

SHE LOVED TWO CHINESE.

Murdered Elsie Sigel Wrote Nearly 200 Letters to Chu Gain.

Body is at Last Identified by Her Father.

Leung Lim in Washington With an Unknown Girl.

New York, June 21.—A new and puzzling element came into the case of the murdered Elsie Sigel last night, in the discovery at the Port Arthur restaurant of nearly 200 letters, written by Elsie to Chu Gain and couched in endearing terms.

Leung Lim, the murderer, may never be found, but the body of his victim will not be buried in the potter's field. Paul Sigel, the father-to-day positively identified the body at the morgue, and claimed it, admitting for the first time that it is that of his daughter.

The dead girl's mother, who is now in a sanitarium, had previously identified the jewelry, another woman had identified the stained underclothing, and relatives had said that the murdered girl was Elsie Sigel, granddaughter of General Franz Sigel, but until this evening the father had maintained an attitude of unexplained silence.

But after a conference at police headquarters this afternoon, he visited the morgue, accompanied by Franz Sigel, a brother, Reginald, a son, and Mabel Sigel, a cousin of the victim.

Clothing found on the body was shown to the father first to make the shock as gradual as possible, for later he was to see the blackened form of his daughter. First the underclothing was examined by Mabel Sigel.

"Elsie," said the girl, as she examined the clothing, "used to wear a peculiar, white-headed pin."

A detective ran his fingers through the clothing and in a moment held up white-headed pin. Mabel Sigel nodded. "Elsie wore those," she said, and she continued her examination. After a moment she was sure that the clothing was that worn by her cousin and the (Continued on Page 3.)

HAPPY EVENT.

Morning Wedding at St. Patrick's Church To-day.

At 8.15 this morning a quiet wedding was celebrated in St. Patrick's presbytery by Rev. Father Coghlin, when Stella Margaret Breheny, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Breheny, 110 Wilson street, became the wife of John W. Hamilton, of the Westinghouse staff, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa. Miss Mary Sinnott, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Norman Barlow, of Niagara Falls, assisted the groom.

The bride wore a white silk mull princess dress, and large picture hat, trimmed with feathers. Her travelling suit was black and white broadcloth, and Panama hat with black wings. The bridesmaid's dress was a white silk mull princess, with black picture hat. The groom's gift to the bride was an amethyst brooch.

After the ceremony the bridal couple adjourned to the home of the bride's mother, where breakfast was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, and they left at 10 o'clock for Cincinnati to visit the brother of the bride, E. J. Breheny, formerly of Hamilton.

BORN LUCKY,

Or These Two Ladies Would Have Been Injured.

Miss Walsh, daughter of Police Sergeant Walsh, West avenue north, and a friend, Miss Hood, stenographer for Mayor Lawson, Dundas, had a somewhat exciting experience last evening. They were driving a spirited horse, and when passing the Ontario Box Company's premises off Main street east, early in the evening, it became frightened at a Bradford car entering the street from the Terminal Station yard, and dashed on to the sidewalk. The boulevard, at that point, is considerably higher than the street, and the buggy was overturned, throwing the occupants up on the road. Fortunately, both ladies fell free of the buggy, and the consequences might have been serious, as the horse dashed eastwardly, dragging the vehicle, minus one wheel, along the sidewalk, here lined with iron and wood trolley, telephone and telegraph poles. The Sunday evening promenaders freely gave it right of way. Once the animal fell, but speedily regained its feet and continued its career till it reached Mr. Alexander Ballentine's residence, when, turning into the lawn, it sought to enter the side gate, to the considerable damage of both that structure and the buggy.

The young ladies were taken to Dr. Carrick's surgery where they received medical attention. It was found that Miss Walsh had been fortunate enough to escape injury, except a few bruises, and abrasions. Miss Hood, however, was badly shaken up and suffered some injury to her left side. At first it was feared that her hip bone had been fractured, but after the arrival of her parents from Dundas, she had so far recovered from the shock as to permit of her being carried to the 10.15 car, where she was made comfortable, and taken to her home.

The horse, which is a fine animal belonging to Police Sergeant Walsh, was uninjured, but the vehicle will require considerable repairs.

The R. H. Y. C. Tuesday dances start to-morrow evening. Radial cards as scheduled, and special card will leave the club house at 11.30.

BOOZE, KNIFE AND A GUN.

A Stabbing Affair in an Italian Colony Last Night.

Smith vs. Smith in a Theft Case This Morning.

Fined $15 For Furious Driving Around the Market.

At Police Court this morning considerable time was taken up with a stabbing affray between some Italians, and Budimir Protich was called upon to act as interpreter, as the prisoners and witnesses could not speak English.

Frank Domino and Seppon Pomeck were charged with stabbing by Tony Gabritch, and both pleaded guilty.

Tony Gabritch said the trouble started last night at 11.30. An Italian asked him and his wife, and a friend from Buffalo, to go over and have something to drink, and they went. At 11.30 he left the house, and on reaching home, two people were in front of his home. When he asked them what they wanted they jumped at him, he said, and stabbed him, and one of them pointed a revolver at him, but did not fire. After being stabbed he looked for the police.

L. Counsell appeared for the prisoners. Thomas Amasalinio said he had seen one of them with a revolver. The prisoners told him to go on when he came out, but he stood where he was.

Henrietta Gabritch, a sister of the one who stabbed, said she went out in company with the Buffalo friend she saw the prisoners running away. Effie Gabritch, the complainant's wife, said some Italians put the prisoners out of the house where the drinking was going on, and locked the door, but when a fight started she went out to help her husband and Seppon Pomeck threatened to shoot her if she did not go away.

P. C. Lowery gave evidence of having been notified of the assault and of arresting the prisoners at Pomeck's residence and two other constables found the prisoners hiding in the cellar.

Both prisoners were committed for trial, and will be arraigned a week from to-morrow.

Philip J. Smith, 104 Jackson street west, was charged by Dely J. Smith with stealing a dozen incandescent lamps. The complainant said the prisoner was selling lamps for him at 25 per cent. commission. He had twelve lamps and sold eight of them at $5 each. Philip, he said, had worked for him a few days before he started selling lamps and had been paid $11.45, which was about $4 more than was due him. Mr. Thomson, of Kerr & Thomson, questioned the witness as to where he got the lamps in the first place, and was told he bought them for cash in Connecticut. Philip Smith was then put in the witness box and said the agreement was that he pay $3.75 for the lamps and he was at liberty to sell them at whatever figure he wished. There had been some trouble in regard to some lively bills. "He stole these lamps and I can prove it," said the witness.

Witness said that under the instructions of complainant he had hired a buggy for three days at $3 so that the country might be canvassed. The prisoner was committed for trial and let out on his own recognizance. Joseph White was charged with being drunk and driving immoderately. He pleaded guilty to immoderate driving, but not to being drunk.

P. C. Gibbs, the complainant, said the prisoner had been driving past the market at an immoderate rate and was under the influence of liquor. Mr. Stirling (Continued on Page 16.)

Large Contract Made by the Hamilton Steel Company.

Port Huron, June 21.—The Hamilton Steel and Iron Company has contracted for 350,000 tons of ore, to be shipped from Escanaba and Michipicoten Island and unloaded at its ore dock, Point Edward, this season. The Turret Crown arrived from Escanaba with a load of ore, and the steamers Turret Cape, Midland Prince and Collingwood, are here waiting their turn to be unloaded. The dock is capable of unloading 5,000 tons of ore in ten hours.

COAL LANDS.

Samuel Barker In Far West Inspecting Them.

Vancouver, June 21.—"I am going north to inspect 20,000 acres of coal lands in the Telkwa Valley, secured several years ago by a Toronto and Hamilton syndicate in which I am interested," said Mr. Samuel Barker, M. P., of Hamilton, on Saturday.

"The holdings have already been examined by experts, and declared to possess great possibilities. Now that railway facilities are to be provided by the Grand Trunk Pacific, the syndicate will probably soon lay out a plan of development. Many of the seams are of workable size, and a large tonnage is assured. The coal basin is about two miles from the main line of the railway. It is probable that a branch will be built into the Telkwa, as the railway company owns several claims in the same region. We have already prospected the various seams." Mr. Barker went north on the steamer Camosun.

HAYHURST, G.M.

But Montreal Paper Gives the Credit to Another.

The Montreal Daily Star of Thursday last fell into a remarkable error in a write-up of the Canadian Biscuit team. It says the team of this year is the "best team yet," and proceeds to tell why. The Star says:

"Lieut.-Col. A. Bertram will be in command of the team, with Major J. S. Mercer as adjutant. Major Mercer was the first Canadian to win the Queen's Prize—the greatest trophy for individual marksmen in the British Empire. The prize is a gold badge and purse of $1,250. Major Mercer was at Bisley only once, in 1895, and on that occasion carried off the trophy."

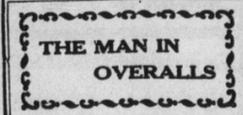

"In speaking of the occasion on which he won the trophy, Major Mercer said that after he won the prize his clothes were torn almost to ribbons because of the demonstration of his friends." "Wonderful! But Hamilton members of the team now on its way to Bisley were so struck with the glowing account of Major Mercer's great victory that they sent marked copies of the Star to Staff Sergeant T. H. Hayhurst, G. M., and other members of the celebrated team of 1895. They were a surprised lot. Of course everyone knows that "Tommy" Hayhurst, of the Thirteenth, of this city, won the Queen's Prize last year, and was the first Canadian to win it. Major Mercer was on the team, but did nothing of note.

THE SAME SLOGAN.

The enterprising people of Oregon have a slogan almost identical with that of Hamilton. The Greater Hamilton Association adopted "Hamilton, Canada, is the spot for you," and the western State people use "Oregon is the place for you." They use the words just as Hamilton does, in an oval around envelopes, etc. They had a large write up in the Philadelphia Post last week.

CARRYING LARGE CROWDS.

The Hamilton Ferry Company on Saturday had a big day's business at Oaklands, handling the Baptist Young People's City Union picnic and a number of small parties. The traffic to the cemetery yesterday was so heavy that the company will run a number of extra trips next Sunday to avoid crowding. The company is giving a special rate for fruit pickers to the north shore.

Outside royalty, no woman could have been more welcome to Hamilton than Lady Aberdeen.

Get your money ready for the Y. M. C. A. fund.

Take another think over the power matter. It's all very well getting even with the Cataract Company. But this will make a hole in your pocket.

My idea of Labor Day is to take our enjoyment sitting down.

If you must bet, bet with your own money.

"Are you a Mason?" It looked on Saturday as if the most of us were.

Possibly Ald. Wright has an idea that he is acting Minister of Power in Mr. Beck's absence in England.

It was fitting that Lady Aberdeen, the head of the Victorian Order of Nurses, should get queen's weather for her visit to Hamilton.

If you want to keep the children off the street help along the playgrounds movement.

Would it be right to say that that Masonic procession was composed of Freed men?

Now, how many ratepayers have an intelligent idea of this power question?

The city is putting up an iron fence on top of the cement embankment wall on the Jolley Cut. But it was not until a horse tumbled over it that it began the work. What does Chairman Allan think about the road, anyway? Or does he think about it at all?

If I were you I wouldn't worry about the weather. Things are growing all right, although some may be a little late.

There is one thing about the Beach people. They seem quite resigned down there. You never hear them grumble except it be at an open car on a frosty morning, forgetting that that is only a part of the company's open-air cure.

The Herald does not seem to be as anxious to make a good bargain with the Hydro Electric Commission as it was to see that the Cataract was well equipped.

For the honor conferred upon them on Saturday, by the Y. W. C. A. ladies, the Masons couldn't do less than make the President of the Association an honorary member. Why not?

There are enough of habitual drunkards in Hamilton—men and women on the toboggan chute—to fill a large-sized drunkards' home.

To have to dress a dozen times a day, as poor Mrs. Gould did, would be enough to drive anybody to drink.

What are you doing on behalf of the Greater Hamilton movement? Anything at all?

The question again arises, are you going to do down or do up your precesses this season?

Don't ask for a large free notice for a small ad. Newspapers do not live by faith altogether.

Dear Mr. Man in Overalls:—You often ask where the money comes from in connection with this Hydro Electric propaganda. I say it is from the other Hamiltonians who are trying to get the Hydro Electric out of a hole. Why should we go into a deal that is so vague, especially when Hamilton is so well served and the taxes are high enough now.

DISMISSED.

Petition to Wind Up Tilden-Jackson Company Refused.

The petition of John Herbert Fair, of Hamilton, for the winding-up of the Tilden-Jackson Visible Typewriter Company, Limited, was dismissed by Mr. Justice Latchford, without costs. W. M. Douglas, K. C., appeared for the company and F. Maclellan for the petitioner. The company was incorporated in 1906, with authorized capital of $500,000.

DROWNED.

B. Jenkins, From Near Hamilton, Lost His Life.

Mayor McLaren this morning received a telegram from the Mines Centre Lumber Company notifying him of the death there by drowning of B. Jenkins, whose home is believed to be within three miles of Hamilton. His worship was asked to try and find Jenkins' relatives. The telegram was handed to the Chief of Police, Ernest Fletcher, of the Hamilton Ferry Company's boat Ivan R., sighted them in five miles above Fort Frances, in the Rainy River district.

IN THE BAY.

Ernest Fletcher and another young man had an unpleasant experience on the bay shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, their skiff capsizing in the stiff breeze a considerable distance out from the shore. The men were clinging to the upturned boat when Captain Forster, of the Hamilton Ferry Company's boat Ivan R., sighted them. He threw them a rope and towed the boat to Bay View.

The Hamilton Summer School for Oratory will be formally opened Tuesday night by Thomas Hobson, chairman of the Board of Education.

DROPS DEAD.

Galt, Ont., June 21.—Elizabeth Gordon, aged 50 years, of Ayr, dropped dead last night at the home of Walter Coult, where she was a guest, on her return from attending church. Heart disease was the cause of death.

HYDRO PEOPLE ARE NOT READY YET.

No One Seems to be Able to Give the City Necessary Information.

Through no fault of Mayor McLaren or the aldermen who are anxious to have the matter cleaned up, there will be no meeting of the power committee to-night. The city evidently has the Hydro-Commission on the run. The chief lieutenants of the Government's scheme were in a great stew a few days ago to get the aldermen to do something, but the speed with which the committee acted must have been rather surprising to those who were urging haste. On Saturday afternoon the Mayor heard from Mr. Gavey, one of the assistant engineers. Mr. Gavey said that Hon. Adam Beck was out of the country, Hon. J. S. Hendrie at camp and Mr. McNaught, the third member of the Commission, could not be found on Saturday. The assistant engineer said he could give no answers and furnish no information until the commission decided what was to be done. When asked if the commission could decide without consulting the municipal corporations, parties to the contract, Mr. Gavey replied that he could not say. "I am determined to have a meeting to-night, if possible," said His Worship. "They promised to let me know by 1 o'clock whether they could be here."

As press time the Mayor had received no word from Toronto and he cancelled the meeting.

E. B. Merrill is the electrical expert who will assist City Engineer Macellum in preparing the information which the power committee asked for. Mr. Merrill laid out the power system in Winnipeg, and has had wide experience. He is expected here to-night.

To-night the Board of Health will have a special meeting to deal with the garbage collection system on the east end mountain top and in the annex.

Mayor McLaren points out that the city receives only 8 1/2 mills on improvements in the annex, and will not be receiving the city assessment on the mountain property until the waterworks is installed. The Board of Health has already done some garbage collecting in the annex and on the mountain top. If the collection is gone into on a large scale it will be done at the expense of the ratepayers in the older portions of the city, and the city officials think it is just a question whether a ratepayer could not restrain the Board of Health from doing the work when it has no appropriation for it.

City Solicitor Waddell, Mayor McLaren and a deputation from the Council will go to Toronto to-morrow in connection with the annexation order which will be considered by the Ontario Municipal Board. The township will also be well represented. As there will be considerable opposition on the part of the property owners in the southwest corner of the district to annexation, it is not expected that the case will be disposed of to-morrow.

Building permits were issued to-day to George J. White for a brick warehouse on Emerald street, between Main and Hunter streets, to $10,000, and to F. Marcey for a brick house on Cottage avenue, south of Aberdeen avenue, to cost $3,500.

Mayor McLaren has received from Postmaster Adam Brown a token of good luck in the shape of a large gilded horseshoe, which will occupy a prominent place on his worship's desk during the balance of his term.

The Finance Committee will not meet this week, as Chairman Peregrine will be in Buffalo on business on Thursday.

SOON OVER.

Two County Court Cases Dismissed This Morning.

The General Sessions of the Peace and County Court re-opened this morning at 11 o'clock. As no one appeared in the action of Long Lumber Company vs. William McGill for $103.78 goods sold, Judge Snider dismissed the case. The action of Long Lumber Co. vs. the F. N. Tenant Company for $330 promissory note was also dismissed.

The action of Thompson vs. the C. P. R. for $200 loss of baggage was laid over until October, and a special sitting on June 30 was arranged for the case of the Petrie Manufacturing Company vs. H. Mumford, for $169 goods sold.

ROBINSON WAS FINED.

Appeal In Sporting Editors' Case Decided To-day.

Amusement Promoters Have Right to Refuse Admission.

The Decision Is of Considerable Importance.

Judge Monck gave his decision this morning in the appeal of F. C. Mills, sporting editor of the Times, against the decision of Magistrate Jellis, who dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct against M. M. Robinson, sporting editor of the Spectator, in the police court. Mr. Mills' appeal is sustained, and Robinson is fined. The decision is important, as it establishes the right of proprietors of places of amusement, and of other persons catering to the public, to refuse admission to persons considered objectionable. The judgment is as follows: "The place where the offence is alleged to have been committed was private property in charge of the appellant, who had the right to refuse admission to any person he thought objectionable."

"The respondent's counsel argued that one cannot be convicted under Sec. 207, of the Criminal Code, of disorderly conduct on private property, because the words 'street, roadway, highway or public place' only are used, but the words 'public place' are defined by subsection 2 of the above section to mean 'any open place to which the public have or are permitted to have access and any place of public resort.'"

"This was a place of public resort and the public were permitted to have access to it; in fact, were invited to do so on the occasion of this offence. It was, therefore, a public place within the meaning of the above section."

"The fact that the respondent remained in the passage way for fifteen minutes after being requested to withdraw, and only withdrew when a policeman was called, is sufficient evidence of the offence."

"As, however, this is a case in which only the immediate parties to the appeal are interested, there should be a nominal fine of one dollar only and no costs to either party."

A. M. Lewis represented Mr. Mills in the appeal, and G. Lynch-Staunton was for Robinson.

PASSENGERS SHAKEN UP.

A street car ran off the track on Barton street last night as a result of the rails spreading at a point where the roadbed is being renewed, and as the car was going at a good rate of speed the jolt gave the passengers a bad shaking up, but only three men were hurt enough to require the services of a doctor. The accident happened near the railway bridge.

GOULD WON'T GO ON STAND.

Howard Gould Will Not Testify For Himself.

His Lawyer Says His Defence is Already Complete.

Mrs. Gould's Lawyer Had No Witnesses Ready to Go On.

What Howard Gould's Wife Demands From Her Husband

First—Separation.

Second—$250,000 a year alimony.

This figure means: $20,833.33 1/3 a month.

$634.93 a day.

47 1/2 a minute.

With this income and a normal respiration, Mrs. Gould would get 2 1/2 cents every time she breathed.

DEFENCE RESTS.

New York, June 21.—Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing her husband for a separation and $250,000 alimony, said to-day that she had added several witnesses for her side, and obtained evidence to refute the testimony of the employees of the Hotel Bellevue Stratford, who testified that they saw Dustin Farnum, the actor, leave her apartments early one morning during her stay at the Philadelphia in 1908. Mrs. Gould returned from Philadelphia last night, where she went on Saturday after the week-end recess of court.

Mrs. Gould's lawyer to-day declined to say what the refutation evidence was, but said it would all be introduced at the trial at the proper time, and that when Mrs. Gould's case was presented in rebuttal there would be many surprises for the defence.

It is expected that Howard Gould will be called as a witness in his own behalf. His testimony on direct and cross-examination may occupy two or three days, it was said. In view of the large number of witnesses yet to be called by both sides, Justice Dowling will hold late sessions of court this week, and probably next sessions.

When court opened to-day the defence sprung a surprise by announcing that it rested its case. Attorney De Lancey Nicoll, for Mr. Gould, declared that on looking over the testimony that had been presented he found it so replete with evidence to establish the contention of the defence that Mr. Gould was justified in the separation from his wife that he believed it unnecessary to call any more witnesses. Clarence J. Shearn, attorney for Mrs. Gould, heard the case for trial. Mr. Shearn at once proceeded with the reading of these depositions.

The deposition taken up by Mr. Shearn was that of Mrs. Alice S. Bankhead, of Atlanta, Ga., wife of Lieut. Henry McCauley Bankhead, of Fort McPherson, Ga., who visited Mrs. Gould on numerous occasions. Mrs. Gould stated that she had visited Mrs. Gould at Castle Gould, and the St. Regis Hotel for periods of several weeks at a time, and never saw her use intoxicants excessively.

In the cross examination of the deposition, Mrs. Bankhead would not swear that she had never heard the case for trial. Mr. Shearn at once proceeded with the reading of these depositions.

The

Love Finds the Way

Sir Ralph could not tell a falsehood—not even to the extent of feigning sudden indisposition—to his beautiful idol, and he judged it best to remain and shield, as much as possible, the object of Lady Melville's aversion from her gaze.

Accordingly, he drew the beautiful girl aside and pulled the curtain half-way across the box; but Lily, ignorant of his wish, leaned forward and so frustrated his design.

It was her first opera; she was an intellectual, ardent and poetical child. With the first burst of music, her whole soul was aroused and shone from her extended eyes.

From the entrance of the singers to the fall of the curtain she never removed her gaze from the stage, and when the first burst of applause burst forth, she sank back into her chair and breathed a sigh almost of relief.

Sir Ralph, who had watched her with a great deal more than the performance, bent forward and whispered: "Well, Lily, are you enjoying it?"

"Oh, papa!" she replied, clasping her hands. "How much! It is beyond all expression. I don't wonder at the people seeming pleased—but I could not clap my hands, it is too divine for that. I feel more inclined to cry, tell me, papa, how long will they be before they commence again?"

"Only a few minutes, my dear," he replied, almost forgetting the presence opposite in the joy of his child's enjoyment. "Will you not take a little lemonade or an ice, Lily?"

"No, no; I could not eat or drink, papa; it would spoil my happiness. Hush! They are playing again!" and with an absorbed eagerness she leaned forward to catch every note of the music.

So far all had gone well. The girl had been too enraptured to gaze round the house, but there were two more acts, and in the intervals, she might turn and look round—perhaps catch the glances which were directed at her from the opposite box, and ask the names of the people who bestowed them.

Had he been asked his reasons for dressing—had he dreaded, as well as disliked—Lady Melville, Sir Ralph would have been puzzled to give them.

Enough, that he knew his own and his daughter's death would be beneficial to his brother's widow, and that he felt, assuredly, that she was not a woman to stand at trifles, or more than trifles, where her interest was concerned.

The two gentlemen, having assisted her ladyship to her carriage, waited a moment until Sir Ralph's brougham was called.

"Ah!" whispered the chevalier, with perfectly assumed surprise. "Is the ferocious-looking gentleman a relative to her ladyship, my lord?"

"Yes," replied Lord Harcourt, coldly. "Had we not better return to the duchess?"

The chevalier bowed and followed his companion up the staircase, but not without a last parting glance at the baronet, who still sat stern and angry-looking as he helped the beautiful girl into the brougham.

"Good night, Sir Ralph," he murmured, inaudibly. "Take care of your own eye; lambs; her ladyship has claws! Well, 'tis not so bad a scene for the opening of her life's drama. And now for my friend, the baron. I fancy I have put a spoke in the wheels of his hope that will stop their progress pretty well."

"How is this?" said Lord Harcourt, as they approached the box, at the door of which there was a loud knocking. "The door has been closed."

"Ab, that must have been your carelessness," said the chevalier. "How very stupid. I closed it behind me, forgetting that your boxes are—unlike ours in Venice—miniature prison houses."

His ladyship half turned and looked suspiciously, but the Venetian nobleman appeared so sorry for his mistake, hastening to efface it by opening the door, and apologizing to the baron, who was fuming and fretting at having been prevented from following Lady Melville, that Lord Harcourt's doubts were dissolved.

"A thousand pardons, baron!" murmured the chevalier. "Your grace, a foreigner's ignorance must plead for me."

"Her ladyship—is she better?" asked the duchess of Lord Harcourt. "Quite recovered, but thought it prudent to retire."

"no pursuit! Give me the trin-ket!"

"Here you are," said the mock coo-man, laughing as he handed a handful of glittering jewelry to his fare.

"Vilely!" retorted the chevalier. "Lucky for you, my friend, that it was I who gave chase. Had it been a constable with the intention of catching you, you would be in the lock-up by this time. Bah, man! one should be like an eel in such a crowd; you were too slow by half."

"Well," muttered Charles, for it was he, "I went right, notwithstanding. But, there, you always find fault."

"For your good, ungrateful idiot, Bah! there—there's your fare. Now drive home and be quiet."

Giving him one of the baron's rings the chevalier carefully covered his exquisite evening dress with a large cloak which he took from the cab, and walked off hurriedly in the direction of Spit-alfields.

CRUISER BEACHED. Sappho is Reported to Have Gone Down After Collision.

MANY MURDERS. Winnipeg, June 20.—Lewis James, who was expected to be the star witness in the preliminary hearing of C. F. Hornbeck, charged with the murder of Mrs. James last April, positively refused to answer any questions yesterday on the ground that the hearing was simply a fishing excursion, and for fear he might incriminate himself, he was committed to jail for contempt of court, and the matter has now been referred to the King's Bench. Hornbeck is undoubtedly insane, and his confession is simply the result of a diseased imagination.

KNOCKED OFF BOAT. A Young Yachtsman Drowned at St. John, N. B.

St. John, N. B., June 20.—Frederick L. Robinson, of this city, a clerk, aged about eighteen, was drowned in the St. John River at Woolastock, about fifteen miles from here, to-day. He and Lewis Sinclair were in a salmon boat near the shore. The yacht Fei Yuen was taking up anchor, and had sails set, but the anchor held and she swung around against the other craft. Robinson was knocked over in trying to fend off. He could not swim. Sinclair, though he had the use of only one hand, jumped after him, but the handspike was too much and Robinson sank. The Fei Yuen, in the excitement, drifted ashore across the river, but was towed off.

TRAGIC END. St. John Hankin, Mind Unhinged, Drowns Himself in River.

Landrindon Wells, Wales, June 19.—The body of St. John Hankin, author and dramatist, was found yesterday in the River Ithon, near here. Mr. Hankin disappeared from a sanitarium at Landrindon Wells two days ago. He was in ill-health and depressed, and left a letter to his wife ending with these words: "I have found a lovely pool in a river, and at the bottom I hope to find rest."

TEACHING A HORSE TO JUMP. It May Be Done by Coaxing, Lunging or Driving.

There are three methods of teaching a horse to leap—coaxing, lunging and driving. In the coaxing method the young horse is turned into a small paddock having a low hedge or hurdle across the centre. In plain view of the pupil a rider on a veteran jumper should take him over this hurdle several times. The trainer then goes to the opposite side with a measure of corn or oats and calls the horse, shaking up the grain and pouring it with his hand back and forth in the receptacle. The boundary will soon be cleared, and when a few inches falls have been eaten the station of the instructor should be at the other side of the hurdle and the lesson repeated. If this be done daily the hurdle may be gradually heightened. The habit of jumping is thus acquired without those risks which attend a novel performance when a heavy burden opposes the strength and whip and spur distract the attention. The horse's body, says Country Life in America, is not partially disabled by the imposition of a heavy load before the powers are fully developed. The advantages of this method are:—The horse is not fatigued by the imposition of a heavy load before the powers are fully developed. SHE LOVED TWO CHINESE.

partly passed into the dead room, where the body lay in a long, coffinlike drawer. The compartment was drawn out and placed on two supports.

FATHER SEES DEAD GIRL.

Then the lid of the coffin was removed and there was revealed, packed in oakum and preservatives, a mummified thing that looked almost like human forms found in Egyptian vaults. The face was first uncovered and the teeth were examined. The father was silent, as he had been during the examination of the clothes, but Mabel Sigel was quick to note the teeth.

"These are Elsie's teeth," she said, "and her hands, too." Paul Sigel stood by, nodding his head in the affirmative as each new feature was brought out to strengthen the identification.

Coroner Harburger joined the little group and asked the father if he was certain if the body was that of his daughter, Elsie.

"Are you satisfied in every way of the accuracy of the identification?" he asked.

"I am satisfied," said the man, brokenly, and he was led away.

HOW DID SHE DIE?

The dead girl's stomach, however, is in the hands of a Columbia University professor, who will make a chemical analysis of its contents. Although the murder is supposed to have been committed on Wednesday, June 9, the exact cause of her death has never been ascertained.

While the autopsy determined that death was probably due to asphyxia, whether she was choked, smothered under a pillow or drugged, or bound with ropes and left to die horribly in the trunk is as much a mystery as is the whereabouts of Leung Lim and his pal, Chung Sing.

Mr. Sigel, at his home, after returning from the morgue, said that the funeral would not be held from the house.

"The disgrace has been kept enough as it is, without having the funeral from here in front of a gaping crowd," he said. "My wife and I have aged ten years in the last week. This should be a lesson to young girls not to mix with other than their own people. I have not slept for five days, but now that the identification is certain I feel that I can get a little rest. Funeral arrangements will be made to-morrow. But it will be a quiet funeral, and no one will know anything about it but the members of the family, if I can avoid it."

Aside from the positive identification of the body, there were few developments in the case here to-day. Chu Gain, manager of the Port Arthur restaurant in Chinatown, who was detained last night as a material witness, was held without bail until Tuesday. He has admitted that he knew Elsie Sigel well and had incurred the enmity of Leung Lim and that both he (Chu Gain) and the girl had been threatened with death. He will be sweated by the police before he is released.

ONE WOMAN'S THEORY.

Theories as to exactly how and why the girl was murdered are plentiful. One woman, Mrs. E. Smith, who professes to have known the family well, even suggests that the victim is not Elsie Sigel, but a mysterious "Nellie," who has figured in Leung Lim's love affairs. Mrs. Smith holds that it is possible she and the Chinese were preparing to elope when Nellie appeared, created a scene and was killed. The condition of the clothing and the packing of the body in the trunk complete this feminine Sherlock Holmes' story.

In the afternoon two Chinese called at the Sigel home in the Bronx, ignorant of Mrs. Sigel's removal to a sanitarium, and asked to see "our mother angel," a name which Mrs. Sigel earned because of her mission work among the Chinese. One of the men said he was Chu Sam, a brother of Chu Gain, who is under arrest. Chu Sam said that Chung Sing, who disappeared simultaneously with Leung, borrowed $250 from his brother, Chu Gain, on the Tuesday before the murder and on the following day wrote that he would be out of town for some time. Chu Gain is somewhat of a capitalist and is president of a Chinese loan association.

Before going to the morgue, Mabel Sigel discussed the case, saying among other things that Elsie had been in love with an army man in Wyoming. She read extracts from letters which she said had been written by this man to Elsie, all of which breathe affection and were signed, "Your old sweetheart Howard." But she declined to say where the army man was stationed.

CLUES IN PLENTY.

What progress the police had made toward tracing Leung Lim is not known. Various clues are being followed up. There are many of these. Cropped haired Chinese in excited conversations have been seen on the

FINED $100.

Trial of Woman Alleged to Have Murdered Servant.

State Said Rich Brewer's Wife Had Practised Cruelty.

Flandreau, S. D., June 21.—Mrs. Emma Kaufmann, wife of a wealthy Sioux Falls brewer, accused of having murdered Agnes Polreis, her 16-year-old servant girl, through a series of inhuman acts, was found guilty of battery here to-day. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve fifty days in jail. The fine was immediately paid.

The case has been in the courts for over two years and the present trial, which began on June 1, was the third one. The jury in the first trial disagreed. The second trial resulted in the conviction of Mrs. Kaufmann of manslaughter in the second degree. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, and a new trial granted.

Peter Erickson was the star witness for the state in the three trials and his testimony was listened to with much interest. He formerly worked about the Kaufmann place as a general utility man.

He asserted that one time he had seen the girl lying on a floor. He claimed that Mrs. Kaufmann told him she had poured hot water on her maid to make her get up.

It was charged by the state that when the Polreis girl entered the employ of Mrs. Kaufmann early in 1906 she was strong and plump and weighed about 135 pounds. When she died in a hospital on June 1 of the same year, it was asserted her body was a mass of bruises and sores and that she weighed only about 100 pounds.

The defence maintained that the girl suffered from diabetes mellitus and that it was from the disease she grew thin; also that in her weakened condition she fell against chairs and tables and was cut and bruised.

DIED AT HIS POST.

Dying Engineer's Last Act Stopped the Train.

Scranton, Pa., June 21.—M. C. Davis, of Kingston, engineer on a Lackawanna coal train, bound for Port Morris, N. J., died at his post at Pocono Summit. As he died he stopped his train and prevented a runaway down the mountain and possibly a wreck that would have caused loss of life and a serious tie-up of traffic.

Davis' last act was to put on the air-brakes, either deliberately or by accident, but he stopped the train, and when the conductor came up Davis lay dead on the platform, having fallen out of the cab.

HEAVY FINE.

Cost Italian $100 to Break Liquor Law in Guelph.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Guelph, June 21.—The campaign against the liquor traffic in the Italian section of the city goes on steadily. This morning a fine of one hundred dollars was imposed on Leo Lerge, on the charge of selling liquor without a license. This is under the new act raising the minimum fine to that figure. This and other fines which have all been paid, are putting a brake on the traffic among the foreigners. Evidence was submitted in this case by a Canadian iron worker who had bought and paid for liquor.

BOY DROWNED.

Was Crossing Trent With School Children.

Norwood, Ont., June 21.—While a party of boys and girls from the Elgin Sunday School were crossing the Trent River yesterday morning in small boats, Charlie and Howard Lobb, sons of William Lobb, who lives near the river, were upset from a canoe and both the larger boys could reach them. Charlie was drowned. He was about 18 years of age. The body has not been recovered yet.

NO LIMIT NAMED.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir.—Regarding speeding on the public streets, will you kindly inform me through your columns, what rate of speed is allowed the Hamilton, Ancaster & Brantford Railway within the city limits? Some of these cars, especially those late at night, come tearing and roaring down street at I am sure, twenty-five miles an hour, at the very least, much to the discomfort and disturbance of Hess street residents, to say nothing of the risk to life.

If there is a limit I would suggest that the police go out their stop watches and time the Hess street clogs, and thus extend the good work they have instituted in seeing that auto drivers live within the law. Perhaps the railway people could be persuaded to contribute a few dollars to the civic treasury via the Police Court, Yours, etc., Hess Street.

Hamilton, June 21, 1909.

The B. & H. by-law does not name a limit at which the cars may run.—Ed.

ONLY JAP TEMPLAR.

Rochester, N.Y., June 21.—Zeiuro Takeda, the only Jap Templar in the world, is dead here, aged 53 years. He became a Mason here in 1901, and was a member of Monroe Commandery, Knights Templar. He was also a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason.

WHAT IS WHISKEY?

Washington, June 21.—President Taft to-day decided to grant a hearing here to the various interests in the controversy as to what is whiskey, under the pure food law, and has set June 28th as the time when the attorneys for the various distilleries shall present their argument in opposition to the recent ruling of Solicitor-General Bowers.

It is hardly worth while to waste time in presenting a refutation of the Mail and Empire's stupid falsehood that the voters of North Waterloo were "disfranchised" by a conspiracy in Hon. Mr. King's interest.

It is to be regretted that the delegates to the International Council of Women were not privileged to spend more time in Hamilton.

Cleveland's chief probation officer received a cheque for $327 from the workhouse authorities the other day as the month's earnings of husbands sentenced to confinement for offences against the law.

The wheat acreage of the Province of Saskatchewan is 10.86 per cent, greater than last year. The Provincial Government's report on the principal crops makes this comparison of the acreage of the two years:

Lady Aberdeen has again been elected President of the International Council of Women. The honor thus conferred upon her is a high one and well deserved.

A home for habitual drunkards has been erected in the State of Maine. London's grand jury recommended that a man who has been arrested more than once for drunkenness should be sent to a hospital rather than to a jail.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The average annual per capita fire loss in the United States for the last five years was $3.02. It is a terrible waste.

The International Council of Women is as happy in its choice of a treasurer as of a president. Had it raked the 23 countries represented in the Council, it could have found no more capable and efficient officer than Mrs. Sanford.

From Niagara Camp come most flattering reports of conditions. The cleanliness, tidiness, good order, sobriety and efficiency have been widely commented upon, and all agree that the absence of intoxicating liquor has contributed toward this happy state of affairs.

A few days ago Tory organs were rejoicingly announcing that the Ross rifle had been excluded from Bisley competition. Now it is announced that its exclusion was a mistake, due to a misunderstanding, and that the use of the Ross rifle will be permissible.

Cardinal Gibbons in an address to college graduates the other day, told the girls that politics is not their mission. His Eminence may be regarded by the suffragette element as old-fashioned, but he honors womanhood by reserving for it a different but infinitely higher mission.

Sharp sand was required for mortar in the days "when mortar was mortar." The alleged sand that is dug up in the work of excavating a cellar is too often good enough for the degenerate mortar of to-day.

The police authorities of Toronto have decided to put a check on slugging during sporting contests. Hereafter the lacrosse player, or the ball player, or the hockey player who deliberately assaults another player under pretence of playing the game, will be liable to arrest there and then.

A PROPER STEP. (Guelph Mercury.)

Of course, those who wanted drink got it and there was probably as much drinking done as ever before, but the sale of liquor in the cantens has in the past set the stamp of official tolerance on the traffic and its abolition is a step in the right direction.

AERIAL HONEYMOON

Newly-Married Pair Start on Trip Through Cloudland.

Pittsfield, Mass., June 20.—Floating off through cloudland in the balloon Pittsfield shortly after midnight this morning, Roger Noble Burnham, a sculptor, and Harvord '99 man, of Brookline, and his bride, who was Eleanor Howard Brookline, an author, also of Brookline, began an aerial honeymoon, an incident unique in aeronautical history, while fully 5,000 people sent up their shouts of good-will and happiness into the dark night. The balloon took a northward course, with but little wind blowing.

FAREWELL AT CENTENARY.

Impressive and Earnest Words From Rev. R. Whiting.

First Anniversary at St. Giles' Presbyterian Church.

Children's Day at Unity—Other Special Services.

Very large congregations turned out to hear Rev. Richard Whiting preach his farewell sermons in Centenary Methodist Church yesterday. As the pastor rose to address the evening gathering, he said he did not know how he could say to them, in parting, that the words of his text, which he chose from First Peter iv., 10: "As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God."

This, said the speaker, is the ideal of human life, and the work which it is our duty to perform. We are trustees, not principals nor masters, in this life, and it is a remarkable thing how the world outside Christianity has come around to this view in the last 100 years. A century ago Christianity was laughed out of upon a denial of the principle contained in the text. In those days the sceptics maintained that a man had peculiar rights of his own, and fought this battle out against the Christian claim that man has no inherent rights of his own, but is merely a steward entrusted with a commission. What the world now says is that man has a privilege to be something, a trustee with a duty to perform for his God, and to his fellow-man, and is responsible to no one but God and His manifold grace. We owe it to God that we be honest, upright trustees of His grace. Whatever gift we may have, the work of life, as we perceive it, is to minister to another that we may help serve and save another. The trees of the forest are dependent one on another and all together they make a perfect whole. So it is with the solemn mass of humanity. If we have gifts it is our duty to minister to man to the full of our capacity as followers of Christ.

The primary principle of human life is a distinct relationship. Socialism would put all differences apart by making all poor, contending that these inequalities have no business to be in existence. But we find inequality in all nature, the lofty mountain soars high above the valley, and the clouds were it not so the cool refreshing streams could not flow down its side, watering and fertilizing the plains. Water should be used for the mutual good of all, but not necessarily equally divided. The man of knowledge and splendor must stoop in part to and sympathize with the ignorant and lowly. Those who are intellectually bright and endowed with light must lead those who are in the dark, the strong must help the weak. Christ looked on the strong and said "Let the strong bear the infirmities of the weak."

On the other hand, the weak must in some way help the strong. There is no man so strong, among them that he does something in the weak from which he can derive some benefit. Mr. Whiting here made reference to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who could not for a long time be prevailed upon by his father, but was wonderfully impressed by the old negro servant, who slept in the same room with him, as the faithful son of Africa read aloud the Scripture and offered up his evening prayer. One act may be all we have the privilege of doing, but God can take hold on that act and make it rich in fruitage. Man gives much to God when he gives out of his poverty all that he has.

In his closing prayer he said that the people of Centenary for the many kindnesses they had shown him. During his pastorate with them he had tried to keep his eye on the Master, and if he heard His word of approval his heart would lift in rapture to Him and he hoped they would all look and continue to look to that source from whom alone it could come.

ST. GILES' ANNIVERSARY.

One year ago yesterday the first sermon was preached in the St. Giles' Church. Since then the growth has been phenomenal. Yesterday being anniversary day, Rev. A. J. McGillivray, M. A., Vancouver, preached two very instructive and edifying sermons which commanded the attention of the large audience. He said although he lived in the West, where things move rapidly, they had not failed even there to notice the rapid growth of the St. Giles'. The beginning had been small, and although they had started out with a tent, and had then erected a large building, he hoped to see a much larger one in the future.

In the morning he selected as his text Matthew xvi. 11: "Verily, I say unto you, among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist; notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he." He spoke of the good work John the Baptist did.

In the evening he selected his text from Matthew iv. 1: "Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil." He said some people think this was the only temptation to which Jesus was subjected, but as a matter of fact He was tempted from the time He left the carpenter's bench till the time of His death. The reason the one quoted is made special mention of was because it came at a time when a great deal depended on the actions of Christ. He had just been baptized, and was about to enter into the great work for His Father, and He had yielded to the temptation the world to-day would have been without a Saviour. When the devil tempted Him with all his promises of wealth Christ had a ready answer for him. The hunger and thirst of Christ were also taken into consideration by His tempter, and he thought to use it to good advantage, but when he told Christ to make the stones into bread the answer was ready for him, "It is written that man shall not live by bread alone." One feature of the temptation is that the devil led Him up into the mountain, and it seemed that it was essential that Christ be tried, so that He might fight the devil from the first. The conception that that was the only temptation that Jesus encountered detracts a good deal of the proper light. When Christ was tempted there must have been a fierce struggle, as the devil was using all his force to beat Him and win the day, but Christ was equal to the occasion, and had an answer for every question, and at last the devil was driven away. He realized that it would be useless to tempt Him further. In closing he said the one who would accomplish something would be

TEMPERING STEEL.

IRON HEATED AND TREATED WITH CHEMICAL COMPOSITION

Can Be Converted Into Hardest Steel After Shaping—New Process Will Probably Supersede the Old Furnace Methods.

New York, June 20.—A cable despatch to the Herald from London says: Mr. Martin S. Kolman, who controls the newly-discovered process of converting finished iron into steel and who is in London again, gave a correspondent some interesting details of the new process and its possibilities.

"In a couple of weeks' time," he said, "I am going to arrange for a demonstration to be attended by representatives from the world's largest steel manufacturers and numerous Government experts from several countries, to whom the possibilities of our process will be explained. As an instance of what we may do we may take a heavy chain and give one end of it a thin coating of steel, thin as an eggshell. To the other end we will give a coat of half an inch or an inch in thickness, while the centre will be converted into solid steel. We will work it any way you like.

"We can work up a fine razor blade out of iron, shaping and grinding it to the required form, and after this is all done we put the blade through our steeling process and convert it into the hardest kind. Steel blades produced in this way are equal in every respect to the finest steel blades. "I firmly believe our process will revolutionize the whole steel business. Big furnace methods will be entirely superseded. I have tested the method in every possible way, and noted European experts have done the same thing, and always with the most gratifying results.

FELL TWO MILES.

Three Aeronauts Had a Narrow Escape From Death.

Boston, June 19.—Descending at the rate of 2,000 feet per minute from a height of two miles in the air, Professor William H. Pickering, Harvard scientist, had a narrow escape from death yesterday, when the big balloon, Massachusetts, in which he and two companions were trying to reach Canada, making scientific investigations in the upper atmosphere, suddenly struck an adverse current and began a record descent. The fall was checked by throwing overboard all the ballast and everything of weight, and the balloon's mad dash below rapidly shooting up to meet it. The experience was interesting, as showing that our knowledge of air currents at high altitudes is still incomplete.

The final landing was made in Gilmanston, N. H., early in the afternoon in a 45-mile gale; fences were torn down by the drag ropes, and the professor and his companions had a thrilling but safe landing in a bog.

The British cruiser Sappho was damaged in a collision near Dover and had to be beached.

Move to Banish Them From Atlantic Fisheries.

Ottawa, June 20.—During Hon. Mr. Brodeur's mission in England next month in connection with the Imperial conference on naval defence he will endeavor to come to some arrangement with the Imperial and French Governments looking to the prohibition of steam trawling in the Atlantic fisheries. Canada already prohibits steam trawling within the three-mile limit, but the British and French steam trawlers are now increasingly coming into use in the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland waters. Unless some mutual arrangement is reached looking to the prohibition of steam trawling, it is feared that the fisheries will be very seriously depleted.

CASTORIA. The Kind You've Always Bought

LADY ABERDEEN ON VISIT TO HAMILTON.

The Countess Spent Saturday Evening and Sunday as Mrs. Sanford's Guest.

Official Welcome by Mayor, Visit to Highfield and the Mountain Sanatorium.

Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, with many delegates from various parts of Europe, arrived at Elsinore by special train from Toronto on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Refreshments were served, and the visitors greatly enjoyed them and the sweet music played by the Thirteenth Band, Lady Aberdeen was deeply interested in Mrs. Sanford's noble work at Elsinore.

There were also present, on the invitation of Mrs. Sanford, the members of the Local Council of Women, who went down on special cars for the occasion.

The Mayor presented the following address: To Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, President of the International Council of Women:

Your visit to our city has always been a source of great pleasure to our citizens, and your residence in Hamilton, though only for a short period, is associated with many pleasant recollections.

The great interest you have taken in the welfare of our children and our nationalities, and your untiring and successful efforts to alleviate suffering and relieve distress, have greatly endeared you to the hearts of our people.

Your marked ability in the discharge of the duties of the many positions of public trust and responsibility with which you have been so closely associated, have earned our admiration and respect.

The building of the Hamilton Sanatorium for Consumptives was largely due to the ladies of the Local Council, and we are pleased to see that your institution is achieving excellent results in improving the spread of tuberculosis, a work in which your Excellency is so greatly interested.

We cannot speak too highly in praise and appreciation of the service rendered by our community to the Victorian Order of Nurses, in the institution of which your Excellency spent so much time and thought.

The absolute need of such an organization becomes more manifest from year to year, and the Order is continually growing in favor, and proving itself a great blessing to humanity.

Your devotion and self-sacrifice to the interests of the Order, and the sick of the poorer classes, is being rewarded by the gratitude of the people to whom you have been the source of so much help.

It is therefore with great pleasure we extend to you a most hearty welcome, and give expression to the gratification we feel upon the success which has attended your efforts to promote the betterment of mankind throughout the world, and we wish you "good speed" in the furtherance of the many humanitarian enterprises you have inaugurated and carried on with such evident success.

On behalf of the citizens of Hamilton, Canada. John I. McLaren, Mayor.

HER EXCELLENCY'S REPLY. The countess was received with hearty applause. She said she felt deeply moved at the most kind welcome which she received at the hands of the people of Hamilton, conveyed in the beautiful address presented by his Worship the Mayor.

Speaking for herself, as well as for Aberdeen, the countess said she had taken a thorough interest in the beautiful city, and they have both looked back with great pleasure to their residence here. They had formed friendships which have continued, and it was to her great delight that she again met with these old friends.

She thanked the Mayor for his personal references in his address, and was pleased to know that in the campaign against tuberculosis, the people of Hamilton have taken such an active part, which redounds greatly to their honor. In the case also of the Victorian Order of Nurses, she said she had taken so deep an interest, it was no little gratification to have heard the most favorable report of the order in Hamilton, and she hoped it would continue to grow in its good work; she could not speak too highly of the order, and she had nursed to see the evidence of prosperity made. After leaving Hamilton, and after Lord Aberdeen's office as Governor-General had expired, she had again visited Canada, and still retained, as she always would, a warm place in her affections for this city.

Speaking for herself and the delegates to the International Council of Women, she warmly thanked Mrs. Sanford for the kind hospitality extended by her to the delegates of all nations. The cordial reception at Elsinore and the ride through the lovely country would long be remembered by her. She desired to again say how happy she was in visiting the city and of meeting her old friends, among whom was Mr. Brown. Lord Aberdeen had always taken a deep interest in Hamilton, and she wished the people every prosperity and continued activity in the good work to which reference had been made in the address which had just been presented to her and which she would long treasure.

At the conclusion of her address, Miss Irene Moodie, daughter of Co. J. R. Moodie, president of the Cataract Power Co., came to the platform and presented the countess with a basket of American beauty roses, which was most graciously received. Her Excellency kissed the little lady, and subsequently presented her with a souvenir.

The committee then accompanied the ladies to Wesanford, where all were entertained at dinner. After 8.30 the gentlemen attended them to the Grand Trunk station, where a special train was in waiting. Col. Moodie had arranged for the ladies to be taken to the station by the route of the Grand Trunk, in order that the ladies might see the illuminations and the crowded streets. As the cars passed the Gore all the ladies clapped their hands at the beautiful sight presented.

At the station Mr. C. S. Proctor, of the G. T. R., was on hand seeing to the despatch of the ladies. Before leaving the station Mrs. Brown entered each car, and gave expression to the honor the people of Hamilton felt at their being here as Mrs. Sanford's guests, and wished the greatest amount of success to the noble work in which the countess was engaged, and hoped she would be most successful in her mission to the most beautiful station, where a handsome building, had been erected by Col. Moodie. She was then presented to His Worship the Mayor and other gentlemen in waiting.

AT THE CIVIC ADDRESS. The Mayor presented the following address: To Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, President of the International Council of Women:

May it please Your Excellency: On behalf of the citizens of Hamilton I greet you with a most sincere and cordial welcome.

Your visit to our city has always been a source of great pleasure to our citizens, and your residence in Hamilton, though only for a short period, is associated with many pleasant recollections.

WOODMEN

Had a Fine Time at Maple Leaf Park.

The Woodmen of the World held their first annual picnic and dance at Maple Leaf Park on Saturday, and were favored with ideal picnic weather.

The number of counter attractions affected the attendance in the afternoon, but at night there was an extra large crowd on the grounds, and the picnic was a decided success, financially and otherwise.

In the afternoon a programme of races were held on the track in front of the stand, with the following results: 100 yards race—C. O'Donnell, E. Dorman, J. Sheridan.

50 yards ladies' race—Miss May Moriarty, Miss M. Hunter and Miss E. Weaver.

Men's three-legged race—W. Volick and H. McMahon.

50 yards race for girls—Miss H. Smith, Miss M. Moriarty and Miss A. Hill.

75 yards race for boys—Stanley Smith, C. Smith and W. Corner.

100 yards fat men's race—J. Teeter, H. Ryckman and W. Gee.

Dancing was held in the new dancing pavilion on Saturday night. The floor was crowded for every dance. The floor is pronounced by some of the best dancers to be one of the finest in the city, and will no doubt be well patronized, as it has already been secured for many private dances.

A three-piece orchestra supplied the music and will play for the dancing every night during the season. For this week at the park the management has secured a high class acrobatic act in the Pizarro troupe, which comes here after a long engagement at the Hippodrome in London. The act will be given in front of the stand twice weekly, and comes very highly recommended.

AT MERRY MAKERS. Returning from Coney Island in Auto Meet With Accident.

Six Severely Hurt and One Young Woman May Die.

New York, June 21.—As the result of a big sight-seeing automobile running wild while filled with merry-makers, six of the occupants of the vehicle are in hospitals with severe injuries, and one young woman is expected to die of her hurts.

The fatal injury was sustained by a young woman, 27 years old, of Washington Heights, who sustained fractures of the leg and right arm, and internal injuries when the runaway car rushed into a tree on the ocean parkway.

All the 25 passengers in the car were thrown out by the shock. Some of the young women, in a panic, had tried to jump as the machine, the mechanism of which had gone wrong, went zig-zagging along the parkway, but were restrained. Three of the six injured persons are women, and Miss Rose Miller, of Manhattan, had both legs broken, and is suffering from shock. A dozen other occupants of the car sustained minor injuries in the crash.

AT BOTH NOW DEAD. Constable Mortally Wounded, Shoots Burglar Dead.

Oxford, Mass., June 21.—Albert E. Miller, 33 years old, a constable and keeper of a waiting station and news stand at Oxford Heights, was shot to death by thugs about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and a man identified as Frank Harding, of South Milford, was later found dead in the waiting-room, a bullet hole through his head.

Because of several burglaries in his place, Miller was sleeping inside his store. Apparently he was aroused and went across to the waiting station, twenty feet from his store. His mother heard three shots and then heard Miller staggering up the driveway of his home.

The family found Miller dead on the back doorstep, and an hour later, in reviewing the scene of the tragedy, Harding's body was found in the waiting station, with Miller's handcuffs at his feet.

The revolver of both dead men had been taken, showing that there was more than one assailant.

Constable Miller's club, covered with blood and hair, was clutched in his right hand, showing the one who escaped had been clubbed over the head, as the dead man had no scalp wounds.

WHISTLING NOT FORBIDDEN. To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—I noticed in your issue of the 11th inst., articles in regard to whistling. The facts of the case are that the former law was that engines should whistle or ring the bell, and not whistle or ring the bell. The law has been changed to the effect that the whistle should ring, unless in passing through a town where the municipality has passed a law prohibiting the railway company whistling within the city limits. I have represented this matter to the Mayor and aldermen of the City Council, and also to the City Solicitor. I do not desire to unnecessarily incommode the citizens of our city by whistling, but I am compelled to do so by reason of the fact that the Council has not seen fit to pass a law prohibiting whistling in the city limits. All of the other cities in the Dominion, as far as I know, have passed similar laws, and I cannot understand why Hamilton should not do so.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY. Warsaw Man, Crazed With Liquor, Cuts Lad's Throat.

Boston, Mass., June 21.—John Petron, 25 years old, of Warsaw, N.Y., cut the throat of nine-year-old Russell Porter with a ten-inch dagger and then shot himself through the heart at Leominster, Mass., on Saturday night. Petron died in half an hour.

Petron was crazed with drink. Reginald, a seven-year-old brother of the murdered boy, would also have been stabbed had not the lad's mother broken into the door and rescued him. Petron arrived in Leominster three weeks ago from Warsaw.

OVERCOME BY THE HEAT.

Hamilton Man Succumbed at the Camp at Niagara.

Absence of Liquor Considered to be an Improvement.

Col. Jones Says It Is the Best Camp in Canada.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 21.—The heat of the day was responsible for the collapse of one of the Hamilton men in camp on Saturday. Pte. Ab. Tuck, of the Fourth Field Battery, fainted while the drill was on, and had to be taken into the camp hospital. He recovered completely in about two hours and was able to resume his duty.

The Indoor Baseball League was started on Saturday. Games will be played every night this week. The Y. M. C. A. was instrumental in getting it started.

General Cotton gave his address on Saturday. Lieut. Col. Jones, district medical officer of No. 2 Military District, a member of the headquarters staff, told Col. Rennie, of the Hamilton A. M. C., that the camp here is the finest in Canada, everything considered. At Halifax, he said, the hygiene, take as an average, may be a little better, but in all other respects Niagara tops them all.

Yesterday camp was pretty much deserted. Harold Lazier is a guest at the Queen's Royal here.

To-morrow night Gen. Cotton and the officers will give their annual ball at the Queen's Royal.

SUNDAY IN CAMP. Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 20.—Visitors to the camp today, who have made it a practice to spend Sunday here every year, express the universal opinion that the absence of the canteen has added greatly to the advantages of camp life. The camp never looked better than this year. It is cleaner and far more orderly than heretofore and there are no empty bottles lying around the grounds. The large incinerators which were erected by the men are used to burn up the rubbish and there is not a scrap of paper on the grounds. Rev. A. J. Bell stated that the camp was never better in the lines. There has been no disorderly conduct down town, either, and everyone has been agreeably surprised.

The annual church parades were held today. At 7.30 the Roman Catholics paraded to the Roman Catholic Church in the town, and at 9.30 about three thousand people formed in a hollow square and participated in a divine service. General Cotton and the headquarters staff occupied positions in the centre of the square, the officers of the various regiments lined up in front of the men and the bands formed one side of the square.

The bandmaster, Sgt. W. H. Macbride, will examine officers in equitation. The sanitary condition and arrangements will be examined to-morrow morning by Lieut. Colonel Fotheringham.

Methods of Thirsty Citizens to Obtain Whiskey. Cobalt, Ont., June 20.—A French-Canadian, Dr. Routhier, has been charged with falsifying prescriptions so that whiskey and other alcoholic drinks could be supplied to customers, and J. Keeley, the owner of the drug store where he practiced, has been charged with supplying the liquor. Both men were brought up by the Provincial Police, and were committed to the Provincial Jail, where they were held until next week.

The largest single haul ever made by the police in Cobalt was accomplished by Inspector Blackwell and Provincial Chief Cadbury, who seized 400 bottles of whiskey in Patrick Connolly's shack on the Hailybury road, in North Cobalt.

JOINT PICNIC. St. Paul and St. Giles' Schools at Niagara Falls.

The St. Giles' and St. Paul Presbyterial Sunday schools had their annual outing at Niagara Falls on Saturday. The trip was over the T. H. & B. road, and altogether there were about four hundred people, occupying seven coaches. Although the two Sunday schools went on the same train the games were separate. Both had numerous races, and they were hotly contested. A game of baseball was to have been played between the teams of the two Sunday schools, but as a number of the players for St. Paul's did not show up, the game went by default to St. Giles. A game between picked teams afforded much amusement, and resulted in a score of 25-25. The pickers left game went by default to St. Giles. A 5 o'clock and arrived home about 10.30.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS. Less Than Half of the Candidates Were Successful.

Ottawa, June 20.—The results of the civil service examinations, held last month, were announced yesterday. Considerable less than half the candidates were successful, owing to the high standard set by the Civil Service Commission. Nearly all the successful candidates are from Ottawa. Toronto names on the list are: Arthur R. Revard, Florence B. Henry, W. W. White and Walter D. Nicol.

TO PROTECT ALL WOMEN.

"White Slave Traffic" Not Strong Enough Term.

The Council Recognizes Obstacles in Way of Peace.

Countess Aberdeen Again President of International Council.

Toronto, June 21.—(Special.) The white slave traffic and the substitution of arbitration for the military method all formed subjects for discussion by the International Council of Women on Saturday. In regard to the last two subjects no definite decision was arrived at and their debate will be resumed at a later date. On the suffragist question, however, the Council re-affirmed its previous attitude in favor of women receiving the same electoral advantages as members of the opposite sex.

WORK TO COME.

A glimpse of next week's programme tells of a lot of hard and important work to come. Among the resolutions to be considered is a proposal for the appointment of a Standing Committee on Education. The value of such a step will be readily recognized. It will enable information of the work of the world in this matter to be gathered, and will form a centre of inspiration, and for the diffusion of knowledge as to the best methods to be adopted. The resolution includes a recommendation that the influence of the committee should be used for the promotion of the practical and scientific teaching of domestic economy to girls of all classes, the foundation of a national system of educational information, and employment bureau under public authority and connected with the schools of each country.

Along the same line of action is the resolution which will be brought forward by Frau Stritt, Germany, urging women to endeavor to place members of their sex on those public boards already open to them, and to secure the inclusion of women on all other authorities dealing with public work.

Dr. Alexander Skoglund, Denmark, will ask the Council to express itself as recommending all National Councils of Women to consider what steps can be taken to discourage the destruction of harmless and beautiful birds, and to secure a stricter observation of close times, and to develop a healthier public sentiment in regard to those wanton forms of sports which involve cruelty to birds or animals and needless waste of life.

WANTED—A LANGUAGE.

One of the practical difficulties of the Council, and one of which mention has already been made, is voiced in the resolution on the order paper in the name of Frau Hansen, Denmark, who asks that the desirability of the adoption of a neutral language for all communications should be considered.

A very practical suggestion is conveyed in another resolution, which stands in the name of Froken A. Buch, Denmark, who asks that the Bureau of the Universal Postal Union should be requested to introduce some simple form for answer prepaid communications.

In addition to these matters, there are, of course, a number of reports of committees awaiting consideration, and with the public meetings which have been arranged for the next few days will be very full ones. On Friday the white slave traffic will be considered at a private session. It was also decided to postpone the consideration of the Peace and Arbitration Committee's report, which is given below, until this morning.

An important feature of Saturday's business was the election of officers. Two candidates had been nominated for the office of President, the Countess of Aberdeen, and Mme. Jules Siegfried, France, but the Countess of Aberdeen was elected to all positions to the supposed desire that the position should not again be given to the lady who has occupied it with such grace during the last quinquennial period. Out of a possible maximum number of votes of 130, Lady Aberdeen received no less than 120.

In electing Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon, Scotland, First Vice-President, the Council only paid a well-deserved compliment to the lady who has served so well in the capacity of Honorary Corresponding Secretary. Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon, who, by the way, is a cousin of Lady Aberdeen, is the possessor of exceedingly high educational qualifications. As a student under Prof. Ray Lankester she won the gold medal for zoology and anatomy in 1890, and became a Doctor of Science of the University of London in 1893. The University of Munich awarded her the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1900, and she had the distinction of being the first woman upon whom that honor was conferred. Her researches in the science of geology are well known, and she has achieved further fame as a publicist, with the result that she was created a Fellow of the Linnean Society. Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon received 107 votes out of the possible 130.

THE VICE-PRESIDENTS.

The choice of third vice-president fell on Frau Hainisch, of Austria, a woman of whom it has been said that it is only necessary to know to love. In Austria she has been identified for many years with every forward movement, and her love for her sex generally is only second to her love for her country.

The second vice-president, the Countess Rospi Spalletti, Italy, is not so well known to the world at large, but she has long been identified with women's work in her native country of Italy.

The other officers were really elected by acclamation. Dr. Alice Salomon, Germany, became Corresponding Secretary. Dr. Skoglund, Sweden, Honorary Recording Secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Sanford, Hamilton, was re-elected Honorary Treasurer.

THE PROBLEM OF PEACE.

Allusion has already been made to some of the difficulties with which the Council on Saturday confronted. Those difficulties, arising from international complications which exist at the present time, were not altogether overcome, and although the committee presented a report of a broad nature it was decided that its consideration should be postponed to a later date. In the meantime the committee will have another meeting, and it is more than likely that when next the matter comes before the council they will have some amendment of their own recommendations to present.

RECOGNIZED DIFFICULTIES.

The report, however, which was presented on Saturday morning by Mrs. May Wright Sewall, Honorary President, United States, is one which contains many points of interest. At the outset Mrs. Sewall said that the report might to a superficial reader seem to indicate either a waning of interest or a growing timidity among their affiliated councils in regard to this important question. A closer inspection, however, of the reports sent in would disclose rather a more intelligent recognition of the difficulties that beset the Governments in their efforts to replace the military method of settling difference by methods of peace, and at the same time maintain the honor, integrity and unimpairment of influence of their respective countries.

"While," she reported, "it is probably true that the principles of peace and arbitration are more universally entertained by the members of our councils throughout the twenty-four countries now constituting the International Council than any other doctrine, it is also true that the sensitiveness of nations in respect of their actual power and their relative influence in the world makes the work of this committee more delicate and difficult than that of any other of our propaganda committees." The resolution recommended by the committee read: "Whereas the motto of our International Council binds all our members to dependence upon the spiritual force of sympathy and love in the adjustment of human relationship, thus affirming the conviction that evil is only overcome by good, and as women, by virtue of the mother office, are specially charged with those personal and social duties which relate to the preservation and protection of individual life, and also, whereas the propaganda for universal peace and international arbitration first adopted by the International Council of Women, its united work rests upon those fundamental bases, it is therefore resolved, that we reaffirm our allegiance to the peaceful and just settlement of all differences between individuals and nations, and hereby make a careful appeal to all women of every land to aid in realizing this ideal in such forms of effort and such sequence of action as their local committees make practicable."

To the maintenance and extension of the principles the committee recommends the following methods of work, asking for them the endorsement of the International Executive. (a) That each National Council shall seek representation in every National and International Congress for peace held within its own country, it being always understood that work on behalf of peace and arbitration in any country shall be in strict conformity with the instruction and wishes of the National Council of the country.

The report further suggested that each National Council should supply for the people of the country an outline of the subjects to be considered at the Hague Conference for 1915. Proceeding it was recommended that "It is recommended by this committee to promote the observance of Peace Days on Sundays and Weekdays by schools, universities and churches, and by open assemblies and festivals, in the interests of legal rather than military methods of settlement of differences."

ONLY FOR POLICE STATES.

"Wherever local conditions render it possible, it is recommended that all National Peace Committees and peace organizations engage in earnest and continuous effort to bring about a permanent limitation of armaments, leading toward the abolition of standing armies and navies beyond the necessary policing of land and sea, and that all such organizations within our national councils be urged actively and intelligently to strengthen all efforts which are put forth in any country to aid its government in the substitution of legal for military methods of international action, and also to seek to secure the protection to weak nations, and all undeveloped peoples against exploitation by the stronger Governments, by guaranteeing an area of neutrality which shall permanently guard their interests."

"Another method approved by our committee, but because involving possible difficulties not submitted as a recommendation, is that submitted by Frau Hainisch, viz., that whenever a serious war-cloud arise in any country, immediately the Council of that country, through its Peace Department, shall call a meeting for the purpose of securing an appeal of the people to its Government to appeal to the Hague Court. The committee further submits by unanimous vote a further request that at each quinquennial session of the Council provision shall be made for the Executive for each of the questions of the propaganda which it has already voted.

PETITION FOR PEACE.

"By a unanimous vote the committee have also approved of the circulation of a petition by the Peace Committee of the affiliated National Councils, wherever the National Council shall endorse this method of securing an expression of popular support of peace towards which the Hague Conference and the International Court of Arbitration are working."

In the committee, it is understood, the question of the reduction of armaments on the principle recommended by the report was one upon which discussion was free, and it was decided to postpone by consideration of the report by the Council until to-day in order that the report might in the meantime, be translated into French and German to enable the delegates better versed in those languages than English, to give it their consideration.

THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

The discussion of the report on the white slave traffic, submitted by Froken A. Buch, came to an abrupt end on a question of terminology. Froken A. Buch, as representing her committee, asked that the Council should immediately endorse a recommendation to retain the phrase that has become infamous all over the world, and thereby vote down a proposal to adopt the phrase, "The Traffic in Women." Froken A. Buch, who has devoted a large amount of time and attention to this great evil in a number of countries, took the view that it would be unwise to make any change having regard for the fact that the present one had come to be accepted as having particular and peculiar meaning throughout the civilized world.

There was considerable diversity of opinion expressed, and upon this question the United States delegates were as outspoken as they were opposed. Miss Emily Jones, the organizing secretary for Great Britain and Ireland, opened the discussion by reminding the Council that the evil against which they had all set their faces was not by any means confined to the so-called white races. "It is extremely important," she said, "that we should not forget the claims of other women who are not classed white. There is a very sad traffic in Japanese women, and we ought to remember the other colors as well as our own. It does not seem to me that the term 'white slave' entirely conveys our wish to protect all women."

INTRODUCING INFAMY.

"Women's slave traffic," was suggested by Dr. Martindale, but in the opinion of a section of the United States delegates this did not go far enough. They particularly desired that "slave" should be replaced by "immoral," and in furthering their contention Mrs. Elizabeth B. Gramme, New York, added that the term "white slave" was a perfect travesty. "In the United States," she said, "we have all races and nationalities coming, introducing very form of infamy, and we need a change to show what we are contending against."

She was supported by Mrs. Spencer, an officer of the National Vigilance Committee of the United States, while Mrs. Burns put the matter in the form of a direct resolution. As has already been stated, the American delegation was not at one on the question. Miss Sadie American, New York, objected to the use of "immoral," basing her argument on the foundation that the incorporation of any phrase indicating something which was bad tended to weaken rather than strengthen their case. "Traffic in women," in her opinion, conveyed everything, but to this Mrs. Burns objected that such a term might be applied to the employment of female labor to weed beets, whereas "immoral" contained the stigma which they desired. Finally it was decided on the suggestion of the president that the discussion of the whole report should be left over to a private session of the Council to be held on Friday night.

UNITED STATES WILL LAZE.

"The movement is so great and rapid that we cannot say which country will be the next to give the suffrage to women in spite of what present conditions may be," said Dr. Anna Howard Shaw in her report on that important subject of "Suffrage." She added, "I thoroughly agree that the United States, the great and glorious Republic, will probably be the last country to grant the franchise to women for state purposes, because we have more difficult problems than any country to solve. Yet Parliaments can give the vote to women in a matter of days, while the question must be submitted to the people, and to every man, wise or otherwise, good or bad." Still she was glad to report that some progress had been made, and that in some cases the municipal franchise had been extended to women. Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, however, had led the way in this matter, while the municipal franchise had been granted to Denmark, and in France women could now vote in connection with and sit on trade boards.

The contention that women would not exercise the franchise if granted or that their interest would decrease was amply disproved by what has occurred in Australia, where in succeeding elections an increasing percentage of women had voted. In Italy, although the National Council had not adopted this portion of the International Council's propaganda, at the last election the suffrage question had played an important part. Candidates, irrespective of party, had been asked to state their position upon the question, and the women had worked for those who declared themselves as being in favor of granting the franchise, with the result that three members of Parliament, pledged to support the movement, had been returned.

POINT OUT WEAKNESSES.

The Council adopted the following resolution, moved by Dr. Shaw, and seconded by Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon: "That the various National Councils be asked to draw up a report of the existing laws in their respective countries which deal with the relations of women with the home, the municipality and the State; that the national reports should be combined in an international report on the same lines as the newly-issued report on the health of the nations, special attention being devoted to the simple wording of the various national reports, so that they may be easily intelligible to all classes. The Executive further recommends that the complete international report be presented to the various Governments accompanied by a letter from the International Council of Women drawing attention to the need for the betterment of many of these laws and the desirability of women taking part in the deliberations on such laws."

WOMAN'S BUSINESS.

"So long as Government enters the home and lays its hand on the family, so long is government woman's business.

So long as society lays its hand on the children of women, society is woman's business. So long as anything comes into the home, that's woman's business, and there is where woman will find her ideal service. It is not true that God intended all women to be in the home, or he would have put homes for all women. Men have laid their hands on the occupations of women in the home and have taken these things out. Two things have resulted; they have driven women out to earn a living, and, secondly, the women at home have found their occupation gone, and have leisure to think, study and devise plans for social betterment. The International Council of Women shows that vast numbers have the desire to relieve the conditions of the oppressed. Before the week is over you will thank God that there are women of leisure who give up the things they prize most that they may give themselves to the service of humanity, and that is what the Council means."

The foregoing is part of the address which Rev. Anna Shaw, M. D., of Morlan, Pa., President of the American National Suffrage Association, gave yesterday afternoon in Massey Hall to an audience which filled the ground floor and first gallery. The meeting was held under the auspices of the International Council of Women, to which Dr. Shaw is a delegate.

SOCIALISTS ANGRY.

Visit of Czar to King Edward Annoys Them.

London, June 19.—British Socialists still continue to fulminate against the Government for encouraging the coming visit of the Emperor of Russia, who will visit King Edward at Cowes during Regatta Week.

Addressing his constituents in Colne Valley, Yorkshire, to-night, Victor Grayson said: "I am glad that Russia is invited, the Emperor will be six miles out of the danger zone when he comes to England. I would count it a disgrace to the traditions of this country to introduce that loathsome person into our life. If the Russian Emperor must be allowed to live he must keep to his own shores."

Another attack was made by Mr. Keir Hardie at a labor demonstration at Durham. Mr. Hardie bitterly denounced the Government for holding out the hand of friendship to the Emperor of Russia, who, he said, "is so leath in this country that he dare not set foot on British soil. He would be hissed in the streets," continued Mr. Hardie, "if he appeared in public."

A delegation of members of the Russian Delegation consisting of fifteen deputies and five members of the Council of the Empire will be more welcome. They will spend the next fortnight in England as the guests of the nation.

TWO TO HANG.

Justice Teetzel's Plea For Mercy For Assaly Granted.

Ottawa, June 20.—The commutation of sentence in the case of the Assyrian Assaly, under sentence of death at L'Original for the murder of his brother, was not unexpected and meets with general approval. Mr. Justice Teetzel made a strong recommendation for mercy and the prisoner's pitiable condition, both legs having been amputated, operated in his favor. The Cabinet refused to recommend clemency in the case of the convict Barrett, who killed the deputy warden at Edmonton, and in the case of the negro at Stratford, under sentence of death for the murder of an aged woman.

PLUNGED INTO THE FRASER.

Engineer and Fireman Carried Down and Drowned.

Accident on Great Northern at New Westminster.

Cars Stopped Within a Few Feet of Brink.

Vancouver, June 20.—The engine and tender of Great Northern train No. 274 left the tracks on the New Westminster side of the Fraser bridge about 2:50 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and plunged into the tide. A sound of seething water was heard as the big locomotive went to the bottom. Though the train was travelling slowly, the engine failed to take the points at the curve, or the switch had been left open. The locomotive left the tracks and pulled the train along with it for some distance, smashing the woodwork and twisting the steel rails.

At the junction point of the tracks to New Westminster and Vancouver the immersion occurred. There was water as deep and no trace of the engine could be seen. George Zigweid, of Seattle, the engineer, and George Snyder, of Vancouver, the fireman, who is an extra man who just went on the run, were drowned. The train, according to witnesses of the accident, was travelling at its usual rate of speed across the bridge, when it struck the half open switch. The points of the switch were broken and the engine and tender were derailed. The engineer reversed his engine and applied the air brakes, but the momentum of the train was so great that until the engine plunged down the open space.

The mail clerk in the front baggage car felt the jar as the air brakes were applied, and, looking out of the doorway, saw the impending danger. Fearing that the whole train would be plunged into the river, he shouted to the fireman and jumped on the bridge. He was uninjured, except for a few bruises. The engineer and fireman did not have an opportunity of jumping.

Some boys near the bridge saw the accident, and at once put out in a small boat. They succeeded in recovering the coat, cap and order book of the engineer. No trace was found of the bodies of the engineer and fireman, and it is supposed that they were caught in the cab of the engine.

The baggage and mail car was derailed and stopped not ten feet from the point where the engine made its plunge. The train was composed of a baggage car, two day coaches and a parlor car, and on board were many through passengers from Seattle.

BRITAIN'S APATHY.

It Excites the Wrath of Colonel Denison.

London, June 20.—Col. G. T. Denison, interviewed by the Morning Post respecting preference, said: "If the policy of Britain, the sober second thought of the British people, is that they are to slam, bang and bar the door in the face of the whole Empire bringing friendly offer to their fellow-countrymen to help, then, of course, our Empire will not be able to last. As yet England has made no move to meet Canada in our efforts. Twelve years have elapsed and the kindest reception has been the boast of a Cabinet Minister that they had slammed, banged and barred the doors in our faces. In Canada we look on that as an absolutely stupid and unnecessary insult; but we see signs of a great change in opinion in England. She may yet see the folly of her present course. Better counsels may prevail and we may still have time to consolidate, strengthen and preserve the Empire."

REFUSED TO BE DEAD.

So Her Husband is Arrested for Fooling the Newspapers.

Camden, N. J., June 20.—Charles Bradley was arrested to-night on a charge of giving false information to newspapers. Bradley loved Miss Nellie Simmons, of Millville, but he had a wife from whom he was estranged, though there was no divorce. Notices of his wife's death were inserted in several Philadelphia papers. He showed them to Miss Simmons and the ceremony was to be performed Sunday after his wife's funeral. Unfortunately for Bradley, Mrs. Bradley was not the deceased, but she was the real one, and she was arrested.

NEW DREADNOUGHTS

They Will Fire Single Broadside of 15,000 Pounds.

New York, June 20.—A cable despatch to the Sun from London says: At the recent naval review at Spithead for the Imperial Press Congress it was remarked that in the fleet the famous Dreadnought was already generally referred to as the "old Dreadnought."

The new Dreadnoughts will have ten 15.5 guns mounted in pairs. The guns will be of 50 calibre. The shells will weigh 1,500 pounds each. They will be 67 inches long. The gun breech will be nearly five feet in diameter. The ships will have increased length and beam, but the measurements have not yet been given out.

The new ships, which will be capable of firing ten guns in a single broadside of 15,000 pounds, will require practically no larger crews than the present ships. All the guns which are now controlled hydraulically or by hand power will be electrically controlled, so that when the guns of one barbette cover the barbette or guns of another pair the electricity will be switched off, making it impossible to fire them.

TEN WERE KILLED

In a Trolley Accident Near South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind., June 20.—Ten persons were killed and forty injured in the wreck on the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend Railroad in Porter county, Indiana, last night, two of the big electric cars colliding head on. According to General Manager Wallace the wreck was due to disobedience of orders by Motor-man Geo. A. Reed, of the eastbound car, who was killed. Reed received instructions at Gary to wait at Wilson, a short distance west of Bailey town, the point at which the disaster occurred, for the westbound car to pass. The impact of the cars was so great that they were reduced to a mass of wreckage. The eastbound car, going fifty miles an hour, was telescoped, and almost demolished. In this train were all of the killed and most of the injured, passengers on the westbound train escaping with bruises.

Darkness greatly interfered with the progress of the rescuers, and to matters worse the nearest telephone was a mile away.

LAMP EXPLODED.

Mrs. Prevost Was Fatally Burned at North Bay.

North Bay, June 20.—Mrs. David Prevost, widow, thirty-two years of age, lost her life here to-day as the result of burns received from an exploding kerosene lamp, used for heating curling irons. The unfortunate woman was preparing for church this morning at the home of a relative, Moses Guinette, when the explosion occurred. The burning oil ignited Mrs. Prevost's garments, and in an instant she was shrouded in flames, receiving terrible burns, resulting in her death seven hours after the accident.

The house was badly burned, but the other inmates escaped. Mrs. Prevost's husband kept the Balmoral Hotel, Ottawa, for a number of years, and died two months ago. Five children survive. The body was taken to Ottawa for interment.

CORNER STONE OF Y. W. C. A. BUILDING

Well and Truly Laid by Masonic Grand Master, M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed.

Imposing Ceremony Witnessed by a Large Concourse of People on Saturday.

Beautiful and imposing was the ceremony of the laying of the corner-stone of the new building of the Young Women's Christian Association on Saturday afternoon by the Masonic Grand Lodge, when several hundred members of the craft from the city and surrounding district participated. From across the frontier came a large delegation, representing the "Silver Trowel" lodge—Washington Lodge of Buffalo, an act of courtesy that was specially commented on by the speakers. Brantford sent the Knights Templars, distinguished by their waving plumes of black from the local brethren, while the lodges of Stoney Creek, Grimsby, Winona, Burlington and other places were prominently represented in the procession, which formed at the Masonic Hall, and headed by the Ninety-first Highlanders' Band, marched by way of Gore, John King, James and Jackson streets to the rear of the building.

From a cloudless sky the sun shone on a brilliant scene as the procession entered the ground. Two big Union Jacks, the great silk flags of The Barton and St. John's Lodges, fluttered in the breeze. Plumed knights with drawn swords stood at attention as the Grand Lodge officers marched through the ranks from Jackson street to Main street, entering by the main entrance of the old building. A representative audience was assembled on the platform. The musical portion of the service was led by the Ninety-first Band, under the direction of Y. W. C. A. Address.

Following the invocation by R. W. Grand Chaplain Harper, of Niagara Falls, Mrs. R. Wolfkill, President of the Y. W. C. A., addressed the Grand Master and brethren as follows:

On behalf of the Young Women's Christian Association it affords me great pleasure to welcome to our city the visiting friends, who have so kindly responded to an invitation from our Masonic brethren, to be with us on this notable occasion. I wish also to extend most hearty thanks to the Masonic fraternity of this city and district and their efforts in making this day long to be remembered, and to the citizens who are helping us to-day by their presence, and to those who have remembered our work in a more substantial way. We hope to erect a building here which will be both ornamental and useful, and one which the citizens of Hamilton will support and cherish. The women who have had this undertaking at heart have worked hard and long for the fulfillment of their purpose. Women do not need the suffrage to make them loyal and obedient citizens; many of us are content to labor quietly for the good of our fellows, to do justly as it has been accorded to us.

If it were possible for my voice to be heard in this large audience I think I might say some words that would convert every citizen of this community to a deeper interest in the work of this association, but we can safely leave this part of the programme in the hands of a man who has ever been a staunch friend to the work of this association, and who has kindly consented to speak for us. I take pleasure now in introducing W. H. Wardrope, K. C.

Impressive and eloquent was the address with which W. Bro. W. H. Wardrope, K. C., held the attention of the big audience for half an hour. "I deem it a high honor this afternoon," he said, "to have been asked by the ladies of the Y. W. C. A. to welcome you my brethren for the purpose of laying the corner stone of this building, a building with which is fraught, I hope, the future happiness of many thousands of young women now living and many thousands yet to live in this beautiful city. We ask you, most worshipful sir, to lay the corner stone of the building this afternoon, because we believe you represent an order, which at all times and under all circumstances has for the principal and only object, the betterment of the condition of mankind, because the only condition of the order has been the observance of the golden rule, that we would do unto others as we would have others do unto us.

young women physically, morally and spiritually.

Mr. Wardrope specially thanked the Masonic brethren from Buffalo for the interest they showed in crossing the border to participate in the ceremony. "We may live under different constitutions," he said, "but we are after all serving no president, no earthly king; we are all trying to serve with our whole heart the king of kings."

Mr. Wardrope, as a Mason, appealed to the brethren to take a personal interest in the Y. W. C. A., and in cultivating a sentiment of cordiality towards the institution. The Y. W. C. A. was composed of women who belonged to every Christian denomination in Hamilton, who gathered together with one common object, which had the effect of broadening their sympathies above religious barriers.

"Jesus Christ," he said, "did not die to save a Presbyterian, a Methodist, a Baptist, a Congregationalist or those of any other denomination. He died for the saving of humanity. Surely the least return we can make is to further as far as possible with the means at our disposal such objects as the one we have in mind this afternoon."

Heartily endorsing and approving the sentiments expressed by the previous speaker, Grand Master Freed declared that the Y. W. C. A., which had labored for years, was not a reformatory association. It was an association for safe conduct, the betterment of life, the upbuilding of character and the religious instruction of young women brought under its control and into contact with it.

"No man," he declared, "can do a better work than assist in this labor undertaken, so ably carried on, and which gives promise of such an abundant harvest. It was well that you asked the Masonic Grand Lodge to lay the corner stone. From time immemorial the Masons have built great buildings all over the world, temples, castles and churches have arisen in which men have labored and men have worked.

Although as the centuries wore on Masonry changed from operative to speculative Masonry the brethren still adhered to the traditions and documents and thought that they served their fellowmen well. Masonry, he reminded them, had a proud lineage, having enrolled the wisest and best men of the ages, including His Majesty, King of England, who was Grand Master when Prince of Wales, and who allowed the Order now to use his name as protector of the craft; Arthur Duke of Connaught, the Present Grand Master, President Taft and other notables.

"In any corner of the world," said the Grand Master, "the symbolism of the corner stone is one familiar to us. We recognize all lines as straight lines, all surfaces as plain surfaces and all angles as right angles and apply them to our lives, trying to stand on the level, walk the straight line and make our conduct square with the square of the corner stone. Another higher and more significant meaning represents Him, who, though rejected by the builders, became the corner stone of the building; represents Him as being the great fabric on which the Christian Church rests."

The Grand Master closed with a beautiful exposition of the aims of Masonry in which he emphasized the fact that it was no religion, had no dogmatic theology and stood for no creed. It asked only of its postulants a simple confession of faith.

IN THE CORNER STONE.

The ritual in connection with the ceremony of laying the stones was very impressive. The acting Grand Treasurer deposited within the stone the following script:

RAILWAYMEN AT CHURCH.

Fine Turnout and Splendid Sermon by Rev. R. Tippett.

The pastor of the First Congregational Church, Rev. Ernest Tippett, preached a very instructive sermon to the members of the Brotherhood of Railwaymen yesterday morning and a large number of them were present. They marched in a body from the Foresters' Hall and completely filled the centre of the church.

Mr. Tippett said he was glad to welcome such a large gathering of railwaymen representing, as they did, a part of that great body of trainmen of which there are 330,000 members. The country had played in upbuilding the Dominion. He selected his text from Jeremiah xxx. 8: "Thus saith the Lord; behold I set before you the way of life, and the way of death." He said the road, the way or the path are mentioned in the Bible 500 times, because in Bible times that was the mode of traveling. If at that time there had been railways it is probable that 250 out of the 500 times would have been spoken of as railways. The text was changed to "Thus saith the Lord, I set before you a railway of life." It was changed in order that an analogy could be drawn between the running of a train and the living of a good train in crew that they can make the best time, so is a person provided with a good body in order that it may be used to the best advantage. Great advancement has been made in train work, as has been seen by the air brake and numerous other appliances. When the trainman undertakes to make a fast run he does so with the assurance of the management that the line is in good order and the turns safe. If a trainman does such things upon the promises, the Christian should be able to do more for Christ, upon his assurances. As the trainman has his rules, so has the Christian the rules of the Bible to follow, and they should be studied as carefully as the rules for running a train.

As he was liberated at the Central Prison on Saturday, after serving a six-months' term for forgery, Leopold Duval, a French-Canadian, was taken into custody at the instance of the Chief Constable of Hull, Quebec. He is wanted at Hull on a charge of obtaining $61.50 from a merchant by forgery.

Henry George, jun., is at present the guest of Count Leo Tolstoy at Yasnoy Polyan. The count welcomed his visitor most cordially on account of his father, whose economic ideas he admires greatly.

THE MASONS AT CHURCH.

Festival of St. John the Baptist Observed Yesterday.

A Fine Sermon by Rev. Sedgewick at Central.

Need of the Very Best in Men Greatly Felt.

Headed by the Knights Templars in their picturesque regalia, the united Masonic lodges of the city observed the feast of St. John the Baptist yesterday afternoon by marching in a body to Central Presbyterian Church, where they listened to a scholarly and inspiring address by Rev. W. H. Sedgewick, B. A. The brethren paraded about two hundred strong. V. W. Bro. C. R. Smith was marshal. Preceded by one of the officers carrying the open Bible, Grand Master A. T. Freed led the procession into the church.

Mr. Sedgewick's subject was "The Man and His Craft," and his theme was based on this text from I. Cor. iv. 3-4: "But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you or of man's judgment; yea I judge not mine own self. For I know nothing by myself; yet, am I not hereby justified; but he that judgeth me is the Lord."

After referring to Oliver Wendell Holmes' characterization of the different personalities set forth in these verses, Mr. Sedgewick said he submitted in all seriousness that there were not three but four personalities in each man. First there was the man seen by the world of men. Often there was a vast difference between a man's reputation and character. "Our character," said the speaker, "is what we are. Our reputations is what people think we are. The world looks upon us and forms a mental image concerning us, and that image is passed from hand to hand."

Secondly, a man is seen by those who know him best. Out in the cold stare of the public eye we lived disguised, but with one's friends nature unrestrained expressed itself. Then came the man as seen by himself. "Every man should know himself better than any other," said the speaker. "We can read our own souls as no one else can. Our estimation of ourselves should be truer than that of the world or any friend. Is that a high or low estimate? Does it make us smaller or bigger men than our second personality?"

"Then there is the man as God sees him. Our reputation is what men think we are. Our character are what we think we are. What God looks upon is not what people think we are, but what we are. God knows us as the world cannot, as our best friends cannot, and even as we ourselves cannot know. We stand at our trust, worth before the bar of Almighty God."

It was impossible, Mr. Sedgewick contended, to separate a man and his craft. A man was what he did. Action revealed character. With Emerson he agreed that the great need of every life was something to inspire people to do their best. After an appreciative reference to Sir William Dawson, president of McGill, whom he declared by his loyalty to himself and Christian scholarship had written his name high among the illustrious sons of Canada, the speaker said, "If ever there was a time when we need men who have respect for themselves, men who think too highly of themselves to ever do less than their best, it is to-day, for never before in the world has there been so much sham and shoddy, so much pretence and unreality, so much work passed for what it is not."

He urged men to consider the effect of their work on themselves, honest work and dishonest labor. Many people were satisfied to get their work through, no matter how it was passed, but when it came to the Great Master Builder he would refuse it.

"For," said Mr. Sedgewick, in conclusion, after the world has passed judgment, after our friends have scanned with a generous eye our work, and after it has been judged by ourselves, there remains another. "He that judgeth me is the Lord."

Emperor Nicholas has sent the sum of $100 to Coyne, the engineer of the British steamer Woodburn, who was slightly wounded when that vessel was fired upon Wednesday night in Pitkipas Bay by a Russian torpedo boat for approaching too close to the rendezvous of Emperor Nicholas and Empress William.

FOUR BOYS UPSET.

One of Them Drowned in Puslinch Lake.

Hespeler, June 20.—A very sad accident occurred this afternoon about 3 o'clock, when Nelson Dickie, of Hespeler, was drowned at Puslinch Lake, a popular summer resort two miles from here. The young man, who was about 18 years of age, went out in a canoe with three companions, by the names of Percy Eaton, Ansten Dandeno and John Yates. The wind was very strong and the lake was rough. They wanted to get over to the island, which was a little better than a quarter of a mile away, and when within 50 yards from shore the canoe capsized in about 12 feet of water. The boys all came up and hung to the sides of the canoe. It would not hold them up. Only for a party of Preston young men, who were out in a larger boat, the whole party would have been drowned, as the wind was taking them away from land while they tried to swim ashore. Nelson Dickie could not swim and it was impossible for any one to save him. The other boys were taken to shore almost exhausted, and a doctor was called immediately to attend to them. The body was recovered to-night.

LINCOLN'S PLAN.

If Carried Out Fort Sumter Would Have Been Saved.

He had been President less than twenty-four hours when, on the morning of March 5, he learned the precarious situation at Fort Sumter, then not publicly known. He at once called on General Scott for reports and advice, and on March 12 Scott stated in writing: "It is, therefore, my opinion and advice that Major Anderson be instructed to evacuate the fort... and embark with his command for New York." Scott had served with distinction in the war of 1812, had conducted a brilliant campaign resulting in the capture of the City of Mexico, was now the senior officer in the army, and the highest military authority in the land. Lincoln instantly and wisely overruled him. For various reasons, stated in his message to Congress of July 14, "this could not be allowed." Lincoln's orders were exactly the opposite, to organize an expedition for the relief of Fort Sumter, and no one would more loyally carry them out than General Scott. A few days later it was a question of Fort Pickens, in Florida. Scott recommended that it be evacuated. Lincoln sought other advice, reached his decision, that Fort Pickens should be fortified, and on Sunday, March 31: "Tell him that I wish this thing done, and not to let it fail, unless he can show that I have refused him something he asked for as necessary." Scott, on receiving the order, said in his sententious manner, "Sir, the great Frederick used to say, 'What the King commands, all things are possible.' It shall be done." It was done; and this fort never passed out of possession of the United States. The expedition to Fort Sumter failed, but through no fault of Lincoln.—From "Lincoln as Commander-in-Chief," by Major-General F. V. Greene, in the July Scribner.

TAXATION AND INCOME...
 Best Plan for British Landlords is to Get Out.

London, June 20.—Lord Onslow has announced the sale of a portion of his Guildford estate to enable his successor to meet the new charges in the budget. He says, in answer to a criticism, that the Guildford estate produces a gross income of £9,000 to £45,000. According to the present proposals the annual charge on it will be a contribution to a sinking fund for the estate duty of £1,111; income tax and super-tax, £580; maintenance, repairs and incidentals, £2,340; and land tax and rates, £1,427. This leaves only £3,542, or $17,710 net. He adds that the best policy for land owners is to get out.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Jarvis street, Toronto, has decided upon a uniform dress for its choir, the ladies will wear college or "mortar-board" caps in addition to their gowns. Five men, hostlers, and 68 horses were burned to death on Saturday afternoon at Dunthorn, in a fire which partly destroyed the Board of Trade livery stable.

KERR WON TWO RACES

The Hamilton Sprinter in England.

Results of I. C. A. C. Games at Toronto.

Mox Schmidt Made a Good Showing.

Toronto, June 21.—The annual games of the Irish-Canadian Athletic Club at Scarborough Beach on Saturday attracted a crowd of about twelve hundred people, about one-fourth the number the very excellent card should have drawn. It was one of the best programmes ever offered at a track and field meet in Toronto, and with heavyweight lifting, wrestling, cycle racing and other specialties, in addition to the list of events usually seen at such meets, provided a very fine afternoon's sport.

Lou Sebert was a trifle too good for the rest of them in the sprints. Jack Tait won the three-mile, Frank Schofield ran a splendid race in the five and won handsily. George Goulding, of course, won the walk, and Aquila Skene, a brother of "Chick" Skene, galloped off with the half-mile handicap. Ed. Archibald, Dr. Cal. Bricker, Irving Parkes, Will Anderson, Jack Tait, George Goulding and Lou Sebert, of the Canadian Olympic team, were competitors.

The fields were very large, and heats were necessary in many of the events. In spite of the hard work of the reinforced gangs of men who were put to work on the track, the latter was not smooth enough to use on Saturday, and the middle distance and distance runs, as well as the sprints and cycle races, were done on the grass. The hundred was laid out down the centerfield, and a five-lap track was measured just inside the center course. The slow going and strong wind interfered with fast time.

Sebert, Bricker, Cox and Hardman were the heat winners in the handicap hundred. Sebert winning the final by a small margin from Bricker and Cox. Lou also won the 220 handicap after taking his heat in hollow fashion. In the final he overhauled the limit man early and Jimmy Elliott beat Hitchen for second. Jimmy Brydon won the quarter-mile handicap from the 35-yard mark, just stalling off V. Knox at the tape.

In the mile handicap Jack Kerr, Central's long distance runner, was out 90 yards, and the way he tore off the balance of the distance was a surprise to those who thought that he had no speed for a short distance. Nobody succeeded in reaching him. Raymond Hughes, of the Irish-Canadians, ran a peppy race and came with a sprint at the finish to take second from W. Scholes, of West End. "Chuck" Skene started from scratch and caught a luck but could not do better than fifth place.

In the preceding Jack Cart, of Hamilton, was protested, as some of his opponents claimed that he was over weight, in the 115-pound class. Callen threw him in the final, however, so nothing was done in the matter. When Mox Schmidt won from Lappan, the heavyweights, Schmidt tossed his opponent around like a cork, and got the decision in four minutes. Both men weighed about 160 pounds. A protest was made in this contest on the ground that the winner had wrestled with professional.

Jack McMaster, also of this city, won in the welterweight wrestling, and Tom Newton reached the semi-final class. A number of new men carried off the medals in the rough grass, which were not very exciting affairs on account of the rough grass, which forced the riders to trundle along very cautiously. Anderson got the two-mile handicap from scratch and was also leading in the last lap of the five-mile race when he had a spill, which gave the race to Andrews, who had been pressing him all the way.

SVANBERG BEAT THE INDIAN. Chicago, June 21.—J. Svanberg, winner of the Marathon Derby in this city three weeks ago, won here Saturday in a 15-mile relay race against Red Cloud, the Canadian Indian, and Alexander Tibbison. Time, 1:26 1/5. HARRIERS' RELAY RACE. On Saturday afternoon the bay relay race was run off and the Central Y. M. C. A. Harriers won from the East End Y. M. C. A. Harriers in the fast time of 1:49.11, or only 28 seconds behind the record time, held by Sammy Meilor, of Yonkers, N. Y. (1:48.43). The E. E. team, owing to the non-appearance of the club members, as well as of the fair sex, and the very last moment, and therefore the team did not show the form expected.

The East End team was beaten by 2 minutes, 53 seconds; their time being 1:52.04. The race started at 3 o'clock sharp and Barclay for Centrals, and Ben for the East Enders, Barclay made the very good time of 10 minutes to the E. E. Y. M. C. A., and had a lead of 100 yards, Ed. Smith and Pete. Moore battled to the Jockey Club, and Centrals reached the 125 yards mark, and the "Beaver" Kennedy ran to the 5-mile post in grand form, gaining 400 yards on J. Fisher. Argent for E. E. lost a little more ground against Oliver, and at Dyer's Hotel the Centrals were 500 yards in the lead. Derby McCullough ran the race of his life to the canal, and gained 100 yards more on Jack Lade. C. Burns gained little on "Skin" Finlayson, but Centrals led by 625 yards at the Brant House. F. Crocker gained a little more for Centrals against C. Drake, and at the Stone Road Junction

MOX SCHMIDT, Of the Belmont Athletic Club, Who Won His Bout at the I.C.A.C. Meet in Four Minutes.

Centrals' best runner, Will Smith, took up the race, and gained a little more against McAlpine, and at the 15-mile post Centrals were 450 yards on ahead. Jack Maas took the hardest run of the day, having the Valley Inn hill to climb, but he was equal to the task and reached the top 700 yards to the good against Joe Eccles. A. Wilson, then ran to the finishing point in fast time, but reached there 28 seconds behind the time that stands as the record for the course, and G. White finished about 3 minutes later.

Both teams then went to the Central Y. M. C. A. and got a rub-down, and pictures were taken of the winning team. It is likely the same team will run the course again the fall and on a cooler day, should do the course in less than 1:48.

The Central Harriers are arranging to try the Hamilton Toronto Relay race in the fall, if 20 runners, under 18 years of age can be secured, for a cup presented by a Toronto sportsman. The times, at the following places in the race are: E. E. Y. M. C. A., 3:10.00. Jockey Club, 3:17.10. 5-mile post, 3:26.25. Dynes Hotel, 3:37.20. Canal, 3:43.45. Brant House, 3:58.00. Stone Road Junction, 4:06.12. 15-mile post, 4:25.25. Top of Valley Inn Hill, 4:26.24. Herald office, 4:49.11. The Central team led at every point.

KILTIES WON FROM ST. LUKE'S.

Only one game of soccer was played in the league series on Saturday, and the contestants were the 91st and St. Luke's teams. A very large crowd turned out, and the brand of soccer they witnessed was good. The St. Luke's seemed to be in hard luck, and could not make any headway against their opponents.

The Kilties won the toss and kicked with the wind. The St. Luke's obtained possession of the ball after the kick-off and rushed away up the field, only to be stopped by the Kilties, who secured the ball, and by good footwork and individual play they managed to get the ball between the posts. When the ball was again put in motion the St. Luke's went after the Kilties in good style in their efforts to equalize, but the Kilties by their better class of ball played rings around them, and rained shot after shot on the goal, but the goalkeeper was fortunate enough to keep it clear most of the time; however, by a well-directed kick the 91st secured their second tally before the half-time whistle sounded.

In the second half the St. Luke's rallied and made a grand effort to catch their opponents, but their efforts were futile, and the 91st secured another goal before the full time whistle sounded. For the 91st Burt was at all times in evidence, and played a good game at full-back. The final score was 3-0 in favor of the 91st.

The line-up was as follows: Ninety-First (3)—J. Lockhart, Burt, Lloyd, Johnson, Weir, Adamson, Ralston, Lachart, Wilson, and Armstrong. St. Luke's (6)—Howarth, Dickson, Crockett, Quinn, Pritchard, Payne, Coleman, Skedden, Hastings, Smith and Hewson.

Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, arrived with King Edward Saturday evening.

AT THE YACHT CLUB HOUSES

ST. PATRICKS BEATEN.

W.E.P.C. Won on Saturday, 4 to 2.

Eleven Innings Were Played by Rivals.

G.S.&M. Team Blanked the Veritys.

A good brand of ball was dished up at Britannia Park on Saturday afternoon by the two leading teams in the Inter-City League—the St. Patricks and the W. E. P. C.—and the game deserved a much larger crowd. The fans present were given a good run for their money, eleven innings being required to settle the battle. The West Enders won out by a score of 4 to 2, and while they played superior ball in the eighth and ninth, it looked as if luck would carry the St. Patrick's team to victory. Southon, the Westerners' southpaw, was in fine fettle, and struck out 11 men, but at times was a little wild, allowing three charities and hitting two batsmen. Only seven hits were made off him. McGavin, the opposing pitcher, was touched up for ten hits, but he issued no free transportation.

The Pleasure Club did the first scoring, making two in the second on a two-bagger and two singles. The St. Patricks got one in the third and tied the score in the ninth. Both teams failed to score in the tenth, and in the eleventh the Pleasure Club got to McGavin. Two two-base hits and a single brought in two runs and won the game, the St. Patricks failing to score in their final inning. Quite a bit of hard feeling was shown, and Carey and A. McLeod came to blows in the course of the game. Manager Conroy, of the W. E. P. C., ran on to the field, and assisted Umpire Dore in stopping the mill.

Brautford, June 21.—(Special)—For the third successive game Verity's were shut out here Saturday by the Good, Shapley & Muir team. Weakness with the big stick was again accountable for the defeat of the plowmakers. Simpson sewing them up with three scattered singles. The game, however, was snappy and some brilliant fielding stunts were pulled off. Simpson struck out eleven men, including Garbutt, the league leader, four times, and was accorded perfect support by his team, not the semblance of an error being made. The windmillers were strengthened by the return of Minnis, the Brandon catcher, whose corking single and triple helped in the getting. Verity's also had new men, McHugh and Kerr, of London, and both made good. McHugh's triple was a feature, but Simpson applied the brakes, and struck the next three men out, preventing a score. Hawkshaw's fine catch of a liner in the seventh and his throw to first base from left, completing a double, was sensational. Ralston pitched a good game for Verity, and with any kind of hitting behind him would have been returned a winner. The score: Verity, A.B.R.H.P.O.A.E. ST. GEORGE'S.

The St. George's Cricket Club went to Niagara Falls on Saturday afternoon and defeated the home club in a good game by 99 runs. The home club lost the toss, and the Falls decided to go to bat. Stewart and Back, who have been doing some consistent bowling this season, were chosen to do the trundling, and they did good work, though Capt. Harford relieved Back, and retired Creswick, who played a steady inning for his 26. He was the only man on the Falls team to get double figures, Stewart was in good form, and hit up 42 in fine style. Cleland and Allan also played good cricket for 12 and 13 respectively.

For the Saints Stewart took 6 wickets for 14 runs, Back 3 for 23 and Harford 1 for 1. Creswick did best for the Falls. The score: St. George's..... 99 St. George's..... 0

IN THE EASTERN. On Sunday: At Newark—the Indians had their winning streak with them on Saturday, and beat Toronto, 8 to 5. Each side had to resort to two pitchers. The Indians had a shade the better of it on the luck and did better fielding work. Toronto used Pfeffer, the new fielder, secured from Baltimore, and he signalled his appearance by dropping a fly. MAPLE LEAF CHANGES. Toronto, June 21.—The slump of the Toronto team will be brought up with a round turn if the purchase of better players can bring about that most laudable object. Pitcher error, who has been playing right field for the Toronto team, has been added to the Maple Leafs, the purchase being effected Saturday. Pitcher Carl Landgren has been disposed of to the Kansas City Club, of the American Association. Landgren does not keep himself in condition, and his usefulness was minimized on that account.

Outfielder Eugene Good, who was expected to be a star in the Eastern League, has found his way back to the New York State League, his release having been purchased by Syracuse yesterday. Good has been a failure both in the field and at the bat. A major league club has offered $3,000 in cash for Pitcher Fred Mitchell, but money will not buy him from Toronto. A deal is now in progress and may be consummated to-day, for a right-handed pitcher and an infielder, both of whom are with American League clubs at present.

Women, Attention!

Women as a rule are better savers than men—they have a knack of making a dollar go just twice as far as a man can.

Many men who cannot save anything themselves, very wisely make their wives the family treasurer, and upon them devolves the responsibility of putting by something for the inevitable rainy day.

The Traders Bank welcomes the accounts of women, and its officials and clerks are always ready to give them any advice or assistance they may require.

A few dollars will start an account. When you are down town call at our Bank and start an account. Open Saturday evenings.

A DOG EXPLORER.

Fox Terrier's Travels Through Central Asia and China. A wonderful record as a traveller has been achieved by Dash, the smooth-haired fox terrier which accompanied Dr. M. A. Stein, the archaeological explorer, throughout his great journey of 10,000 miles, undertaken on behalf of the Indian Government, through Central Asia into China and back.

Though the aggregate of the marches amounted roughly to 10,000 miles in two years and eight months, the actual distance covered by Dash, taking into account his canine habits of progression, has probably made that journey on foot practically the whole way, except when he went "pony back" for short distances at times of great heat. When in the Taklamakan desert Dash, like the rest of the party, had his water allowance strictly limited. It came from the supply carried on camels in the form of ice.

Dash made his first journey on foot practically the whole way, except when he went "pony back" for short distances at times of great heat. When in the Taklamakan desert Dash, like the rest of the party, had his water allowance strictly limited. It came from the supply carried on camels in the form of ice.

Upon many journeys along the Indian Northwest frontier, Dash has also been the comrade of his master, and he has probably seen far more of the world than most people. He has true British terrier blood in his veins, although India was his birth-place. The dog is now in quarantine after having come from India.—London Daily Mail.
