Further Gain In Champagne

French and Americans Win Near Blanc Mont and River Arnes—Have Crossed Aisne Canal in Rheims Region

Paris, Oct. 5—Under the pressure of French and American attacks in Champagne the Germans have retired on their left flank and given up territory east of the Meuse, according to the war office announcement today.

West of the Sulpis the French, keeping in touch with the German rear guards, have reached the heights southeast of Moronvillers.

The French have maintained their gains in heavy fighting east of the Arnes Forest.

Northwest of Rheims in the last five days the French have taken more than 2,500 prisoners and thirty-one guns.

Paris, Oct. 5—The French and American troops in Champagne have gained further ground north of Blanc Mont in the direction of the River Arnes, according to the official statement from the war office today.

Along the Aisne Canal in the region of Rheims the French are pressing the Germans vigorously and have crossed the canal at several points. The French have reached the outskirts of Bernécourt, east of the canal.

Violent fighting continues north of St. Quentin. In desperate fighting the French have driven the enemy from the heights southeast of Caumont Vert.

Paris, Oct. 5—In the fighting in Champagne the French have advanced about two and a half miles north of Aulnois and about five miles northeast of Somme-Py, taking prisoners and villages, according to the French official communication issued last night.

The railroad town of Challerange has been evacuated, but has not been occupied by the Allies. Both armies are firing upon it.

FAIL AGAINST AMERICANS

With the American Army in Lorraine, Oct. 5, 11:30 a. m.—(By the Associated Press)—After a forty minute barrage, the Germans last night attempted to retake the American lines east of Guezdun in Lorraine with a strong party. The attack was a total failure.

Gerardmer is southeast of Epinal and eight miles from the German border opposite Colmar, Alsace.

MOROCQUET CAPTURED

London, Oct. 5—A statement dealing with the operations around St. Quentin issued by the French war office and just received here says: "We have taken Morocquet, south of Sequehart, and many fortified woods. We have captured Morocquet, where we took 400 prisoners, and four cannons."

AMERICAN GAINS

Washington, Oct. 4—General Pershing's communique for this date received at the war department tonight reports the retaking of the attack west of the Meuse, and the advancing of the American line two to five kilometers. Several villages were also reported taken from the enemy.

BRITISH PROGRESS

London, Oct. 5—North of St. Quentin British troops made substantial progress yesterday in minor operations southeast of Caumont and north of Leclatlet. Field Marshal Haig's report today says that 800 prisoners were captured. The British line northwest of Leclatlet was advanced slightly on Friday night.

The Airman

London, Oct. 5—The British airman has played a big part in the successes of the western front. It is learned that 200 tons of bombs were dropped in the last week upon German railways and other military objectives in the Champagne and the Somme. In one day alone fifteen air raids were carried out, of which seven were upon the railroad.

In the air fighting over Northern France and Belgium 124 enemy machines were brought down and forty-six driven down out of control. Ninety British machines are missing.

POWER-FORRESTER

Last evening in the Mission Church St. John Baptist, Paradise Row, Rev. H. E. Bennett united in marriage Mrs. Cora May Forrester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Marr, of Rostesley, and William Henry Power of Halifax. The bride, who was given away by Frederick George Smith of this city, looked lovely in a tailored suit of silver grey with matching hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Power left on the late train for Halifax, where they will make their home.

ENEMY KINGS IN BOMBARDED TOWN

Flemish People Freed From Hun Clutch Tell of Outrages—Germans Short of Food For Horses And Also Lack Auto Tires

With the British Army in France, Oct. 4—(By the Associated Press)—From civilians freed from the Germans in the kings of Wurttemberg and Saxony both narrowly escaped having something happen to them at Dadielle, northeast of Menin, a few days ago. Both monarchs were in the town when the British guns suddenly opened upon it with a whirlwind bombardment. They fled in a hurry, and, so far as is known, managed to get away safely.

Some enlightening information was gained from these liberated Flemings. Some of them from Leclapheim said that ever since the Germans first came to their town in 1914, they had forced all civilians to sleep on the floor, while the German soldiers occupied their beds. Twenty-eight of the villagers were killed, or in the suburbs of the town, where they remained until the British entered. The Germans told the villagers that they would like to surrender to the British troops, but that the Scots had the nasty habit of cutting the throats of the Germans when they caught them, and therefore they were afraid to take a chance. The Germans, the villagers said, also told them terrible things the British would do to the villagers when they entered the town.

According to the villagers, many German homes have died in Flanders because there was no food of any kind for the horses and the German automobiles all are running on their rims because the Germans have no tires.

Several Ships In With Soldiers To Homeland

Between 4,000 And 5,000 Reach Atlantic Port

WOMEN AND CHILDREN, TOO

Ottawa, Oct. 5—Several ships have arrived at a Canadian port conveying between 4,000 and 5,000 returned soldiers. Nearly 1,000 are hospital walking cases, for whom berths have been specially erected in the ships under the supervision of the medical authorities. About 3,000 are "ordinary discharge cases," and there are 300 or 400 soldiers' wives and children and 100 officers who are returning.

The sending of so large a number at one time is due to a combination of circumstances. One is that, under the conditions caused by the pooling of shipping, increased use of United States good steamships. Vessels of inferior type could have been procured earlier, but the Canadian authorities in England all they obtained more commodious steamships instead of in the specially equipped hospital vessels, special berths being erected so as to improve the accommodation so far as possible. It also increased the congestion in the hospitals in England and this crowding further has been aggravated by the heavy casualties caused by the recent severe fighting.

PROCLAIMING INDEPENDENCE OF BOHEMIA

Virtually Assured, Say Members of National Committee

NEW CZECH MONEY ISSUED

Amsterdam, Oct. 4—The proclamation of the independence of Bohemia will be issued soon, according to the Budapest newspaper Aszet.

The members of the Czech-Slovak National Committee fear neither prison nor death, says the newspaper. "They have all made their wills and settled their material affairs, and the independence of Bohemia is virtually assured. All preparations have been made for the proclamation of the independence of Bohemia to dispose of their own fate and a demand for the same self-determination for the German people in Austria are contained in resolutions adopted on Thursday by the Socialist deputies of the Reichstag, according to despatches received here.

Bulgars to Have Territorial Claims.

Basel, Oct. 4—Formal denial of statements made in the German press that the Bulgarian peace proposals had been made without the consent of all sections of the people, was made in King Ferdinand's speech before the Sobranje, according to the Bulgarian semi-official organ Prosveta, which is quoted in a Sofia dispatch reaching here.

Semi-official advice from Sofia says that the Bulgarian press counts on the Entente nations to betray their elevated principles of international justice and to take into account Bulgaria's territorial claims when peace is negotiated. Another despatch from Sofia says that General Joffe's statement that he had made a protest against the proposal for an armistice between Bulgaria and the Allies had no connection with the actual situation there nor with the intentions of that country.

Terrific Explosions of T. N. T.—Shock of It Felt in New York, 29 Miles Away—All Towns in Vicinity Ordered Evacuated

Perth Amboy, N. J., Oct. 5—Explosions followed by fire, which last night destroyed several buildings of the great shell-loading plant of Gillespie & Company, at Morgan, near here, with the probable loss of many lives of workmen, variously estimated at from twenty-five to 100, continued at frequent intervals during the early morning hours, culminating at four a. m. with a terrific blast, which blew one of the few remaining warehouse magazines to dust. Buildings are being blasted to stop the spread of flames, which were said to be raging in some of the buildings at 9:30 a. m. At that hour only 101 of the company's 4,000 night shift employees had been accounted for. Scores of injured persons have been sent to hospitals at Elizabeth and Rahway. Another terrific explosion of a T. N. T. magazine occurred at 10:09 a. m. Buildings rocked in Perth Amboy. The task of trying to learn how many were killed and who were saved had to be left in abeyance. Thousands of people had hurried away from Morgan and surrounding towns during the night, leaving many communities today virtually without resident populations, and it was considered probable that with these went many of the Gillespie employes, as yet unaccounted for. Perth Amboy and South Amboy saloons are closed, and the towns are under military control. While unofficial estimates placed the number of known fatalities at 197 at 10:40 a. m., an official of the company expressed the opinion that the death list would prove to be much smaller. Felt in New York New York, Oct. 5—The explosion which occurred in the Gillespie plant at Morgan, N. J., at 10:09 a. m., was like many of the previous explosions, distinctly felt in New York, twenty-nine miles distant, and was even reported to have been felt as far away as Lisle, L. I., fifty miles from the scene. The city was again shaken at 10:30 o'clock with a series of explosions at the plant. As a measure of precaution, the authorities have ordered the evacuation of all towns within a ten mile radius of Morgan.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY, MONDAY

Portraying, with a vividness impossible of attainment through any volume of written words, the inhumanities of the Prussian war-programme and the loss of a wave of barbaric terrorism, through which it was hoped to bring the civilized world to its knees, "My Four Years in Germany," the screen version of Ambassador James W. Gerard's recent book, will be shown at the public St. John for the first time at Imperial Theatre starting Monday.

Were not yet convinced of the justification (and the just privilege) of America's entry into the war, the graphic picturization of Ambassador Gerard's experiences in the cesspool of automatic infamy during the four years spent in Germany will be in the nature of a revelation. The picture (in ten reels) has been a great historical attraction everywhere at prices ranging to $2, but the Imperial prices will be only 15c. and 25c.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Today's cables tell of further gains by the Allies on the western front. The Germans are striving desperately to check the advance, but are steadily forced to retire, and there are evidences that the retreat on some portions of the front may become a rout. The enemy pursues his customary tactics, destroying whatever he can as he retreats, and the French government has now given notice that this devastation will be visited with the most severe punishment. There can be no doubt that the Allies of France will support her in exacting the utmost reparation. It will be vengeance, but it will also be simple justice that must be meted out to the greatest criminals in history. From civilians released from the German yoke in Flanders come fresh proofs of German savagery deliberately committed during four years of occupation.
There is a report from Budapest that the Bohemians are about to declare their independence. The troubles of Austria are growing. That an invasion of Turkey by way of Bulgaria is imminent appears in the statement of the French commander on the Macedonian front. King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is reported to have abdicated in favor of his son, the Crown Prince Boris. There is more and more peace talk in Germany as well as in Austria, but the Allies continue to drive sternly forward to achieve the complete victory which alone can insure a lasting peace.

THE FRIEL REPORT.

The report of Commissioner Friel on the charges made by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter against Hon. William Currie finds in brief:
1.—That the charges made by Hon. Mr. Baxter, to the effect that Hon. Mr. Currie conspired with Scaler Murchie to defraud the province, "were unfounded and utterly disproved, and that Hon. Mr. Currie is innocent of the things Murchie swore against him."
2.—That the province was defrauded out of a certain amount of money in stampage by Mr. Currie's company, but that it was done under a system endorsed by the government in which the scaling was done and that "the scaler's return and other evidence show that Mr. Currie's political opponent, the member whom he defeated, actually a member of the government (Hon. Mr. Culligan) got the advantage of a reduction in his scale by the action of the honest scaler, and paid the reduced and fraudulent stampage bill with his check, in fact did the very same thing that Mr. Currie has been accused of doing."
Mr. Currie, therefore, was only guilty of following the system endorsed by the old government. He did what Culligan did and what other operators did. He followed the rule—the rotten rule—that had prevailed for so many years under the old government. Mr. Friel holds that Mr. Currie, as a representative of the people, should not have done what his predecessors had done, but should have insisted on the company paying stampage on the full cut. It is for Mr. Currie, the members of the legislature and the government to consider this view, and the evidence submitted, and decide upon the course which should now be pursued.
But if Mr. Currie signed a check for less than the actual amount of stampage due, what shall be said of the action of Mr. Baxter in making charges against a member of the legislature which are proved to be utterly false? Mr. Friel says:
"It is not so that Mr. Currie caused stampage to be paid by the said Continental Lumber Company upon the said reduced amount, well knowing that it was not the full and proper amount of stampage and thereby defrauded the province of a portion of its revenue."
The commissioner says further:
"There was no scale, but whether there was or not, Mr. Currie was not responsible for any reduction."
The "system" and the scaler were responsible for that. The old government system and the old government scaler. The province is rid of them both. A new system has been adopted and hereafter there will be an honest effort to collect one hundred per cent stampage.
Meanwhile, when the house meets again Mr. Baxter will have to meet the report which says that he submitted utterly false charges against the Hon. William Currie.

LEST WE FORGET.

The Ottawa Journal-Press presents some timely reasons why there should be no lenience when the time comes to impose terms upon Germany. It says:
"Let us not forget, when we are told of the misery of the German people now and their desire to have an end of the war, the attitude of these same people when the picture of European domination was still bright before them. There is much to be remembered, but one of many things, the treatment of British prisoners of war by representatives of the German people, is sufficient when recalled to show how misplaced is sympathy for the sufferings of the German people in defeat. The cruelty of the savage may be forgiven on account of his ignorance. The reasoned cruelty of the educated people of Germany to British prisoners at the time Germany was winning cannot be forgiven. A few examples of this cruelty are given in an official British record containing the separate and individual testimony of 102 British prisoners taken in Belgium in 1914. Surely if any great sections of the German people were not in sympathy with the German government's war aims and war methods the German women would be among them. But this testimony shows that German women even surpassed the German soldiers in their educated cruelty toward those helpless British soldiers. In many places in the record are stories of German women wearing the badge of the Red Cross deliberately holding out food to the starving British only to throw it to the ground when they reached for the food. Prisoners being taken in dirty horse-cars from Belgium to Germany were dying of thirst and hunger."
The Journal-Press gives some extracts from the record. Lieut. Col. Neish of the Gordon Highlanders, said:
"At Cologne I saw a female with a Red Cross badge on her, after serving our escort with coffee, deliberately pour the remaining contents of the can on the ground when requested to allow us to have some."
Another officer, Major E. H. Jones, R. F. A., said:
"At every considerable station there were Red Cross women who gave out guards coffee, food, cigars, etc., but who absolutely refused us even water. I do not think that so much as a cup of water was given to us by the German Red Cross during the whole journey."
We met with the same treatment all along the line at the hands of the Red Cross and the crowd."
Lieut. Col. Collingwood, R. A. M. C., told a similar story:
"We frequently when our men asked for coffee or soup of the Red Cross workers they were spat at or had their mugs knocked out of their hands."
Captain Browne, R. A. M. C., testified that at the various stations the Red Cross women came to the carriage windows and showed the starting prisoners coffee and sandwiches and took them away without giving them anything, at some places spitting at them. Another English officer saw "some Red Cross nurses actually bring water in cans up to one man, show it to them, and then pour it on the platform."
"That," says the Journal-Press, "was the conduct of the Red Cross women. When the prisoners were taken from the train and marched through German towns on the way to the prison camps women of the populace surpassed the German men in insulting and abusing them, spitting in their faces frequently. These are the people we are urged to spare. Is our memory as short as that?"

The visit of Mr. Frank Stockdale to St. John should greatly stimulate the get-together sentiment among the merchants and lead not only to greater business efficiency but none of public spirit and a deeper interest in all that makes for community welfare.
New Brunswick has the greatest cause to be thankful that it is rid of the "system" of collecting stampage that prevailed under the old government. The Friel report shows how rotten that system was, and its benefits were even shared by a member of the old government.
With characteristic Hun thoroughness the Germans did what they could to wreck the Lens coal mines before they retreated. Another source to spittle at Berlin.
Vorwärts wants the Allies to state the price individual nations must pay for peace. They have already given their reply. Germany must yield or be crushed.
It is not at all likely that Great Britain has taken any official notice of the Austrian peace note. The Allies will take united action when the proper time comes.
Last night's closing of the War Garden Exhibition breathed a spirit that promises well for next year, when the exhibits should fill a rink.
British, French and Americans all advanced on the western front yesterday. The enemy cannot hold them and is growing short of reserves.
"There are no signs of fresh German reserves anywhere," says one of last night's cables.
Because of the outbreak of Spanish influenza Ottawa has closed schools and theatres and prohibited public meetings.
Well, what about that $1,000 granted for an athletic field at Rockwood Park?
The Spanish influenza draws closer to St. John.

Quick action along co-operative lines and the forming of organizations which would have the welfare of the city at heart in order that they might really understand each other.
The particular instance in which co-operation was essential, Mr. Stockdale cited as advertising, general merchandise, display of goods to attract visitors to the city, and to the insistence on good roads which would be highly emphasized. He did not think it was possible to prevent some trade going from the city to larger cities, but he did think that it was possible to attract to the city a certain amount of trade from the counter-balance what went from it.
That co-operation did not mean each party to prevent some trade going from the city to larger cities, but he did think that it was possible to attract to the city a certain amount of trade from the counter-balance what went from it.

JAPANESE OFFICERS LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

The Japanese officials of the international Y. M. C. A. who have been visiting in St. John on their way across the continent to France where they will organize Y. M. C. A. work for the Japanese soldiers fighting on the western front, left last evening for New York where they will spend several weeks with John R. Mott, international secretary of New York.
Colonel Haryshum, who was in charge of the party, said last evening that he had enjoyed his visit to St. John more than any other place he had visited in the dominion. He seemed very much impressed with what he had seen when all around her bowed their heads in their reception here by the Lieutenant-governor and premier of the province and the mayor and city officials, had been made direct to the emperor of Japan and would doubtless tend to make a very favorable impression and would tend to facilitate trade relations between the two countries.
The greater part of yesterday was spent by the party in the public library looking over numerous books in connection with Red Cross work, women and the war, etc., and some of these books were purchased here as well as other souvenirs and sent direct to the empress the Japanese being great students of foreign countries with a special interest in Canada.

Captain Stokes and his wife were entertained yesterday at luncheon in the Royal Hotel. George E. Barbour, Mayor, Hayes and Captain Stokes were at the train last evening to bid the party farewell who were very profuse in their thanks for the hospitality they said they had received and said they looked forward to visiting New Brunswick again.
QUEEN BY RANK AND QUEEN BY NATURE
(N. Y. Times Editorial)
What are the feelings of Queen Marie as she hears the news from Bulgaria—does, perhaps, the signs of German withdrawal from her own country of Roumania? The strong-hearted, indomitable woman who refused to bow her head when all around her bowed theirs, how gloriously she has been vindicated! Not that the least reproach can rest for a moment on any Roumanian for surrendering to numbers in front of him and traitors behind him. The treaty of Bucharest was no treaty, it was a capitulation, the surrender of a gallant garrison that was outnumbered and forced to give in. Never did Roumania, or Germany either, view it in any other light; never did Roumania give Germany the least reason to suppose that she regarded that power in any other light than as a triumphant enemy, and Germany was obliged to post an army in Roumania to keep her down. Nevertheless, in Roumania's night, when other tongues were sullenly silent, Queen Marie never even pretended to surrender, always defied the German to his teeth, was active every waking moment preparing the day for the turn of events, when Roumania should be able to take the field again.
Early in the campaign of 1916 some German aviators were sent to drop bombs on the summer home of Queen Marie. The king was at the front; the only persons in the villa were the queen, her children and some servants. It was a characteristic German act. The bombs miraculously missed the queen and her children. It was a thing to illustrate German frightfulness vividly, but it never frightened that dauntless soul for a moment. It did not seem to impress her particularly in any way, for in all these stirring splendidly-written appeals that she has put forth, the dominant note is her yearning over her people, her dejected, oppressed people under the German yoke. All her tears and all her hopes are for them. If in this war Roumania were in the wrong instead of being in the right, still no one with any human nature in him could help a secret wish that hopes might all come true for gallant Queen Marie.
Who knows but that one of these days the girls will hark back to the old-fashioned custom of wedding for love.—Butler Democrat.

London-Bull.

Woodstock, Oct. 4.—A wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday afternoon, when Samuel Howard united in marriage Miss Nettie May Bull, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bull and Earle Burton London, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert London, of Centreville, Mr. and Mrs. London were unattended. After the ceremony they motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held, at which about fifty guests were present, after which a wedding supper was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a check for a substantial amount.

BIG PACK OF WHALEMEAT.

"What about whalemeat?" It is a question that Food Board officials are often asked. It does not need to worry the public at large for whalemeat has not yet flooded the Canadian market, nor is it likely to do any such thing, but a few facts about the supply may prove interesting.

Whales taken on the Pacific coast yield from three to twelve tons each of prime meat which is used for canning or freezing. Over 1,000 tons of frozen whalemeat from the Pacific coast have been shipped to Boston this summer and the Victoria Whaling Company, Ltd., of Victoria, B. C., expects to pack between 20,000 and 30,000 cases of whalemeat this season at their cannery.

Analysis of whalemeat shows it to resemble corned beef or mutton. It contains 84 per cent of protein as compared with from 18 to 14 per cent in mutton or pork.

Sales of whalemeat are not yet large in Canada or the United States, but a good deal has been shipped to Samoa and Fiji.

The supply of fats and oil has become so depleted in Germany that extensive cultivation of sunflowers has been urged as a potential source of edible oil. Last year the German government offered premiums for the cultivation of sunflowers and railroad right-of-ways in Germany are extensively used for this purpose.

As much as eighteen gallons of oil can be secured from the seeds of an acre of sunflowers, while the refuse makes excellent cattle feed.

Save your summer seeds now for the chicks, and bear in mind that plenty of sunflowers should be planted next year. They are useful as well as decorative.

Orono, Me., Oct. 1.—Eat less and waste less. Save flowers and use them in the economy in everything. To Be Well Dressed is One Way of Economizing

This may seem a strange assertion, yet the facts remain:

That good styles please best and will be worn much longer.

That good materials hold their appearance, will not fade as readily and will give greater service.

That a good fitting garment always gives a sense of satisfaction otherwise impossible.

Add to these qualifications good tailoring and you have the very best value for your money combination.

In other words, you are purchasing economically.

Mrs. J. A. McAvity Again President

Sum of $31,516.92 Raised by St. John Red Cross Society During Year—Annual Meeting

The St. John Red Cross Society held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. J. A. McAvity, in the chair.

The meeting opened with the recitation of the Lord's Prayer, following which the president's address was given. Mrs. J. A. McAvity reported the total expenditures to have amounted to $31,516.92 and the balance on hand to be $17,984.42.

Mrs. J. A. McAvity was present and addressed the meeting in a very neat speech in the course of which she expressed her intention of presenting Mrs. Hayes with a life membership in the society.

The St. John Ambulance report was read by Mrs. Lillian Hason, and Mrs. Richard O'Brien gave the financial statement of the prisoners of war department, of which Mrs. Beatty reported for the correspondence committee, reading some interesting letters.

In her report of the needlework committee, Mrs. F. S. White said that more than 65,000 garments had been made during the year. Mrs. G. H. Vroom reported for the yarn committee, said that more than 14,700 pairs of socks had been made. The Canadian War Committee report was read by Mrs. G. H. Vroom, and showing that 4,000 pairs of socks had been received for this association. The surgical report was read by Mrs. F. J. Harding, and the shipping and packing by Miss Stetson. Miss Stetson said that 687 cases had been shipped, which was 116 more than had been shipped in the previous year.

Mrs. H. Lawrence reported for the publicity committee, Mrs. J. F. Robertson for the newspaper committee, and Miss E. C. Skinner for the campaign committee. The collection of Red Cross boxes by the children of the Witanstetle school was reported by Miss Angela Magee.

Miss E. V. N. Clements, provincial secretary, attended the meeting and extended Lady Tully's greeting to the branch, of which she is the honorary president. Lady Tully regretted that ill-health prevented her from being present herself.

Mrs. Walker read a letter from Mrs. Murray MacLaren, who represents the St. John branch in London. In her letter, Mrs. MacLaren gave an account of the new quarters of the society, in the York Hotel in London, and said that the home efforts of Canadian women had been greatly appreciated overseas. They had to their credit the fact that Canada gives more per capita for war work than any other country.

The following is the list of officers elected:

President—Mrs. J. A. McAvity.
1st vice-president—Mrs. George F. Smith.
2nd vice-president—Mrs. J. F. Robertson.
3rd vice-president—Mrs. H. Lawrence.
4th vice-president—Mrs. F. Stetson.
Secretary—Miss Alice C. Walker.
Treasurer—A. C. Skilton.
Committee—Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Mrs. A. W. Adams, Mrs. MacLaren, Mrs. Richard O'Brien, Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mrs. W. J. Ambrose, Mrs. J. Roy Campbell, and Mrs. A. C. Skilton.

Sickly babies—those who are cross and fretful, whose little stomachs and bowels are out of order, who suffer from constipation, indigestion, colic or any other of the minor ills of little ones—can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets. Bruno, Que., writes: "My baby was very cross and cried night and day and nothing helped him till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. They soon set him right and now he is a fat, healthy boy." Brazil's Attitude Unchanged.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Oct. 3.—Alvaro Carvalho, majority leader in the chamber of deputies and spokesman of the government of Rodrigues Alves, the recently elected president of Brazil, yesterday authorized the press to announce that Alves' government will not modify in any form the attitude of Brazil toward the European war.

Few Drops When Corns Hurt, Pain Stops! Corns Lift Off

Don't let corns ache twice! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers—Here's magic!

No hump! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift off, without any pain. This drug is called freezeone and is a compound of ether dissolved by a Cincinnati chemist. Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezeone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus. It is the most marvelous drug known.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers. Freezeone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without any irritation. Women! Keep freezeone on your dresser and apply a few drops whenever a corn begins aching. Pain stops, corns go!

less, waste less, buy less, and to make better use of what is bought.

"The food administration has believed from the first it is better to have voluntary saving than to attempt any out-and-out rationing plan. If the consumer is told he can have so much of a certain article of food, he will buy it, or not, but when the moral responsibility of saving food rests with each person, he will save all he can and waste less," said Federal Food Administrator Leon S. Merrill, who recently returned from a conference in Washington.

"The problem before the food administration now is that of building up food reserves that will permit America to feed 16,000,000 tons of foodstuffs across the Atlantic next year, instead of 10,000,000 tons sent this year. Despite the bountiful harvest, officials of the food administration are unanimous in declaring that food conservation must be intensified to meet the growing demands of our army and the civilian population of this and the Allied countries. It serves must be used up to assist the future.

"The voluntary sugar ration of two pounds a month for each person must be continued.

Gas Masks—You Can Help.

Every man, woman and child in Maine has the chance for direct war service that will save the lives of millions of his and the Allied countries. It is the pits of spruce, peaches, prunes, olives, dates, cherries and plums and shells of Brazil nuts, hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts make excellent material for gas masks that will outlast the most durable of German gas.

Here is work for all, every home, church and school. Use the boys and girls to scour the woods for nuts and pine cones. Place collection boxes in schools, churches, banks and stores and above all in your own home so your boys and girls can see the pile grow. It takes 200 peach stones or seven pounds of nut shells to furnish carbon for a gas mask and save the life of an American soldier. How many masks can your neighborhood furnish?

Dry the pits and shells before turning them into the nearest Red Cross Chapter. This organization is in charge of collecting all material.

The Allied Women.

WAS PRISONER IN GERMANY

Chatham, N. B., Oct. 4.—Albert V. Haley, son of John Haley, of this place, arrived home yesterday from England. He enlisted with the 2nd at Port Arthur and went overseas in 1915. During the fight at Hill 70, on September 2, last year, he was wounded and lay in No Man's Land for two days before he was taken by the Germans, being unconscious most of the time. Four of his comrades made valiant efforts to bring him in, but two of these were killed and one wounded. After his capture he was covered by a Cincinnati chemist. He lay below the knee, and therefore his eight months in Germany were spent in hospitals. His exchange came through Holland, and he has been in England since. His brother, John, is also a returned veteran now undergoing treatment in Fredericton. His sister, Miss Mary Haley, is a nurse in Camp Taylor, Louisville, Kentucky.

Toronto, Oct. 4—After a private conference today the representatives of the Bell Telephone Company and the switch board operators union reported to the board of conciliation, of which Judge Snyder of Hamilton is chairman, that the wage schedule had been agreed upon. A minimum of $11 a week is struck when the operator commences work after her period of training, and this is increased every six months until a maximum of $18 in the case of long distance night operators is reached. The maximum of day operators is $15 and $16. During the one month training period the wages is $10 a week.

ANOTHER PLAY IN PEACE GAME

Austria Report of Note From Great Britain

LONDON TREATS STORY LIGHTLY It Was That Britain Had Asked Austria For Specific Proposals—Von Hintze to Continue in Office

Amsterdam, Oct. 5—The Berlin Tageblatt's Vienna correspondent says the British reply to Baron Burián's recent peace note has been received by the Austrian government. According to the correspondent the note is politely couched and requests the Austro-Hungarian government to specify their peace proposals more precisely.

The correspondent adds that Professor Heinrich Lammasch, jurist and professor in the University of Vienna, has been charged with drafting a memorandum on President Wilson's fourteen points of peace for transmission to President Wilson.

DECLARED UNTRUST

London, Oct. 5—Reports that Great Britain has replied to the Austrian peace proposals and of a request from Austria that Holland enter peace negotiations are given prominence by the newspapers here. For the most part, however, they are dismissed as a part of a new "peace offensive" deserving little attention.

The Telegraph claims to be able to deny positively that Great Britain has delivered any sort of reply to Count Von Burián's note except the speech made by Foreign Secretary Balfour on Sept. 16.

VON HINTZE HOLDS ON

Amsterdam, Oct. 5—Admiral Von Hintze, who has repeatedly tendered his resignation, has now joined the majority parties and will continue in office. It is said by the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, this change, it is said, has occasioned considerable surprise in Berlin. During his visit to main headquarters he reportedly resolutely championed pacification.

The Ways of a Brigadier

How Sniper Got a Canadian Leader—Setting a Fine Example To Men

(By Lance Amy, special correspondent of the Times.)

With the Canadian Forces, France, Sept. 15.—The brigadier is the general who fights. He is the connecting link between the minds that plan and the hands that act on the plan, and he does a little of each himself.

The brigadiers of the Canadian Corps have not pulled through the month's fighting unscathed. Yet, considering their proximity to the fighting lines, they appear in the casualty list as one with a reputation for never asking his men to do what he would not ask himself, and he is not alone in that. He has other reputations, too. For instance, he has invented the raid. He takes his own observations at times from a balloon. He has come through from the first, and he has been wounded on the other side of the envelope. Nobody hints that he hasn't earned them all.

A few days ago I dodged through a strait district to his headquarters. Characteristically he was out reconnoitering machine-gun fire from flanking woods. So he brought into action his little whipper. That nervous, fast miniature machine fort, in which he took the part of the gunner, with another man to run the engine, carried him off.

As usual the first report was the worst. It looked as if the Canadian Corps would be minus one of its best brigadiers for many a month.

I heard that of his work during the recent attack. His brigade was held up temporarily before a sunken road and sniffling machine-gun fire from flanking woods. So he brought into action his little whipper. That nervous, fast miniature machine fort, in which he took the part of the gunner, with another man to run the engine, carried him off.

CIRCULAR TO NOVA SCOTIA HEALTH OFFICERS

Dr. Hattie Urges Taking of Measures of Protection Against Measles of Spanish Influenza

(Halifax Chronicle.) There are no changes in the Spanish influenza situation throughout Halifax and Nova Scotia. In a circular addressed to medical health officers, W. H. Hattie, provincial health officer, says with reference to the epidemic: "Although the menace of epidemic influenza should not be exaggerated, it would be manifestly wrong for any M. H. O. to view its appearance in several localities with other than the gravest concern. From the information thus far available, the type of influenza prevailing in the United States and central Canadian provinces is much more serious with a much larger mortality than that which recently swept over Europe. Therefore, every effort should be made to check its spread upon its first appearance, and quarantine and all other means of control are strongly urged. "As ordinary colds are now very numerous, many mild attacks of influenza will be diagnosed as a mere cold. This is a danger to the community, and should any suggestive symptom be discovered, the safe procedure will be to consider the condition as probable influenza, and adopt suitable measures of protection. "Local boards of health should be convened at once to discuss measures of protection and arrange to have all necessary powers conferred upon the M. H. O. It is also advisable that plans be made for emergency hospital accommodation. The rapidity with which the disease has spread elsewhere makes evident the necessity of laying plans before it makes its appearance, so that preventive measures may be adopted at a time when they may be expected to prove effective. "Such a serious menace demands prompt consideration. It is suggested that nurses and others be utilized to instruct factory employees, also that ministers and school teachers be requested to instruct their congregations and scholars in measures of prevention. Dr. Hattie concludes his circular by requesting daily telegraphic reports of the distribution and number of cases developing, and also any deaths which may have occurred. In his weekly bulletin to medical health officers for the week ending September 28th, Dr. Hattie states that cases of Spanish influenza have been reported in Granville, Caledon Corner, and Centreville (Annapolis County), Liverpool, Yarmouth, Sydney, New Waterford, Arichat, Windsor, Halifax, and Port Maitland (Yarmouth County). Dr. Hattie has also addressed a letter to the medical profession in general, which repeats in brief the matter contained in the circular, adding that although the disease is not included in the list of reportable diseases of the Public Health Act, physicians are asked to immediately report every case to the medical health officer of the district, and to act upon his instructions.

Two Years In Pen. For Disloyal Talk

Revolutionary ideas and ideals cherished by Chas. Trotter, a Russian in Toronto, proved to be most unprofitable possessions. He faced in the police court the charge of having made statements detrimental to Great Britain and her Allies, was convicted for the same and spent the last two years in the Kingston penitentiary. He was also imposed with the proviso that failure to pay the same results in a six-month lengthening of his Kingston stay. His incriminating comments, reported by his landlady, Mrs. Martha Bilson, were as follows: "Britain had no right to put her paw on Russia." "There should be no king." "I do not want the Union Jack. I want the red flag." "It will not be long before Canada has a revolution like Russia." "Ode to Fatherland." "Effective. I have produced papers found in the young man's room written in German and Russian. These included a poem to 'The Fatherland' and his condemnation certificate." "Trotter stated that he had landed in Canada two months before the war and had found work in a machine plant that also made munitions." "Just the place for a German," Mr. Corley commented. He admitted saying that he didn't want the Union Jack in his room. "I didn't want a flag to cover a dirty paper. I wanted the room repapered," he said. He acknowledged reference to a revolution by commenting on the recent local riots to the effect that the disturbance was "just like Russia." His passport made him out to be a German, a native of Galicia, with Manitoba as his destination. "He comes here on a pack of lies," declared Magistrate Kingsford. "The man is not safe at large."

Appalling Conditions Among Belgian Children Fate of Coming Generation Rests on Relief Work.

MANY people have thought that the United States loans to Belgium have financed all the Relief Work necessary. As a matter of fact the loans provide the minimum ration to sustain life in a grown person. The bowl of soup and two pieces of bread are totally inadequate to build bone and muscle for a growing child. The results are ghastly! "These cases, running into hundreds of thousands of sick and defective children . . . cannot be taken care of by the general funds," writes Mr. Hooper on July 8th of this year. "There is an increasing need for funds for these cases. . . . Our last reports show that the soup-lines of Belgium have increased from one-and-a-half to two-and-a-half million persons. . . . I wish particularly to remove any doubt as to the acceptability of contributions to the Commission for Relief in Belgium for the special purposes above indicated." Unless the sick and starving children of Belgium are given a chance for life, Tuberculosis, Rickets and kindred ills will claim the next generation. That is Belgium's outlook. And yet a few dollars will restore health and strength to one of these tiny sufferers. Will you open your purse and help? If Fate had willed it that you should SEE these babies starving, you would share your all with them. Must you SEE, before you will help? Make cheques payable and send contributions to Belgian Relief Fund (Registered under the War Charities Act) to your Local Committee, or to Headquarters: 59 St. Peter St., Montreal.

Before you sit down to another meal, think of the Belgian children too weak to stand in the soup-line, and give. Give generously.

ogue, L. I. Father McCoy is suffering from a fracture of the left shoulder and internal injuries. The two priests left Father Higgins' rectory, at 261 Front street, to attend a conference of priests at St. John's College. Michael Fagan, 18 years old, of Cutchogue, drove the automobile, and as it was crossing Lafayette avenue a larger car, operated by Karl Franz, crashed into it. The priests' car was overturned and wrecked. Father Higgins fracturing his skull. Franz, the driver of the other car, was first arrested on charge of reckless driving. Following the death of Father Higgins, he was held for examination on a charge of homicide.

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19. 19. 6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20. 0. 6—result misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—and in short, you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

If CHARLES DICKENS were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold: By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

Are You Wearing "Tired" Shoes? FOOTWEAR—like people—needs a rest once in a while. Your shoes will wear longer and look better if they are not worn continuously. It is a real economy to have at least two pairs of shoes in service at the same time, and to change them often. It means that your shoe money will go farther, for in the long run you will buy fewer pairs of shoes. It is a fact that a pair of shoes will wear more than twice as long when worn every other day instead of every day in the week. Nowadays, when prices are high, and it is necessary to conserve leather for the army, such economy is doubly important. It is important for the individual and for the nation. Take care of your shoes. Keep them well polished, let them dry slowly and naturally, and do not wear the same pair every day. It will pay you to do this. A.H.M. ### Frank Stockdale's Advice To Victory Bond Salesmen

Their Task to Sell a New World of Peace and Happiness

Thrilling and Inspiring Talk on Salesmanship and Patriotism—Some of the Convincing Arguments He Advanced

mittee for the city and county of St. John.

In opening his talk, Mr. Stockdale said he would like to see each man a personal question. He did not want a public answer, they could put the question to themselves and get the answer. The question was, "How much money are you yourself going to put into Victory bonds?" Upon the answer to that question depended a great deal the success of the canvass. The salesman must believe in what he is selling, he must be enthusiastic about it, and in this case he must be prepared to back up his enthusiasm by personal sacrifice.

Their Object.

The speaker referred to the elemental things. They were not going out to take orders, they were not going out to get subscriptions from men who already had decided what they were going to invest, they were going out to get more subscriptions, to persuade men that they should give more than they intended. They must remember that they were selling the best line of goods that was ever offered on God's green earth. No bigger order was even given to men to do it, it was the best that was ever offered them.

There were two very good reasons that might be offered to prospects. One was financial in its aspects, the other was altruistic.

A Good Investment.

Victory Bonds were a good investment. On this side of the line 5 1/2 per cent interest was being paid, while United States Liberty bonds yielded 4 1/2 per cent. The Canadian terms are also more liberal. The payments are lengthened out more. The investment is one that will grow better as the years go on.

It might be urged upon the man who is being canvassed that in buying his Victory bonds now he was paying his taxes in advance when the going is good. He is lending money to himself when he is lending it to the government. From the standpoint of taxes the investment was good. Besides, the money was to be spent in Canada. Then, again, the Victory Loan accelerates the movement of gold. It puts money into the current stream of circulation. The property of everybody in the country depends upon getting that money in circulation, and it is proper.

Victory and Liberty.

The speaker apologized for referring so frequently to Liberty loans. He should say "Victory loans." Without victory there can be no liberty. "Applause."

Continuing, Mr. Stockdale said: "Tell the people what the enemy has done. Put out the truth as Germany has put out the lies. The spirit of Canada is represented in this loan, and it must be made a success. The war situation has reached an acute stage. The success that the Allies are meeting may cause some people to think that the war is about over. That is a dangerous view. There is more than ever need at this time to push our effort to the very limit. We must not let up until victory has been won. We are not fighting as never before. We must fight stronger than ever. Don't let anybody feel that the war is over. Let us go after it stronger and stronger as the Canadian soldiers are doing.

While it will be necessary to get a larger number of small subscriptions than before, he warned the salesmen that they must not let down on the larger subscriptions. They must be sought after, and men must be urged to become more active in the war effort. There, so that they may buy more and more Victory bonds. You must get the big subscriber to the front where he is willing to sell his automobile in order to buy war bonds.

You can't put this Victory loan through as an investment, said he. You won't succeed if you press it from that point. What you must do is to appeal to broad principles, to point out that it is in the interest of the man, the world, of the man's country, his family, his home. You must impress it upon him from this angle until it hurts, until he is prepared to make a monetary sacrifice in some way commensurate with the sacrifice that the boys on the fighting line have made. It will be the biggest job, men, that you ever did. I impress upon the people you solicit that you are asking them as well to buy a new world. Picture to them what that new world is to be. "More and more as I meet the returned wounded soldiers of Canada I am realizing keenly what war means. You can sell me a new world where my two little boys more have to go out to kill or be killed."

The speaker, in burning words, pointed out that if men would not listen to appeals to patriotism they should be compelled to listen to public opinion. They should be punished by public opinion.

"Over the Top."

In closing, he told the salesmen to enter upon their task with confidence, with enthusiasm, with the thought in their minds that they are engaged in a great undertaking. Hold your head high. Don't be afraid to push the thing you are selling—but don't talk Victory bonds to others unless your own money talks. Increase the figure that you originally intended to invest. "With this spirit moving them he felt they would go over the top" of their quota.

The chairman expressed to Mr. Stockdale the thanks of the salesmen for his inspiring message. It had made a deep impression on him and he felt that it would exercise a similar effect on others. That it would aid the Victory loan he had no doubt.

CAPTURED MAIL SHOWS DESPAIR OF GERMANS

London, Oct. 4.—Bitter dissatisfaction with the war among civilians in Germany and mutterings of an upheaval are contained in a letter taken from German prisoners by one of the French armies and now given out for publication here.

A correspondent at Chemnitz writes: "What surprises me is that the people allow themselves to be treated as they do and that there are no riots."

From Dresden came a letter with the following contents:

"The second letter the father writes: 'In your last letter you spoke to us of the lamentable fact that you are suffering from hunger to such an extent that you had to eat your emergency ration. Evidently the greater part of the rations intended for soldiers is retained by the officers or disappeared in other ways.'

A Hamburg woman writes: 'I doubt whether we shall win a decisive victory this year. The enemy will soon have enough troops to stop us and the Americans, too, are bringing their men along. Once the Americans have their troops on the front, we have the prospect of a war lasting another couple of years, and we certainly don't want that.'

A Leipzig woman was not afraid to write the following: 'I don't call it fighting for the honor of Germany. We are fighting for the millionaires.'

From Dusseldorf comes this: 'It is rumored here we shall perhaps still come to blows with the Austrians.' A woman in Kalkreuth writes: 'More military men won't bring us peace.'

Lady Tilley and Mrs. E. Atherton Smith entertained Mrs. Sanford at tea during her brief stay in St. John.

General Allenby - A Kitchener Man

Conqueror of Palestine and Destroyer of Two Turkish Armies Modest and Courteous as Well as a Warrior

(By Frank Dinot in N. Y. Times.)
Sir Edmund Allenby, the British general whose victories in Palestine have written him on the roll of great soldiers, is one of those unpretentious, modest men, with quiet voice and quiet manner, who deceive the unthinking. There is a touch of gentleness in him. He is a good listener. Withal he does not permit to be the rugged, imposing rock of impetuosity which is the popular conception of the strong person of unconquerable strength. He is just the direct man of few words and long vision, courteous and kindly, but who does not trouble to shine in small talk.

And those who cannot see below the surface would not recognize the purposefulness, the tenacity and clear brain which mark him clearly for those who have eyes to see. It is easy now for all with the picture of that soldierly figure before them to recognize in the square jaw the will power of the man, to see in those deep-set eyes the reflectiveness and seriousness which are factors in his success, and to discern in that slight, unconscious canting forward of the head and shoulders when he speaks the receptiveness of the student.

The respect, almost the reverence, with which he is regarded by the Eastern peoples, with whom he has been now for a long time associated, is an indication of the character of the man. His military conquests give other side of him. Some of these persons who are responsible for great achievements are, so to speak, highly developed specialists, who are specially adapted for the tasks to which they have set their hands, but who, outside those tasks, give the impression of being mere machines, very effective machines, but nothing more, to the ordinary man and woman. General Allenby, on the other hand, is one of those complex personalities which provide fascination for students and appraisers of that wonderful thing called individuality.

Edmund Henry Allenby was born in 1861, and he is therefore 57 years of age. As a boy he went to Haileybury College, one of the great schools in England, of which Eton and Rugby are the best known. At Haileybury, as at other schools of that class, a very important part of a boy's education consists in teaching him as an integral part of his life, manners, uprightness, and a skill in outdoor sports—in other words, in manliness. Bookish pursuits sometimes suffer under this system unless the boy has an aptitude in that direction, although, of course, the nominal objects of the school are its classes and lectures. More precious to the parent and English father and mother, however, is the atmosphere which is carefully preserved with a view to the turning out of English gentlemen in the best sense of the word.

It was at Haileybury that Edmund Allenby first began to show traits which marked him out for an active life. He was a youth of high spirit and of quick comprehension. While there is no record of any particular distinction in the scholastic way, he manifested an interest in literature which deepened and broadened as time went on.

When he entered on a soldier's life with a commission in the Inniskilling Dragoons he was the picture of a dashing young cavalry officer filled with self in the picturesque career which such a position opened up, but at the same time it was noted that he had in him a vein of seriousness which was not always found in the young fellows in aristocratic circles who in the old times entered the British army. In those days a young officer must have a private income. It was also a recommendation if he had aristocratic connections.

All that, of course, is changed now. (It was only last week that we read in the papers of how a young working miner enlisting as a private at the beginning of the war had become a British general.) Young Allenby, however, had strong stuff in him. He meant to make good. He soon had the opportunity of showing that he was no ornamental soldier. In 1884 when he was 23 years of age he served with his regiment in the Bechuanaland expedition and showed the promise of his future in his shrewdness as well as in his courage. That, however, was only the beginning. In 1888 he fought in Zululand, and after that became adjutant. His next big opportunity was in the South African war, in which he fought in 1899 to 1902. His cavalry tactics here brought him into prominence, and he had to pit his brains against that clever old natural fighter, General Buller. For his work he was twice mentioned in despatches home by his commander-in-chief and was decorated by the government.

The big work of his life began, however, in the present war, for he was one of those commanders who went out with that never-to-be-forgotten and heroic British army at the declaration of war and helped to stave off the German onslaught on Paris. Outgunned, overwhelmed by numbers, deluged with high explosives which they could not return, that little British army of less than two hundred thousand men retreated stubbornly, killing masses of the enemy and yielding an awful tribute of death as it went back, step by step, from Mons. It was Allenby, with his cavalry acting as a screen, who helped the heroic infantry to the oncoming Germans. His own life, after time, he flung his command into positions, often enough deadly to many of his men, but also deadly hindrances to the oncoming Germans. His own life, of course, was in danger a hundred times. Always his mind was as clear, his brain as active as when in those far-off days at Haileybury he went out as a youth in flannels to battle on the cricket field. As was evidenced in the report of General French it was largely due to him that a remnant of the heroic Britishers were saved from destruction. Even more important perhaps was his part in stemming the forward sweep of the German front, and he had many opportunities for distinction. It was on Easter Monday, 1917, that he commanded the right wing of the British forces in the great battle of Arras, one of the most successful actions fought by the British troops up to the recent offensive. Allenby's men it was who carried the intricate network of trenches east of Arras fighting their way along the valley of the Scarpe toward Douai.

A little later General Allenby was transferred to the British forces in Egypt, and, building on the careful plan which had already been initiated, proceeded to construct his scheme for the advance up through Palestine. Allenby was one of the original Kitchener generals and had been trained in the school of that tenacious organizer with the iron will. He gave traces of Kitchener influence by his keen, long-sighted survey of the task before him, a request for additional forces, and his refusal to move until they arrived. His immobility in the face of possible criticism was a good indication of his character. When the men, guns, and ammunition arrived in sufficient amount he struck with terrific force, and kept on striking. It cannot be doubted that his careful preparation has been a great factor in the recent successes.

Never was a better illustration of the man than his careful handling of the delicate situation when once he entered Jerusalem. His declaration to the mixed community will remain a model of wise statesmanship on the part of a military commander. He issued a proclamation in Arabic, Hebrew, English, French,

Italian, Greek, and Russian. Here are some passages from it:

Let any of you be alarmed by reason of your experiences at the hands of the enemy who has retired, I hereby inform you that it is my desire that every person should pursue his lawful business without fear of interruption. Furthermore, since your city is regarded with affection by the adherents of the great religions of mankind, and its soil has been consecrated by the prayers and pilgrimages of multitudes of devout people of these three religions for many centuries, therefore, I make it known to you that every sacred building, monument, holy spot, shrine, traditional site, endowment, pious bequest or customary place of prayer of whatsoever form of the three religions will be maintained according to the existing customs and beliefs of those to whose faith they are sacred.

He placed guards over the holy places. He gave the Moslems special charge of buildings and sites particularly precious to Moslem sentiment. When there arrived the fateful day of which he was to take formal possession of the city, he came not on horseback in glittering display but modestly on foot, as became a Christian man, approaching the shrine of his belief. His staff, the civil officers, the attaches from America and other countries, entered with him on foot. His reverence, his careful regard for feeling, his effective actions to safeguard the interests of the varied peoples who appreciated his conquest of Jerusalem as inspired, because in the name Allenby they found the equivalent of the words "Allah Nabil" meaning God and prophet. For many generations there had been current among the Arabs and other tribes the prophecy that "He who shall save Jerusalem and exalt her among the nations will enter the city on foot, and his name will be God, the Prophet."

The effect he produced among the people of the country undoubtedly hardly more than a metaphor, observes The London Chronicle. Allenby, high ex-

ATTACKS NERVOUS GERMANS.

Religious Paper Curses Those Who Don't Want to Fight for World Power.

Among the many oburgations recently by the German people, the London Times are as openly manifesting their loss of faith in the ability of the Kaiser's armies to conquer the civilized world was the following plea translated from the Reichshote by the London Times:

"German people, full of envy must thou regard thy moral foes, who are being urged on to victory by strong-willed, ardent patriots. Clemenceau sends every traitor and alarmist to the gallows, or to penal servitude, but thou dost tolerate openly treason within thy borders and dost suffer systematic depression of the general spirit.

THE "ALBERTAN" COAT

New Model Shown in The Semi-ready Tailoring Store

This is No. 500—or the newest design from the studios of the Semi-ready tailoring shops in Montreal. It is a business suit, with a clear-cut waist seam and a back of six pieces—a morning coat design on a sack suit, with the slash bottom pockets and flapless breast pockets.

Here is the Albertan—a smart coat which will be worn in all the centres of fashion. It is one of the quietest smart coats shown in the Semi-ready Portfolio of Fashion for the fall and winter season. Mr. Fraser is showing a new overcoat style this season, "The Vernon."
