Guelph Evening Mercury

FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 7, 1873

Town and County News.

Be not the first to break with a friend. Sorrow gnaws the heart of him who hath no one to divide with himself.

SOCIAL.—A social was held in the Primitive Methodist Church here, on Thursday evening, which was well attended. The entertainment consisted of singing, recitations and dialogues. A pleasant evening was spent.

HEAVY ON VESTS.—Mr. G. B. Fraser is great on vests. Yesterday he sent by mail several of these useful articles of wear, specially ordered, to Mr. D. Macdonald, late of Puslinch, to British Columbia. Mr. Macdonald gets a much better and cheaper article from Guelph, after paying all expenses, than he can get in British Columbia.

LAW SOCIETY.—We are glad to learn that Mr. Andrew Lemon, Barrister, of this town, has been elected a Bencher of the Law Society in Toronto. This well deserved honor has been conferred on the oldest practitioner in Guelph, who is justly entitled to it, not only on account of the local bar, but from his sterling integrity and high moral character.

THE WEATHER.—The snow is disappearing to-day like mist before the sun. Underground operations are lively. We look good eyes to the white mantle, with the greatest pleasure imaginable, and hope it may be long ere we see its like again. Our streets and back yards present an appearance the reverse of clean, and call loudly for the interference of our newly appointed Board of Health. Wake up, gentlemen, and show your fitness for office.

KEEP YOUR CHIMNEYS CLEAN.—In view of the fact that several large fires have recently taken place in Wellington, and adjoining counties, some of which could be traced to dirty chimneys, it would be well for our townspeople to avoid similar calamities by securing the services of a sweep without delay, particularly at this season of the year when high winds prevail.

"GIRLS," said a worthy old lady to her granddaughter, "whenever a fellow pops the question, don't blush and stare at your foot. Just throw your arm around his neck, look him full in the face, and commence talking about the furniture. Young fellows are mighty nervous sometimes. I lost several good chances before I caught your foot dear grandfater, by putting on airs, but I learnt how to do it after a while."

HOP-GROWER'S MEETING.—A meeting of hop-growers was held at the Wellington Hotel, Guelph, on Saturday, the 1st of March inst., for the purpose of discussing the different methods of hop culture, and other matters relative to the hop business. George Moore, Esq., Waterloo, was appointed President, pro tem, and James Matthews, of Acton, Sec. and Treas., pro tem. The next meeting will be held at Burnett's Hotel, Georgetown, on Thursday, March 27th inst., at one o'clock sharp. It is the intention to form a Hop-grower's Association of all the Dominion. We hope hop-growers will see the importance of this movement, and attend the meetings.—James Matthews, Sec. and Treas.

PERSONAL.—We notice by the advertisement in another column that a change has taken place in the firm of Messrs. Nelles, Romain & Co., Commission Merchants and Shippers, Chicago, by the retirement of Mr. Nelles, and that the senior partner in the new firm is our old townsman Mr. J. H. Romain. We are glad to learn that the old firm have met with a large measure of success in their widely extended and constantly increasing business, and we trust that the new firm will continue in the same prosperous career, and steadily extend the range of their operations. Their Canadian business has now assumed large proportions, which is largely due to the energy and business tact of Mr. J. H. Romain, and to the confidence reposed in him and his home by our millers and other shippers.

YOUNG MEN, LOOK MOST TO YOUR SPENDING.—No matter what comes in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little expenses, like nice in a barn, when they are many make great waste. Hair by hair goes bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber. A barrel is soon empty if the tap leaks but a drop a minute. When you mean to save begin with your mouth; there are many thieves down the red lane. The ale jug is a great waste. In all things keep within your compass. Never stretch your legs farther than the blanket will reach, or you will soon be cold. In clothes choose suitable and lasting stuff. Do not tawdry thineries. To be warm is the main thing; never mind the looks. A foot may make money, but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board, there is nothing left to the savings' bank. Fare hard and work hard while you are young, and you have a chance to rest when you are old.

Local and Other Items.

AN OLD SHIP—There is an old ship sailing from Holland which was built in 1658. She passed the Cape of Good Hope in October, 1864, being at that time 224 years old.

A BILL for the suppression of the trade in and circulation of obscene literature is now before the American Congress and will, it is expected, become law.

ROBERT.—An unfortunate boarder, in St. Catherine's, was robbed of $50 on Wednesday night. The News says a suspected party is under arrest.

OUT OF DEBT.—We are pleased to hear that the congregation of Knox Church Harrison, by a united voluntary subscription has swept off a debt of several hundred dollars on Manse and Glebe. The next effort will no doubt be for a new brick church.

TIMBER CASE.—Mr. A. Wilkinson, of Minto, charged Mr. D. Brady, of the same place, with taking trees off his premises for the purpose of making square timber. The case came before R. Caldwell, Esq., Defendant was fined $25 damages, and $20 fine with costs, amounting in all to $52.

CAN FISH HEAR?—The question which is at present exciting the Oswego news paper men is whether fish can hear. An authority on the subject writes:—"Fish cannot hear for the very simple reason that they have no ears. It is not necessary that a fish should hear. They feel a jar very distinctly, and have a very keen eye."

RAISING THE DEAD.—The medical world on the other side of the Atlantic is somewhat excited over the success of a remarkable operation performed by Dr. Joux, a Belgian gynecologist, on an apparently drowned man. The victim had been dead seemingly for three hours, but the doctor resuscitated him by placing three iron plates heated to a white heat over the vital parts in the upper part of the body.

DESTRUCTIVE RUNAWAY.—A double team owned by Mr. Hastings, of Crosshill, becoming frightened at a passing train, on Wednesday, in Galt, ran off and did a terrible amount of damage. The reporter sums up the loss as follows:—Verandahs, $1 feet at $1.25 per foot, $25; losses on windows, $50, and the killed horse, which was valued at $200. Mr. Hastings having been offered $400 for the team a few days ago. Total, $370.25.

BONDED CAR ROBERT.—The London Advertiser says that a bonded car lying on one of the sidings of the Great Western, was broken into on Sunday night and robbed of a quantity of dry goods. Several robberies of this sort have taken place within the past year, and the parties connected with one of them are now lodged in the Michigan State Prison, but the perpetrators of the latest robbery are unknown.

HAND ORGANS, BANISHED.—Baltimore is to be no longer bored with street music. The discursing of sweet music by peripatetic professors thereof is no longer to be endured in the public thoroughfares. The "airs from heaven" of the German bands are stigmatized by the Baltimore folks as being more like "blasts from"—the other place, and therefore they are banished. The hand-organ player will be prosecuted, and the "sweet warbling of the dulcet lute" must be heard no more.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.—The Listwell Banner says that Mr. Samuel Leslie, of Wallace, who moved to that township about fourteen years ago, from the township of Albion, died on Saturday last at the ripe old age of 98 years. The deceased was at the battle of Waterloo, and was one of those who gallantly fought for the honor of the good old flag of England, and in his Canadian home was much respected. Up to a few weeks of his death he was active to an extraordinary degree for a man of his age. Old Waterloo veterans are becoming scarce. The deceased leaves a large and respected family to miss his counsel and mourn his loss.

DO HORSES VOMIT.—A correspondent of the Mail, Mr. James King Cameron, of Cobourg, who was present when a bet was taken up that a horse was so constituted he could not vomit, says that sometime afterward Mr. Hamilton brought over to Toronto from Queenston by the steamer Canada, a pair of carriage horses which he had sold to some resident there. The passage across was a very rough one, so rough so, that one of the horses vomited. The party who lost the bet paid it. The same correspondent is prepared to prove, if necessary, that tobacco water, which is much given for colic, will cause a horse to vomit. What say our veterinary colleges now to the explosion of the old theory? Don't all speak at once.

SURVIVED THE CALAMITY.—A former subscriber, who discontinuing his Times, because he could not make it say such things as he thought ought to say, has, we learn, recently expressed considerable surprise to his friends that the paper should keep running—since he has withdrawn his patronage. It was pretty close work for a while, we confess; but by omitting to put sugar in our tea, and by buying a cheap grade of paper collars and reversing them for the second and third time, we managed to rub along until a new subscriber came and took the place of our respected but disgruntled friend—and then Richard was himself again. Nothing but rigid economy will carry one safely over such a calamity as the loss of a subscriber.—Hamilton Times.

The regular monthly cattle fair was held in Hamilton on Thursday, and was a decided success. The demand, however, was greater than the supply. A large number of cows with calves were sold at prices ranging from $29 to $49, and many more might have been disposed of at remunerative prices.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Joint Note to Spain from European Powers.

The Trouble in New Orleans.

Another Fire in Boston.

The Madoc War.

Peace Commission a Failure.

The Fighting to go on.

The Carlists Recognized by France.

Madrid, March 6.—Senior Olozoga, the Spanish Minister of France, has notified Senior Castelar, Minister of Foreign Affairs, by telegraph, that the representative powers have decided to send a collective note to the Government of Spain, declining their belief that their respective Governments will cease to hold diplomatic relations with it in the event of the proclamation of a general Republic.

The debate upon the bill for the abolition of slavery in Porto Rico was resumed yesterday in the Assembly.

London, March 6.—A Madrid despatch states that there is intense excitement there, and a conflict is expected between the Government and the citizens. The latter crowd the streets, the Government buildings are guarded, and the troops are stationed at various points. It is stated if the Cortes refuses to dissolve the entire Cabinet that President Figueras will resign.

President Thiers has recognized the belligerent rights of the Carlists in Spain. The impression grows in London that Don Carlos will succeed. It is rumored that the Carlist leaders intend to raise a loan.

Advices from Gibraltar state that 200 carabinieri attached to the Spanish prison at San Roque, a city of Andalusia, 7 miles northwest of Gibraltar, attempted to create a rising in favor of Don Carlos, but the insurrectionary demonstration was suppressed, and the offenders imprisoned.

London, March 6, 4 p.m.—It is rumored that the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise have separated because of an incompatibility of temper, that the Princess is in a religious retreat near Windsor, and the Marquis has gone abroad. No authority is given for the report, and it remains to be confirmed.

New Orleans, March 6.—The members of the Fuscon Legislature, who were arrested this afternoon by the police, were released soon afterwards. The Fuscon Legislature met this afternoon and passed resolutions protesting against the interference of the military army of the United States Government in capturing State troops, and in again supporting the city police in the seizure of the State House at the close of its session, and in declaring therefrom members of the General Assembly, and in violently seizing and imprisoning members of their body. At this hour the city is very quiet.

Boston, March 6.—A fire occurred in Woburn Centre this evening, destroying six or seven dwelling houses and stores, together with one church completely and another partially. Entire damage $75,000 to $100,000.

San Francisco, March 6.—The following telegram has been sent to the Secretary of the Interior, from Fairchild, dated 4th:—The Madocs emphatically reject all offers and propositions. They propose to meet in full force Meacham and Applegate, with six unarmed men, in the lava bed. This undoubtedly means treachery. We are still willing to meet them in conference, but not upon their terms. They have an accession of 24 warriors, not Madocs. We will send a message of protection to all who come out. The Commission is a failure. Signed, A. B. Meacham.

The terms offered by the Commission were that the Madocs should go on Klamath Reservation, where they have been before. Rather than do this the Indians determined to fight. The commanding officers are now determined to accept no terms but unconditional surrender. It is now believed that nothing but fighting will satisfy.

How to DO BUSINESS.—A and B both go to the city at the same time and buy a similar stock of goods. On returning, A changes the advertisement, which reads:—"Will be received in a few days, a new assortment," etc., to "Received, a new and fresh assortment, just from New York," etc., "which is offered for sale at lowest cash rates." The advertisement comes out the next day, and in a town of 5,000 inhabitants, 2,000 will know of A's stock of fresh goods before they hear of B's arrival. In fact, B not being an advertiser, they will be likely to doubt if he really has a fresh stock at all. The consequence is apt to be that A is off to the city for another stock before B has half unloaded, and the public being already supplied he may have to carry over a part of it. These are very different ways of doing business, but any one who understands advertising would be apt to say that the results work in about that way.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—A meeting of the Directors of the Centre Wellington Agricultural Society was held in the Dalby House on Tuesday last. Mr. Monger in the chair. All the directors present. It was resolved to hold the fall exhibition on Thursday and Friday in the week immediately preceding the Guelph Central Exhibition, and to give $700 in prizes. A committee was formed to prepare the prize list and to draw up for the show. It was resolved to hold a Baby Show in connection with the exhibition.

The Royal Institute of Great Britain congratulated Professor Tyndall upon the success of his visit to the United States.

Massie's Biscuit and Confectionery Establishment.

There is nothing gives us more unalloyed pleasure than to notice, from time to time, the progress of the manufacturing interest of the good town of Guelph. With this idea uppermost in our mind, we visited the steam biscuit and confectionery establishment of Mr. James Massie, on the afternoon of Thursday, and were conducted through each department by Mr. Meredith, the gentlemanly and obliging overseer.

THE BAKE HOUSE.

The bake house is in the lower story, and is a hive of industry. Here was found a powerful and admirably finished engine from the works of Messrs. Robertson & Sons, Guelph, with which the machinery of the establishment is driven. A large machine for mixing dough, two smaller ones for rolling it out, and another for cutting the biscuits and carrying them to the oven are here in constant operation. Eight hands are employed in this department. The old-fashioned ovens are in use, but the proprietor informs us that he contemplates, at no distant day, erecting a mammoth rotary oven, by which biscuits are baked at each revolution. With the present machinery and staff, about one hundred boxes of biscuits are daily made, baked, packed, and made ready for the market. When the contemplated improvements are made the number of boxes per day can be extended to almost any extent desired. The bake room is well lighted and ventilated, and kept remarkably clean and tidy.

THE BOILING ROOM.

In this department are four men employed in the manufacture of candies of every description. Particularly noticeable is a beautiful and costly machine by the aid of which clear sugar "fancy toys" are made. The apparatus cost $300 in the city of Philadelphia, and is well worth the outlay. In every part of this large room are piles of sugar sticks, bullseyes, &c., enough to make the mouths of a regiment of little folks water.

THE PAN ROOM.

Next to the boiling room is the pan room, where all the smaller class of candies are manufactured. Here two hands are busy as nailers providing for the wants of the rising generation. So great is the demand for this class of goods that a much larger oscillating pan is required, and which will be driven by steam power so soon as it is in readiness.

THE LOZENGE ROOM.

This department is under the management of a practical English lozenge maker, and the article manufactured is of first class quality. Massie's Cough Lozenges are worthy of special mention, and are highly spoken of by those who have used them. They are not as popularly known as Brown's Bronchial Troches, but are considered by some to be quite equal to them for softening the cough and allaying irritation. After the dough is prepared, it is rolled into thin sheets, each of which are stamped in an ingenious manner, with colored blocks, and cut out with steel cutters. The lozenges are then placed upon broad boards and put into the drying room, which is air tight, and kept hot by means of a large stove. Here they remain for five or six days, when they become sufficiently dry and ready to ship. Nearly one hundred pounds of sugar are used in this department every week, costing somewhere in the neighborhood of $150. Three hands find employment in this department.

FANCY GOODS ROOM.

This room is commodious, airy, well-lighted and clean as a new pin, and occupies the front portion of the fourth floor. Four hands find plenty to do to keep them out of mischief. All the fancy cream goods, gum drops, liquorice drops, &c., for which the establishment is becoming famous, are manufactured here.

A new machine, capable of turning out five hundred pounds of lozenges per diem, and a mammoth sugar crusher, have been ordered, and will be shortly to hand. This additional machinery alone will cost about five thousand dollars.

Mr. Massie is now turning out about six hundred boxes of biscuits a week, at an average of $2 a box, making a total of $1,200. Two thousand four hundred pounds of candy per week is manufactured representing something like $450. The biscuits boxes are made by Messrs. Stewart and Cassitt. The paper boxes are made in Hamilton at present. About ten thousand of these paper boxes have been used since Mr. Massie commenced business in June last. We learn with pleasure that these boxes, in all probability, will soon be made in Guelph. It is astonishing the amount of business done in this establishment, and so quietly that one would not imagine the building was occupied for any such purpose. Under Mr. Massie's fostering care, a very small business has grown to be one of considerable importance, and it continues to increase at such a rate that the employees are obliged to work overtime to keep pace with the orders continually coming in. There are two teams constantly on the road delivering goods throughout the country, and there is a necessity for a third. We congratulate our fellow townsman upon the success already achieved, and hope that

Every year will increase his wealth ten thousand dollars more.

SAVING TIME.—The London Advertiser says that a young man named Afron Northcott accidentally got the ends of two of his fingers smashed at the car works on Saturday morning last. As the accident was likely to lay him up for some weeks he determined to have a crooked finger, which had since early youth been a bother to him, removed. Dr. Fraser performed the operation on Saturday afternoon, and the brave young man is now quite satisfied that a nuisance has been done away with and no time lost.

The Speech from the Throne.

"And is not this a dainty dish to set before a king?" Change king to people, and the couplet will suit the very meagre bill of fare which the Ottawa Government, by the mouth of Lord Dufferin, laid before the Parliament of Canada on Wednesday. His Excellency naturally begins the Speech by expressing his personal gratification that he has had the privilege of connecting himself with the Dominion, and taking part in the labors and aspirations of its public men for its welfare and advancement. His graceful allusion to this subject, and his reference to the general peace which prevails, and to the future of this country, are couched in such terms as one might expect from such an accomplished statesman and scholar as Lord Dufferin.

After the Governor's introductory sentences, the Government proceeded to give their programme. They first tell us that the Pacific Railway Company has been fully formed, and the hope is expressed that satisfactory arrangements may be made for raising the required capital in England. The Government take good care, however, not to tell us of the manoeuvring of Sir Hugh Allan in forming his company, or of Sir John Macdonald's connivance with the Knight of Montreal in giving the virtual control of this great undertaking into the hands of American speculators, who, it is said, were bled to the tune of $300,000 to aid in the operations last summer, and who having once got their hand in the Company will not give up their claim or interest in it, but mean to make all the money they can out of the Canadians, and at the same time render this Pacific road of ours a sort of branch or subsidiary line to the United States Northern Pacific Railway, now under construction. They also fail to tell us that a purely Canadian Company (the Inter-oceanic) with such able capitalists and managers as Senator Macpherson at their head, offered to build the road on as favorable terms as the Allan Company, but were refused simply on the ground that both Sir John and Sir Hugh had got themselves within the power of these cute Yankee speculators, who would not forego their advantage. By and by we shall have a nice expose of the whole matter, when the papers and correspondence are laid before the House of Commons.

After talking about the improvement and enlargement of the Canals for five years, it seems—if we can believe the statements of ministers—that the work on some of these is at last about to begin. It is high time these improvements were begun, for the volume of our shipping and commerce are now so great that these highways are inadequate as channels of communication between the sea board and the great lakes.

That blundering caucus of 1871 is lugged in to pad out the speech to a decent length, and we are called to rejoice that the printing of the returns is in a fair way of completion. Well, better late than never. We are also promised an improved Election Law, which might have been passed last session, only John A. wanted to make all the possible use of the defects of the old law for the recent elections. This measure is forced on the Government by public opinion, for the bribery and corruption witnessed during the recent elections staggered even the supporters of the Government, and made some of them disgorge to the tune of several thousands of dollars each. They found that elections were getting a little too expensive, and so they have urged on the Government to bring in a bill, which, it is hoped, will do away with such corrupt practices in future.

Reference to contemplated amendments in the laws relating to pilots and other matters connected with navigation; to the union of the two offices of Secretary of State and Secretary for the Provinces; to measures promised relating to the criminal law, weights and measures and the inspection laws, make up the sum total of this miserable and meagre bill of fare. No wonder even supporters of the Government are ashamed of it, and still less wonder opponents of the Government look upon it with the most sublime contempt.

CONVENTED ELECTIONS.—It has not transpired what course the Government will take in the matter of the Muskoka and Peterborough-convented elections. There are cases clearly in point to justify the House in ordering the Liberal candidates in both cases to take their seats. Should the Government persist in taking a partisan course, there is a very considerable number of their followers who will not independently follow in the case of the South Renfrew election, as in those of less gross character, there will be a considerable number of witnesses to examine, and the work will of course be referred to a committee.

West Durham.—Mr George Haines, President, and Wm. Thompson Vice-President of the Reform Association of West Durham, and Mr. John McLaurie, M.P., a delegation appointed by the Association, at a meeting held at Bowmanville on the 4th inst. to wait upon the Hon E. B. Wood and tender him the candidature of the West Riding of Durham, waited on him on Thursday and tendered him the nomination which he accepted in an ably written letter to the delegation.

LEAD OF THE OPPOSITION.—The Globe says: At a full meeting of the Parliamentary Opposition, held on Thursday in Ottawa, Mr. Alexander Mackenzie was unanimously elected to the leadership. Private and personal considerations which were explained to a committee of the caucus, caused Mr. Blake's name to be withdrawn. The utmost cordiality prevailed.

CONSTRUCTION OF A HARBOR.—A delegation consisting of Messrs. Adam Brown, W. Gray, P. McIain and R. Baird are in Ottawa for the purpose of urging upon the Government the necessity for the construction of a harbor, at the termination of the W. G. & B. R. R. They had an interview with the Ministers on Wednesday.

Cannibalism.
We find the following revolting story in the New York World, under date Feb. 13. We can hardly believe it true. A horrible scene of cannibalism was enacted in Trelake a few days ago. The principal actor in it was a pig-jobber who had long been completely absorbed in the gratification of animal desires and passions. Relationship and consanguinity mattered not; to his mind mankind must have appeared a "swinish" multitude; and whether man or beast, or not, with a total disregard of particularity in this respect, it mattered not whether the article was cooked or otherwise. Well, this two-footed brute came home drunk to his poor old mother, who has passed the allotted "three score years and ten," and the old creature ruminated with him. A row ensued, in which the mother was knocked down on the floor, and, by sheer force, one of her legs was broken in two places. This not satisfying him, he commenced to eat the flesh off her arm. A watchman named Mara, who was passing at the time, was attracted by the woman's screams to the house, and on Mara forcing open the door, he saw him actually eating the flesh as if he had a taste for it. The watchman not being able to rescue the poor creature from his savage gluttony, he went off for another watchman, and on their return to the house he was at the same inhuman feast, and his face and breast were all smeared with blood. Word was sent to the police, and the night patrol on coming to the house secured him. The coolness of the ruffian was extraordinary, for he had the audacity to prefer a charge of assault against Mara for attempting to make him desist when he first entered and saw the horrible repast he was indulging in. The poor woman was conveyed to the county infirmary, and placed under the care of Dr. Lawlor, where on examination her body was found to be frightfully lacerated; the bone of one arm up to the elbow was bled bare of flesh, and the sinews of the other were quite exposed. It is thought she can hardly survive the treatment of her cruel son. Her depositions were of course taken, and the prisoner, who had been in the Bridewell, was transferred to the county jail for trial at the Assizes.

PETRIE'S

NEW DRUG STORE

Nearly opposite the Old Stand,

NOW OPEN.

Mr. PETRIE takes this opportunity to thank the Public for their large and liberal support during the seven years he has been in business in Guelph.

The New Store is the one formerly occupied by Mr. H. Berry, and lately by Mr. J. R. Porto, as a Confectionery Store. The store has been enlarged and refitted, making it a much more desirable place of business than the old stand.

Having secured the new store for a term of Ten Years, I hope, with the assistance of the Public, to prevent in the future as I have done during the past seven years, any monopoly in the Drug Trade in Guelph.

The old store will remain open for business until the first of May.

By conducting my business in the future in the same upright principle as in the past, I trust to receive a continuance of your generous support.

I am, yours very truly,
A. B. PETRIE.

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER VIII. THE TELEGRAPH SUMMONS—A GLAD SURPRISE—THE MYSTERY STILL IMPENETRABLE—THE DEATH CHAMBER AT ROCKSTONE.

"Very kind in you to say so, sir. But let it be small or great, my use to him is high over, for, as I said before, sir, he's a-dying, and that vagabond o' a robber has murdered him."

"How sad," murmured Annabel, in a tone of pity.

"Has he done nothing to discover the wretch?" asked Philip. "Has he not given information to the authorities?"

"Not a bit on him, sir. He's given information to no one; and, more nor that, he charged me never to mention it. Not a soul in Rockstone knows how he came by his illness."

"Singular—most singular!" ejaculated Philip. "The mystery seems to deepen rather than decrease. Yet it must be near its termination now, Annabel," he added, turning to his silent companion; "in a very little while now we shall understand what it means."

"But, oh, Philip!" she whispered, "I am so sorry to know he is dying. I do hope Jim is mistaken in this."

"I wish with all my heart I was Miss Annabel; but 'twas't my opinion only; the doctor said as much this morning, and that, I take it, was why you were sent for so quick. I have seen it coming for a day or two back, and only wish as how we may be in time."

"Have we still far to go?" inquired Philip.

"Not very far; a matter of twenty minutes will take us to the lodge gate. A rare grand place—Rockstone is, too; as mortal fine estate as any to be seen in Yorkshire. It's said it will come to mis-sus when the old gent's am dies. So it will be a tidy windfall for her. Got along, Bes-sie lass; stretch your legs, my beauty, and you'll get at you oats all the sooner."

"How strange that he did not seek to communicate with Mrs. Langton while he remained at Mrs. Dobson's," remarked Annabel.

"Very," assented Philip. "But the whole thing is strange, and to us at present inexplicable."

Jim had now got the black mare to go at such an accelerated pace that further conversation was impracticable. The pair therefore retreated into the silence of their own thoughts, while every moment brought them nearer to Rockstone.

Let us precede them thither, and enter the room in which the owner of the mansion lay dying.

For dying he was, as could be only too easily seen by the excessive paleness of his face, the sharpness of his features, and that dread expression of countenance which tells unmistakably of the awful change which is at hand. He sat up in bed, his head and shoulders supported by pillows, to render his laboured breathing more easy. On a chair by the side of the couch sat Mr. Langton anxiously regarding him, as he was revealed by the shaded lamp which stood upon the table, surrounded by phials of medicine and a silver jug containing the draught which served to recruit at intervals the sinking energies of the dying one.

No other person was in the room, and for some minutes there was deep silence, broken only by the loud and heavy breathing of the sufferer. The latter was not asleep, for his eyes were wide open, and ever and anon they sought the face of his friend with a wistful look.

By-and-by his breathing grew less laboured, and he whispered— "Joseph."

"Yes, my dear Seymour," was the prompt answer, in a sympathetic tone. "Can I help you in any way?"

"Give me the draught. I want to speak to you."

The silver jug was held to his lips, and after partaking of its contents he revived wonderfully. A faint colour came upon his cheek, his eye kindled with renewed light, and his voice became strong and distinct.

"Is the time for their coming near?" he inquired.

"It is, in less than half an hour they should be here."

"Thank Providence, I feel as if I shall bear up till then. When they come you will meet them in the next room and tell her—I am not able to do it, and I dare do it, for she might spurn me when she knows, and I would rather not see her than receive her curse."

"I am sure you have no cause for such a fear," replied the merchant, "your experience of her character and disposition forbids the thought that in present circumstances she is capable of showing resentment."

"Oh, yes, I found her kind and good beyond expression, but she did not know me—did not know what reason she had to hate, despise, scorn me. If she had—then—"

"Then," interrupted Mr. Langton, "judging by your report of her innate kindness of nature, her gentleness, her virtue, the knowledge would but have caused her to minister to you more tender and by devotedly."

"I wish I could think so," sighed the old man, "but oh, Joseph, I now see my cruelty towards her—her mother in all its magnitude. I deserve no forgiveness from my sister's child—none—none. And yet, how I crave for it; I could die content if I could hear her utter words of forgiveness."

"Then doubt not that you shall. I could take it upon me to give you assurance on that point."

A gleam of eager hope lighted up Seymour's countenance, but he was afraid to grasp it and hold it. Like all who realise the extent of their evil deeds and are filled by remorse, he thought his chance lay in not too great, for even the tender and affectionate nature of Annabel to pardon, and he feared to take into his heart the comfort which Langton's words were fitted to impart. So the light faded from his face, and the wistful, anxious look returned.

STILL ON RECORD.—The small pox recently, which cured three thousand cases in England, taken in all stages of disease, is so simple that it cannot be too widely disseminated. It is—Crema of tartar, 1 ounce; rhubarb, 12 grains; cold water, 1 pint. The dose is a quarter to half a pint. In severe cases a half pint dose should be administered. In cases characterized by delirium, great benefit has been obtained by applying a bottle of hot water to the feet. Plenty of fresh air is important, and in outdoor airing at the earliest period practicable is recommended. When applied in the earliest stage, at the eruption, the eruption is arrested, and suppuration is prevented, without any serious results. The mixture should be well stirred or shaken immediately before administering it.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
HOUSE OF COMMONS.

March 6.
On the return of the members from the Senate, after the opening of Parliament, a writ was issued to the members of the House of Commons to be seated in the Chamber.
A motion was carried for the appointment of Select Committees.
Sir John Macdonald moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. Howe, that it be resolved that if anything shall come in question touching the return or election of any member, he is to withdraw during the time the matter is a debate; and all members returned on double returns are to withdraw until their returns are determined. He shd appeal that any person had been elected or returned a member of this House, or had endeavored to do so, by bribery or any other corrupt practices, this House will proceed with the utmost severity against all such persons as shall have been wilfully concerned in such bribery or other corrupt practices; that the offer of any money or other advantages to any member of the House of Commons for the promotion of any matter whatever depending on to be transacted in the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada is a high crime and misdemeanor, and tends to the subversion of the Constitution.—Carried.
Mr. Blake, as a matter of privilege, moved for the production of the returns and poll-books of the Muskoka, West Peterboro, and South Renfrew elections. Mr. Blake sustained his motion in a brief speech, indicating generally the grounds on which he took action, reserving a fuller statement until the evidence to be furnished by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery should be before the House.
Mr. Scatcherd also moved for the returns from East Middlesex.
Both motions were carried, and the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery then handed in the documents referred to.
Mr. Blake then said that these papers being now in the possession of the House he desired to inform the House that he would, at the earliest opportunity to-morrow, move resolutions amending the returns for Muskoka and West Peterboro so that the candidates who received the majority of votes shall be declared duly elected, subject to the rights of all parties to petition.
This was agreed to, and the House adjourned.

Ontario Legislature.
March 6.

Hon. Mr. Pardee moved that the report of the Private Bills Committee be adopted. This gave rise to one of the most animated debates of the session.
The eastern and western sections of the Orange body in Ontario are both seeking incorporation. On Wednesday the Private Bills Committee reported against the former; yesterday they reported in favor of the latter. The apparent contradiction was owing to a little difference in the composition of the Committee on the respective occasions, the vote in both cases having been a very close one.
Mr. Merrick moved an amendment referring back the report to the Committee, with instructions to them to report on the House the cause of their decision.
Mr. Macdonald thereupon moved an amendment to the amendment, instructing the Committee to declare the preamble proven, and proceed to consider its several clauses.
After a long and animated discussion the amendment sending back the report to the Committee, with orders to pass the preamble of the Bill, was carried by yeas, 29; nays, 26. The Bill is therefore remitted to the Committee accordingly.
Attorney-General Mowat said that he had intended making his statement in respect to the Municipal Loan Fund, but of course at this late hour it would be inadvisable to do so. He would make a statement to-morrow.
A number of private Bills were then passed.

Navigation of the Air.

The Boston Globe says that an English gentleman, Mr. W. W. W., now on this side the Atlantic, proposes to construct a copper steamship to take the place of the ordinary balloon, to be one hundred feet long, fifty feet wide, and shaped like a wedge. It is to be provided with a winged screw propeller and a steam engine capable of live horse power. The weight of the engine and boiler, now being built, charged with water and supplied with fuel for a three days trip, will be not much over 1,000 pounds. It is to be gas tight with a net lifting power of 5,000 pounds costing $10,000. The fuel is to be kerosene and water gas. Mr. W. W. W. has been consulting with Professor Wise, and has arranged to secure his services. It is proposed to move the air ship first from Philadelphia to New York, thence to Boston, from thence to Newfoundland, and finally to England. Prof. Wise says the contrivance comes nearer the solution of the question of aerial navigation than any hitherto tried by machinery, if it does not entirely accomplish it.

ENTERTAINMENT.

W. D. Lyons, receiver of Milton, was the guest of the company of the Credit Valley Railway Company, together with a few friends, on Wednesday evening at the Wallace Hotel. A very pleasant time was spent, and cordial welcome given to Mr. Lyons and party as representatives of the Company. They expect to have the line surveyed as far as Campbellville by Monday next.

A FASHIONABLE PARAGRAPH.

A pretty round hat that will take the place of the dolly garden hat of last summer, is called the Lynette, after Tyranny's last heroine. The trim is "hip-titled," like Lyette's nose; the crown is half high and square; the trimming is a thick ruche of straw around the crown, with a tassel on one side, a rose and leaves in front, and a lace border of straw on the edge.

The emigration returns for the last two months show the total number of arrivals at Hamilton to have been 2,112, of which number 971 remained in this country.

FINES AS EVER.

Short sayings of poor men had—
He that hath a made hath an estate,
Industry and economy pay debts,
A live by business less that drive thee,
One to-day is worth two to-morrow.

IMPROVE NUTRITION.—The central idea in the treatment of all Chronic Wasting Diseases, resulting in Nervous Prostration and General Debility, is to improve Digestion and Assimilation of Food, and the formation of Healthy Blood. DR. WHELEHAN'S COMPOUND LIQUOR OF CHOCOLATE AND CACAO contains the only Nutrition, by imparting tone to the Stomach, Liver, and Pancreas, the great tripartite that prepares nutriment for building up the organs and tissues of the body. The action of this remarkable preparation is extraordinary in strengthening and vitalizing the constitution, whether impaired by age, exhausted by excesses, bad habits, or run down by old complaints that have resisted all ordinary methods of treatment. Being a delicious cordial to take, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances, it is eminently adapted to prostrate, anæmic, women and delicate children.

BREAKFAST.—EPP'S COCOA.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operation of digestion in man, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. —Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk. Each packet is labelled "JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, London."
MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London."—See article in Cassell's Household Guide, 1206-68.
Mr. James I. Fellows, St. John, N.B.—Sir: Having, while at your establishment, carefully examined your Compound Syrup, I felt anxious to give it a fair trial in my practice. For the last twelve months I have done so, and I find that in incipient consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs, it has done wonders. In restoring persons suffering from the effects of diphtheria, and the cough following typhoid fever, prevalent in this region, it is the best remedial agent I have ever used. But for persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the brain and nervous system, from which so many young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for restoration to health than your Compound Syrup. I remain, yours, etc.
Eugene P. CLAY, M.D., Piquash, N.S., Jan. 14, 1871.
DR. WISTAR'S BALM OF WILD CHERRY is a combination and a form indeed "for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of trying to cure the cough and leaving the disease behind.
