Death of Capt. Sypher—Latest News
About Lumber.

(Special to the Star.)
FREDERICTON, March, 13.—The death occurred last evening of one of the city's most aged residents, and one of the best known men along the St. John river, in the person of Capt. H. E. Sypher, at the age of $3 years. He had been confined to his home for upwards of a year by the infirmities of cities.

had been confined to his home for upwards of a year by the infirmities of old age.

The late Capt. Sypher was born at Carleton, St. John, removing when a lad to Grand Lake. He was brought up on the river and early took to a seafaring life. In addition to engaging in service on the river he made many trips to the West Indies and Cuba. He became owner and commander of several river steamers, among them the Fawn, Walter Scott and Acadia. He was twice married and had three sons, all now dead. One brother, Ludwick Sypher, 86 years of age, of Houlton, Me., survives.

A well informed lumberman says, the lumber cut on the Upper St. John the present season will be about the same as last year, 130,000,000 feet. Besides this there are some 30,000,000 feet. and Fredericton, the greater part of which it is hoped to save. The cut of the lower part of the St. John will be considerably less than last year, owing to little snow and unfavorable weather conditions this winter.

Of the 30,000,000 feet of logs in the ice, about 2,000,000 feet, 25,000 pieces, have been hauled out and banked. If the weather conditions are favorable during the next few weeks an additional half to three-quarters of a million will be banked.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—A sudden change for the worse has taken place in the condition of Count Toistoi, who has been ill for some time past at Yalta, Crimea. His weakness is more pronounced today and symptoms of pleurisy have developed. His pulse is most feeble and frequently stops. The patient cannot sleep and is in low spiritis.

CANTON EXCITED

CANTON, China, March 13.—There is great dissatisfaction here at the ex-tortionate taxes which the mandarins are levying under the pretext of meet-ing the installments of the Chinese in-demnity. The merchants have peti-tioned the viceroy for redress, assert-ing that they fear the action of the mandarins will lead to an uprising.

AN AWFUL DISASTER. AN AWFUL DISASTER.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 12.—Mail advices from Yokohama, via Victoria, B. C., give details of news from Aomori to the effect that Col. Yamaguchi Shin and soldiers of the second battallon of the Fifth regiment of infantry, numbering 210 in all, finding themselves checked in their march by a heavy snowfall, encamped in the Hakkoda mountain, on the way toward Tashiromura, on Jan. 23. It was ascertained four days later that all these soldiers were frozen to death with the single exception of a corporal. The whole of the Fifth regiment and a large number of the people in the neighborhood started for the place to institute a search.

R. CORPORATIONS AND STATE.

R. CORPORATIONS AND STATE,

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 13.—The Picheer Press today says that attornys for the state in the prosecution of the so-called Merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway Cos, have about decided that the state is in a helpless condition owing to the mability to find a court with jurisdiction. It is stated that the decision of the United States Supreme court in refusing to take original jurisdiction in suit, in effect barred the state from bringing an action in any of the lower federal courts, it is claimed, would be ineffective, because the Northern Securities Company is a foreign corporation and so not ampnable to state courts, if the case were brought in New Jersey, the home of the Northern Securities Company, then the same obstacle would be encountered, namely that the Great Northern Pacific were foreign corporations in the eyes of the New Jersey court. If the state should bring proceedings in quo warrante to forfeit the Great Northern Company's charter, it would be incumbent upon it to prove an actual consolidation of the two roads, in order to bring it within the purview of the state statute prohibiting such consolidation. Actorney General Douglas is said to have favored issuing a frank statement of the case to the public. But in this he was overruled by his associates.

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 13.—A cyclone swept through the southern end of Copiah and the northern section of Lincoln counties yesterday, killing at least half a dozen people and levelling buildings, trees and fences. Montgomery, a village in Copiah, on the Illinois Central railroad, was the worst sufferer and four bodies are known to be under the debris of collapsed buildings. Three miles further south a railroad camp was wrecked and three negroes killed.

A passenger train on the Illinois Central-railroad was struck by the storm and every window in each coach was shattered. At Hazelhurst considerable damage was done, but no lives were lost. Whres are down in all directions.

the Yale law school, spoke last night in Hartford to the Workingmen's Club on "Saving and Spending." He said that a single man earning $1.50 a day should lay by 25 cents a day, and should not get married until he had $100 saved up. He said there was a general tendency to spend more money than necessary. He declared that lace curtairs are too frequent in workingmen's homes. He had travelled abroad considerably and saw no other country where they spent so much on the table or ate so much as in the United States. Nobody ought to eat more than two heavy meals a day in his judgment. There is intemperance in eating as well as in drinking, the Judge said. He added that the American workingman eats twice as much meat as the European. The English, French, German and Italian people do not eat nearly as much meat as the American, who should eat more fruit. According to Judge Baidwin, the whole American mation is spending too much in eating and furnishing the home, and although the nation is much richer people are not saving as much in proportion to income as fifty years ago. The people are making too much display, too much dash and are too extravagant in many ways.

CALAIS, March 12.—The Republican city committee met Monday evening at the office of H. F. Eaton & Sons for the purpose of selecting a candidate for mayor, and unanimously decided that J. M. Johnson was the man to carry the party standard to victory on the first Monday in April. Mr. Johnson declined the honor tendered him, but afterwards concluded to think the matter over, and announced that his decision would be given to the committee within 24 hours. Mr. Johnson has been several times a member of the board of aldermen, is a keen business man, and would make an excellent mayor. He is manager of the Calais Taming company and one of its principal shareholders, and is also identified with numerous other local enterprises. Mr. Johnson on Wednesday morning decided to accept the nomination.

IRISH COMMENT

On Abandonment of Royal Visit to Ireland.

LONDON, March. 13.—The official an-nouncement of the abandonment of the proposed visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, causes keen discus-

Queen Alexandra, causes keen discussion.

The Irish papers keenly discuss the matter. The Freeman's Journal volces the nationalist views, saying: "The ministers have put a veto on the intended visit of the sovereign to a portion of his dominions. It will be difficult for his majesty to reject the veto of his constitutional advisers, but it is plain that he insisted that the responsibility should be theirs and not his. His ministers could not venture to allow the King to see with his own eyes and hear with his own ears of the barbarous methods of the castle and the deep resentment of his people. His presence here would have been a sore encumbrance to the coercionists. There was imminent danger that his visit might have converted him to Home Rule or confirmed his existing conviction. Therefore, the ministers, in their own interest and in the interest of unionism, have forbidden the visit."

est of unionism, have forbidden the visit."

Even the conservative and unionist papers regard the abandonment of their majesties' visit to Ireland as being a severe slap at England's government of Ireland. In this connection the London Times today prints a letter dissenting from the suggestion that' if John Redmond, the chairman of the United Irish league, had been in the house of commons when some of the Irish members cheered the announcement of Gen. Methuen's defeat and capture, he would have rebuked his followers for their outburst of exultation. The writer refers, as evidence to the contrary, to the meeting at Chicago, last autumn, "In honor of the Manchester murders," which Mr. Redmond addressed, and to the "proceedings which were officially opened by Finerty, the dynamiter."

After quoting the resolution passed at that meeting and also referring to Mr. Redmond's speech at New York, advocating the hanging of Mr. Chamberlain, the writer asks "Why should a man holding such opinions restrain the rejoicings of his followers at a British defeat?"

METHUEN RELEASED.

LONDON, March 13.—The war secretary, Mr. Broderick, announced in the house of commons today that he understood that Gen. Methuen, who was captured, severely wounded, by Gen. Delarey, March 10, had been released and was expected to arrive at Kierksdorp, southwestern Transvaal, today. The general's condition was favorable. Mr. Broderick added that the exchange of Gen. Methuen for Commandant Kritzinger had not been contemplated. The trial of the commandant had been postponed because consideration of evidence to be presented had not been completed.

FRED H. DUNHAM,

408 Main Street, N. E. THE LATE GOV. ALTGELD.

He Was the Man Who Pardoned the Chicago Anarchists,

He Was the Man Who Pardoned the Chicago Anarchists.

(Bangor Commercial.)

Ex-Governor John Peter Altgeld of Illinois, whose sudden decease at Joliet, Ill., while addressing a pro-Boer meeting was announced Wednesday was a native of Germany, but came to this country with his parents when very young, and was 45 years of age. When only 16 years of age he entered the union army as a private and remained in the service until the close of the war. Leaving the army he studied law and was admitted to the Missouri bar in 1869. In 1874 he was chosen state attorney of Missouri, but removing to Chicago in 1875 he resigned that office. In 1884 he made a canvass for representative to congress from the first Illinois district but was unsuccessful and was ubsequently appointed to a judgeship on the superior bench of Illinois, which position he held for a term of five years.

In 1893 he was chosen governor of Illinois and was re-elected in 1895 for a second term of two years. It was during his first year's term that Governor Altgeld performed an act which brought upon him serious criticism and created wild excitement throughout the west. This was his pardon of three well-known anarchists, Fielden, Schwab and Neebe, whose sentence had been commuted to imprisonment for life by Governor Ogieby, Governor Attgeld's immediate predecessor. During the great labor troubles which resulted in the Haymarket riot in 1886, a group of anarchists took advantage of that disturbance in the public mind to give out their incendiary doctrines and to revelues was to incite to a violent sulted in the Haymarket riot in 1886, a group of anarchists took advantage of that disturbance in the public mind to give out their incendiary doctrines and in various ways to incite to a violent uprising. At an open-air meeting one of the anarchists threw a dynamite bomb into the midst of a body of policemen which resulted in the killing and wounding of several men.

The inquiry that followed led to the discovery of a definite plan to make an attack upon the authorities. Eight of the anarchists were convicted of murder and sentenced to death. One of these, Ling, committed suicide in his cell the day before the date of his execution. Four, Parsons, Spies, Fischer and Engel were hung; Fielden. Schwab and Neebe—whose guilt was deemed to be less heinous than that of the others—were sentenced, the first to life imprisonment and the last to a term of 15 years.

This act of Governor Altgeld was severely condemned, in general, throughout the country. But it was said in his defence that he never believed the men guilty of murder under the penal laws of Illinois, and in granting their pardon everyone believed that he acted in the line of his feelings and convictions regardless of the consequences.

Notwithstanding the belief that Gov. Altgeld acted in the exercise of his convictions, it was the opinion that this wrong-headed judgment, although sincere, made him all the more dangerous as leader, and he was defeated in his re-election in 1898, and was also defeated as mayor of Chicago in 1899.

THE PULP INDUSTRY

Five influential newspapers from the upper provinces which were received in the Star's mail yesterday contained articles dealing with the uestion of permitting the export of pulp-wood to the United States, and all them were in favor of retaining Canadian pulp-wood for Canadian pulp and paper mills. One paper quoted D. L. McGibbon, manager of the pulp mills at Grand Mere, Quebec, as saying that this country by putting a heavy export duty on pulp-wood, could caus the big paper mills to come to Canada to do their manufacturing. At present, cords of wood at $3.50 per cord, thu earning $3,500,000, whereas, if this were exported in the form of paper instead of wood, it would represent a value of $30,000,000 Another paper printed the following statement by E. G. Joly de Pritish Columbia and a director of the Canadian Forestry Association:

If the amount of pulp-wood exported

the Canadian Forestry Association:

If the amount of pulp-wood exported during the past year from the province of Quebec had been manufactured into pulp and paper in this province, the province would have been the gainer to the extent of at least $4,000,000.

No less than 100,000 cords of pulp-wood are shipped every year; the price paid is only $3.50 per cord, and if the export was prohibited, the Americans, who must have the product, would build their mills in the province and all labor necessary to the manufacture would be kept at home, instead of allowing profits to go elsewhere. In this province there is practically no measure to check the export of pulp-wood. In 1900 a charge of $1.90 a cord was imposed on all stuff destined for export, but last year this was reduced to the present rate of 65 cents. Such a condition is not to be found in any other province in the Dominion. In Ontario an ord.r-in-council was passed absolutely prohibiting the export of pulp-wood cut on the lands of the crown. As a result several large American companies have already taken up crown pulp lands and have spent vast sums in the erection and working of their mills. The province of British Columbia has also stipulated that all timber cut from such land must be manufactured within the confines of the province. There is no reason whatsoever why Quebec should not be able to do what the sister provinces have alredy done.

Another paper says:

By a revised agreement with the Nepigon Pulp and Paper Company, that company undertakes to spend $50,000 this year in mills or power, and $250,000 within three years.

By a revised agreement with the Blanche River Pulp and Paper Company, it is agreed that the company shall spend $250,000 in mills or other structures before October 14th next, and of $700,000 altogether before Oct. 14th, 1905 and of $700,000 altogether before Oct. 14th, 1905

These are indications of what the pulp business is beginning to be worth to Ontario. The manifestations in Quebec are much more advanced.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE. In the public accounts committee this morning enquiry was resumed into the Intercolonial accounts. The auditor general was again on the stand, but he was not able to clear up most of the matters in question, as his office had not passed upon these accounts. Mr. Bell of Pictou, N. S., asked that P. S. Archibald be summoned as a witness, but Mr. Blair objected, stating that government officials could give all information, After a sharp discussion Mr. Bell's motion was defeated by a party vote. Mr. Haggart said he would bring the question up in the house.

WILL NOT VISIT IRELAND.

LONDON, March 12.—It was officially announced today that the proposed royal visit to Ireland this year has been cancelled on the advice of the been cancelled on the advice of the cabinet.

The announcement that King Edward had cancelled his visit to Ireland was published too late to elicit opinions thereon in Dublin. There is no doubt, however, but that this action will cause keen disappointment, although the royal decision has been anticipated by semi-official announcement. I - / There are several reasons for this decision. The first is that the coronation festivities, which involve fatiguing obligations and needful rest, would postpone the visit until the autumn, when the weather is bad; secondly, the fears that the present temper of the Irish nationalists and the United Irish League agitation might lead to some League agitation might lead to some offensive demonstrations; thirdly, it is said that several of the leaders of Catholic opinion in Ireland have warned the government that it would be inexpedient for the King to visit Ireland so soon after his accession to the throne and his declaration against Romish doctrines in England. The announcement evokes mingled feelings of regret and approval, and it is hoped the royal visit will be possible in 1903, by which time, it is anticipated by many persons, the United Irish League agitation will have burned out.

Light and Cheerful Vein.

(Sydney Post.

MULGRAVE, March 12.—Great excitement prevails here and on the Cape Breton side. The ferry steamer Scotia that laid moored to her wharf the greater part of the summer, the centre of admiration, awe and reverence, was being tested the last few days.

Leaving the Nova Scotian side she was pointed at Cape Breton. At once the waters of the mighty deep were parted as by the voice of a Moses, and with a mighty noise she steamed across the Strait. In a short period of time, compared with eterrity, about an hour, fity-eight minutes and forty-nine seconds she was docked with a mighty crash, and Cape Breton slipped Newfoundlandwards.

After a breathing spell she was again heaving on the bosom of the rushing waters of the Strait, pointed for Nova Scotia. Mulgraveonians lined the shores one-quarter mile from the edge, the bars took to the woods, with an without referendums, and all valuables were hastily buried. With a mighty thud she docked forcing Nova Scotia up against the breastbone of New Brunswick, and raising the tide in the Bay of Fundy some twenty feet. Scotia up against the breastbone of New Brunswick, and raising the tide in Scotia up against the breastoone of New Brunswick, and raising the tide in the Bay of Fundy some twenty feet. If future tests produce the same results, Cape Breton will be pushed beyond the place of Confederation and Nova Scotia will be turned into a county of New Brunswick.

A report is current that A. C. Ross, of Sydney, leaves for here with a gang of men to nail down sufficient quantities of earth on both sides of the Strait, so that his bridge building scheme can be carried on without a new charter.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that the Scotia cost the people of Canada one-half million and is a fine looking bird, and is expected to wing her flight across the Strait with loads of cars from this on.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Hazen gave notices of an enquiry in regard to immigration; in regard to the erection of a public wharf at Oromocto; in regard to the erection of a public wharf at Oromocto; in regard to the handbook of New Brunswick issued in 1900 by the crown land department, and with regard to the Harris bridge across the Oromocto River.

Mr. Glasier gave notice of enquiry in regard to the bridge at the mouth of the Oromocto River; Mr. Humphrey with regard to the public printing.

Hon. Mr. Tweedie tabled the report of the auditor general, the school report and the lunatic asylum report for the year 1901; and Hon. Mr. Dunn the report of the crown land department for 1901.

The house went into committee on the bill to amend chap. 59 of the Consolidated Statutes of parish courts. The attorney general explained that this bill had been introduced to meet a difficulty which had arisen in regard to trials under the Canada Temperance Act. The dominion act provided that these cases should be tried before parish court commissioners, but the provincial act gave these commissioners intendiction only in civil cases. The supreme court has decided in the case, a parte Flanagan that the commissioners had no jurisdiction. The object of this bill is to give them jurisdiction in criminal cases in the county in which they reside. The bill had been urged on their attention by the municipal council of Charlotte.

The house in committee agreed to the bill sproviding for the appointment of police magistrates with civil jurisdiction in the parish of Cardwell, Kings Co., and the parish of Cardwell, Kings Co., and the parish of Dorchester, Westmorland.

LECTURE ON HYMNODY.

Address by Rev. J. D. Freeman in Germain Street Baptist Church.

In the school room of Germain street Baptist church last evening an interesting lecture was given by Rev. J. D. Freeman on Hymnody. The lecturer first traced the progress of hymns as a part of divine worship since the 17th century, when their introduction was the cause of violent dissensions in the churches. Discussing the quality of a good hymn, he said it should possess true practical fire and appeal to the emotions rather than the intellect. It should not teach theology. He pointed out that too many of the hymns used in sacred worship were mere dogerel and quoted many ludderous examples. The cardinal test of a true hymn was that in some form or in some part of it should be addressed to the Deity, such as Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah, Glory to Thee, My God, This Night, Lead Kindly Light, and others, making a dozen of the best hymns. In this connection he quoted a hymn written by Oliver Wendell Holmes and found in The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table. The speaker then traced the growth and course of hymnody through the ages and concluded with a review of English hymns.

The lecture as a whole was a splendid effort, with a fine appreciation of the true poetic spirit in sacred verse. Readings and the singing of hymns by members of the congregation and by the choir added to the interest. that in some form or in some part of

His Majesty Royally Received and Greatly Pleased That His Own County Grows More Barley Than Any Other.

(London Daily Mafl.)

The 50,000 men, women and children who live by the making of beer,

The 50,000 men, women and children who live by the making of beer, or because of the making of beer, at Burton-on-Trent, gave the King a most loyal and hearty welcome when, on Saturday, he visited Bass' Brewery to mash the King's brew.

For a couple of hours before 'His Majesty drove in from Rangemore, where he is Lord Burton's guest, until noon to-day, thousands were tramping gally through the mud of Burton's narrow streets, gazing at the wealth of decorations.

So thick were the crowds that the country carts, filled with rosy-faced families, could scarcely thread their way to the courtyards of the queer little inns scattered about High street.

At every turn there were Venetian masts, banners and mottoes and bunting. The good folk of Burton needed small prompting to decorate their streets, but, by way of encouragement, Lord Burton had sent in word that no expense should be spared, and that he would see to the payment.

One somewhat unusual wish, but one that spoke of his trust in Burton's good behavior and loyalty, was expressed by the King: "Don't let me see a policeman," His Majesty had sald, so, the policemen were drafted in from all the country found, they were hidden away in corners or discreetly dressed in plain clothes.

It was nearing 11.30 when the carriages bearing the royal party reached the boundaries of the borough. The first open landau held the King, with Lady Burton by his side, and Lord Burton and the Portuguese minister opposite.

As they drove past Shobnall Schools

2300 children burst into "God Save the King" and His Majesty turned with a smile to salute them.

AT THE BREWERY.

AT THE BREWERY.

A few minutes later the carriages drove past mountains of barrels into the yard of the maltings. Here, at the door, Mr. Gretton, M. P., welcomed the King, and, conducting him into the building, showed him first some specimens of barley. And vastly pleased was His Majesty as a Norfolk farmer, to learn that more barley has been grown in Norfolk last year than in any other county.

Next, the King looked at the barley.

to learn that more barley has been grown in Norfolk last year than in any other county.

Next, the King looked at the barley in soak, and afterwards passed upstairs to the spotless halls where the barley, fresh and sweet from the water, lay swelling and covered the floor as with a golden carpet.

Two men were "turning" it and showering it with golden rain from their wooden spades, and as the midday sun danced in through the windows the King paused to remark upon the pretty effect.

Then, after he had stood for some minutes ankle deep in warm, yellow grain in the drying room, the King drove away to the new brewery.

Here there were but one porter and a detective, and it is typical of the King's courtesy that as they saluted he raised his hat to each of them.

First the King, with Mr. O'Sullivan the chief brewer, went up to the five great vats, each big enough to hold a carriage, which contained the material for the "King's brew." The water lay ready below, and the malted barley lay ready on the floor above.

THE MASH BEGUN.

THE MASH BEGUN.

The King, with a smile, stepped forward, and, firmly gripping the lever, thrust it up. Down rushed the maited barley into the water, and the forks being set in motion, the mash of the "King's brew" was begun. This, when it is ready, should be the strongest ale that has ever come from Burton. It will be put away to mature, and not a drop of the 400 barrels of the "King's brew," was begun. This, when it will be put away to mature, and not a drop of the 400 barrels of the "King's brew," was to steem, where the beer is alternately bolled and frozen, and came to the fermenting squares. Here the King laughingly blew aside a froth to inhale the escaping carbonic acid gas, and watched with interest the extinguishing of a lighted match in the fumes.

From the "racking room," where, in a dim space, vast as a cathedral, hundreds of casks were stacked in long rows, the King moved to the vatroom. Here at a table in the centre he wrote "Edward R." in the visitors' book; and then calling for a glass of pale ale, he drank to the health of the firm, expressing his great approval of all he had seen.

Thence, after visiting the steam cooperage, the King re-entered his carriage with Lord and Lady Burton, and drove back to Rangemore by way of the town, being greeted with a tumult of cheers from the throngs that had

Thence, after visiting the steam cooperage, the King re-entered his carriage with Lord and Lady Burton, and drove back to Rangemore by way of the town, being greeted with a tumult of cheers from the throngs that had waited so patiently all the morning for his coming.

His Majesty returns to Marlborough House this afternoon, the train being due to arrive at Euston station at 3.45.

THE OVER-DUE HURONIAN.

THE OVER-DUB HURONIAN.

HALIFAX, March 12.—The government steamer Aberdeen left for Sable Island at 3 o'clock this afternoon to see if the Alian liner Huronian is ashore there. There is no special reason for believing that the Huronian is on the island sands, except that she is so long overdue and has not been heard from. The only means of sending news from the island is by an open boat, which might be rowed or salled to the mainland at White Head, 80 miles distant. Nothing has been heard from the island since Christmas. The Aberdeen will make the run in fifteen hours, reaching Sable Island before daylight tomorrow, and will likely be back here on Friday.

The Beaver liner Lake Ontario arrived outside the island from Liverpool sometime during the night. She has on board almost a thousand immigrants, which is the largest number brought to this port by any one steamer, with the exception of the Lake Huron's list of Doukobors. They are of different nationalities and are bound for points west. Dr. March, the quarantine officer, boarded the steamer early this morning and finished his work by eleven o'clock, when the steamer was brought up to her dock. Preparations have been made to receive as many as possible of the immigrants in the sheds at Sand Point. If the accommodations do not prove sufficient for them, all the others will remain on the steamer for the present. They are being examined by the immigration officers as they leave the steamer. Some six or seven hundred of them are bound for the United States and the remainder to points in Western Canada. The officers expect to get a train-load of them away tonight.

There was some difficulty yesterday in regard to the rate of wages to be paid the carpenters fixing up the Lake Michigan to receive her cargo of horses. The carpenters wanted 25 cents an hour during the day, 371-2 cents at night during the day, 871-2 cents at night and 50 cents provided they were required to work on Sunday. Hector McLean, the mechanical superintendent of the Elder-Dempster line, who is to fit the ship up for her cargo of horses, was willing to pay the carpenters 20 cents an hour during the ordinary working hours, 30 cents at night time and 40 cents on Sunday, but they were not satisfied with these rates Mr. McLean says he paid these men 20 cents an hour when the Monmouth was fitted up here for horses and he is of the opinion chat that is sufficiently high. Last night Mr. McLean received a telegram from Montreal stating that if men could not be obtained here for the work at the old rate, fifty men would be sent down from Montreal.
