A HUNTER PERISHES

In the Storm Near Plattsburg, New York State.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Henry Lemaire, coachman for Assemblyman C. E. Johnson, of this village, perished from exposure in a storm. In company with two companions he had started on a deer hunt in the neighborhood of Lyon Mountain. The three men were bewildered by the falling snow, and became lost between Lyon Mountain and Ellenburgh Mountain. Lemaire became completely exhausted early Saturday morning, and was unable to proceed. His companions with great difficulty managed to reach a logging camp, from which a searching party started out, but were unable to find the spot where Lemaire was left. The search was continued to-day from Lyon Mountain, and the body was found this morning. Lemaire was shot in the head some time ago in an encounter with robbers, and was taking a vacation on that account.

CUT HIS HEAD OFF FOR 40 CENTS. Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 14.—At Fruit Cove, Florida, Albert Houston decapitated Dorman Fatio with a knife. They quarrelled about 40 cents. Houston was arrested.

PIE GORRIE COMING.

This morning Major J. B. Rankin received a communication, dated Stratford, from Pte. W. B. Gorrie, of the first Canadian contingent, saying, "I will call at Chatham Friday evening. Am not sure as to train." Some arrangement should be made to give the returning soldier a cordial greeting.

TWO LAZY TRAMPS

Crippled a Boy so He Could Beg For Them

More Successfully—Are now under Arrest—Boy's Arm in a Fearful Condition.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 14.—Garby Fritz, the boy who suffered such fearful treatment from two tramps who tried to force him to beg for them, was brought here yesterday, together with the two men, John Shirrell and David Weston, who were charged with maltreating the lad. To-day, however, the boy discovered that he was wrong in naming Ann Arbor as the place where the deed from which he suffers was done. His description seemed to tally with that of the depot at Jackson, and so the three were shipped to that city. The boy charges that the two men persuaded him to accompany them from Chicago, where he was making a living by singing about the streets. A few days ago they placed a blister on his arm and drove him away to beg for them, telling him to show the hurt on his arm to arouse sympathy. He did not get enough money, and the men determined that his wounds were not enough. He says they then placed quicklime on his bare arms and held him while they mixed water with it and let it eat its way out to do better. Several towns were worked in this way, until they reached Detroit, where the boy was picked up by an officer and his tormentors arrested. It is believed that the crime was committed here the two men sent here by the Detroit authorities. Now Jackson will have to take up the case. The boy's arms are in a pitiable condition, the lime having dug great holes into the flesh.

A POOR CONCERT.

British Think Powers May Soon Disagree in China.

Attitudes of U. S. and Germany Disapproved—Latter is too Vindictive; Former Too Mild.

London, Nov. 14.—The London morning papers are again agitated concerning the stability of the concert of powers in China. The attitudes of Germany and the United States meet with disapproval, the former because Count von Waldersee has sent a column to destroy the Ming tombs, an act which is regarded as needlessly vindictive, and the latter because it threatens to break up the concert.

The Daily Chronicle comments strongly upon the American attitude as a "feeble compromise which it is impossible to accept." The Morning Post says: "It would be unreasonable for the United States to break up the concert because they do not desire indemnity. The powers would probably be willing to consider the American's objections. If, however, the United States in view some new combination of powers, it would be necessary for Great Britain and Germany to agree upon a common policy."

The Standard, which denounces the subject with a mere reference, says: "American opinion on the Chinese problem is too uncertain to be considered seriously." Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times on Sunday, expresses the opinion that

China will "readily accede to all the terms of the conjoint note except the execution of the prince and officials, which it will be impossible to fulfill while the court is in the hands of these very officials."

"Considerable curiosity is felt at Tientsin," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Times, "as to the whereabouts of the Japanese forces, which though not leaving the country are disappearing from Peking and Tientsin. It is not known whether."

"Referring editorially to the present stage of the negotiations, the Times says: 'The United States accepted the German note demanding the punishment of Prince Tuan and the other guilty officials; and it will not be harder to secure the punishment of 11 officials than of the three whose names were originally indicated by the state department. Therefore it is difficult to see how America could justify in her own eyes a refusal to join with the other powers in steps needful to secure this result.'"

TRANSVAAL MINES

Will Have to Bear Part of the Cost of the War

But Still Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Can Only Promise the British Taxpayer a Higher Budget Than Ever.

London, Nov. 14.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking in Bristol, said it would not be his privilege in the next budget to relieve the taxpayers. He wished he could say that he was not about to increase the budget, but the Government's expenditure had been enormous, especially in China and South Africa. He declared emphatically, however, that the wealth of the Transvaal would have to bear part of the South Africa's expenses.

"Of course," said Sir Michael, we must not spoil the future of the Transvaal by attempting to impose upon it a greater burden than it could reasonably bear. That would be cutting our own throats. Therefore the British taxpayers must also bear a large part of the cost of the war. He also emphasized the fact that the maintenance of a strong army and navy would involve a further considerable expenditure.

A CHARLIE ROSS CASE

Pennsylvania Boy is Mysteriously Missing—He is Heir to $100,000.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14.—Among the residents of Wissinoming, a suburb of this city, the belief is general that they have on their hands a parallel of the famous Charlie Ross case. On Thursday, October 11, 13-year-old Anne Shalcross disappeared and despite the efforts of the police and half a dozen private detectives hired by his wealthy mother no traces of the boy have been found. The boy, when he becomes of age, will inherit $100,000 from the estate of his father, the late Lewis W. Shalcross, who left about $500,000. It is thought he became acquainted with a gang of tramps who are thought to be holding him for a ransom.

VOTING MACHINES MUST COME.

The ballot system as put into practice on Wednesday seems to have generally worked in a satisfactory manner and secrecy and simplicity obtained. But after all, improvement can be made, and sooner or later, the voting machine will doubtless come into general use. It has been adopted in certain places in the United States, and, wherever it has been employed, it has given the greatest satisfaction. It is reported that the "Standard" machine was extensively used in the presidential election and gave general satisfaction. It is stated that in Buffalo, but very slight delays were caused, but those were solely due to a failure to set up the machines properly and not to any fault in construction. Both parties were delighted with the way the machines worked, as was the case last year. The speed and ease with which the voting was conducted, and the accuracy of the count were favorably commented upon by all. Not in a single district was there any question as to the correctness of the count, and the returns were brought to the centre of the city and tabulated in a very short time. The superiority of the machine over the slow ballot system is very marked, and as it has been brought to a state of almost perfection, there can be no doubt that its use will become general in the future. It is time that a movement in the direction of obtaining machines in municipalities should be made and experiments might be tried in municipal elections by way of making a start. Fraudulent voting, ballot stuffing or anything irregular is rendered impossible by the machine.

UNFAIR TO THE CITY ENGINEER.

The Banner-News has been seized with a fit of hysteria over a bill for extras from the contractors for the King street pavement. Without waiting for the bill to be passed upon or to see how much of it the city is really liable for, it proceeds to belabor the city engineer with a rant that seems quite unnecessary. There never was a work of any magnitude yet which didn't involve extras. The architect for the Toronto parliament buildings, who had agreed to draw the plans and superintend the work for a certain percentage, actually had a bill for extras of $36,000. Of this amount the Government, we believe, allowed him about $8,000. When architects' extras will run up in this way, it can easily be judged how the contractors can figure their additions. The Banner-News might have waited before jumping on the city engineer and found out what extras were allowed, if the changes were necessary and if by any human foresight, outside of the Banner-News office, they could have been avoided. Mr. Shackleton may have made mistakes in his engineering work, but taken all in all the city has got a better return and better work from him than during any previous period, even when paying much more highly for such services. We don't believe in this practice of newspapers jumping on city officials in season and out. It is very cheap and calculated to secure good service and efficiency from the officials, who cannot be expected to put forth their best efforts while being continually hounded.

HOW JUDGES DIFFER.

The last judgment in the damage suit of Atkinson vs. the city, develops a peculiar condition of judicial lore, as we have it in Canada. (We have no fault to find with this decision any more than with the previous ones, but let us consider them all three together.)

There were three parties interested in this suit, the plaintiffs, Messrs. Stevens and Atkinson, who suffered injury through a telephone pole standing on the street; the city of Chatham, who owned the roadway and permitted the pole to be placed there, and the Bell Telephone Co., who owned the pole and put it in position.

The first learned court found that Messrs. Stevens and Atkinson were entitled to damages and that the city alone was responsible because it had directed where the pole should go. The second learned court, the court of Appeal, also found that the plaintiffs were entitled to damages, but saddled them on the Bell Telephone Company.

Then the third learned court, the Supreme Court at Ottawa, found altogether differently, and gave judgment against the plaintiffs and in favor of the city and Bell Telephone Co.

Thus we have the spectacle, on the same law and the same facts, of one court finding against the city, another against the Bell Telephone Company, and the third against the plaintiffs.

Now, how is the ordinary layman to view all this? Is he to assume that the bench of this country has been filled up with such a lot of dub law, that no two or three can extract the real intention or sense from a provincial statute? Or are we to conclude that the Ross government has such a bungled lot of statutes that

"Example is Better Than Precept."

It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. Thousands of testimonials are examples of what Hood's has done for others, and what it will do for you.

Dyspepsia. "I was weak and had fainting spells. Dyspepsia and indigestion in severe form troubled me. Five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made me well and strong." Mrs. WILLIAM VAN ALKENBURG, Whitby, Ont.

A Good Medicine. "We have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family as a spring medicine and used Hood's Pills for biliousness and found both medicines very effective. For impure blood we know Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good medicine." R. S. PRINCE, publisher Bee, Atwood, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ill, the most-raging and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The judges cannot make head or tail of them.

In this case we are inclined to think the fault probably lies with the statutes. Judge Macdougall, of Toronto, on one occasion decided to decide a case under a Hardy-Ross statute, because, he said, nobody could tell what it meant or was intended to mean.

If the statutes of the Province were stripped of half their legal verbiage judges and all the rest of us could tell what they meant. People who had just claims under them would know it. Litigation would be avoided and appeals would be unnecessary. But the shape these statutes are in now is only conducive to expensive lawsuits and manifold and wonderful interpretations by the courts.

UNCLE SAM'S INDIANS.

The total expenditure by the U.S. government on account of the Indian service from March 4, 1789, up to and including July 30, 1900, has been $368,358,217, according to the annual report of Commissioner of Indian Affairs, W. A. Jones. The expenditures for the fiscal year ended last July amounted to $10,775,107. The Indian population of the United States is about 267,000, of which 45,270 receive a daily ration. Altogether there are 57,570 Indians receiving subsistence in some degree exclusive of Indian children in boarding schools. Annuities distributed last year aggregated $1,597,543, the per capita ranging from $255 down to 50 cents. The report says that large money payments to the Indians are demoralizing in the extreme. They degrade the Indians and corrupt the whites; they induce pauperism and scandal and crime; nullify all the good effects of years of labor.

NICE BABY

All babies are "nice," to their mothers.

We all love children. Great big men, with hard hands, have soft hearts for helpless new-comers to earth with the smile of heaven fresh on their innocent faces. No man is too high or low, too proud or humble, too busy or idle, too good or bad, too great or small—except a few very small mean men—to throw up their hats at the sight of a plump little cherub; or to pity a thin one.

Plumpness and thinness are accidents. Nature is bountiful; parents want to be. Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil corrects their mistakes.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

The Liberal candidate is probably elected in Algoma by 300 or 400 majority. Last election he had something over 1800. This is only another illustration going to show how Ontario is taking the bit in her teeth!

The defence in that Peterson, N. J., murder case, in which four young men drugged a girl to death, is to be insanity. The verdict will enlighten us as to whether it is the prisoners or the jury who are off their mental equilibrium.

About three-fourths of the electors of Ontario, who voted, voted to turn the Laurier Government out. They were baulked in their laudable intent but baulking them won't make them any the less anxious to vote against Hon. G. W. Ross, who will be the next to run up against the electorate.

Our friend the B-News will pardon us if we suggest its ravings about the King street extras may have been inspired. Extras or no extras, the board of works and the engineer deserve every credit in the matter. The article in the B-N has every appearance of a covert attack on Ald. McKeough, the chairman of the board of works.

The clock which is being placed in the tower of the new Toronto city hall will be the largest in Canada. It will have four 30-foot dials, eighteen inches less in diameter than the clock on the Parliament building in London, England. The striking apparatus includes three bells of different sizes and tones, which will be heard for a great distance. The largest bell weighs six English tons, or 14,000 pounds. The dials will be covered with glass half an inch thick and will be lighted with a powerful electric light.

The Presses, the leading French-Canadian paper, editorially pays a tribute to Sir Charles Tupper. After reviewing his public career and eulogizing his indomitable energy and pluck in face of defeat, and expressing regret at his retirement, the Presses says: "He has always been exceedingly favorable to the French-Canadians, whom he has always treated with justice, liberality, and generosity. The absence on his part of all national and religious prejudice, which generally has such a hold on public men, is one of the greatest traits of his character." A tribute like this is refreshing after reading some of La Solle's and Les Debats' race and creed articles.

THE PRICE OF VOTES.

Citizen and Country.

One of the most needful organizations in Elgin, Huron, Ontario, and the other corrupt counties is a "Voters' Union" to fix the price of votes. At present the prices run from a glass of beer to a five-thousand-dollar-a-year job, the average being about $25.

LAURIER THE RACE SHOUTER.

London Free Press.
The Ottawa Journal (thinks that Conservatives should taboo all reference to race and religion in election matters). Does the Journal read its exchanges? It would bother it to find in any Conservative paper the faintest trace of opposition to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the ground of his race and religion, and equally it would be bothersome to find a speech of his in which he did not speak of both.

THE TROTTERING CIRCUIT.

Nellie Rooker, 2:10½, has been sold to a Canadian horseman. Directum, 2:05½, still holds the race record for trotting stallions.

Dreamer's heat in 2:14½ at Readville is the best this year by a 3-year-old trotter.

Jim Lawrence, 2:20½, at Bowling Green, Ky., is a new trotter for King Albert, 2:21½.

The French administration of the Harns entered seven trotting stallions at the exposition horse show.

When Paul Revere scored 2:07½, he came dangerously near the record for 4-year-old pacing geldings, the 2:07 of W. Wood.

The bay mare Alice, that won the 2:30 trot at Windsor, Ont., Aug. 14 and took a record of 2:25½, is said to be Susie G, 2:11½.

Free Bond, 2:04½, showed a half in 1:00¼ at New York, to a wagon, and was sold for $8,000 to C. K. G. Billings of Chicago.

The pacing stallion Rainbow, owned by Allen Pence of Trinidad, Colo., won the 2:30 pace Sept. 7 at Rocky Ford, Colo., and took a record of 2:25.

Millard Sanders has driven three trotting mares into the 2:15 list in California this season—Dolly D, 2:11½; Bon Saline, 2:14½, and Janice, 2:13½.

Cardington Girl, 2:20¼, at Le Roy, Ill., Aug. 22, is the thirteenth trotter for Bartholomew Wilkes and next to Billy Mack, 2:19½, is his fastest performer.

Coney, 2:02½, driven by McHenry, equaled the world's pacing wagon record of 2:03½, held by Bumps, which makes him the champion hobbled pacer to wagon.

Sphinx is credited with nine new performers this year, which places him at the head of speed contributors for 1900 to date. Recent additions to his list are Myra W, p. 2:24½, and Master Sphinx, 2:29½.

A Clergyman's Testimony.

Powley's Liquefied Ozone Saves the Life of the Rev. William Fawcett, D.D.

REV. DR. FAWCETT SAYS: "I feel to-day that I owe my life to Ozone."

I have used Ozone for stomach trouble and found it an excellent medicine for this weakness. I feel to-day that I owe my life to its being brought to my notice. I believe you have an excellent family remedy and wish you every success.

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) WM. FAWCETT, D.D.
103 Hazelton avenue,
Toronto.

The Rev. Wm. Fawcett, D.D., is one of the most brilliant sons of whom Canada can boast. The son of the late Rev. Michael Fawcett, one of the pioneer clergymen of Canada, he early distinguished himself in his calling. To-day Dr. Fawcett is pastor of one of the largest churches in Chicago.

Some time ago the reverend gentleman was suffering so severely from stomach disorder that he had to resign his pastorate. After a vain attempt to find health in the leading cities of the United States, after spending money lavishly for the best advice of dietetic specialists, after travelling half the world over to take in the noted health resorts, he came back to his father's house, 103 Hazelton avenue, Toronto, to die. But it was not yet his time. He had heard about Powley's Liquefied Ozone, and began taking it. In a few months he had recovered perfect health and resumed his duties in Chicago. Now he permits his testimonial to be published, that it may do good to those who may be suffering.

Powley's Liquefied Ozone kills the germs of disease and supplies the blood with the oxygen which forms the red corpuscles of health. A great many people are unhealthy because their lungs do not extract the oxygen from the air they breathe. Now, Powley's Liquefied Ozone, being liquid oxygen, supplies them with this principle, and makes them strong. Ozone is the new method of treating disease. The instant success it has attained stamps it at once as a preparation altogether different from any ever before placed at your disposal. Ozone is not a patent medicine. The prominent clergymen and citizens of Canada who have been cured by it of long-standing diseases do not lend their names to quack nostrums. You do well to consult them and satisfy yourself as to its very great value.

Powley's Liquefied Ozone is $1.00 large size bottle; 50c small size. At druggists, or from the laboratories of THE OZONE COMPANY, OF TORONTO, Limited, 48 Colborne Street, Toronto.

EVENING CLASSES AT

The Canada Business College—Opening Monday, Nov. 19th.

It is a number of years since we have conducted an evening class, but there have been so many urgent requests of late from those who are anxious to have the instruction but cannot attend during the day, that we have decided to meet the wants of such and will open classes in Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Typewriting, Penmanship, and Arithmetic. Classes will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of each week. For particulars regarding terms, etc., call at the College Office, any time between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. For those whose occupation will prevent them from calling between said hours the office will be open from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. on each evening of the week, excepting Sunday, until the 19th inst.

Your Nerves.

It's the Condition of Your Nerves That Either Makes Your Life a Round of Pleasure or a Useless Burden.

To many women life is one round of sickness, weakness and ill health. To attempt even the lightest household duties fatigues them. Many of the symptoms accompanying this state of decline are: a feeling of tiredness, waking, faintness, dizziness, sinking feeling, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, loss of appetite, cold hands and feet, headache, dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back and side and all other accompaniments of a run down and weakened constitution.

All these symptoms and conditions are simply the result of a poor quality of blood, with a defective circulation of the blood, with a wasting away of the nerve forces.

By feeding the system with

Dr. Ward's BLOOD AND NERVE PILLS.

You strike at the root of the disease and lay a solid foundation on which to build. Soon the weight increases, the sunken cheeks and flattened bust fill out, the eyes get bright and the thrill of renewed health and strength vibrates through the system.

HE DECEIVED HER

And the Young Woman Attempted Suicide.

Doctors Saved Her Life and the Young Couple Were Then Married.

New York, Nov. 14.—Miss Adele Cram, of Crownfield, Mass., who tried to commit suicide in this city some time ago, because she believed her lover to be dead, left Bellevue Hospital yesterday, and was married to Bonford Boniface, of love of whom she tried to end her life. Miss Cram came here from Springfield in the middle of October to find work. When she returned home later she told her aunt, with whom she lived, that she had met a handsome young man in Central Park, who wanted to marry her, and he is a young lawyer named Bennett, and very handsome, she said. Soon after she heard that Bennett was to undergo an operation, and then she received a letter, purporting to come from his friend, saying he was dead. She came to New York, and tried to find Bennett's home to attend the funeral. She had no trace, whatever of him, and on Oct. 31 she was found overcome by gas in a room of the Grand Union Hotel, where she had registered under her own name the night before. Bennett was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where the doctors, by hard work, helped her back to good health. While she was in the hospital it came out that the man who had given the name of Bennett was Bonford Boniface, and that he had sent her notice of his death to avoid a marriage that was objectionable to his mother. He went to Bellevue and expressed his willingness to marry Miss Cram, and yesterday's wedding was the result. Before the ceremony the girl was taken prisoner to the police court, where she was arraigned on a charge of attempting suicide. The charge was not pressed.

Lord Roslyn Apologizes For Saying British Officers Showed Cowardice.

London, Nov. 14.—Lord Roberts, in response to an inquiry from the Prince of Wales, has telegraphed, authorizing a denial of the charges of cowardice made in Lord Roslyn's book against British officers in the Sannas Post affair. Lord Roslyn, in view of Lord Roberts' denial, has written to the Prince of Wales, regretting that he was misinformed and tendering an apology in the following language:—"I owe to the regiments whose honor my publication of a groundless report has called in question, the deepest apology and the fullest reparation. I offer it to you, sir, as colonel-in-chief; I offer it to the colonels of the various regiments; I offer it to every officer, non-commissioned officer and man, and I sincerely trust that this unqualified apology will be accepted in the spirit in which it is offered."

JUST TO ANNOY THEM

The Boers Keep Up Their Attack On the British.

London, Nov. 14.—Under date of Johannesburg, Nov. 12, Lord Roberts telegraphs to the War Office as follows:—"Rundel reports skirmishes with small parties of Boers in the Hartbeespoort and Vryburg districts recently. The commandos appear to be acting independently, and with no object, except to give as much annoyance as possible to the British. Our casualties in these skirmishes were two killed and seven wounded."

"Douglas arrived at Venterdorp Nov. 11 from Zeirust, capturing during the march twenty-one prisoners and a quantity of cattle and sheep. Venterdorp, which has been a depot of supplies for the Boers, will now be cleared out."

Lord Roberts also telegraphs the War Office that General Smith-Dorrien reports that some Canadian wounded who fell into the hands of the Boers were subsequently returned in British ambulances to Belfast. They speak highly of the kind treatment they received from the hands of the Boers.

RUSSIAN BARBARITY.

Chinese Were Drowned Wholesale—A River Blocked with Their Corpses.

London, November 14.—The Globe publishes a letter from a Belgian gentleman who has been travelling to Peking, via the Trans-Siberian Railroad. He describes, under date of September 6, what he saw in the Amur River. His account surpasses in horror those previously published. "The scenes I have witnessed during the three days since the steamer left Blagoveshensk," he says, "are horrible beyond the powers of description. It is the closing tableau of a fearful human tragedy. Two thousand were deliberately drowned at Moro, two thousand at Rabe and eight thousand around Blagoveshensk, a total of 12,000 corpses, encumbering the river, among which were bodies of women and children.

Last week a boat had to plough her way through a tangled mass of bodies of corpses, washed together by their long hair. The banks were literally covered with corpses. In the curves of the stream were dark, putrid, swelling masses of human flesh and bone, surging and swaying in the steamer's wake and wash. The captain, vainly ordered full speed ahead. The slight puff of steam will be ever with us. From Blagoveshensk to Aigun, 45 kilometers, numerous villages studded the bank, with a thriving industrial population of over 100,000. That of Aigun was 20,000. No one will ever know the number of those who perished by shot, sword and stream. Not a village is left. The silence of death was around us. The smoking ruins of Aigun on the right, with broken down, crumbling walls and shattered, roofless houses.

DOVER CENTRE SCHOOL CONCERT.

Friday evening the school-house of S.S. No. 11, Dover, was crowded to the doors, the occasion being the concert in aid of the new school library. The magnificent school room has been temporarily transformed into an opera house by the erection of a fine stage, with a drop curtain, behind which a banner displayed the motto, "Welcome," in huge letters, whilst the whole room was tastefully decorated with pictures of the Queen and leading statesmen, and draped with flags. With the exception of Chairman Binnie's humorous address, the first part of the program was carried out entirely by the school children, and reflects great credit on them. The recitations by two clever young artists, Masters M. Wemp and D. Binnie, and the flag drill, are worthy of special mention. The second part of the program consisted of an address by R. Park, J. P. S.; vocal solo by W. H. Brackin, assisted by Miss Mary Watkins; and recitations by J. C. Stewart; all of which were well received. The unqualified success of the entertainment reflects the greatest credit upon Gordon Stewart, the energetic and popular teacher of S.S. No. 11.

Lasts a Lifetime.

That is just what they say of Vapo-Cresolene. The vaporizer is practically indestructible, and the Cresolene is certainly not expensive. This way of treating affections of the throat is most economical, and is also most effective. Our little picture illustrates how it's used. You put some Cresolene in the vaporizer, light lamp beneath, and then breathe-in the soothing, healing vapor. For whooping-cough and croup it's a perfect specific. Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. Vapo-Cresolene, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50. Extra supply of Cresolene 50 cents and 100 cents. Illustrated booklet containing testimonials free upon request. Write to Geo. W. Fulton & Co., Central Drug Store, Chatham.

LEONIDS TO-NIGHT

Star Showers Are Expected to be Visible After Absence of Thirty-Three Years.

When the Last View of Them Was Recorded Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Meteors Were Counted in Boston.

N. Y. Herald.

If the sky is clear New Yorkers will be treated to a novel and beautiful display of shooting stars, on Wednesday or Thursday night. Notwithstanding the disappointment of last November, astronomers expect a brilliant shower of Leonids or meteors this week. They will be visible over the most of the United States.

This display is looked for on account of the meeting of the earth and a tremendous cluster of passing meteors. These are called Leonids because they appear to radiate from the constellation Leo.

In its passage around the sun the earth crosses the orbit or path of several clusters of meteors. On November 13 each year it crosses the path of one of these shooting stars and these are seen each time, but these are only meteors that have strayed from the main body.

The "year of the meteoric ring," as the thick cluster is called, is only met three times in a century.

GREAT DISTANCE IS TRAVELLED.

So great is the distance travelled by the Leonids that, although they move at the rate of nearly a hundred thousand miles an hour, it is estimated that it takes them thirty-three and a quarter years to complete a circuit around the sun. They are visible to us only when they enter the earth's atmosphere.

Meteors are believed to be remnants of comets. Leonids are thought to be the disintegrated parts of Tempel's comet, which, though broken into small pieces, from the head of the sun, continue in the former path.

During their passage, these particles are "perturbed" in their course and scattered somewhat. That is, the different planets attract the pieces nearest them, draw them slightly away from the others and retard them. Each pebble or meteor becomes separated and pursues an independent course around the sun, but is submissive to the attraction which controls them.

On account of the influence exerted on the Leonids by the planets and the scarcity of them last November, some well-known astronomers are inclined to think that the main cluster has been broken up or deflected from its course, as this comet apparently was. However, they are making preparations to take observations this week.

The "perturbation" is also the cause of the uncertainty as to the exact date of the shower. Without outside disturbance they would be expected on the nights of November 13 and 14. However, it is estimated that the time of their arrival has been delayed two days during the last century by these causes.

GREATEST AT MIDNIGHT THURSDAY.

Professor Young, of Princeton, said last night that November 13 and 14 were at least one day wrong. The shower should therefore be greatest immediately after midnight Thursday. The advance guard should reach here Wednesday night.

This will make the thirtieth visit of the Leonids since their discovery by the Moors in 902. That year has since been commemorated as the "year of stars." The first display noted as visible in the United States was in 1833.

Great terror was caused among the ignorant, and in the South the negroes were thrown into a panic of fear which lasted for several days.

BOSTON COUNTED 250,000.

An observer there said that he "never saw snowflakes thicker in a storm than were the meteors in the sky." Two hundred and fifty thousand meteors were counted in one night at Boston. In 1866 there was a brilliant display, visible chiefly in Europe and Asia. The following year, however, the shower was not seen in the United States. That was thirty-three years ago, the time taken by the Leonids to complete their passage.

This stream of meteors is many millions of miles long, and more than one hundred thousand miles thick. It takes the Leonids two years to pass the earth, although their velocity added to that of the earth, which is moving in an opposite direction, is more than one hundred and fifty thousand miles an hour.

In order to obtain a good view of the display on Wednesday and Thursday nights an unobstructed sight of the eastern skies must be obtained. These meteors radiate from the sickle-shaped group of stars in the constellation Leo. That constellation rises somewhat to the north of east, just before midnight. It will be useless to look for Leonids before that time, as all will be below the horizon.

The shower should last for five hours. Leonids can be distinguished from other meteors from the fact that all of them will seem to start from the constellation Leo. They are of a greenish blue, with vivid, long trains.

Unfortunately the moon will be very near Leo during the nights of the probable shower. This will dim the brilliancy of the meteors, but, if the weather is good, and the astronomers are correct in their calculations, a close watch will be rewarded by the sight of a rare event.

WILL IT BECOME POPULAR.

How Do You Like This New Fad?

Vegetarians, anti-coffee drinkers and food chanks of every description, must now take a back seat, for a new fad has been formed. A society has recently been formed, the members of which pledge themselves to eat no food whatever that has been cooked. They claim that uncooked food is the only rational and healthful diet; that our remote ancestors ate no cooked food and therefore if we do the same vigor and health will be our reward.

Raw meat, raw potatoes, raw wheat, raw eggs, raw everything, is the enticing bill of fare held out to the enthusiastic food chank of the future and the society proposed to establish restaurants in the larger cities, where this delightful menu may be served daily.

Modern cooking is often a dyspepsia producer, because we fry so many foods which should be baked, roasted, broiled, or boiled; fried food is indigestible because each particle of food is incased in hot grease which the digestive juices of the stomach cannot easily penetrate; but properly cooked food is more easily digested than the same food uncooked, and we predict for the new food—a very limited following.

The real cause of indigestion is the lack of hydrochloric acid and pepsines in the stomach, so that no matter how well cooked the food, it can not be well digested unless the gastric juice is abundant and contains the necessary amount of pepsines to dissolve the food. Therefore the most sensible cure for poor digestion is to take after each meal some safe and reliable digestive like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which supply pepsines to digest the meat and eggs and diastase to digest the bread, potatoes, and similar starchy foods.

Laxative medicines never cure indigestion because they have no digestive effect whatever upon the food; on the other hand, if the food is properly digested there will be no need of laxatives; good digestion does away with constipation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain pure, aseptic pepsin (government test) diastase and the digestive elements which weak stomachs lack and they cure indigestion by assisting the overworked, run-down stomach in its hard work, until it is restored to its normal condition, when the tablets are no longer needed, but there are thousands of robust men and women who never eat a meal without taking one or two of Stuart's Tablets, because by so doing they can eat what they please and be free from any bad after effects.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by everywhere in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

THIS ROBBER STRUCK

The Wrong Station Master and Got Himself Killed.

New London, Conn., Nov. 14.—An unknown man was shot and instantly killed last night while rifling the money drawer of Gates Ferry station, of the Norwich & Worcester railroad, which is just across the river from here. The station master, George Brooks, found a man standing in front of the open money drawer. The station agent, levelled a gun at him, and ordered him to surrender. He refused and threatened, according to the station agent's story, to shoot. The station master then killed him.

THE CHURCH WINS.

Court of Appeal Declines to Interfere With Methodist Discipline.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The court of appeal yesterday dismissed the appeal of Rev. J. C. Ash in his suit against the Methodist church. The Bay of Quinte Conference has refused to give Mr. Ash a charge, and this incidentally deprived him of his right to participate in the superannuation fund. The case has gone through all the church and city courts, and the court of appeal now refuses to interfere with the discipline of the church.

The Face Behind the Mask.

affected an entrance. They were in the vault he knew by the darkness, though they had descended no stairs, and he was just wondering if their guide was not meditating some treachery by such a circuitous route, when suddenly a tumult of voices, and uproar, and confusion, met his ear. At the same instant their guide opened a door, revealing a dark passage, illuminated by a few rays of light, and which Sir Norman instantly recognized as that leading to the Black Chamber. Here again the duke paused, and turned round to them with a wild imploring face.

"Gentlemen, I do beseech you to let me enter before you do. I tell you they will murder me the very instant they discover I have led you here."

"That would be a great pity," said the count, "and the gallows will be cheated of one of its brightest ornaments. That is your den, of thieves, I suppose, from which all this uproar comes?"

"It is. And as I have guided you safely to it, surely I deserve this trailing rope," said the duke, who interposed Sir Norman, "to let you make your escape, as you most assuredly will do the moment you are out of our sight. No, no; we are too old birds to be caught by such craft, and though the informer always gets off scot-free, your services deserve no such boon, for we could have found our way without your help. On with you, Sir Norman, and if your companions do kill you, console yourself with the thought that they have only anticipated the executioner by a few days."

With a perfectly heartrending groan the unfortunate duke walked on; but when they reached the archway directly before the room, he came to an obstinate halt, and positively refused to go a step farther. It was death, courage or despair, feeling as he might as well die there as go in and be assassinated by his confederates, and not even the persuasive influence of Hubert's dagger could prevail on him to budge an inch further.

"Delay, then!" said the count, with perfect indifference. "And, soldiers, see that he does not escape. Now, Kingsley, let us have a glimpse of what is going on within."

Though the party had made considerable noise in advancing, and had spoken quite loudly in their little animated discussion with the duke, so great was the turmoil and confusion within, that it was not heeded or even heard. With very different feelings from those with which he had stood there last, Sir Norman stepped forward and stood beside the count, looking at the scene within. The crimson curtain was in a state of "most admirable disorder," and the confusion of tongues was equal to Babel. No longer were they languidly promenading or idling in the cushioned chairs, but seemed running to and fro in the wildest excitement, which the grandest duke among them seemed to share equally with the terrified white sylphs. Everybody appeared to be talking to everybody, and paying no attention whatever to the sentiments of their neighbors. One universal centre of union alone seemed to exist, and that was the green, judicial table near the throne, upon which, while all tongues ran, all eyes turned. For some minutes neither of the beholders could make out why, owing to the crowd (principally of the ladies) pressing around it. But Sir Norman guessed, and thrilled through with a vague sensation of terror, lest it should prove to be the dead body of Miranda. Skipping in and out among the females he saw the dwarf, performing his part of waltz-dance, rage and frenzy, twining both hands in his wig, as if he would have torn it out by the roots, and anon tearing at somebody else's wig, so that everybody backed off when he came near them.

"Who is that little fend?" inquired the count, "and what have they got there at the end of the room, pray?"

"That little fend is the ringleader here, and is entitled Prince Caliban. Regarding your other question," said Sir Norman, with a faint thrill, "there was a table there when I saw it last, but I am afraid there is something worse now."

"Could ever any mortal conceive of such a scene?" observed the count to himself, "look at that little picture of ugliness; how he hops about like a dropsical bullfrog. Some of the women are very pretty, too, and shine more than our court beauty that I have seen. Upon my word, it is the most extraordinary spectacle I ever heard of. I wonder what they've got that's so attractive down there?"

At the same moment, a loud voice within the circle abruptly exclaimed: "She revives! She revives! Back! Back, and give her air!"

Instantly the throng swayed and fell back, and the dwarf, with a sort of yell, whether of rage or relief nobody knew, swept them from side to side with a wave of his long arms, and cleared a wide vacancy for his own especial benefit. The action gave the count an opportunity of gratifying his curiosity. The object of attraction was now plainly visible. Sir Norman's surmises had been correct. The green table of the parliament house of the Midnight Court had been converted, by the aid of cushions and pillows, into an extemporized couch; and half buried in its downy depths lay Miranda, the Queen. The sleeping robe of royal purple, trimmed with ermine, the circlets of jewels on arms, bosom and head, she still wore, and the beautiful face was whiter than fallen snow. Yet she was not dead as Sir Norman had dreaded; for the dark eyes were open, and were fixed with an unutterable depth of melancholy on vacancy. Her arms lay helplessly by her side, and someone, the court physician probably, was bending over her and feeling her pulse.

As the count's eyes fell upon her, he started back, and grasped Sir Norman's arms with consternation.

"Good heavens, Kingsley," he cried, "it is Leoline herself!"

In his excitement he had spoken so loud, that, in the momentary silence that followed, the physician's directions his voice had rung through the room, and drew every eye upon them.

"We are seen; we are seen!" shouted Hubert, and as he spoke a terrible cry filled the room. In an instant every sword leaped from its scabbard, and the shrieks of the startled women rang appallingly out on the air. Sir Norman drew his sword, too; but the count, with his eyes fixed on Miranda, still held him by the arm and excitedly exclaimed:

"Tell me, tell me, is it Leoline?"

"Leoline! No—how could it be Leoline? They look alike, that all, draw your sword, count, and defend yourself; we are discovered, and they are upon us."

"We are upon them, you mean, and it is in one tremendous kiss!" said Leoline. They took alike, that all, draw your sword, count, and defend yourself; we are discovered, and they are upon us."

"Kissed Him Out."

Mr. C. W. Haskins tells a good story of sauerkraut. In one of the mining districts near Sacramento a stockkeeper received a barrel of provisions which seemed to be spoiled to judge by the smell. Instead of throwing it away, he thrust it into one corner of a shed, where waste and rubbish were piled upon it.

One day a burly, dust covered Dutchman entered the store.

"I want the same dot," pointing toward the shed.

"What is dot?" inquired the storekeeper.

"It shows you," said the miner. "You must kiss me dot." And to the shed they went, where, pointing to the rubbish heap, the Dutchman explained, "Some of dot in dere was rat I want."

Boxes and barrels were removed, and the condemned barrel was exposed. But when the miner eagerly pointed to it the trader told him it was spoiled meat, not fit to eat.

"I know better as dot," said the Dutchman. "You bust him in and I shows you."

An ax was brought and the barrel "busted in," when, instead of spoiled meat, there was revealed some good, old fashioned sauerkraut, made in Holland and shipped around Cape Horn.

"I know it," said the delighted miner. "I nose him out!"

The sauerkraut sold readily at a dollar a pound and was in great demand. The Dutch miners heard of it and walked 10 and 15 miles to get a taste of the dainty.

A Slave's Cargo.

From the time we first got on board the slave, says J. Taylor Wood in The Atlantic, had we heard moans, cries and rumblings coming from below, and as soon as the captain and crew were removed the batches had been taken off, when there arose a hot blast as from a channel house, sickening and overpowering. In the hold were 300 human beings, gasping, struggling for breath, dying, their bodies, limbs and faces all expressing terrible suffering. In their agonizing fight for life some had torn or wounded themselves or their neighbors; some were stiffened in the most unnatural positions.

As soon as I knew the condition of things I sent the boat back for the doctor and some whiskey. He returned, bringing also the captain, and for an hour or more we were all hard at work lifting and helping the poor creatures on deck, where they were laid out in rows. A little water and stimulants revived most of them. Some, however, were dead or too far gone to be revived.

The doctor worked earnestly over each one, but 17 were beyond human skill. As fast as his pronounced them dead they were quickly dropped overboard.

The "King of Rome."

What became of Napoleon's son is a question often asked, as the little mention of his name in history of the young prince, the desire of his father's life, who was born March 20, 1817, and great rejoicing in Paris and called as the "king of Rome." In January, 1844, Napoleon embraced his wife and child for the last time, and this really ended the reign of the little king, who never saw his kingdom. He was reared in the Austrian court under the name of Duke of Reichstadt and grew to be a handsome young fellow and quite a brilliant scholar. He had one short year of military life and then contracted pulmonary disease, from which he died in his twenty-second year. He worshipped the memory of his father and always spent the anniversary of his death, July 22, in his own rooms. He is buried in the Carthusian monastery of Vienna, which is the Austrian Westminster abbey.

How Masks Are Made.

Paper masks are made by doubling one sheet of a specially prepared paper, wetting it and molding it by hand over a face form. It is then dried by artificial heat. Openings are cut for eyes, nose and mouth, and it is painted and decorated by hand as desired.

Wire masks are made by stamping a piece of wire netting about a foot square over a face mold in a large machine, inclosing the rough wire edges in a narrow strip of lead. Then it is painted. The painting is done by hand in oil colors.

Must Discriminate.

"For mercy's sake, Mildred," exclaimed Mrs. Hichmore, shocked at the negligee attire of her youngest daughter, who had gone to the front door to look at a fire on the other side of the street. "Don't you know you never ought to appear in public with your collar unbuttoned, and your sleeves rolled up except when you are playing golf?"

Table Talk.

"They say the er-late departed," said the first cannibal, indicating the dish before them, "was a very learned man."

"Indeed?" replied the other, helping himself for the third time. "Then this is truly what the white men call an 'intellectual feast.'"

Where Changes Are Rapid.

The South American stretched himself, yawned and sat up.

"Well, how goes the government?" asked the visitor who had just entered.

"How do I know?" was the answering question. "I've been asleep for over an hour."

Very fine razors are made at the present day, but of no finer steel than that contained in the Damascus swords and knives which the ancients used several thousand years ago.

You can expect a shower at Panama about 3 o'clock every afternoon during the rainy season.

Varicocele and Stricture.

VARICOCELE—If you are tired of being experimented upon, you will find our Latest Method Treatment is a guaranteed cure for varicocele without use of knife or loss of time. It absorbs the wormy condition, restores the parts, thereby bringing back lost power. If you take our treatment, you pay when cured.

STRICTURE—Thousands of you have stricture and do not know it. If you have been indiscreet, or improperly treated, or notice a smarting sensation, unnatural discharge, weak organs, or back, nervous debility, or if you are not the man you should be, it may be the cause of stricture. If you are in doubt, call and see us, as we will examine you free of charge; our Latest Method Treatment absorbs the stricture, thereby making cutting or stretching unnecessary, and you pay when cured.

Kidneys and Bladder.

Don't neglect these important organs, as you will regret it. Have you a dull feeling or pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, deposits in urine? Our Latest Method Treatment is a guaranteed cure for such conditions.

The original sworn affidavits of request of patients we publish only the initials. For any we cannot show at request of patients we publish only the initials.

Your Latest Method Treatment acted the way you said it would: stricture is cured, and the varicocele entirely disappeared, and I feel stronger than ever; my bladder and kidneys do me trouble no more. I can stoop all day, do a hard day's work without my kidneys troubling me as before I took your Latest Method Treatment; it has cured me after others have failed; if I had consulted you sooner, I would have saved a great deal of money which I wasted on other doctors. I am your grateful patient.

Dr. Goldberg has 150 DIPLOMAS certificates and licenses received from the various colleges, hospitals and states which testify to his standing and abilities.

Pay when cured. Cures guaranteed.

COWARDLY SAILORS. TELEGRAPH NEWS.

They May be Indicted for Manslaughter at Havana.

Havana, Nov. 14.—A city scavenger crew was wrecked off Cabañas and four Cubans were drowned.

The captain and engineer of the tugboat Teresa, both Spaniards, have been arrested on the charge of inefficiency, neglect and cowardice, and Capt. Young, captain of the port, has asked that they be indicted for manslaughter.

The Teresa had two scows in tow. One of them, with 15 men on board, parted her bow. The other was towed into Havana by the Teresa. When Capt. Young was informed from Morro that the other scow was in a dangerous position he ordered the Teresa to go out. The sea was heavy. The Teresa started, but turned back. Capt. Young, in an open launch, then went to the rescue, but was nearly swamped off Morro. The scow went on the rocks. Lieut. Falk and Lieut. Gill, with soldiers of the 2nd artillery, saved 11 men.

THE FIELD TRIALS

Unfavorable Weather Caused an Early Adjournment Yesterday.

Sketch of the Work Done and Possibilities of the Dogs—Two Chatham Canines in the Second Series.

Special to The Planet.

Mitchell's Bay, Nov. 13, 7 p.m.—The Derby in connection with the International Field Trials was in part run to-day, the weather being so unfavorable as to necessitate postponement at 3 p.m.

The drawing, as was agreed at last evening's meeting, took place this morning, there being eight entries filling for the finals. The order of running resulted in the following:—

A—Tony Boy's Daisy, E. Shelly owner, vs. Lady Dot, J. Kime owner.
B—Lord Jingo, Marcon & Morton, vs. Nell's Dash, J. Mills.
C—Selkirk Hope, W. B. Wells, vs. Hidden Mystery, Graydon.
D—Top Gallant, Graydon, vs. Count of Kent, Atkinson.

A start was made from the Rayment House at 10.45 a.m. Tony Boy's Daisy and Little Dot, handled by owners, were placed down on the bay side in a cove, both dogs ranging well and cutting out their work in fine fettle. It may be remarked that Daisy is fresh from winning laurels in the Michigan field trials. She is a small animal of the setter class, quick and active, covering the ground well. After following the course on the bay view the judges elected to cross the Winter line into what appeared to be a country well adapted to the abode of the feathered tribe.

The handlers had not proceeded more than one hundred yards before Daisy pointed a bevy, being staunch and steady to fire. The birds were again found in a neighboring bush, where honors fell largely to Daisy. "Who made a most beautiful stand at the edge of a log with head protruding over it. She is very obedient and in all made a most creditable showing. As results stand after to-day's work, she is looked upon as the winner, but still the weather was most unfavorable during the running of the last two braces, the result being a change. The second brace were then put down but were not successful in finding birds for some thirty-five minutes. Both Lord Jingo and Nell's Dash had splendid opportunities for singles and levers but were, as it were, off color in pointing. Now, Daisy in the first heat had, it must be confessed, most favorable opportunities, but she took advantage of every one of them and beside, placed indifferent opportunities on the credit side of her balance. The running of both dogs was not more than ordinary, being quite evenly balanced.

The third brace, Selkirk Hope, W. B. Wells, and Hidden Mystery, Graydon, brought forth two speedy seters, quite different in style but much alike in ranging capacity. Selkirk Hope is a medium size black and white puppy, which improved in speed and spirit as the contest progressed. Mr. Graydon's Hidden Mystery, handled by Geo. Kime, is a short, thick-set black and white setter, and is very speedy. Both dogs range well and quarter the fields very nicely.

Selkirk Hope pointed the first bevy but moved slightly on the point, the birds first being set in a manner as to influence the result to any great degree. Hidden Mystery was given a splendid opportunity for backing, but failed to take advantage of it. These birds were not followed, the judges ordering the handlers in the opposite direction. No more birds were found by the brace, and the dogs were ordered up.

By this time, during this heat the snow began to fall very fast and the birds that were found were well under cover and evidently had not been running as the work of the dogs improved.

Top Gallant and Count of Kent were placed down in the bush. Top Gallant, which he was not steady. At the end of this heat the owners of the dogs, at the judges' suggestion, approved of postponement until Wednesday morning.

A great deal of discussion by the sportsmen followed the closing of the day's work, from which The Planet gathered that Kime's Lady Dot was not given another trial. The chances of Lord Jingo and Nell's Dash are also in doubt, as the most favorable side, whether they may be put down again. The judges, it is understood, will place down to be run again as the first series, Selkirk Hope vs. Hidden Mystery and Count of Kent vs. Top Gallant.

Tony Boy's Dash is without doubt in the second series and is regarded on present showing as a winner, but to-morrow's work may make some difference, as it is pointed out that she gave the most favorable side time of the day and birds were apparently moving.

MORINEITES WIPED OUT.

Premier Bond Holds Newfoundland in the Hollow of His Hand.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 14.—Hon. A. B. Morine's discomfiture is complete. Premier Bond, with two colleagues, carries Twillingate, increasing the majority from 200 to 1,000. Morine's majority yesterday in Bonaville was reduced 1,100. The Bondites also carry Placentia by a majority of 1,300, where in the last election the Tory majority was 700. Premier Bond now has 27 seats and Morine four, and five seats have to report. Secularism completely failed to help Morine fortune and purely Protestant vote increased the majority against him sevenfold. Twillingate, under like conditions, increased fivefold.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

"My father and sister both died of Consumption," writes J. T. Weather, of Wyandotte, Mo., "and I was saved from the same frightful fate only by Dr. King's New Discovery. An attack of pneumonia left an obstinate cough and very severe lung trouble, which an excellent doctor could not help, but a few months' use of this wonderful medicine made me as well as ever and I gained much in weight. Infallible for Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung trouble. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed bottles 50c. and $1 at A. I. McCall & Co.'s Drug Store.

At noon to-day, the team attached to the milk wagon of John Terry, of Dover, was standing in front of the Maple City creamery. The horses became frightened at an incoming freight train and ran away. By the time they had reached the market time they were going at a mad gallop. At this point Will Jahne rushed out and pluckily stopped the team. It was all done in a minute but Mr. Jahne recklessly imperilled his life in stopping the frightened horses.

NORTH ESSEX ELECTIONS.

R. F. Sutherland's official majority in North Essex is given as 600. The total vote for Sutherland was 3,046 and for White 2,386, or a grand total vote of 5,432. In the McKee-Wintemute election the total vote polled was 5,214 or 218 less than at the recent election.

CELEBRATION POSTPONED.

A great celebration was to have been held this evening in honor of James Clancy at Dresden, but arrangements could not be completed in time. It has therefore been postponed, probably until Monday evening. A special train was scheduled to leave Chatham at 7.30 to-night, for Dresden, carrying a large crowd with a band. As a result of the postponement this train has been cancelled for the present.

DRESSEN.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Park St. Methodist Church was held on Monday afternoon. Treasurer reported the proceeds from the anniversary supper $128. It was moved, seconded and carried unanimously that a hearty vote of thanks be tendered those ladies and gentlemen who took part in the evening's program and made it such a success, also to Mr. Bert. Macdonald, who so kindly donated jelly for the tables, and to Mr. J. A. Wilson, who loaned the society dishes. After the business part of the meeting was over the ladies enjoyed a social cup of tea and everyone left voting the president, Mrs. Scane, "one of the best."

Nov. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hillis leave for their home in California to-morrow. On their way they will enjoy a short visit with friends in Winnipeg.

M. H. Roland, of London, was in town yesterday on business. James Bessett, Con. 33, Chatham township, died at his home Monday evening.

R. Mussen returned home from Cayuga last night. Nothing of importance was transacted at the Council last night. Osborn Neely's slaughter house took fire this morning about seven o'clock. The blaze was put out before much damage was done.
