First Boat Launched, With Sixty Women and Children, Was Capsized and All Drowned --- Boats on Port Side Useless---645 Survivors Are Now at Queenstown.

QUEENSTOWN, May 9.-Twentyee miles from this port, as the crow calm sea marks the grave of the Cunarder Lusitania, first transatlantic twelce hundred souls who perished old buildings bordering Queenstown harbor. They either were picked up dead or succumbed after landing.

The 645 survivors here are quartered in hotels, residences and hospitals some too badly hurt to be moved. The injuries of some are so serious that additional deaths are expected, and nearly all are too dazed to understand

The survivors do not agree as to the ther the submarine fired one or two terpedoes. A few say they saw the periscope, the many attest to tracing the wake of foam as a projectile came towards the vessel. The only point in which all concur is that most immediately to the starboard. In this careening fashion she plowed forward some distance, smashing the lifeboats' davits as she did so, and making the launching of boats well nigh impossible until headway had ceased.

First Boat Capsized. How far the Lusitania struggled forward after being struck and how long it was before she disappeared beneath the waves likewise are points upon which few passengers agree, estimates of the time she remained afloat ranging from 8 to 20 minutes. At any rate, the list to starboard so elevated the lifeboats on the port side as soon to render them useless, and it is said only two on that side were launched. The first of these, according to the custom of the sea, was filled with wonen and children. It struck the water evenly, capsizing and throwing its 60 occupants into the sea. The Lusi-tania even then was making considerable headway, and these women and little children were swept to death in spite of the attempts of two stokers to rescue them. These stokers, according to the passengers, were drowned.

Discipline Was Rigid.

After that several boats were launched successfully, but the steamperative for all to cling to the star-board rail. Many by this time had donned lifebelts and jumped for it. Several lifeboats broke adrift unoccupied, and the sea became a froth or lars, chairs, and humans a froth or lars, chairs, and humans a froth or lars. pars, chairs, and human debris. thered to the letter to the instructhe discipline was rigid, althou one or two subordinate officers are said to have told a group of pas-sengers who had climbed into the sengers who had climbed into the boat that there was no immediate danger, and advised them to remain on deck a while longer. Whether this was due to the fact that these nates lost their heads or to their conviction that the ship's bulkheads would save her never will be de-termined, but that such an incident occurred is attested by Ernest Town-ley, a resident of Surbiton, Eng., who was returning from a business trip in

All day yesterday in hotel corridors, halls and reception rooms survivors sat listlessly still, too dazed to discuss what had occurred. They were dressed in a variety of garments. The St. Andre Junc-tion is north of Lille and forms an important point in the German scheme of troop concentration, being a pivot whence reinforcements can be hurried in several directions where the German line is most in need of them. The aviators also bombarded with good effect Furnes, Herlies, Illies, Marquelles, and La Bassee, where considerable bodies of enemy troops have been stationed and so caused great consternation to the enemy.

French allies are making progress from the southeast, gaining an important visitory at Loos today, where they captured at some places two, and at other places, three lines of heavily fortified trenches, extending over a front of four and a third miles and making an advance at the thickest place of two and a half miles. The relatives of the late officer who attended the service were: Mr. and Mrs. Braithwaite, father and mother of Mrs. Trumbull Warren; Mrs. H. D. Warren and Harold and C. H. Band.

Prominent Citizens Present.

Among the prominent people present were: His Honor Lieut. Governor Hendrie and Mrs. Hendrie, Sir Edmund Osler, Sir Edmund Walker, Mayor Church, J. H. Moss, C. Blackley, Dr. Mabee, Maj. Caldwell, Col. D. Donald, Col. Michie, Col. Grasett, Col. Brock, Col. Stewart, Dr. Grasett, C. A. B. Brown, G. M. Adams, J. F. Smith and C. N. Davidson, C. N. Candee, general manager of the Gutta Percha Co., and R. H. Green of the same firm.

The service was most impressive, and the music solemnly appropriate. The playing of Chopin's Funeral March by the Highlanders' Band, under Lieut. Slatter, opened the service. This was followed by the processional hymn, "Fight the Good Fight With All Tny Might." Tennyas on's poem, "Crossing the Bar," was sung as an anthem by the choir, conducted by the organist, Dr. Albert Ham. The Dead March, from Saul, was rendered by the organist, Dr. Albert Ham. The Dead March, from Saul, was rendered by the organist, Dr. Albert Ham. The Dead March, from Saul, was rendered by the organist of "God Save the King."

After this came the recessional hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Preaching from the text, "He shall see of the travail of his soul and shall be satisfied," Rev. Dr. Cayley said that Capt. Trumbull Warren, who was killed in action on April 20, had proved himself in action on April 20, had proved himself in action on April 20, had proved himself

Canon Plumptre, rector of St. James, conducted the service and offered special prayers for the soldiers and their relatives at home.

At the close of the service a band of pipers played a dirge in the grounds of the cathedral, the company of the Highlanders standing at attention by the side of the church.

Await Tonight's Speech

The president plans to go to Philadelphia late tomorrow to deliver there in the evening a speech, which observers generally believe will give expression to his own feeling on the situation produced by the sinking of the Lusitania. He is to the sinking of the Lusitania. He is to address a meeting of 4000 naturalized Americans arranged for several weeks ago by the Bureau of Naturalization of the department of commerce, to launch a systematic campaign for education, new itizens to a right nuderstanding of the the duties.

On the question of law involved in the sinking of the Lusitania, the Washington Government long ago stated its positio to German. Law officers of the government were unanimous in their opinion, shared by the president, that there is no warrant under law, or reason for the destruction of an unarmed merchant ship, even of an enemy, without warning the passengers at the time the ship is encountered and transferring non-combatountered and transferring non-combat von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called attention to the arrival in American ports of British Ilners, among them the Adriatic, with guns aboard, the question was taken up by the state department. It was ruled by the department that a merchant vessel could not be classed as a warship if she carried guns not larger than six-inch calibre for defensive purposes, but nevertheless informal negotiations were begun immediately with Great Britain, and an understanding was reached whereby no British vessels clearing from American ports would be armed.

No Guns Aboard.

It is the duty of the port authorities in New York each time a ship asks for clearance to see that no guns are mounted, or unmounted, are carried on belligerent vessels. Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, however, has been asked by the Washington Government as to whether the Lusitania carried any armament, and has reported that she carried out the terms of the understanding as originally entered into with the British Government and had no guns aboard.

Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, returned to the embassy from New York, but declared that no expression would be given without instructions from Berlin. He said the German official statement concerning the disaster made comment from the embassy un-

The unofficial Austro-German opinion here, however, emphasizes, to justify the act, the presence of ammunition on a passenger ship, and urges that the sacrifice of passengers was less in the balance than the toll that would have been taken by the ammunition had it reached the allies.

During the day the German ambassador received an anonymous letter warning him that the embassy would be blown up at 1.32 a.m. tomorrow. He turned it over to the police, but paid no serious attention to what he regarded as the work of a crank.

Varying Comments.

The official statement from Berlin, which came by wireless, admitting that a German submarine had sunk the Lusitania, and pointing out that the big liner was naturally armed with guns, was widely commented upon by officials. On the highest authority it was stated that as early as last September when Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called attention to the arrival in American ports of British liners, among them that the seriousness of the situation was scarcily realized when the boat was torpedoed. Battery of Submarines.

Her speed at the time she was struck is variously estimated from it to 21 knots. When forced the liner could do 25 knots, outstripping even the fastest and latest submarines, hence it is the belief of survivors and Cunard Line officials that a battery of underwater craft numbering perhaps four or five lay in wait in the clear sunshine of Friday, posted advantage-outly along the route if was surmised the vessel would take. It was easy to keep all but the tips of the periscope submerged, and then for the craft nearest her to let go torpedoes.

Kindly Aid Given.

The first train to arrive here yesterday morning carried attaches of the main Cunard line offices at Liverpool, including Capt. Wm. Dodd, the marine superintendent, and Dr. Duncan Morgan, the medical superintendent. The former busied himself with relieving the material wants of surviving passengers and crew and the identification of the dead, while the latter attended the injured, several of whom were suffering from severe wounds and shock. Every train for Kingstown and Rosslare carried complements of second and third-class passengers and members of the crew. Most of the first cabin survivors, sadly few in number, will remain here temporarily. The townspeople have been generous in extending aid and sympathy to the survivors, none of whom was able to save more than the clothes on his back. Many are dressed as they would have been if the disaster had occurred at night, for the explosion and the long struggle in the water virtually denuded them.

Altho few have been identified, many bear svidence of having occupied the first-class cabin. In striking contrast to most historic sea disasters, the rate of mortality among first-class passengers seems to be heavier than among any other class on board. A large proportion of those saved are members of the crew, but this is not evidence of lack of discipline, as most of them were picked up from the water.

Dr. Frederick Stark Pearson, whose body is among those recovered following the sinking of the Lusitania, was one of America's most noted financial promoters and engineers. He was president of the Brazillan Traction, Light & Power Company, and also the head of the Pearson syndicate, controlling extensive oil, mingral and development rights in Mexico. With Sir William Mackenzie and other Canadian capitalists he was interested in various foreign and electrical enterprises. Dr. Pearson was a native of Lowell, Mass., and after graduation from Tuits College with the degree of LL.D. he became manager and engineer of the Somerville Electric Light Company, later taking the position of chief engineer of the Boston West End Railway System His first Canadian promotion was the Dominion Coal Company, in Cape Breton, While he was engaged in this, he also acted as consulting engineer for the Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and St. John street railway systems.

The Metropolitan Street Railway Company of New York next claimed his services as consulting expert, and he directed the change to underground operation, which was made at that time. He was also chief engineer of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. His activities in foreign countries began with the organization of the Sao Paulo Light & Power Company, and before this was completed he turned his attention to the Mexican street railway systems, which are now merged under the name of Mexico Tramways Company, and including the Mexican Light & Power Company and the Necaxa power plant.

Naval Officers Say Liner Did Not Carry Out Orders

Lusitania Said to Have Been Instructed By Wireless to Take Course in Mid-Channel.

QUEENSTOWN, May 9.—Queenstown was almost as much dazed by the tragedy as those aboard the Lusitania. The question on every lip is: "Why did Captain Turner pursue the usual well-known Cunard Line course, so close to the Irish coast, at medium speed, and why was not the big liner convoyed?" Several naval officers here state that the Lusitania received wireless orders to take a course in the mid-channel, but the ship's wireless operator declines to say whether or not be received such orders.

FAIR TACTICS, SAYS BERLIN OWNERS OF LINER BLAMED

Lusitania Was Armed and Carried Large Quantities of War Material, Germany's Contention-Stress Laid on Published "Warning."

BERLIN, via wireless to London, May 9.—The following official communication was issued last night?

The Cunard liner Lusitania was yesterday torpedoed by a German submarine and sank. The Lusitania was naturally armed with guns, as were recently most of the English mercantile steamers. Moreover, as is well known here, she had large quantities of war material in her cargo.

Her ewners, therefore, knew to what danger the passengers were exposed. They alone bear all the responsibility for what has happened.

"Germany, on her part, left nothing undone to repeatedly and strongly warn them. The imperial ambassador in Washington even went so far as to make a public warning, so as to draw attention to this danger. The English press sneered then at the warning and relied on the protection of the British fleet to safeguard Atlantic traffic."

LONDON, May 9.—Mrs. Rose Lohden and her daughter of Toronto, survivors of the Lusitania disaster, tell a pathetic story concerning two English women who were rescued by the boat in which the Lohdens left the steamer. One woman had buried her baby at sea. The other with an infant held tightly to her breast on being taken from the sea into the boat looked for a moment at the child's face, and then said, "Let me bury my baby," at the same time placing the body in the water.

Vincente Egana, a young Spaniard saved innumerable women. Mrs. Loh-den says, before the ship went down. He carried them to boats, and standing beside Captain Turner went down with the steamer, being later picked up in the water.

Could Have Beached Lusitania After First Explosion, Says Survivor.

QUEENSTOWN, May 9.—Dr. J. T. Houghton of Troy, N.Y., one of the survivors, said there was no reason to fear any danger after the first explosion, as it was believed the vessel would be headed for Queenstown and beached if necessary. Just then, said Dr. Houghton, the liner was again struck, evidently in a more vital spot, for it began to settle rapidly. Orders then came fom the bridge to lower all boats. A near panic took possession of the women. People were rushed into the boats, some of which were launched successfully, others not so successfully.

Church-Fine New Audi-

NEW BANK BUILDING

Dominion Erecting Handsome Branch Corner Dundas and Medland.

The reopening of the High Park Methodist Church Sunday School was celebrated by special services morning, afternoon, and evening yesterday. Rev. D. J. C. Speer, a former pastor, was the special preacher at the morning service and the children of the Sunday school were addressed by Rev. E. E. Scott of Simpson Avenue Church in the afternoon. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Treleaven, conducted the evening service. The basement of the church has recently been lowered several feet at a cost of $3,500 and a fine large auditorium has thus been acquired which admirably serves the purpose of a Sunday school. The $600 still remaining to be paid on this work was entirely made up by special offerings at yesterday's services.

New Branch Bank.

The Dominion Bank has taken out a permit for the construction of a new bank building on the vacant site at the corner of Dundas and Mediand streets. This site was formerly occupied by two buildings, which had stood since the early days of West Toronto and which were recently torn down. The new building will cost $17,000.

Germany the Destroyer.

J. O. "Great Britain, in every branch of sclence, invention, and in every other way, was her equal, if not her superior," said Mr. McCarthy, "but Germany excels without a shadow of a doubt in destructive genius."

MONDAY MORNING! MAY 10.

Remember the Lusitania

All eyes are turned toward Wash ngton. The British Empire is already at war with Germany, and associated with her are the great nations of France and Russia, and the heroic Kingdom of Belgium. Japan is in the war, and Italy may join the allies at any moment. The one great power which, next to Britain, is bound to avenge the loss of the Lusitania, is the

The vessel sailed from her harbor carried her mails and had on board several hundred passengers who were citizens of the United States. Will the nation which over a century ago nvaded the Mediterranean to chastize the pirates of the Barbary States sit tamely by while the pirates of Germany murder American citizens, men, women and children, on the high seas?

Were the sinking of the Lusitania an isolated incident of the war, for which some hair-brained officer could be held responsible, it might be argued that, after all. American citizens took a chance in sailing upon a vessel fiving the flag of a belligerent nation But the vessel was torpedoed by order of the German Government, not as a military necessity or for any military advantage, but simply and solely to terrorize the world, belligerents and neutrals alike, by hoisting the black flag

Has the United States a moral right high seas must no longer prevail: that the laws of decency must be observed by the German nation? She asserted a moral right to enforce decency and respect for modern civilization in the case of Cuba. Cuba belonged to Spain just as Jamaica belongs to England. Spain had an undoubted right to govern Cuba, but in the opinion of United States she forfeited that right by giving the island over to a brutal and lawless soldiery who respected neither civil nor military law, who oppressed and pillaged the people and made life, liberty and property of Cubans and American citizens domiciled in Cuba alike subject to the whim and caprice of a military autocrat-

Finally the United States battleship Maine, while upon a peaceful visit to Havana, was blown up and several hundred American sailors drowned. Just who was responsible is not clearly known, even to this day, but the people of the United States sprang to arms with their famous slogan "Remember the Maine." The war that followed did not rest for its justification upon the mere destruction of this ship, but upon the broad right and duty of the United States to forever put an end to the military rule in Cuba, which disregarded and defled liberty and civiliza-

The sinking of the Lusitania should again crystalize public sentiment and public indignation in the United States. Germany has pillaged and plundered Belgium in a manner more abhorrent than the way in which Spain pillaged and plundered Cuba, and without any color of right. She has violated all the rules of war in the great contest she is now waging on land and she has hoisted the black flag on the high seas. The time has come for the United States to intervene, not as the friend of Great Britain, or as the foe of Germany, but as the knight-errant of liberty and civilization. If liberty is to enligaten the world from the harbor of New York, the United States must remember the Lusitania as she remembered the

Safety of Passengers

In sinking the Lusitania without warning and with heavy cost of innocent life the Germans violated one of the rules of naval war. That matters nothing to them as they have during the whole period of war shown themselves to be utterly regardless not only of international law but of all law. Livine or human. As an enemy ship carrying contraband in the shape of munitions of war the Germans were justified in making the capture and even in sinking the ship if they were anable to conduct her to one of their own ports. But they were without excuse in not affording sufficient opportunity for the removal of the passengers' and con that ground they will be rightfully condemned by neutral opinion.

It is said, apparently with reason. that the Lusitania and other fast pasenger liners have been regularly emoyed in the transportation of murins of war to Britain. This is a de plies Germany with a potent argument employ fast liners in this way no pas sengers should be carried-if they are contraband of war in the cargo. Anther point arises out of the fact that the Lusitania followed her accustomed oute and thus made it easy for the German submarines to intercept her. Passenger ships will do well in future to deviate from their normal course when approaching the British coast.

Germany's Excuse.

It is contended by German apologists hat Britain, having blockaded Germany, and thereby striven to starve out the German nation, has broken the rules of war, and rendered herself liable to any kind of reprisal that German deviltry can devise. The German apologists do not employ this exact language, but this is their meaning. Their meaning is as incorrect as their language is misleading and self-decep-

Britain and her allies have adhered to the rules of war as settled by the nations of the civilized world, ever since war was thrust upon them. Germany knew the rules of the war game the kriegspiel, as well as the allies, but Germany never intended to play the game according to the rules, and began by repudiating the treaty by which she had bound herself to observe the neutrality of Belgium. In spite of this violation of the rules the allies continued to stand by the code. That code included, as the Germans very well knew from the outset, provisions governing the blockading of an enemy's ports, Germany, in fact, trusted to the method of blockade to destroy Britain's power, and while German cruisers were at large they did what they could to cut off British shipping. The British navy finally destroyed the blockading power of the German fleet, and began to establish against Germany the blockade Germany had herself hoped to employ.

It was never contemplated in blockade measures that non-resisting vessels would be sunk on sight or that passenger boats would be destroyed without giving those on board a chance for their lives. Germany introduced these maniacal practices out of her own evil disposition. She knew very well before she began to fight that a blockade by the British navy was practically inevitable. That navy had never menaced Germany's peace or of all nations a free path on the five is neither reason nor logic in her complaint now that Britain is trying to starve her out, and that therefore all rules are null and void.

Germany is defeated in the great game of war, and she knows it. Her unregenerate nature, savage and brutal as that of the earliest barbarous tribes, is unable to recognize the humaner codes of modern life. She thinks that by trying to establish a reign of terror and frightfulness that humanity will submit to her domination. There is not a nation on earth that would wish to submit to the mastery of a nation capable of such acts as Germany boasts about and heralds with pride in her newspaper press. Her plea that her people will starve is a confession of defeat, and if she is unwilling to admit defeat, still sterner measures will prevail. It was no wrong for Paris to

Submarine Warfare

Submarines are clearly a menace and naval authorities are still divided over the question of how much of a menace they constitute in actual warfare. The attack on an unarmed vessel like the Lusitania is not, of course, warfare in any sense. Exwelfare. The British navy had kept President Roosevelt calls it piracy. the peace of the seas, put down piracy According to the ordinary codes of to intervene, to say that the abhorrent and slavery, and given the commerce war it is plain mirder. But while the fleet s manoeuvring or in action the submarine has many other factors to consider which mitigate the deadliness of her attack. If the fleet were cally susceptible and vuinerable, as Sir George Foster Cables Felicithe Germans allege, there would have been many more, and more serious. losses than have been recorded. The allies have submarines as well as the Germans, and British sailors are quite as daring as any German sailors can be. Were it possible to penetrate the defences of a fleet and deliver an effective attack we may be sure British seamanship would have achieved something against the Germans before Striking Increase in Value of Bacon, Cheese and Oats Exports.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, May 9.—There is again a striking advance in the values of cereals in Great Britain, according to the board of trade returns. In the month of March there was a decrease of 12,041,440 bushels of wheat exported to Great Britain as compared with the corresponding month of last year.

There was an increase in the value of the wheat exported of $550,585. The decrease in the quantity of wheat, meal and flower imported by Great Britain from Canada was 1,782,496 bushels, and the increase in value $275,425.

The probability is that the decrease in the quantity exported has been due to the difficulties of transport.

There is an increase in the value of the export of oats of $66,295; bacon, $1,-315,875; cheese, $671,845, and smaller increases in other commodities, such as beas, maize, hams, butter, canned lobeters, hides, flax and sawn or split fir.

DOCTRINES OF DEMONS RESPONSIBLE

Satan's Successful Method-Why God Permits Darkness for Light-Faith and Love Tested-Responsibility of Preachers-God Slandered-Everybody's Duty-Truth Soon Triumphant-"They Shall Be Ashamed."

PASTOR RUSSELL fact that the world does not love God, but merely fears Him; and that few churches recognize Him as the graclous Heavenly Father. Altho Bible has told us repeatedly that God is Love, that His mercy endureth to the limit, and that from Him comes every good and perfect gift, nevertheless the acctrines of demons instilled into our minds from childhood have hindered us from appreciating these statements.

Back in the Second Century, when Bibles were very expensive, and few could read, Satan laid the foundation for gross errors. The clergy began to claim Apostolic Succession for the bishops—that they were successors to the Apostles, and that consequently their teachings were of equal authority. Graqually the deception fastened itself; nobody was allowed to preach except those authorized, or ordained, by those claiming to be the inspired successors of the Apostles. The result was the separation of the clergy as the Children of the Church, or sometimes the laity.

A little later the Apostolic Bishops, with Emperor Constantine, started creed-making. Thereafter creeds took the place of Bible study; for the Emperor decided that the Nicene Creed would be the standard of Orthodoxy. and that anyone differing from its teachings would be a heretic and subject to persecution. Thus Bible study was crowded out, and any reference to the Bible was considered a slight to the Apostolic Bishops and the creeds which they had made.

This lasted for twelve hundred years: then the authority of the Bishops as Apostles began to be questioned. The Bible began to be sought and studied, but all who did this were esteemed heretics, or in danger of becoming such by getting out of touch with the creeds. How much error could be brought into the Church in twelve centuries? Is it any wonder that our creeds are more than half error, and that the "doctrines of devils," worked into them as leaven, have corrupted them entirely and made them injurious to spiritual health?

This was the very prophecy which This was the very prophecy which Jesus made—that leaven, corruption, would be hidden in the family portion (Matthew 16:6, 11, 12; Luke 13:21.) Again, Jesus pictures the matter in Revelation 17:4, 2, where a woman is shown, having in her hand a Golden Cup filled with her own false doctrines, with which she makes drunk all the inhabitants of the earth. The whole world has been stupidly drunk for centuries and now is awakening—some made-tnat leaven, world has been stupidly drunk for centuries, and now is awakening—some dazed, some angry, some hysterical, etc. But, thank God, with our waking we perceive that the glorious Millennial Morning is at hand. There, as promised, Messiah will assume His great power, begin His Reign, roll away ignorance and superstition from the world, and let in the true light of the knowledge of God's glory.—Isaiah 60:3.

8. Habukuk 2:14.

8: Habakkuk, 2:14. I am not blaming our forefathers—
Catholics or Protestants. Doubtless there were bad men amongst them, but there were also good men and sincere. I blame the great Adversary, Satan, and his demons, the fallen angels, as the Apostle does. We have been debauched by these "doctrines of demons." Organized Opposition to the Bible.

About 1500 A.D. the people began to desire the New Testament and to doubt the inspiration of the Apostolic Bishops. Professor Tyndale translated the New Testament into English, but could not get it printed in Great Britain, because of the power of the Bishops—Protestant Bishops, mark you, atraid that the Word of God in the hands of the people would discount their authority. Tyndale persevered, had his New Testament printed in Germany, and then imported to London. Altho few people could read, they began to buy the books eagerly. But the Apostolic Bishops bought up the entire edition and burned the books publicly in front of St. Paul's Cathedral, Lon-About 1500 A.D. the people began to front of St. Paul's Cathedral, Lon-

Surely, Jesus forewarned us of these Surely, Jesus forewarned us of these would-be Apostles. (Revelation 2:2.)
He appointed only twelve, and recognized St. Paul as successor to Judas. These Twelve were to be His special mouthpleces, the crown of the twelve stars in the Church and the twelve foundation stones. (Revelation 12:1; 21:14.)
Referring to the illegal Apostolic Bishops, Jesus said, "Thou hast tried them which say they are Apostles and are not, and hast found them liars."—Revelation 2:2; 2 Corinthians 11:13.

Burning the New Testament made China Notifies Japan of Acquies-

Revelation 2:2:.2 Corinthians 11:13.

Burning the New Testament made the matter worse. The people demanded to know why they should not be permitted to read the words of Jesus and the original Twelve. The psuedo-apostles then produced what they styled the Bishops' Bible and gave it to the people, with threats that if thru reading that Bible they got out of harmony with the creeds, they would go to eternal torture. Roman Catholi's got out the Douay edition. Each party warned the people that the other's translation was especially wrong, altho there is little difference. Thus they attempted to hinder the people from studying the Bible.

The same spirit is manifested every-from studying the Bible.

The same spirit is manifested everywhere yet. Whoever presents the Bible without sectarian bias, and shows its simplicity and purity, its Divine Message of love and mercy, is branded a heretic and dangerous; and any vilification heaped upon him is reckoned as service to God, however false. It is surprising to what extent we have been hoodwinked by the Adversary, and have falled to notice that our difficulty arose from the "doctrines of demons." Mrs. J. P. Reid received a cable from her daughter, Mrs. Nordheimer, in Lon-don yesterday, stating that Eric and Douglas Reid were safe. The two sol-diers had not been heard of since the BELLEVILLE, May 9 .- T. G. Lewis of demons.

What Are "Doctrines of Demons?" "Doctrines of demons" are various alsehoods designed to misrepresent God's character and dealings, and thus to hinder God's Message from taking effect in human hearts. God could have to hinder God's Message from taking effect in human hearts. God could have prevented Satan from thus practising deceptions and slandering His character: but repeatedly He indicates that thas been His purpose not to use force in the gathering of the Church. He sent forth His Message, intending that those hearing would have an opportunity of responding voluntarily.

By and by the Messieh's Kingdom and severe bondages of superstition. But no excuse can be offered now for misrepresenting God, for deceiving the people of God and the world, and for joining with Satan in attempting to thwart the Divine purpose of selecting the Household of Faith.

Again I offer free on postcard request my pamphlet on Hell. It discusses every By and bye, thru Messiah's Kingdom

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 9.— Pastor Russell gave two addresses here today. We report the one from 1 Timothy 4:1, 2. It is a severe arraignment of education and cspecially of ministers, notwith the standing its mdderate language. The Pastor said: We are gradually awakening to the does not love God, im; and that few Him as the grather. Altho the peatedly that God srey endureth to the Him comes every ft, nevertheless the instilled into our language and honest heart. It does a transformation work, it thus a good and honest heart. It does a transformation work, it have the Holy Spirit—Romans, 12, 2. Satan, personally and thru his demon hosts of fallen angels, seeks to misrepresent God's message, God's character, as St. Paul tells us (2 Corinthians, 4, 4): This slander against the Almighty, which slander against the Almighty, which satan has manufactured, is that God made a great place called Hell, Sheol, Hades, supplied it with fire-proof devils and fuel to last for all eternity, and then created man, knowing that nearly everybody would go to that awful place. Additionally, we were taught, we would be rendered indestructible, in order that our torments might last eternally. I think too highly of my fellow-creatures to believe that any human mind could invent such doctrines. I accredit them, as does the Apostle in our text, to demons; and as he explains, their object was to separate us from God and His Word.

Satan has been working his plan of a service of the Truth alone. (2 Peter, 1, 4; John 17, 17.) To whatever extent God's work, in the power of the Truth alone. (2 Peter, 1, 4; John 17, 17.) To whatever extent God's work is good and honest heart. It does a transformation work, it was a transform Satan has been working his plan of opposition to God for more than six thousand years. He began by telling Mother Eve that her sin would not bring the punishment of death, as God had said; and he has kept up that statement said; and he has kept up that statement until today. He has convinced the whole world that the dead are really more alive than when they were alive. This is the fundamental doctrine of demons. But the Bible says, "The dead know not anything." (Ecclesiastes, 9, 5.) "The wages of sin is death"—not eternal torment anywhere (Romans, 6, 28); and "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezekiel, 18, 4, 20). If we had believed the Bible, we that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezekiel, 18, 4, 20). If we had believed the Bible, we would have been spared the nonsense, the fear, the delusions, which have troubled us. But we neglected God's Word and took the word of Satan, the Serpent. Thank God, Messiah's Kingdom will not only bring in blessings to the world, but will bind Satan, that he may deceive the world no more until the deceive the world no more until the thousand years of Christ's Reign are fin-ished, and the world uplifted!—Revela-ion, 20, 1-4. These "doctrines of demons" include Purgatory and masses to get out of Purgatory. They include the work of spirit mediums; for, as bishops and priests are deceived, so are mediums. They verily think they are communicating with dead humans, whereas the Bible makes clear that they are being deceived by the fallen angels, the demons, who, thru mediums, try to impress upon us that our dead friends are alive, thus giving the only confirmation there is to Satan's lie that the dead are alive. Poor creatures who come under the influence of evil spirits tell us distinctly that the spirits who once claimed to be their dead friends declare plainly, after getting con-trol of these unfortunates, that they are demons, and then proceed to terrify their victims with assurances of eternal tor-

Why Would Demons So Teach? At first thought it would appear, that Satan would not favor anything telling about future trouble; thus many are de-ceived into thinking that whatever tells of the goodness and love of God must be a deception to the Devil. Let us notice carefully the line of the adversary's attack. He skilfully uses preachers, evan-gelists and the profane—all—to tell about Hell and devils, and the creeds to tell Hell and devils, and the creeds to tell that all this was God's plan. Thus effectually he puts a barrier between God and the people, and drives them from God and the Bible.

Have not these "doctrines of devils" led thinking people away from God and religion into social flurries and nonsense? Have not men been led to plunge into business novel-reading, theatre-going, religion into social flurries and nonsense? Have not men been led to plunge into business, novel-regding, theatre-going, drinking, carousing, gaming—anything to keep their minds off the most important things—the things of God, the things which the Bible teaches? And yet thousands of ministers are preaching Hellifire torment who do not believe a word of what they say, but who imagine they keep people from going into sin. Do they think that they are wiser than God? Do they expect to hear the Master's "Well done, good and faithful servant," for having slandered His name, His character and His Message, for having deceived the people, when He plainly told them that the Truth alone will sanctify? I sympathize with the preachers; they are in a terrible place, as the Apostle describes in our text, "Speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their conscience seared with a hot iron." Only a badly-seared conscience could approve of the slandering of Almighty God, the representing of Him as being worse than the worst of devils we could possibly imagine. It would be a hard matter for these gentlemen, so long looked up to as standard-boxers for Code and the Truth, to come devils we could possibly imagine. It would be a hard matter for these gentlemen, so long looked up to as standard-bearers for God and the Truth, to come humbly down from their pedestals and tell the people plainly, "We have been deceiving you all, or, at least, have been keeping you in ignorance of the Truth, for the sake of the salaries we received." A few, we may surely expect, will do this. They are coming nearer to the point every minute. But the majority will brazen the matter out, adding false-hood to hypocrisy; and every day that they delay to step out on the side of Truth will make their case the worse. The people are becoming enlightened, and are ahead of the preachers in the knowledge of God and in honesty of thought and word.

Quite recently I heard from a young man who went to his pastor, saying,

"Yes, certainly, of course; we all do." "Yes, certainly, of course; we all do."
Then the young man told what he had been thinking, and, as he was leaving the minister's study, the latter put his hand on the young man's shoulder, saying, "George, I do not believe in eternal torment; but, you know, we must preach it. Otherwise, we would be out with our denominations and creeds, and out with everything, and, perhaps, the people would be the worse off."

What a shameful position! God has given preachers much advantage over the common people in education and time for study, and surely He will not hold the common people in education and time for study, and surely He will not hold him guiltiess that taketh His name in vain—that slanders Him, that misrepresents Him, and that does so in the name of God religion and the Bible. I am speaking plainly, but not unkindly. My heart grieves for the ministers; for the judgments of the Lord surely will come upon them for their course. Our forefathers had the excuse of ignorance, misfathers had the excuse of ignorance, misunderstanding, poor translations, and severe bondages of superstition. Ven. Archdeacon Ingles Addressed Several Thousand Second Contingent Men.

PRAYER A GREAT HELP

Civilian Rifle Associations.

Ven. Archdeacon Ingles of St. Alban's Cathedral preached to several thousand of the 2nd contingent soldiers at the Sunday morning service in the transportation building, Exhibition Park camp. His text was, "Whatsoever ye ask in my name ye shall receive," and his subject, "Prayer." The power that men require to go out and undergo a great test was accessible to every man thru prayer, he said. During the first thirty years of the history of the Church of God it had progressed in powerful strides, almost beyond imagination. This was due to the people's belief in prayer. If men today had this same faith in prayer they would never falter.

Major Rev. J. Russell Maclean took the service and Capt. Rev. J. Thompson read the lesson.

At the service on Sunday at the armories, attended by the 35th Battallon, 3rd contingent, an inspiring sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Gilmour of McMaster Grays Double Score on Leafs at Rocky Point on a Windy Afternoon.

Special to The Toronto World.

PROVIDENCE, May 3.—The Rocky Point ball yard was very well filled today at the third game between the Grays and the Maple Leafs, 5000 people going to the down-the-river resort in the face of a lowling gale. It was a warm wind, but biowing right in the face of the pitchers, making it almost impossible for the heavers to control the ball, which took long rides when hit into the air, no less than live triples and two doubles being ripped off, most of them with men on the sacks. The Leafs got a fine start by sending over five runs in the fourth inning, but the locals came back strong, and the game finished with a 12 to 6 score in favor of Shean's gladiators. Cooper pitched the entire game and was in trouble most of the time, but stuck to his guns and managed to get things going his way in the last three innings.

Cochrehan started for Clymer. The Grays had pounded him for three runs in the fourth, following five sent over by the Leafs on good hitting. After he passed the first two men up in the fifth he gave way to Blanke, who was even worse, and after the Grays had slipped over a brace of runs on him and had two on he followed his predecessor, and Manning then took up the burden. He was the goat thru the sixth, but pitched fine hall in the next two. By the same token Cooper held the visitors helpless during the last four innings. Cochrehan tripled in the fourth and Haley repeated in the fifth. Roach doubled with two on in the fifth, but only one of the men taillied. The fielding, especially by the Leafs, was brilliant. Most of the long hits were made on balls that rode dawn on the wind to the boundary, being carried like birds. The score:

RUSHOLMES LOOK FOR MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

At the general meeting of the Rusholme Lawn Bowling Club, which was called to Lawn Bowling Club, which was called to welcome the new members into the club, it was decided not to hold the proposed tournament this year. Altho a very gratifying interest has already been evinced by the other bowling clubs in the city, the surprising success of the recent membership campaign, in which nearly 90 members were secured, forced upon the executive the fact that their first duty was to look after their own new membership, and it was therefore thought advisable to postpone the general tournament for a year at least. REGRET IN FRONT ENTIRE JOURNEY

Pebbles Second and Sharpshooter Third-Winner Paid Well in Pools.

LOUISVILLE, May 8.—Leading all the way from the rise of the barrier, Harry Payne Whitney's Regret, daughter of Broomstick—Jersey Lightning, won the Kentucky Derby over a mile and a quarter course at Churchill Downs here today.

Her margin of victory over Pebbles,
James G. Butler's colt, was two lengths, with Schuyler L. Parson's gelding Sharpshooter a half length behind. Her time was 2.05-25, three seconds slower than shooter a half length behind. Her time was 2.052-5, three seconds slower than the track record.

Regret achieved a success no other starter of her sex has been able to do in the history of the Derby, first run at Churchill Downs in 1875. The gross value of the staks was $14,900; the net value to the winner was $11,450.

The field was the largest that ever started in the Derby.
Seven of the best three-year-olds of the east met ten of the west's star performrs in that division, and the result was a complete victory for the eastern contingent. All three owners of the horses finishing in the money are residents of New York. Royal II., an imported Engsish colt, entered by Jefferson Livingston of Cincinnati, was fourth, with Emerson Cochran, a Kentucky colt, fifth. Mr. Whitney witnessed the victory of his filly. Other visitors at the course included William F. McCombs, New York, chairman of the Democratic National committee; former United States Senator Johnson N. Camden, James Butler, Foxhall Keene, Andrew Miller, Barney Dreyfuss and August Belmont.

Regret was installed favorite in the betting, but so open was the contest thought to be that $2 winning mutuel ticket paid $7.30.

Unloading by holders of wheat reached the heaviest proportions in the last hour of trading, and was only checked when some of the big export houses took to buying as if against important sales to the seaboard or to Europe. It was at this time that unconfirmed reports were current of Italy laving taken decisive action toward entering the war, and that the greatest apprehension was felt in regard to chances of transatlantic shipments from the United States being temporarily brought to a halt. It was said that at least a dozen freight ships to Liverpool for Europe had received orders to wait.

Liverpool for Europe had received orders to wait.

Fine Crop Conditions.

Harvest prospects that were nearly perfect tended to increase from start, the bearish sentiment resulting from developments concerning the Lusitania, especially word that all business in wheat at Liverpool was at a stand-still. Further uneasiness resulted from the renewal of notice by the German embassy warning against continued danger to vessels entering the warzens. On the other hand, reassuring advices as to the conservative attitude of the government at Washington helped somewhat to rally the market at the close.

Corn held up in a notable manner as compared with the weakness of wheat. Improved domestic shipping call was largely the reason for the comparative strength shown, In oats, as in corn, offerings were readily absorbed. There was some enquiry from the seaboard.
Provisions tumbled with grain for the time being, the upward slant of the hog market seemed to be ignored.

in values of securities.

As a matter of fact, the market broke severely in the first 15 minutes, stocks thruout the list declining from 3 to 10 points. From that time, almost to the end, heavy buying orders brought a restoration of normal conditions, many important issues closing with nominal losses, while a few showed small gains. Some of the war specialties like Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse closed the day with losses of 1 to 4 points, while seasoned stocks in the railway list plainly showed the effect of what it technically called "good" buying. Much of the early selling was traceable to the short interest, while foreign offerings also added to the decline. On the whole, however, London, where the feeling was one of acute depression, took no considerable part in the preliminary liquidation. There was a further weeding out of margined accounts and conservative brokers advised their customers to refrain from making new commitments over the week-end. Total sales of stocks amounted to 575,000 shares.

Curb on Speculation.

Bankers and representatives of the stock exchange conferred before the opening of the market and every precaution was taken to keep speculation within bounds. The money market was not a factor, all loans made yesterday holding over until next Monday.

Little attention was paid to the bank statement, which reported an actual cash loss of $6,500,000 and a contrac-

PRICES BROKE HEAVILY ON NEW YORK MARKET

War Group Was the Chief Shares to Be Affected by Panic

NEW YORK, May 8.—The market received a bad shock from news of the sinking of the Lusitania. Prices broke heavily in the war group, and for a time a panic seemed imminent. There was a rush to sell long stocks, especially in shares which led the recent rise. In the better class of securities, however, less support was afforded. The however, ahe fall was less serious, and more or less support was afforded. The close was better than might have been expected. Confidence has naturally been badly shaken by this disaster, the outcome upon which by public opinion it is yet too early to forecast. Much depends upon the self-control which the American people display, Thus far, under the strong leadership of President Wilson, the country has of President Wilson, the country hat taken things calmly and kept its head It is to be hoped that this spirit will continue, and that our people will not unduly embarrass the administration by their resentful spirit.
