ORCHARD'S EVIDENCE IS SUPPORTED BY OTHERS.

People Mentioned by Him Tell That the Incidents Related are Facts—His Confession is Not Yet Complete.

BOISE, Idaho, June 7.—Harry Orchard takes the stand this morning for the third day of examination as the principal witness against Wm. J. D. Hayward, the secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of former Governor Frank Steunburg. The cross-examination commenced yesterday afternoon, will probably take up the entire day and may be carried over till tomorrow. The state will then again take Orchard in hand and the direct examination will bring out more of the details of the terrible story. The prisoner-witness shows no signs of fatigue. When turned over to the defense he appeared to rally. He acted as though relieved from the strain, and having once told in public of the murder of Steunburg, seemed to welcome the change. His answers to Richardson's questions are delivered without hesitation. He is quick-witted and self-possessed and appears not to feel the atmosphere of abhorrence with which he is surrounded. The cross-examination is developing a battle of wits between Orchard and Orchard. According to those who know the facts of his early life, Orchard is not a naturalized citizen of the United States. His parents, of course, were Canadians, the father of English and the mother of Irish descent. Orchard himself had but little education. He attended a country school in Canada but passed through only a few of the lower grades. He is the second child of seven. All his brothers and sisters are living. When still a boy he worked for the neighbors and was over 20 years old when he left home, and went to Sarnaw, Mich. In the course of Orchard's examination Richardson asked questions to prove that Orchard began a career of dissipation early in life. Orchard testifies that it was after several years of hard work that he began to drink and gamble. At that time he was drifting about the country, and in the making of cheese, but it is now 12 years since the turning point. The woman who is said to be at the bottom of all the crimes of the man with whom he boarded while working at a cheese factory in Northumberland, Canada, introduced him to the life of crime, and he has since been a professional gambler. Orchard testifies that he will be able to tear down completely the story he has told in the direct examination. They have about 150 witnesses, and the majority of these are here, they say, to prove that Orchard is a good business man, and that Orchard has connected him with the crimes partly out of spite and partly at the suggestion of detectives and enemies of the Federation. It is not known yet if Hayward will go on the stand. His counsel says they do not know that this will be necessary.

WALLAWALLA, Wash., June 7.—In an interview Mrs. Steunburg, widow of the former Governor of Idaho, says she hopes Harry Orchard will be given an opportunity to lead a good and honest life.

DENVER, June 7.—Following the testimony of Harry Orchard in the Hayward trial interviews here with several persons referred to are printed today. Supreme Justice Gabbert, who Orchard says was the intended victim of a bomb, says that Orchard's testimony fits in with the incidents connected with the killing of Wall.

Mrs. James H. Peabody, wife of the former governor, recalls distinctly the night when two men followed her carriage. Jacob Wolf, through whom Orchard said he communicated with Pettibone, vehemently denies the truth of the story.

Max Malch says that Orchard told him he would kill Governor Steunburg because the latter had prevented him from becoming a millionaire.

ROYSTON, England, June 7.—The case of Miss Elsie Fox, an American charged with manslaughter, was heard at the Petty Sessions today. On May 1, Miss Fox was motoring down to the New Market races, and her car struck and killed William Parrish, a laborer.

WOODEN WARE CO.'S DRY- HOUSE AND QUICKLY SPREAD, CAUSING A SERIOUS LOSS —No Other Buildings Damaged

HAMPTON, N. B., June 7.—Lumber in the dry house of the Canada Wooden Ware Company took fire at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The dry house communicates with the main building and there seems little prospect of saving either the main factory which is separated from it by an alley, about twenty feet broad. The fire apparatus from the village arrived quickly on the ground and scores of helpers in addition to the factory factory hands assisted in removing the walls and other manufactured ware from the factory proper and in passing water. The dry house was kept full of live steam but it was insufficient to subdue the fire, so holes were cut through the walls and two streams from the fire apparatus as well as one from the engine house were kept going. At 12:30 the fire had crossed to a portion of the main building but efforts are being made to prevent it getting an overpowering hold. The dry house contains about $2,000 worth of lumber. The building is insured for a few hundred dollars with S. McLeod's company, Sussex.

SHORTLY AFTER ONE O'CLOCK FIRE BROKE OUT IN THE HOUSE AND AT HALF-PAST ONE THAT ENTIRE BUILDING WAS IN FLAMES. IT HAS BEEN TOTALLY DESTROYED, ALONG WITH MOST OF ITS CONTENTS. THE WIND WAS NOT VERY HIGH, BUT IT WAS BLOWING IN THE DIRECTION OF THE MAIN BUILDING AND THERE WAS EVERY INDICATION THAT THESE WOULD ALSO BE CONSUMED. THE MILLS CONSIST OF THE TWO VERY LARGE STRUCTURES, FORMERLY OCCUPIED BY THE OSEBEEK STAMMING CO., THE DRY HOUSE BEING A NEW BUILDING. ALL THE AVAILABLE FIRE APPARATUS AND THE MAJORITY OF CITIZENS OF BOTH HAMPTON STATION AND HAMPTON VILLAGE WERE ON HAND FIGHTING THE FIRE, BUT WERE UNABLE TO DO VERY MUCH BEYOND SAVING SOME OF THE MANUFACTURED GOODS. IT IS NOT ANTICIPATED THAT THE FIRE WILL SPREAD TO ANY BUILDINGS NEARBY, AS THERE ARE NO RESTROOMS OR STORES IN THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY AND THE WIND IS NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO CARRY COALERS TO ANY GREAT DISTANCE, BUT THE FIRE MAY BE ASSUMED TO HAVE WIPED OUT ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL INDUSTRIES IN HAMPTON.

At half past two the main mills had by the strenuous efforts of the citizens been prevented from catching fire, and there was some little hope that these buildings might be saved though the chances were slim.

EVERYDAY CLUB

Clippers—Dwyer, C.; Barrett, P.; McDonough, 1st B.; Currie, 2nd B.; McBrine, 3rd B.; McNutt, S. S.; Home, L. F.; Ritchie, C. F.; Stafford, R. F.

After tomorrow's ball game, about 4:30 o'clock the gates of the grounds will be thrown open and free sports for boys conducted as on last Saturday. There will be held, small prizes will be offered in the various events. In the evening at half-past six o'clock the Every Day Juniors meet the Independents of Carleton, in a free game.

At yesterday's meeting of the playground committee, A. M. Bellin, representing the committee for the use of the Victoria grounds as a supervised playground. As the committee was not in a position to make any definite plans just at present, this offer was not immediately acted upon, but the chairman of the committee were thanked for the club and the kind offer may be accepted later.

The club has granted the free use of the grounds to the High School boys for their annual sports which will be held on June 15th.

A man walked into our store and dared us to sell him a Ready-to-wear Suit that would fit him. We sold him TWO SUITS, and then he turned round and accused us of being Merchant Tailors in disguise. Some people won't quit when they're beaten. Of course the suits we sold him were HANDREN-MABEE. A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the bride's residence, Elm street, when Miss Genevieve, daughter of Mrs. W. A. Mabee, was united in marriage to Ernest A. Handren, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. B. Appel, and was witnessed by the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was unattended, was becomingly gowned in grey silk with white lace trimmings. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Handren will reside at 53 City Road.

Are we to mark this day with a white or a black stone?—Cervantes.

FOR A MILLION OF MONEY

By Arthur W. Marchmont.

"Because I could not warn you against Mrs. Taunton, Jack. She would have guessed your secret in a moment, even if you had not told her."

"By Jove! I never thought of that. Of course, I've seen her often and have spoken freely of it all."

"Don't see her again. She'll notice the difference instantly. You had better not go back to London."

"What a devil of a woman! I won't go near her again," he said quickly. "Yes, but you must have an excuse, as I'll suspect. Talk it all over with Mr. Casement."

"He's deep, too. Never let on a word about you. Even told me there were a couple of letters for you and asked what I thought he had better do with them."

"They may be from Selma Hammond, Jack. Tell him to open them, and, if they are, to get the girl somewhere within reach. She may be necessary. And now, dearest, I must go, or I shall be late."

It took some minutes before Jack could tear himself away, and then Olive returned to the house, hoping to get in unseen.

But Davie's jealousy had been roused. He had caught a glimpse of Olive in the drive, and as she slipped into a side door he met her and wanted to know where she had been, hinting in his anger that she had been meeting some other man.

Olive let him talk as long as he would, in order to see what his suspicions really were, and whether he had any idea that it was Jack whom she had seen. Satisfied on this point, she let him see another side of her character, and she began to read it.

They were talking in low tones, however, and only a word or two here and there reached her. Merridew was reassuring his mother's fears, and appeared to be explaining that it was next to impossible that Purvis should find them and that it would be easy to put him on a wrong track.

Mrs. Merridew's replies were quite inaudible and a long whispered conversation followed, the failure to hear which grieved Olive's teeth. Determined to risk a return to the recess, she slipped over the door, put the things back in their places, and whisked a duster over them to make it appear that she had finished.

"Get at once," Merridew was saying, as she reached the recess again. "I must catch the eleven o'clock express. I shall send the cable to Chicago from town, and it will be back long before he is liberated."

"I shall know no peace till he's on the other side, Gilbert. I'll go and get it. As Mrs. Merridew left the room, Olive heard someone else enter.

"I want you to take this wire, Davie. I am going up to town this morning, and shall probably be back tonight. If I want you, I'll wire. Olive was divided between the desire death," and giving the message with many gasps and sobs and holding her handkerchief to her eyes as if crying bitterly. She did not wish him to see her eyes.

As soon as he was gone Olive ran to the secret recess.

"What's the matter mother? I could get nothing out of that wild Irish fool, she heard him say.

"George Purvis is to be freed at once, Gilbert. God help me, it will ruin everything. What are we to do?"

"Released at once!" cried Merridew, in a voice no less agitated than his mother's. "How do you know?"

"It's here."

Olive heard the rustle of the newspaper as she gave it to him, and waited breathlessly during the pause while he read it.

CHAPTER XLV. George Purvis.

In the silence, while Merridew was reading the paragraph about the release of Purvis, and Olive was waiting so eagerly for what was to follow, she heard the housekeeper calling her. To be caught away from her work might start suspicion, and she dared not run the risk.

Bitterly chagrined at the interruption and intensely disappointed, she slipped out of the recess and ran to find Mrs. Cooper. To explain her absence from the room, she told of Mrs. Merridew's illness, and then set to work to continue her cleaning.

The housekeeper fussed around, giving a few directions and went away, in a moment Olive was at the door between the rooms listening with strained ears to what was passing on the other side.

WOMAN BURIED ON TOP OF FRIEND, AS AGREED

Grave Opened Up to Carry Out Compact Made Three Years Ago.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 6.—Carrying out a compact made three years ago, the body of Mrs. Julia A. Fuller was sent from this city and buried in West Sutton, in the same grave with and superimposed on the casket of Mrs. Isadore L. Remington, who died April 2, 1904.

Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Remington were very dear friends, who lived together in this city. Mrs. Remington was a nurse and her friend's junior by twenty years, but their attachment was so strong that they agreed to be buried in one grave.

For that reason the grave of Mrs. Remington was dug seven feet deep, and she was buried leaving room for the casket of Mrs. Fuller to be placed upon it, according to their ante-death compact.

DUMA FORBIDS COURT-MARTIAL

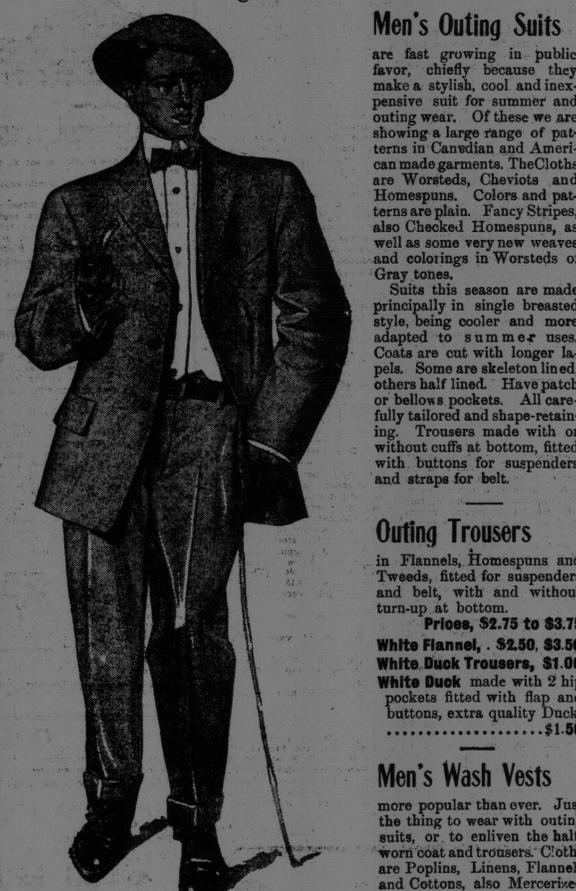

Civilians Who Try to Win Soldiers to Revolution Must Have Civil Trials.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6.—The Duma has voted for the abolition of Premier Stolypin's law temporarily re-establishing field courts-martial for the punishment of civilians implicated in spreading revolutionary ideas in the army. The Duma decided, only fifty voting in the negative, that the proposals in such cases should be dealt with by civil law.

The vote is regarded as a repudiation of the government's use of the army as a repressive police.

Taylor, a couple of miles from this city, was asphyxiated last night by coke gas. Other members of the family had a close call, and the oldest daughter is not yet out of danger. PUGSLEY'S RETIREMENT GREAT LOSS TO PROVINCE

Premier Robinson in Banquet Speech Last Night Paid Glowing Tribute to Late Premier — Reconstruction Not Discussed at Government Caucus Yesterday— A Large Attendance.

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 6.—The members of the local government and the supporters arrived here during the day, the evening train bringing the great majority. The call to friends of the administration met with a hearty response, all the members putting in an appearance with the exception of Hon. Mr. Farris and Mr. King, who are in England, and Mr. Young of Gloucester.

At nine o'clock a caucus was called at the executive council chamber. Those present included the ex-premier, Dr. Pugsley, Hon. C. W. Robinson, C. H. LaBrosse, Hon. P. Jones, F. J. Sweeney, Geo. P. Hall, Messrs. Burgess, Martin, Tweeddale, Clair, Allen, Burden, Whitehead, Campbell, Lantaulm, Purdy, Robertson, Lowell, Osman, Legey, Copp, Ryan, Ruddick, Johnstone, Barnes, Goggin, Murray, Polier, Currie and Carpenter, Auditor General London, R. H. Tibbles, T. B. Winslow, Colonel Loggie, W. P. Fieveling, H. S. Barker, G. N. Babbitt, H. B. Rainsford, G. Y. Dibble, P. B. Carvell, J. H. Dickson, Dr. Fanner, T. C. Allen, T. A. Peters, A. R. Wetmore, R. B. Wallace. The premier said there was nothing done at the caucus. It was harmonious, he said, but reconstruction or matters of importance were not discussed.

Dr. Pugsley's Banquet The banquet given this evening by Dr. Pugsley to the members of the government and his supporters in the legislature and government officials was a most pleasant affair. The large dining room in the Queen Hotel was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the table, which were arranged in a T shape, handsomely ornamented with the choicest flowers. Hanlon's orchestra furnished music from the hall next to the banquet room. Dr. Pugsley presided, having on his right hand Premier Robinson and Speaker Osman, and on his left P. B. Carvell, M. P., and Hon. C. H. LaBrosse. The vice chair was occupied by the Hon. Mr. Sweeney, who had on his right Mr. Copp and Mr. Lantaulm, and on his left G. N. Babbitt and Mr. Lowell.

Dr. Pugsley proposed the toast of the King, which was drunk with the singing of the national anthem.

Dr. Pugsley proposed the toast of the late premier. Jokingly he said it might be a great regret to being himself and selecting a new man. The ex-premier spoke eloquently of the man that the government had selected to lead the destinies of the province.

He considered the premiership of the N. B. was one that any man may feel proud in filling. He had always considered it a most honorable position and that he had expected to live and enjoy, but circumstances had decided differently, and in laying down the office to Mr. Robinson he felt that the mantle had fallen upon worthy shoulders.

Premier Robinson responded at length. He considered it a great loss to the province that Dr. Pugsley had felt constrained to deliver up the leadership. He felt that the honor that had been thrust upon his shoulders was a great one when one stopped to consider the men who had led the government in the past but he hoped that with the help of all who had the interests of the province at heart, that all would assist him during the time he held the premiership, of working out the details of the increase of the I. C. B. and the establishing of new car shops in Moncton. In a few years he felt that Moncton would double its population. He pictured the future of the province as being most encouraging.

In closing he referred to the large audience that attended the caucus, all being present except Jas. Young. This showed a most healthy condition of affairs generally.

Hon. Mr. Sweeney proposed the toast of Mr. Carvell. He referred to Mr. Carvell as a stalwart young Liberal who had done credit to himself and his country.

The toast was by the former one, was drunk with the singing of He's a Jolly Good Fellow.

Mr. Carvell made a eloquent reply. A banquet was then followed, and it was 3 o'clock when the happy function broke up.

STILL ANOTHER SUCCESS FOR THE LEMIEUX ACT

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6.—There has been another success recorded for the Lemieux labor act. It results from a case where the only arrests so far made under the provisions of the act, were made effected, and where there was little promise of a successful or peaceful termination of the dispute. Men working in the copper mines of the Texada Steel Company on the Island of Texada, on the Pacific coast, struck for more pay on March 25, just three days after the law went into force. The company had a number of the miners arrested for the violation of the penal clause of the act, which declares that there can be no strike or lockout until the matter in dispute has been reported on by a board of conciliation.

The criminal proceedings were begun on May 30, and there was bitter feeling on both sides. It was conceded that at the time the men went on strike neither side was aware of the provisions of the law. The men fought the proceedings and claimed that they did not come under the public utilities category. Magistrate H. C. Alexander stated that there was evidently a misunderstanding all around, and adjourned the hearing to give the parties an opportunity to get together. In a few hours an agreement was reached. The strike was called off by the men and the company agreed that there should be no discrimination as the result of the strike.

A new scale of wages was agreed on which satisfied both sides and operations in the mines will be resumed at once.

The settlement was due to the act bringing the parties together, and was successful again, though in 1896 case they met in a police court.

STREET RY. LABORERS WENT OUT ON STRIKE

Because They Were Not Given $1.75 a Day—Little Work Remains to be Done.

Upwards of thirty men employed by the Street Railway Company on construction of the new line in Carleton quit work this morning because they were not granted $1.75 a day. For some time two crews, numbering in all between thirty-five and forty men, have been engaged in completing the circuit, laying rails on Minnie and in the streets. On Tuesday morning last the men sent a petition to the company asking for an increase of twenty-five cents a day. They were then receiving $1.50. This petition they desired to be presented at the meeting of the street railway directors on Tuesday afternoon and they asked that an answer be given them on Wednesday. Some of the men state that their petition was ignored and that no answer having been received, Mr. Earle, the manager, was spoken to on Wednesday evening about the matter and notified that if the increase was not immediately granted the gangs would not resume work. Answering for themselves, the men arranged to go on strike on Thursday morning, but as Thursday was a rainy day no work was done and their services of course were not required, but this morning they all turned up at the scene of operations and learning that the increase was not forthcoming refused to continue. They state that some for or five of the gangs, with the foremen, stood by the company, but that thirty-one went on strike. It is understood that very little more work requires to be done, a few curves have to be put in and some grading is still needed, but the company are confident that any number of men can be secured to do the little that remains. The men who are on strike think that they would not have objected if they had been able to put in full time, but owing to the unfavorable weather they have been averaging only about four days a week.

CIRCUS SEATS COLLAPSED; A PANIC THREATENED

BRISTOL, Conn., June 6.—While the performance was in progress at a circus showing here today, a section of the reserve seats crashed to the ground carrying with it some 200 people. A score or more were injured, none dangerously. The accident created a panic for a time which threatened to assume serious proportions, as the people began to get out, but the police finally quieted them and the performance continued.

THE THREE SUSPECTS HAVE LEFT ST. JOHN

Assyrians, Who May Have Known Something of the New York Murder, Got Tickets Here.

It is quite probable that the three Assyrians who are suspected of being implicated in the murder of Fr. Keenan at New York, were in St. John this week. The detectives from New York, who were also here, failed to locate them but on Tuesday the men suspected went to the I. C. R. passenger office on King street and asked for tickets to Beirut, Syria. They were told they could not get passage by I. C. R. from this port.

Later on Wednesday the Assyrians entered the C. P. R. ticket office with the hope that they could get tickets to Beirut. The tickets were issued and the party left that night on the American boat for Boston. They were due to arrive in New York last night and a steamer is scheduled to leave that place today for Syria, so it is probable that these men are now on their way to their native land.

The men appeared to have plenty of money. Two of them could speak very little English. One of the trio showed papers certifying that he was a Canadian citizen. A visitor at central station last night asked for a description of the men wanted. He said he thought he could locate them in this city. Only one feature of the case seems to show that the three Assyrians seen in the ticket office, are not the men wanted. It is the fact that they wished to go to New York to take passage for Syria. They knew, however, which purchasing their tickets that a steamer left New York for the Mediterranean almost immediately after their arrival there.

BOBBY DIXON WANTED TO JOIN THE CIRCUS

Was Afraid He Would Lose His Job if Kept in Jail—Timothy O'Brien Assaulted His Father.

There were five men arrested last night, four were drunks and the fifth was Timothy O'Brien, charged with assaulting his father, who is about 70 years of age. The prisoner gave the excuse that he did not remember the occurrence, he having been drinking. The old man told of the assault which was at noon yesterday when the son swore at his father and then struck the old man a blow between the shoulders, and as he left the house, told him should return he would be thrown through a window. The magistrate gave O'Brien a severe reprimand telling him he was only about one of five in the county of St. John who was so degraded as to strike his old father. For the present he would be remanded to jail and perhaps would get a term in prison without a fine.

The drunks were fined $4 each with the exception of Bobby Dixon, an old offender, who, on every occasion, has an excuse. Bobby on this occasion informed the court that he been engaged as a ticket seller for a side show in connection with the Harroves circus which he said was at Bothesay today and if allowed to go he could regain the show there. The story did not work with the magistrate, however, and Bobby was remanded to jail.

TODAY'S MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL

A Possibility That Director Cushing May be Kept on Till His Year Expires.

The result of this afternoon's meeting of the common council is being awaited with some interest, as it will be decided whether or not the board of works' recommendation that Director Cushing be dismissed from the city's service will be carried out. Several aldermen expressing their opinions on the matter think that Director Cushing will be dismissed. A lengthy discussion is sure to take place at today's meeting, as a number of matters have to be fully considered in connection with the director's severance from the city's service. One question which will probably demand consideration, will be the time Director Cushing will cease to be director, if the council decides to dismiss him. It is contended that if the director is dismissed at once he can claim his year's salary, and if this holds good, it may be decided to have Mr. Cushing finish out his year. Matters relating to the coming visit to His Excellency, Earl Grey, may also be discussed. At the last meeting of the council Mayor Sears stated that the council would be obliged to take some step towards making the Governor General's visit a pleasant one, and a committee was appointed to prepare a programme. This committee has not yet done much in the matter, and a discussion over the programme to be carried out will probably take place.

A GOOD PROGRAMME.

This is the evening when the Empire Dramatic Club gives a benefit performance in the Every Day Club hall for the latter club's playground fund. A large stage has been erected, with new curtains clear across the room, and with the Empire Club's own scenery and some furniture kindly loaned by John White. Two lighter-provoking comedettes will be produced, with an interlude of vocal and instrumental music. There was a fine rehearsal last evening, and a fine entertainment is assured.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE AT WOODSTOCK BURNED

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 7.—Last night about ten o'clock the automatic exchange of the former Central Telephone Co. was totally destroyed. The officials lay the blame to induction from the town electric light wires. The plant was valued at about $2,000 and is pronounced a total loss. Luckily the new central energy system will be working in a few weeks.
