BRAVE CANADIANS WON HONOR BY STURDY, GALLANT FIGHTING

Lord Kitchener Pays High Tribute to Their Service—Boers Repulsed on all Sides—Canadians Lost Heavily—Lieut. London, Brother of Herb. London, of This City, Wounded—Statement by Minister of Militia.

London, April 4.—There was severe fighting all day long on March 31 in the neighborhood of Hart's River, in the south-western extremity of the Transvaal, between part of General Kitchener's force and the forces of General Delarey and Kemp, resulting in the repulse of the Boers after heavy losses on both sides.

KITCHENER'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

Lord Kitchener's official report, dated from Pretoria yesterday evening, says:—"General Kitchener (Lord Kitchener's brother) sent Colonel Keir and Colonel Cookson from Vryburg, Western Transvaal, March 31, to reconnoiter towards Hart's River. They soon struck the track of game, and carried on a running fight for eight miles, following the track through the bush. Emerging on a plain, large Boer reinforcements advanced against their flanks, forcing the British troops to take up a defensible position, which they hastily entrenched. Fighting ensued at close quarters, until

THE BOERS REPULSED.

"Delarey, Kemp and other leaders vainly attempted to persuade their men to renew the action. Fifteen hundred Boers participated in the engagement, but they had suffered too heavily, and cleared away to the north-west and south.

THE VALIANT CANADIANS.

"The Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves on the day, commanded by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, holding his post till every man was killed or wounded. Others of the force showed great steadiness, allowing the Boers to advance within two hundred yards of them, and repelling them with a steady rifle fire.

GREAT INTEREST IN TORONTO.

Toronto, April 4.—News of the heavy fighting in South Africa was read with great interest here, as it is probable that many Torontonians were in the troops which suffered so severely. Lieut. Carruthers was senior subaltern in "E" Squadron, of which Capt. Elmsley was in command, and which was raised in No. 2 military district, of which Toronto is the centre. Ordinarily Lieut. Carruthers would command "A" troop. The officer named is a Kingston boy, who graduated at the Military College of that city.

LIEUT. CARRUTHERS.

Kingston, April 4.—Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, mentioned in the war despatches as commanding the Canadians who fought the Boers to a finish, is a Kingstonian, son of the late John Carruthers, a former wholesale grocer. This is the second time he has been in Africa, he having gone out first as a private of the First Contingent. He married a Miss McPherson in December, just before going out with the Mounted Rifles. Mrs. Carruthers is here, and anxiously awaiting final tidings as to her husband's fate.

CASUALTIES

Four Officers Badly Wounded—Nine Non-Coms. and Men Killed and Forty Wounded.

Ottawa, April 4.—His Excellency has received the following cable from the casualty department at Cape town, concerning the engagement of the second Canadian Mounted Rifles on March 31st:—

"Daschpoort, Clynvort's River, Mar. 31st.—Lieuts. R. H. Ryan and W. J. London, formerly of the Northwest Mounted Police, are dangerously wounded, along with Lieut. R. F. Markham, of New Brunswick, and Lieut. C. B. McKay, of Montreal. Nine non-coms. and men are killed and 40 wounded. The names of the latter have not yet been received."

STATEMENT IN THE COMMONS.

Just before the Speaker left his chair at six o'clock, the Minister of Militia read a despatch from the war office, giving the number of Canadian casualties. He added:—"While all this is very sad indeed, there is satisfaction to be derived from it—that Canadians are maintaining the reputation that they have already achieved in South Africa, and they continue to prefer death to surrender."

NO FURTHER DETAILS.

Up to midnight no further details of the casualties had been received by His Excellency, but the names of the nine Canadians killed and 40 wounded are expected to be received from the casualty department by Saturday

THE LEADER OF THE HEROES.

Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, who commanded the party of Canadian Mounted Rifles in the battle near Hart's River, Southwestern Transvaal, on March 31st, who Lord Kitchener reports, "especially distinguished themselves, holding their post till every man was killed or wounded," is a product of the Royal Military College, graduating in 1888. He joined the Twenty-first Hussars and served with them in England and Ireland. He returned to Canada and joined the fourteenth Battalion, P. W. O. Rifles at Kingston and served as lieutenant and captain. When the first contingent went to South Africa, he volunteered and went with the Second Special Service Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, and was present with them in all their engagements, for which he received the South African medal with four clasps. When the third contingent (the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles) was raised in December last, Lieut. Carruthers accepted a commission as lieutenant and went out with the first portion of the contingent on board the Manhattan. He was attached to squadron B and must have gone directly to the front. His last letter was written on board the Manhattan, dated Feb. 9, reaching Ottawa, March 15.—He wrote in the best of health and spirits, and expected to reach Cape Town the following Thursday and to be off for the front in about ten days. He said: "I have a splendid lot of men in my troop and I know they have confidence in me. My horses are good, also. We have a lively time on board crossing the line. Father Neptune paid us a visit, and for a couple of hours assumed control of the ship in the tank and shaving with a large razor any who had not crossed the line before."

Lieut. Carruthers was married just before leaving to Miss Etta MacPherson, of Kingston, daughter of Mrs. John MacPherson, of Kingston. The ceremony took place just before leaving. The engagement was announced only a short time previously on the formation of the contingent, and the young couple immediately decided to get married before he left. He was notified to join the troop train at two days' notice, and it was then the marriage was decided on, but before a finaling he obtained a few days' leave, which he spent with his bride in Ottawa, the guests of Col. and Mrs. Rutledge. Lieut. Carruthers was a commodore of the Royal Yacht Club, and has always taken a great interest in all kinds of athletic sports. He was in charge of the snailers of his battalion in South Africa and performed distinguished service in that connection. The names of the men in Lieut. Carruthers' squadron are not known at Ottawa. The department has the nominal roll of the entire contingent alphabetically arranged, but not divided into squadrons. The work of dividing up the contingent was to take place on the arrival of the contingent in South Africa.

A TORONTO BOY.

Toronto, April 4.—Lieut. London, of the 2nd C. M. E. Rifles, was slightly wounded in the fight on the little Port River, is a Toronto boy, a son of J. S. London, of the Standard Bank, and a brother of Herb. London, of the Standard Bank, Chatham. He attended the R. C. M. C. in Kingston, and was a member of the R. M. C. hockey team which visited Pittsburgh recently.

LTS. RYAN AND MARKHAM.

Halifax, N. S., April 4.—The Imperial authorities here have not received any official information about the engagement with General Delarey other than contained in the despatches. The news of the wounding of Lt. Ryan, of Kentville, N. S., and Lt. Markham, of St. John, has been received here with universal regret, where both officers were well and favorably known.

A SENATOR'S SON.

Montreal, Que., April 4.—Lieut. G. B. McKay, who is mentioned amongst the Canadian officers wounded in South Africa, is a son of Hon. Senator McKay, of Montreal.

DANISH INDIES

Copenhagen, April 4.—There was an exciting debate on the Danish West India Islands' treaty in the executive session of the Landthing (Upper House) to-day. The Opposition members violently attacked the treaty, and piled the foreign minister, Dr. Deunser, with numerous questions, to which he replied firmly and clearly. There is great public interest in the question, and the agitation and excitement are intense. Both sides are confident of success. A strong effort is being made to identify the members of the Landthing, who it is suspected furnished information to Congressman Richardson. So far it has not been successful.

RECORD TRIAL

Philadelphia, April 4.—William H. Lane, the colored servant, who on Tuesday last murdered Ella J. Jaden and her daughter, Madeline, and so badly wounded another daughter, Eloise, that she died to-day, was convicted of murder in the first degree this afternoon, after a trial lasting less than one and a-half hours. Lane pleaded guilty yesterday and was placed on trial at 11 o'clock to-day. Because of Lane's plea of guilty, no jury was drawn, and only three witnesses were called for the purpose of determining the degree of murder. At 2:30 o'clock Judge Biddle sentenced the murderer to death. The date of his execution will be fixed by Governor Stone.

MORE FACTS FROM FRONT

Canadian Losses Were Heavy
but the men Made Magnificent Stand.

The Canadians Were the Last to Arrive in South Africa but Maintained Reputation.

Special to The Planet.

Pretoria, April 4th.—The British losses in the engagement in the neighborhood of Hart's River in Southwestern Transvaal, on March 31, were three officers and twenty-four men killed, and sixteen officers and 131 men wounded. The Boers admit that they lost 137 men killed or wounded. The action occurred at Doornbald Farm, a few miles south of the scene of General Delarey's defeat of General Methuen.

The Boers, who were commanded by Generals Kemp and Potgieter, attacked with great determination, but the Canadian contingent, which was the last to arrive in South Africa from Canada, and two squadrons of Yeomanry, under Colonel Cookson, and the artillery and mounted rifles under Colonel Keir, presented such a stout front that the burghers were finally forced to retreat. The casualty list shows that the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles had four officers and nine men killed and forty men wounded.

James A. Kendall, of this city, a member of the 2nd C. M. E. Rifles, was one of the Canadians in the fight of March 31.

THE O. E. A.

At the meeting of the Ontario Educational Association in Toronto, this morning, High School Inspector John Seath, B. A., was elected President of the Association, and Robert Dean Esq., of Toronto, Secretary. Inspector Fair was chosen chairman of the Inspectors' Section. Inspector Colles read a paper upon the better organization of the Inspectors' Department, his recommendations being adopted, and a Standing Committee upon Legislation formed accordingly.

At the joint meeting of the Trustees Department and the Inspectors' Department, the instability of the Rural School Teachers' position was debated upon. Inspector Colles proposed, as a means of greater security to the teacher, that rural school boards should consist of six members instead of three, two trustees to be elected annually instead of one, and be introduced a resolution to that effect. The resolution was carried unanimously and Inspector Colles was congratulated from all sides, teachers coming forward and thanking him as a benefactor of the rural school teachers. Inspector Colles was asked to read a paper before the Dominion Educational Association to meet in Halifax next summer.

RHODES' IMPERIAL REQUESTS FOR THE CAUSE OF EDUCATION

Provides for Colonial, German and American Scholarships—$20,000 Yearly Left to Maintain Tomb—Railway to be Built to Matoppos Hills to Accommodate Visitors—Imperialistic in his Death.

London, April 4.—The will of Cecil Rhodes provides for the establishment of colonial scholarships and two American scholarships to each of the present states and territories of the United States. The will of Mr. Rhodes also provides for five scholarships for students of German birth at Oxford, to be nominated by Emperor William, and commenting on the bequest, Mr. Rhodes, in a codicil telegraphed from South Africa, said:—"For a good understanding between England, Germany, and the United States will secure the peace of the world, and educational relations form the strongest tie."

All the scholarships, American, colonial, and German, are at Oxford.

The will is a remarkable and voluminous document. It was executed in 1899. There is a codicil attached on the day of the deceased's last departure from England, and another, cabled from Cape Town, leaving £4,000 yearly to keep up the spot in the Matoppos Hills, where his body is to be buried. The will further directs that a railroad extension be made into the Matoppos Hills, so that visitors may go there at the week-end to inspect the majesty and glory of his surroundings.

Mr. Rhodes explicitly says he is to be buried in an aperture cut in the solid rock, surrounded by a brass tablet, bearing the words:—

"Here lie the remains of Cecil John Rhodes."

No one is to be buried there who has not deserved well of his country.

Mr. Rhodes bequeaths all his landed property near Bulawayo and Salisbury (both in Matabeleland) to trustees, whom he directs to cultivate the land for the instruction of the people of Rhodesia. His celebrated country place at Groot Schuur (not far from Cape Town) Mr. Rhodes leaves as a residence for the "Prime Minister of the Federal Government of South Africa," with £1,000 yearly for its maintenance.

He was notified to join the troop train at two days' notice, and it was then the marriage was celebrated. Lieut. Carruthers had a few days' leave before he left, which he spent with his bride in Ottawa, the guests of Col. and Mrs. Rutherford. Lieut. Carruthers was a member of the Royal Yacht Club, and had always taken a great interest in all kinds of athletic sports. He was in charge of the signals of his battalion in South Africa and performed distinguished service in that connection. The names of the Standard Bore Battalion are not known at Ottawa. The department has the nominal roll of the entire contingent alphabetically arranged, but not divided into squadrons. The work of dividing up the contingent was to take place on the arrival of the contingent in South Africa."

RECORD TRIAL

Philadelphia, April 4.—William H. Lane, the colored servant, who on Tuesday last murdered Ella J. Jaden and her daughter, Madeline, and so badly wounded another daughter, Eloise, that she died to-day, was convicted of murder in the first degree this afternoon, after a trial lasting less than one and a-half hours. Lane pleaded guilty yesterday and was placed on trial at 11 o'clock to-day. Because of Lane's plea of guilty, no jury was drawn, and only three witnesses were called for the purpose of determining the degree of murder. At 2:20 o'clock Judge Biddle sentenced the murderer to death. The date of his execution will be fixed by Governor Stover.

Special to The Planet.

Pretoria, April 4th.—The British losses in the engagement in the neighborhood of Hart's River in Southwestern Transvaal, on March 31, were three officers and twenty-four men killed, and sixteen officers and 131 men wounded. The Boers admit that they lost 137 men killed or wounded. The action occurred at Doornbalt Farm, a few miles south of the scene of General Delarey's defeat of General Methuen.

The Boers, who were commanded by Generals Kemp and Potgieter, attacked with great determination, but the Canadian contingent, which was the last to arrive in South Africa from Canada, and two squadrons of Yeomanry, under Colonel Cookson, and the artillery and mounted rifles under Colonel Keir, presented such a stout front that the burghers were finally forced to retreat. The casualty list shows that the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles had four officers and nine men killed and forty men wounded.

James A. Kendall, of this city, a member of E. Squadron, was one of Canadian in the fight of March 31.

THE O. E. A.

At the meeting of the Ontario Educational Association in Toronto, this week, High School Inspector John Seab, B. A., was elected President of the Association, and Robert Doan, Esq., of Toronto, Secretary. Inspector Park was chosen chairman of the Inspectors' Section. Inspector Colles read a paper upon the better organization of the Inspectors' Department, his recommendations being adopted and a Standing Committee upon Legislation formed accordingly.

At the joint meeting of the Trustees Department and the Inspectors' Department, the instability of the Rural School Teacher's position was debated upon. Inspector Colles proposed, as a means of greater security to the teacher, that rural school boards should consist of six members instead of three, two trustees to be elected annually instead of one, and he introduced a resolution to that effect. The resolution was carried unanimously, and Inspector Colles was congratulated from all sides, teachers coming forward and thanking him as a benefactor of the rural school teachers. Inspector Colles was asked to read a paper before the Dominion Educational Association to meet in Halifax next summer.

RHODES' IMPERIAL REQUESTS FOR THE CAUSE OF EDUCATION

Provides for Colonial, German and American Scholarship—$20,000 Yearly Left to Maintain Tomb—Railway to be Built to Matopopo Hills to Accommodate Visitors—Imperialistic in his Death.

London, April 4.—The will of Cecil Rhodes provides for the establishment of colonial scholarships and two American scholarships to each of the present states and territories of the United States. The will of Mr. Rhodes also provides for five scholarships for students of German birth at Oxford, to be nominated by Emperor William, and commenting on the bequest, Mr. Rhodes, in a codicil telegraphed from South Africa, said:—"For a good understanding between England, Germany, and the United States will secure the peace of the world, and educational relations form the strongest tie."

All the scholarships, American, colonial, and German, are at Oxford. The will is a remarkable and voluminous document. It was executed in 1899. There is a codicil attached on the day of the deceased's last departure from England, and another, dated from Cape Town, leaving $24,000 yearly to keep up the spot in the Matopopo Hills, where his body is to be buried. The will further directs that a railroad extension be made into the Matopopo Hills, so that visitors may go there at the week-end to inspect the majesty and glory of their surroundings.

Mr. Rhodes explicitly says he is to be buried in an aperture cut in the solid rock, surrounded by a brass tablet, bearing the words:—"Here lie the remains of Cecil John Rhodes."

No one is to be buried there with him, nor has he deserved well of his country. Mr. Rhodes bequeaths all his landed property near Bulawayo and Salisbury (both in Matabeleland) to trustees, whom he directs to cultivate the land for the instruction of the people of Rhodesia. His celebrated country place at Groot Schuur (not far from Cape Town) Mr. Rhodes leaves as a residence for the "Prime Minister of the Federal Government of South Africa," with £1,000 yearly for its maintenance.

SATURDAY, APRIL 5.

EAST KENT LIBERALS.

The Liberals of East Kent have called a convention at Thamesville on the 16th inst. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the ensuing election.

Several names are spoken of as possible candidates for nomination. Of these George Johns seems to have the first call. Then there are Dr. McCully, S. P. Sturgis, ex-Warden C. L. VonGuten, Malcolm Campbell, Jas. Rutherford and several others who are assured of a liberal support from the delegates.

John Lee, the present member, assured The Planet personally a short time ago that he would not again be a candidate. Nothing could induce him to run, he said.

Whether Mr. Lee meant what he said, or whether he was putting up a little game of his own on the other aspirants, remains to be seen.

WELL DONE, CANUCKS!

Our brave boys in Africa have again covered themselves with glory and added to the prestige of the British arms, says the Hamilton Spectator. Gen. Kitchener's despatch states that "the Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves," and this of a fight in which the whole British force fought as becomes Britons. The Canadians remained steady while a strong Boer force advanced to within two hundred yards, and then repelled the enemy with a steady rifle fire, well directed. One party of Canadians held its post until every man was killed or wounded.

Well done, Canadians! Your country is proud of you.

The fight was between a reconnoitering party of British and fifteen hundred Boers under Delarey, and the enemy suffered so severely that they ran away in spite of all attempts by Delarey to induce them to renew the action.

Again, Well done, Canucks!

FOR CLEAR MONEY.

In the newspapers the filthy condition of our Canadian paper currency has often been made a subject of protesting comment. It has been pointed out that the dirty bank and government bills are vehicles of infectious disease, teeming, as they are with germ-colonies. But in this instance the "power of the press" has been exerted in vain. No effort has been made to mitigate the nuisance.

What the press has failed to do, perhaps a public-spirited school teacher in Quebec may be able to accomplish. This gentleman is Max Liebig, principal of the grammar school at Berthier, P. Q. Mr. Liebig has addressed an open letter to the minister of finance and the bank managers, to which is attached an open postscript to all members of parliament, in both of which he makes vigorous appeals for a clean currency. The Planet herewith does what it can to help along the good work, by reprinting and endorsing Mr. Liebig's appeals. Here is his letter to the Hon. W. S. Fielding and the bank managers:

Gentlemen,—Are you writing, by a single stroke of the pen, to contribute largely to the comfort of the entire population of Canada? Are you willing, by such a simple method, to do away with, very largely, one of the methods by which infectious disease is undoubtedly spread? Surely, if a simple order can do these things, you will not refuse to give it!

Give orders, then, that all bills which are soiled are to be called in and sent out no more. It is just as easy to issue clean bills as dirty ones. Everyone who handles money is constantly disgusted at the filthy condition of our bills, the stench from which is often literally horrible. Why continue such a state of affairs? There is no person living, I presume, who would not rather handle a clean bill than a dirty one. Undoubtedly, if you order, you can obviate the source of comfort to hundreds of thousands of people, why not give the order in the interests of the whole Canadian people, do what I ask!

And here is the postscript addressed to all the members of parliament: Will you not move in the house that this step be taken, and carry it unanimously? There is not one of your constituents who would not prefer to handle clean money to dirty and though a member of parliament is by no means a more delegate, still I feel sure that every member will always support any measure which all his constituents desire. Let us have clean Dominion bills.

There is absolutely no excuse for the dangerous nuisance against which Mr. Liebig protests. The expense involved in keeping the paper currency clean would be trivial—merely the cost of the paper and the printing of new bills to replace those which are no longer fit for use.

It would be a good thing if the constituents of members of parliament were to deluge them with post cards requesting their support to a motion in favor of clean currency.

THE SUNSHINE SOCIETY.

Every Saturday for some weeks the columns of The Planet have been enhanced by contributions from a coterie, rightly designated the Sunshine Society. These are well worth reading and acting upon.

This is what the Comber Herald says about it:—

Our bustling neighbor, the City of Chatham, has a sunshine society, the object of which is to scatter everywhere, but more especially in the dark places, the rays of happiness. Here is a suggestion for us. Could we not, each one, constitute ourselves a member of such a society, and make it our business to give to those around us all the sunshine we can gather. Let a word of cheer and a kindly act drop on the pathway of our neighbor and we will make his lot in life more pleasant.—The Comber Herald.

CONCERNING CENSUSES.

Ottawa Journal.

Word-slanging between the parties in parliament and elsewhere over the reliability of the various censuses is as the cackling of hens. The chances are large and every census is blundering or cooked in spots; that taking the whole thing by and large, one census is as bad or as good as another; that on average, each successive census gives a tolerable accurate idea of the country's actual changes. But, of course, every party man will continue to wave himself in the air over the iniquities of the other party's census efforts.

Terrible Tortures and Death Result From Acute and Chronic Rheumatism When Neglected in Spring.

Paine's Celery Compound THE GREAT VANQUISHER OF ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM

A Marvelous Cure After Failure With Physicians Medicines and Mineral Springs.

Rheumatism, terrible in its acute, and long enduring in its chronic form, is one of the most baneful diseases human beings suffer from. It is a disease that will not bear neglect, for if not treated promptly, will remain till death to harass, torture, and make life miserable.

Rheumatism is also a constitutional disorder and hereditary. Because of an inactive condition of the kidneys and bowels, the blood is not purified and an acid poison is formed and deposited in the muscles and joints, and this causes the inflammation and intense agonies that thousands are obliged to endure. Too often the effects of rheumatism are fatal, especially when the dread disease affects the heart; then death is sudden. Many other serious complaints result from this terrible disease, such as pneumonia, pleurisy, meningitis, and diarrhoea, and these often prove rapidly fatal.

Racked and tortured reader, what are you doing to get rid of your dangerous? Physicians candidly admit their inability to cure. The ordinary medicines of the day may give you relief for a few hours or days; they cannot banish the disease from your blood, joints and muscles; they cannot take the swellings from your knees, elbows or wrists, or make supple the stiffened and twisted limbs. You cannot longer afford to experiment and neglect.

To-day your only hope lies in the immediate use of Dr. Phelps' wonderful rheumatism banisher—Paine's Celery Compound. This tested and world-famed vanquisher of rheumatism, neuralgia and other troubles that arise from impure and poisoned blood, is now fully recognized by the medical profession as a positive and unfailing cure. The following important letter sent by Mr. H. W. Cryder, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., from prominent Canadians who have been cured by Paine's Celery Compound, Mr. Cryder says—

"About four years ago, I had a severe attack of grippe, followed by rheumatism, for which the local physician prescribed the usual remedies, which helped me at the time, but did not eliminate the disease. Becoming gradually worse, I finally became discouraged and began using 'proprietary' medicines without any benefit. Then I went to Clifton Springs, took the treatment, and felt somewhat better; but after coming back I became much worse, and was confined to my bed for a time. I then went to Preston Springs, and really improved; but after returning home I got worse. I was then induced to try Paine's Celery Compound, and have gained in health and strength up to the present writing. I now walk from my house to my store, a distance of one-quarter of a mile, daily, and to church Sundays. Paine's Celery Compound has done all this for me. My friends are surprised and astonished to see me able to attend to business again. Believing that it is my duty to let other sufferers know of the great benefit I have received from Paine's Celery Compound, I cheerfully send this letter."

BLOOD POISON

If you ever contracted any blood disease you are never safe unless the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. At times you see alarming symptoms, but live in hopes so serious results will follow. Have you any of the following symptoms? Sore Throat, Ulcers on the Tongue or in the Mouth, Hair Falling Out, Aching Pains, Itchiness of the Skin, Sores or Blisters on the Body, Eyes Red and Smart, Dyspeptic Stomach, Sexual Weakness—indications of the second stage. Don't trust to luck. Don't risk your system with the old fogey treatment—mercury and potash—which only suppress the symptoms for a time, only to break out again, when happy in domestic life. Don't let quacks experiment on you. Our New Method Treatment is guaranteed to cure you. Our guarantees are backed by bank bonds, that the disease will never return. Thousands of patients have been already cured by our New Method Treatment for over twenty years. No experiment, no risk—only a "patented" but a positive cure. The worst cases selected. We treat and cure Nervous Debility, Weakness, Gleet, Blood Poison, Stricture, Varicocele, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, and all diseases peculiar to men and women.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—Saul, of Tarsus, Converted—Acts 9, 1-12.

Golden Text—Repent ye, therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out.

We have in this lesson a marked case of the sovereign grace of God. Paul was small physically—his Roman name means little—filled with religious zeal, blinded by prejudice inspired by the wicked one, like as a tiger that had tasted human blood becomes a man-eater, so Paul lived in an atmosphere of threatenings and slaughter against men and women who loved Jesus Christ. He was perhaps the greatest persecutor of Christians, as he styles himself the Chief of Sinners—1 Tim. 1, 15—but obtained mercy because of his ignorance. The presence of Jesus was as a great search light thrown on Paul's life, blinding his eyes but enlightening his conscience, whose convictions Jesus said he had kicked against. If we do as he did we fight against God also, and He has stricken down many an one before conversion, notably in the Irish revival of 1859. "He that toucheth you toucheth the apple of His eye," Jesus said, "Why persecutest thou Me?" Paul surrenders to Him and becomes a trembling, penitent, obedient believer, a chosen vessel; what a right about face. After three days he is filled with the Spirit; receives his sight and is baptized, God using and honoring Ananias, an humble disciple.

Young Girls

Are often engaged in doing the work of a home under the most trying conditions. Nature cries out against the stooping and lifting, down stairs at times when labor should be as light as possible. It is owing to overstrain or self-neglect under these conditions that the foundation is laid for serious womanly health.

Perfect regularity may be established by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will heal inflammation and cure female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "It gives me much pleasure," writes Miss M. C. "to thank Dr. Pierce for the great good received from the use of his Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had suffered for three years or more of monthly pain in my back and stomach. I could not stand all without fainting. Had given up all hope of ever being cured, when one of my friends insisted upon my trying Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With but little faith I tried it, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt better. Now I have taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and am entirely cured, and in two months' time when all other medicines had failed."

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

The Reason is Not That They May Not, but That They Will Not be Free.

A Story of a Woman who made up Her Mind that she had Suffered Long Enough—The Means Employed to Cure Her have Cured Thousands.

Rock Dale, C. B., April 4.—(Special)—Mrs. David Riley, of this village, suffered for over eight years before she found cure.

She had Female Weakness of a very aggravated form, causing her fearful pains. Her back pained her something dreadful.

She could not lift anything and was dizzy-headed all the time. After trying many medicines with no good results, she was becoming altogether discouraged, so much so that she thought she would have to give up.

No wonder that she felt like giving up! Every woman who has suffered in this way will understand how low spirited and broken a woman feels when called upon to endure these extremely distressing symptoms.

But Mrs. Riley didn't give up. A friend advised her to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she began a treatment of this medicine.

After using four boxes she was much better. She felt a great deal stronger, the dizziness had gone. The pains in her back had disappeared, and she kept on using the pills.

She says: "If it had not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills I would have had to give up. They are certainly a wonderful medicine and have done more for me and my sickness than all the other medicines I ever took."

"I can and will highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all weak women who suffer as I used to suffer."

No woman need suffer a moment longer. Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured and are curing thousands of weak women.

Many of your sisters have told their story for publication and very many have testified but not for publication. All join in praising the remedy that has done more for the suffering womanhood of Canada than all other means combined.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are Weak Women's Best Friend.

PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Cyrille Daniel, of Dover, passed away this morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robert, Emma street. Mrs. Daniel had been an invalid for the past six months, and she bore all her sufferings with great forbearance and resignation. Besides the husband, four young children are left to mourn the loss of a kind mother. The funeral will take place Monday to the Pain Court church, where the funeral services will be held.

Interment will take place in the Pain Court burying ground.

SWEET NINETEEN

John Northwood, Head St., has a good joke. Yesterday was the birthday of the colored maid of all work, and she appeared quite happy.

"How old are you to-day, Martha?" asked Mr. Northwood.

"I'm just nineteen years old," replied Martha.

"Are your parents alive?" queried the householder.

"My mother is but my father has been dead 25 years," replied the girl.

The discrepancy between the death of the father and the age of the child, was inexplicable until Mr. Northwood remembered that a girl's age was involved.

BUNGOED FOR FOUR

A retired farmer struck this city this week. He now knows a few more things than he did a week ago.

A man asked him to change a five dollar bill. The farmer agreed to do so and laid out a dollar bill and four dollars in silver.

At this juncture someone attracted the farmer's attention, and when he looked for the five dollar bill he saw that the five spot and the silver had gone and only a solitary one dollar bill was left.

The last victim saw of the money it was going around the corner in the pocket of the man who had asked for change for a five dollar bill.

Boer Prisoners Create Riot Among themselves—Some Were Wounded.

London, April 4.—A serious affair is reported from St. Helena by Reuters's correspondent.

A row occurred among the prisoners and stones and sticks were soon flying about. The guard were ordered in, and the rioters cautioned to desist; but an attempt was made to rush the guard, composed of the Third Buffs.

The command was consequently given to fire over the heads of the prisoners. When matters quieted down two or three were found to be wounded, and one was sent to hospital; but whether these prisoners were shot by the volley fired over their heads, or whether as is alleged in some quarters, by shots fired by some of the guard outside the fence on the opposite side, who, it is said, fired when they heard the shots and uproar, it is impossible to say.

Their arrival General Ban Viljoen and his adjutant were sent to Broadbottom and rode thither in a carriage. A sergeant of the Buffs who had been captured by Viljoen at the front and released by him with the hope that when they met again it would be under better circumstances, met Viljoen, and they went into the hotel to have a bottle of champagne together.

A young Boer, who had crawled through the wires of the camp fence to steal oil, refused to put up his hands when ordered, and was shot. Before dying he said that it was his own fault.

DAY'S DESPATCHES

WANT MRS. MAYBRICK SET FREE

New York, April 4.—Women of the New York Legislative League will, at a C. O. B. Association, send a memorial to King Edward, praying that on the occasion of his coronation he will pardon Mrs. Florence Maybrick. They base their petition upon the theory of her innocence, but on the ground that she already has suffered sufficiently for any crime she may have committed.

HONOR REDMOND AND M'BUGH.

Dublin, April 4.—The freedom of the City of Dublin was conferred today on John Redmond, chairman of the United Irish League, and of the Irish Parliamentary party, and Patrick A. McHugh, the Nationalist member of Parliament for the north.

O'Donnell, recently made a tour of the United States in the interests of the Irish League.

ARRESTED THE ANARCHISTS.

New York, April 4.—An attempt of Anarchists to distribute pamphlets at the Altgeld memorial meeting in this city brought prompt action at the hands of the police. Three men were arrested.

When acting-Captain Churchill arrived at the hall he saw men and women distributing Anarchist pamphlets, making excuses for the assassin of President McKinley, and attacking President Roosevelt.

Captain Churchill drove these people from the station-house and claimed to be a friend of Hirschkoft, who was recognized as also having distributed pamphlets, and he was sent to jail in the cell-room.

Emma Goldman, set in the most prominent part of the hall, but was kept under surveillance, and did not speak during the meeting.

AN UGLY FALL

George Wardell, contractor, of this city, narrowly escaped death by accident, Thursday, at Tapperville. He was working on a scaffold forty feet from the ground, on Mr. Glasgow's house there, when the scaffold gave way and he was precipitated to the ground falling on a pile of bricks.

CHARACTER BUILDING

Judge Houston has received a letter from Jos. Wilson, a young man living in Eastern Ontario. When Wilson was a boy, he lived in Chatham. His mother died and his father married again. The boy kept getting into trouble and was finally sent to the Reformatory. The boy's trouble was more due to his guardians than himself. He was only at the Reformatory a few months, when a farmer attracted by the boy, took him out. Judge Houston received a letter from the farmer's wife some six months later saying her husband had died and she hated to see the boy go back to the Reformatory, so she had got the boy a place with another farmer and was doing the lad's washing and mending. The woman was writing to the priest, making reports just as if the boy were still with her, and she wanted to know if she was doing wrong.

The lad was exceptionally bright and now holds a good position. He is looking for his relatives and has written Judge Houston asking where his relatives are. The father now lives in Tilbury. Judge Houston will write the young man and give him the information he wants.

DEATH AND VICTORY

A Beautiful Easter Discourse by Rev. Dr. Talmage.

RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD

The Christian View of Death as the Entrance to a Fuller Life—The Charge of the Black Giant—The Ura or Tomb—Host of the King of Terrors—The Final Victory.

Entered According to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1902, by William Baily, of Toronto, as the Proprietor of Agriculture, Ontario.

Washington, March 30.—The Christian view of death as the entrance to a fuller life is presented in this Easter discourse by Dr. Talmage from the text, I Cor. xv, 54, "Death is swallowed up in victory."

About 1,870 Easter mornings have wakened the earth. In France for three centuries the almanacs made the year begin at Easter until Charles IX. made the year begin at Jan. 1. In the Tower of London there is a royal pay roll of Edward I. on which there is an entry of 13 pence for 400 colored and pictured eggs, with which the people sported. In Russia slaves were fed and alms were distributed on Easter. Ecclesiastical councils met in Pontus, Gaul, in Rome, in Achaia, to decide the particular day and after a controversy more animated than gracious decided it, and now through all Christendom in some way the first Sunday after the full moon happens upon or next after March 21 is filled with Easter rejoicing.

The royal court of the Sabbaths is made up of fifty-two. Fifty-one are princes in the royal household, but Easter is queen. She wears a richer diadem, she wears a more jeweled scepter, and in her smile nations are irradiated. How welcome she is when, after a harsh winter and late spring, she seems to step out of the snowbank rather than the conservatory, to come out of the north instead of the south, out of the arctic rather than the tropics, dismounting from the icy equinox, but high in her right hand she holds the scepter of Christ's sepulchre, and holding high in her left hand the key to all the cemeteries in Christendom.

My text is an ejaculation, the spirit of the resurrection. Paul wrote right on in his argument about the resurrection and observed all the laws of logic, but when he came to write the words of the text his fingers and his pen and the parchment on which he wrote took fire, and he cried out, "Death is swallowed up in victory!" It is an exciting thing to see an army routed and flying. They run each other down. They scatter everything valuable in the track of the routed army; hoof of horse on breast of wounded and dying man. You have heard of the French falling back from Sedan, of Napoleon's track of 90,000 corpses in the snowbanks of Russia, of the retreat of our armies from Agassiz or of the five kings tumbling over the rocks of Beth horan with their armies while the hallooms of heaven and the words of Joshua's host struck them with their fury.

The Charge of the Black Giant. It seems that a black giant proposed to conquer the earth. He gathered for his host all the aches and pains and malarial and cancerous and distemper and epidemics of the ages. He marched them down, drilling them in the northwest wind and amid the slush of tempests. He threw up barricades of grave mould. He pitched tent of charnel houses. Some of the troops marched with slow tread, commanded by consumptions, some in double quick, commanded by pneumonia. Some he took by long besiegement of evil habit and some by the stroke of the baton of casualty. With bony hand he pounded at the door of hospitals and sickrooms and won all the victories in all the great battlefields of all the five continents. Forward, march! ordered the conqueror of conquerors, and all the generals and commanders in chief and all presidents and kings and sultans and emperors dropped under the foot of his war charger. But one Christmas night his antagonist was born.

As most of the plagues and sicknesses and demopisms come out of the east, it was appropriate that the new conqueror should come out of the east quarter. Power is given him to awaken all the fallen of all the centuries and of all lands and marshal them against the black giant. Fields have already been won, but the last day of the world's existence will see the decisive battle. When Christ shall lead forth his two legions, the brigade of the risen dead and the brigade of the celestial host, the black giant will fall back, and the brigade from the risen sepulchres will take him from beneath, and the brigade of descending immortals will take him from above, and death shall be swallowed up in victory.

The old braggart that threatened the conquest and demolition of the planet has lost his throne, has lost his sceptre, has lost his palace, has lost his prestige, and the one word written over all the gates of mausoleum and catacomb and necropolis, on cenotaph and sarcophagus, on the lonely khan of the arctic explorer and on the cataphage of great cathedrals, written in capitals of angels and calls him, written in musical cadence, written in doxology of great assemblages, written on the sculptured door of the family vault, is "Victory." Coronal word, embannered word, apocalyptic word, chief word of triumphal arch under which conquerors return.

Host of the King of Terrors. Victory! Word shouted at Culloden and Balachava and Dienbien, at Agidido and Solferino, at Marathon, where the Athenians drove back the Mades; at Poitiers, where Charles Martel broke the ranks of the Saracens; at Salamis, where Themistocles in the great sea fight confounded the Persians, and at the door of the eastern cavern of chiseled rock, where Christ came out through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and put him back in the niche from which the celestial Conqueror had just emerged. Ah! When the jaws of the eastern mausoleum took down the black giant, "death was swallowed up in victory." I proclaim the abolition of death.

The old antagonist is driven back into mythology with all the lore about Stygian ferry and Charon with oar and boat. Melrose Abbey and Knellworth Castle are no more in ruins than is the sepulchre. We shall have no more to do with death than we have with the cloakroom at a governor's or a president's levee. We stop at such a room and leave in charge of a servant our overcoat, our overboots, our outward apparel, that we may not be impeded in the brilliant round of the drawing room. Well, my friends, when we go out of this world we are going to a king's banquet and to a reception of monarchs, and at the door of the tomb we leave the cloak of flesh and the wrappings with which we meet the storms of this world. At the close of an earthly reception, under the brush and broom of the porter, the coat or hat may be handed to us better than when we resigned it, and the cloak of humanity will finally be returned to us improved and brightened and purified and glorified.

You and I do not want our bodies returned as they are now. We want to get rid of all their weaknesses and all their susceptibilities to fatigue, to disease, to sorrow, to grief. We want them put through a chemistry of soil and heat and cold and changing seasons, out of which God will reconstruct them as much better than they are now as the body of the rosiest and healthiest child is a bound over the lawn in Central Park is better than the sickest patient in Bellevue Hospital. But as to our soul, we will cross right over, not waiting for obsequies, independent of obituary, into a state in every way better, with wider room and velocities beyond computation, the dulcet of us into companionship with the very best spirits in their very best mood, in the very purest of the universe, the four walls burnished and paneled and pictured and glorified with all the splendors that the infer-the dead in all the ages has been able to invent. Victory!

The Ura or Tomb. This view, of course, makes it of little importance whether we are cremated or sepulchred. If the latter is dust to dust, the former is ashes to ashes. If any prefer incineration, let them have it without cavil or protest. The world may become a vast crematorium, and there may be no universal adoption by law as well as by general consent. Many of the mightiest and best spirits have gone through this process. Thousands and tens of thousands of God's children have been cremated—P. P. Bliss and wife, the evangelistic singers, cremated by accident at Ashtabula bridge; John Rodgers, cremated by percutaneous; Laurence and Ridley, cremated at Oxford; Potkin and Blansina, a slave, and Alexander, a physician, and their comrades cremated at the order of Marcus Aurelius; at least a hundred thousands of Christ's disciples cremated, and there can be no doubt about the resurrection of their bodies. If the world lasts as much longer as it has thus far, there perhaps may be no room for the large acreage set apart for resting places, but there is plenty of room yet, and the race need not pass that bridge of fire until it comes to it. The most of us prefer the old way. But whether out of natural disintegration or cremation, we shall get that luminous, buoyant, glad, serene, transcendent, magnificent, inexplicable structure called the resurrection body. You will have it; I will have it.

I saw you to-day as Paul said to Agrippa, "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" That far up, cloud, higher than the hawk flies, higher than the eagle soars, what is the end of it? Drops of water from a river, other drops from a lake, still other drops from a stagnant pool, but now embodied in a cloud, and flung by the sun, if God can make such a luminous cloud out of water drops, many of them soiled and impure and fetched from miles away, can he not transport the fragments of a human body from the earth and make of them build a radiant body? Cannot God, who owns all the material out of which bones, muscle and flesh are made, set them up again if they have fallen? If a manufacturer of telescopes drop a telescope on the floor and it breaks, can he not mend it again so you can see through it? And if God drops the human eye into the dust, the eye which he originally fashioned, can he not restore it? Ay, the manufacturer of the telescope, by the use of a new glass and a change of material, can make a better instrument than that which was originally contrived. Why, then, do you not think the fashioner of the human eye will improve its sight and multiply the natural eye by the thousandfold additional forces of the resurrection eye?

The Resurrection. "Why should it be thought with you an incredible thing that God should raise the dead?" Things all around us suggest it. Out of what grew all these flowers? Out of the mold and the cold Resurrection, the radiant butterfly—where did it come from? The loathsome caterpillar. That allatross that smites the tempest with its wings—where did it come from? The scurrying mouse? Near Bergerac, France, in a Celtic tomb under a block, were found flower seeds that had been buried 2,000 years. The explorer took the flower seed and planted it, and it came up. It blossomed in bluebell and heliotrope. Two thousand years ago buried, yet resurrected! A traveler says he found in a mummy pit in Egypt garden peas that had been buried there 3,000 years ago. He brought them out, and on the 13th of June, 1884, he planted them, and in thirty days they sprang up. Buried 3,000 years, yet resurrected! "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" The insects flew and the worms crawled last autumn feebler and feebler and then stopped. They lie dormant and in-sensible, but soon the south wind will blow the resurrection trumpet, and the air and the earth will be full of them. Do you not think that God can do as much for us as he does for the wasps and the spiders and the shells? This morning at half past four o'clock there was a resurrection! Out of the night the day. In a few weeks there will be a resurrection in all our gardens. Why not some day a resurrection amid the graves? Even and anon there are instances of men and women entranced. A trance is death followed by resurrection after a few days; total suspension of mental power and voluntary action. Rev. William Tennent, a great evangelist of the last generation, of whom Dr. Archibald Alexander, a man, far from being sentimental, wrote in most eulogistic terms—Rev. William Tennent seemed to die. His spirit apparently left the body. People came a few days after and said, "He is dead, he is dead." But the soul that fled returned, and Will Tennent lived to write what he had seen while his soul was gone.

I called at my friend's house one summer day. I found the yard all piled up with rubbish of carpenter's and mason's work. The door was off. The plumbers had torn up the floor. The roof was being lifted in cupola. All the pictures were gone, and the paper hangers were doing their work. All the modern improvements were being introduced into that dwelling. There was not a room in the house that I live in at that time, although a month before when I visited that house everything was so beautiful I could not have suggested improvement. My friend had gone with his family to the Holy Land, expecting to come back at the end of six months, when the building was to be done. And, oh, what was his joy when at the end of six months he returned and found the old house had been enlarged and improved and glorified. This is your body. It looks well now—all the rooms filled with health, and we could hardly make a suggestion. But after awhile your soul will go to the Holy Land, and while you are gone the old house of your tabernacle will be entirely reconstructed from cellar to attic, and every nerve, muscle and bone and tissue and artery must be hauled over, and the old structure will be burned and adorned and raised and cupolaed and enlarged, and all the improvements of heaven introduced, and you will move into it on resurrection day. "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

The Final Victory. And so when the world's last Easter morning shall come the soul will descend, crying, "Where is my body?" And the body will ascend, saying, "Where is my soul?" And the Lord of the resurrection will bring them together, and it will be a perfect soul in a perfect body, introduced by a perfect Christ into a perfect Heaven. Victory! Do you wonder that on Easter day we swathe our churches with garlands? Do you wonder we celebrate it with the most consecrated voice of song that we can invite, with the dearest fingers on organ and cornet and with doxologies that beat the air with the billows of sound as the sea smites the basalt at Giant's Causeway? Only the bad disappearance of the resurrection. A cruel heathen warrior heard Mr. Moffat, the missionary, preach about the resurrection, and he said to the missionary, "Will my father rise in the last day?" "Yes," said the missionary. "Will all the dead in battle rise?" "Yes," said the missionary. Then said the warrior: "Let me hear no more about the resurrection. There shall be no resurrection; there shall be no resurrection. I will slay thousands in battle. Will they rise?" Ah, there will be more to rise on that day than those whose crimes have never been repented of will want to see! But for all others who loved Christ to give him their pardon and their life and their resurrection it will be a day of victory.

The thunders of the last day will be the salvo that greets you into harbor. The lightning will be the torches of triumphal procession marching down to escort you home. The burning worlds will be the rockets celebrating your coronation on thrones where you will reign forever and forever and forever. Where is death? What have we to do with death? As your reunited body and soul swing off from this planet, on that last day you will see deep gashes all up and down the hills, deep gashes all up and down the valley, and they will be the emptied graves, they will be the abandoned graves, they will be the rough ground tossed on each side of them, and slabs will lie uneven on the rent hillsides, and there will be fallen monuments and cenotaphs, and then for the first time you will appreciate the full exhilaration of the text, "Death is swallowed up in victory."

Hail the Lord of earth and heaven! Praise to thee by both be given. These we greet triumphant now; Hail the resurrection thou!

AMAZING USE OF TIMBER.

Some Astonishing Figures of the Consumption of Wood Per Year in the United States—Mr. Oswald's Calculations.

James Oswald of Madison, Wis., is said to be a great authority on timber and the lumber trade, and in a recently published article he gave some figures showing how great is the consumption of wood per year in the United States. Over 4,000,000,000 feet of pine lumber is used annually for matches, the equivalent of the product of 400 acres of virgin forest. On American railroads about 620,000,000 cross ties and renewals are required annually. The amount of lumber used every year for ties is equal to 8,000,000,000 feet of lumber. In that country there are now standing nearly 7,500,000 telegraph poles. The average life of a pole is ten years, so that about 750,000,000 are required every year for renewals. These figures do not include telephone poles or railway telegraph poles. The amount of timber consumed annually for poles and ties is equivalent of the timber grown on 100,000 acres of virgin forest.

For making shoe pegs every year the amount of timber used is equal to the second growth of 8,500 acres of hardwood land. Laths and boot trees require about 500,000 cords of wood. Although the making of paper from wood pulp is a comparatively new process, the annual consumption of wood for this purpose is equal to over 800,000,000 board feet of timber, for which it would be necessary, were the trees all growing together, to cut about 80,000 acres of forest. They are now using in America for the lumber and paper trade about 40,000,000 feet of lumber a year, which is equivalent to about 4,000,000 acres of virgin forest, an acre equal to Rhode Island and Connecticut. These figures do not include wood used for fuel, which is four and one-half times as much.

It will thus be seen that, without taking any account of the forests destroyed by fire for fuel, or the present annual demand in the neighboring republic reaches the enormous amount of 900,000,000 acres—an area equal to Nova and a half times the size of Nova Scotia.

Two Lindsay Doctors

Couldn't Cure Mr. Murdock

His Case a Severe One—Pain so Intense Morphine has to be Administered—No Control of His Bladder—Wife Thought He Would Die.

Doctors Failed to do Him any Good—One Bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Kased the Pain and Allowed Him Sleep—Two Bottles Cured Him.

Mr. E. Gregory, the Well-Known Lindsay Druggist Endorses Mr. Murdock's Statement of his Case.

MR. JAS. M. MURDOCK.

Everybody in Lindsay, Ont., knows Jim Murdock, who has been engaged in the cartage and delivery business in that town for some years past, and latterly has been in the employ of the Rathbun Co.

A few months ago his friends were well aware that he was in a very serious condition, due to trouble with his kidneys and bladder, and many had grave apprehensions as to the ultimate outcome, as he was rapidly going down hill, despite the efforts of two of Lindsay's best physicians to cure him.

He was confined to his bed for six weeks, and the severe pain in his back and in the region of his bladder made it excruciating agony for him to move. In fact the pain became so intense at times that large doses of morphine had to be administered to give him some relief. He was very feeble and unable to get to sleep without the aid of an opiate. Besides this, he had lost control of his bladder, and the frequent urination added to his misery. He had a doctor in attendance constantly, who said he suffered from ulcer on the neck of the bladder, took bottle after bottle of his medicine, but got little relief, and he was given up as a lost case.

He had a doctor in attendance constantly, who said he suffered from ulcer on the neck of the bladder, took bottle after bottle of his medicine, but got little relief, and he was given up as a lost case. A friend visiting him one day happened to tell him of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and the great things they were doing for people suffering from kidney and bladder disease. He sent to Mr. Gregory's drug store and got a bottle—the first few doses gave him ease from the awful disease. When the bottle was finished he felt wonderfully improved, and by the time the second bottle was taken, Mr. Murdock was a cured man.

MR. MURDOCK'S STATEMENT. "I was laid up in bed for over six weeks, suffering from a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. The pain in my back and across my bladder was so severe that the doctors were obliged to give me morphine. I had two of them in attendance at different times, but although they did their best for me, I kept getting worse. "They said I had ulcer on the neck of the bladder, and did not think I could be cured without an operation. I lost control of my bladder, and the water kept coming away every little while and distressed me greatly. "I took a great deal of doctors' medicine, and although it was very expensive, it did not help me. was getting very thin and wasted, and both my wife and I despaired of my recovery. "A friend one day happened to tell me of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and I sent to Gregory's drug store for a bottle of them. I had only taken a few doses, when the pain ceased up. I began to feel better, and could control my water, and by the time I had used two bottles, I was completely cured. When I was sick my weight had gone down to 135 pounds. Now I weigh 175 pounds, and never felt better in my life. Although I work hard every day, I never have a pain or ache or trace of my old trouble. "I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, as I verily believe they saved my life when the doctors could do nothing for me."

JAS. M. MURDOCK.

MR. GREGORY'S CONFIRMATION.

Mr. E. Gregory, the popular Lindsay druggist, who sold Mr. Murdock the Tablets, confirmed his statement as follows: "I have known Mr. Jas. Murdock for some years past. He is a hard working and highly respected citizen of Lindsay, and I can vouch for the accuracy of his statements regarding his case, and his cure by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Many people in this town are using the Tablets with splendid results, and their sale with us exceeds that of any other kidney remedy."

E. GREGORY.

If you have catarrh, why don't you try to get rid of it? The first thing you know it will go down into your lungs or stomach and cause serious trouble. You should use Vapo-Cresolene at once. The Fast Indian Tree

It is reported in authentic works that a banyan tree on the Ner-budda once covered a space so great that it sheltered 7,000 men. The power of the tree's shade was reduced in its size, but it is still 2,000 feet in circumference, and the trunks, large and small, exceed 3,500 in number. One tree has been known to cover an area of 13 acres. They are frequently found near temples and on near funeral grounds. The figs are insipid but abundant. The leaves are of a bright green and form a dense shade. They are five inches long and four inches wide and they are used by the Brahmans as plates and dishes. The wood of the tree is porous and is almost worthless. The natives use various portions of the tree for medicinal purposes.

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

Is The Kind That Aids Digestion.

The human digestive apparatus is better understood to-day by all classes than it was ten years ago. Simple school lectures and sensibly written newspaper articles have all contributed to public benefit.

To-day, the wise and prudent exercise commendable care regarding the character of the food used for the sustenance of life, and demand foods easily digested—foods that do not waste existing energy or hamper the action of the digestive machinery.

Tests and strict chemical analysis have proven that Malt Breakfast Food is the only pure and true health food; the only form of concentrated nourishment that favors digestive vigor.

Users of Malt Breakfast Food never have their periods of gastric disorder, no torments from indigestion, no dyspepsia, no paroxysms or fits of indigestion. Malt Breakfast Food used regularly at the morning meal is a guarantee of daily physical happiness that users of common starchy grain foods can know nothing of. Ask your grocer for Malt Breakfast Food.

The New Dead Sea.

The new dead sea discovered by Dr. Seven Henin in Tibet is described as enormous in extent, but so shallow that to navigate it one must wade half a mile to reach the boat and must drag the boat half a mile before it can be floated with a load. But the most remarkable characteristic is the almost incredible amount of salt. Boats and cars quickly become as white as chalk, even the dress of the rowers soon becomes whitened, while drops of water sprinkled upon a dry surface leave globules like candle drippings.

DIAMOND DYES

Are Invaluable in The Home.

A Voice From The Gaspé Coast

Mrs. John A. Gallichon, Gaspé, P. Q., after testing Diamond Dyes in her home for twenty years, says:—

"When I commenced housekeeping twenty years ago, I began the use of Diamond Dyes. In every class of dyeing, Diamond Dyes have always given me the best results. I have recently used Diamond Dyes for staining my floors and stairs; after a coat of varnish the wood look very pretty. I may say that the people here are astonished at my work. In my hall and rooms I have many fine drapes and materials of which were dyed with the Diamond Dyes which give such lovely colors. They are truly the best of all dyes."

BEAMS OF SUNSHINE

Chatham Branch of the International Sunshine Society.

Motto—Good cheer. Have you had a kindness shown? Pass it on. 'Twas not given for you alone—Pass it on. Let it travel down the years, Let it wipe another's tears, Till in heaven the deed appears—Pass it on.

The Juniors were busy last Wednesday afternoon, working on their quilts and discussing further openings for Sunshine. Three new members were added to the list, now making a total of ten members. Some time in the future they are going to have a little entertainment, "all their own, not one of the big ones in it all," so they say, and they certainly will make a success of it. When the quilts are finished they will dress dolls, to be held in reserve to gladden the hearts of some other little ones from time to time. Each member reported what they had done to pay "dues." One had a new top to a child who had none, others had taken flowers and dainties to the sick and so on. They are very practical Sunshiners.

At a meeting of the Senior Branch last week, it was decided to give up the idea of a bazaar, as there are a number of others to be held soon. The members were asked to be prepared to give suggestions at the next meeting for other ways of raising enough to defray hospital expenses. If the members would make it a point to give an individual report of their work, their ideas could be passed on. It would encourage others and help to spread the good work.

There is something in a Sunshine column of the Montreal Herald, which seems to fit in pretty well with the weather of the past week or so—

"Rain in the morning—that's all right, Afternoon will turn out bright! Rain comes later—don't complain. Wasn't the morning fresh and fine? Rain all day—it's been right dry, Things'll grow when the clouds pass by.

Rain or shine, or dry or wet, Never a brave heart grumbled yet! Fate herself can't help but grin At a happy soul that won't give in! And bad luck turns to good straightaway.

When such a soul sets in to play! Wet or dry, rain or shine, It's in the heart where the weather's fine! Sun or cloud, grey sky or blue It's the soul's mood makes your day for you."

Mrs. Ayres, the head of Detroit Sunshiners, tells us the following—

"In some special correspondence to the Chicago Post, May 25, one of the editors of the 'Youth's Companion,' Mr. Roswell Field, a brother of the lamented 'Poet of Childhood,' discloses the fact that he has been reading Sunshine somewhere—he doesn't say where. He says—

"Since that time I have followed this column, which we may call the chair of applied Christianity, with the keenest interest, and the evidence seems to point to a great outpouring of active charity. I find that 'a worthy family' has received upwards of $81 from 'two brothers,' 'Miss H.,' 'A. Francis,' 'Previously acknowledged,' and others, though I dare say not a single contributor had the remotest idea of the facts of the case. An 'Unfortunate Seamstress' is $75 ahead up to date, for which I am devoutly thankful, and 'To meet Emergencies' acknowledges the receipt of $78. Fancy a letter appearing in a Chicago newspaper, asking vaguely for money, 'to meet emergencies,' and bringing almost immediately a return of $78! . . . And so I could go on indefinitely, for the argumentation would run on continually, and if we're not weary of well-doing we may find plenty of opportunity for our display of the chief of Christian graces. And I think that these worthy instances, with many more I might cite, speak volumes for the human impulse of the population, and fully establish the reputation of the people for benevolence, kindness, and unostentatious charity."

Prof. Robertson at Home.

Professor Robertson, Agricultural Commissioner of Canada, has built a charming home for himself in the chief residential street of Ottawa. It stands in a small plot of ground of its own, but, like most Canadian dwellings, it is not surrounded by a wall or a railing. He married the daughter of a well-known Canadian, and his one little daughter, Isabel—not Isabel—is named after the Countess of Aberdeen, who was so much beloved in Canada during her husband's Governor-Generalship. The Robertsons' home life is a very happy one; the professor is too busy to care much for society, and when he has any spare time likes to spend it with his wife and little daughter. His library is well stocked with volumes, and bluebooks make substantial litter upon his writing-table. I met many interesting people at his house, which is quite a centre of light and learning in Ottawa. No wonder the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York—as they were then—were quite delighted with Ottawa and the wonderful view from the Parliament House; but I wonder if they enjoyed driving over those awful roads! The town is in some ways very new, and the houses of ten fine; but the roads are far from all that could be desired—Pall Mall Gazette.

HEALTH IN SPRING

NATURE REQUIRES ASSISTANCE CURING THESE MONTHS.

To Help Throw off the Impurities That Have Accumulated During the Winter Months—Purgatives Should not be Used—It is a Tonic That is Needed.

In this climate there are many reasons why people feel all out of gear in the spring months. Perhaps the chief of these is the long hours in imperfectly ventilated offices, shops and houses during the winter months. You may feel that there is nothing serious the matter; you are only a little tired after slight exertion, or perhaps your appetite is fickle, or little pimples or eruptions on the skin show that the blood is not as pure as it should be. If you feel this way, not only your comfort but your health demands that you take proper steps to cleanse yourself of the blood impurities that are responsible for your condition.

There is no other medicine that will do you so much good. Mr. James Salmon, postmaster, Salmon Creek, N. B., says:—"Last spring I was feeling decidedly unwell. I was tired, dizzy at times, and continually felt tired. My appetite was poor and I was losing in weight. I tried several medicines, but nothing did me any good until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and a few boxes of these made me feel like a new person. I would advise all who feel run down and out of sorts to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also effective in the cure of all diseases due to poor, thin, watery blood or weak nerves. Do not take a substitute for these pills—it is a waste of money and a menace to health to do so. See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on the wrapper around every box. EARNEST ADVICE

A Quebec Gentleman Offers a Plain, Straightforward and Truthful Statement of his Case and its Cure for the Benefit of Other Sufferers.

There can be no more worthy motive than the desire to help another.

There are but few who after having suffered and found a cure hesitate to give their fellow sufferers the benefit of their experience.

As there are many to-day whose lives are being rendered miserable by the tortures of Dyspepsia, and other Stomach troubles, the words of Adam Coderre, of St. Jacques de Lachapelle, Que., which he declares to be the sole purpose of helping other similar sufferers, will be read with interest.

Mons. Coderre says:—

"I certify to having suffered the greatest misery for two years with Dyspepsia, caused by inflammation of the stomach.

"I have taken many medicines and treatments but failed to find anything that would give me any relief.

"I was very low spirited and discouraged, and many times felt like giving up.

"At last one day I chanced to read an account of the cure of Dyspepsia performed by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after thinking the matter over I decided to commence a treatment.

"I bought two boxes and began to use them at once. I noticed an improvement almost from the very first, and was thus encouraged to continue till now I can confidently assert that I am completely and satisfactorily cured.

"I have not the slightest symptom of Dyspepsia or any form of Stomach Trouble left.

"I can eat and drink as heartily as ever and experience not the slightest distress afterward.

"I desire to make my case known to the public so that all who may be suffering from that awful malady may know that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me of this awful malady, and that they may be led to use this remedy which I believe to be the only one that will perfectly cure Dyspepsia."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets promptly and effectually cure even the most serious and aggravated cases.

The ceremony over, the gathering partook of the wedding dinner, after which the happy couple left on the noon train for Detroit and western points, amid a shower of rice and the good wishes of their friends. Where He Got His Beef.

An eastern Canadian business man, whose home was in a fine mansion he owned, among other things, a fine farm, used to tell with much amusement how his hostess at a dinner in Liverpool said to him:—

"Mr. , I know you will excuse my asking you for you know how interested I am in the colonies, but will you tell me how you manage out there to get fresh meat? You are so far from any market that you must spoil before it reaches you."

The Canadian said, in telling the story, that he did not feel able to enlighten such colossal ignorance as the dinner table, and so he replied:—"When we feel we must have some, we go out and shoot a bear."

The answer was accepted as satisfactory.—London (Eng.) Canadian Gazette.

MOTHERS MUST GUIDE

Should Watch the Physical Development of Their Daughters. Earnest Words From Mrs. Pinkham to Mothers.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When the young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

The following letters from Mrs. Southard are practical proof of Mrs. Pinkham's efficient advice to young women.

Mothers Who Allow Their Daughters to Suffer are Cruel When Relief is Easily Obtained. Read This Mother's Experience.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish advice in regard to my daughter. She is thirteen years old and never menstruated. We have had the doctor to her and he said she did not have enough blood. She has been taking iron for three months but is no better. In the morning she vomits, some days she cannot keep anything on her stomach until twelve o'clock. If she tries to do anything she gets faint. Has headaches all the time, is as white as marble with great dark rings under her eyes. Please write and tell what to do as I am discouraged with the doctor."—MRS. CHAS. SOUTHARD, Phoenix Mills, N.Y. (Jan. 19, 1900.)

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last January I wrote you about my daughter, and told you what our family doctor said about her. I saw another doctor and he said she had quick consumption. After receiving your letter, I began giving her your remedies, and after taking four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and four of Blood Purifier, she is now well and strong as ever. Menstrues have appeared and are regular. I can never praise your remedies enough for they saved my daughter's life."—MRS. CHAS. SOUTHARD, Phoenix Mills, N.Y. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

"Any young girl or any mother is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice in regard to her sickness. No one has had greater experience or success in guiding mothers and their daughters to health. Thousands have trusted her and are glad. She charges nothing for advice. Write to-day."

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who used them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

LORD SALISBURY.

His Maiden Speech in the Imperial Chamber on April 7, 1884—Stories of His Recent Absentmindedness.

Lord Salisbury was 24 when, as Lord Robert Cecil, he took his seat in the House of Commons in February, 1884. Two months later, on April 7th, he delivered his first speech on Lord Russell's University bill. Hansard gives it only eighteen lines of its narrow columns, and the members who immediately followed in the debate made no reference to it; but Gladstone, speaking later in the evening, recognized in general terms the abilities of the young man who was destined after the lapse of thirty years to become his chief political rival. "This first effort, rich with promise," said he, "indicates that there still issue forth from the material bosom of the university men who in the first days of their career give earnest of what they may afterwards accomplish for their country."

The most successful maiden speech of recent times was that of Sir William Harcourt. He was 41 years old when he took his seat as a member for Oxford on February 16, 1869, and just a week later addressed the House for the first time. The subject was happily one in which he was well versed. Viscount Bury asked for leave to introduce a measure entitled the Vacating of Seats bill, to repeal the statute of Queen Anne which makes it necessary for members of the House to seek re-election on accepting office in the Government, on the ground that it served no useful purpose. Mr. Vernon Harcourt (as he was then called) protested against leave being given even to bring in such a bill. The speech, which occupies six columns in Hansard, was and loudly applauded throughout, reduced Count Bury to withdraw his motion.

Nervousness is not commonly recognized as an Irish failing, but at least three celebrated Irishmen owned its mastery when up for the first time before the House of Commons. On April 26, 1893, when a Coercion bill for Ireland was in committee, Parnell rose to deliver his first speech. He was obviously and painfully nervous, and could only stammer out a few hard intelligible sentences about Ireland not being a geographical fragment.

Eighty years or so ago a distinguished Irish member named Doherty, who subsequently became Chief Justice for Ireland, said Doherty, who thought of his maiden speech. "The only fault I can find with it," said Canning, "is that you called the Speaker sir too often." "My dear friend," said Doherty, "if you knew the mental state I was in while speaking, you would not wonder if I had called him 'ma'am.' Whiteside, another Irish member, who also became Chief Justice of Ireland, said in his maiden speech he saw the Speaker's wig surrounded by blue flames he knew it was time to sit down.

Lord Salisbury has a reputation for being singularly detached from the world of men and affairs. It has been said that he has never spoken to Mr. Morley; it is also said that poor Mr. Foley of the Foreign Office has submitted to be called "Fowler" by Mr. Fowler, or anything but Foley. Here is a story that has just come to me. It is typical—I offer no other credential for it.

Lord Salisbury, the Bishop of London, happened to be in a room with the King. The King said to the Bishop: "Do you know what Lord Salisbury has just said?" "He said," replied the Bishop, "that young-looking cleric?"

And then, to save embarrassment of the Bishop, His Majesty, with that invariable gentleness which is all his own, added: "But you need not mind that. I just showed him the latest photograph of myself, and after looking at it some moments in silence, he said, sympathetically, 'Poor old Buller.'"

A stop-the-war Bishop. Preaching at Blackburn, Dec. 30, Bishop Thornton, assistant Bishop of Manchester, said he had been requested to speak on the wickedness of the war and their duty to stop it. The wickedness of continuing the war he freely admitted, and he cried to stop it; he heartily joined; but that appeal must be made to a certain old man in Holland. What were the Boers now fighting for? It could not be for the restoration of so-called republics. That was impossible. Nor for liberty, because free self-government was already assured. Their only motive, one most potent with men and wild beasts, was hate. Hate it was that kept those motley commandos in the field, shedding blood of our best and noblest. If the Boers wish for peace they could have it, but if they contemptuously refused the generous terms offered there was only one way of peace, and that a hideous one, namely, suppression.

How Australian Talk Politics. There was rumor that during the all-night sitting of the Federal Parliament a physical encounter had taken place between Sir William Lyne, the Minister for Home Affairs, and Mr. Sydney Smith, of New South Wales. This proved to be untrue, but speaking about it afterwards, Sir William said that he had had more than one lively "go" in the precincts of the New South Wales Assembly. On one occasion when he was a Minister of the Crown a quarrel in the Chamber was renewed outside, and almost instantly he and his opponent were punching each other with great vigor and enjoyment. They were soon separated, and meeting the Premier immediately afterwards, Sir William (then Mr.) Lyne said: "I suppose this means resignation?" "Resignation be damned," promptly responded the Premier. "I wish you had killed the brute,"—Woomera, in The Australian.

The remains of the late Robert Croxby were yesterday afternoon interred in the Newnomb cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. T. E. Higley.

Joseph English still continues to be very low with pneumonia.

SATELLITE

Ask Sully who wrote those Library letters. He knows!

What a lot of would-be choosers of the Library site there are, anyway.

These military men will use war-like language, won't they, Captain?

Money may talk, but for 99 men out of 100 there is not much money in talking.

Money talks. Probably that is why we hear so many people saying "hush money."

Too much Library site seems to have made some of the Library Boarders ex-cited.

The Library Board is very apt at choosing sites, but more apt to change their minds.

The only thing that the Brantford police seem to be sure about is that Quirk is dead.

Why are the soldiers' tunics like The Planet? Because they are both easily red (read).

They say "Music hath charms," but where does woman, lovely woman come in on that deal.

Some of the members of the Library Board agree with me in regard to the anonymous letter writers.

How is the Library Board selecting their sites, anyway? Is it a case of the best 3 out of 5 wins?

Architect T. J. Rutley is another of those who should have a place in Schwenker's Old Boys' Band.

Somebody had better examine Capt. Smith's bump of combativeness, before the next Library meeting.

I think the Library Board gave the Martin site the double cross when they chose the Cross-Queen St. site.

I'll bet even money that Captain Smith voted for that Cross-Queen St. site. He must have, he was so cross.

Any old time I want to know who writes the anonymous letters that appear in The Planet, I'll just ask Mayor Sulman.

If Mayor Sulman knows as much about his own business as he does about who writes the letters to The Planet, he's a corker.

Bud Gibson is honest about that new street sweeper. He wants the city to purchase it, as he says he thinks he sees something in it for Bud.

If you don't go to drill in the drill shed, little soldier boy, Judge Houston, will make you shed five dollars. Then you will feel like you had been rifled.

Dr. Griffin, who went after the young Methodist minister for objecting to a Methodist minister being a Mason, evidently believed in Masonic Rights.

There was one more birth than death in the vital statistics for the past month and seven marriages. That record shows we are not going back anyway.

Had Capt. Smith slapped Mr. Sheldrake, he be threatened, all on account of the Martin site, it would probably have developed a case of Spartin's sight.

It looks to me like everybody wanted that Library site, but in so doing they the most good and I am not interested a bit. I think that yet the people will vote on the site.

We have a few anonymous letters. They were sent in without the name of the writer and we couldn't use them. Kindly come down, Mr. Mayor, and tell us who wrote them.

Dr. Charteris—As far as I am concerned, if the Library is put on the Martin site, my property will not be benefited 21 cents.

Wonder if you spell that Martin in this way—A-B-E-R-D-E-E-N.

Dear Satellite—Those blood-curdling posters which we have been viewing these last few days, seem to have got Side-Track Thursday night. Can you explain?

BILL OF COSTS.

How about that blackboard the School board forgot to put in the specifications? I would recommend the Library Board for the place only for two reasons. The Library Board is not black and I couldn't warrant it as fast black.

This G. H. J. printed a press despatch regarding the robbing of the Rev. N. B. Martin's house in Pennsylvania. A paper in a neighboring village clipped the item, but in so doing was a little careless, and credited the location of the residence and the crime to Chatham. It is probably unnecessary to add that sleeping Windsor made the blunder.

SIC 'EM, STEVE! Mayor Sulman—A pay no attention to a letter that is unsigned. I would class a man who writes such letters

ABOUT READY-MADE CLOTHES

Our Spring clothing stocks are now complete. To those who do not yet know the facts of T. & D. making a word or two of explanation on that head may not be amiss. We have no comparative grades of workmanship in the factory. A fine suit gets more making than a low-priced one, but not better making. Seams must be straight and strong, edges perfectly finished, pockets accurately fitted in, pressing thoroughly done in every piece that leaves the benches. Materials vary with the price, elaborateness varies with the price, but the standard of work does not vary. Have we made this clear?

SOME TWEED BUSINESS SUITS

These suits are all made with four-button sack coat. Even the $5 suits have a turned up cloth facing inside so that the lining can never sag into view. One-piece collars—you'll look in vain for a seam in the back of the collar, however cheap the suit.

All-wool Halifax Tweed, dark colors; a gray mixture or a gray and gray mixture check. Good farmer's satin linings $5.00.

All-wool Tweed, dark green check, or gray mixture with brown hairline stripe and red cross check. Sleeves have one-button vent.....$7.00.

Dark green check, made with double-stitched edges and one-button vent in sleeve.....$8.00.

Wide mixture stripe with brown cross-check. A natty pattern $9.00.

Two styles, both made with two-button vent in sleeve. An indistinct gray stripe with red cross stripe, and an olive green ground with red mixture. The latter has double stitched edges.....$10.00.

Overcoats

A swagger garment for Easter and Spring wear. Men's plain fly-front coat of gray cheviot, cut very full and of good length. Made with raised seams, single stitched edges, good farmer's satin linings, self-collar and glassed sleeve lining. Sizes 35 to 42 inches.....$7.00.

Men's Overcoats of imported tweed, in the latest pattern, gray with fine light stripe. Cut in straight sweeping lines, very loose yet perfect in "set." A strikingly stylish garment. The cloth has a plaid back and the coat is unlined with full self facings. Silk velvet collar, bellows pockets, glassed sleeve lining in matched colors.....$12.00.

THORNTON & DOUGLAS In Liquidation

with an assassin, a murder and a sneak. Even a mayor can sometimes talk house sense.

Jessie McLachlan played Paderewski to the audience last night, and refused to sing until the people were all in.

In that race for the crown attorneyship, I know one man who may not make much of a run but he is a good Walker.

The Old Boys' Re-union scheme seems to be suffering from inertia. I prescribe mineral baths. Dr. Hall claims they will cure anything.

Dear Satellite—Now that the Macaulay Club has disbanded for the season, possibly the Tecumseh Monument will have a chance to materialize. Stir them up, Yours, etc.

Offagodsaurth, P. G. 4, 1, 92.

Dear Satellite—For me to express my regret at not being able to see you. When in your city last week I called at your office and was informed by a young man that it being wash-day at your place, you was off duty that morning. "May I have a few hope I might see him this evening," I said.

He informed me that it depended altogether on the weather, that if it was a middling good dryish day I might see him, but if it was a rain, he would be in the city. "No," he said, "he ain't got man yet, but 'chances air, he'll be sproutin' a pair before long if he don't stop bein' in quite so funny."

He showed me your photograph, Satellite. It was hangin' side-by-side 'th' pictur' of Nigrie Falls. "Two magnificent works of Nature," he said, as he sighed out th' match he had lit his pipe with.

When I left, half an hour afterwards, he was still weepin'.

It's a fine city you have, Satellite, and no mistake. Fine business houses and fine business men. Th' junior clerks air great an', although th' general manager does air, though he can't tell 'th' half an'ey' that he is treated by them as an inferior.

The people of your city air kind an' obligin' an' th' five cent whisky they sell there is better than th' tin cent whisky in Offagodsaurth, P. G.

I hired a bike an' went out tw' my cemetary. There was an' a livin' man there but myself an' a walk-along th' path lookin' at th' grave-stones an' a-spellin' out th' inscriptions. It's a good place to think in, Satellite, in a cemetary. A man kin carry a lot of wicked thoughts in his heart as far as th' gate, but he can't take 'em inside. His eye'll fall on a grave over which Spring is jes' spreadin' in her green mantle an' it'll travel up'ard until it spells out th' word "mother" on th' grave-stone, an' th' clogged-up rivulet of memory'll git runnin' agin' an' creep along his heart-strings up tw' his eyes, an' arter he gits 'em wiped clear agin' I reckon a walnut-shell'll hold about all th' wickedness he has left in him.

I strayed about in th' cemetary until sure down, Hingerial' moan' th' time among th' baby graves, thinkin' 'bout a little chap we uster have, called Jim.

A man thinks some funny thoughts in a cemetary, Satellite. Th' golden sunlight rested on th' tiny graves at last. There was nuthin' there tew tell of bitter tears shed when th' little one was laid away, an' th' damp airh moulded over th' wee casket that held th' jewel of a home-made desolate. Nuthin' there but th' birds, th' little graves an' th' golden sunlight—nuthin' but th' birds, an' I don't amount tew much.

The man what th' Biko Liv'ery is an affable feller, but I'm thinkin' fair tew hon'—over be a real success in his line. He changed me exactly what he said he would for th' use of th' wheel.

I had intended lookin' over th' city at my leisure, but my plans was knocked out somewhat. I wrote my wife not tew expect me home until next day, and went over tw' th' office tew post th' letter. I had just fished out tew cents tew purchase a stamp an' had got my nose in line with th' pigeon-hole, when a frocked-faced young-fella with red eye-brows squeezed in ahead of me an' asked sweetly fer th' letter she was expectin' from her young-man. Arter that jest exactly 888 young ladies of assorted sizes an' colors—some was real dark—squeezed in ahead of me, one arter another, to be waited on. By th' time No. 882 had been disposed of, red-headed No. 1 was back agin' an' in her wake came No. 2, No. 3, an' so on. I didn't mind losin' my supper an' a few hours' sleep, but th' 12 hours spent tryin' fer the bird-eyes interfered largely with my sleep.

Knowin' th' only possible way tew get that letter tew my ol' woman was tew deliver it myself, I jest determined tew take th' fast train home.

I'm very sorry I missed seein' you, Satellite, but every time I see th' pictur' of Nigrie Falls I'll think of you. Eny time you kin tew Offagodsaurth, P. G., put in your horse an' have dinner.

Yours, etc.

AKA FRACTURE.

THE ARMY IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Gentlemen:—While stationed at Orange River Station, I was suffering from a very bad throat, and unable to take any solid food for about three days. On retiring to rest at night I used to put my socks around my neck in order to obtain relief. It suddenly dawned upon me that I had in my haversack a small pot of Kelpion, and this I took out and saw on the label "swollen glands." I applied the ointment immediately, rubbing it well in for about 20 minutes. I then retired to rest and was able to get up next morning and do full justice to a good breakfast. The lightning results were beyond my comprehension.
