Kenneth Douglas, Formerly of Toronto, Lived Well in New York and Married Wellesley Girl, But Disappeared When Asked for Truth About His Past Life.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, June 4.—Kenneth Douglas, who said he was a doctor of philosophy from McGill University and called himself a "social service adviser," dressed in New York, N.Y., last December, talked himself into place with the bureau of associated charities; made friends among folks who started a social survey of the city and went into editorial stuff in The Evening News.

Several weeks ago Douglas capped his Newark career by marrying Miss Marjory Stoneman of Taunton, Mass., a graduate of Wellesley, who had come to Newark as the efficiency expert of a department store. The ceremony was performed on April 13 by the Rev. George P. Dougherty of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the influential friends won by Douglas.

Last Wednesday morning Douglas left his office from the Pennsylvania station in New York that he would not be back, as a physical and nervous breakdown had made it necessary for him to go to a sanitarium for an indefinite time.

Not even as much as a word was sent to Mrs. Douglas; she went to the home of Rev. Mr. Dougherty not only convinced that her husband had left her for good, but in grave doubt whether she was truly his wife.

Douglas Was Divorced. Mrs. Douglas said today that Douglas had led her to believe he was unmarried. His application for a license contained a statement, but Mr. Dougherty's return to the city registrar contained the statement that Douglas was a divorced man.

To others in Newark Douglas said that he had got a divorce in Ohio. Not only because of the discrepancies in these stories, but because of persistent reports that he had not been divorced at all, he was called to account by his employers. He was to lay proof of his statements before them today. Instead, there came the telegram saying that he would not return.

"I last saw my husband Tuesday afternoon," Mrs. Douglas said last night. "I met him on the street and talked with him only a few minutes. He told me he was going to New York to consult a physician."

He made many speeches in churches and in clubs, and it was in the course of this work that he met Miss Stoneman.

It was understood Toronto was Douglas' home.

SOCIALISTS TRY TO EXCLUDE COUNCIL

Motion Regarding Selection of Labor Candidates Meets With Vigorous Opposition at District Council Meeting - Warm Criticism Respecting Irish Nomination.

Altho the meeting of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council last night commenced in profound silence as a token of respect for members who had lost lives or relatives thru the loss of the Empress of Ireland, it terminated near midnight in heated debate and political factional strife.

Controller Simpson moved that the selection of candidates for the provincial elections, as well as the plan of the platform to be used in the campaign, be referred to the committee composed of representatives of the I. O. O. F. and social democracy party, and trades council, but giving the two political organizations power to select candidates to the exclusion of the trades council.

According to some delegates this motion would have prevented many prominent labor men from becoming candidates. Others averred that it was an attempt to introduce machine politics.

Delegates Gibbons and Simpson declared that labor men were being used to squeeze out of parliament, men who had been sympathetic to labor, and to assist those who had fought most bitterly against his interests.

More than one delegate, including Simpson and Gibbons, hinted at a procedure and tactics that had been followed in defeating W. McNaught and selecting Mark Irish for North Toronto, and it was declared that labor men had attended that convention and voted against McNaught's nomination.

Members of the Social Democratic party agreed with the motion, as also did the I. O. O. F. delegates, but owing to strenuous opposition from P. Bancroft, R. J. Stevenson and M. Wayman the motion was amended at a late hour, so that the council will have five representatives on the committee empowered to select candidates, while the convention of the Socialists on Sunday and of the I.L.P. next week will determine the names of their candidates also.

METHODIST LAYMEN DECLARE FOR TEMPERANCE CANDIDATES

Resolution Passed at Hamilton Conference Pledging Members to Support Only Abolish the Bar Nominees, Whether Liberal or Conservative—Church's Growth Gratifying.

Special to The Toronto World.

ST. CATHARINES, June 4.—A resolution pledging support only to candidates for the legislature, whether Liberal or Conservative, who are willing publicly to declare for the abolition of the bar, was passed by the laymen's association at the Hamilton Methodist Conference today.

Rev. H. W. Crews and Rev. E. S. Colwell, of Woodstock, were elected president and secretary of the Hamilton Methodist Conference this afternoon. Rev. George W. Barker of Guelph and Rev. J. M. Meyer of Burgessville were elected assistant secretaries and Rev. J. E. Peters, statistical secretary.

The "Prohibitioners' Association" elected the following officers, all students of Victoria College: President, G. R. Gilchrist; vice-president, Dr. Zimmerman; secretary-treasurer, Jos. Stewart.

Membership Increases.

Statistics of the conference showed the following: Membership 55,378, increase over 1913, 976; mission givings $46,184, increase over 1913, $6,229; Sunday school givings $186,888, increase over 1913, $15,463; circuit purposes givings $394,392, increase over 1913, $45,870; ministerial support givings $180,252, increase over 1913, $40,177. Grand total for all purposes, $741,436; increase over 1913, $64,428.

Report for quinquennial membership increase 2880; missions, increase $70,782; ministerial support, increase $67,792; all purposes, increase $265,018.

No Changes in Rules.

Disciplinary questions were discussed at the annual meeting of the Theological Union. No changes were made in the church rules. The Laymen's Association today passed, with two dissenting votes, on motion of E. H. Cleaver of Burlington and F. J. Hager of Hagerstown, with scarcely any discussion, the following resolution:

Temperance Endorsed.

"That we, the Laymen's Association of the Hamilton Conference of the great Methodist Church, in session assembled, continue to deplore the evil effects of the legalized liquor traffic upon the citizens of our beloved Province of Ontario; and believe it to be the duty of all Christian people to do all within their power to overcome the evil and its lamentable effect; the expenditure of the people of the province at the polls and in local option contests and on other occasions clearly demonstrates, we believe, that public sentiment endorses our moral obligations as Christian people, and indeed makes it our duty to call upon our legislature to discontinue the liquor traffic which ruins the lives and homes of very many of our best Canadians; and we recognize that the greatest issue now before the electors of this Province of Ontario is the temperance issue; we believe in the abolition of the liquor licenses in all the houses and clubs and the privileges of each municipality of wiping out the liquor store on the majority vote; and we believe that every Christian people that we have a right to interfere with party politics in so far as it relates to moral issues, and we call upon our people to do all within their power to see that the candidates for the legislature, whether Liberal or Conservative, are men who are willing to pledge themselves to support the address temperance policy, that of abolition of the bar."

"That we above all pledge ourselves to vote for no candidate, Liberal or Conservative, who will not so pledge himself."

"We further call upon our pastors from the pulpits to urge our people to adopt such a course."

The laymen elected the following officers: President, E. H. Cleaver, Burlington; vice-president, A. H. Lambert, Hamilton; secretary-treasurer, A. Scruton, Brantford; executive committee, Fred Macur, Brantford; W. J. Robertson, St. Catharines; S. W. Logan, Walkerton; Mayor Carter, Guelph; J. S. Harker, Hamilton; H. B. Colwell, Guelph.

The address of the president touched upon the state of church work, regret being expressed that some of the churches did not show more activity. "The most vital question in Ontario today is that of temperance," said he. "It is a live issue before the electors. Great strides are being made in temperance, and it behooves the church to make its influence felt in the matter."

The president also touched upon church union and suggested that students of the ministry take a course in agriculture, so as to be in touch with the work of the rural districts.

A. H. Lambert of Hamilton, chairman of the finance committee, advocated that a part of the student's time be devoted to finance, so as to give him a correct insight into the way of a church as a proper business basis.

C. F. McGregor of Hamilton, introduced a discussion advocating the elimination of the pastoral time limit. Mayor Carter of Guelph, and Joseph Gibson of Ingersoll advocated no change in the present system.

The commissioners were officially welcomed to this city this morning by Mayor W. B. Hobson, who gave them the freedom of the city.

Reduce Number of Delegates.

The question of reducing the number of representatives to the annual assembly meetings came up this afternoon. A motion by Rev. Dr. John Somerville to send the matter to the presbyteries, and suggesting that the number of representatives be reduced to one in eight, was carried. Dr. Macdonald of Toronto, speaking on the subject, said that it was about time that some of the men who have sat in the assemblies for years gave the younger men a chance.

That the presbyteries of the west are not managed satisfactorily was stated by Rev. Dr. John Somerville, when he was delivering the committee report on statistics. He said he could not get accurate reports from them.

Big Individual Subscriptions.

The cost of the large pre-assembly congress in Toronto last year has not been paid fully yet. Dr. A. S. Grant this afternoon submitted an interesting financial statement in connection with this, which showed that the total amount subscribed was $64,488.10. The expenses of the meeting amounted to $25,117.25, and $74,485.10 has been paid up.

All this money was subscribed by fifteen people, as follows: A. Friend, Woodstock, N.B., $10,000; A. DeLaud, Edmonton, $10,000; T. J. S. Skinner, Calgary, $10,000; J. Salfour, Regina, $10,000; Dr. C. W. Gordon, Winnipeg, $10,000; C. Somerville, London, $5,000; Friend, Toronto, $10,000; A. Friend, Toronto, $10,000; John Penman, Paris, $5,000; Hon. S. J. Brown, $5,000; J. G. Ross, Montreal, $1,000; D. Morrice, Montreal, $1,000; A. Friend, Woodstock, N.B., $1,000; Assembly Fund, $2,886.10.

Dr. Grant, at the conclusion of his report, remarked that some of the results of this assembly had been seen in the increased interest taken in the present one.

Greetings From Switzerland.

The committee on correspondence with other churches reported that Rev. Dr. Bryce, being in London, Eng., was accredited to the synod of the Presbyterian Church of England and the Rev. R. W. Ross, M.A., of Fort Massey Church Halifax, was accredited to the general assembly in Scotland. Prof. Bieler reports his diligence in appearing as the representative of the church at the synod of the Free Church of the Canton de Vaud, Switzerland, in May of last year, by which he was cordially received and was listened to with very deep attention as he informed the synod of the varied operations of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. He was requested to convey to the assembly the cordial greetings of the little sister church in Switzerland.

Hymnal Report.

The committee on church praise reported that the royalty on the hymnal had totaled $381.48, which had been apportioned between the aged and infirm ministers and widows and orphans' funds.

With a view to an interchangeable hymnal, the committee had kept in close touch with the Methodist committee in the new hymnal.

Rev. Dr. Campbell reported a profit of $409 on the publication of The Presbyterian Record.

Home Missions.

Rev. Dr. Grant presented the report on home missions, which said that the appointment of immigration chaplains at the large distributing centres had proved very satisfactory.

Mission work is being carried on amongst the French in twenty different centres in the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, and there are three bilingual missions. At Chelmsford in New Ontario, there is a French mission also, one in Weyburn, Saskatchewan, and one at Colerain, in the Kootenay district.

Also the missionary and education work in the Province of Quebec has been carried on in the midst of trials and difficulties, it can now be seen that the effort was worth while. A very marked change has come. French Protestantism is now firmly established on Canadian soil.

Missions to Jews.

Six years ago work was commenced among the Jews in Canada. Notwithstanding the difficulties always incident to Jewish evangelization, a good deal of advancement has been made. There are two missions, one in Toronto, where there are 25,000 Jews, and the other in Winnipeg, which claims 18,000. In connection with the work in Toronto, two things mark the past year as special. The new building, known as the Christian Synagogue, was formally opened and dedicated in June. It is a fine, commodious building, well adapted for institutional work. The other feature of special note was the carrying on in the Kootenay district, in the Province of Quebec, of a very marked change has come. French Protestantism is now firmly established on Canadian soil.

Growth of Mormonism.

As regards the relation of the church to Mormonism, little change can be reported. In July, the president of the Utah Mormons visited the province, towns and made several significant speeches in praise of that part of the polygamous old testament which no man can be looked for in the way of a change of domestic habits. He is reported to have spoken in praise of Mormon girls as sure to make excellent wives, and to have offered his own experience as affording abundant proof to replenish the Canadian population, he dedicated the site chosen for the Canadian temple, which is about to be erected. This enterprise seems to indicate that the Mormons have come to stay in Alberta.

Aids to Devotion.

The committee on public worship and aids to devotion reported that a book had been prepared and would soon be published as an aid to family worship.

Mr. Pond joined Mr. Roosevelt's party in Rhodesia, and remained until the expedition moved up towards Khartoum, when he joined the Robinson expedition sent to equatorial Africa to replenish the menagerie. They obtained many fine specimens, and Mr. Pond came to America with them to break the wild and savage beasts. He now has them under perfect control. He tells many interesting experiences, while with the Roosevelt expedition, and says he could not only ably expose himself to the attacks of wild denizens of the African jungle.

SPEND BIG SUM ON MOTOR BUSES

Motors Will Be Go-Between Until Transportation Problem is Settled.

In the second week of July the people of Toronto will be asked to vote on the expenditure of $300,000 for motor buses to go-between until the city's transportation is settled adequately. But the people will not be asked to spend the $300,000, as suggested for extension of car lines. That suggestion was floored.

This was the board of control's decision in private session yesterday afternoon. The sum to be asked for will provide for 35 motor buses. These will not all be in the first batch, the others added as required.

The type or make of buses has not yet been fixed, according to the mayor.

Filmy Tulle Rival Satin For the June Bride's Gown

By MADGE MARVEL

THE June bride is not hampered by traditions in the choice of her wedding gown. She chooses from a wide range of material and is quite as apt to select the traditional silks and satins as she is to choose some material which has never been placed in the list of bridal costume. Also she more often than not chooses transparency in her bodice and has the upper portion formed of the mesh whippers of tulle and lace. Her mother was quite fussy about having her wedding dress filled in at the corseage. For even if it was to serve later as her very best evening gown, on the day of its first and most important wearing it must assume the high-necked lines.

One of the most fashionable houses, in showing me several bridal gowns, laid emphasis on the laciness of the bodice. A model in white chiffon and the upper bodice of Spanish lace fashioned over tulle, which moreover was the faintest shade of flesh instead of dead white.

New Bridal Caps.
When Miss Helen Huntington was married to Vincent Astor, she reversed the customary order of materials and with her gown of pointed Angletoro (an heirloom) and quantities of tulle, she wore a court train of white satin. This was trimmed with a puffing of lace. The bodice was entirely of the lace over the tulle and there were tulle sleeves that reached the elbows. In the arrangement of her veil she followed the latest fashion by eschewing the full puffing of tulle which has been favored by brides and arranging it light about her head. This is the manner in which her grandmother wore it years ago. It is a style which brides of today are choosing in recent years. The arrangement of the bridal veil has frequently been unbecoming because it was worn so capricious over the face that

Gail Kane's Ideas on Play-Spell Costumes

By ELEANOR AMES

ALL over the world girls, young and not so young, are planning their vacations. Some of them get two whole beautiful weeks in which to do something for some one else's pleasure instead of spending her money on herself. When a girl goes on a play spell she wants to look attractive, but she wants above all else to have a good time. Therefore, she has a few clothes of just the right kind, and is saved the whole lot of bother.

Unless one can have fun in one's vacation clothes they are no good, no matter how smart they are. For me, I really think white is the one best bet for the vacation clothes. White sells quickly. I know, but it cleans beautifully, and it can go into the tub and even into the boiler and come out with no loss of original freshness. So let's make her best frock white, and her second best frock white, and give her some dainty white waists and a white skirt or two. The shops are filled with white fabrics that have the crease finish that will allow of frequent washing in one's own room and no need of ironing.

A bowl of warm water, some white soap, and a few shakes in the sun and you have a clean frock. Yes, white is the best bet for the vacation clothes. Then white crinkly underclothes for the same laundry economy. Then, for tramping, some stout skirt and sturdy blouse, or a plain dress that

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Green Vegetables Are Food for Your Blood

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

THERE is no blood tonic known for man or beast which can surpass green vegetables. Were it not for "chlorophyll"—the green stuff of leaves and vegetation—there really would be no red blood. In the eyes of experts who write books, who know everything, this is forsooth not true. To physiological chemists, botanists, biologists and experimenters, it is absolutely correct and easily proved.

The green plant, he it recalled, takes water and carbonic acid gas and by virtue of Euboeus's radiant glow converts it into starch for human use. Chlorophyll, that magic green stuff of the botanical world, when eaten by man and brute, breaks down into a chemical called "pyrrrol."

Curious to relate, this analytic, broken down end product of chlorophyll is the source, origin and first elementary chemical in "hemoglobin," as the red substance of blood is called.

In fine, as lettuce, spinach, cress and green vegetables generally, are macerated by digestion into their primary principles, "pyrrrol" is finally left in the tissues. Then the human fabric begins to get busy with these building stones of "pyrrrol." Just as the pyramids were put together with units, so the good scarlet and vermilion colorings of your veins and arteries are synthesized from the "pyrrrol" of chlorophyll.

It is plain, then, for the first time, that the green chlorophyll of plants is really much the same as the rubin hemoglobin of your marrow and channels. It behooves you, therefore, to shun all artificial so-called "blood-purifiers" and "tissue-builders." Drugs, medicines, mixtures, teas, potions, pills and powders may or may not bestir the growth of new human serum.

Be this as it may, for every dollar's worth of money thus spent, one cent's worth of green vegetables will go much further. Indeed, after long illnesses, in anemia, during convalescence and in the living textures of the body, vegetables rich in green chlorophyll should be devoured in abundance.

Gather, then, ye green plants while ye may. Do not search for health in much vaunted poisonous preparations or even harmless deceptions. They make the stomach heavily laden. You may as well expect apricots from a fir tree as to hope for human cherry fluid from many blood-making medicaments.

Upon the green grass, the alfalfa, the bean, the parsley, the asparagus, the cauliflower and the carrot, as well as the deep green vegetables, the ailing individual must rely for sustenance and health.

"If one wants a bit of color in the dress-up frock, there are fascinating fabrics in pale pink and blue and soft Dolly Varden crepes and organdies that make adorable gowns pretty and dainty. Of course, the vacation girl will take evening in the woods, living in this light frock left from the winter which will do for a party dress.

"Simply to the keynote to style this season. Accessories in the way of belts and neckwear will change the appearance of any dress. Take a few clothes and have them the ones you will find use for.

"Don't cumber yourself with a lot of luggage. It is expensive and inconvenient to move it in many country places. And if you are wise girls, you will go where you can have a visit with kindly old Mother Nature, instead of where you have to be on dress parade."

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie:
A young man cares for me very much, but feels that he is bound to another girl whom he has ceased to care for. He knows that I care for him. His fiancée and I are good friends. Should I tell her or let affairs take their own course?

WELL, Canada, what would you want the other girl to do if you were in her place and she were in yours?
Would you want him to have a secret affair with another girl when he is engaged to you? You wouldn't?
It's so romantic, you know, so much more interesting than a common, everyday love affair with an engagement ring and congratulations and all that sort of thing, that it seems so romantic to you when you are the "other girl."

"Seems" is the word I want you to use in this case, for it is not so romantic at all—it is just sly and mean and deceitful and sneaking and cruel.

But before you drop him tell the poor girl he's engaged to all about his attempt at a love affair with you. Don't let her go on wasting her heart on a scoundrel like that. It isn't fair.

Break the string, my dear, and give the other girl a chance to do the same thing. That's my advice. I hope you'll take it.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Pleasant Team Work

SEE here, Mary. I ventured, "if you could get up so valiantly for a month of mornings merely to—er—chase into town marketing because it was fashionable. I don't see why you can't let the good work go on and get up in time to get my breakfast."

"Peter!" Mary stared, and I didn't wonder. It was the first time I had made the slightest complaint relative to my morning habit of preparing my own breakfast. "I'll fix the furnace and build the kitchen, fire gladly. And I'll help with breakfast as long as you're with me and I don't feel—so sort of deserted."

"You don't have to do anything of the sort," I warmly assured her. "If you're going to get up at this ungodly hour I'll get up, too. And I want you to feel quite sure, Mary, that I'm strong on team work. The domestic apologetics, I'll fix the furnace and build the kitchen, fire gladly. And I'll help with breakfast as long as you're with me and I don't feel—so sort of deserted."

"I-I feel guilty and selfish," she confessed. "I-I wish we'd had a talk about it all months ago. I-I was just thoughtless, Peter, and you should have said so."

"I-I must get up and make a complete toilet," said Mary, with excessive dignity, "as you say your mother does and then get breakfast. I simply have to get up terribly early whether I like it or not. I've figured it all out. I have to go down and turn on the furnace and start the fire in the kitchen."

Learning to Mix the Colors of Life

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THE Little Boy stood out in the hanging garden. He was laughing over the wall, scarlet and white and yellow and deep with saffron and soft with pink, and the heliotrope waved its bell-like fingers in a kind of sentimental greeting. The hanging garden was more like a dream than ever.

The Little Boy was not like a dream; he never is. This morning he was so real that it made your heart ache, deliciously only to look at him and to mark his clear, earnest eyes and his deep chest and his sturdy shoulders, and to wonder what there was waiting for him down the cool road outside the hanging garden, when he should grow old enough to go forth to the great world alone.

The Little Boy had a paint brush in his hand and there was paint on his wrists and on his fat, chubby fingers and on his round cheek. The blue from the palette tried in vain to blend with the red and brown of his healthy skin, and if you had looked quite closely you would have found, I think, paint in his soft mat of tumbled hair.

"Oh," cried the Little Boy, "oh, there is something wonderful here!"
And he brought me his palette—a cheap thing of twisted and warping wood—but bravely down in colors. "Oh," he said, "see—there were only seven colors on the palette and now I have made three more. Beautiful colors, and I've made them myself with no one to help me."

"See, if you take red and you put this blue with it—look what it has made!"
He leaned lovingly over the palette and made as if he were going to lay his soft cheeks upon the wonderful color he had made—all by himself.
"And if you take this," he said, pointing to the red, "and this," he indicated the yellow—"it will make something like the fire color."

"Will it always do it—no matter who mixes the colors?"
And I saw that the little boy had hopped so to get some of the paint on our hands, and a little in our hair; and what if our faces are scarred with the effort we are making and dimmed with splashes from the palette—ill we are no longer beautiful, in the sense which the ordinary eye calls beautiful? What of anything, so long as the colors are mixed at last into something beautiful and fine?

"Come here, Little Boy," I cried, "come, I am tired, and I want the bath you know of."
And Scar, the great hero, dropped his war club where he carried it and came and stood before me and opened very wide his clear, clear eyes—and I plunged into them as I often do, and was cool and happy.

The Good Night Story

The Plain Gold Ring

BY VERNON MERRY

ONCE upon a time a maid was traveling through a forest with her mistress, when robbers appeared and attacked them. None escaped except the maid, who was able to hide herself behind a tree.

When the robbers had fed she tried to find her way out of the wood, but only seemed to get deeper into it, and at last, weary and sick, she sank down on a bed of leaves.

By and by a white dove flew down out of a tree and gave her a golden key. "You will find a little lock on yonder tree. Take this key and open it, and there will be food and a bed and clothing."

It was just as the pretty dove said. The tree opened and there was a huge bowl of milk and bread and a soft, white bed, and many, many fine dresses. The poor maid was very happy, and said all the prayers she knew. Several days she remained in the wood, living in this tree, and the dove came every day to see that she was being well cared for.

One day it asked her, "Will you do something for me, only for love?"
"With all my heart," she replied.
"Then," said the dove, "I will take you to a cottage where lives an old prince, and you must enter, but do not

The Girl of Today

THE girl of today patronizes the play, and is partial to haunting a "stocking."

Her fashion in dress seems to get less and less, which, according to grandmas, is shocking. Of mice she's not nervous, and looks upon "service" as drudgery—save with a racket.

At golf triumphs she—not the old-fashioned "tea"—with her "club" she'd found something to whack it.

HYDRO RATE REDUCTION.

Mayor Hocken's statement to the city council, covering the position of the local Hydro-Electric Commission on the question of lowering rates, as ordered by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, should have careful study by those who wish to understand the situation.

Probably the question of a steam reserve appeals to the average man as a more intelligible part of the discussion than the technical problems of book-keeping involved in the other four reasons given for reduction.

Steam reserve is declared by the experts to be necessary. Steam reserve at great cost, is being installed by the Cataract Power Co. of Hamilton, whose transmission line is only a fourth of the distance of the hydro's.

A great deal has been said of the domestic light consumer, and a great deal more ought to be said. It is the object of public ownership of light and power in the first place to reduce rates to a point where every household could afford the clean and healthy illumination.

Carranza or intervention. This is the subject of the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, General Huerta has intimated that he is prepared to withdraw from the government of Mexico, provided that at the time the country shall be politically pacified and that the administration succeeding him is acceptable to the people and has the support of public opinion.

Address by Major Morris, representing the officers of the Salvation Army who perished on the ill-fated steamer. Massed bands will play "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," the hymn last played by the Territorial Staff Band at the ill-fated steamer steamed out of Quebec.

Address—Col. Albert Gaskin. Closing hymn—"O God, Our Help in Ages Past." Route of Cortège.

The funeral cortege will proceed by way of Sherbourne street, then along Bond to Wilton avenue, to Yonge street, and thence to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

First section—Massed bands representing six Salvation Army Temples, the flowers, the caskets and the mourning.

Pacing Three Races Require 15 Heats at Dufferin

EXCELLENT RACING ON SECOND DAY DUFFERIN DRIVING CLUB MEETING

Herman Wenger in Five Heats, Rouse's Point Bay in Six, and Marda in Four Prove the Winners of Pacing Events.

The attendance at Dufferin Park yesterday was exceptionally good, considering the weather outlook, and these factors were enough to present a better picture of racing than in any circuit, with the exception of the first heat in the 2:10 pace, when the drivers were fairly evenly matched and consequently the time was slow. The judges were well satisfied with the heat and declared all bets off.

For the first race the 2:10 pace there was an original entry of six, but only four answered the bell. Mansfield (2:05 1/2), Herman Wenger (2:13), Major Hunter (2:13 1/2), and Minnie Hal (2:14). With very little scoring they were given the word and Major Hunter beat the pole by the eighth was reached, with Minnie Hal in second place, Herman Wenger and Mansfield, both at the tail end. They raced this way to the three-quarter mile, when Minnie Hal moved up, and he was a stretch drive for first place. Minnie Hal getting the decision, Major Hunter second, Mansfield third and Herman Wenger fourth. The time, 2:16. Herman Wenger won the two final heats with apparent ease in 2:19 and 2:18.

The second heat was a decided change. Mansfield went to the front and was never in trouble, winning the heat easily with Herman Wenger second. Time 2:16. The third heat was a battle from wire to wire between Mansfield and Herman Wenger, the latter getting the decision by an eyelash. Time 2:16. Herman Wenger won the two final heats with apparent ease in 2:19 and 2:18.

The second race was for 2:14 pacers. Little Alfred won the word, with Susie M. Eddie Sunderlin's good mare, split favorite. Billie Sims drew the pole, with Col. Baxter in second position and Rouse's Point Bay third. When they got the word Col. Baxter shot to the front and was leading by two or more lengths down the back stretch. The finish was a good drive. Col. Baxter finished strong with Rouse's Point second and Little Alfred third. Time 2:18.

In the second heat Nat took little Alfred away very fast. He had the pole at the top turn and was never in any trouble. Rouse's Point second and Billy Sims third. Time 2:18.

Little Alfred won the third heat handily. Susie M. looked like she would give him an argument thru the home stretch, but went to a bad break at the lower turn and finished last. The whole field finished the same as in the previous heat. Time 2:19.

In the fourth heat Rouse's Point Bay caught Little Alfred tiring and beat him thru the stretch, winning the heat in 2:20. He also won the two following heats and races in 2:20 and 2:21, respectively.

The third race was for 2:15 pacers with six starters and required four heats. Marda, from John Flemming's barn, proved the winner after Berlin Belle had won the first heat.

There was fifteen heats in the three races and every heat brought out front wire to wire except the first one.

The club's meeting will end today with three good races on the program, and the entries in them all are large.

The 2:12 pace will be a good race. A number of new horses as well as some that started first day will be in. The 2:18 pace, which will be in all probability the most exciting of the meetings will feature Margot Leonard, a great favorite with the Toronto public, from her very consistent performance in the past. Aid Sam McBride's god mare Lissa Vale; Lucy Van from William Eaton; Del; Wolgast from Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Wilkes from Al Collins's barn. Bernalgo in John Mead's strong. These should prove the attraction of the meeting.

Visited the O.J.C. President

Edmund Haines, the well-known horse buyer, returned yesterday from a visit to Waterloo, where he found Mr. Seagram in fair health and rare spirits. The president seemed fairly well satisfied with the success of his horses at Woodbine, the only one won one first but many seconds and thirds. Friends of the Waterloo stable would like to see Mr. Haines make another purchasing trip abroad, and the nothing definite has been decided upon, they are thinking the matter over.

CHICAGO EXPECTS TO LIET TROPHY

New Challenger, Valiant— Marvel in Light Wind— Trimming Home Wins.

CHICAGO, June 4.—It looks as if the Valiant, the new boat built for the Price syndicate, will be the craft to go to Canada next August after the international trophy which the Canadians won here two years ago with the Patricia. They took three races out of four against the American defender, Michigan, thru superior sailing ability.

The Canadian believe they do not have to have as good a boat as the Americans. Here we think that this year they have not. And, furthermore, their crew will not be so superior to the men who will handle the Chicago boat.

Two years ago the locals had practically no practice with the defender, but it was kept in the east until the latter part of June, and then when it came out here only finally a wet crew was put aboard it. Skippers were changed in the middle of the series and the boat could not show the best it will have every bit as good practice as the Canadians are getting. There is a good fleet of old boats at Toronto, and also, here and there, a few new ones.

The new boat is a marvel in light air and in a fifteen-mile breeze. It is now in the worst possible shape, and yet it has recently shown a crew superior to any running, reaching and heaving to the Michigan, Mavourneen and South Shore. The only kind of boat superior to it hasn't been tried out in a good breeze and a seaway, but the experts say it will be even better than the kind of going than it is in light.

It is hardly likely that it will meet with any such success as the Patricia. This year it is different. The Valiant has some not opposition in its class and the crew aboard it will have every bit as good practice as the Canadians are getting. There is a good fleet of old boats at Toronto, and also, here and there, a few new ones.

There ought to be a record-breaking crowd at Scarborough Beach on Saturday afternoon when the Nationals and the Toronto meet for the first time of the season. Not in recent years has a lacrosse game in the city attracted so much interest among the followers of Canada's national sport, for it is figured everywhere that the fight for the championship ship is likely to be between these teams. Toronto have downed Quebec twice, and Nationals have beaten Tecumseths twice, and now the winners clash. Those who saw the game on the Island last Saturday were not so much impressed with the French team after the second quarter. Although individually the men were all stars, and were led by Neway Lalonde, the man who first made the Nationals a great team, they seemed to fade away toward the close of the game, and on last Saturday's form would be beaten by every team that is getting better every time out. However, it might be said of Lalonde, as it was said of Cleopatra, that his "infinite variety" is one of his most wonderful gifts. He will play not only a different game, but a different kind of game against the Toronto, an open, fast passing, swift running game, with each home out in the first quarter to win up a score. Toronto defence is not as strong as in previous years, but with Gibbons in the net, and Almas at point, it will be a close margin, and then there is the wonderful field to back up and save a critical situation, and one of the fastest horses that ever stepped on a field. The tickets for the game are now on sale at the Bell Telephone Exchange, 146 Yonge street.

More "Drome Thrills." The all-features race meet which was arranged to be run off at the Motordrome, Greenwood avenue, on the King's Birthday, will be staged on the steep saucer on Saturday night. The program includes five auto and five motorcycle events, with the ten star drivers starting in each. The Highlanders Band also will render a concert between thrills.

RACING YACHTS GETTING READY

Fourth Shamrock Launched at Portsmouth and Looks the Part.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 4.—Altho Shamrock IV, made no attempt at racing today, she showed some fine turns of speed in a flital breeze.

The two Shamrocks are to be measured under American rules before they race in order to determine the time allowance the challenger will have to give to the older boat.

Shamrock IV, the hugeness of whose forestal automobils the spectators proved very responsive to Helmsman Burton. She stood up well in the gusts and made progress in the light breeze, which encouraged those who have claimed that the challenger would prove especially fast in light to moderate winds.

The mainmast of the challenger is enormous with a tremendous hoist and a boom projecting some 15 feet over the taffrail. The great forestal had the boom set about the foot of the mast.

The jockey was correspondingly big with the yard projecting about 15 feet above the tace. When moving at her fastest the challenger drew hardly any quarter wave while there was just a feather of foam at her bows.

WALK-OVER FOR RESOLUTE. GLEN COVE, L.I., June 4.—The loss of a man overboard and difficulty in recovering him, caused Vanlie to retire from today's race with Resolute less than thirty minutes after the boats had crossed the starting line. With her first out of it, Resolute rounded the first windward mark, but never got back to seaward, a distance of nine miles in all, winning the race and placing two victories out of three to her credit.

Vanlie got away beautifully in a 30-mph breeze and soon left Resolute nearly a mile astern. Then her forestal sail sheet snapped.

The situation was hopeless, the craft was withdrawn.

R.C.V.C. DEFENDER. The new R.C.V.C. boat that is to defend the Yacht Racing Union Trophy is nearly completed at Oakville. Her dimensions are: Waterline length, 35 ft.; draft over all, 4 1/2 ft.; displacement, 5,000 lbs.; sail area, 1,686 sq. ft. Capt. Jas. Andrew of Oakville, in of course, her builder. The trophy was won by Patricia at Chicago in 1912, and Chicago is competing for it this year. The R.C.V.C. defender is being provided by a syndicate on the subscription plan. She is almost ready for launching. She looks a lot like Patricia, also designed by George Owen.

CITY'S INDIFFERENCE

Ratepayers Up in Arms Over Odiferous Plague—Transportation Problems.

Altho many subjects are slated for discussion at tonight's session of the Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association that of "smells" will doubtless prove the most important, as there have been many references in various parts of the ward since the last meeting, when Mayor Hocken stated that the municipal officer of health would immediately close the abattoirs if it was ascertained that any of the escaping into the service sewers. During the last month there have been many reports of the effect of driving citizens out of their homes in some parts of ward seven, and the reason given for their existence is that the local authorities have not yet found out if the abattoirs are really to blame. It is becoming a feeling among the ward residents and their desires trifled with.

CONTROLLERS SEE VIADUCT PLANS

Don Section of Bloor Street Viaduct is Handsome Structure.

Plans of the Don section of the Bloor street viaduct were examined in private by the board of control yesterday afternoon. Altogether, there were 127 drawings of this section, besides 160 photographs and numerous references. In the Don section there are five arches with 252 feet between each, and the height above the river is 120 feet. A drawing of the Don section in perspective was presented, showing the very handsome architectural arrangement of the work.

On the roadway, which is 36 feet across, over all, is a 10 foot 9 inch walk, two 20-foot roads and two railways. These railways are separated by a curb from the vehicular traffic routes, and thus trams will not be delayed by wagons or motor cars on the right of way.

The plans show much preparatory work. Ten thousands levels were taken and borings to a depth of 120 feet, in some instances, were made over the whole line.

Dr. Wm. Spankie, Wolfe Island, is also talked of as candidate, and it is stated if he is not selected he will run the independent ticket.
