D. BASSEN'S

Carleton St.,

St. George

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, LUCAS COUNTY ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, Ohio, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON,

NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

Charlotte, P. E. I., Dec. 10. The trial of Martha Jeanette McCallum of Bedouque versus Geo. Bowness was opened in the Supreme Court at Summerside yesterday with closed doors. The plaintiff charges the defendant with slander in connection with statements made concerning Rev. F. S. Bamford, Baptist minister, who resigned. Several witnesses were examined.

Mr. Bamford is also suing parties for slander. The cases will occupy considerable time.

The Winter Fair.

Winter Fair visitors have already begun to arrive in town. The attendance this year promises to be large. We can assure one and all that the citizens of Amherst are always pleased to have within our town borders the men and women who come to Amherst during Winter Fair week. They are of the type upon whom the future depends. Men and women who are anxious to learn, who are zealous to acquire improved methods of farming and who come to Amherst mainly for the purpose of receiving lessons that will be of future usefulness to them. We trust that the Maritime Winter Fair this year will be a decided success. Judging by the large number of entries which breaks all previous records, its success as a matter of fact is assured. The News extends to one and all a hearty welcome to Amherst.—N. Exchange.

Employer (to office boy)—If anyone asks for me, I shall be back in half an hour.

"Yes, sir; an' how soon will you be back if no wan asks for you?"—Boston Transcript.

Naval Tenders to be asked in a Few Days.

Some Canadian Bids are Expected—Vessels to be Ready in 1911.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—In a few days tenders will be asked for the construction of four cruisers of the Bristol class, and six torpedo-boats, of the latest model, according to the naval programme of the government, as adopted at the last session.

The plans and specifications were prepared under the care of the Admiralty, and the ships will be provided with the most modern appliances ensuring power of armament and speed.

The first vessels must be delivered at the expiration of three years, and will begin active service in 1914.

Tenders are expected from two Canadian firms now in communication with Vickers, Son & Maxim and Harland and Wolff Co.

The tenders specify that the ships must be built on Canadian territory, and therefore it is likely shipbuilding yards will soon be established on the Atlantic coast.

The total cost of the ten ships will be in the neighborhood of ten millions.

Strictly speaking, tenders will not be called for. Last summer, firms which intended to submit propositions were asked to forward their names to the Department. This was done by upward of half a dozen.

These firms will now be asked to make proposals on the plans as prepared, but there will be no public bidding. Moreover, no one but bona fide builders, intending to compete, and from the list stated will be allowed to put in tenders.

Drink water and get typhoid fever. Drink milk and get tuberculosis. Drink whiskey and get jim-jams. Drink soup and get fat. Eat meat and encourage cancer, apoplexy and appendicitis. Eat oysters and absorb typhoid gastric poison germs. Eat vegetables and give the system Asiatic thin blooded weaknesses. Eat dessert and die with paresis or something else. Smoke cigarettes and die too soon. Drink coffee and fall into insomnia and nervous prostration. Drink tea and get weak heart. Drink wine and so drink goat. Blame it all, if you want to keep well quit eating and drinking, smoking and loving, and before breathing or touching anything see that the air and everything is perfectly sterilized. Some scientific cranks or madmen think every man should so live, while another set of cranks think all modern science is nonsense. There is a scientific moderation in living that almost surely insures long life, no matter what the different kind of cranks say.—N. Y. Press.

Hints for Pretty Bedrooms

For a room which receives plenty of sun do not choose a shiny paper, but a dull finished one. A grey bedroom may sound colorless at first hearing, but one has seen very pretty rooms carried out in this neutral shade.

In one such the walls were tinted a delicate pale grey with a warm tinge in it, and the ceiling, which was brought down to the picture moulding, was white. A panelled effect was given on the walls by means of stencilling in soft shades of lilac and green, thus taking away from any suggestion of monotony.

Grey enamelled furniture further carried out the scheme, and the cushions, bed-spreads, curtains and table covers were all of grey linen stencilled in the same hues as the walls while the rugs that covered the stained grey floor were grey-green in color. The mirror that hung on the wall furnished a note of contrast in its framework of dull gold, and the pictures on the walls completed the harmony in their setting of grey-stained wood and white enamel.

Another excellent scheme for the girl's bedroom may be carried out in the following way:—

Walls of soft cream color with a stencil design in soft pinky mauve shades.

Hangings of ashes of roses linen, and furniture of wicker work stained a soft brownish purple.

Bands of cream-colored linen with the stencilled designs may be applied on all the hangings of the room, such as the curtains and cushion covers, and the rugs on the floor may be of soft Oriental colors.

Very charming is a bedroom in the pale shades of the clematis. The walls are colored in the tints of this bloom in its lilac hues, and the woodwork has a grey tone in its depths. Soft lilac curtains, bed-spread, covers and cushions in the same shade stencilled in pearl grey would be charming, while the furniture might be carried out either in grey enamel or brown wood.

These schemes of grey and violet are, of course, only suitable for sunny bright rooms, as such tones are not sufficiently warm for a north aspect, but they are certainly less hackneyed than some of the treatments in blues, pinks and white, the three chief hues used for the decoration of a bedroom.

LETETE

James Seelie who has been at Letete the past week went to St. John on Saturday.

Mrs. Herbert Chubb returned Thursday from a visit in Calais, Me.

Several of our young people attended the dance at George McVicar's in Mascarene on Friday evening and report a very pleasant time.

Randall Matthews and John Hoyt went to Boston Wednesday.

Misses Daisy Hoyt, Mamie Tucker and Clara Dines left Wednesday for West Upton, Mass., where they will spend the winter.

The Blue Ribbon Society are making preparations for a concert which will be favored within the near future.

Mrs. Melvin Cook of Back Bay was calling on friends here Saturday.

Hazen McLean returned Tuesday from Boston, Mass.

"What member of the class can mention one memorable date in Roman History?" the teacher asked.

"Antony's with Cleopatra," ventured one of the boys.

First Darling—I hope you never nag your husband?

Second Darling—Only when he's beating the rugs. When thoroughly irritated he makes a much better job.

Caller—Is Mrs. Brown at home?

Artless Parlormaid (smiling confidently)—No ma'am—she really is out this afternoon.

SEELYE'S COVE

Edw. L. Webber is visiting his friend John Leavitt.

Master Burdell Treacart of Grand Manan is spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Spear.

Mrs. and T. Ellsworth spent Sunday with Miss Mary Daley at Pennfield Ridge.

Fred Spear was a visitor at Utopia on Sunday last.

A. Michelson made a business trip to St. John this week.

Fred Lodge and family of Eastport are spending the winter at "Crow Island."

Sch. "Linnet," Capt. D. Spear was at the Cove Friday loading wood for R. Spear.

Frank Casey of New River visited friends at Red Head on Sunday.

Herb Holland has returned home from Eastport where he spent last week with friends.

The clam factory at Pocologan owned by Shaw and Ellis has closed down for the winter.

Yuletide on a Battleship.

Christmas on a man of war is as festive a time as elsewhere, perhaps more so, for it brings the relaxing of the severe discipline that prevails in the British Navy. At eight bells—midnight—the holiday begins, the great-st martins amongst the officers become indulgent, and for twenty-four hours the bluejacket enjoys privileges that are accorded to him at no other time.

The Yuletide celebrations are most marked in ships at sea and on a foreign station. At the last hour of Christmas Eve approaches the "handy man" puts the finishing touches to the mottoes and decorations with which his ship is garished, and at midnight the ship's band strikes up, while the cook and his assistants prepare the Christmas dinner. By noon on the following day the mess-tables are a festive sight, and, although the menu may vary with the latitude in which the ship lies, there is always a Christmas pudding.

During the men's dinner hour the captain and the chief officers pass round the mess decks exchanging greetings with the sailors and tasting their cheer. It is indeed the happiest time on board.

Ottawa, December 9. The report on live stock for the end of November issued today by the Census office, gives statistics showing for the provinces the per cent number compared with a year ago, and their condition as compared with a standard condition. For the whole of Canada there is an increase of 3.31 per cent in the number of horses, of 1.13 in the number of milch cows, of 2.11 in the number of swine, and of 8.01 in the number of poultry. The number of sheep has decreased by 1.55 per cent in the year, and the number of live stock other than milch cows by 2.20 per cent. The provinces which show the largest gain per cent in numbers are Saskatchewan and Alberta. Saskatchewan has made a gain of 12.53 per cent in horses, of 4.09 in milch cows, of 6.03 in other horned cattle, of 4.26 in sheep, and of 21.38 in poultry; but the number of swine has fallen off by 5.39 per cent. In Alberta the gain has been 8.59 per cent in horses, of 1.05 in milch cows, of 13.10 in sheep, of 6.64 in swine and of 22.70 in poultry; while the number of horned cattle other than milch cows has decreased by 6.12 per cent. Prince Edward Island reports small gains for all classes of farm animals, the largest being 4.41 per cent in the number of swine and 3.17 in poultry. Nova Scotia indicates small decreases for horses and swine and small increases for milch cows and other horned cattle, and a decrease of 3.30 per cent in the number of sheep. In New Brunswick there is a decrease of 2.88 per cent in the

Ostrich and Comst In

Race for a flag

Comet Wins, and is Chosen Emblem of South African Union.

Johannesburg, Nov. 18.—For the first time in the history of the world a comet has been given a place on a national flag. The union of South Africa, the new four colony state established by Britain, has chosen for the flag of the state a banner with a plain blue field. The British ensign is in the upper left hand corner, and, emblazoned across the field is a device in the likeness of a comet, with a four pointed head—symbolic of the four colonies—and a tail of orange, green, blue and scarlet bands.

The strange flag design was chosen by competition. The successful competitor died on the day his design was selected. The flag board was headed by Admiral Egerton. The anchor, the chain, the diamond and the plough were among the devices submitted; also the ostrich, the ostrich and the springbok. One of the commissioners favored an anchor, but it was pointed out that an anchor on an English flag is the symbol of a dock yard.—Exchange.

By the standard condition of live stock is meant a healthy and thrifty state; and taking this condition as represented by 100, it is this year a fraction over for horses, milch cows and poultry and a little under for sheep, swine and horned cattle other than cows. In Ontario the condition of all animals exceeded the standard except for sheep, which are 0.05 per cent below; and in Manitoba where it falls below by 4.36 per cent for milch cows, by 13.20 for other horned cattle and by 8.36 for swine.

On the question whether the supplies of fodder for live stock will suffice for the winter, 88 per cent of the correspondents give an affirmative answer for hay, 94 per cent for straw 53 per cent for ensilage, 84 per cent for grain and 61 per cent for roots; but in the case of ensilage and roots, they are not widely grown in some of the provinces.

The next issue of the Census Monthly will report on the yield, weight and market prices of field crops for the year.

The Useful Thoroughbred

The two most useful animals on the farm of Mr. Frank Thompson in Whithy township, a few miles from Oshawa, are the thorough bred geldings Ben Crockett and Spencer Reiff. Ben is a Washington Cup winner and a famous long distance horse, like his daddy, Ben Holladay. Spencer Reiff was a frequent winner across country, and a conqueror of Good and Plenty when that great jumper was at his best. They did all the fall ploughing and their owner says they will accomplish far more work in the same time than the heavy horses. They are extra good road horses, and Spencer Reiff with equal facility draws a democrat wagon with a half ton load to town in short order, or takes the family to church on Sundays.

At Mrs. Livingstone's Pontiac Stock Farm, located a few miles east of Cobourg, thoroughbred mares are used to do the harvesting and light ploughing with excellent results—mares that have already given winners to the turf, and are expected to produce Kings Plate winners.

What Weights Revised

The Ontario Vegetable-Growers' Association, at their annual meeting held at the Albion Hotel on Saturday afternoon, endorsed the action of the Provincial Executive regarding revision of weights. The Vegetable-growers are going to Ottawa in January to ask for a revision, in order to make the selling weight required as near as possible to the actual bushel weight. Experiments have been made at the Ontario Agricultural College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, to determine what the weights of various products should be. The Ontario and Quebec Associations will act in conjunction in requesting the revision.—Exchange.

Rapid Transit

Oh, they're wrestling with the question Of another subway route; They take each new suggestion And they twist it inside out. It's subways here, it's subways there. It's subway all around. And every man a different plan To suit the case has found.

But in the mean time—CRUSH! Yes in the mean time—RUSH! "Can't you quit that shoving, You hulches, don't you push!" Oh, the P. S. C. is dreaming, and no doubt its dreaming well, But while we wait for action it is Hell! Hell! Hell!

Now comes a proposition From the McAdoe concern; But it meets with opposition— It's the interborough's turn. More plans and maps to fret up yaps. And figures that appal, And every day some different way Appears to have the call.

And in the mean time—CRUNCH! Oh, in the mean time—PUNCH! "Look out! That woman's fainting!" Hi, move up close, you bunch!" The city has the money and no doubt will use us well, But while we wait for suburbs it is Hell! Hell! Hell!

In fact, they're even trying To start an airship line; Then home we might be flying— A fancy superfine! Oh, anything would gladness bring And make our troubles cease, So hip hurroo! for methods new To take us home in peace!

But in the mean time—CRASH! Oh, in the mean time—SMASH! "Jam 'em in! Ram 'em in! The company needs the cash!" Let anybody build the lines who'll swear to build them well, For while we wait for suburbs it is Hell! Hell! Hell! —Paul West, in New York American.

Belleisle Girl Figures in Romance.

Boston, Dec. 6.—In the story books the manly young lover kisses his sweetheart good-bye and goes away to woo dollars. And in the story books he always succeeds and returns to marry the girl he went to school with. It may not often happen this way in life, but here at least is a case which a youth from Belleisle, N. B., has paralleled the route of fiction hero. Mr. Howard W. Long came to Boston from Belleisle six years ago in the search of dollars that would enable him to marry Miss Ethel Fairweather, who agreed to wait and marry no other until he returned to Belleisle. Then, she promised she would become Mrs. Howard Long. Well, Mr. Long found employment and during the six years he has been pelted from his sweetheart, saved his pennies and dollars and now he has gone back to Belleisle for the promised wedding. The bride-groom-to-be is twenty-six years old and expects to spend the rest of his days as a farmer in Belleisle, a proud and happy husband. —Ex.

LETETE

Chester Catherin has gone to St. John where he expects to spend the winter.

Miss Lillian Byers of Lubec is visiting her aunt Mrs. Wallace Matthews.

Mrs. Everett McConnell and son Neil spent Sunday with Mrs. Howard McNichol.

Miss Blanche Magee of Back Bay called on friends here one day last week.

The young people have been enjoying the skating on Seelye's rink.

Miss Edna Bannion of Lubec was a guest of Grace Matthews last week.

Miss Lillian Reynolds has returned to her home in North Lubec, Me.

The Sunday school is to have a Xmas tree on Xmas Eve. Misses Nellie McNichol, Mildred Dick, Nellie McLean, Goldie Dick, Gertrude McMann and Grace McNichol were appointed to decorate it.

Mrs. Hazen McLean has returned from Boston.

Her husband was a merchant, and one day while downtown she dropped into his office.

"What are all those books on top of the safe?" she asked.

"Those are the day books, my dear," he replied.

"And where are the night books?" she queried.

"Night books!" he echoed in surprise.

"Yes," she rejoined, "those you have to work over at night sometimes, when you are kept here until 2 o'clock in the morning." —Chicago News.

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 14.—Premier Sifton in his capacity as provincial treasurer, delivered the budget in the Legislature yesterday. The Premier stated the expenses of the new parliament buildings up to the present surprised him. The buildings already had cost nearly $1,000,000, and about $700,000 more would be required to complete and furnish them. Premier Sifton said that although the question had been brought up several times the province did not yet need an agricultural college. What was needed was experimental farms scattered throughout the province, and $125,000 would be asked to purchase five such farms. The provincial telephone system the premier stated, had yielded two per cent profit this year over all expenses and leaving aside of a small amount of renewals.—Exchange.

Small Boys Rescued From Band of N. Y. Kidnappers

"They told me I was in Chicago," said Giuseppe Longo, eight years old, when the police led him to freedom today from the East side tenement room where he had been locked a prisoner by kidnapers. Among the scores of children stolen by lawless Italians, his is said to be the only New York case on record in which the police have effected a recovery. The boy found to-day was traced through the aid of another youngster, whose brother is also held for ransom.

Guarding Giuseppe were two men, and in the same room with him were two other children, a boy and a girl, whom he only knew by their first names. The police think they also may have been kidnaped. The two men on guard were arrested, as were seven other Italians, among them two women.

The demand that money be sent was followed in a second letter by this threat: "If you do not do this, the head of your boy will be sent to you in a postal package. Be careful to whom you speak. Inquire from your agents and send us the money we desire. If not, later, we will take care of you, also."

Giuseppe's father is a well-to-do Brooklyn grocer. Since he disappeared, on Nov. 10, the father received two letters demanding money the first asking $10,000 and the second $15,000.

The recovery of the boy makes the third in less than a week, two other Italian youngsters having turned up without the aid of the police.

Montreal, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Marsil, a domestic in the home of Adolphe Robillard, was fatally burned this morning by the bursting of a bottle of gasoline which she placed too near a stove while cleaning clothing. Mrs. Robillard rushed to her help and was badly burned about the hands and face, but will recover. Firemen were called to extinguish the fire which the explosion started.—Exchange.

C. P. Railway and the Dominion Atlantic.

Ever since last spring when the Canadian Pacific secured its first connection with Boston by water through indirect acquisition of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, it has been felt that Canada's leading road would establish closer commercial relations between New England and Canada.

It was believed that the road would shortly begin a policy of upbuilding this property, which would make the Dominion Atlantic more in accordance with Canadian Pacific steamships standards. Dominion Atlantic operates 247 miles of road in Nova Scotia, and runs a line of steamers from Yarmouth.

In explanation of the lack of development to date, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy says that it will be some time before the Canadian Pacific will have any direct connection with the management of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, no plans whatever for changes in the steamship business has as yet been made by the Canadian Pacific, nor indeed have any other changes in this system been discussed as yet.—St. J. Globe.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half a million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Wanted Arbitration

Jones, the barber, was fumbling at the keyhole about two a. m., the door being bolted and barred inside. After a while an upstairs window opened and a woman's stern voice called: "What do you want? Where have you been till this hour?" "I wanted come in, darling," he reported meekly. "Been down to the shop 'scusin' th' sh-street railroad strike."

"Very well, then," was the icy response. "Now you can go back and discuss the lockout."

Boston Captain Will Test

Maine Lobster Laws

Portland, Me., Dec. 8.—Maine lobster laws are to be tested as a result of the seizure of nearly 1,000 short lobsters by fish wardens in the harbor Tuesday, when they boarded the Boston lobster smack C. B. Harrington, which had been driven into the harbor by stress of weather. The lobsters, while of illegal length in Maine waters, would be legal for sale in Massachusetts.

Isaac Harvey, owner of the smack, has engaged counsel to fight the case. He claims that as the state law under which the action was taken provides that vessels offered and owned by non-residents can be seized and held to pay the fine, that law is unconstitutional from the fact that it discriminates between residents and non-residents, imposing upon non-residents a burden that it does not impose on residents of the state.

King George on New Coins

British Bronze and Gold Pieces Will Bear Effigy of Monarch.

London, Dec. 2.—A proclamation by the King determining the new designs for gold and bronze coins has been published in the official Gazette. The effigy of the reigning monarch will appear on the obverse impression, and expect that the inscription is to be read, "Georgius V., Dei Gra: Britt: Omn: Rex Fid: Def: Ind: Imp:." There will be no change on the reverse. That of the gold coins is to contain "the image of St. George, armed, sitting on horseback, attacking the dragon with a sword, and a broken spear upon the ground, and the date of the year," with a graining upon the edge.

The bronze coins with King George's head on the obverse will present on the reverse the familiar impression of "the figure of Britannia seated on a rock surrounded by a sword, and a broken spear upon the ground, and the date of the year," with a graining upon the edge.

MASCARENE

A large number of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Matthews on Monday evening. Games, music and other amusements made the evening pass very pleasantly to all present.

Miss Hazel Dines, called on Mrs. Arthur Henderson on Monday.

Bert Cameron returned from Boston on Tuesday last.

Will Leland spent Sunday in Letete.

Joshua McKenzie of Calitness, was the guest of Arthur Henderson on Sunday.

A number of young folks from Letete and Mascarene, enjoyed a dance at the home of George McVicar on Friday evening last. Messrs. Herb Chubb and Harold McNichol furnished the music.

Misses Chambers to spending a few days at his home.

Miss Audrey McKenzie, spent Sunday with Miss Flora Stewart.

Walter McKenzie and Robert Wilcox, enjoyed the first skating on the Meadow Pond, Saturday evening.

The last of the British elections, except in Sutherland and Orkney, will be held in a few days, but it is not now likely there will be any serious change in the situation. The government seems assured of a majority of between 120 and 130, and this being so cabinet ministers are making more explicit declarations of policy than they hitherto have been doing. There is no question, apparently, of one thing—the vote bill will be promptly dealt with by the Parliament which will meet on January 31.—Ex. change.

Half a Million Gift

To Dartmouth College

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 13.—The gift of half a million dollars for the further enlargement and strengthening of the teaching force of Dartmouth College, from Edward Tuck, of Paris, a graduate of Dartmouth in the class of 1862, was announced by President Ernest Fox Nickol Balling in Webster Hall today. This makes a total of over one million dollars which Mr. Tuck has given to the college in the last ten years.

Presbytery Votes for Church Union

The Presbytery of St. John, after a debate yesterday which lasted more than six hours and a half, by a vote of 24 to 15, approved of the project of organic union between the Presbyterian, Congregationalist and Methodist churches.

Not since the meeting of the general assembly in this city has there been such an exciting discussion in the Presbyterian meeting here. In general, the speakers for and against were allowed a respectful hearing but there were times when as many as four men were on the floor at one time and the moderator appealed for order in vain.

The matter of church union came up in the afternoon when Rev. W. W. Rainnie, of Milltown, moved that the Presbytery should not approve of the remit sent to them by the general assembly on the matter. Speeches were made till adjournment at 5.30. The discussion began again at 7.30 but the vote was not finally taken till about 11.30 last night. All the speeches, both for and against, were of a high order of merit and indicated how deeply the feeling ran in the matter.

After the vote had been recorded, Rev. Mr. Rainnie entered a protest against the decision of the court. He was joined by several of those who adhered to the same side of the question.

Among those present were Rev. G. D. Ireland (moderator), Rev. Frank Baird, Rev. W. W. Rainnie, Andrew Malcolm, S. E. Boyd, J. W. Taylor, Rev. L. B. Gibson, Rev. F. W. Murray, Rev. H. R. Beal, Rev. L. A. McLean, Rev. Gordon Deane, Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith, Mr. Donald, M. J. McPherson, Rev. A. A. Macdonald, Rev. E. Thorpe, H. A. Corbett, William Mitchell, W. J. Parks, Rev. A. B. Dickie, Charles McNutt, Rev. H. Boyd, Rev. A. A. Graham, Rev. J. A. Ross, H. C. Fraser, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, G. Farquhar, J. P. Brown, Rev. W. M. Townsend, Rev. D. Lang, Rev. J. J. McCaskill, W. H. Manuel and T. R. Speedy.

The vote was not taken till after a few minutes of silent prayer. Rev. Mr. Gibson asked for a roll call vote. The clerk accordingly, read the names while Rev. Mr. McCaskill recorded the vote as each gave it.

The result was as follows: Ayes—Ministers, Rev. Jas. Ross, Rev. Mr. Beacock, Rev. Mr. McLean, Rev. Mr. McKay, Rev. Mr. Anderson, Rev. Mr. Lang, Rev. Mr. Reid, Rev. Mr. Graham, Rev. Mr. Fraser, Rev. Mr. Murray, Rev. Mr. Manuel, Rev. Mr. Farquhar, Elders: Messrs. Keene, Corbett, Donald, Forbes, Malcolm, Taylor, Scott, McNutt, Lougher.

Yeas—Ministers: Rev. Mr. McCaskill, Rev. Mr. Baird, Rev. G. Dickie, Rev. Mr. Rainnie, Rev. Mr. Gibson, Rev. Mr. Townsend, Rev. Mr. McDonald, Elders: Messrs. Everett, Brown, Mitchell, Parks, Leavitt, Speedy.

Explodes Old Sea Myth.

For years writers have used the Sargasso Sea as a background for their stories—tales of mysterious ships and the graveyard of seaweed where the ships were imprisoned and never heard of again. But these myths concerning the sea have been exploded by the steamer Michael Sars of the United States Hydrographic Service, sent out from Plymouth a few months ago with a company of scientists on board.

The steamer recently came into St. John's, N. F., after a three-month study of the Sargasso Sea, with the report that the stories of the mass sea weed caught in the dead waters of the Central Atlantic north of the Verde Islands are greatly exaggerated.

Scientists of the expedition say that the sea is especially rich in rare and beautiful aquatic insects and small fish. They discovered a wonderful transparent shrimp with eyes like jewels on the end of long pedicels. These eyes of the shrimp are many faceted and flash a brilliant greenish light.—Exchange.

LOCALS

For Ladies, Gents and Children's Hockey Shoes call at Bassen's.

Contrary to expectation, appearance and prophecy of all the weather wise last week the mild weather did not show up, but on the contrary Friday, Saturday and Sunday were the coldest of the season the glass going down below the cyphar. Wednesday of this week a slight flurry of snow came but not enough to make the much needed sleighing.

The place to buy Xmas post cards is A. G. Brown's. Come early.

Dr. E. M. Wilson will spend the holidays at his home here and will be in attendance at his office from Saturday the 18th to Jan. 2nd.

At D. Bassen's you can get all kinds of skates.

Up to business—On account of the Stm. Connors Bros. being laid off, J. B. Anderson in the interest of his firm W. C. Purves, St. Stephen made arrangements to have the Viking make a trip here this week, and coming here on Thursday's train was successful by Wednesday noon in selling enough goods to make a load for her and she came in on Thursday's tide.

Go to A. G. Brown's for your Xmas post cards. A Grand Assortment.

Rink News—Get busy. Remember that Christmas is only about a week away. If you intend to get one of those Kink tickets you want to hurry. You can't give a skater a more welcome present.

The rink is now ready for the skating ice, all that is wanted is the cold weather.

Get that brain of yours working and think out some natty idea for a fancy costume. The first carnival will be held during the first week of January. Home-made costumes only are to be entered for competition. Sav, its marvellous what an expenditure of a few cents will do in the way of providing a costume. Talk it over with your chums. Originally counts better than elegance. Be sure and get ready for a swell night's fun during the first week in January.

Present for everyone at D. Bassen's.

A good position can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8 hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, Ohio, or Philadelphia.

The funeral of the late Miss Carlisle who died in St. Stephen Monday evening was held from the home of Mrs. N. W. Hawkins here on Thursday morning. The services were conducted by the Rev. H. I. Lamb.

Wm. Hawkins of Machias, Mr. and Mrs. H. Beach of Honevshale were here to attend the funeral of their aunt Miss Carlisle.

The sewing circle was pleasantly entertained at the home Mrs. K. Murray on Thursday.

Mrs. Abner Justason was the guest of Mrs. Jas. Trimble a few days recently.

Preparations are being made for a Xmas concert by the children of the Baptist Sunday School.

Parties seem to be the order of the day, the young folks pronounced the one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cranley Justason on Wednesday evening to be "the best yet."

Misses McCalium and Goodleil of Utopia were guests of Mrs. Jas. Trimble Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Kathleen Poole and Miss Lura Mann visited Miss Ardelle Hawkins on Saturday.

On Monday the marriage took place at Leonardville of Austin Munroe and Miss Lucy Johnston. On the arrival of the wedding party here a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents Rev. T. M. and Mrs. Munroe.

W. S. R. Justason is confined to his bed by a severe attack of asthma.

The friends of Mrs. Ralph Justason are glad to hear she is improving in health.

SAYS SYNDICATE IS LIKELY TO TAKE OVER ST. GEORGE GRANITE WORKS.

It is expected that within the next few days the Granite Works at St. George which are operated by five different companies will pass into the hands of a syndicate. Mayor C. H. McGee of that town who arrived in the city yesterday, said that outside capitalists are interested, and that the purchase of the works will take place. The transfer, he felt, would be of benefit to St. George, inasmuch as under one management the running expenses could be considerably curtailed and more capital put into the industry. Plans are at present underfoot, he said, to have in St. George one of the most up-to-date open air sinks in the Dominion.—St. John Tel.

In reference to above while such a scheme has been on the carpet for some time and some years ago had an appearance of being brought about, our suave mayor in his efforts after cheap maturity has rather stretched the point.

While no doubt but such a scheme will some time in the future be a reality, and at present efforts are being made toward its accomplishment and a promoter is expected here today to look the ground over, from whose efforts it may be brought about, it is still in the embryo and may take a long time to effect the purpose of amalgamating the various interests, and secure the large capital necessary for conducting a business of such a magnitude as it will be necessary to institute, for the proper carrying on the work necessary to make it a success.

Large industries while good financially for those interested and also of benefit to the town in which they are conducted are not always the best for the employers, but here, in this industry which is of so local a nature, in regard to the natural products of the business if it gets into proper hands with necessary capital should be of immense benefit to both the town and promoters, and Greetings wishes all success to those interested and hopes for a successful issue and future for the industry.

In the sharp investigation now going on at Winnipeg, in regard to certain forms of vice, Judge Robson, who is carrying on the investigation did a startling piece of business last Friday. He ordered the inspector of city police out of the witness box. "I judge this man by his demeanor," said the judge sharply. He showed no willingness to give information, and there was a suggestion, the judge thought, of insolence, in his tone, which finally brought the order terminating the question.—Globe.

An American Doctor Tells of the Grand Results Achieved With "Nerviline."

"I had a patient with Quinsy that I had great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat, huskiness, throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well-known merit, I advised "Nerviline." Morning, noon, and night Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by continuing the treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness, throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsillitis and similar conditions."

Almost immediately he went to Detroit and began working for the Michigan State Telephone Company. At the time of his death he was travelling auditor. His death followed an operation for appendicitis.

Must Pay Over Sultan's Millions

Leipzig, Germany, Dec. 7.—The suit instituted by representatives of the Turkish Government against the Reichs Bank to compel that institution to surrender $4,500,000, which it has no deposit to the credit of the deposed Sultan Abdul Hamid, came before the Imperial Supreme Court today. When Abdul Hamid entrusted his personal fortune to the Reichs Bank he exacted a solemn agreement that the funds should not be withdrawn except on presentation of an order under his hand and seal. After he was driven from the throne the new Government attempted to recover these funds and laid before the bankers what they purported to be a letter from the deposed Sultan authorizing their withdrawal. The order, however, did not bear the secret seal agree upon, and the Bank, which took the further ground that their customer—being practically a prisoner—was unable to act of his own free will, refused to surrender the money. The Imperial Supreme Court refused to entertain the plea that Abdul Hamid designed the order of withdrawal under duress, and decided that the Reichs Bank must pay the money as demanded.—Exchange.

TOURIST to see her on her way when he called from San Francisco; told her of the lieutenant's many friends in Washington and of his family name and honor. The old soldier, furthermore, had looked at her keenly and added that the Burrells were known as "devils among the women."

Resting thus on the steps of the main gate's store, the two talked on till they were disturbed by the sound of shrill voices approaching, at which the man looked up. Coming down the trail from the town were a squaw and two children. At sight of Neela the little ones shouted gleefully and scampered forward, shouting over her like half-grown puppies. They wore boy and girl, both brown, as Siwashes, with eyes like jet beads and hair that was straight and coarse and black. At a glance Burrell knew them for "breeds," and evidently the darker hair was closer to the surface now, for they looked, gawky, unutterably awkward in their Indian tunics, while Neela answered them likewise. At a word from her they turned and saw him, then, clashed at the strange splendor of his uniform, fell silent, pressing close to her. The squaw also seemed to resent his presence, for after a lingering glance she drew the shawl closer about her head, leaving the trail, slunk out of sight around the corner of the store.

Burrell looked up at his companion's clear-cut, delicate face, at the wind-tanned cheeks, against which her long braids lay like the long black locks of an Egyptian maid, then at her warm, dark eyes, in which was a hint of the golden light of the afternoon sun.

"The better recast had turned in him at the prospect of a long exile died out suddenly. How fresh and foreboding he looked, and yet the wisdom of her! He spoke impulsively: "I am glad you are here, Miss Neela. I was glad the moment I saw you and I have been wondering where you would be. I never thought there would be anybody in this place but men and Siwashes men who hate the law and Siwashes who think about the law that he nodded in the direction of the Indian woman's disappearance. She looked at him still. "What, what difference would that make?" "I'm glad you are here," she said. "I'm glad you are here," she said. "I'm glad you are here," she said.

"I don't believe you understand," she said. "Lieutenant Burrell, this is my sister, Molly Gale, and this is my little brother, John. Both round-eyed white make a striking contrast and looked at the soldier, who gained his feet awkwardly, a flush rising into his cheeks.

From the regions at the rear of the store came the voice of an Indian woman calling: "Neela! Neela!"

"Coming in a moment!" the girl called back; then, turning to the young officer, she added quietly: "Mother needs me now. Good-by."

CHAPTER II

POPOY DORET'S HANDS QUICKER THAN HIS TONGUE.

THE trader's house sat back of the post, farther up on the hill. It was a large, oblong house, sprawling against the sunny side of the slope. It was of great, square heavy timbers, built in the Russian style, the underside of each log hollowed to fit snugly over its fellow underneath, upon which dried moss had previously been spread. Many articles had worked on it as it grew round by room through the years. It had stretched a bit year by year, for the trader's family had been big in the early days when hunters and miners of both breeds came in to trade, to loaf and to swap stores with him. Through the entire days when the earliest were in the north and the Siwash were scarce, whole families of Siwash came and camped there, for Alton, the squaw, drew in her own blood, and they felt their due to out of the beauty of him who ruled them like an overlord.

There are men whose eyes are quick as light and whose purposes have been so tempered and hardened by years of experience that they are like those of a wild animal. Of such was John Cole, for with all his intelligence he was very slow at reaching home by choice to avoid his evenings with his wife and his thoughts rather than with a look, as handsome men are supposed to do. He did with little sleep, and many nights he sat alone still. Alton and Neela would be awakened by his heavy step as he went to his bed. That he was a man who could really think and that his thoughts were on something no one doubted who saw him sitting enthralled at such a time. For he neither reached nor talked nor moved a muscle hour after hour, and only his eyes were alive. Tonight the spell was on him again.

any good night. When she had gone he spoke without meeting: "Shouldn't we marry Popoy Doret?" "Why?" inquired Alton. "He ain't her kind." "Polson is a good man." "None better. But she'll marry some some white man." "Polson is white," the squaw declared. "He is and he ain't. I guess she'll marry an 'outside' man. He ain't good enough, and well, he ain't her kind." Alton's grin of indignation was a sufficient answer to this, but he resumed, jerking his head in the direction of the barracks. "She's been talking a lot with this—this squaw!" "Him good man, too, I guess," said the wife. "The b—l he is!" cried the trader fiercely. "He don't mean any good to her." "Him got a woman, eh?" said the other. "No, not I reckon he's single all right, but you don't understand. He's different from us people. He's—he's—Gale's squaw, at a loss for words to convey it, murmured. "Well, he ain't the kind that would marry a white breed." Evidently Alton read some hidden meaning back of these words, for she spoke quickly, but in her own tongue now, as she was accustomed to do when excited or alarmed. "This thing must come at once. The risk is too great. Better that you kill him before it is too late."

Gale's squaw came in.

Gale rose and laid his big hand firmly on her shoulder. "Don't talk like that. There has been too much blood let already. There's time enough to worry."

He rose; but, instead of going to his room, he strode out of the house and walked northward up the trail. Alton sat huddled up in the doorway, her hand drawn close about her head, and waited for his return. He came at last, but he did not return. At last she crept stiffly indoors, the look of fright staring in her eyes.

About 9 o'clock the next morning a faint and long drawn cry came from the farthest limits of the little camp. An instant later it was echoed closer, and then a dog began to howl. Before his voice had died away another took it up sadly, and within three breaths from up and down the hill came the cry of "Steam-boat!" Cabin doors opened and men came out, glanced up the stream and echoed the cry, while from sleepy nooks and sun warmed roofs wolf dogs arose, yawning and stretching.

Downstream came the faint sizzling whoof-whoof of a steamer, and then out from behind the bend she burst. Her cabin deck was lined with passengers, most of whom were bound for the "outside," although still clad in mackinaw and overalls. They all gazed silently at the hundred men of Flathead, who stared back at them till the gangplank was placed, when they came ashore to stretch their legs. One of them, however, made sufficient noise to make up for the silence of the others. Before the steamer had grounded he appeared among the Siwash deck hands, his hand and shoulders towering above them, his white teeth gleaming from a face as dark as theirs, shouting to his friends ashore and panting, shouting to the children, who had come with Alton to welcome him.

"Who's dose heeg, tall people want stant 'outside of you, Miz Gale?" he called to her; then, shading his eyes laboriously, he cried in a great voice: "Want, want, I believe dat's Missen Jean at 'Manselle Millen! Ha, ha! dey get so long w'ile I'm gone I don't know dem no more!" The youthful Gales wriggled at this delicious dattery and dug their tiny moccasined toes into the sand. Lieutenant Burrell had come with the others, for the arrival of a steamer boat called for the presence of every soul in camp, and, spying Neela in the outskirts of the crowd, he took his place beside her. He had him awake for hours thinking of her and had fallen asleep with her still in his mind, for the revelation of her blood had come as a shock to him. He had sprung from a race of slave-soldiers, from a land where birth and creed are more than any other thing, where a drop of impure blood effects

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

The Provincial Winter Fair.

For many years there was held at Guelph what was at first regarded as a fat stock show. Gradually its scope was enlarged and its exhibits were varied until it assumed the proportions and took on the character of a winter exhibition of live stock of all sorts, held at a season when farm animals, especially poultry, look their very best. From its inception the attendance was surprisingly good, and with a view to justifying the patronage the management has from time to time enlarged the accommodation, increased its price list, and eliminated the inevitable defects due to early experimentation. The result has for several years past been an exhibition second in all essential respects to no other in the world. The one to be held next week will no doubt equal, if not surpass, the best of its predecessors.

The proximity of the Agricultural College, the Macdonald Institute and the Experimental Farm has proved highly advantageous to the winter show. Several live stock associations have made in their practice to hold their annual meetings on the days of the exhibition. All the work of the college and Institute is thrown open for observation, and members of the faculties are always among the lecturers who improve the occasion by giving the exhibitors and visitors the best results of their observation and experience. The latter are never allowed to forget that the animals of exhibition are to be regarded from the standpoint of utility and food value, and not from that of beauty and pedigree. The prizes for fat cattle have always gone to the best animal whatever their breeding.

The fair program as a whole is calculated to impress on the farmer the fact that Ontario is a great live stock country, and there is no more valuable truth for Ontario farmers to learn. There can be no doubt that this Province is not yet producing as much material for human food as it should produce, and that the farmer would secure larger returns for his outlay of labor and capital if he would raise more and better cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry. The population of the United States is closing up on a hundred millions and rapidly increasing. The urban population of that country is increasing much more rapidly than its rural population and that the latter will not be much longer to supply the needs of all the food they consume. It will come Canada's opportunity to the advantage will be all the more if Canadians are ready to meet the inevitable coming demand.

What is most needed in the agricultural reform is not more intensive tilling of the soil, more underdrainage, more use of the silo, more summer feeding and less pasturing of live stock. It may be taken as axiomatic that for the recuperation of a run-down farm—and a great many Ontario farms fall under the designation—there is no treatment so effective as to turn it into a live stock farm on which the cattle are fed in the open air in summer and in properly constructed shelters in winter.—Tor. Globe.

Above we reprint from the Toronto Globe and while it is written of Ontario it equally applies to New Brunswick and is worthy of the attention of all interested in Farming.

Nervous Prostration.

Indigestion Causes it—Mi-o-na Will Cure It.

If you have indigestion, you don't get all the nutriment out of your food that you should.

Your worn out stomach passes the food on without extracting enough nutritious substance to supply the blood and nerves.

And if the nerves are not supplied with nourishment, they begin to rebel. They kick up a great disturbance. They make you irritable and cranky, you worry about trifles, you cannot sleep soundly at night, you have bad dreams, and get up tired in the morning.

Try Mi-o-na tablets, the money back cure. Mi-o-na will cure your nervousness by driving out the cause. Mi-o-na will give you relief the first hour. It will cure acute cases in a few days, and chronic cases in a few weeks.

Belching of gas, heartburn, sour taste of food, waterbrash, foul breath and other dyspeptic symptoms vanish before the mighty power of Mi-o-na.

Try Mi-o-na J. Sutton Clark set it and will refund your money if it doesn't cure, and only 50 cents large box.

A Boycott on Knowledge.

From Winnipeg comes the report that after a period of quietude Archbishop Langevin has broken loose again. He has placed all great eastern French-Canadians under the ban, if the Press notices are correct, and asks faithful to read Le Devoir and L'Action Sociale instead of La Presse, Patrie, Le Canada, and Le Soleil. There can be but one interpretation of the action of the Archbishop—St. Boniface. He always was an Ultramontane of the most thoroughgoing sort. He has no doubt at all that if the duty of the citizen to his country and to his spiritual director leads among different roads the spiritual director must always be followed. Now, to his Ultramontane doctrine his Grace adds the cult of Nationalism. As newspapers, L'Action and Le Devoir are not in the same class as the excellent French dailies of Montreal and Quebec but these papers are combatting the anti-British campaign of the Bourassa Monk combination, while Le Devoir is Mr. Bourassa's organ and L'Action is cheering him on.

Were the people of French Canada to be guided in their political opinions and informed as to the world's news by Le Devoir and L'Action Sociale alone they would be as ignorant as the babes in the wood and as unprogressive as the Tibetans. Surely Archbishop Langevin has not considered the ultimate effect of such an order as he said to have issued. This is the twentieth century and Canada: it is not France under the rule of a Valois King. The revival of the spirit of clerical domination and intolerance in the French-speaking portions of the Dominion can have but one result. The clean living, devout and chivalrous people of French Canada will be lost to the church, as the people of Italy and France and Portugal and Spain have been lost to her. The strength of Catholicism in the United States is due to the enlightened policy of its leaders, men like Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland, and many others. In Canada the breach between English-speaking and French-speaking Catholics, which appears to be growing wider rapidly, is due to such acts as the Langevin boycott on knowledge. Faith founded on ignorance has a mighty unstable basis.—Tor. Globe.

A Nile Fish

A very peculiar fish, which is called "fahak" by the Arabs, is found in large numbers in the Nile at high water. The fahak described by the group of globe fish. In its normal condition it is ten or twelve inches long and of elongated shape. A thick mucus covers its entire body with the exception of the abdomen, which bears numerous spines.

The most interesting peculiarity of the fahak is its power in inflating itself like a balloon, by drawing in a large quantity of air. Usually it swims in the manner of other fishes, but when danger threatens it rises quickly to the surface of the water and begins to pump air into an extension of the gullet. By this means the abdomen of the fish soon becomes so greatly distended that it exceeds the rest of body in size. The fish loses its equilibrium, turns over, and floats on its back and at the same time the spine of the abdomen are erected. By this transformation the fahak is protected against the attacks of its enemies. If one of these seizes it, the aggressor is wounded by the spines and thereupon leaves the unpleasant creature alone. If the inflated fish is grasped by the hand it endeavors to draw in still more air, as if it were aware of the importance of this action to its safety. When the danger is past, the air escapes with a slight hissing noise, and the fish gradually resumes its normal form.

The fahak is found in many of the streams of West Africa, but most abundantly in the Nile, which it ascends from the Mediterranean. It penetrates into the irrigating canals and ditches, and there lays its eggs. When the flood subsides great numbers of the fish are left stranded and become the prey of birds of all sorts.

They are also eaten by the peasants. Occasionally the use of the fish as food appears to cause poisoning. The fahak is a great source of delight to the Egyptian children, who drive the inflated fish around and carry them until they literally burst. The children also inflate the dried fish and make handballs of them. The fahak is often found in curiosity shops, where it is bought by travelers as a memento. It was known to the ancient Egyptians. Its representation occurs twice on the walls of a temple at Dier-el-Bahari.

Christmas Shopping

Oh, say,
This very day
Get the hop
For the shop
And don't stop
Sho, ping
Till you feel like dropping
Dead in your tracks. And then
All the clerks, women and men,
Will rise up and call you blessed,
And you, with your shopping done,
Will sit down and wonder
Where in thunder
Do people find Christmas fun.

JUST PUBLISHED

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparring scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

The Big Albert County Industry

The great industry that it is proposed to establish in the county of Albert in connection with the refining of oils from the shale deposits there seems to be an assured fact. The promoters of this gigantic undertaking have been working carefully along for many months and have at last succeeded in financing the big deal to their liking. The company will have a capital of $1,000,000 and it will erect preliminary works costing several millions of dollars. That the success of the enterprise is assured is admitted by many competent mining and oil experts who have been on the ground and reported on the outlook. Numerous companies have endeavored to float the undertaking but those behind it preferred to see their negotiations established on a sound basis, instead of creating a mere stock jobbing proposition. That the Albert oils will find a ready market is admitted by all who are in touch with the oil situation. Taking the case of Lord Darlev, who was the victim of an accident when out with a shooting party. The first Lord Darlev having married the heiress of the Barony of Clinton, was raised to the peerage, with the title of Baron Clinton, in 1608. Though subsequently created Earl of Darlev, the owner of the title has held his seat in the House of Lords by the older title, which, leaving come through a woman, descends in the female line. The late Lord Darlev having no son, his infant daughter became Baroness Clinton.

The scheme has every confidence in it goes without saying. Senator Drumville and Col. F. V. Wedderburn who have stayed with the proposal through fair and ill report deserve every thing that they may get from the undertaking. The Record's information concerning the closing of the deal comes direct from London and through an independent source but it is further understood that the engineer sent out by the company to examine the prospect is delighted with what he has seen. The Record is assured that "unless the sly should drop, the enterprise will be carried out." This is good news for the province of New Brunswick and is another indication of the way the wind is blowing... King's County Record.

The Roar of China's Ducks

Tourists in China are always surprised by the number of ducks they see. There are more ducks in China than in all the rest of the world. Their voices are a familiar sound in every town and country spot of the seacoast and the interior of the vast empire. Even in the large cities ducks abound. They dodge between the coolies' legs. They fit squawking out of the way of the horses. Their indignant quack will not unskilfully drown the roar of urban commerce. Children herd ducks on every road, on every pond, on every farm, on every lake, on every river. There is no back yard without its duck house. There is no boat, little or great, without its duck quarters. All over the land there are great duck hatching establishments, many of them of a capacity huge enough to produce 50,000 young ducks every year. Duck among the Chinese is a staple delicacy. It is salted and smoked like ham or beef.

A Link With the Past

The presiding magistrate in a police court in Spria was astonished to hear a witness when asked if he had any brothers reply that he had one, but that he died 40 years ago. Pressed for an explanation, witness stated that he was the issue of a second marriage. His father married his first wife in 1769, at the age of 19, and the following year there was born a son. Who died when only a few months old. The latter's father married again in 1820, at the age of 70, and witness was born the year following. Being 89 years of age when giving evidence the interval since the death of the first child was thus extended to 140 years.

BACK BAY

The members of the Turn Road Club gave a delightful concert in their hall Friday evening, the sum of $31.20 was realized clear of expenses, and the club wishes to thank all who helped them both physically and financially. The programme was as follows:—
Violin Solo by John McGee, Song, Who Stole Marphy's Pig by Cecil McGee, Stump Speech by L. Theriault, Clog Dancing by Harvey Hanley, Russel Hooper and Willis Phinney done some acrobatic work which was greatly appreciated by the young folks.
We were pleased to have Detective Phinney with us for the evening and although not in the concert his Irish songs and Irish witty sayings kept everybody laughing especially the ladies.
At the request of some one in the audience Hanley again donned the clogs, and although getting well along in years what he cannot do in dancing is not worth trying to learn. The programme closed with a song, The Old Oaken Bucket by George McGee who is a singer of great ability and a very promising young man in society.

An Interesting Calculation

HERE is an interesting calculation for young housewives or old ones for that matter. A pound of the best bread in the world made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR costs less than four cents. A pound of the best beef steak costs 25 to 30 cents. Yet a pound of bread made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR contains more working energy than a pound and a half of beef steak. Or three pounds of pork, or two pounds of veal.

Whether figured by the pound or by actual units of health and strength, bread made from

Royal Household Flour

is the most economical food in the world. Especially is bread made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR good for growing children. They can't eat too much of it. For their general healthy growth and development it furnishes an almost complete food. As a matter of household economy children ought to be given all the bread they can eat at all times. Statistics also prove that ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR will sustain life longer than animal food. It is extremely rich in high quality gluten which comes from the best Red Fyfe Wheat—the finest in the world. This large percentage of high quality gluten is what makes ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR so much better than ordinary flour. Red Fyfe Wheat is known the world over for its richness in high quality gluten.

We ought to be ashamed to whine
When little troubles fret,
When so much that is good and fine
We almost daily get.
---Detroit Free Press.

Waiter--Did you order beef a la mode, sir?
Diner (impatiently) I did. What's the matter? Waiting for the style to change? Boston Transcript.

The Modern Way

"I want to be a pirate when I grow up, Uncle Bob."

"Well, I understand there's money in it. What do you want to pirate, books or plays?"--Louisville Courier-Journal.

Boston Advertiser: A Japanese says that Japan does not wish the Philippines. If this is correct of course the United States will have to keep them--unless some day the Filipinos can be induced to shoulder the burden.

It has been proposed to remove foreign languages from the public schools of New York the assertion being that the benefits derived from the study of foreign languages are not extensive, never approaching a facile use of the language either for reading or speaking.

"Have you ever loved and lost?" asked the sweet young thing.

"Not yet," replied the man who had been divorced three times. Chicago Record Herald.

Well Known Evangelist was Hard Bit by get Rich Quick Sharper

Just previous to opening the evangelistic campaign in Sussex last July, Mr. Lawrence B. Greenwood, that well known evangelist took a trip to Great Britain for his health. Mr. Greenwood is known to have enjoyed the outing and benefited greatly by it. As it now turns out, the trip which ostensibly paid for by a supposed friend, Robert Emmerson Davis, a Boston broker, was an expensive one for Mr. Greenwood and his wife. Davis thought that Mr. Greenwood needed the trip but in his absence Mrs. Greenwood was induced to invest all the money which she and her husband possessed with Davis. Now the man is missing who paid for the trip and many of his victims are turning up and looking for their cash. Among the number who lost by Davis' schemes was Harry Lander, the well known Scottish comedian, who was touched for $25,000.

Too Late to Mend.

Her sewing machine wouldn't run, so she sent to the office for some one to come and repair it. The machinist looked at it, tried to run it, and finally said: "Why, madam, it needs oiling; that's all."
"Oiling?" snapped the woman.
"Why, I haven't put a drop of oil on it the whole ten years I've had it, and I guess I'm not going to begin now."--N. Y. Times.

Impassioned.

Tess--I never see Miss Spinner out wheeling that Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Sprockett are not with her.
Jess--Yes, she's got them both on her string. The girls are calling her "Miss Tandem."

Tess--But she rides an individual wheel.
Jess--Yes, but she has a "bicycle maid for two."--Philadelphia Press.

Prudence.

"Do you encourage your daughter's literary ambitions?"
"Decidedly," answered the matter-of-fact woman. "If she has the good instinct it is bound to come out, and she'd better be making up stories about imaginary people than about the neighbors."--Washington Star.

An Airboat.

The aeroplane is an airboat rather than a flying machine says St. Nicholas. The only action of the bird that it intimates is the bird's soaring, in nearly the same sense in which a boat floats or a duck swims, with the duck there is no difference. It shares the balloon principle because its body will not sink when it stands still, whereas the aeroplane will fall unless urged forward. A duck is lighter than its bulk of water, a boat a swimming machine (i.e. pin), a bird the swimming of the duck and that of fishes and human beings.

When I go up to heaven
