King of Greeks Details The Story of Massacres

Men, Women and Children Accounts Sent Out Not so Bad as Warranted—In One Place of 3,500 Inhabitants Only 150 Are Left (Canadian Press) London, July 18.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says it is thought there that the Roumanian troops may enter Sofia on Friday.

Belgrade, July 18.—A semi-official report describes a battle near Rosllog on Thursday in which the Serbians were victorious. The Bulgarians lost heavily.

HERE IS THE STORY OF KING OF GREECE New York, July 18.—King Constantine of Greece, from his headquarters at Hadji Belik, near Seres, sends to the Associated Press detailed account of the atrocities of the Bulgarians in Macedonia.

The first city to be sacked was Nigrita. A large number of its people, who had remained at their homes after the events occurring in the Pangheon district were massacred by the retreating enemy, who did not fail to light the path of their flight by the flames of the city, to which they had applied the torch.

The precipitate flight of the peasants in the surrounding villages is the only reason why we have not a greater number of victims to deplore. On our left wing 700 Mussulmans of the environments of Kilkiah, a nest of Bulgarian atrocities, were found when the attack was renewed, to have had their eyes gouged out.

At Strumitza, fortunately, the enemy failed to kill only two of the persons imprisoned. But all these things are nothing compared with what happened at Dimchisar, Seres and Doxato, where everything was sacked by fire and sword.

Feared Scene at Seres The consul-general of Italy and Austria at Saloniki, who visited Seres for the purpose of establishing to what extent their people had suffered, have told us that the accounts published in the newspapers gave but a faint idea of the terrible reality.

At Dimchisar the exhumation of the mutilated bodies of the metropolitan and prominent citizens have convinced us that our enemy is not satisfied to pillage, burn, despoil and murder, but he rejoices in torturing his victims.

"Doxato is no longer anything but a pool of blood. Of its 8,000 inhabitants only 150 remain. A great number of the little villages along the route taken by the fleeing army were the scenes of like atrocities."

London, July 18.—The Bulgarian ex-premier, M. Guechoff, has started for Bucharest, according to the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Mail, to make terms to prevent the further advance of the Roumanian army.

MAY GET TO MEN HIGHER UP IN THE NEW YORK POLICE GRAFT SYSTEM

District Attorney Now Probing Confession Of Becker's Press Agent—Is Said To Supply the Missing Link

(Canadian Press) New York, July 18.—The police graft situation was brought to the front again today. Charles B. Pitt Jr., who was the so-called press agent of Charles Becker, a former police lieutenant, has submitted to District Attorney Whitman a five-page typewritten statement reported to be a confession of facts relating to the alliance between the police system and the underworld.

Mr. Whitman assigned one of his assistants to talk with Pitt, who is under indictment on a perjury charge, with a view to determining if Pitt's statement is worthy of grand jury investigation.

Pitt's "squeal" is reported to contain information, long sought by the prosecutor, that will enable Mr. Whitman to follow the graft trail to police headquarters. An inspector, a civilian attaché at headquarters, and several minor officials, are said to be mentioned in Pitt's statement. The statement is declared to tell also of alleged participation in graft by Becker, who is now under sentence of death at Sing Sing prison, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, a year ago.

THE HUSBAND MUST NOT MARRY

Unique Provision in Will Presented to Judge Armstrong For Probate Today

It not infrequently happens in probating a will that a husband, who has been named in the will as executor, is also named as beneficiary. In such a case, the executor is usually named as beneficiary of the residue of the estate, and the will is usually construed to mean that the executor is to take the residue of the estate after the payment of the debts and expenses of the estate.

But in the case of the will now being presented to Judge Armstrong for probate, the executor is named as beneficiary of the residue of the estate, and the will is construed to mean that the executor is to take the residue of the estate after the payment of the debts and expenses of the estate.

The will was that of Sarah A. Handren, wife of George A. Handren, a carpenter. The deceased, after giving to her property, gave the rest of her property unto her husband so long as he should remain single and unmarried, and to her children in equal shares.

The children are two sons, Roy F. and E. Ernest Handren, and one daughter, Ethel May Lindsay. She nominates her husband executor, and he was sworn in as such. The real estate on the northern side of City road, under lease, valued at $800, is to be mortgaged for $500; personal $250. Messrs. Pickett & Lewin are protectors.

BETTER INVESTIGATE AT ONCE—IS GOVERNMENT WORKING AGAINST US? Long Wharf Report Adds to Talk—Matter of C. P. R. Purchase or Leasing of Berth

A report to the effect that the C. P. R. had acquired Long Wharf from the government caused interest today, but it was generally discredited. Tradesmen here are interested in the port and its development could not believe possible that the I. C. R. would dispose of the port for water trade, yet year, even with the Ballast Wharf facilities, space for the steamers going there and their deep water moorings, with the wharf, would almost appear as though the government were favoring Halifax.

Coming Out Into the Open It was not so many years ago that advertising was considered unbecomingly from a business standpoint. Many of the finest old houses held aloof, saying that they didn't have to advertise. Even today there are some business and professional men so bound by custom and tradition that they have not yet availed themselves of the advantages of advertising.

The most successful way and the only honest way to deal with the public is to "play the game in the open." If there are true and interesting reasons why the public should buy something from So & So, then So & So should be glad of a chance to say so over and over again through the medium of reliable newspapers.

SIR RUFUS LORD CHIEF JUSTICE

London Paper Says Appointment Officially Announced

Recent reports in some American papers that Mr. Asquith would take the lord chief justiceship never had the slightest foundation. Sir Rufus Isaacs was slated for the post when Lord Alverstone fell ill and even when the Marconi campaign was at its height, the premier never hesitated in his intention of offering it to the attorney general, though the expediency of announcing it at such a time was debated.

Municipal Home Picnic

The annual picnic at the Municipal Home yesterday afternoon was a great success. Games and sports for the young folks served to provide general amusement. The two chaplains of the institution, Rev. A. J. O'Neil and Rev. Dr. Raymond, were present and both worked hard to add to the day's enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Woods and their family also exerted themselves in decorating the grounds and providing lemonade and other refreshments. Ice cream, fruit, and the prizes were provided by the chaplains and Chairman Knoddel, of the board of commissioners. In the end every child was found to have been a prizewinner and a happier and more enjoyable picnic has not been held in St. John this summer than that at the Municipal Home.

Mrs. Annie Chacano was brought before Recorder Keffer of Atlantic City, N. J., charged with being a common scold. The court gave her a short jail sentence.

GAVE HIS LIFE FOR HIS FRIEND

Double Drowning at Westfield Picnic

STORY OF EYE-WITNESS

Sydney Fulton, Aged 14, Carried to Death by Willie Collin, Aged 16, Whom He Heroically Tried to Save

Showing the same fighting spirit which characterized his grandfather, the late Robert Fulton, in his upholding the fame of the Paris crew, Sydney Fulton, aged fourteen, son of William Fulton, of Water street, West Side, gave his young life last evening in a vain effort to save his friend, William Collin, aged sixteen years, from drowning in the river, near Lingley. Clashed in a death embrace, he was carried to the bottom and the two bodies were recovered about four and a half later, with Collin's arms still locked about the younger boy's neck. Both bodies were brought to the city on the special train for the Charlotte street Baptist church picnic, which had been held at Westfield until the bodies were recovered.

The news spread around in the vicinity of Lingley and an effort was made immediately to rescue the boys in a hope that this might be done in time for resuscitation. Three young men—Georgie Hainland, Thomas Macaulay and William Crocker—who happened to be in the vicinity, dived many times and searched the bottom for the bodies. They remained in the water for more than half an hour, until assistance arrived from the picnic grounds. How it is not known, but in some manner the news reached the picnicers just before the train left for St. John, and the train was held and nearly everyone walked to Lingley. Grapples were procured, also some pike poles. The water was searched for more than an hour, when at last the bodies were located in about twelve feet of water, with a pike pole. Hainland, the 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fairweather, and the only survivor of the youthful trio, told the sad story of the accident to a Telegraph reporter last night at his parents' home in Water street, West Side. He said: "Sydney Fulton, William Collin and I left the picnic grounds and went as far as the Pavilion tent between Westfield and Lingley. There the three of us got into a canoe and paddled down to Westfield Beach and back to Lingley. Young Fulton and I went in swimming while Collin remained in the canoe. We had finished swimming and were dressing on a raft that was grounded on the shore when we saw the canoe, in which Collin was, tip over and he went into the water. Fulton immediately jumped into the water and swam to the drowning boy who was struggling in the water and made an attempt to save him, but Collin grabbed him about the neck and they both sank. They did not come up again. I shouted to them to take hold of the line that was fast to the canoe, but I guess they did not hear me. Two men who were on the beach heard my shot and ran down to the water's edge but Sydney and Willie had disappeared. At the time the canoe upset it was not more than fifteen or twenty feet from the shore and the water would be about nine feet deep.

Charles H. Glidden, who has the reputation of being the greatest eater in Lawrence, Mass., ate a twenty-five pound water-melon the other night, apparently without the slightest difficulty in less than two hours.

New York, July 17—Charles S. Announcement of Mr. Mellen's resignation, which is to take effect "at the pleasure" of the New Haven board, but "in no event later than October 1 next," followed a long and earnest meeting of the directors, most of whom, including William Rockefeller and J. P. Morgan, were present.

The load was pulled by a medium-weight pair of horses.

ANOTHER KICK

The Borden emergency has received another kick, from no less a personage than Mr. Winston Churchill, in the course of a statement made by him in the British house of commons yesterday. It is true that Mr. Churchill had counted on three Dreadnoughts from Canada, and in his speech yesterday he took note of the fact, and explained that after the Canadian senate had rejected the naval bill the Admiralty accelerated the construction of three ships of this year's programme in the mother country. In the course of his speech he said:—

"There were two courses open to us; we could have laid down three extra ships in place of the three Canadian ships, and we could do so still, but it is not at present clear that this step, which would mean the addition of eight and a half million pounds to the naval estimates is necessary, and certainly it ought not to be done unless it is necessary."

Mr. Churchill went on to say that the action taken by the Admiralty would relieve the situation until 1916, and he expected that by next year the Canadian situation would have defined itself and the British government would then be in a position to shape its further policy.

Since there was no emergency last year, and there will not be any emergency before 1916, it is perfectly clear that Canada should have proceeded with the development of her own naval policy. Two or three years of valuable time will have been lost as a result of the inaction of the Borden government. The people of Canada are opposed to the policy of centralization, and since there is no emergency there is absolutely no excuse for spending thirty-five million dollars of Canada's money without developing shipyards in Canada.

THE OPEN DOOR

The Daily Telegraph has learned by inquiry that in the cities of Cedar Rapids and Des Moines, which are under commission government, the meetings of the city council or commission are open to the press. Cedar Rapids was the city from which the citizens' committee of St. John got a great deal of information on the subject of commission government, and the reports received from that city and from Des Moines largely influenced the committee in carrying on the agitation for commission government here. It is therefore interesting at the present time to learn that in Cedar Rapids and Des Moines the policy of the open door at city hall prevails, as it ought to prevail in St. John.

In connection with this matter it is worth while to quote from the report of the advertising committee of the St. John board of trade, which was endorsed by the council of the board, and then by the full board, and still later by the citizens' committee, calling for a plebiscite on the question of government by commission. One paragraph from that able and exhaustive report reads as follows:—

"There are no secret meetings of the city council, and all its proceedings are minutely reported in the daily press, which ensures that public opinion is well informed, intelligent and interested, and this improves public spirit."

Throughout the campaign for commission government this argument of open meetings and full publicity had quite as much weight with the citizens. It is quite as weighty now as at that time.

THE COMMISSION PLAN

Reference was made yesterday to the contemptuous description of the commission plan of government by Controller Church of Toronto as a Yankee fad. Of course Controller Church upholds the system in vogue in Toronto, where they have a city council and board of control. But Toronto has been very badly governed under this system, and the like is true of Montreal, although the board of control in the latter city has produced better results than had been obtained under the old city council system. Mayor Lavallee now declares that Montreal could be better governed by the board of control without a city council, which means that he favors the commission plan of government. Mayor Lavallee has been in the city council of Montreal for twelve years, and therefore has a thorough knowledge of the subject. He points out that there are constant delays and friction because the business transacted by the controllers is sent to the city council for discussion, and the council and the board of control can seldom agree. The Montreal Star says, however, that the board of control has given the city a very much improved government. Under the old city council system, without a board of control, fully 25 per cent of the revenue of the city was wasted in patronage and maladministration. This fact was brought out by a royal commission. But so long as there is a city council whose members are elected to represent different wards, and who regard public questions from the ward standpoint, a satisfactory administration cannot be secured; hence Mayor Lavallee would abolish the council entirely. The Star says the matter will no doubt be brought before the legislature at its next session. Eventually the citizens of Montreal will no doubt adopt the commission plan, or a system more nearly approaching it than they have at the present time, and they have at least eventually be compelled to adopt a better system.

THE ACADIANS

The very successful convention of Acadian teachers in the public schools of Westmorland, Kent and Northumberland, which has just been held at Fox Creek near Moncton, reminds us that the Acadian people have made much progress along educational lines in recent years. The Moncton Transcript tells us that one thousand people were present, the number including seventy-five school teachers and many clergymen. The convention was made the occasion for a general meeting in honor of the teachers, and we are told that from an early hour on the opening day the roads leading to Fox Creek were crowded with carriages and automobiles. Twenty-five years ago much less attention was paid to the education of the children of Acadian parents in this province, but under intelligent leadership steady encouragement has been given to parents to give their children more and more of the advantages provided by our excellent school system. They are to be congratulated upon the progress that has been made.

The Independent Order of Foresters is again considering the question of rates as affecting some of its older members. This is a perennial source of discussion among the fraternal insurance orders.

Another citizen has been convinced that the roads are bad. Unhappily he received quite severe injuries along with the conviction that something should be done to make the roads passable.

The appointment of a police matron would be generally approved by the citizens. Such an appointment has long been urged by women's organizations, and as a matter of fact St. John is behind other cities in this regard.

The British government has not found it necessary to lay down three Dreadnoughts because of the action taken by the senate of Canada. Neither is it necessary for Canada to lay down three Dreadnoughts. This country is free to begin the development of its own naval policy, and we have the assurance of Mr. Borden that he can place his hand on thirty-five million dollars for that purpose. Why then does he not begin?

The citizens were greatly shocked to read this morning of the drowning accident in the river near Lingley. Once more the treacherous canoe has found a victim, and unfortunately in the accident of yesterday a second life was sacrificed because the boy in the canoe had not learned to swim. The splendid courage of young Fulton, who went to the rescue of the drowning boy and sacrificed his own life in a vain effort to save the other, is worthy of all praise, and deserves to be commemorated in some special way.

BILL TO LEGALIZE GERMAN 'BOOKIES'

Gambling Spirit of Masses Too Strong For The Government

Berlin, July 17.—The bookmaker and the gambling spirit of the German masses have proved too strong for the German government. A bill soon will be laid before parliament legalizing bookmaking, which has been a criminal offence in this country for thirty years. Incidentally, the bill provides for the collection of a government tax, on receipts.

Betting among the masses heretofore has been officially regarded as an unwholesome evil, so it was discouraged by the laws against bookmaking. The only wagering permitted was through the official betting machines at the various tracks, from which the government receives a return amounting to one-twelfth of the total receipts. The people insisted, however, on backing their opinions, and an active traffic in secret and illegal poolrooms and with bookmakers abroad resulted. The pressure for easier ways to wager became so strong that the government capitulated, and will now license a number of bookmakers in each city.

Betting on races in France, Austria and England, as well as in Germany, will be made easy. Bets on races in Germany may be accepted only at fixed odds, not on the odds established by the betting machines at the tracks, in order to prevent competition with the official machines. Only cash bets will be accepted, the minimum wager being five marks, or $1.25. Bookmakers will pay a tax of six per cent of gross receipts to the government.

NIGHT AIR

There are still many people who think that though windows and doors should be open in the day time, and though people, whether sick or well, cannot spend too much time out of doors, while the sun is shining, there is danger in exposure to the night air. So far from being harmful night air is a great health giver. The atmosphere is cleansed by the precipitation of dew and frost, so that night air is purer than the air in the daytime. Dr. Hannington, a prominent member of the American Association for the Prevention of Consumption, says that the air in a room twenty feet long, ten feet high, and fifteen feet wide must be renewed every hour if the person who occupies it is to maintain good health. As not many of our bedrooms are so large as this, and as few of them have windows on both sides, it will be seen that the majority of us sleep in rooms that are not perfectly ventilated. The gospel of fresh air is being preached on every hand, but like other gospels it is not yet practiced even by many who profess to believe it.

NO EMERGENCY, SAYS CHURCHILL

Not Necessary to Build Ships To Replace Borden's Proposed Dreadnoughts

London, July 17.—Right Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in making his statement in the house of commons this afternoon on the shipbuilding estimates, dealt at the outset with the question of the use of oil as fuel in the navy.

Mr. Churchill continued: "There is a second important question in connection with the general defence of the empire. Since I addressed the house last a year or more has occurred regarding the Canadian ships. The rejection of the Canadian aid bill has, for the time, deprived us of aid upon which we had been depending, and unless that gap is filled by a series of the British taxpayer, the general defence of the empire, apart altogether from the defence of the United Kingdom, would be three ships short of the admiralty requirements from the end of 1915 onward. As soon, therefore, as news was received of the rejection of the bill, the government determined that immediate action was necessary.

"There were two courses open to us: we could have laid down three extra ships in place of the three Canadian ships, and we could do so still; but it is not at present clear that this step which would increase the cost of £500,000 to the naval estimates, is necessary, and certainly it ought not to be done unless it is necessary.

Although the naval aid bill was rejected, the question of Canada participating in her own defence and in that of the empire is by no means closed. As we read the speeches of members of the government or of the opposition we see that although there is a difference of opinion and method, and although the matter is one of party dispute, there is an overwhelming consensus of opinion that action should be taken and that soon.

"That being so, the admiralty recommended and the cabinet approved the adoption of a temporary expedient. We are proceeding not by increasing the programme of capital ships but by accelerating the construction of those which have already been sanctioned, in such a way as to secure the strength we require at the periods involved. We therefore accelerated three ships of this year's programme, which would not otherwise have been already sanctioned, in such a way as to secure the strength we require at the periods involved. We, therefore, accelerated three ships of this year's programme, which would not otherwise have been already sanctioned, in such a way as to secure the strength we require at the periods involved. The plans for the big structure have been completed by a Boston firm. It is fully expected that the start on the plant on the return of the president and general manager, S. E. ### Dispute Over Right-of-Way

Damage to the extent of fifteen dollars caused by Philip Moore cutting down a gate belonging to Adam Shand the florist, was the subject of a case which took all afternoon yesterday in the police court. The defendant admitted doing the damage but pleaded not guilty as he claimed that Mr. Shand had no right to erect a gate which blocked the right of way to his property. Dr. Wallace on behalf of Mr. Shand, presented evidence which gave Mr. Shand the right of way through the property in question and stated that the other owners of the land nearby did not have these rights.

The proceedings were enlivened by a warm tilt between the magistrate and Dr. Wallace, as to the admissibility of certain evidence. The case was adjourned for a week in the hope of a peaceful settlement being arrived at.

NEW VESSEL FOR THE SERVICE OF DOMINION

The Acadia Built in England For The Canadian Marine Department

(Montreal Star.)

The "Acadia," a new ship, built for the hydrographic service of the government, has just arrived in Canadian waters. This vessel was built in execution of a contract entered into between the Department of Marine and Naval Service of Canada, and Clarence L. de Sola, of this city, acting in conjunction with Messrs. Swan, Hunter, & Wigham Richardson, Ltd., shipbuilders of Wallsend-on-Tyne, who built the vessel in their Tyne-side yards from designs furnished on behalf of the Canadian government by R. L. Newman, their naval architect in Ottawa, and who represented the government at the launch.

The "Acadia" is of the highest class Lloyds register. She is propelled by powerful triple expansion engines, supplied with steam from boilers working under Howden's forced draught system. On the trial trips the vessel attained a speed of seventeen knots per hour; and in her passage across the Atlantic she upheld her record splendidly for speed, in spite of unfavorable weather, arriving in port ahead of the scheduled time.

DROWN WHILE GOING TO AID OF CHILDREN

Ontario Man Loses Life Attempting to Swim to Drifting Boat

Oakville, Ont., July 18.—Geo. Ouchterlony was drowned in Lake Ontario off Oakville while swimming out to save two children in a punt which was drifting into the lake. The body was found by a fisherman on the shore a few months ago. He came here and bought property in the spring.

CALGARY'S NEW HOUSING PLAN FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Eight Together In One House Under Chaperonage of Matron or Housekeeper

Calgary, Alta., July 18.—Calgary women interested in the homeless girl problem are devising a housing scheme for young women. Briefly the plan which is to be worked out through the Y. W. C. A., proposes to establish several real homes in houses for girls, who would be under the chaperonage of a matron or housekeeper.

It has been estimated that an ordinary house can be maintained by about eight girls at about the same expense it costs a girl to live in a private residence. The Y. W. C. A. will have no expense in the matter simply being responsible for the organization of the various homes.

The gist of the idea is to give the girls a home in every sense of the word for to meet the general cry from the girls for apartments where their friends can visit them. There is every reason to believe that it will work out well.

Ledeaux in Bad Shape

Los Angeles, Cal., July 16.—Charles Ledeaux, the French bantamweight champion, defeated by "Kid" Williams of Baltimore last night was said to be in bad shape today from blows claimed to have been fouled. Two physicians were called to attend him, and found he had sustained a severe injury in the groin.

CHAMP CLARK SAYS HE IS ALSO HARD UP

St. Louis, July 18.—That Speaker Champ Clark also finds his $12,000 a year salary inadequate and must supplement it, became known through a letter to the Good Roads Association, in which Mr. Clark explained that he could not address its meeting in November as he had contracted for eight weeks of lectures.

"The only way I have of making any money is by lecturing and occasionally writing for magazines," he wrote. "Five or six months ago, taking it for granted that congress would certainly adjourn by October 1, I sold eight weeks in October and November to a lecture bureau. The contract is just as binding as any other contract."

ST. JOHN LOSES TO BANGOR SIX TO THREE

New Pitcher Puzzles the Mariners - Fredericton Defeats St. Croix Again, Six to One

Roper, Bangor's new pitcher, proved a puzzle to the Mariners yesterday, striking out ten men and allowing but five hits. He was the chief cause for Bangor's second victory over the St. John team. Woodbury was touched for ten hits which netted the Bangor team six runs, while the best the Mariners could do was to gather in three. Bangor's scoring was done in the first two innings by bunched hits and base running. Tewhey and Connaughton starred in the field.

Ramsay and O'Brien did good work for St. John while the new catcher Mayo proved himself a winner, making just as good a showing as the first day he played.

NEW CATCHER, NEW PITCHER AND ANOTHER

Greeks at the Point Where There Must Be Strengthening - Plans to Meet the Situation

A reliable catcher, a short-stop and another effective pitcher seem to be the pressing needs of the Mariners as they face the critical week in the race for the pennant. The weakest spot in the team recently has been behind the bat, because of accidents, and this has accounted for most of the losses. With Bien out of the game for three weeks and another badly crippled, it has been a puzzle to the fans why the management has so long delayed in repairing the breach in their defence.

Ladd, a Belfast player, who made a good showing in Bangor, has had to return to his club, but will try to make arrangements to return here on Saturday. Bien is recovering and announces that he will be ready to work tomorrow. In the meantime Manager Leonard, who has been in Calais for the last week, has telephoned that a thoroughly good catcher will arrive on the Boston train today in time for this afternoon's game.

While a new catcher, pitcher and short-stop are needed to put the team in the running the whole outfit must ginger up and show a little more fighting spirit if they are to be a pennant winning aggregation. Third place is no place for the St. John team. Whether the team will stay at the bottom or climb again to the top depends largely on the showing made during the next week, which will be a hard one for the local players. They will meet the Bangors here today and tomorrow. St. Croix will play in St. John on Monday

Reduction Opposed

Moncton, N. B., July 17.—At the evening session of the High Court of L. O. Foresters for New Brunswick the question of making effective the recent legislation amending the charter of the L. O. Foresters so as to permit of the same being adopted by a two-thirds vote of the supreme court was considered. The effect of the change is to reduce the indemnities of pre 1898 members seven per cent. The court passed a resolution, after the matter had been generally discussed, opposing the changes.

A gas well being drilled in Kane, Pa., has reached the depth of 5,800 feet, which makes the well the deepest ever drilled in the country, according to the directors of the company. They have decided to continue drilling on the test until either oil or gas is struck.

Diamond Sparks. By trimming St. Louis Wednesday Joe Boehling of Washington pitched his tenth consecutive victory.

At Philadelphia in their recent series, Detroit made it four in six from Philadelphia.

A Washington fan was telling a few friends the other day that when an opposing team makes a bit off Joe Boehling, the Senators' sensational young pitcher star or the youngster gives a base on balls the entire Washington team stalls for time.

Connie Mack has taken over Bob Shawkey from Baltimore. About this time last year Mack crippled Dunn's team by demanding a pair of star outfielders, and now he comes along and takes Dunn's high bower again.

Mathewson pitched only seventy balls in defeating the Chicago Cubs on Tuesday, tying his own world's record.

The Boston Globe says that Bill Carrigan is the natural choice for manager of the Red Sox team.

since he came to the team has been an indefatigable worker, full of fight, and always showing a rare quality of baseball brains.

Carrigan not only has been a great catcher, but he has been one of the most aggressive players on the club.

Carrigan never has been a phenomenal thrower to the bases, but he has spoiled many a happy afternoon for a visiting club by heading off base runners when chances against him have been taken.

Carrigan's hitting has been steady, and for many seasons he was one of the longest drivers on the club.

HARRINGTON AND DALY SALES MAY START OTHERS

In spite of rumored changes in the New England League the organization seems to be plugging along at the same old gait, and will probably continue to do so in face of the reported rumors of losing ventures.

One of the most important points in minor leagues' existence is the prospect of selling ball players, as well as actual sales, and judging from the news that has been printed concerning ball players on the New England League circuit there is every indication that several more will find their way into major league ranks along with the number already sold.

A couple of weeks ago it was found that Tom Daly, the Lowell pitcher, a St. John boy, was a good prospect and soon afterward several papers were angling for this player's services.

Among the most prominently mentioned is young Joe Burns, the star center-fielder of the Portland club. Burns at present is having a layoff, owing to an injured foot, but it is figured the pitcher will do him good, and when he turns to the game his work should be better than ever.

The loss of a few games has placed the Lawrence club nearer to the three chasers—Worcester, Portland and Lowell. Manager Pieper figures that he will still keep in front despite the fact that the team has been slowed up a little by injuries.

The work of Pearson has been a sensation and he has done more than any other pitcher on the Lawrence club to keep the team in front. Pieper himself has been laid up with an injured knee.

Fred Harrington is still making changes on the Brockton club and is trying to strengthen it in the box. Just at present he has lined out for two new pitchers.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING TO THOSE INTERESTED IN THE DRINK CURE

One year ago we opened a Neel Institute treating the drink habit at 46 Crown street, St. John (N. B.), to demonstrate to the public that we had a treatment that would cure all desires and craving for alcohol in three days time.

A RICH COPPER MINE NEAR SUSSEX

C. W. Ganong Interested — Declared There is No Doubt Now as to Wealth There

(Sussex Record.)

A few years ago Gilbert W. Ganong of Ganong Bros., St. Stephen, took up mining rights on a square mile of territory near his birthplace, at Scotch Settlement. The claim was prospected and clear indications of rich copper deposit were found. Some work was done at the time, but it was not until several years later that Edward and Thad Dick, Charlotte county residents, became associated with Mr. Ganong. They came east and copper experts and for years have been interested in the rich deposits of Colorado and Nevada. They came east and after an examination of the property pronounced it as one of great future and soon after commenced its further development.

For several years the Dick brothers have been spending part of the year locating leads in the mining area, giving the balance of their time to their American holdings. Two or three years ago there was unearthed a quantity of ore that showed wonderful richness, and since then further investigations reveal that the mine is rich in copper. It was dreamed of in the early days of its discovery. The ore is a chalcopryite, carrying other grades of copper. In conjunction with traces of gold and silver, it runs all the way from ten to eighteen per cent copper. When it is considered that many mines are being worked today, as paying propositions, which give a yield of from two to five per cent, it will be seen that the Kings County property is one which bids fair to make its mark in the mining world.

The work in connection with the mine has been carried on quietly but a lot of work has been done and during the present summer a number of leads of great size and exceptional richness have been hared. The property is now in such a shape that there is no doubt no doubt as to the wealth it contains.

Not only are there enormous deposits of copper, but they are advantageously placed, and can be easily shipped over the Central railway, now controlled by the C. P. R., to smelting plants. The first shipments, it is understood, will be made to Jersey City in the near future. On the results of these tests will depend the future of the property, but at this stage it looks as if a great industry will shortly be opened up in this county. Disinterested experts who have been over the property pronounce it to be a bonanza.

BORING FOR GAS AT SUSSEX

Sussex Record—Dr. Henderson, president of the Maritime Oilfields Limited and the company's expert. Mr. Boggs arrived here on Monday to take a final look over the ground before starting operations on the properties on which they have secured the right to bore for gas. The company have been particularly busy since the opening of spring and are doing more work in New Brunswick than at any time since they started business.

In Albert they have four sets of working tools going and they have a fifth to start work with here. The plants now being employed are of the most modern make and they do their work rapidly and effectively. As a result of the visit, the first well has been located. While neither cares to discuss the possibilities of the situation, they are hopeful that Sussex will soon be in a position to enjoy the boom of natural gas.

Clergymen Returning.

Sussex Record—Among the passengers by the Empress of Ireland, which sailed from Liverpool on last Friday, were Rev. J. J. McDermott and Rev. Edward Savage. The reverend gentlemen have just completed a most enjoyable tour of Europe and the Holy Land. They are expected home next week. It is understood that a reception will be tendered Father McDermott by the parishioners of St. Francis Xavier's church.

MATRON FOR THE POLICE COURT

One May Be Appointed For There But Not For County Jail

Again there has been some talk of the appointment of a matron for the county jail, but the committee of the county council which looked into the matter has decided that there is little need for such an official. Nearly all the family prisoners brought before the court are promptly dealt with and most of those who are sentenced to imprisonment are cared for in the Home of the Good Shepherd or the Evangeline Home. Only a few reach the jail and these are usually hardened offenders who, the committee believe, do not justify the appointment of a matron.

The county councillors recognize, however, the need for a matron for the police court, where all female prisoners are taken at first, no matter what disposition of them is made later and they would be quite willing for the city to appoint, and pay for a matron for this institution.

SECURES NICE SKETCH

Young Woman Artist Interests City Spectators at Market Slip

At the noon hour today as people were on the way home to dinner, two large handsome horses were tranquilly eating their grain at the head of Market Slip. As they quietly munched their oats, undisturbed by the bustle about them, they formed a marked contrast to the crowds hurrying dinnerward. A young lady artist happened to be passing at the time and sighting a topic for a picture, sat down and began sketching. In a short time a crowd gathered round and gazed in admiration at the ease and precision with which the artist drew before the horses, untroubled by the attention they were attracting, had finished their meals, what seemed to be a perfect representation had been blocked out on the canvas; the young lady then gathered up her paints and left the spectators at the interest she had created, took her way home.

SAY MR. THORNE WILL ACCEPT SENATORSHIP

While there has been little doubt from the first that the appointment to the senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. J. V. Ellis would be offered to W. H. Thorne there was some doubt whether he would accept. This has been dispelled by friends of Mr. Thorne who say that he has informed them of his intention to accept the appointment.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING CELEBRATED

Among Those at Clifton Gathering Were Bride and Groom of 53 Years Ago

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Carmichael gathered at their home in Clifton last evening to extend to them congratulations on having reached the 25th anniversary of their wedding. The high esteem in which they are held was evidenced by the large number of silver presentations.

Among the guests at the celebration was Mrs. D. M. Marks, the bride's maid, of twenty-five years ago, who was then Miss Puddington. Mrs. Carmichael was formerly Miss Wetmore of Clifton. Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary about three years ago, were present at the celebration.

THE POLICE COURT

Charles Titus was in the police court this morning charged by his wife with non-support. It came out in the evidence that he had been ill in March and, according to his account, had not been able to work since. His wife said that he was able but unwilling and quoted Dr. Mott in support of her statements. The magistrate remanded the defendant, but on account of the conflicting statements reserved his finding. He urged the parties to come to an amicable agreement out of court and indications were that they would do so.

Michael Ryan, who was charged with indecency, was remanded.

A Thousand Boys

Sussex Record—Arrangements are being completed for the Cadet Camp which will be held this year at Sussex from August 7 to 12. Lt. Col. Mersereau of the 7th Regt. will be in command, while Capt. F. A. Good of the 1st Regiment will be musketry instructor. At the time the camp is here Sussex will be looking its best and its citizens will do their utmost to make it enjoyable for the visitors. About 1,000 boys are expected to go under canvas.

A Large Hay Crop

Having been commenced in many sections and during the next week operations in the hay fields should be in full swing. The crop this year is a good one, the best in years. One of the outstanding features of the yield this season is the large amount of clover showing in the fields.
