WHO OMITTED THE OATH

Opposition Asks Question of Minister of Justice.

That Part of Election Oath Relating to Bribery Left Out of Forms at London and North Oxford—Prime Minister and Mr. Fitzpatrick Urged to Explain—Some Serious Discrepancies—In the House.

Ottawa, June 14.—While the battle of the ballots was being fought in London and North Oxford the Opposition in the Commons was showing up the unequal conditions under which the contest was being carried out. Mr. Armstrong of Lambton drew attention to the fact that the form of oath supplied to deputy returning officers in North Oxford stopped at the end of sub-section 7, omitting sections 8 and 9, anti-bribery oaths. These oaths were included in the form sent out for the general elections of 1900, but omitted in 1904, and were omitted from the form sent out for the bye-elections. The returning officer in North Oxford had drawn the attention to the Secretary of State to the matter, but received the answer that the Government could do nothing about it. Sir Wilfrid Laurier assured the House it was the first he had heard of anything of the kind.

Mr. Borden pointed out that at the last general election, when this incomplete oath was sent out, it was taken very freely on election day until certain honest deputy returning officers put the full oath. Then lots of people refused to take it. The Prime Minister and his colleagues were responsible for a violation of the law. It was a most remarkable oversight for a department of the Government to venture to prepare a document leaving out the most essential part of the oath.

Mr. Scott said that the forms were the same as used at the last two Dominion elections. "I beg my honorable friend's pardon," Mr. Borden interrupted. "I wish to correct him. It was not the form used in the election of 1900. I have that form here, and it contains the two bribery clauses, which are now omitted."

The Minister of Justice replied that the matter was a most serious one, and instead of dealing insinuations the Opposition should have the matter referred to the committee on privileges and elections where the facts could be ascertained. The Government would welcome such an investigation.

Mr. Foster wanted to know what the Minister meant by "insinuation." There were the documents which proved the case.

Mr. Fitzpatrick again declared that the form issued was the only form that could be supplied under the law.

"I am prepared to state my opinion that exactly the reverse is the case," said Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said the act provided that the deputy returning officer was obliged to administer this part of the oath from the copy of the Dominion Elections Act supplied to him.

Mr. Ingram asked why the form had been changed since 1900.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said that the oath included in the form of 1900 was an improper oath under the law. All the Federal form had to do with was the qualification of the voter.

After some further discussion the subject dropped.

G. T. P. Bill Reported.

Ottawa, June 14.—At the Railway Committee yesterday, the bill providing for the Grand Trunk and Pacific Railway Co. was considered. Mr. Chrysler explained the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said that Mr. Shepley, K. C. of Toronto, for the Government, had examined the bill to see if the mortgages agreed with the original contract. The report would be presented to Parliament. The bill was reported.

Investigating Wreck.

Windsor, June 13.—A number of Wabash and Grand Trunk railway officials met here yesterday to hold an investigation into the collision which occurred east of Chatham last week. The crews of both trains were examined and the crew of the Grand Trunk train told of the engine running into a bed of pebbles and of stopping the train after the accident. It was only a few minutes after when the Wabash train crashed into the rear of the Grand Trunk train. When the trains passed the last station west of Chatham they were ten minutes apart. After hearing the evidence the officials left the city, and will make a report to the head officials of the two roads. As there was considerable damage done to rolling stock, besides killing two valuable race horses, neither railway is very anxious to shoulder the blame for the accident.

RUNS AWAY

The Little Daughter of E. J. Willard Will Not Stay at Home—Case Being Investigated.

Police Officer Tom Groves received a telephone call to Delaware avenue last evening. The person who made the complaint said there was a little colored girl out there trying to get into some of the houses on the street and she would not give her name or say what she wanted.

Mr. Groves went out and found things as stated. He located the little girl, a barefooted little youngster, and took her to the Police Station, where she remained all night.

The little robin turns out to be the same girl that has caused considerable excitement before. Her name is Florence Willard, the nine-year-old daughter of E. J. Willard, painter. This child has a mania for running away from home and her father can do nothing with her. She has been found several times in the country and each time brought back to the city by friends. She is a bright little thing, but has never gone to school very long. She has a very wild imagination and tells some wild stories concerning herself to the people she meets. When she starts out on a tramp she begs food from the people she comes in contact with and tells everyone that she is an orphan, starving, however, to give any name.

Her father claims he can do nothing with her as she will not stay at home. Dr. R. V. Bray, executive officer for the Children's Aid Society, has been interested in the case and the little girl will be imprisoned for a week to see what can be done for her. Her father has paid a couple of women on Colborne street $2 a week to take care of her, but they also can do nothing with her.

MAPLE TREES

Chief Holmes has a few things to say in connection with the Cutting Down of Trees—Complaint Corrected.

Yesterday a resident of North Chatham called on Mayor Cowan and complained that a fine maple tree on Thames street was being cut down and wondered why the police allowed it. Chief Holmes spoke of the matter this morning, and in company with a Planet reporter visited the tree that it was supposed was being cut down.

Last Monday night, it appears, there was a runaway on Thames street. The horse attached to the meat delivery wagon belonging to Stacey the butcher made a dash down the street and when in front of Mr. Pillsworth's residence ran up on the boulevard and the hub of one of the wheels scraped against a large maple and tore off a quantity of the bark. The tree remained this way yesterday and Mr. North Chatham resident when he was walking down Thames yesterday morning looked across the street, saw the bark off the tree, and jumped to the conclusion that the tree was being cut down, so he walked over to the Mayor and made his complaint.

This is the whole case," remarked Chief Holmes, "and it just shows that people should make enquiries before they make complaints. There is no one in Chatham who likes to see good maple trees taken care of more than I do, and I would be the last person to give anyone authority to willfully destroy a tree and, moreover, if I caught any one doing anything like that without permission I would punish him to the limit."

The tree has been looked after and it is expected that it will live through the affair. Mr. Edmunds, an aged gentleman, who was driving the Stacey rig at the time, was thrown out and badly shaken up, but otherwise uninjured.

CALL OF DEATH

Another of the few remaining of the old settlers along the Thames had gone to the Great Beyond, in the person of Agnes Williams, of Raleigh township, whose death occurred on the 30th of May, at the age of 85 years. She leaves three boys, William H., on the homestead; Albert of Chicago, and Frederick, of Washington; and also two daughters, Misses Julia and Charlotte, at home.

The deceased lady was born and always resided in Raleigh. There are only three more of the old pioneers living who were born and raised along the Thames, below Chatham—Mrs. Wm. Crow, of Dover, who is over 80 years of age; Mrs. Wilson Cook, who is over eighty; and Abner Wilcox, who is approaching his 90th year, and that ends all the old pioneers who were born and raised on the river below Chatham.

The late Agnes Williams was good for several years longer had it not been for an accident she received by a fall. In religion she was a devout member of the Catholic Church.

KILLS GREEK PREMIER

Gherakaris, Professional Gambler, Plunged Long Dagger into M. Deliyannis' Abdomen, Inflicting a Frightful Wound—Revenge the Motive Proclaimed—Premier Stabbed As He Alighted From Carriage.

Athens, June 14.—Theodore P. Deliyannis, the popular Premier of Greece, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a professional gambler named Gherakaris at the main entrance of the Chamber of Deputies at 6 p. m. yesterday. The Premier died within three hours. The assassin, who was immediately arrested, said he committed the deed in revenge for the stringent measures taken by Premier Deliyannis against the gambling houses, all of which were recently closed.

The Premier arrived at the entrance of the chamber in a carriage. Gherakaris approached, saluted the Premier and opened the carriage door. The Premier was in the act of thanking Gherakaris for his courtesy when the gambler plunged a long dagger into M. Deliyannis' abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound.

Lynching of the assassin was prevented only by the gendarmes, who rushed him from the building to the prison. It is estimated that 20,000 persons followed the body of the Premier from the Red Cross Station to his late residence.

PROGRESS TOWARD PEACE.

RussiaAwaiting Japan's Wish Regarding When and Where the Plenipotentiaries Will Meet.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—At six o'clock last night the foreign office made the following announcement: "Japan has not yet informed us where and when she desires us to meet her plenipotentiaries but we may receive her communication at any moment." The issue now being decided is not only the place for Russo-Japanese negotiations but the number of negotiators and, it is believed, another feature not yet disclosed. Unless Japan suggests Paris or Mukden, rather than any European capital, Washington is likely to be selected. Russia appreciates the advantage of the negotiations taking place beyond the sphere of outside influences, and if President Roosevelt is asked to decide the question in case the plenipotentiaries cannot agree it is considered certain that he will not hesitate to do so. It is understood here that the President has already indicated his opinion to both countries.

Washington, June 14.—Neither of the formal responses of Russia and Japan contain suggestions as to the place of meeting of the peace conference, or the name of the plenipotentiaries of the two Governments. It was expected officially yesterday that Paris was the choice of the Russian Government, and London of the Japanese. Neither Government expected that its choice would be ratified by the other.

Attacks Were Repulsed.

Tokio, June 14.—It is officially reported that on June 11, mixed columns of Russian troops attacked in the vicinity of Yingcheng, Ershihilpac and Shufangal. All the attacks were repulsed. The losses are not stated.

GENERALS INSIST ON WAR.

Linsvitch and His Commanders Telegraph Czar Against Peace.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—The Czar received a telegram from Guntzuling on Saturday signed by Gen. Linsvitch, Kurapatkin, Kaulbars, Saharoff, and other generals protesting against making peace, and in favor of continuing the war until it should be successful.

They declared if peace be considered now the enemy, intoxicated by success, would exact conditions that would be injurious to the honor of the country. The army, which is in splendid condition, is burning with a desire to revenge the defeat of the Baltic fleet.

The generals declare the Russian position is excellently fortified and that its losses at Mukden having been comparatively repaired, it is able to hold its own successfully.

The despatch concludes with the expression of the hope that in the course of the present month the army will be able to take the offensive, which will completely change the aspect of affairs, and with the declaration that the Czar can have entire confidence in the force of his troops.

The troops in all the camps at Guntzuling, on learning of the opening of peace negotiations, made noisy demonstrations in favor of the sentiment expressed in the generals' despatch.

High Admirals' Decision.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—The written decision of the high admirals in the court, handed down yesterday, admits the principle of conditional contraband in the case of cotton and timber.

TROOPS HAVE ORDERS TO FIRE.

Labor Troubles Are Expected in Warsaw Right Away.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, June 14.—The outbreak of rioting at Brest-Litovsk, during which, according to report, many persons were killed or wounded, originated in a conflict between Jews and Army men, who were bound for the East. The soldiers are said to have looted provisions, etc., and the Jews, in defending their property, are alleged to have fired on the troops, who returned the fire. The town is now

Crop Prospects in Russia.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—The prospects of a good Russian wheat harvest continues. In the south, south-west, northern Caucasus, Volga region, and the Ural Provinces the condition of the crops is far above the average, but the outlook is correspondingly bad in some of the central Governments and the Volga region. The outlook for rye is less satisfactory. Famine is predicted in some of the Governments.

KING OSCAR'S ULTIMATUM.

Says It Remains For Him and Sweden to Decide.

Stockholm, June 14.—King Oscar in a long and vigorously worded letter to the president of the Norwegian Storting, M. Berner, declares that:

"It remains for Sweden and for me as King of the union to decide whether the attack by Norway on the existing union shall lead to the legal dissolution of that union."

An Illegal Government.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 14.—Foreign Minister Cydenstolpe has sent the following circular to all the Swedish Norwegian Consuls.

"You are instructed to continue the exercise of the functions constitutionally devolving on you as Swedish as well as Norwegian Consul, with this restriction, you must not enter into communication with the illegal Norwegian Government or obey its orders."

THE DAWN OF PEACE.

Russia, or more properly speaking the Czar, seems at last to realize that war cannot be carried on indefinitely by a power whose army is beaten and demoralized and whose fleet has been annihilated. This is what is indicated in the shame-faced instructions sent to the Russian Ambassadors at Washington and Paris to learn what would be Japan's conditions of peace.

That the dreamer who rules 150,000,000 people from his retreat at Tsarskoe-Selo, with the aid of the "Grand-Dukery" and a fortune teller, had any thought for the welfare of his subjects when he made his resolve is unlikely; nor is it probable that the cry of outraged Russia for an end of the disgraceful conflict produced any profound impression upon the thus preoccupied mind of the Autocrat—that would be giving him credit for reasonableness which he does not possess.

Most probably the Grand-Ducal cabal forced the resolution upon the head of the family. In the eleventh-hour conversation of brother-in-law Michael and uncle Vladimir to the opinion, long entertained by practically the entire Russian Ministry, that a continuance of the war would mean the ruin of the dynasty and the certain downfall of the autocracy, one may perceive the true genesis of the Czar's instructions to his Ambassadors. The family was finally impressed with the fact that the whirlwind it had helped raise was about to break loose, and the chief of the clan was influenced to save it, if still possible.

NO NEED FOR BATTLESHIPS.

No doubt "the man behind the gun" on the Japanese battleships and cruisers did his part in the annihilation of the Baltic fleet; but there is reason to believe that the work of destruction was mostly wrought by torpedoes and submarine mines.

This is a fact of considerable significance to countries with a coast to defend and without adequate means to defend it. Canada is among those countries. The Dominion is without a navy; but the fight in the Ocean straits demonstrated that battleships and armored cruisers are not all-important fighting machines in naval warfare close to shore. The torpedo boat and the submarine mine are more deadly. For aggressive warfare, of course, floating fortresses are absolutely necessary, for the torpedo boat and submarine are of comparatively little service on the high seas. But Canada will not in our time wage aggressive naval warfare. Her naval equipment will for many years to come be for defensive purposes only. And it is reassuring to know that it is not necessary to build up a navy of steel-clad vessels at ruinous expense to the country in order to make our ocean ports fairly safe from attacks of even a powerful fleet.

With small but efficient "mosquito fleets" on the coasts, and with the means of promptly sowing the St. Lawrence river with mines below Quebec, Canada could make it exceedingly uncomfortable for any fleet that approached her shores with hostile intent or attempted the seduction of her chief internal stronghold.

Self-Protecting Plants.

Plants protect themselves much the same as insects. One of the uses of the movements of the sensitive plant is to frighten animals. A venturesome, browsing creature coming near it is afraid to touch a plant which so evidently is occupied by spirits. The squirming cucumber of the Mediterranean alarms goats and cattle by discharging its ripe fruits explosively in their faces the moment the stem is touched. The cucumber contains a pungent juice, which discharges itself into the eye of its opponent, and the smarting sensation which results is hard to bear. The dainty grass of Parnassus is beautiful, but dishonest. It is a bog herb, has glossy green leaves and pure white blossoms and is supposed to be the poet's flower. Its milk white flowers are lovely, yet they are deceivers. The drops of honey which bees add to insects fancy they see inside the petals are solid, glassy imitations of honey, which fool the bees, which are lured in this way that they may carry off the pollen to other blossoms and are held fast until they die.

Sea Gypsies.
In the archipelago of Mergul, off the coast of lower Burma, Asia, live the "sea gypsies." Instead of cars, they own covered boats, in which, with their families, dogs, cats, chickens and pigs, they float about on the sea and wander from island to island. By day they fish or harpoon turtles or dive for oysters, but every night they put back to the shore. If the weather is bad at sea they land with their dogs and then poach, catching porcupines, squirrels, armadillos, hog deer and the like, of which they make savory stews, like our gypsies.

An Artist's Criticism.
Probably no two artists ever criticized each other more severely than did Fuseli and Northcote, yet they remained fast friends. One time Fuseli was looking at Northcote's painting of the angel meeting Balaam and his ass. "How do you like it?" asked Northcote after a long silence. "Northcote," replied Fuseli promptly, "you're an angel at an ass, but an ass at an angel."

A LUCKY GIRL

"When I think of my former condition of health," says Miss Winifred Perry of West River, Shute Harbor, N.S., "I consider myself a lucky girl that I am well and strong to-day, and I owe my present good health entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I suffered almost all that one can endure from weakness and nervousness. I was as pale as a sheet, and wasted away. The least noise would startle me, and I was troubled with fainting spells, when I would suddenly lose consciousness and drop to the floor. At other times my heart would palpitate violently and cause a smothering sensation. Night and day my nerves were in a terrible condition, and I seemed to be continually growing worse. No medicine that I took helped me in the least until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had taken a half-dozen boxes, I felt so much better that I stopped taking them and went on a visit to Boston. I had made a mistake, however, in stopping the pills too soon, and I began to go back to my former condition. I then called on a well known Boston doctor, and after explaining my case, told him how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had helped me before. He told me to continue their use, saying I could take nothing better, and I got another supply and soon began to regain health. I took about eighteen boxes in all, and they fully and completely restored my health, and I have had no sickness since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do just as much for every weak, nervous, pale-faced young woman, who is slipping from anemias into deadly decline. They make new, rich, healthy, glowing blood, and that is what every growing girl and woman must have to retain their health. It is because these pills actually make new blood that they strike at the root of all common ailments of life, such as headache and side aches and heart aches, indigestion, palpitation of the heart, kidney troubles, sciatitis, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, and paralysis. But only the genuine pills can do this, and the sick one should see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around every box. Don't let anyone persuade you to take anything else. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Where Coldness is Cordiality.

The bore had gone. The whole family recognized him as a bore, but Mrs. Carter knew what was incumbent on her as a hostess famed for her courtesy. "My dear Evelyn," she said in a gently chiding voice to her pretty daughter, "I think you cannot have realized how cold your tone was when you said 'Good evening' to Mr. Lamson." "No, mother, perhaps I didn't," admitted Evelyn, "but I'm sure, on the other hand, that neither you nor father had any idea how warm your tones were when you said 'Good night' to him."—Youth's Companion.

Man and the Universe.

Sir William Ramsay, the great English scientist, said: "All our progress since the time of Sir Isaac Newton has not falsified the saying of that great man that we are but children, picking up here and there a pebble from the shore of knowledge, while a whole unknown ocean stretches before our eyes. Nothing can be more certain than that we are just beginning to learn something of the wonders of the world in which we live and move and have our being."

CUBAN DIARRHOEA.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors, but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by All Drug-gists.

BATHING IN THE SEA.

As originated in England in the Eighteenth Century.
Sea bathing had its origin in England before 1750, when Dr. Richard Russell published his treatise on the virtues of sea water. The healing virtues of the sea bath were not understood, nor was the practice of sea bathing generally resorted to. There seems to have existed a horror of the sea; indeed, in medieval times a compulsory dip in its waters was a sentence often passed on the public offender. In the earlier decades of the eighteenth century western Europe suffered heavily under "king's evil," the popular name for that tuberculous affection which scourged all classes from peer to peasant.

Dr. Russell, a Sussex practitioner, had observed that dwellers on the coast used to drink of the sea water, bathe in it, even wash their sores in it and bind them up with sea weed. Having satisfied himself as to the efficacy of the practice he began to prescribe for his patients with most satisfactory results. His treatise resulted in the coats becoming largely patronized by the ailing, and the demand for seaside lodgings was soon a growing quantity. This gradually spread to the continent. Then people commenced to see that fresh water was a good thing, and the vital importance of the skin as an excretory waste was greatly emphasized some time later (in 1834), when the morning "tub" was instituted and has since acquired a worldwide reputation.

OLD JEWISH TRADITION.

The Jews of eastern Palestine and Asia Minor have a queer tradition which has survived from ancient times and tells of a remote period in their history when every fully developed Israelite was equipped with three perfect eyes. The two main optics were situated in the front part of the head, just as eyes are today, but the third was located in the back part of the head just above the nape of the neck in the edge of the hair. This wonderful third eye in man was not "evolved" out of existence, but was closed by divine injunction on the day when Moses was given the tables of stone on Sinai.

You remember that God's command on the day that the tables were renewed was to the effect that no man should be seen in the vicinity of the holy mount. (See Ex. xxxiv, 3.) The believers in the three eye tradition say that Moses supplemented God's command by ordering the faithful who were encamped in the valley to turn their heads from the mountain. They did, but took good care to uncover the eye that was situated in the back of the head. Moses, noticing this show of duplicity on the part of his followers, asked God to close the third, useless eye, and since that day the Israelites, in common with the remainder of humanity, have been forced to depend on two eyes only.

BEARS OF OKENOSKEE SWAMP.

The great Okenoskee swamp begins not far from Waycross, Ga., and extends due south for a distance of about forty miles, running over into Florida. Here in this vast tract of desolate bog and swamp are thousands of black bear and deer and wild turkeys without number. The whole region is a hunter's paradise, and yet so abundant is the game in this remote and desolate country that it does not seem to diminish in spite of the slanders. The bears weigh from 200 to 300 pounds and put in a great part of their time preying upon the pigpens of the farmers. If forced into a tight they are dangerous antagonists, and so prudent hunters will attack one save at a point of vantage.

SAVES LIFE

Another narrow escape from drowning was recorded in this city about four o'clock yesterday afternoon when Lyle Plumberidge, a young Chatham lad, was rescued from a watery grave by a playmate, Joseph Brennan.

Plumberidge, Brennan and a number of other small lads were enjoying a swim in the river at Sandy Bottom, near Piggott's mill. Plumberidge was the last one to come out of the water, and just as his playmates were about to go home and leave him, they heard him cry for help, and saw him disappear beneath the water. He had got out beyond his depth and being unable to swim he had gone down.

Brennan, who was already dressed, jumped in after him and caught him just as he was going down the second time. After experiencing considerable difficulty, his clothes being heavy on him, he succeeded in swimming to the shore with Plumberidge in his arms. The lad Plumberidge is today none the worse of his adventure.

The rescue was a noble one and Brennan should receive some recognition for his heroic act.

SAD DEATH

A message was received to-day from Florence announcing the death of Solomon Huff, eldest brother of Abram Huff, in his 85th year, at his residence in Dawn township. Two daughters, who resided with their father, survive him, and two sons, Robert, of Raleigh, and Sydney, of Detroit. The parents of Robert Huff came to this county over sixty years ago, with their family, from Belleville, and are interred in the Butler Hill Cemetery, where the remains of their eldest son will be buried on Friday at one o'clock.

The Letter-Box

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—I am not looking for newspaper controversies, but lest my silence be misconstrued, I will ask the privilege of occupying some space in your valuable journal that I may enlighten Mr. McCoig still further on the error of his ways.
Let me say, "His object in attacking me is too noticeable," etc. Now I always thought it was the who struck the first blow who was the attacking party, and if you will refer to your issue of July 7th you will see the first article on the labor question, in which Mr. McCoig attacks me for the decision I gave as Acting Mayor, "that having consulted the City Solicitor I was informed that the city could not legally take any action in the matter."

On June the 8th, I replied to this criticism. If that constitutes an attack, I plead guilty. He objects to my charge that "He was playing the galleries." Now, Mr. McCoig knows that this phrase literally means "making a show of doing something for effect, and accomplishing nothing." That's what I consider he was doing in the interview on June the 7th, when he says the city is under moral obligations to take a legal action that the City Solicitor says they cannot take. If that is not playing to the gallery what would you call it, Mr. Editor?

Just here is an example in his interview of the old adage, "Virtue is its own reward." His natural modesty forbade his advising our local papers of his efforts when in Parliamentary Committee, when it might have received mention in a two or three line item, but it is now reluctantly told in a half-column interview when it has no connection with the matter whatever.

"Consistency" is not a jewel. I never accused Mr. McCoig of being in genuine sympathy with the labor classes. I asked why he did not act differently in Council simply to elicit a reply, which shows he excuses in himself what he condemns in Council for, as there is absolutely no difference in the relation of the company and the city, since he was in the Council, the matter of franchise only having been dealt with.

His statement that I referred the delegation to him is incorrect. On the occasion of the delegation's second visit to me they quoted Mr. McCoig as saying "that the city ought to do something," and on my explaining the position of the city in the matter they expressed themselves as satisfied that it was not the city's business, and said they would see Mr. McCoig. I told them that if he held the view they claimed he did, he could take the matter up if he chose.

Now is not the best interests of the laboring class at large being served by the action of the company in pushing on the work both in city and county? The earlier the railway is running the better, as then a large number of our local men will have the opportunity of securing positions that will ensure them work every day. Every carpenter, blacksmith, mason, plumber, machinist, in fact men of every calling will have a guarantee of remunerative employment as soon as construction commences.

Should all this be delayed to satisfy a few men—they are very few—who are always looking for a grievance. In Mr. McCoig's closing paragraph he becomes his natural self and attempts another grand stand play. If the "Hobbes" to whom Mr. McCoig refers had votes, he would profess as tender solicitude for them as for other laborers.

When he says he is just as ready to receive a deputation of laboring men as a deputation of manufacturers, etc., he is again "bowing to the galleries." Does he wish us to understand that this is a wonderful display of humility of his part?

Mr. McCoig's reference to "padding pins and needles, etc.," is too small to take notice of.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. AUSTIN.

PRESENTMENT

Grand Jury Report to Judge Dowling on the Work Done in the Several Public Institutions.

The Grand Jury appointed for the June sittings of the County Court made their presentment at ten o'clock this morning. It was as follows:

Chatham, Ont., June 14, '05.
To His Honor Judge Dowling, Judge of the County of Kent:

We, the Grand Jury, beg leave to report as follows: According to your instructions we have visited the following public institutions and public buildings—the goal, Collegiate Institute, Harrison Hall, Model School, St. Joseph's Hospital, Public General Hospital and the House of Refuge.

We first examined the goal. Here we found only three prisoners. The various departments have the appearance of being well kept, clean and sanitary in every respect. We are glad to believe our county is as free from crime as it appears. This seems to speak well of the custodians of the prison in this county. We believe a fair share of credit is due to the Children's Aid Society of this county, who are doing a grand work in looking after the destitute and wayward children, thus saving many a child who no doubt some day would drift toward our goals.

The matter of having good constables having charge of definite districts instead of indefinite, as now, is worth considering.

There is one case of a pitiable nature now in the goal in the person of Wilfred Frederick, of Tilbury, a young man 20 years, committed by a J. P. of Tilbury to 30 days with hard labor for assault. We are of the opinion to leave him in goal is a disgrace. The young man is a trifle subject to fits, one of which he had in our presence, and from all appearances is one ill able to work much less to undertake "hard labor."

His term expires on June 21. He should never have been committed to this place and we trust proper steps will be taken at once to have him cared for in an institution to where he rightly belongs. Mr. Davidson and those who assist him in the goal seem to be faithful to the charge entrusted to their charge.

We next visited the Collegiate Institute. The principal, Mr. Twomey, courteously showed us through the building and gave us an insight into the work being done. From all appearance the institution seems to be in a high state of efficiency, as is shown from time to time by the splendid records made by pupils at the various examinations in the Province.

We were very much impressed by the work being done in the commercial department under the instructions of Mr. Quinn.

We are sorry we cannot report favorable on the building, which we find stands in need of some extensive repairs and in need of considerable enlargement, as it is far too small for the accommodation of the present attendance comfortably. We understand such is under consideration.

We trust the fees and cost of maintenance of county pupils now in dispute between the city and county authorities will be speedily and amicably settled to the satisfaction of both.

We next visited Harrison Hall. We feel proud of this building and its equipment. We are pleased to learn that improved sanitary conditions are under way.

We visited the Central or Model School and Kindergarten department. We were delighted with the work we saw and heard while there. To have 1,000 young children in training for good citizenship in this fair Dominion is a great responsibility, and for which Mr. Plevins and his able staff seem well fitted. It is a pleasure to know that we have in this city such a well equipped institution, where the would-be teachers receive their final training before beginning work in our public schools. The high moral tone of the two educational institutions of this city—Model School and Collegiate—visited by us has instilled itself into the teachers going out from them. We feel safe in saying here lies one of the secrets of the small amount of crime apparent in our midst.

"This education from the common mind," as the twig is bent the branch inclines.

One of our number remarked on leaving the Model School, "Mr. Plevins knows his business." He but voiced the sentiments of us all.

We next visited the two hospitals, and found them well equipped and well run. We also visited the House of Refuge, by no means the least important institution of the county. Here we found 41 aged ones who apparently in former years have been "better days," but we must say that it is a pleasure to know we have such a home for those who by misfortune, or we believe, in most cases, bad habits of their earlier years, find themselves forced to spend their last days depending on charity. Here they seem comfortable and contented. The institution and to those now in charge, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ripley, who are in charge, are doing their best under, we believe, trying circumstances, owing to the infirmity and feebleness of most of the inmates to get the best results for all concerned.

The building and grounds give evidence of good management, and the prospect for a good crop is very encouraging.

We are led to believe that Dr. Charteris is a very painstaking officer, and is doing all in his power by his regular visits to see that the health of the inmates is well attended to.

We are your obedient servants, the Grand Jury of June, 1905.
R. B. HUNTER, Foreman.
G. W. RISEBOROUGH, Secretary.

BIGAMY COMES TO LIGHT.

Orillia and Uxbridge Interested in the Developments.

Orillia, June 14.—A case of bigamy has been disclosed at Orillia through the investigations of Chief of Police Goodman, who received word from the authorities at Uxbridge to enquire into the validity of the marriage of Sarah Newman, wife of Peter Newman of this town.

The information wanted was to be used in evidence against James Farwell, first husband of Sarah Newman, who is in custody in Uxbridge on a charge of bigamy. Chief Goodman called on Mrs. Newman. She acknowledged her marriage with Farwell in Port Perry in 1871, and of whom she spoke in terms evincing the keenest hatred. She had several children by Farwell.

Mrs. Newman's maiden name was Sarah Martineau. She married Peter Newman, in Barrie, twenty years ago, and by whom she has had a family of children. For many years they have lived quietly in Orillia. Peter Newman is an industrious mechanic, but without education. Newman has for a number of years been in the employ of the town.

Must Have People's Favor.
Winnipeg, June 14.—Sunday cars will not be run in the City of Winnipeg until the electors have voted in favor of them, so said Mayor Sharpe at the meeting of the City Council, and he threatened to veto any bylaw passed by the aldermen purporting to give the company Sunday privileges until an affirmative vote had been taken. A bylaw will probably be prepared and submitted to a vote of the electors at Municipal elections in December.

Another Rothschild Dies.
Vienna, June 14.—Baron Nathaniel de Rothschild, brother of the head of the Austrian branch of the firm, died yesterday morning. He had been seriously ill for a long time past.

FOOLED BANK

Interesting sidlights upon the methods employed by London Liberals to win the election there yesterday are coming in. A gentleman who spent yesterday in London mentioned a few of them to a Planet reporter this morning. The Grand Trunk sent a great number of their Conservative employees out of the city over the day, but probably the most bold-faced ruse was adopted by one of the banks. The bank in question sent one of its staff, who was known to be a strong Conservative, to Dorchester, a place about twelve miles from London, with instructions to keep the bank open until four o'clock in the afternoon. They thought they had, by these means, effectually prevented him from voting.

The Conservatives got wind of this deep piece of strategy and sent a fast horse out to Dorchester, stationing another half way between Dorchester and London. Promptly at four o'clock the bank was closed and the clerk jumped into the waiting rig. At the half-way house the tired horse was changed and the fresh relay was lashed all the way to London, where it arrived, covered with foam at two minutes to five—just in time to record the vote before the closing of the polls. He has some very interesting tales to tell, of which the foregoing are merely instances.

SURPRISE

A PURE HARD SOAP

...The rapidly increasing use of corundum and emery has aroused a good deal of interest regarding the sources of supply.

...The island of Naxos in the Mediterranean was for several centuries the only source for the supply of emery.

...It occurs there in crystalline limestone in the form of kidneys, some of which are quite large.

...The sudden change in the cooling causes the rock to split. Each miner works for himself. He is given a license to mine from the Government and sells the emery to the Government at a fixed price.

...The Government then sells it to the market at a profit. The Government also has a monopoly of the export of emery from the island.

...Another source of supply which was discovered in 1847 is near Smyrna in Turkey. There, as in Naxos, the emery is mined in a primitive manner. It is then transported on the backs of camels to the Port of Smyrna, the average distance being from 100 to 200 miles.

...Corundum has been produced in small quantities for the last thirty years or more by the mines of North Carolina and Georgia. The southern deposits, however, are of secondary origin and are, therefore, pocketed, so that the supply was always irregular.

...In fact so little of it was on the market that many users of abrasives did not know what corundum was.

...Six years ago Canada did not produce a pound of corundum; now she is producing over ninety per cent. of the world's supply.

...In addition North Carolina, India has also been a small producer of corundum for many years. In mining for rubies and sapphires all crystals of impure color are broken up and used as abrasives. The by-product of this last year was from fifty to sixty tons.

...Apart from Canada, Montana is the only other known source of supply. In Montana the corundum occurs in small dykes of veins. One of the more promising of these was opened up last year and a small mill put into it. It is said to carry from ten to twenty per cent. or more of corundum, but it only from eighteen inches to two feet in width. The corundum is somewhat like the one from Naxos, but is of good quality. The output so far, however, has been only about 25 tons.

...About five years ago Canadian geologists discovered that there were immense deposits of crystal corundum in Eastern Ontario. Considerable excitement followed and the Government withdrew them all from sale. Afterward arrangements were made by the Government with a Canadian syndicate. This syndicate agreed to spend a large amount of money in developing the deposits. In return it was given first choice of locations and accordingly chose the different deposits that it considered to be valuable. The largest of these deposits was immediately opened up and for the last three years has been a steady producer.

...The increase in Canada's production has been quite rapid. It was in 1899 that the first shipments were made and they amounted to only a few thousand pounds. In 1901 they were 100,000 pounds and in 1904 they were 1,000,000 pounds. This year the output will, no doubt, be further increased, as the syndicate or company is putting in further additions to its plant.

...The Canadian Government calculates that corundum can be produced at a price to compete with emery, even though the price of emery be materially reduced. This advantage in production together with the fact that corundum is a much more durable and cuts faster, should soon give Canada almost a monopoly in the production of natural abrasives. Already nearly all the large machine shops in the United States are using wheels made of Canadian corundum, and the shipments to Europe, especially to Germany and Italy, are increasing very fast.

A Battle With Wolves.
A thrilling story of a trapper's battle with wolves comes from Cape North the extreme northern point of Cape Breton. John Macdonald, a well-known trapper, told the following story of his battle with a pack of five wolves. He was returning home from his traps in the evening when he was attacked by a pack of five wolves. He was armed with a rifle and a knife, but the wolves were too many for him. He fought bravely, but was overpowered. He was rescued by a hunter who happened to be passing by.

But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish food, like cod liver oil or emulsion, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor, but they don't strengthen it. CORUNDUM AND EMERY.

Canada the Great Future Source of Supply—Six Years Ago She Did Not Produce a Pound.

...The rapidly increasing use of corundum and emery has aroused a good deal of interest regarding the sources of supply.

...The island of Naxos in the Mediterranean was for several centuries the only source for the supply of emery.

...It occurs there in crystalline limestone in the form of kidneys, some of which are quite large.

...The sudden change in the cooling causes the rock to split. Each miner works for himself. He is given a license to mine from the Government and sells the emery to the Government at a fixed price.

...The Government then sells it to the market at a profit. The Government also has a monopoly of the export of emery from the island.

...Another source of supply which was discovered in 1847 is near Smyrna in Turkey. There, as in Naxos, the emery is mined in a primitive manner. It is then transported on the backs of camels to the Port of Smyrna, the average distance being from 100 to 200 miles.

...Corundum has been produced in small quantities for the last thirty years or more by the mines of North Carolina and Georgia. The southern deposits, however, are of secondary origin and are, therefore, pocketed, so that the supply was always irregular.

...In fact so little of it was on the market that many users of abrasives did not know what corundum was.

...Six years ago Canada did not produce a pound of corundum; now she is producing over ninety per cent. of the world's supply.

...In addition North Carolina, India has also been a small producer of corundum for many years. In mining for rubies and sapphires all crystals of impure color are broken up and used as abrasives. The by-product of this last year was from fifty to sixty tons.

...Apart from Canada, Montana is the only other known source of supply. In Montana the corundum occurs in small dykes of veins. One of the more promising of these was opened up last year and a small mill put into it. It is said to carry from ten to twenty per cent. or more of corundum, but it only from eighteen inches to two feet in width. The corundum is somewhat like the one from Naxos, but is of good quality. The output so far, however, has been only about 25 tons.

CAPT. GRAHAM'S GRATITUDE

...Captain W. S. Graham, 1221 Roff St., Wheeling, W. Va., says: "I am so grateful I thank God that a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I suffered for a long time with sores on my face and back. Some doctors said I had blood poison, and others that I had barbers' itch. None of them did me any good, but they all took my money. My friends told me my skin now looks as clear as a baby's, and I tell them all that Cuticura Soap and Ointment did it."

After a few applications of Cuticura the sores subsided, the hair grew again, and my neck grew thick and healthy as ever."

...DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

...By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MUST TO BE OUT OF DOORS.

Just to be out of doors! So still! So green! With unbreathed air, illimitable, clean. With soft, sweet scent of happy growing things. The leaves soft flutter, sound of summer breezes. The far faint hills, the water wide between.

Breast of the great earth-mother, here we lean. With no conventions hard to intervene. Content, with the contentment nature brings. Just to be out of doors.

And under all the feeling half foreseen. Of what this lovely world will come to mean. To all of us when the uncounted strings. In all our hearts. Joy universal, keen. Just to be out of doors.

ONTARIO'S PUBLIC WORKS.

The annual report of the Commissioner of Public Works for the year ending December 31st, 1904, shows that a total of $816,822 was expended on capital account on works and buildings, and $111,891 on maintenance account for fuel, light, water, furniture, repairs, salaries, etc. for Ontario Hall, the Normal Schools of Toronto, Ottawa and London, the School of Practical Science, the Education Department offices, the Parliament Buildings, Government House, and various other branches of the service.

From July 1st, 1887, to December 31st, 1904, the expenditure on capital account for railways was $4,774,884.48, penal institutions $1,386,978.02, educational institutions $1,751,825.58, agricultural institutions $702,857.51, buildings for administration of justice $459,832.26, Parliament and departmental building and Government House $1,774,747.75; works for the improvement of navigation, such as locks, dams, dikes, etc. $1,010,458.50; works for the improvement of transportation, such as bridges, piers, roads, etc. $204,023.63; drainage works and advances to municipalities $418,161.85, miscellaneous $54,596.07, colonization roads $4,054,464.44, and to railways (actual cash expended) $7,456,173.61—a grand total of $24,717,480.26 expended on the foregoing accounts since Confederation. The amount expended on colonization roads last year was $175,620.74, divided as follows:—East division $57,847.74; Temiskaming district, $28,577.48; west and north divisions, $20,922.56 and $59,742.21, respectively. About 860 miles of new roads were opened, 650 miles of highways repaired, and 17 bridges, aggregating 1,061 feet, constructed.

Though not many miles of new railway were completed and opened for traffic, extension work during the year was active. The G. T. R. did not construct any new lines, but laid a second track between Hamilton and London, sixty miles. The C. P. R. opened the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon & Pontypool Railway from Burketon, on the main line to Bobcaygeon, 38.79 miles. Track-laying is expected to commence at once on the C. P. R.'s fifty-nine miles of Bay of Quinte extension, near Sudbury, and Bays of Quinte extension, near Sudbury, and Bays of Quinte extension, near Sudbury.

A continuation of the line from Bays of Quinte to a junction with the Owen Sound section near Kleinburg are being completed. The James Bay Railway is constructing a line from Toronto to a junction with the C. P. R. near Sudbury, 245 miles. The Bruce Mines & Algoma Railway made a short extension from Bruce Mines to the shore of Lake Huron, and constructed a commodious dock there. The total of this railway now completed from Lake Huron to Rock Lake, Aberdeen Township, is seventeen miles. The Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, the Government line, was completed and opened for traffic from North Bay to New Liskeard, 113 miles, and a contract entered into for an extension northward from New Liskeard of 80 to 100 miles.

Before Confederation there were 1,411 miles of railway completed in the Province; $5,874,425 have been completed since then; 525 miles are now under construction, and the miles of railway in operation in the Province are 7,325.92.
