

35000 KILLED IN BATTLE GENERAL IS ASSASSINATED

Further Details of Tremendous Clash of Arms in Central America.

Mexico City, July 17.—News was received yesterday that a rumor was current in Salvador that General Regalado was assassinated by two men who formed part of his escort, and that these men were Guatemalans employed for the purpose.

The following despatch was received yesterday from San Salvador: "Never before in the history of Central America has there been such hard fighting. Salvador, as a government, was not prepared, and Guatemala had about three men to one. Notwithstanding the great odds, Salvador won every battle. The loss on both sides was great, Salvador losing about 700 killed, and 1100 wounded, and Guatemala about 2800 killed and 3000 wounded. General Regalado, when killed, was over a mile in advance. He had fifty picked officers and men with him. Every one was killed, and after the rear troops came up and drove the Guatemalan troops forward, they found over 600 dead Guatemalan soldiers, including several officers. In that battle, Salvador captured the enemy's artillery. Then Guatemala asked for peace. Salvador refused, but 12 hours later a telegram from the President Roosevelt changed conditions."

When this despatch was filed, the two armies were facing each other, resting on their arms, awaiting the result of President Roosevelt's telegram.

The state department received despatches to-day from the City of Mexico, from Guatemala City and from San Salvador, indicating that the powers involved in the war are willing to agree upon an armistice, but some difficulty in fixing the time when it shall begin has been encountered because of the scattered condition of the warring troops and the scarcity of means of communication between the parts of the warring countries. It is stated by state department officials, however, that to-morrow evening seems to be acceptable to all the powers.

Honduras was not a party originally to the attempt of the United States to bring the warring nations together, but after it became clear that Honduras was involved in the difficulties the state department made overtures to that country, and the reply was in effect that Honduras would be governed by the action of Salvador, its ally.

As a country signatory to the Hague conference the United States is held by the state department to be duly bound to exert every possible effort to bring about peace, and it is maintained that the United States cannot be charged with interfering in any way with Central American affairs, ever to direct negotiations, but has merely offered, its good offices and exerted all its influence in getting the fighting nations to accept their differences by peaceful methods.

AGREE TO ARMISTICE. San Salvador, Sunday, July 16, 6 p.m.—(Delayed in transmission.) The belligerents to-day agreed upon an armistice. It is claimed that the Guatemalans during the recent fighting used explosive bullets, notwithstanding the fact that Guatemala signed the Geneva convention.

ALLIED ARMY IN GUATEMALA. New Orleans, July 17.—An alleged coalition of the Central American Republics against Guatemala is reported in a special despatch from Mexico City. The despatch, which quotes a friend of General Barrios as authority, says: "Some time last March Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua entered into an offensive and defensive coalition against Guatemala, agreeing that the moment there was an infringement by Guatemala of territorial rights of either of the three confederates a declaration of war against Guatemala should follow."

It is stated that posters have been placed in Guatemala City calling for the assassination of President Cabrera, and some of these posters have even been placed opposite the walls of the president's residence, which is guarded by about 2000 picked men. Cabrera is said to be practically a prisoner in his residence and to have his food tested for poison before eating it.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION SPREAD THROUGH RUSSIA

Agrarian Disorders and Revolutionary Outrage Are on the Increase—Peasants in Many Places Apply Torch to Estates of Crown.

St. Petersburg, July 17.—The daily budget of revolutionary outrages and agrarian disorders is larger than usual to-day. In many places the peasants are wontonly applying the torch to estates belonging to the crown and to private forests.

At Natchatkin, in Simbirsk Province, the town hall was set on fire yesterday, and the entire village, consisting of three hundred houses, was consumed. Throughout systematic pillaging of the government spirit shops is in progress. The central police office at Warsaw was robbed yesterday and a gardener was killed.

At Lublin, Russian Poland, revolutionists yesterday executed a workman who was suspected of being a spy, and at Nizhni-Novgorod and Vasilyki the cashiers of the spirit monopoly were robbed and killed. A bank at Sosnitsa, Province of Tomsk, was robbed yesterday, and at Tomsk an Armenian locomotive engineer was shot in his cab by an assassin concealed in the neighboring woods.

Workmen at Rostoff, Province of Yaroslavl, killed an alleged government provost at Filagorova, a Tartar woman, who was baptised in the Orthodox Church, was murdered, and at Yaroslavl bombs were exploded at the residence of the chief of police and an officer of the gendarmerie.

The monastery of the Nativity has been plundered of all its jewels and sacred relics and $18,000 in cash.

In the village of Kunikoff, two hundred houses have been burned in disturbances incident to the agrarian movement. The crown forests have been set on fire in sixteen different places.

The family of M. Krupenikoff have been driven out of their estate near here by peasants, who announced that they intended to harvest the crop themselves, but would allow M. Krupenikoff to take his cattle.

Police on Strike. Considerable alarm has been caused by the inauguration of a strike of the police in the districts of the capital to-day, the policemen refused to appear for duty and last night one squad whose captain was lecturing them on declining to break up a meeting drove down their arms and left the station.

The strike is ostensibly based on economic reasons, including an announcement of the men's savings, which, it is claimed, are withheld without interest. The authorities, however, declare that the strike is merely an effectual suppression by the authorities. The strikes continue to spread on all sides.

AGREES TO ARMISTICE. The government reports show a continued deterioration in the Volga Provinces, and that the partial or total failure of the crops has extended in the "Tatarskaya, Penza and Nizhni-Novgorod districts, and in some of the districts of the Don, where the rains came too late to save the crops.

At the event of the master carpenter themselves, and the general consensus of opinion of the men is that, in willing to grant some substantial increase, a strike should be called, to take effect at once.

WILL NEVER STAND TRIAL NO DOUBT THAW'S INSANE

Authoritative Statement After Conference of Friends and Counsel of Murderer.

New York, July 17.—The World to-morrow will say: "Harry Thaw will never be placed on trial for the murder of Stanford White. An application will be made for the appointment of a commission to inquire into his sanity. There is no doubt but that he will be declared insane and sent to the hospital for the criminal insane at Mattawan."

This authoritative statement was made last night at a conference at the Hotel Lorraine by one who had been present. At this conference were Mrs. Wm. Thaw, Miss L. Beckett, her personal attorney, Mr. K. Olcott of Black Olcott, Gruber and Bonynge, Young Thaw's former counsel, Joseph Thaw, George F. Carnegie, son and heir-at-law of Mr. Wm. Thaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Nesbitt Thaw was present, but took no part in the conference.

MRS. THAW'S STATEMENT. Montreal, July 17.—(Special.)—The French papers of the province, and especially La Presse, are drawing attention to what they call the very humiliating position occupied by the compatriots in the New England States. It appears that the Fall River, Mass., of St. Ann's parish, French Canadian, have built a church costing $300,000, and in dedication, the representatives of that nationality occupied quite a second place.

The same paper declares that, while Mr. F. K. O'Brien, the apostolic delegate, Mr. Stas, Bishop of Fall River, and a great many Irish priests were present, both at the dedication and the banquet which took place later on, the only French priest present was a single health was proposed in that tongue. Not a single French-Canadian layman was at the table of honor.

It is said at the outset that the leader of the government will retain the law portfolio, and that Hon. Mr. Gouin has decided to give Mr. Speaker Veil the important portfolio of public works, under his jurisdiction, as well as other minister has decided to retain for himself.

The English-speaking members, although they will not lose the treasurer's post, will, as just indicated, be compensated with a portfolio, where a good deal of patronage is involved. For instance, Hon. L. Y. Weir becomes minister of public works, the construction of the new Montreal Jail will be under his jurisdiction, as well as other less important public works.

It is said that when Hon. J. C. McCord retires to accept a place on the superior court bench, the premier will hand over the finances of the province to Hon. August Testier, M.L.A. for Rimouski, and now minister of agriculture.

Quebec Papers Indignant at Slight of Compatriots by High Dignitaries.

Montreal, July 17.—(Special.)—It would seem that the latest accredited rumors concerning the reconstructed Quebec ministry, which premier Gouin has promised before another session is called, will be considerably unlike the formation which most people expected a few weeks ago.

MAYOR EXPECTS SUCCESS AFTER SEEING MINISTERS

Toronto's Proposition re Yonge Street Bridge Favorably Received at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 17.—(Special.)—"We expect to be entirely successful in our efforts," said Mayor Coatsworth of Toronto this evening to The World representative.

He and Controller Ward are in the city with the object of obtaining some definite understanding regarding the Yonge-street bridge scheme. The city proposes to give a lane west of the custom house instead of $50,000 land damages. Mayor Coatsworth saw the minister of customs, the minister of justice and the minister of marine and fisheries to-day and is thoroughly satisfied that the scheme will be put on a satisfactory basis.

"We could not have been better received," was the mayor's remark. To-morrow morning the minister of railways will be seen, after which the city representatives will return to Toronto.

Those ministers most concerned with the proposal are Mr. Patterson, Mr. Brodeur and Mr. Emmerson. The two former, having declared their readiness to go ahead at once with the arrangements, it only remains to be seen what attitude Mr. Emmerson will assume.

The mayor seems to have made up his mind that the minister of railways will lend a sympathetic ear.

Market Notes. A McIntosh, who is one of the largest exporters of cattle from the Toronto and Junction markets, has this morning shipped 2000 cattle, bought from James A. Bulligan, who fed them at the Walkerville Dispensary, also 1800 cattle fed by Dunn Bros. at the Toronto Dispensary. Mr. McIntosh reports the Walkerville cattle as being superior in quality. When asked his opinion why the Walkerville cattle were so better, Mr. McIntosh stated that he considered the Walkerville cattle as being so arranged as to be more suitable for the cattle, the stalls being better arranged and in a better sanitary condition. Another reason Mr. McIntosh stated that the stall fed to the cattle was better, none of the grains being separated from it.

Mr. Kennedy reported that he was paying $7.00 per cwt. for hogs from the country, and $8 per cwt. for hogs from water, and $8.25 per cwt. for hogs on sale at Junction.

SEASONABLE FARM HINTS.

Matters of Present Moment in and Around the Farm. Provide shelter for the hogs during the hot days of July and August. This shelter need not be anything elaborate and need not be expensive.

When pastures are short the need for some green soiling crop will be realized if you have not prepared for this summer's falling pastures by having some green feed ready. This is a good time to think about it and be prepared for another season.

During the dry hot days of midsummer there is usually a shortage of the fresh water supply for live stock. This is very bad, as stagnant water will bring on disease quicker than most anything else. Provision should be made wherever at all possible to have a good supply of fresh clean water for the live stock all summer long. It will pay.

Keep at the weeds and do not allow them to go to seed. If they have even formed seed it is dangerous to cut them off and let them lie on the ground, as there is enough nutriment in the stalks to ripen green seed. A few years' hard fight against the weeds will result in diminishing their numbers if not completely ridding the farm of them.

This is the season of the year when the farm horse should receive special consideration. During winter harvest is a strenuous time for the team, as the weather is hot and the work usually hard. If you are using three horses, remember that the middle horse is working at a disadvantage in that he is sandwiched in between the other two and is liable to get overheated. It is better to have an extra horse and change frequently.

Many a farm boy, during the harvest and hay days, grows tired of carrying the water jug, as he will find that the water grows warm very quickly and the marketing of the water is every time they come around the well. Boys here is a tip: Wrap the water jug in several layers of straw, since long hair and the prospects for a bumper crop, and so bright in the middle of July as they are now.

Geese for Profit. Geese can be raised best without bathing water. It is estimated that a pair of Toulouse geese will yield two dollars' worth of feathers in a year. A too heavy diet of grain is apt to result in more of the fat, and less of the meat, and the fat is generally evidenced by its leached appearance. The best method and the one followed by the best-kept flocks is to haul the manure out as it is made winter and summer and spread it on the field with a manure fork. This puts it on evenly and at a time when it will do the most good.

While many farmers consider the garden as strictly belonging to the woman's domain, it would be well for them to take a little time from their other farm to lend a hand in its care. The farmer is a busy man during the growing season, but the housewife is a busy woman at the same time. The man will always submit to the little help being given her. This is the month when the garden is best, as the celery, cabbage, turnips, beets, radishes, etc. Some day when the hay is done, take a day and do some of the work in the garden. It will be a pleasure to you and help in the garden.

Market Poultry Culture. Plumpness is more desirable than color of skin. You will hurt the sales by marketing scaly-legged fowls. Broiler raisers claim that it costs about 15 cents a pound to produce that product.

Tenderness in poultry is increased by quick fattening. Tenderness is not the rule with chickens that are kept in range. In shipping to market, never place pullets and cockerels in the same crate. It is a fact that most of the chickens in market are lean and lanky. A plump body and limbs will go a great way to finding a customer.

Requests to Charity. The will of Richard Maloney, tailor, disposes of an estate of $17,341, of which $2000 is left to establish a cot in the Hospital for Sick Children, $500 to St. Michael's Hospital, $500 to House of Providence and $500 to St. Vincent de Paul Society of St. Basil's Church. The widow received $2500 in cash, the household furniture and the income from the estate after legacies. Frank Phillips, a cousin, $1000, and Richard Semlitz, a grandchild, $1000, are paid.

Cheap Trips and Tours. Cheap trips and tours by lake, river or rail can be arranged at the International Railway office, 51 King-street east (N. Weatherston agent), where Atlantic steamship tickets are also issued and berths secured in advance.

BEST TYPE FOR FEEDING.

Prominent English Writer Discusses the Hog-Making Animal.

Agricola in London Farm and Home gives the following form of feeding cattle as follows: "McCormie of Tillyfour, the well-known breeder of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, used to say that the following points were what he liked to see in feeding cattle: A clean muzzle, a small, well put-on head, a prominent eye, a good-sized, hairy, red tail, a level back from head to all, and neck well filled up from shoulder-blade to head. Another point made was not too much breadth between the hook bones, which was a very bad feature, he used to say, as it always left a vacancy between the hooks and the tail, specially seen in newly-calving cows, and with a consequent tendency to Youatt, are the most valuable region. Some may prefer a longer head than this, but big heads, according to Youatt, are not good beefers. A good head, with a large and prominent eye, or a good shoulder, is certainly an important matter, and means a good feeder. The sure indications of a worthless feeder were, McCormie said, too much meat in the legs, and a tucked-up flank with bad ribs, while slow feeders were denoted by a deep neck, thick, i.e. trousers' legs and a tucked-up neck. There may be difference of opinion in some of these points, and some good judges like more of a thickness in the legs, and the ribs well apart. A level underline, also, with less belly, may be preferred, and Youatt was very strong on this point. Any fattening tendency to a bad ribbing-up is certainly undesirable, as fattening power is thereby diminished, and constitution also, and the ribs are not so close together. This is very true of horses. Thickness thru the heart, on the other hand, means a good feeder, and an excellent feature in stock of all sorts.

The skin and hair are, perhaps, the most important features of all. A great point is a happy medium between thickness of skin. What is called a 'papery' skin shows want of constitution. Youatt attached great importance to the length of the legs in a bullock. Decidedly short legs, he said, means that the animal is almost certain to fatten, while long legs, on the other hand, means that the animal is almost certain to be a poor feeder. The length of the tail is a point of some importance, it should be set on well back and not stand too high, and should fall, like the tail of the dairy breeds, in a curve, and not in a straight line. The tail, he said, should be set on well back and not stand too high, and should fall, like the tail of the dairy breeds, in a curve, and not in a straight line.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY. To Get English Trade in the Canadian Meat Industries.

P. B. Ball, Canada's commercial agent at Birmingham, reports: Great Britain seems to have been very strongly moved by the export of the methods of the packers of canned meat, and it will be many a long day before the American packer regains the confidence of the market.

Also Canada is not a very large meat tinning country, this ought to be a very fine opportunity for Canadian packers to step in. I notice that Australia and New Zealand are making very determined efforts to capture at least a portion of the market of Australia and New Zealand tinned meats have always been more expensive than the American and they give as one reason for this the quality of the meat is superior, and also that such great care is exercised by the government in inspecting all meat canneries. SOUTH AMERICANS ARE WEAK.

World Office, Tuesday, July 17. The Toronto stock market showed today as might cause concern to the holders of the foreign specialties.

With a steady to firm Wall-street market, and absolutely no surface change in domestic conditions, it might at least be expected that steadiness could be maintained here without difficulty.

While this was the case with most of the list, the Rioes and Sao Paulo were heavily weak when the small offerings are considered in connection with the price rise. No enthusiasm has yet been worked up over the Rioes.

Northwest was perfect and cash demand fell. Unless some unexpected news develops, prices will continue to rise. Corn and Oats—Were fairly steady, but showed somewhat in sympathy with the movements in wheat.

Something for the Home-maker to lean upon. THE JUDGE EXPLAINS. History of Mr. Lennox's "Unpaid Account" for Services Performed.

Judge Winchester, referring to Architect Lennox's statement, says: "Regarding Mr. Lennox's account for a plan, the circumstances are these: About the time I bought this house, 95 Isabella-street, Mr. Lennox and I spoke of it in a conversation. I do not remember who mentioned the subject first. It was some time in March, I think, and during the investigation period, Mr. Lennox asked me if I owned an iron girder in my house, and I answered that I did not.

When Mr. Lennox asked me if I owned an iron girder in my house, and I answered that I did not, he said he would like to look through the house, as he wondered whether his recommendation in regard to the girder had been acted upon. I had no objection as he was coming to my house as to the girder, one of the carpenters located it. On this first occasion, Mr. Lennox said that he had a copy of the house plan, and he would give me a copy of it. He said he would bring me the copy, but when he was in my room at the city hall some time later, he said he had forgotten. He told me he would send it to me, and Bradley of his office did bring it to me.
