NEW DENMARK MURDERER HAS NOT YET BEEN CAUGHT

Squads of Police are Scouring the Country—Inquest Will be Held Today—Crime Which Was Committed Last Night Was About a Woman

A brutal murder took place near New Denmark, about eight miles from Grand Falls, last night at eleven o'clock, when in a row over a woman Italian laborer shot and killed one of his companions and seriously wounded another.

The men concerned were all employed by Contractor McDonald on Grand Trunk Pacific construction work. The murder took place on the highway and the attention of some residents in the vicinity was attracted by the sound of revolver shots. The body of the murdered man was found beside the road with a bullet hole in his head and another in his body. Another Italian who was mixed up in the affair was found badly wounded. There was no hospital within reach but the best attention that could be procured was given to the injured man at the camp. It is known that there had been ill feeling between the murdered man and his slayer over a young woman who resides near New Denmark.

Owing to the fact that all concerned in the matter were Italians and could speak little English, it was found difficult to get accurate information regarding the affair. The murderer made good his escape, under cover of darkness and so far no trace has been discovered of his whereabouts or the direction he took. L. P. Farris, commissioner of the G. T. P. police, and Chief of Police Albin Foster were at Edmundston, forty miles from the scene of the crime when it occurred.

They were promptly informed of the deed and started immediately for the spot to assist in the search for the man. In the meantime, James Tibbitts, sheriff of Victoria County, organized a posse of constables at Grand Falls and started on the country-side. Coroner George Ryan, the deputy sheriff, and a constable, left Grand Falls for New Denmark immediately on receipt of the news. Magistrate Curries, of Grand Falls, accompanied the posse. Inquest into the murder was held at Edmundston, forty miles from the scene of the crime when it occurred.

DOCTOR'S DEATH PROBABLY DUE TO INSANE REVENGE

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—In addition to having found the express office where the bottle of supposed poisoned ale was sent to Dr. Wm. H. Wilson, who died under mysterious circumstances last Friday, and securing a description of the man who sent the package, the detectives have learned something definite concerning the letter received by Dr. Wilson prior to the delivery of the ale, and which letter was prepared to make it appear that it had been sent from a local brewing concern. On the envelope and letter was stamped the German letter "R", the detectives found a rubber stamp maker who sold such a stamp to a man who answers the description of the one who left the package containing the poisoned ale at the office of a local express company. It is possible that an arrest will be made soon. The description of the man who left the Wilson package at the express office tallies somewhat with that of a man who has been under suspicion several days. He is said to be wealthy, and to have a knowledge of the brewing of ale. It is said that many some years ago sent patient to Dr. Wilson, who tried to ex-

YUSOV, European Russia, July 3.—Fire broke out in the Rikovsky Mine which yesterday was the scene of an explosion of gas that resulted in a very heavy loss of life. The work of rescue and fighting the fire is being conducted under the greatest difficulty. Over 200 men remain down in the mine, shut in by falling earth, while 160 bodies already have been brought out. Seventy-five wounded were removed to hospitals and many more are dying. It is believed that the present number of dead will be increased by twenty after the night shift entered the mine. The last twenty men of the shift were still in the cage at the bottom of

HORSE STEALING CASE HEARD IN POLICE COURT

Several Witnesses Testify Against Alfred Doherty—An Unsavory Affair From Union Alley. In the police court this morning two drunks were dealt with. One was fined and the other was committed to the workhouse. In the case of Alfred B. Doherty, charged with stealing a horse and carrying away the property of Samuel Linton, of South Bay, the defendant pleaded not guilty. Mr. Linton gave evidence that he drove in to the city from South Bay yesterday morning, and left the rig in front of the Brown company factory on Canterbury street. After getting through with his business he found that his horse had been taken. He notified the police at Central station, and then went to the Marsh Bridge, but finding no tidings of the rig, returned to the police station. With Deputy Chief Jenkins he found the rig on Sheffield street, and some point that was left in the wagon was missing. Defendant said he hired the team from Short's Livery Stable, and then offered three dollars for the use of the rig for the day. When asked by the court if he had any questions the prisoner remarked that he had hired the team from a man who had said he was from Short's Livery Stable. Margaret Francis, of Sheffield street, gave evidence that the defendant drove the team up to her house, and after he left the house she saw him with the deputy chief and identified the prisoner as the man who had had the team. The present program of re-entrenchment will be carried out.

GENEROUS GRANTS TO HILLSBOROUGH SCHOOL

Prof. Robertson Gives $800 and Will Provide $1,400 from the McDonald Fund. CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 3.—Dr. J. W. Robertson, principal of the Macdonald College, addressed the people of the six consolidated districts at the closing of the McDonald Consolidated School at Hillsborough yesterday. This is the last of the three years during which the school is to be maintained by the Macdonald fund. To assist the people in carrying out this school, Dr. Robertson stated that next year the Macdonald fund would contribute $1,400 and if the parents made up $400 in fees he would give $800 out of his own pocket to keep the school going. The annual expenditure he estimated at about $4,000. To meet this, besides the above $2,600, the district would pay $875 and the government $1,025. The doctor made a powerful appeal on behalf of the educational movement he has so much at heart. Addressed by Dr. Robertson in support of consolidation by Premier Hazard, Dr. Anderson, Chief Superintendent of Education, and Rev. Dr. Morrison, parish priest of Vernon River.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES FORCE JAP CABINET TO RESIGN

TOKYO, July 3.—It is expected that the Cabinet will resign tomorrow morning. The Associated Press was informed today that the Premier, Marquis Saito, decided to tender his resignation some days ago and that at his request the members of his cabinet agreed to resign along with the Premier. The resignation of the Emperor will be tendered the Emperor in the morning. The main reason for Marquis Saito's resignation is ill health. The cabinet are all strict members of the party and the resignation of the Emperor was therefore necessary that they resign with him. The actual reason for the resignation of the Emperor is understood to be the position taken by Marquis Inohye, Secretary of the Home Department, in regard to the future financial policy of Marquis Saito. This calls for re-entrenchment in the army and the navy, the postponement of public works, a demand for a sinking fund and the yearly repayment of loans. Marquis Inohye recently attacked the present Government policy regarding finances. This gave offence to Marquis Saito, who decided to resign. He consulted with the other ministers and was by them persuaded to accept the resignation of all the members of the cabinet. One unknown quantity in the situation is the position the Emperor may take. He possibly may decline to accept the resignations, but this is considered extremely unlikely. Marquis Katsura, who was formerly

WILL PROHIBIT THE SALE OF OPIUM IN CANADA

OTTAWA, July 3.—The government acting on the report of Mr. MacKenzie King in regard to the growing traffic in opium in Canada, will introduce a bill in Commons this session to prevent the manufacture and importation of opium in Canada except as required solely for medicinal purposes. Mr. King's investigation at Vancouver last month showed that the use of opium among both Chinese and whites had reached alarming proportions. As soon as the real facts were known the government promptly decided to do everything possible to stop the commercializing traffic. Canada is now considerably behind the United States and Great Britain in respect to legislation along this line. By special request of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, a special detachment of about 20 and 20 Royal Northwest Mounted Police will be sent to Quebec during the temporary celebration to take part in the military display and to act as a special guard of honor for His Royal Highness. During his visit to Canada eight years ago the Prince was greatly impressed with the character and general efficiency of "the finest police force in the World."

POST OFFICE AT PETTICOAD ROBBED

Twenty Odd Dollars Stolen—Thefts in Monoton Lead to Big Sale of Firearms. MONCTON, July 3.—The post office at Petticoad was burglarized last night, about twenty-five dollars being stolen. The post office is kept in a store conducted by David Mann, and this was broken into during the night. Between fifteen and twenty dollars in silver and six in coppers was taken, with a large quantity of postage stamps were left untouched. The mail, including several registered letters was strewn about the floor, but none taken. A cash till belonging to the store was broken open and a small quantity of money taken. A suspicious looking character was seen slipping from the evening express earlier in the night, and is believed to be the burglar. Scarcely a night passes in Moncton without attempted burglaries, and suspicious characters are being rounded up. The sale of firearms has largely increased in the city within the past few days, and burglars are likely to get a warm reception.

LEFT FIVE MILLION FOR DEFORMED CHILDREN

CHICAGO, July 3.—A despatch to the Tribune from Cleveland, Ohio, says: The will of Benjamin Ross, who died Sunday in London, was filed in probate court yesterday. Relatives say that practically the entire estate of $5,000,000 is left for the building of institutions for the aged and for deformed children. The buildings are to be erected on the twenty acre Rose estate on Lake Shore Boulevard. Empress of Britain docked at Quebec at 1:05 a. m. and landed passengers six this morning.

GOVERNMENT PROGRAMME TO BE ANNOUNCED MONDAY

Borden Has at Last Decided That He May as Well Stop Hindering Business.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—In the Commons this morning the prime minister told Mr. Borden that on Monday he would state what legislation would be passed before the end of the session, and the last of the government bills would be presented early in the week. In the case of the bill to extend the Manitoba boundaries that province had changed its application for an extension of boundaries by adding a demand for a money allowance in lieu of lands as was given to Saskatchewan and Alberta. Mr. Borden decided that he was in favor of closing the session as early as possible. The house then went into committee on the election bill.

DISASTROUS FOREST FIRES NEAR AMHERST

Much Valuable Timber Already Destroyed—Other Areas in Danger. AMHERST, July 3.—A forest fire broke out on the property of Joseph Siddimon, back of Cannon on Dominion Day, and has been raging with terrific force for two days, destroying much timber property. It is now heading towards the valuable timber property of Black and MacKinnon. No effort was made to control it until this morning when Chief Fire Ranger R. Byron Atkinson, of Amherst, was notified and has left for the scene of action.

TWO YEARS BEFORE HARBOR IS IN COMMISSION

Now that the Harbor Commission Bill has been approved by the Council and the bill forwarded to the Minister of Public Works, the next step will be awaited with interest. If the bill receives the approval of an effort will be made to have it passed by Parliament at this session. After this is done the bill will have to receive the approval of the local Legislature and it is likely that a plebiscite will be taken to ascertain the views of the citizens regarding the final arrangements. At the lowest estimation it is thought that two years will elapse before the harbor can be placed under commission. In the meantime it will probably be necessary to make some arrangements for increasing the facilities. Work on No. 6 wharf and shed now under construction will be continued and the dock will probably be ready for the coming winter.

MILITARY TRAINING.

Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, has on various occasions expressed his opinion that the twelve or fourteen days training in camp, provided under the present system is scarcely sufficient for the Canadian Militia. Sir Frederick would be even more deeply impressed with this view if he were able to visit the several camps of instruction now in progress. New Brunswick volunteers are as good as any in the Dominion; they are quite as intelligent, and eager to learn, as any in the Dominion; they are yet it is not too much to say that the men who are now ending their stay at the towns and cities of the Province there are better opportunities for acquiring knowledge than exist in rural communities. Boys in St. John are able to see some of the militia on almost any evening during the summer months. They gather around and watch the drill, and so acquire an elementary understanding of what is necessary, which forms a foundation for their training when they become soldiers with any of the companies. In the country there are no such opportunities and new men who join are totally ignorant of even first principles. They go to Sussex one year and find that in many cases their officers are little better equipped than themselves. These in command, who have a thorough knowledge of the drill, are not sufficiently numerous, nor could they be expected to be, to give attention to each individual under them. The men must be trained in companies or squads and the progress made is necessarily very slow. Today at the close of camp there are hundreds of men who have not really grasped the meaning of the various words of command, to whom the rifle they carry is an incubus, and who, while mechanically going through the different field movements have no idea of what it all means. There is not even time for anything like accuracy in the manual part of the drill. The instruction are not exact in their efforts, nor because the men are too dense to learn readily, but is simply due to the fact that there is so much in military training that for so result is a considerably longer period than the twelve days is needed to acquire the knowledge of the work. If the same men remained in the regiments year after year a high standard would probably be reached, but so many new men join between camps that the short term now allowed does not afford proper opportunity. Arriving seeing the militiamen on their arrival at Sussex on Tuesday of last week and again today must be struck by the progress made, but must also be deeply impressed with the fact that now towards the close of the camp the men are not by any means proficient in military drill. This applies more particularly to the infantry than to the cavalry and artillery.

THE HARBOR BILL.

With commendable celerity, members of the common council have prepared the bill under the provisions of which it is proposed to place the west side of the harbor in commission. Such energy on the part of the aldermen is all the more refreshing because it was unexpected, and the hope may be expressed that the promptness with which the preliminary work has been done may constitute until the matter is brought to a successful conclusion. The bill according to Hon. Wm. Pugsley's proposal, will now go before the federal parliament, but until the provincial legislature grants permission for the transfer of control of the properties involved it cannot become operative. This permission will not be obtained until next spring, but the intervening months may be profitably spent in settling the financial and other details of the transaction in order that when the time for the transfer comes a definite agreement may be in existence. St. John, according to the present understanding, is to be repaid the amounts expended on harbor work on the west side. This city has no desire to demand more, but will merely ask for fair remuneration, the amount being equal to that actually expended. A very large portion of the civic debt may be accounted for by the construction of west side wharves. Relief from the burden so imposed will free for other public use large sums now demanded by annual interest payments. It is not wise to count the chickens before they are hatched, but certainly St. John's future today seems brighter than for many years. The usual lethargy or indifference regarding matters of civic interest is apparent in connection with this harbor scheme, but there has been no opposition to the proposal, and while silence on the part of citizens may not mean anything it can be regarded as approval of what is now being done.

Senator Perley says that St. John is the most progressive eastern city he has ever visited. Shure an' its bizness ye're givin' us, Senator.

AN IRISH LOVE SONG.

In the years about twenty (When kisses are plenty) The love of an Irish lass fell to my fate— So winsome and slightly, So saucy and sprightly, The priest was a prophet that christened her Kate. Soft grey of the dawning, Bright blue of the morning, The avert of her eye there was nothing to mate, A nose like a fairy's, A cheek like a cherry's, And a smile—well, her smile was like—nothing but Kate. To see her was passion, To love her the madness; Fond, serious, patient and even sedate; With a glow in her gladness That banishes sadness— Yet stay! should I credit the sunshine to Kate? Love cannot outlive it, Wealth cannot o'ergive it— That saucy surrender she made at the gate. O Time, be but human, Spare the girl in the woman! You gave me my Katherine—leave me my Kate! "If yoh husband beats you, mebbe you kin hab him sent to de whippin' post," said Mrs. Potomac Jackson. "If my husband ever beats me," said Mrs. Oliver Grapevine, "day kin send him to de whippin' post if dey want to. But dey'll have to wait till he gets out of de hospital." An old friend of the family had dropped in to see a young glayver whose father was still paying his office rent. "So you are now practicing law," the old friend said, genially. "No, air," said the candid youth. "I appear to be, but I am really practicing economy."

DOES HE BELIEVE IN REALISM?

LIVING ON HIS A WEEK.

The problem of how to live on $1.25 a week and still keep in fine physical condition is being solved by an economy diet club at the International Young Men's Christian Association training school at Springfield, Mass. The club was organized at the suggestion of Harry O. McGuire, of Toronto, Canada and has been in existence nearly three months. The students of McGuire's club have certainly reduced eating and cooking to a science. A room over the gymnasium is rented by them for $1 a week. The gas for cooking costs them from 25 to 50 cents a week and this leaves only $1 a week from each student for food. In other words, twenty-one meals are furnished for $1—less than five cents a meal. The heaviest expense each week is for butter and lard, with meat a close second. Six or seven pounds of meat are purchased weekly, and most of it is used in stews which are found to be the most nourishing. Cornmeal mush and cornmeal fried can always be relied upon and rice is cooked in every form. Puddings are generally eaten for dessert, and these are of rice, bread or custard.

BOY SHOT PEPPER AND IS ACQUITTED.

RALPHIGH, N. C., July 2.—The coroner's jury in the case of Engineer B. M. Stultz, of the Seaboard Air Line, who was killed last night in this city, acquitted Turner Smith, the 19 year old boy who admitted shooting Stultz because he was peeping at his young sisters while they were undressing.

KILLED BY FALL FROM STAGING.

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., July 2.—Followed by a pulley weighing 1500 pounds which had broken through a staging, William Cay, an employe of the Chatham Mills of the International Paper Company, fell 85 feet to the ground late today and was instantly killed. His back was broken in three places and it was supposed the pulley fell into him. At the time he was making preparations to place the pulley in position. He was 62 years old and leaves a widow and one child.

GERMANY'S REFUSAL TO ARBITRATE.

The chief foe of arbitration now stands revealed. It appears in no less formidable a shape than the German Empire. A year ago it was whispered about among the European press that the efforts being made at The Hague for international arbitration and limitation of armaments were being blocked by von Bieherstein, the leading German delegate, and now this rumor is confirmed by two delegates to The Hague, who spoke at the Lake Mohonk Arbitration Conference a few days ago.

"DETERMINED OPPOSITION."

"Obligatory arbitration would have been adopted but for the determined opposition of Germany, the great military power of the world," said ex-Secretary John W. Foster, who represented China at the Conference, and Dr. James Brown Scott, who has been called "the brains of the American delegation," said the same thing. Simultaneously with these announcements comes the news that Germany has declined to conclude with the United States an arbitration treaty such as the United States have been negotiating with the other powers. Great Britain, Japan, France, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Mexico, Portugal, Netherlands, Sweden and Denmark have entered into arbitration agreements with the United States, but Germany declines.

GERMAN POLICY.

This attitude of Germany arouses interest in the motive. Is Germany contemplating some war that such a treaty would interfere with? The New York Sun does not accuse Germany of any such design, but takes this refusal as part of the settled policy that has made the Empire what it is today. The editorial practically says that Germany's cause in her great wars have not been such as an international court would be likely to approve. We read, in further explanation of her attitude: "A good deal of surprise seems to have been caused on one side of the Atlantic by Germany's refusal to conclude with the United States an arbitration treaty similar to the conventions which she has lately signed with Great Britain and other nations. At first sight, undoubtedly, the refusal is hard to reconcile with the repeated and emphatic professions of Germany's desire to bring about the most cordial relations with the United States, but upon reflection it will be found in harmony not only with her opposition to the establishment of a Hague tribunal, but also with her determination, which since 1870-71 has become fixed, never again to hamper by treaties her power to obtain and preserve what she believes to be her rights."

"NATIONAL UNIFICATION."

"The history of Germany has taught her that until she had learned to rely upon herself alone was she able to satisfy the aspirations and passionate craving for national unification. This as a part of her children leaned on one foreign power and the rest of them on another it was inevitable that German unity should be sacrificed. Each of the three steps by which Germany united was made possible by public opinion and by exclusive reliance on native resources. The restoration of the Schleswig-Holstein duchies was brought about in 1864 without the assistance of any outside state, and certainly would have been frustrated had Germany's claim been submitted to an international tribunal instead of to the arbitration of the age-old Prussia's struggle with Austria in 1866, a struggle indispensable to the achievement of German unity, would never have taken place had the validity of the Prussian pretensions been referred to arbitration."

HEER REPURSA.

"The war of 1870 between the North German Confederation and France would never have occurred or would have been an unimportant affair had there been a very different outcome had a European Congress been invited to consider the question of the annexation of Alsace-Lorraine. The Prussian headlong course pursued by Prussia at each of these fateful conjunctures would not have been justified by a European peace conference, but it was vindicated by the instinctive national resolve never again to miss an opportunity of establishing German unity."

His Germany's refusal to hamper by arbitration treaties her future power of enforcing what she believes to be her right likely to prove a source of international peril. The question might be answered in the affirmative if she or the rulers who personally her spirit were as unscrupulous as Napoleon I. or as Napoleon II, or, we may add, as Warren Hastings.

CLEAR-SIGHTED POLICY.

"As a matter of fact, however, the German conscience is as clear, as alert and as clear-sighted as is that of any other nation. As a rule the German Government in its controversies is compelled in its own interest to take

LOST HER IDENTITY

Marie Daley Was Placed in a Comert at an Early Age

QUELPH, July 2.—Living for twenty-eight years without a knowledge of her own name, and under the impression that she had no relatives in the world, has been the startling experience of a lady of this city, who has now discovered her name, as well as her mother and brother, who have arrived here.

They are Mrs. J. Daley, of Buffalo and her son Mr. J. J. Daley, of Chicago, and the daughter and sister who has so long been separated from them in Marie Theresa Daley.

The lady has for the past twenty-three years lived with Mr. and Mrs. P. Hartnett, and was always known as "Minnie Hartnett." Her foster parents did not know anything of her name or her parentage, having taken her from St. Joseph's Hospital when she was but four years of age.

It now developed that Mrs. Daley placed her child in St. Joseph's Convent at Hamilton, being a resident of that city then, but shortly after she went to Buffalo and was very sick for many months, during which time it was thought she was dead, and the child was brought to this city by an old lady, who died a couple of years later and then the child was taken to the hospital, where she was secured by Mr. Hartnett. The discoverers have taken place as the result of an investigation conducted by the brother from Chicago, and the police of Hamilton and Queh.

THE OLD WORLD NOTIONS OF DISLOYALTY

Most Americans have little idea of what constitutes a treasonable offence in countries of the Old World wherein despotic notions still prevail. A year or so ago there took place a trial in Paris, France, which, according to our up-to-date ideas, would have been most amusing, had not a man's liberty been in jeopardy.

It appears that one day, in the streets of that place, a laborer at work had been cheerfully whistling. Suddenly a gendarme, who had been within hearing, appeared at the man's side. The workman, however, did not observe the officer, and continued to whistle his tune.

ARRESTED FOR CONDUCT.

"You are under arrest," said the gendarme, placing his hand on the unsuspecting laborer's shoulder. "What for?" demanded the astonished toiler. "For seditious conduct," explained the officer. "You have been whistling 'La Marseillaise.'" "La Marseillaise," because it is the French revolutionary air, is forbidden in German Alsace. The workman at once indignantly denied the allegation, explaining that he had not been whistling "La Marseillaise," but the march of the Brunswick Hussars. "I used to belong to that regiment," said he, "and that is our regimental air."

The gendarme, however, who as a German prided himself on his knowledge of music, insisted that he was well acquainted with both of the tunes.

BRITAIN'S VALUE TO FRANCE IN EVENT OF WAR WITH GERMANY

It is curious to see, says the London Spectator, what difficulty even the ablest men find in understanding the meaning of sea power. Especially is this true of Continental publicists...

Our command of the sea would enable us to base on France at the moment of crisis aid that might be of incalculable benefit to her. This can easily be realized by supposing France at war with Germany in the course of, say, three years' time, and considering the situation...

Before we examine the criticisms contained in the Temps, let us say that we do not resent but welcome them. Frenchmen have the clearest and most obvious right to discuss their relations with this country in all their bearings...

What must be the consequences? In the first place, a terrific injury would be done to French commerce. The French mercantile marine would be swept from the sea, and French foreign trade would be paralyzed. Next, the whole of the great overseas Empire of France in Africa, Asia, and the Pacific would be at the mercy of Germany...

With regard to the possibilities of the Entente ripening into an "Alliance," the Temps in effect tells us that such an arrangement would be one-sided unless Great Britain is able to bring far more military power than she now possesses into the common stock.

France is the principle upon which the understanding rests. We hold that both nations may rely upon their common determination to prevent any power from disturbing the peace of the world, or from taking aggressive or oppressive action as the best possible form of alliance.

Putting that aside, however, and assuming for the purpose of argument that the military aid we could bring to France would be a negligible quantity, we hold, nevertheless, that the fact of France being able to help their land forces. What they would do would be to fit out an armada of transports, but some two hundred thousand men on board and convey them to some place along that vast stretch of coast which runs from Dunkirk to Biscaya, and from Cadix to Mentone. It will, perhaps, be said that the French army would be able to resist such a landing; but remember that no man in France could say where the blow would fall. In order to guard her thousands of miles of coast efficiently, France would be obliged to withdraw from the eastern frontier a large number of troops who would be urgently needed in the firing line there.

or so where the attack is coming and so make ready to meet it. It is the nature of invasion by sea that the enemy can conceal their place of attack and that it is impossible to know where to look for them. That is the reason why sea power can alone give complete protection from invasion, and why islands which do not possess sea power are always invaded with special ease.

POSITION OF STRENGTH. We have dwelt about upon the perilous position which France would be in if the command of the sea had passed to her enemy. Compare this for a moment with the position of strength which she would obtain had she on her side a power which possessed the command of the sea, even although that power brought her no military aid.

A RISK FOR GERMANY. On the other hand, Germany would have a good deal to fear for her own coasts. It is true those coasts are not very long, but still to guard them effectively is no secret that at that time must be kept back from the front.

VITAL IMPORTANCE. There is no need to emphasize further the vital importance to France of the command of the sea not being in hostile hands, and that the very utmost importance of a good understanding with the power which commands the sea. We feel sure that our readers will acknowledge the significance of the considerations we have set forth as soon as they are pointed out to them.

NO WANTON ATTACK. France will as we have said, never perpetrate a wanton attack on Germany. She is, we believe, the most peaceable and the most peace-loving of all the Continental powers, and therefore she is essentially the power with which we, who also desire peace above all things, ought to arrive at an understanding.

France is the principle upon which the understanding rests. We hold that both nations may rely upon their common determination to prevent any power from disturbing the peace of the world, or from taking aggressive or oppressive action as the best possible form of alliance.

AMUSEMENTS.

NICKEL'S SINGER'S DREW GREAT CROWDS.

After the hilarious holiday in the out-of-doors crowds of people turned to the reliable old Nickel again last evening, and the large auditorium was completely filled every show. Today there is to be a brand new programme and tonight and this afternoon the attendance is sure to be up to the standard. Miss Isabel Foley was the bright particular star last night, her sweet, strong mezzo voice being heard to excellent advantage in the ballad Sweet Adeline, which revealed her as the finest lady singer heard yet at the Nickel.

BUSTER BROWN AT THE PRINCESSES.

The large crowds that thronged the Princess last evening went away feeling that they had received more than their money's worth, and every one who has not seen Buster Brown and his dog Tigs cannot afford to miss it, as tomorrow will be their last opportunity. Today there is a complete change in the programme. The charming style in which Buster handles his part is worth more than the price of admission. The new pictures today are above the average, and one especially worthy of special mention. It is called The Bar-Tender's Dream. A bar-tender fell asleep. In his dream he sees the faces of all those to whom he has sold liquor and the result of their drinking. What a weird parade it is. Here comes the man who gave his child's shoes over the counter for drink. Beside him the millionaire who drives his coach and four. For almost a half hour this terrible nightmare continues, until the bar-tender feels that he is upon the verge of insanity. Some of the scenes are extremely pathetic and others approach very near to comedy. This is one of the most extraordinary pictures on the road. Three other new pictures and new songs by A. Munroe Dorr.

NEW PICTURES AT THE UNIQUE.

For the balance of this week the management of the Unique have secured an especially fine lot of pictures. The leading picture is over 1000 feet in length and is one of the best feature pictures ever produced. It is entitled The Old, Old Story, a mighty persuasive title, but the story is with its intense pathos and emotional brilliancy, is mightier and more persuasive. It is a story briefly told of woman's faith and trust and man's duplicity. The plot scene is laid among the beautifully impressive landscapes of Pennsylvania, where the Lehigh River winds its hillside and rugged mountains that encompass this beautiful valley. Nellie, the blacksmith's daughter elopes with a dashing young man from the city who has promised to marry her. A few weeks of mad dissipation, the brief and guilty love, and then the awakening, the girl deserted, destitute, ill. She writes her father and mother and they take her home. But a raging fever has laid hold of her and Death saves her from the hands of her former companions. The mother overcame with shame and disgrace soon follows her daughter to the grave, and the father, takes to drink. He vows by the side of his dead loved one to have revenge. Years afterward he meets his daughter's betrayer in a large Eastern city. In a few stirring thrilling moments (that hold the spectator breathless) the man meets his just deserts at the hands of an outraged father, and two other new pictures and new songs by Wm. Lanyon, W. H. Harrison, and Robert Butler. Matinee every day at 2 1/2.

ROYALTY AT HAPPY HALF HOUR TODAY.

The new programme at the Happy Half Hour today is another one composed of all new pictures, and late Adeline, which revealed her as the finest lady singer heard yet at the Nickel, and shows the state barge, the German Emperor's Yacht, the German battleship Hamburg. Usefulness at An End is a dramatic story, full of pathos and tells the story of an old workman discharged by his employer because of his age. The Enchanted Hat is a trick comedy picture, and A Handy Servant is another comedy picture. He was a Jewel of a servant, and he was after the jewels. Prof. Titus sings I Like Your Way, and Harry LeRoy sings When The Robin Sings Again. The show is fully up to the high standard set by this house.

COLE BROS' CIRQUE.

Cole Brothers' circus this season offers at least one novelty that must interest every resident of St. John. The only Canadian clown on the road is the latest innovation, and W. J. Langer, who was born in Halifax, is the claimant to this distinguished honor. At a rate Mr. Langer is the only Canadian who has produced clown playlets with a circus world. Commencing with a climb the ladder of fame until he now occupies a unique position in the ranks of better company. Until he signed contracts with Cole Brothers. During the first season he introduced several novelties, and this year is the principal producing clown with the aggregation. In his own clown conceit "the merry widow hat" Mr. Langer has a most ludicrous farce, and forty able assistants are required to carry it to a proper completion. "The clown's execution" is another offering that must excite the risibilities of every audience. Besides his ability as an originator and writer Mr. Langer's efforts in animal training are by no means a small item. A trained pig, educated peacocks and donkeys are employed by the clown department, and even these dumb animals are really comedians. Numerous little sketches and fun making specialties require the services of these animals, and every animal thus employed has been trained by Mr. Langer.

"Dominion antic" is strictly a Canadian interpolation and can only be appreciated by Canadians. This number occupies the entire hippodrome and consumes some ten minutes. The clowns are at work one hour before the performance commences, and from that time until the circus are announced the merry Andrews are savouring around the ring and hippodrome. While their work is irrepressibly funny it is not idiotic, and genuine humor oozes from every pore of these white-faced comedians. Miss La Sabl, the only French woman clown, is also in the ranks, and her methods are decidedly new, and she is a valuable addition to Cole Brothers' staff of savant comedians.

THE OBSTINACY OF THE PRINCESS.

By TROY ALLISON.

(Copyrighted, 1903, by C. H. Schcliffe.) The princess stamped her foot as emphatically as any ordinary person would have done. "There's no earthly use being born a princess," she said. "I want my own way occasionally and I never get it."

OPPOSITION NOW ACCEPT LAURIER'S PROPOSAL AS MADE TWO MONTHS AGO

OTTAWA, Ont., July 2.—The long expected announcement from the government as to the compromise effected on the election bill as the result of negotiations carried on during the past few weeks between the Prime Minister and the leader of the opposition, with a view to overcoming the deadlock, was made today by Hon. Mr. Laurier in the course of a cogent and exhaustive review of the contentious clauses of the bill, which has held the centre of the stage in the Commons this session.

LAURIER FOR FAIR PLAY

Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think the opposition leader had been at all fair in his observations. He said his desire had been to do something to help the wishes of hon. members opposite and he tried to do that. Perhaps he had not been altogether wise in view of the fact that the Dominion election had been received by them. So far as he was concerned he had not desired to transgress over the minority.

BILL TO INCORPORATE THE DOMINION POWER COMPANY OTTAWA, Ont., July 2.—The private bills committee of the Commons this afternoon killed the bill to incorporate the Dominion Power and Development Co. The bill gave the company large powers in connection with power development in Ontario and Quebec and was strongly opposed by representatives of the Canadian Union of Municipalities from Ontario and Quebec on the ground that the rights of municipalities in the matter of municipal power development were jeopardized.

LITTLE PROFIT FOR CONTRACTOR WALLBERG

CTAWA, July 2.—E. A. Wallberg was examined before the public accounts committee yesterday with reference to his contract with the government for construction of a sewerage station at Moncton. He stated that the arrangement he made with Mr. MacKendzie, government engineer, was that he would be paid for work of labor on the same basis of 15 per cent, but had been paid additional for travelling expenses, freight and other items, which were not included in his arrangements with the government. The government could not possibly have got more done by any other contractor for less.

VICTORIA HARBOR, Ont., July 2.—A disastrous fire broke out here yesterday in Turner's lumber yard, and in spite of every effort to check the flames all the contents of the yard, including between five and six million feet of lumber, were consumed. It does not look inviting, but it rides the sea beautifully and has a greater capacity for passengers and provisions than the other heavier boats.

Newspaper Unfairness

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth at the outset of his remarks said that since the bill was introduced he had been subjected to a great deal of abuse from newspapers politically opposed to him. So far as the newspapers were concerned he had become callous and did not propose to reply to or even deprecate the attacks, nor did he propose to devote any time to a repetition of those attacks made by members of the house. There had, he said, been little real criticism of the bill in the house. A good deal of that had been actual abuse, but when the election took place the criticisms of the last clause of the bill framed with a view to preventing any further political campaign for the bill were not mentioned in the newspapers in this country on the part of any company or association, not alone to election funds of a campaign for any political purpose. He had not been able to find more sweeping language than had been embodied in the clause. But so far as legitimate political criticisms were concerned through the agency of the regularly incorporated political organizations

MR. ROCHE WITHDRAWS.

Mr. Roche said that in view of the statements by the Minister of Justice and of the substitution of another clause for clause one he would withdraw his amendment of May 7th, which practically struck out entirely clause one of the bill. The House then went into committee on the bill and Mr. Aylesworth submitted the new clauses as outlined as substitution to section one. Taking up clause one of the bill Mr. Aylesworth asserted that the clause had been drafted entirely by himself and Hon. Mr. Sifton and other western Liberals had not, as had been stated, been originators. He was prepared to take the full responsibility for every word in the bill and to defend it as being entirely proper and just. In respect to the conditions in New Ontario, Mr. Aylesworth declared that the statements made by Mr. Connes amply demonstrated the fact that the lists as prepared by the provincial government upon which the recent provincial election had been held and upon which the Dominion election must be conducted if it took place before June or July next, had not in reality had any kind of revision.

CONDITIONS IN MANITOBA.

With regard to Manitoba he said that there was undoubtedly grave dissatisfaction there with regard to the present condition of the lists. Even in that province to see the unfairness of a law which was framed by provincial authorities of one political party was being administered in its exact terms by the opposite political party. If the law was a good law and the voters were not righteous it ought to make no difference which party administered it. He did not know anything buter entirely agreed to bring an average being to his senses than that he should have administered the law in the same manner as his friends exactly the same measure that he meted out to his opponents. (Liberal cheer.) Mr. Borden said that if the proposal of the Prime Minister on May 12 meant what the Minister of Justice had said, there would have been no difficulty. He was quite prepared to agree that the judges were to arrange subdivisions in Manitoba. The whole proposal of the government in the first instance and the proposal today so far as New Ontario was concerned, was declared, pithy, midcourse and serious. If the federal government was to interfere in every little grievance of the nature put forward today as a reason for the Dominion election legislation they would have no time to do anything else. This election had been introduced on March 9 and the Minister of Justice had spent three hours in justifying it on incidents of a serious nature. He was not prepared to take this preparation of the voters lists entirely out of the hands of the governments opposite and put it entirely in the hands of judges, to put it above the reach of political influence. "If he is prepared speaking as leader of his party, to take that course and if I am following in stating now that I propose to support an amendment in that character I think we are setting an example before the various provincial governments of this country which they should take as a warning. It is an example which they should take as a warning, to say the least, they might be influenced very largely in yielding to the views of my honored leader in that respect by the fact that the Dominion government of Manitoba to remove to a degree the objections which have been made in respect to the Dominion election statute of Manitoba on this subject has in the past been administered.

THE ELECTION BILL

The debate on the election bill was then resumed by H. H. Miller, who in a brief speech reviewed the situation with regard to preparation of provincial lists in New Ontario and pointed out that under present procedure lists as prepared by the provincial government gave practically no opportunity for revision in unorganized districts. Mr. Aylesworth, who followed, said he drew as a fact that the Dominion election in Ontario a large number of names were put on the list in one riding to be voted in another riding. It was also the case that 140 men had voted in one riding in New Ontario who had been only a few days in the country and had not been earned not to vote. Not only had the new law in Ontario cut out the rights of the electors by reducing the time for registration, but it had placed nobody near the law. In some instances, he said, the enumerators had posted up lists at places fifty or more miles from the electorate affected, and these lists had been treated as complete and final without any opportunity being given for an appeal. Mr. Boyce (Salt Ste. Marie) declared that what the bill proposed with regard to northern Ontario was an unfair discrimination against that part of the province and suggested that the government wished to punish Ontario for what happened on June 8. Mr. Alcorn argued strongly in favor of the present system of preparing the Ontario provincial lists.

BIG LIST OF ENTRIES FOR MOOSEPATH RACES

Three Strings of Fast Ones from Across the Line Will be Here for the 22nd and 23rd

Entries closed yesterday for the Moosepath races on July 22nd and 23rd. All the events have drawn large lists of horses, and the promoters of the meet are highly gratified. Purses of three hundred dollars are offered for all the races and the amount of entrance money has in some cases given the officials a very fair start in making up the prizes. For example, there are eighteen entries in the 227 trot, 230 pace, which means that all but thirty dollars of the purse is already on hand.

Another very attractive feature is the list of entries from across the border. Horses from three well known stables will compete. Frank P. Fox of Boston, will bring eight or ten fast ones; Frank B. Hayden will be here with six from the Pine Tree stables of horses, and M. L. Brisson of West Newton will bring five. The list of entries is as follows:
