FARMER, GENERAL, PREMIER.

(By Henry W. Nevins.) Eight years ago Louis Botha was a Boer farmer of thirty-five, quite unknown to the world outside a small circle in Pretoria and the district of Vryheid, where he had his farm and generally lived. He himself had been born on British soil near Lady Smith, which was to be the scene of his first great exploits. But he came of an old Boer stock, and his father and grandfather had fought for existence in Natal in the days when the Zulus slaughtered the early Dutch settlers at the spot still called Wevheid (Weeping), and were in turn slaughtered on the River of Blood. When he grew up he served with Lucas Meyer, an older man but his life-long friend, in winning from the Zulus the corner of land which they called the New Republic, lying between Zululand and North Natal. Soon afterwards it came under the command of the government, and as a Transvaal burgher Botha held his farm, was enrolled in the Transvaal forces, and elected a member of the Volksraad commando. Tall and handsome, with large blue eyes and dark bearded face, he married the very remarkable lady who afterwards played a great part in his own and his country's history—a Miss Emmet, descended from the brother of the young Irish patriot, Robert Emmet, hanged in Dublin in 1803.

LOUIS BOTHA IN WAR.

At the very beginning of the war, on October 11, 1899, he crossed the Natal frontier with the commando, and was simply as an ordinary burgher, under the command of Lucas Meyer, and advanced with the rest upon Dundee. It was in that little mountain town, when one morning I heard what I believe to have been the first shots of the war not far away, and I was entering Gen. Penn Symons' tent to tell him about the commando galloping in with the news that Boer skirmishers had been seen. I will remember the general's contempt for our story. "The burghers would never dream of attacking British troops," he kept repeating. How terribly he and his brigade paid for his confidence is well known. Botha distinguished himself by his gallantry that he was at once elected assistant-general to his friend Meyer, and in command, instead of Joubert, it is very certain that the brigade would never have accomplished those terrific fifty miles of retrograde to Lady Smith, through a difficult country, interrupted by rivers and passes, and familiar to only one of the officers present, Joubert, and he felt a chivalrous hesitation in attacking a retiring enemy and annihilating him. Had Botha or De Wet been in command, and Lucas Meyer fell sick, Louis Botha was at once selected to fill their place, and thus, within six weeks of the outbreak of war, he rose from the position of a burgher in the ranks to the command of the main Boer army in the field. His first and, on the whole, his most striking proof of an inborn genius for war was given on the black day of Colenso (December 15, 1899) I need only recall that General Buller, who at that time commanded over 20,000 men and a full complement of naval and field guns, issued orders to advance across the Tugela over an open plain by an unmasked frontal attack against the heights beyond. Among those heights Botha had carefully concealed his burghers, with orders not to fire a shot till our troops came within effective range. Before two o'clock the whole of the British force had been rolled back to its base, with the loss of ten guns and 1,000 killed and wounded. It was then that Buller actually advised White to surrender Lady Smith on the best terms he could get. Happily for Britain, White was too fine a soldier to listen to such advice. Again, probably owing to Joubert's influence, Botha was not allowed to make full use of his victory, and his army remained defensive on the Tugela heights, while Buller went roaming about on the further side of the Tugela. On January 24, 1899, his attempt to force a passage over the summit of Spion Kop gave Botha the opportunity for his second great achievement. Botha, who had been in command of the entire British force across the river, came to breaking the Boer defence. In the evening Botha himself considered the position lost, and gave orders for a general retirement. All that day he had watched what fighting we could dimly discern through the naval telescope. At sunrise next morning I was up there again, and with joy watched the Boer camps all round us breaking up, and the long processions of wagons, trekking away. Then there was a pause and silence. The sky was too cloudy for the helio. Next morning the Boers were all back in their old camps again. When at last the circle of our besiegers was broken at Pieter's Hill, and the Boer army fled unpursued through North Natal to the Transvaal, it was Botha alone who brought them back to discipline and encouraged them to further resistance. We see him constantly on the move from one part of the vast field to another—in the Free State, on the Biggarsberg, and finally organizing the force that attempted to check the advance of Lord Roberts's enormous army upon Pretoria. To write an account of his exploits for the next two years would be to re-write the history of the war.

PROM Foe TO PREMIER.

In February, 1901, a conference between Botha and Lord Kitchener was arranged at Middelburg for the discussion of peace, but Botha refused all terms that did not include independence. To his resolution throughout we have De Wet's own striking testimony. Yet when it came to the very end, it was Botha's counsel perhaps more than any other that induced the Boer leaders to accept the British conditions of peace. In his speech at Vereeniging (May 23, 1902), he owned he had not given up hope of European intervention. So by his advice the peace was made. I saw him coming out of Lord Kitchener's house in Pretoria with De Wet, Delany and Smuts after signing it, and I little thought then that in less than five years the burgher-soldier who had commanded our enemy's armies, would be chosen our first Premier of the Transvaal. But I know that for capacity for civility, and for a certain generous power of attraction no better choice could have been made.

$10,000 FIRE AT HALIFAX THIS MORNING.

HALIFAX, April 29.—A water-front blaze this morning destroyed two large wooden buildings and damaged the warehouses of A. C. Jones and Co. The night was extra hot and the fire fell to what extent the flames would have spread. The fire started in a paint store owned by A. Vincent, and quickly developed the three-story building in which it was situated, owned by Captain W. J. Neveu, spreading to the adjoining building, the property of Messrs. J. L. Lewis, who carried on a tin, smith and plumbing business. At 3 o'clock the fire was under control. The loss is $10,000.

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 30, 1907.

REFORM MAY FOLLOW.

A few words tacked on to the tail end of a somewhat uninteresting despatch from St. Petersburg convey information of an appointment which will probably have a far reaching effect on the present situation in Russia.

M. Akimoff has been chosen president of the Council of the Empire. He was Minister of Justice in Count Witte's cabinet, is a brother-in-law of the notorious Durnovo, formerly Minister of the Interior, and is a Conservative.

His appointment is regarded as strengthening the reactionary party, nevertheless he is reputed to be conscientious. He is neither a fanatic nor a despot, but, perhaps, the most striking qualification of the man in view of existing conditions is that he is strongly opposed to the continuation of the present arbitrary field tribunals.

The system of field courts martial, established a short time ago in Russia, is more than any other, the cause of most heated discussion in that country today. Economic and sectional questions are forced to stand aside while the matter of life and death as administered by these courts martial is considered.

The manifesto of freedom was issued on October 17, 1905, and within a year afterwards some 200,000 persons had been exiled, 100,000 imprisoned and many hundreds shot for political offenses.

THAT DUKE STREET CORNER.

The lessee of the building at the corner of Duke and Sydney street, which was referred to in the Star yesterday, asserts that conditions are not as bad as stated. He informs this paper that there are now only twenty-seven persons in the house; that the little store on the corner is not a grocery, but a candy shop; that the ashes from one flat are taken away in barrels every two weeks; that in the yard referred to there are only eight outdoor closets instead of nine; that this place is cleaned out once a year, usually in June; that the ashes and other rubbish are hauled away more frequently; and that the board of health which knows all about the building, has no objection to existing conditions.

SWINBURNE AT SEVENTY.

(A. Noyes in North American Review.)

I. He needs no crown of ours, whose golden hair

Poured out its wealth so freely in pure peace

Under the imperishable bays

Crown, and on Sunlum's height he sits apart!

He hears immortal greetings this great morn!

Pain would we bring, we also, all we may—

Some wayside flower of transitory bloom.

Frail, tribute only born

To greet the gladness of this April day.

Then waste on death's dark wind its faint perfume.

II. Here, on this April day, the whole sweet Spring

Speaks through his music only, or seems to speak;

and we that hear, "with hearts uplift and weak."

What can we less than claim him for our king?

He is here on earth, and many a hawthorn-time

Spring shall return and find him singing still!

But, ah! his heart is far beyond the years.

One with the pulsing rhymes

Of starrier heavens that work their rhythmic will

And hold the secret of all human tears.

III. For he—the last of that immortal race

Whose music, like a robe of living light,

Reclothes each new-born age and made it bright

As with the glory of Love's transfiguring face,

Reddened earth's roses, kindled the deep blue

Of England's radiant ever-singing sea.

Recalled the white thalassians from the foam,

Woke the dim stars anew

And triumphed in the triumph of Liberty.

We claim him; but he hath not here his home.

IV. No here: round him today the clouds divide!

We know what faces through that rose-flushed air

Now bend above him; Shelley's face is there,

And Hugo's, lit with more than kingly pride,

And Milton bent from heaven to meet his own;

Sappho is there, crowned with those quiescent flowers

Whose graft outgrew our skies.

His gift, Shakespeare leans earward from his throne

With hands outstretched. He needs no crown of ours.

THE BUSY MAN.

If you want to get a favor done

By some obliging friend,

And want a promise safe and sure

On which you may depend,

Don't go to him who always has

Much leisure time to plan,

But if you want your favor done,

Just ask the busy man.

The man with leisure never has

A moment he can spare;

He's busy "putting off" until

His friends are in despair;

But he whose every waking hour

Is crowded full of work

Forgets the art of wasting time—

He cannot stop to shirk.

So when you want a favor done,

And want it right away,

Go to the man who constantly

Works twenty hours a day;

He'll find a moment, sure, somewhere,

That has no other use,

And fix you, while the idle man

Is framing an excuse.

—Michigan Tradesman.

WHITE WOMAN CENT.

The emblem of liberty on the one cent coin is the goddess in an American Indian head-dress, but the face shows no characteristics of the North American aborigine. It is the face of a little girl, Sarah Longacre Keen, upon whose head was placed the feathered ornament of a Sioux Indian. Her father was an engraver and he took the idea and placed his daughter's head on the coin. Sarah Longacre Keen died in Philadelphia not long ago, after having served thirty-five years as the secretary of the city's branch of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary Society.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

TIME TO CHANGE.

It was at a table d'hote dinner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in those parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically:

"I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?"

But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Answers.

BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL

FOUR TRAIN WRECKERS

Repeated Attempts to Burn the Southern Railroad Bridge in Indiana Frustrated

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 29.—Repeated attempts by train wreckers to burn a bridge on the Southern Railroad near Temple, Ind., and the shooting of the town marshal of English while attempting to arrest two of them early this morning have aroused the people of the surrounding country, and the woods in all directions are being scoured by bloodhounds and possees.

The first fire was discovered in the middle of the bridge, near his station, by the night telegraph operator at Temple, about midnight. He extinguished the blaze, and the second fire was discovered in the middle of the bridge, near his station, by the night telegraph operator at Temple, about midnight. He extinguished the blaze, and the second fire was discovered in the middle of the bridge, near his station, by the night telegraph operator at Temple, about midnight.

Two men were seen loitering in the vicinity of the bridge, and when the marshal demanded an explanation of their movements during the night, one opened fire, shooting the marshal, once in the hip and once in the stomach. The wounds, while serious, are not considered fatal.

Word was immediately sent to Louisville for bloodhounds, and as soon as they reached the bridge the animals took the trail and ran directly into the woods at the side of the track. It is thought that four men are in the band, and they have been located in the woods near English. It is reported.

GIRL CUTS DENTIST'S

BILL $9 FOR 3 KISSES

Charges He Stole False Teeth When She Suggested Deduction

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 29.—Fixing a price of $3 on a kiss, Miss Cora Wilson, 20 years old, a pretty housemaid today asked for the arrest of Dr. E. D. Cochran, a dentist.

She asserts that she went to Cochran's office to have a set of false teeth made and fitted in her mouth, and that while the dentist was performing his duty he made love to her and helped himself to three kisses.

Dr. Cochran fitted her up with false teeth and Miss Wilson made payment on them, giving him $11. His bill was $30. A few minutes later, she called her to his office by telephone and demanded the remaining $19.

She refused to pay him, declaring that as he had stolen three kisses the most she would give him was three cents square. Then, she says, he took the false teeth from her mouth by force.

450 CHILDREN IN PANIC,

LIGHTNING HITS SCHOOL

Fire Follows—Teachers Prevent Little Ones from Wild Rush

CINCINNATI, April 29.—Lightning struck the flagstaff on the Park Avenue School building in Newport, Ky., this afternoon, and the panic among the 450 children who were there.

Teachers soon quieted them, but shortly after school was called fire started in the building as a result of the lightning. The little ones made frantic efforts to get out.

Window glass was broken and the cupola of the building wrecked by the lightning. None of the pupils was hurt, but it was only through the coolness of the teachers that the little ones were not crushed to death while trying to get out.

After quieting their charges, the pedagogues marched them out.

BRET HARTE ON DICKENS.

The war correspondent, Frederic Villiers, has recorded a talk with Bret Harte apropos of the poem, "Dickens in Camp."—"We all lost his loss most keenly in the States," said Harte.

On hearing of his death I sat down about 11 in the afternoon to write an editorial on the great author. I wrote one and then tore it up. Then another, after much pain, was written. "This did not please me, so I tore it up. I wrote yet another and threw it into the waste paper basket; it would not do. It was getting late, and I was now keeping the paper waiting for press. I was drumming on my desk, absolutely without another thought in my head; I had run dry. Suddenly I mechanically began to write, and the result was the thing you see to like so much. Well, Mr. Villiers, you are not far out, I like it, too.

A sharp tongue is the only edged tool that grows keener with constant use.—Irving.

BIGGEST BALLOON

LANDS SAFELY

The Algie, with Ten Aeronauts, Makes Trip from Saint Cloud to Point Near Blois

PARIS, April 29.—The biggest balloon in France, the Algie, which left the Aero Club grounds, at St. Cloud, last evening, carrying ten famous aeronauts, M. Georges Besnon, Comte de Castellon de Saint-Victor, M. Rene Garnier, M. Etienne Giraud, M. Alfred Leblanc, M. Georges Le Brun, M. Francois Feyrey, M. Santos Dumont, M. Paul Tissandier and M. Ernest Zenta, is of 4,150 cubic metres capacity and is owned by M. Jacques Balsan. It was manufactured in 1904 by Maurice Malot. Last night's ascent was its second.

Leaving at nearly the same time as the Algie, was the Micromegas, of 400 cubic metres, piloted by M. Georges Bana. If a race were possible, with both balloons mainly depending upon the wind for direction and speed, it was a case of the biggest versus the smallest, as the Micromegas is one of the most microscopic of balloons.

The Micromegas descended at seven o'clock this morning at Persec, in the department of Yonne, between Poligny and Limoges. The Algie landed about the same time near Blois. The wind remained light throughout the voyage.

SCORES ESCAPE DEATH BY MISSING TRAIN

Change in Schedule Caused Car Which Fell from Trestle Near Pittsburg to be Empty

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 29.—Sixty persons who missed Train No. 27 on the Wabash Railroad, westbound from this city today, escaped death by doing so. The engine and forward car of the train fell off a trestle half a mile west of Bridgeville into Charters Creek, forty feet below.

Marion Boyd, of Book Station, the engine driver, and Frank McIsaac, of Barberton, Ohio, the fireman, were instantly killed, and the front car was smashed to splinters. This car was empty, because the sixty persons had failed to board the train when it left Pittsburg.

None of the forty persons in the three rear cars knew of the wreck until it was all over. Then they learned that the only thing that saved them was the fact that the coupling pin which would have drawn them into the death plunge snapped as the front car and engine left the track.

WANTS NEWSPAPERS TO HELP MANICURING PARLOR FOR CATS

Protracted Absence of Assyrian Pedlar Causing Anxiety—His Wife and Child in Historic Lebanon

The nine weeks' absence of John Thomas, a Syrian pack peddler, is greatly discomfiting friends and relatives here.

Word was received about three weeks ago that Thomas had passed through Fredericton on his way down river, but nothing since has been heard of him, and it is feared that he may have fallen through the ice and been drowned.

This morning Michael Charlie called at the Star office to say that anything the newspapers could do to help locate Thomas would be gratefully appreciated. The missing man is 29 years of age and of good habits. He has worked in St. John and other provincial ports, and is very well liked.

Mrs. Thomas French of 25 Brunswick street, is a sister of the missing man, and away out on historic Mount Lebanon, Syria, a wife and child are happily anticipating the return of their loved husband and parent.

LORD CROMER PERFORMED HERCULEAN TASK IN EGYPT

(Montreal Standard.)
"The loss of Lord Cromer to Egypt will be well nigh irreparable, for he will be missed by those who have benefited by his regeneration of the ancient land of the Pharaohs."
Mr. Alexander MacFarlane, representing a syndicate of British journals, has spent two years in Egypt studying conditions there, and especially seeking for the ulterior motive governing recent Mohammedan agitation—an agitation which has festered the whole Mohammedan world. He was seen at the general offices of the C. P. R., having determined to make a tour of the United States and Canada on his own account.
"Lord Cromer, who now retires, accomplished a miracle which those who knew the country best deemed incredible," Mr. MacFarlane said. "The whole country was sunk in corruption. The Mohammedans were ground to the earth. Justice was openly bought and sold. The Khedive hated the idea of British control, and when Lord Cromer took office, threatened to throw himself into the arms of France."
"All the taxes which could be wrung from an impoverished people were lavished on the palaces. The palaces gleamed white in the sun, but the people starved."
"The native army was disorganized. Lord Cromer, then Sir Evelyn Baring, undertook a stupendous task. He taught the Khedive to respect his subjects by threatening his deposition. He purged the court of venality. He remitted the taxes which ground the people and that it was because of his harangue, in which he declared that under an autocratic regime the army was worthless except against the people and that it was beaten whenever it engaged in a foreign war, the ministers withdrew from the house and offered an ultimatum to President Gholovino that unless the offensive expressions were retracted by M. Souraboff, the rule providing for temporary suspension was applied against them; they would sever all further relations with the Duma."
M. Golovino was unable to have the demand complied with, as the radicals supported their colleague solidly and the Poles refused to vote.
The suspension of the formal rebuke of M. Souraboff, however, was pronounced by the president of the chamber, but this failed to satisfy the ministers, who accordingly resigned.
Immediately after adjournment Premier Stolypin, who had not been present during the incident, summoned an extraordinary session of the cabinet which apparently brought matters to an issue between the premier and the reactionary members of his ministry. What transpired is not known, but at midnight Premier Stolypin summoned M. Golovino and informed him that the incident had caused serious friction in the cabinet. He hoped, however, a way would be found tomorrow to arrange matters without fatal consequences to the Duma.
The Constitutional Democratic steering committee, which agitated the conference tonight, this news brought great relief and no measures on their part will be omitted tomorrow to end the incident when the legislature session is resumed.

PLACED UNDER ARREST FOR FIENDISH CRIME

Vermont Doctor Charged With Assault and Murder of a Four Year Old Child

BENNINGTON, Vt., April 29.—Whether mystery attached to the murder of little Ethel Mahan, the four-year-old child, who was found dead last night in a gravel pit in the North Bennington with the throat cut and evidences of a criminal assault, has been cleared tonight, according to a statement made by Deputy Sheriff and Town Constable Fred Godfrey. In discussing the arrest of Alfred Mahan, the uncle of the child, Godfrey said tonight: "I cannot tell you all that I know that you have the right man."
There is no question about it. I will not say whether or not a confession has been made. Attorney General C. C. Fitts, who is a pathologist, and a member of the University of Vermont in Burlington, will come here tomorrow to conduct a formal inquiry, and until their arrival, I can make no definite statement."
Alfred Mahan, who is 23 years old, was held in custody tonight at the county jail, and no one except the attendants was permitted to go near him.
The jail authorities said that he would not be arraigned in court until the autopsy on the body of the child. Although the feeling among friends of the parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mahan, because of the crime, is strongly expressed, there was no indication tonight of any demonstration about the jail.
Deputy Sheriff Godfrey said his investigation had convinced him that Alfred Mahan had been drinking heavily for several days.

An answer is expected within two weeks, and it is thought that it will be one of acceptance.

He was seen in this city yesterday looking the picture of health and as bright as a berry.

TO STUDY CURES OF TUBERCULOSIS

Next International Congress of Eminent Specialists Will Meet in Washington 1908

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—Dr. John S. Fulton, secretary general of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, announced today that the next meeting of the International Congress of Tuberculosis, which will be attended by high officials and eminent specialists from all parts of the world, will be held in Washington between September 21 and October 13, 1908. Every civilized country will send representatives. The programme will include a thorough investigation of Dr. Gustav von Berg's cure for tuberculosis which is attracting attention among specialists throughout the world. Another important feature will be the study of the prevention of tuberculosis based on experiments made in the last three years. This will be the first time the International Congress on Tuberculosis has met in the United States. The last meeting was in Paris in 1905, under the direction of the French Government. The meeting before this was in London in 1901, under King Edward. Both these meetings were productive of excellent and far reaching results. Argentina, one of the most active and enthusiastic participants in these tuberculosis congresses, has been one of the foremost nations in the science of prevention and cure of the disease, ranking far in advance of the United States.

GECIL RHODES' DREAM OF IMPERIAL EXPANSION

LONDON, April 30.—The Standard this morning says that the aspirations of Cecil Rhodes, the late South African statesman, are being revived by the Hon. Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, referred in his speech at the national arbitration peace congress, held in New York April 27, were the ultimate recovery of the United States by Great Britain, British occupation of the whole of Africa and South America, and of the seaboard of China and Japan.

THE SARDINE SITUATION IN CHARLOTTE COUNTY

Fishermen Stand by the Union Prices and Will Not Sell for the Flagra Offered by the Cannors

CUMMINGS COVE, Deer Island, N. B., April 30.—Up to the present the sardine situation remains unchanged. The fishermen, who are holding a bottle of eight dollars a hoghead, and the packers refuse to buy at that price. One union man told our correspondent that he was confident that the fishermen would agree to pay the price asked within two or three weeks. However, it is hard for anyone to form an opinion as to the final outcome of the situation. Meanwhile the large number of working people in Eastport and Lubec, who depend entirely upon the sardine factories for a living, are becoming restless. Serious trouble will erupt, it is said, unless the fishermen agree to relieve the strained situation. The standstill not only affects the wage earners, but all business men as well as the sardine industry is practically the only industry carried on in these towns. Schooner Waldo R. Capt. Hooper, arrived here from St. John recently with a general cargo. The little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Calder, of Fairhaven, met with a very painful accident recently. While playing with a washing machine he had two of his fingers badly crushed. Doctor Murray was called in and dressed the wounds. The Baptist Sunday school at Choccolate Cove was reorganized the 28th inst. O. L. Haney was re-elected superintendent. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McNeil, of Choccolate Cove, spent Sunday with relatives at Indian Island. Dr. Bennett, of Lubec, Me., was called to Indian Island Sunday to attend Mr. W. H. Chaffey, who has been in poor health the last few weeks. Mr. Chaffey is over ninety years old, and is a retired merchant, being engaged in active business at Indian Island for many years, retiring two years ago. The Rev. Charles F. Stebbings, pastor of the Methodist church here, will preach at Grand Manan next Sunday, consequently no services will be held in the Methodist churches of the Island. LATER. It is reported that all the sardine boatsmen are out on seven dollar orders, and if no fish are procured at that price the factories will close for an indefinite period. This is ladies' night at the Quon's. At the tenth band grand march will be put on, gentlemen with their lady partners are requested to take part. Manager Folli will be the director. The band has prepared special music for tonight. "God's Plan of Blessing" was brought out in a clear and forcible manner in an address given by Mr. Mitchell last night in the York Theatre lower hall. Tonight the subject will be "God's Eternal Purpose," Eph. 3:11. Seats are free; no collection. The Westfield Outing Association will run an excursion on Saturday next, going as far as Lingley, leaving St. John at 11, returning leaving Lingley at 8 p. m. Tickets, adults, 50 cents; children 25 cents. Can be procured at the station or from H. B. Bole, 103 Prince William Street.

TWO MEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION

WATERVILLE, April 29.—Two men were dead and five others injured as the result of the explosion of the boiler of the locomotive on the Cranberry Lake R. R. late today. The dead—John Stinson, fireman, Harrisville; Horace Keefe, Peddie, Benson Mines. Injured—Bert Keys, engineer, Wanaconda; William Reynolds, paymaster, Arthur Remington, Judson Ackerman and Edwin Ackerman, Harrisville, members of a fishing party. The injured are badly scalded but are expected to recover. The engine which worked by a cog wheel, with nine flat cars was ascending a steep grade through a cut when the explosion occurred. Keefe, who was riding on the flat car, was blown the entire length of the train and instantly killed. Engineer Keys landed on the track several yards above the engine. Stinson died enroute to the hospital.

LOOKING UP AUTHORITY.

Professor Brander Matthews, the essayist, enlivened with an anecdote a Shakespeare-Bacon discussion at the Players' Club in New York. "A literary woman," said Professor Matthews, "said one night to her husband: 'When I get to heaven I am going to ask Shakespeare whether or not he wrote those plays?'" "The husband chuckled. 'Maybe he won't be there,' he said. 'Then you ask him,' said the lady." I owe my success to the newspapers, and to them I freely give a certain Wanamaker.

PASSENGER RATES WILL BE REDUCED

CHICAGO, April 30.—Reductions in passenger rates to hundreds of points in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and other states, are to be decided upon at a special meeting of the Central Passenger Association, beginning today. No change will be made in the Chicago-New York rate because of the two-cent laws of Ohio and Indiana, but when the Pennsylvania law goes into effect September 30, the railways must make a reduction of about $1.50 in the Chicago-New York rate, and the reductions to all other Eastern points. PARIS, April 30.—King Leopold's visit to Paris at a time of political crisis in Belgium, and his lengthy conference yesterday with President Faillieres, Minister of Foreign Affairs Pichon, and Premier Clemenceau, has given rise to considerable gossip and speculation. The prevailing impression seems to be that the King intends to make a feint by offering the Congo Free State to France for the purpose of forcing the Belgian Parliament into complying with his wishes. President Faillieres gave a gala lunch at the Elysee Palace today in honor of King Leopold.

MRS. JARLEY'S WAXWORKS.

An audience which filled even the windows of St. David's schoolroom last evening saw and heard Mrs. Jarley's waxworks, and the whole crowd lingered until their sides were sore. It was one of the funniest entertainments ever put on in St. John, and in it there was evidence of no little ability on the part of the performers. The part of Mrs. Jarley was consistently upheld by Mrs. M. Macneil as her servants kept the audience in an uproar. The toy symphony which made up the second part of the programme was very pleasing and elicited frequent applause. The entertainment was arranged by the free kindergarten committee in aid of the school funds. Another entertainment will be given for the same object in St. David's schoolroom on Friday evening by The King's Messengers. Those who took part in the wax work exhibition were: Miss Maud Magee, Miss Beattie Holt, Miss Lily Raymond, Miss Winnie Fairweather, Miss Kathleen Gillis, Miss Beatrice Skinner, Miss Mabel McAvity, Miss Ethel Jarvis, Miss Muriel Gillis, Miss Daisy Sears, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Emmons, Lawrence Allen, Master William Curry, Sidney Kaye, Charles Knight, E. S. Ritchie, Miss Beattie Foster and Miss May Winter. The following were the instruments in the toy symphony: Miss Hiss, pianist; Mrs. Buchanan, triangle; Miss Whittaker, cello; Miss Logan, Miss Baderman, rattles; Miss Furlow, Miss Balesley, quack; Miss Bowman, Miss Whittaker, Miss Macneil, nightingales; Miss Barnstead, Mr. Taylor, violin; Mr. Crawford, flute; Mr. Dickerson, drum; Mrs. Knight, trumpet; Mr. Cooper, bells, and Mrs. Muller and Miss Cochrane, vocalists.

THOMAS McAVITY, Chairman Liberal Executive.

Meeting will be addressed by Mr Pugsley and other speakers.

PLAY AT WOLFVILLE.

WOLFVILLE, April 27.—The play given by the advanced French pupils of Acadia Seminary in Alumnae Hall on Friday evening under the management of Miss Blanche Bishop, director of the modern language department, was a distinctly brilliant success. The Spanish costumes of the 17th period were most artistic and beautiful and represented much original thought and skill in the designer. The play, which was given entirely in French, The Barber de Seville, by Pierre Corne de Beaumarchais, is a comedy of love and intrigue in the 18th century and is a duel of skill and wit between a bold lover and a crafty guardian for the hand of a fair lady, Rosine (Miss Muriel Harrington, Wolfville), a young woman of noble descent. Count Almaviva, who in black lace and red robes, represented the fair Spanish maiden (Miss Nellie Elderkin, Advocate Harbor), was a dashing Spanish noble, unknown lover of Rosine, who has followed her from Madrid to Seville. Bartholomew (Margery Barnaby), a doctor, the middle aged guardian of Rosine, in love with her. Figaro, a barber (Miss Mary Peck of Hillsboro, Bayville (Miss Flo Walker), music teacher of Rosine. La Jeunesse, two of Bartholomew's servants (Pearl Price, Sussex), Miss Beatrice Strand, Windsor, a notary. The acting was exceedingly good and the pronunciation would have done credit to Parisians, and the whole recited with advantages over the ordinary salesman in obtaining an interview. It can usually get inside the prospective buyer's office door and upon his desk, it can usually reach a vantage point which the flesh and blood salesman wildly covets, that of getting face to face with a customer.—Ad. COLONIAL CONFERENCE DISCUSSES PREFERENCE

British Ministers Dodged This Question Until This Week--Sir Charles Tupper Warmly Endorses Laurier's Stand Regarding Naval Defense and the Proposed Permanent Imperial Conference.

LONDON, April 29.—The colonial premiers had an off day today, Sir Wilfrid Laurier lunched with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught at Clarence House. The Duchess invited the other ministers and their ladies to tea afterwards. The Duke of Sutherland gave an evening party at Stafford House to-night.

The preference discussions open tomorrow. It seems this deferring of the preference to the far-end of the conference has been the subject of the animated though, of course, secret discussion in the conference. Premiers Jameson and Deakin and others protested that all the premiers, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier had declared that while they had no concern with British politics, the preference was for them a paramount question. They asked why it was postponed to near the close of the conference. Excuses were made on behalf of the British ministry.

It is understood Sir Wilfrid and his Canadian colleagues supported them, so the preference was put in the background. It seems certain, however, that some of the premiers will not refrain at this week's conference from frankly stating their fears of the results of Britain's negative attitude. Cape Colony has tabled a resolution threatening to withdraw the preference. Added zest is given to this colonial attitude by reason of the fact that the operation of the Canadian intermediate tariff may lessen the preference to other colonies as well as to Britain.

CAPT. STARKIE AND MRS. VANWART WED

An interesting wedding took place in St. Luke's Church last evening, when Capt. Starkie, a well-known resident of the North End, was united in marriage to Mrs. Vanwart. The happy couple are both well advanced in years, among the guests being several grandchildren of Mrs. Vanwart. Captain Starkie is a well preserved man of over seventy. The bride was given away by M. D. Brown. A very large number of friends attended the ceremony, and the bridal pair were overwhelmed with friendly greetings after the performance of the ceremony. They left for Boston last evening.

FIVE YEAR OLD OXFORD LAD MET DEATH BY DROWNING

Was Fishing from Bank of River When the Earth Slipped Into Swift Flowing Stream.

OXFORD, N. S., April 29.—A sad accident occurred here on Saturday about four o'clock in the afternoon, when Cecil, the only son of Walter Todd, a bright young lad of five years of age, living with his aunt, Mrs. Albert Wood, lost his life by drowning near the mouth of Little River, which flows into River Falls. The young lad in company with his sister, nine years of age, and two other lads about the same age, were fishing from the bank of the river when a portion of the bank on which he was standing broke away, throwing him into the river, which was then higher than usual and flowing very swiftly.

His little sister made a heroic effort to save him, and finally threw him a piece of board, which he unsuccessfully attempted to grasp. Shortly after he went under the water and was seen no more. An alarm was made and many rushed to the river in search of the body. His cap was found floating several hundred yards from the scene of the accident, but up to the present time (Monday) the body has not been located, although a continuous search has been made and every possible means used to drag the river. Little hope is now felt for the recovery, as the swift waters would soon carry it to the tide and thence to the ocean. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved father and relatives.

TELEPHONE INQUIRY IS ADJOURNED FOR TWO WEEKS

MONTREAL, Q., April 29.—The railway commission, which is holding the telephone inquiry, met and adjourned for two weeks. This was done at the request of the Bell Telephone Company, who were not prepared to go ahead with the investigation. Some of the papers which are required by the commission are not ready, the company thinking that they would not be needed, not having them prepared, and as President Sibley is ill, adjournment was taken for that time.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY FOR STEAMSHIP MEN

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 29.—An important discovery, and one that will revolutionize the propulsion of the swift Atlantic steamers, has been made by Captain Kaempff and Chief Engineer Lautenschlager of the Hamburg line's steamer Deutschland. This discovery consists of a slight alteration of the blades of a steamship's propeller, resulting in a remarkable reduction of the vibration which always is so disagreeable aboard the fast steamers.

Before departing from Hamburg on her last voyage to New York the Deutschland was in drydock, and while there the blades of the vessel's port propeller were altered in accordance with Captain Kaempff's plans. The result of this alteration was closely observed during the entire voyage to New York, and the officials are highly gratified over the remarkable reduction of vibration, which they say, closely approximated the highly satisfactory results of the steam turbine in this direction. The alteration is described as changing the position of the blades on the propeller to such an angle that each of the four blades presents a greater surface of resistance to the water as the blades revolve. This resistance causes a reduction of the number of revolutions of the port propeller to about eight per cent, less than the number of revolutions of the starboard propeller. It was found that this reduction of the number of revolutions of one propeller greatly eliminated the vibration of the ship while at high speed and at the same time did not materially affect the handling of the ship or lessen its speed.

TOO COLD FOR OVERCOATS.

"You do not find any one wearing overcoats in Alaska, even in the winter," said a man from that territory. "The principal thing to be careful about is keeping the head, hands and feet warm. In that part of Alaska where I have been the only land transportation is by dog sleds, and to follow them one has to drop into a dog-trot beside the sled. An ordinary suit is plenty thick enough to keep you warm, and an overcoat is dangerous in that temperature. Trotting alongside a sled wearing an overcoat would make you perspire, and the heat would freeze the perspiration. The men there wear a fur cap that covers every part of the head and face except the eyes, and there is only a little peephole for them. Wool lined mitts are worn on the hands and moccasins with woolen stockings on the feet."

TRAGEDY OF A WOODEN LEG.

A man who travels on a wooden leg says: "About the worst accident I ever heard of befalling a wooden legged man is the time one such unfortunate was going home after being to a late supper, along about 3 o'clock in the morning, when his leg leg went through an auger hole in the ground plank stairs, and he kept circling about that hole all night thinking he was going home. The editor of this paper wants it distinctly understood that we cannot vouch for the truthfulness of this story."

FAST STEAMSHIP LINE FROM ENGLAND TO CANADA

An Important Announcement is Expected Soon--A 24-Knot Service Across Atlantic and a Fast Service on Pacific--Will Have Endorsement of Conference--A Great Imperial Project.

LONDON, April 29.—A recent Canadian Associated Press cable stated that an important announcement in regard to a fast steamship line from England to Canada would be made before Premier Laurier returned to Canada. The Canadian Associated Press today has undoubtedly authority to state that the service which has been so long in contemplation will in the very near future be an accomplished fact. Information says there is to be a 24 knot service across the Atlantic and a fast service on the Pacific, cutting down time to such an extent that the route will practically command business. It is regarded as the greatest Imperial project approached for many years, making as it does the mother country and Canada to eastern countries the world's thoroughfare. It is very well understood here that Lord Strathcona and Clifford Sifton have devoted a great deal of time and consideration to the matter and will probably, if an agreement is reached with the government's consent, undertake making the necessary arrangements to carry the enterprise into effect. There will be no more need of addressing letters to Canada via New York. It is believed that the project will have the endorsement of the conference. It will no doubt involve a heavy subsidy from Canada and no doubt Great Britain will participate equally.

BEATEN, FRESHMEN TIE UP JUDGES OF DEBATE

UPPER ALTON, Ill., April 29.—Having decided in favor of the sophomores in an oratorical contest at Shurtleiff College last night, Professor M. Morgan, of St. Louis, and E. M. Dwy, general advertising agent for the Missouri Pacific system, two of the three judges, were seized by the freshmen, tied to trees on the campus and left helpless until morning. Harold Johnson, an attorney, of St. Louis, the third judge, who voted in favor of the freshmen, was not molested. The two victims struggled for hours to free themselves after being tied to the trees, but to no avail. Before dawn they were released and permitted to return to St. Louis, chilled and chagrined. Illustration of a woman in a school dress. Text: A SCHOOL DRESS OF CHECKED WORSTED. 2412--Many pleasing little dresses intended for school wear show the front panel effect carried out in tucks or pleats and one which is especially becoming is shown. A broad box pleat forms the centre panel front while two narrow ones appear at either side, attached to bust depth. In back, two narrow pleats of similar size lend tapering lines at each side of the closing. The skirt is a straight gathered one which joins the waist and may be completed with a leather belt. With no trimming needed to render it attractive, this dress may prove very inexpensive if made at home. Any of the extensible fabrics may serve, serge or mohair being suggested. For the medium size 2 1/2 yards of 42-inch material are needed. 2412--Sizes, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

Campbellton Tribune: Town Marshal Chappel on Thursday evening tendered his resignation to the police committee to take effect, we understand, the end of the month. It is said the cause of this is the outcome of the committee's censuring him for allowing a policeman to leave town the night of the big fight and not making any provision to supply his place.

STEAMERS ARE NOT TO SAIL ANY MORE

Henceforth it will not be correct to say that the Empress of Britain or any other steamer sailed from St. John. This is the announcement from Lloyd's and during the next few days the new ruling has been adopted by all the large shipping offices in the United States, by the principal newspapers, and in other reports. The word "sailed" will, in future, apply only to vessels propelled by the wind, while steamboats will henceforth "steam," that is to say, The Empress of Britain will steam from St. John on Friday next, but the schooner Hattie M. will sail as usual.

There is no announcement as yet concerning motor boats, but it is anticipated that the gasoline launch Juno will chug-chug from Millidgeville to Brown's Flats.

AND THIS TIME THE LUDLOW ESCAPED

Came off the Best in a Collision in the Harbor This Morning

When the fog was very thick in the harbor this morning there was a collision between the ferry steamer Ludlow and a coal scow being towed by the tug Neret. The sound of the tug's whistle was answered by Captain Estabrooks on the ferry and the Ludlow was stopped. When the tug, with her tow loomed up, it was steaming direct for the ferry steamer. Captain Estabrooks gave the signal for full speed astern, but before any headway could be gained the scow crashed against the Ludlow's gun. The ferry escaped damage, while the side of the coal scow was badly broken.

A VALUABLE SOUVENIR.

There is an exhibition in The Flood Co's window, King street, today, a much prized relic of the old St. Patrick Society. It is the property of Dr. Leavitt Hutchinson.

It is a solid silver emblem of the St. Patrick's Society as worn by the members in the year 1838 and previously under the name of the St. John Hotel, King street, on March 17th, 1838. The cord is made out to George Hutchinson and is signed by the secretary of the society, Wm. Patton.

The silver emblem has a background of green plush, is neatly framed with oak and is attracting considerable attention.

SCHEDULE TRIPS ON THE RIVER NEXT WEEK

Water Continues to Rise Slowly—No Ice to Interfere in Any Way With the Steamers

The water continues to rise at Indian town, and it is expected that by Thursday the freshest will reach its highest point. The Star liner Victoria left for Fredericton on her first trip this season, this morning. Painters and carpenters have been working on her for some weeks and she looked like a new boat when she steamed from Indian town this morning.

The Majestic arrived at Fredericton yesterday without experiencing any trouble in the floating ice. She is expected to arrive back at Indian town this afternoon. From this out the steamers will have no trouble in getting up river and they will commence to run on schedule time in about a week.

Communication has not yet been opened between Millidgeville and Baywater, but the Maggie Miller will go on the route on Thursday next. Several residents have arrived at Millidgeville during the past few days in row boats. They found no difficulty in rowing across from Baywater.

THE EVERYDAY CLUB AND THE VICTORIA GROUNDS

By leasing the Victoria Grounds, the committee of management of the Every Day Club hope to develop greater popularity for sport among boys and men of all classes. Although there are six ball teams which will be desirous of playing during the coming summer, the leasing of these grounds will not in any way interfere with this form of sport. It is the intention of the management to open the grounds to all persons every week day during the afternoon and also on those evenings that the league games are not in progress. There will be a caretaker always on hand, and it is possible that the grounds may be used to a certain extent as a second supervised playground for the overflow from the Centennial grounds. Beginning next week a series of concerts will be arranged by the Every Day Club for the purpose of raising funds to meet expenses during the summer.
