A report respecting the proper extension of the sewer at the western part of the town was made, the estimated cost to be $5,000 and service given to all the buildings now existing or likely to be erected. This was referred to the Sewer Committee, as it was thought necessary to have the consent of a majority of the residents before action was taken.

Chambers appeared before the Council with reference to a claim against the Poor Committee for expenses in connection with the birth of an illegitimate child, a charge upon the Municipality of Chester. This matter was referred to Coun. Reid, who was directed to take what action be considered necessary to secure adjustment.

The Finance Committee reported that they had investigated the claims of the Acadia Electric So. for interest and found it to be a legitimate one. This committee also reported on the application of the Town Clerk for a months vacation, recommending that fifty dollars be paid for the services of a deputy during Mr. Ford's absence, and against the proposal to procure a new type-writter for the office, recommending instead the purchase of a rebuilt machine at a price of $75.00.

The following balls were recommended for payment by the manager and passed Winght & Baltzer.

Dr. W. L. Archibald and family re-turned this week from an extended trip during which they attended a family reunion at Ocean Park, Maine, and visited Bar Harbor, Boston, Hamilton, N. Y. and other places. They spent a most enjoyable time marred only by an automo-bile accident which occurred at Albany, N. Y., where Dr. Archibald's car was run into and badly demaged by a drunken car driver, and Dr. Archibald and other members of the family badly burt.

The Clerk read a resolution passed by the town of Dartmouth respecting a demand on the legislature for a share of the amount collected for that town for automobile taxes with a request for co-operation.

The Victoria General Hospital reported the case of a patient at that institution which will be a charge upon the town.

Lord Byng of Vimy Visits

The visit of the Governor-General Lord Byng of Vimy, and Lady Byng has been looked forward to by our people ever since his appointment two years ago, and when he arrived yesterday morning the citizens were out in force to gree him. The weather was ideal and the town presented a gay appearance with its decorations of flags.

Lord and Lady Byng and party arrived by special train at ten o'clock and were met at the railway station by Col. J. H. MacDonald, Mayor Phinney, the members of the Town Council and othe citizens. They were immediately motored to the College campus where a platform rad been errected in front of the grand stand, which was completely filled with people. Both grand stand and platform were very prettily decorated with flags and bunting.

As the Vice Regal party approached the platform through a guard of honor composed of Girl Guidea and Boy Scouts the band played the National Anthem, followed by O Canada. Seated on the platform with Lord and Lady Byng, their aides and lady-in-waiting, were Mayor Phinney, President Pattison, of Acadia University, Councillors Reid, Young, Eaton, Whidden and Peck, R. W. Ford, Town Clerk, Town Manager Stairs, Revs. J. H. MacDonald, R. F. Dixorsand D. B. Hemmeon, E. W. Robinson, M. P., P. W. Davidson and G. C. your visit.

The Governor-General, as the presentative of the Sovereign of presentative of the Sovereign of our great empire, is always a welcome visito everywhere in Canada. With Your Excellency, however, there is an addition reason for our warm and hearty greating your association with the Canada troops during those days of trial struggle, and of glorious achievements.

duties have ceased. It is a further cause of profound satisfaction to the people of Canada that the administration, ability, imagination, and common sense which account for your success in military enterprise, have been so conspicuously present in connection with the civic duties of your present high office.

In welcoming Your Excellency to our town, permit us also to wish you a most enjoyable visit to our beautiful valley. It's scenery, famed in song and story, is attracting constantly increasing numbers who are outspoken in their praise of its quiet loveliness. Your Excellency will find pleasure also in recalling the historical relation of this section of our fair Domirnion to the development of the great Empire whose Sovereign you have represent. This valley, now so calm and peaceful, is intimately connected historically with those stirring events of that long period of adventure, of the possession of a new continent, and added half that continent to the British Empire.

May it please Your Excellency:

On behalf of Acadia University and its affiliated schools, I have pleasure in welcoming you to the Town of Wolfville. Acadia University, with an unbroken history of nearly one hundred years, has stood for those ideals of citizenship to which Your Excellency has so often given expression. It has realized that the art of living is really the art of living is really the art of living with one's fellows in brotherhood and in service, and that the only source either of weakness or of warfare is the desire of some group of individuals to besploit its fellows. That Acadia University has, in some massure, succeeded is evident from the names of its graduates and ex-students, sixty-three of whom made the supreme sacrifice, to overseas service.

We wish to assure Your Excellency of our appreciation not only of a military service unique in its distinction, but of the high ideals of citizenship which you have both held before the Canadian people and realized in your own life. We cannot conceive of a nobler destiny for the Canadian people than that the principles exemplified among the soldiers during the war, when each, without regard to social position, gave according to his ability in response to a common need, and when the concern of each became the good of all, should become the guiding principle of the nation's life.

We are grateful that His Majesty is so worthily represented in Canada and wish to assure you of our abiding loyalty to the Crown has become the symbol.

Mis G. C. Nowlan presented the following address to Lord Byng on behalf of the G. W. V. A.:

We are grateful that His Majesty is so worthly represented in Canada and wish to assure you of our abiding loyalty to the Crown itself and to all of which the Crown has become the symbol.

Ms. G. C. Nowlan presented the following address to Lord Byng on behalf of the G. W. V. A.:

We feel that in welcoming you we in a different position than our other tizens, for we greet you not as the Reseantative of our Gracious Sovereign one, but also as an old comrade whom a have learned to respect and to admire, our appointment as Governor-General, easing as it was to the entire Dominion, as especially gratifying to the Returned fen of this Country, and particularly as this true of the Boys of this Comminity, many of whom served under ou at Vimy Ridge.

To all these addresses the Governor-eneral replied as follows:

Mr. Mayor, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, and my Old Comrades.

I thank you most sincerely for the defense which you have just tendered to me, and I will gladly transmit to His Majesty your expressions of loyalty. To us the members of the British Empire, the Chown stands as the ebodiment of all the ties that bind us together, and nour sovereign we have a personality, whose unswerving devotion to duty and trust in the high ideals of his people, in a example to us all. proud to command, were drawn from varying professions and walks of life; but they were animated by a spirit of mutual confidence, and achieved by disciplined co-operation a strength that nothing could withstand.

This subordination of self to the public good is needed now more than ever. It is the essential condition of success for any democratic government, which, without it, would be wrecked by personal ambitions, prejudices and rivalries. Such qualities, as were shown by your men in the trenches, were not won overnight in a sudden fit of patriotism. They are the outcome of a whole stream of tendencies within the community, and directly reflect the tone of public life, or a social life, and perhaps especially the tone of the educational institutions in a country. Your own University has a wonderful record, of which it may well be proud. It has played a great part in the conscious and unconscious moulding of the national character. And we look to it as to all schools and universities to keep alive that spirit of singleminded devotion to truth, beauty and goodness. to keep alive that spirit of singleminded devotion to truth, beauty and goodness which is the righteousness which exalteth

On Monday evening the East End team won their third consecutive game in the second series of the Town Baseball League and the other teams have got to buck up if they are going to stop them from winning the series. Monday's game was between the East End and The Hill and the score was 9 to 3. The game was not as one sided as the score would indicate. The East End got a lead of four runs in the first iming but after that the playing was fairly close. The teams were as follows:

The Hill—Baird, c; Russell, 1b; Kennie, p; Williams, 2b; Thurston, ss; Regan, 3b; Welsh, cf; Spencer, rf; Boates, lf; East End—C. Munro, c; D. Munro, p; West, 2b; Eagles, 1b; Burgess, 3b; Harrington, cf; Lesle, lf; Patriquin, ss; Toney, rf;.

Last Friday evening the West End failed to put in an appearance and the game went to The Hill by default. Tonight the East End and West End play and a good game is expected. The standing of the teams is now as follows:

Won Lost
East End 3 0
The Hill 1 2

TRAFFIC LAWS SHOULD BE ENFORCED

With no desire to make trouble for any person but solely in the interest of public safety THE ACADIAN feels called upon to again make a protest against the flagrant neglect of proper caution in the operating of motor vehicles in Wolfville. While, as we have remarked before, most of our motorists are careful to take no risks there are before, most of our motorists are careful to take no risks there are always those who disregard anything in the line of consideration for the safety of those who share with them the privileges of the road. Only a few evenings ago one of these wild drivers was the means of forcing a motorist in the eastern part of the town to leave the street and take the ditch with serious damage to his car in order to safeguard himself and those who accompanied him.

Very little effort is made to enforce the law and when anything is done along this line it is of a spasmodic nature. None of the applied to the same along this line it is of a spasmodic nature.

Very little effort is made to enforce the law and when anything is done along this line it is of a spasmodic nature. None of the appliances to protect dangerous street corners, such as are used in most of the other towns of the province, are employed and no attempt is made to establish and advertise a speed limit. So far we have been remarkably fortunate considering the risks daily taken but a serious accident is bound to occur unless a decided change is made in the method of dealing with this menace to public safety. Strict laws rigidly enforced are necessary for the correction of this evil. A good example was set a few days ago by a town in the western part of the province where two influential men, one a government representative of the county, were brought up and fined as they deserved for violating the law. Only by such action will the laws of the land be given proper respect and the safety of citizens be adequately guarded.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT

One of the planks in the platform of the successful party in the late provincial elections in Prince Edward Island provided for a decrease in the sessional pay of the members. If this promise on the part of those asked to be entrusted with the government of the property of the part vince proved to be a factor in the result of the contest it indicates that the people of the "tight little island" are possessed with a full measure of common sense. Why it is that the inhabitants of the other sections of our Dominion are satisfied to make no protest against the enormous cost of government it is difficult to understand. Nova Scotia might certainly follow the lead of Prince Edward Island in this matter and demand a more business-like method of handling our public affairs. With our two legislative branches holding long drawn out sessions, and the host of officials, the overhead of this province is beyond all reason. The Acadian believes in an efficient and well paid executive and a member's indemnity sufficient to fully compensate for the time necessarily spent in an annual session that should not exceed a few weeks duration. With one governing body to which each constituency sent one member, and the affairs of the to which each constituency sent one member, and the affairs of the province economically and efficiently carried on, a saving might be effected that would provide many advances that the province sadly needs. Nova Scotians put their hands into their pockets to provide a very generous revenue which is now sadly wasted.

THE PRICE OF COAL

With the vision of an ended summer necessarily not very far off the problem of a winter's coal supply is an ever present worry to the frugal householder. From present indications prices are not likely to be very much less than last year in spite of the fact that almost five years have elapsed since the ending of the Great War which upset the well ordered conditions preceding 1914. With reductions in most other directions the opinion is naturally entertained that we are now asked to pay more than is due for our fuel supply and that the operators of our mines are reaping unwarranted profits. Not only in Nova Scotia, where the people own the mines, but in other parts of Canada as well, people are finding it difficult to keep the home fires burning and are seeking some way out of the embaras-sing position in which they find themselves. In the province of Alberta are located coal mines which are seeking an outlet for their product. Coal is delivered at the mine for $4.50 per ton and the government has fixed the freight rate to Toronto at seven dollars. Alberta coal is in consequence sold in Toronto at twelve dollars after being carried by rail nearly two thousand miles. With present transportation rates so extremely high coal mines at our doors ought to be able to give a great advantage over those so far away, and one way to enforce such a desirable change is for the freight rates in Nova Scotia to be fixed as they are in other parts of Canada.

THINNING FRUIT

In another column this week we publish a very informing and suggestive article on the subject of the thinning of fruit. While dealing with the situation as it effects the West where thinning has been carried on for some years with most beneficial results, it applies with equal or greater force in the Annapolis Valley. The hints presented equal or greater force in the Annapolis Valley. The hints presented are certainly well worthy of consideration on the part of the fruit-growers of this section and incidentally to every person who is interested in this our principal industry. We must adopt the very latest and best methods both in the production and marketing of our apples, and while this fact is recognized by many of our most progressive growers there are yet many who fail to realize its importance. To such we commend the article in question with the hope that it may receive careful perusal and consideration. A better product in a better package and properly marketed is bound to mean a better price and more profit to the grower.

SENDING BUSINESS OUT OF TOWN

Advertising makes a town, therefore the men who do the adsing of any town are the makers of it and should have the credit loing so. In this, as in all towns, there are some non-advertisers for doing so. In this as in all towns, there are some non-advertisers—men who do business, or try to, with never a cent spent for advertising. These fellows get part of the benefit from their progressive neighbors' advertising therefore, in a sense they are mooching on their neighbors' investments. When you come to town to spend your money you should always try to trade with the firm that spends its money freely for advertising, for that is the kind of people that make your town and keep it going. The Acadian believes this is done very largely. The people are rapidly learning that it pays to trade where they are invited and many will shun the store that does not think enough of their business to solicit same. "Business goes where it is well treated."

EIGHTY USEFUL YEARS

(From the Maritime Baptist)
On July 10, 1843, a child was born at Port Medway, N. S., who was destined to play an important part in the development of the work of the Baptists of the Maritime Provinces. On the 10th of the present month, the child of that day celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his birth in the beautiful town of Wolfville, N. S. A wonderfully busy and fruitful life is covered by that span of eighty years as many of our readers will, at once, know when we tell them that we refer to the career of the Rev. Atwood Cohoon, D. D., who lives today trusted by all, admired by those who know something of his lifetime's achievement, and loved by those who know him best. And after these fourscore years of strenuous service, Dr. Cohoon is a fine specimen of well-preserved and wholesome manhood.

The main outlines of Dr. Cohoon's ous service, Dr. Cohoon is a fine specimen of well-preserved and wholesome manhood.

The main outlines of Dr, Cohoon's life are simple. In early manhood he taught school. Following this experience, he studied at Acadia College, graduating therefrom in 1871 with high rank as a student. The year following he was pastor at Rawdon, N. S. From 1872 to 1876, he spent in fruitful pastoral service at Paradise and Clarence, N. S. This was followed by twelve years of pastoral service at Hebron, N. S., where his strong personality made its impress on the life of the entire community. From his student days, Mr. Cohoon's passion was for Home Missions. He had the vision of the Baptist Home Mission work of the Maritime Provinces being united under a single Board of the Maritime Convention. In 1878 he saw this vision realized, and then followed 'twenty-two years of service as corresponding secretary of the Home Mission Board, during eleven of which he was also pastor at Hebron. From 1892 to 1905, Mr. Cohoon was also Treasurer of Denominational Funds. Mr. Cohoon's experience as Home Mission Superintendent greatly deepened his conviction of the necessity of both an educated ministry and of educated laymen leaders. This deepened his passion Superintendent greatly deepened his passion for education, so that he became growing influential as a member of the Board of Governors of Acadia University upon which body he has served since 1883 to the present time, a period of forty years. It thus came about that around 1892 Mr. Cohoon took up his tresidence in Wolfville, and in 1895 he became Treasurer and Financial Manager of Acadia University and affiliated schools, which position he still holds and admirably fills, having served thus for a period of twenty-eight years. In addition to these positions of public trust, Dr. Cohoon has found time to devote valuable service to the Wolfville Baptist church, and stands among the foremost of the citizens of Wolfville.

It has been characteristic of Dr. Cohoon's service that anything and everything that he has done he has done well. As a preacher he ranked high, his preaching always being true to the great verities of the Gospel of Christ. As a pastor he was wise and faithful. As a college or denominational official he is faithful painstaking and conscientious. Through many years he has carried, with apparent ease, work enough for three men. In critical denominational situations, it has frequently proved that Dr. Cohoon has been our wise man leading the way to the solution of the problem in hand. As a friend, he is true as refined steet, true enough to rebuke the wrong as well as to help and cheer the way of the right. And with all the pressure of his daily tasks, Dr. Cohoon has been a careful observer and a keen student of the movements of the day, in religious circles and in affairs national and world-wide.

Dr. Cohoon's brusqueness of manner is well known to many of our readers. In this respect he has frequently done the rare kindness of his heart an injustice. There are those, and not a few of them, who have learned that beneath that brusque exterior there is a heart as tender as a mother's. Dr. Cohoon has known much of domestic sorrow in the loss of two wives and several children. This has but enriched his capacity to bring helpful ministry to others who have sorrowed, and there are many who can say that no more comforting nor more steadying words came to them in life's darkest hours, than came from the "stern, kind-hearted old man" in Wolf-wille. His words of helpfulness have brought new courage to many when the clouds were heavy about them.

Dr. Cohoon has served his day, his generation, his church, and his denomination with great fidelity and with service of hig

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
Q-What are the chief features of Prince Edward Island?
A-Prince Edward is the smallest province in the Dominion, being only 150 miles in length, and varying in breadth from 2 to 34 miles. The isolation of the island from the mainland habeen overcome by the maintenance by the Canadian Government of a car ferry

Charlottetown is the capital city. The proximity of every part of the island to the sea, not only enriches the air but moderates the heat of summer and the cold of winter. The air is bracing and healthy. The soil of the island is very fertile and 85% of the entire area is

THROUGH THE ANNAPOLIS VALLEY

(An extract taken from the discription in the Picton, Ont., Gazette, of the Weekly Newspaper Men's trip to Nova Scotia)

Digby is situated at the southern end of the famous Annapolis Valley. This valley is one of the finest apple growing sections of the world. It extends from Digby, a distance of about 75 miles, in a north easterly direction to Windsor, with an average width of not more than five or six miles. The the southeast lies the mainland of Nova Scotia a rocky mountainous country with some commercial timber in certain areas and dotted with small lakes, very similar in appearance to much of the northern part of Old Ontario. To the northwest a narrow ridge called the North Mountains separate the Valley from the Bay of Fundy. At the south the Annapolis Basin, which is really an inlet from the Bay of Fundy, stretches for 15 miles up the valley to Annapolis Royal. Here, the Annapolis River which rises almost at the Minas Basin at the north and flows down through the Valley, empties.

From Digby the press party travelled to Halifax by the Dominion Atlantic Railway, operated by the C. P. R. At St. John, Mr. A. H. Lindsay, Advertising Agent, C. N. R., Moncton, joined the party and from Digby they were accompanied by General Manager Graham and Tourist Traffic Manager F. G. J. Comeau, of the D. A. R.

The first stop was made at Annapolis Royal where a visit was made to the old fort, the scene of many struggles between the French and British in the early days. The Fort is now being preserved as an historic museum, the old barracks having recently been restored. An interesting bit of the old fort was the powder magazine, with four foot stone walls, built two hundred years ago.

From Annapolis Royal to Windsor a distance of some lifty or sixty miles, is almost one continuous orchard. The apple trees were in full bloom at the time of our visit and it was truly a splendid sight. There are villages every two or three miles with immense apple warehouses and the country with its comfortable homes and well kept orchards bears evidence of prosperity.

At Kentville a town of about 3000 people and the business centre of the Valley, a stop was made the party transferring to motor cars for the ten mile drive through the heart of the apple country to Wolfville and Grand Pre. The Dominion Experimental farm at Kentville was first visited and then by a good motor road, part of the Provincial Highway, to Wolfville one of the pretitest towns in Canada. Here we are in the country made famous by Long-fellow. Grand Pre the scene of the Expulsion of the Acadians, is only two miles away to the north, along the Minas Basin. Thousands of tourists visit the Evangeline in saving the forms and wolfville is sociations and natural attractions for line country every year and Wolfville is

ONE of the important annual events of the year is the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association when the editors of the weekly papers gather from all parts of the country, held better annual meeting, and travel to wether to the convention city. Two years ago they went to Vancouver, a year ago to Ottawa, and this year to Halifax, where they spent two days after a ten-day tour of the Maritime Provinces. Never was convention tour more completely successful. The party, including ladies' and children, totaled about 1360 people. The editors left Toronto in a special Canadian Pacific train of twelve cars, and in their journey.

SUMMER PRUNING CUTTING SPROUTS POOR PRACTICE

To point out the inadvisability of heavy summer' pruning requires first, that an explanation be made of the function of the leaves on the wood that would be removed by summer pruning. The main reason a tree develops excessive water sprout, lateral and terminal branches is that there is more plant food available than the regular bud and leaf system of the tree is able to consume. Therefore, to balance this condition the tree endeavors to develop a greater leafing system.

tem of the tree is able to consume. Therefore, to balance this condition the tree endeavors to develop a greater leafing system.

During the early part of the growing season when these new leaves and shoots are being developed they are drawing on the supply of mineral plant food in the soil for their nourishment. About the middle of the summer these new leaves and shoots become firmer of texture and continue manufacturing plant food. However, this plant food now being manufacutred in these leaves is not for the leaves themselves but to be returned to the fruit for its development, to the buds for their development throughout the tissue of the tree, to be stored up for next year's use and to roots of the trees to be stored there and be used next year for the development of the new feeder roots.

It will thus be seen from the above that the early development of water sprouts and new shoots represent excessive growth but that later in the season if left undisturbed they may become an aid to the nourishing of the remainder of the tree. Removing the water sprouts and shoots after they have developed and before they aid in furnishing plant food to the tree is really a process of robbing the tree of nourishment and it is, much better to leave such growth until entirely dormant before removing it.

Young Trees

Often in dormant pruning of young trees they may be severely cut back and and leaders. Such frees will always throw out large quantities of new shoots and some people make the mistake of removing these after they have made considerable growth and before they have aided in the restoring of plant food to the main tree. Thimning out and summer pruning of young trees in not at all necessary and possibly more injurious than beneficial.

Summer Pruning While Thinning

A number of orchardists are beginning the practice of clipping out many new shoots and heading-in fruiting branches at thinning time. This is done as a sup-posed aid in thinning and as a means of letting more sunlight to the apples to promote higher color. The clipping out of a large quantity of new shoots should not be practiced as it is a divitalizing process and it is out of the leaves on these new shoots that develop and store up plant food for new buds for future growth and fruit development. It is not known but what the removal of new shoots arising from spurs bearing fruit robs the fruit of plant food which, of course, would check the development and growth of the fruit itself. Any form of summer pruning should be done very carefully as there are many instances where drastic summer pruning divitalized and injured vigorous hearty trees.

BABY BAND ENTERTAINED BY

W. M. A. S.

The Baby Band of United Baptist church was the guest of honor at a delightful reception given by the W. M. A. S. to 35 little ones and their mothers. The afternoon opened with singing and repeating in unison Pealm 23 and the Lord's Prayer. An interesting program consisting of a dialogue, "The Doing Without Box", which was cleverly carried out by Miss Nellie Eaton and Miss Ona Ward's reading entitled, "Such as I Have Give I Thee", well rendered by Miss Nellie Eaton; and a group of little ones singing sweetly gave much pleasure. Mrs. Reid Pelton, President of the W. M. A. S., who presided, gave an interesting talk on the "Relation of the Baby Band to the Mother Society and the great work made possible through its efforts". The children over seven years of age received their Mission Band Boxes signifying their graduation into the older ranks, of which Miss Marian Eaton is Superintendent. They were the following: Margaret Sandford, Helen Newcombe, Pearl Blenkhorne, Lawrence Sheridan, Vernon Bigelow, Vera Spicer, Ralph Melvin, Kathleen Cox, Arthur Caldwell, Kathleen Bennett, Alice Jodrie, Kathleen Cox, Evelyn Melvin, William Scott Thompson were made life members.

Refershments were then enjoyed, those assisting being Miss Ona Ward, Miss Nellie Eaton, Miss Geraldene Burbidge. The mite box collection amounted to Nellie Eaton, Miss Geraidene Burnidge. The mite box collection amounted to $18.21. It was with much pleasure that we welcomed Mrs. (Rev.) Harry Barber, organizer of the Band, under whose guidance the Band has grown until its membership has reached 52. Mrs. L. M. Ward, a former W. M. A. S. president, Mrs. (Rev.) H. T. Wright and Miss-Marian Eaton were also present.

APPLES AND PLUMS WERE IN TRODUCED IN ENGLAND FOUR CENTURIES AGO

Works of reference show that last year was the fourth centenary in England of two of their most valued fruits, the apple and plum. They were introduced to that country in 1522, and may be said to have kept close company ever since, the combination of the plum and apple in preserving and culinary form being well known, particularly to those on the battle-fronts, who sang of the glories of plum and apple jam in the early stages of the struggle, and gradually became less enamored of it. The apple came from Syria and the plum from Italy. Apples, of a kind, were indigenous to England, but the fruit as we know it was introduced in 1522, no doubt by Richard Harris, fruiterer to Henry VIII., to whom England is indebted for so much in the way of fruit and vegetables. He planted a great part of the original orchards of Kent. In 1688 the number of varieties was placed by Ray at 78, and now there are over 2000. Experts in pomology might question, however, whether this could be demonstrated on distinct varieties.

(From the "Youth's Companion")
Americans may well extend to the people across the northern frontier their teartiest congratulations on the healthy expansion of their country. There is und can be no jealousy in our hearts, or in the prosperity of the Dominion there is nothing for us but benefit.

It is real prosperity of the sort that in the forties and fifties was making the United States great. The country is silling up with immigrants of the best class, such as were then coming in swarms to the United States. The population is moving west and taking up land. The new Canada already furnishes much of the wheat on which the 'Old World depends.

Manufacturing too is doing for Canada what it did for us a half century or more upon. The transportation lines of the Dominion are already magnificent and are steadily improving. No other railway project was ever more daring than the building of a line through the wilderness almost at the northern limit of possible human habitation, to the shores of Hudson Bay, to open for a few months of the year the shortest route from the grainfields of the West to European markets.

human habitation, the shocks of the year the shortest route from the grainfields of the West to European markets.

Canada is under fine institutions—self-governed and well-governed. It has bred a body of public men of ability and high character. Americans may not appreciate the worldly wisdom that leads Canadians to cling to the British connection; but they can appreciate the sentiment behind their willingness to forgo the last rights of complete sovereignty in their pride as a part of the British Empire for there is now no material benefit for them in the connection. Once the statesmen of the Dominion might have regarded separating from the empire as sacrificing protection that they needed. Now, if any duty remains, its rests on Canada to help England. The child looks naturally to shelter and protection at the hands of a parent; when it is grown up filial affection holds it true to its allegiance. History can be searched in vain for a parallel to the relations, physical and political, between Canada and the United States. There has never been another such stretch of unguarded boundary between two countries, never two peoples living side by side for so long a period in entire harmony and good feeling. It is all the more remarkable when we consider that the two peoples are almost absolutely alike in everything except that one of them cherishes a sentimental allegiance to the British crown. A stranger alighting from the air in a town in New Convinced by her study of the Hindu sacred writings that the degradation to which widows were subjected was not a tenet of the Hindu religion, but an abuse of its teachings, Ramabai, hersel a widow, determined to devote her life to bettering the condition of the sad class of her sisters. To this end she went to England in 1883 where she mastered English, giving lectures in Sanscrit at Cheltenham College in return for English lessons.

Cheltenham College in return for English lessons.

In 1888 she visited the United States, where she interested many religious leaders in her plan for starting a home for widows where her countrywomen, could come without fear of breaking caste, since Ramabai herself was a widow. Accordingly, upon her return to India, she opened in Bombay such a home school which was called "Sharada Sada" (Home of Wisdom). This school, small at first, increased rapidly during the great famine in 1896. It was moved to Poona, a farm was bought, Ramabia Associations were formed in America and England, and soon hundreds of girl widows were finding protection and a way to happy self-reliance. The enterprise started solely for widows. In later years it so developed that schools and orphanages for L500 to 1,700 young women and children have been carried on with the greatest success. She trained her own teachers for the industrial departments of weaving, printing and farm work. In addition to all her activities in superintending and financing she translated the Bible and many other Christian books into the language of the people among whom she worked.

Quite early in her life she accepted the intellectual truth of Christianity and was baptized in the Church of England during her stay in London. But in her wonderful little book, called "A Testimony", published in 1917, on her own press in Poona, she says: "I came to know after eight years from the time of my baptism that I had found the Christian religion which was good enough for me, but I had not found Christ." In the same pamphlet she relates the evolution of her religious experience until she came to accept with joy Jeaus Christan world.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. O. N. Chipman taking for his text the words "When a few years are come, then I shall go the way, whence I shall not return". The music was in charge of the Clark-Cross quartette, who sang "Sometime, Somewhere" and "The City of Gold". The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Miss Irene Gates left on Monday for Truro, where she will join relatives and motor to Boston, visiting The White Mountains before returning.

THE REVIVAL OF CRICKET IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL

(Montreal Star, July 28th)

The following letter has been received: Sporting Editor Montreal Daily Star: Sir.—It afforded me great gratification to read the report on cricket on vorur page in Thursday's Star. You men' ion that cricket is booming. That is so. To one who has followed it for the last fifteen years in Montreal, it is a great pleasure to him to bear you out. The number of spectators seen watching the play these days to when there were a few years since; one and there were a few years since; one and the campus—a two day's match with Laching—there were more spectators watching that game than there were at the last visit of the Australian team to Montreal, some twelve years since.

"Cricket is booming"—yes sir, and one would not be far astray if he were to prophecy that, sooner or later, cricket will be the "star" game—that is, summer game—of Canada. That worthy veteran of the game—Can Moyse, who for nearly forty years has supported the geme in Canada—is still to be seen on the ground watching the game with the same keen interest he has always displayed, and it doubtless does his heart good to see his cherished wish for the furtherarce o' the good old game making the good strides it has done in the last three or four years.—A. T. P.

ESTIMATING GRADES OF HILLS

When looking at the road directly ahead of the car, it is practically impossible to tell with any degree of accuracy the grade at which the road goes either up or down. Often we will be running on what seems to be considerable of an upgrade and will be surprised to notice that water at the side of the road is travelling the same way that we are going. This is due to an optical illusion which is hard to overcome. One hill will look exceptionally steep, while another with exactly the same grade, will look nearly level, the difference being caused by the surrounding country in the neighborhood of the difference being caused by the surrounding country in the neighborhood of the difference being caused by the surrounding country in the neighborhood of the difference being caused by the surrounding country in the power required to drive the car. Many times we think the car is not pulling as well as it should, when we find upon investigation that we are travelling up a long grade instead of on what was supposed to be a level road. This is an illusion which is very often encountered when travelling in mountainous country.

The Tangent System

There has been considerable argument as to whether the per cent of grade should be measured in the size of the angle of rise from the horizontal or in the tangent of the angle. General custom has popularized the use of the tangent method of measurement and this has been recently indorsed by the National Society of Automotive Engineers.

To readers who are not familiar with these trigonometric names, we may explain this measurement in the following manner:

A grade of 10 per cent means a vertical distance of one hundred feet. A 20 per cent and a content of the angle of one hundred feet.

plain this measurement in the following manner:

A grade of 10 per cent means a vertical distance of one hundred feet. A 20 per cent grade in the same way would be a rise of twenty feet in a horizontal distance of one hundred feet. A 100 per cent grade measured in this same way would be a rise of one hundred feet in the horizontal distance of one hundred feet. This would mean an angle of forty-five degrees or exactly one half of the perpendicular. This is about twice as steep a grade as any automobile can be made to climb regardless of its power, due to the slipping of the wheels on the road surface.

one supping of the waters of a syou had expected before you tried the specific partial as you had expected before you tried the experiment.

If you would have a faithful servan and one that you like, serve yourself.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leade the Liberal-Conservative party in Can accompanied by W. L. Hall, K. C. vincial leader of the party, made a visit to Kentville on Wednesday, were entertained at a luncheon at Cornwallis Inn, and a number of minent members of the party in county had a chance to meet the lea in the afternoon.

the road bed happens to be wet or slippery, a car cannot begin to climb a grade, of much less than this amount.

There are instruments made purposely to measure the grade of a hill but in the absence of one of these, it is a very easy proposition to get a fairly accurate degree of the percentage of the grade. The necessary tools consist of a piece of string just ten feet long and a small pocket level.

Simple Practice

In order to measure the grade, fasten one end of the string to the road by, a weight of some kind, then walk down the hill to the other end of the string which is on the down hill side high enough so that the string will be perfectly level and then measure the distance from the string to the ground in feet and tenths of a foot. Multiply this distance in feet by ten feet and you will have the percentage of grade of the hill.

For example, if you find the distance from the end of the string to the ground to be one and four-tenths feet, it means that the grade is 25 per cent, etc.

The grades which are encountered in ordinary travel are much less than usually supposed. It is very seldom that we find a grade of more than 10 per cent on an ordinary public road although occasionally we find some of 15 per cent in exceptional places, while notoriously steep hills may run up as high as 20 per cent. This, however, is about the limit.

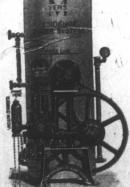

A hill which is steeper than 10 or 12 per cent looks much steeper than 11 per cent of string and the pocket level and go out and experiment. You will be very much surprised to see that the hill does not point toward the sky nearly as much as you had expected before you tried the experiment.
