TIME GOES BY TURNS. The following beautiful poem by Robert Southwell, an English Jesuit, born in 1560, and executed at Tyburn, in 1595, is a perfect mosaic of maxims. Almost every line of it would serve

The lopped tree in time may grow again;
Most naked plants renew both fruit and flower;
The sorriest wight may find release from pain;
The driest soil suck in some moistening shower:
Time goes by turns, and chances change by From foul to fair, from better hap to worse,

THE FROZEN BRIDEGROOM.

MRS. LORDLY, thankful for liberal patronage while conducting the "Brunswick House," would beg to inform her numerous friends that she will be found at the Old Stand, 183 Prince William Street, (a few doors South of Queen Street), which has been thoroughly refitted, and is now opened under the name of THE ACADIA HOTEL, where she will be happy to meet her friends and the travelling public generally. Newfoundland breed-she strolled along, one pleasant morning in June, by the sun crimson Red River, her broad straw hat hanging by its strings to one white, THE above House, having been rebuilt after the fire last summer, is now ready for the reception of Permanent and Transient Gucsts. "Have you yet come upon anything of interest?" he inquired, as they walked towards his dwelling.

"Oh, yes, sir," answered the artist, looking straight at Alice, whom he thought the most interesting of anything he had yet seen.

he had yet seen.

Arrived at the house, he passed, in the society of Mr. Gray and his daughter, the pleasantest hours he had ever known. His visit was a prelude to many others, and in due time, the young people being mutually attracted, he and Alice were engaged.

This was in November; the wedding day was appointed for January, 1873.
On the morning of this day, Henry was up early in the little public house, about five miles north of Georgetown, where he lodged. As the marriage service was to be performed at night, he intended to start for Georgetown during the afternoon.

left the minister's house for a settlement a few miles to the south, where he had expected to be detained until the following day, he would probably be looked for from this direction. He had, however, transacted his business much sooner than he anticipated, and had gained his lodgngs before night.

The wedding morning was cold and gloomy, the wind whistled dolefully, and dark gray clouds presaged a storm.

At about ten o'clock the snow began to fall thick and fast.

*At four o'clock thenry left the public house for Georgetown. Along the road the snow was up to his knees, while in some places it had drifted to the height of eight and ten feet. As he proceeded the way became more difficult. He was often obliged to walk a long distance to get round some huge drift, so that hours passed ere he made the two first miles of the journey. The wind, blowing furious ly, was keen and biting, seeming to plerce him to the very vitals. He felt chilled and benumbed, while the tremendous exertions he had already made had nearly exhausted him.

At about ten o'clock the snow began to to to it to his advantage to work upon the feelings in making sales. The other day he happened to be in a strange section, and was sent to call upon a Mrs. Brown, who hal lately lost her husband. He introduced himself, and was invited to sit down; spoke of the weather, and then get round some huge drift, so that hours passed ere he made the two first miles of the journey. The wind, blowing furious ly, was keen and biting, seeming to plerce him to the very vitals. He felt chilled and benumbed, while the tremendous exercise is exhausted him.

At last, far ahead of him, he saw the twinkling light of the minister's dwelling.

He pressed on, his half-benumbed limbs feeling like leaden weights, which he was compelled to drag after him.

And now all the demons of the elements seemed to conspire against him.

The snow and lee dashed fercely into his face, and it was only by superhuman exertions he could keep himself from falling down and sinking at once into the cold sleep of the frozen.

He kept up, however, until within 50 fact of the minister's house when he sank up to his armpits in a snow-filled hollow, from which his little remaining strength refused to extricate him, and where he believed he must die.

Right ahead of him was the house of his beleved. Through the lighted windows he beheld some of the invited wedding guests moving to and fro, and could see beyond the tasteful green wreaths and other ornaments hung upon the wall, in honor of the occasion. There, too, gleaming redly and brightly, tantalizing his vision, was the large Morning Gory stove, its mica windows showing plainly through the open doors leading into the back parlor.

Yes, all was light and warmth within, while the faces he saw were bright and happy, for no person there expecting him yet, dreamed of his situation.

No, they would not watch for him yet; so he must perish miserably out there in the hollow, only fifty feet from the house, with his paradise, as it were, before him, and almost within his grasp!

The thought was terrible, almost madening—and yet he had not the power to free his half-frozen lmbs from the deep snow-drift.

His eyes were now becoming dim, but he could still see in those lighted win-dowled within his grasp!

There they still were, those happy wedding guests, and soon a white curtain which had bitherto hidden one of the windows, was raised, and he beheld the table, flashing with its silver and china, nist, and the flocks of pretty pigeons shooting, with whistling wings, over the tall poplars.

As the dog deposited the hat in the hand of his mistress, she, blushing deeply, thanked the stranger, who, she noticed, was a tall, handsome fellow, with a rich, brown complexion, blue eyes, and coal-black hair.

The girl's father, who had been attracted by the furious barking of the dog, now arriving, added his thanks to those of his daughter. During the conversation that followed, the young man gave his name as Henry Norton, and learning that he was an artist, out here from New York city to sketch Northwest scenery, Mr. Gray cordially invited him to his house.

They found, about half way between the hollow and the house, the noble dog, its teeth fastened in Henry's coat collar, by which it held above the snow the head of the young man, covered with stiffened locks and myrlads of icicles.

A few days after, Henry being almost as well as ever, the postponed marriage service was performed before an additional number of guests, present among whom was the dog which had so nobly saved the bridegroom's life.

Moving on as fast as his benumbed limbs would permit, a feeling of irresistible frowsiness stole over him, while now and then his brain seemed to go round and round, adding greatly to his confusion.

Here and there, like sheeted spectres, towered great drifts, which seemed to whirl about, mocking him as he waded on through hollows and rifts, up to his arm-pits.

The Manufacturers' meeting reassembled to-day. The attendance was larger than on the day before. A great interest is shown. On the general Committee, represented by Joseph Wabon, Chairman, the following report is made: I beg leave to report that comparing reports presented by various Special Committees, it appears evident that the manufacturers almost as a unit object to the proposed Reciprocity Treaty; first, on the ground that it is a departure from the policy for manyyears maintained in the country of encouraging home industries, a policy almost unanimously upheld by the agricultural and commercial interests in Canada as by the manufacturing interests. Should the Treaty go into operation it Canada as by the manufacturing interests. Should the Treaty go into operation it would certainly bring about a social and commercial crisis in the country attended with disaster and ruin to many. The admission of both English and American goods into this country free would have a most serious effect on many of our industries, closing up manufacturing establishments, and thereby reducing our population, and contracting the general trade of the country, affecting unfavorably the agricultural as well as the commercial interests. The proposed sliding size would be most unfair to Canada, and is strongly objected to by all Canadian manufacturers. As far as yet known its effect would be most disastrous on its effect would be most disastrous on our side, so our manufacturers are all agreed.

The report then proceeds to say that if the Treaty is adopted direct taxation will be inevitable. It points out the ambiguous terms of the Treaty of which Americans can take advantage, and it winds up by saying it would ruin our farmers, markets, manufacturers, and divert trade of the St. Lawrence to Boston and New York via Caughnawaga Canal.

One feature of the Episcopal Cathedral, at Fredericton, strikes visitors as decidedly unique. The pulpit or lectern is in the form of an eagle with outspread wings. A St. John lady who recently visited the Cathedral says it is to be hoped that this is not indicative of the character of the pulpit orations delivered there.

A Baring, Me., boy who attempted to amputate a cat's tail found that the absence of the old woman who owns the cat is necessary to the perfect success of such an experiment. His face looks as though Buffalo Bill had settled an old grudge against him.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VIN EGAR BITTERS the most wo gorant that ever sustained the sinking No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevaent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannan, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Anture Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive deand other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various or-gans, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healtly functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed. Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitatation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertise-Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic

rost obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rhe umatism, Gout, Bilicus, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of Walker's Vinegar Bitters occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminities will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of wormanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions. or Sores;

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
