important matters came up for discussion. The post of superintendent of the grounds and buildings was created and Mr. J. H. Brown appointed to fill it. Among other matters discussed was the making of the opening day, Monday, one of the best days of the week.

Those present were Col. Gartshore, president (in the chair), Secretary Nelles, Major Little, Mayor Rumball, Charles Trebilcock, W. M. Spencer, John Kennedy, Ald. Gerry, Col. Leys, Ald. Cooper, Jas. H. Brown, Allan Bogue, A. M. Smart, Geo. Scatcherd and Hardy Shore.

In discussing the proposal to ask that Monday, Sept. 9, be declared a half-holiday, Ald. Gerry said a whole holiday would suit the manufacturers as well.

Mayor Rumball said the manufacturers might give their employes the day off, but it would be a hardship to 5: "And Moses verily was faithful." day off, but it would be a hardship to While Miss Alway's discourse was a shut the merchants out of a portion of the business of fair week. horticultural building, resigned from the board. A suitable testimony of his valuable services will be tendered Mr. Isaac Waterman was elected a director in the place vacated by Mr. Pearce, and was then appointed to the chairmanship of the main building committee. The recommendation by the grounds and buildings committee that a superintendent under their control be appointed was adopted, and Mr. James H. Brown was appointed to the superintendency. Mr. Brown resigned from the board and accepted the newlycreated position, upon the earnest so licitations of the board. It was felt that Mr. Brown was the most competent man for the position. The mat-

The finance committee will endeavor to secure a cheap rate over the railways, good from Saturday to Wednesday of fair week. The directors devoted some time to a discussion on the improvement of the main bulding exhibit, but nothing definit was decided upon. Secretary Nelles gave an interest-ing report upon the Winnipeg Fair. President Gartshore stated that the horsemen at the Western Fair stables had been notified to vacate the prem-There are at present in the stables several hundred horses, purchased for the British army. It was felt that the benefit to the farming community by reason of this sale of horses justified the board fully in allowing the use of the stables. Every precaution will be taken to insure the cleanliness of the stables before fair stock are allowed in.
