EXTRAVAGANCE NO PASSPORT.

Titled Ladies of Highest Rank Are Exponents of Simple Living.

Exponents of Simple Living. Exponents of Simple Living. London society is still enjoying the statement made by Min. Asquith, wife of the Prime Minister, during a recent lawsuit that "extravagance is a pass-port to society," but to prove that not all the feminine members of the no-bility can be reached by the "open-handed" methods of women who de-size to "climb," some of the smartest of these within the charmed circle are beginning to take a lively interest in the Simple Life Exhibition which opens soon, in order to prove that while extravagance may help the se-pirant for society favor it is not, at all events, a "necessary" passport to circles of the upper ten. Among the exponents of the simple life whose interest is keen on the subject are the Duchess of Rutland, the Marchioness of Downshire, the Countess of Kinnoll, the Countess of Warwick, Lady Muriel Watkins, Lady Malcolm of Poltalloch, and oth-er well-known English society people. One of the schemes of the gromoters of the conference is to show how food may be purchased cheaply, the advo-cacy of an open air life, and simplicity in architecture. If the exponents of this cause can

If the exponents of this cause can produce this request, and prove that extravagance is not an essential for entrance to society, there are many husbands in England and elsewhere who will be willing to contribute largely to make the Simple Life Con-gress a permanent and international institution.

Novels With a Purpose.

There is no doubt that the best novel of this kind, and the most effecnovel of this kind, and the most elec-tive for its purpose of putting an end to slavery, was "Uncle Tom's Cabin." "Don Quixote" ridiculed the follies and abuses of chivalry out of exist-ence. In "It's Never Too Late to Mend" the intolerable cruelties of our prison swatem were attacked and Mend" the intolerable crucities of our prison system were attacked, and "Hard Cash" exposed the equally flagrant wrongs practiced 'in lunatic asylums. "Oliver Twist" drew atten-tion to the maladministration of the Poor Law, "Bleak House" struck at the Chancery Courts, while "Nicho-las Nickleby" pointed out abuses in World a Wretched Sort of Place. Many centuries ago there lived a Greek philosopher who got it into his head that life was a lamentable thing. He was a man of great eloquence and he went about declaiming to multi-tudes and drawing for them the dis-mal conditions of mortal man. "Life is no better than death! Life is no better than death!" So vividly did he paint the horrors of life that many who heard him committed suicide. His journey from town to town was marked by a trail of self-inflicted murder. One day after he had finished speaking an attentive listener went up to him and asked: "If life is no better than death, why do you not die yourself?" World a Wretched Sort of Place.

"Because," returned the philoso-pher, with his most convincing man-ner, "death is no better than life." Not wholly unlike the teachings of Not wholly unlike the teachings of this pessimistic Greek were the cyni-cal remarks of Richard Par, 28 years of age, the other day, before receiv-ing his three years' sentence to penal scrvitude in a Welsh prison. He made a remarkable speech, giving his views of life and mankind in general. "You have heard a record of a few of the deeds I have been guilty of." he said. "I feel proud of them, proud of my career and proud also to think that my country must go to the ex-

I am a living lie and I know I shall never be anything else. Life is a gigantic fraud. Selfishness and oppression abound on all sides. "The chief object in life seems to be that men should 'do' their neigh-bors. If they don't succeed their neighbors will 'do' their neighbors. I believe in 'doing' my neighbors. I believe in 'doing' my neighbor, for it is but self-defense. There is no mode of punishment that can prevent me from doing these deeds. If I thought that by living a clean, honest, that by living a clean, honcet, straightforward life I should be re-warded in the future, then I would do so. But there is no future, and one can, if he so chooses, live as he will. It matters not one atom, for when one is dead area is furthed with Death is dead one is finished with. Death will never frighten me. I shall face it and will welcome it."

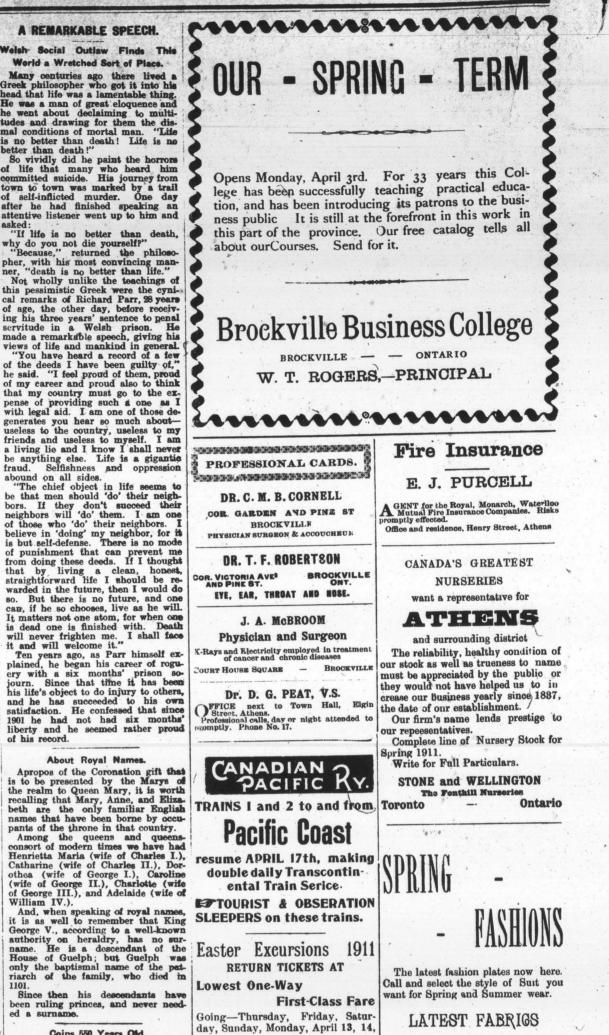

it and will welcome it." Ten years ago, as Parr himself ex-plained, he began his career of rogu-ery with a six months' prison so-journ. Since that time it has been his life's object to do injury to others, and he has succeeded to his own satisfaction. He confessed that since 1901 he had not had six months' liberty and he seemed rather proud of his record. of his record

About Royal Names. Apropos of the Coronation gift that is to be presented by the Marys of the realm to Queen Mary, it is worth recalling that Mary, Anne, and Eliza-beth are the only familiar English names that have been borne by occu-pants of the throne in that country. Among the queens and queens-consort of modern times we have had Henrietta Maria (wife of Charles I.), Catharine (wife of Charles I.), Catharine (wife of George II.), Charlotte (wife of George II.), and Adelaide (wife of William IV.). Commentary.-I. The visit to the sepulchre (vs. 1-10.) 1. The first day of the week--The body of Jesus was plac-ed in the tomb before sunset on Friday and lay there until very early on Sun-day morning. A part of Friday, the whole of Saturday and a part of Sunday whole of Saturday and a part of Sunday, where together, according to Jewish us-age, called three days. Mary Magdalene —She was most earnestly devoted to the Master, and it appears that her zeal led her to reach the tomb in advance of the other women. Their mission was to embalm the body of Jesus, yet dark— Before daylight. the sepulehre—It was the new tomb of Joseph of Arimathaea, who had requested the Roman officer to permit him to provide for the burial of the body of our Lord. the stone taken away—The women had inquired, as they were on the way to the sepulas they were on the way to the sepul-chre, who should roll away the stone (Mark 16, 3). The opening into the tomb was like a door in a wall of rock, which was covered by a large stone like a millstone. In Matt. 28:2 we read that an angel rolled the stone away. 2. run-neth—In her disappointment in not find-ing the body of Jesus she hastened to ing the body of Jesus she hastened to inform the disciples of the loss as she regarded it. the other disciple, whom Jesus lover—From this and other pas-rages it is clear that it was John himself. 3. came to the sepulchre—The two disciples hastened to the tomb with the hope of finding some clue that would lead to the recovery of the body. 4. did outrun Peter—This yerse shows the anxiety of the disciples in this matter. 5. yet went he not in—John was able to be the interiment of the disciple in the interiment. 5. yet went he not in—John was able to see the interior of the tomb without en-tering, and he saw the grave-clothes, but not the body of Jesus. Reverence for his Lord may have kept him from en-tering. 6. Peter....went into the sep-ulchre—Peter was too impetuous to stop outside. This was in keeping with his disposition from the time he first be-came a disciple of Jesus 7 wenned came a disciple of Jesus. 7. wrapped together in a place by itself—A sign of the resurrection. If a friend had removed the body he would not .ave stripped it. If an enemy had stolen it he would not have taken the trouble he would not have taken the trouble to remove the napkin and lay it in a place by itself.—Chrysostom. The whole was as if a sleeper had risen from his couch, arranged the clothes and depart-ed.—Whedon. There was no indica-tion of violence or haste. 8. he saw, and believed—As reverence at first kept John at a respectful distance from were the body of Jesus had lain. so faith upon a mere complete understand-John at a respectful distance from were the body of Jesus had lain. so faith upon a mere complete understand-ing of conditions within the tomb, led him to enter and to believe that the body of Jesus had not been taken from the tomb, but that Jesus had risen from the dead. Our Lord had told them that He would suffer death and rise again the third day, but the disciples had failed to comprehend his meaning. John's faith was sublime. He lived so close to the heart of his Master that faith seems to have been inspired in his heart. If. Jesus äppears to Mary (vs. 11-18). 1. Mary stood.....weeping-She re-way. There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always pres-ent, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried médicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the bles-

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK Montreal.—There was no change in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being firmer under a fairly good demand, for small lots, and as supplies demand for small lots, and as supplies were not large a good clearance was made. Choice steers sold at 6 1-2c, good at 6c to 6-3-4c, fairly good at 5 1-2c to 5 3-4c, fair at 5c to 5 1-4c, and the com-mon at 4 1-2c to 4 3-4c per pound. The supply of cows was small, which met with a fair sale at prices ranging from 4c to 5 1-4c per pound. A weak feeling developed on the market for hogs, and prices declined 20c to 30c per 100 pounds. This was due to the increased offerings, the prospects for large supplies next week and the fact that packers held irm, 63s.

week and the fact that packers held off to some extent. In the early part of the day sales of selected lots were made at $7.50 to $7.60. but later holders, in order to dispose of their stock had to accept the above decline noted and sales were made as low as $7.20 per 100 pounds weighed off cars. Owing to the very large increase in the receipts of calves the tone of the market was weak, and sales were made at prices ranging from $1 to $5, as to size and quality. The demand for sheep and lambs was good, and prices were main-tained. Old sheep sold at 4 3-4c per pound, and spring lambs at $5 to $7 each.

John Burns Says Suffragette Opposition to Census Failed.

Sheep-Receipts estimated at 15,000;

London, April 10.—"In the hours of success, mercy and magnamimity are becoming to us," declared Mr. John Burns, President of the Local Government Board, when questioned in the House of Commons this afternoon as to whether or not the contumacious suffagettes who refused to be counted by the census enumerators were to be pan-ished. Mr. Burns added that the manocuvres of the suffragettes in regard to the census had had no appreciable effect on the accuracy of the statistics that were being gathered.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New. Health Giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs ton-ing np. To be healthy and strong you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vi-tality. Nature demands it, and without tality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid—you may have twinges of rheu-matism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfigaring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tirodness and a variable appetite. Any tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is suit of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What is nas reserved your vicinity.
