CITY HAS TRIPLED COST OF SCHOOLS IN LAST 10 YEARS

Figures From Nine Cities and Four Towns in Western Ontario Show School Costs Steadily Mounting Everywhere-No Sign of Stop-Average Cost Has Increased From 100 to Over 300.

EXPENDITURES HAVE OUTSTRIPPED

The cost of education-a much-used phrase-is a vague quantity because it is used in a general way. People know their school bills ar larger, but how much larger?

In nine cities and four towns from which The Advertiser secured reliable figures this week, the bill stands at 307 against 100 in 1914. That is, the average cost today is more than three times the cost in 1914. In order to get some basis of comparison, the year 1914 has been placed at 100, and the school bills of succeeding years figured against that He claims the burden would be more standard. The amount includes salaries and the yearly amount paid for debentures, including all the schools in the municipality The places under consideration include both towns and cities, this being done in order to find out whether the increase in school bills is a symptom common to the cities or is general in the towns as well. The cities furnish ing information are: Ottawa, London, Chatham, Hamilton, St. Thomas Sarnia, Galt, Kitchener and St. Catharines, and the towns, Glencoe, Por Elgin, Tillsonburg, Aylmer and Acton.

TOWNS SHOW INCREASE ALSO.

The result shows that the increase is not confined to the cities, but has been apparent in the towns as well, the average for the cities being 340 against 100 in 1914, and in the towns, 241 against 100 in 1914. There is not a town where the school bill has not doubled in the last Bell Telephone and Utilities To ten years; Glencoe has adhered to this, and so has Aylmer, while the others

Extension of their work for 1924 is planned by members of the Lord Kitchener Nursing Division, who recently issued a most comprehensive report of what they had accomplished dur-ing the past year. It includes the holding of large numbers of classes, training and drilling, and the con-ducting of emergency tents on several occasions. Students' Better Combination Proves Deciding Factor in Last Period.

Saturday night in the Armories about 500 fans saw the Western University basketballers intermediate champions, after being outclassed 16 to 11 at half time, come through in the final period with a 32 to 26 win over the Windsor Recreation quintet in a semi-final mix for the senior O. A. B. A. title. In the true sense of the word it was a "great" game, and came fully up to its expectations, both sides setting a fast and furious pace throughout.

The event started with both out-fits looking well matched. The op-posing defences were rigid, and forced the forwards to do their shooting from outside. McLennan drew first blood, putting Western ahead on a long, low shot from back of center. The checking became body-checking. Hungerford added to Western's total, scoring on a rebound from back board after Howell missed foul shot. Grubb got Windsor's first, dribbling in on a pass from McDougall. Howell was donated a point on a foul shot, Perry tripping. Dowd counted for Windsor from outside. Howell hurdled his way through the Border City defence to register. MAY RAISE PRICES.

The Garrison may find it necessary to raise their scale of prices for boxing shows, though no official action has been taken. The Garrison boxing committee has realized for some time that prices would have to be raised some time, but wished to get through this season if possible without making a change. However, there should be a surplus over after these shows so that the money might go toward developing more boxers in London, and either the prices must go up or the scale of the cards pared lown. One criticism of a card, which was still a sizzler if only the sure hits of the bill were enumerated, was that it was much too long would have a more comfortable margin, for they outplayed the the final clang of the bell. They dominated the contest in a game which, while necessarily not marked by the scintillating features that are customary when those rivals meet nevertheless was one of those oldtime struggles that kept the crowat high tension throughout the play. Seven thousand paid admissions were registered, and the largest crowd that has ever been packed into the arena jammed every nook and cranny in an effort to glimpse at least part of the struggle.

But for the slushy ice the locals

Frank Nighbor's poke check, and rilliant goalkeeping by Clint Bene lict were coupled with the heavy ice in keeping the Canadiens down, but there had to be a break under the pressure, and the deadlock was batted in the puck after a melee i front of the Ottawa goal.

George Boucher, leader of the Ottawa team on the ice, blocked rush, and in attempting to clear the puck off to one side in from brother Billy Boucher, the Cana right wing swooped on it, and afte a short rush drove the disc at Bene dict. The shot was blocked an dropped in front of the goal, from where an attempt was made to ba it clear, but Morenz, with customary dash, flashed through, and Bened did not have a chance to save.

Thamesford, March 9.— The final game between Centreville and Thamesford of the North Oxford eague was played Friday, attended by 400 fans. Although Centreville took the ice with a 6 to 2 score—the result of the first game—to overcome, many thought they were cap-able of overcoming this lead. The Guide Post-By Henry van Dyke

God, whose I am, and whom I serve.-Acts xxvii., 23. The sense of "belonging" is essential to our happiness.

We are never without this sense, and therefore we do not realize its But let us try for once to strip it away from us and then perhaps we may feel what it means. You remember the story of "The Man Without a Country." Endeavor now to construct in imagination the figure of a man without a world, without a fellow man, without a God. Does not the mere contemplation of such a condition as that throw us back forcibly, almost violently, upon the truth that the joy of our life is a dependent joy, and that we can only come into true and happy possession of ourselves when we realize that we belong to something greater than ourselves?

As living beings we are part of a universe of life. As intelligent beings we are in connection with a great circle of conscious intelligences. As spiritual beings we have our place in a moral world controlled and governed by the Supreme Spirit.

In each of these spheres there is a law, a duty, an obligation, a responsibility for us. A happiness lies in the discovery and acknowledgment of those ties which fit us and bind us to take our place, to play our part, to do our work, to live our life, where we belong.

A boy wakes and hustles out of bed. He has had enough of bed; he's got to get out in the world and see what's going on—and make something go on. His long, sweet sleep has renewed him, restored his vital energy. The only way to keep him in bed is to tie him there.

Minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church States Case For Unity.

The question of church union was liscussed in St. Andrew's Church Sunday morning by Rev. D. C. Mac Gregor. He said that in order that he congregation might hear both sides of the union question he had asked Rev. Mr. Mackay of this city o exchange pulpits with him in the

Dr. MacGregor then gave his reaons for supporting union.
