

BEAVER

"BEAVER FLOUR" is the unfailing friend of the housewife. It saves her the trouble of keeping two kinds of flour—one for bread and another for pastry. Being a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, it gives to bread the rich, nutritious properties of the former and the lighter qualities of the latter, making a large white loaf of delicate texture and exquisite flavor.

Pastry, biscuits and cakes, made with BEAVER FLOUR cannot be excelled.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never used such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.

Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is—well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

A good combination is Estabrooks' Coffee for breakfast and Red Rose Tea for other meals.

BIG GUN DUEL

During Crimean War to Test Merit of Big Guns a Duel Was Decided Upon Between British and Russian Gunners.

Even war, with all its grim horrors, has now and then a bit of fun and games, pitted against each other in deadly struggle, can relax into friendly controversy. A general relates a curious incident of the Crimean War. While the British Army lay before Sebastopol much speculation went on in regard to the relative merit of certain Russian and certain British guns.

One day, during an armistice, a Russian officer of artillery came to the British lines and asked to see the commander of the British artillery.

"Your sixty-pound pounder that your people call 'Jenny' is a beautiful gun," said the Russian; "but we have one as good in the embrasure, and we should like a fair duel with her."

Arrangements were made that at the next day all other firing should cease, and that the two guns should be put to the test.

At the appointed time a large number of officers were assembled to witness the contest. The British sailors of the gun detachment took off their caps and saluted the Russians, who returned the compliment. The British gun, as the senior, was allowed to fire first. It struck the side of the Russian embrasure. Then the Russians returned a good shot.

The third shot from "Jenny" went clear through the enemy's embrasure. The Bluecoats, thinking the victory was theirs, jumped upon the parapet and cheered. But they were mistaken. In a minute out came the Russian gun again and delivered several accurate shots. "Jenny" got a bad thump on her side, but it did no material harm.

At the seventh shot from the British side the Russian gun was knocked clean over. The British fellows cheered vociferously, and the Russians mounted the parapet and took of their hats in acknowledgment of defeat. This ended the great gun duel, and more serious hostilities were resumed.

BRITAIN'S BRICK

Of the many relics of Nelson, few appear so interesting as a humble little object in an obscure English town. At the Devon Grammar School, in Norfolk, Lord Nelson was numbered amongst the pupils, and one summer evening he spent some time in carving the initials H. N. on the wall that surrounds the school.

Years afterwards, when he became the people's idol, visitors made a point of viewing his handiwork on the wall, and precautions were taken to guard zealously this memento of the famous Admiral. But in 1841 a great storm blew down a tree, which in its fall partly demolished the north masonry. On the following morning Mr. Rider Haggard (recently created a baronet), who was visiting the head master, spent some time in assisting to find the magic letters, and it was reserved for the celebrated novelist to discover the identical brick needed.

He handed it over to the principal of the school, and to-day the brick rests enclosed in a shade bearing a suitable inscription, in the most prominent position in the school. Small wonder, therefore, that when a Norfolk scholar was asked the question, "Who was Nelson?" he replied, "He was a brick!"

NO DUCKS FOR HER

"Why is it, that in the spring a young woman's fancy is so apt to turn to clucking hens? Last year one of my best friends abandoned the footlights and sought the actor's dreamed-of paradise, a little home in the country.

"As a recreation she decided to start a poultry farm, which she did with a ten-yard hen and thirteen chickens from the village. Not having even the most elementary knowledge of poultry, she inquired of a neighbor how long eggs generally took to hatch. She received the reply: "Three weeks for chickens and four for ducks."

"The neighbor met her some time afterward, and, on being asked how the poultry farming was going on, she replied, with a lowering countenance: "Oh, I've finished with it. At the end of three weeks there were no chickens, so I took the hen off, as I didn't want ducks."

EVIDENTLY A MISTAKE

"Twas at the skating rink, and the young man was but a beginner. Wherefore he lost his balance!

He made a wild effort to grab anything in the way of support. And, as it happened, the nearest thing was a fashionably-dressed lady, also on skates. She promptly turned on him. "You contemptible cur!" she shrieked. "Do you think I am a lamp post, or a piece of furniture, or what? You ought not to be allowed in here, you clumsy lout! What right have you to tear other people's clothes to rags, and claw them in that mad way? You are not fit—"

But the young man had now recovered his composure. "Pardon me, madam," he remarked, "but haven't you made a mistake?"

"A mistake?" gasped the lady. "What do you mean?"

"Simply this, madam," came the calm retort, "I am not your husband!"

"Accused of begging!" exclaimed a magistrate. "Why, you are the very man who was begging at my door yesterday!"

"Yes," assented the vagrant, with a sneer, "and you didn't give me anything."

"Well, I'll give you something now, fourteen days!"

EXHIBIT

$200,000 Per Annum. With 853 Signatures of World Renowned Celebrities and Their Remarks.

Seven years ago Councillor Louis Barthe, of Arad, in Hungary, commenced to collect autographs, and to-day can boast of possessing one of the finest collections in the world. Indeed, he recently refused an offer of no less than $50,000 for his album, which contains the names of 853 world-renowned celebrities, whose remarks have been written in forty-three languages. Already ninety-three of them are dead.

Recently he visited Marlborough House to obtain the signature of Queen Alexandra, and at Her Majesty's request left his precious volume there for twenty-four hours, in order that she might examine at leisure his wonderful array of signatures of Kings, Queens, Emperors, Ministers, scientists, artists, and writers. Her Majesty has gone all over the world to add to his book, and has spent between $45,000 and $50,000 in travelling expenses. The Emperor Francis Joseph, who favoured him with an autograph, told him he was the only monarch not a Minister, who had ever received his signature.

"I was at Biarritz one year," says Herr Barthe, "at the same time as King Edward. I showed him my volume, and, in giving me his signature, he said: 'Your book is an extraordinary treasure. It has only one defect—it is not mine.'"

Herr Barthe is preparing a history of how his autographs have been obtained. This book will contain in facsimile every autograph he possesses. It is to be issued in an edition of 100,000 copies, and the proceeds of its sale will be devoted to international charities.

WONDERFUL GOWNS

Dresses Rich and Wonderful That Make Women Gasp and Men Sit Up and Wonder If It Is Worth the Candle.

One of the most beautiful costumes ever turned out was that worn by Queen Mary at the Coronation Durbar, and there are no fewer than 5,250,000 stitches in the train, which is of Irish point lace.

The train had been presented as a gift by the ladies of Belfast to Her Majesty, and was made by the Presentation Sisters of Youghal. It has been estimated that it would have taken over a quarter of a century for a single lace worker to complete the train, but sixty workers, working regularly, finished it in 58,020 hours.

This reminds one that at the Plantagenet Hall, held at Buckingham Palace in 1842, the late Queen Victoria impersonated Queen Philippa, in a silken dress made entirely in Spitalfields.

The dress, which was on view for several days at Hanover Square, cost, in materials alone, nearly $1250, while the gems that decorated it, exclusive of the Royal pearl-necklace, head-dress, and other jewels, were valued at over $300,000.

The fur that trimmed her outer robe was miniver, the skin of the Siberian squirrel, the same kind of fur that Queen Philippa wore on her Court costumes in the days of long ago.

Perhaps the most expensive dress ever worn by Queen Alexandra was that in which she appeared at the famous ball at Devonshire House in honour of the late Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. She took the character of Marguerite de Valois, commonly called La Reine Marie, her train being carried by the daughter of Sir Francis Knollys.

Her Majesty's costume is said to have cost $1250 to make. It was of rich white satin, embroidered in gold and silver, with a high collar from which hung the train—a glorious affair of cloth-of-gold lined with silver tulle.

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always dressed exotically, and in the richest and most expensive materials. She received on the occasion of her silver wedding an ermine mantle which cost $60,000. It was presented to her by the nobility of the province of Kherson.

Gold-and-silver dresses are by no means uncommon. The metals, after being formed into very fine wire, are woven into cloth, and afterwards made into dresses. The women of Sumatra were the first to attire themselves in this expensive material.

Countess Palovolovetsch wore a costly dress at a garden-party given at Biarritz some years ago. This unique gown had the appearance of being constructed of tongues of blue flame resting on a bed of light liquid. The material of the dress itself was rich brocaded silk, and attached to the gown were exactly 35 fireflies. These little creatures glowed until the countess left the grounds, and doffed the strangest gown ever worn at a society gathering in India or elsewhere.

The Countess de Villeneuve once had a dress made from beetle backs, and wore it on several occasions. When attired in this strange costume she wore a beautiful scarabaeus beetle on her neck attached to a collar by a slender gold chain, which allowed it to roam about the lady's chest and shoulders.

A wedding ceremony had come to a close. The mother sniffed convulsively, and the bride dabbed her pretty eyes with handkerchief. One of the bridesmaids was also affected to tears.

"Why do you weep?" asked a groomsman of the bridesmaid; "it's not your wedding."

The girl looked at him scornfully. "That's the reason, you stupid." And she sighed.

There is many a man who has't worth what it costs him to live.

CURIOSITY Prompted Many Women To Try PURITY FLOUR

THEY were curious to see exactly what results would be produced by flour consisting entirely of the high-grade portions of the best Western hard wheat.

They were curious to know more about a flour that contained none of the low-grade portions, which are found in every wheat berry, but which are separated and excluded from the high-grade in the process of milling PURITY FLOUR.

THEY were curious to know whether an ALL HIGH-GRADE hard wheat flour was really superior to a mixed hard and soft wheat flour.

They were curious to see and taste the kind of bread, buns, biscuits, cakes and pies PURITY FLOUR would make.

Curiosity prompts you to seek the knowledge they discovered. It's urging you to try PURITY FLOUR.

REMEMBER: On account of the extra strength and extra quality of PURITY FLOUR it is necessary, for best pastry-results, to add more shortening than you are accustomed to use with an ordinary flour. Add more water when making bread.

Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now!

THE ADVOCATE, which since its inception in 1867, has been in the hands of the Messrs. It has been found necessary to make very considerable alterations and additions to the premises in order to properly equip them for the needs of a modern newspaper. The plant which has been in use in the office since the paper was first started is now past service, as a glance at the paper will show, and an entirely new plant consisting of the most modern and up-to-date printing machinery obtainable is now in course of being installed. The installation of this new machinery necessitates the removal of the old, and while this is being done it will be impossible to issue the paper.

EUROPE AND CHINESE TROUBLE

Peking. -- The treaty powers have undertaken the protection of the railroad between Peking and the sea. Interruption of traffic along this line, which has prevented the passage of the mails for four days, has resulted in this decision. Detachments of British, German, Japanese and French troops have been stationed at intervals between Peking and Chin Wang Tao, according to the plan devised two months ago. The respective nations assume charge of different sections of the road. Great Britain taking care of the section between Peking and Yung Tsun; France between Yung Tsun and Tientsin; Germany between Tientsin and Luanow; and Japan from Luanow to Chin Wang Tao. The United States, however, has no troops in North China, except 200 regulars, and has been unable to send some regulars to the section allotted to it, but expects to do so as soon as the situation improves. The American troops are expected to arrive in the near future.

OLD HOME WEEK
The Old Home Week Committee has got down to business in real earnest. At a meeting held a few evenings ago a tentative program was considered and estimates of the probable cost of the celebration were discussed. The matter will be taken up again at another meeting to be held shortly. A satisfactory feature is the manner in which citizens are coming forward with subscriptions, a condition of affairs which may very profitably be emulated by all who have not yet sent in the contributions.

HARD ON FATHER
Croquet Season Is Opened Again and Papa Knows.

Again the croquet season is with us. One notices it first when papa comes home from lodge. He slips in the side gate and walks across the lawn so as not to disturb the dog. He weaves his way carefully toward the door where a light is dimly burning. There is a slight touch on his right leg about four inches above his ankle. He doesn't notice it. The next instant he is on his face, his nose investigating the intricacies of a flower bed, while with his other hand he upsets a stand full of flower pots. "What in the lovely, charming, pleasant and agreeable circumstances is this?" asks papa. The dog bays a mournful answer to the moon. A window is opened and a sharp voice says: "Come in the house, you fool, before you fall over another croquet wicket." Then father knows the croquet season is on and he announces at breakfast next day that if Willie forgets to bring in the wickets at night he'll burn the darned outfit. For the next few weeks the boys and girls come over and plant their heels in the flower beds and play rover among the geraniums. In the evening, sometimes, pap will play a game with mamma just to square himself for the nights he goes to lodge.

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.
Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.
Much money is made out of casting police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent" where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is a strange and unaccountable fact that a wealthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

MY LADY'S COLUMN.

A CARRIER MODEL.

A fur scarf that is wrapped around the body and then hangs gracefully over the arms is one of the latest fashions of French femininity. This conception is as charming as it is unusual. The model from the French magazine "Cahier" was of sea-kin trimmed with white fox. The color and fabric scheme were carried out in the hat and muff.

The scarf was about three-quarters of a yard wide and long enough to enclose the body twice. In this way it forms a complete wrap. It has a band of white fox on one side and is lined with salmon pink satin. The muff is perfectly flat and has the fox on either end in this way differing from the scarf.

The tall crown of the hat of this three-piece fur set, is of sea-kin. The narrow brim where it turns up is touched with the white fox and on top of the high crown saucily toss a bunch of Prince of Wales feathers. This is of salmon pink. This set could easily be copied in black velvet and swansdown. This combination would be pretty and inexpensive.

GOOD MANNERS.

One does not require nowadays the ultra-politeness of our forefathers; it would appear almost suited and unnatural. At the same time the modern maid and youth are apt to err in the opposite extreme. Lack of courtesy is rather a growing evil, though it is often only the result of ignorance, owing to the progressiveness having led such a free and easy life that the importance of manners has been left unconsidered.

Casual Manners.

The older generation frequently complains of the treatment of the younger, and the following examples are not uncommon:

Accepting an invitation and throwing it up at the last moment.

Agreeing to meet at a certain time and keeping the other person waiting.

Accepting hospitality, and not troubling to repay by any appreciative and entertaining manner.

Failing to write a line of thanks after a week-end visit—old-fashioned perhaps, but a courtesy no hostess despises.

Gratitude.

A grateful manner, considered even from a sordid point of view, pays. Would you not be inclined to repeat an invitation to the grateful guest who laid stress upon heartfelt thanks for the pleasure received?

Certainly it is agreeable to be appreciated, instead of feeling every entertainment is accepted as a matter of course.

Ladies' Golf Attire.

A golf kit is an essential in the wardrobe of most of the society women who are now out on holiday. The Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia who have been seen doing a round on the links at Ballater in pouring rain, are two Royal ladies who play a good game, and Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein is another Royal enthusiast for golf. The Duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. Asquith and the Premier's daughters are some of the ladies known on the links of Gullane and North Berwick. A short skirt of Harris tweed or serge with tailor-made shirt of soft silk or a fine wool, low-heeled shoes, and a jacket of knitted wool, with either a cap to match or the smallest and simplest of turbans in suede—such is the outfit of the woman golfer who is in earnest. There is greater variety than ever this year in the matter of golf costs.

Pineapple Cream.

Pineapple cream is a delicious sweet for the hot weather. Required one tin of pineapple, half an ounce of isinglass, two ounces of lump sugar, and half a pint of thick cream. Put half a pint of the syrup of the pineapple into a saucepan (if there is not that quantity make it up with water.) Chop up two-thirds of the pineapple, being careful to remove any skin. Add the chopped-up pineapple and sugar for eight minutes; then add the isinglass that has been previously dissolved in a little hot water; allow all to boil gently for five minutes, and pour the mixture into a bowl. When it is cold and beginning to set, whisk in the cream and beat all together until it is a thick creamy mass. Pour into a wet mould, and leave it aside until set and quite firm. Turn out to a glass dish and arrange the remainder of the pineapple around it cut into small chunks.

The Rain Complexion Cure.

There are two beautiful women, well known in Irish society, says a lady writer, who frankly declare "the rain cure" to be the sole cause of their exquisite skins being always in perfect condition. Every woman can take the "rain cure" if she will. Put on a pair of strong shoes, a waterproof, a simple tweed hat, but no veil, and let the fresh soft water reach the skin. Then, on coming in, rub briskly with a soft towel, sit down in a warm but not heated room, and rest all the facial muscles, and you will be astonished at the result. Of course, damp clothing will have been removed previous to this.

Some of the new parasols are edged with narrow ostrich feathers, and have a big bow of ribbon on the handle, also edged with feathers.

For a satin slipper nothing is so effective as a small round buckle of rhinestones through which is inserted a satin or velvet ribbon.

For a hat, a small round buckle of rhinestones through which is inserted a satin or velvet ribbon.

THE LIGHT-HOUSE KEEPER'S STORY.

FROM the lighthouse at Lobster Cove Head, Bonaventure Bay, Newfoundland, Mrs. W. Young sends her experience of Zam-Buk.

She says: "I suffered with eczema for seven years and to my great delight Zam-Buk has cured me. The disease started on my breast, and spread until it extended over my back. The itching and burning—especially when the affected parts were warm—was terrible; and yet when the eruption was scratched or rubbed, it turned to bad sores and caused great pain. I went to a doctor and tried various prescriptions, but seemed to get no benefit, so tried another doctor. Again I got no relief, so tried a third doctor, and then a fourth.

"Seven years is a long time to suffer, and I had got used to the thought that I never would be cured, when I saw a report in the Family Herald, telling how beneficial Zam-Buk was in cases of skin disease.

"I bought some Zam-Buk, and from the use of the very first box I saw it was going to do me good. I persevered with it, and the improvement it worked in my condition was really wonderful.

"It eased the irritation, stopped the pain, and the sores began to dry up and disappear. In short, I found Zam-Buk all that was claimed for it and within a very short time it worked a complete cure in any case.

"Since that time I have recommended it for several other cases, and in each it has proved its wonderful merit.

Amatite ROOFING

A Modern View of the Roofing Question

Tin makes a good roof if you paint it.
Canvas makes a good roof if you paint it.
Any felt makes a good roof if you paint it.
Even paper makes a good roof if you paint it.
But Amatite makes a good roof if you DON'T paint it.

On a painted roof, the paint is what gives the real protection. The rest of it has no function except to provide a smooth unbroken surface with no seams or cracks, to which the paint can be applied. Anything which has strength enough to keep the wind from blowing it away or the rain from beating it in, will be waterproof if you use paint enough.

Amatite Roofing, however, needs no painting. It is a real roofing—a roofing that can be left out in the rain without the slightest damage.

The wearing surface is mineral matter embedded into a heavy coating of pitch and never needs painting.

We shall be glad to send you a sample of Amatite free of charge if you will send a postal request for it to our nearest office. The sample will show you what the mineral surface is like.

TORTURED FROM BABYHOOD

"Fruit-a-lives" Cures Constipation

Miss E. A. Goodall

EDMONTON, ALTA., Nov. 20th, 1911. "I have been a sufferer since babyhood from that terrible complaint, Constipation. I have been treated by physicians, and have taken every medicine I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I finally concluded that there was no remedy in the world that could cure Constipation. About this time, I heard about "Fruit-a-lives" and decided to try them. The effect was marvellous. The first box gave me great relief, and after I had used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well. "Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine that ever did me any good and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—"Try this fruit medicine and you will find—as I did—a perfect cure." (Miss) E. A. GOODALL

GIRL CHAINED AND BEATEN BY FATHER

Court Hears Wm. Rampone, Tied "Little Mother" to Tub and Locked Her in Room.

New York, June 6—Accused of beating his daughter Jennie, fourteen years old, with the buckle end of his belt and tying her with a dog chain and a rope to a stationary washtub, William Rampone, of No. 314 East 108th street, was before Magistrate Herrman in the Harlem Police Court yesterday. He was held in $500 bail for the Court of Special Sessions. The girl and her brother, five years old, to whom she had played the role of mother, were given into the custody of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Rampone, according to the testimony, chastised his daughter last Wednesday until she was unconscious. Then it was testified, he fastened a dog chain to her ankles and a rope around her waist and tied her to a washtub and, locking the door, left her with her brother. Jennie, with the little boy's aid, escaped through a window. She sought refuge in the flat of a neighbor, who communicated with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Newfoundlander Got His Money But Nearly Forfeited His Life in Attempt.

A despatch from North Sydney, N. S., says:— Two Newfoundlanders, who were bound home by the steamer Invermore, had a rather thrilling experience Saturday afternoon shortly after leaving Sydney on the ferry steamer Peerless, one of the men, while taking a one dollar bill from his pocket to pay his fare, lost his roll of fifty dollars overboard. The captain of the boat declined to turn back to search for the missing money, as the strong breeze blowing at the time would have rendered the picking up of the now scattered notes almost impossible. The owner of the money, however, decided not to lose the money without making an effort to recover it, and returning to Sydney on the next trip of the steamer, he and his companion procured a row-boat and started off in quest of the hard earned savings. Rowing to the neighborhood where the money was lost, the two men were fortunate in recovering thirty dollars, but one twenty dollar bill which had been in the roll could not be found, and further search had to be abandoned, when the small boat upset, precipitating the two seachers into the water. The two men made their way safely to shore and last night came to North Sydney and took passage for Newfoundland on the Invermore.

MY LADY'S COLUMN.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S PROTEGE

At the age of three, pianists in the making take more interest in toys than in sharps and flats. But Eric Scavenius, the famous young Grief player, who will visit Birmingham during his coming concert tour, and who is one of the favoured few to have his name entered in the book in which Queen Alexandra writes down the names of her favourite artists, on his third birthday astonished his family by clambering on to the piano stool and playing "Ding dong bell" and "Mary, Mary, quite contrary," hammering away at the notes till he struck the right ones. Later at the age of 14 he achieved another record by being the only competitor to obtain full marks at the senior Trinity College examination. Shortly after this exploit Queen Alexandra sent in young Scavenius, who is of Danish descent, and immediately set the seal of her approval upon his playing.

The Wealthy Pose. If the proper pose of the body be retained in all the ordinary duties of life, whether sitting or standing, it will minimize the fatigue of the daily routine. When double work is thrown upon some muscles, while others are idle, the result is the pain in back and limbs with which so many women suffer. To walk upstairs with the figure erect and not like a half-shut jack-knife, legs and joints flexible and lungs breathing properly, will not only contribute to a woman's appearance but also to her health.

MATERIAL MATERIAL THE MODEL'S THE THING

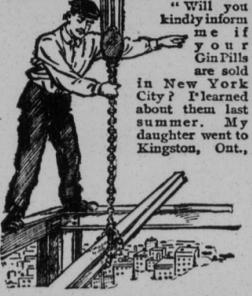

Black and white continue to be the mode; whether frocks are of silk, chiffon, satin or crepe. An exquisite model for an evening dress is composed of black chiffon over the same fabric of white. A lot of it is used on the black trim. The foundation of the gown is crepe, veiled with the sheer white. A blue satin grille gives a touch of color. This gown would serve for a model in marquisite or it would be charming in any simple limp material. The mode is the thing.

Princess Mary's Rebuff The following little story of the Queen and Princess Mary was told by one who could vouch for its truth. Princess Mary, when a younger child, ran one day into the sanctum of a certain well-known private secretary at Court. "I am sorry," said the much-harassed individual, "that I have no time to spare this morning for you, my little lady." The Princess, in high dudgeon, ran to her mother. "Sir So-and-So called me a 'little lady,'" she complained, "and you know, mother, that I am a Princess." The Queen replied laughingly, "Come back, Mary, in 30 Sun-So, and tell him that you are a Princess who has not yet learned to be a little lady."

Poached Eggs with Stewed Tomatoes Poach carefully the number of eggs required, and, after placing on hot buttered toast, put eggs and toast on a hot ash. Now wipe some small tomatoes, and stew them for five minutes in a little butter, pepper, and salt. Make a border of the tomatoes round the poached eggs. This provides a dainty and appetizing breakfast dish.

Moving Pictures For Use In The Schools.

It is announced that Thomas A. Edison is to spend a large sum of money in perfecting the moving picture for school use. Mr. Arthur D. Chandler, President of the Orange Board of Education told the New England Society on May 5th last, all about Mr. Edison's plans. Mr. Edison is confident that the moving picture film is destined to become an indispensable adjunct to the school room. Mr. Edison has already had a number of films made, among them one which shows magnified millions of times, the process of chemical crystallization of certain substances. According to Mr. Chandler, the film is deeply impressive, because it shows there must be some force that controls even the action of inorganic matter.

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him.

His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will use

WILSON'S FLY PADS

persistently, this peril would be tremendously reduced.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

JUDGE W. B. WALLACE
Halifax

That the judges of Canada are busy men — owing to the ever increasing work of the courts, and the cheery-going policy of the government in not appointing additional help — with little leisure time is well known to the man in the street. So that when we find one of the busiest of the judges of the Maritime provinces taking a keen and active interest in the social life of his city, we realize that his sense of public duty is too strong even for his well earned leisure.

JUDGE W. B. WALLACE

In Judge Wallace of Halifax we have one of the strongest advocates of social movements, and when last year he was elected President of the Halifax Canadian club it spoke volumes for his popularity.

COL. STEELE, C.B., M.V.O.
Winnipeg.

The recent publication by Col. Steele of the military history of the prairie province, brings to mind the leading part the colonel himself played in its history, though he took too great care that he did not figure in the article, so that the reading of it was like "Hamlet" with the principal character left out.

Col. Samuel Benfield Steele was born in County Simcoe, in the year 1849 and educated at Orillia School and the British American Commercial School, Toronto. He was granted his first commission in 1886 in the Militia and on the return of the Red River Expedition in 1870 joined the Canadian Permanent Artillery. Mr. Steele joined the N. W. Mounted Police in 1873 rising to superintendence in 1885. For the next four years Col. Steele commanded the Police in most of their expeditions against the Indians and to restore order in the new districts. He was chosen to command the "Strathcona" Horse in the South African War. Col. Steele is now commanding military district No. 11.

As a sportsman Col. Steele is well known as one who takes a keen interest in every exercise that will strengthen a man bodily and mentally.

E. F. SURVEYER, K.C.
Barrister, Montreal

Though Mr. Surveyer is one of the busiest lawyers in Canada's commercial metropolis he has secured his practice by hard work alone — by no political pull, for Mr. Surveyer takes little interest in politics. His spare time is given to more national questions and movements that will educate his fellow citizens, and it was with these ideas that this talented lawyer, in conjunction with his like, organized the Canadian Club in Montreal.

E. F. SURVEYER

Born in Montreal in 1875 Fabre Surveyer was educated at St. Mary's College, McGill and Laval. He holds the degrees of B.A., LL.M., and B.C.L. and was created K. C. in 1909. Mr. Surveyer takes a very prominent part in sports being a leading member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Wife: "Can you spare me a little change this morning?"
Husband: "Certainly. Go out and dine with your mother. The change will do us both good."

"I say, Captain Bragg, has it ever happened to you to have your leg bitten off by a shark?"
"Has it ever happened to me? Why, dozens of times!"

KILLANNOCK LAUNDRY

Lord Killannock's... As Trans... Steam... of L...

London. — The report is advocated by the forthcoming... Review. He... the trade of the Irish... was one time second... a part of the... many considerations of a... sentimental nature... and local, favoring the opening of... port there, but he contends that... commercial aspects are of prime... importance. By starting from... a terminal port a "through-traffic"... route to Newfoundland and Canada... from England will greatly shorten... present routes, while for travellers... and mails to the United States the... time will be cut down considerably. In the past when Canada was... direct service from England to... developed, all the requirements of the... trans-Atlantic trade were met by the... present service from England to the... United States, but with the growth of... the British Dominions in North... America the necessity for a more... direct service is becoming urgent. At... the Imperial Conference held this... year it was resolved that a more... direct route to Canada and Newfoundland... was necessary, and the only... practicable shortening of the route... is by way of Ireland.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Crown Princess Cecilia of Germany has presented the future German emperor with another son, the fourth. Latest reports say that the mother and Kaiser Bill are doing as well as could be expected. So is the baby. But what's worrying the Kaiser most is the fear that other royal families won't have enough girls to marry his grandsons to. Princess Cecilia is one of the most beautiful of the European royal women; also she is one of the best mothers.

"What a big mouth Miss Gap has!"
"Yes, I should call it a good opening for a dentist."

THE KING'S THRONE

Hard to Say Which is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the worn-out, battered, four-legged old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely the most ancient, and inasmuch as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain-igloo-hook," because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I. and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set under the lantern, between the choir and the altar. Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dais in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like this occurs: "Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this bill, listened to the debate from the steps of the throne."

"YOU'LL SUFFER ALL YOUR LIFE"

That's what the Doctor told him

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Him"

CHESHIREVILLE, ONT., Jan. 25th 1911
"For over twenty years, I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and that I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life.
I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but none of them suited my case.
Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using this fruit medicine nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured.
I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible.
I am now seventy-six years old, and in first class health."
GEO. W. BARKLEY.

In all the world, there is no other remedy that has cured so many cases of so-called "incurable" kidney disease, as "Fruit-a-tives".
This famous fruit medicine acts directly on the kidneys—beating and strengthening them—and ridding the system of the waste matter that poisons the blood. soc. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c.
