

ADVERTISER'S TRAVEL CLUB GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC SENDOFF TO QUEBEC AND EUROPE

Tremendous Throng Gathered at The Advertiser Office and Railway Stations to Say Good-bye to the Winners of the Great Contest—Event Will Long Be Remembered by Relatives and Friends.

The start of the European and Quebec travel clubs, the winners in The Advertiser's great contest, is now a matter of history.

Yesterday, in the midst of scenes of great enthusiasm, the two parties were sent on their way, with band playing and flags flying, and hundreds upon hundreds of friends and well-wishers shouting and waving their cheery word of farewell.

Not a single untoward incident marred the starting of either. The plans and arrangements had been so well made that everything ran as smoothly as well-oiled machinery, without a hitch anywhere.

Despite the fact that the Quebec trip club started at a fairly early hour of the morning of the holiday, seldom has there been such a number of people congregated at the Grand Trunk station as gathered to cheer the party off.

The party, which is under the direction of Mr. R. D. M. and Mrs. Decker, is as follows: Miss Margaret Kennedy, Ilderton; Miss May Mountjoy, London; Miss Ella Dickie, London; Miss Mary Gibson, Brucefield; Mrs. Ida Willis, London; Miss Eva Taylor, Port Stanley; Miss Eva McDowell, London; Miss Edith Glanville, London; Miss Margaret Simmie, Byron; Miss Aggie Sinclair, Bridgen.

Even Greater Enthusiasm.

If such a thing were possible it would seem that the European trip party had an even more enthusiastic send-off. Certainly there was nothing lacking in the scenes of excitement which were enacted at the C. P. R. station shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday. And the ladies of the party must have felt a thrill of pleasure as they stood on the rear platform of the train as it pulled out on its way and saw the platform and tracks black with people, waving hats and handkerchiefs in honor of the friends who were leaving on the great trip.

The personnel of the party is as follows: Miss Rose Fraser, Poplar Hill; Miss Mabel Anderson, Wyoming; Miss Katie McLaughlin, London; Miss Vera Hewer, London; Miss Maude Law, Harrietsville; Miss Edna Calhoun, London; Miss Edna Calhoun, London; and Mrs. J. A. Rumball, Goderich.

Mr. George Miller is The Advertiser's representative with the party, and Mr. Frank Millar accompanied them as far as Quebec, where they take the boat for Liverpool.

The Quebec Party. Promptly at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the band of the Seventh Fusiliers gathered at The Advertiser's office, and within a few minutes the programme of music had commenced. Almost immediately, the people who had evidently been waiting for the signal, began to assemble, and every moment added to the appreciative and expectant throng that gathered within seeing and hearing distance of The Advertiser's office.

Within the ladies of the club had gathered, accompanied by groups of relatives and friends. Some arrived promptly at 8 o'clock, and from that time on there was a constant buzz of talk and laughter, as the candidates from without the city were introduced to their travelling companions.

And there was a great exchanging of experiences of the contest and of the preparations for the journey.

All the travellers were radiantly happy and delighted that the day should have opened so auspiciously.

"Of course, we will," was the universal answer to the hope that they might have a pleasant journey. That was one point, at least, on which no one of the travellers had the faintest shadow of a doubt.

A ripple of laughter passed over the waiting crowd as an Advertiser delivery wagon drove out of the lane, piled high with suitcases and bundles of steamer rugs.

A Great Crush. Then there were more people arriving and renewed hand-shaking and good wishes. Even standing room was at a premium, in the office, but everywhere were smiling faces and cheerful laughter.

As the time drew on, the automobiles and cabs drew up in front of the office, and within the flush of excitement deepened on the faces of the expectant travellers.

"We are certainly going to have a royal send-off," said one of them, and a chorus of assent greeted her words.

Then the travellers entered the automobiles, and stayed for a moment, while a picture was taken from a store window opposite; and then, headed by the band, followed by the usual admiring coterie of small boys, and the automobiles by the older friends and acquaintances of the fortunate travellers.

Off for the Depot.

"Let's go the other way and meet them at the station," someone in the crowd suggested, and with one accord all those who had not followed the party turned and made off at top speed for the station, where they arrived in a panting and perspiring condition, but elated, in time to meet the party as they alighted from the automobiles.

It was expected that there would be (Continued on Page Three.)

DOMINION DAY A QUIET HOLIDAY

Not an Accident of Any Kind Was Reported Yesterday.

NUMBER OF ATTRACTIONS

Kept the People Busy—Large Numbers Went Out of the City.

Dominion Day passed off in an exceedingly quiet manner in London. Not a single accident of any kind was reported. A great many people spent the holiday out of the city, but on the other hand there was a large number of visitors. Springbank was one of the leading centres of attraction, and for some time during the afternoon the cars could not accommodate the people who wanted to go.

Thousands of people lined both sides of the river bank below the pump-house and watched the regatta, which lasted all the afternoon. Many of these people brought lunches with them, and in the evening formed parties and picnicked at the park. At Byron there was the usual large crowd of holiday fishermen.

Big Crowds. In the afternoon and in the evening thousands of people visited the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show.

Both in the morning and afternoon the baseball games were patronized by large crowds of fans.

"We expected to do a big business," a nickel show man told The Advertiser, "but we were more than surprised at the crowds. We simply could not handle them at times."

Hundreds of citizens went down to Port Stanley and spent the day in different ways. There were many fishermen, and quite a number went boating. One of the largest and most enjoyable picnics was that of the Centennial Methodist Church Epworth League. Between 150 and 200 people went down and had a most delightful time throughout the day.

Miss Grimason will be absent until the middle of September.

MISS GRIMASON GIVEN A SENDOFF

Friends Gathered at G. T. R. Depot Last Night to Bid Her Bon Voyage.

Miss Winnie Grimason, of 448 Horton street, left last night via the G. T. R. at 6:55 for Montreal, where she sailed today on the Magenta for Liverpool.

and thence to Belfast, Ireland, where she will spend two months with her father, whom she has not seen for some years.

A large number of her friends were on the depot and they gave her a royal send-off. She received many parting gifts from well-wishers, and was thoroughly shown the right regard in which she is held by her acquaintances in London.

Miss Grimason will be absent until the middle of September.

COBALT CITY SWEEPED BY FIRE HALF A MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE

Early Morning Conflagration Does Immense Damage—Two Men Reported Killed and a Number of Children Missing.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Cobalt, July 2.—The largest fire ever known in Cobalt broke out this morning at 4 o'clock in the restaurant owned by Joe Lee, a Chinaman, on Halleybury road. Damage to the extent of over half a million dollars is estimated. The whole of the Halleybury road from where the fire started is burned. One man was killed during the operation of blasting houses, which it was thought would prevent the spread of the fire. Four children are missing also.

The Halleybury disaster department was called in to assist, and responded well. A scene of devastation is now presented to spectators. Feeling against any Celestials in town is great. Very little insurance covers loss, and the whole city is in a state of consternation. Many are almost distracted. The entire business section north of the square is gone. A second man is reported killed. Three thousand people have been rendered homeless.

Halleybury and New Liskeard fire brigades were sent for, and arrived on a special train. They have been placed at the northern end of the fire, and are fighting it, trying to keep it from running the entire length of the street. Both sides of the street for over half a mile are swept as clean as they possibly could be, as all the buildings were of frame without a foundation.

CALIFORNIANS HAVE QUAKES EVERY NIGHT

Eruption of Mount Filmore Is Feared and Miners Refuse to Work.

Downville, Cal., July 2.—For over a week earthquake shocks have been felt here every night, and the residents of this city of Sierra County are getting uneasy, as they fear an eruption of Mount Filmore, which seems the centre of the disturbed area. Miners, fearing cave-ins, are refusing to work underground.

San Bernardino, Cal., July 2.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 5:30 a.m. yesterday. No damage was done. The atmosphere was unusually heavy throughout the day, with the thermometer registering 105.

Sullivan Recovering.

James Sullivan, who was found lying beside the G. T. R. tracks, near Thames street, on Wednesday morning, is progressing favorably at Victoria Hospital, and it is likely that he will be around in a short time.

San Francisco, Cal., July 2.—James Edward Cunningham, a laborer today confessed to the murder of Miss Caroline Brasch, cashier for Gray Brothers' Construction Company, who was shot and killed in the company's office last Wednesday. Cunningham surrendered himself because another man was under arrest charged with the crime.

Confesses Murder to Save Innocent.

It was stated to The Advertiser today that on Thursday night a fire in the Springbank reservoir dropped three feet.

The statement was a most remarkable one, because there has been no rain for several days, and the consumption of water has been large.

"This additional water would prove of tremendous service to us if we had a big fire," the chief said. "I feel safe now."

1,000,000 GALLONS FROM 4 WELLS

Horton Street Artesian Scheme Proves Wonderful Success Is the Test.

PEOPLE ARE NOW USING THE WATER

Full Supply of Wells Will Likely Give People Much More Water Than Was Promised.

One million gallons of pure spring water, pumped from the Beck artesian wells, on Horton street, are being forced into the city mains today, and this water, mingled with that from Springbank, is going into every house in the city and onto every table.

This is the answer to the cries set afloat that the water is not good, that it is sulphurous, and all the rest. The people are drinking the water, are using it for cooking, and they do not know the difference. This article will carry the news to thousands of Londoners that they are drinking water from the new springs supply.

1,000,000 From Four Wells.

But this is not all. The city has been promised that 2,000,000 gallons may be obtained from the fifteen wells. That this statement, on the part of the gentleman who promoted the scheme for the citizens, is a modest one is proven by the fact that only four wells are being pumped today, and yet 1,000,000 gallons of water are being forced into the mains.

Accepting as a fact that the water from all the wells may be used, it will be seen that at today's average, the available supply is nearer 3,000,000 than 2,000,000 from the fifteen wells.

This morning the temporary pumping plant rounded into shape about 11 o'clock, and after that time the full million gallons of water were being pumped into the main against a pressure of about 85 pounds at Thames street.

Pressure Jumps.

The city water pressure took a jump as a result of the increased supply. At the central fire station at noon the pressure was over 70 pounds.

To show the difference since the wells were put at work it is only necessary to give the following table of pressures on different days:

June 28 45
June 29 55
June 30 43
July 1 60
July 2 62

These pressures were taken from the official records of the fire chief, and were for the hour of 11 a.m. At noon today, over 70 pounds, as stated above, was recorded.

Thursday night at 9 o'clock 71 pounds was shown.

The wells being pumped today are Nos. 9, 10, 11 and also No. 3. When all are being pumped the effect on the pressure will be most gratifying.

Fire Chief Pleased.

Chief Atken stated to The Advertiser today that he has noted an improvement of about ten pounds in the pressure on an average, and this in spite of the fact that there has been no rain for several days, and the consumption of water has been large.

"This additional water would prove of tremendous service to us if we had a big fire," the chief said. "I feel safe now."

Up to Commissioners.

It was suggested to The Advertiser that if the drop of three feet had really taken place it was incumbent upon the water commissioners to find the leak and stop it.

Mr. Moore also informed the reporter that he visited the wells on Horton street today and found a flow of about one million gallons of water.

INFANT AND A MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Two Fatal Accidents at Winnipeg on Dominion Day.

Winnipeg, July 1.—Olive Day, the 3-year-old daughter of A. Day, was run over by a street car today and instantly killed. The conductor was arrested.

A horrible accident occurred at the militia camp during a gun-firing competition. Harry Daniels, of the Thirtieth Field Battery, was run over, veteran.

THE JAIL RETURNS FOR LAST QUARTER

The jail returns for the quarter ending June 30 show a total of 188 prisoners committed during the quarter. These prisoners averaged a detention of 2.84 days. The daily cost of rations for the prisoners, without medical attendance, amounted to 6.44 cents, and with medical attendance 6.64 cents per individual.

Provincial Bailiff Ryan arrived at the jail this morning to take three prisoners to the Central Prison to serve their sentences for theft. Two of them go for six months and one for a year.

PT. HURON PRISONER STILL A FUGITIVE

Port Huron, Mich., July 1.—"Joe" McDonald, 24 years old, who escaped from Deputy Sheriff Drexler last Saturday night, is still missing. Sheriff Wagenseil has offered a reward of $50 and has notified the authorities all over Michigan and Canada.

The local officers believe that friends of the prisoner made plans for his escape while he was still in jail. It is thought they met him after he left his mother's home and gave him money enough for a long journey.

McDonald secured a freedom by telling the sheriff that he wanted to visit his aged mother before being taken to Ionia. No sooner had he entered the house than he dropped through a trap door in a bedroom and escaped through the cellar. He would have been taken to Ionia to serve not less than two or more than 15 years for attempted highway robbery.

A Double Drowning at Montreal

Montreal, July 1.—Mrs. Frederick Devenish, wife of Mr. Fred Devenish, of the editorial staff of the Montreal Witness, and Mr. Jack Cain were drowned today by the upsetting of a boat.

Mr. Devenish, with his wife and daughter, were out for a sail with Mr. Cain around Dixie Island, when in a sudden squall the boat was overturned.

A yacht happened to be near, manned by Mr. Lorne MacMillan and a party of friends, and they managed to save Mr. Devenish and his daughter. In the rough weather, however, they had to make a tack before they could get near Mr. Cain, who was supporting Mrs. Devenish, and before they could get back both had sunk.

Boys Killed By Gasoline Explosion

Halifax, July 1.—By an explosion at Shag Harbor today two boys were killed and four others probably fatally injured.

Eight boys were playing in the station house and one had lighted a candle which ignited a barrel of gasoline. A terrible explosion followed, the building being blown to atoms.

McClellan "Fires" Police Chief

New York, July 1.—One of the most drastic upheavals in New York City's police history came today, when Mayor McClellan summarily removed Commissioner Theodore A. Bingham for insubordination, after the latter's refusal to comply with certain orders issued by the mayor yesterday.

The mayor's orders came at the conclusion of his investigation into the alleged police persecution of George B. Duffy, a Brooklyn lad, who, it was claimed, had been repeatedly arrested without just cause. The photograph was retained in the rogues' gallery, despite the failure of the police to obtain a conviction against him. The mayor held that at least two of General Bingham's lieutenants had been guilty of misconduct in this affair, and accordingly demanded their removal.

TRAGEDIES MARK TORONTO HOLIDAY

The Sensational Suicide of a Young Englishman.

ISLAND BATHER DROWNS

Welshman Killed by a Trolley Car Before the Eyes of His Sweetheart.

Toronto, July 1.—The holiday in Toronto was marred by three fatalities. At 2:30 in the morning Albert Frost, the young Englishman, seven years in this country, whose parents reside in Sydenham, England, jumped from the Glen road bridge, falling 125 feet, and being practically smashed to pieces.

Frost left a pitiful note to a brother residing here, saying that the life that he had led had brought him so low that he felt that he could never rise again.

Shortly after noon Leonard Bustrade aged 15 years, while bathing off Island Park, was drowned. Several companions tried to save him.

Tonight John B. Wilkey, of Mimico, was struck by a car at the corner of Simcoe and Emeley street, and instantly killed. He had just come from the Union station from a train after an outing with his sweetheart, and after putting her in the car for her home started across the street to take a car for Mimico, not noticing a car coming from the opposite direction, which struck and instantly killed him. Wilkey was out from Wales about a year, and his sweetheart was from that country also.

PETROSINO'S SLAYER CAUGHT IN MEXICO

Carmelo Alvaro Under Arrest and To Be Extradited by the U. S.

New York, July 1.—A Mexico City dispatch to the Herald says that an Italian, giving the name of Carmelo Alvaro, who is believed to be the slayer of Detective Petrosino, is under arrest in that city. The arrest was made on Tuesday of last week, but the fact was kept a close secret pending investigation of the man's record. The prisoner is about 34 years old, and, despite his assertion that he has been in Mexico more than four months, evidence is at hand that he reached Mexico less than two months ago. It is said the extradition papers from the United States are now on their way to the authorities in Mexico City.

The dispatch quoted the Mexican Herald as saying David L. Thompson, United States ambassador to Mexico, was believed by the New York police that Petrosino's slayer had been traced to Mexico. He communicated the fact to the Italian minister, who took the matter up with Minister Mariscal, of the department of foreign relations. The result was that the Mexican secret service took it up.

a class by himself. Johnny Baker, the celebrated American marksman, demonstrated that he has no peer in his particular vocation by his shooting while assuming awkward positions and lying on the ground.

An exhibition of military drill by the Devil's olives was well done. The cowboy fraternity of the show gave a practical demonstration of throwing the lariat and riding the wild bucking horses and mules, which kept the audience in roars of laughter.

The show opens with the usual review wherein the Occident meets the Orient in gorgeous pageantry, pomp and procession. Other features of interest, presented were the pony express, demonstrating how messages were carried across the continent previous to the building of telegraph lines and railways; the United States artillery drill, showing the old muzzle-loading methods; the old Deadwood stage coach; the Russian Cosacks, who present reckless feats of horsemanship; the battle of Summit Springs and a high diving act that is a thriller.

The finale presents "Buffalo Bill" and all his company in an effective tableau.

FARTHING OF 1185 BRINGS 83 POUNDS

Only One Extant Disposed of at Sale of Rashleigh Collection in London.

London, July 1.—The Rashleigh coin collection was sold at auction at Sotheby's today. A gold Patrick farthing brought £83. It is believed to be the only one extant. It was coined at Carrickfergus or Down Patrick about 1185 by the governor of Ireland under King Henry 2d. It has a representation of David playing a harp on one side and St. Patrick driving the reptiles out of Ireland on the other. The total sum realized at the sale was £2707.

THE MOST RELIABLE AND Successful Authority—Greatest success in the treatment of Hernia (Rupture) Varicocele (False Rupture) of all known ages in modern times. He who makes a specialty of one department must certainly be more experienced and capable than those having "many irons in the fire." Don't put off your case, believing it to be simple. Remember neglect often proves fatal. Have your case attended to now, and thus avoid danger. Stop waiting time and money elsewhere but come to one whose life-long study has taught him what to do. Do not depend or be deterred from seeking further advice, or because of repeated failures consider your case incurable. Because others failed in your case you have become discouraged. This is the very time you should consult me as my reputation has been made in curing hopeless (so-called) cases. LADIES suffering from Navel or any form of Rupture should not hesitate in having their case attended to at once. Everything strictly private and professional.

MOTHERS—Look to your children—Now is the time to have them cured, while young. Don't allow them to grow up handicapped in the race of life, with ruptures.

MY CHARGES are within reach of all, the poor man as well as the rich. Terms can be satisfactorily arranged, no reason why you should not consult me at once, during this visit.

VARICOCELE, FALSE RUPTURE
The universal tendency of these conditions is to grow worse and more complicated—leading to impotency, nervous debility, wasting, structure, lumbar, sexual exhaustion, etc. Do you intend to result in the above conditions? No matter how serious your case may be, time affords, or the failure you may have experienced in trying to be cured by medicine—free trials, or Electric belts—my Holman system will cure you; the wormy veins return to their normal condition and hence the sexual organs receive proper nourishment, the parts become vitalized and many powers return. No temporary benefit, but a PERMANENT ONE. NO OPERATION necessary. No detention from business. If you have had the usual experience you have no doubt spent large sums of money and still larger quantities of time searching for the remedy that I offer you here.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JULY 2

SOUTH AFRICA.

The last obstacle in the way of a United South Africa seems to have been cleared away by the final vote of the people of Natal. Out of a total poll of 14,822, those in favor of union numbered 11,121—a substantial majority. That the majority was so great indicates a high degree of patriotism, rising above local considerations.

Natal is emphatically a British colony, in contrast with all the other South African states, where the Dutch element predominates. To go into a union which would create an apparently Dutch South Africa, where the British ideals of Natal would be held only by a minority, was a condition not pleasant to contemplate. With memories of the late war still in mind, with the practices of Kruger and his associates not forgotten, and with occasional incidents cropping up which showed Krugerism not altogether extinct, it was but natural that there should be more hesitancy—even some bitter opposition. But after careful thought, by a pronounced majority, Natal has laid aside its fears and its prejudices, Britain has joined with Dutchman, and the confederation is practically accomplished.

The people of Natal appear to have realized the necessity for union. Had the little colony remained outside, the South African Confederation would have been incomplete. It would have lacked the influence of the British colony—perhaps necessary if South Africa is to remain British. It would have lacked an important piece of territory, with a valuable sea coast and sea ports. On the other hand, Natal isolated with an antagonistic Dutch Africa adjacent, would have suffered greatly. The lesser of two evils was chosen, the risks involved were assumed, and Natal will take its place in the union.

The condition of affairs in South Africa has thus taken on a new aspect. The position is somewhat startling. Men of alien races, who a few years ago were fighting, are now joined, not in an alliance, but actually in a political union. Boer soldiers and pro-Boer statesmen are now the leading men in a British over-sea state. What will be the result? Extremists in Africa, and pessimists throughout the empire, will predict failure. And yet it is not necessary that failure should follow. There is a British element in South Africa, though in a minority; there is a progressive Dutch element, led by men like Gen. Botha. With these two united, the anti-British element should be kept under control until in time experience and education smother the anti-British spirit. If the more progressive Dutch prove loyal to British, South Africa will become as British as Canada. There is today none more loyal to the British crown than the French-Canadian; in the future the Dutch African may rival him in loyalty.

It may be only an experiment; but it was certainly an experiment worth trying. For certainly it is the only plan which, if successful, can make South Africa a prosperous community. There spreads a vast area, with untold wealth and magnificent possibilities, which can only develop under the British system of government in connection with British methods of business and British ideals of life. The Boer of the Kruger type may desire the isolation of the patriarchal system. Perhaps he would be happier with it. But it means a dull stagnation, under which there can be no progress—no progress for the South African white—no liberty and development for the South African black. So in their own interests, as well as in the interests of the empire, we welcome the South African provinces to their place among the Dominions of Greater Britain, and hope for, and believe in, the success of the new experiment in the Dark Continent. Northern Africa, where Carthage was the rival of Rome, held a high place in the then civilized world. May South Africa take a higher place in the truer civilization of the future.

FIRE INSURANCE IN CANADA.

The annual report on fire insurance issued by the department at Ottawa deals only with companies operating under Dominion charters, and as in all the provinces there are companies doing business under provincial charters the figures in the report by no means represent all the fire insurance busness done in Canada. The official statement is interesting, nevertheless. It shows that during 1908 the fifty-three companies reporting to the department at Ottawa—twenty-one of which are Canadian, eighteen British and fourteen United States concerns—received in cash premiums the immense sum of $17,937,329, or about $900,000 more than in 1907. Fire losses called for the payment of $10,278,321—an increase of about $1,300,000 over the amount paid the previous year. The net amount at risk on Dec. 31, 1908, was $1,700,883,514.

In spite of the fact that the losses last year were greater than in the preceding twelve months, there was left in 1908 a balance available for appropriation either as dividends to shareholders or to strengthen the revenue. As usual the British companies had the largest share of the business last year, and the risks held by them on Dec. 31, totalled $976,873,409, or considerably more than one-half of the risks carried by all the companies reporting. This is no doubt due to the fact that the long experience in business of the British companies has enabled them to build up very large reserves, and people seem to have most confidence in companies which can make the biggest showing in this respect.

The report shows the average rate charged by the British companies to have been $1.48 per $100; by Canadian companies $1.52, and by United States companies $1.54. This slight difference is attributed more to a variation in the business taken than in the rate charged. The range of difference between the average rates of different companies was from $1.06 per $100 to $2.10, this difference of $1.04 being also due to the character of the business undertaken. More marked was the difference in the rate of losses. During the year one company, doubtless less particular than others as to the character of risks it accepts, paid for losses an amount 28 1/2 per cent in excess of its net premium income; but the average proportion of losses to premiums was 60.33 per cent, compared with 52.41 per cent in 1907. During 1908 Canadian companies suffered the most from fires, their losses amounting to 69.33 per cent of their premium income. The British companies' loss ratio was 58.23 per cent, and that of the United States companies 56.18 per cent.

REPRESSION IN RUSSIA.

That there has been no diminution of repression by the Russian Government since the Duma was first established is evident from the statistics of capital punishment made public by the ministry of the interior. Under the ordinary penal code capital punishment is not recognized; it is the court-martial that sends offenders to their death. According to Prince Kropotkin, the whole country is practically under martial law, governors ruling their provinces like despots.

The number of persons executed in 1905, after trial by court-martial, was 10; in 1906 it increased to 144; in 1907 to 456, and in 1908 to 825. In the first three months of the present year there were 235 executions, which is at the rate of 540 for the year. Prince Kropotkin claims that executions are carried out by the governors' orders without even the pretence of a court-martial, and that fear of losing their positions prevents officials from showing leniency to accused persons.

The prince gives details in support of his arraignment of Government methods. The minister of the interior and all the provincial governors possess the power to banish persons to Siberia or the northern wastes of European Russia without trial, and it is a power which is fully exercised. The number of Russians now in exile is placed at 75,000, among the victims being eighteen former members of the Duma. About 240 ex-deputies and over 400 newspaper editors have been sent to prison. The prisons are said to be terribly overcrowded. In February last there were incarcerated in them 181,137 persons, although they are capable of accommodating not more than half that number.

Evidently under Premier Stolypin Russia is suffering from the iron heel as much as under any of his predecessors.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

[Winnipeg Free Press.] It appears likely that the proposed conference between the Governments of Canada, United States, Russia and Japan, to discuss the question of pelagic sealing, will be held at last. The matter has become one of considerable urgency owing to the depletion of the seal herds by Japanese sealers, who are not restricted in their operations as are the sealers of Great Britain and Canada, of the United States and of Russia, who are not allowed to take seals except in certain seasons and then not within a distance of sixty miles from the Pribiloff Islands. Japanese sealers are at liberty to take seals at any time of the year and within three miles of the islands' shores with the result that the seal herd is threatened with extermination. The question has been the subject of long negotiations between the governments interested, and Russia, Japan and the United States have all agreed to the proposed conference. The assent of Canada is understood to have been so far withheld owing to the difficulty of securing adequate as-urances from Washington of the compensation which would be paid to Canadian fishermen in the event of sealing being entirely stopped for a term of years; but this, it is understood, is not an insuperable difficulty, and there is every reason to hope that it can be overcome. The proposed conference has for some years been agitated for by the sealers of British Columbia.

DENISON ANSWERED.

[Winnipeg Free Press.] Col. G. T. Denison, the "Savior of the Empire," has not had long to wait for the answer to his lament that the empire would go to the dogs unless a system of protection, with preference on the side, were not adopted at once. The foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, was the mouthpiece of the British Government, and he points out, quite rightly, that not only do the tariff reformers want the self-governing states to be free to interfere in the domestic politics of Britain, but that if the Denisonian policy were adopted the mother country must by the mere force of its power in the combination, have the right to say to the Dominion what duties they must impose. It does not require a deep student of politics, or even of human nature, to come to the conclusion that instead of being a bond of union such a policy would be a source of discord and perpetual friction. Freedom to legislate according to the needs of each individual portion of the empire has been the basis upon which the empire has been built; to transform it into a system of compulsion, either in the direction of free trade or of protection, would undo the work of generations. Canada would welcome a preference in the British markets as against the foreigner, but if such a preference were to be bought at the cost of fiscal independence it would be a sorry bargain.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF BURNS.

[Robert G. Ingersoll.] Though Scotland boasts a thousand names of patriot, king and peer, The noblest, grandest of them all, was loved and cradled here. Here lived the gentle peasant-Prince the loving cotter-king. Compared with whom the greatest lord is but a little thing.

'Tis but a cot roofed in with straw, a novel made of clay. One door shuts out the snow and storm, one window greets the day; And yet I stand within this room and hold all thrones in scorn; For here, beneath this lowly thatch, love's sweetest hard was born.

Within this hallowed hut I feel like one who clasps a shrine. When the glad lips at last have touched the something deemed divine. And here the world through all the years, as long as day returns, The tribute of its love and tears will pay to Robert Burns.

A CLUB FOR CANADA.

[Hamilton Times.] The United States Senate has adopted the Brown amendment as to the duty on wool pulp, giving the President power to double it against any country restricting in any way the export of pulpwood therefrom; also, to double the duty upon paper exported from such country as the United States. These amendments are a kind of club intended to be used against Canada, Ontario and Quebec, forbidding the export of pulpwood from their crown lands. As a coercion measure, it will prove a flat failure.

ORVILLE WRIGHT IN WONDERFUL FLIGHT

His Aeroplane Cirls Eirdlike Before Thousands at Washington.

Washington, July 1.—Orville Wright today encircled the Fort Meyer drill grounds time after time in his aeroplane in three successful flights, while thousands of spectators cheered him.

After the unsuccessful attempts of the past two days the performances of the flying machine today were inspiring. While the machine oscillated at certain points in its flights and dipped and rose suddenly at other points, it was evident from the regularity with which these things happened that they were due to the condition of the atmosphere and not to any fault of the machine.

Previous to the flight the field had been cleared by a troop of cavalry. After the motor had been tested, the weight which gives the aeroplane its start was hoisted, the propellers were cranked and Orville turned on the motor. The screws whirled around at what seemed like greater speed than on the previous occasions and as Orville climbed into his seat Wilbur put his hand on the right wing ready to run along with the machine. Nodding to his brother, Orville released the machine and it started down the track at a rapid rate. As it neared the end of the starting rail, Orville turned up the forward horizontal rudders and the machine arose into the air.

It was a beautiful start and the crowd cheered lustily. Down the field the aeroplane sailed, curved gracefully about the lower end and back up the east side of the field along the edge of Arlington cemetery. It was behaving beautifully. Mr. Wright was making very short turns, but as he seemed to regain familiarity with the ground over which he was travelling he increased the radius of his trips. The first round was made in 50 seconds. Five times the machine skirted the field, attaining a height which varied from 15 to 30 feet.

On the sixth round Mr. Wright came to earth within a few hundred feet of the starting point, completing the flight in exactly five minutes. The landing was perfect. The machine was returned to the starting apparatus and another flight was essayed. In this Orville made much wider turns and rose to a greater height. The machine encircled the field with ease and grace, responding readily to the aviator's guiding hands.

MESSINA AGAIN SHAKEN BY QUAKE

Terrific Shock Thursday Morning Starts a Panic.

DAMAGE IN COUNTRY

Sicily Is Once More Stricken by a Dreadful Seismic Shock.

Messina, Sicily, July 1.—Earth shocks both here and in Reggio at 7:30 o'clock this morning created a panic among the people of these two cities. Walls of houses that were not completely destroyed in the visitation of last December were shaken down, and the inhabitants rushed from the streets towards the open area. A woman and a child were caught under wreckage and sustained serious injury and the woman subsequently died.

Shocks More Intense.

The earth shocks have been becoming more intense recently, and last night they were sufficiently severe to cause alarm. The shocks of this morning were accompanied by deep roaring sounds. The first one was followed by an explosion like the roar of cannon, and lasted between eight and ten seconds, which seemed an eternity to the terrified population. It is said that this quake was of greater severity than the fatal one of the night of Dec. 28. The wood of the houses and huts erected for the accommodation of people seemed to be thrown from one side to another. Cries filled the air as the people fled in terror.

As on the night of Dec. 28 the first shock was followed by an irregular movement of the ground. Many five minutes later there came another quake, accompanied by further roaring sounds. This completed the destruction. The remains of the devastated houses collapsed, and the entire district was covered by a dense cloud of dust.

Detachments of troops and carabinieri were dispatched for the protection of the wooden huts built with American money that had not yet been distributed. The population, fleeing from the districts where the houses threatened to fall upon them, rushed toward the American huts with the intention of taking forcible possession of them.

Between 8 o'clock last night, and twenty minutes past 7 this morning, a total of eight shocks were experienced here.

Messina, July 1.—The instruments at the Observatory have registered a total of ten shocks of varying severity since 7:30 o'clock this morning. News that has come in here from the provinces shows that damage has been wrought there, but it is as yet impossible to estimate the extent of the disaster. Sailors, soldiers and policemen have been sent out through the district to prevent looting and give courage to the people.

Reggio, July 1.—A strong earth shock was experienced here at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Many walls were thrown down, but up to the present time no casualties have been reported. The people have been in a condition of panic which has been added to by the contradictory reports of the severity of the earthquake at Messina.

King Grieved.

Rome, July 1.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena were deeply grieved to learn of the second earthquake at Messina, and they inquired anxiously for details.

Her majesty was gratified to learn that the village of Regina Elena, built on the outskirts of Messina, under her auspices, had escaped uninjured. The houses in this village all are of wood.

Father J. H. Hagan, director of the Vatican Observatory, was the first person to inform the Pope of a strong earth shock. His information was confirmed shortly afterwards by telegrams from the Archbishop of Messina and the Bishop of Mileto.

Buried in House.

Messina, July 1.—The woman who lost her life was standing in the doorway of the house when the first shock occurred. She rushed inside and caught up a child eight months old, and started to make her way to the street. The woman was killed by the shock, and both mother and child were buried. Soldiers hurried to the scene and began a work of rescue. The child was taken out alive, but up to the present time the woman has not been found. She was heard ten minutes after the second shock crying for assistance.

YELLOW FRIEND OF WHITE GIRL SLAIN

Everything of Value Taken From Laundry Where Young Blonde Visited Him.

New York, July 1.—A Chinaman was murdered today in his basement laundry at 124 Stanton street. It is not known whether white men or Chinamen killed him. It appears to be clear that two men had a hand in it.

The Chinaman was Ung Yow. He had been five years in this country and had worked with his brother, Ung Fong at 202 East Houston street, for a couple of years past. He bought the Stanton street laundry from Tom Lee, a former partner and started business for himself.

The janitress of the building at 124 Stanton street is Mrs. Rose Rabnowitz, and her 3-year-old daughter Sadie quickly made friends with the Chinaman. Sadie used to go every day to the laundry window from the court in the rear, and Ung Yow each time gave her candy or lyeche nuts. Sadie got to like the Chinese girls,

72 Days of Dish Washing

You spend two hours every day washing dishes. That's 720 hours a year or 72 days of ten working hours each. This means that half the time is wasted. For with Taylor's Borax Soap you finish your work in one hour instead of two. Isn't it worth five cents to have 36 days a year to yourself—to have cleaner and sweeter dishes than ever before with less than half the work?

Taylor's Soap

This wonderful soap is unlike any other you have ever known. It digs into the corners of dishes and loosens the dirt almost like magic. It cuts away grease and leaves the surface clean and polished.

Hard water makes hard dish washing, but Taylor's Borax Soap softens the hardest water and so makes the work easy. But it does more than soften the water—it softens the hands and leaves them even whiter than before.

With this soap you save all the bother of rubbing and most of the scouring. You simply have no idea of the work this soap can save—it's the greatest surprise you have ever known.

The glassware has a lustre that fairly sparkles with brilliance. The china ware looks as fresh and inviting as new. Yet you work only half as hard with this astonishing soap. No soap could be purer than this, for during the boiling process we run thousands of gallons of clean water through the soap. Thus every impurity is carried away and the soap is absolutely clean.

Borax also sterilizes and sweetens. It kills every germ and leaves no possibility of contagion. It destroys all odors and leaves a clean scent that is simply delightful.

This wonderful soap costs no more than the ordinary. We spend twenty-one days to make a single cake. We use the labor of more than 200 persons. Yet we make such enormous quantities—millions of cakes every year—that we buy at the lowest prices and give you the very best of quality. Try one bar and judge for yourself.

GIROUARD NOW GOVERNOR
All-Red Route Proposal Dropped for Present by the Government.
London, June 30.—Col. Sir Percy Girouard has been appointed governor of the East African protectorate. He is a Canadian.

It is understood that no further action will be taken by the Government in connection with the all-red route, which has been abandoned at least for the present.

Owing to the absence of organization, little so far has been done here in connection with the offer of free space to exhibitors by the Toronto exhibition. No action has been taken by the London Chamber of Commerce and nothing has been done at Strathcona's office.

A Prince of Sinners

BY PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malefactor," "A Maker of History," Etc.

"Are you speaking with authority, young man?" Mr. Henslow asked.

"Of course I am. I am the representative of the Liberal parliamentary committee, and I am empowered to say these things to you, and no more."

"Well, I'll do the best I can to get a date," Mr. Henslow said, grumblingly, "but you fellows are always in such a hurry, and you don't understand that it don't go up here. We have to wait our time month after month sometimes."

"I don't see any motion down in your name at all yet," Brooks remarked.

"I told you that Sir Henry struck it through."

"Then I shall call upon him and point out that he is throwing away a Liberal seat at the next election," Brooks replied. "He isn't the sort of man to encourage a member to break his election pledges."

"You'll make a mess of the whole thing if you do anything of the sort," Henslow declared. "Look here, come and have a bit of dinner with me, and talk things over a bit more pleasantly, eh? There's no use in getting our rage out."

"Please excuse me," Brooks said. "I have arranged to dine elsewhere. I do not wish to seem dictatorial or unreasonable, but I have just come from Medchester, where the distress is, if anything, worse than ever. It makes one's heart sick to walk the streets, and when I look into the people's faces I seem to always hear that great shout of hope and enthusiasm which your speech in the market-place evoked. You see, there is only one real hope for those people, and that is legislation, and you are the man directly responsible to them for that."

that obstinate young person, Miss—
Scott."
Brooks wheeled an easy-chair towards him.
"I am in no great hurry," he remarked.
Arranmore glanced at the clock.
"More am I," he said, "but I find I am dining with the prime minister at 9 o'clock. It occurs to me that you may have some influence with her."

"We are on fairly friendly terms," Brooks admitted.
"Just so. Well, she may have told you that my solicitors approached her, as the daughter of Martin Scott, with an offer of a certain sum of money, which is only a fair and reasonable item, which I won from her father at a time when we were not playing on equal terms. It was through that she found me out."

"Yes; I knew as much as that," Brooks imagined. But the hot-headed young woman has up to now steadily refused to accept anything whatever from me. Quite ridiculous of her. There's no doubt that I broke up the happy home, and all that sort of thing, but I really can't see why she should permit me the opportunity of making some restitution."

"You want her to afford you the luxury of saving your conscience," Brooks remarked.
Lord Arranmore laughed hardily.
"Conscience," he repeated. "You ought to know me better, Brooks, than to suppose me possessed of such a thing. No, I have a sense of justice, that is all—a sort of weakness for seeing the scales held fairly. Now, don't you think it is reasonable that she should accept this money from me?"

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE RUNNING BACKWARDS

Unusual Accident Near Fort William That Causes Conductor's Death.

Fort William, July 1.—As the result of a tail-end collision between a ballast train and a train of empty box cars yesterday afternoon, Conductor Fred Way, of this city, on the train of box cars, lost his life, and Brakeman John Isaac sustained serious injuries. The accident happened at about 3:30, at a point 25 miles west of here. Both trains were engaged in track work, and both were running backwards, one train with empty cars backing from Kaminitiquia with ballast.

Conductor Way, who was in charge of the empty train, was at the head of the train, and as the collision occurred, just rounding the bend in the track he did not see the other train approaching. The shock of the collision threw him between the cars, and he sustained such severe injuries to his head that he died within half an hour, without regaining consciousness.

John Isaac, brakeman on the empties, jumped, and sustained a badly cut face and a sprained ankle. Brakeman Jack Whitman, on the ballast train, saw a collision was impending, and threw on the emergency brake and then jumped. He escaped without injury, and had it not been for his prompt action the accident would have been much worse, for the local was due. He, however, immediately ran back and succeeded in flagging it with about 50 seconds to spare.

The impact of the two trains was very severe, as the train of empties was running at high speed. Wreckage was thrown over both tracks, and the local would undoubtedly have run right into it. The accident occurred on the westbound track, and though a work train was despatched from here immediately, it took several hours to clear the line. On the news reaching the city a special conveyed Dr. Cook to the scene, but Conductor Way was past all help, and his body and Brakeman Isaac were brought back. Conductor Way leaves a wife and several children.

BERESFORD WARNS

Again Declares the British Navy Is Not Prepared for War.

London, July 1.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford appeared before the London Chamber of Commerce this afternoon in his favorite role of a candid critic of the naval administration. The effect of his speech, however, was to a certain extent discounted by the apparently authoritative announcement that the admiral has failed to establish his case before a committee of the cabinet and experts appointed at his own request, which has been sitting for some weeks past.

Nevertheless the admiral again declared that the situation in the navy was more serious than was generally known, and he said that in order to put the empire in a state of safety by March, 1914, Great Britain would have to build 10 battleships, 18 second-class cruisers, 18 cruisers for the protection of commerce, 24 vessels of the new type, larger than torpedo boat destroyers, and four floating docks, as well as replenish the depleted stores of ammunition, coal, etc., and add 16,000 men to the personnel.

This programme would necessitate an expenditure of from $275,000,000 to $300,000,000.

PIERCED BY OWN LANCE

Tragic Death of a Gunner Practicing at Tent-Pegging.

London, June 30.—Corporal Newman, a gunner of the Royal Field Artillery, met his death in a remarkable manner recently, while practicing tent-pegging for a display at the horse show at Olympia.

He missed the peg, and was swinging the lance over his head, when it flew from his grasp. The butt end embedded itself in the ground in front of the galloping horse, and the point falling towards the rider, he was impaled on his own weapon. Both lungs were pierced, the lance going completely through the body.

Newman fell from his horse, pulled out the weapon, and died in a companion's arms.

At the inquest it was stated that there was no record of such an accident having happened before.

THE WESTERN WHEAT COMING ALONG GOOD

Crop Reports of the Canadian Pacific Are Most Encouraging.

Winnipeg, July 1.—The crop report of the Canadian Pacific, received today, from points all over the west, is as good showing as could possibly be wished for. Forage reports grain in shot blade; at Emerson it is from 15 to 17 inches in height; at Minnedosa there was fifteen hours' rain; at Napinka the growth is from ten to twelve inches; at Gainsboro prospects were never better; at Nokomis the growth is from twenty to thirty inches; heavy rains have fallen at Saskatoon; at Rapid City all the conditions are perfect; at Moosejaw the growth is fifteen inches, and at Moose Mountain from eighteen to twenty inches; at Edmonton both spring and fall wheat are making excellent progress; Daysland, on the Wetaskiwin branch, reports the grain heading out; at Tees, on the Lacombe branch, fall wheat is all headed out. No. 1 hard winter wheat is every station on the line where grain is grown.

About 60 per cent of the fall wheat in Southern Alberta has been winter killed, according to Mr. J. T. Gordon, M.P.P., who returned from the west today, but the acreage of spring wheat has been largely increased.

"At the present time," said Mr. Gordon, "an enormous immigration is flowing into Southern Alberta. It is six years since I last visited our ranches in the west, and the change in conditions since then was a revelation to me. Where, ten years ago, one could drive 100 miles without encountering a fence, great sections of country are now broken up and fenced, and all travel must be along the road allowances, as in Manitoba. Cattle wintered well in Alberta until April, when they were much reduced in flesh, but not in numbers, by unfavorable weather. Exports of cattle from that province during 1909 will not approach the numbers for 1908."

LEON LING'S COUSIN LIVES IN MONTREAL

But He Would Quickly Hand Murderer Over to Police If Caught.

Montreal, July 1.—While the whole continent searches for Leon Ling, the murderer of Elsie Sigel, the white girl missionary in New York Chinatown, Montreal Celestials are watching and waiting—hoping for the arrival of the hunted man. Should he be seen here, his term of liberty will be short, for the leaders in the local colony will offer no sympathy nor assistance, and the murderer's own cousin, who is now in Montreal, would be the first to turn him over to the police.

Leon Ling is known only by reputation to most of the Chinamen in Montreal, but his relative, Ling Mung Chung, who is one of the international organizers of the Chinese Reform Association, and who lives at 52 La Gauchetière street west, was once his intimate friend. Mr. Chung came here to attend the reception to the new Chinese consul-general, and intends to remain indefinitely.

A reporter talked with Mr. Chung yesterday. The little man grew fiery as he discussed his cousin's case and made it clear that Leon Ling would find none of his friends among intelligent Chinese.

Should Lose Head.

"I'd turn him over to the police in a minute," said Mr. Chung. "He is my cousin, but cousin or no, he is a murderer and ought to lose his head for the crime. Think of a Ling shedding blood! Never before has it been so—no Ling and no Chung ever shed the blood of another. Leon is a disgrace to our line and we are downcast."

"Once Leon was a good man. He wore his cue and in his little laundry in Philadelphia he worked very hard and late to save money. This money he came here to spend happily in China. I thought, and in all Philadelphia there was no more promising young Chinaman."

"That was in 1903. I knew him well then, and thought much of him. He was bright and quick to get American ideas—became a member of our association and all Chinamen were his brothers."

"Then came the change. He began to leave his laundry at night to watch the Americans in the chop suey restaurants, and by-and-by became the friend of several girls of the Tenderloin. They came to see him at the laundry, and soon the work fell off and the profit was gone."

"Pretty soon Philadelphia got too small for Leon. He used to live in a little town with about ten thousand people in China, but he forgot all about that. He forgot all about sailing back home, too, and shaved off his cue, because the girls laughed at it."

Was a Gambler.
"The last I heard of Leon he was in New York, hanging around Chinatown, doing anything but honest work. He loved to gamble, and he was so good-looking that when he wasn't gambling he had no trouble in finding white girls to keep him company. Fan-tan and girls are not for Chinamen who would be some day prosperous."

"I tried to help Leon Ling and keep him straight, keep him true to his honorable father and mother, and to the proud Ling family. But he kept on and joined the Chinese Masons, dropping from the Imperial Association and from the company of conservatives in Chinatown, who frowned upon dissipation."

"You know his crime, and that his end will be black. We Chinamen realize that he must die for his deeds,

"The house of Ling is sad in China. The murder of a woman is a terrible sin."

When asked by the reporter if he personally knew Elsie Sigel, Ling Chung shook his head and said that Leon Ling knew so many white women that he could not keep the run of them, and he could not identify her from the photograph.

Comfort and Convenience

If you have never experienced the pleasures of living in a "Sunshine" heated house, let us tell you that it is a comfort and convenience which is fully appreciated.

For an average of seven tons of coal to an eight-roomed house, an even temperature of sixty-five to seventy can be kept up from October to April. Once a is started there is no work attached to its operation beyond placing in coal twice a day, and drawing out ashes and filling water pan every other day. Chains on a pulley fixed in the hall, or room above the cellar, answer the respective requirements for—Burning Up, or Closing Off.

No caretaker is necessary, no engineer has to be called in. No precautions, beyond following directions, are necessary.

If you can run a stove (and who cannot) you can run a Sunshine Furnace.

Phone or call on the furnace man in your town, whose name appears below, and secure full particulars.

BIG REGATTA HELD BELOW WONDERLAND PARK

DUFFIELDS' CREW WON RACE BEATING THE BLUE CAPS FOUR

Ideal Weather at Regatta of Thames Rowing Club.

T. PHELPS WON SENIOR SINGLES

W. Hayward Copped the Single Blade Canoe Race—Great Sport on the Thames.

Ideal weather conditions, an immense crowd and a programme of sports that was intensely interesting from start to finish, made the regatta of the Thames Rowing Club held at Springbank yesterday afternoon a huge success. Both sides of the river bank for more than a quarter of a mile were lined with thousands of spectators, and the various races were greatly enjoyed. Many of the spectators had little idea of the magnitude of the fleet of boats that is now on the Thames, and not a little surprise was expressed at the trim and natty appearance of the gasoline launches, nearly every one of which presented a gay appearance with flags and streamers flying from stem and stern. A great many of the covered boats had festoons of evergreens twined about them, and looked exceedingly pretty. Hundreds of young men and women were present in rowboats and canoes, and the whole river for a mile above the dam presented an exceedingly lively appearance.

Four-Oared Race.
The first event of the afternoon was a four-oared boat race open to all comers. It was won by the Old Gold Caps, the crew being composed of H. Little, coxswain; C. Duffield, stroke; L. Stratton, F. Nicolet and F. Phelps. The Blue Caps, composed of F. Parsons, coxswain; J. Hayward, stroke; D. Campbell, J. Ferguson and M. Eastwood, came in second.

This was followed by the senior single sculls, which was won by F. Phelps, who defeated F. Nicolet. The junior single sculls was won by J. Ferguson from R. McRoberts.

Hayward's Canoe Race.

W. Hayward won the single blade canoe race. The double sculls, open, was won by F. Phelps and F. Nicolet, who defeated R. McRoberts and C. Duffield. There were three starters in the ten-mile free-for-all launch race. Ray Gorman in a speedy little gasoline canoe, Alf. Sheere in his new racing launch, one of the speediest craft on the river, and Percy Braddon in his fast yacht "London." All the contestants got away with a splendid start, but the speedy little canoe launch of Ray Gorman finished more than a half a mile ahead of Alf. Sheere. Percy Braddon finished third.

Motor-Boat Races.

The two-mile handicap for the Coleridge cup was won by Harper, with Braddon second, and Threapleton third. There were eight entries for the event, and the finishes were very close. Braddon was the winner of the five-mile handicap for the Canadian Oil Company's cup, Jones being second, and Threapleton third. The finish of the race was very exciting, the winner taking the cup by a narrow margin.

The officials of the motor-boat races, who worked hard to make the thing a success, were: Starter, William Mitchell, and timers, Ed. Young, Gordon McEwen and Roy Noppe.

Tandem Canoe Race.

Eastwood and Hayward won the tandem canoe race, single blade. Ray Gorman in his speedy launch won the five-mile handicap launch race.

The funny events were left until the last, and they kept the crowd in roars of laughter. The first was a crab race, which was won by J. Parsons, when his competitor, Fred Parsons, took a header into the river from his canoe.

Mr. Ferguson also captured first in the next race, known as a gunwale race, and J. Hamilton was second.

The Swimming Race.

The swimming race was keenly contested, and W. Russell won by a very short distance from W. Firth. The tub race was a long time getting on.

YALE EIGHT WINS

Defeats Harvard in Great Exhibition of Rowing at New London, Conn.

New London, Conn., July 1.—In a grand exhibition of rowing by a crew remarkable for its physical power and endurance, Harvard this evening defeated Yale in the annual Varsity eight-oared boat race on the Thames. The crimsoned led from start to finish, and won by six lengths. Harvard's time was 21:50, Yale's 22:10. By this victory Harvard won her second consecutive boat race from Yale in 28 years. The greatest crowd that has ever assembled on the Thames poured into New London today to witness the race. The railroads could not furnish enough cars to accommodate all the people who desired seats on the observation tracks. It was estimated that at least 40,000 spectators witnessed the contest.

SHRUBB AND NEBRICH IN HANDICAP RACE

Pair Will Run 10 Miles Monday Night, Shrubbs Giving a Quarter-Mile.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Buffalo, July 2.—Just whether Alf Shrubbs is able to defeat Frank Nebrich, the Buffalo runner, in a handicap match will be decided on the night of July 5 in the stadium at the Midsummer Exposition. After no little amount of trouble the pair were matched yesterday to run a ten-mile race, Shrubbs agreeing to allow the local boy two laps, or a quarter of a mile in the contest.

PACKEY MCFARLAND WILL FIGHT THOMPSON

Chicago Lightweight Accepts Challenge of "Sycamore Cyclone" to Battle on 17th of July.

Chicago, June 30.—Packey McFarland has come to bat. The local lightweight finally has accepted the challenge heaved at him by "Cyclone" John Thompson to fight before the Hammond Club, which is promoting the Thompson-Goodman battle next Monday afternoon. Thompson, of course, must beat Goodman or Packey will call negotiations off.

McFarland, acting as his own manager, gave his consent to Matchmaker Howard yesterday, and if everything places out as planned the bout will take place on the afternoon of July 17, which comes on Saturday. Howard said last night that the match was practically settled.

Thompson is doing some strenuous stunts, while Goodman is working on the south side.

LEACH CROSS HAS A SPLENDID EXCUSE

Says the Climate in California Stiffened His Legs During the Fight—Hyland After Nelson.

New York, June 30.—Leach Cross telegraphed to his friends here yesterday that the erratic California climate made his legs stiffen and caused him to weaken before Hyland's persistent attack at Colma on Saturday.

Cross has always been long on excuses after suffering defeats, so that this explanation of his downfall is not entirely unexpected. Physically Cross was never intended for a finish fight. He is simply a hard-hitting boxer, with plenty of power. Hyland, on the other hand, is a natural-born fighter with the instinct of a bulldog that never knows when to quit. On the strength of his victory over Cross Hyland wants another fight with Battling Nelson.

ACADIANS LOST BOTH

Springbank League Team Defeated at Petrolia Yesterday.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Petrolia, July 1.—The Acadian baseball team, of the Springbank League, of London, played a double-header here today, losing both games by narrow margins.

The first game was very exciting, and should have been won by the visitors, but errors by Hodges and Chaffey proved fatal. Score by innings:

R. H. E.

Petrolia 2 12 0 0 0 5 8 4

Acadians 3 0 3 1 0 0 0 7 9 4

Batteries—London and Deacon; Richardson and Chaffey.

Second Game.

The second game was evenly contested for five innings, but toward the latter part of the game the local boys played better ball and won out handily through the effective twirling of Egan. Score by innings:

R. H. E.

Acadians 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 8 1

Batteries—Egan and Deacon; Carson and Chaffey. Umpire, Sam Pollard.

WATFORD BEATEN

Two Rinks Taken Into Camp at Alvinston—Courtright Takes Double Header.

Alvinston, Ont., July 2.—Two rinks of Watford bowlers visited Alvinston on the home rinks by 15 shots.

The Courtright baseball team played two games with the Alvinston Seniors here today. Result: Forenoon, Alvinston 7, Courtright 5; afternoon, Courtright 14, Alvinston 7.

JEFFRIES TALKING

But Sun Says He Would Be in Better Business Binding a Match With Johnson.

New York Sun: Jeffries is quoted as saying that Papke will knock out Ketchell at Colma next Monday. Instead of turning prophet, Jeff might make a better impression by posting $5,000 for a fight to bind a match with Johnson. Six months have elapsed since the boiler-maker began to "train" and he is still talking about the dim future. The chances are that Jeffries will do some hard rooting for Ketchell on Monday, so that the latter can get a chance to dispose of Johnson's championship for all time.

RAMBLERS DEFEATED THE CUBS BY 8 TO 2

Pirie Was in Great Shape Until the Sixth Round When He Weakened.

CLARK FORCED A RUN

By Hitting Orr When the Bases Were Full—Condrick Played a Great Game.

The morning game in the East End League went to the Ramblers by a score of 8 to 2. For six innings Pirie, who pitched for the Cubs, was in fine form, retiring the Ramblers with one lone hit. In this inning he made a bad throw to the catcher, scoring Condrick and Henley, and giving the Cubs having made two runs in the opening round. He again made a bad throw to third base in the seventh, after Collins had struck out, but hits had been made by Sharratt, Cochran and Henley. All three scored. He was relieved by J. Clark, who forced in another run by hitting Orr with a pitched ball. The feature of the game was a catch by Condrick at third base, and Russell's throwing to second base. Not a man purloined the sack. The second series of the league opens tomorrow afternoon.

THE COMMERCIAL VALUE OF POETRY

Arthur Stringer's Interesting
Address at the Canadian Club Wednesday.

A POINTER FOR MEN

Who Are Wrapped Up in Business—
Partly Soothes and Helps the Forgetting of Care.

An unusually large gathering was present at the luncheon given by the Canadian Club Wednesday to Arthur Stringer, one of London's sons who has won distinction in the realm of literature.

Mr. C. B. Edwards who presided at the luncheon, introduced Mr. Stringer in a few brief, but effective words, drawing attention to the fact that on Mr. Stringer's right hand sat Principal McQueen, under whose care Mr. Stringer had received his first training in the world of literature. In rising to reply Mr. Stringer spoke a few words of grateful tribute to Mr. McQueen.

Mr. Stringer's paper on "The Market Value of Poetry" was an unusually bright and clever effort, full of whimsical humor and telling illustrations. Mr. Stringer believes that poetry has a market value because it ministers to the craving of the human heart. The poet must acknowledge that the craving for poetry is identical to the craving for food. The only difference is in the way it reacts, for the one leads toward the gutter and the other uplifts. Poetry has a market value, because of this great and universal appeal, and it only remains for the poet to come in touch with the actualities, to realize that in these there is the germ of poetry to make it an ever-widening power.

The Address.

Gentlemen:—I regard it as not only a great pleasure, but also as a great privilege, to say the few words I have to say to face with so many old friends and before so distinguished a gathering in this, my native city. Nor is it altogether inappropriate, at such a time and in such a place, that these few words should deal with the market-value of the poet. I say this because it was in this city that the present speaker first identified himself with the Muse. That initial effort was a modest poem of some eight hundred lines on "The History of the World Up to the Trojan War." The spelling, I'm afraid, was not above criticism, and it was written in blank verse, for rhymes, in those days, were a good deal of a bother to me. Only one line of that poem, luckily, stays in my memory. It is from the passage where Hector and Achilles are eating Indian corn together after an artillery battle somewhere in the suburbs of Troy, and the former rather inebriatedly threatens the latter, in the words of the poem, that he'll make him "Hop-Scotch out of Troy as tame as a toad!"

I also remember that the elderly Church of England clergyman to whom I had the audacity submit these inspired lines gravely informed me that while they showed undoubted dramatic promise, they could not be criticised as either slavishly historical or pedantically classical in setting.

First Study of Poetry.

Yet after studying poetry for over thirty years—I do not exaggerate the length of time, gentlemen, for my first study of that art began at the age of 4, when a patient nursemaid imposed on me the learning by rote of those classic lines: "Four-and-twenty blackbirds baked in a pie"—I repeat that after studying poetry for over thirty years I know almost as little about it now as I did when I wept over the unjust fate of the frugal and industrious maid "who was in the garden hanging out the clothes, when out came a blackbird, and, as you all know, snapped off her nose." For poetry, like other great things, like all the old and deathless things, is about as hard to define as love, or religion, or life itself. We know that a pithy saying, once put to rhyme, never dies. We also know that rhythm appeals to the ear. But into the psychology of the one or the physiology of the other it would be both useless and inopportune for me to inquire, at such a time.

A Few Truths.

But there are a few plain truths about poetry that might be worth mentioning. While we all feel that we could really be poets, if we once thought it worth while to turn our minds to it, we all likewise entertain a sneaking belief that there's something just a little foolish about poetry. Poets themselves are an erratic lot. They've always had a good deal of the irresponsibility of the child about them. And the stuff the poet writes, most of us feel, is only something for green-sick young men in love, or for children and invalids and idle women. It varies the monotony of crocheting, and is less fatiguing, though more extravagantly a waste of time, than tatting and hem-stitching. At most, it is a sort of half-calf on the parlor corner table, a by-product of that refining fashion which now fills our homes with imitation mission-furniture as it once filled them with antimacassars and waxed with a jugling with words. It only tells things which could be said far easier and far plainer in prose. And quite a bit of it says things far too openly, and is not always gentlemanly.

Gets Into the Blood.

It's true that some of it, of the more natural and nipper kind, gets into the blood now and then and stirs us up, as some fine old battle hymn has been known to do, or as some odd church hymn can do, or as the words of Bobby Burns have done when passing men and women, sometimes separating for life, stand up together and tearfully sing "For Auld Lang Syne." But even that, we feel, is only the doling out of a sort of intellectual absinthe, a mental cognac that is all right in its place but has a very limited place. We have

HOT ON THE TRAIL OF TRAIN ROBBERS

Indian Trackers Used in Running Down Band Who Held Up C. P. R. Train.

Vancouver, July 1.—The pursuit of the robbers who held up the train at Ducks is being actively prosecuted by Indian trackers from Nicola and mounted police. The railway police of Kamloops have taken up the trail at Pennys, where the robbers were first sighted in the boat on their way down the Thompson River. It is assumed the whole band separated there to make their way to the coast. The latest dispatches state that the desperado who figured in the Ashcroft tragedy is still in the mining tunnel at Red Gulch, six miles east. Watchers last night had only one shotgun and one revolver among them, while the fugitive is well armed. He shot a Chinaman in escaping, and may have broken away. Among the effects the robbers left in the boat at Ashcroft are a dressing-case, tooth brush, a silver-plated shaving outfit and changes of linen. The clothing of the dead man is of good linen. All the linen marks and the name of the maker of the clothing have been obliterated. The hat bore the name of a clothing store at Spokane, Wash. The fleeing robbers took all the papers from their dead companion. The pockets of the dead man contained the photos of a baby girl three years old well dressed in different poses. A pair of pants left behind evidently belonged to the fugitive.

Decker previously served on the provincial police. Old-timers recall the murder of French Pete, shot at Campbell's ranch, near Ashcroft. The murderer was seen by Decker, but got away safe across the line. He came back a few years later with some horses and was recognized by Decker. He was then arrested and found guilty and hanged at New Westminster. Friends think there is something behind his killing. They say, "Fends of a bad man's friend last long." French Pete's murderer was hanged in 1899.

ELECTRIC SMELTING

Premier Looking Into Possibilities for Central Canada.

Ottawa, June 30.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has received a communication from the British minister to Sweden giving particulars as to the establishment of an electric smelting plant at Trollhatten Falls. It has three furnaces, each of 2,500 electric horsepower, and a capacity of 7,500 tons of pig iron. The cost of electric energy will be $7.50 per horsepower for the first ten years and rising to $10 in the second ten years. The ore treated carries percentages of phosphorus ranging from 4.10 to 13.10. The iron deposits of Ontario and Quebec and particularly in the valleys of the Ottawa and Gatineau, present this very peculiarity. It is said that the premier is extremely sanguine as to the possibility of the establishment of an iron industry in Central Canada. He is making an examination of the iron ores of Eastern Canada in the light of the disclosures of the Swedish experiments.

WEDDED AT BELLEVILLE.

Belleville, June 30.—Rev. Rural Dean Beamish, rector of St. Thomas Church, and Mary Jessie Ackers, daughter of Dr. D. H. Ackers, were wedded in St. Thomas this morning. The Lord Bishop of Ontario performing the ceremony. The church was crowded to the doors.

Newmarket, June 30.—The Plantation plate of 200 sovereigns, for two-year-olds, distance five furlongs, was run here today, and was won by Gally Bawn, R. McCree's Santa Corso being second and H. P. Whitney's Oversight third. Among the 24 starters was August Belmont's Amical.

PREMIER ASQUITH FOR CUT IN CABLE RATES

Imperial Press Conference Delegation Interviews Him on the Subject.

London, July 1.—The Imperial Press Conference delegation re the cable question waited on Premier Asquith Wednesday afternoon at the House of Commons. Hon. W. Lawson introduced the delegation. Having pointed out that the Government spent a quarter million annually in cables, he said the Imperial news service was now poor, dry, and bloodless. Cheapness of rates was only possible through government action. Canada had expressed her anxiety for the co-operation of the Imperial Government, and he understood from a very highly-placed official now in London that Canada's enthusiasm has not diminished.

Concluding, he remarked the press conference did not wish to prejudice the issue between wireless and cables, adding that Canada's subvention to Marconi was a valuable precedent.

The Canadian View.
Mr. P. D. Ross, speaking for the Canadian delegates, referred to the combination against the cable companies, pointing out that a reduction in rates through Canada to Australia would inevitably reduce rates the other way. It has been stated that government action would be unfair to private companies. The press conference did not want any Government to run a state line of electric communication at a loss. It must be on a commercial basis; if governments made the line pay, then the companies must be ready to meet their competition, as well as that of private companies. He then pointed out that the British Government paid £60,000,000 yearly on the army and navy, and the small outlay necessary for greater facility of communication throughout the Empire would be well spent. The Canadian delegates on their return to Canada hoped to persuade the Government to meet the Imperial Government's offer.

Delegates from the other portion of the Empire, having laid the views before Premier Asquith in response, said towards the general objects of the deputation the Government was entirely sympathetic. The Pacific board's reduction, had the concurrence of the Imperial Government.

As regards Canada, Hon. Sydney Buxton and Mr. Lemieux had been in communication for a considerable time on the question of the reduction of Atlantic rates. If nothing had been done it was certainly not the Home Government's fault, because at the request of Mr. Lemieux any action had been postponed.

He hopes a satisfactory arrangement would ultimately be come to respecting the cable companies. The means of action at the disposal of the Imperial Government was very limited, but its influence would be used as far as may be in the reduction of rates.

Increased Service Necessary.
Cable companies were commercial bodies, and the most powerful argument for the reduction of press rates would be the assurance of largely increased service.

The development of wireless was a matter which could not be left out of sight, especially in connection with the suggestion to lay a state cable, and the progress of invention might considerably alter the carrying capacity of cables and thus change existing circumstances. The government department would keep in touch with the standing committee of the I. P. C., and this would be a very solid result of the conference.

In conclusion he declared one of the first requisites of the empire would be a cheap, certain, constant, convenient and universally accessible system of electric communication. A vote of thanks to the Premier concluded the proceedings. Hon. Mr. Buxton and Col. Seeley were present.

The Standard says there is no question as to the company's ability to reduce cable rates if they will face the matter in a judicial spirit and thoroughly modernize the system of working.

STIFF PROPOSITION FOR THE STUDENTS

Who Are Writing on Faculty of Education Examinations at Collegiate.

The pupils who are writing on the faculty of education examination are facing a very stiff proposition, and there will be little discredit arising out of any failures that may result. The truth of the matter is that there is not sufficient accommodation in the different normal schools to properly care for the interests of all the pupils who are presenting themselves for that branch of work. Something naturally has to be done, and the department has adopted the plan of working on the basis of the survival of the fittest. And as a result the examinations in this department have been unusually hard; harder, in fact, than would be justifiable under any other conditions. It is seemingly a rather cold-blooded way of meeting the congested condition in the Normal Schools of the province. But no other scheme seems feasible, and the numbers to enter the Normal Schools must be kept within certain limits.

Demand for Teachers.
It is not a case of supply exceeding the demand, for there is a strong demand for teachers; it is only the machinery of production that is lacking. The other examinations, while not in a similar state, have still been very hard.

"Fair, but difficult," is the consensus of opinion among the teachers. The scholars are a unit in the matter of the latter quality, but are divided regarding the former. Mathematics, physics, history and even literature have all been very difficult papers. Still with it all the teachers are confident that the London Collegiate pupils will take a very satisfactory result when the results of the examinations are made known.

AN EXTRA BURDEN ON THE PEOPLE HE SAYS

Senator Borah Gets This Meaning From Proposed Corporation Tax.

Washington, July 1.—Prefacing his remarks with a statement that his text would be the words of the chairman of the finance committee—"I shall vote for the corporation tax as a means to defeat the income tax," Senator Borah today declared his opposition to the corporation means for taxing the consumers of the country.

"I realize," he said, "that the chance for enacting an income tax has practically been removed so far as this session is concerned, but I am sufficiently devoted to the faith to believe that it is only removed for a time."

He had favored the income tax, he said, because it would have made possible a distribution of the burdens of the Government between the consumers and the producers. He was proposed to lay an additional tax on consumers in the form of a corporation tax, he would prefer following the course suggested at the beginning of the session by the chairman of the finance committee, in favor of re-employment in the expenditures of the Government to avoid the necessity for such an additional burden on the people.

"Unquestionably," Mr. Borah said, "the great corporations of the country have transferred their taxes to the consumer."

"The men who do not transfer their taxes are the holders of millions of bonds who are exempted from the operation of the law it is here proposed to pass. Today the great corporations, knowing that they can transfer this proposed tax, are advising that the tax be put on them, preferring it to the income tax."

Much of the time today was devoted to the consideration of the nation's finances. Estimating the total revenues under the Aldrich-Payne bill at $360,000,000 and those to be derived from the internal revenue at $240,000,000, Senator Cummins predicted at the end of the fiscal year 1911 there would be a deficit of not less than $175,000,000. He therefore contended that the amendment of the tariff bill by the addition of an income tax was necessary to produce sufficient revenue for the conduct of the business of the Government.

BARTENDERS FINED.

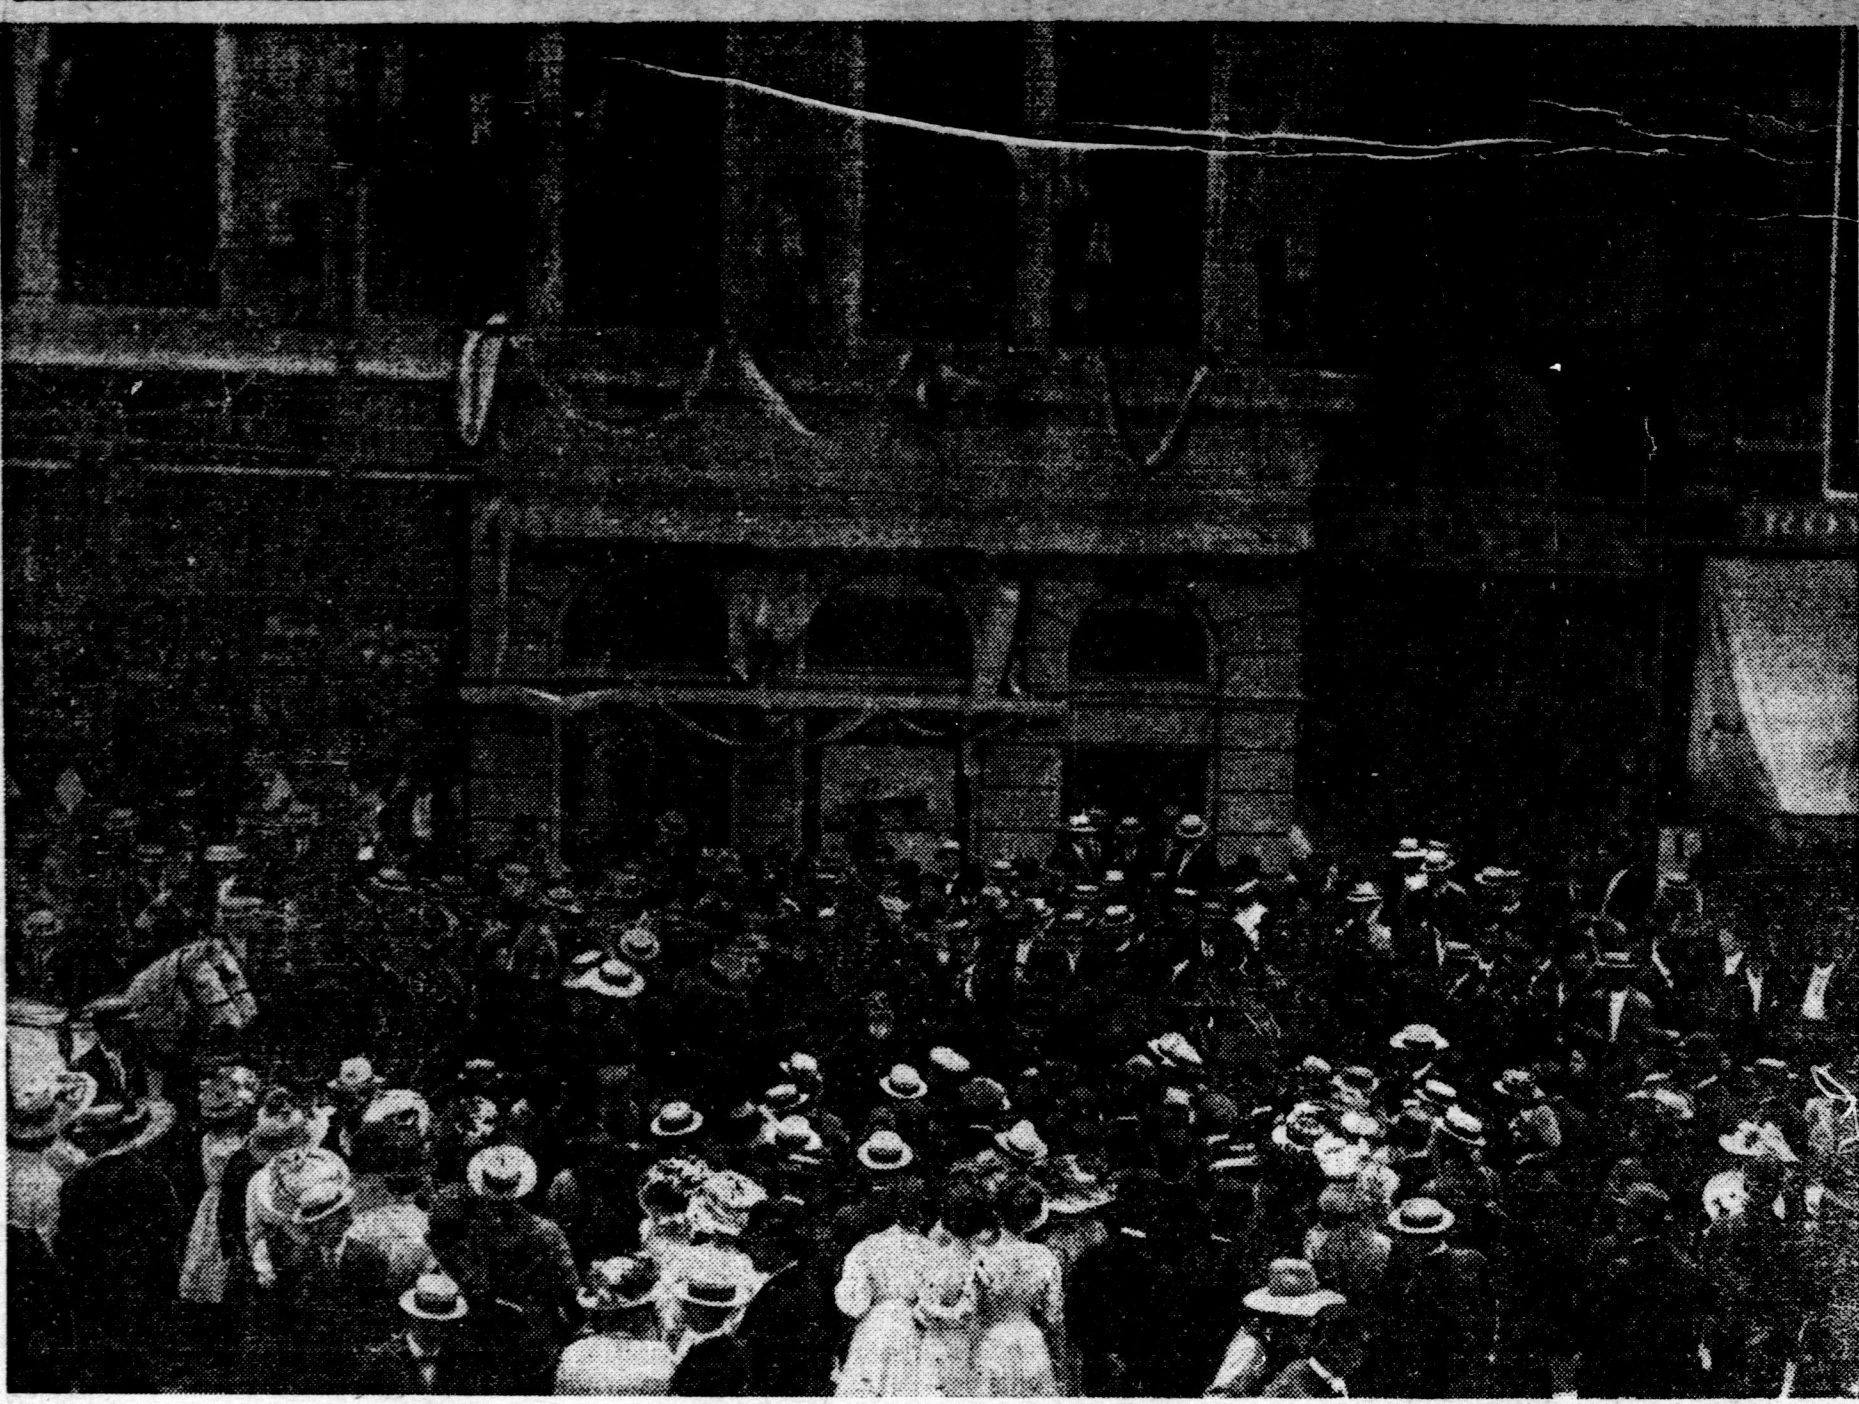

Ottawa, June 30.—Magistrate Okeard handed out a severe sentence to Albert Dugar and Jos. Parr, two bartenders in the employ of John Smith, of Perrons street, who was prosecuted by the department of Indian affairs, for selling liquor to Louis Eustace, an Indian belonging to the Oak tribe, who resides in Hull. He fined them $50 and costs. The bartenders, for the defense, swore that the Indian had got no liquor at all; Eustace was discharged with a warning on the charge of drunkenness against him.

A NEW YORK SUICIDE ELSIE SIGEL'S SLAYER

Several Identify Body as That of the Much-Wanted Leon Ling.

New York, July 2.—Efforts to identify the body of a Chinaman found in the Hudson River last night as that of Leon Ling, charged with the murder of Elsie Sigel, or to prove it was not that of the man wanted, were continued by the officers today. Coroner McDonald at first said he was sure it was Leon's body. Police Captain Carey and some of his detectives, who viewed the body, were inclined to think it was not the man they wanted, although they admitted the dead man strongly resembled Leon. A number of persons who knew the Americanized Chinese well were taken to Fordham morgue today, and viewed the body, and if necessary members of the Sigel family will be asked to aid the police in this respect. The height, weight, complexion and certain peculiarities of physical appearance of the dead man correspond with those attributed to Leon in life. Leon's left shoulder was known to droop, his forehead was prominent and well rounded, his teeth in unusually good condition with none missing, all of which characteristics were noted in the dead man's body. The absence of clothing on the drowned man, except a silk undershirt, was one of the baffling features of the case. A reporter who viewed the body in the Fordham morgue said he was sure it was that of Leon. "This is undoubtedly the body of Leon Ling," said the reporter. "I knew him well at Fort George all last summer. He was running a ping-pong game there. I recognize him by his hair and generally by his appearance. If I could see his teeth, which were very fine and regular, I could make this identification doubly positive. I have no doubt that this is Ling."

HENSALL MACHINE SHOP DAMAGED BY FIRE

Hensall, Ont., July 2.—A disastrous fire broke out at 7:30 last evening in the machine shop of the Hensall foundry. The fire was beyond control before the brigade arrived, and it was with great difficulty the men prevented the building, shop and sawmill adjoining from catching fire. The loss, which is estimated at $8,000, is partly covered by insurance.

WOMEN WAVES APRON AVERTS TRAIN WRECK

The Engine's Pilot on Edge of Chasm When Halting.

Detroit, July 1.—A special from Hastings, Mich., says: Using her white apron as a danger signal, Mrs. W. S. Atkins, wife of a farmer residing near here, prevented a long freight train from dashing at full speed into a wash-out today, thereby saving the lives of the entire train crew. An hour previously a fast passenger train had passed safely over the spot, and apprehending nothing wrong, the freight train, running at 40 miles an hour, was following it. Mrs. Atkins, whose house is close to the track, observed that the roadbed had fallen away for more than a dozen feet. A half-mile off the smoke of the approaching freight could be seen. Horror-struck, she stood perhaps a minute, not knowing what to do, then she remembered her apron. Hastily tearing it off she stood in the centre of the track waving wildly. The train came to a stop, with the nose of the pilot overhanging the chasm.

ON FULL TIME.

Montreal, July 1.—Notice has been posted up at the Grand Trunk Point St. Charles shops that full time will again begin tomorrow. The new order means much to the Point. Since a year ago last August the time has been 7 to 5 o'clock, and no work on Saturdays. The new time will be from 7 to 6 weekdays and 7 to 12 on Saturdays. This makes ten hours a week more to each man, a substantial addition to the weekly income.

JUNE WEDDINGS

WAUGH—IRELAND.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Tabbot Street Baptist Church, parsonage, yesterday afternoon, when the pastor, Rev. A. J. Vining, united in marriage John Thomas Waugh, who for some years has been with E. Leonard & Sons, and Miss Mary Ireland, of Dorchester. After the ceremony the happy couple left for the west on their honeymoon. They will reside in Lansing, Mich.

PERRY—THOMPSON.

The wedding of Alvin Perry, of the Kilgour Furniture Company, of this city, and Miss Marguerite Thompson, of Wlarton, was solemnized at the home of Mr. Ivan Parker, 148 Bathurst street. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Sanford Perry, of Guelph, and Miss Margaret Perry, of Longwood, was the bridesmaid. The ceremony was celebrated by Rev. A. J. Vining. The bride and groom were taken to their honeymoon and on their return will take up their residence in this city.

HALLMAN—SANBORN.

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized at noon on Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sanborn, 124 William street, when their youngest daughter, Verena Edna, was united in marriage to Mr. Alex. Hallman, of this city. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. Rev. L. Chester McRoberts, pastor of Hill Street Methodist church, officiated. The bride wore a gown of Persian lawn, handsomely trimmed, and carried white carnations. Little Edna, youngest of the bride, made a dainty little flower girl. The young couple were the recipients of a number of very handsome presents, among them being a beautiful china tea set from the Hill street church, of which they were members. Mr. and Mrs. Hallman left "mid relatives in Michigan."

LAWSON—NEWTON.

One of the prettiest of the June weddings was solemnized at St. James' church, Parkhill, on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Helen Newton, daughter of Mr. Ray Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson, of this city, the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the wedding march was played by Mr. Norman Humphries. The bride looked charming in a wedding gown of white net and was supported by Miss Floy Lawson, sister of the groom, and by Miss Helene, of Kingsville. Mr. Chester Rowntree, of this city, was groomsmen, and was supported by the service Miss Helen McLeod sang "O, Promise Me." Mr. and Mrs. Lawson left last night on a trip to Europe, and will tour Switzerland. On their return they will reside in Montreal.

ROBERTS—SIPPLE.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sipple, 453 Central avenue, on Wednesday evening when their daughter, Miss Lydia Estelle Sipple, was married to Mr. Everett M. Roberts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. K. Birks in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Maggie Sipple, and Mr. L. H. Roberts was groomsmen. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for Detroit and other western points. On their return they will reside in this city.

HAYES—BARRETT.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the parsonage of the Centennial Methodist Church on Wednesday afternoon when Mr. James Bailey Hayes and Miss Mae E. Barrett, both of West Williams, were married by Rev. G. N. Hazen. The couple were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will take up their residence in West Williams, near Parkhill.

NICOL—STEVENS.

The marriage of Miss Iva J. Nicol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nicol, 29 Gladstone avenue, St. Thomas, and Chester P. Stevens, of Wellington street, this city, was solemnized at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The bride was given away by her father, and Miss Gertrude Huntley, played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. D. Cunningham, of Tokio, Japan. The bride was attended by Miss Agnes M. Adcock; the flower girl was Ruth Cunningham, of Tokio, Japan; while the groomsmen was Clay Gibson, of London. Six young ladies carrying sheaves of marguerites formed an aisle to the altar by holding a rope of white silk cord. The bride's costume was of white duchess satin, on train trimmed with Irish lace, and her bouquet was a shower of bridal roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of pale blue duchess satin, and her bouquet, bric-a-brac roses. The house decorations were of smilax, ferns and roses. The array of presents was large and beautiful, the groom's gift to his bride being a ruby ring set in diamonds; to the bride, a pearl heart pin; to the groomsmen, gold studs, set with pearls; to the flower girls, a signet ring; to the bridesmaids, a set of pins set with pearls. A crescent of flowers was arranged before which the ceremony took place. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Nicol, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cunningham, of Tokio, Japan.

SUMMER HOTEL BURNED

Two Hundred Thousand Dollar Blaze at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—In a fire entailing a financial loss of nearly $200,000, the Hotel Ruessmont, one of the largest summer hotels at this resort, was totally destroyed early this morning, and the guests, awakened from their slumbers, narrowly escaped with their lives. The fire, which is supposed to have started in the tower of the hotel from an unknown cause, was discovered by William Washburn, the night watchman, whose time clock beneath the door in which the fire started, he had reached the office of the hotel when he heard the crackling of the flames, and running outside the building discovered the hotel was ablaze and gave the alarm. All of the guests escaped, but none of them managed to save any of their belongings, and several were obliged to flee in their night clothing. Albert Clapsaddle, of Iliou, N. Y., one of the hotel employees, who slept beneath the floor in which the fire started, was the only person badly injured. He had a fair chance for escape, but foolishly went back for his watch and was overcome by the flames and badly burned about the head and face, receiving injuries from which he may die.

"ROYAL" CELEBRATION AT PORT STANLEY

Thousands of Visitors Spent a Pleasant Time at Famous Lakeside Resort.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Port Stanley, July 1.—Dominion Day brought thousands of visitors to the lakeside resort, and the celebration was a soft place in their hearts for Mr. and Mrs. George S. Gibbons, on account of their thoughtful kindness. Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons, jun., took the little ones of the home to see the Wild West show. A special car was provided to carry the "kiddies" to the scene of the outing. Certainly nothing could have been done that would have called forth greater delight on the part of the children, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons left nothing undone to make the day one of the most memorable in the lives of the children. Ice cream and other refreshments were provided to add to the other joys, and the children returned with their eyes as big as saucers to ponder over the wonders they had seen for many a long day to come.

Miss Agnes, of Hopbush, of Barrie, is holidaying with friends in the village. Mr. McNabb, of Toronto, has been appointed head engineer on John Howe's new steamer, Glen Erie of London. Ed Sanders, of St. Thomas, has purchased a lot on Smith street from Bert Nichols. Mr. Sanders intends to erect three up-to-date summer cottages. E. McCredie, of St. Thomas, has moved his family to a cottage on Orchard Beach. Miss Rose Clemons, of Copenhagen, has returned to her home after visiting Miss Agnes Bate at Locust Nook. Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Mr. Russell Smith, of London, are summering at Locust Nook. Miss Eva Taylor left last evening for London to join the Advertiser's party en route to Montreal and Quebec. Mrs. J. A. Jones and family, of London, are occupying the Will-o-the-Wisp cottage on Willow Beach. James MacDougall, of London, has leased Mr. Nelson's cottage on Orchard Beach for the summer. He moved his family down today. On Erie Bank is Cross Cottage, which is occupied by George A. Moore, two children, and mother, Mrs. Cannon, of London. Preston Cottage contains Mr.

and Mrs. Wm. Bolt, of Devonshire, England. J. A. Young, of London, and family, are occupying their cottage, The Willows, on Willow Beach. Cy Eddy, of London, spent the holiday at the White House, Hill Crest. George M. Grimmond erected several new cottages the past winter and has them all rented now. He intends to put up several more for next season. In April Cottage on Erie Beach are Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Percival and daughter, and Mrs. Haslett and family, all of London. Aberley Cottage is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Millar, of New York, and the Misses Millar, of St. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rowland, of London, have taken possession of Avon Cottage. In Erie Bank Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Allison, of Calgary, are campers. Summer Camp contains Mrs. Brizier, Wm. Brizier, Miss Mary Brizier and George Hays, of London. Mr. and Mrs. Rowley, of London, will pitch their camp for the summer on Erie Bank Heights tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Linton, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. C. Woodward, Chatham, are guests here.

T. A. Rowat, of London, has leased a cottage on Orchard Beach. He will move his family here in a few days. A. E. Welch, of London, is having his cottage, Lookout, on the brow of Hill Crest, moved back and raised. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rowland, of London, who are summering on Hill Crest, are attending the bowling tournament in Ridgeway. Mr. C. McPherson and family, Toronto, arrived from that city in their auto yesterday. They will reside in Thomas Robertson's cottage on Hill Crest for the season. Judge Colter and family, of St. Thomas, are summering on Hill Crest.

Firemen Did Good Work. The John Campbell Milling Company's large grain elevator caught fire at 10 o'clock this morning from a spark from a passing locomotive. In a few minutes a lively blaze had started, and the big structure looked as if it were doomed. The local fire department, under Fire Chief Price, worked nobly, and soon had the flames under control. Harry Turner ran the ladders with great skill. The loss will amount to about $500, covered by insurance.

TREAT FOR CHILDREN

Little Ones of Protestant Orphan's Home Saw Buffalo Bill Show.

The board and children of the Protestant Orphan's Home will long have a soft place in their hearts for Mr. and Mrs. George S. Gibbons, on account of their thoughtful kindness. Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons, jun., took the little ones of the home to see the Wild West show. A special car was provided to carry the "kiddies" to the scene of the outing. Certainly nothing could have been done that would have called forth greater delight on the part of the children, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons left nothing undone to make the day one of the most memorable in the lives of the children. Ice cream and other refreshments were provided to add to the other joys, and the children returned with their eyes as big as saucers to ponder over the wonders they had seen for many a long day to come.

SHOCKS ALL DAY BUT ARE LESS SEVERE

Messina, July 2.—The people of Messina, although still alarmed as a result of the earth shocks of yesterday morning, are beginning to return from the country. The local authorities have adopted stringent measures to prevent anybody occupying houses that are considered unsafe. The shocks continued all day, but they are less frequent and of diminishing severity.

THE FRENCH FLYERS.

Calais, July 2.—Herbert Latham, the French monoplane flyer, has decided to undertake a series of trial flights before attempting to cross the channel. These will delay his long fight for at least a fortnight. Henry Farman denies that he is contemplating flying across the channel, and Count de Lambert, the third aviator, who was reported as on the point of trying to get over to England through the air, gives no evidence that this is his intention.

FINANCIAL COMMERCIAL

A SMALL MARKET AFTER THE HOLIDAY

Strawberries Scarce and Prices Advance Little—First Offer of the Season's Hay.

There was a comparatively small market after the holiday this morning. Some strawberries were offered, but not a very large supply. The prices, too, showed a tendency to advance. This morning they were selling at 50c to 75c wholesale, and mostly at 8c retail. The demand was strong, and it is expected that tomorrow will be another record market.

There was a very good market for hay. Over 20 loads were offered. There were a number of loads of rather poor stuff, which went as low as $10, and was not very much in demand, even at that price. The better quality sold as high as $12, and the demand for it was firm.

The first two loads of this season's hay appeared on the market this morning. It was of very fair quality and brought from $8 to $10.

There was a very fair quantity of oats offered, so much so that the supply was not sufficient, and it is expected that tomorrow will see a good supply. One load brought as high as $1.04, the remainder from $1.03 upward.

Other prices are as follows:

Vegetables.

Potatoes, per bag 85 to 90

Sage, per dozen 20 to 25

Leeks, per dozen 20 to 25

FOR PICNICS

Our Lemonade Powder Is Just the Thing

It is so convenient. Just add the water and sugar. It is so economical. A 15c bottle makes two gallons and it is wholesome. Guaranteed under the Pure Food Laws of Great Britain to be made only from Messina lemons and sugar. Ask to see it.

A little salad dressing on the sandwiches is a fine improvement. Royal Salad Dressing is the kind. Per bottle, 15c and 25c. Those Nut-Stuffed Olives are taking fine. Our 15c bottles contain 23 olives. Other stores sell different shaped bottles for 25c that only contain 20 olives. Ask for our 15c bottles. We also have olives stuffed with celery and sweet peppers, and large bottles containing a full pint of Manzanilla Olives for 25c.

The funeral of Mr. William Bridgman was held this afternoon from the family residence, 244 Hyman street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and was of a private nature. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kenedy.

REYNOLDS-TALLIN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at All Saints' Church yesterday afternoon when Miss Minnie M. Tallin, of 524 Grey street, was married to Mr. James W. Reynolds.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Tallin, and the groom by Mr. William Tallin, the bride being given away by her brother John.

After the ceremony the guests adjourned to the home of the bride's mother, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, where they will reside.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

The report showing the number of freight cars handled on the Grand Trunk at London during the past month gives a very satisfactory increase over the same period of last year.

During June, 21,410 cars were handled here, while but 19,925 were handled during the same period of 1937. The increase is 1,785, or an average of 69.3 per day.

A SPRINGBANK PICNIC.

About a hundred members of the Anglican Young People's Association of All Saints' Church held a picnic at Springbank yesterday afternoon. A number of sporting events were run off, after which a lunch was served by the ladies of the party.

EPWORTH LEAGUES HAD A LARGE TIME

Held a Unique and Enjoyable Picnic on Dominion Day.

About 150 young people belonging to the Epworth League of the Dundas Centre Methodist Church spent a very delightful day at the beautiful summer home of Mr. John White, north-east of the city. The party left the church at 9 o'clock in the morning in large carry-alls and after an eventful, boisterous trip, reached their destination, where one of the most unique programmes of games ever given in this vicinity was carried out with immense enthusiasm.

The contest for guessing the number of peas scattered on the lawn was won by Mrs. Eastman.

Guessing the size of the barn was won by Miss Gould.

Miss Rigby and Mr. A. H. Wilferd carried off the honors in the necktie race, while Eric Zigler was the winner of the peanut event.

Miss Westman carried off the honors for throwing the baseball, and Mr. Fred Luckney surprised everyone by his unquestioned victory in the eating-rhubarb contest.

The clothespin contest was won by Mr. Keenleyside, and the screw-driving by Mrs. Keenleyside.

In the contest of hazyard melodies Mr. A. H. Wilferd was immediately conceded to have outstripped everyone by his intensely lifelike rendition of the song of the cuckoo.

The lovers' race went to Miss Westman and Mr. Fred Luckney, and Mr. Udy covered himself with glory by winning the hopping contest.

At the conclusion of the games a number returned to the pleasures of youth and spent a delightful time paddling in the river.

Refreshments and all the other incidents connected with picnics brought an intensely interesting and enjoyable day to a happy close.

ANDERSON-PERRY.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. Murto at the home of Mr. William Perry, Bryanston, when his eldest daughter, Mary Ann Perry, was united in marriage to Mr. John Francis Anderson, of this city.

BOTHERED BY GYPSIES

Broughdale People Would Like to See Band Move Away.

An encampment of gypsies, which is located on land belonging to Mr. J. C. Mills, of Broughdale, has been causing a good deal of annoyance to persons residing in that locality. They have been stopping parties driving and begging from them, and though they are apparently lawabiding, they are causing the people of that section a good deal of uneasiness.

The county police have been appealed to a number of times to have them removed, but this has not been done, as there is nothing to warrant such arbitrary action. They are living on ground owned by Mr. Mills, and are not seriously misbehaving themselves, but despite this fact, the residents of the locality will be glad to see the last of them.

JOURNALIST JARVIS DROPS DEAD IN STREET

Montreal, July 1. — Wm. J. Jarvis, a well-known journalist, dropped dead on St. James street tonight. For many years he was a familiar figure in journalistic circles, his active experience dating back to the time when the Montreal Herald was a morning newspaper.

Of recent years Mr. Jarvis contributed daily to the Star, and had a wonderful fund of reminiscences of the bygone generation of this city and province.

He was the son of the late Capt. Jarvis, quartermaster of the Sixteenth Rifles when stationed in London, Ont., and was born in the latter city.

100 DOCK WORKERS WERE BURIED ALIVE

Newport, England, July 2. — A landslide occurred here this afternoon at the works connected with the new dock and it is reported that nearly one hundred men were buried alive.

STARTLING EVIDENCE.

Hamilton, July 1.—Stratling evidence was given in a police court, on this morning when Louis Frank was charged with conspiring to defraud the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company.

Frank delivered scrap iron to the company, and H. M. Morden, a former weigh clerk, swore that for the last three years he had been adding from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds to each of Frank's loads, for which the company paid. Frank and Morden divided the spoils, and Morden's share for three months alone was $700. Frank was committed for trial. He was defended by J. W. Curry, K. C. of Toronto.

DEFENCE OF WEST INDIES

Story of Canada Taking Charge of It Without Foundation.

Ottawa, July 2.—The New York Herald story that Canada was assuming the defense of the West Indies is without foundation. At the present time Canada is planning for her own defenses, and ground plans will certainly be completed before the Dominion thinks of expending her protection to neighboring British dependencies.

RAILWAY COMMISSION

Several Important Decisions To Be Considered on Tuesday.

Ottawa, July 2.—The railway commission will on Tuesday next consider an application of fruit dealers for an order of the board compelling the Canadian and Dominion express companies to reduce the present rate of 40 cents a hundred on fruit, sent from the Queenston district to Toronto. Chairman Mcabee has asked representatives of the companies to appear and show reasons why the express rates on fruit from the Niagara peninsula should not be reduced.

Applications for action by the board to secure better G. T. R. and Wabash train service for the St. Thomas and Glenora branch, for the Watford branch of the G. T. R., and for the Campbellford passenger connection for Toronto will also be considered.

Another case for hearing on Tuesday is the complaint of the Dominion Millers Association and the Manitoba Grain Growers Association, respecting elevator charges at Port Arthur and Port Arthur.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Swimming Baths.

The opening of the boys' free swimming baths on Wednesday is an event possessing features that justify my asking your permission to detail these. The three hundred or more lads participating were young citizens in the making, and my regret is that but few spectators were privileged to witness the spectacle. They were the average lad of our city, possessed of spirit, yet amenable to the ordinary influences that dominate youth. Segregated, as these were on this occasion, there was no hoydenish boisterousness, no rudeness, not an expression heard that would be out of place in a Sunday school, nor any act of suggestive rudeness. Though 90 per cent were in the state of blissful nudity that prevailed before the fall, there was an Edenlike unconsciousness of impropriety that is true modesty. I was extremely proud of these lads, assembled promiscuously from every section. Queues of them on the east, to the extremity of the city west, and from beyond Oxford street on the north to its extremity southward, and besides, from families of all classes. All were intent on the enjoyment of their privilege to the full, and this supreme impulse manifestly dominated the restraint of any and all others. The conduct of all was so admirable, the tone throughout so healthy, that I cannot, while giving the boys credit for their admirable self-effacement in their enjoyment, refrain from the remark that this experience of the Playgrounds Association in its swimming ponds effort suggests possibilities in other similar directions that would take our lads off the streets, inspire healthy action, develop true manhood, and build us up as a Canadian citizenship without aid from the police or jail, that would make us the envy of the nations.

D. M. CAMERON, President Playgrounds Association.

RIDICULES RED TAPE

French Deputy Pokes Fun at Methods of Naval Administration.

Paris, July 2.—A debate was begun yesterday in the chamber of deputies on the report of the special committee, which has been making an investigation into naval matters. The feature of the debate was the speech of Deputy Plichon, exposing to ridicule what he termed "the red tape of the ministry." He cited cases of the acquisition of a pair of sea-boots for a coast guard, and a dog kennel which necessitated several months' correspondence through "hierarchical channels" to and from the ministry, and said that the replacing of a cracked tumbler on a flagship required the signature of the minister on the voucher. The sole duty of one of the 26 departmental committees, he declared, was to count the beeches which died at the naval dispensaries every three months.
