CHAUTAUQUA HERE BEGINNING SEPT. 29

Newcastle Chautauqua begins September 29th. Good music rendered in a popular way will feature this season's program. The music on the opening day will be furnished by the Russian Cathedral Quartet. Each member of this organization is the holder of medals and prizes won in competition with the best singers in all Russia. This quartet was sent from Russia by the former Russian Government, to present the native Russian music, but when the Russian Government collapsed, they became available for concert work, and were presented in the American Canadian Summer Circuit in 1920.

The lectures this year will be of the same high grade as usual. Elliott A. Boyd will deliver his lecture "The Advantage of a Handicap," which made such a tremendous impression on other circuits, this season.

Miss Edna Lowe will present her "Lecture demonstration" "Danger Signals on the Road to Health," a powerful plea for, and an explicit demonstration of, the methods of living a healthy life. Begin now to plan for your Chautauqua Festival, and don't forget the commencement date, Sept. 29th. Put this date down in the notebook of your memory as a red-letter day for you, your family and friends. Talk Chautauqua from now until the opening day.

PROBABLY THE RIGHT MAN

George W. Lavine, arrested by Sheriff Foster at Harland last week, is believed to be the man wanted at St. John for the murder of Sadie McAuley. His description tallies with that of the man who was seen in company with the McAuley girl on the day she disappeared, and he is known to have been in St. John on that day. It is said that Lavine is an uncle of the girl who was in the company of the McAuley girl on the day she was murdered and was recognized by her and that she has been disposed to shield him.

SUPERSTITION WORRIES WIVES

"If every bride removed her wedding ring from her finger immediately after the ceremony most of them would be saved considerable worry," said a prominent clergyman. "It is an old superstition among women that the removal of the ring from the finger after marriage will bring bad luck. After a woman has been married for a time without removing her ring and then does find occasion to take it off she hesitates to do so on account of the silly superstition. If she had defied this ancient fear and taken it off immediately after the ceremony she would not hesitate later to remove the ring from her finger."

MAYOR FISH PRE-SIDES AT MEETING

Mayor C. E. Fish presided at a public meeting held in the Knights of Pythias hall, St. John on Thursday evening, when H. J. Logan, ex-M. P., discussed Maritime Union. In his remarks Mayor Fish made a plea to the audience to talk the question up, to make it a live issue, and to develop a hearty interest in the subject of Maritime Union.

DEMPEY IS A REAL CHAMPION

"The Fight of the Century" First Authentic Film of Fight Shows This To Advantage.

AT HAPPY HOUR THURSDAY

Jack Dempsey is the undisputed heavyweight champion of the world, if anyone is in doubt as to this statement, let him visit the Happy Hour on Sept 8th where "The Battle of the Century" is being shown. It is the only authentic film of the big championship fight between Dempsey and Carpentier, held at Jersey City.

The clearness of the film and its completeness will amaze you. You will see the championship bout from the sound of the first gong until the final knock-out which shattered Carpentier's hopes of ever holding the world's heavyweight crown. The film makes one thing absolutely clear, and that is that Jack Dempsey, formerly heavyweight champion of America is now the undisputed champion of the world.

He is a fighter through and through, and although credit must be given to the way in which his challenger stood up against him for three rounds, before he was knocked out in the fourth, it emphasizes all the more the supreme power and strength of the champion over his opponent.

Dempsey, as we clearly see him in the film, (from the ringside) entered the ring that memorable day with the intention of holding his own. Judging from his facial expression he was intent on fighting. He seems anxious to get into the fray, and dispel any doubt in the minds of his followers that he could not "deliver the goods."

Jack's in-fighting methods are supreme and he packs a terrific punch, one can almost hear the thud of the leathered fist against Carpentier's body, the film is so realistic.

We will admit that we were as much excited while viewing "The Battle of the Century" as if we had paid down fifty dollars for a ringside seat. But this is quite natural as everyone who will see this remarkable film will feel a thrill, its depiction is so realistic.

In the second round, Carpentier opened up on the Champion to such an extent, and with such speed that if we had not already known the outcome of the bout, we were sure that Dempsey would topple over from the force of the challenger's blows.

But Dempsey comes back stronger than ever in the third, and as the gong sounds for the finish of this round, we see the two fighters mixing it up in a great whirlwind finish, Dempsey pounding away at his opponent who covers to defend himself.

The fatal fourth round will long be remembered for its intensely dramatic moment when the challenger went down for the count of nine, suddenly jumping to his feet only to be floored again by a terrific fusillade of blows which spelled defeat for Carpentier.

But the plucky little Frenchman, with all the grit, characteristic of his race, made a super-human effort to rise before referee Ertle counted the fatal ten over his prostrate form. He could not rise, so dazed was he from the final volley from the champion's gloves. Dempsey carried him to his corner in true sportman-like style, and received the applause of the throng.

The training of both men is gone into detail, showing the methods employed by both camps to put their

WEEKLY PAPERS HAVE ORGANIZED

Amherst, N. S., Aug. 23—Representatives of twenty-five Maritime weekly newspapers gathered at Amherst today and organized the Maritime Selected Weeklies Association to deal with matters relating to the publishing business, particularly advertising. Officers elected were:

President—J. A. Fisher, Pictou, N. S.

Vice-President—George F. MacWilliams, Newcastle N. B.

Secretary—H. B. Anslow, Campbellton N. B.

Directors—J. M. Lawson, Yarmouth; Mrs. L. Fielding, Windsor; A. T. Ross, Chatham; C. C. Avar, Sackville; H. G. Brennan, Summerside.

L. S. Gow, of Toronto, addressed the meeting.

The primary idea of the organization is to co-operate and receive the benefit of national advertising. Mr. L. S. Gow set forth the matter with all clarity and will return to Ontario and present the subject before national advertisers. The weekly field of advertising in the Maritime Provinces is tremendous and the majority of the weeklies represented have a circulation in excess of 2,000, and some of them reach a considerably larger figure, while only fifteen papers were represented at the meeting today over twenty newspapers are expected to be numbered among the Maritime selected weeklies. Only the principal papers or the paper with the largest circulation in each town is supposed to be admitted, but for the present some minor exceptions may be made relative to this rule. The following newspapermen were present: J. S. McDonald, North Sydney Herald; J. A. Fisher, Pictou Advocate; Don F. Fraser, Eastern Chronicle; A. Brennan, Summerside Journal.

MILLERTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On Thursday evening, August 19th the Millerton Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. ... vice-president, in the chair. Roll call was answered with quotations from Shakespeare. The subject of the evening was Canning and Preserving. Each member contributed something which made it most interesting. Six men and two visitors were present. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Annie Clouston on September 15.

BASEBALL

A five inning Base Ball game played between Loggieville and Newcastle last Wednesday evening on the Farrel Field diamond resulted in a win for the visitors with a score of 5-2. A large attendance enjoyed the game which was one of the best staged here this year. Last evening the Newcastle boys went to Chatham, where they were opposed by the strongest team that Chatham could produce. Our boys put up a good game of clean fast baseball but were no match for the Chatham nine who won 5-0.

Jack and George into shape. One is then taken to Jersey City and sees the enormous crowds arriving from every point of the continent, the arena before the contest, and the wonderful spectacle of 90,000 fight fans gathered to witness "The Battle of the Century."

MERCHANTS TELL OF A REMARKABLE CASE

Writing from Maxeys, Ga., A. J. Gillen, proprietor of a large department store at that place, says:

"I have a customer here who was in bed for three years and did not go to a meal at any time. She had five physicians and they gave her up. One bottle of Tanlac got her up, on the second bottle she commenced keeping house and on the third she did all the cooking and housework for a family of eight."

This sounds really incredible, but it comes unsolicited from a highly creditable source and is copied verbatim from the letter.

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

MEIGHEN TO ADDRESS MEETINGS

Ottawa, Aug. 23—Announcement of Premier Meighen's decision regarding an election may be expected shortly, but it will not come in the form of a statement issued from his own office here. It will be made in the public platform, probably in Ontario and in all likelihood within one or at the most, two weeks.

The premier, today, told a number of newspaper men that he was planning to make a number of addresses in public. He was not prepared to state the exact dates and places, but it is understood that he is planning to speak in a number of Ontario towns. He said quite positively that he would start soon, and that he would declare his decision in regard to an election then.

It is thought that he will pay a visit to Toronto during the first week of the exhibition and it is possible that he may speak in that city.

Premier Meighen to Speak At London, Ont., September 1

Premier Meighen announced this evening that he would speak in the city of London (Ontario) on Thursday, September 1. Though there was no statement to this effect from the Prime Minister, it is expected that he will choose this opportunity to make a definite announcement in regard to governmental policy toward the holding of an election in the near future.

Miss LaTulippe Swears Stewart Admitted Killing

The preliminary hearing of Millett Stewart, in the death of James Ross at Neguac came up Wednesday morning before His Honor Justice Lawlor. Mr. George McDade, of Chatham, appeared for defence and Mr. Davidson for the prosecution. The hearing was held in the court house being larger and more convenient. A large number of spectators filled the gallery and seats outside the rail.

Dr. W. S. Loggie of Chatham was the first witness called and his examination occupied the whole of Wednesday. On Thursday and Friday Miss Victoria La Tulippe's evidence was taken. Important testimony was given by Miss La Tulippe, who was an employe of Millett S. Stewart. Miss LaTulippe who is a co-defendant testified that on the night of the tragedy Stewart exclaimed to her—"I shot him." "He was standing by the gate and I fired. I saw him fall. He will never enjoy the LaTulippe farm anyway."

After being sworn she was informed that any evidence she gave would not be used against her if any charge was brought against her. In answer to questions she said: "I am acquainted with Millett Stewart; know James Ross and of his death at Neguac on the evening of August 2nd inst; I know the neighborhood well. Our place was on the left side of the Breau Road known as the Tulippe property. My father lived there until the 2nd day of August. I was living at Millett Stewart's house; I was hired there. I was there over a year. A young man, John Savoy, was working there some times during the year; I knew him; I was at father's home on the 2nd of August; went there about 9 o'clock in the morning; James Ross and Adam Dickinson were there and also Elmer Munroe; they were talking the stuff out of our house when I got there; James Ross had come to take possession of the property; they took all our stuff out of the house; they were at work when I got there; I was mad when I saw them taking our stuff out; I took a stick, not a big one, in my hand and went upstairs; I hit Ross a little on the head; the stick was no bigger than my thumb; Ross carried me down stairs and put me outside; he was cross; when I went past the kitchen I saw Mr. Dickison trying to put my brothers out; he had a revolver in his hand; my brothers are Joseph and Fred; he put us out and we stayed outside; Mr. Ross was laughing and joking; he said I did not hurt him; Mr. Ross told my father if he would take the stock away he would give him the vegetables and garden, so Mr. Dickison wrote an agreement and the men signed it, Dickison, Ross and Munroe.

Accused Tried to Give her a Knife
 During that day Mr. Stewart called me across the road and said, "Why didn't you stay in the house; go on and fight them and put them out. This was after 12. I had no time to tell sure; Stewart had a knife he tried to put it in my hand."

This was objected to by Mr. McDade, but allowed by His Honor.

I would not take it in my hand, it was a sort of dagger or Lancing knife; then he offered me a stone but I wouldn't take it; then I went back home to Mr. Stewart's; Mr. Stewart was a little excited; I cried when I saw my mother was on the road, but I did not ask Mr. Stewart to go back to the house.

That evening Stewart spoke to me, to go with him back to our place; I guess it was about eight o'clock; it was after my work was done; this was first time he asked me to go back; he said "Come on with us and we will put Ross out, scare him away." By us, he meant he was going to take John Savoy; when he called me across the road, Mrs. Stewart was with him; he was on the side of the road by the woods away from the house; he was in the woods; we could not see him from the house; he was just across from the house; the house is a little more towards the bridge than the gate is; when Stewart was talking to me I was standing beside him in the event when he asked me to go with him and Savoy, I went out to the wagon, John Savoy was yoking the horse; he had a rug under the harness.

Started With a Rifle

I got in the wagon, an express with one seat; there was a rifle in the wagon; Stewart was on the left, I was on the right and the rifle was between us resting on the seat; Mr. Stewart had a rifle in his house; I have seen two; did not notice if they were in the house that day; John Savoy stood behind the seat and was driving the horse; after we got started a little some of the harness gave way; John got down to fix it; after we got a little piece Stewart took the rifle to hit the horse; we made him put the rifle back; we were scared of the rifle going off; we went on down the highway; Mr. Stewart took off his white sneaker boots before he reached the Breau Road; we were going first to my brother-in-law's Anthony Savoy; he lives on the Tabusintac Road, east of the Breau Road a small way, we were going for Fred and Joseph; Stewart said he was going to get them to come with us; when we got there they were not home; at Savoy's I went in the dining room; Stewart stayed in the kitchen; I saw Stewart, my brother and brother-in-law in the kitchen; I only heard him say, "Come on down, Anthony." No one went with us from Anthony's; we were not there more than ten minutes; we went back towards the Breau Road; we met Joe and Fred with a load of father's stuff; met them on the highway; they stopped; Stewart asked them to come down with us; he said "Come on down, we will put Ross out." Joe and Fred said "No, we will not go." Stewart coaxed them.

Objected to by Mr. McDade.

Stewart called them towards; then they consented to go; my brothers said they would put the horse in the barn and come back.

Wouldn't Go If There Was Any Shooting

They said "If there is any shooting going to be done, we won't go." I mean when one brother said anything the other agreed with him.

I say distinctly there was no dispute between my brothers as to what they should do. They took the horse along; we waited till they came back They got in the back of the express;

SIR SAM HUGHES HAS PASSED AWAY

Lindsay, Ont., August 24—Sir Sam Hughes, former minister of militia and defence in the federal government, died early this morning at his home here.

Sir Sam had a bad turn on August 9, but had rallied and last week was strong enough to sit up in his bed.

On Monday the former minister began to sink and was unconscious all yesterday. His friends realized that the end was near and a cable was sent to his son, General Garnet Hughes, in England, last night.

The late Sir Sam Hughes was for nearly thirty years a member of the Dominion Parliament, and took an active part in the political, educational and social life of the Dominion. Yet he is associated most prominently in the public mind with the profession of arms, and his place in history will turn upon his career as war minister for Canada. When a boy of seventeen he volunteered to aid in the suppression of the Fenian Raid. Soon after that he joined the Canadian militia and was closely identified with its growth and development for the rest of his life. In 1897 he was Lieutenant Colonel of the 45th Battalion. At the outbreak of the South African War in 1899 he was a member of Parliament and Lieutenant Colonel, but the combination did not bring for him the place he thought he should have in the Canadian contingent being organized for Imperial service in that far distant battle ground. He was permitted to go with the contingent as a "special" or attached officer. The scenes aboard the troopship on which he sailed with the Canadian troops at that time were re-echoed in the Canadian Parliament half a generation later. However the redoubtable Colonel Hughes reached South Africa, and served with the British troops there, receiving several decorations and being mentioned in despatches. He was for years President of the Dominion Rifle Association and President of the Standing Committee on Small Arms. In 1914 he became Major General and two years later as the result of Great War Service which is of quite recent famous memory he was made a Lieutenant-General, by the British Government. His knighthood was gazetted in 1915.

FLAVELLE'S PROPOSAL TO MAKE C.N.R. SYSTEM PAY

Properly Administered and Relieved from Present Handicaps Will Prove a Venture

MORE PEOPLE, MORE FREIGHT

Write off the Initial Cost of Constructing the Intercolonial and Transcontinental

Ottawa, August 24—The Canadian National Railway system, properly administered and relieved from its present handicaps, will prove a successful venture in the opinion of Sir Joseph Flavelle who, since May last, has been director of the Grand Trunk Railway system. Patience by all concerned will be necessary in the interval between the present alarming losses and heavy fixed charges and the ultimately successful operation of the system.

Sir Joseph, in a letter to the Prime Minister, sets out a plan of re-organizing the railways, and says: "If politics will permit and parliament and press allow the necessary freedom and give the necessary support a paying national system will emerge." Without this support, he refuses to venture what may happen.

An increased population bringing with it increased freight tonnage and passenger traffic is absolutely necessary if Canadian railways are to pay their way, he declared. The Canadian National system includes thousands of miles of lines not actually needed for the business of the country and which will not earn operating charges for many years. Revenues on the Canadian National system as compared with the Canadian Pacific are lower because the former system is getting shorter hauls on both freight and passenger traffic.

The letter points out that large capital sums must be expended on betterments, consolidation and terminal facilities to enable the national system to compete for business with the Canadian Pacific. "These capital expenditures," it is stated, "will aggregate $125,000,000 to $175,000,000 and when they are completed will constitute a new fixed charge of $10,000,000 per annum in excess of the present fixed charges, and equivalent to two thirds of the entire fixed charges upon the Canadian Pacific Railway, which stands at $15,910,516 per year, including rental for leased roads and taxes."

Annual interest charges upon securities in the hands of the public $32,529,471; annual interest upon issue to meet railway appropriations authorized by parliament at its last session, $7,000,000; interest upon capital improvements to be made during the next five to seven years, 10,000,000; interest upon Government loans of $353,000,000, $18,000,000; taxes and rentals for leased lines $4,659,511.

"To this total," he continues, must be added the interest upon the award if any of the arbitration upon the Grand Trunk common and preferred stock as covered by the agreement with the Grand Trunk shareholders. As an offset to these charges there are annual earnings aggregating about $4,000,000 from investments in securities of other companies and for use of system equipment by other companies, rentals, etc. This indicates that the national system of railways would be asked to ultimately operate with net fixed charges aggregating $66,000,000 per year in contrast with $15,910,516 per year for the C. P. R."

"Something like the above way of dealing with the situation would relieve the railway company," says Sir Joseph, and then he remarks that the "Dominion treasury cannot be relieved except through increased earnings."

His suggestion is "that the new national railway company to be formed shall have a nominal capital of say $5,000,000 common shares and 2,500,000 six per cent preference shares—each share par value, $100. The total authorized capital would thus be $750,000,000."

That the Government take common shares at par in payment of its existing advance to the various systems. These, as of December 31, 1920, were $320,000,000 of loans and $33,000,000 of Grand Trunk Pacific debentures.

The Government would turn over to the company the equity in the system, subject only to the bonds and debentures and guaranteed stock issued to the public and to the fixed charges which may result from the Grand Trunk arbitration. Thus, the existing government advances, excluding the capital cost of the common stock ownership only, and no part of the interest on it would be a fixed charge or cumulative."

The net result of his suggestion would be, says Sir Joseph, as follows:

1—"The initial cost of constructing the Intercolonial and Transcontinental would be written off at once.

2—"The further actual cost, up to date, to the Government of acquiring the various systems (except for the fixed charges incurred in respect to the Grand Trunk acquisition would be converted into the form of common stock.

3—"Future capital provided by the Government for betterment, etc., would take the form of preference stock.

4—"Future deficits would for the time being be converted into common stock until it appeared that there was a prospect of the company being able to pay them off out of the excess earnings within a reasonable number of years."

"Plainly," says Sir Joseph in concluding his discussion of this phase of the subject, "we should face the fact that $353,000,000 of loans have no cause for fear, is the stand taken by Sir Joseph. "The abundant resources of the country and the character of the people, will enable the country to meet every obligation," he writes when pointing out that when the Canadian Pacific Railway was first projected its failure was freely predicted.

Sir Joseph believes it necessary that the national roads have unlimited credit and an administration reasonably corresponding to that of successfully operated private properties.

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Kiever.

Vancouver, B.C.—"I am pleased to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me a lot of good. I can now walk about without the aid of a support and feel real strong again. A nurse advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and it certainly helped me. It seems like heaven to be relieved after months of pain."—Mrs. H. W. BAKER, 2514 1/2th Ave. West, Vancouver, B.C.

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and they have done me a lot of good. Since then I have been able to do my housework and I have a lot of work to do as we live on a farm. Seeing your advertisement in the papers was what made me think of writing to you. I hope this may help some one else."—Mrs. V. B. KIEVER, Upper New Horton, Albert Co., M. P. Canada.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought back peace and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A NOISY STREET
The Kings Highway has always been known as one of the quietest streets in the town, and the residents of this street prided themselves of the fact. However times have changed, and it has become one of the noisiest streets in the town, especially after midnight. Almost every night the residents are awakened from their slumbers and are subjected to listen to shouting, singing, laughing, talking and last but not least profanity. It has become an habitual occurrence and many complaints are being heard concerning the practise. A little attention given to this street after midnight for awhile would no doubt put a stop to the habit, and if necessary a few samples could be made which would refrain others from attempting the same actions. One thing is sure, and that is that the residents of Kings Highway would be extremely thankful to our officers if a stop was put to it, so they could at least be given an opportunity to rest and not be placed in the embarrassing position of having to listen to the vile language which is indulged in at the present time. May the residents be assured of consideration by the Police Officers? If so they will appreciate it.

Since writing the above the Police have been acquainted of the matter and they are determined to put a stop to the present condition of affairs. From now on a sharp vigil will be kept on the King's Highway and it will not be well for those who attempt to keep this residential street in an uproar, as has been done in the past.

GOOD HEALTH CAN BE YOURS
If Your Blood Supply is Kept Rich and Red
It is a waste of time and money to fight merely the signs of disease; in the long run you are probably worse off than when you started. What is far more important is that you should intelligently examine the various symptoms and trace the cause. When you remove the cause, health will be yours. For example, anaemic people often endure months of suffering while treating its symptoms, such as indigestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion after any small effort.

The apparent stomach and heart troubles are generally nothing more than the result of an insufficient supply of pure blood. This anaemic state may have followed some previous illness, or an attack of influenza; or it may have arisen from overwork, worry or too little fresh air. To obtain good health the simple and proper course is to build up the blood, but to do this you must select a reliable remedy with a reputation such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood which carries nourishment to all the organs of the body and enables them to do the work nature expects of them. Thousands of men and women have proved this for themselves. One of these is Mrs. T. Flynn, R. R. No. 1, Erinville, Ont., who says: "Last spring I got into a badly run down condition. I had no energy; work left me exhausted, and the least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to give them a trial and got a half dozen boxes. I had not been taking the pills long when I felt a decided improvement in my condition and by the time I had used the six boxes I could do my housework with ease. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail post-paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANDREW BONAR LAW, SCOT OR CANADIAN?

(Lucian in Vancouver Province)
I suggest a compromise between the editor of the B. C. Veteran's Weekly and Mr. Arthur Beverly Baxter on the subject of Mr. Bonar Law. Mr. Baxter has contributed to McLean's Monthly an eulogy on the recent leader of the British House of Commons. Much stress is placed on the influence of Lord Beaverbrook in securing the appointment of Mr. Bonar Law to the Unionist leadership, and much on the fact that Mr. Law is a Canadian by birth. The Veteran's Weekly is not disposed to credit anyone but Mr. Bonar Law himself with his own party promotion, and it may be agreed that the appointment went to him on his merits.

"As a Canadian, whose heart is bound solidly to his own country, I feel a deep sense of honor in placing before Canadians this imperfect but sincere story of a great son of the Dominion."

Thereupon the Veteran's Weekly says:

"Andrew Bonar Law was a Scot, a pure Scot, bred and nurtured in a Scot's home, temporarily located in a New Brunswick village, named after a Scot of revered memory, educated in a Scottish school and university, trained to business in a Scottish industry, represented a Scottish constituency throughout his whole political life; a Scot in his religion, in his temperament, in his manner of life, in his moral and spiritual ideals. In what sense is he 'a great son of the Dominion?'"

Mr. Baxter has gone to one extreme and his critic to another. It is true that Mr. Bonar Law is pure Scot by origin, and by residence from boyhood. He is not a Canadian in the same sense as Lord Beaverbrook or Sir Hamar Greenwood. But a man may be a Scot and a son of the Dominion as well. Bonar Law was born, bred and nurtured in the home of a Scottish New Brunswicker. The home of Rev. James Law was not temporarily in a New Brunswick village. The father and mother came to Kent County as a young couple and settled in New Brunswick for life. Their large family of children were born and raised in New Brunswick. This fourth son attended the excellent school of his village until he was some fifteen years of age. His associations during these impressionable years were with New Brunswick lads. One of these schoolmates, Mr. Frank Bowser, now living in the neighborhood of Vancouver, has pleasant recollections of the Bonar Law as he knew him in the fields and playgrounds of the town called Kingston. When Bonar was ready for high school his Glasgow relatives sent for him, attended to his subsequent education and took him into their own business.

So though Bonar Law is a Scot he is also a son of Canada. At nine years old he saw his native province become a part of the Dominion. His first political observations would be connected with strenuous Unionist and anti-Confederate campaigns, in which I believe that his father took a lively interest.

I know that he has gladly met such companions of his boyhood as seek him out in Glasgow and London. I know of one native of his town who is a leading physician and medical professor in Glasgow.

Canada's Timber Crops--A Great Possession

It is commonly agreed that Canada holds the largest and finest areas of spruce timber of any country in the world. At the same time the total forest resources of the Dominion are less than one-third of the forest resources held by the United States, and Siberia outranks all other countries in the vastness of its timber supplies. As regards the forests of Canada, there has come about a remarkable transformation in the public point of view during the past fifteen years. In the days when timber industries were only moderately important and when the lack of accurate information concerning the forest resources fixed upon the public mind a fictitious view as to the supposed "inexhaustibility" of the storehouse of timber, it was not surprising that conservation policies should have been mostly of sentimental rather than practical value. Investigation has demonstrated that the forest area is very much more contracted than was first thought to be the case. It was also learned that, contrary to common belief, forests once burned down or devastated by the axe did not usually reconstitute themselves except at incredibly long periods. On the basis of this new information, the man-on-the-street was not slow to recognize that unless the rate of forest destruction were abated by public laws and vigorous administration and an awakened sense of public responsibility, Canada would sacrifice a great industrial magnet and would put beyond reach the essential wood materials without which the most ordinary business of the country cannot be undertaken.

Nowadays, with the enormous increase in the manufacture and use of print paper for newspaper purposes and the adaptability of pulp to a thousand of the every-day necessities of mankind, the timber-covered county has come to be looked upon, not as a barrier to agricultural development, but as an incredibly rich asset, capable of attracting industrial capital and providing employment for new populations and contributing directly to the prosperity of the country in which it is situated.

An excellent example of how a forest area, which yesterday was a wilderness, can become in a few months the scene of a highly prosperous industrial town, is supplied by the history of Iroquois Falls in Northern Ontario. Only a few years ago the townsite was occupied by a few settlers and travellers. To-day, by the establishment of a pulp and paper industry, 2,500 men are given regular employment and the wage distribution each year is over $4,750,000.

The term "forest conservation" is frequently misinterpreted to indicate that the conservationist would place a Chinese wall about the standing timber and slow down the wheels of all wood-using industries. This, however, is the antithesis of the aim of the true conservationist. The desire is not to prevent the utilisation of timber trees but to encourage such a system of forest fire protection accompanied by such scientific methods of timber cutting as should maintain the forest areas as a productive source for all time to come. In the past, the areas cut over were in many cases turned into permanent barrens. Increasing values of timber and the present enormous costs of establishing a pulp and paper mill have rendered necessary in the eyes of all progressive forest owners a changed method of operating so as to keep each area yielding successive timber crops at regular intervals. The forest must be "anchored" as securely as the mill dam.

(1) Canadian timber that has the unique property of reproducing itself. From a scene taken on Vancouver Island, B.C.
(2) Indiscriminate cutting followed by forest fires not only destroyed all the production value of this great forest area but erosion has now set in to complete the work of devastation.

Of the total area of Canada, about eighty per cent. is designed as a permanent forest-growing estate and for that reason quite useless for agricultural development. This means, of course, that over one-and-a-half million square miles can return no useful services unless it is made to grow timber. The weakness in Canada's national position as a forest-growing country at the present time is not the scarcity of natural forest land but the low average production of timber per acre characteristic of the areas east of the Rocky Mountains.

In the radically-changed economic conditions which have automatically placed a high market value upon every square mile that produces timber, the annual damage to the forest resources through the single cause of fire, takes on a more and more sinister aspect. Forest engineers are agreed that while the axe has cleared possibly one hundred thousand square miles of the Dominion, the Fire Fiend has striped fully one million square miles. That the forests have not sprung up successfully in the wake of the devastation is indicated by the fact that nearly two-thirds of the original forest re-

WEDDINGS

ALEXANDER—COPP

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Copp, Newcastle, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday evening, August 18th, when their second daughter, Elmira Lydia Copp, became the wife of George Allen Alexander, son of Mrs. Margaret Alexander, of Douglstown, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. B. Champion in the presence of relatives and friends.
The bride looked charming in a gown of ivory satin and georgette with black picture hat and carried a bouquet of carnations and sweet-peas. The rooms were tastefully decorated the parlor with yellow and white flowers, the bridal couple standing beneath a wedding bell of white flowers; the dining room was lovely with sweetpeas and pansies. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Edith McLean.
The bride, who is one of Newcastle's most popular young ladies, received many beautiful and useful gifts of silver and cut glass, also several substantial cheques. The gift of the bride's father was a very handsome fox-fur neck stole.
Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Dr. J. B. Champion of P. E. I. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Petrie, of South Brewer, Mass. and Mr. Harold Cook, of Boston, Mass.
Mr. and Mrs. Alexander are spending their honeymoon in the southern part of New Brunswick, on their return they will reside in Douglstown.

Spanish Songs

The Spanish songs are so closely allied to the dance music of the people that it is not always possible to distinguish one from the other. This is especially noticeable in the Basque songs with their strong syncopated rhythms of the negro songs.

Summer Heat Hard On Baby

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws a little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not properly treated. During the summer the mother's best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

We started down the Breau Road walking the horse; it was a little dusk, could not see very far; Stewart said for us to go ahead to the house and I will get out of the wagon; he wanted me to take an iron bolt about 12 inches long; he wanted me to take it to break in the door and he would come behind; when we got pretty near the house where he was going to get off, we told him not to get off because we were not going to stop; we were going to go home, but he jumped off and took the rifle with him; me and my brothers and Savoy stayed on the wagon and drove a little past the gate; I think it was about fifty yards from the gate the wagon stopped; if I was now on the road I could show the spot Stewart got off; Joe and Fred got off a little past the gate; and they started ahead of the horse which was walking slow, going towards the bridge.

Heard Two Shots

When we got nearly to the bridge me and John Savoy were in the wagon, I heard two shots; then John took the reins and hit the horse; when we got past the bridge Savoy stopped the horse and jumped off the wagon; he went ahead, I could not see where he went; I stayed in wagon; the horse was still; in a short time Stewart came from the same way we had come; I had not seen Stewart since he left the wagon till now.

All that I have related, happened from the time Stewart left the wagon the horse was walking until Stewart rejoined us; the horse walked till Savoy struck him, then he trotted; Savoy had only left me about five minutes when Stewart rejoined me; he came to the left hand side and got in he had the rifle in his hand; the first words he said were 'I shot him' I said 'For God's sake, what are you saying?'

He said 'Yes, I got him.' I said 'Did you see him?' He said, 'Yes, he was standing by the gate and I fired; I saw him fall, he will never enjoy the Tulippe farm any more.'

The horse was going by this time. All along the road he was saying to me, 'Save my life, save my life.' We were keeping along the road, it swings to the right to the wharf road.

The prisoner (Stewart) seemed calm and took notes of this testimony

Accused Seemed Excited

After an intermission for luncheon hearing was resumed. Continuing her testimony, Victoria Tulippe said: We continued up the wharf road to the Tabusintac highway, and up home; Stewart seemed to be excited; when we got home he jumped off the wagon and started for the house; he had the rifle in his hand when he rejoined me at the wagon on the hill. I don't remember just where he put it in the wagon; he took it out of the wagon; I got out too, and called him to help me put the horse in; he came; he was going to the house without attending to the horse; he had the rifle then; he had it when he went in the barn; I did not see it afterwards; I put the horse in the barn; he helped me take the horse from the wagon, but left me to put the horse in the barn alone.

Stewart did not go in the same part of the barn I did; I turned the horse in the barn loose; I went in the house then and Stewart came in shortly afterwards; he told Mrs. Stewart we had not gone down to the place but only got to my brother-in-law's; we did not talk any more; I went to bed; on the Breau Road Stewart got out of the left hand side of the wagon; the horse walking slow.

Question by Mr. Davidson—Did you see or hear anything from the time Stewart left the wagon till your brothers left; what did you hear?

Ans.—Nothing I could not swear to seeing anything as I passed the gate. I think I saw something black by the gate. I think I saw something black by the gate like a man sitting down, but am not sure.

The horse did not stop for the brothers to get off. When my brothers came back to the wagon I saw nothing in their hands or anything they were carrying. It was not very long after my brothers got out of the wagon till I heard the two shots.

Heard Shots After Brothers

My brothers got out just past the gate. We were almost to the bridge when I heard the shots. The horse walked all the way. I could not have counted more than three between the sounds of the two shots.

I noticed no difference in the sound of the shots; I saw Millett Stewart drinking soft beer and ginger beer that day.

Question—Did you see him drink anything other than beer within a few days?

Objected to by McDade, upheld by His Honor.

Ans.—I saw him drink beer, lemon and beef, iron and wine. The conversation we had was in English. All the French was spoken by Mr. Stewart; other talk was in English.

I think it was nearly 10 o'clock at night when we got home, on the evening of August 2nd. The next time I saw Mr. Stewart was after I went to bed. He came to my bedroom door, he said 'Do you think I killed him?' I said 'I don't know go to your bed.' I saw him at the door. I saw him next the following morning when I came in from the barn. I had never heard Stewart make any threats against James Ross. I had heard him speak of him in an unfriendly way.

This was objected to by Mr. McDade but allowed.

I know Stewart did not like Ross from the way he was talking. Stewart wanted me to tell my brothers not to tell my brothers not to tell we had been at the shore that night. I went to see them but did not tell them

Witness Says Accused

Threatened Her
Stewart said 'Don't say anything about it, we will be all right.' He was home part of that day but went away with the horse in the afternoon.

I was a witness at the inquest. Stewart spoke to me about the evidence I was to give. He said for me not to say he had a rifle. He asked me what I was going to say.

I said: 'I would tell what I knew; I was going to tell the truth.'

He said: 'By God, if you do, you will get all that's coming to you.'

I reported this threat to Mr. Peter Coughlan. Stewart also said he was going to swear he had no rifle. I said 'It will be a false oath, because you know you had.'

He said: 'I don't give a damn for a false oath.'

I did not tell all this to the coroner. Examination closed by the Crown.

Cross-Examined by Mr. McDade

Question—'Do you know anything else against Mr. Stewart in this matter?'

Ans.—'I think it is all.'

'I know I am in jail charged with the murder of Mr. Ross and my brothers, Joe and Fred also. My brothers and I have talked of this but not out of the way. We talked of it just as other people would talk. I did not tell them what I meant to say. They did not tell me what they meant to say. I am quite ready to give evidence against Stewart. I am quite anxious to give evidence and tell all I know. I will not swear that I do not brag or what I would say on the witness stand.'

When asked why she made brags, witness said she could not answer and did not know. If she did, she could not answer in the way she was wanted to. I did not know Ross was at the house that evening until we met my two brothers on our way to the house.

I did not say to Stewart that Jim Ross was away and it would be a good time to get in.'

I know Mr. Stewart is a justice of the peace. I did not talk to him of the property in the way of asking advice; my brothers did.

Under cross examination the witness did not give any contradictory evidence.

GIANT AIRSHIP EXPLODES AT HULL

London, Aug. 24—The giant airship Z R 2, purchased by the United States from Great Britain, exploded over the city of Hull today, according to advices here shortly after 6.30 o'clock this evening. The airship is a wreck in the River Humber and it is feared there was some loss of life.

Thousands of people of Hull watched the disaster, which occurred at 5.40 o'clock. As the explosion occurred they dashed panic stricken in all directions for fear of being enveloped by the wreckage which fell just over the Victoria pier.

The crew of the Z R 2 included 15 officers and 45 enlisted men.

When the Z R 2 started on her trial flight from Howden, Tuesday, she had on board Commander Louis Maxfield, of the United States navy, who had been designated by the United States navy department to bring the Z R 2 from England to the United States Brigadier General S. M. Maitland, Fish air marshal, Colonel Campbell, who supervised the work of designing the dirigible; five other United States officers, seven engineers and four riggers in addition to the regular British crew.

The airship was passing over Hull in fine style, when suddenly it was seen to break in two. Instantly there were terrific explosions and the airship burst into flames and commenced to descend. Three parachutes were seen to leave the airship.

Six Nurses Will Take The Course

Miss Groat, of Newcastle, arrived in the city yesterday. She is the fifth graduate nurse to enroll for the course in public health and district nursing that is now being held at the V. O. N. home in Carleton street. One more graduate nurse is expected to arrive shortly and will complete the enrollment for the present course. The nurses have been engaged in the field work of the order since they registered for their course and the lectures will not commence until a later date. The field work has included work at the Red Cross headquarters in Prince William street, where the nurses have become familiar with the peacetime policy of the society, which is providing their training and will be responsible for their equipment and for their maintenance during the first year they are in their various districts of the province—Telegraph.

WORK

'I pity no man because he has to work. If he is worth his salt, he will work. I envy the man who has a work worth doing and does it well. There never has been devised, and there never will be devised, any law which will enable a man to succeed save by the exercise of those qualities which have always been the prerequisites of success, the qualities of hard work, of keen intelligence, of unflinching will.'—Theodore Roosevelt.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and the claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. RIFLES SEIZED BY GAME WARDENS Great activity is evident among the Game Wardens all over the province and it seems to be the aim of all concerned to have as large a number of seized rifles, shotguns and other equipment on hand for the coming autumn season. A few days ago a resident of Upper Blackville was hauled into Court on the information of a game warden charged with killing a deer out of season. A conviction was secured and a fine of $50.00 and costs was levied. The two cases against residents of Grand Manan for violations of the Game laws have not as yet been tried. A short time ago the advice of Chief Game Warden George F. Burden was sought in this matter and he has advised that the cases be proceeded with at once.

Two charges which have been standing for some time in Grand Falls have been amended and are to be tried in the near future.

DID NOT APPEAR One man at Green River was found with a rifle in his possession in the woods. An information was laid against him, but he did not condescend to appear, merely sending an amount of money which he evidently thought would cover his fine. This was not accepted however, and a warrant for his arrest has been issued.

On Sunday Warden Kelly of Sunbury County, seized two rifles which were in the possession of two men in the vicinity of the Porobello Stream. Neither of these men would give their names and their rifles were taken from them in lieu of fines. Game is thick this year, and the temptation is evidently great to lay in a little fresh meat before fifteenth of the coming month, when the game will become more wild, and not so easily killed.

C.P.R. President Talks on Thrift to Boy Scouts. Thrift is a word which is said to have come into the English language over a thousand years ago from the Scandinavian. It is the noun of which "thrives" is the verb, and suggests that success and saving go together. The very word THRIFT is a good word to look at. It is an upstanding word and at once makes one think of sturdy simplicity, the kind of quality which one associates with a Boy Scout. How different in appearance is its opposite EXTRAVAGANCE, a word which at once suggests an ostentatious irregular character, boastful as well as wasteful. Services to Community. Now thrift means saving money and miserliness means saving money, but they are not the same kind of saving. The thrifty person saves money for a purpose, the miser saves money for itself. The thrifty person saves so as to have a bank account against bad times. His thrift has for its object independence and security, and is therefore in accordance with the Scout law. But miserliness is purely selfish, whereas a Scout is told to be thrifty so that among other things he may have money with which to help others when they need it. The Scout must be careful not to carry his thrift too far. You usually find that the thrifty person has a bank account, whereas the miser keeps his money in a stocking where it can do no good because it is not kept in circulation. The thrifty person puts his money where it draws interest, thus adding to what he already has got, and also performing a service to the community. By letting the community have the use of his money while he is not spending it, the thrifty person does a service to the community for which the community is willing to pay interest. The community, however, has just as little use for the miser as for the spendthrift. -E. W. BEATTY, in "Scouting," Regina

Need Not Expect Immediate Reduction In Freight Rates

Montreal, Aug. 22—There will be no reduction in rail freight rates in the near future, in the opinion of Canadian railwaymen, despite independent advices to this effect from Ottawa.

The rumors of an impending cut in freight rates has been responsible, it is stated, for serious curtailment in purchases and shipment through Canadian factories and commercial houses and it is pointed out in this connection that such a reduction rests entirely on the question of a decrease in the wages of railway men throughout the Dominion.

While it is true, officials state, that reductions in wages actually have taken place, they are not of a definite nature insofar as all such reductions are subject to retroactive awards, and final settlement by boards of arbitration, which involves a possibility of such boards declining to recommend any wage cuts.

Late Mrs. Eddy Re-members St. John Relative

St. John, Aug. 22—Patrick G. Johnston, an employe of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., was informed on Saturday by a letter from T. P. Foran, K. C., of Hull, Ont., advocate for the executors of the estate of Mrs. E. B. Eddy, that he had been left $1,000 per annum for the period of five years, and that at the end of five years he was to receive the sum of $5,000, and that each one of his four children was to receive the same amount. His children are: Water C., bookkeeper in the Canadian Express; Ada E., bookkeeper in the International Harvester Co., Ltd., and Evonne, aged twelve years, and Reginald, aged eight, who are still going to school. Mr. Johnston, who is fifty-two years of age, was a cousin of Mrs. Eddy's.

NEW OIL FIELDS ON ARCTIC SHORE

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 21—Discovery of new oil fields in the vicinity of Warnwright Inlet and Point Barrow on the Arctic coast of Alaska which is believed may rival in importance the MacKenzie river belts of Northern Alberta, is reported by members of a California prospecting party which has been in the district since July 14. According to S. R. D. Adams, head of the party, large seepages occur in the neighborhood of Cape Simpson, east of Point Barrow. They appear, he said, to spring from two to three conspicuous barrens back of the cape and within a mile of the Arctic Shore line. They flow several hundred yards into a lake of oil.

I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine relieved me of all my symptoms. MONIES FOR SAFE KEEPING Local police are searching for Patrick Meagher, Manager of the Windsor Hotel, on a charge of alleged theft of one hundred and thirty-seven dollars from a guest of the Hotel on Wednesday.

The guest arrived from Montreal on Wednesday and was driven to the Hotel. He had been drinking and says he gave his money to Meagher for safe keeping, but next morning he was unable to locate him and called the assistance of the police. Meagher has been apprehended and is now in custody awaiting trial.

NEW SYSTEM

To have baggage examined by the customs officials before arrival at the port, and checked to its inland destination, is one of the most highly appreciated features of service on the Canadian Pacific Express liners arriving at Quebec. By putting customs officials and a staff of baggage checkers on board of the Express ships at Father Point the C. P. R. overcomes the long and sometimes tedious delay otherwise experienced, and by the time that the ship docks at Quebec the special trains in readiness there to convey passengers to their inland destinations, are through this service able to proceed immediately.

HORSE MISSING

An unknown man hired a horse last Thursday evening from one of the local livery stables for the purpose of driving to Nelson. After a reasonable time the owner became alarmed of its whereabouts and notified the surrounding towns to be on the lookout for the rig. However all day Friday and Friday night passed without any tidings and on Saturday morning the horse with the wagon attached arrived at the stable, driverless. The horse was in a very weakened state and the robes and whip were missing. Nothing of the identity of the man is known, and no particular of his description could be given the Officers, in consequence he is at large yet, and makes it rather difficult for our police to apprehend him.

Time To Advertise

Those who most easily tide themselves over a period of business depression are those who, instead of curtailing their advertising expenditure, actually increase it. They put greater selling effort into the wording. They shave the prices on slow sellers and feature them before the public. A brisk, carefully planned advertising campaign—advertising real bargains and giving what is advertised—is a sovereign remedy for dull times in any store.

When a merchant steps out and quits the advertising field the reading public asks why. Often they correctly take it as an indication of fear, of "cold feet," or the first indication of real business decay.

"It pays to advertise," but it pays to advertise only by keeping everlastingly at it. You cannot keep the business from red-hot by occasional thrusts into the fire. You must keep it continually in the glowing furnace of unquenchable zeal and business push, which is best evidenced by carefully planned advertising.

Advertising placed in The Advocate reaches practically every home in Northumberland county. Really attractive offers persistently placed in these columns must eventually bring favorable response.

Just before you definitely decide to cease advertising give advertising twice the careful attention in a little more space for a few weeks. The result may change your decision.

Reports from the Upper Miramichi say that the rain there was so heavy some of the drives are being moved as a result. After You've Taken The Snapshots

It is most important to get them properly DEVELOPED and PRINTED otherwise; its like buying the materials for a good meal and having them "spoiled" in the cooking. Now that the extra tax is off photos, "The Gain is Yours".

My Prices for Developing Films is 10c and 15c and for Printing 5c and 7c.

George H. Ham

The birthdays of Mr. George H. Ham, of the C. P. R., have for many years past been observed by some function or other. If it was not a home-like dinner with a score or so of close friends, or a public banquet or a presentation, or an operation in a hospital, or a trip on a railway train, it was something else. This year a radical departure is being made from the ordinary August 23rd proceedings with the Musson Book Company of Toronto as sponsors for the innovation. On that day, this publishing company is issuing "Reminiscences of a Raconteur," the author of which is Mr. Ham. In the articles which originally appeared in Maclean's Magazine, the author recalls incidents of his busy and by no means monotonous life from the infantile age of three down to the present day. The allotted three-score and ten of man is most interestingly covered. From his early boyhood days, he recounts events which include the Fenian Raids and the second Riel Rebellion, of chasing and being chased by wild Indians, of the bustling early days of Winnipeg and the West, of the Governors-General he has met, of the intrepid officers of the Hudson's Bay Company, of the Mormons with whom he mingled accompanied by the Canadian Women's Press Club of which he is the only male member, and he writes entertainingly of banquets and banquets. He delves into the mysteries of Ouija and Planchette, and gives instances of telegraphic communication and other psychological subjects. He has some previously unpublished stories of his old friend, Mark Twain, and an excellent article on Brother Andre, the Miracle Man of Montreal, and his great work. Under the caption of "Scarlet and Gold" he tells of the gallant men of the Northwest Mounted Police in its early days. In "When Toronto was Young," he gives a graphic description of the Queen City in the past, and his stories of politics and politicians give the reader a hitherto unknown insight into the life of many of the grand old men of Canada, when Sir John Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright and their conferees held sway. The "C. P. R.," of which Mr. Ham has been part and parcel for nearly a third of a century, is presented in a way that it only could be by one intimate with its workings and the brainy men who inaugurated and ably managed it from its infancy until it became perhaps the greatest transportation company in the world. Running through the whole book, in which are several articles which did not appear in Maclean's, is a vein of quaint humour and tender pathos which charms and delights the reader. So on his 74th birthday, the "boy" author bestows, rather than receives, a fitting gift from his facile pen to his vast army of friends and acquaintances who are to be found in the four quarters of the globe.
