FINE OLD PAINTING SHOWN TO THE POPE
J. F. Gleason and James Purvie Carter Received by His Holiness—Roman Paper's Account of Interview.

In a letter to a friend in this city, J. F. Gleason, of St. John, encloses a clipping from the "Osservatore Romano," giving an interesting account of an incident in the visit of Mr. Gleason and J. Purvie Carter, the well known artist, to Rome.

In the Roman paper of Aug. 8th under the heading: "A precious painting shown to His Holiness, Pius X." there appears an article on the reception by His Holiness of Messrs. Carter and Gleason.

The following is a translation of the article:

"This was the original portrait of St. Thomas Moore, Lord High Chancellor under Henry the Eighth, which was painted by the celebrated German master, Albert Durer, and which has been conveyed from Quebec in

MOTHERLAND APPROVES OF MR. BORDEN'S POLICY FOR IMPERIAL DEENCE

HON. J. D. HAZEN.

"nothing short of a grave scandal," but he was entirely at a loss to understand what the Globe meant by such a statement.

"I have not seen the article in the Globe from which this extract was taken," continued Mr. Hazen, "but I feel that this journal must have received an incorrect report of the utterances I made in the Motherland. The only occasion on which I mentioned reciprocity was at the banquet of the National Liberal Club of Great Britain, which was given to my colleagues and myself.

"Reference had been made to the reciprocity campaign in Canada by previous speakers, and on referring to their remarks I stated that the election in Canada on September 21 was an emphatic announcement by the people of the Dominion to the effect that they did not propose that Canada, in the words of President Taft, should become the 'adjunct' of any foreign country, much though they admired the enterprise and good qualities of the people of the United States, but that they did propose to work out their own destiny on the

MAY REFUSE TO TAKE DISPUTE TO HAGUE

From the American viewpoint, there are many loopholes for escape from the British contention and these may be expected to develop in the negotiations.

In the first place it may be contended that the admission of American coastwise traffic to free passage in the canal confers no actual discrimination against British shipping. Existing law permits no foreign bottoms to transport American coastwise commerce. British vessels could not be employed to carry goods from New York to San Francisco through the Panama canal, as they were completely relieved from tolls, as will be the American coasting trade.

Thus, it is argued, it cannot be claimed that British commerce is affected one way or another by this favored treatment of American ships.

Another American argument is that the acquisition by America of sovereignty over the canal zone, the Hay-Pauncefote treaty no longer applies to it, that convention being itself voidable under the well recognized principle of international law which makes a treaty's life depend upon the continuance of the conditions upon which it is made.

Back of this contention, however, lies the danger of the loss of the whole neutralization feature of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

A third argument against arbitration in this case is found in the fact admitted in the senate debates, that nowhere would it be possible to secure unbiased arbitrations, because every maritime country finds its in-

Canada to Rome by the well known English artist, Mr. J. Purvie Carter, special expert to the Gallery and Artistic Collection of the University of Laval in Canada, and also author of other estimable artistic work in English art galleries, as of those of the United States and Canada.

"The portrait has recently been discovered in Canada in the possession of an old English family to whom it had belonged for more than three centuries and who had brought it with them to Canada, when establishing themselves there more than a century ago.

"The Holy Father received Mr. Carter, who was accompanied by Mr. J. F. Gleason, of St. John, New Brunswick, Canada, in the most paternal manner. Both gentlemen were presented by the Vice Rector of the Canadian college in Rome. His Holiness was much interested in the precious portrait.

"Subsequently His Eminence Cardinal Merry del Val, the Secretary of State, was shown the painting, and manifested an equal degree of admiration for the very precious discovery of Mr. Carter, which is intended to be taken and exposed in Paris, Berlin and London.

NEW CRAFT TO PROTECT FISHERIES

Vessels for Pacific Protective Service Will Resemble Fishing Craft To Be Less Conspicuous.

GREATER SPEED MADE POSSIBLE.

Boats Will Be More Efficient and Seaworthy Than Old Type.

ORGANIZATION OF MINTO COAL COMPANY

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The contract for the two new fishery protective boats for the Pacific Coast is expected to be given to the Dublin Dockyard Company, of Dublin, Ireland. Tenders were called for these vessels in April last. A large number of tenders were received from Great Britain and Canada, and it was found impossible to construct the vessels in Canada for the amount provided in the appropriation available. The Dublin Dockyard Company has had experience in this sort of work, having recently built a most satisfactory vessel for the Irish Fishery Protective Board. The vessels to be built for the British Columbia coast are to be an improvement on this craft, and are to be constructed in accordance with the most recent practice and with the view of obtaining the most reliable and seaworthy type of vessel for the purpose.

It is possible that these vessels will be used in conjunction with two smaller motor driven craft. Such a step would considerably increase the efficiency of the protective service on the coast.

The two vessels to be ordered in Ireland represent an interesting change in policy. Hitherto an effort has been made in obtaining fishery protective ships to combine the characteristics of a gunboat and a fishery protection steamer, with unsatisfactory results as regards speed and sea-going qualities. The Naval Service Department on taking over the task of fisheries protection, recon sidered the subject and decided to build vessels solely for the duties they had to perform.

A preliminary design was prepared by Commander Howe, the Consulting Naval Engineer of the Department. This provided for a vessel of similar character to the fishery vessels which it is necessary to watch, so that she would not be easily recognizable when approaching poachers, and be able to keep the sea with the fishing fleet by adopting the design for the protective service. It proved possible to obtain greater speed, increased coal capacity, ample accommodation and excellent sea-going qualities, practically on the same tonnage as the ordinary power fishing boat, as no provision had to be made for fish cargo.

Mr. Cochrane's movements, but thinks it likely he will leave North Sydney immediately on the arrival of the steamer.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1912.

GREETINGS TO MR. AND MRS. HAZEN.

A sincere and loyal welcome, straight from the hearts of his constituents, will greet Mr. Hazen who arrived home from England last night. And not only the citizens of St. John but the people of the Province in general, who know him well, will tender to Mr. Hazen their hearty greetings, and their congratulations on the reception accorded to Mr. Hazen and the other Members of the Cabinet by the people of the Mother Country.

An equally warm welcome will be extended to Mrs. Hazen by her many friends throughout the Province, and in no case more so than by the people of Fredericton, who will remember the kindly thought which resulted in Mr. Dunn's gift of a chime of bells to the Cathedral in her native city.

The home-coming of the Canadian Ministers and their wives will be no occasion of a mere party celebration. The people of the Dominion recognize that in Councils of State and at many social functions in the Old Country they have been well and ably represented.

On another page The Standard publishes an interview with the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, obtained at a late hour, which is worthy the most careful consideration of the people of Canada. Among other matters of National interest Mr. Hazen speaks of the German menace and of the feeling in the Mother Country that in the hands of the Dominions lie the issues of peace and war.

The Canadian Ministers have had exceptional opportunities to gauge the situation. The gravity of the outlook and the occasion which now presents itself for this Dominion to stand loyally by the Mother Country must appeal strongly to all Canadians without distinction of race or party. For Canada this is the day and the opportunity.

THE LIFE BLOOD OF THE EMPIRE.

In its July and August numbers The British Review of Reviews discussed the Imperial organization of the Empire. In a review of these articles the Toronto World points out that a strong plea is made for systematized emigration from the congested Mother Country to the Oversea Dominions under such supervision as will prevent misunderstanding of their conditions and secure that only those who are fit, capable and adaptable shall be moved to the places offering more favorable opportunities than are afforded in the United Kingdom. Particular stress is also laid on the number of children in Britain now under charges of the boards of guardians and the benefit that would follow if these boys and girls were prepared for emigration. Properly educated for their task, these children would prove invaluable assets to the new British nations and would later become worthy and useful citizens.

No doubt can exist that under proper safeguards the emigration of young people of suitable age would be of great advantage to the Mother Country and the Oversea Dominions. With the necessary preliminary education and training they much more easily adapt themselves to their new environment. Sir John Taverner, Agent-General for the Australian State of Victoria, suggests that a farm of about a thousand acres might be secured and established as a preparatory agricultural school, where boys could have a couple of years' training. He is sure the various governments would be only too glad to take whatever number of boys this farm could send out, and says that hundreds of farmers in his own State would be only too glad to take boys on the lines of policy carried out by the Victoria Government. The system inaugurated by him some three years ago, he testifies, has worked remarkably well.

Most of the Australian States have now adopted a very advanced immigration policy and have been very successful in securing Old Country emigrants. In 1902 only 4366 persons left Great Britain for the Australian Commonwealth; in 1911 the total immigration was 65,758. So marked has been the increase this year that it has attracted serious attention, and all the more because a superior class of emigrant has been secured. The Australian States are paying the passage rates for approved persons and some have established training farms where nine months' free residence can be had and facilities provided and instruction given in the specialties of Australian agriculture. New Zealand is also active, and it is evident Canada will have much more formidable competition for the most desirable class of British emigrant than has yet been encountered.

IN THAT "LARGER MARKET."

According to the latest estimates of the Department of Agriculture of the United States, the American wheat crop this year will be 680,000,000 bushels, or 59,000,000 more bushels than last year. The same authority estimates the oat crop at 1,297,000,000 bushels; the farmers of the States will produce 42,000,000 bushels more of barley this year than last. The corn crop will be tremendous, but corn figures are of little comparative value for Canadians. And for the reason that Western Canada is largely a wheat producing country, the relative yield of other grains need not be discussed.

But the United States this year will harvest nearly 60,000,000 bushels more wheat than it produced last year. A market for this enormous yield must be found and it will be found in increased exports of wheat products, following the American milling plan of sacrificing the surplus, while maintaining a relatively higher price in the domestic market, which the consumer must pay. The price paid for wheat to the wheat grower does not, of course, bear its just relation to the price the consumer pays for the milled products. The farmer is paid the lowest possible price; the consumer pays precisely what the millers choose to demand.

With an unprecedentedly large wheat yield this season the necessity for finding a market for the surplus will be more acute than ever. The United States farmers are raising wheat in quantities greater than the consuming capacity of the country. And this is the larger market in which the grain growers of Western Canada are urged to take their chances! A fine chance, indeed, for profit in trading in a market already overstocked with the products of American wheat fields!

CURING THE INSANE.

That medical science will reach the stage where insanity will yield to corrective measures is almost assured by the definite statements made by eminent physicians at Liverpool when some of the puzzling problems of apparently incurable maladies were discussed. An alchemy more wonderful by far than that of the ancients was searched for the philosopher's stone was revealed before a section of the British Medical Association by Dr. William Maule Smith. The title of his paper was remarkable enough: "On the Use of Extract of Brain Tissues in the Treatment of Various Forms of Insanity."

In a paper bristling with technicalities he quoted actual cases in which he had obtained healthy brain tissue, extracted the cerebrin and cholesterin, and injected these substances into insane persons. This treatment, he declared, caused delusions to vanish and grave disorders were cleared up.

It is difficult to put into words the sensation which this paper has made even in this scientific gathering. Dr. Murk Janser, the celebrated Dutch orthopedist, declared that both curvature of the spine and natural right-handedness, dated from that remote time when man began to walk upright instead of on all-fours. He recommended that to avoid curvature of the spine children should not be allowed to sit up until they could stand and walk.

Mr. Kollett Smith went even further and exhibited lantern slides showing a young man crawling on all-fours to cure curvature.

Sea sickness and train sickness came under the wide purview of the ophthalmological section and Dr. Bradburne attributed that to the inability of the eyes to overcome the unaccustomed motion which they saw. He recommended that sufferers should sit with their backs to the engine.

Of course, children's sweets were attacked. No congress of the British Medical Association would be complete without a fierce onslaught on the brassy balls of boyhood, the puerile peppermint and the adolescent acid drops.

Dr. Sam Wallace, lecturer in dental surgery, and pathology, at the London Hospital, mentioned two great causes of dental diseases—one the "fappy nature of the food on which young children are compelled to subsist," and the other sweets. He quoted a medical health officer to the effect that the eating of sweets is the cause of 50 per cent. of the diseases of children of the present day.

FRENCH ELECTORAL REFORM.

The French Ministry's plan for electoral reform, which seems likely to become a law soon, is a compromise between strictly proportional representation and no minority representation at all in the choosing of deputies by election districts. One deputy is to be elected for every 70,000 voters or fraction of that number exceeding 20,000. There are to be election districts or departments containing each as nearly as possible 500,000 voters. Thus each department will have eight or nine deputies. The total number of votes cast in a department will be divided by the number of deputies to which the department is entitled and apportionment made as follows:

If a department having eight deputies casts a total vote of 100,000 composed of 50,000 Republican, 30,000 Socialist and 20,000 Clerical ballots, division by 12,500 will give four seats to the Republicans, two to the Socialists and one to the Clericals. The one remaining seat will be given to the Republicans as having the largest vote cast. This favoring of the strongest is expected to strengthen and give stability to the Government, a result which seems desirable in the light of the history of French politics.

A desirable feature of the plan is the restoration of the scrutin de liste, by which the voter will choose representatives for the electoral department instead of the much smaller districts of the apportionment. Fair minority representation is essential to true representative government, and the working of the French plan will be watched with interest in all countries.

Current Comment

Aggressive Americanism.

(Mail and Empire.)

It was due to the clamor raised by the Hearst papers that the United States, in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty, decided to fortify the Panama Canal. It was partly due to the uproar of yellow journalism that the war with Spain was declared, and this section of the press is practically alone among influential American journals today in urging that there should be discrimination in favor of American shipping. The Hearst journals were prominent in the fight for reciprocity, and even issued Canadian editions in order to rally Canadians to the support of the "Continentalists" last summer. They now stand out in the open, and in the future ought not to be mistaken by any British subject for anything but what they are—bitter, unscrupulous advocates of aggressive Americanism, the foes and insulters of everything British.

Suspicious of Germany.

(Vancouver Sun.)

Signor Pinoretta, an agent of the Brazilian Government, who was in Montreal recently, told a newspaper man in that city that the German menace against his country was not only real but imminent. It is, apparently, not so much the number of German immigrants pouring into Brazil that alarms the people there as that few of these show any inclination of becoming naturalized, and the suspicion is growing that most of them are simply agents of the German Government, sent forward to spy out the land and secure information against the day when the Kaiser will make an effort to seize the country.

Patriotism That Counts.

(Victoria Colonist.)

It goes without saying that, if war were to break out, Canada would defend the Flag until victory was won or defeat had to be acknowledged. That is the cheapest and easiest of patriotism. We are all patriots "when the band begins to play." But the patriotism that counts is that which is ready to make sacrifices in time of peace in order that there shall be no abatement of the national power and prestige. Should Canada be asked to make such a sacrifice, if a sacrifice it can be called that involves only the giving of money, every one of us ought to be ready to do our share.

For Other Reasons.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Referring to alterations in the Commons Chamber, a news item says: "Moreover there has been some artistic padding done in the region of the ceiling, to improve the acoustics. Without this padding the utterances of members in times past have been known to rebound." Quite true. Many speeches have rebounded with the force of a boomerang. But scarcely from lack of padding.

More Useful.

(Toronto Star.)

The salvation armies that have hitherto got into history could find no crusade nearer than the Holy Land. The twentieth century can show a Salvation Army which finds its work wherever work is.

Growth in the West.

(Plover Creek Echo.)

A correspondent down east wants to know if we can grow pumpkins here in Pincher Creek. Sure. The only trouble is the vines grow so fast they scrape the skin off the pumpkins by dragging them over the ground.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER

By direct private wires to J. C. MacIntosh and Co., St. John, N. B.

New York, Aug. 29.—Today's stock market fulfilled general expectations in being a dull pre-holiday affair. The attention was light and outside interest at a minimum. Many ordinarily active stocks failed to show on the tape till well along into the session and with one or two exceptions the price changes were well within one point. The action of the L. & N. directors in increasing the stock to only $72-million, thus lessening the value of the expected subscription rights on the stock quickly disappeared a sharp rise which occurred just before the meeting. The stock, however, showed no particular weakness. The copper issues were reactionary but the general list, as before intimated showed little change. The advance in the Bank of England rate to 4 per cent. was entirely expected, but the hardening of call money to 3.14 per cent. came perhaps a little earlier than generally expected and has turned attention sharply to the position of the banks. The failure of prices to advance in consonance with favorable reports from various lines of business has made some bears among the professionals and it is possible that price may be worked somewhat lower. The larger interests, however, appear to be confident of higher prices and as there has been no opportunity to distribute in any volume it is entirely probable that any pronounced reaction will be quickly checked by substantial support.

AN IMPORTANT LABOR MAN ARRIVES TODAY

James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, will arrive in the city on the boat from Digby this afternoon and will address a special meeting of local printers in the Opera House this evening. Herman Campbell, secretary of the local union, received a telegram from President Lynch yesterday, dated Halifax, asking that a special meeting be called to give him an opportunity to meet the union printers of St. John.

President Lynch is one of the best known labor leaders in America. He has been president of the Typographical Union for some years and during his tenure of office the organization has grown wonderfully. On May 31st the International Union had a membership of 58,703, and there has been some increase since then.

AUTOMOBILIST T. M. WILBY REACHES ST. JOHN ON WAY FROM HALIFAX TO COAST. The Longest Automobile Trip Ever Undertaken in Canada Intended to Boom Great Canadian National Highway from Coast to Coast -- Says New Brunswick's Roads are Much Superior to Nova Scotia--Left for Fredericton.

Shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon an automobile containing two passengers and easily divided at different towns along the route, arrived in the city and when it came to a stop at the Pugsley garage on Canterbury street, was the centre of attraction.

Our Roads the Best. Mr. Wilby said that the distance that he covered from Halifax to the King Square this city was just 200 miles. In speaking of the roads, he said that the roads through Nova Scotia were in a very bad state, being worn dreadfully, while those in New Brunswick were very much better.

Impressed With Our Scenery. While at Westfield Mr. Wilby said that he was very much impressed with the scenery even for the short distance that he travelled to that point along the St. John River and back.

Met by Local Automobilers. Having received a telegram from Moncton of the approaching arrival of Mr. Wilby, T. P. Ryan, president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, arranged for a party to meet him at the city.

Conveying "Unsealed Mail." He says that on leaving Halifax he took with him letters from the mayor and archbishop to be delivered in Vancouver and that he intends to carry the first unsealed mail over the continent, a distance of 4000 miles.

His Reasons Why. When asked by The Standard reporter why he was undertaking this difficult tour, Mr. Wilby said:

When asked by The Standard reporter why he was undertaking this difficult tour, Mr. Wilby said: "There is a little black arrow on a sign post at Albert, Vancouver Island, which points due east towards Halifax. It is the concrete expression of a great Canadian ideal. It is the first of a series of posts which will be placed at intervals of 100 miles across the continent and will form a link and link an empire."

The King's Highway. "The great white way—the king's highway and A-1 road route of the empire—will not come of itself. The difficulties which the first motorist across will encounter will be as

The News in Short Metre. LOCAL. Scots Guard Band May Come. Arrangements are being made by R. J. Armstrong to bring the Scots Guard Band to this city for a concert which will probably be held in the Queen's rink.

Amicably Settled. The case of Larry Connolly, the ex-Marathon baseball player vs the Marathon baseball management, which has been occupying the attention of the city court for the last three weeks, was amicably settled in the court yesterday afternoon.

Brush Factory Asks for Site. James H. Duddy and E. H. Foster, representing the Canada Brush Company, were before the commissioners at noon yesterday and presented a request to be given a site at the lower end of Duke street.

Factory to be Started. A local syndicate has been formed to take over the manufacturing business effectively unifying Canada, there is no reason why the Canadian highway should not be ready for motorists by the time of the Panama Pacific exhibition at San Francisco.

"The Finest in the World." "I am looking forward to the time when this highway will not only prove to be a great military road and a valuable auxiliary route in the transport of grain from the west to the markets, but the finest and longest automobile highway in the world."

"Ready for 1915." "From Vancouver I intend to cross to Nanaimo and Alberni, on the island and dip the wheels of the car somewhere in the Pacific at Strathcona park."

"Ready for 1915." "A period of five years has been set for the accomplishment of the Transcontinental highway, but if only Ontario will devote itself resolutely with Dominion aid, to making a road through the Superior region, and

"Ready for 1915." "I shall go through Fredericton to Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and on to the Soo (probably by way of Toronto) My route from Winnipeg takes me to the Rockies, via Portage La Prairie, Brandon, Moose Jaw, Regina, Medicine Hat and McLeod, through Canada's 1,000 mile long farm. Along this route I expect to find a continuous road with here and there a few better conditions, which happily are rapidly disappearing."

"Ready for 1915." "The Rockies will be entered by the Crow's Nest Pass, and under the pilotage of Guy Loveworn, a course will be struck due west for Vancouver through scenery which, once it is brought within the line of tourist road travel, as are the mountain valleys of Switzerland, will lure within its boundaries thousands of British and American tourists. I believe there is a clear road from Medicine Hat to Cranbrook, from there on to Creston, Nelson, Rossland, etc. I expect some amount of clearing will have to be done, but through the splendid organization of the Canadian Highway association and the fine public spirit of its officials throughout British Columbia, I shall have pilots to show me the best routes. It may take several days to cover 65 miles to 20 per day, but I understand that some clearing is now being done, so that every day increases my chances of making Hope."

"Ready for 1915." "I am looking forward to the time when this highway will not only prove to be a great military road and a valuable auxiliary route in the transport of grain from the west to the markets, but the finest and longest automobile highway in the world."

"Ready for 1915." "To be all that, it must follow as nearly as possible the finest and longest routes consistent with practicability and directness. It must take in a route which includes—must show the places and the best hotels, like the St. Lawrence route and the city of Quebec, to give a concrete example. It must be a macadam highway, good under all conditions of weather. It must be kept in repair like English roads. National and local conditions or parochial interests alone should be taken into consideration in laying it out. The smirch of graft should never be heard of in connection with it."

"Ready for 1915." "The first thing to do, so far as I can see, is to build a road between Port Arthur and Winnipeg. The perfected Canadian Transcontinental Highway will help to double the population of Canada. It will be the finest highway within the empire and should be boomed and exploited through a regular national tourist organization on the Swiss model. The headquarters of this public spirited body ought to be at Halifax, the ward of that highway, as it is of the honor of the north."

CAPITALS
HERE TODAY
3.15 O'CLOCK

Well, they did it again. The Marshalls defeated Fredericton yesterday in a game which left no doubt as to the relative abilities of the two teams at the present time at least.

And they hope to repeat the dose this afternoon when Duggan's Pets come here, let it be hoped for another drubbing. For the Marshalls yet have a shadow of a chance to win the N. B. and Maine League. And they have a very excellent chance of climbing into second position and then playing off with the Fredericton team in a series of games. If such series could be arranged in the event of the Marshalls finishing first or second, it should furnish the most exciting baseball of the season. And as for crowds, the local grounds would be taxed to accommodate the fans who would want to see the games, for there is no denying the fact that the Fredericton ball players are the most popular of the visitors.

The league standing shows that the Greeks have played 61 games and there are 78 scheduled for them. Fifteen wins out of that number would be enough to win the league provided of course, that other teams would wallop Fredericton once in a while just for luck. The Greeks came home last evening with renewed confidence and will go on the grounds today prepared to give the fast capital team the game of their lives. Winkler or O'Connor will start the trouble for the locals, but all five pitchers will be warmed up ready to jump in if required. The game will start at 3.15 and Empire Rudderhall will hold the indicator.

Yesterday's contest there should be a record crowd on the Marathon grounds both today and tomorrow to see what may prove to be the two most important games in the entire league schedule.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 29.—A pronounced area of high pressure now centered over the great lakes dominates the weather from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces while a depression covers the western provinces accompanied by heavy thunderstorms in some localities.

AROUND THE CITY

Paint Brush Found. A paint brush found in the Old Grave Yard yesterday afternoon awaits the owner at the central police station.

Accident at Courtenay Bay. Albert Weir, a laborer in the employ at the Courtenay Bay works had his face badly cut while at work yesterday afternoon. He was driven to the General Public Hospital where his wounds were dressed. They are not of a serious nature.

Offer 25 Per Cent. to Creditors. A meeting of the creditors of H. C. McBeath was held in the office of F. Sanford at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An offer to settle on a basis of 25 cents on the dollar was made, but the creditors appointed inspectors to report on the condition of the business and adjourned for a week.

Looking for Investments. Two New York men who have made some money in real estate in the west have been in St. John looking for investments in realty here. It is understood that they are negotiating for the purchase of a number of properties in the city. They were very favorably impressed with the possibilities of the growth of the city and indicated that they intended to keep an eye on real estate opportunities here, as they believed the city would grow steadily and that their investments would continue to increase in value.

Will Probably Decide Today. As a result of the application for lots on Duke street east made by the Canada Brush Making Company, yesterday the Mayor and commissioners inspected the lots asked for, but did not come to any conclusion as to the offer of the company to purchase them. The lots are situated on the north side of Duke street east, near the Jackson property. The Canada Brush Company will probably erect a new plant at once if they are able to secure a site. The commissioners will probably decide upon the application today.

Crop Prospects Poor. A. G. Turney, provincial horticulturist, was at the Victoria yesterday. Speaking of the prospects in regard to the apple crop in the province this year, he said they were none too bright, though a spell of fine weather might greatly improve the conditions. Owing to the unusual amount of weather, the apples were showing a great tendency to become scabby, though they were beginning to color very well. He thought, however, the chances were the apple crop would not be by any means as satisfactory as it ought to be, though as conditions were pretty similar in other parts, the farmers might not lose a great deal on apples as prices would probably be high.

Taken to Hospital. Fred Watkins, aged 49, and falling from England, was arrested yesterday afternoon in East St. John by County Policeman William Armstrong, and was charged with being a common vagrant with no visible means of support. The man when brought to the central police station was in a very weak condition and died. He was so ill that Dr. H. E. Berryman was called to examine him and found the man in a weak condition probably brought on by exposure and lack of food. The doctor recommended that he be sent to the General Public Hospital where he was conveyed in the ambulance by Deputy Chief Jenkins.

M. R. A. Ltd., have an interesting showing of genuine Scotch Tartans in their King street window. These fabrics form an appropriate background for the display of the three handsome trophies won at Aldershot, N. S., by Sergt. Frank Hunter, of St. Stephen's Scotch Cadet Corps.

Ladies Ready to Wear Skirts. A Great Display of Ladies' Ready to Wear Skirts in one of F. A. Dyke and Co.'s windows is calling forth the most emphatic expressions of admiration. The styles are such as you would see on Fifth Ave., New York. They are copies of creations of the finest and most noted designers, and yet these skirts, being manufacturer's samples, are sold at most attractive prices. They are all designed for fall of 1912 and are being sold at one-third below the regular price. The twelve dollar skirts are marked eight dollars, while the three dollar skirts are marked two dollars. In a large assortment of sizes and colorings.

M. R. A. Stores Closed Monday. As Labor Day will be observed by Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., and their stores closed all day, customers should attend to the holiday shopping with this fact in mind. M. R. A. stores will be open this evening until 10 o'clock, and Saturday, (the last of the summer half-holidays) will close at 1 p. m.

President Lynch Coming. A special meeting of St. John Typographical Union will be held in the Opera House tonight at 6:30 to welcome International President Lynch. Every member is expected to be present. President Lynch will arrive on the "Prince Rupert" about 9 o'clock.

DECORATION DAY OBSERVED BY PYTHIANS

Impressive Ceremonies and Largely Attended Procession.

TWO BAROUCHES WERE FILLED WITH FLOWERS

Past Supreme Prelate Col. James Moulton Delivered Impressive Oration to Assembled Knights in Fernhill Cemetery.

In accordance with a time honored custom of their order, the Knights of Pythians of the city yesterday observed decoration day. The weather was especially favorable for both the parade and the ceremonies at the different cemeteries, and the day's proceedings were carried out most successfully.

The turnout of the Pythians was one of the largest ever held by the organization. The Uniform Rank knights made a fine showing, while the representatives from the different lodges were noticeably large. The Uniform Rank, two companies, Victoria No. 1, and Cygnus No. 5, were under the command of B. L. Sheppard, senior warden.

The procession formed ranks at Castle Hall, Germania street. The barouches containing the floral offerings destined for the graves of the departed members led off the procession, the knights of the subordinate lodges taking their places behind the 62nd Band, New Brunswick, No. 1, came first, followed by Union No. 2, and St. John No. 3.

Beautiful Flowers. The magnificent collection of floral offerings filled entirely the two barouches used to convey them to the graves. Over 2000 bouquets were contributed for the day's ceremonies, and arranged in the barouches made a most beautiful sight. The large floral shield with the Pythian colors, blue, red and yellow and bearing in gold the letters "F. C. B." was particularly handsome.

The route followed by the procession was by way of Germania, Union, Waterloo and Haymarket Square to the Church of England burying ground where several graves were decorated. The Methodist cemetery was then visited, after which the knights proceeded to Fernhill where the appropriate religious service was carried out. The floral shield was placed in the centre of the K. of P. lot and the floral tributes left on the graves of each departed member buried in the cemetery.

The religious portion of the day's proceedings was carried out in accordance with the Pythian ritual. The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. E. Thomas, and J. L. Thorne led in prayer.

Col. Moulton's Oration. The oration of the occasion was then delivered by Past Supreme Prelate James Moulton. In his address Mr. Moulton dwelt on the significance which the ceremony of the day holds for all Pythians, the incentive which decoration day should be to adhere more steadfastly and faithfully to the obligations they assumed on becoming Pythians. He said:

Another year of life has passed since you assembled for the purpose of observing the ceremonies of Memorial Day. During this time the clock of death's reaper wounded many of your brethren, and in a greater number of cases than usual the cord of life was severed. The main spring became motionless; the warm hands you so often clasped in Pythian friendship became cold; the eyes were closed, and the tongue was still, and then with measured step and saddened hearts you led them to their narrow houses; laid them where the gentle zephyrs may sigh, the sunshine gladden the earth, the tempest about them rage, and the busy world pass on and they heed it not.

In their death you were shown the uncertainty of life, the certainty of death, the mutability of all earthly things, and the vanity of human pretensions. But how often you have seen the sea of life ebbing from the shores of time and perhaps gave up only a passing thought when you should have given it serious consideration. It may be that the solemn impressions made by the death of your friends were banished from your minds by the cares of life or the allurements of pleasure, or you may think that the time for you to take the first step is so far in the distance that there is no need of giving the matter your immediate attention, but you should not forget that the day by which your life is held is no stronger than that which held the lives of those who are gone. Among them were the strong and brave. They fought a good fight. They fought like heroes. Again and again the enemy was repulsed, but finally death won the victory and they are no longer among men. As it was with them so will it be with you; when death's reaper strikes his fatal blow you must go. You may brave yourself for the struggle. You may concentrate your strength, but your effort will be in vain. When death strikes, he strikes to conquer, and he wins the victory.

A Day for Reflection. The ceremonies of Memorial Day seen to create considerable solemnity.

Government Arranges to Tell Our Story to The Empire. NEW DEPARTURE

Cinematograph Man Coming to New Brunswick to Take Moving Pictures Descriptive of Life Here to be Shown in English Picture Theatres.

The local government has made arrangements to have moving pictures of farms and other scenes in New Brunswick shown in Great Britain and Ireland. A representative of a big cinematograph company of England, provided with a moving picture machine and 5000 or so feet of film, will arrive at Quebec today and will come on to the province, reaching Fredericton on Saturday.

Will Take Courtenay Bay Work. The cinematograph man will spend a few days in St. John, and while here it is intended to make arrangements to enable him to get some views of the work of the Courtenay Bay harbor facilities on the West Side. He will probably be taken for a sail on the harbor, and will have an opportunity to get a picture of the famous reversing falls, and various points of scenic or historical interest about the Loyalist city.

It is also intended to give him a sail on the St. John river with the object of securing pictures of some of the farms in the valley. The government's arrangement with the cinematograph company call for the taking of at least six thousand feet of film, showing scenes selected with the object of showing the Old Country people to get a good idea of the conditions which settlers will encounter when coming out here. The provincial authorities will pay the cost of procuring the pictures, and the company will send them out to the moving picture houses throughout the Mother Country under the usual conditions.

An Excellent Plan. This scheme of having moving pictures of scenes in the province taken and shown in the cities and towns of Great Britain, is another example of the energetic efforts being made by the present government to advertise the advantages of the province to prospective settlers here. The provincial superintendent of immigration believes the scheme will do more to give the province desirable publicity in the Old Country than the expenditure of thousands on printers ink could do, and expects that it will have noticeable results in the way of interesting and leading immigrants to Canada in the opportunities and satisfactory conditions offered by this province.

Serious thoughtfulness was visible in the faces of all who listened to the music and viewed the flowers as you passed on your way to the city of the dead. No doubt the hearts of the people were touched by the beautiful purpose for which the flowers were to be used and it may be that they were thinking of those whose graves they have vacated or of little ones whose cradles are empty. The services of the day, and the strengthened memories of those friends who have moved off life's stage of action. To day many who are not Pythians, as they read the names of our dead will think of the companions of their early days and the comrades and friends of later years, and as they think of the years that have passed since they clasped their hands and bade each other adieu, they will realize how much of the sad in their own time glass has run down.

Memorial Day is especially suited for reflection. You are thinking of your brother Pythians who are sleeping beneath the green mounds upon which you have laid your floral tributes. You are thinking of those of your own family circle whose death you mourn. Some are thinking of the farweld scenes when in silence they listened to the last feeble spoken words. All this making the day especially suited for serious thought. At this opportune moment it would be well for you to recall your Pythian obligations and determine whether or not you have fulfilled them. The teachings of Pythianism set before you the highest character of life. To attain to its ideal you must exemplify its principles in your intercourse with one another. Your life must have an uplifting influence. It must be a fitting example for others to follow. If you have not reached this standard, strive to do so. Take advantage of the opportunities you may have and fill the hours with kind words, the days with generous deeds and at all times be specially suited to the spirit of Pythianism. Do this and you will surely reach a higher standard of life and strengthen the ties which bind and when floral tributes are laid upon your graves, your memories will be cherished for your efforts to bless mankind.

As the time allowed for the address is up I must close. May the good thoughts created by the flowers in your mind and help you so to live that when you reach the evening of life's little day and the lamp is burning low, you may fall asleep, confident that you will awake in the better and brighter world and when the flowers are laid upon your graves, your memories will be cherished for your efforts to bless mankind. After the ceremonies the procession reformed and the knights returned to their hall.

IMPRESSED BY PROGRESS OF WINTER PORT

New Zealand Visitor Sees Much Difference in St. John.

DR. GRANT IN CITY AFTER MANY YEARS

Speaks Enthusiastically of Conditions in New Zealand His Adopted Home—Anxious to Extend Trade with Canada.

"St. John has made a great deal of progress since I was here twenty years ago; it has the aspect of a wide-awake city today," said Dr. Grant, of Auckland, New Zealand, to a Standard reporter, at the Royal last evening. Dr. Grant, who is a native of Pictou, N. S., and has been in New Zealand for 20 years, came to St. John to see his brother-in-law, Rev. James Ross, and will remain here about a week. He expects to do some big game shooting in New Brunswick and will then go to Great Britain where he will spend a few months before returning to his home in the Antipodes.

New Zealand is a splendid country, it has a beautiful climate and a very fertile soil," he added. "It is the soil and climate which makes New Zealand the country it is. Just think what it means to the farmer not to have to provide shelter or fodder for his cattle and sheep the year round. Our principal exports are wool, mutton and dairy products, though we export about $10,000,000 worth of gold a year. According to the latest government year book there are about 27,000,000 sheep in New Zealand; that is a pretty large number when you consider that our population is only about 1,000,000. Our dairy farmers are very prosperous. New Zealand butter is the best in the world and brings a good price in the British and other markets. We have been shipping butter to Canada for some time, and this trade is bound to increase.

Anxious to Trade with Canada. "New Zealand for patriotic reasons is anxious to increase its trade with Canada. There are many Canadian products which we can use in New Zealand, and there are some of our products such as butter, mutton, wool and wheat which ought to find a good market in Canada. New Zealand grants a preference to Canadian products, and encourages local industries, but we can take many of your manufactured goods and also your lumber. I believe the Massey Harris and other Canadian companies sell a lot of agricultural machinery here." "Is New Zealand the paradise of the workmen?" it is often represented to be?" asked the reporter. "It is a fine country for the workman," answered Dr. Grant. "For the last 15 years the country enjoyed peace and no strikes or disturbances of industry. In the last year, however, the workmen have begun to think that they are entitled to a larger share of the fruits of progress. They have not been satisfied with the awards of the arbitration boards, and in the homes are vacant or of little ones whose cradles are empty.

The services of the day, and the strengthened memories of those friends who have moved off life's stage of action. To day many who are not Pythians, as they read the names of our dead will think of the companions of their early days and the comrades and friends of later years, and as they think of the years that have passed since they clasped their hands and bade each other adieu, they will realize how much of the sad in their own time glass has run down.
