They got into a fight while in the saloon over a drunken quarrel, understood by no one but themselves. They were put out of the saloon when they got into a fight on the sidewalk, in the course of which each drew a gun. Others interfered and took their guns away from them.

Deputy Marshal Snook

learned of the row and went in pursuit. Murphy was found in a tent down near the river on Second avenue, and Burke was found in the Indian village on the waterfront. The matter will probably be brought to the attention of the grand jury. Both Murphy and Burke are said to be toughs. They are longshoremen.

NEGLECT FATAL

It is always the small things, which one is liable to disregard, that often prove most serious and often fatal. A cough or a cold in itself is insignificant, but if not promptly treated often results in pneumonia, consumption and an early death. Avoid all risks by getting a bottle of Crilbs' Cough Cure—it does the work. Try it, then tell your friends.

BOXERS LIVELY

Have Not Yet Been Suppressed

New Viceroy Asks That Ministers and Missionaries Refrain from Traveling.

Peking, Oct. 20.—The new viceroy of the Chuen province, Tsen Chun Suan, reports that the Boxers are not suppressed at Chen Tu and two other places and asks the ministers and missionaries to refrain from traveling. The emperor's reception today was attended by the diplomatic corps and commanders of the legation guards, except the British minister, Sir Ernest Satow. He declined all social intercourse with the court on account of the miscarriage of justice in the case of the murdered English missionaries Bruce and Lewis in Honan province where responsible officials were excupulated and ignorant peasants beheaded.

"What is your rule of business—your maxim?" we ask of the Wall Street baron.

"Very simple," he answers. "I pay for something I can't get, with money that I haven't got, and then sell what I never had for more than it ever cost."—Life.

Shortly after midnight there was an alarm rung and the fire brigade turned out to the Canadian Bank of Commerce. It was a question of a red hot flame only, and as the firemen had the fire engine at the edge of the water handy they did not use their chemicals but simply turned the hose on. There was not much damage done.

Looks Good

Skagway, Oct. 11th.—Joseph Macdonald, superintendent of the Treadwell mine, and John F. Maloney, attorney in law, examined the Skagway chief mine yesterday. Both expressed themselves as highly pleased with the appearance of the ledge. As of course, they could say nothing as to the value of the ore, except that it looked good. They said that if the values should prove of sufficient richness to pay for working the property it will make a great mine on account of the great quantity of ore. "It is a great ledge," said Mr. Macdonald.

Mr. Macdonald said Mr. Maloney think it well within the probabilities that mines will be opened up at or near Skagway at no distant day. They say that the fact that gold is discovered in all the ledges in the country is indicative that it will be found in paying quantities, some places in this vicinity.

KLONDIKE NUGGET

AMUSEMENTS.

Auditorium—Master and Man. Standard—Vaudeville.

FULL REGISTRATION REQUIRED.

In order to participate in the coming election for the Dominion house, it is required by law that every voter shall register. Enumerators have been appointed for all the polling divisions in the territory and voters must present themselves for registration and have their names properly enrolled or run the risk of losing their franchise.

The Nugget has previously brought to the attention of the Ross supporters the fact that the only possibility of defeat rests in the fact that a feeling of too great confidence may manifest itself and it is against this feeling that precautions must be taken.

The results of this election should not only be a tribute to the high character and sterling ability of Mr. Ross, but it should also constitute an unmistakable protest against everything represented by Clarke and Clarkism.

His political death knell would have been rung long ago had he not possessed sufficient shrewdness to restrain himself from entering directly into the previous fights for office that have been made in the territory.

Now by dint of wire pulling and trickery he has succeeded in securing a nomination and it rests with the voters to administer a lesson which will punish his effrontery as it well deserves.

Every voter, therefore, should make it a point to have his name placed on the roll immediately and run no risks of losing his franchise.

RESULTS WANTED. No substantial reasons have been brought forward to indicate the desirability of electing either Joe Clarke or Dr. Catto.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

DEMOCRATS ON HIGH PRICES. Republic Pioneer Miner. In discussing the rise in the prices of some of the necessities of life the Democratic orators will not, when addressing granger audiences, call particular attention to those things which are produced by the farmers.

Neither Clarke nor Dr. Catto would be able to accomplish anything in the nature of substantial results at Ottawa and it is for the accomplishment of results that the voters of the Yukon have so long and eagerly demanded federal representation.

It will be useless to send a man to Ottawa to sit with a minority opposition and pour out abuse on the government for offenses of three or four years ago.

STEWART'S LAST BOAT

La France Not an Hour Too Soon. Stewart Closed the Day After She Left—Incidents on the Trip.

The La France arrived from Duncan landing on the Stewart on Saturday evening, and Captain Martineau remarked that they had just got out of the Stewart in time, as if they had been a day later they would have been frozen in.

There was scarcely any ice when we tied up at Swanson's ranch on Thursday night," he said, "but the next morning you could walk across the river anywhere. I felt sure the river would be closed on Saturday, so we did not get out an hour too soon.

We brought a load of lime with us from the Ogilvie kilns. They are going to burn another kiln this fall and have the lime ready for the first boat that goes up in the spring.

THE CAPTAIN SAYS HE DID NOT see much game, as he was kept in the pilot house all the time occupied in the trip.

One of the hardest cases in regard to the Prospector giving up her trip on the Stewart and returning without going on to Duncan, was that of a man who had only just sufficient to pay for the freight of his outfit and winter supplies for the Prospector.

Speaking of the overland trail Captain Martineau expressed the opinion that the greater part of the river the first part of the season, as the trail does not cut off much before it reaches the Pelly, and he would rather have a trail on the level like that of the river, even if it does wind some, than over the hills.

Before reaching Dawson the passengers of the La France fringed up a testimonial to Mr. Calderhead, complimenting him upon the excellent way the boat was handled by its officers, and the pleasure they felt at its successful termination.

FRED WADE AND HEES

Refutes Every Statement Made by Hees

As to Dawson's Flimsy Buildings, Conditions of Labor and of Gold Output.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—Mr. F. C. Wade returned from the Yukon yesterday, after spending the day in Toronto, left on the evening train for Ottawa. In answer to a question as to the situation in Dawson, Mr. Wade said that the people there are still very angry over the statements made by Mr. George H. Hees in the August number of Industrial Canada with regard to Dawson city and the Yukon generally. He said: "I might say the people of the Klondike are justly indignant because there is hardly an allegation made by Mr. Hees which is not either untrue or misleading. In replying to Mr. Hees some weeks ago I expressed the opinion that he could have seen either little or nothing of the country, otherwise he would not have committed himself to such absurdities. I am not going to give you another interview on the wonderful development and possibilities of the Yukon—I am glad to leave that subject in the able hands of Dr. Wicket, who recently visited the north as the accredited representative of the Manufacturers' Association. Dr. Wicket made a very thorough investigation of conditions, and although he is not chairman of the Intelligence Committee of that body, as Mr. Hees is, I feel confident that he is a thorough observer and that his conclusions will commend themselves generally. Mr. Geo. Anderson will also no doubt present his report to the Dominion government shortly, and the great possibilities of the Yukon will no longer be a matter of controversy. To begin with the smaller matters first, Mr. Hees stated that the people of the Yukon are very proud of their lettuce and radishes, 'but he had these salads few vegetables can grow before the frost comes.' An obvious reply to this is the exhibit of Klondike vegetables recently seen at the Industrial exhibition at Toronto. At the present time large exhibits of all kinds of vegetables from the Klondike are being shown throughout the United States. Another of Mr. Hees' statements is that the buildings in Dawson are constructed of light wooden frames, the inside covered with building paper, then cheesecloth and finished with wall paper. He adds that they rest on stone or blocks of wood; that but few, if any, are plastered; that being massed together 'they are mostly considered too hazardous for the insurance companies to take risks on. They have recently inaugurated a paid fire brigade, and now some of the shops are insured. In such cases, I am told, the yearly premium is 10 per cent. and on private dwellings 5 per cent.' The best answer I can give to this ridiculous statement is this letter from Mr. W. D. Bruce, fire insurance agent at Dawson, representing a number of the leading fire insurance companies of Great Britain and Canada: Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 10. Mr. F. C. Wade, Dawson, Y. T.: Dear Sir,—I have been shown a copy of the Industrial Canada and have carefully read the mass of what one might term 'innane rot' written by one G. H. Hees and published in the above mentioned paper under date of August 1st. It is really too bad that he should have used gentlemen's names in connection with this letter, thus giving them a prominence I feel sure none of them desired, and the articles an appearance of responsibility. The assertion that faro tables had been converted into ping-pong boards, the forty-mile drive to Grand Forks is only twelve miles, the learning of Mr. Senkler as assistant gold commissioner, Joe Barrett, the gold king and Mr. Newlands the government secretary, all goes to show how absolutely ignorant the writer must have been of everything pertaining to this country. And now as to what more particularly affects me or rather my business—the paragraph relating to insurance matters and the nature of the construction of buildings in Dawson. He says nothing about the T. G. Wilson brick warehouse, which cost $40,000, or the Dawson Warehouse Company's brick warehouse, which cost $20,000, and twenty or more private warehouses built of corrugated iron, besides the nineteen of the Northern Commercial Company and many others. As to the rates charged, I have this to say: they run from 2 per cent. to 5 per cent. on this class of business, and 2 per cent. upon dwellings. As to the fire brigade, which he says was only recently organized, I have you herewith a copy of a pamphlet showing all particulars relating thereto and showing it was organized in October, 1898. Mr. Hees' conclusions on the business prospects and the condition of the labor markets in Dawson are almost as absurd. Rents, bank interest and wages paid have always been accepted as a sure indication of the business conditions of a community. According to Mr. Hees an office that would rent for $30 a month in Toronto brings $130 in Dawson, and servants get from $75 to $125 a month and board, and the rate of bank interest is 18 per cent. per annum, and yet we are told in another column that 'there are ten applicants for every job available, and yet boatload after boatload of adventurers are arriving almost daily to swell the crowd of idlers.' Not only is such a statement unreasonable, but it is absolutely untrue. The only basis of fact for it is that when it was understood that the Hawkins' railway from Dawson to Grand Forks would begin building in September a number of railway navvies went north to take part in railway construction, but returned home as soon as the commencement of operations was postponed. Locomotives for the railway have since gone down to Dawson on steamboats, and active railway building will proceed almost at once. The quotations given from Bradstreet's as to the business outlook are also misleading. Bradstreet's never had a business office in the Yukon. It is true that the suppression of gambling, dance halls and kindred enterprises shut off a number of small dealers in fancy goods, French groceries and like products, and also was a serious blow to the restaurants, saloons and bath-houses. No doubt also there has been a weeding out of small and weak dealers owing to the high transportation rates and the fact that the camp is becoming daily less abnormal, but business conditions on the whole are very sound and very satisfactory. Mr. Hees' conclusions with regard to the gold output were professed with the statement that he had exceptional facilities for seeing the gold fields, particularly as he had with him Mr. Newlands, the government secretary, and others, and that these gentlemen, being familiar with every foot of the gold fields, had taken him to the most important and most profitable mines. Mr. Hees plainly meant to be understood as saying he had visited the most important mines with Mr. Newlands. The following letter from Mr. Newlands is perhaps the best reply to this misleading statement: 'I drove with Mr. Hees, Joe Barrett and H. E. Ridley to the town of Bonanza, twelve miles from Dawson. From there we went up Eldorado to 34, about three and a half miles farther. We then turned back and drove home, stopping at Antoine Stander's claim, where the foreman showed us how to pan, washing out one pan of dirt in which there was from 50 to 75 cents. Afterwards we stopped at another claim, where two men were finishing a wash-up, and then drove home. The time we were out was after the winter work was finished, and before summer work had commenced, and on account of the time of the year and the short distance we went it was impossible to get any idea of either the country or the work that was being done.' Mr. Hees proceeds to quote Mr. Senkler as saying that the output of gold last year was over $24,000,000, and this year will not exceed $14,000,000, a falling off of nearly half, owing to the lack of new discoveries, of which there had been none in the past year. This statement by Mr. Hees has since become important as it has appeared in the New York Mining Journal as having been published by Mr. Senkler personally. I have received this statement from Mr. Senkler: 'Mr. Hees misquoted me by saying that I stated the output for last year was $24,000,000. What I said was that the output two years ago—that is, for the year ending in the fall of 1900—was from $23,000,000 to $24,000,000. For the year ending in the fall of 1901 the output was from $17,000,000 to $18,000,000, and the output for the year ending in the fall of this year will be, in my best judgment, about $14,000,000. I did not say there were no discoveries made in the last year. What I stated was that there were no new works discovered as valuable as Eldorado or Bonanza. A number of discoveries have been made on tributaries of the Stewart river, also on the Big Salmon and Sixtymile rivers, upon which a large number of miners are working.' All in all—Skagway, Oct. 16.—The women of the hall world are having a seance with the district court. The grand jury, which has been in session for about 10 days, has indicted all the women in Skagway and it is said in other towns of Southeastern Alaska who are known to be keepers of houses of ill fame. Deputy Marshal Snook arrested all the women in Skagway yesterday who had been indicted and included the whole crowd. Two Japanese girls, Jane Toek and Mary Yok, pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Brown fined them. In consideration of their pleading guilty and confessing their wrong, he made the fine $100 and costs each. Miss Frankie Belmont plead not guilty to a similar charge, through her attorney, yesterday. Her trial has not been set. The extreme penalty in these cases is one year in jail or a fine of $500. WORKING LOW GRADE QUARTZ

Interesting Article on Treadwell Mines

Improvements Made to the immense Plant Near Juneau Recently.

The mines of Treadwell are always referred to for purposes of comparison in the cost of mining and milling low grade ores, and the following statement, from the San Francisco Scientific Press of Oct. 15th, the most recently published statement on the subject, will therefore be of interest to the quartz prospectors of this neighborhood: It is the intention of Joseph MacDonald, the general superintendent of the Treadwell group of mines, to create a reserve of 1,000,000 tons of ore, and the reason I have been so particular to call the reader's attention to the percentage extracted from the pits and upper levels is the fact that all the machinery in the pits are set on the tripod, and the holes are 11 feet and sometimes 16 feet deep, and half of the machinery on the 110-foot and 220-foot levels are also on the tripod. No machine below the 220 level is on a tripod, and the efficiency of the first is as 80 and 40. The holes in the stopes of the levels average by the tripod 9' and 7 feet. Another reason, the tripod is always set on solid rock, so that necessarily there need be no reserves, but the bar machine in the stope is set up on broken rock, so that when you start a stope below the 220 level you only draw a third of the ore broken until your stope is carried to the level above. So that the new management is only accepting the inevitable in straining every nerve to create a large reserve, and if the late Mr. Duncan's estimate holds good with the bar drill as with the tripod, the new management is to be congratulated on its access by creating in one month over 40,000 tons of a reserve; if no reserve is formed in June, it is a bad omen for the rest of the year, as this month is usually one of the best for producing plenty of power from melting snow, even if the rainfall is light. A new 20 drill air compressor is to be installed, so as to keep the air pressure at eighty-five pounds. The medium-sized drill has been gradually replaced by one of the newest and heaviest type. Since January, 1901, the new shaft has been sunk 335 feet and is now 844 feet and still sinking. The tramping of the 2815 tons hoisted daily is done by horse power on the three upper levels, a horse pulling a train of six cars, on the 440 level an endless wire rope system, operated by steam, hauls a train of two ton cars; formerly all the tramping was done by car men. The reason the milling tonnage was so low for June, 1900, is that the 240-stamp mill was being torn down and rebuilt. The London Financial News of March 13, 1902, states that the Treadwell Co. spent $500,000 on the building of the 3000-stamp mill, the rebuilding of the 240-stamp mill and the erection and equipment of the new hoist—all out of the profits of the mine, besides paying its annual 6 per cent. on its $5,000,000 capital, and 7 1/2 per cent. of its capital has been paid in dividends to its stockholders. The same authority gives the cost in 1891, the year after the present company was formed—at $1.88 per ton, and in a local paper, of date 9th inst., a noted mining expert from Rossland, B. C., who had just been on a visit to Douglas island, gives the cost at the Treadwell for the last year ending May 15 at $1.28 per ton. Pawns His Watch. New York, Oct. 7.—A New York lawyer has been compelled to pawn his watch here to get a charter for the Whippani & Passie River railroad company, says a Herald dispatch from Trenton, N. J. When the attorney reached the state department he discovered that he had come away without the money for the filing fees, although he had brought $14,000 for the certificate. He had but a small sum of change in his pockets, and the corporation clerk informed him that without the requisite $75 there could be no filing of the charter. The lawyer protested that the parties were awaiting a telegram from him, announcing the issuance of the charter, in order that a meeting could be held at once. The court attaches were obdurate, however, and a visit to the nearest pawn shop was made. Here the situation was realized and the money was procured. A telegraph order for money soon arrived and the attorney redeemed his watch. The proposed road is to be seven miles long and is bonded for $750,000. And there ended the career of Louis Tappan, the worthless young man of Buena Vista.

The station agent at Culver, ten miles below Buena Vista, on the Louisville and Nashville, saw the last train 'hesitate' at his door and was getting out his key to lock up when a well-dressed, swarthy young man with a small bag dropped off the rear coach and approached him. 'This is Culver, isn't it?' 'Yes, sir.' 'Do you know where Mrs. Tappan, Mrs. Louis Tappan, lives?' 'Don't live here, leastways not in town. I know 'em all. No Tappans and nothing like that name round here. I'm pretty sure.' 'Moved here from Buena Vista,' suggested the stranger wistfully, 'moved up about a year ago?' 'Oh, hold on, Tappan—oh, her name ain't Tappan no more. She's married to Bill Chesbrough. They was married at Buena Vista a year ago, and come up here to live. Sure I—' The stranger coughed a few times, looked up and down the tracks and then: 'Her first husband, Patten. Laffan—' 'Tappan,' murmured the uneasy visitor. 'Tappan, he died in the Philippines. He was a no-good bum and deserted her and the kid, so she ups and marries Bill Chesbrough. Bill is rich, owns all them quarries over to Hopeton. I'll show you where they live, take you right past the door.' 'No-oo,' mused the visitor, half aloud, and fumbling in his pocket. 'I guess I won't go up, I—what did you say her first name was, Lucy?' 'Yes, that's her. She was Miss Lucy Harding, daughter of old 'Skiffint' Harding, down to Buena Vista, richer'n—and meaner still. He—' 'Yes, I know,' was the interruption, 'but you're going past the house, her house?' 'Yep.' 'Would you mind stepping in with this?' handing over a photograph. 'It's a picture of Tappan for the boy, his boy. You see we, Tappan and I, were in the same regiment and when he got sick, he asked for me to—' for the boy, you know; his daddy's picture. I promised to give it to him.' 'Oh, the Tappan kid, the one by her first husband, he—' 'Yes, that's the one. How is he? Does he look like—' 'Oh, that one died the first week they come here, diphtheria got him. He just—' But the newcomer was out of earshot before the station agent could finish. Down the tracks he went toward the east walking like fury, with his head down and his little bag swinging in the dim light of the yard lamps till the night swallowed him. The station agent whistled a note of wonder, looked at the photograph he yet held in his hand, saw it was of a young soldier standing bravely at salute and turned it over. On the back was written: 'For Louis Tappan's little boy.' The station agent shoved it into his overcoat pocket. 'I'll bet that chap was a bug,' he mused as he walked toward Chesbrough's house, 'but I guess I'd better give the picture to Mrs. Chesbrough—oo, come to think of it, I guess I'd better not. Tappan is dead, the kid is dead and old Bill Chesbrough is jealous as an old maid.' He tore the photograph into small bits after another look and flicked the pieces into the air as he walked homewards.—John H. Raftery in Chicago Record-Herald. SATURDAY EVENING

Assessment Court of Appeal in Session

Reductions Are Made When Proven Conclusively to be Excessive.

The assessment court of appeal again met Saturday evening with Mayor Macaulay in the chair. The first case heard was that of P. Burns & Co. passed over from the last session.

Lilly Bros. are assessed at $30,000 which, they consider much too high. According to a statement made by one of the firm their imports for the present year amount to $13,208 upon which they paid freight to the amount of $15,839 and duty $1014.

Two small assessments against David Doig, one a cabin valued at $600, were approved, no one appearing to press the appeal.

The assessment against Mrs. Eliza A. Brown was confirmed by default. R. L. Hall had two appeals and was represented by C. W. C. Tabor.

When S. Weisberg took the stand to protest against his assessment of $18,000 he took the customary oath but would not kiss the book, it being contrary to his religious principles.

The firm of Mesereau & Clark is assessed at $15,000 which they consider much too high. Mr. Clarke stated they never had had that amount of stock on hand at any one time.

License Inspector Worlock upon being appealed to stated that the value of the firm's importations during the present year amounted to over $70,000.

D. D. Sawyer is out of the city and his case was continued until his return. The personal assessment of F. A. Cleveland was reduced from $8000 to $5000.

Mr. Pattullo appeared for Courtland Starnes re the assessment of $3600 against the residence of the latter.

The assessment court of appeal against Mr. Adair Bros. was because it was grossly unreasonable, enormously out of proportion and was made in his opinion entirely upon a most superficial judgment.

A number of consignments the witness stated had come in their care for other people and had been hauled direct from the wharf to where they belonged without even as much as passing through their store.

Miss E. M. Fitch, Edward Liebman, E. E. Kellogg, A. Fortin and Mrs. L. M. Lynch was confirmed by default.

The last case heard by the court was that of the B. Y. N. Co. which was represented by Arthur Davey, who had his facts and figures arranged in a most commendable manner.

The assessment of the company this year amounts to $500,000 on income and $40,000 on realty holdings and personal property.

Through business transacted this year between Dawson and Skagway steamer lines receive half and the railroad half.

There will be no session of the court this evening on account of it being the regular meeting of the council.

IMPORTANT WITNESSES

In Murder Cases Have Arrived

Escorted by A. Marcou, an Agent of the Secret Service at Ottawa.

Among the arrivals Saturday evening on the Whitehorse were Mr. A. Marcoux, of the Dominion secret service stationed at Ottawa, accompanying Mrs. Denis and Mrs. Gilbert, of St. Francis, a small town in Beauce county about 40 miles from Quebec.

Both the ladies are witnesses for the crown in the murder trials to be heard next week and both have been brought from their far eastern home for the purpose of testifying in the cases.

How the people of the Klondike are to get in their small packages during the winter is a matter of a great deal of interest to many, and therefore the express company was seen in regard thereto.

On packages coming by mail to Whitehorse the charges would be 50 cents per pound, the minimum charge for any package being $1.

On shipments of gold the company would charge 1 1/2 per cent, which is only a quarter of one per cent higher than the summer rate.

Mr. Marcoux states that when Bouthilllette left his home he did so alone. He had previously arranged to meet Beaudoin and Constantine, the former at his home and the latter at Montreal.

In company with Detective Welsh, the eastern secret service man had a look at and a short interview with the two alleged murderers yesterday.

Mr. Marcoux stated that he as well as the ladies enjoyed the trip coming in very much indeed. A year ago last summer he was one of the party which escorted the Duke of York and suite in their travels throughout Canada and the pleasure of that trip were not to be compared with the voyage from Vancouver to Skagway, the ride across the pass above the clouds and the run down the mighty Yukon.

WATER FRONT NOTES

Mr. Calderhead received a private telegram from Whitehorse this morning that the White Pass was unable to get out this evening.

The party will remain here until after the trial when they will at once return to their homes. The probabilities are that they will be among the first passengers to reach Whitehorse via the new wagon road, as it is thought that navigation will be closed by the time the trial is ended.

Owing to the meeting held at Ogilvie bridge being broken into the other evening by several of the opposition, it was necessary to hold a second meeting for the purpose of organization. The polling division embraces Klondike City and Bonanza city, which extends to 80 below on Bonanza, and this was the committee appointed to conduct the campaign in the district: Geo. McLeod, F. T. Frooks, H. Butchart, F. Crofton, J. McVicker, Walter Shaw, Arthur E. Finch, J. Lynch, R. Kinsey, J. Foster, J. Valley, and two others to be selected this evening.

The committee will meet at the New Era roadhouse this evening at eight o'clock.

Executive Committee

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Ross campaign at seven o'clock this evening, at the campaign headquarters, Grand building, corner of Third avenue and Queen street.
