The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

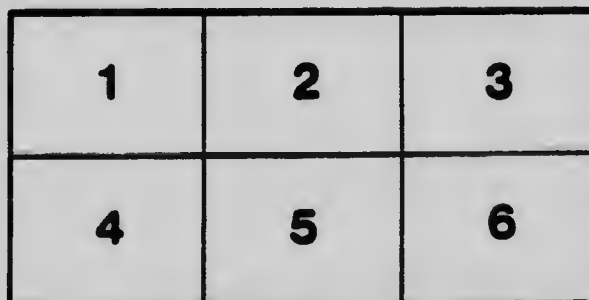

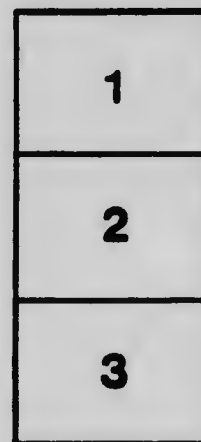

Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

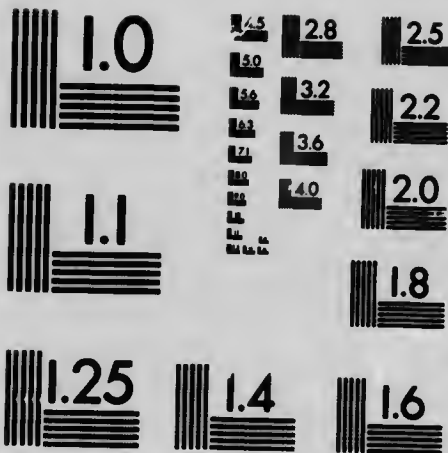

Bibliothèque de référence de la communauté urbaine de Toronto

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

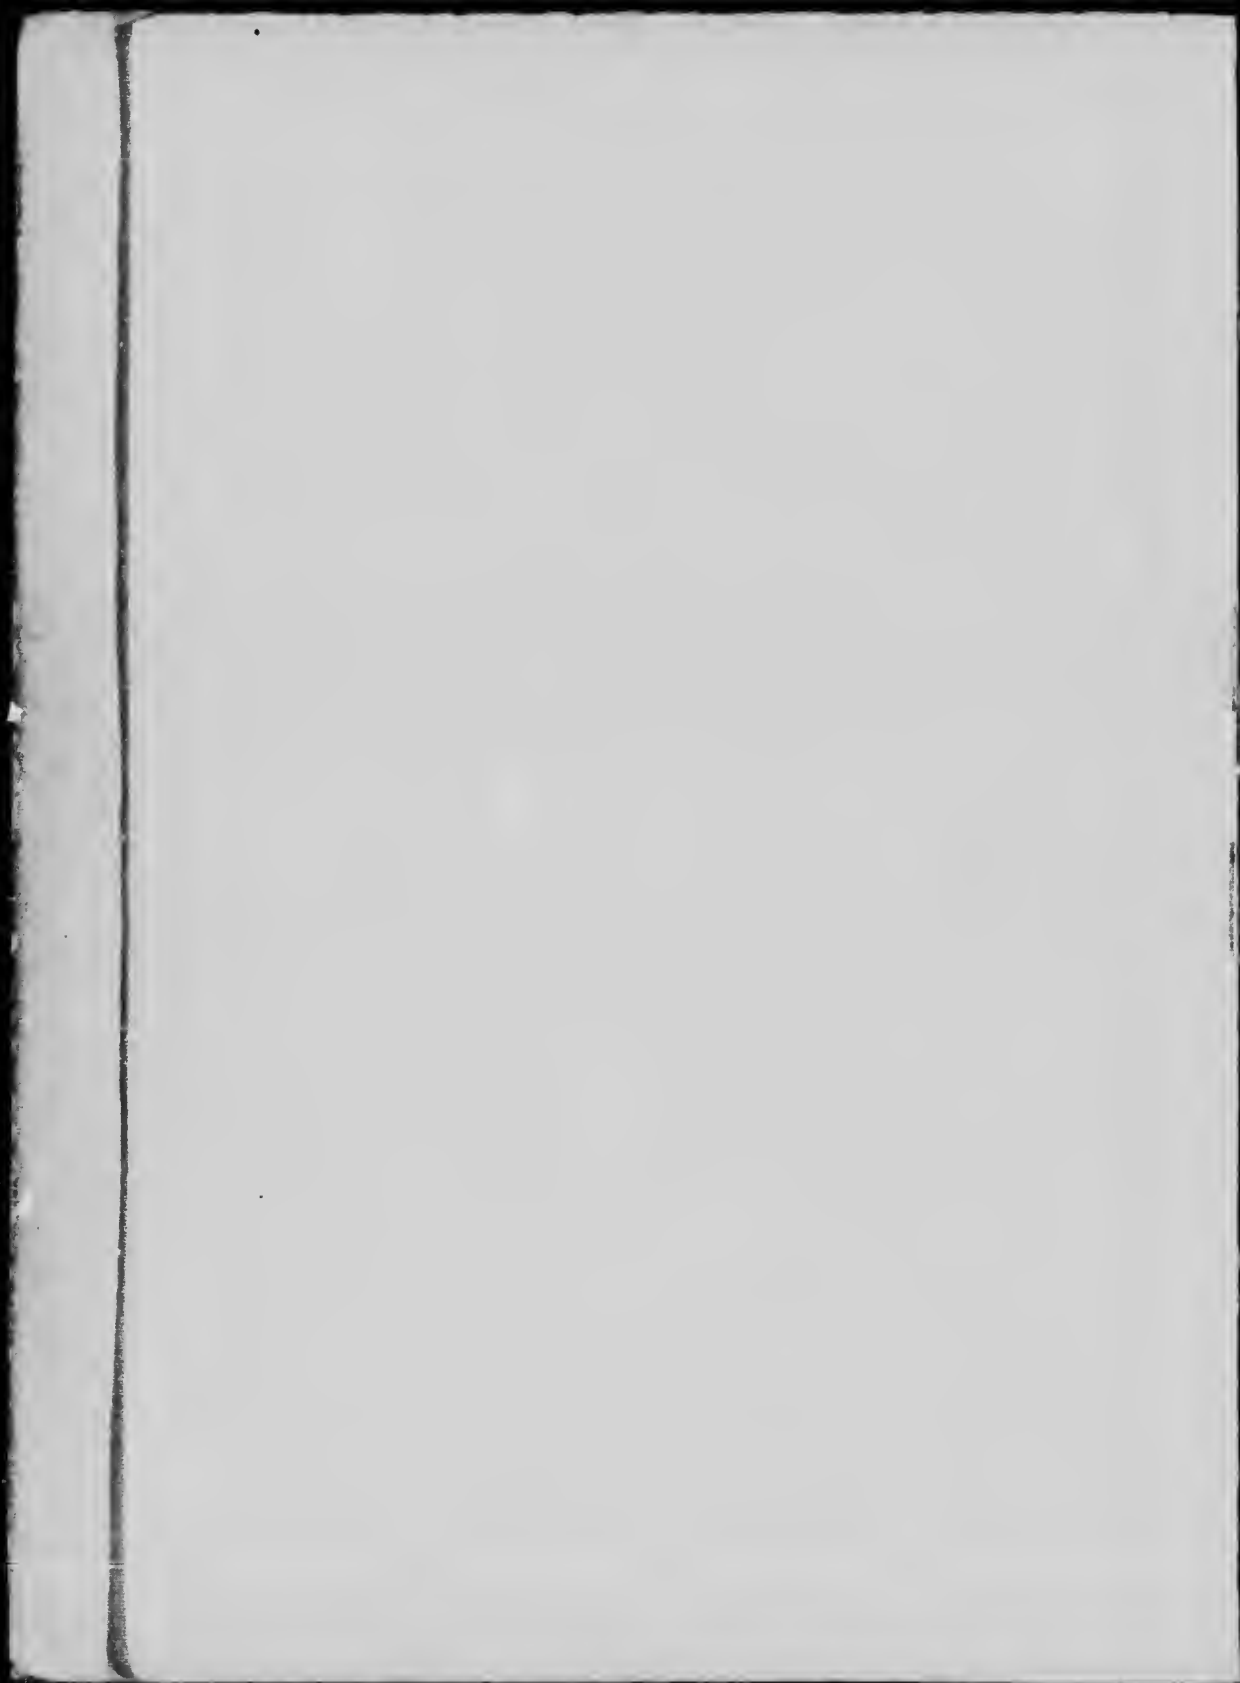

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

NOTE

The main toasts herein have been, for the sake of convenience in reference, arranged in the alphabetical order of their first lines. The "tags" at the foot of each page could not be placed in a similar way, but reference to the topical index in the back of the book will aid in locating any desired toast or quip.

So far as possible the authors' names are given, but the toasts have been gathered from many sources, and in numerous cases the authors' names could not be ascertained.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

A fig then for Burgundy, Claret or Mountain,

The drinker that verily "drinks like a fish!"

—HOOD.

Here, waiter, more wine, let me sit while I'm able,

Till all my companions sink under the table.

Pour out the rich juices still bright with the sun,
Till o'er the brimmed crystal the rubies

*Drink to me only with thine eyes,
And I will pledge with mine;

In concert let our voices breathe,
Beguiling every hour along
With harmony of soul and song.*

—MOORE.

*Keep me at hand and as my fumes arise,
You'll find a JAR the gates of paradise.*

To-day is ours; what do we fear?
To-day is ours; we have it here!
Let's banish business, banish sorrow,
To the gods belongs to-morrow.*

Then blend they, like green leaves with golden flowers,

*Into one beautiful and perfect whole;
And life's long night is ended, and the way
Lies open onward to eternal day.*

—ARNOLD.

152

*Ah, how good it feels!
The hand of an old friend.*

—LONGFELLOW.

OW
TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Strong ale was ablution,
Small beer persecution,
A drum was memento mori;
But a full-flowing bowl
Was the saving his soul,
And port was celestial glory.*

—BURNS.

168

LOW.
*Here's to the land we love, and the "love"
we "land."*

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then stand to your glasses steady,
And drink to your comrade's eyes;
Here's a cup to the dead already,
And hurrah for the next that dies!*

154

A full tumbler to every good fellow, a good tumble to every bad one.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The cup that is longest untasted
May be with our bliss running o'er,
And, love when we will, we have wasted
An age in not loving before.*

—WILLIS.

155

*Who called thee strong as Death, O Love?
Mightier thou wast and art!* —MRS. HEMANS.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The daylight is gone, but before we depart,
One cup shall go round to the friend of my heart,—
The kindest, the dearest,—oh, judge by the tear
I now shed while I name him, how kind and how dear!*

186

His heart was as great as the world, but there was no room in it to hold the memory of wrong.

—EMERSON.

W
TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The fountains mingle with the river,
And the rivers with the ocean,
The winds of Heaven mix forever
With a sweet emotion;
Nothing in the world is single;
All things by a law divine
In one another's being mingle—
Why not I with thine?*

—SHELL Y.

TO BEAUTY'S LIPS
May they never be surrendered save at discretion.

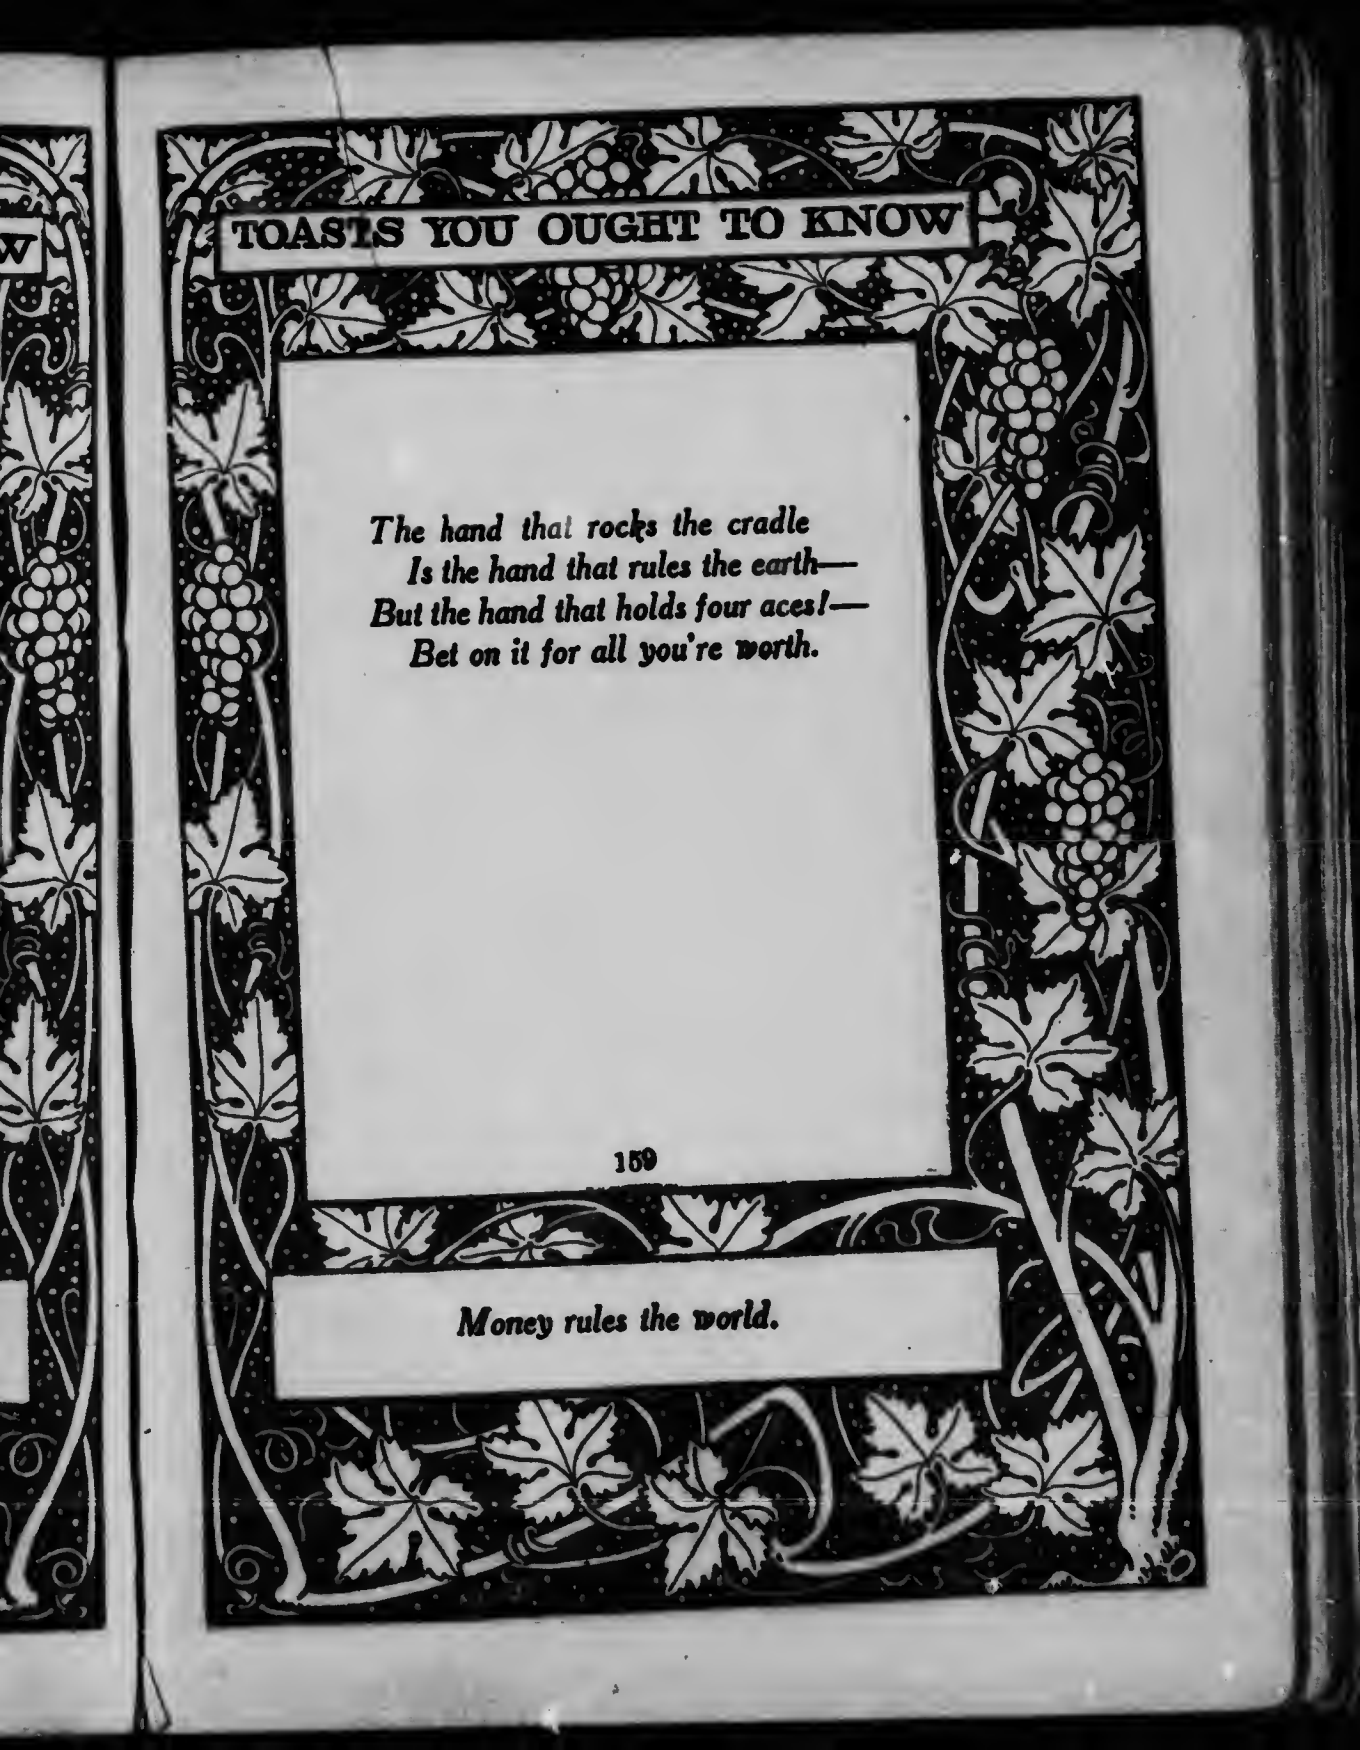

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The Frenchman loves his native wine;
The German loves his beer;
The Englishman loves his 'alf and 'alf,
Because it brings good cheer.
The Irishman loves his "whisky straight,"
Because it gives him dizziness;
The American has no choice at all,
So he drinks the whole d—— business.*

158

*Come, old fellow, drink down to your peg.
But do not drink any further, I beg!*

—LONGFELLOW.

W
TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the earth—
But the hand that holds four aces!—
Bet on it for all you're worth.*

159

Money rules the world.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

And goes and tells her mother
Does a very foolish thing
And don't deserve another.*

160

May suspicion never mar the lover's happiness.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The thirsty earth soaks up the rain,
And drinks, and gapes for drink again;
The planets suck in the earth and are
With constant drinking fresh and fair.*

*Fill all the glasses then, for why Should every creature drink but I?
Why, man of morals, tell me why?*

—COWLEY.

161

Friendship's the wine of life.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The woods are full of fairies,
The sea is full of fish;

And that's a manly wish.*

163

Girls we love for what they are; young men for what they promise to be. —GOETHE.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*The world is filled with flowers,
The flowers are filled with dew,
The dew is filled with love
For you, and you, and you.*

168

*May innocence in life ensure purity as life
advances.*

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then a smile, and a glass, and a toast, and a cheer
For all the good wine, and we've some of it here!
In cellar, in pantry, in attic, in hall,
Long live the gay servant that laughs for us all!*

164

Reputation is a great inheritance. —SENECA.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then fill the bowl—away with care,
Our joy shall always last,—
Our hopes shall brighten days to come,
And memory gild the past.*

—MOORE.

165

*In whose heart there is no song
To him the miles are many and long.*

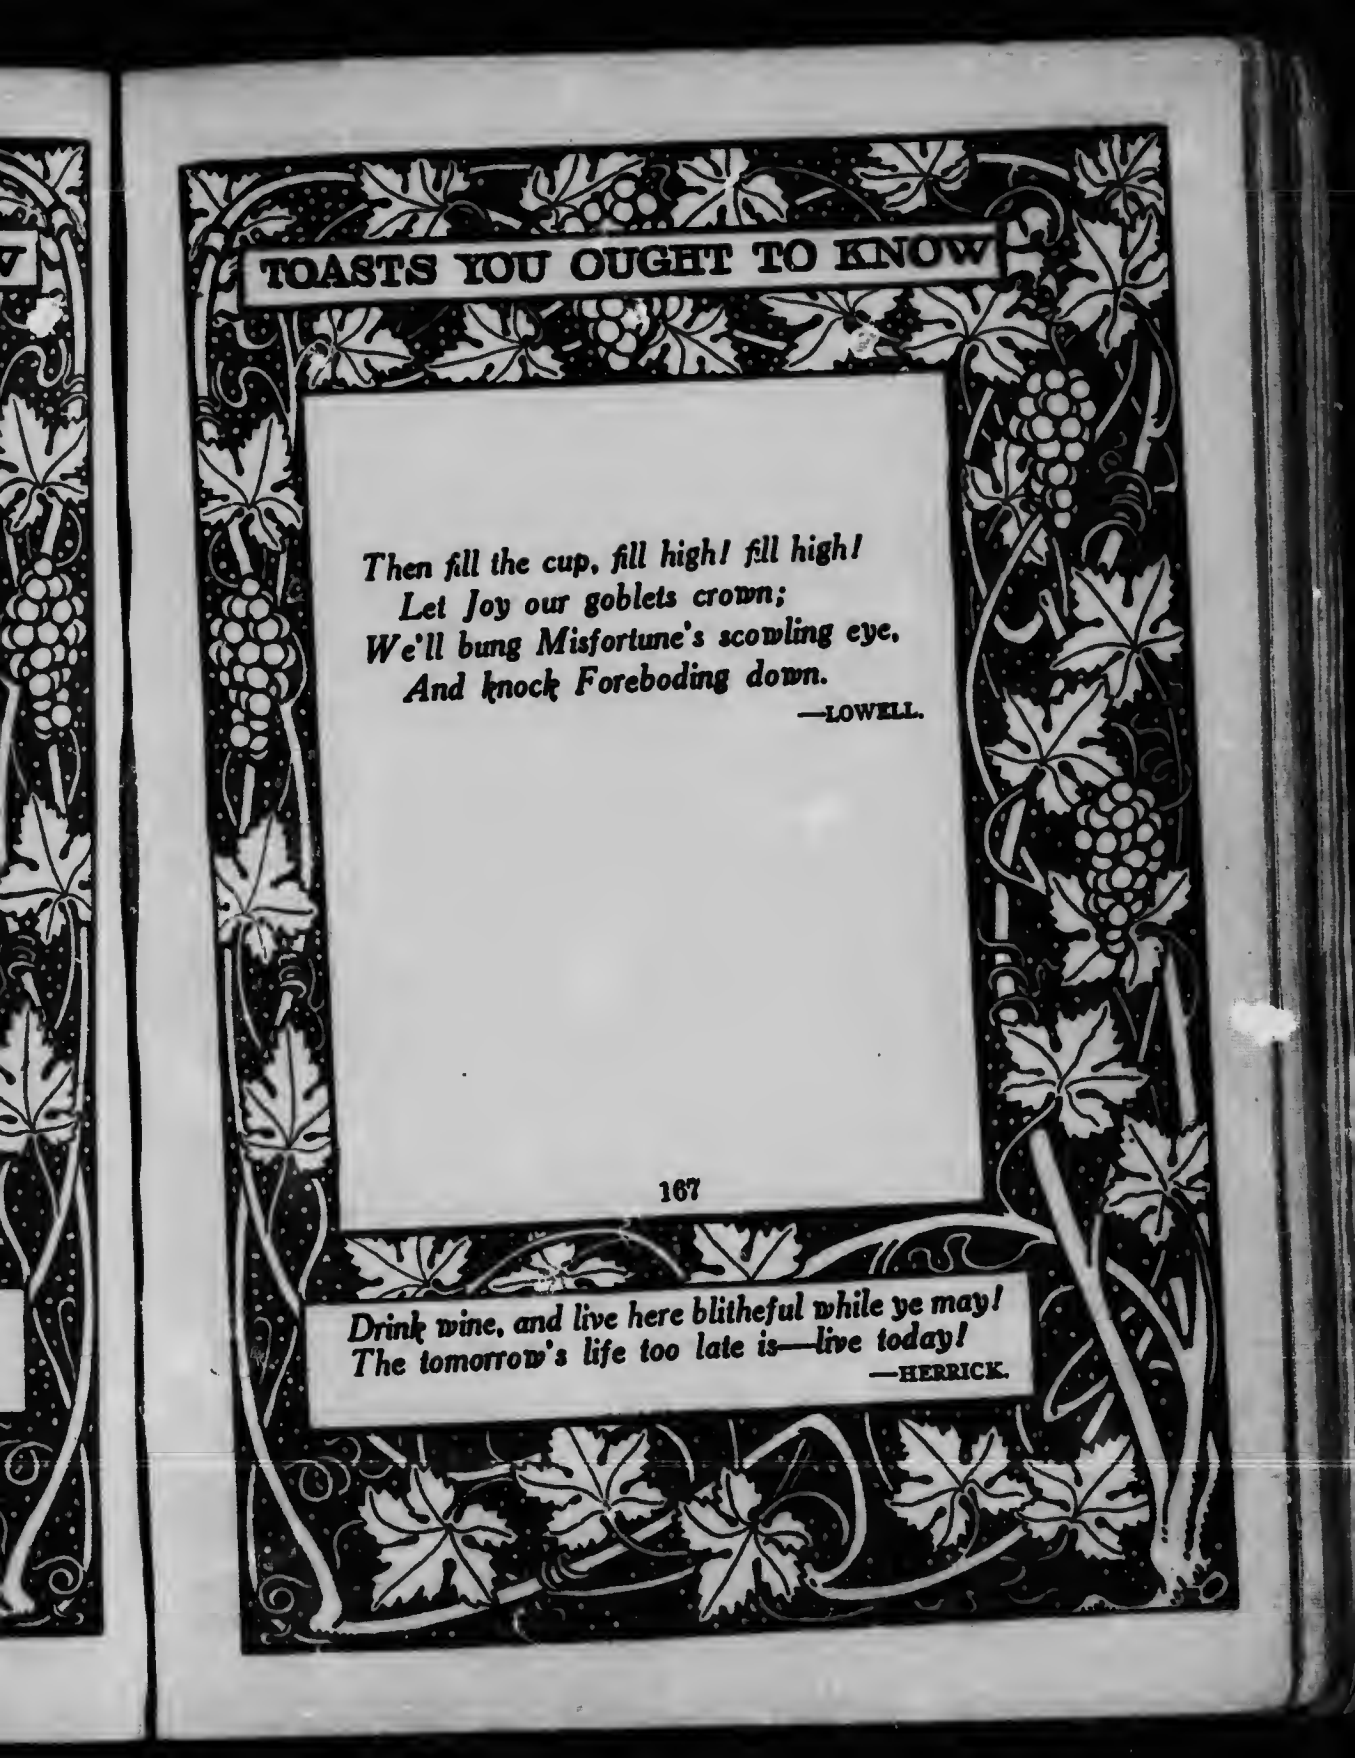

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then fill a fair and honest cup, and bear
it straight to me;
The goblet hallows all it holds, what e'er
the liquid be,
And may the cherubs on its face, protect me from the sin
That dooms me to those dreadful words,
My dear, where have you been?"*

—HOLMES.

Woman's weapons, water-drops.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then fill the cup, fill high! fill high!
Let Joy our goblets crown;
We'll bung Misfortune's scowling eye,
And knock Foreboding down.*

167

*Drink wine, and live here blithesful while ye may!
The tomorrow's life too late is—live today!*

—HERRICK.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Then here's to thee, old friend; and long
May thou and I thus meet,
To brighten still with wine and song
This short life ere it fleet.*

168

Friend more, divine than all divinities.

—ELIOT.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*There are no times like the old times—
they shall never be forgot;
There is no place like the old place—
keep green the dear old spot!
There are no friends like the old friends
—may heaven prolong their lives!
There are no loves like the old loves,—
God bless our loving wives!*

169

After man came woman,—and she has been after him ever since.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

But wha can avoid the fell snare?
The man and his wine's sae bewitching!*

—BURNS.

170

*If wine tells truth, and so have said the wise;
It makes me laugh to think how brandy lies.*

—HOLMES.

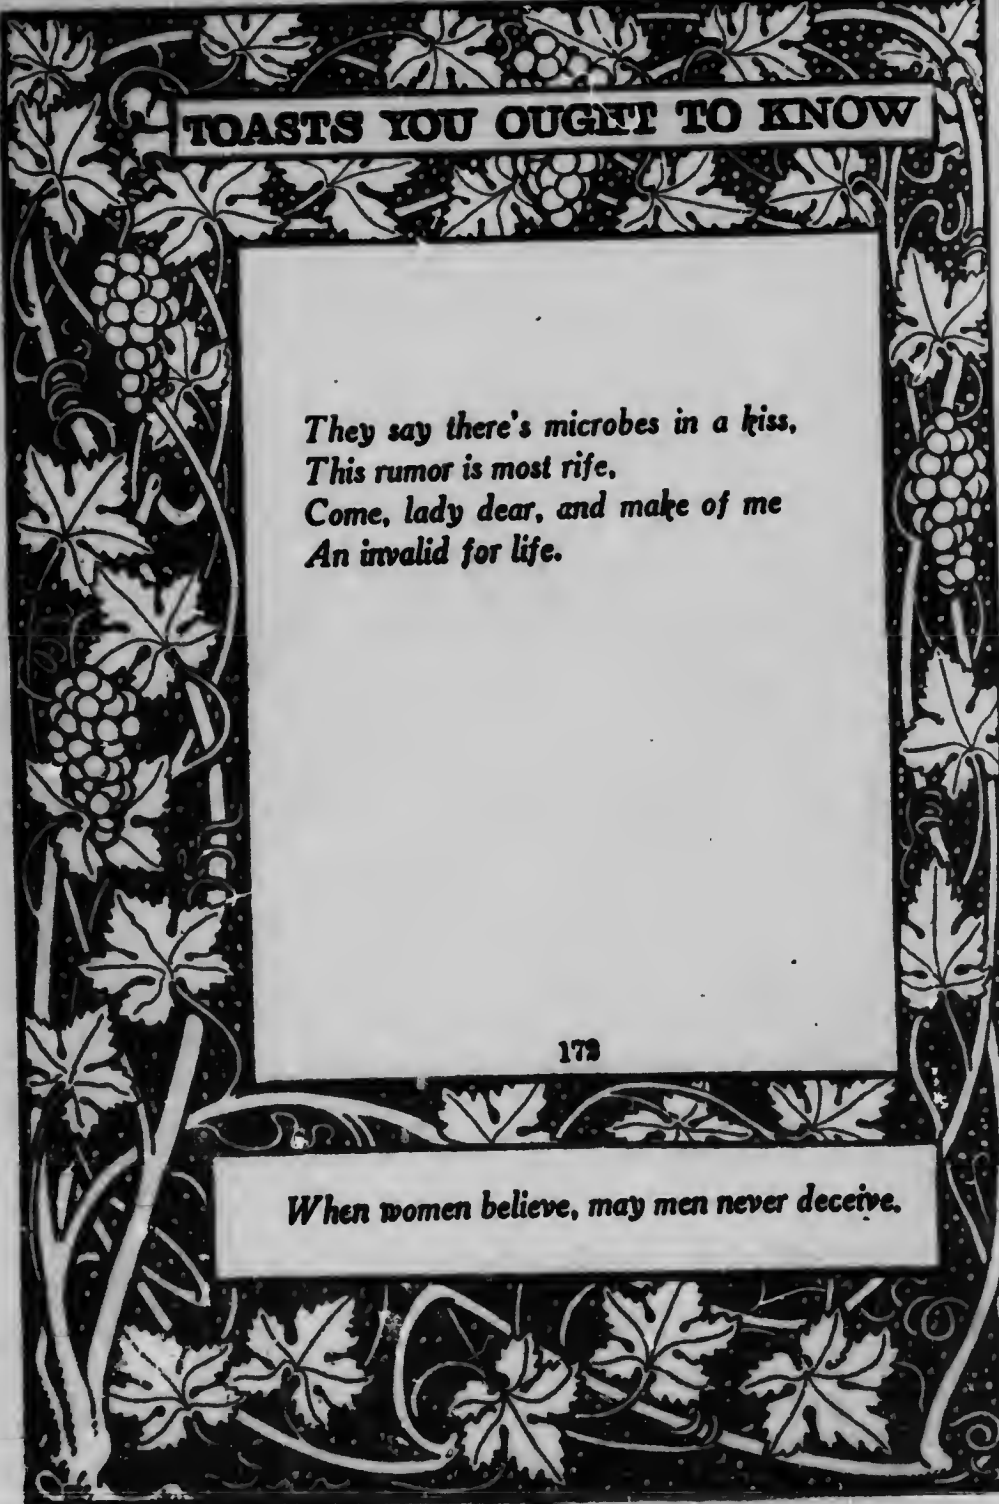

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*"They are fools who kiss and tell," wisely
hath the poet sung,
Man may hold all sorts of posts, if he'll only he'd his tongue.*

—KIPLING.

A woman's tongue keeps no Sunday.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*They say there's microbes in a kiss,
This rumor is most rife,
Come, lady dear, and make of me
An invalid for life.*

173

When women believe, may men never deceive.

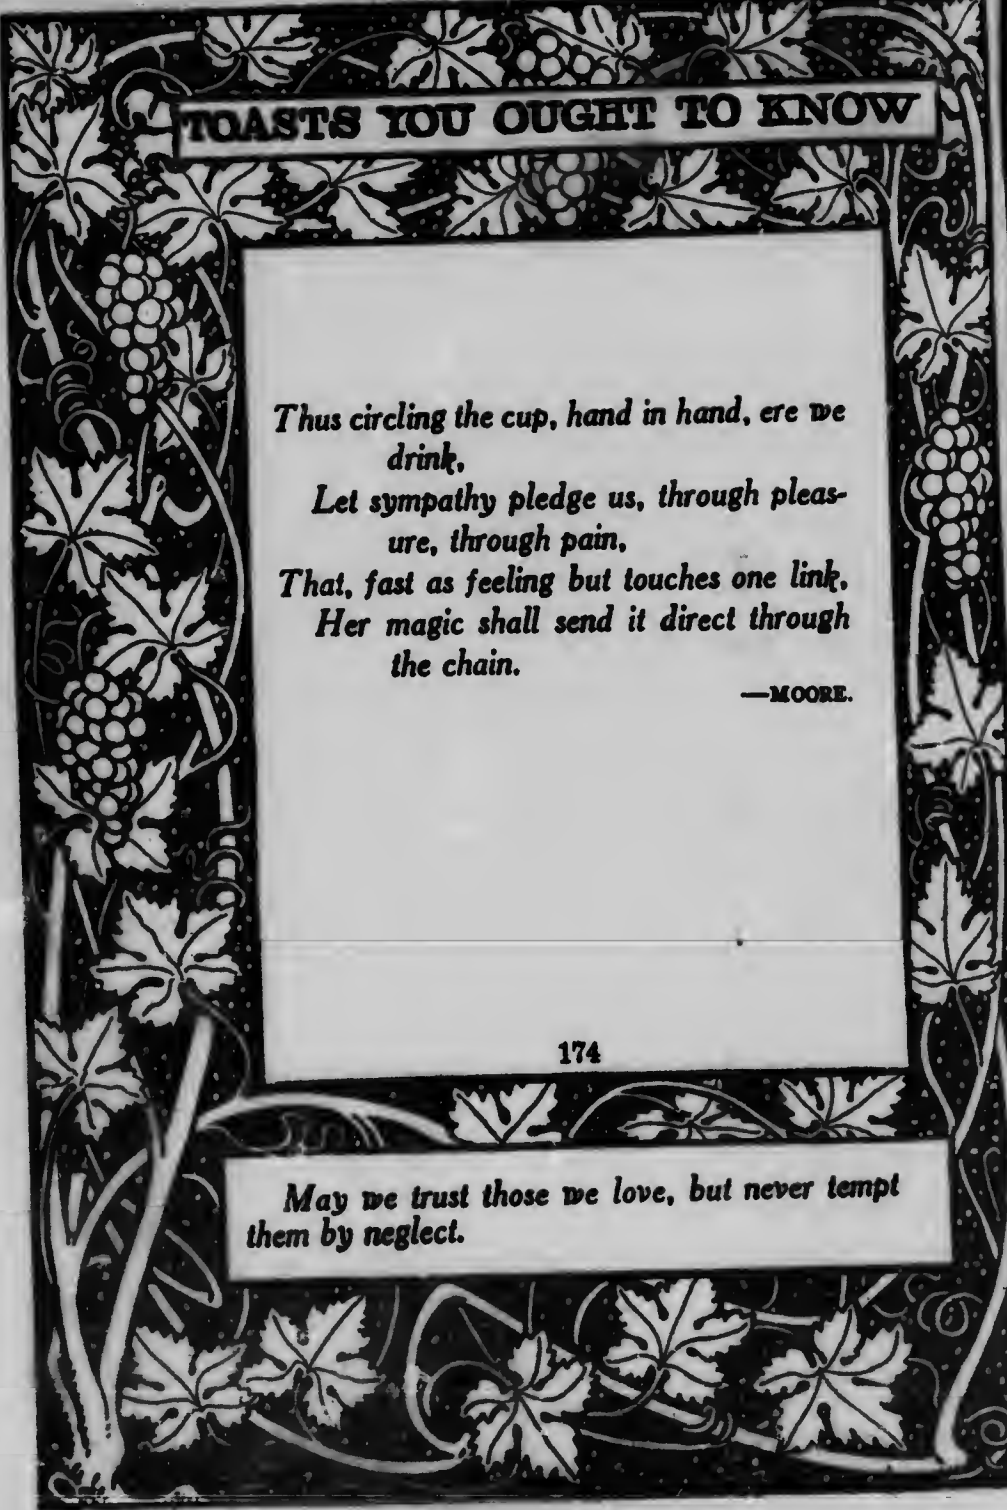

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*They talk about a woman's sphere as though it had a limit;
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task to mankind given,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a whispered yes or no,
There's not a life or birth,
That has a feather's weight of worth—
Without a woman in it.*

178

Woman, may she ever remain the guard of man's virtue.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Thus circling the cup, hand in hand, ere we drink,

Let sympathy pledge us, through pleasure, through pain,

*That, fast as feeling but touches one link,
Her magic shall send it direct through the chain.*

—MOORE.

May we trust those we love, but never tempt them by neglect.

Drink, mortal, drink, while time is young,
Ere death has made thee old as I.*

—MOORE.

175

I drink to the days that are.

—MORRIS.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Time is short, life is short,
Life is sweet, love is sweet, use to-day while you may;
Love is sweet, and to-morrow may fail;
Love is sweet, use to-day.*

—ROSSETI.

176

Stolen kisses are always sweeter. —HUNT.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

To be adored than to adore--
Such eyes as may have looked from heaven,
But ne'er were raised to it before.*

—MOORE.

177

*Man!
Thou pendulum betwixt a smile and a tear.*

—BYRON.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Thou art ever a favored guest
In every fair and brilliant throng,—
No wit like thine to make the jest,
No voice like thine to breathe the song.*

—MOORE.

178

*May friendship, like wine, improve as time
advances.*

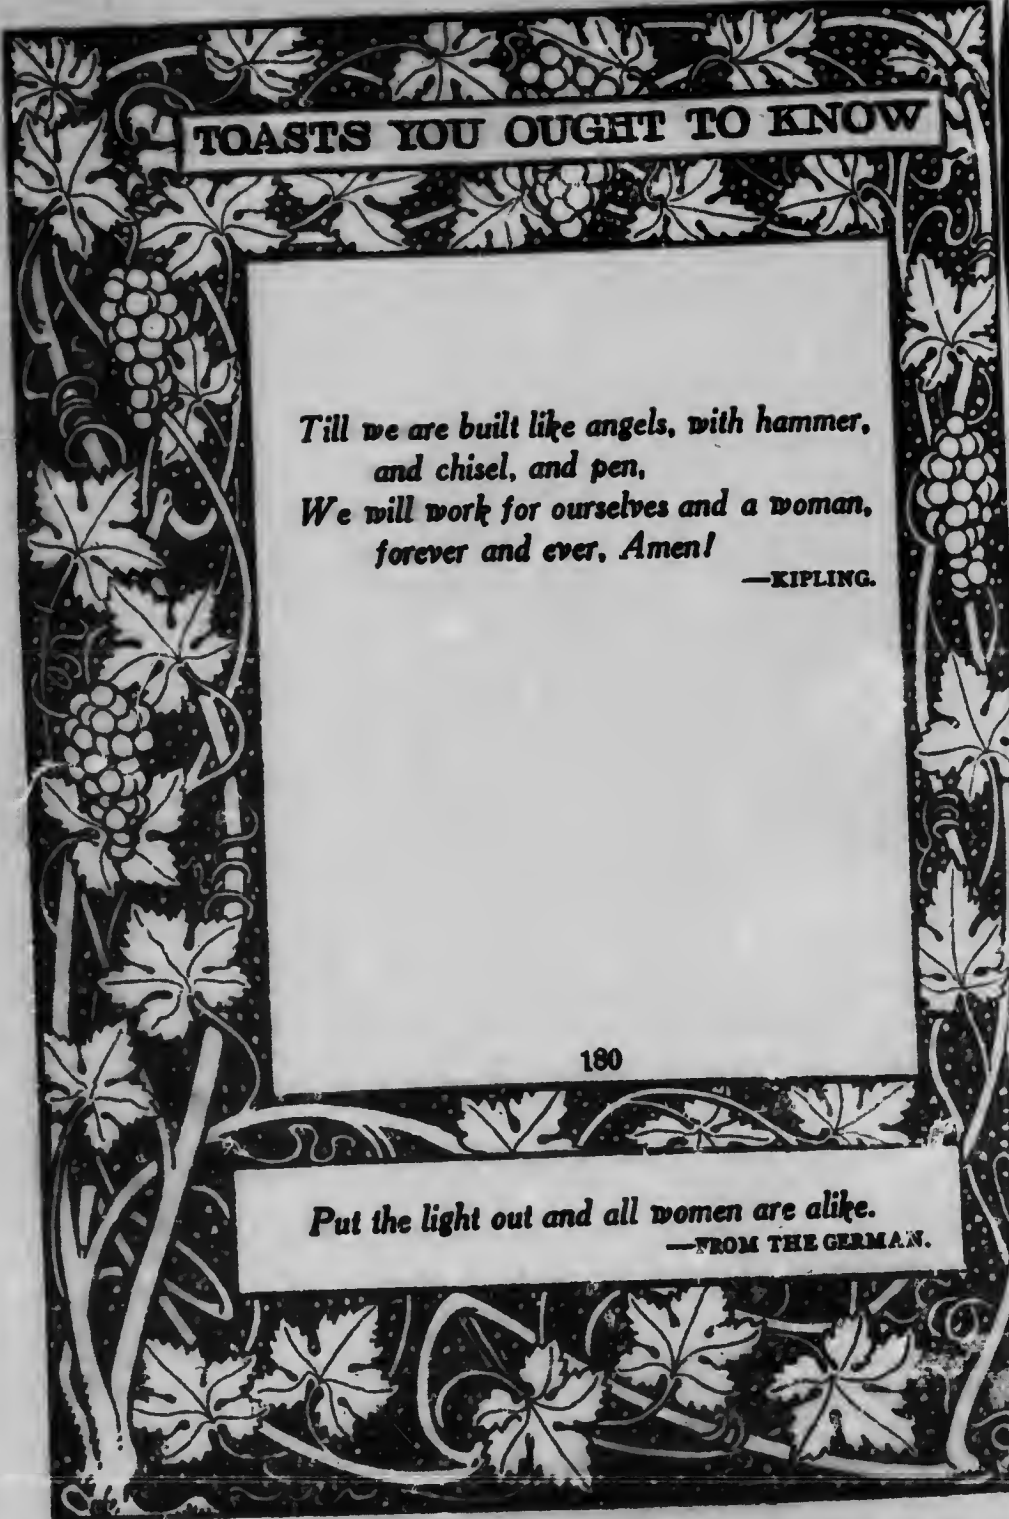

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Thou wouldst be loved, if so,
Then from thy present pathway part not.
Be everything that thou art,
Be nothing that thou art not;
So with the world, thy gentle ways,
Thy grace and more than beauty,
Will be an endless theme of praise,
And love a simple duty.*

—FOE.

179

May the sunshine of plenty dispel the clouds of care.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

*Till we are built like angels, with hammer,
and chisel, and pen,
We will work for ourselves and a woman,
forever and ever. Amen!*

—KIPLING.

180

Put the light out and all women are alike.

—FROM THE GERMAN.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

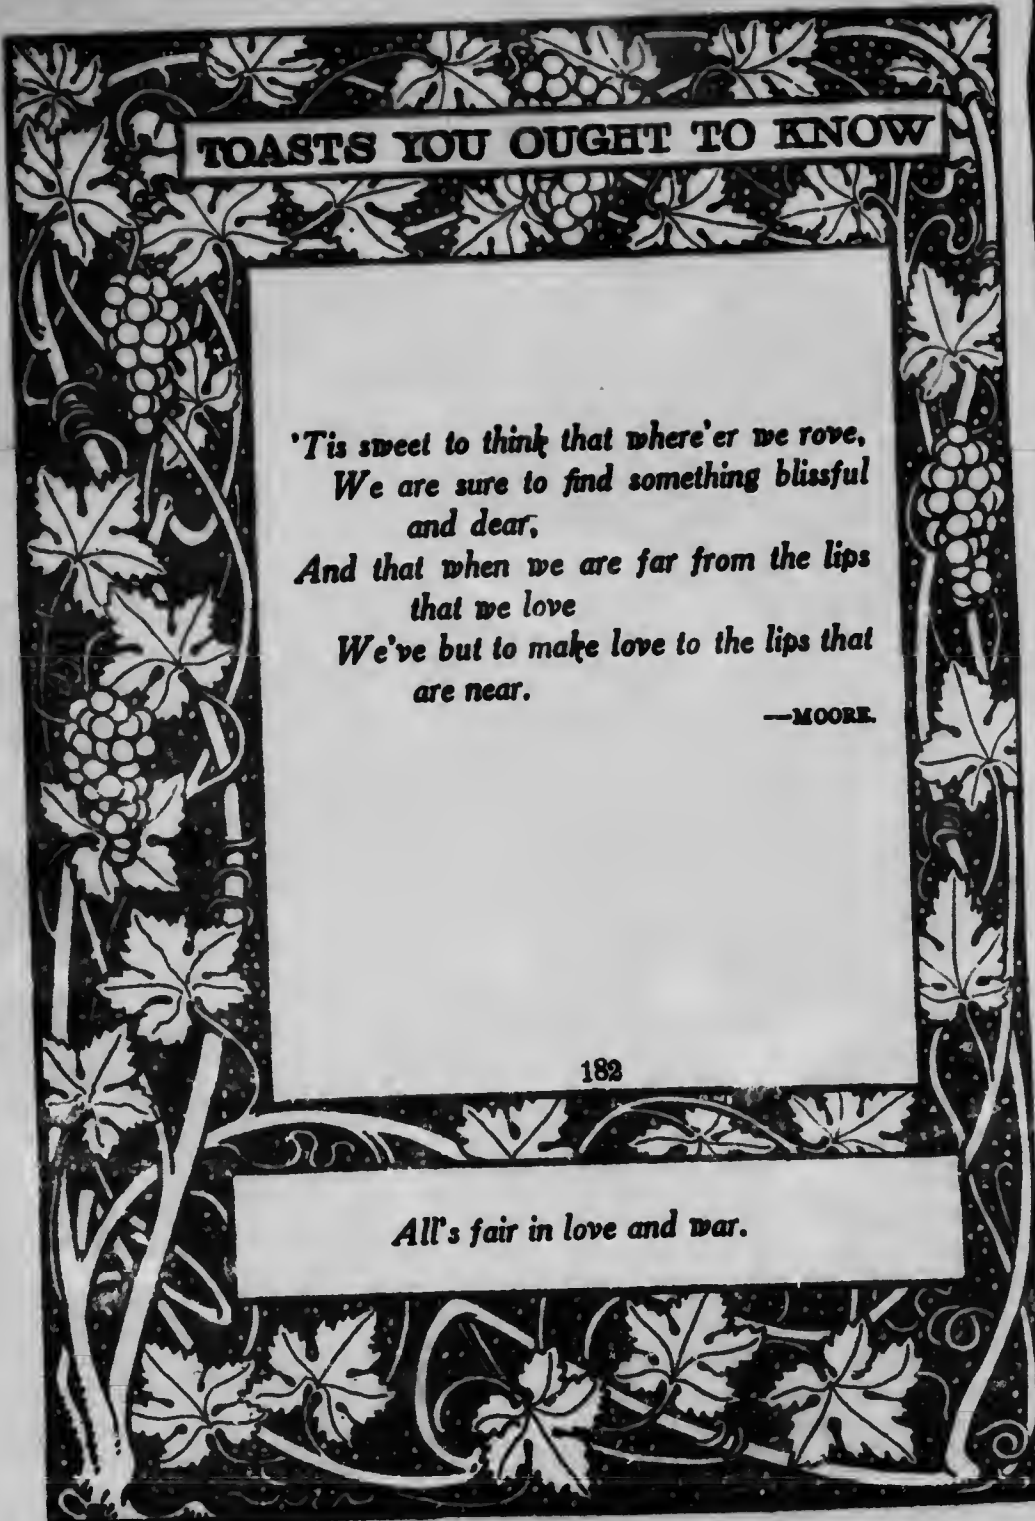

'Tis not so sweet as a woman's lip,
But O! 'tis more sincere.
Like her delusive beam,

But unlike affection's dream,
It leaves no sting behind.

laughter. Sermons and soda-water the day after.

—BYRON.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

'Tis sweet to think that where'er we rove,
We are sure to find something blissful
and dear,
And that when we are far from the lips
that we love
We've but to make love to the lips that are near.

—MOORE.

182

All's fair in love and war.

When love links two young people in one fetter.*

Through behooving and unbehooving,
Unless you can die when the dream is past,
Oh never call it loving.*

the heart.*

But civilized man cannot live without cooks.*

—MORLEY H.

May we never allow any servants to become our masters.

May our purses always be heavy and our hearts always light.

Our sweetest memorial—the first kiss of love.

—BYRON.

May we realize in dreams the presence of those who are away.

TOASTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

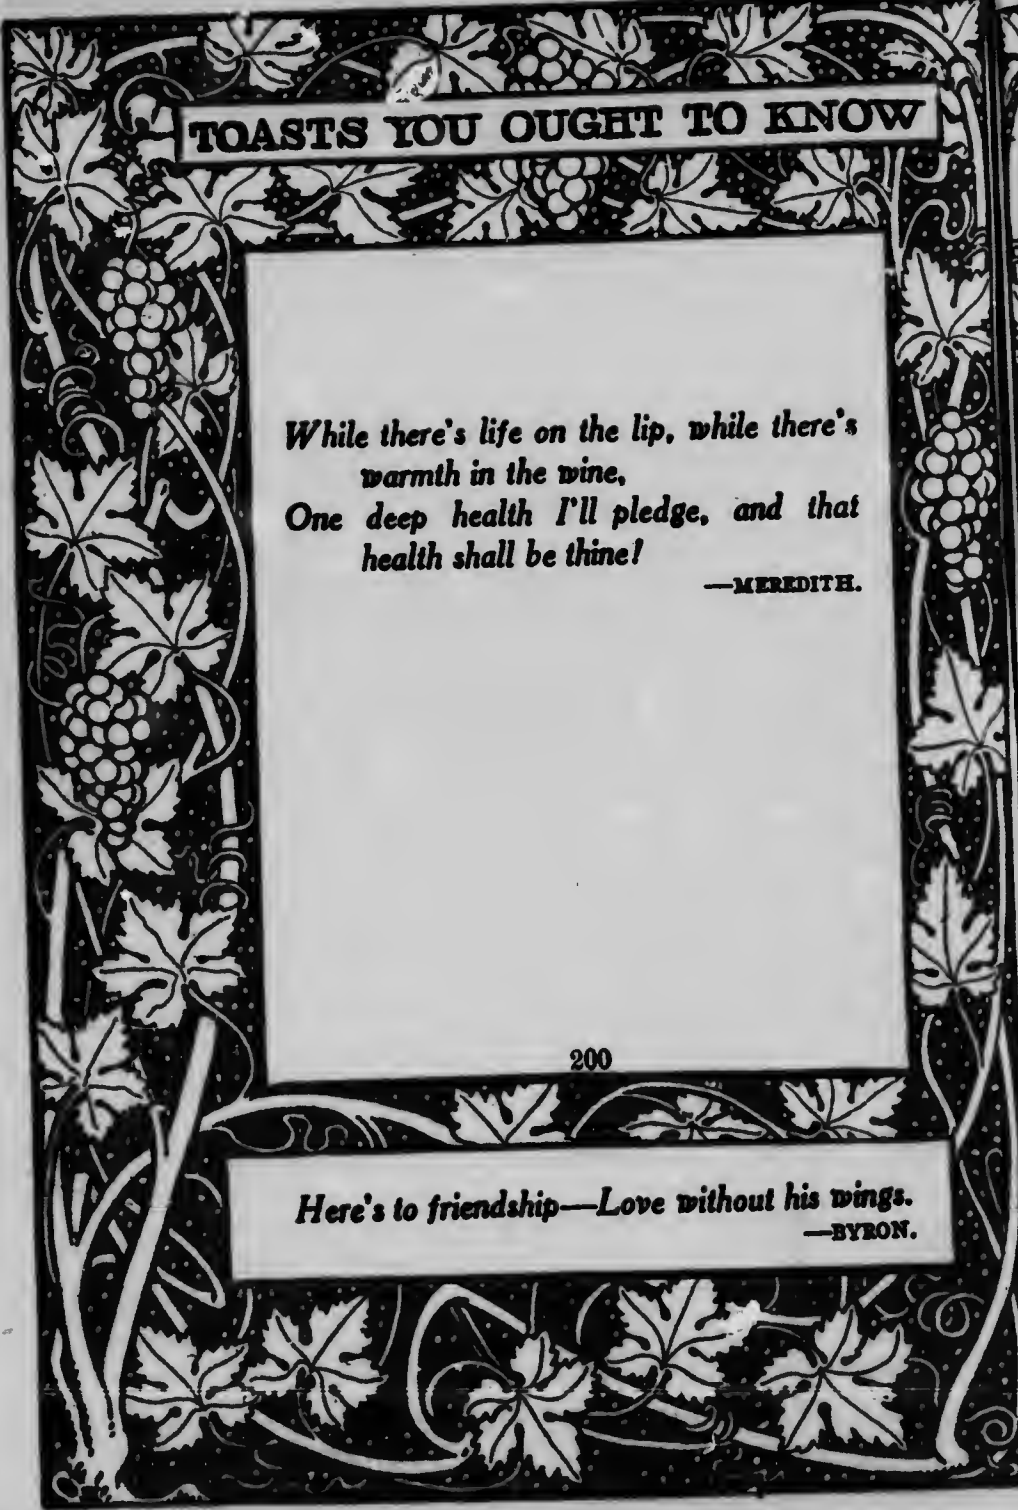

*When freedom from her mountain height
Unfurled her standard to the air,
