BRITISH COAL PEACE PARLES RESUMED

EARLY END OF STRUGGLE SEEN BY OBSERVERS

Government and Miners Meet at Downing Street

ON SINCE MAY

Constructive Policy to Eliminate War in Industry Is Considered by Leaders

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Negotiations between the government and the miners for settlement of the British coal strike, which has continued since May Day, have been definitely resumed, trade union officials said this afternoon.

Optimism over a possible early end to the strike was increased today after a meeting between representatives of the government and the negotiation committee of the Trade Union Congress.

Their talk cleared up the situation sufficiently to induce Premier Baldwin to receive the miners' representatives in Downing Street this afternoon.

By HERBERT BAILEY British United Press LONDON, Nov. 5.—With the possibility of a settlement in the strike within a few days, the movement for a constructive labor policy which will eliminate war in industry, is gaining momentum every hour and moderate leaders with constructive ideas are coming into their own.

FOLLY OF STRIKE SHOWN The realization that industrial warfare is the greatest imaginable loss to the country, and that the coal miners themselves and the majority of labor leaders are gaining momentum every hour and moderate leaders with constructive ideas are coming into their own.

At least 800,000 miners will never return to the pits because of the employment for them. Labor has always recognized that there was surplus in the pits and a good number to solve the problem which they involve. It appears now that the coal strike will settle this problem automatically.

GOVERNMENT ANXIOUS The Government is naturally exercised over the prospect of adding 800,000 men to the dole list and is now seeking some way in which a good number can be employed and is endeavoring to enlist the co-operation of the dominions in this matter.

The task of renouncing the general strike policy will soon be begun in an attempt to attract white collar workers while a determined attempt will be made to secure the votes of rural workers whose support is essential to success at the polls. A movement has already begun in the main industries of the nation to substitute arbitration for warfare as a principle which is included in Premier Baldwin's scheme for settlement of the coal strike.

AGREEMENTS SIGNED Conciliation agreements have been signed between the Employers' Federation and Federation of the Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades which provides for discussion and settlement of disputes without stoppage of work, and there is also provision in these agreements for the reference of all disputes to mutually agree upon arbitration boards. These are very healthy signs that Britain intends to grapple seriously with her industrial problems.

SEEKS MEASURES Mussolini Asks Stringent Laws to Break Opposition ROME, Nov. 5.—Benito Mussolini today had his plans ready for carrying out a program arranged with the purpose of putting down vigorously all opposition to himself and the Fascist regime.

Premier Mussolini presented the proposed measures personally this morning at secret sessions of the cabinet and the national Fascist executive. The Premier also had further conferences with Secretary General Turati of the Fascist party, Minister of Interior, Pedersoli and Minister of Justice, Rocco.

It is understood that the retroactive death penalty law to be drafted by Signor Rocco will create a special branch court for the judgment of such cases, instead of leaving them to the ordinary jury courts.

SAYS HUNGARY AND RUMANIA TO UNITE WITH COMMON RULER

BUDAPEST, Nov. 5.—Former Minister of Justice Emil Nagy stated in parliament today that everything had been prepared for an early union of Hungary with Rumania under a common sovereign. Great Britain, he added, did not oppose the plan.

No member of the government saw fit to reply to Nagy's allegation. It is said, however, that such a union is desired by a large section of the Hungarian nobility.

PROBE DEATH OF BRUNNERS Linguistic Powers of King of No Avail British Financier and Wife Found Dead in Cottage

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Pending the coroner's inquest on Monday, there came from the police respecting the circumstances under which Roscoe Brunner, former chairman of Brunner, Mond and Company Ltd., and Mrs. Brunner were killed Wednesday night in the small cottage of their daughter, Princess Ferdinand of Leichtenstein at Roehampton.

Unofficial talk by house servants at the cottage and discussion of the double killing by the newspapers have led to the assumption that Mr. Brunner shot his wife and then committed suicide. When the bodies were found, a revolver was in the hand of Mr. Brunner.

It is asserted that the former German on the still starting palace guards. "Je suis le roi des Belges," he explained in French. The soldiers started, but did not reply. Albert tried English. "I am the King of the Belgians," he said. Still no reply. "Ich Bin Van Belgien," he said, trying the Royal German on the still starting palace guards.

Then he tried to announce his identity in Swedish, when the guards called the police. As that moment, however, the Commander of the Castle Guard appeared and explained the mistake.

Beecham Advises English Musicians To Go To America

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Sir Thomas Beecham, well known conductor and impresario, thinks that the musical future of England is so black that the only thing left for musicians is to get out. He thinks this so strongly that he told newspapermen that he intended to go to the United States and take up permanent residence there. He has been invited, he says, to Philadelphia. Sir Thomas blames the subsidizing of radio broadcasting by the government for ruining England's musical future. As a secondary factor, he says that the industrial situation is responsible. "People have no money," Sir Thomas told the newspapermen. "My message to all musicians is to get out of the country as quickly as possible and to go to America. I intend to do that and shall take as many English musicians with me as possible."

SHOP Talk WONDERFUL strides have been made in the promotion and art of the motion picture during the last few years. The tremendous popularity of the movie has also grown apace until "fan gossip" and studio news has become the prime requisite of the well-rounded newspaper.

Every Day The Evening Times-Star runs a movie article under the head of "Behind the Screen." It is more than a feature—it's news! Gene Cohn and Dan Thomas, The Times' correspondents, don't wait for press agent handouts. They are reporters, doing the regular newspaper job of getting the news, and more often than not they get it in advance of the others. They know how to get it while it is hot and they pass it on before it has time to cool.

"Behind the Screen" has become a real popular feature. The reason is, of course, that it's up-to-the-minute, full of interest for every fan—and it's "straight stuff!" Compare The Evening Times-Star with any paper three times its price.

Scotland Remains Unchanged In Local Option Elections

GLASGOW TO VOTE ON QUESTION DECEMBER 7 Prohibitionists Object to Several Provisions of Electoral Law

EDINBURGH, Nov. 5.—Early returns of the voting on local option in various parts of Scotland under the Scottish Temperance Act, on Tuesday, show that the position is unchanged from that of the last three years. The "dry" areas have elected to continue "wet" while the "wet" districts have similarly voted to continue wet.

ABERDEEN, Perth and Falkirk continue wet and Kirkcaldy and Stewarton reaffirm their dry policy by somewhat increased majorities. Glasgow will vote on local option on December 7. One of the peculiarities of the Scottish Temperance Act, which the prohibitionists strongly criticize, is that their party must poll at least 33 per cent. of the whole electorate and 55 per cent. of those actually voting before liquor licenses can be abolished, whereas liquor licenses can be restored after having been abolished by a bare majority of those voting.

REBELLION AGAINST LAW, SAYS FERGUSON Ontario Premier Determined to Push His Policy For Temperance

BRAMPTON, Ont., Nov. 5.—"What I want, and what I intend to have, will be the great mass of people supporting me, and sympathetic toward the law," declared Premier Howard Ferguson to an audience here last night, in expressing his determination to push his policy of education for temperance to such a point that the old convention of "it is not done" would become firmly re-established in the public mind. "That condition of affairs," he said, "will do more than any attorney-general and his enforcement squad. It will accomplish more than any pains or penalties attached to a law."

PURPOSE IS SINCERE There had never been a question, the prime minister said, into which he had put the sincerity of purpose and conviction that he had put into his conclusions regarding the failure of the Ontario Temperance Act.

NOVA SCOTIA FARMER FINDS "BOSS" COMPLETELY INTOXICATED IN ORCHARD

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 5.—A special dispatch to the Morning Chronicle from Caledonia, Queens county, adds a new angle to the much vexed question of prohibition. It reads: "A local farmer turned his most famous thoroughbred cow out in the orchard for a few hours' exercise, and observed her reclining and finally falling. Rushing to her assistance, he helped her regain her feet. To his consternation, she repeated the performance, falling in a completely intoxicated condition. He discovered that the cow had eaten heartily of apples which had been frozen while lying on the ground. Subsequent thawing had caused fermentation, from which a considerable alcoholic content had resulted."

JAP NAVAL PLANS Will Spend 261,000,000 Yen in Five Years

Col. Garibaldi, in Custody, Says He Can Clear Himself of Charge

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Evidence that the Italians implicated in the attempted Spanish revolutionary movement were agents of the Italian police is said to be in the hands of the French surete generale, or federal police. Officials of the surete generale believe that the object of the movement, which was halted by wholesale arrests of the conspirators near Perpignan, was to create bad feeling between France and Spain.

Col. Ricciotti Garibaldi arrested yesterday at Nice, was taken into custody on the strength of this evidence. It is stated:

FOUND REMITTANCES The French authorities claim to have found traces of the remittance of very large sums to Italian agents in France, which could scarcely have come from other than official sources.

After lengthy questioning by the French police it was decided to falsify Garibaldi's Paris travel escort. Garibaldi in reply to interviewers promised to clear himself of the allegation that he had been in connection with Fascist policy. He indignantly denied the charge.

Heard circles at Nice are seething with excitement over the startling revelation and constant police vigilance is required.

AT PERIGNAN PERIGNAN, France, Nov. 5.—The police in this region continue to search remote villages for possible further contingents of conspirators who had fled to Spain to set up the "State of Catalan." When the 125 men now under arrest here saw the organizer of the movement, Col. Francisco Macia, who surrendered yesterday, gave their word to clear himself of the allegation that he had been in connection with Fascist policy. He indignantly denied the charge.

Paris Press Pleased Over "Wet" Strength

Canadian Press PARIS, Nov. 5.—The Parisian press has reluctantly come to the conclusion that the outcome of the United States elections cannot be interpreted as meaning any change of heart or policy so far as Europe is concerned. To the French the most pleasing expectations from the United States elections is the expression of "wet" sentiment over "dry" in those states where a referendum was taken on the prohibition issue. "Pussyfoot beaten," says La Liberté. "Well, let our champagne, burgundy and Bordeaux pay our debt and send Monsieur Three Star Hennessy as ambassador to Washington." L'Intransigent also interprets the referendum results as presaging "the return of United States wine buyers to France, their pockets bulging with dollars enough to pay the French debt to Washington."

CONFEDERATION'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

THE secretary of the Kiwanis Club of Orillia has written to the Ottawa Citizen a letter which begins as follows: "Why do we have a holiday on the 1st of July? The question asked by a twelve-year-old boy belonging to a family who had been in Canada for nearly a hundred years, set an Orillian who overheard it thinking. Surely there was something wrong with the training in national history and consciousness when an intelligent boy could reach the age of twelve without understanding the significance of Dominion Day."

Naturally recital of this stimulated the Orillia Kiwanis to do something to remedy the state of affairs. It is stated that: "The train of thought inspired by the incident led to the inspiration that the Sixtieth Anniversary of Confederation, in 1927, offered an opportunity to hold a celebration that would impress itself upon the imagination, and make it certain that no man, woman or child in Canada of ordinary intelligence would have to ask, 'Why Dominion Day?'"

A committee was formed and decided that the proposed celebration should have three characteristics: 1. It should be on a big scale worthy of the occasion and of the country, and such as will impress both our own people and the outside world.

2. Certain main features of the program should be common to every city, town and hamlet from coast to coast, so as to create a feeling that all Canada is joining together in a big Birthday Party.

3. The children should be given a prominent part in the program, so that a lasting impression of national unity and consciousness may be made on the minds of the next generation.

Detailed suggestions followed which may be summarized as follows: Children's picnic, beacon fires from coast to coast, national and local bandquets, featuring of essentially Canadian sports such as lacrosse and canoeing, special Sunday services, inauguration of an industrial forward movement and, last but not least, an invitation to Their Majesties the King and Queen to honor Canada with their presence. Added thereto the Kiwanis invite suggestions.

This is a movement worthy of support. We have time ahead of us to make the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation notable. We in the Maritimes have every hope that ere the day arrive we shall have cause to look on Confederation as a blessing, not an imposition. In that case we may be sure that nowhere will sixty years of union be celebrated more enthusiastically than on the Atlantic coast.

CLEVELAND'S EXPERIENCE

THE TIMES-STAR last evening published a resume of the accomplishments of the city of Dayton, Ohio, under the city manager plan. In the third column today will be found extracts from an address by Mayor John D. Marshall, Cleveland, Ohio, on the subject of the city manager plan. A comparison of the two articles will disclose the fact that, while the system is credited with providing the groundwork for progressive civic government, in both cases the importance of the selection of the right man or the right city manager is stressed. Spoken for both cities agree also on the principle of giving the city manager a free hand in the administrative work of the municipality.

A difference, however, will be noted in the method of government. While Dayton's legislative body is constituted as a commission of five, elected at large, the Cleveland plan provides for a council of twenty-five, elected in four districts, into which the city is divided on the basis of approximate population. Cleveland also has in place a system of proportional representation which is proving satisfactory.

THE FUSILIERS

The esprit-de-corps which is evident behind the decision of the Saint John Fusiliers to adopt the "voluntary enlistment" scheme is something of which the regiment may well be proud. Those with wide experience of units of all arms know that it is the regiment with this quality which must invariably begeth personal self-sacrifice, that can be trusted to uphold this spirit in the field. Regimental trinketry, too, is usually the outward and visible sign of this quality, and is as much a part of the spirit as it is of the discipline; and it is now to be discouraged; so when the pipers of the 26th eventually skirt down the streets of the Loyalist City it will add but to the significance of our local regiment's high tradition. It is, however, to be hoped that the Fusiliers' true marching music—the drum unaccompanied—will not thereby fall into disuse. One wonders sometimes whether some of our regiments and batteries with history behind them might not help themselves and the cadet movement by fostering a more or more cadet corps. It should prove a wonderful field for future recruitment, and at the same time provide a continuity of interest in the young idea with solidifying privities.

As a contribution to the discussion on the liquor question in Ontario, a county license inspector, discussing the question of illicit stills, said that, in his opinion, enforcement of the law must continue to fall. Of course he points out that this is a matter for the inland revenue department and not for the province of Ontario. Nevertheless his own resignation of office would not injure the service in which he is engaged. A law officer who says that law enforcement must fall is off to a bad start. We can hardly imagine, for example, a North-West Mounted Policeman taking the trail in the old days with a conviction in his own mind that he would fall in his mission. The need of the country is men who believe they can accomplish what they set out to do, and this applies with particular force to those who have to do with the enforcement of liquor laws.

Mr. E. A. Schofield believes the New Brunswick exhibit at an all-Canada apple show in Toronto would be the finest of the lot. All the evidence goes to show that New Brunswick should have orchards.

KIND TO BUFFALO

THE city of Buffalo aspires to become the greatest milling centre in the world. It mills Canadian wheat. We are told that twenty years ago the output of flour in Buffalo was 2,547,000 barrels. This year the output is expected to be 10,000,000 barrels. Canada is very kind to Buffalo. The St. Thomas Times-Journal thus explains the situation: "Wheat is milled in Buffalo because (1) it can be delivered there at a cheaper rate than is charged for shipments to Canadian ports, and (2) it can be shipped as flour to docks at New York or other Atlantic ports at a lower rate than to the Canadian seaboard. For the year 1924, rates from the head of the lakes to Port Colborne averaged 3.46 cents per bushel, and to Buffalo 2.88 cents. Flour can be shipped from Buffalo to New York at 18 cents a hundred, while it costs 18.5 cents to send it from the nearest Canadian point to New York."

Significant as is the fact that Canadian wheat is milled in Buffalo, building up there a great milling industry, even more so is the fact that the flour which gets the benefit of lower freight rates competes against the product of Canadian mills in the British market. Thus the Canadian millers are put at a disadvantage by foreign millers who, unless they get Canadian wheat, could not compete in any market with Canadian flour. In addition to the loss to the Canadian milling industry is the loss to Canadian transportation and shipping interests and seaports. "Truly Canada is kind to Buffalo."

In a letter to the Montreal Gazette occurs the following passage: "The Mail and Empire makes known far and wide, 'In Nationality Scotsmen Pre-emptive, with Eight Portfolios.' However, there is one Englishman in the Cabinet, ex-hilgrating, indeed. Here is a sweep of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific and up to the Yukon Territory, showing how few Englishmen have fared at the 'bustings.' Does it matter? It ought to. Who are going to hold the English in respect in the years to come in this country of mixed nationalities? Does it matter? Why should it? Englishmen may be proud of their racial origin and Scotsmen likewise. Each they are separate and distinct; nationally they are one—British."

It is announced that the land settlement branch of the Immigration Department expects to get about 100 families this winter for the Maritime Provinces. If we can prevent another hundred families from leaving the Maritime Provinces during the same period we will be more fortunate than for some time past. Nevertheless we need the new settlers, for if there were a constant movement outward and none inward the process of reforestation would not call for any official help. We are hoping that legislation based on the Duncan report will do more for us next winter than the arrival of many hundreds of families from the other side of the Atlantic.

Hon. James A. Murray, Superintendent of Immigration for this province, issues a warning to the effect that if a successful immigration policy is to be carried out there must be greater co-operation on the part of the people with the department. The point is well taken. We must have settlers if the province is to progress. It is to the advantage of all the people to have new producing factors satisfactorily settled among us.

The county of Restigouche is growing in importance as a centre of the export potato trade. The farmers fear that a good business may be done in certified seed potatoes for the American market. It is satisfactory to note that when lumber exports show a decrease there is a gain in the shipments of agricultural produce.

It is again reported that there are improved prospects for the settlement of the British coal strike. With the approach of winter the need of a settlement becomes more acute. Miners have been drifting back to work in small numbers for a considerable period, and there seems no hope of a settlement on the miners' terms.

There is the danger in Italy that restrictive measures by the Fascist party may be beyond what the people will endure. There is universal sympathy with Mussolini, against whose life so many attacks have been made, but that does not warrant such retaliation as seems to be suggested in the news from Italy.

If the correspondent who writes a letter to The Times-Star under the heading "Wooden Ships," will send his name for publication the letter will be published.

PROFIT FROM TOURISTS

TOURISTS from the United States spent $190,000,000 in Canada last year. J. M. Warrill, chief engineer of the Canadian National Parks, told the Good Roads Association at Edmonton, the other day. The sum is more than five times the value of the output of all the gold mines of the country for the year, and is 62 per cent. greater than the output of all our metal mines. As the tourist business is good business, since it is all done on a cash basis, and the profits are immediate and beyond question, it would be the part of wisdom for Canada to do what she can to expand it. This can be done in two ways, by inducing more tourists to come and by inducing those who come to remain longer with us.

INCOME TAXATION

IF CANADA had no income tax! The effect would not be difficult to guess. It would speedily become the home of American millionaires. The wealth of Detroit would build castles in the Border Cities. The whole country would benefit by a widespread invasion which would increase the distribution of wealth here immeasurably. The gain to Federal and municipal treasuries indirectly would probably be much greater than the benefit now obtained from the income tax. Canada may not be able to wipe out the income tax, but reductions should be made whenever possible and double taxation should be stopped from the standpoint of policy and business.

TWO SORTS OF PEOPLE

THERE are two kinds of people who are dangerous in particular. One is the kind which, believing nothing in particular, can see no reason why anybody should change his views. That attitude expresses at best only a sort of feeble cynicism. And the other is the kind which, admitting no possibility that they are wrong, determine at all cost to bring others to their own point of view. That is at best only a sort of violent phthiasis.

EXACTLY

CANADIANS awaiting an answer to the question whether or not shipment of Alberta coal to Ontario is commercially feasible have one satisfaction. They can rest assured that the coal resources of the western provinces are not likely soon to be exhausted.

How City Manager Plan Worked In Cleveland, O.

THE TIMES-STAR last evening published a resume of the experience of Layton, Ohio, under the city manager system. There is presented here with a summary of a paper, delivered before the Convention of the Ontario Municipal Association, by His Honor John D. Marshall, Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, outlining the operation of the same scheme in his city.

After reviewing the conditions which prevailed up to 1921, when the Federal form of Government was abandoned and the city manager plan substituted, Mayor Marshall describes the process of election under the new regime.

"The manager plan provides for 25 councilmen elected in four districts, districts one and four electing seven councilmen each, district two, six councilmen, and district three, five councilmen. These divisions were made originally on the basis of approximate population. The charter provides for a revision of the districts at stated intervals to correct population changes.

"Nomination for councilman is by petition. Each candidate must secure the names of 800 electors of the district in which he proposes to run. Each elector may sign only one petition for councilman, but, if an elector should sign more than one petition, the one so signed will be counted. Each petition carries places for the residence and date of signing which is marked down by the signer.

"The voter selects the councilman in his district by proportional representation. Each voter indicates an order of choice with figures after the name of the candidate in the number as he may see fit. If there are 40 candidates, he may mark 40 orders of choice, or, he may content himself with only one number. If a candidate has more than 250 surplus ballots are distributed, because that group is entitled to more representation than one councilman. After all surplus ballots are distributed, the low candidates are eliminated in order and their choice counted for the remaining candidates, and this process is continued until all 25 councilmen are elected. The proportion of the city manager is elected to the system of proportional representation as they do to the manager form of government."

"The government in power for a number of years has been the subject of constant criticism by several of the city's leading newspapers and there are many who believe the manager plan was leaving the Maritime Provinces during the same period we will be more fortunate than for some time past. Nevertheless we need the new settlers, for if there were a constant movement outward and none inward the process of reforestation would not call for any official help. We are hoping that legislation based on the Duncan report will do more for us next winter than the arrival of many hundreds of families from the other side of the Atlantic."

odd shapes and so rapidly you are forced to laugh. They are about the size of racoons, with ringed tails that are quite long. Their black feet have bear-like claws. Their ears are short and round. As to food, anything sweet in the fruit line is relished by Coati Mundi; even custard pie goes down with a rush. Prunes also make a great hit with this animal.

When it comes to identification the Coati is an American platinigrade carnivorous quadruped. Rather hard to get all that down, so let us stick to "snookum bears."

Poems I Love

"Cor Cordium," By Fiona Macleod. HERE is a powerful love-poem, direct, uncontaminated, superbly wrought. William Sharp and Fiona Macleod were one and the same person. There are few such cases of a dual literary personality. The poetry written under the pseudonym is totally different from that which Sharp wrote under his own name; and it is interesting for the student of literature to look into the two phases of this writer.

"A man who had heard this story was so amused by it that he deliberately went without an overcoat in the hope that somebody would address the same remark to him. Nobody did—and he caught pneumonia. When on the verge of death he was heard to mutter, in his sleep, 'You never wear an overcoat.'"

Strikes and The Public

(London Observer) THERE is a deep change in the public attitude towards strikes of all kinds. Arbitration on the Australian model is said to have caused vastly more mischief than it has ever settled; but that model is not the last word, and something must be done to stop the obsolete barbarism of these mutually destructive conflicts and to prevent both sides from "devastating our departments" at the expense of the ordinary citizen. Owners and workers have no right to wage hostilities as they please on national territory and to inflict on the neutral interests of the majority what injury they will. Public opinion decides in the long run, as even Mr. Cook has learned by now; and public opinion means to set its face sternly against arbitrary strikes against arbitrary war.

Marie Surprises School Girls Who Were Hiding to See Her

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 5.—"I like to talk to women," said Queen Marie of Rumania; and women anxiously like to look at a Story-Book Queen who satisfies all the picturesque possibilities.

Women's Canadian Club, in black relieved by gold, made a dignified hostess. In the corridor, during the long wait before Royalty arrived, some of those who had to appear on the stage could be seen practicing courtesies.

FULL OF FUN. Full of fun, too, as she showed when she visited "Wymilwood," and the Co-Eds, banished, pulled aside the net curtain to peep. She instantly divined the situation. Straight on toward the main door she went, a little smile tagging at the corners of her lips, and just as the co-eds, thinking she was out of range, pulled the net a little further back, Queen Marie swung round, grasped the handle of the door and opened it, disclosing the galaxy of astounded girls.

Why the Old Proverb, "It is Better to be an Old Man's Darling Than a Young Man's Slave," is All Wrong—Foolish Mother Who Nags Her Normal Boy—How Can Miss Sixteen Live a Life of Thrills?

DEAR MISS DIX—Is it "better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave"? And how about the two rules: "Look before you leap" and "Hesitate and you are lost"?

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: If you undertake to regulate your life by ancient saws and maxims you will certainly have a scrambled existence, for you will find that they contradict each other at every turn.

Spurred into action by the admonition, "A setting hen grows no fatter," you will be slowed down by the warning, "A rolling stone gathers no moss." And so on. And there you are, with a signpost pointing either way.

One proverb is quite as true as another, but which one it is to take as a slogan no one knows. Sometimes it is profitable to look before you leap and other times it is fatal.

Sometimes the adventurer who goes forth to seek his fortune returns with bags of gold and sometimes he comes back a hobo.

But of all the misleading proverbs in the world, there is none that is so false as the one that asserts: "It is better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave." It has been one of the maxims with which many an ambitious mother has sought to preach down a daughter's heart when she was trying to induce a girl to give up the poor young chap she loved for some fat, old widower with a good bank account.

The teaching of the proverb is false from beginning to end. Its inference is that the girl who marries an old man will be pampered and petted who will be indulged in every way, whose life will be soft and easy and who will know no law but her own sweet will, whereas if she marries a young man she will be poor and have to work and struggle to get along, and her husband will be tyrannical and exacting.

Exactly the reverse of this is true. There is no tyranny in the world so oppressive as the tyranny of the old. There are no people in the world so set in their ways as the old and so determined to make everybody adopt them to their way. Their comfort, their ease, the gratification of all their little whims and desires, becomes an obsession with the old, and they ruthlessly sacrifice the young to it.

The young are willing to give and take. Their characters are pliable and they can adjust themselves to those they marry. Their viewpoint is changing continually, so that they can see things from another angle than their own. But the old cannot and will not do this, and so an old man, and especially a rich, old man, makes the most intolerant of husbands.

The girl who marries an old man sells herself into slavery, she may feel that she makes a good enough bargain, but she need not delude herself with the belief that it is going to be an easy one. In the contrary, she will earn every penny she gets, over and over again, in boredom in the long hours in which she will have to bear an enforced company while he nurses his rheumatism by the fire, or having to give up all of her own tastes and inclinations to his in her endurance of his querulousness and senile rages; in his aloofness and suspicious and in the years and stillness as she listens to his hundred-times-told tale.

Compared to that, anything she has to endure with the young man she loves is mere child's play.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I have three children, and I have tried in every way to be a good mother to them. The two little girls give me no trouble, but I am perfectly desperate about my boy. I have tried talking to him and reasoning with him and punishing him. Even when I whip him, he does the same thing over again the next day, and when I send him to bed he worries the life out of me crying and getting up in the middle of the night. He is 10 years old and a most lovable little fellow, but every day he gets into trouble about something. For instance, we just can't keep him from getting his feet wet. I have cautioned him a million times, and yet he can't see water without wading through it.

My boy's conduct is breaking my heart. I cry by the hour and am aching fast. What would you suggest?

MRS. S.

ANSWER: My suggestion is that you try to use a little common sense in dealing with this child before you ruin him, which you are in a fair way of doing. There is nothing the matter with him except that he is just a normal boy, and you evidently have no knowledge of boy nature.

For goodness sake, buy "Huckleberry Finn" and "Penrod" and a lot of other boy books and read them and see if you can't get some inkling of boy psychology. And what sort of husband have you got, Mrs. S., that he doesn't take his little son's part and try to make you see that you are worrying yourself into nervous prostration and probably warping the boy's character by your foolishness? Wasn't he ever a boy himself? Has he forgotten his boyhood?

If your 10-year-old son didn't get his feet wet every day; if he always remembered to walk sedately along on the sidewalk pavement on the sunny side of the street and not soil his nice new boots; if he didn't get into mischief continually; if he wasn't destructive and messy and dirty and greedy; if he didn't have his pockets stuffed full of worthless junk; if he wasn't a human dynamo, who would have something to cry about, for he would be a horrid little prig, who would grow up into a sissy man who wouldn't be world killing.

Teach your boy to be brave and honest and truthful. Breed courage and honor into him. Teach him to be kind and considerate of others and then let him be. Don't worry too much about keeping clean or budger him about wetting his feet. Have enough sense yourself to turn a blind eye on most of his faults, and he will outgrow them.

What boys need is love and sympathy and understanding and a sense of humor in their parents. Give them that and they grow up into being the kind of men that are a crown of honor to their fathers and mothers.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am 16 years old and I have everything a young girl could wish—loving parents, money, a beautiful home, pretty clothes, good looks and friends, but I am unhappy. I am always longing for something. I do not know what it is, but I have an unquenchable desire for excitement, thrills, anything but this dull monotony. I want to live a life that is bubbling with excitement and adventure. Where can I get this life of excitement?

PEGGY

ANSWER: You are suffering from growing pains, Peggy. All young girls pine after the whatness-of-the-what and dream of a life that is all thrills. They think they would like to be prima donnas, with the world at their feet, movie queens, or even famous criminals, but you will get over that and find out that just plain, everyday living is about all you can manage.

There is no life that is all thrills. There are years and years and years of hard, grinding, monotonous work and self-denial behind that one minute in which an actress stands in the spotlight and receives her ovation of applause. And even dynamiting safes and doing stunts on an airplane become commonplace when you do them every day as a profession and not an adventure.

If you really want to get a kick out of life, Peggy, quit thinking about thrills and adventure and set yourself to some plan of life that will make you of real use to your fellow creatures.

Found! A Perfect Baby

BEHIND THE SCREEN

By DAN THOMAS
CLARA BOW, red-headed queen of screen flappers, has a rival.

This rival flapper will soon be seen flapping for First National, with whom she recently signed a contract. From some angles Alice White looks every bit like Clara's twin. She has even dyed her blond hair red—not quite as flaming as Clara's, but still similar enough to photograph very much the same.

COG IN STUDIO MACHINE | Alice spent three years as a script girl and no one paid much attention to her beauty. She just seemed to belong there. She was just an important cog in the machine that grinds out hundreds of feet of film daily. Perhaps, too, her horn-rimmed spectacles had something to do with concealing her pretty features and flashing eyes.

TESTS, TESTS, TESTS! "And all I've been doing ever since is making more tests," Alice complains. "They haven't even an idea for me in the way of a picture. It's just tests, tests, tests—blond wig, brunet wig, straight hair and long hair. Oh, I'm so tired of it all I could scream every time they mention another test."

Alice White is another example of the Hollywood high girls who have made good. She came to Hollywood to live following the death of her mother, known on the vaudeville stage as "Marion White."

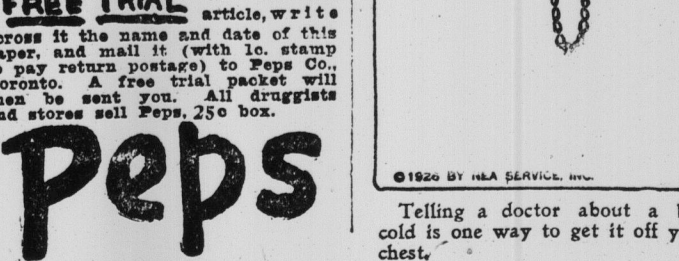

John McCormack, general manager of First National's west studios, is considering her now for the feminine lead in Dick Barthelemy's next picture.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles. Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and healing commences.

Telling a doctor about a bad cold is one way to get it off your chest.

Atlantic City can have its Miss America, and Philadelphia can have its Jack Dempsey; Detroit has a champion all its own, a better man than all of 'em.

This champion is Master Leonard Edwin Johnson, Jr., aged 13 months, officially adjudged the most robust, healthy, pink-checked and up-and-coming baby in all Michigan.

He is 100 per cent perfect physical—the first and only baby in the state to attain that mark. And his father, a general young plumber, is so elated that he goes about forgetting his tools and hawking out his helpers with careless abandon.

Young Leonard Edwin won his prize at the Michigan state fair. His mother, who is 24, explains his splendid development with the simple remark that he is a "common sense baby."

He was born a healthy baby, so he had a good start from the outset. He goes to bed at 6 o'clock every night, and we do not hear from him again until 6 the next morning," she says. "No matter how much company we may have we never disturb him or allow others to do so."

"In cold weather, when he can't be outdoors so much, I feed him cod liver oil, and he likes it. He never gets anything to eat between meals, and he sleeps about two hours each day, nap each morning and afternoon."

"The only exercise he gets is in his little red kiddie car."

So much for Edwin.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS.

You know the wonders men have done in every land and time, you see their cities in the sun, great peaks and towers that climb. You see the imprint of their toil that changes Nature's face, you find their lough within the soil, through hills their way you trace. Till, awed by all this splendid past, the great, unwritten tale, you cringe at thought of deeds so vast, you falter and you fall. But push such craven thoughts away, for fear he not possessed, for Earth has called for you today; give it, today, your best! Forget what any other man has dreamed and dared to do; remember only that the plan has need, this hour, of you. Let not the great who lived and died obstruct your onward way; for you this task was set aside, forget it not, today!

Sea-Sawing On Broadway

MANHATTAN, despite its size and its much vaunted greatness depends on good, old-fashioned country circus stunts to attract attention.

Thus the steam calliope—that time-honored trailer of the Main street parade—goes about the highways of this city on a most amusing playing jazz tunes as it goes and carrying banners announcing everything from motor oil to a nickel dance.

Thus, too, when an advertiser desires to attract attention on Broadway, he goes back to the methods of the old Mardi Gras and sends out a "handicraft man" on high stilts—a hand-over from the summer carnivals at Coney Island. The still-walker blocks traffic by the simple trick of sitting on a motor, some such sign as "our future voters are for Sigmund Blots for senator." Shades of Grover Cleveland!

I saw at least a thousand persons blocked near Times Square the other night to watch this fellow, although his stunts were but slight variations on the stilled-down who cavorted about during county fair week in Lindy City, Mich., when I was a kid.

JUST now the electioneers depend on similarly antiquated devices, no longer referred to as bootleggers—got a call the other day to deliver a case of liquor to a movie magnate in the hotel occupied by a certain visiting queen.

Arriving there he found every door guarded by police.

Strumped as to what move to make, he went to a nearby store and bought a shiny valise and a silk hat. At a second-hand store he bought a couple of ancient war medals.

Then he walked right up and, to his amazement, three of the officers saluted him.

"I am sure must have looked like the Duke of Kakyak," he told me afterward.

Any of which would be a better story if I could print a photograph of the gent in question.

RAYMOND HATTON

Raymond Hatton is ever searching for early Colonial antiques.

Through many years of wandering up and down the Eastern coast of the United States the Paramount featured player has gathered more than four hundred pieces of American antiques of a remote vintage.

Several of the pieces of old pewter are said to have been owned by President Jefferson, although this fact can never be fully verified.

In company with Mrs. Hatton, also an ardent antique hunter, he recently made a special trip across the continent to old Salem, Massachusetts, for the sole purpose of unearthing new treasures to be added to their collection.

Grilled Mutton with Tomato Sauce—Two slices of mutton about an inch in thickness, cut from the leg. Make a marinade of two teaspoons of salad oil, one dessertspoon vinegar, one small chopped onion, a pinch of herbs, one spoon of salt and a dash of pepper.

Put the meat in a dish, pour over it the marinade, let stand for two hours, basting occasionally. Remove the meat, dry well and grill over a clear fire for about 15 minutes.

Place the meat on a hot dish and arrange pieces of sliced potatoes around it. Have a large cup of tomato sauce ready to serve in a sauce boat. This dish may be varied by serving it with mushroom sauce and baked tomatoes, or baked or stewed mushrooms and brown sauce.

Russian Sandwich—Beginning at the top of this sandwich, which is built up in lower form—one in reality partakes of a miniature full course dinner from fruit cocktail to dessert.

Cut six thin round slices bread, diminishing in size from four inches across to one and one-half inches across. The largest slice is, of course, used as the bottom layer of the sandwich—and is spread with jam. On top of the jam layer place the next smallest piece of bread spread with cream cheese. Next comes a buttered slice, followed by a layer of chicken or lettuce and mayonnaise. The fourth piece of bread has a slice of tomato and the fifth a slice of cucumber—each buttered and having lettuce and dressing. The one and one-half inch round, then add a tiny piece of fruit and top with a stuffed olive. (The layers are held together by toothpicks.) Place the finished sandwich on a lettuce leaf.

Treat Cancer Early

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN.

AT PRESENT there is no treatment for tumor of the breast, except early diagnosis and prompt surgical removal. The average person who discovers a lump is likely to delay.

Dr. William F. Wild points out, in most of the instances recorded by the American Society for the Control of Cancer, the woman who first discovered the lump asked the advice of her mother or another relative, who likewise examined it, and then consulted neighbors and friends, all of whom told her something that she already knew, namely, that she had a lump.

TOUCH IRRITATES IT.

Cancer is a disease which tends to become worse on irritation and manipulation. Repeated attempts to press upon or feel the lump in the breast, unless done by a physician in the course of a diagnosis, serve only to irritate them and perhaps to spread the disease.

When a woman discovers a lump in the breast she should go at once to the best possible physician, one in whom she has implicit confidence, and should allow his decision.

As Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood has indicated, the woman should not wait for a secondary symptom of pain before seeking medical advice, and if pain is the first sensation in the breast, she should not necessarily wait for the appearance of a lump. Another symptom is an unusual discharge from the breast which is the result of inflammation.

NO PREVENTIVE MEDICINE.

There is no preventive medicine for cancer that can be used either internally or externally, and there is not the slightest evidence that any serum has been developed of virtue in controlling the disease.

Today many surgeons report more than 75 per cent of patients operated on have lived for more than five years following operation without any recurrence of the disease. Cancers in their early stages are recognized and may be completely removed. In the later stages they may have spread deeply and involve other parts of the body, so that successful operation becomes impossible.

COMMUNITY De Luxe Stainless Knives. Keen as Carving Knives With Blades that Gleam Like Polished Silver. COMMUNITY PLATE WEEK IN SAINT JOHN—Last Day. DINNER KNIVES have always been a problem to the housewife who likes her table to be above reproach. If she bought plated knives they looked "nice enough" but would not cut and could not be sharpened. If she bought stainless steel knives for their sharpness, she found that the dull grey of the steel blades "looked ugly" by contrast with the gleaming beauty of the other table pieces. What was she to do? The perfect knife had not yet been invented. But Community craftsmen were working on this very problem. They discovered the perfect knife—COMMUNITY DE LUXE STAINLESS, with blades that gleam like polished silver, keen as carving knives and even more immune to rust, stains and tarnish than ordinary stainless. And they never lose their wondrous brilliance. The silver finish is part of the steel itself. And so knives have become the most beautiful pieces of the table service—the least bothersome to keep gleamingly lovely. Drop in and see COMMUNITY DE LUXE STAINLESS KNIVES. You will find them an irresistible inducement to modernize your table service. On View at all The Better Shops. FREE! Ask for your copy of the "Bride and Hostess Book" on the art of entertaining. AUTO ON WAY TO CITY STRUCK BY EXPRESS TRAIN

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cook Injured in Accident at Hampton

HAMPTON, Nov. 4.—A near fatality took place here about five o'clock when an automobile driven by R. H. Cook, with Mrs. Cook a passenger, en route from Moncton to West Saint John, was struck by the westbound express at the crossing near the railway station, and hurled many feet and turned on its side by the force of the impact. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were considerably bruised and shaken up by the accident, the former receiving severe cuts from broken glass, but were otherwise unhurt.

FAILED TO SEE TRAIN. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Cook were driving to Saint John with some small articles of their household goods in the back of the car, which was a touring type with the side curtains on, and as they approached the crossing were unable to see the approaching train or hear the sound of the warning bell. Both front wheels of the car were on the track when struck by the oncoming locomotive which caught the car and whirled it about, smashing both wheels and upsetting the vehicle. The train was brought to an immediate standstill and examination of the wreck made. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were extricated from the debris, miraculously unhurt, except as previously noted. They were taken into the home of Mr. Ross nearby and Dr. F. H. Wetmore was called in attendance. Tonight their condition is stated as satisfactory.

"Joke" Will of Toronto Man Benefits Raney, Rowell and Ben Spence

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—A "joke" will, leaving brewery stock to Methodist ministers, Ontario Jockey Club shares to proponents of horse racing and providing that the proceeds of the estate after nine years to be given to the parents of the largest family born in the province during that time, is reported by both local evening papers, the Star, and the Telegram, to have been left by Charles Vance Millar, well known Toronto lawyer and sportsman, who died last Saturday leaving an estate estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

The will is said to be dated 1921, and is believed by many of Mr. Millar's friends to have been intended only as a joke, and to be nullified by a later document. This is the belief generally held, but it is said Millar failed to make a later will as he stated to a few friends just before his death that he intended drawing one up shortly.

The value of the Ontario Jockey Club shares left to W. E. Raney, former Attorney-General of Ontario, Rev. Ben Spence, of the Presbyterian Union and R. W. Rowell, K.C., all opponents of horse racing, is said to be $25,000. The provision is made in the will that these beneficiaries must hold the shares for three years and draw dividends on them.

The bequest of O'Keefe Beverages stock to seven local Methodist ministers made by Mr. Miller is said to be worth $750,000. To keep the stock they must draw dividends on the shares and vote in the management of the company. A rider, said to be attached to this bequest, is reported as adding that it is made "to see whether their avare for money was greater than their principles."

Another bequest in the will is said to be one of $10,000 to a Roman Catholic priest to say masses for the soul of a prominent citizen, "who will need them wherever he is." A bequest of a like amount is said to have been made to a business rival as compensation for "getting the worst of a deal."

MEET TO PLAN FOR RAISING $28,000

Saint John Presbytery Supper Gathering Held at St. Andrew's Kirk

A supper gathering was held last night in the school room of St. Andrew's Kirk under the auspices of the committee of the St. John Presbytery which was appointed to consider the raising of the Presbytery's objective of $28,000 for the maintenance and extension fund of the church. There were about 60 present, including ministers and laymen who had been appointed to represent the various churches in the Presbytery. T. H. Sommerville, chairman of the committee, presided, and the ladies of St. Andrew's church provided an excellent repast. After the supper, addresses were given by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, chairman of the Presbytery; Rev. Hugh Miller, of St. David's church, who spoke of home missions, and Rev. R. G. Falton, who spoke on methods of work and congregational finances in relation to the local church and the missionary enterprise of the United Church of Canada.

A general and helpful discussion followed which was led by Rev. W. McN. Matthews, Rev. H. C. Rice and taken part in by many present. Many practical suggestions were advanced. The prevailing opinion was that all churches should adopt the weekly envelope system and every confidence was expressed in the willingness of the churches to reach the objective allotted to each congregation.

It was unanimously agreed to form a laymen's association and a committee was named to give effect to the proposition. The following were appointed: J. W. Flewelling, Alexander Wilson, J. R. Cameron, Fred Green, John Angvine and S. A. Kirk, with power to add to their number.

The gathering was enthusiastic and the meeting a great success.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Decision has been handed down by the Exchequer Court of Canada dismissing the petition of right of Theodore Vaillancourt, a former locomotive engineer of the Intercolonial Railway, who claimed from the King through the Intercolonial and the Canadian National Railways the sum of $13,630, alleging unjust and illegal dismissal. The case is of considerable interest to railroad people throughout Canada. In dismissing the petition Mr. Justice Audette found that insubordination and use of intoxicating liquors were proved and it was held to be a justifiable reason for dismissal.

BANK LOANS FOR COUNTY WORK ARE AUTHORIZED

Municipal Council Finance Committee Holds Special Session on Matter

The finance committee of the Municipal Council met yesterday afternoon in the Court House and made provision for an overdraft at the bank to pay the county institutions the full face of their 1926 warrants and to pay the interest on an issue of Lancaster bonds.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. R. W. Wigmore, warden, and Councillors William McCavour, J. E. O'Donnell, R. McLeod, and R. McAllister were present. The county secretary explained that enough money was on hand to pay the amounts granted to the various county institutions and it would be necessary to arrange an overdraft until the taxes had been paid in. The following resolution was then adopted:

Whereas, at a meeting of the Council of the Municipality of the City and County of Saint John, held in January, 1926, allotments were made for the maintenance of the Board of Health, the Boys' Industrial School, the Children's Aid Society of the City and County of Saint John, the General Public Hospital in the city of Saint John, the Saint John Municipal Home and the Saint John County Hospital; and Whereas until all the taxes assessed for are collected in 1926 in favor of the institutions above named there will not be sufficient money in the hands of the county treasurer to pay the several allotments so made for the said institutions.

Be it therefore resolved, that the county treasurer be and is hereby authorized to borrow from the Bank of Nova Scotia the difference between the amount of taxes collected and the said several allotments, and to pay such difference to the said institutions up to the face of the allotments so made.

Further resolved, that the difference between the taxes collected and the amount so borrowed and paid to the said several institutions be assessed for and included in warrants to be issued in their favor in the year 1927.

U. S. Consulate Reveals Big Gains in Commodity Sales to State

CAMPBELLTON, Nov. 4.—An increase of 300 per cent. in the export of agricultural commodities from this consular district to the United States for the quarter ending September, 1926, is revealed in a statement issued today by the United States consulate here.

The statement also covers the agencies at Bathurst, N. B., and Gaspe, Que.

According to the statement the increase is made up of potatoes, about 75 per cent. of which are grown and exported for seed purposes.

Other articles showing an increase this year for the quarter ending with September are fish and fish products, wood pulp, pulpwood and newsprint.

Lumber exports decreased a decrease, due largely to the increased manufacture of paper. These figures, however, do not reflect upon the export of pine or hardwoods. The latter item this year shows exports valued at $9,846, as against $3,847 for the same period of 1925. In wood pulp the increase in exports is approximately $120,000, while in pulpwood, the figures $242,802, are nearly double those of the third quarter of 1925.

Monthly Meeting Of Class Is Held

The class of practical Christianity which is affiliated with the Unitarian Students of the Charles Fillmore school, Kansas City, had their monthly business meeting at their hall, 81 Union street, last evening. Mrs. Edward B. Sprague, the president, opened the meeting with prayer and later brought some important matters before the class for their consideration.

Miss Alicia Heale, the secretary, read an interesting letter from her friend, Miss Georgie Hayward, of Asheville, North Carolina, telling about the work of the various Christian healing societies of that country. She also read letters from the secretaries of Ottawa, Victoria, B. C., and England, all of which sent greetings to the local centre.

Miss Helen Arnold, the treasurer, gave a satisfactory report, showing the centre to be on a splendid financial basis. The report of the literature committee was encouraging. Two generous budgets of literature for free distribution had been sent from Kansas City headquarters during the past month, it was said.

Picture Is Gift To Church In Sussex

SUSSEX, Nov. 4.—A very handsome oil painting, executed with great skill by Madame Mary Byrne, formerly of Sussex, has been presented to St. Francis Xavier church, here, by the Byrne family, and is the subject of much favorable comment. The subject of the painting is "The Sacred Heart," with the graceful pose of Our Saviour brought out in beautiful coloring with the sacred heart predominating.

A STRANGER FROM THE SEA

This unidentified ocean monster came too close to the United States liner Republic during a storm and was washed aboard, smashing the ship's rail. It weighed 600 pounds. Seamen were unable to name its species though they were sure it was not of the whale family. Passengers called it a "Whastli," which serves as well as anything.

Export Markets For the Maritimes

BY SIR ROBERT FALCONER IN WILLISONS MONTHLY

While we are discussing Maritime Rights, the position of basic eastern iron and steel industries, the establishment of a general westbound differential in freight rates on products of the Maritime Provinces, there is danger that we may lose sight of the commercial policy that in itself would do much to revitalize the Maritimes—the development of export trade with the British West Indies. We do not seem to realize that they are practically at our doors. This realization has come to the United States, which, finding them even a little closer, has been active in trade exploitation, notably in Jamaica, and has extended its trade services to South America where American steamers have for years been plying up the Orinoco. It is time to challenge that activity, not with second-class, but with first-class freight and passenger boats, adequately equipped to carry tropical and semi-tropical products and speedy enough to compete with the best foreign bottoms.

It is true that development of such a service would mean a considerable annual outlay over a period of years, but it is to the interest of the whole Dominion that Maritime trade should be stimulated, and we do well to remember the services of the Atlantic liner to Confederation and the legitimate debt Canada owes to its eastern seaboard.

A NATURAL MARKET

The British West Indies are a natural outlet for the agricultural and industrial products of our East, just as the Dominion is a natural customer for the sugar, molasses, cocoa, coffee, bananas, grapes, fruit, and spices of the West Indies. Few of us appreciate the marked expansion of these British islands. Forty years ago, their population was comparatively small and their economic status low. Today, the population of the British West Indies and British Guiana is nearly 2,500,000. The latter alone is three times the size of Nova Scotia; indeed, its area of 60,000 square miles is larger than that of all the Maritimes put together. Cultivation is confined to its shore-line at present, but diamonds have recently been discovered, there is talk of gold, and no one knows its future. We should not miss our opportunity. The West Indies may in time become a federation. If so, they will have joint trade relations, and Canada should be in a position to benefit from united action. A vigorous trade development policy, wisely conducted, would give us not only valuable West Indian markets, but South American markets are just beyond for our cultivation. We have our fish, butter, agricultural produce, and manufacturers to exchange for tropical and semi-tropical products. They are even growing cotton in the West Indies now.

FRIENDLY TO CANADA

Fifteen years ago, Canada by its preference on raw sugar did much for the West Indies. The friendly spirit which has persisted. There is no doubt that there is a native sentiment in favor of trading with the West Indies rather than with the United States. But the Americans have been quicker to realize market opportunities, and already we have allowed them to capture the Jamaican fruit trade. Even much of United States produce to the West Indies is of Canadian origin. These are conditions that should not exist, but to correct them we must have first-class lines of communication. Second-class steamers and communi-

MONCTON, Nov. 4.—That the total population in the Moncton school district had increased by over 800 people in the past year is shown in the school census report for 1926, presented to the Board of School Trustees by Compulsory Officer Cecil B. Burden at the board's meeting last evening. The 1926 population is shown as 19,098, while that in 1925 was 18,244.

FRENCH LANGUAGE IMPERIAL ASSET

Quebec Agent-General Says It Saved Canada For Britain in 1777

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 5.—The French language in Canada is an imperial asset, declared L. J. Lemieux, agent-general for Quebec in Great Britain in an article in "Quebec," a monthly journal issued from the London office of the French-Canadian provinces. The article reads as follows: "When England guaranteed, first by the Act of Capitulation of Quebec, then by the Treaty of 1763, to respect the laws, religion and language of her new subjects, little was it suspected that a short 10 years later that guarantee would keep Canada under the British flag. So it was to be.

"French-Canadians in 1777 would not heed the Americans' eager entreaties to join hands with them against England, because they sensed that, for one thing, their language would not be safe under the American flag. For that reason, and because they trusted the King's word, they fought successfully to maintain the British connection. Had they not sided with England, there would not have been left an acre of land in North America under the Union Jack to welcome the United Empire Loyalists.

"This was probably the first time in history that the language of France safeguarded important British interests. It was not to be the last and only one.

RALLIES QUEBEC

"It rallied the people of Quebec to the defence of the flag in 1812, when Deschamps and his French-Canadian volunteers destroyed the last American hopes at Chateaugay, and ended the invasion.

"It scotched the annexation movement of 1869, provoked by the repeal of the corn laws, a measure which in its incidence had half-ruined Canadian industry and commerce. This movement, if successful, would have made an end of the British rule in Canada. But the election of Mr. Chabot in Quebec against the annexationist candidate, gave the death-blow to that movement. The love of the men of Quebec for their mother tongue proved stronger than the spirit of gain which had inspired the annexationist. Once again, the British flag was saved by the 'Vox de Quebec, qui depuis trois siecles chante les beautés du pays Canadien, et qui s'attachent au verbe ethnique de vie, que lui confie la France.'"

ANALYSIS ORDERED OF CLOTHING SPOTS

Jury in Begley Inquest at Norton to Await Finding

NORTON, Nov. 4.—The inquest into the death of Leonard Begley, 19, of this village, who was found in an unconscious condition on the Norton Station platform on the morning of Oct. 29 and who died without regaining consciousness, was resumed here today before Coroner Dr. Gilchrist. A number of witnesses gave evidence this afternoon, including 5 C. N. R. trainmen who were on duty on the train that passed through Norton the night previous to the finding of the body. Each swore he saw no one on the platform of the station when his train passed but they did see a light in the poolroom near the station and a man standing in the poolroom.

J. Wisely Sproule, who runs the poolroom, swore that the lights were out and that the poolroom closed before the train passed.

The clothes that Begley wore on his last night alive were in court. There were large spots of grease on them and the court decided to have the grease analysed to see if it was ham grease or auto grease. The inquest was then adjourned until this has been done.

HONORED BY LEEDS

Surgeon Signs Civic Roll With Pen From Jack Hobbs

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 5.—Leeds has bestowed the freedom of the city upon seven of her distinguished citizens—Sir Berkeley Moynihan, Bt., the famous surgeon; Alderman C. P. Tetley, Sir William Middlebrook, ex-M.P., Mr. H. C. Emblen, Colonel Sir Edward Allen, Brotherton, Bt., J. R. Ford, and Alderman Charles Lupton. Alderman Tetley, Sir Berkeley Moynihan, Sir William Middlebrook, and Alderman Lupton are ex-Lord Mayors of the city.

The ceremony took place on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, when the roll of freemen given by the Lord Mayor, Sir Berkeley Moynihan mentioned that the gold fountain pen with which he had signed the roll of freemen was presented to him by Jack Hobbs, the English and Surrey batsman, Sir Berkeley mentioned that when Hobbs gave him the pen he declared, "You have had more to do with my cricket records than I have myself." Sir Berkeley Moynihan, it will be recalled, successfully operated on Hobbs at the time of the Leeds test match in 1921 for appendicitis. Hobbs gave the pen to Sir Berkeley in gratitude for saving his life.

Among the Thousands who Answered Were girls just entering womanhood who said, "After mother gave me the Vegetable Compound I could go to school every day"; working women who said, "It helps my painful periods and makes me fit to work";

wives and mothers who said, "We take the Vegetable Compound to relieve backache and weakness";

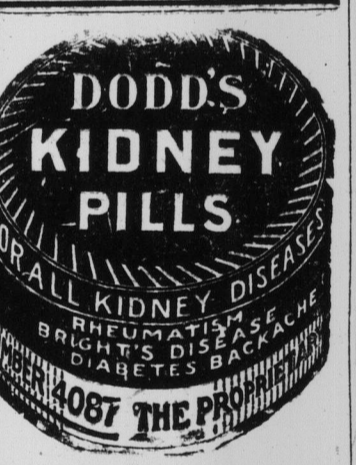

the new mother who said, "I depended on the Vegetable Compound before and after the baby came";

TEACHERS HOLD JOINT MEETING

Carleton-Victoria and York-Sunbury Members Gather

ABOUT four hundred school teachers of New Brunswick are meeting in annual Institute sessions during two days of this week, including about two hundred from York and Sunbury counties convening at Fredericton and a similar number from the counties of Carleton and Victoria meeting at Woodstock. The session commenced yesterday morning and are continuing through today. Dr. W. S. Carter, Superintendent of Education for the province, is in attendance at the Woodstock meeting, and it is expected that Dr. Trueman, president of Mount Allison University, will be in attendance before the session ends. Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, principal of the Provincial Normal School, is one of the principal speakers at the Fredericton sessions.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Nov. 4.—The Teachers' Institute for Carleton-Victoria met in the Fisher School here today, with an enrollment of upwards of 200. Dr. W. S. Carter, Chief Superintendent of Education for New Brunswick, is in attendance, and Dr. Trueman, president of Mount Allison University, Sackville, and Mrs. H. G. McLeod, of Fredericton, are expected today. The speakers at the morning session were Mr. Turner, principal of the Fisher School, who welcomed the visiting teachers and gave an interesting description of the Beaverbrook European trip, and Inspector L. A. Moore, who took as his subject, "Thoroughness in the Teaching." Dr. Carter gave the closing address.

MORNING SESSION
This morning's session opened with the singing of O Canada, after which Mr. Turner, principal of the Fisher school, extended a welcome to the visiting teachers and in his remarks expressed the appreciation of himself and the other teachers as well to the ability and worth of Inspector L. A. Moore. He then gave a very full and interesting description of the Lord Beaverbrook European trip, which he was privileged to take during the past summer.

INSPECTOR MOORE
He was followed by Mr. Moore, the inspector, who took as the subject of his address, "Thoroughness in the Teaching," and urged upon them the necessity of having a thorough knowledge of the course they had to teach. He advised physical training each day for a short period, the teaching of civics and current events and suggested that every teacher should have a time table and refer to it frequently. He then went into the details of the study of reading and meanings of words in the primary departments.

AFTERNOON SESSION
The second session of the Institute met at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A lesson in drawing was given by Miss D. D. Dowey, followed by a discussion taken part in by Inspector L. A. Moore, R. H. Chapman, S. C. Roy and Miss F. Brown. The Institute then enjoyed some community singing. They then divided into three sections, the advanced, intermediate and primary sections. The advanced section had C. H. Turner ner as president and W. O. Wetmore as secretary. A lesson was taught in grade ten literature by Miss Margaret Wallace. The intermediate section had R. H. Chapman as president and Miss Dorothy Stickney as secretary. Grade eight geography was the lesson taught by Ross Glenn. In the primary section Inspector L. A. Moore was the president and Miss Louise McDougall was secretary and the lesson taught was "A Half Hour With Grade Two," by Miss Clara Carson.

EVENING MEETING
A public meeting is being held tonight, at which addresses are to be given by Dr. Carter, Mrs. H. F. McLeod, of Fredericton and Mrs. Burdette Harmon, of Woodstock. This afternoon the members of the I. O. D. E. entertained Mrs. McLeod at afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Gordon Bailey. Mrs. McLeod will speak to them on the memorial work of the I. O. D. E.

HAS TEA AND SALE
Alexandra Temple of Honor Auxiliary held a brief business session yesterday afternoon in Temple Hall, Main street, and then adjourned to conduct a tea and sale. That event enjoyed large patronage and was a very delightful occasion. The tables were very pretty with yellow chrysanthemums as floral decoration and the color scheme carried out throughout the room was yellow and white. Home cooking was sold and an apron table was also among the attractions. Mrs. W. F. Roberts, the president, and Mrs. F. E. Flewelling presided over the tea.

OPEN SEASON FOR MOOSE AT HEIGHT ALONG SEABOARD

U.S. Huntsmen Conspicuous Among Crowds At Quarry

HALIFAX, Nov. 4.—The open season for moose is at its height in the Maritime Provinces and throughout the wooded areas can be heard the seductive cries of the "callers" and the popping of high powered rifles. War on moose was officially declared at daylight, October 1, but long before that the hunters had prepared themselves for battle and guides had led their gunmen into the forests from all points of the compass.

Conspicuous in the advance guard was the American Legion—the sharpshooters from across the border, and reinforcements have been steadily coming up. For weeks parties from the United States have been pouring into Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and scurrying a train or boat bound for Boston or New York has failed to carry one or more antlered heads to the point of posting a cow. One guide near Digby was tempted and it cost him $100 and costs and there have been others.

COWS PROTECTED.
No estimate is possible in mid-season of the number of moose taken by the hunters or the total likely to fall, but it will be many hundreds. The season lasts 40 days in Nova Scotia, and only bull moose may be shot, the antlered sex. Woe unto the huntsman who lets his enthusiasm carry him to the point of posting a cow. One guide near Digby was tempted and it cost him $100 and costs and there have been others.

MOOSE CHARGE AUTO.
Near McAdam, N. B., W. J. Pickering, a railway inspector, came across two bull moose as he motored along the main highway at night. He stepped his car to avoid hitting them, but they showed a great lack of appreciation by charging the car, and considerable damage was suffered before the motorist, putting his car again in motion, pushed them.

ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL.
Friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mabey, 62 Brydon street, will be pleased to know that their son, Ray, has sufficiently recovered from a recent operation performed in the General Public Hospital, to return to his home again.

Hostess At Theatre And Home Party

Miss Hilda Macleod was hostess at a theatre and Halloween party when she entertained friends enjoyably. After attending the second showing at the Imperial theatre the party returned to her home in Wentworth street where games were enjoyed and a Halloween supper was served. The prize winners at games were Miss Elizabeth Peat, Miss Nora MacQuarrie and Miss Jean Connell. The lucky prize was won by Miss Eleanor Peacock. The invited guests were Jean Colwell, Helen and Constance Belyea, Elizabeth Peat, Deborah Barbour, Nora MacQuarrie, Marjorie McPhail, Mary deWolfe, Mona Harper, Grace McIntyre, Eleanor Peacock and Roberta Currie.

Nowadays the hunters go in comfortable motor cars to within a mile or so of the kill and according to them, it is developing into a sport more suitable for women. A party from New York went into the woods in New Brunswick recently and in order to keep themselves informed of their fortunes on the stock exchange, carried along a portable radio by which they were enabled to follow the rise and fall of the markets without interruption.

Moose have been the targets of practically every sort of firearm that man has invented since bows and arrows were discarded. This year they were "shot" by the ubiquitous moving picture camera, this, however, proving the least of their worries. Dr. Joseph S. Seabury, of Boston, was in the New Brunswick woods armed with a camera but he had little luck and said he would return next June when there would be less competition. It was his sixteenth year in the New Brunswick forests and he reported deer more numerous than ever.

Fredericton hunters got three moose in three days. Two Truro men started out on a hunt and two hours later got a 380 pound moose back of a Belmont farmer's barn. B. C. Cruikshank, Halifax mortician, got a monster bull moose 20 yards from the trunk highway two miles from Halifax about one minute after the rising of the sun ushered in the open season.

DRUGGIST TELLS HOW TO END INDIGESTION
Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in Saint John Today

"It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well known druggist recently. "While all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just pepin pills which aid digestion of the food that is in the stomach at the present time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and of course do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics. When anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary Bisulphate Magnesia, which doesn't digest the food at all, but acts as an antacid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heartburn, sour flat, wind, bloating, fullness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help or trouble. I digest it the proper way. Yes, a lot of Bisulphate Magnesia is sold in Saint John. All the druggists have it, I suppose, and all you take is a teaspoonful or two tablets after every meal. It's all right."

DOUBLE KILLING STIRS LONDON

Death of Roscoe Brunner and Mrs. Brunner Is Reported

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Society and big business circles have been stirred by the killing of Roscoe Brunner, former chairman of Brunner, Mond & Company, Ltd., and his wife, which occurred Wednesday night, in a small cottage at Roehampton.

The tragedy is being made a sensation in the London newspapers, which do not hesitate to assume that Brunner shot his wife, then committed suicide. Greater attention is attracted to the affair because of the connection of Brunner, Mond & Company with the formation of the largest industrial combine ever arranged in Great Britain, amounting to in the neighborhood of $250,000,000.

When the editor reluctantly left his desk at his home Mrs. Brunner spread a newspaper before him and called his attention to the story of the merger. She asked sharply: "Have you noticed anything odd about that?" The editor replied that he knew all about that merger.

She said: "I don't see my husband's name. It is not there," Mrs. Brunner said.

She went on to say that her husband had built the Brunner-Mond business and dilated on his busy life work in it, how she had shared his work, choosing to dwell in the dreary industrial town of Norwich, when she might have luxuriated in Southern France.

It was evidently much upset about the changed business arrangement, although not excited and not hysterical. "I am not concerned," she declared, "only for my husband. I am not a Socialist, but I feel very deeply for our workers in Norwich. We have done our best to look after them and kept in personal touch with them. Under the merger they are certain to suffer. Combines are soulless."

New Girls' Branch Of W. A. Organized

A girls' branch of the W. A. was organized among the girls of St. Luke's church at a meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. Leonard Lingley, Douglas avenue. Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre, diocesan treasurer, assisted in the gathering and assisted in the organization. Mrs. John M. Hay, diocesan secretary, gave an address telling of the meaning of W. A. and outlining the activities. When organization was decided upon to charter members enrolled. Officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Margaret Britton; vice-presidents, Miss Bertha Williams; second, Miss Audrey Buckley; recording secretary, Miss Elsie Thompson; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Selby; treasurer, Miss Margaret Kincadee; diocesan secretary, Miss Helen Coulter; and E. C. D. treasurer, Miss Eileen Farris.

FIRST RETURNS

First returns of the Red Cross collecting boxes in the Saint John district are being made at the Provincial Red Cross office and of the few boxes that have already come to hand the contents have been found to be most gratifying. About 600 boxes were distributed in Saint John and more than twice that number went to provincial centres. It is hoped that substantial returns will be received as the returns of the boxes are relied upon to meet the requirements of the work for sick and disabled soldiers.

TRURO, N. S.—A new method of meeting the shortage of easily obtainable liquor was disclosed when Fred Hamilton, of Harmony road, was convicted of drunkenness. He pleaded guilty of drinking "canned heat."

MONTREAL, Que.—"This mad race for reducing is rapidly becoming an obsession and is a greater menace than is generally realized. In these words Mrs. Frank Laing quoted the president of the recent eighteenth biennial convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, when she addressed the American Women's Club of this city. A resolution favoring the adoption of a new adult weight chart, was a result of the president's attitude towards deliberate ways of acquiring slender lines, passed at this conference held in Atlantic City in June.

WINNIPEG, Man.—Construction work is progressing favorably on the Hudson Bay Railway, and road operations will be continued as long as weather conditions will permit. This winter, John Horton, representative of the On-to-the-Bay Association, declared on his return from a six-week trip to Port Nelson and the northland. New ties have been laid along the line right up to the end of steel, he said.

MONTREAL.—Two Austrian princesses and an Italian count were among the trans-Atlantic arrivals here Monday. Prince Ferdinand of Romania, who is proceeding to Winnipeg, where he plans to join two cousins on a tour of the Manitoba capital. His cousins are Count Palffy and Count Szapary, formerly of Hungary, who have been ranging in the west for some time. Prince Edward Joseph Lobkowitz, his brother, is going to New York.

KINGSTON, Ont.—The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws will be conferred on Lord Willington, Governor-General of the Dominion at a convocation of Queen's University, on November 12. Similar degrees will be conferred on Sir J. A. M. Alkins, of Winnipeg, and Sir Clifford Sifton, of Toronto.

CALGARY, Alta.—Thrashing in Alberta made good progress during the last week and there is every indication that the harvest will continue. If the weather holds for another week or 10 days thrashing will be practically completed. Much fall plowing is being done in some districts.

OTTAWA, Ont.—Representatives of the trainmen, yardmen and conductors of the C. N. R. and C. P. R. eastern lines met in Montreal Saturday to decide what action shall be taken in reply to the ruling of the special board of conciliation, which refused an increase to 15,000 Canadian railroad employees. Word to this effect was received by John Monroy, local general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

PORT HOPE — Mrs. Jeanette Scott, 1041 St. Mary St. She is a grand-aunt of F. W. Bowen, M. P. for Durham, and was born near Newtonville, Ontario.

MOUNT FOREST, Ont.—Mount Forest will hold an old boys' and old girls' reunion from July 31 to Aug. 4 next year. The Mayor was appointed president of the reunion committee at a public meeting of citizens, and in turn sub-committees were appointed to carry out plans for the reunion.

WINNIPEG, Man.—A claim recently advanced on behalf of a Winnipeg family to the aggregate family age championship of Canada has been challenged by W. P. Rodgers, local stock broker. The aggregate age of the Winnipeg family was 423 years. Mr. Rodgers, who claims the title for his family, all residents in Ontario, says the living members of his old-age entry book are a total of 429 years. All five of the family were born in Canada.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Fur traders here are not disturbed by reports circulating from Tokyo and other centres to the effect that the pelagic sealing treaty, which has been in force for 15 years, may be scrapped, thus opening unrestricted sealing operations in the North Pacific. The demand for genuine sealskins is not what it used to be according to these traders, who point out that muskrat and other fur-bearing animals have produced such a popular substitute that the "real thing" is in some respects a glut on the market.

Belief In Witchcraft Persists In Germany

LEIPZIG, Germany, Nov. 5.—Belief in witchcraft and sorcery still persists in some parts of rural Germany. A wave of the old superstition has been sweeping the little hamlet of Wreckerode, near Gausersheim, and while there have been no burnings at the stake, life has been made miserable for several unfortunate suspects, both men and women. An automobile was wrecked near the house of a supposed witch, and it was excitedly charged that the witch had caused the accident by expectorating on the roadway just before the car passed. When a young girl was taken ill it was averred she had been bewitched, and she was shut in a dark room for three days, while incantations were chanted periodically to exorcise the evil spirits. Outside the house door armed men stationed themselves with the hope of catching the evil ones, but it is not recorded that any were caught.

ADMISSION APPROVED

Approval of the admission of two female patients to the Home for Incurables was given at the meeting of the directors of the home held yesterday afternoon with W. R. Turnbull, the president, in the chair. There is only one vacancy in the home at present and that is for a male patient in the semi-private section. Routine matters were dealt with and reports were entirely satisfactory.

OPPOSITION TO BE DESTROYED

Mussolini Hints at Drastic Measures for Reprisals

ROME, Nov. 4.—Within 24 hours the machinery of the Fascist regime will be set in motion to destroy every trace of organized opposition against Mussolini and to proscribe every individual suspected of antagonism to him.

Mussolini, by one succinct phrase from the balcony of Chigi Palace this morning after the solemnly impressive observance of the eighth anniversary of the victory over Austria, electrified the Italian nation into realization that it is on the eve of one of the most momentous decisions in Fascist history.

"Tomorrow," said the Premier, "we will have the acts you have been waiting for."

His cryptic phrase is interpreted as meaning that before another day sets, the demand for swift punishment—the supreme penalty—of those implicated in attack against his life, a demand which has been sweeping through the country since the attempt to kill him at Bologna, will bear some tangible fruit.

EYE-FOR-EYE INSPIRATION

The Premier's real intentions have not been divulged officially, but Fascist circles are convinced that they are inspired by the Biblical "eye for eye" and that they will heed the popular appeal to take every step humanly possible to assist the man whom Fascists regard as sacred.

It is considered almost certain that three measures will be confirmed: First, that the recently approved death penalty for attempts against the life of the Premier or members of the Royal Family shall be made retroactive. This would affect the former Socialist Deputy, Zaniboni, and his alleged accomplice, General Capello, convicted of the assassination attempt against Mussolini, Gino Lucelli, who hurled a bomb at him, and perhaps the English woman, Elizabeth, who later declared demented, who shot him in the face.

GALLI-CURCI SINGS CANADA'S PRAISES

Opera Star Delighted With Audiences on Trip in Canadian West

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 5.—"Your Canadian audiences are wonderful. It is a delight to sing to them," said Madame Galluci-Curci. "Not only do they applaud at—shall I say—the fireworks—but they appreciate the really musical part of a simple song. And I am happy in singing, because I feel that they are happy. It is a singer's mission," she said, "to bring music to all, and not to the few. So often, Wiffrid drags Hubly along to the concert, when he really does not want to come at all, and then I notice a look of boredom on his face after a course of Schumann and Schubert, and so I sing 'Swany River'—and I watch—and he no longer looks unhappy. Here is something he knows, and understands. A smile creeps over his face. He is pleased, and so am I, for I must not sing for just a little number, but for many."

BIRMINGHAM PLANS NEW CIVIC CENTRE

Bids Invited From Architects All Over World For $5,000 Prize

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 5.—Birmingham is considering an immense scheme for establishing a general civic centre, for which plans are to be invited not only from this country but also from abroad. The area of the suggested scheme is about 600 yards, with the Hall of Memory—Birmingham's permanent memorial of the Great War—as the centre. On this space it is proposed to erect new municipal offices, a city hall capable of accommodating 5,000, and an official residence for the Lord Mayor. The assessor of designs will be H. V. Lancaster, and the successful competitor will receive £10,000, a similar sum to be distributed amongst non-successful entrants.

FOURTEEN CATTLE SHIPMENTS TO U. K.

Monthly Average Below That of Last Season — Fewer Animals Leave

Of fourteen cattle sailings from Canada to the United Kingdom during the present month, ten are scheduled to commence in Montreal. This number is slightly in excess of the monthly average for the present season, but is three below the monthly average for the same six months of last year.

Another shipment is to be made to Dundee this month, with the departure of the Salsburgh on November 20 and the Manchester relative novelty is the booking of cattle for Manchester, no animals having been taken to that port since July 8, when the Manchester sailed for that port. The Manchester Regiment, leaving on November 11, and the Manchester Corporation, scheduled to sail on November 18, have both got consignments of cattle booked for their eastern termini, Manchester.

Nov. 4.—Preparations are being made on the Atlantic coast for the handling of the winter movement of freight and passengers through the ports of Saint John and Halifax. It is expected to begin about November 23 with the official closing of the shipping season on the St. Lawrence.

SALE OF POPPIES

Arrangements Made For Armistice Day Distribution

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—The Dominion Command of the British Empire Service League has made arrangements with the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment for the manufacture and distribution in this year of the poppies for Armistice Day. All profits from the sale of Poppies are used for the relief and welfare of needy veterans and their dependents. Other organizations such as the I. O. O. F. E. Women's Institutes, etc., use the proceeds from the sale of Poppies and Wreaths for the same purpose. The poppies are manufactured in the Veteran shops of the D. S. C. R., by disabled veterans, who, by their light work, would find it difficult to obtain suitable employment in the labor market.

In October there were 8 shipments from Montreal, 4,662 cattle having been of the mob by disguising himself in a policeman's helmet and tunic.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE CORNER GROCERY AND OTHER STORES IN THE CITY OF SAINT JOHN

WHEN you go to the corner grocery to buy the day or the week's supply of groceries did it ever occur to you just how many people traded at that particular store?

The population of the city of Saint John is estimated at 60,000 roughly speaking, and in the city 245 grocery stores are listed. That means that every grocery store caters to 245 people to be exact. In other words for every grocery store in the city of Saint John 245 people support it. A partial list of the stores makes interesting reading and looks something like this: Grocery stores, 245; provision stores, 28; confectionery stores, 28; drug stores, 20; shoe stores, 24, and tobacco stores, 17.

For instance if the wife wants a couple of pounds of steak she has 28 stores to pick from and that means that the particular provision store she patronizes would in the ordinary course of events cater to 1,780 people, provided all got an equal share of the trade. But this does not always happen.

CONFECTIONERY STORES.

If daddy wants his sweetheart to bring along a box of chocolates he will find that he has 28 confectionery stores to choose from and that means that the particular confectionery store he patronizes would in the ordinary course of events cater to 1,780 people, provided all got an equal share of the trade. But this does not always happen.

If daddy wants some smoking tobacco he will find 17 such stores where he will be able to get his particular brand which amounts to one store for every 3,000 people roughly speaking. Taking it from another angle, it will not look so good. The average family consists of approximately six persons. Two hundred and four people support one grocery store and narrowed down, that means 34 families. For every grocery store in Saint John city, 34 families support it. The provision store is supported or kept in existence by the trade of 287 families who get their meat at their daily. Tobacco stores do not fare so well. Not every daddy indulges in smoking and it would not be going too far out of the way to say that only about 60 per cent do. In the ordinary course of figures it would look as if 500 daddies bought smokes, but looking at it from the percentage basis it would seem that every tobacco store is supported by about 300 men.

DRYGOODS STORES.

The drygoods stores, 20 in number, cater to an average of 2,500 people according to the figures. But everybody needs clothing and they perhaps in the long run do the most business. Everybody wears shoes and supposing that a person buys only one pair a year, it will mean a turnover of about 60,000 pairs of shoes. But that is a very low estimate of the average wear of a shoe, since some people wear two and three pairs in the course of twelve months. If one were to take all the other varieties of stores and sit down with a pencil for a short while some interesting statistics would be forthcoming.

Rovers Present Gift To David Redstone

The Rover Troop of Boy Scouts last night made the presentation of a handsome carving set to David Redstone, one of the number whose marriage took place a short while ago. The presentation was made by Rover Master Arthur Anglin, who spoke appreciatively of Mr. Redstone's work in the Rover Troop and hoped he would continue his interest in its activities. Mr. Redstone replied fittingly and warmly thanked the Rovers for their gift.

SPRINGHILL IS HIT BY FLOODS

Situation Grows More Serious as Seepage Continues

SPRINGHILL, Nov. 4.—The situation in No. 2 mine here continues serious with the water still rising, though not so much as last night, due largely to its having a larger surface to fill. Rails are being put down No. 3, the abandoned mine, to put pumps down to get out the water in an effort to check the flood from there into No. 2. From the time the water was first noticed in No. 2 until yesterday it had dropped 66 feet in No. 3.

Work has been stopped in No. 2 at the east and west 5,900 foot level, west 8,400 foot level and west 8,900 foot level, not so much on account of water but of fear that continued working of these sections might cause a "bump" which would allow a further inrush from No. 3.

Emergency meetings have been held by the company and by the employees.

DR. McKNIGHT The No-Pain DENTIST

A GOOD PORT FOR A STORM

When the motor of his biplane went dead over Boston, Sergeant Richard Cobb, Army pilot, displayed excellent judgment in his choice of a place to land. Helplessly diving 800 feet, Cobb not only alighted in the Charles River, but also close to Massachusetts General Hospital. However, neither he nor his passenger required the least medical attention. In the background is the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

to meet the situation regarding those thrown out of work, it being suggested that for the present those sections of No. 2 which are workable and Nos. 6 and 7 mines be three shifted. This will likely be done immediately.

ALBERTA TO APPEAL RAIL BOARD RULING

Objects to Allowing Rates to West Taken up With General Issue

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 4.—The Provincial Government will take an appeal to the Governor-General-in-Council against the recent decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners, that became of an equal division of opinion regarding alleged discriminatory rates on both eastbound and westbound grains in the northern parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the matter must be left to be taken up as a part of the general rates investigation.

Needless to say a gloom hangs over the whole community as this is the largest mine here, employing over half the men in town, and the future does not look overly bright. On Sunday afternoon a mass meeting will be held to consider what further can be done, which meeting ought to be interesting as many old and experienced miners are expected to express their opinions on the situation as regards the famous "bumps" and the water situation.

CAUSE OF BUMPS UNKNOWN

These "bumps" are known only in two mines in the world, one here and one in Virginia, and though several noted engineers and geologists have made a study of them, no one has yet found their cause. A United States government engineer named Brown has been here looking into the "bump" situation and the mining methods have been changed in the bad sections to the long wall method, which was instituted by H. M. Harrington, a mining engineer brought out from England for that purpose, and though it considerably reduced the danger in these bumps they still come at frequent intervals.

CAIRN DELIVERED TO CAMPBELLTON

Dr. J. C. Webster Hands Over Memorial of Battle of Restigouche

CAMPBELLTON, Nov. 4.—Before a capacity audience in the town hall, here, tonight, the cairn commemorating the Battle of the Restigouche, the last naval battle in Canadian waters and the final encounter in the Seven Years' War between the French and English royal supremacy in Canada, was formally delivered to the town of Campbellton by Dr. J. C. Webster, New Brunswick member of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. Mayor A. McE. McDonald accepted the historic cairn on behalf of the town and spoke briefly in fitting terms.

Following the ceremony Dr. Webster gave a most interesting lecture of stirring times in old Acadia. The speaker unfolded the romance of bygone days in a way that held his audience in rapt attention and the glamor and innuendo of many historic incidents were recalled with vividness. The lecture was illustrated by many ancient maps and remarkable reproductions of rare old prints.

The inscription on the cairn which stands in Riverside Park, here, is as follows: "In the spring of 1760 a small French squadron under Sir De La Giraudais, sent to the relief of Quebec, sought shelter in the Restigouche River. Here with the aid of shore batteries they bravely withstood an attack by a superior British squadron under command of Commodore The Hon. John Byron. 'Foul Weather Jack' from the 26th of June to 11th of July before they were completely defeated. This was the last naval battle of the Seven Years' War in North American waters."

Issued today, says that the government is not content to await the conclusion of the general rates investigation which may be long delayed, to have corrected what it claims is a plain case of discrimination. Instructions have therefore been issued for the appeal, the hearing of which will be asked for as early as possible.

U. N. B. Wins Western Title From Mt. A. With Free Kick

FREDERICTON, Nov. 4.—The University of New Brunswick won the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Rugby Football League beating Mount Allison 3-0, this afternoon. The score was a penalty goal to nil. The free kick was given U. N. B. a minute or two before half time, because a Mount Allison forward failed to let a U. N. B. man get off the ball after it was held. Chestnut took the kick from a good position and put it over.

In the second period Mount Allison was given two free kicks in positions as favorable, but each kick went wide and the U. N. B. fullback touched down.

HARD FOUGHT.

The game was the closest and hardest fought seen here in many a day. Mount Allison, although not displaying offensive power which could penetrate the Red and Black, fielded a strongly defensive team. Often the visitors got away on runs which looked good for tries, but the U. N. B. back division could cope with them. Late in the second half Goodspeed, the left wing for U. N. B. three-quarter, was collared by Stuart five yards off the Mount Allison line and lost the ball, which was recovered by Captain Bill Donohue, who in turn was stopped about six feet short of the line. That was about as near as the U. N. B. came to putting over a try.

WEATHER NOT GOOD.

The game was played under weather conditions none too favorable. There had been a drizzle of rain although the footing was good. The teams were very evenly matched and play went from end to end, sometimes very rapidly, furnishing many thrills.

The game was largely a battle of the two forward lines. The two packs were evenly matched, Mount Allison's scrum having a shade of the edge in the first half, while U. N. B.'s pack had somewhat the better of the argument in the second period. There was comparatively little open field running by the back divisions, but in that department Mount Allison outplayed the U. N. B.

GET AWAY FASTER.

The visitors' back got away faster, made their passes while on the dash without slackening their speed and varied their attack. Bud Wilson, back of the scrum making long, daring passes to get the ball out to the wings. One reason the U. N. B. backs did not get away better was that Mount Allison players successfully broke through and nailed them in their tracks before they had time to get started.

The play was so hard and rugged that there were frequent stops to give players opportunity to recover from injuries which stopped them temporarily. Every few minutes a player failed to come up after being tackled and play had to be stopped with the result that when the game was over both teams were pretty well battered up. In addition there were some fustiffs on the side lines.

On one occasion McLellan, one of the U. N. B. forwards, after a try, Cobb set and rushed into the crowd to take a solid poke at a rabid Mount Allison rooster who had been taunting him from what he believed was a point of safety. Others got into the melee. The lone police officer on the grounds was called, the crowd swarmed on the field and play was halted for about five minutes.

Mount Allison—Forwards, Thompson, Anderson, Matheson, Cluff, Morris, Hierlby, Cook; halves, Smith (Capt.), Lee, Wilson; three-quarters, Stuart, Lister, Miller, Rice; full-back: Heside.

University of N. B.—Forwards: Woods, McLellan, MacMurray, Dalzell, Macaulay, Fowler, Pettit; halves: Donohue (Capt.), Currie; Chestnut; three-quarters: Goodspeed, Steen, McNally, McCaffrey; full-back: Hickson. Referee—E. D. Cass. Fredrickton: Hickson and McNally interchanged for part of the second half.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Arrangements for an entertainment to be given about the middle of the month in aid of the funds of the society were made at the meeting of the Animal Rescue League held at the home of the president, Mrs. Mary Gribble. Tickets were distributed to the members and such other business was transacted. F. T. Short has kindly consented to present the entertainment and will be assisted by A. C. Smith, as soloist, and by other local talent. The serious need for more funds was the subject of discussion at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Long, who have recently moved to their new home on the subject of the above, were pleasantly surprised when friends from Charlotte street Baptist church, in the number of 25, assembled at their home and presented to them a beautiful walnut telephone table and chair, and presented to Mrs. A. Cripps, Mrs. Long's mother, a gold fountain pen. Mrs. Vernon Kerstead made the presentations. MISSING AUTO IS FOUND IN MONTREAL

Halifax Car, Which Passed Here, Located; Two Men Are Arrested

Last Sunday evening Chief of Police Smith received a telegram from Chief Palmer, of the Halifax force, that a Nash coach owned by Chris Mesther had been stolen from the front of the Acadia Hotel on the evening of Friday, October 29, and requesting that if located here the occupants be held as well as the car. A similar report was sent to the chief of police at Montreal.

The Montreal and Saint John officers went to work on the case immediately on being informed Sunday only to learn that the stolen car had passed safely towards the United States border. The Montreal chief of police reported that a car answering the description had been seen in Montreal on Saturday last, while the local detectives reported that the car must have passed through the city on Saturday night as the same car was seen at Lepreau on Sunday morning. They informed a resident there that they were traveling to St. Stephen and intended returning to Saint John. The next word that was received here was that the car had stopped at Salmonville, near Grand Falls. The two men who were in the car did not linger long at Salmonville and left soon after that date.

After receiving all this information the Halifax chief wired to the police in Montreal and Westville to retain and whether further alterations should be made in the local institution.

It was reported that owing to her advanced years, Mrs. Mary Seymour, who had been closely and accurately associated with the Women's Auxiliary for over 30 years, had fixed upon her withdrawal from the presidency of the Women's organization. She made a most cheerful reply and manifested a keen interest in what the institute was endeavoring to accomplish for visiting seamen.

It was announced that the formal opening of the institute would take place on the afternoon and evening of November 18, and that invitations would be issued to leading ladies and gentlemen of the city, including clergy members who were interested in the broad type of work that the Seamen's Mission Society was endeavoring to carry out.

Captain A. L. Hersey Visits Here For First Time in 40 Years

Captain A. L. Hersey, of the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, of Boston, Mass., is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. C. Beveridge, of Fairville. It is 40 years since he last visited Saint John and he notices many changes which have taken place and is especially pleased to see the many improvements. He specially remarked the new bridges over the Reversing Falls and recalled the old Suspension bridge which he knew.

It is 14 years since he last visited his sister and at that time Mrs. Beveridge was residing in Yarmouth, N.S. Accompanied by Mrs. Beveridge, he will leave on Saturday for Yarmouth where they will visit their brother, Captain L. W. Hersey, and their niece, Mrs. D. Miller.

Captain A. L. Hersey is a native of Yarmouth and 40 years ago he sailed on the packet which plied between Yarmouth and Saint John. In those days the old Suspension bridge was in course of construction. Later he sailed on the transportation company's ships out of Boston. During the last six to eight years he has been in command of vessels of the American Hawaiian Steamship fleet on the Pacific coast.

He visited the dry dock at East Saint John on Wednesday and was greatly enthused concerning its equipment and facilities.

After a visit of a few weeks in the Maritime Provinces he is returning to his ship on the Pacific route.

As Hiram Sees It

"You have told me all about Louis d'Amours' brother Mathias—that owned all the land from Jimsgat to Nashwaak, two hundred and forty years ago," says I to the Injun—well, as we seen some more crafty 'crossin' the patch of moonlight on Long Reach.

"Mathias," says he, "got his grant in 1684. Like Louis he hunted and traded with the Injuns—but done considerable farmin' and helped to build that fast sawmill. Old Governor Villebon made a lot of complaints about his doin' with the Injuns—not payin' no attention to what he was told—but Mathias didn't mind none. He said 'Villebon was wuss. When Hawthorne an' Church was comin' down river from Nashwaak they was so mad they stopped at his place opposite the mouth of the Oromocto an' burnt his house and barns. He was so mad they fended Fort Nashwaak at the time—an' never got the sold an' ex' an' be died. The Injuns arranged to lease all his property to another Frenchman—but it fell through where she was born. The first English settlers in Mougerville took up the land Mathias d'Amours had cleared. They went there in 1763."

FORMAL OPENING OF INSTITUTE SET FOR NOV. 18

Seamen's Mission Society Hears of Improvements to Building

The managing committee of the Seamen's Mission Society of the Port of Saint John have arranged for the formal opening of the institute for the coming season, and to endeavor to fix upon comforts and fitting entertainments for the officers and seamen who will attend the various meetings.

Those in attendance at last evening's service were: Rev. J. J. Ross, president of the N. B. division of the Navy League, who presided; Hon. F. D. Tilley, C.C., M.L.A.; D. W. Ledingham, agent of the Furness Withy Steamship Co.; R. E. Armstrong, president of the N. B. division of the Navy League; R. B. Buchanan, Mrs. Mary Seymour, the head of the Women's Auxiliary; H. J. Evans, treasurer; T. Fred Miller, the manager, and a member of the religious committee, and S. C. Webb, who was appointed secretary at the last annual meeting of the Mission.

COMMUNICATION RECEIVED

A communication was read from the British Empire Seamen's Society, expressing a warm interest in the activities of the Saint John Seamen's organization, and suggesting that a grant might be made in order to assist the local society in carrying on its work for visiting seamen.

The meeting adopted a motion thanking the British Empire Society for the kindly and broad feeling it had displayed towards the local institution. No special financial aid was determined upon.

A communication was also received from the Halifax Seamen's Institute, in which a statement was made of its seamen's regulations.

MANAGER'S REPORT

A report was submitted by the manager on the rules and regulations that were fixed upon for the Saint John Institute. Some changes and additions were made to previous regulations in order to add to the success of the institute and to endeavor to make it enjoyable for the seamen, as well as to impress upon them their duties.

It was decided to have these rules and regulations printed and posted up. It was reported that many improvements had been made within the institute by Manager Miller, particularly in the lavatory, in the sleeping berths and in the upper rooms of the hall, between the kitchen and the amusement hall adjoining. A general cleaning had been made of the entire interior, including the auditorium, and all other parts of the building.

TO MONTREAL

Manager Miller was given authority to immediately pay a visit to Montreal and to endeavor to ascertain whether further alterations should be made in the local institution.

HEIRS IN MEETING

A meeting of the heirs of Anneke Jaen Bergwas was held in Market building last night with an attendance of over 100. A general discussion on the advisability of raising funds to send a local attorney to New York to get additional information on the claims met with some success. A collection to defray the expenses of the attorney was taken up, but it was insufficient to meet the needs and a further meeting will be held within a short time to raise the necessary amount.
