BAYONET THEIR WAY INTO BRITISH BULLECOURT

HAIG'S GUNS NEVER CEASE POUNDING OF FOE'S WORKS

Germans Continue To Suffer Appalling Losses at British Hands.

London, May 7.—Prisoners are being taken by the British at Bullecourt, Reuter's correspondent at the front telregraphs in his account of the heavy fighting in progress in and around Bullecourt today. Already 70 Germans have been sent back to the cages.

"Elsewhere along the line there is little news of importance," the correspondent wires, "but our guns through daylight and darkness continue to pound the German positions. These positions, being only improvised and very different in defensive gualities from the ening only improvised and very different in defensive qualities from the old, bermanent front out of which we have driven the Germans, their losses are steadily mounting to an appalling total. "It is satisfactory to know, furthermore, that these losses are being inflicted upon the best troops now left to the enemy, for he is throwing in his most war-worthy divisions in his desperate effort to arrest our offensive."

'Among the prisoners taken from Among the prisoners taken from two divisions in the earlier stages of the present fighting, 50 per cent were boys of 19. Their morale was very poor, which is attributed to the fact that they have a clearer conception of conditions in Germany than their old compander and realize the old comrades and realize the hopelessness of the struggle."

BATTERING THE BATTERIES. BATTERING THE BATTERIES.

[By Stewart Lyon, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press in France.]

Canadian Army Headquarters, May 7.

The artillery of the Canadian Corps is been engaged during the past few aays in counter-battery work. Instead of pounding at the enemy's trenches for the most part it has been trained upon spots where his batteries are believed to be posted, with the object of putting them out of action. In such a war as this, where the guns on a narrow front may number hundreds, it is as necessary to destroy an enemy's artillery as his infantry.

New German Batteries.

New German Batterles. New German Batterles.
In former cables mention has been made of the increase in the number of German guns on this front. That increase continues, new batterles having been reported. Our trenches and outposts on the plain beyond Vimy are a shining mark for these guns, the nature of the country being such as to render shining mark for these guns, the nature of the country being such as to render it difficult to construct defensive positions not subject to cross fire from some point on the enemy's front. The German forces are even more exposed to our retaliation from Vimy Ridge, but conditions are still better when his guns can be smashed. So all day in swirls of dust and smoke our gunners nammer away. By doing so, they force the enemy to divide his attention between our trenches and gun positions, thus improving conditions for the infantry. The expenditure of shells is cheaper than men's lives.

New York, May 7 .- Charges that Cuban negro rebels are burning and pillaging the homes and property of foreigners in the districts of Palmarito Eayale and Myranada, were made by 24 American and British refugees who are rived here Sunday. They predicted that there will be a massacre of the white residents remaining unless the United States intervenes and asserted that the Cuban Government is powerless to cope with the situation. The story of Francis Brake who escaped with his wife and five daughters was typical. Absolutely destitute they were not allowed to land yesterday, and their case will be taken up today by the British consul, as they are natives of Canada. The Salvation Army also is expected to aid the family, as Brake's 19-year-oid daughter, Mabel, is a member of the Quebec Salvation Army Corps, and has appealed to the local corps for aid.

Brake explained that although he lived with his family at Paso Estancio, within 31 miles of Santiago, he was at the mercy of the rebels. "Paso Estancio, where I worked on a sugarcane plantation, can best be described as a seething turmoil of disturbance and unrest." he said. "The rebels, who were secretly organized long before the rebellion, swooped down upon us and burned our homes. We were driven from the plantations at the point of bayonets and ordered to vacate Paso Estancio altogether within 24 hours."

"The brilliant operations during the last month, culminating in the capture of Arleux and Fresnoy, seem to give me the opportunity of expressing to all ranks the pride I feel in commanding the Canadian corps. Since April 9, when the offensive against Vimy Ridge began, till the morning of May 3, when F esnoy was captured and consolida d, it has been one series of successes only obtained by troops whose courage, discipline and initiative stand pre-eminent. Nine villages have passed into our hands, eight German divisions have been met and defeated, over five thousand prisoners have been captured, and booty composing some 64 guns and howitzers, 106 trench mortars, and 126 machine guns, are now the trophies of the Canadians. For the Living-room

This is the heart of the home and should be substantially furnished, not too elaborate, lest comfort be abolished. If the walls are light in tone the rugs should be in deeper tones -old red, the shades of olive and green and warm browns are all effective.

For the Bedroom

Bedrooms should be furnished to give a feeling of repose. The colors should be restful, the furniture comfortable but not an over-abundance of it. North rooms requiring sunlight are well done with pale yellow and warm tints. In selecting rugs for your home choose those of simple design and in colors that blend with the predominating color of the room.

COMMUNITY GARDENING TRIED WITH SUCCESS BY LONDONERS TEN YEARS AGO RECRUITERS GET

Many Families Secured Supply of Provisions by Taking Advantage of Offer of Free Land by Committee of Cit izens.

The vacant lots gardening idea is by no means a new one in London. Tendor or a dozen years ago community gardens flourished and winter provision of vegetables for whole families was made in this way and the summer rent as well paid in some cases.

These were the days when laborers were many and jobs were few, before the new era of progressive laying of cement walks and various forms of "mud pie" pavements.

Numbers of able-bodied men walked the streets in search of work, but all in vain. The worst part was that numbers of these men had families dependent upon them. The Charities' Organization Society had the responsibility of solving the problem, and the rational view was taken that the best to help hemselves.

Start Community Gardens.

The ground was plowed by the Charities Organization, seed supplied free of charge, and even Paris green for potato bug diet. The gardeners were allowed all they could grow on their plots.

Gardeners and Gardeners and gardeners. One man grew 30 bushels of potatoes alone, in addition to other vegetables. Cabbages, turnips, beets and such like vegetables flourished in the land of the community gardens.

Success was to be expected, considering that the work was carried on under the supervision of experts, Mr. Pearce and Mr. Sanders. Moreover, the experts not only advised but assumed responsibility for seeing that the work was done and gardens not neglected. Sometimes the task was not an easy one. There were gardeners and cardeners. There was one gardener whom Mr. Sanders used to be obliged to rouse out of bed in the forenoon to do battle with potato bugs.

start Community Gardens.
The late J. S. Pearce was president of the Charities Organization Society at the time. Later, he was made parks superintendent of London because of his fitness for the position. Mr. Pearce and others prominently identified with the work of the Charities Organization, among whom were Inspector Joseph Sanders of the Children's Aid Society: Fred Daly, C. F. Complin and Fred Matthews put their heads together, with the result that a community gardens' plan was evolved.

It will be seen that some of the newer cities, such as Port Arthur and Fort William run high. The people there prepared for a big development, which has not come yet. London's debt may be in a measure traceable to the local improvement, and sewer construction, which must of necessity be heavy, owing to the expense of territory covered by this municipality.

Canada by granting free wheat! Impossible and absurd! Do you want us to deliberately forfeit whatever political advantage our right-about-face may have brought us in the West?

This is the stand taken by the Government of Canada when a motion is introduced in the House to benefit the nation as a whole by bringing down in the case of the control of the following transport ship that had left the harbor when Italy entered the war.

Tony had raised himself above the level of the fruit and peanut vendors, who comprised a great part of the Italian settlement. He owned not only his tiny home and slightly productive garden and chickens, but he also owned an automobile, which he ran as a taxi from the station to nearby estates. He met all trains and had made himself more or less of a necessity to suburbanites.

One instance is typical of many:
A corporal of the 3rd Battalion joined the 13th at Steewick after Ypres, and prior to Festubert. He swore by his Ross. He had made "bullseyes" with it in Canada and on Salisbury's sodden plains. plains. He could not help but believe the men of Ypres spoke what they be-lieved to be the truth when they told him his favorite weapon was a useless tool in face of the enemy. "But I know my Ross," he said sagely. "She's a beauty; she'll serve sagely. "She's a beauty; she'll serve me well." He was an armorer-corporal in the 3rd Battalion. No man cared for his rifle going into the Orchard fight as did the corporal. Nine out of ten of his companions carried the Lee-Enfield. He clung to the Ross.

The Real Test. The Real Test.

About 4 o'clock of the day following the taking of the Orchard from the 57th Regiment of Bayarian Guards, the Huns tried to take it back. The corporal who swore by the Ross was one of the first of his section to open rapid fire.

He fired three rounds; and his rifle jammed. He jerked and wrestled with the boit, and got another round off. Then the bolt became immovable. The corporal crouched below the lip of the parapet to wrestle uselessly with his His right-hand man, seeing him

Scores of Canadians crouched, cursing over their jammed Ross rifles, and kicked at the bolt to free it for action. As they kicked they rose higher in their shallow trenches—and a hole in the back of their head, where the German bullet found exit, gave reason for the condemnation of the Ross rifle.

Chucked the Ross.

Brig.-Gen. Mercer was only one of many Canadian officers who condemned that few survivors of St. Julien carried a Ross rifle away from that stricken field.

As reinforcements fresh from England joined the battered battalions and back of Ypres, the men who had seen back of Ypres, the men who had seen and back of Ypres, the men who had seen the covarient and fight like a hims bout!" The Canadian Mounted Rifles were wiped out at Zillebeke a year after St. Julien. They carried Ross rifles there, Even the cautious "eyewitness" so far forgot himself as to write that the men's rifles could not be got to fire."

He did not state that they were bearing Ross rifles. The men of the 1st D.vision who fought at Ypres, In 1915, guessed it. They guessed right. The men who took back the ground lost at Z.llebeke carried Lee-Enfields. Canadian politics has enough on its soul in connection with its share of the responsibility for handicapping the Canadian troops with Ross rifles in the firing line. · A Word to Dad. Dear Miss Grey and Readers,-I read with interest "Sweetheart Girl's" letter, and also her dad's. I was a bride four years ago this June, and I can just step into her shoes, as it were. Although I worked up to a couple of weeks of my wedding day and earned all my clothes, which cost me then well on to the hundred-dollar mark (and things were not so expensive then as things were not so expensive then as now), I would say to "Her Dad" to give his little girl the hundred dollars; he will never regret it, I'm sure, and the event as usual only happens once in a girl's life. Cheap clothes get shabby in no time, and if she does have a few dollars left it comes in handy to buy little decorations for her home. A bride don't like to ask her husband for money on her wedding day, you know, "Dad." I know she won't forget you. She will bring you over a nice pie or tasty dish some times.

won't forget you. She will bring you over a nice pie or tasty dish some times.

"Soldier's Wife, No. 3" was asking for me. Well, I'm the busy woman these days with three little tots toddling around and just starting to talk; they sure are interesting. Then, I'm planting a garden; have some potatoes in and beets, carrots, and parsnips. My lettuce and radishes are up above ground. I also have sweet peas and other flowers and bulbs in, so you see little "Soldier's Wife," I don't get much time off. Did you make those curtains yet, and how did you get along? I had a pattern like the one you sent to me, and in the "mile a minute" stitch; you fill in solid and make what they call a shamrock flower. It's very pretty when done.

I, too, try "Daughter of Albion's" receipts and find them good. That peanut crisp was fine and I make it often I put a piece of butter in and I think it improves it. I find the recipes very useful and certainly heipful to a young cook. I tried the one egg jelly roll and had splendid success.

The continued flow of raindrops has not only queered the major league gate that they first evolved the use of the ball when playing the Athletics in 1914, when a gent by the name of J. Frank-lin Baker was at the bat. It will be recalled that there were many protests out of Philadelphia about the way the Red Sox pitchers would shoot at Bak-er's nut, evidently trying their darn-dest to connect with Frank's think-crate. And they did hit him; that being a matter of history.

But over in New York at the start of the season Frank Baker was hit on the hand by a Boston pitcher, whose name was Herbie Pennock. Now Herbie was once a Mackman, and in those days was a great friend of Baker, and is today. The last thing in the world Herbie would do would be to aim at Frank's person with a pitched ball.

Here's how Jack Barry talks about the bean ball:

"It's all nonsense, that talk about the Red Sox pitchers trying to hit ball."

The test of the road has convinced the great majority of Canadian motorists that from whatever angle you look at it, DOMINION Tires are the best "buy".

We who view them from the inside know that there is more value-more tire mileage at less cost per mile—in DOMINION Tires than is put in any other tire.

Motorists who judge them by performance know that the secret of mileage must be built right into them, or they could not possibly give the service they do. The amazing growth in DOMINION sales shows clearly that Canada is fast approaching unanimity on this point.

With the British Armies in France lay 6 .-- Via London .-- While the fightfor the last fortnight has wrought omparatively little change geographically along the British front, matter of fact, been of almost as great importance as any during the entire war. It has compelled the Germans to throw in such vast numbers of reserves that comparatively few of the fifty or more fresh divisions assigned to the western front this year by Field Marshal von Hindenburg remain unscorched by the flames of the French and British offensive battles. In view of this it is small wonder that the press reports from Petrograd assert that German divisions have been withdrawn from the Russian front and started for France.

There is no denying that since the British Easter Monday offensive took them by surprise and drove them from some of their most formidable positions the Germans have fought with great tenacity and stubbornness, but at what cost they alone can correctly reckon. reserves that comparatively few of the cost they alone can correctly reckon. OTTAWA, May 6.—Sir George Foster is back from Washington, and Sir Thomas White is now in the American capital, continuing, where Sir George left off in the negotiations with the American, British and French representatives for joint action, in connection with the war.

Food supplies, labor and ship building were the chief matters which were dealt with by Sir George Foster, financial and tonnage production will be the principal matters which will engage the attention of Sir Thomas White.

The minister of trade and commerce states that as soon as Congress gives President Wilson the necessary authority, by the passage of measures now in the House of Representatives and the Senate, there will be joint action by Canada and the United States for the regulation of food prices, for co-operation in the supply of agricultural labor and for co-operation in the production of tonnage required to offset the activities of German submarines.

AISER STRIPPED OF SUPPEME POWERS BY REFORM COMMITTEE

Constitution Committee Modifies Imperial Powers.

London, May 7.—Further amendments have been accomplished by the constitution committee of the Reichstag now of the constitution of the Reichstag now of tonnage required to offset the activities of German submarines.

An Early Decision.

Sir George said that the decision was reached early in the conference at Washington that there would have to be joint action by Canada and the United States in order most effectually to solve the problems in which the North American continent is interested through the war. The war measures act gives the Canadian Government the authority which it requires, but Congress has to provide the American Government with similar power before anything effective can be done. Sir George expressed the opinion that Congress would pass the bills unanimously. The plan to organize the army of harvesters to gather the crops from the fields of the two countries was discussed. In the plan to organize the army of harvesting from Eastern Canada are in France, in munition factories or are busy with their own farms.

It is proposed to systematically gather an army of harvesters for Kansas in July and keep them moving north with the ripening crops until the last field of Canadian west is cut, gathered and threshed. The two countries will co-operate in handling both agricultural and industrial labor.

Sir George was asked if the United States was likely to send an army to Europe this summer. Sir George replied: "There is a strong feeling that an efficient force, even if small, should carry the Stars and Stripes to Europe at the earliest possible date. It is felt that it would have a tremendous sentimental effect. On the other hand the Americans do not want to put in the field a force which would not be effective, nor do they want to denude their army of much-needed officers. The training of a million men requires a large number of officers, and it is a large number of officers, and it is realized that this is the first great need. Camps for training officers have already been started. They will be loaned men for training purpose from Canada and the other Allies, who have had experience in the latest methous of warfare. f warfare.

"The United States is not in this to carry on a paper or financial war, but the United States wants to give the quickest and most effective aid possible to the Allies. They look on it now as their war. The loan to the Allies was a recognition of the fact that they were carrying the burden of the war."

View of Canada.

As to the American view of Canada's part. Sir George said: "I found a recognition that Canada has done really big things from the best of motives, and with nothing to gain but principle."

The British mission, headed by Right Hon. Arthur Balfour, Sir George said, was most thoroughly organized. A large staff of the best experts on naval and military supplies, as well as munilarge staff of the best experts on naval and military supplies, as well as munitions and food supplies, was a part of the organization. The French mission was smaller. Its presence was due more to sentimental reasons, and for the purpose of extending the goodwill of the French republic to her sister republic. The French had but a small staff, but it was very efficient. Neither mission came to the United States to dictate or suggest, but to give all the information possible to the United States. Their experience of two and a half years of war had been of infinite value to the American authorities.

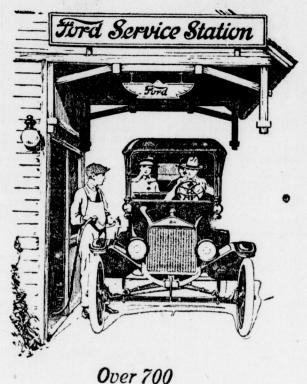

Prejudices Are Gone.

Sir George described the visit to the tember of Washington as "to sister the tember of Washington as "to sister the second of the supplier of the supplier

This is one of the matters which will engage the attention of Sir Thomas while in Washington and New York, where he has gone to confer with the gathered war authorities. It is believed that while in the United States Sir Thomas will be able to make arrangements which will

-No Inquest Ordered.

GRANTON, May 6.—Jessie Clark, a 16-year-old domestic, employed by Hector Nelson, who resides on the town line between Whalen and Granton, took her own life on Saturday afternoon by taking strychnine. There was no apparent reason for the girl's rash act. She had been employed for the past year at Mr. Nelson's home, being sent there from the home at Stratford. There are no relatives in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were away from home at the time of the tragedy. W. Wright, an employee of the farm, was in the basement and heard the girl's cry. Coroner Dr. Lang, Sr., of Granton, was called, but decided an inquest was unnecessary.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon from Grant's undertaking rooms.

Hence Mrs. B. Robinson were appointed the people's warden.

The following sidesmen were appointed.

the purpose of cleaning up some of the vacant lots on the front street.

A goodly number turned out and a great deal of work was done. The vacant lots have now a more presentable appearance. The lots had considerable rubbish, such as old brick, stone, etc., which was all taken away, and the rubbish burned, after which the lots were levelled up so that now autos coming to town will not need to stand on the street, but can go onto these lots and stand out of the road.

Everything is going along successfully for the Old Boys' Reunion to be held here on July 1, and strong committees for bave been appointed to have charge of each department of the day's amusement. As the proceeds are to be used for patriotic purposes, all good citizens are taking hold of it with a vim and the prospects at present, are, that it will be a day long to be remembered by all who attend.

Rev. H. H. Bingham Looks For New Imperialism After

"Great Britain has indeed stood like an old tree in the orchard of empires, said Rev. H. H. Bingham in his paper on "The New Imperialism," at the Baptist Ministerial Alliance this morning. "Its boughs have become gnarled, twisted and weather-worn with age, and its colonial branches are unscientifically grafted into the imperial tree, and it was thought by Germany that the heart of the Empire was decadent, that it would never stand the storm of con-

of Indian troops and the royalty of India gives her a right with South Africa and others to demand new privileges on the ground of common suffering. With India's wonderful expression of loyalty and devotion we cannot but give her a place. If a shipload of Hindoos and a shipload of Huns were to seek our shores he were to seek our shores in days of peace I fancy we would gladly give the preference to the Hindoos. Not that we would say throw open our national gates to the orientals, but we are compelled to face the fact that India at least is British and belongs to the imperial family.

An imperial system

Any be the outcome of the new falism. The present system is inade-quate and devoid of system. Britain has been carrying a double burden of home government and imperial affairs. Each in future may have a home Parliament for home affairs, and an imperial Parliament would be called upon to look after fiscal affairs, foreign trade, tariff question, and imperial defence. There would be one great imperial fleet under imperial command rather than small colonial squadrons controlled by many commands. This new imperialism will have a larger conception of citizenship, it will be a broader, deeper patriotism, not in any sense dissipating our nationnot in any sense dissipating our nationation of colonial squadrons colonial squadrons controlled by many commands. Europe.

Foreign Secretary Balfour told the council of national defence that the British would be overjoyed to welcome an American force in France and that its early dispatch could not but have an enormous psychological effect.

The nation's response to the first offering of liberty loan bonds is a deluge of gold.

Subscriptions poured in Saturday at a rate threatening to choke telegraph lines leading into Washington. Practically every messenger boy in the city was carrying telegraphic subscriptions to the treasury. The rush was so great that the telegrams were delivered in bundles.

GREAT MISSIONARY HERE Dr. Thompson is Bringing Special Message to Chinese Residents.

Dr. Thompson, of Montreal, who was formerly in Canton, China, in charge of a large mission, will visit in London and St. Thomas this week. He is going through Canada from Montreal to Winnipeg visiting all the Chinese and telling of the work that is being done. His son is now in charge of the great hospital at Canton which last year had 500 inside and 5,000 out patients. A letter he has just received from Robert Morrison Hobson, grandson of the first month for China, states that the month just past was "a red letter month for China" as they entered the war on the side of the Allies and the treaty regarding the opium traffic expired. Dr. Thompson spoke to the Chinese of three city churches here Sunday and tonight will hold a meeting in the manse at St. Andrew's.

CANADIANS NOT SAFE BIG DEMAND FOR HELP WHEN LIQUOR TRAFFIC Splendid Reports Heard at GOES ON IN ENGLAND

Has Empire Become Worthy of Victory? Asks Pastor.

SCORES CENSOR'S ACTION

Declares That Book "Defeat" Should Not Have Been Banned in Canada.

"The opium traffic has been a stain on the Empire in the past as the liquor traffic is a stain on the Empire today. We have reason to thank God in Canada for the progress made towards temperance and prohibition, but, until the cancer of intemperance is dissected out of the vitals of the Empire's life, the disease removed and the people healed of the sin, the question can be raised, 'Have we become worthy of victory, are we strong enough to bear.' wards temperance and prohibition, but, until the cancer of intemperance is dissected out of the vitals of the Empire's life, the disease removed and the people healed of the sin, the question can be raised, 'Have we become worthy of victory, are we strong enough to bear the burden of world responsibility.'"

The foregoing statement was made last evening by the minister, Rev. W. J. Knox, in the First Presbyterian Church, in the course of a sermon on the subject, "Are we prepared for victory."

Taking his text from I. Peter, "But that God after that ye have suffered awhile, shall perfect you in peace," the preacher referred to the fact that every great experience in life comes as a divider among men, according to the spiritual attitude they assume towards it.

preacher referred to the fact that every great experience in life comes as a divider among men, according to the spiritual attitude they assume towards it.

Concerning the world experience of suffering of the past years of war, and its effect upon the Empire, national and individual life. Mr. Knox said: "Have we suffered enough? Has suffering come like a river of cleansing, and swept sin from high places?" Has it broken the manacles of sin."

Evidence that this was not the case, he stated, were to be found in existing graft and greed, persisting, insatiable love of pleasure, in social distinctions, or "the injustices between the haves and the have nots." as well as in the liquor traffic in the old land.

"Notwithstanding criticism that I may make," continued the speaker, "I would not shut my eyes to the magnificence of the first great Christian empire, to the glory of its independence, liberty and true democracy.

Conflicting reports come to us, yet we know enough to be assured that all is not well so far as the liquor traffic permitted by the old land and our own Canadian men is concerned. Arthur Mee, one of the wisest and most sympathetic of souls, has written a book called "Defeat." setting forth the truth in regard to conditions. I haven't read the book, but criticisms have given some Idea of the information it contains. If I had that look in my library, I would be fined $5,000. The Canadian censors have decreed that the Canadian people must not read "Defeat." I consider it an insit that the book is put upon the prohibited list lest we might know the fact that all is not well in the Canadian camps.

caused by the liquor traffic are not published as such in the official lists. The problem, however, is becoming more pressing and insistent every day; and other means must be found of bringing it to the attention of the public. Some of the revelations I intend to make may be regarded as breaches of military discipline, but it is high time that someone in the army spoke out plainly to the people at home, and I accept the responsibility for what I have to say. I am speaking not as an officer criticizing superiors in the service, but as a citizens of Canada and a British subject protesting against the continuance in any form of an unpatriotic and costly traffic which hampers the work of the army at every turn, and which has ruined and is runing thousands of our best officers, non-commissined officers and men. Liquor in the army is bound up with the question of liquor in the nation. We cannot give up one and keep the other. As long as the manufacture and sale of liquor as a beverage remains unprohibited in Canada, Great Britain and France, so long will our armies be hampered in their struggle, and lives that are priceless to someone be sacrifices in vain."

Construction of the new Chalmers plant at Walkerville, now under way, promises to afford bigger and better Meeting of Greater Production Committee.

Most satisfactory reports were made at a meeting of the greater production committee held on Saturday at the Tecumseh House. That local firms are making good their promise to coperate in the work was shown when the major portion of the former fine factory was gutted by fire a few weeks ago, the Chalmers organization at once prepared plans for new buildings. Harry S. Lee, general manager of the Chalmers Motor Company of Canada, Limited, in a statement, says that the work of rebuilding on the old site has already commenced.

has vast possibilities, covering not only Canada, but also the entire Chalmers export business throughout the Empire. During 1917 the manufacturing schedule of the Chalmers organization contemplates an output of 30,000 cars. In pling up this large output the Canadian factory at Walkerville will play an idian factory at Walkerville will play as will not be the case."

Capt. Kenny, of the headquarters staff of Ottawa, was the speaker of the evening, and in a powerful address appeale dfor recruits. First he paid a glowing tribute to Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E., and said that the work done by the women would go down in history as the brightest page written during the war.

Making reference to the entry of tie United States in the war, he said: "We welcome the entry of the great republic to the south of us. Their people are the same blood and talk the same language as we do, and we extend to them the hand of welcome.

FIRST ANNUAL DINNER

Splendid Program Was Greatly En-

The first annual dinner of the Current Topic Club held in the Indian room at the Tecumseh House on Saturday evening, was a splendid success. The wives of the members and their lady friends were also invited. Donald C. McNaughton was chairman, and first called upon Finlay E. Perrin, who gave an address on "Conditions After the War." He outlined the growth of democracy, the benefits for a reconstructed Russia, the rapid growth of millions of dollars to alleviate the suffering. Within the memory of living people starvation had swept away thousands in Russia and India, and today although many did not realize it, people were dying of hunger in Syria. Belgium and other parts of the world. The situation, he said, was having good effects in that there was never as much kindness, sympathy and liberality as there was in the world today.

The last of a series of patriotic and recruiting meetings that have been conducted Sundays at the Majestic Theatre for the last six months was held last evening. The meetings, which have been held under the auspices of different chapters of the I. O. D. E., have been instrumental in securing a number of recruits.

Last night's meeting was under the auspices of that active organization which has done so much for recruiting, Overseas Chapter.

E. T. Essery, chairman, in an address at the opening of the meeting, severely arraigned the men who were physically fit and were still not in uniform.

"Do not be too optimistic and think that this war is near a close. There are 6,000,000 Germans under arms yet to be disposed of and we need every man that can be procured," he said.

"What will the man be thought of after this war is over who has never offered to enlist? He will be held up to shame. He will feel like crawling in a hole and well he may feel like that. Let this fight keep on and if we remain inactive the consequences may be greater than we anticipate. Should everyone sit still as many have done we would soon find the Germans marching down Dundas street and making the armories their head-quarters.

All Can Help. All Can Help.

"Every man in this city should be in some way connected with active work to win the war. Everyone can help. You can enlist either for overseas or home defence, and it is your duty to do one or the other. So come!"
