

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 12, 1888.

The Price of Flour.

There seems to be no doubt but that Manitoba's wheat crop has been seriously damaged by frost, yet the large areas sown warrant that the crop will be fully sufficient for home consumption and a large surplus for export.

Please Do.

We think it about time that the people of Wolfville made a move in the matter of lighting the streets. It has been talked about long enough and the time has come when something should be done.

Successful Fruitgrowing.

The Annapolis Valley is generally regarded as the garden of Nova Scotia, but more especially as the orchard of Nova Scotia.

VALLEY OF THE GASPEREAU

is not so well known and is generally included in the general name of the Annapolis Valley. It takes its rise some distance below the GasperEAU lakes and unites with the so-called Annapolis Valley near its eastern extremity.

ONE CONTINUED ORCHARD

on either side of the river, and extending to the base of the mountains to the north and south. In the whole extent of the Annapolis Valley there is no spot where fruit-trees can be more easily grown than here and the beauty and flavor of the fruit is unsurpassed.

J. L. GERTRIDGE, ESQ.

began some twenty years ago to turn his attention to this industry and today he is reaping his reward. Mr Gertridge has in his five orchards 1500 or 1600 fruit-trees, about half of which are now in bearing.

A FRUIT HOUSE.

second to none in the county. It is 25x35 feet on the ground, with three flats. The building is so situated that wagons loaded with fruit can be driven on to each flat from the ground probably the only such case to be found in the Province—and an elevator leads from the lower to the upper flat through the centre of the building.

PICKLING MANUFACTORY.

where, we are told, he is covering cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbages, cauliflower, beans, onions, etc., into good and wholesome pickles; but as we found the door to this establishment firmly closed and could not find the talismanic "sesame," we are unable to give any description thereof.

A Trip to the Exhibition.

King's Co. was well to the front with Shortorns, carrying off the greater number of prizes. Ayrshires, Polled-Angus, Holstein-Friesians, Herefords, Devons, and Jerseys have all been introduced into our county, but our farmers have stood by the Shortorns, the most perfect animals in the world for beef and the best general purpose breed among them all.

Nova Scotia horseflesh has made a marked improvement within ten years, though the Island horses are still ahead of us a long way. There were a number of fine carriage and general purpose horses shown, and among the best were C. B. Bill's matched pair, and a trim pair of colts of which Cox's Clayola was one.

There was the usual display of poultry, vegetables, etc., etc.

The farmer's part of the exhibition was up to the average, but we thought there was a very small show of manufactured articles, and we also got the impression that neither the Province nor the town of Truro were at all well represented. Exhibitions are public schools for the people. The Provincial Exhibition, in our opinion, should be held in Halifax, the capital, the most central town, the most easily reached, with the best hotel accommodation and the largest market.

It would be better for the people and the exhibition if there were no races except friendly trials of speed on the exhibition grounds. We were at the Park Thursday afternoon. The last heat was a desperate struggle between Elmo and Pilot. It was a wonderful burst of speed, and very exciting. Around them went without a skip for the first half mile almost neck and neck in 1.13; around again and Elmo broke and Pilot left him some fifty yards and the excitement was intense, then Pilot broke and it was all up with him, and Telephone closed Elmo under the wire in 2.31 1/2. There were a thousand on the ground and bets were freely taken and a good deal of money lost on Pilot. This betting is an evil and leads to more evil. I was not one of the Herald's clerical men on the grounds, Messrs Editors, nor did I lose any money.

In the evening John R. Clark lectured; there was a concert at Victoria Park; the Salvation Army was in full blast; and the F. G. A. held a meeting. The latter had a thin house, but there was an interesting discussion by the members present of the hovey and bark-bursting. The opinion seemed to be that the alternate action of heat and cold on the sap caused the bark to burst and in many cases the bark only entered the tree after it was dead or dying. Bark-splitting is common to other trees besides apple-trees. Two new names were added to the society. One gentleman said he had come for all the information he could get and was rather inclined to direct the discussion into his own channel, but notwithstanding the President's invitation to join, he went away with the information and left neither his name nor his dollar.

A word about Truro. The town, including exhibition building, inside and out, and Victoria Park, was brilliantly illuminated with electric light, and the shops made a fine show. There are shops in Truro equal to any in Halifax, and on Queen street there are a number of very handsome residences, and many others in different parts of the town. Then there are the Normal School buildings, a goodly number of neat churches and a substantial brick post office and custom house. But the backbone of Truro is her factories. There is a foundry, condensed milk factory, hat factory, woollen factory and others all doing well. Truro is a live town and growing rapidly and these factories are a large element in her prosperity. Whenever a town invests capital in such a way as to furnish work and wages to the laboring classes, population will be attracted and the growth will be rapid. Why does Kentville grow so slowly when Truro, Amherst, Windsor are going ahead by leaps and bounds. If a change in the railway should remove the headquarters from Kentville down it will go flat as a pancake. There is not a factory in Kentville. The post office is a shabby part of a shop and the court house antiquated. Why is this? We would like to see Kentville boom. The Normal School is a help to Truro, and we suppose the town may thank the Normal School and its chair of agriculture for the local experimental farm, but we think it is a mistake locating both government farms outside of the fruit belt. Surely the fruit industry in these western counties is deserving of some recognition and encouragement.

Not many of us could wait for the closing address on Friday, and the early morning train carried a goodly number to the Junction and the W. & A. R. dropped us at our stations wiser and happier, we hope, for our "trip to the Exhibition."

Pickles.

MISSAS ENTROUS.—As I was away when you "interviewed" several cucumber producers, allow me a little space to give my "experience" in the matter.

Last spring I "heard" that there were to be several pickle factories in the vicinity and that we could get 50 cents per bushel for cucumbers; and also that an acre would produce 500 or 600 bushels! Well, I planted over an acre, Some came up, so did the "cut-worms," and cut down many of those that came up, so that the "ups" and "downs" were about equal. I planted again—best of seed, warranted—again some came up. Then I hoed and weeded and watched and waited—and then picked, and picked, and picked again yesterday, the last, as the frost had killed the vines. The result of all is, I got enough cucumbers to pay for the rent of land and the manure and had all my planting and other work during the summer for nothing. My opinion now is, if it is worth anything, that to raise cucumbers successfully they must be planted early and the ground must be about three or four times as rich as is needed for potatoes. You must then keep the spring and autumn frosts away and also the "cut-worms." This being done I believe they can be produced profitably at 2 cents to 3 cents per pound, not less.

As I have also dabbled a little in "pickles," occasionally getting into them,—once I remember especially when I upset a cask down the cellar on my head, allow me a word also thereupon. I believe they can be manufactured for about 3 cents per pound. Thus, taking a barrel of 200 pounds, the cost will be: for cucumbers, at 1 1/2 cents per pound, the price now paid, $3, plus for manufacturing, $4, equal $7. These if good are worth from $15 to $16; and allowing for increase of weight the profit will be not less than $8 to $10 per barrel. Next year I purpose raising cucumbers again, but I will manufacture my own and will probably buy some. If so I will give 2 cents to 3 cents per pound, as I believe they cannot be produced for less with any profit. And I believe in the Bible rule (see Mat. 7:12) which if followed will necessitate the sharing of profits, and will also settle all the world's "labor troubles," and a good many more troubles. Yours &c., J. B. HEMMERON.

Wolfville, Oct. 3d, '88.

Something Wrong.

Under the present system of placing incompetent and dishonest men in responsible offices of trust as the rewards of political patronage, those who by legitimate business contribute to the public revenue have to submit to frequent and outrageous wrongs. Last August I ordered a cask of oil from Boston in haste for immediate use. In due time it arrived at Berwick station, where it still remains, with the charge of $11.10 against it, and as the whole cost of the oil in Boston was only $8.16, I charitably attributed the amount taxed to a mistake and the station agent wrote to the custom officer for an explanation and in answer received the telegram—Annapolis, August 31st, D. O. Parker, oil, duty $10.80, freight .30, total expense, $11.10.—I then sent to Boston and got a certified invoice and forwarded to the Annapolis officer with the request that if he could not make things right and tax my cask the same that he had entered a like cask for Capt. Amos Burns only a few days previous to return the invoice to me. After waiting for some time and getting no reply I wrote again requesting the return of the invoice that I might look to his superior for redress. The officer, I suppose, resting upon the dignity of his office, retains the invoice and intimates no redress. The season has passed in which I wished to use the oil, occasioning much loss and inconvenience. D. O. PARKER.

A Warning to Stone-throwers.

A few nights ago a boy named Henderson threw a stone at a car window, which broke a pane of glass and struck a passenger in the face. The boy was arrested and is now awaiting his trial. It is high time to put a stop to this rascally business and to send some boy as an example to the penitentiary.—Picton Standard.

The boys in Wolfville are just as notorious for throwing stones as the boys of Picton, and need just as much to have the law enforced on them. N. B.

An Explanation.

EDITORS ACADIAN.—Allow me through the columns of the ACADIAN to state to the ratepayers of Wolfville that the work which is being unlawfully done on the streets was begun without my knowledge and continued without my consent. J. B. DAVISON, One of the Commissioners.

Letter From North Dakota.

II.

The Nova Scotia farmer sometimes thinks that the lines have fallen to them in thorny places, and in his soreheartedness he may long for the fertile and easily-cultivated wheatlands of the "glorious West." But even the West has its thorns and rocky places, its debts and mortgages, its losses and hardships. It is true that the soil of this part of the continent is marvellously rich, and that the absence of trees and rocks enables the farmer to cultivate large areas with a little labor as would be required to cultivate such areas in the wooded and rocky East. One man near Cooperstown seeded over two hundred acres this season, without help. During the summer his fields looked beautiful, and he looked forward to abundant harvests and a large income. But a frost came the middle of August and destroyed his crop, and with it the crop of great numbers in all the country round about. Early frosts are a constant danger in this northwestern country, and though much greater damage was done this year than ever before, there will probably be no year when the farmer can feel free from grave anxiety on this account. But frost is not the only drawback to the country. The harvesters are liable to be made light by drought. This has happened two years in succession—in 1886 and 1887. Hail is also a danger. When it comes it does not strike large areas, but the individual farmer is likely to lose his whole harvest. Prairie fires are another source of danger, and yet nothing of "rust," and the other smaller drawbacks. This country of Griggs has not had a really prosperous season since it was settled seven years ago. Nearly all who came here brought very little besides their great expectations, and their financial loss is not very large; though what they brought most of them certainly have lost. Their "great expectations" have taken to themselves wings and flown away. Of those who brought money here, or at least of many of them, a less favorable story must be told. Some have lost everything—money, expectations and all. There are persons here who have made money, but the number is not large, while the numbers who have used up money which they had accumulated elsewhere, together with several valuable years of their lives, are very large. The farmers are mortgaged beyond anything I ever heard of anywhere else. Chattel mortgages cover not only their cattle and horses, but also their wagons, seeders, plows, rakes, and indeed everything which has a marketable value. The crop this year was expected to clear off many debts, and put a new face upon things generally. Until the frost came there was good ground for this hope; but in a single night the whole outlook was changed.

Although the picture which I have been giving shows the dark side rather than the brighter, to those who see things just as they are in this country, it will not appear to be an exaggerated representation. I have some confidence in the future of this western country. There is little doubt but that prosperity, in reasonable degree, will come as the reward of patient waiting and toiling. But the idea, entertained by some, that this is a country where wealth can be easily accumulated by the cultivation of the soil is a mistaken idea, as many who have come here with such hopes have learned to their cost. If I were to become a farmer to-morrow, I would prefer a farm in King's or Annapolis county to any place I have ever seen. O. C. S. W.

DOCK BLOOD PURIFIER.

I have been sick with Liver and Kidney Complaint and night sweat, for over two years, most of the time confined to my bed. A doctor attended me who failed to cure me; and after trying many patent medicines that were recommended for the above complaints, which failed also, I was advised to try Doctor Norton's Dock Blood Purifier; three bottles has entirely cured me, and I now enjoy the best health I have for twenty years. Local and Provincial.

HALIFAX LETTER.—Last week's Halifax letter was unavoidably crowded out and appears to day on our first page.

See those Buck-saws at B. G. Bishop's only 75c.

CALL.—Rev. Maynard Brown has accepted a call to the Onslow Baptist church. Mr Brown has lately been stationed at New Germany.

See the Yankee Lantern for 75c at B. G. Bishop's.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—The teachers of King's and Hants counties are in session in Windsor this week and we hope to present a report of their doings next week.

RETURNED.—Rev. T. A. Higgins has returned from his vacation and occupied his pulpit as usual last Sunday. We hope the Rev. gentleman may have derived much benefit from his well deserved rest.

Choice Labrador herring in 1/2 barrels at Prat's.

AN OLD HOUSE.—Mr John Jones, of Grand Pre, is removing the old house, in which they formerly lived, and converting it into a storehouse. This is probably the oldest house in Horton having been built over 130 years ago by a man named Murray.

Oats and Feed; Lime, $1.50 per cask at Prat's.

THE ACADIA.—The steamer Acadia arrived as usual on Monday and instead of making her regular trip to Parrsboro remained over until Wednesday morning. It is quite a mystery to the Wolfville people what the change was made for as no explanation is given.

A big stock of Stone Butter Crocks at B. G. Bishop's.

LECTURE.—George W. Moffat, the blind man, will lecture Monday evening next in the Presbyterian church on "Choice of Man; or God's Commandments." Lecture will begin at 7.30. A silver collection will be taken at the close for the benefit of the lecturer. We hope to see a full house on that occasion.

100 Bbls Choice Flour bought before the late advance just in at R. Prat's.

UNION MEETING.—The third of the series of union meetings decided on at the week of prayer last winter, will be held in the Presbyterian church next Thursday evening. These meetings are a good idea and are largely attended. In the past they have been of a very interesting nature.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The members of Acadia Lodge are making preparations to celebrate the anniversary of the organization of that society with a grand musical and literary entertainment on the evening of the 26th inst. Entertainments given by the Lodge in the past have been of a high order and a treat may be expected on this occasion.

See those CAPS for 35 cents, reduced from 55 cents, at Borden's. They are the greatest bargain we have yet offered.

DAUGHTER.—One of the darkest nights of this week a heap of stones was left on the sidewalk in one of the most frequented parts of the town and a considerable number of people were injured by falling over them. It appears to us that it is about time something was done to restrain the ardour of our street commissioners as some one will probably be killed if the streets are continued to be managed in the way they have been of late.

JUST RECEIVED.—The finest lot of Hanging Lamps in the county at B. G. Bishop's.

ORGAN RECITAL.—Owing to the disagreeable state of the weather the organ recital in the Baptist church on Friday evening last was poorly attended. Those who did attend however were well repaid for their trouble. A choice programme was rendered in a manner which reflected the utmost credit on all taking part. Prof. Punter excelled himself and his playing received the greatest praise. Besides the organ music two splendid choruses were rendered by the choir and were listened to with rapt attention. Solos by Rev. P. C. L. Harris and Mr. Burpee Witter were splendidly rendered. All together the recital was a grand success and it is only to be regretted that more were not present to enjoy the feast. We congratulate the church on possessing such a talented choir and hope to hear from them again at an early day.

APPLES FOR ENGLAND.—The steamer Blair is expected at Horton Landing about the 20th to load apples for London. This is the best opportunity our people have yet had of placing their apples on the English market and the venture should receive a good deal of encouragement. We hope to give further particulars next issue.

NURSERY STOCK.—We would direct the attention of all interested in fruit growing and gardening to the adv. of Mr S. C. Moore, in another column. We bespeak for Mr Moore a generous patronage.

A KING'S COUNTY MAN DEAD.—The Halifax Herald regrets to announce the death of D. H. Burbridge, principal of the Morris street school, which event took place Tuesday afternoon. Mr Burbridge was born in King's county 48 years ago. He was educated at Mount Allison college and adopted the profession of school teaching. He taught in Newfoundland (where he married) in Marysville, N. B., and in various parts of King's and Hants counties. In 1874 he went to Halifax and accepted a position in connection with the public schools of that city and took charge of a department in the Albro street school. He was subsequently transferred to the second department of Morris street school and some eight or ten years ago succeeded Mr Jack as principal of that school—a position the duties of which he discharged with conscientious fidelity. For many months past Mr Burbridge has been failing but resumed his duties when the schools reopened. He was soon, however, laid low by a complication of diseases, and after a severe illness succumbed Tuesday. He was a brother of Judge Burbridge of the Eschequet court of Canada, who was present to attend the funeral; and of Mrs U. Delany, of Middleton, Annapolis, and Mrs Borden of Norfolk, Va. The latter named lady is now in the city on a visit. The deceased leaves three children.

BERWICK TIMES.

NEWS, NOTES, JOTTINGS, ETC.

Rev. D. O. Parker is our representative in Berwick, and is prepared to take orders for job printing and advertising. We are constantly adding to our plant, and will give prompt attention to all work. Get our prices.

Rare and brilliant curiosities.—Flashes of sunshine in the summer and autumn of 1888.

John R. Clark lectured two evenings last week in Somerset. The second evening the audience was small.

The schools in Berwick are taking a few days recess while all the teachers are attending the Teachers' Association at Windsor.

Mr Paiker has a fine show of furniture in his new warehouses. He represents this paper in Berwick and takes subscriptions for it and orders for advertisements and job printing.

Mrs G. W. Fisher has moved to Berwick and is keeping house for her son, L. Van Es, who has concluded not to close up his business but to remain at the old stand and to add groceries to his already flourishing trade.

BORROWING.—Yes, your neighbor over the way will cheerfully lend his last shirt, but do not ask him to lend the thirty feet ladder lately put on his premises for his own protection against fire, for he has learned from sad experience that ladders likebooks if often lent return no more, or it may be after sleeping the winter under a snow bank they crawl out with broken backs or dislocated limbs. If your painter must have his neighbor's ladder, not Jacob's, to climb up a little near the good place, never mind the eighth commandment, go and take it asking no questions, use it kindly and return it promptly for its owner has not yet acquired the desirable accomplishment of gracefully saying no.

A public hall, not less than sixty by forty feet on the ground, is one of the indispensable necessities of Berwick, and if the people now enjoying the wealth and the luxuries of this fair and growing village were possessed of one half the laudable pride, self-interest, and enterprise which inspired the hardy and generous pioneer settlers in building the old "Temperance Hall," the third of a century ago, we would see a magnificent hall raising up like magic and all would feel the richer. The old hall has had its day and has done a noble work and by its social, moral, and educational influences has paid for itself a thousand times. Our neighboring and enterprising village of Somerset has had a large and commodious hall for several years, built by self-sacrificing men most of whom have gone to their long home, but they have lived long enough to be assured that it was worth more to their families and contributed more real wealth to the community than a mine of gold. It is a humiliating reflection that when distinguished lecturers and others visit Berwick they have to pass on to Somerset or elsewhere to find accommodation.

Our neighbor Pineo is quite prolific in his newspaper enterprises. Only a few weeks since we recorded the birth of The Farm Journal as the youngest member of his somewhat numerous paper family and then little dreamed of the use of the cradle for another so soon. But lo! here is the largest, the healthiest and the best looking of the whole family, born in Berwick last Saturday Oct. 6th and christened The Berwick News. Though so young it has all the robustness of age and the accomplishments of the gentleman and scholar, if not the virtues of the christian and politician, and certainly looks as if it might survive all the ills incident to infancy and youth and enjoy long years of prosperity and usefulness. THE ACADIAN AND BERWICK TIMES, gladly welcome the Berwick News, should be warmly welcomed to every home in our village. These are our local papers and are every week building up and enhancing the property of the place. In supporting these enterprises, which cannot continue without liberal local patronage, the people of Berwick are only contributing to a fund from which they will receive back more than a hundred fold. We have not one cent's financial interest in any paper but our motto is First of All Home News in Home Papers for our own Homes and Firesides. To patronize outside papers to the exclusion of our own is like feeding and educating other people's children to the neglect of our own families.

The Town Talk.

"Good afternoon, Mrs Runaround, I am so glad to see you, walk right in and spend the afternoon with me. I was thinking of you to-day, and coming events cast their shadows before. How's baby and hubby, all well? I'm so glad to hear it. I was out shopping yesterday and I heard that they were unwell. Do you go shopping any Mrs Runaround? I do so like to go shopping and price goods. I suppose that the clerks get vexed with me, but I flatter them a little and make it all right. Speaking of shopping, have you ever seen B. G. Bishop's new store, No. 999, Main St., Wolfville? I was in his place yesterday. He has just opened the most beautiful lot of Tea Sets, Vases, Fancy Goods, Crockery and Glass I ever saw—and so cheap; and such pretty Lamps, it is worth your while to see them. And a beautiful stock of Tinware! He sells a large Wash Boiler for $1.25, and a nice Coal Scuttle for 35 cents. His Tinware is dirt cheap, just think of a one-gallon Oil Can for 30 cents! I never heard the beat of it, and such an endless variety! My hubby says that he gets the best satisfaction in Paints and Hardware from Mr Bishop as he is bound to sell cheap and keep good stock only. Yes, we will go in and see his store. Oh, must you be going? Well, call again and bring baby with you. Good bye. Oh, yes, I shall go and see you soon. Good-bye, and come again. Oh my, yes, I guess I will. Good-bye! Good-bye!"

The Two Lives. Among the lonely hills they played, No other baime they ever knew, A little lad, a little maid, In sweet companionship they grew.

When speaking of the industries of a place there is one branch of business that it will not do to overlook. We refer to the newspaper.

To those who have never visited a town, or those who know but very little about it, the newspaper there published is an index of the enterprise, and the character of that town's people.

Many people have an idea that a paper has no right to speak of the transactions, and the outgoings and the incomings of individuals; that in so doing it is meddling with what is none of its business.

Now, whether it be believed or not, it is for the interest of every resident of a town where there is a newspaper to see, so far as may be fairly convenient to them, that their paper is informed of all that is transpiring which would be of interest to the general public, and would be proper to publish.

Are Your Pullets Laying? This question is often asked at this season by persons keeping hens; and the answer is too often, "No!" and suppose they won't lay until eggs get cheap next spring, just my luck.

The department of fisheries has been advised that the catch of mackerel this season will fall considerably short of the previous year.

en years. My thirty pullets were all just six months old, when they commenced laying. I never saw such return of eggs. In just eight weeks after they commenced to lay, the thirty pullets laid 1437 eggs; which I ascribed to the use of Sheridan's Condition Powder, to make hens lay."

Helps to Patience. A woman, whose life has been long and chequered with many reverses, said lately; "Nothing has given me more courage to face every day's duties and troubles than a few words spoken to me when I was a child by my old father. He was the village doctor. I came into his office, where he was compounding medicine, one day, looking cross and ready to cry."

Prof. Hind of Windsor has grown this year peaches that surpass any ever before grown in this province. Some weighed 5 oz. each. They were beautifully colored, highly flavored and far superior to any imported from the United States.

When Baby Will Not Sleep, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentl. I took a severe cold, which settled in my throat and lungs and caused me to entirely lose my voice. For six weeks I suffered great pain and discomfort and tried numerous remedies. My wife advised me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT and the effect was magical.

The Chignecto Marine Railway Company announces a meeting on Oct. 25, to ratify the issue of a million and a half of cumulative preferred stocks. Sixty-two thousand emigrants have become actual settlers in Canada, between January 1st and September 1st of the present year, an increase of 16,000 over the same period in 1887. Mrs. Eliza Oakes, of New Albany, a lady seventy three years of age, has just completed a quilt containing sixteen thousand, two hundred pieces. Can this be beaten in Nova Scotia.—Annapolis Spectator.

Parravoo seems to be waking up to an appreciation of its advantages. It now offers a bonus of $1,000 for any one establishing a foundry and machine shop at that village. It should be a fairly good location. The deposits in the post office savings bank of Canada during the month of August showed an increase of $300,000.
