Man Answering Description of Quincy Murderer Was Arrested Yesterday After a Fight. He Was Aboard Steamer Bruce Bound to Newfoundland When Police Found Him.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, August 9.—After a desperate fight an Italian, answering in every detail to the description of Restelli, who is wanted in Quincy, Mass., for the murder of his mother and sister was arrested by the North Sydney police in the steamer Bruce bound to Newfoundland and is now in the murderers cell in jail.

TOOK ELEVEN SAILORS OFF SINKING BOAT

New York, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Bringing to port 11 seamen from the sinking schooner in the Atlantic, after they had made a brave but vain attempt to save their ship the ore carrying British steamer King Edgar, reached port today from Huelva, Spain. The shipwrecked men comprised the crew of the American four masted schooner Edith Olcott, which was abandoned on Sunday, August 7, in a waterlogged condition in lat. 37.04 long. 64.30. The Edith Olcott, Capt. Walker, sailed from New York on July 31 with a full cargo of merchandise for Porto Rico. On last Wednesday a southwest gale started the schooner leaking. The ship was sinking on Sunday when the King Edgar bore down to the disabled schooner.

AN INDEPENDENT REPORT. A civil engineer, not a resident of the province, but whose name would be familiar if it were available for publication, was in the city last week, and the Mayor took advantage of the opportunity to secure his professional opinion on the merits of the much maligned Main street pavement. The engineer, who for the purpose of this story may be called Mr. D., after going over the specifications was asked a thorough examination of the work, has pronounced it a first class job. It is interesting to note that when the specifications were first handed to Mr. D., with an explanation of the changes that had been made in the method of laying and treating the foundation of crushed stone, he expressed himself as much opposed to it. In fact it is said, that he went so far as to say that it was not concrete. Mr. D. then went over to Main street and made a thorough examination of the Hasnam process in all its stages. As a result he informed the Mayor that the process was entirely satisfactory for the purpose, and that he considered the city engineer was quite justified in availing himself of the clause in the specification which permitted an equally good or better method to be employed. He raised one objection—that the broken stone being used was of a larger size than he considered advisable. It is understood that a written report prepared by Mr. D. will be submitted to the council. Meanwhile, it will be satisfactory to the majority of the citizens to learn from an independent source that the judgment of the city engineer has been vindicated, and that the common council adopted a proper course in standing at its back and refused to be stampeded.

ROME AND MADRID IN CONFERENCE

Merry Del Val Trying For Understanding With Government—Next Vatican Is Expected To Settle Trouble. Rome, Aug. 9.—It was reported that Cardinal Merry Del Val the Papal Secretary of State, was trying through officials, semi-officials and private channels to reach an understanding with the Spanish government. It is believed that the next Vatican will announce an agreement of a definite rupture between Rome and Madrid.

DON JAIME.

A good omen was found today in the presence of the Marquis de Gonzales, the Spanish charge d'affaires to the Vatican and the staff of the Spanish embassy at the mass celebrated by Cardinal Merry Del Val, in honor of the anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius X. In view of the strained relations between the holy see and Spain, the decision of the Spanish representatives to be present at the morning function or to absent themselves was awaited with great interest.

SONS OF ENGLAND HAD A GOOD YEAR

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—The Supreme Lodge, Sons of England, opened a three days' sitting here today with a large attendance of delegates. An address of civic welcome, in the absence of Mayor Hopewell, was made by Controller Hinchey. Then came an address on behalf of the local lodges by W. H. Penn, district deputy. At the first business meeting the principal business was the presentation of the report by the Supreme Secretary, John W. Carter. Figures presented show that in 1908, the supreme lodge receipts topped expenditure by $10,489, while in 1909 there was a balance of the right side of $6,519. The strength of the order at the end of 1909 was as follows:—Ontario 15,610 members; Quebec 2,579; Newfoundland 641; Nova Scotia 721; New Brunswick 490; Prince Edward Island 215; Manitoba 1,413; Saskatchewan 433; Alberta 781; British Columbia 1,285. In 1908, 5,100 new members were initiated and 2,928 in 1909. The total membership of the order at the end of the year 1909 was 24,172. During 1909 six new lodges were instituted as follows:—Prince George at Neepawa, Man.; Grandview at Grandview, B. C.; Dominion at Faramham, Que.; Woodgreen at Acton, West Ont.; Crescent at Portage La Prairie and Winnipeg at Winnipeg. Further statistics showed the death rate in the society in 1908 to have been 8.36 per one thousand, the average age of deceased members, 54 years 11 months. The average duration of membership 13 years 8 months, 21 days.

LENEVE TO KEEP QUIET

Quebec, August 8.—Ethel LeNeve received a cable this afternoon in Quebec jail from her father signed "Dad" urging her to maintain the strictest secrecy and informing her that money for her defence and Crippen's was being supplied by a leading London newspaper. This disposes of the rumor that the money for the defence was being supplied by fashionable London women who had been treated by Crippen.

Mayor Gaynor Resting Easily Last Night and Will Probably Recover

New York's Mayor Shot by Jules James Gallagher on Deck of Steamer Yesterday Morning—Would-be Assassin in Tombs. Gallagher Had Been Discharged from Minor Civic Position for Incompetency and Had Since Cherished Hatred for Mayor.

New York, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Wm. J. Gaynor, mayor of New York city, was shot in the head and seriously wounded today as he stood on the promenade deck of the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, by James J. Gallagher, a discharged and disgruntled city employee. Gallagher was almost instantly overpowered and arrested. The shot was fired at 9:45 o'clock this morning, 15 minutes before the Kaiser Der Grosse was due to leave her pier at Hoboken, N. J., and the mayor was receiving Godspeed from a group of friends preparatory to a vacation trip to Europe. The bullet struck him behind the right ear and ranged downward, inflicting a dangerous though not necessarily fatal wound. Reports Are Hopeful. Unless blood poisoning develops, surgeons are hopeful of the mayor's recovery, although at his age—59 years—such a wound is essentially grave. Tonight the mayor is at St. Mary's hospital, Hoboken, surrounded by specialists, with members of his family gathered near, awaiting the outcome with anxiety. All early reports from the hospital were hopeful in tone and this evening six X-ray negatives of the wound were taken to facilitate an operation for the removal of the bullet. Gallagher, the would-be assassin, is locked in a cell at Jersey City, held without bail. He expresses no remorse. How It Happened. The big liner was gay with flags and ringing with shouted goodbyes when the tragedy occurred. Most of those who had been aboard the ship to say farewell to friends or relatives had gone ashore but a little group remained to talk with the mayor. They were standing on the port side of the vessel near the promenade deck forward and were the act of posing for a group photograph, when Gallagher, unnoticed, pushed his way almost to the mayor's side and fired point blank at his head. He used a 33 calibre revolver and an examination later disclosed that the first cartridge had missed fire. This probably saved the mayor's life for Gallagher when he first pulled the trigger was less than two feet away. Backing away slightly in his excitement, he pulled the trigger a second time and sent a bullet crashing into the mayor's neck below the ear. Football Man Downs Assassin. Wm. H. Edwards, commissioner of street cleaning, and the former Princeton football star, lunged forward with his three hundred pounds just as Robert Adamson, the mayor's secretary, struck Gallagher's arm. As he did so a second shot pierced Edward's sleeve inflicting a slight flesh wound on the commissioner's right arm, which remained undischarged for hours, because of the excitement. Unmindful of his wound, Edwards hit the man a crushing blow to the face, and they fell to the deck together, Gallagher struggling with the strength of desperation and pulling viciously at the trigger in an attempt to fire another shot.

But Edwards was too much for him. He rained blow after blow in Gallagher's now bleeding face, while Adamson and Archibald R. Watson, corporation counsel for the city, lunged themselves on the struggling two in an attempt to grasp the weapon. When Mr. Watson had obtained possession of it, Edwards and Gallagher continued a bitter struggle about the deck, Edwards now crying and shouting in his anger and excitement and Gallagher panting as exhaustion began to grip his limbs. When completely subdued in the former football star's vice-like grip, a pair of steel nippers were slipped on his wrists by a special officer aboard the ship and he was rushed through a hooting and threatening crowd of the vessel into an automobile and arraigned before Recorder McGovern of Hoboken. Mayor Did Not Fall. During the struggle with the man, who had attempted to take his life, Mayor Gaynor though wounded and bleeding from the mouth and nose, did not once lose consciousness. The impact of the bullet did not even throw him from his feet but he raised his hands to his ears and with his face contorted with pain, he staggered in a daze and leaned limply across the ship's rail until Adamson came to his assistance. Then some one drew a steamer chair to his side and into this the mayor sank with relief. A few minutes later he was removed to St. Mary's hospital, where surgeons temporarily bandaged the wound, preparatory to his removal to St. Mary's hospital. He was taken there in a special automobile. Gallagher's Son Saw Shooting. Rufus Gaynor, a son, was the only member of the mayor's family present when he was shot. His wife and other children were at the Gaynor country place at St. James, L. I. When Mrs. Gaynor was notified by telephone of the tragedy, she made a spectacular run by automobile, accompanied by her son, Norman, crossed the Queensborough bridge, Mrs. Mahalan, sped across the island to the Hudson river and was taken to Hoboken in a police patrol boat. She was almost overcome when she reached St. Mary's hospital and was permitted to see her husband for but a moment. She was joined there shortly by Mrs. Ethel Vincent, a daughter recently married, and they began their vigil near the bedside. Thought Wound Was Fatal. Rarely has wounded man evinced more fortitude and cheerfulness than did William J. Gaynor today. He evincedly thought as he was being carried down the companionway from the ship on a stretcher, that his wound was fatal, for he smiled faintly and said to those near him: "Tell the people goodbye." To his wife and his son, Rufus, he said at the hospital later: "It is very strange, very strange. I wonder why he did it." But at no time did he express ill-feelings toward the man who would have killed him. And that he looked calmly on the ever present prospect of assassination is indicated in the tone of a recent letter to a citizen who had warned him of the danger of going in the subway without an escort. To this solicitous friend, Charles Weinblatt, a lawyer, he wrote on March 22 last: "My Dear Mr. Weinblatt—I thank you very much for your letter, but I have no fear about going out alone. I do not think anyone would do me harm unless he was a lunatic, and it is hard to guard against lunatics." Gallagher No Lunatic. Gallagher, judging by appearances and actions, is not a lunatic. His mind is as sane as that of any man of 50 odd years, but he has nourished in his heart a hatred for Mayor Gaynor ever since he was discharged as a night watchman in the department of docks and ferries in July last, for incompetency, and several letters repeatedly written to the mayor, anonymously and otherwise, harping on an obsession that he had been persecuted and demanding redress. He has even written to the governor, so it became known tonight. "You took the bread and butter out of my mouth," he shouted, as he approached the mayor on the steamer and then he levelled the revolver and fired. The struggle about the deck ended almost instantly. As he grappled with the man, Commissioner Edwards was heard shouting: "I've got him—I've got him," as he pinned Gallagher to the floor and be-seeked those around him to bring a pair of handcuffs. "He's my prisoner," he almost sobbed, "and I can hold him, but get some handcuffs." It was then that Henry Goering, a special officer of the North German Lloyd line brought the nippers and Gallagher was pinioned with steel. Not The Least Panic. There was no panic on board during the disorder. Many tried to belabor the prostrate Gallagher and the excitement, of course, was intense, but the ship's officers used severe measures of discipline and effectually shielded the Mayor in his stateroom from the crowd of over-sollicitous passengers. President Pedro Montt, of Chile, en route to Europe after his visit to this country, was a spectator of the tragedy and its ensuing scenes. He had been talking with the Mayor just before the shooting occurred. "I saw the whole thing," said President Montt. "The man was hanging round for several minutes. I noticed that he carried one hand under his coat tail as if in the neighborhood of his right hand hip pocket, but I was not suspicious of this and paid no particular attention to the fellow." "He did not seem to me to show any signs of excitement. The Mayor had just introduced me to a friend of his from his own neighborhood." Continued On Page Two.

WILL BE IN THE MAIL SUBSIDY

With Faster Steamers New Mail Contract Will Apply To All Candian Steamers Of Certain Speed.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—With the increase in the number of fast steamships on the Canadian route, the probability grows that when the next trans-Atlantic mail subsidy comes to be awarded it will be made to apply to all Canadian owned vessels coming up to a certain standard of speed. The present mail contract, which has still a year and a half to run, is still with the Allans, but by arrangement a portion of the subsidy goes to the C. P. R. on account of the two Empresses. A new competitor for the speed record is the Canadian Northern Line with the Royal Edward and Royal George, while the White Star-Dominion line leaders are also making quick runs. It is, therefore, probable that the government will increase the subsidy to a million and a half and divide it among the four steamship companies. At least two still faster boats will be on the route by the time the present arrangement with the Allans expires.

ROOT GIVES YANKEE SIDE OF ARGUMENT

The Hague, Aug. 9.—Senator Elihu Root of counsel for the United States before the arbitration tribunal devoted today to an exhaustive argument in which he claimed the rights of Americans in the Newfoundland fisheries were unlimited, and absolute as had been admitted by Lords Bathurst, Malamebury and Salisbury.

GOOD WEATHER FOR BIRD MEN

Aviators Made a Number Of Successful Flights In Aeroplane Machines At Johannestha, Germany, Yesterday

Johannestha, Germany, Aug. 9.—The aeroplane contest, one of the features of aviation week, was favored with good weather today and showed improved results over yesterday. Dornier carrying a passenger, made a flight of 29 minutes in a machine of his own construction. Wenzlers flew for 41 minutes with a passenger. Thelen, with a Wright machine, remained in the air for 40 minutes; Helm, also with a Wright, for 27 minutes; and Latsch with a Voisin, 27. Engelhart's machine was hardly up when he was compelled to make a landing as the frame was broken. ed himself well pleased with what he saw. Tomorrow Mr. Turney and Mr. Dickson leave for Albert County. A grand procession of national societies is to take place at College Bridge, Westmorland county, on Tuesday next. KING GEORGE'S COUSIN WAS IN PARADE

The Earl of Euston, Head Of British Templary, Reviewed Great Procession Of Knights Templar In Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—There began in Chicago today the greatest parade of Knights Templar ever witnessed in the history of the order. Every Knight attending the thirty first triennial conclave who could get into line was there. The Right Honorable James, Earl of Euston, cousin of King George of England and Most Eminent Supreme Pro-Grand Master of the Great Priory of England and Wales, waited beside the line attired in his full regalia as head of British Templary, to review the followers of the Red Cross. Farther on Mayor Busse was saluted and still farther Governor Deneen acknowledged the tribute of flashing steel. This was the big day of the conclave.

GAMBLERS STILL ON ANXIOUS SEAT

Narragansett Pier Society People Waiting In Suspense For Constable Cross' Next Move—Keeping Him Watched.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 9.—Society people are still waiting in suspense for the next move in the gambling crusade which was started by Constable John G. Cross, and other reformers Sunday. While the majority are loud in their declarations that nothing is to be feared from Cross and his associates it is a noticeable fact that Cross is being closely watched and that every move which he makes excites the keenest interest. Cross has been out of town much of the day today and as he is obliged to go elsewhere to get warrants and others legal papers signed there is a rumor tonight that his return may be followed by arrests. President T. J. McKenna, of the Narragansett Club, the raided institution, took newspaper men through the building today for the purpose of disproving the assertion that the tables and other apparatus used were "fixed" and that the games were crooked. He lifted the heavy rug and showed that there were no wires or other connections. The tables themselves have been taken from the clubhouse and McKenna and the others decline to say where they have been stored. Prof. Brander Matthews, an avowed reformer and one of the men behind the recent raid, is very outspoken against those who uphold the gamblers. He declared today that if the majority of the people who frequent the Pier want gambling, they should petition the legislature for authority to establish an American Monte Carlo here but so long as it is illegal to gamble, he would do his part to suppress it. Among the buildings burned at the big fire were the following with their occupants: Diggins Company, liquor dealers, three story wooden building. C. Sample and Company, shoe and dry goods, two story wooden building. Boston fire department repair shop three story brick building. Ballantine Export Beer Company, three story wooden building; two upper floors occupied by tenants. John F. Paul, woodworking mill, four story brick building. Brown and Black Company, interior hardwood furnishings, four story brick building. Two three story wooden tenement houses. Blacker & Shephard lumber company's plant, where the fire started, at the corner of Albany and Dover streets. All the buildings named were on Albany street, most of them directly opposite the destroyed lumber plant. The Charles Emmill and Rose Company, paper machine makers, was also partially burned and damaged by water.

HUNDREDS OF HOUSES WENT DOWN IN FLOOD

Tokio, Aug. 9.—A torrential rainfall that continued today has caused devastating floods principally in Shinokawa on the southern coast. Hundreds of houses have been submerged and one occupied by a number of students in the province of Shinokawa was buried with its tenants beneath a landslide. Washouts along the railway lines are reported and several trains have been derailed as a consequence.

SCHOONER IS TOTAL WRECK NEAR CANSO

Canso, N. S., Aug. 9.—The schooner Sarah C. Wharf, of Boston, Captain Charles Stewart, bound from Bay of Islands for Gloucester with a load of dry and pickled fish was wrecked outside Dover Head last night and is a total loss. Captain Stewart and his crew of five took to their dory and were saved. An easterly breeze had been blowing which kicked up quite a sea, and while standing in on the land, the wind suddenly died out, and left the schooner in a helpless condition, the Many Buildings Destroyed and Score of Fire Fighters Hurt in Yesterday's Blaze.

Firemen from Eight Surrounding Towns Responded to Alarm for Conflagration.

Boston, August 9.—causing damage estimated at about $1,000,000 in the lumber yard and wood-working section in the south end, and necessitating the calling of the first general alarm in years, the fire flared came directly to the headquarters of the Boston fire department tonight. But although Chief Muller was absent on vacation, the Boston department and outside apparatus and firemen successfully contained the flames to the section bounded by Fort Point channel on the east, Dover street on the north, Harrison Avenue on the west, and a point between Thayer and Randolph streets on the south. The lumber yards of Blacker & Shephard at the corner of Dover and Albany streets, where the flames started from a cause unknown together with their docks 400 feet long, piled high with 8,000,000 feet of lumber; the Boston fire department repair station, with several pieces of apparatus; four brick buildings of four and five stories, occupied by wood workers, and several wooden tenement houses were the principal buildings destroyed. There were no lives lost. Many Firemen Hurt. Nearly a score of firemen were injured, a dozen seriously, by falling walls, collapsing ladders, falling glass etc. More than four hours after the fire started half a dozen fire fighters were buried beneath the weighty debris caused by the fallings of a wall of the John Paul wood-working mill on Albany street. Several sustained broken legs, but all will recover. The flames which started in Blacker & Shephard yards shortly after six o'clock, gained great headway and swept down Albany street igniting the piles of expensive lumber in the firm's yards, and docks on one side, and the fire department repair station and woodworking plants on the other. The fire centered along Albany street burning to the edge of Fort Point channel on one side and extending almost to Harrison Avenue on the other. Mayor Fitzgerald on Deck. Mayor Fitzgerald, who was at the scene, ordered flood gates to be opened to supply more water, called for help from all departments within 15 miles, had several hundred additional policemen sent to the fire zone and gave words of encouragement to the fire fighters. The fire, which was controlled within four hours of its start, was still burning at midnight, but there was little danger of any further spread. Eight out of town fire companies successfully fought a four alarm fire in the heart of the city's business district while the Boston department was engaged so busily with the greater conflagration in the lumber yard section. The six story brick building at 55-59 High street extending through to Purchase, occupied by the H. V. Johns-McVillie Company, asbestos and magnesia producers, was the scene of the second fire. It was damaged about $50,000. The fire started on the top floor. The cause is unknown.

CAUGHT IN SHOWER OF BRICKS

Five firemen were caught in a shower of bricks and burning embers when the rear wall of the Paul Building, a wood working establishment on the west side of Albany street, buckled and fell. There were six firemen engaged in fighting the flames at this point and all saw the wall when it started to fall. One man succeeded in getting out of the way but the others were caught and knocked down by the flying debris. The injured men were Captain John P. McManus, of Ladder four, Lieutenant Harry Hibbard of engine 22, and Hoseman Edward O'Connell, James Gallagher and Edward Shea. O'Connell was the most seriously injured, sustaining a broken leg. The other men received contusions and abrasions about the head and body. All were treated at the city hospital.

MAYOR GAYNOR RESTING EASILY

Continued From Page One. In Brooklyn, who was going with him and asked me laughing if I minded posing for another group photograph for the benefit of a newspaper man, who had arrived late, when I heard Gallagher yell out something and saw the flash of his gun, and then the shooting and the struggling began.

Mr. Edward's Story. Commissioner Edwards said: "I was standing with Corporation Counsel Watson, Dr. Lederle, the health commissioner, Commissioner Thompson of the water department, and Mr. Adamson, the Mayor's secretary, on the forward deck, when the assassin approached.

"We were wishing the mayor bon voyage. As we chattered I heard a shot directly back of us. It was immediately followed by another. We turned about and saw this man with a revolver smoking in his right hand and not three feet away. He had the revolver almost against the mayor's back. Mr. Watson grabbed the fellow's pistol hand and held it upwards. The man began to struggle desperately.

"I then seized him around the body and slammed him against the railing. I did not care much what I did with him, and for a moment I thought he was going overboard. He continued to fight furiously, but a well-directed blow or two took the fight out of him.

"It took three or four minutes to rush him down the gang plank and into the auto. The crowd was murmuring and crushing and it was a hard task. As we got him into the machine the fellow looked about him and said, so all of us heard him distinctly: "He robbed me of my bread and butter and that's all there is to it."

Another Description. Mr. Adamson said that his picture of the scene was too blurred to admit of detailed description, but nevertheless he described with vivid fragmentary sentences what occurred.

Mayor Gaynor had turned to give me a last word of instruction," he said. "We were standing on the port side, near the companionway, and just under the bridge. I saw him start under the impact of the bullet. I leaped to get him in my arms, and as I did so turned so that I came face to face with the assassin.

"In the excitement of the moment it seemed to me that the second shot was aimed at me. But I do not know. All was confusion and I recall only arms waving and shouting and through it all the muzzle of that revolver pointing toward us. In any event, the crowd nearby had so leaped upon the man that his aim was impaired.

"Don't Kill Him Bill." "I do not remember any of the rest, except that when I looked up again, Mayor Gaynor was half fainting in my arms, and Gallagher was on the deck beneath a crowd of shrieking, screaming men. Some one was dragging at Commissioner Edwards' arm.

"Don't kill him, Bill," was the cry I heard. "Through the seconds of that scene, that seemed to pass like hours, I could hear that voice calling. They tell me that Edward's big hand had closed about Gallagher's neck in a grip of a vise. He would have choked him to death right there if others present had not restrained him. Some one called out: 'Let's lynch him.'

"By that time they had dragged Edwards off, and he had regained some of his calm. 'Get me a pair of hand-cuffs,' he ordered. There were no cuffs at hand, but Henry Goering, one of the local detectives, passed Edwards his chains. They were nipped around Gallagher's wrists and he was London is Sorry.

London, Aug. 10.—The London morning newspapers print full reports of the attack on Mayor Gaynor, and express deep concern and earnest wishes for his recovery.

The "Standard" in an editorial says: "Mayor Gaynor ranks high in the class of men who can ill be spared from the world's work. The completion of his career is a matter of international importance, and his loss would be a calamity to his own country."

Expressed No Remorse. Gallagher, in a short, thick set man, weighing close on to 200 pounds, he smoked a cigar cheerfully after his arrest and at no time expressed sorrow because of his deed. On the other hand he repeated stolidly that the mayor had robbed him of a livelihood and that he had meant to kill him.

He is 56 years old. It was a clergyman, he said in a signed statement issued in Hoboken after his arrest, who pointed the mayor out to him before he fired the shot.

"The man appeared perfectly rational and sane to me," said Commissioner Edwards tonight.

Delay At Hospital. Mr. Thompson severely criticizes the conduct of affairs at St. Mary's Hospital. "When we arrived," he said, "we had to ring the bell for four or five minutes before any one responded. Then a nurse came to the door and said that there was no doctor in at the times. A little later an interne came out, smoking a pipe and seemingly not much concerned, and when I said the mayor of New York has been shot and is here, he replied: 'I will telephone and see what I can do. I will try and get someone immediately.' Apparently there was not a doctor at the hospital and Rufus and I had to be held to undress the mayor. While we were doing that Dr. Wm. J. Arlitz, a city visiting physician, arrived. He wanted to probe for the bullet, but Rufus and I objected to his doing that until New York physicians arrived on the scene. While we were waiting for them Mayor Gaynor turned to me, smiled, and said: "Don't let them discourage me, Thompson. The mayor was put in a private room and cared for by the surgeons of the hospital who arrived about one half hour to three quarters of an hour after our arrival."

The New York physicians attending the mayor are Dr. George B. Brewer, Dr. George D. Stewart and Mr. Chas. N. Dowd. In addition there was summoned Dr. James W. Parish, of Brooklyn, the Gaynor family physician.

May Be Tried in New York. After his arraignment before Recorder McGovern, this afternoon, Gallagher was sent to the Hudson county jail, at Jersey City, where he sat in his cell tonight contentedly smoking a pipe and seemingly pleased with

TWO CHILDREN DROWNED IN M'CRACKEN'S LAKE AT GOLDEN GROVE YESTERDAY

Allan Johnson and Percy Smith Went to Death While Small Boy Watched.

They Were Rowing and Lost Oars--Boat Started to Drift Out Into Lake and They Leaped Overboard--Both Bodies Recovered

A tragedy which cast a pall of gloom over the entire neighborhood occurred at Golden Grove at noon yesterday, when two small boys, Percy Smith, aged 12, and Allan Morrissey Johnson, aged 10, jumped from a boat and lost their young lives by drowning, in the waters of McCracken Lake, which is only a short distance from their homes.

Whether driven to desperation through fear or from a determination to reach the shore in some manner, young Smith jumped from the boat into the water, and quickly disappeared below the surface. The sight of his playmate struggling helplessly in the water evidently caused the Johnson boy to lose his head and he too stood up in the boat and plunged into the water and quickly followed his little friend to the bottom of the lake. Upon being told of the occurrence by the younger Johnson lad, a searching party was quickly sent out and the bodies were soon recovered.

OPTIMISM AND ACTIVITY IMPRESSED THIS VISITOR

Australian Business Man Now in City Draws Interesting Comparisons Between His Country and Our Own.

Among the visitors to the city yesterday was James Macdougall, who is one of the largest manufacturers in Melbourne, Australia. Mr. Macdougall is on a tour of the Dominion, chiefly for pleasure, but incidentally he will study our trade conditions and possibilities and various commercial industries.

To a Standard reporter Mr. Macdougall talked extensively of his impressions of Canada and Canadians and made several interesting comparisons between this country and Australia.

Trade conditions in Australia, he said, were very good, and since the labor party had taken over the reins of power, there was a general air of confidence in all industrial enterprises. Although himself a staunch Conservative, he had great faith in the present labor government. So far, he said, they have shown themselves capable of wise legislation and are gradually winning the confidence and united support of the entire country.

The laboring men of Australia are of the very best class. They are better paid, better housed and better educated than the average laborer of other countries. And although the labor party of Australia stands for the advancement of laboring interests, there is nothing of a socialistic nature in their platform. A significant feature of the last election, he said, in which the laborites had swept the country, was the fact that in many counties labor candidates were opposed to and elected over socialists by crushing majorities.

HUB SWEEPED BY SERIOUS FIRE

The first alarm for the sixth end lumber yard fire was sounded shortly after six o'clock by a passerby. Hearing the call of the box just outside his door, Chief Barrington of the Boston fire department in charge of the repair station, situated directly opposite Blacker and Shephards yards, on Albany street, looked out and seeing a mass of flame, sounded quickly a third alarm, skipping the second.

Chief Crayke, who arrived pulled the fifth alarm, missing the fourth, and shortly after sounded the general alarm and one other calling for assistance from outside companies within a radius of ten miles. The companies that responded included Lynn, Watertown, Hyde Park, Malden, Everett, Quincy, Revere, Brookline, Hingham and Cambridge. The Quincy apparatus made the run of nine miles in 35 minutes, exceptionally fast going.

Although not officially so declared the fire appeared to be under control at 10 o'clock. The burning embers, however, continued to blaze for hours afterward and will smoulder probably for days.

Although hundreds of families, many of them members of the excitable Jewish population, were forced to flee from their homes, no serious accidents on that account were reported.

The police early ordered all the saloons in the near vicinity closed. The Boston department almost lost two pieces of its active apparatus.

PROVINCIAL AGENT WILL HELP SEND BUSINESS OUR WAY

New Brunswick's "Man in London" to Boom Trade.

Good Results Follow Local Government's Aggressive Policy in Opening New Offices in London.

A. Bowder, the representative of New Brunswick, in London, England, has written to A. B. Wilmut, Provincial superintendent of immigration, that produce dealers and others frequently make inquiries at his office with a view to establishing a connection with produce exporters in New Brunswick.

Mr. Bowder, whose office is located at 37 Southampton St., London, W. C., writes that he would be glad to hear from exporters wishing to establish a business connection in London, and that he will undertake to answer all inquiries and gather any information possible. It is intended to make the office of assistance in developing trade, and Supt. Wilmut of Church street, St. John, is prepared to attend to inquiries on this side.

Many Inquiries.

"I am glad," writes Mr. Bowder, "to be able to inform you that as a result of the press notices of the formal opening of the office here, I have received many inquiries from all parts, and also personal applications. The exhibit of plaster casts of N. B. fruit in the window has attracted much attention, and several men from Covent Garden have dropped in to make inquiries as to the possibility of shipping fruit from New Brunswick.

They Want Our Fruit. "There is undoubtedly a great opening for New Brunswick fruit in the London market, and I hope this year the business will be put on a sound footing. There are doubtless several firms in St. John who would be pleased to establish a business with a good firm on this side. The one thing we require is more literature to advertise the province, the products and resources."

As soon as Mr. Bowder has completed the organization of the work of the London office, he expects to make a tour in Australia and address meetings with regard to the exceptional features of agriculture and the prospects in New Brunswick, which is now within seven days' reach of Liverpool or Glasgow by the Canadian mail steamers.

Another Press Tribute.

The Manchester Guardian prints the following on the occasion of the formal opening of the N. B. office in London:

The latest of the Canadian provinces to open shop, so to say, in or near the Strand, is New Brunswick, whose new premises in Southampton street were opened this afternoon by Lord Strathcona. These colonial shops, of which so many have been added of late, give a bright and interesting piece of color to the pavement picture. The New Brunswick one, whose hand was rolled up today, is as pictorial as any. Its settler's cottage which forms the background is more picturesque than anything you will see at the Garden Suburb. The New Brunswick settler seems to live in a novel of his own days, and the photographs of his occupations suggest that he has an equally pleasant time outside. You see him shooting snipe or cooking trout over a camp fire, and doing other things you cannot do in the Strand. The cottage is set in a panorama of fruit trees in blossom and beautiful rivers. The interior of the shop is still rather empty, but the remarkable exhibit of New Brunswick at the Brussels exhibition is to be advertised in the Strand.

One gathered from the speeches at the opening ceremony that the government of the province is particularly keen on getting a good class of emigrants to settle on its land. A huge tract of territory is set apart for settlers. It is divided into 100-acre lots, which are let for four years at $4 an acre. If at the end of that time the settler has built his house and shown that he means business, he gets what is really a free title to his holdings.

Then there are "improved farms," which can be got for £100 and upwards, or, again, you can rent a farm with the option of purchase at the end of a year. The does not hear so much of emigration to New Brunswick as of emigration farther west, but this spring 500 Englishmen went there. Lord Strathcona praised particularly the sport of the province, then which, he said, there is no better in the world—the moose hunting and salmon fishing chiefly. It is also, he said, a highly progressive place. "Lord Strathcona speaks of Canada as the first nation from within the Empire and of the Empire."

THE COURTS.

Chancery Division.

The adjourned July sittings of the Chancery Division of the Supreme Court opens this morning in the Pugsley Building at 11 o'clock. His Honor Chief Justice Barker will preside.

The case of R. Keltie Jones, executor of the last will and testament of Catherine Murdoch, deceased vs. the St. Stephen church, St. John, Eastern section of the Presbyterian church in Canada and the Natural History Society of New Brunswick. This case involves the construction of a clause in the will of the deceased.

W. A. Ewing, K. C., appears for the executor, MacRae, Sinclair and MacRae; and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., for the St. Stephen church, H. D. Forbes and M. E. Teed, K. C., for the Presbyterian church and J. R. Campbell and Dr. A. O. Earle, K. C., for the Natural History Society.

The flames becoming of a baking intensity, the firemen were forced temporarily to abandon engines numbers 15 and 22. No horses could be rescued to enter the curtain of flame and pull out the apparatus. A small corps of volunteers, firemen and onlookers responded to a call and managed to drag the engines to safety.

THE SMILE AND DIMPLE

Training Needed to Acquire the Right Kind of Smile—Dimples to Order—Smiling Into Space.

The Duchess of Marlborough and the Duchess of Sutherland are known among their friends in England as "the smiling Duchesses." Their art is such that their smile has no appearance of being forced. It lights up their faces and adds to their charm of manner and appearance of youthfulness. It is to gain such results that English women have long been studying the art of smiling.

"The English woman has been practicing her smile for years," said an American woman just back from Europe. "She can smile in such a way that you think the smile is her natural expression. It doesn't look like the kind that would come off in a shower. She can motor boat up the Thames in a downpour, yet the smile stays on. I have been studying the art. I trained for it as you would train for a race. I got ready first physically. That is to say I got my teeth in good order."

"The popular idea is that the teeth do not make so much difference, but I know that they do. If there is gold to be seen anywhere the effect of the smile is artificial. I had all gold taken out of my teeth and enamel put in. This was expensive but necessary. I had my teeth made white with peroxide and I obtained enough good tooth bleach to keep them white all the time. This idea of going to a dentist to have your teeth whitened is all wrong. They should never need it. Mine are white as nature will permit them to be each day in the year. So much for white teeth."

"There's more in the smile than this. There is something in the expression. I have seen women, new at the smile, sit with a grin on the countenance that was exasperating. They simply simpered at everything. Of course it wasn't fetching, a smile like that, so I consulted an obliging English friend. "You must learn to smile into space," said she. "Smile with your eyes, smile with your lips, smile with your cheeks and your complexion; but don't think you've got to look at people all the time you smile."

"That is the trouble with the American woman. She doesn't learn the repose of the smile. She thinks she must smile at something, so she smiles at hoosery in the shop window and she smiles at Oxforas and at four-ards. She doesn't know that she should cultivate a smiling expression with nothing in sight."

"I tried it and found that she was right. I now smile into space. It is very fetching. I have watched the English ladies do it as they drive in their carriages. They sit and smile right into the air. If they were royal ladies they would smile at the people on the sidewalks. As it is, they look right ahead."

"I also have learned something I used to smile I thought it necessary about the width of the smile. When to show all my teeth. I've learned better than to do this. "Show just five front teeth," said an English lady to me, "and don't try to show the roots of them, either, just to show the very edges."

"Now though my smile is affability itself I show the edges of just five of my front teeth. It gives a much more youthful appearance than though I showed all my teeth. Teeth are seldom pretty enough for that. Women who show all their teeth have a carnivorous look. "There is a smile message and this I've gone into pretty freely. I had to have professional treatment for this, for my mouth was not used to smiling. When I forced it there was a grinning expression. I had to teach my lips to form a cupid's bow. "I went to an English beauty expert to get my mouth massaged. This woman placed me in front of a mirror and put in my mouth a stick like a lead pencil. "Look in the mirror," said she. "I obeyed her. "You will notice that the stick lifts up the corners of your mouth," she said. "This proves that you have been letting them sag. Your mouth has acquired a curve. Now you've got to go to work and learn to lift it a bit. "I sat there with the stick in my teeth while she massaged the sides of my face. I noticed that she worked always from the corners of the mouth upward. She lifted the corners and massaged them backward toward the ears. It was as though she were trying to strengthen the muscles at the corners of the lips. "Your facial muscles," said she, "are very weak indeed. You haven't been using them enough. You can't smile without tiring your face. "She gave me three massage operations, as follows: "Hold a stick in your teeth and while it is there massage the sides of your mouth upward toward the top globe of your ear. "Hold the stick in your teeth and with your thumb rub your lips straight up toward your eye. Massage the corners so as to coax out the cupid's bow curve. "Take the stick out of your teeth and pinch the corners of your mouth together. This will not stretch your mouth but will improve its shape. "These simple massage directions will help the shape of the mouth and grow a smile, but they must be practiced daily. One day will be enough to let the muscles get weak again; that is, until the smile is natural. "The lip exercise is also necessary. It is in three parts. For the first part you take a lead pencil and stick it in your mouth, stick candy fashion. You pucker your lips tight around it. Then you withdraw the pencil and keep your lips puckered up. This gives the muscles a chance to grow firm. "The second mouth exercise is more difficult. You pucker the lips round, as though you were going to whistle. Then you slowly open your mouth until the lips describe a big oval letter O. You slowly open and shut your mouth, keeping the oval as nearly as you can. "Women who find trouble in speak-

Half Million Celebrate Suffrage Gain

Suffragets and sympathizers totaling 500,000 celebrated with a gigantic parade in Hyde Park, London, when "the bill" passed its second reading in the house of commons. NOTORIOUS BURGLAR ESCAPES FROM JAIL

Hartford, Conn., August 9.—Timothy A. Sheedy, one of the most notorious burglars in the country, escaped last night from the County jail here, where he was being held until there was room in the Wetherfield State prison, to which institution he had been sentenced for thirty years for burglaries committed in this city. He sawed the bars of his cell door and, accompanied by James Cornell, a trusty, who was serving two years for theft, escaped through a window in the hospital ward and over a ten foot wall surrounding the buildings.

LEBLANC LEADS AUBURN IN CROSS COUNTRY RACE

Keen Contest Develops at Nancy, France, in Which Leblanc Wins From Rival—Both in Monoplanes. Nancy, France, Aug. 9.—Leblanc and Auburn again led the van on today's leg of the cross-country aeroplane race. The second section of the flight was from Troyes to Nancy, a distance of 165 kilometres, or approximately 102 5/10 miles. The race between the leaders was an exciting one. Auburn started five minutes earlier than Leblanc and the air men were within sight of each other until they landed here. Leblanc's machine proved the swifter and he gradually overhauled the other, reaching the goal thirty seconds ahead of his rival. Leblanc covered the first leg from the aviation field at Issy Les Moulins to Troyes, about 84 miles, in one hour 33 minutes and 20 seconds. Auburn's time for the distance was one hour 37 minutes and 25 seconds.

SAINT JOHN, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 10, 1910

SIR WILFRID LAURIER AND THE BRITISH PRESS.

The comments of British newspapers on the deputations which in the west have waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier in relation to the tariff show how singularly ill-informed on matters Canadian some of the British newspapers still remain. The representations made to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Winnipeg Telegram points out, are far more largely attacks upon his own consistency and individual attitude than expressions of opinion upon free trade versus protection.

In 1894 there was a very powerful free trade sentiment in Canada, much more powerful than any such sentiment as exists now and Sir Wilfrid Laurier was its apostle. It has taken the stalwart free traders exactly sixteen years to discover that Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not mean what he said in 1894. Having discovered their anger is naturally measured by the length of time during which they have been deceived.

Free trade and protection as opposing theories of national development very few people discuss intelligently and almost nobody without passion. The reason for that is that the individual dollar which a man is going to make or not to make, as the case may be, is held so close to his eyes that it obscures his view of the general advantage. To a statesman it is extremely important that one citizen should make a dollar if his doing so involves a loss of seventeen dollars to other citizens. And of course it is an inconceivably bad government where the dollar of the one exceeds in importance the seventeen dollars of the many. That is the condition into which the administration of the tariff has plunged the United States. But the fault lies not with the principle of protection but with the abuse of its application.

Because protection is abused where public spirit and patriotism are lacking therefore abolition of protection is not a logical argument. Those who use it are upon exactly the same ground as those who say because under a government where favoritism and graft are rampant public ownership is a failure, therefore the principle of public ownership should be abandoned. Nor are they far removed logically from the anarchist who argues that because government by selfish men with selfish impulses is imperfect therefore government should be abolished. And unfortunately the defence and attack of theory is vitiated by the same drawbacks which injure its fair application.

In regard to trade Canada, however, is dealing not with a theory but with a condition. So long as the United States has a high tariff Canada must have protection or go without manufactures. If Canadian manufacturers had the United States market as well as their own they could compete on most advantageous terms. But the immensity of the United States market compared with that of Canada would more than offset natural advantages in this country, and the Canadian consumer would very rapidly fall under the domination of foreign trusts which he could not control instead of gradually sinking into subservience to local trusts which he must learn how to control.

Whatever be the status of the free trade and protection question in other countries that is the concrete fashion in which it appeals to Canada. In the hands of the present government it is true, protection has been used not as a national weapon of defence but as the means of dispensing favors and securing support from special interests at the general expense. Nor could anything else be expected of a government which has ruthlessly violated every known principle of honest wise and patriotic administration. But the west has been engaged in putting the blame on the proper shoulders, those of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the newspapers of Great Britain are indeed badly beset if they find in that anything consolatory in the losing fight being made there against tariff reform.

ON ATTRACTING NEW INDUSTRIES.

In a recent issue of "The Busy Man's Magazine," there appeared an article from the pen of Mr. W. P. Fitzsimons entitled, "How to Attract a New Industry," and dealing with the influences governing the location of a factory and retaining it when once it is located. Several points in it are of general interest, especially in view of the efforts which are being made by the advertising committee of the board of trade to develop St. John.

The writer starts out with the following maxims:—"Every community possesses latent energy."
"If a community is not progressing, its latent energy needs putting into action."

"It is unworthy of any community to neglect its own resources and expect to profit by the activities of other centres."

"Equally it is unworthy of any community to be lacking in appreciation of the value and importance to it of the home industries."

He maintains further that the city or town desirous of attracting manufacturers should appreciate that the essentials to the success of such enterprises are four-fold:—

First:—Power—fuel, water or electric; the cost of power being reasonably low. Second:—A supply of suitable labor, or ability to obtain it. Third:—Amply transportation facilities. Fourth:—Attractive living conditions. This covers residential features, rent, taxation sanitary arrangements, religious and educational facilities and means for recreation.

Mr. Fitzsimons also lays emphasis on the fact that the modern tendency of the manufacturing world is towards the centralization of kindred industries, because of the many economic advantages of such a policy. It facilitates the assembling of raw materials, enlarges a supply of skilled labor and establishes a purchasing centre. It is therefore important that a city should have, as St. John has, a business organization and through it make a close study of the advantages, which it possesses, and determine what kinds of industries it is best adapted for. When once the question is settled, a "Committee of Progress," should, in the opinion of the writer, carefully compile the data and have them printed in attractive form.

The secretary of the organization should get into close touch with the industrial department of the railroads serving the city, and should keep that department well informed as to the activities of the committee, on the openings for business enterprise. He should also supply full particulars of such building sites, vacant factory buildings, mills or other structures as may be available.

It is frequently claimed that accessibility to raw materials and nearness to the most desirable markets is most essential. It is true, Mr. Fitzsimons says, that all things being equal, the point of location should be where the greatest saving in transportation charges can be effected. But even this item does not enter into a manufacturing proposition to anywhere near the degree popularly supposed. Freight is hauled at astonishingly low charges when the almost numberless factors governing railroad transportation are closely studied.

THE TWO OATHS.

The bill changing the King's declaration upon ascending the throne has been given the royal assent, and is now the law of the Empire. The new form of oath eliminates references to the beliefs of the Roman Catholic church which were regarded as unnecessarily offensive to a large number of his Majesty's subjects.

The Accession oath is now a simple declaration in the following terms:—"I do solemnly, sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I am a faithful Protestant and that I will, according to the true intent of the enactments to secure the Protestant succession to the throne of my realm, uphold and maintain said enactments to the best of my power."

Some confusion has arisen between the Accession oath and the Coronation oath, which are two entirely distinct and different things. The Accession oath only dates from the year 1689, when the bill of rights was passed by Parliament, whereas there has always been a Coronation oath of some kind.

The early English Kings touched the bones of saints on the high altars, and swore by the sacred relics. Afterwards the use of the relics was dispensed with, various forms of words being substituted. Thus, King John swore "by God's teeth," William Rufus "by this and that" (per hoc et per hoc). King George will use the familiar formula "so help me God," and afterwards "kiss the Book." It is worthy of note that the oath originally prescribed for William and Mary—and which they refused to take—has been twice modified, in 1706 and in 1821.

The Coronation oath is, of course, taken on Coronation day. The Accession oath could conceivably be taken on that day also, but it never has been, because in order to do so legally it would be necessary to have the Coronation precede the meeting of the first Parliament of the new reign, an obviously awkward arrangement.

THE OBLIGATIONS OF CITIZENSHIP.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster's address to the Canadian Club was a warning to the politicians as well as an appeal to the people. A keen observer, as well as an orator with a rare power of vivid expression, Mr. Foster sees our governments threatened by the insidious attacks of the corporations, and fears that democracy will receive a set back if the people do not shake off their apathy and indifference. Governments naturally reflect the condition of the citizenship, and if they are to be kept in the straight and narrow way, the people must bring to the discharge of their public duties an alert intelligence, a persistent energy, and a clean conscience.

In Mr. Foster's view the supreme requirement of the times is that the people develop a clearer conception of their obligations of citizenship, insist on public office being regarded as a public trust, and accept their responsibilities and discharge their duties in the spirit of their Puritan forefathers, who in their self devotion to an ideal, a faith, a principle, abandoned the flesh pots of the American unions to carve out their fortunes in the wilds of New Brunswick.

Our political theories, our public professions, were, he admitted, all right, but we had something to learn in the way of giving embodiment to our ideals, making our practices fit our theories, and shaping our actions to the faith that is within us.

The Times has taken to speculating on what would have happened if the Conservative government had come into power, and if Dr. Daniel and not Mr. Pugsley had been appointed Minister of Public Works. We can help the Times to some extent. For example, if the Conservatives had been in power a couple of years ago, Mr. George McAvity would not have succeeded in grabbing that $36,000 rake-off. And, again, if Dr. Daniel had been in Mr. Pugsley's place when the Courtenay Bay and Beacon Bar dredging contracts were awarded, there would have been no juggling with the tenders in order to give the job to Mr. John E. Moore. All things considered the Telegraph, the Times and their owners have much to be thankful for.

CURRENT COMMENT

(London Free Press.)

Japan has found out how soon a navy goes to the scrap-heap. Of the ships that but a few years ago defeated the Russian navy, and those built since, only six are now qualified to go on the fighting line, and two of these are but on the stocks. Everything else is obsolete. The significance of it is that Japan has dropped far behind in the race for naval supremacy, and Tokio journals are now demanding an expenditure of over two hundred millions to bring the navy up to its former relative strength.

The Liberal papers of the east say that the breach between R. L. Borden and Mr. Monk will result in the wiping out at the next election of the French-Canadian Conservative representation in the House of Commons. That, it will probably be conceded, is absurd. Such an assumption is placing far too much importance upon Mr. Monk's influence in Quebec. But it will probably result in wiping out Mr. Monk, and that will be a benefit to the Conservative party as well as to politics generally.

There is one of the prize-fight pictures that might be exhibited without any great danger to public morality, and that is the one where ole black Mammy Johnson is shown trying to get her arms around the giant body of her honey boy. Johnson was a savage for having knocked out the white champion, but in his treatment of his old mother he has shown some traits that would be no disgrace to a higher order of civilization.

MAN'S PLACE IN THE UNIVERSE.

We must rid ourselves of the petty thought that it is for us that all things are created. If in the eyes of God there is but one starry globe if the sun and the moon and all creation are made for the good of the earth and for the welfare of man, humanity may be exalted, but is not the Godhead abased? Is this not to straiten and confine His providence? What is a feeble human creature the only object worthy of the care of God? No, the earth is but a planet, the rank she holds among the stars is but by usurpation; it is time to dethrone her. The ruler of our earth is not man but the sun, with the life which breathes in common through the universe.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster delivered an eloquent Address Before Canadian Club at Luncheon

Public Service as Distinguished from Civil Service Carries With It a Vast Responsibility Which Should be Proudly and Willingly Undertaken in the Interests of Good Citizenship.

Hon. George E. Foster came up from his sylvan retreat yesterday at the behest of the Canadian Club, to make an eloquent appeal for a higher conception of, and a greater devotion to the duties of citizenship. His address on public service was a notable effort and the penetrating power of his thought, conveyed his polished and vivid language, made a deep impression upon his audience. M. E. Agar, president of the club, occupied the chair, and there was a fair attendance. After the club had met wisely, the president introduced Mr. Foster as a gentleman who had been prominent in public life in New Brunswick, the Dominion and the Empire. He felt they would have considerable pleasure and profit in listening to the exhortations of a man who had such an extensive experience. In the past he may have fought on the opposite side of politics to some of those present, but he felt that it would be a pleasure to hear of his welcome to the guest of the evening.

On rising Mr. Foster who was given an ovation, said he was very glad to be honored with the invitation to address the members of the Canadian Club, many of whom he had met before. Probably the chairman's remark that he knew everything about the public service was a little exaggerated, but, out of his long experience he felt he would be able to draw some conclusions that might be of interest. The public service, he continued, is a thing that could be looked upon from various points of view. He had not given much thought to how it should be treated, because in these warm days it is a difficult matter to concentrate on anything but the things that are going on around us. A man who has passed 30 years in service with the public affairs of his country gets some impressions. One day I tried to pick it to pieces, but I found that its beauty had departed in the process. Yet complicated and intricate though it is, the love of country is the greatest force in the life of a people. The young child does not have it; but it grows into him as a projection of his love of locality, till, arriving at the age of intelligence, he drinks in patriotism with the history of his country, its art and its literature, its noble traditions, its exalted destiny.

There is no true service without love, and on patriotism you must find a narrow patriotism. Not upon a bigoted narrow patriotism, but upon the love of its broad and generous ideals, its grand achievements, and its lofty purposes. Some men are soldiers. At the time of the Boer war, young Canadians thrilled with the desire to take the sword, and go out and defend the Empire. That is the picturesque and romantic side of patriotism. But I am a soldier that come to the country from without are usually insignificant compared to those that threaten from within. The menace to any country are the forces of corruption within, the powers that work industriously to destroy the government, and undermine the popular liberty, and violate the popular rights.

What is our environment as it is? We did not make them. Social conditions are as they are because they were so made by our fathers. Each generation is born into an environment for which it is not responsible. Each must take its environment as it finds it, and endeavor to make the best of it. But this fact emphasizes our responsibilities. Life is a trust. Each generation is fixing conditions for millions unborn, and each should accept its trust in a reverent spirit, and better it down to generations to come better in the estate that it received its trust. We should not load the unborn with conditions for which they are not responsible, we must place no undue burdens upon the unborn. At present we have representative government. We delegate our duties to representatives for the time being, and then are prone to forget that we have any duties on our account. But though we delegate, we cannot with impunity neglect our responsibilities. A Pertinent Question. We say that public office is a trust, yet it is being so administered that the interests of the public are always advanced, or is it being administered so as to provide perquisites for the henchman of the victorious party. I am not asking this question because the Liberals are in power at Ottawa. It applies to government everywhere, state, national, and civic. Education and training are needed to make the rising generation realize and fulfill these responsibilities. Here, we have our families rearing children, our schools instructing them in useful knowledge, our churches inculcating moral and religious ideas. But we have not embodied these things in our public citizenship and in the exercise of public citizenship. The franchise going about the country finds excellent fathers, business men, good clergymen, etc. But stepping into politics we find that the good father, or business man has become a slippery customer. Why should not schools teach children the common obligations and duties of citizenship? They should not neglect the common duties of citizenship as they do, for upon the training of the young depends the character of our adult citizenship. If the club will take these thoughts, which have come to me in the quiet of the summer, perhaps you can find material for many lectures and work out many ways of serving the public welfare. Tribute to ancestors. In conclusion the speaker referred to the lofty patriotism and power of self devotion of the puritan forefathers of this country. The American union to come to the wilds of N. B. where they might raise the old flag and cling to the traditions of the great country whence they sprang, and spoke appreciatively of our good work being done by the Canadian clubs to mitigate the asperities of party conflict and develop the national consciousness. In thanking the speaker, Mr. Agar said he was sure none could express the feelings of satisfaction with which they had listened to the address of their old friend. His lecture had followed the success of the American union to come to the wilds of N. B. where they might raise the old flag and cling to the traditions of the great country whence they sprang, and spoke appreciatively of our good work being done by the Canadian clubs to mitigate the asperities of party conflict and develop the national consciousness.

AWAKENING OF SCIENCE TO THE VALUE OF FRUIT

Medical men are just beginning to realize the possibilities of fruit in curing disease. Its action on the liver, kidneys and skin is wonderful. Yet fruit in its raw state is impracticable in treating disease because of the minute quantity of the active or curative principle contained in fruit juice. A physician in Ottawa, after years of patient work, discovered a process, whereby the medicinal or bitter principle of fruit juices is increased in quantity and thus a more active and more valuable substance is obtained. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit. Hundreds of prominent people in every section of the Dominion owe their good health to "Fruit-a-tives." Hundreds more are daily becoming stronger and better by taking them. "Fruit-a-tives" is daily proving its inestimable value as a natural cure in all cases of Constipation, Biliousness, Torpid Liver, Backache and Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Kidney and Skin Troubles. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box 25c. Sold by all dealers, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Great Picture Feature at Nickel Today. The story of "Mazeppa" to be told in pictures at the Nickel today is one of the most successful films of the hour and is from the studies of the great Selig Co. in Chicago, a home of stupendous undertakings in the film drama line. The story is Polish a tale of love, intrigue and adventure, something akin to Jules Verne's "Michael Strogoff." In addition there will be the Biograph drama "A Flash of Light," one of the most recent successes of this company. Extra pictures will be shown and Miss Prescott will have a new song. The Sadie Gannon Stock Co. will conclude today their presentation of the screaming farce "Has Anybody Here Seen Tompkins? Or Oh, You Hat," which has been the source of so much fun lately. Tomorrow the Stock Co. will present an entirely new sketch something dramatic again in the famous church scene from "St. Elmo."

BIG RUSH FOR TICKETS TO VIEW FAIR BUILDINGS

Demand So Great That More Tickets Were Issued by the Management—Directors Meet This Afternoon.

There has been such a demand for tickets to the public reception to be given by the directors of the Dominion Exhibition at 4 o'clock this afternoon, that a fresh batch of tickets had to be provided, although 3,000 were originally issued. Entrance will be by Sydney street alone, this provision being made in order that visitors may accommodate themselves to it as this will be the only entrance during the exhibition proper. George McAvity has offered a sterling silver cup for the best carriage horse bred in New Brunswick shown at the forthcoming Dominion exhibition. Entries for this cup will be received up to August 20th. Entries for the other horse classes will be received up to Monday next, August 15th. Close upon 600 entries have been received for the cattle classes and they are still coming. The sheep classes have also filled generally fairly well. In swine the entries are somewhat light but it is hoped that there will be more before the end of the week. A meeting of the directors will be held in the new board room connected with the administration offices at 3 o'clock when explanations will be made as to the progress of the fair generally. Probably there will be the greatest attendance of clergy at the exhibition that has ever taken place on an exhibition grounds. Nearly all the bishops of the Episcopal church will be here in person, and the meeting will be invited to be present on Wednesday or Thursday of the first week. Lists of the boarding accommodations have been printed and can be had on application at the office.

SAILOR BITTEN BY ANOTHER IN FIGHT

Visitor to Police Court Presents Horrifying Appearance—Assailant Liable to Stiff Sentence.

There was serious trouble on board the steamship Coleby lying at No. six berth, Sand Point, Monday night, and as a result Joseph Scullion, a Scotch sailor, was arrested and stands a good chance of receiving a sentence of two years in Dorchester Penitentiary for assaulting another sailor named James Magee. With a face that was almost beyond human recognition, Magee was in the police court yesterday morning. From the appearance of the case and the man Magistrate Ritchie said that the matter would take the form of aggravated assault. Magee was called to the witness stand and said that he had not left the ship Monday night and had not been drinking and that he went to his bunk to sleep quite early, having done a hard day's work. Shortly after midnight Scullion and two other members of the crew arrived on board, somewhat under the influence of liquor and as soon as they entered the forecabin one of the sailors went to the bunk and struck Magee a blow on the face. Wishing to get out of trouble, Magee said that he jumped out of his bunk and rushed to the deck and in doing so he tripped over a rope and fell to the deck. He had hardly fallen when Scullion was on top of him. Scullion struck him several times on the face and finally when he struck him in the abdomen Magee became helpless and when in this condition his assailant acted like a wild beast. He grappled with Magee and while he held him on his back he chewed at the helpless man's face. Magee cried hard for mercy but there was none shown him and Scullion's companions did not seem to interfere. Scullion sunk his teeth in Magee's face several times and when he finished this brutal attack Magee was hardly able to rise from the deck. When asked if he was guilty of the crime Scullion told the magistrate that he did not remember much about the occurrence and that he had no questions to ask Magee. His honor said that the prisoner was liable to a term of two years in prison at least. He was remanded to jail for the present.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores. When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes: "For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite fell and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this. At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box."

When a nationality undertakes to establish a democratic form of government, it takes a heavy responsibility.

GRAIN AND CATTLE IN CHICAGO MARKET SHORTS BOUGHT AND MARKET ROSE

New York, Aug. 9.—The development of positive strength in the stock market was the outgrowth largely of the power of resistance to unfavorable factors which was demonstrated. The news of the attempt upon the life of Mexico's Gayten confronted the market when it opened.

In the field dividend action, there was a general disposition to revise yesterday's appraisal of the government crop report and to take a more hopeful view of its promise. The grain markets having adjourned yesterday before the publication of the bulletin on the report, the stock had been without the guide of the action of these markets upon which reliance is largely placed in spring stock market action.

THE CALAIS STARS BALLY TROUNCED

Frederickton Players Found "Eastern Maine's Greatest Team" Easy. Large Crowd Saw One-Sided Contest--Frederickton Has "Come Back" as Ball Town.

Frederickton, Aug. 9.—The Calais ball team suffered an unexpected bump this afternoon when the aggregation advertised as the "fastest team in eastern Maine" went down before a Frederickton team composed entirely of local players by a score of 11 to 1.

The game was too one-sided to be interesting and all that held the attention of the largest crowd that has been seen here in years, was the swell playing contributed by some of the "home brews." George Brogan, who twirls occasionally for the St. John Clippers, held the Calais team at his mercy at all times and while the team from the border town gathered eight hits off his delivery, they were so scattered that there was not more than one in any single inning, and the Calais team's only run was not an earned one.

O'Neill and Carver started off as the battery for the Calais team, and did well for the first inning or two. Finally Ryan and Cobb came to the rescue in the seventh inning and the locals scored 3 of their 11 runs off Ryan's pitching. Brogan landed on the university of Maine twirler's benders for a long triple and then stealing home.

George Walker turned in two catches retreating the last two men of the game, which were of the circus variety, the last one including a perfect back summersault and eclipsing anything ever seen at historic Scully's grove.

One of the features of the game was Art Pinnamore's work behind the bat and he also led the team in batting with two hits, a sacrifice hit and a base on balls, while on the bases he stole three times, once from third to home, and on another occasion he sped from first to third on a short hit, just outside the diamond. A stop of a hard grounder followed by a swell throw to first brought lots of applause for Dick Malloy, while Ernie Boone led the squad in catching a double and triple to his credit. Spinney the Calais outfielder, turned in a couple of nice plays and both catchers, Carver and Cobb showed a nice snap throw to third on one catching a base runner off third.

The double umpire system was worked with Jim Roberts officiating on balls and strikes and Sandy Staples handling the decisions on base calls. If anybody got the better of their decisions it was the visiting team.

SHOULD BE TWO GREAT BALL GAMES

Calais Stars and St. Peters to Clash This Afternoon and Evening on the Shamrock Grounds.

That bunch of Calais ball tossers is expected to arrive from the Celestial city this morning, and this afternoon and evening will try conclusions with the St. Peters on the Shamrock grounds. The Maine boys apparently had a day off yesterday when the Capital City team drubbed them to such an extent. They are undaunted by the speediest bunch of visitors to pitch their tents in our midst this season. The North Enders present a lineup that looks mighty trappy on paper, and a great game is expected. The first game will start at three o'clock sharp. J. Mitchell will umpire and the teams will probably line up as follows: Calais McGowan Catcher, Cobb Pitcher, Harrington First Base, Ryan Second Base, Rutherford Third Base, Steadman F. Mahoney Shortstop, Leighton A. Mahoney Murchie Left Field, Chisholm J. McCormick Chisholm Centre Field, Carver Dever Right Field, Murphy Harrington

Uhlman Making His Great Record of 2.01

Uhlman, champion wagon trotter on Monday broke his own world's record of 2:02.4, made recently on the North Beach track. The black speckled marvel, owned and driven by C. K. G. Billings, the Chicago millionaire was in splendid form. The trotter to travel faster to wagon than Uhlman is Lou Dillon, who in 1903, at Memphis, trotted a mile in 2:00. The Dillon record does not stand, however, as the queen was paced by runners drawing wind shields. Uhlman was accompanied on Monday by runners at her side.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE MEET SUCCESSFULLY OPENED ON SUSSEX RANGE YESTERDAY

Sussex, Aug. 9.—The annual meet of the P. R. A. began today under the most auspicious circumstances. Although the sun was hot and glaring in the morning it cooled off in the afternoon and proved excellent weather for shooting. The nursery and maiden matches were shot this morning and the Donville and the Prince of Wales including the Hazen matches came off this afternoon.

The 74th Regiment was the big noise during the afternoon. Two members of this regiment, Lt. A. B. Maggs and D. R. Chandler split even for first place in the Prince of Wales match and the regimental team won the Hazen cup and $15. Lt. Maggs and Mr. Chandler both made 67 points in the Prince of Wales match and will have to shoot off for the challenge cup, silver medal and $10 which go with first place.

Maggs made 32 points in the 200 yard range and the possible 35 in the 600, while Chandler simply reversed the points. The 74th Regiment made a total of 364 points and won the Hazen Cup and $15. Grand Falls followed with 239 points getting $10. The 62nd Regiment from St. John did not seem to be anywhere. The shooting all day was good although owing to better weather conditions the afternoon marks were higher than the morning.

Sergt. Major Lamb, made the highest score of the St. John contingent, getting 64 points and $6. J. B. Powers came first in the Tyros at the end of the Prince of Wales match, making 58 points and winning $2. Let 'Em Know You're Present. Brooklyn, N. Y., August 9.—Larry Sutton, Brooklyn scout, has a system of his own. Unlike others, he does not gum-shoe. He always lets his presence in a bush league town be known.

Sutton's system has proven successful, for he seldom picks a bushier who fails to deliver. Sutton seldom gets the man he goes after. It has generally been his experience to look for one player and pick another. He went into the Southern league to get infielder Alcock, and came back with Jake Daubert. He went into the Central league after McCarthy, the South Bend infielder touted as a wonder, and landed Dolly Stark of Dayton.

The Brooklyn scout has not picked up a large number of players, but he has landed good ones. He gave the Brooklyn club Jake Daubert, first baseman; Zach Wheat, the slugger young outfielder, and Jake Dalton, another fly chaser, who is classy at bat and in the field. These three and light refreshments will be served by a committee of ladies.

SATURDAY WILL BE A BIG DAY AT WESTFIELD. Saturday evening, August 13th has been set apart by the Westfield Outing Association for a general illumination of boats and residences. The boats, canoes, etc., will be anchored in two strings in front of the pavilion, instead of being towed about as heretofore, and members will thus be enabled to compete for the prizes with specially prepared floats if they so desire. Property owners are requested to help out the illumination by illuminating their residences and building bonfires on the beaches. Additional music has been arranged for

HARPOON IS BEST YANKEE SONDER BOAT

Won Again Yesterday in Light Air Race and Will Probably be Chosen to Go Against Spaniards.

Marble Head, Mass., Aug. 9.—The Sonder boats that are striving for positions on the American team which is to meet the Spanish boats had two more light weather races today and again the Harpoon, owned by P. F. Adams, 2nd, came through without a blotch on her list of winning records. According to the system adopted by the committee for scoring the boats, the Harpoon has a row of zeros denoting four wins, against her. The other winners in the two races today were the Spokane III and the Cima, the former owned by Hugh Bancroft of the Cohasset Yacht Club and the latter by Guy Lowell of the Eastern Club. The Cima had had luck in the first race after establishing a good lead and finished sixth.

In the second race the Cima, however, led from the start. The Harpoon was always to the fore throughout the day and has practically established herself as the best boat under light weather conditions. The yachtsmen are all anxious for strong breezes for the next two days. The first race today was a six mile windward and leeward affair in a three knot breeze. It was a long sail and finished sixth.

There was a hot scrap between the Lady and Bonnet, the first division and between five boats that followed the Spokane in the second division. Only seconds divided these yachts. After the usual water races were scored away on the second race which was over a triangular course with a rapidly softening breeze. They managed to pull around the first mark which was beat to windward but the other two legs of the course were practically a drift. In the run to the finish were some hot tussling matches and in the second division the Beaver beat out the Jovette for second place by one second.

COUNTY COUNCILLORS VOTE $2,000 TO CAMPBELLTON FUND

Action Taken at Special Meeting of Council Yesterday Afternoon--Some Discussion as to How Grant Should be Assessed--Finance Committee Will Decide.

At a special meeting of the County Council yesterday afternoon the sum of $2,000 was voted towards the relief of the Campbellton fire sufferers. The councillors also decided to turn over their indemnity for attending the meeting to the relief fund.

The Building Committee was authorized to proceed with the work of repairing the Court House. Besides Warden Connelly there Black, Corscadden, Barnhill, Adams, Curren, Holder, Elkin, Frink, Sproul, Willet, Potts, McGoldrick, Baxter and Vanwart with the Secretary J. King Kelley and Sheriff Ritchie.

When the meeting was convened Councillor McGoldrick, chairman of the building committee, made a report on the measures taken so far to put in a steel ceiling and make other repairs to the Court House. After some discussion the building committee was authorized to proceed with the work as soon as possible.

Granting Aid to Campbellton. Councillor Potts moved, and Councillor Curren seconded the following resolution: "That $2,000 be granted to the town of Campbellton, provided the chairman of the finance committee can make provision for the payment of the same."

Some discussion then took place as to the mode of using the amount. Some members suggested that it might be a good move to lump the contribution of the city and county—$7,000 in all—and assess the city and parishes for the whole amount. But this suggestion did not receive much support.

Another suggestion was that the parishes should put up the $2,000 on their own account.

PHILLIPS SHOULD NEVER BE AT LOSS FOR CORRECT TIME. Man Arrested Yesterday Had Six Watches.

Police of Opinion He is Dangerous Criminal--Arrested on Suspicion of Stealing Watch, Chain and Money.

By the arrest of Henry Phillips, a young Englishman, about 6 o'clock yesterday evening by Police Officer Belyea, on suspicion of stealing a gold watch and chain and $8 in cash, the property of Wm. E. Dean, from the Lorne Hotel, on August 5th, the police believe that they have rounded up a dangerous criminal.

Upon being searched after his arrest his pockets proved to be a small edition of a Jewellery store and goods to the value of considerably over $100 were removed from his person, including the ring and watch chain, mislaid by Mr. Dean. Phillips told a somewhat peculiar story of how he had secured the jewelry, but it is not taken seriously by the police.

Trunk Forced Open. Upon going into his room at the Lorne Hotel last Friday evening, Wm. E. Dean discovered that it had been broken into. Further search revealed that his trunk had been broken into and a gold watch and chain and a gold band ring taken.

The police were notified and for the past few days Detective Killen and Sergeant Fitzpatrick have been quietly working upon the case. Several clues and theories were explored, and the case had taken on a somewhat mysterious appearance until last evening, when Police Officer Belyea, who was patrolling the North End beat, quietly dropped into Gilbert's second hand store on Mill street. It was an opportune moment, for upon entering the store, the first thing to catch the officer's eye was a young man endeavoring to sell several watches to the clerk. Without taking any chance of losing his man the officer immediately placed him under arrest, and conveyed him to Central Police Station.

The clerk in the second hand store identified the prisoner as the man who some days ago, had sold him a gold watch and chain, which were identified as the property of Mr. Dean.

The Stolen Property. Upon being searched the following articles were removed from his pockets:— One gold-filled, 20 years, open face Waltham watch; one lady's gold-filled Waltham hunting case watch; two nickel open face watches; one lady's silver watch; one silver open face watch; one razor and case; eight collar buttons; one gold ring; one silver ring; two large green feathers and two white feathers such as are used in ladies' hats; one gentleman's stick pin, set with emeralds and pearls.

The police believe that the goods found upon Phillips were but recently stolen, and are anxious that any persons who have recently mislaid jewelry, will call at the police station to identify, if possible, the goods taken off the prisoner. The majority of the watches, and the other jewelry appeared as if not perfectly new, and might have been stolen from a watchmaker or second hand store, although the police have not received complaints of any missing goods.

That the watches were cunningly picked from the pockets of citizens in Monday night's large crowd on the King Square, although possible, does not seem very probable.

Phillips told the officer that he came to Canada from England three years

"A GOOD PLACE TO BUY GOOD CLOTHES" REDUCTION SALE OF COLORED SUITS

Last week we announced a substantial reduction of prices on our colored suits—a reduction of 20 per cent.—enough to make this sale an event of real interest to every clothes-needy man in St. John. The suits include some of the season's most popular models and patterns. The fabrics are genuinely good. The tailoring is excellent. There are no flaws or defects—in fact nothing but necessity of making room for incoming fall stock induces us to make this 20 per cent. reduction. Some of our suits are reduced still more. Trousers are marked down 20 to 40 per cent. Light overcoats and showerproof coats are cut 10 to 25 per cent. Why not investigate this opportunity? And why not act promptly—before the best values are taken?
