Town and County News

It is reported in town to-day that the Elora Standard has quit.

We have received a letter from "Observer" which we are unable to find room for to-day.

REMEMBER the sale of lots belonging to the Mitchell estate which takes place to-morrow on the grounds.

DONATION.—Mr. Joseph Dunbar, Pilkington, has made the handsome donation of $5 to the Guelph St. Andrew's Society.

The examination of the 3rd department in the Central School, under the charge of Miss A. McLagan, will commence at half past one o'clock to-morrow.

TUMECUMS VS. MAPLE LEAF.—To-morrow (Thursday) afternoon a game of croquet will be played on the Maple Leaf grounds between the Champlains and the Tumecums, of London. Play will be called at half-past two.

SENTENCED.—Thomas Wilson was tried on Tuesday in Berlin on a charge of robbing a store, and sentenced to one year and six months in the Central Prison. This sentence takes into account a similar charge to which he pleaded guilty on the previous day.

THE POTATO BUG.—The latest device for ridding potatoe vines of this pest is to sow a little buckwheat among the potatoes. A correspondent of one of our exchanges says he has seen several fields planted in this way, and there was not a bug to be observed.

A PEST IN PULMON.—In certain sections of Puslinch the chestnut hopper is assuming formidable dimensions. They are now but of very small stature, but should they increase in dimensions in proportion to numbers, and be of equal capacity to their "father grasshoppers" of last year, certain annihilating armies that was in the establishment, they purpose starting that department of the business in a few days, which will give employment to many more hands. Several of the vacant houses in the village are being rented again, and there are now few unemployed.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.—The Concert given in aid of Kirkland Church, organ fund, at Downey's School House, Puslinch, on Tuesday evening, 23rd inst., passed off remarkably well. The chair was occupied by Mr. David Stirling, and the room was filled by an intelligent and appreciative audience. The singing was of a high quality, and many of the songs were of a devotional character. The concert was a great success, and the proceeds were all for the benefit of the church.

ACCOMMODATION NEEDED.—The Reporter says that Galt needs at least fifty dwelling houses yet, and above all present accommodations. Rents vary at present from $5 to $6 on the outskirts but up to $10, $12 and as high as $15 in the business portions of the town.

BURGLARY AT PRESTON.—Sometime during Wednesday night of last week one or more burglars effected an entrance into Mr. J. Henning's store at Preston and carried off quite a number of articles. Mr. Henning himself was away from home at the time and the store was left in charge of a small boy. No trace of the burglars has been discovered.

MIGRATION OF FARM LABORERS TO CANADA.—Mr. Arch has consented to go to Canada with a party of agricultural laborers. At a meeting of farmers in Newmarket on Tuesday one of the speakers declared he would undertake to import from Canada a sufficient number of unemployed laborers to fill the places of the men locked out in that section of the country.

SIR CHARLES WHEATSTONE has invented a electric instrument for registering the number of passengers on street railways, and the distance each one travels.

The Senior Girls' School Midsummer Entertainment.

The entertainment announced to be given by the pupils of the Senior Girls' School, under the charge of Miss Walker, took place on Tuesday evening at the Town Hall. At an early hour the audience began to assemble, and by 8 o'clock not only the seats but all available standing room, and even the passage outside the door, were crowded to suffocation. The evening was a most successful one, and the crowd occasioned by the scholars leaving their seats in the hall to take places on the platform, made a standing position very uncomfortable, and several parties left, although the greater portion remained till the close.

The walls were decorated with fancy work, pictures and mottoes, and presented a pleasing appearance.

On the platform we noticed Rev. Mr. Torrance, School Inspector, Mr. Peterson, chairman of the Board of Education, several members of the Board, and a number of ladies. Miss W. S. Knowles acted as chairman of the meeting, and announced the programme as follows:—

Piano duet, Misses Barber and Tovell; Essay, Miss Hattie Davidson; Piano solo, Miss Bella Hood; Reading, Miss J. G. Gillingham; Song, Misses Parry and Parry; Piano duet, Misses Barclay and Marshall; Reading, Miss A. Wilkinson; Duet, Misses Armstrong and Taylor; Reading, Miss B. Hamilton; Song, Miss C. Stevenson; Dialogue, Misses Erie, Hough, Torrance, Madock and Crowe; Song, Miss J. Pherson; Reading, Miss F. Madock; Piano solo, Miss A. Gowdy. Part second:—Piano solo, Misses Wilkie, Hendrie and Gowdy; Essay, Miss A. Wilkinson; Song, Misses Wilkinson, Torrance, Hamilton and Gowdy; Piano solo, Miss E. Torrance; Essay, Miss B. H. Song, Miss F. Barclay; Reading, Miss A. Taylor; Piano duet, Misses Bailey and Curtis; Song, Miss Annie Gowdy; French song, by eight young ladies; Song, Miss A. Taylor; Colloquy, Misses Condon, Myers and Wilkie; Piano solo, Miss J. Hendrie; Reading, Miss H. Condon; Reading, Miss E. Armstrong; Song, Miss P. Crowe; German recitation, Prof. Brunner; Piano solo, Miss A. Pirie.

The length of the programme speaks for the amount of talent at command in the Senior Girls' School, and the manner in which the pieces were rendered reflected much credit on the teacher for her ability in instructing as well as the scholars for their diligence in learning. Still it would be well for those who have the management of these entertainments in future to remember that old adage which warns us not to drive a free horse to death. We think that a programme half as long as the one before us would have been sufficient to entertain an audience and send them home in good humor and at a reasonable hour. As it was, the audience were not relieved, even by intermission, until eleven o'clock, and for three hours the tax on the patience, and the strain necessary to catch the words of the speakers, was very exhaustive. A very annoying feature was the presence of a number of gentlemen (save the mark!) who crowded the ladies in the audience in a most reckless and disgraceful manner.

We cannot close without a word to the Town Council. Will it avail anything that a by-law has been passed for the extension of the present hall? We sincerely hope so, and we would wish that the councillors had been at the mis-called town hall on Tuesday evening in a body. It is not only a disgrace to a town the size of Guelph, but it is an actual impediment to progress. What shall we do if we are called upon again to attend a similar entertainment? We will do it, or we shall walk in the case of a visit from one of the celebrities like Gough, or Beecher? We will have to "choke off" such advances as these, and remain at a mediocrity of literary attainment that is totally unequalled for, except by the listlessness of scribbling representations at the Council Board.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 23.

A meeting at Yale last night unanimously approved the Mackenzie Railway Policy, and condemned the Local Government. The meeting was the largest ever held at Yale.

Canadian Affairs in England.

The Globe gives the following despatch from London on the 23rd:—The Great Western Extension Committee's report just published, condemns the present management. It enumerates cases of careless administration and lavish and reckless expenditure. It says the past has been one of serious error in policy, uncontrolled expenditure and extravagance without check or limitation. The road is described as well nigh financially ruined and as a chaos of departmental confusion, laxity and waste. The report recommends the complete re-organization of the Board.

The Agricultural Laborers' Union has resolved to grant free passages to Canada to the locked-out men. It is intended to ask Mr. Arch to accompany them.

CALIFORNIA WOOL.

This article is steadily assuming a more prominent place in the great Eastern markets. A late Boston wool circular thus speaks of it: "In California there continues to be a steady advance. Lines of choice wool that could be bought there some two weeks ago at 22½ gold, and so far as prices are concerned the San Francisco market continues to keep ahead of Eastern markets. A large portion of the clip is coming to this city. Upwards of 3,000,000 lbs. have already been disposed of in this market, and receivers continue to be free sellers at the current rates."

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY AT PRESTON.

A daring attempt was made on Tuesday morning to blow open a safe in the office of Alex. Wells, exchange broker. Two holes were drilled in the door of the safe. About two ounces of powder had been placed in the key-hole and all was ready for the final touch, when fortunately Mr. Wm. Dunn, who slept over and had been awakened, rose, and by his movements evidently frightened off the villains. They left a broken drill and a dozen half-burnt matches.

ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

A COURT of this ancient order of Foresters, a court of the city of Guelph, was held on Tuesday evening last, to elect officers for the year. It was known as "Grand River Court, No. 5963." About forty members enrolled their names. After the appointment and installation of officers the company retired to the "Royal" where they passed a very pleasant evening. The following are the officers:—James Harry, C. R.; James Biggar, S. C. B.; E. G. Wilkins, Treas.; Wm. Young, Sec.; Wm. Levitt, S. B.; Zeno Sills, J. W.; H. Webber, S. W.; W. Ling, J. B.

On Monday night a fire broke out in the Moorehead Manufacturing Company's Works, London, and spread to a terrible extent until it destroyed about $10,000 worth of property. Cause, incendiary.

The Queen's Visit to Russia.

Dreadful Accident in a Church.

London, June 24.—The St. Petersburg Gazette announces that the railway officials have received orders to make arrangements for a visit of the Queen of England, who is expected to arrive in Russia about the 14th of September.

The Times' Paris correspondent telegraphs that the condition of Goulard is hopeless.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 23.—An appalling catastrophe occurred here to-night. A strawberry festival was being held in the parlors of the Central Baptist Church, when, without any premonition, the floor gave way, about half-past nine, precipitating a room full of people into the story below. The parlors was on the second floor, and the room underneath was also full. The fire alarm was immediately given, and firemen hurried to the scene. Soon 10,000 people were there. Five dead bodies have been taken out, and the work has hardly commenced. 14 persons are killed and about 200 more or less injured.

Madrid, June 23rd.—Senator Castelar and Matros had a long conference yesterday on the subject of the fusion of the Republicans and Radicals. They demanded, as the condition of the fusion, the election of new Cortes.

Wintbourne Correspondence.

The people of the village and vicinity have been busy during the past week preparing the statute labor allotted to them. Considerable graveling has been done on the principal streets, which will much improve the driving in muddy weather. This suggests some improvements of another kind which have been done about the village during the spring. A number of maple trees have been planted along the streets by private individuals, which being well rooted and securely barked, give reasonable promise of growth. Trees were first planted about three years ago, some of which lived and are now growing finely, and every spring since then the dead trees have been replaced, so that by perseverance we hope in a few years to see our streets nicely ornamented by rows of shade trees.

The trustees of our school, too, seem to have suddenly developed a taste for the beautiful, as we see they have set out the front of the school ground with ornamental trees, sodded the surface so as to present the appearance of a smooth lawn, and laid a gravel walk with nicely edged up to the front of the building, the whole presenting an appearance such as we never remember seeing before any school or church in Wintbourne before. We have all this been done at the suggestion of the teacher, and if so, he certainly deserves credit for such a movement. If the same thing were done at the corner on which Chalmers' Church stands it would make the centre of our village look like a different place.

A base ball club has been organized here, which practices frequently in the evenings in anticipation of playing a match somewhere on some future day.

MICHAEL DORAN, an old veteran living near Halifax, became the happy possessor of £375 sterling by a recent order from the Horse Guards.

SLIGHTLY sarcastic was the clergyman who paused and addressed a man coming into church after the sermon had begun, with the remark: "Glad to see you, sir, come in; always glad to see those here late who can't come early," and decidedly self-possessed was the man thus addressed, in the presence of an astonished congregation, as he responded: "Thank you; would you favor me with the text?"

One's age should be tranquil, as one's childhood should be playful; hard work at either extremity of human existence, sends him out of place; the morning and the evening should be alike, cool and peaceful; at midday the sun may burn and men may labor under it.—Dr. Arnold.

The prejudice against lead pipes for the conveyance of water is unbounded after all. Experiments have been made at the French Academy of Sciences, which show that only distilled water corrodes lead. One sixth of a grain of calcium salts to the quart prevents the dissolution of the lead, so that fears of injury from lead poisoning are entirely groundless.

Rockwood Academy Renown.

A gathering of a most interesting and suggestive character took place at the Rockwood Academy on Tuesday last. Some months ago a number of the old students of this Institution had upon the happy idea of holding a Renown some time in summer, which would afford them an opportunity of meeting with the old and present teachers and pupils, and reviewing the pleasant recollections and associations of bygone days. One or two meetings were held, and the official committee was formed, and all the necessary arrangements were made which resulted so successfully in the large gathering at the Academy on Tuesday.

The weather was fortunately all that could be desired—warm, yet tempered by the wind, which gently stirred the leaves and made the picnic most enjoyable. The company began to gather by noon, and by two o'clock upwards of 200 were convened. The majority were of course composed of old pupils, who had come from the neighboring towns and counties—some of them having travelled considerable distances—to be present on so interesting an occasion. There were also many present from the village and neighborhood—friends or acquaintances of the teachers and pupils. After visiting the Academy, and admiring its excellent accommodations, the meeting adjourned to the party adjourned to a piece of bush belonging to the Messrs. Harris, which was admirably adapted for the purpose. Here the tables were spread, and refreshments, provided by Mr. Stetton of Guelph, partaken of by the company. Lawrence's Comet Band, which had been invited and engaged, were early on the ground and during the day added greatly to the pleasure of all in furnishing such excellent music.

After dinner, Mr. A. J. Brewster, Principal of the Hespeler School, who was appointed chairman, called the meeting to order. He expressed his gratification at seeing so many of the old pupils, who after many years' absence, and after many ups and downs in life, had come together once more to meet their old teachers, to see the old place, and bring back to their recollection the many pleasant memories connected with their school days. He then proceeded to read the following address from Mr. Wetherald's old pupils:—

William Wetherald:

DEAR SIR,—It gives us pleasure to meet you again, after the lapse of years, among scenes so dear to us by reminiscences of so many of our happy boyhood days. And we avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by this reunion to express our continued attachment and esteem; esteem which, as we advance in life, gains strength by the remembrance of your zealous endeavor to store our young minds with valuable information, and to imbue us with sound moral and religious principles, so that we might perform our part in the great drama of life with credit to ourselves, honor to our country, and usefulness to our fellow men. And what, by the experience of years, you have enabled to see that the course pursued by you in our educational and moral training was the best suited to our success in after-life, we gladly embrace this opportunity of publicly giving expression to the thankfulness we feel towards you for the kind and earnest way in which you strove to give to our youthful habits the impress best calculated to ensue our interests in this world without losing sight of an interest in the world to come. We would also request you to convey to your amiable partner, in life, Mrs. Wetherald, our best thanks for the many acts of kindness received at her hands; acts of kindness which, although many of them may not now retain a place in her memory, are none the less fondly cherished by us. In conclusion, accept from us our most cordial wishes for future happiness and welfare to yourself and Mrs. Wetherald, and the various members of your family.

JAMES P. PHIN, A. J. BREWSTER, Chairman, Secretary,
JAS. McCULLOUGH, Secretary,
A. DUNBAR, Chairman,
JAS. McCULLOUGH, Secretary.

Members of committee for drafting address.

Rockwood, June 23, '74.

Mr. Wetherald's reply said there were times when it was very hard to express one's feelings, and this was one of them. He accepted this address not so much on account of desert, but rather as a token of appreciation of his labors as a teacher, for which he returned them his warmest thanks. He thought he could not occupy the time as his disposal better than by giving the company a brief sketch of his early life and connection with the Academy. He left Europe at the age of age, and along with his family settled about three miles from Guelph, when bears, foxes and wolves were prowling about. His education had been limited, but he got the benefit of a library—the largest in the Wellington District at that time—belonging to a person named Jackson, whose daughter he had seen this afternoon. This he made good use of. By and by he began to teach. He described his amusements in first encountering a copy of Euclid at his school, and the daily study he had in keeping ahead of his pupils in demonstrating the problems. He then referred to the fact he did on his father's farm in Puslinch, and to his teaching experiences in Eden where he had to walk four miles in the morning and evening to his home.

He continued to do for four years and seven months. He also spoke of the time when he spent the school year near Shulins place in 1847, and the subsequent commencement of the Academy, which was begun in the old log house with two boarders. Gradually the members increased, till in 1855, he built the stone house, which forms part of the present Academy. Here he related an incident, in which as it was providentially, the first indication of scepticism among the pupils was manifested, and ever after that he was happy to say there had been no instance of infidelity. Whatever influence he had been able to exert in the direction of religion and the truth as it is in Jesus. In 1862, after 19 years of teaching, his health broke down. This was not to be wondered at when they took into account the labour and anxiety attending his duties day and night. He went to England, came back much weakened, began work again, but in less than two years he broke down again, and found that he would have to give up teaching. He gave up the Academy, accepted a situation in a College in Philadelphia, and after remaining there a time returned to Canada, and is now living quietly on his farm in the County of Wolland. He looked back on his 20 years career, as a teacher, with great gratitude. In his connection with the Rockwood Academy he felt that his life was not altogether lost, and it was with deep gratification that he had heard the expressions of thankfulness by those pupils who had attended the Academy, and that in some measure he had been the means of helping them to an earnest and noble life. Mistakes he had made, but he asked his dear old scholars to look upon the errors he had committed as those of the head and not of the heart. He would ever think tenderly of them, as he hoped they would of him.

Mr. B. Cochran then read the following address:

Messrs. McCaig and McMillan:

DEAR SIRS.—In assembling once more in this familiar and of remembered locality, the scene of so many pleasant and happy hours, our spirits quicken when our memories revert to those by-gone days and think of those others, who with us, side by side, quaffed the same sweets of knowledge and in the words of the poet

"Were nursed upon the self-same hill,
Fed the same flock by fountain shade and rill."

The rapturous hours, too, which were spent in those class-rooms, where we were taught to regard the mind as something palpable, and "the soul's immortality as something visible," will linger long in our recollections. It affords us pleasure to have an opportunity of again clasping the hands of friends in whose society we have spent so many pleasant hours, and from whom we have been so long separated, to retrospect with them upon the past and prospect the future.

Who of us has not felt his heart grow large at the sight of a student friend, one who has read the same familiar and friendly books, who has sat and listened to words of instruction from respected teachers? It is with emotions of such a nature that we avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by this reunion to express to you formally our sincere regard and esteem, as teachers who have labored faithfully and earnestly for our advancement. The instruction we received from you has been of such practical utility to us since we have begun our own battle with the world as to justify us in now reverting to our sojourn at your Academy not only as one of the most pleasant but most profitable periods of our lives. After an auspicious establishment of Rockwood Academy under its founder, Mr. Wetherald, to which such proper and happy allusion has been made in the address first read, it must have been highly gratifying to himself, as well as to all well-wishers of the Institution, to observe that in your hands the objects of its foundation were continued and extended in such a satisfactory manner. Those of us who have been pupils since the retirement of Mr. McCaig can assure you, Mr. McMillan, that we consider the Academy under your management is still steadily spreading its popularity, as is evidenced by the number of students attracted to it, not only from our own Province but from the neighboring Republic; and we are proud to know that your untiring zeal to maintain and still further increase its reputation and usefulness is manifested by the employment, as assistants from time to time, of such thorough and practical teachers as Messrs. D. H. Hunter, B. A., and W. J. Ferguson, B. A., whose sympathy and co-operation with us in our studies, along with your own invariable painstaking efforts for our advancement, have contributed so largely towards any measure of success we may have acquired. In addition, we may refer in passing to the importance of the present opportunities that are afforded us by the formal demonstrations of a sound education, for there are many storms to be encountered in this life, so that it becomes us every one to guard our footsteps well, in order that the bright hopes and promises of our early youth be not changed in maturer years to a vain asking of the past what it can never give back. May we rather be like those

"Whose high endeavors are an inward light
That makes the path before them always bright."

Signed by
R. COCHRAN,
RICHARD TALBOT,
D. A. MCINTYRE,
W. G. STODDARD,
the Committee, on behalf of the students.

Mr. McCaig in reply said he was greatly pleased to meet so many to-day who after so many years of separation had come together to renew the affections of old times. When he saw such scenes as were witnessed to-day he had always a hope for humanity—and that it was capable of raising and elevating our fallen natures. If this meeting was a pleasure to him, what must it be to the founder of the Academy? His connection with it was but short, and he had not experienced all the troubles and anxieties that Mr. Wetherald had. The present meeting was like a green oasis—a pleasant interlude in the teacher's life, who often thinks his labors go for naught. The meeting here to-day was an evidence to the contrary, for after all the struggles and discouragements, such a demonstration as this was a proof that his efforts were appreciated. He concluded by again thanking the students for this pleasing and gratifying expression of their kindness.

Mr. McMillan said he heartily endorsed the sentiments expressed by Mr. McCaig. The feeling of good that those in their position were able to do, and the practical benefit that they were the humble instruments in accomplishing, was to him the strongest incentive to work. This feeling, and a reciprocal one that sprung up in the minds of the pupils, formed a strong chord of attachment, of which they had good evidence to-day. As he grew in experience the truth of this was the more firmly impressed on his mind. It was his aim and effort to cultivate such feelings, and to continue to extend it in his daily intercourse with the pupils. The address referred in flattering terms to his efforts, but he would give his students equal credit for their efforts, and for their anxiety to secure success. It had often been a matter of astonishment to find so many young men so full of spirit, so exemplary in their conduct, and so careful of every regard to property. He referred in grateful terms to the valuable assistance he had received from his old associate Mr. McCaig, from Mr. Hunter, and from his present assistant, Mr. Ferguson. To them as well as to the students, the credit was due for a great deal of the success of the Academy. As long as God spared him it would be his effort to maintain the good name and efficiency of the Institution, and though the remuneration was small, yet he would have the satisfaction in the conviction that he was doing some practical good in fitting the young men to occupy useful—if not honorable—positions in life.

Dr. McCullough, Secretary of the Committee, was then called on. He said it was a blessing to meet so many familiar faces, and exchange recollections with old school fellows. It was a great pride to them to have such an Institution in Rockwood, to which gathered your men from all parts of the Dominion and even the States. He congratulated those now in charge of it on the success that had attended their labors; and hoped it would continue to prosper, and that young men would continue to flock to it from all parts, who in after years would do credit to themselves and the Academy.

Mr. I. L. Bowman, of Berlin, one of the oldest pupils, was also asked to speak. He was much pleased to revisit the old scenes, and meet with so many of the old students. Since the day he had left the Academy, twenty-four years ago, he had not seen it till to-day, and was gratified at the great change that had taken place. He spoke of the great benefit he had received at the Academy, for which he had all his life felt grateful. There was indeed a reunion to-day of many thoughts and feelings and associations, and he felt happy and honored in having the opportunity of saying how pleased he was in meeting them all. He trusted that the Institution would continue to be the instrument in doing much good, that its popularity would increase, and that it would continue to be held in high appreciation. They would certainly never all meet again, but he earnestly hoped that all—teachers and pupils—would have another reunion, that they would live so as to secure the home above, beyond the grave, at the right hand of God.

Mr. John Weir, of Flamboro, then moved a vote of thanks to the Committee who had done so much to make the Reunion a success.

Dr. Strang seconded the motion, and briefly expressed his pleasure at being present on such a happy occasion.

The motion was carried, and Mr. A. D. Hill responded in appropriate terms.

Another pleasing incident, just before separating, was the presentation, by Mr. Wetherald's old pupils, of a purse of money to that gentleman, who was very much affected by such a proof of the love and respect they entertained for their old teacher.

The Band then played "God Save the Queen," and the Re-union terminated at six o'clock, all being highly pleased with the day's proceedings. To Mr. Hill, and the other members of the Committee, much credit is due for the efforts they made to carry out the arrangements.

The nomination for West Peterborough was held on Tuesday. Mr. D. M. Dumble was nominated as the Reform candidate, and W. B. Scott as the Conservative candidate.

A debate is to be held in the Church of the United Brethren, Waterloo, on the 6th July, to continue for a week, on the question "Resolved—that man in his present state is entirely mortal, and falls by the power of death into a state of total unconsciousness, till the resurrection."

An Oswego paper says that the Canadian steamers which have been running on the American side of Lake Ontario have been withdrawn and placed on the route between Quebec and Montreal. The result will probably be the establishment of a new American line.

roads somewhat muddy, so that few from a distance attended. Others thought that advertising a brass band to be in attendance was only to draw people, but it was no catch, for the Belmore Brass Band arrived on the ground about noon, and contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion by the excellent music which they furnished. At half-past two, tea was served, about one hundred and seventy partaking thereof. This over, those present were called together to hear Temperance addresses, &c. Mr. S. Ranton was elected chairman, and after a few preliminary remarks called upon Misses Isabella and Mary Ann McDowell for a dialogue. Rev. D. Anderson delivered an address with his usual ability. A most amusing dialogue entitled "Taking Tea," was then given by Misses Isabella, Mary Ann and Sarah Jane McDowell and Miss Sarah Thompson. Rev. Mr. Willmott next gave a short but able address. This part of the programme was varied by music at intervals from the band, and was concluded by "God Save the Queen." Singing and croquet playing were indulged in till evening by many. The day was an enjoyable one and will be pleasantly remembered. The members of the Lodge desire publicly to return their thanks to Mr. Tat for his Grove to hold the picnic. Mr. G. S. Davidson, of the Listowel Banner, is about to start a job printing office in this village. This will be quite a convenience, and Mr. Davidson should receive the hearty support of the business men of the village and others who have printing to do. Upwards of one hundred and twenty dollars are offered in prizes for horse races and athletic games on Dominion Day. The Committee are determined that neither pains nor expense shall be spared to make the celebration a success.

HARRISTON ITEMS.—Dominion Day will be celebrated here in good style. Over $250 will be given in prizes for games and horse races. The day will be ushered in by a royal salute at 5 o'clock a.m. Capt. Jack will make his appearance at 9 o'clock in command of his army. A match game of Base Ball will commence at 9 o'clock, immediately after which the other sports will begin. Robinson's Circus and Menagerie will exhibit here on the Fair Ground on Friday, 3rd July, at 1 and 7 p.m.

The Village of Harriston is troubled about the obstructions on the streets, and the Tribune wants to see a "ruction" between the merchants and the constable in reference to the matter.

DOMINION DAY AT PAISLEY.—We notice from posters that the inhabitants of Paisley intend to celebrate Dominion Day with more than usual clat. There are to be horse, boat and foot racing, jumping, &c., sums ranging from $10 to $50 being offered in prizes to the competitors in the various classes.

DOMINION DAY IN MOUNT FOREST.—At six o'clock a.m. a salute will be fired by the Garrison artillery. At ten a.m. games will take place on the grounds near the Drill shed. At two o'clock, p.m. horse races will be held on the Queen street Course, when about $100 will be given in prizes. In the evening there will be a competition between comic singers, on the band stand near the post office. Prizes will be awarded to the successful competitors.

The stock consists of about
First-class Instruments!
Similar to those shown at the last Central Exhibition, and for which he was awarded the first prize.
They are equal in compass of tone, finish and durability to the best instruments of any of the celebrated manufacturers, and as such an opportunity seldom occurs, parties in want of pianos would do well to avail themselves of it.
An inspection invited.
A competent person will be on the premises, near Mr. John Harris, who will show the instruments.

DR. WHEELER'S ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES and Calaisia - After having used your Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calaisia for over two years in my daily practice, I must give it my unqualified approval. During a practice of over twenty years, I have used many scientifically prepared tonics, made to fulfil the same therapeutical indications as your Elixir, but none of them proved with me as valuable as yours. To the medical profession and the public, I would especially recommend it as the best remedy with which I am acquainted for the successful treatment of the large and constantly increasing class of cases of over-worked and nerve-exhausted women.

Specific Medicine
Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by the habit of smoking the pipe and drinking alcoholic liquors, but the Specific Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spasmodic, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, or Loss of Seminal Fluid, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other Diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over-indulgence.
The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.
The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists as 1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

REMOVAL.
G. B. FRASER
Has removed directly opposite his old stand, where he has opened with a brand new stock at much lower prices than could be bought earlier in the season.
G. B. Fraser is too modest to advertise that he is selling much cheaper than those who make a great show. Still facts are stubborn chiefs, and a discerning public pronounce Fraser's to be the cheap store to deal in.
G. B. Fraser gives his old friends a cordial invitation, and invites all who wish to save money to call and see his new stock.

Where he intends carrying on the above line in all its branches, and hopes by strict attention to business, and keeping a good stock always on hand, to merit a due portion of the public patronage.
A supply of Ice Cream and Soda Water, and a variety of BISCUITS, BUNS, CAKES, CANDIES,
etc. always on hand.
Bride and other Cakes made to order.
JOHN SUTTON,
Guelph, June 20, 1874.

W. J. LITTLE
Has now in operation his first-class
SODA FOUNTAIN
Where the lovers of that delightful beverage can quench their thirst at all times.
He has also fitted up a room where Ice Cream is dispensed with liberal patronage, and trusts he shall receive a share of public patronage.
All kinds of Bread, Cakes and Confectionery, constantly on hand. W. J. LITTLE,

PRESTON Mineral Baths
Artesian Springs.
These celebrated Mineral Baths are now open to the public. Hot, cold, and shower baths, together with all conveniences, accommodation, and amusement usually found at such places, such as billiard parlor, croquet ground, apparatus for giving combined exercises and amusement; also facilities for fishing.
The above baths are in connection with the North American Hotel, and now under the management of an American gentleman of experience in the business, and the public may rest assured that he understands catering for them in every respect.
The proprietor has also built a race course which may be used as a driving park. A fine delivery in connection Anomibus and from all trains.

AGRICULTURAL INSURANCE COMPANY
Capital - - - One Million
HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.
President - Col. A. C. De L. Harwood, D.A.G.
Vice President - Wm. Angus, Esq.
Managing Director and Secretary - Ed. H. Goff, Esq.
Inspector - James H. Smith.
This Company has been organized for the express purpose of insuring Farm Property and Private Residences, and it is the determination of its Directors to confine its operations strictly to this class of business, thus avoiding heavy losses from sweeping fires and hazardous risks.
An arrangement has been completed by which this Company takes over the Canadian Policies and Renewals of the Agricultural Insurance Company of Watertown, N.Y., which at once places the Company in possession of a large and profitable business.
Farmers and others will consult their own interests by insuring in this Company - a Canadian Stock Home Company.
