EVIDENCES of deep and serious though throughout the volume."—Belfast New etter, Jan. 24, 1871.

"Characterized by directness of aim, sound sense, and right appreciation of the sacre-writer's meaning.",—The Preachers' Lanters (London), Feb. 1871.

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.

We have read several works on Ecclesiastes, and well remember the pleasure with which years ago we perused the Royal Preacher, but for fine criticism, comprehensiveness of thought, striking illustration and unostentatious, yet eloquent and foreible style, The Wissem OF THE KING, we think, surpasses them all."

St. Croix Courier, March 6, 1871.

"The volume is not an unworthy companion f Dr. Buchanan on the same book."—The Hotelist (London), April 1971.

"This is a bright, breezy book, both interesting and instructive. We can most conscientiously commend this book generally, as one of the most sprightly, attractive and instructive works of its kind that has fallen under our observation."—Boston Evening Iraveller, May

The same of the work a boundless diversity, enriched with stores of ethical as well as of spiritual wisdom, evineing at once acute observation of social life and of human character, and containing the noblest lessons for practical guidance. Our author's style is remarkable for its free, unconstrained flow, almost collequial at times, but invariably signalized by elegance, force, adaptation to the subject, and not seldom by originality of thought in combination with terseness and beauty of expression.

"He reveals in the treatment of his themes strong common sense, a firm grasp of thought, a logical acumen and a clear insight into human character. Even when dealing with trite ideas he imparts to them a novelty and interest by which they are lifted into an importance they scarcely deserve. The style throughout is lucid, pure, compact, forcible,—and it is his own—the garb of his own thinking. We have met in our perusal of the book with numerous paragraphs of finished and brilliant rhetoric—fine specimens of pulpit oratory. He is never tame nor tiresome. We have not found one slip shod sentence in the volume."—Christian Visitor, (Baptiet) March 6th, 1871.

"We were not prepared to find him writing in such a finished style and issuing such a volume as the result of certain preparations made for an evening lecture to his congregation." If all his pulpit perfermances are equal to these, his people have reason to rejoice in the Providence which guided his steps to them."—Evangetical Witness, May 1st. 1871.

Providence which glutes, May 1st. 1871.

"This is a remarkably thoughtful, rolid book Mr. Bennet is evidently at home in Metaphysics and Ethics, and he is a shrewd observer of human nature in its ordinary manifestations; consequently he ranges over the lessons of the Preacher with a power of illustration which shows his mastery of the subject. The style is close and direct, and yet so lucid, that any reader may understand every sentence in the volume.

It will, we doubt not, take its place, as it ought to do, among our household expositions of this treatise of observation and Jewish wisdom."—The Presbyterian (Philadelphia), May 20, 1871.

"The lessons to be learned are drawn with a master's hand, and are expressed with a combined force and beauty that we have rarely seen surpassed in the production of any author. The ordinery reader will find noth ng that is above his comprehension, and yet it would be difficult to find a common-place thought or form of expression. A combination of these requisites we deem the highest merit a writer can possess. "We will be much disappointed if the book do not command a wide circulation. Wherever a sound literature is felt to be a deside atum, The Wisdom of The King has but to be known to be prized as a work that the world will not willingly let die."—Saint John Telegraph and Journal. A.&T.GILMOUR.

"THE WISDOM OF THE KING is well worth careful reading. Indeed you cannot read much of it at once. There is a constant play of fancy about the thoughts, and often the very words, that is admirably suited to the Scripture book, of which this is an exposition, but which demands such constant attention on the reader's part that he gets tired, for he does not know where it is to end. The style is compact, lucid, often sparkling and epigrammatic, the sentence cut sharply, but with a poetic fullness of original illustration that redeems them from all hardness."—Halifax Monthly Record, (Church of Scotland)

"Each chapter is so well done, so lucid. yet concise in its exposition, that it is sometimes difficult to determine which is the best and most interesting.—Stewart's Quarterly, St. John.

Some nights ago, through the interest of the High Director of the Imperial Bank of a dazzling blaze; first a burst of Offen-Austria, I was able to obtain permission to bach, afterwards a dead silence; and be present at an interesting ceremony which took place in some reserved grounds. But stop !- perhaps it will be, though less fine writing, more to the purpose, if I say that paid a florin to go and see a night skating match at the Club. We were told by the advertisements that it would be "a masked ball on the ice," and as I always believe all I see in print, I suppose it was so; but the Club itself must admit that two elements of the promised fete were wanting-the masks and the dancing. But no matter; there are songs without words, we all know, and why should not there be by a priest and three monks who were here, a masked ball without veiling the face or

At any rate the ice was there in plenty, as cold a night as I ever felt. Suow, like freezing as it fell, and rendering the pavement infinitely more dangerous than the ice which was to be our ball room; and so everybody and everything, including the Bourse, had fallen during the day; nor did we escape, but we slided on to the Club, and having once made it, were rewarded. Neither the Club, the water, nor the situation is picturesque; but darkness, like charity, covers sins, and as the lime-lights elistened and the music sounded, while hundreds of men, women and children, whirled round us, it was a curious scene-TONEHENGE'S BRITISH RURAL

SWEEPING UP THE POWDERED ICE, of which there was at the very least a cart 50 DOZEN NEW LAID EGGS, from the load. The room was scarcely big enough for the company. The lime lights were badly managed, throwing their light straight at one another, so that they illuminated but one direct line; this, however. produced the effect of a rippling lake, over which ghost-like figures were gliding, "while from their feet phosphoric lightning flew"; for the light caught the blades of the skates, which then flashed like diamonds, and produced a curious effect, bringing to mind the drippings from the oar as the lazy boatman pulls you quietly across some Greek or Italian bay. Also the effect of clouds of tobacco colored to a silver tint by the artificial light, and soaring into the sky, was striking and very German. Tobacco gives such a "local color" here. Rising and disappearing in the darkness came the emblem of German bliss; it dissolved itself into thin air and faded into nothingness like the hopes of joyous youth. Though there was no dancing, there was admirable skating; the NATURAL HISTORY OF CAGE BIRDS. By graceful action-or rather passion, for a good skater moves like a melody without variations—is peculiarly suited to the Viennese. You must remember that they

and it would be difficult to conceive a more curious scene than the "Eislaulverein" presented in the dead of that night. The dead of the night, I should tell you, was ablack as a wolf's mouth. Only in the long direct line of the lime light could faces or even dresses be di-tinguished; beyond, all was obscure, dreamy, apparently a meeting of slippery ghosts who were ashamed to show in society. Ah! those Viennese ladies, how graceful they are! And they walt zo askates almost as well as over the more slippery salon of the Princess, or the less restricted rooms of Sperl. A profitable and secure Investment. THE Northern Pacific Railroad Companyoffers to the public an investment security which combines the ready negotiability, the convenience, and the high credit of a first-class Railroad Bond, with the solidity and safety of a Real Estate Mortgage on Land worth at least twice the amount loaned.

Troffic. As officially reported, the gross earnings of the present Pacific Railroad (Union and Central) for 1871, the second year of through business, (December earnings estimated) reach Seventeen Millions and a Quarter. Of this control of the contro per cent. is from Local business, and, it is stated, fully 55 per cent., or nearly Nine and a Half Millions, are net over operating expenses. An equal traffic on the Northern Pacific Road will pay a dividend of more than 9½ per cent. on its total cost. With its great and unquestioned advantages in distance, grades, climate and tri-butary fertile country, the Northern Pacific is OFFICE—105 PRINCE WILLIAM STREET.

The average price at which the twenty-six leading Land-grant Railroads have thus far sold their lands, is $7.04 per acre—the highest average of any grant being $13.98, and the lowest $3.07. Northern Pacific Road are admitted, by all who have seen them, to be better and more salable than those of most other grants, but, sold at the general average of $7.04 per acre, they will yield more than $161,000 per mile of road—more than three times the possible cost of construction and equipment; or, at the lowest average of any grant ($3.07), they will produce more than $70, grant ($3.0°), they will produce more than 100 000 per mile. These facts regarding Pacific Railroad earnings, and the market value of Railroad Lands, as shown by actual sales to settlers, show the three-fold security of Northrn Pacific Railroad Bonds. Construction. The road is now completed across Minnesota, (255 miles); work is progressing westward through Dakota, and 65 miles are under construction on the Pacific coast. Including purchased lines, the Northern Pacific Company now has under its management 575 niles of finished track. Contracts are let for the construction of 635 miles more, to be finished before the close of 1872.

They are exempt from United States tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in gold—the principal in 30 years, and the interest semiannually at the rate of 73-10 per cent. per annually Denominations, from $100 to $10,000, Present selling price—par and accraed interest in United States currency at pres nt rate of gold (109) these bonds yield 8 per cent gold

One-half of the County fund is to be apportioned and paid semi annually.

No public moneys will be received by Districts which fail to establish Schools under the Act. It will be observed that the amount of Provincial and County moneys to be expended in any District in aid of Schools will depend almost exclusively upon local exertion, or the direct efforts made by the people of the several Districts in maintaining their own Schools. The sum to be received by the Teacher from the Province is definite, but the exact amount that will be received by the Trustees from the County Fund on account of the average attendance of pupils, cannot be known at the time of the School meeting. The meeting should, therefore, be careful in voting its estimates to authorize a sum amply sufficient to enable the Trastees to meet the liabilities of the School year. Any balance remaining in the hands of the Trustees, is, of course, to be carried to the credit of the next School year, while any deficit arising from an authorized expenditure may be carried forward and provided for in the estimates of the following year.

The first disbursement of the County Fund will be apportioned on the School attendance made between January 15th and April 30th, inclusive.
