ROCHE HOUSE CONVICTION

QUASHED BY JUDGE

Beer Gained in Potency

After Seizure Made

Sarnia, April 2.—County Judge Albert E. Taylor today handed down a decision quashing the conviction of Thomas Roche, Watford, hotelkeeper convicted on Dec. 18 of having liquor for sale and fined $200 and costs. The decision affects a number of hotelkeepers and others in the county against whom charges of selling over-strength beer were pending. The fact that corks popped out of bottles while beer seized was on its way to Toronto for analysis was held to have affected testing results, the samples varying in strength from 3.52 to 4.36 per cent. The Judge could not conclude, he said, that beer was greater strength than 2 1/2 per cent. at time of seizure.

The community club were well satisfied with the success of their box social and entertainment, held in S. S. No. 11 on March 28th. Mr. J. W. Gault made an ideal chairman and presented a program of which each number was well received. The community feel that these gatherings have been a great benefit to rural life and look forward to renewal next winter.

The Women's Home and Foreign Mission Circle of Calvary Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. A. Alexander on Tuesday, April 1st. A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. J. Brereton on "The Servant Seven" from the Maritime provinces, describing the beginning of Baptist Mission work in India. A splendid paper was also given by Mrs. Hoskin on "The Lone Star Mission" at Vizagapatam, India, describing the hardships and discouragements of early missionary work. After a solo by Mrs. Stones, election of officers took place, this being the annual business meeting. Mrs. E. Morningstar, the treasurer, gave a very satisfactory financial report for the year. The meeting closed with a season of prayer.

The postponed debate between the Young People's Society of the Alvinston and South Plympton Presbyterian churches was held on Tuesday evening last in Knox church, Warwick. There was a very large attendance. Mr. Arthur Minieilly, president of Knox Y.P.S., who presided, introduced a short program, consisting of a pantomime by a number of girls of Knox, violin solos by Miss Dell, accompanied by Mrs. MacDougall, and a solo by Miss L. Ross. These numbers were followed by an interesting debate on the subject Resolved, "That the powers of music are greater than oratory." Messrs. G. Ferguson and Robt. Morrison of Alvinston, upheld the affirmative, while Miss Catharine MacDougall and Mr. Barrett Forbes, the negative side. The judges, Rev. W. A. Montiech of Alvinston, Mrs. McEwen of South Plympton, and Rev. H. V. Workman of Knox, Warwick, decided in favor of the negative. The Young People's Society of Knox served refreshments to all present. The final debate of the series will be carried on in group 2 of Sarnia Presbytery this winter, will be between South Plympton and Knox, Warwick, in the near future.

Last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hall, Birmam, entertained the Sr. Adult Bible Class, Young Womens Class and the Young Men's Class of Bethel Sunday school with their respective teachers. Mrs. W. H. Luckham, Mr. L. Kenzie and Robt. Hall, together with a few friends, making a company of over fifty, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. Evans and son Grant, who are soon to leave the neighborhood, as Mr. Evans has sold his farm but has not yet decided to locate. The fore part of the evening was spent in some interesting games and contests, after which the pastor, Rev. R. Johnston, was asked to act as chairman, when he called on several for short speeches. All expressed regret at the removal of Mr. Evans and family from this locality, and all testified in very eulogistic terms as to their worth in the church in the neighborhood and in the community. Mrs. Evans in a few well chosen words thanked the people for their many expressions of good will and many kindnesses. "For he's a jolly good fellow" followed in happy voices, after which the ladies served a tasty lunch. A hearty vote of appreciation was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Hall for their kind hospitality and the pleasant evening. All joined in singing "Bless be the tie that binds", as a closing number. Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Grant take with them the best wishes of a host of friends for their success and happiness in their future home.

The world would be better off when boys stop shining the casing of their heads and give more attention to the inner tubes.

Prominent oil men state that there will soon be a shortage of gasoline, in other words, the oil men are getting low on cash and gasoline is liable to shoot up another notch in price.

There's many a man who can't understand why he should buy a washing machine so long as his wife has her health. And the same man thinks he should have all the labor-saving machinery going where his work is concerned.

"Oh Tobe!" distressedly cried Mrs. Sagg. "The baby has swallowed a quarter!" "Aw, well," replied Tobe Sagg, of Sandy Mush, pacifyingly. "I don't reckon, all things considered, it will pay us to take him to the doctor in town to get it took out."

Slowly but surely the newspapers of the country are passing. Scarcely a week but sees one or two cease publication, especially in the smaller towns and villages. This is due largely to the very high cost of production both in the matter of wages and material, which are continually on the increase.—Ailsa Craig Banner.

George F. Lewis, Deputy Fire Marshall, states that since the passing of the Lightning Rods Act in 1922, 10,168 rod installations have been made with the excellent result that the number of fires on farms caused by lightning, formerly 51 per cent, of the total, dropped to 20 per cent.

They tell of a strange case in a small Missouri town. A man complained of pains in his heel. His physicians removed his teeth, but the pains continued. They removed his tonsils, and still the pains remained. As a final resort they removed his shoe and the X-ray revealed a long-embedded needle in his heel.—Kansas City Star.

Raised American bank notes, chiefly of the $2 denomination, which have been transformed into $20 bills, have been flooding Ontario during the past two weeks. Large amounts of the counterfeit money were accepted before the fraud was detected. Canadian $2 bank notes treated similarly are also included, but the number is not as large as those from across the border. The matter does not interest us practically, but we call attention to it, thinking one or two of our readers may have seen a "twenty" lately.

A man who has just recently been appointed constable of the village of Kempville has been handed a fair job by the village council. He has been instructed to stop snow-balling on the streets of the municipality and if the practice is persisted in after due warning has been given the culprits will be brought before a magistrate. The new constable better pad the back of his neck and tie his hat on with ribbons, says the Winchester Press.

Glencoe Transcript: Professor Robertson of the Western University gave an illustrated lecture on Evolution under the auspices of the young people's societies of the different churches of Glencoe in the Presbyterian school room Monday evening. Musical numbers were given by the Presbyterian orchestra and ladies' quartet. Some of the older people who heard the lecture are inclined to believe that this style of "kultur" is not a nourishing food for the young Christian.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey, provincial minister of health, is nothing if not inconsistent. In the house he is most outspoken for the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act and on the other hand he has ordered the Town of Forest to proceed with the building of a $65,000 waterworks system. Well, probably Forest needs it. The Petrolia Advertiser Topic.

"Why are so many Veterans out of work in Toronto?" asks the Parkhill Gazette. Because they went overseas before they learned a trade or finished school and now they find themselves in the rank of unskilled labor. When work gets slack, the unskilled labor is laid off first. That these young men did not learn a trade is a disgrace of the country.

The Ontario Retail Hardware Association has gone on record as being strongly opposed to the present methods of operating stores by the Ontario Hydro Commission, "in direct opposition to regular and legitimate merchants, by escaping the payment of taxes, and we recommend that legislation be sought from the provincial government which will require such stores to pay taxes on the same basis as other retail stores."

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Amherstburg Echo: Owing to the stringent regulations governing the grading of eggs before they can be offered for sale, dealers in Amherstburg, Malden, Harrow, and other places have stopped handling eggs entirely, and there is a large unsaleable surplus of this product in the farmers' hands. The legislation, while designed to raise the standard and protect the consumer, seems to have been either ill-considered or not properly administered by inspectors. We know of one local dealer having his eggs taken and regraded, with the result that they were all classed lower than first, even in the face of the fact that a lot of them were laid by his own hens the day before. This particular inspector was a farce.

Why Ford Predominates

Many Reasons From Many Users

If you were to ask the next fifty Ford owners you meet why they prefer Fords, you would get a wide variety of answers.

Some would say, "Because they seem never to wear out;" others would answer, "Because they cost so little." Many would reply "Because I can get service anywhere;" and just as many, "Because it is the only car I can afford to own."

All would tell you, "Because they master a bad road in any weather," a woman driver would respond, "Because I can drive it so easily." From the fleet-owners you would hear, "Because I can buy two or three or four Ford Trucks for the price of one big truck."

Wherever you might inquire you would hear expressed these basic reasons why Ford predominates—why, year after year, Ford sales equal the total sales of all other cars combined.

OBITUARY

CHARLES PHILLIPS

Another old resident of Petrolia passed away at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. A. H. Hyndman, in Chicago, with whom he had made his home since last November, in the person of Charles Phillips, in his 79th year. Mr. Phillips was born in Warwick township on April 17, 1844 and came to Petrolia in 1872 having been attracted here by the oil boom. He was a carpenter by trade at which calling he worked for the J. & J. Kerr Company from the time he came to Petrolia until about ten years ago, when he retired to devote his time to his bee colony. He lent a hand in building most of the houses in Petrolia as well as the Archer Block and the old Iroquois Hotel. Deceased was a quiet disposition and was highly respected by all who knew him. Mr. Phillips married Mary Jane Brush in 1872, who predeceased him seven years ago. The surviving members of the family are William; Mrs. A. H. Hyndman and Samuel W. Chicago, and Alfred E.; of Port Wilham. A brother, William, resides in Sarnia and a sister, Mrs. Emily Jones, on the old homestead in Warwick. The body was brought to Petrolia and the funeral service was conducted on Saturday by Rev. A. M. Stuart. Interment was made in Hillsdale cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. John McLeod, James Scott, E. Preston, Jas. Hamilton, Oliver Douglas and E. Maginn.—Petrolia Advertiser Topic.

Among those from this district who attended the funeral were—Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Barnes, Mr. Will Turner, Mrs. E. Jones, Mr. John Y. Williams, Mr. Eugene Williams, Mrs. George Lies, Mr. Joseph Williams, of Warwick twp. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shrapnell and James O. Brush, of Watford.

PETROLIA

Petrolia Council passed a by-law last week requiring all gasoline pump owners to deposit $1,000 Bond to protect the town from damages. Also prohibiting car owners from receiving gasoline unless their motors are shut off.

The pea seed which the Canadian Farmers have ordered for their acreage in this district has arrived.

Three farm laborers from Holland arrived in Petrolia to-day, making a total of 11 this year, all of whom have been placed by W. P. McDonald, agricultural representative for the County of Lambton, on farms in the vicinity. So far these men have been excellent type and have given good satisfaction.

P. & E. Agricultural Society directors met on Saturday to revise the fall fair prize list. The horse class was entirely revised, the 4th and 5th prizes are eliminated and the three-year-old class struck out. In cattle, the boy's class is cut off. It was left to the ladies to revise the fancy work and to W. P. MacDonald the boys' class.

A photo-gravure of Miss Kathleen Jenkins and a write-up of the ladies' floor of the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, over which Miss Jenkins presides as social hostess, appeared in the last issue of the Toronto Star Weekly.

The prompt methods adopted to stamp out smallpox in Petrolia have apparently been successful as no other case but that of Mr. Ed. Chambers' nephew has been reported. The patient, who is the innocent cause or several sore arms and legs in town from vaccination, is progressing favorably.

Mr. Thos. Johnston has made arrangements with a Chemical Company in Niagara Falls, N. Y. for the treatment of ten wells here at their own expense with the idea of clearing up paraffine and sediment from oil rock in an expectation of materially increasing the flow. The company have been operating in the Pennsylvania field for the past three years and claim to have increased production from 50 to 100 per cent. The material which will be used has been forwarded to Petrolia and Dr. Gilbert, the Company's chief chemist will arrive about the first of April.

MRS. BUDGE SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

River Desert, Que.—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing, but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it, too, as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby, and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. BUDGE, River Desert, Quebec.

If you are suffering from the tortures of a displacement, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or a pain in the side, you should lose no time in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write for it to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario. This book contains valuable information that every woman should know.

A Good Medicine For Springtime

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need.

Not sick but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood, which cleans the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mr. Henry R. Robinson, Cruickshank, Sask., says:—"My blood was out of order and I was nervous and run down. I got a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking them for a while they fully restored my health. I am now feeling fine and have no hesitation in recommending these pills to all who are feeling unwell."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The steel work on the new bridge which will span the Aux Sable on the provincial highway east of Thedford has been completed.

Thamesville Oddfellows made a start last Thursday on the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the institution of the local lodge by having the degree team on the Western City Lodge No. 93 of Chatham present and exemplify the third degree.

The Bothwell Council has been notified that if they do not pay Mr. Murray, architect, of London, balance due for the plans and specifications, contracted for when the town hall was built eight years ago, that legal proceedings will be instituted forthwith. The council claims through the non-fulfilment of said contract extra expense was incurred and are therefore deducting said amount from the aggregate.

Falling between the motor-car and trailer of a Hydro Electric double train near the Detroit street curve, Sandwich, early Tuesday morning, Conductor Francis Charles Logan, 359 Pelissier street, Windsor, was fatally injured and died in the Hotel Dieu slightly more than an hour later. Both legs were severed, his skull badly crushed and his body mangled almost beyond recognition.

The death occurred in Victoria Hospital, London on Tuesday, March 18th, of William Shaw, eldest son of Mrs. Mary Shaw of Forest, in his 20th year. Deceased went to London and underwent an operation which resulted in death. The remains were brought to Forest on Tuesday evening, and the funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at Beechwood cemetery.

The Dundas local Board of Health are taking a very serious view of the danger to the health of the community because of the contaminated well water. At a special meeting of the local Board held last week Dr. Berttram, M. O. H., reported that since the meeting of the Board held on February 8th, he had samples of water from a number of different wells analysed the result showing that 80% of the wells were contaminated and the water unfit for domestic use.

Forty-nine head of cattle were disposed of at the Huron County Breeders' sale in Wingham Thursday at an average of $81.25. Perth, Wellington and Bruce breeders consigned a few of the cattle, and the sale was handled by Auctioneers Amos of Guelph and Klopp of Zurich. The highest priced female, Miss Ramsden of Springbank, consigned by Albert Etherington of Usborne, brought $165. The highest price bull, Scarlet Velvet, consigned by Harry Smith of Hay, sold for $132.50.

What the surgical staff describe as one of the most remarkable operations ever performed was successfully carried out at Nottingham General Hospital. A Mechanic was holding a pair of red hot tongs over two feet long when a huge hammer, driven by motor and weighing a couple on tons, struck the tongs and drove them right through his body. He was immediately taken to the hospital, where an operation was performed. The tongs which had remained in his body, were extracted without injury to any vital organ. The man is expected to recover.

Mr. Ninion Houston, well known horse breeder, is in a critical condition at his home on the fourth concession of Camden township, near Dresden, as a result of a kick in the head by a horse, Saturday afternoon. The accident occurred when Houston was watering horses in his stable. It is thought that one of the animals became restive, and that he was kicked when attempting to pacify it. The man was found unconscious, and remained in that condition until Sunday morning. Mr. Houston who is seventy years old, is well known in the show rings of the province.

Mrs. Mary Mann, wife of the late Charles Mann and daughter of the late Bary and Isaac Thrower, one of the pioneer families of Adelaide, passed away at her home, 119 Huron Street, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on Sunday morning, March 9, in her 76th year. She had been in failing health for the past year, but confined to her bed for only a few days before her death which was due to heart trouble. She leaves behind to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. Chas. Tancock, of the Soo, and two sons, Victor of the Soo, and Ira, of Lansing, Mich; and three sisters, Mrs. Chas. Tancock, of the Soo, and Mrs. J. W. Downer, of Petrolia; David Thrower, of Watford; Albert, of Adelaide, and Jacob, of Strathroy.

This charm you can keep

Youthful radiance of complexion! Millions of women have learned this simple way

The fresh softness, the radiance of youthful skin need not be lost as the years accumulate. Clever women guard this charm—keep it!—today.

This simple method does that for millions of women. Now you may use it—and keep that school-girl complexion.

You need only do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful.

But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Be sure you get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. For just one week try this simple method and watch results. You will be astonished, delighted!

Use Palmolive for the bath, too. Thousands do—it is so economical.

Volume and efficiency produce 25¢ quality for 10¢

BOTTLE ON LONG CRUISE

Liverpool, March 18.—When the liner Regina was four days out from Montreal a woman passenger from Minneapolis threw overboard a message in a bottle giving her address and requesting the finder to communicate with her. Two months later the note was picked up in Strull Bay, Wigtownshire coast, by Miss Agnes Rennie, High Aucheneil, who wrote to the address. The bottle had drifted 1,200 miles in 28 days.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and white expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

BRIGHTEN UP NOW FOR "OLD HOME WEEK." SEE US NOW.

"On Parliament Hill"

(By a Member of The Parliamentary Press Gallery)

Ottawa, April 1.—By approving with the record majority of 121, the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, the parliament of Canada terminated a debate entering upon its third week, passed the first milestone of the present sessional marathon, and cleared the way to real work—presentation of Estimates and the tabling of the budget.

Though much has been said and written regarding the futility and time wasting of the long debate upon the address, parliamentarians are unanimous in the opinion that not in many years has the speech from the throne evoked such spirited discussion. The listlessness that, in most former years, had characterized this parliamentary free-for-all has been lacking. "Hammer and tongs" has been the rule from opening day and no fewer than fifty-seven members have stowed their sentiments over the field opened up by this first formal debate of the session.

This fortnight-long confession of faith by all groups has crystallized in several interesting and, in a sense, unexpected eventualities. Outstanding among these is the emergence of the tariff as a clean-cut divide of chamber. One small, and admittedly vague paragraph in the speech—relative to lower duties in "implements of production"—has been a torch to oratorical powder. It has claimed the attention of speaker after speaker, overshadowed in interest all its fellow clauses, and what is most important, has served as a link to connect the Progressive group with the great preponderating body of low-tariff Liberals, placing in solitary isolation, as unrepentant protectionists the entire following of Mr. Meighen.

In doing this, he has brought into the limelight three Liberals who cannot conscientiously support a policy of tariff-reduction, Messrs H. M. Marler (St. Lawrence), W. D. Euler, (Waterloo South) and W. G. Raymond, (Brantford).

The second important feature of the debate has been the united and insistent demand of parliament for a decrease in still greater economy in public expenditures. "Tariff, Taxation, Thrift,"—these three, then might be termed the catch-words of the session.

Right Honourable Arthur Meighen opening the front-benches' battle, was in his wonted role of brilliant parliamentarian, without the acerbity and bitterness that marked so many of his utterances in past sessions. Indeed, the opposition leader was distinctly mild in tone as he deplored the growing export of products of forest and mine and the accompanying growth in importations by Canada of boots and shoes, woollens, binder-wine, bituminous coal, cottons and farm implements. Worse still he said, Canada's exports were dwindling in cheese, butter and eggs, beef and bacon. A huge wheat crop last year has brought to the producer 25% less cash return than in 1921, that year when honourable gentlemen went abroad through the land with flaming swords, telling the farmers how they were oppressed by an autocratic government. He poured scorn on the government's efforts at "touching the tariff" on a few necessities of life and defied to remove the duties on United States boots and shoes. "Tariff tinkering," he declared, was closing up woollen and textile factories, driving Canadians across the border at the rate of some 17,595 per month, in 1923, and leading generally to unrest and dismay in the world of business. The government, he believed had failed under its much-mooted combines act to find a single combine; had bowed the knee to Beal as represented by the shipping merger on the Great Lakes; had made a miserable fiasco of its wheat board legislation; had lost of late in popular esteem—as witness the bye-elections in Kent and Halifax and now, to save itself had offered to the progressives, as a bribe, this prospect of cheaper farm implements.

King," we were really, as far as a controllable expenditure was concerned, at a point considerably below even the last year of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration.

The Prime Minister quoted returns to show that these had been effected in two years, a decrease in Civil Service personnel of 4,000 and went on to show that much of the debt burdening this government today was due to the fact that the Meighen government, during the whole period of the war, had not raised "in a single cent from the taxpayers" to meet war obligations; these, he declared, had now to be met by the country. Finally, he saw in reviving trade, (export and import), in renewed mining activity, in extraordinary improvement in the earnings of the National Railways, in ever-growing bank deposits and in reduced public expenditures a certain harbinger of returning prosperity.

The Progressives' Attitude. The speech of the Progressive Leader, Robert Forke, was brief and business-like. It was re-affirmation of the serious condition of Western Agriculture; a re-statement of Progressive attitude in respect of tariffs and monopolies in trade; a refusal to be a preacher of "blue ruin" an appeal for fair-play for Canada's basic industry and an exhortation to all groups in parliament and all interests in the country to seek sectional differences and opinions in striving for the common good. High protection, persisted in, must spell ruin for Canada, he said, and his group welcomed the promise of tariff reduction. In the hope of seeing that promise implemented, the Progressives were prepared to support any "Progressive Measures" presented by the government.

The Protectionist Liberals. Honestly speaking, it must here be stated that more real interest centered around the speeches of several back-benchers than around those of the leaders. That of Mr. Marler was a masterpiece of diligent preparation moderate-wording and effective delivery. His confession that he could not welcome any tariff-alterations, however slight, was coupled with a constructive suggestion that a board of inquiry go into the whole matter of fiscal policy. His arrangement of the war-financing of the late government was scathing in the extreme and went to show that not only did it fail to pay "one single penny of war-capital" out of war taxes" but that it saddled Canada with a war-debt, at the end of 1921, of 128,000,000. Mr. Marler came out bluntly for return of the Canadian National Railways at the earliest opportunity moment to private ownership.

Messrs Euler, and Raymond represented the highly industrialized communities, North Waterloo and Brantford, respectively, and both pleaded the causes of their constituents. Each made it clear that, in protesting against his leader's policy, he was placing home-interests first. Their voice was the voice of Kitchener, Preston, Waterloo, Elmira and Brantford—as against the cry of the wheat-growing prairies and the purely rural parts of Eastern Canada—the burden of their protest was consideration and compromise; consideration before any action, and such compromise as might work least ill to their thriving factory towns.

But, to replace three Liberals who dissented, the government was preferred the services of sixty-odd Progressives and at least two sturdy Independents, Andrew McMaster of Bromo, and T. G. McBride, of Kamloops. From his place of isolation he has been sitting pretty much alone since crossing the floor, last Session Mr. McMaster called up the cohorts of his eloquence and proceeded to demolish, ad seriatim, every argument advanced by the thinned ranks of the Conservatives. He out-did most of the Ministers in his scolding of the principals of protection, tore to shreds the figures advanced by Mr. Meighen as evidence of a decline in the export of natural products and set down to a veritable ovation from the government and Progressive benches. More than one Liberal has been heard, since, to remark that "Andrew should be back in his old seat," and advanced tariff legislation might prove the means of drawing back the Calvinistic free-trader to his former place in the fold.

Some wise-acres profess to seal, also, in the speech of E. A. Hoey, the Progressives' Chief Lieutenant, a "bid" for preferment. Hoey, is probably, the ablest parliamentarian in the Forke phalanx. A pleasing speaker, with genuine native eloquence; a man of most likeable personality and a member with education and ability that is the envy of his fellows, the young Manitoban is very promising indeed, and may go far in parliament. His clarion-call this week for change of policy, not change of government, his assertion that Canada ought nothing better than real Liberal policies and real Liberal programs; his pledge of loyalty to the government should it legislate in Western interests—all these may mean more than shows on the surface.

Ottawa, April 3rd.—Exceeding in importance any of the more purely-political doings of parliament last week was the decision of the House to refer inquiry into the administration and failure of the Home Bank to the select standing committee on Banking and Commerce. It has been the intention of the government, as shown in its activities before the session opened, to proceed along the particular lines of policy, in respect to the Home Bank:

(1) to conduct an inquiry by means of a Royal Commissioner, and, (2) to confine that inquiry to the matters mentioned, and the period of time covered, in the memorial presented to it by the Depositors' Committee.

But, when the issue was raised in the House on Thursday, by means of a resolution by M. J. Irvine (Calgary) it soon became potent that the sense of the Commons was distinctly favorable to a parliamentary inquiry, regardless altogether of the Royal Commission and of the half-dozen other inquiries proceeding at Toronto and before the Privy Council.

This sentiment the government respected, and it at once accepted a resolution moved by one of its own supporters (Frank Cahill, Pontiac), calling for investigation by the standing committee on Banking. Indeed, it went further than the depositors' committee had asked—and decided to extend the scope of the probe to the steps by which the Home Bank was organized and by which its charter was obtained. In other words, parliament will investigate the Home Bank from a point of time ante-dating its birth to the moment of its disastrous dissolution.

The debate upon the resolution, which lasted all afternoon and evening and terminated with a division at one o'clock in the morning, became at times highly dramatic, as when the Prime Minister, expressly denied—on behalf of his sick Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding—that he Mr. Fielding, had ever seen or known of the existence of certain papers left with an employee of that department by a preceding Minister, Sir Thomas White. These mysterious documents, "privates" were left by Sir Thomas with his private secretary, to be handed to his successor, Sir Henry Drayton. Apparently, said the Prime Minister, Sir Henry never received them, nor did Mr. Fielding on attaining office. As soon as news came of the Bank's failure, the private secretary forwarded the papers direct to his former chief, Sir Thomas White, thus keeping from the knowledge of the Government documents now thought to have a very important bearing upon the war-time relations of the Home Bank with the then Minister of Finance.

Extremely dramatic, also, was the statement by the leader of the government that, at midnight on a certain date—"one or two days before the failure" of the Bank—certain very influential persons had called upon him, appealing for a large Federal deposit as a means of averting disaster. Needless to say, declared Mr. King, the request was refused.

The Soldier Land Settlers. The genuine sympathy with which Hon. Dr. Boland, Minister of Soldier's Re-Establishment, regards the returned men of Canada and the advanced views he brings to bear upon consideration of their problems were strikingly evidenced in Monday's brief debate upon the motion by J. J. Ward, providing for a general writing down of the capital indebtedness of soldier-settlers. Scarcely had Mr. Ward outlined his case—which he presented very ably—before Dr. Boland welcomed the idea of the resolution. Such very action, he said, had been in his own mind for some months; he felt that drastic deflation in the value of farm products had made success very difficult of attainment for thousands who had taken land under the auspices of the Soldiers' Settlement Act. Especially grievous was the lot of those men who had purchased land that had been at high rating. He asked however, Mr. Ward not press for investigation by a special parliamentary committee until the House was in possession of the report now being prepared by the Belton Royal Commission. That report Dr. Boland felt, might aid materially in directing the activities of any parliamentary body that might be appointed. This liberal attitude of the Minister will win warm approval of thousands of returned men who are finding it difficult to "make it go" on land too highly capitalized.

The St. Lawrence Waterway. Parliament lines were submerged when parliament spent an entire sitting in debating the St. Lawrence deep waterways project on a motion for production of papers in connection therewith. Geography showed up plainly as the factor of division. Quebec members, one and all, saw little of value to Canada in the project and were prone to favor the Georgian Bay Canal—that is, if any new canal is a necessity. Irrespective of party, Ontario members inclined to urge prosecution of the scheme while most westerners who raised their voices did so in the cause of cautious inquiry and careful action. One thing was made potent by the debate: If central and western Ontario, plus the more easterly portion of the West, wish to secure definite steps toward deepening of the St. Lawrence, the issue will be upon their representatives in parliament of presenting such a case as cannot be overlooked by their colleagues from other parts of the Dominion.

Just by the way, it was interesting to note this fact: while Montreal spoke thunderously against the St. Lawrence waterways that many things that might happen were water to be used for power-development, it had no word to say on the following day regarding Toronto's emphatic protest against diversion of water from Upper Lakes by Chicago and yet the latter practise already is showing a very serious result in lowering the level of Montreal harbor. Of course, in this instance, the matter of power did not intrude.

Labor, in Canada, will not be slow to appreciate the action of the Prime Minister in accepting Mr. Woodworth's suggestion of a special House Committee on Industrial Relations. Mr. King passed a keen observation upon the present trend of world-events when he opined that such a body might well be enlarged to take cognizance of the very designated the Committee on Industrial and International Problems.

Public Works Votes. Failure of the government to provide, early in the debate, full information regarding the negotiations over the purchase by Canada of new offices in London caused in the House an uneasy two hours last Tuesday night. Objection to the vote of $1,300,000 at first clustered around purely economic factors—such as the size of the building, amount of floor space, cost of repairs, rental, and the like—but a very different character when the Minister of Public Works appeared unwilling to produce desired information.

Honourable Mr. King, one of the most likeable men in the Cabinet and a good administrator, is distinctively deficient in putting through estimates; the more he is queried and heckled, the more helpless he becomes. On this occasion, he used, without full realization, perhaps, of its significance, the term "contract" regarding Canada's paper-debt with the trustees of the Union Club; later, he referred to an "agreement to purchase", again to "an option." The Minister's indefiniteness—indeed, his real embarrassment—was as the taste of blood to his inquisitors and it finally became necessary for the Prime Minister to take control of the item. He gave, long after it had first been asked, a lucid explanation of the whole negotiations, showing why some fairly-definite undertaking had to be given to the Union Club trustees before they would consent to an option on their property and why, nine months later, it was necessary to appeal to parliament for the funds to implement the promise implied, if not specified, in the agreement signed last June by Honourable P. C. Larkin, High Commissioner. Had the Prime Minister's full and final statement been made when the estimate was first considered, hours of debate would have been saved and rather sharp charges of usurpation of parliament's prerogatives would have been avoided.

Completing Parliament's Tower. Common-sense proposals finally availed respecting completion of the parliamentary tower and the coming summer should see the work well under way. Early opposition by the progressive group weakened as Dr. King explained the loss, financial and otherwise, that must follow further delay and the $600,000 necessary for the work, including unfinished details upon the parliament buildings was voted, despite determined fighting by the Conservatives.

In introducing the skeleton bill providing for Redistribution, the Prime Minister merely set forth, basic principles which, he hoped, the special committee concerned would follow. Observance of county lines and of the principle of equality of representation with a larger unit for urban than for several urban constituencies members of the latter stipulation and Harry Lender, Progressive, Portage La Prairie caused some amusement by suggesting that membership in the Senate and Commons be reduced by one-third in each case.

Watford High School Term Report

The following is the standing obtained by the pupils of the Watford High School at the recent examinations. The parents will receive this week end a fuller report indicating standing in the different subjects.

In the Middle and Upper School the recommendation marks for confidential report on pupils standing forwarded to the Deputy Minister of Education are based on the term marks and in all appeals these marks will be considered. There are no more supplemental examinations in September as in previous years.

In the Lower School pupils who have done good work throughout the year will receive their Lower School certificate without being required to write the Departmental examinations and will conclude their school year about the middle of June. The weaker pupils, if they think it advisable, will have an opportunity to try the Lower School examinations in July.

Promotions also are based on these marks and a pupil who cannot satisfactorily handle the work in his present form will be required to repeat his year in that form.

BABY'S HEALTH

IN THE SPRING

The Spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25cts a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HAROLD JARVIS IS DEAD AT DETROIT

Detroit, March 31.—Following an illness extending over several months, and which physicians diagnosed as dilation of the heart, Harold Jarvis, noted Canadian tenor, died at his residence here to-night. He was 59 years old and a native of Toronto. Mr. Jarvis was twice married and leaves a widow and two sons, Murray and Harold Jarvis, Jr. Although he frequently made concert tours through Canada, and particularly in Western Ontario, Mr. Jarvis had made his home in Detroit for more than 35 years. He was tenor soloist of the First Presbyterian Church for 34 years.

SCIENCE DEMANDS UNIFORMITY

Careful research made in recent years in the study of dietetics has shown the great importance to the human system of purity and uniformity in foods. It is a great blessing that today so many delicious foods as well as tea and coffee can be produced in tins and sealed metal packages. "SALADA TEA" was one of the first pure food products to become widely popular in Canada. The flavour preserving aluminum package keeps the tea fresh and delicious. Skillful blending maintains the quality absolutely uniform.

FOREST FINED $1,400 BY COURT

Magistrate Woodrow, of Sarnia, Gives Judgment in Case.
Finds Provincial Board of Health Within Rights.
Sarnia April 2.—In a lengthy judgment of eight typewritten pages Magistrate Woodrow to-day penalized the Town of Forest $1,400, being at the rate of $100 a day from March 5 to March 19, for having refused or neglected to carry out the provisions of a report of the provincial board of health regarding installation of a water works system in the town.

The magistrate reviews the case from the outset of proceedings, when the town's water supply was adjudged impure. This report is dated September 1, 1921, and orders the town to establish and carry out certain improvements and orders were served on George Beatty, the mayor, on September 9th, by the sheriff.

The magistrate finds that nothing has been done to conform with this order up to the present time, although a report of the Forest Council meeting showed that a resolution to conform with the health board was defeated by vote of 5 to 3. Later the Council decided to take no further action on account of the high price of materials, and later, on March 5, four councillors resigned, followed by an election by acclamation of four new councillors.

The magistrate reviews the evidence of the prosecution showing refusal of the Council to proceed and the evidence of the defense claiming that the board had no authority to issue the order and that no penalty could be imposed because no notice from the provincial board to the municipal corporation had been received and if so had not been proved.

The magistrate holds that there was necessity that something be done to improve the water supply as evidenced by the engineer's report of September 1, 1921, and that the provisions of section 96 were intended to provide a means to compel a municipality to carry out necessary work in cases where they were reluctant or disinclined to do so voluntarily. Summoning up Magistrate Woodrow finds the Board of Health within its rights and carrying out its duties when it issued the report of September 6, 1921.

It was so far advanced when discovered that only a small amount of furniture from the ground floor was saved.

COMMON SENSE

Perverved appetite creates
The fatal errors, grave mistakes
Give faculties almost divine
Like precious pearls to grovelling swine,

And pulls up manhood by the root
And sets that plant below the brute,
Yet seeming conscious all the while
That their Creator they revile
Oh mystery, depraved mankind
So silly senseless, poor and blind,
Could they but take the upward look
And grasp the promise in the Book,
The transformation would enrich
And lift each drunkard from the ditch.

Say! is it right, or it is wrong?
To drink that rubbish called strong
And as a partner pass along
The poisonous stuff.

There's very few that are immune
And play the independent tune
But follow fashion and consume
More than enough.

How much is that? We can't explain
How much a mortal can contain,
Without destroying brawn or brain,
Or power to think.
How very near? Oh none can tell
The tempter, and the tempted dwell
Within the confines of a hell
Composed of drink.

The best, and simplest, surest plan,
On things, that's doubtful place a ban
And things we know will smirch a man
Because there wrong.

There's those who for a dime or two
Exploit all sacred things and do
Devote themselves to things untrue
And go it strong.

They talk of liberty and right,
They're blind as bats to clear day-light
They're color blind to black and white

The dollar sum
Comes o'er their vision, makes them blind
To burdened ones are most unkind
The drunkard's wife they never mind
"Let's have free rum."

Oh for a mill stone 'round their neck
When rising youth they won't protect
And minor's in this age, neglect
The family rights.

And those, the careless, lazy folk
By their inaction give their vote
Unto this drinking, dirty lot
Just parasites.

To shun the bad is common sense
Why are our nobles dark and dense Afraid of giving grave offence
To moneyed stock,

Who have investments in those stills,
Care not a straw for public ills
But make the goods that wrecks and kills.

Now this must stop.
