NOTE AND COMMENT.

For a time of peace there is a lot of war going on in the world. Civil wars are in progress in Cuba and Mexico. Albania is convulsed with a rebellion. Turkey and Italy are at war. Tripoli is seeing intermittent fighting, while islands in the Aegean are being occupied. The French are frequently attacked in Morocco. Yet speaking roughly we would say that the world was at peace.

If you want cheerfulness in your home you must have sunshine and genial hearts. Plan to live in the sunshine; if there is a pleasant room in your dwelling, live there; if there is a dark room, shut it up; keep the children out of it; if you have troubles shut them up there—never take them into the family circle—give home the sunniest thought and plans of your whole life and fill it with love, joy, peace, gladness—sunshine.

Upwards of sixty of the most representative British manufacturers who ever came to Canada in a body are doing the country. They are greatly impressed with the opportunity for an increase in trade between Great Britain and the Dominion, and while they are for the moment on holiday bent, some of them are already planning to extend their operations on Canadian soil. The combined capital of the industries represented by the visitors is over $250,000,000. James N. Vickers, of Vickers, Limited, one of the largest industrial concerns in the world, stated that his firm would establish shipbuilding works in the Dominion if the Government decided to build battleships in Canada.

A half-naked Zulu woman, a Turkish woman in trousers, may not be immodest. The woman generally who appears in public in a flimsy low-cut waist, a short, tight skirt, semi-transparent stockings, and high-heeled cloth pumps. The sensuality of the orient which the Mahommedan confines to his harem, parades daily through our main thoroughfares. To-day it is getting to be a question whether the American girl needs protection from the snare of the fowler any more than the American boy needs protection from the snare of the American girl. Some of the costumes seen on our city streets would have made Babylon gasp.—Detroit Free Press.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HAY FROM THE SOY BEAN.

Directions For Handling Forage From This Useful Plant.
For hay soy beans are cut with the mower and as soon as wilted raked into small windrows. They are allowed to dry here for a short time and should then be put into small shocks and allowed to stand until well cured. Experience is necessary in curing soy bean hay, but those who have made cowpea hay will find less trouble in curing that of soy beans. A correspondent writes in regard to curing cowpea hay that he sets posts about one foot into the ground, nails cross pieces near the bottom and shocks the hay over the posts as soon as cut. The forkfuls of pea vines are slipped over the post, which is sharpened, and a good sized shock made. No further at-

DEVICE FOR CURING SOY BEAN HAY IN SHOCKS.

(From bulletin Kentucky agricultural station.)

Attention is given until the hay is cured. He claims that hay cured in this way is of extra fine quality, but does not say how much time it takes to handle the hay in this manner. It would probably not prove practical on a large scale, but is worth trying with a small crop.

Another contrivance often used in curing soy bean or cowpea hay is illustrated here. The hay is allowed to wilt and is then raked into windrows and piled over these frames. Being held up from the ground and having an air space in the center of the shock, the hay, of course, cures quite rapidly. This apparatus appears to be more practical than the one described above.

Neither soy bean nor cowpea hay keeps well in a stack unless given a good covering of timothy or other grass, because the coarseness of the stems allows the water to penetrate so readily. The stack should also be made on brush, rails or boards to keep the hay from becoming damp and moldy on the bottom.—Bulletin, Kentucky Agricultural Station.

These two desirable qualifications, pleasant to the taste and at the same time effectual, are to be found in Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Children like it.

Caprioli and the Kaiser.
Gen. Caprioli, a stolid, ruminating kind of man, with much sound sense and some kindness of heart, received a message from the emperor one day while he was at dinner. He rose and went to his imperial master at once, when the following conversation took place: "I want you," said William II., "to take Bismarck's two places as chancellor and Prussian Prime Minister." "I am at your majesty's orders," answered the general. "Have you no conditions to make?" "It is not for me, sire, to make conditions." "Very well. Come here to-morrow morning. What are you going to do now?" "I shall go home and finish my dinner, sire." A very good, soldierly answer.

An Extraordinary Rat.
The Canadian sand rat is distinguished by large cheek pouches, oval in shape. The animal burrows in sandy soils and feeds on nuts, roots or grass, which it conveys to its burrow in its cheek pouches. The rat empties its pouches by sitting up like a squirrel, and squeezing the pouch against its breast with its fore-paws and chin. This animal is a little larger than a full-grown common rat and pale-greyish-brown in color.

All Records Broken.
All previous immigration records for Ontario have been broken by the tide of immigration that has poured in during May. The Government immigration office has so far this month distributed between three thousand five hundred and four thousand immigrants throughout Ontario. This is nearly four times as many immigrants for this province as for the first fifteen days of May last year.

Gravitation.
Which would drop to the ground first, a bullet fired from a gun held perfectly level or one dropped from the hand from the same height and at the same time? They would strike the earth at the same time if the cannon is perpendicular to a plumb line, the firing and dropping to be at absolutely the same instant of time.

IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

Don't Try to Make a Woman Do a Man's Work.

Don't expect more from a servant than you could do yourself. Increase wages in proportion as services become valuable. Remember your servant is a human being, not a beast of burden. Place some room other than the kitchen at her disposal to receive company. If criticism is to be made, do it in a cool, dispassionate manner. Follow the golden rule. Don't try to make a woman do a man's work. Do not interfere with any of her superstitions or religious beliefs. Do not interfere with her love affairs unless she asks advice.

Cut up half a pound of white soap into a gallon of water, and boil it till the soap is dissolved, then add to it two ounces of salts of tartar. After the carpet has been well shaken apply this mixture while hot with a scrubbing brush, covering not more than a square yard at a time. Dip a coarse towel into clean water and wipe the carpet over, then wipe again with another clean dry cloth.

To prevent any shade of blue from fading soak for two hours in a pail of water to which an ounce of sugar of lead has been added. Then be sure to dry before washing and ironing.

Bolled potatoes are an excellent substitute for soap when the hands have become soiled by contact with blackened pots and pans.

Straight pieces of muslin are usually ironed from end to end along the selvege, being careful to keep the hems as straight as possible.

ATTRACTIVE APRONS.

Dutch Designs Form Charming Borders on New Models.

No longer does the white apron of transparent materials trimmed with frivolous ribbons and many lace frills reign supreme as a skirt protector at chafing dish parties. For the nonce the Dutch apron is in possession of the field, and every girl who cannot afford one of the imported specimens made of dark blue, green, yellow or red sateen, with a printed border in a contrasting dull hue that is half the depth of the entire accessory does the next best thing and makes her apron of whatever material she has at hand.

The border, printed Holland sateen, is about twenty-four inches wide and has the decoration along edge and shirring it three times across, thus forming a half inch frill and two half inch deep puffs against the front of the waist.

The Dutch apron has no strings, but is secured to the belt by fancy pins, preferably of Dutch silver and hand-work.

But materials other than the imported Holland sateen are used, and many girls prefer the transparent tabliers of dark hued chiffon or mousseline de sole with a wide printed border, while other apron makers are applying the borders of foulards to plain colored sarah or china silks.

The main thing is to have the foundation of the apron—never longer than twenty inches when finished—of a dark and dull shade and the border of a decided pattern and an entirely different color.

WASHING THE CARPET.

Avoid Trouble by Not Beginning at the Door.

To wash the carpet thoroughly you will require a bucket of warm water, a cake of carpet soap, a piece of house flannel and, if you are going to tackle a fair sized piece of carpet at once, a supply of dry cloths.

Do not begin near the door, as you may require to leave the room for fresh water, and it is unwise to walk on the carpet when damp. Make up your mind to do without the room till all is dry. Start washing as far from the door as possible and work toward it. The flannel is wetted and a portion of the carpet well rubbed. It must not be overdone, only wetted sufficiently to secure a good lather by rubbing the carpet soap ball well into the carpet. Well rinse the flannel afterward, so that it is quite soapless when you begin another fresh piece.

No soap must be left in the carpet when the final rubbing commences. Take a dry towel and rub your best. Though you cannot get rid of all dampness, you can almost dry the patch with friction, and this brings up the nap beautifully, also the colors.

THE QUANT IN MILLINERY.

Quantiness in the dress world is the most striking feature of the season, and among the strange conceits of an authoritative milliner is the bonnet pictured. This charming little creation has a double brim, half of which is a soft, rounded shape, and the other half is a flat, wide brim, which is fastened to the crown of the bonnet by a ribbon or cord. The bonnet is made of flowered taffeta and is trimmed with shaded silk flowers matching the tones in the taffeta. On a pretty girl this confection is fetching.

GOING AWAY SUIT.

Next to the wedding gown, the going away costume is of prime importance. Most brides this spring are planning to start on the wedding trip in a smartly made taffeta suit, with a gay little cutaway coat and skirt trimmed with the approved number of corded puffings, quillings or plaitings and at least two dozen of the ultra smart crystal buttons. The taffeta suit reigns supreme this season, and no trousseau will be complete without one of these flashing and feminine little suits of navy blue or plum colored taffeta or of changeable taffeta in black and blue, black and green, brown and black or some other modish combination. At the first stopping place the dressy taf-leta going away suit will be exchanged for a more practical costume of serge or one of the good looking English or tweed mixtures, which are always satisfactory in well tailored models.

MAKING ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.

A Pleasant and Profitable Employment For Women.

Now that artificial flowers made of ribbon are so much in vogue many women will find it not only pleasant, but also profitable work to make them for sale. Roses, daisies and morning glories are easily made and are pretty for millinery purposes, hair ornaments, novelties for the neck, trimming for evening dresses, etc.

The large size rosebuds make beautiful hatpin heads and are made by using five squares of soft satin ribbon or messaline silk three and a half inches in diameter. Each square is formed into a petal by first bringing together the upper right hand and the lower left hand corners, then the upper left hand and the lower right hand corners. Lastly, bring together the two lower corners and you have a complete triangle, which when gathered tightly at the bottom forms the petal.

Two of the petals are placed closely together, forming the center of the bud, and the remaining three are placed in a row around the center. Sew tightly at the bottom, then use green ribbon three-fourths of an inch wide for the lower part of the bud.

The full blown roses are made by having the outer row of petals made like loops, with the upper corners slightly folded in.

The tiny buds, which are used in clusters for dress trimming and other purposes, are made just as a single petal of the larger buds; but, of course, smaller squares are used. Morning glories are made by using for each flower a piece of ribbon four inches long and two and a half inches wide.

First neatly join the ends, then double the ribbon so as to make both edges meet. Gather along the joined edges which form the cup, and the centers can be made with several strands of yellow silk thread. No. 2 ribbon is used for the daisies. A loose knot is tied at the top of each loop which forms the petals, and a small round button-like puff of yellow silk forms the centers.

Passing of the Orchard Windbreak.

The attitude of the fruit growers in America has changed on the subject of the windbreak. A few years ago volumes were written and talked on the value of windbreaks for orchards. They were generally considered indispensable. Today, however, one rarely hears the word at a fruit growers' meeting, and the modern fruit book omits that chapter altogether. There appear to be two reasons for this change. First, orchards are being planted in much larger blocks than formerly. In these large blocks the trees shield one another, and if windbreaks were used they would have to be placed every thirty or forty rods, thus cutting the big orchards into inconvenient small units. The second explanation is that orchardists have discovered that windbreaks are expensive and usually unnecessary.—Country Gentleman.

Pasturing Alfalfa.

Alfalfa should never be pastured the first season, and in most cases it will be best to use it for haymaking during the second season also in order that it may become thoroughly established before animals are allowed to trample over it. It should never be pastured closely, as this injures the crowns of the plants.

 Council met pursuant to adjournment. Members all present.
 Minutes of previous meeting read, and on motion of Mr. Sutton, seconded by Mr. Annett, were approved.
 Notice received and read from County Clerk, that the sum of $5068.26 was the amount required from the Township, for the present year, for county purposes.
 Mr. Joseph McClure asked that the Parker-Lucas Drain culvert, on G-7 side-road be closed, as it was permitting water to flow southward that should be carried to the west in the 13th concession drain.

 Mr. Wesley Temple complained that the townline drain, Brooke and Enniskillen, was out of repair, and urged that action be taken at once.

Annett—Sutton, that Engineer Code be instructed to get Mr. Jones to assist him in this locality, and if he can not or will not come, to get Mr. McCubben or some other engineer.—Carried.

Clerk Willoughby reported that the two money by-laws, submitted to voters for approval on the 29th June last, were both badly beaten.

Letter received from W. E. Fitzgerald, Esq., barrister, Watford, on behalf of W. J. Lucas and F. Parker, complaining that the work on the Sisson-Parker Drain was too slow, and notifying the corporation that they will be held responsible for the delay.

Alex. McLachlan applied for remuneration for three sheep and two lambs killed, and four sheep injured, valued at $55.00.

Fisher—Monro, that Mr. McLachlan be paid the sum of $36.66, being two-thirds of the Inspector's value of loss.—Carried.

Darvill—Sutton, that Alex. McLachlan be given a reward of $5.00 for following home one of the dogs found at his sheep, and seeing that he was killed.—Carried.

By-law submitted and read to borrow the sum of $2880.00, being Brooke Township's share of the cost of repairing the north part of the Weidman Drain.

Sutton—Fisher, that by-law be provisionally adopted, printed in pamphlet form, and copies served on each party assessed, with notice that a Court of Revision on same would be held in Code's Hall, in the Village of Alvington, on Saturday, the 3rd day of August, 1912.

Mr. Monro to be Commissioner and to serve by-laws.—Carried.

Sutton—Annett, that Council open as a Court of Revision on the assessment in the 15-16 Sideroad Drain By-law, Deputy Reeve Monro in the chair.—Carried.

Declarations taken. Five appeals. Wm. E. Werten said, Assessment too high. Drain only about 3 acres that way.

Dougald Reader saw no reason why assessment should be increased on him.

Clinton Armstrong said their assessment was too high and very unequal spread over lots. Do not need the repairs as drain is deep enough.

William Acton said his assessment was too high in comparison with some others, and thought the railways were not assessed high enough.

The following reductions were made, viz:—$6.00 off Spt whf 15, con. 5; $25.00 off Sw 1 Shf 16, con. 5; and $20.00 off Ehf 16, con. 6, a total reduction of $51.00.

Annett—Monro, that these reductions be made in the assessments on lots mentioned, and the sum of same, $51.00, added to the amount payable by Township, the assessment with these changes made therein confirmed and Court closed.—Carried.

Eighteen members and nine visitors present, the President presiding. The meeting commenced by singing the "Maple Leaf Forever," and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

After the usual business the program was as follows:—Two duets were given by Misses Jean and Margaret Cameron; a paper was given by Mrs. D. G. Parker on "Autumn, its beauty," comparing it with the autumn of our lives. It was an excellent paper. A duet was given by Misses Mary and Lottie Kadey. Mrs. P. Dodds gave a reading on "Summer Drinks and the canning of Raspberries"; Mrs. J. Miller gave a reading on "Old Age," also recitations were given by Misses Myrtle Williamson, Alice Miller, Mary Kadey, Mrs. Millar, Miss Nina Eccles and Master Russell Miller.

A vote of thanks was given to those who so ably assisted with the program and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, after which all were invited out on the beautiful lawn where a dainty lunch was served by the hostess and another social hour was spent. Three cheers were given for the host and hostess when the bus arrived and all departed for their homes.

The 12th at Forest.

The biggest Orange celebration ever held in the history of the town was held at Forest Friday, when over 5000 orangemen and their friends from all parts of the district were there. Early in the day special trains arrived, bearing the lodges from Strathroy, Mount Brydges, Wyoming, Petrolia and Sarnia and another brought a big crowd from Granton, Ailsa Craig, Lucan, Parkhill and Thedford.

Orangemen and their friends drove in from Watford, Brooke and Warwick and for miles around Forest. In addition to the regular bands from Sarnia, Petrolia, Arkona and Forest, there were a dozen fife and drum bands, and the town presented a gay appearance with so much music and countless decorations. Speeches were made by J. E. Armstrong and R. J. McCormick, and a big program of sports was run off and greatly enjoyed. Other speakers were Rev. D. J. Cornish, of the Anglican church, and Rev. J. E. Thomas, of the Methodist church.

The Regina Calamity.

The editor wishes to thank those subscribers in the West who have kept him supplied with newspapers giving descriptions of the disastrous cyclone at Regina, also all those who have sent written reports of the calamity. In a small paper like the Guide-Advocate it would be impossible to publish these lengthy letters, notwithstanding their interest to many, and also because the reports sent us are in many respects similar to those already published in the Ontario city papers, and have been read by nearly everyone.

Probably one of the most interesting of these letters was from Mr. J. A. Fowler, of Watford. He had just returned from Sunday School when the storm struck. The window in his room was open and before he could get it closed the room was filled with dust and the clothing flying in all directions. No one was hurt in his boarding house. He helped to take eight persons out of a nearby building. A little boy and his mother were saved, the rest killed. Mr. James Hindson's beautiful house was in the storm centre and was completely wiped out. The family were all in the house at the time except Harry. Mr. Hindson and Fred started for the cellar but before they got there the house was a wreck. Fred being killed and Mr. Hindson caught in the ruins. The rest of the family got severely bruised. Mr. Wm. Hindson got off with about $800.00 damage. Hastings & Willoughby lost their shop, but their other property was but slightly damaged. Mr. Fowler closes his letter in these words—"It might not be a bad idea for the Guide-Advocate to open up a subscription list of small amounts to aid the sufferers here. I know it would be subscribed to liberally."

Any of our readers wishing to act on Mr. Fowler's suggestion can leave their donations at this office and they will be duly forwarded.

TO STRENGTHEN WEAK NERVES

The Blood Supply Must be Made Rich, Red and Pure.

When you build up the blood you strengthen the nerves, because the nerves get their food through the blood. You cannot reach the nerves with medicine except through the blood—this is a great medical truth few people realize. Nervous people are pale people. They are nervous because they are pale. The blood is so thin and watery that it cannot nourish the nerves. Starved nerves mean sciatica, neuralgia, nervous prostration, paralysis.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a real nerve tonic. They supply plenty of nourishing red blood to the exhausted nerves, thus enabling them to do the work Nature intended they should do. This is the simple secret of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing nerve troubles. As to their value in cases of sciatica, Mrs. Job Palmer, Fenelon Falls, Ont., says: "For seven weeks I suffered untold agony from sciatica. I tried everything to ease the pain, but it steadily grew worse. Liniments had no more effect upon the trouble than water. Then the doctor told me to apply a hot iron to the afflicted part and I did so morning after morning, but my leg had become so numb with the pain that I could hardly feel the heat of the iron. I never expected to be able to walk again my leg was so drawn up. I had tried so many things that I had given up hope. Yet at the urging of my brother I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To my surprise in two weeks I was able to stand on my feet with but little pain, and after I was able to walk about again. I continued taking the pills for about two months, but some time before I discontinued their use my leg had become normal again, and the agony of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not since had a twinge of it. Words fail to express my gratitude for what the Pills did for me and I must strongly recommend them to all sufferers from sciatica."

The every day mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to cure cases like the above, and they will not disappoint if given a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

Westgate—Kilty.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized in St. Paul's Church, Clifton, on Wednesday of last week, when Rev. H. Palmer Westgate, assistant rector of Trinity Church, St. Thomas, formerly of Huron College, London, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Westgate, 4th line, Warwick, was married to Miss Minnie Ethel Kilty, daughter of the late Rev. G. M. Kilty. The ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon Hill, rector of Trinity Church, St. Thomas. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. H. B. McVittie, of North Bay, and was supported by her sister, Miss Ruby I. Kilty. Rev. Arthur Carlisle, of Windsor, was groomsmen. The wedding march was played by Miss Cleta Ford, of Clinton, and the ushers were Clarence G. Kilty and Caryl Draper. Among the guests present were Rev. D. J. Cornish, Forest; Mr. and Mrs. William Westgate, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Westgate, of Warwick, and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McVittie, North Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Westgate left on the evening train for Muskoka, and on their return will reside in St. Thomas.

Thomas—Toohill.

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Mary's church, Napier, at high noon on Wednesday, July 10th, when Miss Mary E. Toohill was united in marriage to James Henry Thomas, of Delhi. The bride was given away by her brother, W. L. Toohill. The couple were unattended. Rev. Mr. McLeod performed the ceremony. Rev. Louis Thomas, of Aberarder and C. L., of Leamington, are brothers of the groom. After a dainty wedding breakfast at "Avondale," the home of the bride, the happy couple left for points west, going by boat from Sarnia. The bride was made recipient of many beautiful presents.

Carroll—Ryan.

A wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ryan, lot 32, con. 3, Biddulph, on Wednesday, June 26th, when their daughter, Ida, was married to Mr. Wm. A. Carroll, of Watford, by Rev. Wm. Lowe, of Trinity Church, Lucan. Promptly at twelve o'clock the bridal party took their places on the lawn beneath an arch of orange blossoms. Miss Ethel Hodgins, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of cream fancy cologne and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie Ryan, who wore a dress of cream voile and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Albert Carroll, of Newbury. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and jewel case, to bridesmaid a gold necklace, to the organist, a gold brooch and to the groomsmen a cameo stick pin. After the ceremony and congratulations the guests, numbering about eighty, repaired to the dining-room where luncheon was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Carroll motored to Lucan station and left on their wedding trip to Detroit and western points. They will reside on the groom's farm near Watford.

Acute Dyspepsia

Restoration of Stomach Power Comes Quickly With the Right Medicine.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge, P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvelous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep, and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Carborozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

The Aeronaut

His Triumphs and His Failures

By F. A. MITCHELL

Impracticable people are often lovely and always very trying. Horace Hibbs was one of this kind. The butcher, the baker and how they were to be paid were absolutely without interest to him. When Mrs. Hibbs tried to pin her husband down to such considerations he would say, "My dear, just stave those things off for another month till I get my water clock patented and there'll be plenty."

"Horace, do you remember your last patent and what it resulted in?"

Mr. Hibbs looked troubled.

"Your folding bed resulted in shutting up and smothering a man and his wife, and the suit for damages is not yet settled."

"That was owing to an error in manufacture. The principle was all right." The above is a sample of the periodical dialogues which occurred between the couple and which always ended by

CAME IN WITH A TERRIBLE CUT ON HIS FOREARM.

Mrs. Hibbs lamenting her husband's impracticability and Mr. Hibbs regretting that his wife had been born with such a narrow intellect as not to be able to appreciate his efforts to lift the family into prosperity by a brilliant stroke of genius. The want of unanimity between them came from the fact that Mrs. Hibbs' mind was always on the providing and her husband's was always on his inventions.

Mrs. Hibbs considered there was trouble on hand before the advent of the aeroplane, but after that she realized that her previous tribulations had been a bagatelle in comparison. "What's the use," said Hibbs, "of these fellows using all these boxlike affairs? What we want to do is to imitate the bird. Creatures navigating the air have two wings for propulsion and a tail for steering. Man has an advantage over the bird in this. Besides the wings and the rudder, he may have a separate propelling force in an engine and fans." And it must be admitted, though it has never been brought out publicly, that Hibbs was the first man to construct a biplane. He was very proud of this fact, not stopping to consider that any man may build a big bird, but not every man can make it fly.

After Hibbs got the aeroplane fever he rented a house in the country, with a big barn attached and a ten acre lot, for the purpose of manufacture and experiment. He kept his aeroplanes in the barn and had a shop there. The ground of the premises was level and enabled him to make starts. His wife was compelled to view her husband in one of these positions, either lying on his back watching the birds he was trying to imitate, or at work in his shop, or circling around the chimney top in his machine. Of the three she preferred his lying on his back studying the natural inhabitants of the air, for while working in his shop he was continually cutting himself with his tools and while circling in the air he was constantly in danger of coming down, to be dashed to pieces on the earth.

Taking it altogether, the wife of an aeronaut does not lie on a bed of roses.

On the other hand, it is very trying for a genius while struggling with a mighty problem to be obliged to listen to his wife's continued talk as to how she is going to keep the family's head above water or constant reminder that her husband's life is in danger. When Hibbs came in from his shop with a terrible gash in his forearm made with some sharp instrument she had the satisfaction of knowing that he lived and would likely recover from the wound. But when she knew that he was circling about the chimney top she was never sure but that he would not only come crashing down, but bring the chimney with him upon her devoted head. The consequence was that when Hibbs went up in the air his wife hid her face in a pillow.

One day Hibbs went to the city and remained away for a week. When he returned he told his wife that a friend—a promoter—had organized a company to take over his patents when they were perfected and would supply him with money to pursue his investigations. There were to be 3,000,000 shares and Hibbs was to have 1,500,000 of them. If, as it was expected, the United States government gave an order for machines to equip an army corps of aerial mounted men—birdery was the name used—the shares would be worth par. "Then, sweetheart," said Hibbs, throwing his arms around her neck, "we'll be able to fly to the moon if we like."

Mrs. Hibbs usually received such information merely with a sigh, but this time she happened to have a headache—or a bilache, possibly—and repulsed her husband. He drew away from her with an expression of infinite pain. He was a sensitive man, as such aerial persons usually are, and, withdrawing into his own room, he bolted the door, and Mrs. Hibbs saw him no more that night.

She had no sooner given the rebuff than she regretted having done so. The next morning she would ask his forgiveness. But the next morning his door was still locked. She knocked and received no reply. Becoming frightened, she got a chair and looked over the transom, expecting to see his dead body. But Mr. Hibbs' body was not there. He had gone! Where? He had left no information. His wife looked for his return all that day and the next and the next. He had flown away on his machine; that she knew, for the aeroplane was not in the barn. But she heard nothing from him either directly or from the newspapers.

Three months later the poor woman received a letter from a farmer living in a lonely spot in the Rocky mountains stating that a man attempting to cross the range in an aeroplane had dropped on his place and been killed. Before dying he had asked the farmer to bury him and write his wife that he did not wish his resting place to be disturbed.

Mrs. Hibbs lamented, reproaching herself for having driven her husband away. She could not spare the money to take a trip to the place where he had died and, since he didn't wish his remains removed, there was no use in going there. Being a practical and energetic woman, she concluded to turn the place where she lived into a dairy. Her first thought was to raise chickens, but she had such a horror of anything with wings that even a rooster who couldn't fly over a high fence distressed her. Finding persons in the neighborhood who would buy milk from her direct, she was not forced to sell it at ruinous prices to a creamery, and consequently she did very well. She regretted that she had not supplied what was lacking in her husband while she had him with her and permitted him to sail about up in the air without troubling him. As she accumulated means she bought more cows and added to her pasturage.

It is said that one loves persons for their faults rather than their virtues. Perhaps this is the reason why the widow couldn't forget her husband, for he certainly had faults enough to make any one love him. At any rate, after her day's work was over she would gather her children around her and tell them about their father and what lofty views he had, but her eldest boy noticed that she didn't encourage his following in the footsteps of his father in his winged career.

One spring evening when the wind of the south was coming up and the days were getting long Mrs. Hibbs was sitting on the porch telling her chicks what a wonderful man their father had been when one of them called her attention to a speck far up in the air. It grew larger and larger as it advanced till it was seen to be an aeroplane.

"Oh, mamma," said one of the girls, "it's an airship! Don't you see the sail it carries?"

"It's an aeroplane with a single wing standing straight up on its back," said another of the children.

"Some one has beaten the bird by inventing an aeroplane with one wing," exclaimed the oldest boy.

"I wish your papa had lived to do that," said the widow lugubriously.

"It would have made him so happy!" The coming single winged bird by this time was hovering above them, and a voice cried:

"My dears, it is I, your papa. I have beaten the birds. See how beautifully my machine moves with its single plane." With that he plunged and rose and circled and caroled like a spirited aerial horse.

"Come down!" cried the widow in a fright.

"Come down!" echoed the children.

But he was so proud of his monoplane that he must needs continue his caroling. Then suddenly he came down sure enough, but altogether too suddenly. There was a crash, and from the fragments of the monoplane they pulled out the inventor. Strange to say, he was not much hurt. Standing on his feet, supported by his wife, he looked at his machine, and his pent-up feelings exploded.

"Confound you!" he exclaimed, kicking the fragments. "That's the last of you for me! I've got two legs to walk on, and, by jings, hereafter I'll walk on them."

Then, embracing his wife and children, he explained, that realizing he must be untrammelled in his experiments, he had flown far away and paid a man to write the notice of his death.

While Mr. Hibbs was experimenting increasing age was taking the surplus pluck out of him. He took hold of the dairy farm with his wife and now is as well pleased with riding in a milk wagon as he formerly was in an aeroplane.

THE WESTERN FAIR

September 6th to 14th.

The management of this popular exhibition will spare neither trouble or expense this year to make it the best that has ever been held. A new fire-proof Art Building is being erected near the entrance to the grounds which will be in readiness for the Exhibition, and will be filled with beautiful and expensive paintings for which very liberal prizes are being offered. This will help very materially the congestion of exhibits of other years in the Main Building. If space is wanted it should be applied for at once. The butter and cheese exhibit promises to be extra large this year. In addition to the prizes offered by the association there are good specials in cash and silverware. Many new and special exhibits will be made in the Machinery Department. The Live Stock department is one of the strong features of the Exhibition, as the very best always come to London. The Agricultural and Horticultural exhibits will no doubt fill the building to overflowing, of the very best, while the Poultry Building will probably have to be enlarged to hold the birds on Exhibition. Prize lists, entry forms and all information sent upon application to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering, obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Farm Dairying

Jacobs Irene, Great Butter Cow

VI.—The Heifer and the Udder.

By LAURA ROSE,

Demonstrator and Lecturer in Dairying at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Canada.

[Copyright, 1911, by A. C. McClurg & Co.]

It pays in more ways than one to be on friendly terms with our animals. You must pet and talk to the young heifer so as to gain her confidence and affection.

Place her early with the herd of milk cows and watch that no harm befalls her. A sudden fright from a dog or an unusual sight may cause her to lose her calf.

Go through the process of milking her to accustom her to being handled. See that her calf is removed unknown to her twenty-four hours after birth. Go into the stall soon after the calf is taken away, groom and caress the young mother, and if she gets the idea that you are the baby so much the better for the milk pail.

The heifer's udder for a few days after calving is swollen and inflamed and often painful. She is nervous and excited. If you have been in the habit of handling her, she will allow you to gently rub her udder and draw a little milk. The relief thus given will further instil you in her affections and her last thought would be to lift a foot to kick you. The kicking cow is not born; she is made that way by the milker. It is a good plan to clip the long hair from the udder ground, the teats. When milking this hair is often caught with the teats and pulled, causing pain which makes the heifer kick.

To get gentle cows there is nothing like raising them yourself. The cow seems to partake of the disposition of her keeper. No dairymen can afford to have a man in his stable who is rough and quick tempered.

The First Calf.

If the heifer is thrifty and strong she may have her first calf from two to two and a half years old. If delayed, longer she is apt to acquire the habit of putting her food into flesh. It is well to delay the coming of the second calf for a few months longer than is usual in the mature cow. This gives the young heifer a better chance to develop, as there is not the extra tax on her during the heaviest flow of milk. It ought not to be necessary to dwell upon the point of feeding a heifer generously. She is as yet immature and must have plenty of good food to build up her own body as well as nourish the unborn calf.

Many farmers as soon as a cow becomes dry let her hunt her own living or half starve her, excusing their neglect by saying she is doing nothing for her board. Is she not preparing herself to work again every day for ten or eleven months, besides presenting her owner with a calf?

If you wish to establish a long milking propensity you must be persistent in milking the heifer after her first calf. It is then that the habit of a long or short milking period is formed. Dry her up at seven or eight months and it is difficult ever after to get her to milk for ten months. For this reason keep on milking her for ten or eleven months, no matter how little milk you may get.

It is better to have the heavy flow of milk in the winter, when prices are higher and help more plentiful. Cows coming in in November and December go on the grass just when there is a tendency to a falling off in the milk flow. The change to fresh pasture stimulates the secretion of milk, and it is like a second freshening.

Fall calving is better both for the cow and the calf. They receive better care and are not so exposed to extremes of weather. It must be remembered that a cow must not be neglected when dry. This is her building up period, and she should get plenty of good food and be in vigorous condition at freshening time.

The udder, the glandular organ in which the cow secretes her milk, is made up of arteries, veins, nerves, tissue and fat. When cut, it has a soft, spongy, pale grayish pink appearance. There is a partition running lengthwise through the udder, dividing it into two distinct and unconnected parts. If a cow lose the use of one of her teats, the milk may be largely drawn from that quarter through the other teat on the same side, but if an accident happen to both teats on the same side, half of her usefulness as a milker is gone.

The birth of the young is the primary incentive to the secretion of milk by all animals which suckle their young. In the wild animals and in the scrub cow the udder is small and imperfectly developed, and secretes only for a few months. Intelligent feeding, selection and breeding have resulted in an enormous development of udder and an almost continuous milking period in the best cows.

The Secretion of Milk.

There are two general theories advanced in regard to the secretion of milk. The metamorphic (meaning change of form) claims that the milk is due to a breaking down of the cell structure of the udder. We can hardly accept this, for it would be almost impossible for a cow to build up and break down the cells to the extent of as high as from 50 to 100 pounds of milk per day.

The transudation or filtering theory claims that the milk filters or oozes through the tissues from the blood as it courses through the udder. Neither can this explanation be wholly true, for constituents found in milk are almost lacking in blood-fat, for example.

A combination of these two theories appears reasonable. As the blood courses through the udder from it are taken substances to build up thousands and thousands of tiny cells stored with materials which afterward form the greater portion of the solid constituents of the milk. All day long these cells keep developing, and the udder grows larger and larger. The blood is charged with an extra supply of water.

The cow has now the materials in readiness to make the finished product, milk. We have provided her with food and water. With these she has carried on the manufacturing process to a certain point, but she needs some outward assistance to finish the work thoroughly. She gets this assistance from the calf when it presses the teat in its mouth or from us when we likewise squeeze it in our hands.

We place our hands on the teats thinking we do so in order merely to draw the milk, but we do much more than that. We are co-workers with the cow in helping her to make the milk, and the better we understand our part of the business the larger will be the returns.

Action of the Nerves.

The materials for the milk are stored in the cells of the udder and in the blood. Its final secretion is brought about by the action of the nerves; hence the great importance of the nervous constitution. If a cow were giving ten quarts of milk at a milking and she were killed just before being milked there would not be found in her udder or any other part of her body more than a quart of milk. Too much stress cannot be laid upon this fact that the making of the milk is largely completed just at the time of milking.

Intelligence and kindness on the part of the milker at this time determine to a great extent not only the quantity but also the quality of the milk. When we press the teats we excite the fine network nerves in the udder.

UDDER OF JACOBS IRENE—SHE PRODUCED MORE THAN HER OWN WEIGHT IN BUTTER IN A YEAR.

These nerves act on the cells, breaking them down. At the same time the water filters through the tissues, carrying with it the mineral matter from the blood. The materials from the broken down cells and the water unite to form milk, which finds its way through the minute channels to the milk cistern at the top of the teat, whence the milk is drawn by the downward pressure of the hand on the teat through the teat canal and escapes. It takes the fat globules longer to get to the outlet, hence the reason for the richness of the last milk drawn.

Milk is a product which is subject to remarkable changes while in the body of the animal secreting it. Intense pain, fright, anger, all leave their traces in the milk. In the human mother the first two of these have been to infuse the milk with poison and to cause convulsions, and sometimes the death of the nursing baby. It is reasonable to suppose that what is true of the human family applies more or less to such a highly developed, sensitive animal as the dairy cow.

Some cows lose their milk. This is due to the muscle at the teat opening being too lax. It may be remedied by a rather risky operation. Other cows are very hard to milk, the muscle being too tight. Remedies are given for this defect also. The flow of milk is usually greater in the morning and the percentage of fat slightly lower than at the evening milking.

A CLEAR HEALTHY SKIN.—Eruptions of the skin and the blotches which blench beauty are the result of impure blood caused by unhealthy action of the liver and kidneys. In correcting this unhealthy action and restoring the organs to their normal condition, Par-melee's Vegetable Pills will at the same time cleanse the blood, and the blotches and eruptions will disappear without leaving any trace.

ENTRANCE AND FIFTH CLASS EXAMINATIONS.

The following is the result for East Lambton Inspectorate. Sixty-two per cent. of the candidates were successful. $8 per cent. from urban schools and 52 per cent. from rural schools were successful.

Entrance.

While some of the Entrance papers were a little more difficult than usual, the examination as a whole was considered by the Board of Examiners to be a fair test of a candidate's fitness to take up High School work. The failures were chiefly in arithmetic, geography and the total. The total required to pass is 300 marks or sixty per cent. of the marks given. Those who obtained 75 per cent. have passed with honors. The names of successful candidates at each centre are given in order of merit.
