THE RETURN OF SPRING.
Dear as the dove, whose waning wing
The green leaf ransomed from the main,
The genial glow, returning Spring,
Comes to our shores again;
For thou hast been a wanderer long,
On many a fair and foreign strand,
In palm and beauty, song and song,
Basking from land to land.

Who are your Aristocrats?
We take the following from Bond's Mercantile Magazine:—Twenty years ago this one butchered, that one made candles; another sold cheese and butter; a fourth carried on a distillery; another was a contractor on canals; others were merchants and mechanics. They are acquainted with both ends of society—their children will be after them, though it will not do to say so out loud. For when you shall find in these toiling worms' hatch-birds, and they live about a year.

Death brings division of property; and it brings new financiers; the old agent is discharged; the young gentleman takes his revenue and begins to travel—towards poverty, which he reaches before he starts—his children are a sort of moneyed rank, it is not hereditary; it is accessible to all; three good seasons of cotton will send a generation of men up; a score of years will bring them all down, and send their children again to labor. The father grubs, and grows rich; his children inherit the pride, and go to shillings poverty; their children, reinvigorated by fresh plebeian blood, and by the smell of the clove, come up again. Thus society, like a tree, draws its sap from the earth, changes it into leaves and blossoms, spreads them abroad in great glory, sheds them off to fall back to the earth, again to mingle with the soil, and at length to reappear in new trees and fresh germination.

Mode of collecting Debts.
There are divers fashions in this world, which those who do not follow or participate know nothing about, and perhaps never heard of. Amongst other curious matters, the Malabar, and Ceylon modes of collecting debts lately met our eye in a curious old book, and as debt-collecting is attempted to a great extent in all communities, perhaps some creditors may derive useful hints from the description, which we shall condense for their benefit.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.
PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS.—James Travis and Henry G. Simons, Esquires, to be Sitting Magistrates at the Portland Police Office, under the provisions of the Act passed in the present Session.

CHIEF SINDERS, JUNIOR, and DR. DAVID B. CARTER, and Joseph S. Waterhouse, the additional Trustees for the Restigouche Grammar School.
John H. Harding to be a Commissioner of Deeds and Deacons at Sheppagan, in the town of High A. Co., left the place.
Charles Johnson, Esquire, to be High Sheriff for the City and County of St. John; and William Byard, Esquire, M. D., to be Coroner for the same for the ensuing year.
Ebenezer R. Berpe to be a Coroner in Queen's County.
Henry Lorington to be a Coroner for the County of Westmorland.
John McKenna to be Coroner for the County of Gloucester.

By His Excellency J. R. FARQUHAR.

DEACONS MEETING.—A meeting of the Clergy of the Diocese of St. John, was held at Trinity Church, on Tuesday the 5th inst. Present—the Rev. J. W. D. Gray, D.D., the Rev. J. Armstrong, the Rev. F. Carter, the Rev. J. D. Fisher, the Rev. A. Stewart, and the Rev. E. Duvernet. The sermon, a very impressive one, from Ezek. xx. in 6 upon the duties of the clergy, was preached by the Rev. J. Armstrong. The Holy Sacrament was afterwards administered, and a number of the Parishioners partook of it. Such meetings, highly improved, and daily attended, in no small degree, contribute to the edification and comfort both of the clergy and laity.—Church Chronicle.

IT appears by the returns of the Trustees of Schools, for the several Parishes in this county, submitted at the late General Sessions, that the number of children attending school in the Parish of St. John, is 1,462 boys, and 1,200 girls, viz.—in St. John 677; Portland 281; Lunenburg 267; Marine 229; and Simonds, 401; and that there were fifty-one scholars receiving the Provincial allowance.—Id.

Lower Cove New Church.—Last Sunday evening the Rev. Mr. Armstrong, preached a Sermon in Trinity Church, preparatory to the taking up of a subscription for liquidating the debt standing against that beautiful little edifice. It appears that the amount does not exceed £500—mere trifles to the Church going community of this city. We sincerely trust their christian liberality will be such as to meet without difficulty the requisite.—Id.

LAUNCH.—On Wednesday last, a remarkably fine Ship called the Gleaner was launched in Carlisle, from the Slip-Yard of Messrs. Stockhouse & McLachlan, owners. The Gleaner is of the burthen of 1036 tons, Carpenter's Measurement. She is built of hancote, pitch-pine, and American white oak, and is thoroughly fastened, and exhibits an admirable specimen of sound mechanical skill and design, which reflects great credit upon her owners, Mr. Thomas McLachlan, the talented Master-builder.—The G. C. will shortly proceed to Liverpool.—Id.

Portland Police Office, 10th April, 1851.
Alexander McDermott was this day brought up before Jacob Allen, Esq., Police Magistrate, and fined in the sum of 40s for assaulting and making use of most gross and abusive language towards Andrew Burns, for an assault upon Sergeant Wilson of 9th Regt, by throwing a stone at him, and being drunk and disorderly, fined 50s.
William Miles, for drunkenness, 24s.—The files were paid.

THE ARKWRIGHTS.
Some months ago, when the head of the Arkwright family died, and his will came to be proved, the public were astonished, and in enormous extent of his wealth. The personal property was sworn to be under five millions! Why, five millions, year, at a rate of five per cent. interest, an annual income of not less than two hundred and fifty thousand a year. Not more than two or three men in England are known to possess such income. And then the rate at which it must be increasing! The Arkwrights don't live like the Nugents. Their establishment, though Hillesley Castle is grandly situated, is remarkable for the modesty of its furnishings, and the simplicity of its entertainments. The heirs of the family are devoted to no costly extravagances. They keep neither horses nor yachts; opera boxes, nor Belgravia palaces. On the contrary, the visitor at any hour in the day, or any day in the week, will find them in the mill, in the workshop, or in the counting house. The untiring energy of the founder of the family lives in his descendants; the splendour of wealth—the attractions of a gay world—political or literary ambition, all these things fail to draw them for a moment from the daily routine of spinning and weaving, the fingerings of yarn, the examination of bad debts, and the casting up of the accounts. They have no pride of birth, no political dignity, to support like the Sutherlands, Westminsters, and other noble millions. Their millions have only to be gained and may result in the contingency suggested by the great Platonian case; from which it would require the momentary ascendancy of the old English doctrines of the levelers to set us free. To such of the public as entertain these fears I may suggest at least one consolation—the Arkwright family is a very numerous one. The four or five millions were broken up into more than half a dozen portions. A few years more will see these divisions again divided, so that unless Masson Mills, and the other factories belonging to the family, should spin their golden thread faster than hitherto, two or three generations hence will find a numerous colony of the Arkwrights, most of them rich enough to endanger the industrial or monetary stability of the kingdom.—Mornings at the Mills.

DISCIPLINING FOWLS.
The Chinese, living in canal boats, send their ducks ashore during the day-time, to earn their living, and whistle them home at night. The lost duck gets a switching; there is consequently a duck-race—each one trying not to be the last.

Some years back, I kept a few fowls, and among them was a very fine, large Dominique cock, that would get into my flower garden, and then call all his family about him. There was, of course, great scratching among them, until I interrupted the sport by driving them off. The hens would fly in great alarm; not so clamorous, but perching himself on the fence, he would send me a cross of defiance, and, as soon as my back was turned, chuck a recall to his hens.

This scene was repeated so often, that at last I got out of patience with his impudence, and ran him down. When caught, I thought that the Chinese would have some effect on my cock, so, holding by his legs, I laid him down at his favorite scratching ground, and with a light switch, whipped him across the wings. After he had been well chastised, I let go of him and arose; but he lay still. I stepped back a yard or two, when he raised his head. At a threatening motion of my stick, however, he hid his head down again. I then retreated some twenty feet, keeping my eye upon him, and holding the switch "in terrorem." He lay almost perfectly quiet during the time. Occasionally he would raise his head at this distance, was sufficient to make him resume this very unnatural position.

Being very much amused at the success of my experiment, I held him in this position, by the power of whip and eye, for some fifteen minutes, and in the end, had a little difficulty in starting him off.

This cock was a complete reformation in his moral character, and he never afterwards trespassed on grounds that were forbidden him.

Probably some of the farmer boys that read the Evening Post may like to repeat the experiment; so, let me advise them not to act in haste, but to be diligent to be the pet of the farm-yard. The lightest possible switch should be used—a blade of grass will almost answer. It is not the pain he suffers, but the degradation that has effect.—Evening Post.

PRESBYTERIAN LAW.—The law in the land, extending all the way to the river, then all it down as you would put them. When wanted for use try out enough far to last a few weeks. This mode is communicated by a gentleman who has had much experience in this business, and he prefers this mode, as the land keeps perfectly sweet through the year.
