Russo-Polish Armistice Signed.

Hostilities Will Cease Tomorrow--
Enormous Captures By Poles Last Week--"Pussyfoot" Again in the Spotlight--General Exodus from Petrograd--Mayor of Cork Survives 56th Day.

HOSTILITIES CEASE TOMORROW.

WARSAW, Oct. 6.
Dispatches from Riga says that hostilities between the Poles and Russian Soviet forces will cease Friday under an armistice signed by the Poles and Soviet peace delegates yesterday.

ARMISTICE SIGNED.

PARIS, Oct. 6.
Dispatches from Warsaw and Moscow to-day announce that an armistice between Soviet Russia and Poland has been signed.

POLISH CAPTURES.

RIGA, Oct. 6.
Polish official communications say the Poles captured during the past week fifty-two thousand prisoners, one hundred and eighty guns, one thousand and one hundred machine guns, seven armored trains, twenty-eight locomotives and much other material.

WILL NOW AID WRANGEL.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 6.
The French General Weygand has left for South Russia to take supreme command of the anti-Bolshevik troops of General Wrangel, the National Tidende says to-day.

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON HAS HARD TIME.

LONDON, Oct. 6.
William (Pussyfoot) Johnson, temperance advocate from the United States, narrowly escaped from an angry crowd which interrupted one of his temperance meetings last night at Reading, Berkshire, and tried to break through the locked doors of the hall to reach him, according to a Reading dispatch to the Evening News to-day. The crowd also threw bombs containing foul smelling chemicals. The police had to be called out to prevent serious disorders. Johnson escaped with detectives by the rear exit of the hall through a graveyard to a taxicab. Strong though less violent opposition to Johnson was reported from Wales recently.

LEAVING HERE TOO.

LONDON, Oct. 6.
Dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Co. and Central News from Helsingfors, Finland, quote Russian reports of an increasing exodus from Petrograd in order to escape threatened starvation. Dispatches say that two hundred thousand persons have left the former capital and that outgoing trains are crowded.

NOW ONE TO ONE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.
In a pitching duel between the leading hurlers of the National and American Leagues, Burleigh Grimes, Brooklyn's spit ball ace, to-day shut out Cleveland three to nothing in the second game of the world's series at Ebbett's field. His ability to hold the Indians in check when hits would have meant runs, marked his superiority over James Bagby, whom manager Speaker selected to add the second game to the Cleveland string. The victory which placed the dodgers alongside Tris Speaker's Indians was due almost entirely to the excellent pitching of Grimes, who had the heavy hitting representatives of the Junior League baffled throughout the games.

UNIQUE CEREMONY.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.
A ceremony unique in the history of Canada took place to-day when Kieu Tebou, a Chinese girl from the city of Canton, received the white veil of a novice of the Order of Soeurs Missionnaires D'Immaculate Conception. Interest was added to the event by the fact that it was the Bishop of Canton, Mgr. Juebiert, who officiated at the ceremony, being now in Montreal on his return to China from Rome.

SHERIFFS AND MINERS CLASH.

CHARLESTON, Va., Oct. 6.
One deputy sheriff was killed, three others were wounded seriously and two miners were shot in a fight early to-night at Blair Logan County, Va., on Little Coal River, according to information received here by Fred Mooney, Secretary of district number seven-teen United Mine Workers of America.

GETS FIVE YEARS.

VICTORIA, Oct. 6.
Griffith Hughes, prominent newspaper man, pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing thirty-eight thousand dollars from the David Spencer department store, for which he was accountant, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, when he was brought before Justice Morrison in the Assize court to-day.

LOOKING AFTER FUEL SUPPLY.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.
It is learned that regulations regarding the control of the fuel situation by the railway commission will to a great extent follow the lines of those which proved effective during the shortage of recent winters. In one important particular, however, they will be different from the regulations previously in force. In view of the fact that conditions as to fuel supply for the next six months vary a great deal in different provinces the new regulations will be made optional. A province may adopt them or not as the provincial authorities decide. It necessarily follows that a large measure of control will rest with the provinces.

IRISH JUDGES ARRESTED.

WEXFORD, Ireland, Oct. 6.
Richard Coris, Mayor of Wexford, and Edward Foley, merchant, who were acting as judges at Wexford administration court here yesterday were arrested by the police, after the military had surrounded the building.

MACARONI GETS HUNGER STRIKERS.

ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 6.
The Ancona hunger strike is over. A platter of delicious macaroni induced the strikers quickly to abandon their fast. The hunger strike was started by persons charged with being involved in anarchist riots last June as a protest against delay in their trial.

ITS PROBABLY HIS OWN BUSINESS.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.
A meeting of the Toronto Academy of medicine was held to-day to deal with the case of Dr. J. T. Glover who has declined to furnish information regarding his Cancer cure to the Academy. Dr. Glover says he will fur-ish a report to proper parties at the proper time, according to his friends.

STILL ALIVE THE 56th DAY.

LONDON, Oct. 6.
The physician is quoted as saying that MacSweeney's condition is generally unchanged to-day. The bulletin of the Self-Determination League says he passed a bad night.

HOW YOU CAN TELL

GENUINE ASPIRIN

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Aspirin--No others!

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, refuse them--they are not Aspirin at all.

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"--all other tablets are only acid imitations. Look for the "Bayer Cross"! Then it is real Aspirin, for which there is no substitute.

Aspirin is not German but is made in America, and is owned by an American Company, all rights being purchased from the U. S. Government.

Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets--also larger "Bayer" packages, can be had at any drug store.

Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland Registration No. 761), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacid-ester of Salicylicacid.

Tribute to the Clare Brothers.

Corporal Robert Clare, Regimental No. 210, who with his brother, Lieut. William Clare, joined up and left with the first 500, was taken off the regimental strength yesterday after six years and 51 days on the regimental roll. "Bob" shows the scars of time in the trenches. He was over the top July 1st, 1916 in No. 1 platoon and one of the few that survived. He was also at Gallipoli where he fought in all the engagements. In Flanders he received wounds which deprived him of his left leg, but he is just as good a soldier as ever and feels that he did his part. Lieut. Bill fought alongside his brother, and that his services were appreciated will be seen by reading the following official despatch:--

THE WAR OF 1914-1918.
NEWFOUNDLAND REGIMENT.

2nd Lt. W. Clare, 1st Bn. was mentioned in a despatch from General Sir Douglas Haig, G.C.B., K.C.J.E., K.C.V. O., A.D.C., dated 13th November 1916 for gallant and distinguished services in the field. I have it in command from the King to record His Majesty's high appreciation of the services rendered.

Fr. Ashley at Argentina.

Argentina, Oct. 6.--The esteemed Parish Priest of Torbay, the great promoter of our Branch line railway, is now here. His coming brought forth great manifestations of welcome from his former parishioners in Argentina. Bunting was profusely displayed along the proposed line of railway and cheering was frequent from the men who stood in groups along the line at Argentina. Father Ashley addressed upwards of a hundred stalwart fishermen who gathered to greet him. Excitement ran high and cheering was indulged in until he reached the Presbytery.--COR.

Miss Hughes Receives Warm Welcome

FROM PUPILS OF ST. BON'S.

This morning at 11.30, Miss Katherine Hughes received a hearty ovation from the boys of St. Bonaventure's College, who were assembled in the Aula Maxima to meet her. The platform was tastefully decorated with trophies and plants, and as Miss Hughes came on the stage she was heartily applauded by the boys. The Principal, in introducing her, mentioned that she had devoted the greater part of her life to the service of Ireland. In speaking with the famous and inimitable Mr. G. K. Chesterton in June, 1914, she asked him if he thought that the old Gaelic civilization was returning to its original state. "It is," he said, "coming back; coming back for the betterment of the present civilization of Western Europe." The old Brehon Laws, which were abolished in the reign of Edward III, stand for a purer democracy than any in the world, and if the English Government did not let this democracy run its own course, they would forfeit the respect of the world. There are twenty million Irish, outside of Ireland, who are united in act and deed to aid their homeland. The Governments of the British Dominions are co-partners with the English Government, and if those dominions make no protest, they are co-partners in the English Government's attitude towards Ireland. It is up to us to make a protest and to save the honor of the Empire. The action in regard to Ireland is not by the English people, but by the Government and other English people scattered throughout the world and in sympathy with their friends in Ireland. Neither was any religious conflict raised in Ireland by Irishmen. It was the work of unprincipled men looking for power. To illustrate the spirit of the Irish people, Miss Hughes told the incident of the little Irish Boy Scout of Wexford—Willie Connors. He was taken by the police to jail, where in a dark cell, surrounded night and day by armed men, he was kept for six weeks. Why? Because despite the promises of reward held out to him he would not perjure his soul by swearing falsely regarding the shooting of a policeman. At the end of six weeks he was released. Miss Hughes closed her lecture with the Gaelic blessing of "God be with my Comrades."

The Principal proposed a vote of thanks to the lecturer which was unanimously seconded by a burst of cheering after her lecture. Immediately after her lecture, Miss Hughes motored to the station where she left by the express for Cape Breton, where she is engaged to deliver a series of lectures on the subject of Ireland.

Reports From the North.

Reports brought along by the s.s. Prospero indicate that from Quirpon to Cape St. Francis there is a general unrest and mistrust amongst the fishermen. The price and cull of fish and the regulations are the only topics of conversation. At Harbor Deep, Griquet, and Quirpon, there is plenty of fish to be caught with hook and line, but many of the fishermen are not anxious to catch it, as their labor will turn them practically no reward.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

HOW SHE MADE HER WORK EASIER.

A very intelligent and alert middle aged woman who is among my circle of friends as a recently dispensed with a servant and taken charge of her own kitchen for the first time in fifteen years, in the cause of patriotism and observation.

She had not been in the kitchen a week before she began to reorganize, and it seemed to me that what she told me about her organization was worth passing on to you.

Rules For Kitchen Arrangement.

"The first place," she said, "I reorganized all my shelves. In doing this, I tried to follow four rules. I went behind anything. Nothing in front of anything. Everything as close as possible to the place where it is to be used. As few things as possible in places where they would be either stooping or reaching to get them.

When I bought myself some gum labels and labeled the places where each article was to be kept, I knew that if I didn't, they probably got mixed up again. When Nora had a great many tin bottles that had to be opened, one was sure what was in it and of course, I labeled all

She Labeled the Hooks.

When I went into the kitchen I found all sorts of cloths hanging from the ceiling. I threw them away and had fresh, but I found that they were not to get mixed up, and I began to understand why Nora used up so much soap.

She probably got them mixed up, and took fresh ones. So I set up a set of hooks, one for the wash pans, one to wash windows, etc., and pasted labels over each hook.

To Save Two Handlings.

At first I had some shelves put over the sink so that I could put the commonest cooking dishes, as I wiped them. Then there was room enough on the left hand side of the sink to stack all the dishes on a meal, and they had to be brought over, so I had that left-hand shelf extended to save that bother. "That's all I've done so far, but I've got some other plans seething round in my head. Perhaps you'd like to hear about them when they're carried out, you seem so interested in these."

Of course I said, emphatically I would.

I also made a mental note to this effect. I suppose there are hundreds of my letter friends who, because of the scarcity of help, are going out into their kitchens. What are they doing, when they get there, to make the work easier? I am sure they are doing something, and I wish they would tell me about it and, through me, share any ideas with the rest. Won't you?

Replies to Mr. Templeman.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few comments on the remarks of Mr. P. Templeman, regarding the West Coast not being able to make No. 1 fish.

Mr. Templeman stated that it is impossible for West Coast fishermen to make No. 1 fish, because they have to dry it on the rocks. How ridiculous of a man of Mr. Templeman's knowledge. Does he expect West Coast people to swallow such silly stuff? We must admit that we have a fair share of rock on this coast, but we have a fair portion of wood-land as well, sufficient anyway to make stakes, and every business premises possesses a number of these. If Mr. Templeman knows no more about fish than he does about the West Coast, judging his knowledge by his remarks, it would be better for him to have held his peace.

Why can't we make No. 1 fish? What are the reasons adduced for our failure to do so? NOT ONE. We catch the same cod, we split it good, we have experienced men to make it, and good flakes upon which to spread it. Unfortunately this has been the worst year in West Coast history for making fish. In this Bay (Hermitage) and elsewhere 25 p.c. of our fish have been sunburnt and the most important thing of all is that we have been obliged to use bad salt. If the Improved Cure Regulations are to be carried out, let the merchants see to it that we get a superior quality of salt to that which has been supplied us this year.

I doubt, Mr. Editor, if any exporters in the colony ever shipped a better quality and grade of fish to Spain or Portugal than have Mr. Garland, at Gaultois, and Mr. Webb, at Rencontre West. Of course it must be understood that I am only speaking for Hermitage Bay, which is part of the West Coast, and a considerable part of that. Let other portions take this matter of good fish up for themselves, and show that the position taken by Mr. Templeman is untenable. We wish St. John's to understand that we do not intend to permit ourselves to be ridiculed without reason. We desire equal rights to all, special privileges to none.

THE YOUNG ONES.

The children of these wasteful times have no respect for modest dimes. It's their fault; they see their dads like drunken sailors blow the s c a d s. They're taught by every spendthrift dub that money grows on tree and shrub. They hear no parent wise uplift his voice to preach the creed of thrift. And when they've grown to man's estate, and find it their's to pay the freight, the habits they have learned to-day will make them prematurely gray. Ere long these blooming times must pass, and men, must scratch to gain the brass; and youths who've learned to blow it in, but not to store it in a bin, will have a handicap so tall that it will force them to the wall. Do parents ever pause and think, as they blow in the shining chink, for furbellows and costly lids, how they are bringing up the kids? Or don't they care a holy whoop if kids of theirs should reach the soup? Oh, let's get back to frugal ways, and save against the rainy days.

THE BUMPS.

There's no level road to the goal you seek. No easy path to the fame you crave; There are grades to make, there are bumps to take. And life finds out if a man is brave. It never assumes from the smile he wears. When his sky is clear and his heart is light. That a man has grit, but it waits a moment to see how he acts in a losing fight. Life gives no medals to tawdry worth. Nor laurels an undeserving brow; It puts up a test for a fellow's best. And sounds the depth of his faith somehow. When there's nothing to fear and there's little to do. A Coward can vow that he'll never flinch. But life wants to see just how brave he'll be. When the claws of trouble begin to pinch. The years roll by with their joy and pain. To filter the brave from the timid hearts. And the hills sublime are hard to climb Though the road seems smooth where the journey starts. There is much to bear ere you reach the top. Sorrow and anguish must there be met. But faithful be, for life wants to see Just how you stand to the bumps you get.

C. T. JAMES, Editor

Thursday, October 7, 1920.

The Tragedy of the West Coast.

The Advocate is very much displeased with the series of articles under the above heading, and complains that the Burnt Islands story has already been published in the Daily News. That is so, and likewise in the Plaindealer as well, but the facts have never been denied by the organ of the Acting Premier, simply because they could not be. Hence the distaste shown to enlarged comment on that now historic correspondence, which proved such a bitter pill for the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. There is also some correspondence from the people of Rose Blanche to Mr. Coaker—there now if we haven't mentioned his name after being ordered not to do so—vide Advocate, which would be equally as interesting reading as that from Burnt Islands, if it were published by the recipient. But that would never do, for it would be a give-away, undesirable, as well as exposing the iniquity of the Fish Regulations in their effect upon the people of the West Coast. This correspondence is wholly corroborative of conditions as expressed in the Burnt Islands communications, and was the outcome of a meeting held at Rose Blanche and presided over by the Magistrate from Channel who was ordered to the former place for the specific purpose of enquiring into the condition of the people as reported by Government officials and certain parties interested in the trade and commerce of the town. The general opinion of that meeting was that the Fish Regulations had interfered with the industry of the people and had produced a most alarming state of affairs which needed and demanded immediate adjustment. Yet there has been no amelioration and nothing whatever has been done to help the population.

Rose Blanche was ever a thriving fishing town. During the winter months it was the headquarters of the Western Shore banking fleet, and the codliver oil industry was carried on to a greater extent than at any other place of equal size in the district. The fishing vessels sold their livers to the refiners and thus the manufacture of codliver oil gave a great impetus to the general prosperity. Then the number of fishing boats operating out of the port were legion, and as day succeeded day there was no let-up in the work of catching and curing the fish. Gloucester firms had agents on the spot who either purchased fish from the knife or out of salt bulk, all of which brought wealth to the men who were engaged in prosecuting the fishery. For prosperity, for enterprise, for push and go and eagerness in being first, few places in the district of Burgeo and LaPoile could equal Rose Blanche. None could better it. Supplies were ever available to the fishermen, and there never was any difficulty in disposing of their catch, either fresh, salt bulk or dry. The firm of Harvey & Co. Ltd., had been doing an extensive business there for years, and every advantage was given the fishermen to improve their condition. Other local firms of many years standing were also backing up this St. John's concern and helping in encouragement to the toilers. Now all this is changed. The prosperity of the place is at a standstill. The big fish buying and supplying firm is closing up. There is no credit given. Very little fish is being bought, for the reason that it does not pay to catch it at prices offered. The American agents have shut down on purchasing, and the unusual spectacle is presented of the industry of a whole community being ended abruptly. The cause of this cannot be blameable to the people themselves. Neither is it brought about by scarcity of fish or bait. One thing and one only is responsible for the conditions obtaining at Rose Blanche and vicinity at the moment, as everybody will tell, and that is the imposition of the Fish Regulations which have thus tied the hands of a whole community and paralysed their chief and only industry.

It is a strange fact that eggs of sea-fowl are almost conical in form so that they will only roll in a circle.

The wet lands of Ecuador produce a vine yielding a fruit which, when dried, forms a sponge superior to animal sponges.

Advocate says in its issue of yesterday, quoting from an interview with a Northern man, "We have learned to read from the Advocate." As an educational medium, that paper has the Royal Readers and the C.H.E. beaten to a frazzle.

"Well, then, give me a soda pop." "Six cents." "Got any root beer?" "Yes; six cents, too." The little girl sighed disappointedly and started out, leaving her nickel on the counter. "Here, little girl, you're leaving your nickel," the clerk called to her. "Oh, that's all right," the child shouted back. "It's no good to me—it won't buy anything."

High Appreciation of His Excellency.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Allow me space in the People's Paper to publicly thank His Excellency the Governor for his recognition of Mr. James King, and his enquiry regarding the life-saving medal. It shows that His Excellency is ever ready to take notice of a brave act even if the person in question is only a poor laborer and one of His Excellency's humblest subjects. Again thanking His Excellency, and thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I am sincerely yours,

An Adventure By Sea.

Thrilling Experience of Pushthrough Party.

On the night of Sept. 27, a number of boys and girls from Pushthrough, went to McCallum in the Parish motor launch for the purpose of attending a C.E.W.A. sale and tea. After enjoying a pleasant evening, and feeling in high spirits, they embarked for home, but before pushing off from the wharf it was discovered that the rudder had been unshipped, and a determined attempt was made to get it into position, without success, however, because of the darkness and a bit of a lull. Finally it was decided that the launch could be steered with two oars belonging to the equipment, and the craft was got under weigh.

Then it was found that progress was being made under great difficulty as the boat, which was a twin screw, had only the port engine working, the starboard one being ashore undergoing repairs. The only way out of the trouble was to run dead slow, which for a time worked out all right, the boys in turn taking spells at the oars. Everything was going fine when suddenly the engine coughed, spluttered and then stopped. On examination the engineer found that the cause was lack of oil, easily remedied as he thought, but also not a drop was in the tank. The safety of the passengers now depended entirely on the two little ash oars. A strong breeze was blowing and they were only about part of the distance, but luckily the wind was in their favor for a time. Nothing daunted the gallant lads bent manfully to the oars, taking trick and turn, and slowly but surely they edged up to windward and felt satisfied to know that they were making some progress, after a change in their course put the wind ahead. After pulling for two and a half hours they gained Pushthrough in safety, as daylight was breaking. Quickly disembarking they went to their respective homes feeling none the worse for their adventure, excepting for lack of sleep. During the perilous trip great encouragement was given by the girls who, notwithstanding the danger, sang many melodies, which kept the boys in good spirits and made the time pass more quickly. Such trips as these are only common to Pushthrough young folk going to and from McCallum—COM.

Obituary.

MRS. GEORGE CHRISTIAN.

There passed peacefully away at Brooklyn, Bonavista Bay, at the home of her only son, Dr. Geo. B. Cross, on the 4th inst., Mrs. Geo. Christian. Deceased was born at Lower Island Cove, Nov. 29th, 1846, was the daughter of John Louis, Esq., J.P. of that place, where she spent the last 4 years of her life with her youngest sister the late Mrs. A. G. Hudson. When her son, the doctor, who had been overseas with the Canadian Forces, returned and made his home in Brooklyn, he took his mother, to whom he was greatly endeared; to live with him but before a month of reunited and contented peaceful life had been lived together the reaper death entered the new home and severed the bond that binds so dear. Mrs. Christian spent the greater part of her life in Trinity, her first husband was John Cross, Esq., Dr. Cross' father, who for many years occupied the position of bookkeeper in the firm of the Messrs. Bremner and who was a gentleman greatly respected and beloved by all who knew him as was also her second husband, Geo. Christian, Esq., who was Customs Official at Trinity, until his death, about 10 years ago. Deceased was a member of a large family of six sisters, two brothers, John and Herbert Louis, who are still living at Lower Island Cove. The late Mrs. Alexander Marshall of St. John's, with whom she spent much of the early part of her life was a sister. The Marshall family, to whom she became endeared and respected till the last, loved their Aunt Christian. She was an excellent woman in her day, a good neighbour and a Christian lady, not only in name, but in very deed. According to her earnest desire and entreaty, her remains will be taken to Trinity on Thursday, the 7th inst., and interred in the Methodist cemetery there to await the morning call of the Resurrection. Our sympathies go out to the young doctor and the mourning relatives and friends, among whom are her step children, Mr. Ronald Cross, of St. John's, Mrs. (Rev.) Pickering of Lower Island Cove and Mr. Gilbert Christian of Trinity. A. G. H.

Indignant With Fish Inspector.

The crews of some vessels discharging fish at an uptown mercantile premises Tuesday were very indignant with the fish inspector who was supervising the cutting of the fish. It seems that after the cutter had passed the fish the inspector took a hand in, with the result that the crews sent one of their number to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to make a complaint. One of the schooners which hails from Musgrave Hr. discharged 30 qts. of fish which after it had been cut averaged $6.50 per quintal. Naturally with this state of affairs the fishermen can't be blamed for feeling out of "sorts," with the Inspector.

G. W. V. A. Meeting.

CLUB ROOMS WILL BE DISPOSED OF.
 The adjourned meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held last night in the T. A. Armoury, Lt.-Col. G. T. Carty in the chair; but there was only a fair attendance present. A letter was read from Lt.-Col. Bernard tendering his resignation to the Association, as one also from Mr. R. Matthews, who has also resigned from the Executive Committee. A letter was also received from his Excellency the Governor regretting the resignation of Col. Bernard and hoping that his successor will always keep in touch with him as he was always interested in the welfare of the Association.

The meeting then took up the business that was before the Chair, regarding the disposal of the ground flat of the Association's Club Rooms. Various speakers took part in the discussion and advised the meeting to use every discretion in connection with this matter. After Comrades Garland, Grey, Harris, Byrne, Brien, Thistle and Robinson had spoken, it was proposed by B. Murphy and seconded by Capt. Byrne that Mr. Matthews be given three months notice, according to the terms of his agreement. On a standing vote being taken the motion was carried. The chairman then explained to the meeting that the executive had been considering ways and means regarding the financial standing of the institution and he explained that the Association was faced each year with a deficit, and he gave as the reason that the building was unsuitable as club rooms and they were not being patronized, and he suggested that it would be advisable to get rid of it, and with funds received for sale of same build a new hall that would give the members some place to hold meetings, have social gatherings, card tournaments, etc. Capt. Byrne, Thistle and Lt. Garland and other speakers agreed with Lt.-Col. Carty and strongly urged upon the meeting to consider this matter. It was then proposed by Comrade Kearley and seconded by Comrade Higgins that a committee be appointed to arrange the sale of the Association's Club Rooms and look for a new site for building purposes. The motion was carried unanimously. Lt. C. Garland proposed and Capt. Thistle seconded that a committee of five be appointed to arrange sale of building and report progress at next meeting. Carried unanimously. The following committee was then appointed: Messrs. Harold Mitchell, C. Garland, C. E. Jeffrey, P. Mansfield, W. Thistle, with Mr. J. Higgins who is giving his legal services free of charge, as convenor.

Mr. C. Garland spoke regarding disabled soldiers who have to use special boots and are compelled to pay for same and he proposed that the Secretary write the Pension Department in connection with this matter and that those who have already paid for those boots have their money refunded. The motion was carried unanimously.
 A letter was read from the Finance Minister regarding the 20% increase for all disabled soldiers stating that this matter was being attended to. It was announced by the Chairman that Mr. Hutchinson, a chartered accountant and returned soldier has offered his services as auditor free of charge, which was appreciated by the meeting. After the singing of the National Anthem the meeting adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

que and Pleasing Address.

James Ballantine, who is here in connection with installing some stained glass windows in the Presbyterian Church, lectured in the Kirk Hall, his subject being "Church and Glass." Mr. Ballantine gave a very interesting lecture and dealt historically with the introduction of stained glass in the churches. His review was well listened to and it is not too much to say that the lecture, though unique here, was interesting and pleasing. Mr. Ballantine, F.S.A., Scotland, is a grandson of James Ballantine the well known Scotland artist and poet. He has designed all the stained glass windows in St. Andrew's Church and is now contemplating the design for the War Memorial window.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mrs. James Kenny and son desire to thank all kind friends who assisted them in their sad bereavement; they also extend thanks for notes and telegrams of sympathy kindly sent.—advr.

Lost Propeller Blades.

Yesterday morning the Furness Withy Co. received a wireless message from S.S. Carolinian, stating that she was making for this port having lost two of her propeller blades. Further messages conveyed the information that owing to strong

N.E. winds the ship's course had to be changed and she was heading for Halifax. The Carolinian is owned by the Garland Steamship Co. of New York, and is a vessel of 4,000 tons register.

Missing Woman Found.

The two women Mrs. Brown, of Hamilton Street, and Mrs. Barnes, of Rannerman Road, who had been missing since Tuesday, were found by search parties early yesterday. The women had gone berry-picking on the Blackhead Road and on their way home in the evening got lost in thick fog, which had set in. After roaming about for a time they found a shack where they put up for the night, making themselves comfortable by lighting a good fire.

Mainly About People.

Queen Mary has announced her intention of taking lessons in the dialect of Aberdeenshire. At the concert given at Balmoral the other evening she and the King only understood one word in ten when the broad Doric was used.

The first girl in history to enter college to prepare for the Jewish ministry is Miss Martha Newmark, daughter of Professor David Newmark, of Hebrew Union College. This fact became known through a recent article by Joseph Lelser, Cincinnati, in the American Israelite, on "Shall Women Enter the Jewish Ministry?"

During the world war the Englishman who held the powers of liberty, life or death over every book in any way connected with the war at sea, pictorial or otherwise, was Sir Douglas Brownrigg. He had many contests with angry authors whose hopes to make a scoop at the expense of divulging secret information he blighted.

Martin J. Dooley and Frederick Dornier, who have met 20,000 criminals in their 28 years as attendants at Sing Sing, and have a remarkable memory for faces, have been engaged by a New York brokerage house and bank, respectively, to guard their interests below the "dead line." A dozen big interests of Wall Street were reported willing to bid high for their services.

Cardinal Mercier has been obliged to abandon his proposed visit to the United States to attend the International Congress Against Alcoholism, which meets in Washington this month, but the cardinal selected as his personal representative Father Voellings, a member of the Belgian parliament. In his letter Cardinal Mercier says: "Please express to your committee my deep regret at not having been able to be with you on this occasion and to share your labors in the struggle against the evils of alcoholism."

Lord Sinha, until lately under secretary for India, has now been appointed a governor. He is the first Indian to be made a member of the government of India; to be made a K.C.; to be a member of the Imperial War Conference (in association with the Maharajah of Bikaner) and Cabinet; to be raised to the peerage; to be made a member of the government in Whitehall, and he is now the first Indian to be head of an Indian province.

The governor-general of the Australian Commonwealth, Sir Ronald Munro-Ferguson, and Lady Helen, his wife, are returning home next month. Sir Ronald will find Novar, his Ross-shire domain, rather different from what it was when he left for Australia before the war. Some thousands of acres of its woodlands have been cut down, and this area Sir Ronald intends to replant with all speed. The Novar domain came to his father from the late Mr. Munro, a most eccentric man of his day, and a great patron of Turner—not the least of his eccentricities to the people of that day.

The plea of a lonely woman, whose husband has been home only three months in three years, has moved Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board, to revoke the war rule which prohibits officers' wives accompanying their husbands on voyages.

Admiral Benson's order communicated to Captain Paul Foley, director of operations, who recommended the action, stipulates that the privilege "may be extended in certain cases after most careful investigation as to the captain of the vessel, his general fitness and efficiency." Captain Foley told Admiral Benson that ship masters in the employ of the board are continually receiving offers from private companies who are willing that they shall take their wives on voyages.

Primeval Practice.

(From the Chicago Daily News.) When paleolithic man scurried back to his cozy cavern and laughed defiance to the saber toothed tiger that had leaped for him and missed he was acquiring agility that proves invaluable to his descendants of today who have to step lively across boulevards infested with speeding motor cars.

Conciliation Useless.

Autumn is upon us. Winter is approaching. The annual opportunity for plunder has come. The prospective dispute, at present being cunningly engineered through the rejection of the report of the Royal Commission, may be expected to culminate at the beginning of winter, when a strike would cause the worst possible inconvenience and suffering. The miners' leaders believe they can take the mine owners, through the consumer, by the throat at this time with advantage to themselves, no matter how much general misery it may cause. Their motto obviously is: "The public be damned," the favorite one of a late American millionaire monopolist and profiteer.

The question naturally arises, what is the use of trying to conciliate-men who will not be conciliated except by the concession of their utmost demands; what is the good of making agreements with organizations which will not fulfill them for more than a few months, or even enter into them for a much longer period than that? When the mine owners make contracts they stand by them to the letter. They can be compelled to do so because they are either individuals or legal corporations who can be sued in courts of law, and who have property to respond to judgments. The miners' Unions, like other Unions, refuse to accept incorporation. Incorporation would make them responsible under the law.

We have always been in closest sympathy with every legitimate aim and aspiration of honest workmen—workmen willing to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, and at liberty to ask the best possible day's pay—but this constant refusal to abide by arbitration, this total disregard of all but their own, immediate, selfish interests, is becoming extremely trying to public patience. That patience, we believe, is now almost at an end. Should it break entirely, it is not difficult to foresee who would be the worst sufferers.

We are on the verge of general "hard times," it may be of an unprecedented character and duration. Unemployment may be very "abundant." It can only be lessened by universal diligence, moderation and co-operation. For miners, or any other set of men, to go on thinking and acting as if the wild financial and industrial orgy of the last six years could or would continue much longer, is surely the height of blind folly.—Morning Chronicle.

Wit and Wisdom.

Darwinism appealed to evidence; evidence has killed it.—Hilaire Belloc. Bostonians deny that Boston (U.S.A.) is a city. It is a state of mind, they say.—Correspondent in the "Christian World."

Arthur Balfour was never a standard-bearer. He was a self-indulgent man of simple tastes.—Mrs. Asquith.

Few Englishmen are so remorselessly scientific as the Germans, few have the quick intellect of the Frenchmen, but in individual genius and in the fine balance of sane intelligence and ethical strength, the best Englishman is without a peer.—Sir Robert Falconer (a Canadian).

The cult of the superman can be carried too far, and if these islands ever produce another man with Lord Kitchener's powers he can be used to best advantage by being confined within the limit of human energy.—Earl of Midleton.

America as she is to-day is in the main totally unrepresented in the fictions of her contemporary novelists.—Dr. Coningsby Dawson.

A Ten Thousand Year Clock.

After working hard for forty years, William Blandford, who died recently at Aurora, Illinois, produced a clock which is said to be the wonder of the world.

Blandford had been a student of astronomy all his life, and hit upon the idea of producing a complete astronomical clock.

It is claimed for his masterpiece that it has a calendar working automatically by machinery, which will register each day, month and year for 10,000 years, providing for leap years and all other irregularities.

It also gives the longitude of more than a hundred of the principal cities of the world, and shows the time at any hour of the day or night in each.

The changing phases of the moon are also shown, the apparent passage of the sun through the constellations of the zodiac, and the variations of the seasons.

Bedrooms & Beds

There's nothing more important to the bedroom than the Bed itself, is there? From the point of usefulness or ornament it ranks first. Does your Bed suit your taste? Does it harmonize with your room? Does it give you the sleep-comfort you need? No? Well, then it's time to discard it and get another, quick.

We are showing All-Brass, Brass and Enamel, and All-Enamel Beds in all sizes and very fine designs. Each and all of which Beds can be fitted with Springs and Wool or Felt Mattresses if desired.

Prices quoted on request.

Kearney Says:

You tell 'em that this is no more spasmodic effort on my part to rival "White Sales," "Clearance Sales," or any other sugar-tipped enticer. This is an honest-to-goodness endeavour to blaze the trail to lower prices. Prices must come down in this town soon. I want to be remembered as The Price Pioneer. I want the good-will of every man who has to measure every dollar with what it will buy, and I begin my second week with a great energy working for that favor.

ANOTHER LORD FRENCH RUMOUR.

LONDON, Sept. 12th, 1920. Though Viscount French has not yet given any formal indication of his desire to retire from his appointment as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, there are good reasons to believe that this will not be very much longer delayed, and it is improbable that he will return to Dublin from his present leave in England. For some time past reports of disagreement on policy between the Lord Lieutenant and the Chief Secretary have been current, and these are believed to be very well founded. It will be very difficult to select a successor to Lord French, and several names are being mentioned, including those of two Irish Peers. It is practically certain that, whoever does ultimately succeed Lord French at Dublin Castle will not be a soldier. No announcement is likely to be made until the Prime Minister has discussed the matter with his colleagues in the Cabinet.

THE BRITISH WAR MEDAL.

A beginning, I understand, has now been made with the distribution of the British War Medal, but it will, of course, be a long time before all who are entitled to it can be supplied. It was decided about a month ago that a sufficient supply was now in hand to justify a start being made with their disposal. In the case of officers the medals will be sent from the War Office, and those for ex-soldiers will be dealt with by the record offices. The system followed in regard to the distribution of the ribbon, under which application could be made by special postcards obtainable at post offices, is not being adopted in the meantime, and no action on the part of the individual entitled to the award is required. As the batches of medals are prepared they are being forwarded to the appropriate record offices, and will be sent by registered post to the addresses of which they have a record. Where addresses are discovered to be out of date something like the postcard system may have to be adopted in order to get rid of accumulated supplies.

WOODEN HATS FOR MEN.

Wood already plays an important part in dress. From it are produced large quantities of artificial silk, which is made up into smart blouses, jumpers, scarves, and neckties in many beautiful hues, while a goodly proportion of women's openwork stockings are made from the same material. The latest use found for wood is in the manufacture of "straw" hats for men. The new hats, samples of which have been submitted to the trade in preparation for the next summer season, bear a very close resemblance indeed to the ordinary "boater" made from rustic plait. The wood is cut into strips and plaited in the same way as the straw hat, and it is also subjected to a bleaching process. It lacks, however, the sheen of the bleached straw, and when made up the hat presents a somewhat dullish white appearance. Probably the exceptionally high prices ruling for the rustic plait, which is obtained from Japan, have prompted the invention of the wooden "boater." The new hat is rather heavier, but a trifle cheaper, than the straw, and it is thought that it will be more susceptible to dust. No doubt the manufacturer has taken steps to prevent the wood warping if the hat is exposed to heavy rain.

PRESS AID IN CRIME DETECTION.

The prompt way in which the police authorities have called in the press to assist them in unravelling the mystery of the murder of a young girl on the seashore at Eastbourne may be hoped to have a fully satisfactory result. Such an appeal for assistance is very far from a novelty, though for a long period the custom, luckily for the perpetrators of crime, died into disuse. It was first made by Sir John Fielding, the great "blind magistrate" of Bow Street, the brother of the more illustrious Henry Fielding, of "Tom Jones" fame; and in the very earliest years of George III. an appeal was issued from Bow Street Police Court to the leading London daily journal of the time to give a full account of "wanted" criminals and hidden crimes, because it was felt that no other course would so well serve the cause of justice. One other feature of the Eastbourne case which has aroused general commendation has been the immediate application of the local police to Scotland Yard (London's headquarters of the detective force of the country) for expert detective assistance. This is a course which ought to be taken as a matter of rule, but the more backward police organisations in various parts of the country either do not adopt it at all, or invoke the aid of Scotland Yard when it is too late to be of use.

RAILWAYS AND OIL FUEL.

Engineering experts showed a great interest the other day in the oil fuel experiment which is being undertaken by the London and North-Western Railway. After a secret trial of two or three months, an official demonstration was given last week, when engineers from other railways, officials of the Transport Ministry, and representatives of other Government Departments made the journey in the oil-driven express from Euston, London, to Birmingham. Although other engines are in use which have a combination of oil and coal, the importance of the event is derived from the fact that by the adoption of the "scarab" system the engine uses oil alone. According to the railway company, the test has exceeded their expectations, and the best results have been obtained. Whereas the same type of locomotive fired with coal consumes about 70 pounds per mile, fired with oil it only consumes 30 pounds, or 700 pounds of oil instead of a ton of coal. Apart from other advantages derived from oil firing in the matter of staking, fuel transport, absence of ashes and dirt, and clean boiler tubes, the system requires no structural alterations to locomotive furnaces, and only a matter of four days to convert an engine from coal to oil fuel. Together with the proved efficiency of the new method, that point appears to be of vital importance in view of the possibility of railways being held up through lack of coal.

LONDON CLUBS RETURNING HOME

A number of workmen are to be seen in and out of the palatial premises of the National Liberal Club in Whitehall Place, overlooking the Embankment Gardens, which, having been cleared of the War Office staff temporarily located there, is now being made ready to receive its members once again after their four years' stay in what used to be the Westminster Palace Hotel in Victoria Street. During the autumn of 1916 the Government seized the Hotel Metropole, the Hotel Victoria, the Grand Hotel, the National Liberal Club, and the Constitutional Club, all within gunshot of the War Office, as well as the Adelphi, the Salisbury, and De Keyser's Hotels within half a mile. All those who had clubs of flats in the War Secretary's ambit then began to grow afraid. Their fear was partially removed by a sudden swoop towards the north and the Ministerial capture of the Great Central Hotel; but, as a consequence, Paddington, Euston, St. Pancras, King's Cross, and even Liverpool Street, Charing Cross, and Victoria (termini of the chief railways of the country in London), each with its own great hotel, then began to tremble lest the like fate should befall it. It was avoided, and now very gradually these great buildings are being returned to their rightful possessors and users. The Hotel Victoria, the Great Central Hotel, and the Adelphi Hotel are among those once more in full swing; but De Keyser's, after giving rise to protracted litigation in which the Law Officers of the Crown were worsted, has advanced no farther as yet towards resumed usefulness, after being quitted by the Royal Air Force, than being offered for sale with immediate possession. More fortunate has been the Constitutional Club, the huge Unionist caravanserai in Northumberland Avenue, which welcomed back its members about a twelve month ago after for three years having housed in relatively cramped quarters in the lower portion of the Hotel Cecil.

DANCING ALL DAY.

The cold weather, which mars summer sports, has set people dancing again in numbers which suggests that, after all, there will be little diminution this winter in the attendances at dance clubs and private balls. A friend of mine, who is a poster artist, and has his studio outside town, wanted to hire a good-sized room in which he could show his clients the work he has done for them. Someone suggested that he should approach some dancing instructress, and offer to rent her room for a couple of hours in the mornings when she would not be using it. He therefore wrote to a lady who conducts classes near Hyde Park Corner, suggesting some such arrangement. He received a reply saying she was sorry, but she was using the premises from 9.30 a.m. daily. The man must be a real enthusiast who can drag himself to a dancing lesson at that unholy hour.

The Military Badge.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I have the honor to request that you publish this letter as a correction of an article which appeared in the daily press yesterday concerning the new War Service Badge. These badges are not, as stated in the article, issuable only to those who served overseas. The regulations concerning the issue of the new badges are, that they will be issued to all men who served in the Royal Newfoundland Regiment and the Newfoundland Forestry Companies, whether at home or overseas, except to those who have received the Silver Badge, known as "Disability Badge."
Thanking you in anticipation,
Yours truly,

Bay de Verde.

Bay-de-Verde proper is organizing against the iniquitous Fish Regulations. The two hundred voters of this place who opposed the unjust regulations which are strangling trade and ruining our fishery, intend to hold a mass meeting very soon to protest against one-man rule, which is driving our small merchants out of business, crippling their trade and impoverishing the fishermen. These regulations are a dark blot on the pages of our country's history.

The shutting out of New York firms from purchasing fish and exporting, is condemned on all sides, as cruel and tyrannical. Coaker's threat of Down with the Merchants is being carried out, and scores of honest, industrious business men will be ruined this year if his mad career is not checked. Who would be free themselves must strike the blow.

Newfoundlanders! Are ye asleep? Your country is on the verge of ruin. Join us in this crusade! Organize! Petition His Excellency for elections on the regulations! Strike for Home and Native Land against Kaiserism, Coakerism, and Starvation! Break the shackles that is binding you in iron chains!

Men cannot sell their fish; the St. John's merchants are at Coaker's mercy. They cannot help out the fishermen as their hands are tied. Men of St. John's. Do you want to see the grass grow in the streets of your city? If not then join hands with us. Your business firms are paralyzed, trade stagnated and people fleeing from the country to enrich the revenues of other lands. Returned soldiers who shed your blood for home and country, are you going to see your Island Home go down to degradation?

Arise! Down with the Fishery Regulations, the ruin of your country.

Mother Restored Daughter Relieved.

Mrs. Sherwood Had To Live On Bread And Tea Before She Got Tanlac. Now Eats Anything.

"Tanlac has brought joy to our family for it has restored me to health and strength and now my daughter is taking it with splendid results," said Mrs. Robert Sherwood, who resides at 136 Orange Street, St. John, N.B.

"I don't like to think of how I suffered for the past three years," she continued. "I was in a dreadful, run-down, nervous condition and it just seemed that there was no relief for me. My stomach caused me no end of trouble for nearly everything I ate turned against me, and I had to live almost entirely on bread and butter and tea."

"I suffered awfully from gastritis, especially at night when I went to retire. There were constant pains in my stomach and I just couldn't get any rest either night or day. My nerves were worn to a frazzle and I had fallen off so much in weight that I was nothing more than a shadow of what I used to be. "Finally I broke down completely and had to go to the hospital. I stayed there for several weeks and while I felt better at the time, I gradually went back into my old condition. I became so weak that I wasn't able to do my housework and had to hire outside help. I became alarmed over my condition for I was getting worse rapidly and just seemed to be losing all my strength and energy.

"One day about two months ago I was reading the paper and saw a statement from a woman here in St. John, telling about the relief Tanlac brought her; and I'm so glad she allowed it to be published for I have tried Tanlac myself now and it has restored my health just like she said it did her."

"My appetite is just splendid and I am eating things I haven't been able to touch in years. The pains have all gone from my stomach and I have gained back nearly all my lost weight. My nerves are just as steady as can be and I enjoy sound, restful sleep every night. I feel so much better and stronger that I have gone back to doing my housework and it just seems wonderful that I am enjoying such splendid health once more. My daughter, who has always been very delicate, has started taking Tanlac since it has helped me so, and already she has a better appetite and is looking stronger. I certainly have confidence in Tanlac, and recommend it with all my heart."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, in Paradise by Mrs. Maria F. Byrne, in Upper Gullies by Hebe Andrews, in Portland by H. C. Haines, in St. Joseph, Salmonier, by Mrs. J. Gushue, in Millertown by Esplanade Valley Royal Stores, Ltd., in Flat Island by William Samson, in Jamestown by Christopher Haines, and in Lewisporte by Uriah Frank-adv.

Incidentally, Lloyd's George professes the belief that the United States will formally join the League of Nations after the election, and asserts that when Germany also enters, which will be as soon as she gives proof of her good faith, the League will become an effective instrument, instead of as now, a mere League of the Allies.

STOCK MARKET OPINION

Now, more so than ever, considering the prevailing low prices, we recommend the purchase of

GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION
MARLAND REFINING SAPULPA REFINING
MIDDLE STATES TALAPOOSA
BIG LEDGE GOLD ZONE
ISLAND OIL AND TRANSPORT

The above stocks, in our opinion, are very "safe" buys and we freely suggest their purchase. We are fully equipped to handle any and all orders for these or any other active stocks or bonds listed in any of the principal exchanges.

One thing essential in your Winter Coat is QUALITY. One has to wear their Winter Coat for many months, and to stand against this you require the best of material in it.

We have carefully selected our stock of Winter Coatings and feel we have goods that merit your approval. You can purchase enough excellent material to make a coat for $24.00, and if you wish we can make it up for you, and deliver the finished garment in a week or less if necessary. The material is equal in quality to that in coats which retail at $70.00 to $90.00.

We ask you to come in and see the goods, examine them, get samples and prices, compare with others, and come back and purchase the goods.

If a Testator

although seeing the benefits to be derived from a Trust Company's administration, hesitates about cancelling any appointment he may have already made, the Montreal Trust Company can be named to act with the Executor or Executors already appointed. In this way the Trust Company co-operates with the Testator's appointees in the administration of the Estate.

This plan is very acceptable when the Testator's wife is named as Executor. Few women have the necessary business training to enable them to carry on the administration of an Estate, but with the co-operation of the Montreal Trust Company the Testator's wife can be appointed with full assurance that the Estate will be well looked after.
